

Lord of War Vol 2-341

Chapter 341: .Lord's Advantage

Gray Shadow Black Market is a black market built under the Gray Shadow Forest.

Here, there is no distinction between day and night. Because the entire rock formation above the underground black market is inlaid with fluorescent stones and condensing stones, it is almost always daylight. For those who have lived in the gray shadow black market for a long time, it is easy to forget the time and day and night. Concept, only when they are tired do they think of sleeping, and when their eyes are opened, it is a new day.

For these demon hunters who have no rules for a long time and the people living in this black market of gray shadows, it is too difficult for them to observe the concept of time.

But this time, the people in the entire gray shadow black market have a sense of time.

Because of one person.

Sean Connery.

The lord issued an ultimatum to the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, restricting them to deliver all the goods in the inventory to him within two days, otherwise he will impose military suppression on the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce.

This is a blackmail that can be called a threat of war.

The Leiyun Chamber of Commerce is not ashamed of their overlord, completely ignored Sean's notice with a very proud and high profile, and also integrated the power of all the chambers of commerce in the entire Gray Shadow Black Market in an attempt to form a confrontation with Sean. . Of course, these chambers of commerce also knew that it was completely impossible to face Sean's army with their patience, but none of them believed that Sean would really dare to suppress them.

So in fact, these chambers of commerce are waiting.

Wait for real reinforcements from the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

But now, the two-day deadline that Shaun said has come, so everyone in the gray shadow black market is ready to see what Shaun will do on this day.

The only certainty is that no one believes that Sean will really wield a butcher knife.

The end of the white se carrier pigeons can be said to be a bottom-line temptation, because they broke the rules of the game first. However, since the development of the situation, all the materials of the small chambers of commerce affiliated to several chambers of commerce have been confiscated. And their deacons and guards were detained by Sean, which is already a kind of compensation allowed by the rules, so it can be said that Sean has actually taken up all the benefits.

Of course, this is in the eyes of others.

In Sean's eyes, this is not so simple.

As soon as the two-day period expired, Sean did not hesitate to set out from the area blocked by the Thunder Lion.

This is a huge snake team.

The leader is Sean, he is wearing a neat black se dress.

This is a very common set of noble clothing. Although it is not the most popular style nowadays, the gold patterns and silver edges on the bottom line are still very sophisticated. This dress was worn on Sean. Makes his figure look more slender and straight, although his appearance is slightly younger and it is easy to make people look down on him, but the long sword slanted around his waist and the murderous aura from his body are very good points of despising him. People must pay a price.

From every aspect, Sean looks like a young nobleman traveling.

If it wasn't the long dragon behind him.

Following Sean's side is Cecilia.

This beautiful blonde girl has completely lost the immaturity left on her by the years.

She also wore clothes belonging to the nobility. However, it is not a women's dress or a magician robe, but a set of women's aristocratic hunting outfits designed to facilitate sports. This safari suit was worn on Cecilia's body. In addition to making her look heroic. It also showed her graceful figure that was growing at a high speed. If it weren't for this beauty's face with a serious and serious expression that is rarely seen at this moment, I am afraid that no one would remember her true identity as a magician active on the battlefield.

Behind Sean and Cecilia, are Bannock and Alfred walking side by side.

As a new follower of Sean, Bannock is actually not qualified to travel with Alfred in terms of seniority. But because his first task was to protect Cecilia, the weak magician, he was specifically allowed to travel with Alfred, but because of hasty action. Therefore, except for the surprisingly large tower shield in his hand, Bannock still retains the appearance of a demon hunter before.

This point is naturally inferior to Alfred, who is in uniform.

The lion king has long been famous. At the moment, he was wearing a specially modified blue se heavy armor.

In the outside world, it has long been known that Alfred is a magic warrior.

But few people know what Alfred's magic outfit is. Only Sean, William and the magic outfit who helped Alfred design it. Alfred's three magic outfits. All are based on agility. Coupled with his great strength and endurance, this leaves Alfred with no obvious shortcomings, and it is also the biggest basis for him to run rampant on the battlefield.

At this time, Alfred, who was traveling with Bannock, had a solemn face and an astonishing murderous aura exuded all over his body.

This is his biggest gain after experiencing so many wars.

Only in terms of actual combat power, Alfred is actually no weaker than the average low-level golden powerhouse. As long as Sean completely finished Alfred's flaming lion fangs, even if Alfred was only the upper silver pinnacle, he would have the power to fight against the lower gold pinnacle powerhouse. Of course, facing the upper gold powerhouse, Alfred will still be in a weak state, but the ability to protect himself is still there.

After , there are a total of 800 soldiers of the Thunder Lion, including Alfred's 300 Thunder Master Jing Guards.

These soldiers lined up in a long array. Everyone looked very serious. This time they did not carry bows and arrows, but used long spears, short swords and square shields, which are suitable for street fighting. As the team advances, the momentum emanating from the battle-tested Thunder Lion is constantly rising. If Roma is here at this moment, then he will find that the momentum of this army is constantly rising. It was influenced by Alfred.

Alfred's momentum is constantly condensing, which stimulates the momentum of this army to a great extent and makes their momentum continue to rise. But in turn, the rising momentum of the Thunder Lion will also stimulate Alfred's momentum, making his aura more cohesive and powerful.

This is a complementary truth.

And when Alfred and the Lion of Thunder reach their peaks at the same time, the two auras will merge into one. The formation of a real palpitating coercive aura.

Once this coercive momentum takes shape, it will form a special force field similar to a domain. In this area that can be said to be the home field advantage for the military, even the golden strong will feel a little uncomfortable, which will lead to a decline in combat power.

Of course, this must be a special area that a real Jing Rui army can form.

There is no doubt that the Lion of Thunder with only 800 people is a fourth-level army that can threaten the lives of golden powerhouses at this moment!

However, in just a short distance of hundreds of meters, Alfred and his Thunder Lion have completely merged the two auras into one. At this moment, he is no longer a single lion king. It is a lion king who commands the entire lion group.

Xiao En led the crowd and went all the way. He ignored the other shops on both sides of the street. At this moment, his goal was very clear. That is the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce. He knew that as long as he completely defeated the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce from the front, then this small alliance of chambers of commerce facilitated by him in the gray shadow black market would be completely disintegrated, and his tactics of catching all-in-one would also allow him to get great gains from it.

However, Sean ignored these chambers of commerce on both sides of the street, but it did not mean that these chambers of commerce would turn a blind eye to Sean's army.

The deacons of the Chamber of Commerce looked at the army passing by, and many people's faces became extremely pale. Obviously no * scenes have appeared yet. But they seemed to smell a strong * smell, and many people even felt cold all over at this moment. It was as if the sickle of the * of death had already been swung down. The blood in the body has been coagulated.

Fearful emotions began to grow deep in my heart after seeing Sean's army.

Many chamber of commerce deacons suddenly regretted at this time, why did they have to be right with this lord?

You know, he is a lord and not an adventurer!

The biggest difference between a lord and an adventurer is that there will be followers and an army under the lord. These advantages are unmatched by adventurers. What's more, the lord Sean Connery also has strong men like Rena and the lion king Alfred, not to mention the Thunder Lion and Iron Wings, even if they are in Darbion. The Kingdom is also extremely famous for its Jing Rui army.

All this is the real advantage of the lord!

most of the time. Not many people care about the threat of force by the adventurer, after all, he is only one person.

But the threat of force by the lord is not called force, but war!

Before today, many chambers of commerce still regarded Sean as a duli adventurer, even if he led the army into the black market of Gray Shadow, but not many people would think that the lord would really do something, then More is just a kind of intimidation. But when Sean set off with his followers and the entire army today, everyone finally understood that they had underestimated the madness of the lord.

This is no longer a threat of force, but a threat of war unique to powerful lords!

But at this moment, the regrets of the deacons of these chambers of commerce are no longer useful, because they have long sent all the guards belonging to their chambers of commerce to the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, and they are completely awaiting the orders of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce.

Before this, it was a behavior and attitude that showed the cohesion of the chamber of commerce alliances, and at the same time, it could also show the strong strength of the chamber of commerce alliances.

After all, a high-level gold powerhouse, three low-level gold powerhouses, and hundreds of silver masters, this power is enough to make people eye-catching no matter where they are placed. Especially here in the black market of gray shadows, it is the real capital of their Chamber of Commerce Alliance and Wilson's rivalry.

But now, if their integrated power is to be used against an ordinary army, it's okay, but facing the Thunder Lion, which is more powerful than they are, then this is undoubtedly quite. Yu Yi Pei hit the rock!

All the deacons of the Chamber of Commerce rushed towards the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce crazy at this moment.

And Sean and his army and strong men once again turned a blind eye to these crazy deacons of the Chamber of Commerce. They still marched forward slowly with no rush or slow marching speed, but because of the different attitudes before and after, the unchanging footsteps fell in the ears of the deacons of the chamber of commerce this time, but it was like the magic sound of urging life, as if every One sound will make their lives quickly lost.

Shaun as a lord. This is the first time he has shown his advantages.

The people in the entire gray shadow black market are also the first time to see this lord showing his fangs.

savage, and full of absolute deterrence.

When the long dragon marched to an intersection in the gray shadow black market, a woman who had been waiting here for a long time finally stepped forward.

She is wearing a set of light armor. This armor does not look very gorgeous. The overall structure is based on the design concept of simplicity. It is completely different from the design philosophy of light armor in the world today. This armor is on the premise of ensuring sufficient defense. The bottom also has a smooth line design, so it will not affect the wearer's movements. But when people see this light armor, the first impression is not because of its uniqueness and indulge in it. But will be attracted by its cleanliness.

Silver white se's armor body looked extremely bright under the light emitted by the condensing stone of this underground black market, and even had a holy halo.

This is the armor of angels.

Rena is the only one who owns such a set of armor under Sean's command.

She carried the crimson spear, and walked in front of Sean. Kneeling on one knee, she sent her faith in the lord as a knight.

"Where's Clover?" Sean said.

"He is responsible for guarding the line of defense. To prevent anyone from taking the opportunity to escape." Rena replied respectfully.

Shaun nodded. Nothing more.

There are three entrances and exits in the entire gray shadow black market. Xiao En originally wanted to catch all the chambers of commerce in one swoop, so preventing people from escaping is a very important thing. Because the Thunder Lions came all the way, they could slightly reduce the manpower left behind; while Clover's Cecilia Guards had only 500 people, and they needed him to sit in town, so they didn't let him participate in the battle. The plan; as for the steel wings. The number of people is the largest, but relative to the other, because there is no strong person in charge, the actual combat effectiveness is the weakest, so they are also not sent out.

It can be said. Rena, Alfred, Bannock, Cecilia, and 800 soldiers of the Thunder Lion are all the cards that Sean uses to deal with the small chamber of commerce alliance in the Black Market.

This is his biggest advantage as a lord rather than an adventurer.

At any time, as long as he wants to, he will never fight alone.

Turning his head to the side, Xiao En looked at the huge stone arch that was less than three hundred meters away from him.

On the walls on both sides of this arch, there are huge flags on both sides of the ground.

The two hanging flags both use gray se as the bottom se. In the middle of the flag, there is a dark cloud with black se, surrounded by thunder light above, and a lightning strikes in the middle of the thundercloud.

This is the emblem of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, and there is a majestic and awe-inspiring vibe in it.

Behind the arch, there is a group of more than 30 chambers of commerce. These people may also be two or three hundred people. At this moment, they are excited, and they are angry at Sean. If anger can be equivalent to murderousness, then this crowd may really be comparable to Sean's Thunder Lion. But looking at the pale appearance of many of them, it is obvious that many people here are actually just holding on. As long as Sean orders an attack, I am afraid these people will soon become confused.

Probably only people from less than fifty people dare to fight.

However, these fifty people may not be very good at military operations, but in terms of their personal strength, this is indeed a very troublesome force.

"Baron Sean Connery!" Looking at Sean from a distance, a middle-aged man yelled first, "I hope you know what you are doing!"

This middle-aged man wore the most popular tuxedo in the aristocratic circle of the millennium covenant empire. Even at this moment, his standing posture is still very standard and tall, and there is a unique aristocratic charm all over his body. Obviously this should be the same. The name comes from the prominent nobles of the Millennium Covenant Empire. And judging from the strong aristocratic style of the Millennium Covenant Empire from the several guards around him, it might be possible that the Thundercloud Chamber of Commerce and the Millennium Covenant Empire might collude, and even the royal family of the Millennium Covenant Empire is remotely controlling this chamber of commerce.

It's just that Sean even dared to kill the head of the intelligence department of the Millennium Covenant Empire. Would he care about such a chamber of commerce?

"Cecilia, tear down this door and wall." Sean said lightly.

"Okay." Cecilia smiled slightly.

She does not reject Sean's orders. On the contrary, she likes to follow Sean's arrangements, which gives her a feeling of being needed.

So Cecilia soon began to chant the incantation. She didn't conceal her intentions, she sang her spells steadily, and even added a few super magic effects to them, which can greatly increase the magical power Cecilia displayed. Listening to Cecilia's incantation chanting, the sound gradually increased, and the surrounding air began to become a little hot and dry, which was a sign that the fire element had begun to become active.

In just a few seconds, this hot fluctuation has completely affected the surrounding area, and even the people in the chamber of commerce in the arch knew what magic Cecilia was preparing.

For a time, many people actually started to feel a little flustered.

"Shaun, are you crazy?". That name is probably a middle-aged noble from a big family or royal family in the Millennium Covenant Empire. It also roared with astonishment.

"It's just opening a door, do you need to make a fuss?". Sean curled his lips in disdain, his voice was not loud, but it was enough for the other party to hear.

At this moment, I did not wait for the middle-aged nobleman to speak again. Cecilia's singing is over.

The vortex of fiery red se began to emerge in mid-air. The fire element visible to the naked eye is constantly converging towards this vortex. Because the number is huge and dense, it looks like there are countless fiery red bands of light converging continuously.

Spark vortex.

This is a battlefield magic.

The so-called battlefield magic is a special type of magic used by the Mage Association to distinguish general magic. This type of magic can usually only be seen on the battlefield. The main feature is that it is extremely powerful and has a very wide coverage. Of course, the same is that it consumes a lot of mana. At least it is far from what an ordinary magician can bear, and at least it needs the cooperation of a wizard group.

The minimum requirement for a wizard group is six wizards with silver power.

As soon as the spark vortex appeared at this moment, the people in the Chamber of Commerce became more panicked. Because they all know that this is a battlefield magic.

But compared with Panic, the middle-aged deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce has an unbelievable look. He could see clearly that only the magician Cecilia was singing from the beginning to the end of the Starfire Vortex. Could it be that the magic power of this little girl is equivalent to six magicians?

Is Cecilia's magic power equivalent to six magicians with silver power?

This is obviously impossible, no matter how talented she is, the accumulation of magic power is always a barrier that the magician cannot bypass. If you want to have the magic power equivalent to six lower silver magicians, that magician must at least touch the edge of the sanctuary and master the relevant rules that can effectively control the fluctuation of magic power.

However, Cecilia also has a special place, that is, her magic power is really not comparable to ordinary magicians. Although she didn't have the magic power equivalent to six magicians, she still had the magic power equivalent to two ordinary magicians. But these are not her truly special places. The secret that enables Cecilia to display the battlefield magic of the Starfire Vortex lies in her bloodline talent.

The awakening of the Phoenix bloodline makes Cecilia's consumption and recovery of magic power lower than other magicians by nature. And as long as it involves fire magic, Cecilia will need to consume less magic power, and control and Jing accuracy will be more greatly improved-the magician needs to consume a lot of magic A lot of magic power, it's all because their jing divine power control is not accurate enough, and a lot of magic power is wasted invisibly.

So Cecilia was able to display the spark vortex, not by accident, but a necessity, because this magic is not particularly difficult for Cecilia.

Of course, after casting this magic, Cecilia will also have no magic remaining.

However, at this moment, it was originally for power, so naturally there is no need to care about the consumption of magic power.

When the spark vortex was completely formed, it finally made a sudden explosion.

The blasting air blows a cloud of smoke and dust around, and even the condensing stones and fluorescent stones on the dome of the underground black market are shattered and shattered a lot.

The power of battlefield magic is evident from this.

But the power of the spark vortex does not refer to this blasting air current. When this flame vortex exploded in mid-air, countless fist-sized fireballs exploded out of it in dense numbers. But the weird thing is that these fireballs don't go out chaotically in all directions. Instead, it sprayed out in the direction of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, like an air-to-surface missile, with a long tail of fire directly blasting towards the arches and stone walls of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce.

On the surface, Spark Vortex seems to be no different from Fire Rain. But in fact, all the fireballs of Starfire Vortex are formed after extremely high compression. Each fireball's power is at least equivalent to a fourth-level fire magic, compared to the fire rain technique, which only has a fifth-level fire. Its power is naturally more than a star and a half difference.

Looking around, there are at least three hundred fireballs in the sky.

If these fireballs really fall to those people in the Chamber of Commerce, it will be enough to destroy them dozens of times.

But Sean did not do it. That's because he knew very well that people in the Chamber of Commerce Alliance could not have no magicians.

Sure enough.

When these fireballs were about to hit the arches and stone walls of the Thundercloud Chamber of Commerce, several cryptic waves of magic power spread among the crowd of the Chamber of Commerce.

The next moment, all kinds of magic will be issued in the crowd of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

Wind blades, ice cones, fireballs, and even mud walls rising from the ground.

All these magics are heading towards Cecilia's Starfire Vortex—this is another secret of the Starfire Vortex, as long as the caster does not dispel this magic. Then the Starfire Vortex will always remain, as long as the magic is continuously injected. Then it can complete the second expansion and then send out a new round of fireball attack. And as long as the magic power is enough, then you can even launch an offensive without restrictions.

It's just that, because of Cecilia's deliberate behavior, all the fireballs exploded from the Spark Vortex were concentrated in the direction of the arch. Therefore, the magic of the opponent's magicians must first break the fireball array of the Starfire Vortex before they can attack the core of the Starfire Vortex.

Countless magics collide together in mid-air. Then it sends out waves of stronger impact airflow after another.

This time, it was the real fire rain scattered down, completely covering the three-hundred-meter road between Xiao En and the other party. In this magical attack, the shops on both sides of the road were completely covered and swallowed by the rain of fire. Several houses even collapsed completely in the first wave of collisions.

However, this round of attacks only consumed about a quarter of the fireballs in the Starfire Vortex, and the remaining fireballs continued to fall.

This time, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance once again organized a stronger counterattack.

A lot of magic began to be cast and started, this time the magic is still dominated by the second and third level of low-level magic, because this kind of magic is released very quickly. However, after the last confrontation, this consumption did not have much impact on the fireball group of the Starfire Vortex, so in this round of attack, Sean saw several fourth and fifth level magics. It's just that these magics still can't play a role in determining xing in the face of the fireball group of the spark vortex.

When the second magical bombardment exploded in the air, half of the 300-meter street was covered by fire and rain. The ground was full of burning flame debris. At the same time, there were several houses in these areas. The impact of magic on the explosion and collapse in the explosion. Only this time the effect has become somewhat remarkable, at least more than half of the fireball group has been consumed, and the remaining fireball group is only one-third of the original number.

But Xiao En knew that the opponent's magician was the one who suffered from this kind of exhaustion.

Because Cecilia has the blood of Phoenix, and her wisdom and jing gods are far beyond the normal level of magicians of the same level, these are the reasons why she can be equivalent to a small wizard group by herself. However, with her current magic power, it is also impossible to last. In a one-on-one situation, she may be able to easily win, even if it is one-on-two or three, it will not fall into the disadvantage, but if the conflict between the two sides breaks out, the other party If the magician of's doesn't choose to fight against Cecilia, then it is Sean who will suffer on the battlefield.

The magician is the true confidence of these chambers of commerce.

So, the best way is to let Cecilia take the shot first, forcing the opponent's magician to consume the magic first in this kind of confrontation. If it were purely to cast defensive magic, then the opponent's magician could completely cast it in turn, so that Sean still had no advantage. Therefore, only this method of completely slapping the face can force the opponent to attack.

However, the other magician was worse than Shaun had imagined.

After two waves of magic response, the third round of attacks became very few. It was not even as powerful as the first hasty response.

Then, everyone saw that the arch of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce and the stone wall were completely transformed into a piece of debris and a wall of fire under the bombardment of the fireball of the Spark Vortex. And the road of 300 meters apart has completely turned into a road burning with flames.

The magic flame formed by dense fire elements has extremely strong adhesion and high temperature. If the magic power is not eliminated, these magic flames will not disappear.

In terms of time alone, this street may not be able to pass at least in the next one or two days.

"Sean!" The deacon of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce looked at the doorway that had been completely destroyed. "You...you are waiting for the revenge from the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce!"

"Retaliation?" Xiao En smiled slightly, with an expression of indescribable calmness and grace, "You threaten a lord with an official title, do you know about Leiyun Chamber of Commerce?"

"Your behavior is to provoke the entire chamber of commerce alliance!"

"Have I rarely provoke your chamber of commerce alliance?". Shaun curled his lips in disdain, "The Great Rift Valley of your head and tail snake plan is still in my hands. Wasn't it just for this that you ordered all the chambers of commerce affiliated to the chamber of commerce not to conduct any transactions with me?In this case. Then I don't need to discuss any deal with you, because I have already made a decision. In the future, any chamber of commerce affiliated to the alliance of chambers of commerce in my territory will belong to the illegal chamber of commerce. All inventory will be confiscated, and I will also It is forbidden for any chamber of commerce affiliated with the chamber of commerce alliance to pass through my territory, and all offenders will be dealt with as smugglers."

"You! How dare you!"

"Why don't I dare?" Sean sneered, "Don't forget that I am a legal lord, this is my advantage."

"you....."

Sean is not interested in continuing to talk a lot of nonsense nonsense to the other party: "Don't you, me or him, my purpose is very clear here today. That is to trouble you Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, because I was two days ago The ultimatum has already been issued to you, but it is a pity that you don't seem to care much about what I said. So today, you need to pay some price. Only in this way can the decrees I promulgate in the future can get more accurate facts... Cecilia."

As Sean's words fell, Cecilia smiled slightly, and then suddenly stretched out her hand.

Although her face se has been a little pale because of the excessive amount of magic power that she had just cast the spark vortex, her actions at this moment are already an instinctive reaction of her, so it will not cause any harm to her. Then, everyone can clearly see that the expanding flames around him suddenly stagnated, as if the time in the entire space had been stopped, and in the next second, these flames began to swift at an astonishing speed. Shrinking, and then turning into lines of fire quickly condensed towards the spark vortex in mid-air.

Everything looks like it's going back in time.

In just a few seconds, all the flames in the entire street disappeared, completely condensing into a huge fireball in mid-air. However, this fireball is not in its final form, because it is constantly compressing and condensing, and finally turned into a miniature fireball about the size of a ruby, and then drifted towards Cecilia's palm and began to surround Cecilia. The palms of the hands are spinning.

is like a naughty flame jingling.

Those who have fought side by side with Cecilia have already seen Cecilia's marvelous method of playing with flames. Although every time I see this scene, I will be amazed, but the number of times will not be too shocked. .

On the contrary, those people in the Chamber of Commerce who have never seen such a method are all stunned at this moment. Although the gate of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce is destroyed, it is a very face-smashing behavior, but as long as the flames are still burning , Then they are safe. But now these flames are so obediently taken back by Cecilia, which is not a good thing for them, because then Sean's army will inevitably be able to drive straight in.

"Bloodline Awakener!" Among the people who had been frightened, someone finally murmured like a dream, "This kind of fire control technique, that is definitely the ability of the legendary bloodline!"

Blood Awakened!

The word is very unfamiliar to ordinary people, but it is definitely not unfamiliar to people who are knowledgeable and able to be the guards of the Chamber of Commerce like the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce. The power and horror of the Bloodline Awakened have already been deeply impressed in their minds. If they can choose, they would rather give up all resources than become an enemy of the Bloodline Awakened.

But now, it's too late.

Because no one would have thought that there is actually a Blood Awakened under Sean's command.

However, the terrifying and powerful bloodline awakeners also refers to the fact that they stepped into the sanctuary, and the strength that the bloodline awakeners can exert before this is actually very limited. At least, Cecilia no longer has the ability to continue participating in the battle, because her magic power has been completely consumed, but her record is also very brilliant, because she has also paralyzed the opponent's four or five magic with the same strength by one person. division.

"Leave it to me for the next battle." Sean reached out and patted Cecilia's head, "Bannock will protect you here, and wait for my triumph."

Cecilia smiled and nodded.

She didn't speak, nor did she need to speak, her eyes could already represent everything.

For Sean, she has never lacked confidence.

Chapter 342: .Sean's Way of the Lord

The gate of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce was torn down, and the flames blocking both sides completely disappeared. The most important thing is that the opponent's mage power has been completely consumed. This time, nothing can stop the Thunder Lion. attack.

Before today, Sean did think of solving some problems in a more peaceful way.

But when the two-day time limit was over, Sean knew that something was not something that could be changed if he wanted to. Therefore, since it is destined to be a  battle from the beginning, there is naturally no room for maneuver.

So Sean pulled out the dead bones very simply, lifted it forward, and spit out two words in a deep voice: "Offensive!"

With this order, the Lion of Thunder surged like a torrent of blue iron and steel, rushing towards the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

A total of eight hundred thunder lions screamed for killing, like thunder and anger.

At this moment, the deacons of the Chamber of Commerce who had never seen the army rush to kill all looked horrified.

And after the fear, there is real chaos.

However, this chaos did not last long. The deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce was obviously also a person who had passed through the storm. Although his face was still pale, he did not become panicked like others, but Soon began to issue a series of transfer orders.

In such an environment, the most he needs to do is to stop the chaos that has begun to form.

Judging from the aura of the soldiers under Xiao En, the deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce already knew that the lord was serious, and he really wanted to kill them all at once. Although he is very clear that if he gives up resistance, it is very likely that more people will be able to survive, but all the main members of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, including him, will definitely not be able to live, and it is precisely this kind of despair. Let him fight to the death.

Even if many people were to be buried, he would not hesitate.

Because this can cause more trouble to that lord.

So after preventing the chaos from spreading, the deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce quickly ordered all the guards to attack Sean's army.

Although the number of them is only two or three hundred, except for the deacons and ordinary people of the chambers of commerce and the guards of the chambers of commerce, there are probably less than a hundred people who can really participate in the battle. But these hundred people are the people that the chambers of commerce usually use to maintain the internal security of the chambers of commerce. Although their strength is not very good, they can still be used as soldiers with weapons and equipment.

Of course, it is naturally impossible for these people to put up a military formation.

But anyway, the deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce did not think too much. What he really had high hopes was the group of nearly a hundred masters led by the strong. This was the main force he really had high hopes for. As for ordinary people, he was purely regarded as the master group. Cannon fodder to use.

This battle was destined to have no possibility of winning from the very beginning. Even if they can win, it will only be a tragic victory, and after that, they will have to face the other two armies under Sean's command. So from the beginning, the goal of the deacon of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce was very clear, that is, to take the lord Sean, as long as the lord can be successfully subdued, then the opponent's attack can be terminated, and the next thing is Will enter the link he is good at.

Negotiation.

As long as he gets to the negotiating table, then he has the possibility of surviving.

This is how the profit-seeker thinks.

And now, the deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce has only one problem most worrying, and that is how to subdue Sean, who is heavily protected by the Thunder Lion. But soon, his distress turned into a scornful surprise, because he discovered that Sean, the lord, was actually hiding in the protection circle without honestly, but rushed to the forefront, even the Lion King. Alfred and another strong man, Rena, were behind him.

"It's just looking for death!" The chamber of commerce sneered, and then issued the same offensive order.

But in this attack, there was one person who didn't make a shot.

That is the lower gold powerhouse from the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce.

He was the first person who saw Sean and Cecilia take action, but he didn't know that Cecilia was actually the blood awakener. But whether it was before or now, this golden powerhouse has long lost the courage to fight Sean, so when the deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce ordered an attack, he quietly picked up the deacon of the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce. Then prepare to leave from the back door of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

He didn't intend to participate in this battle from the beginning. Of course, he tried to prevent the deacon of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce from joining in the fun, but his suggestion was not adopted. But in any case, as the guard of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, he has the responsibility to protect the safety of the deacon, so at this moment, when he recognizes that Sean is playing real, not just verbal threats, he is the only thing he can do now. It was to leave with the deacon of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce.

This move is naturally impossible to hide from other people around.

If it is at other times, the deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce will definitely start with the Chamber of Dawn Light, whether it is public or private, this is a good reason to start. But at this moment, he doesn't have the power to do so, because if he distracts his hands to find trouble with the Dawnlight Chamber of Commerce at this time, then it is likely that the chaotic situation that has been suppressed hard to be suppressed will be expanded, and the same will be ahead. There may be a shortage of manpower that will lead to the inability to subdue Sean.

However, it was not only people from the Chamber of Commerce who discovered this behavior, but Sean also discovered it.

Moreover, he recognized the identities of these two people at a glance.

Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce.

For the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce, Sean is still a little grateful in essence. If it were not for this Chamber of Commerce to disclose it privately, it would be impossible for Sean to know the yin plot of the Chamber of Commerce against him. No matter what the circumstances were, the Dawnlight Chamber of Commerce made a compromise, but Sean still had to recite this kind of kindness. At this moment, seeing the Chamber of Dawn of Light choose to withdraw instead of participating in the battle against him, which finally relieved some of the troubles in Sean's heart.

"Rina." Sean in the charge, shouted in a deep voice.

"Lord Lord." Rina, who was slightly behind Shaun, made a slight effort, and she was completely side by side with Shaun.

"The other golden powerhouses will definitely attack me directly. It is difficult to cope with my current strength." Sean doesn't think he is a lord, so he needs to bear everything himself and be able to win the fight. He will never let the enemy go, but if the same cannot be solved by one person because of the strength problem, then he will simply say his lack of strength, "The golden powerhouse of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, I will solve it, and the remaining few gold powerhouses will be handed over to you... and after you solve it, you will immediately support Fred."

"I see." Rena nodded.

"Sean, how are you going to fight this battle?" It was Alfred who asked this time.

"Don't leave one." Xiao En glanced at the chamber of commerce guards who were less than a hundred meters away from him, and said in a cold voice, "Since they dare to resist, then we will suppress them. As for the deacons of the chamber of commerce. When the time comes, all will be taken care of, and anyone who dares to resist or clamor will be dealt with in the same way.... However, none of the people from the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce will stay."

Alfred glanced deeply at Sean.

Falling from this decision means that Sean is completely enmity with the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, and the two sides will no longer have any possibility of coexistence, and Leiyun Chamber of Commerce is one of the top ten chambers of commerce in the Chamber of Commerce, which will also greatly affect To the relationship between the Chamber of Commerce Union and Sean. But in the same way, Alfred also knows very well that if Sean does not treat the deacon of Leiyun Chamber of Commerce a bit at this time, then in the future the Chamber of Commerce Alliance will treat Sean as a verbal threat and dare not do anything. The actual paper tiger is even more unfavorable for Sean. Even in the long term, Sean's future actions are likely to be restrained by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

And a lord, if he doesn't even have this dulixing, then how can he be a lord?

So Alfred can understand Sean's feeling of breaking this * at all costs.

Since even Sean already has this kind of consciousness, of course, Alfred, as a minister, must have the same kind of consciousness.

He is grateful to Sean, because if it weren't for Sean, he wouldn't be where he is today, and of course he wouldn't be with his daughter. It is precisely because of this gratitude that Alfred also made a decision at this moment, that is, no matter what road Sean chooses in the future, even if it is a tyrant throne destined to be piled up with bones, or it is full of He will always accompany the * road of thorns.

Until the end of life.

So, facing Sean's slaughter order, which can be described as a * policy, Alfred nodded seriously: "I understand."

is to understand, not to know.

Rina glanced at Alfred slightly, always feeling that he seemed to have changed at this moment, but she couldn't tell the specific changes. However, as an upper-level golden powerhouse, she is certain that Alfred's aura has obviously become stronger at this moment.

The distance was less than one hundred meters, and when both sides charged at the same time, they were quickly surpassed.

As expected by Sean, when there were only 30 or 40 meters left, the gold powerhouses from the Chamber of Commerce Alliance accelerated towards Sean at the same time. In terms of the speed of the gold powerhouse, this distance is equivalent to a few steps to them.

So it was almost just a moment of effort, these golden powerhouses have already smashed in front of Xiao En.

Similarly, as the strong on Sean's side, Rena also speeds up the sprint when the opponent's golden strong moves. As a knight, her skills in this area are much more accurate and stronger than those of the opponent's golden powerhouses. Of course, her reaction fell within the opponent's expectations. After all, Rina is the only one on Sean's side. One of the golden powerhouses.

is just unexpected. Rina did not face the upper gold powerhouse of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, but chose the three lower gold powerhouses behind this gold powerhouse.

Although this action made the other party a little surprised, this astonishment quickly turned into joy.

Because the high-ranking golden powerhouse of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce passed by with Rena, it was Sean that he faced.

Chapter 343: .War Knight

In the expectation of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, the strongest person in the Chamber of Commerce should be stopped by Rina, who is also a high-level gold powerhouse. So it was the four lower gold powerhouses from the other chambers that really played against Sean—of course, the departure of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce left only three. As for the hundreds of silver guards, they are used to contain Sean's army. After all, the individual strength of the silver realm is much stronger than the average soldier, so although the number is small, the quality is still accounted for. Excellent.

It's just that from the moment the conflict began, the initiative was completely out of the hands of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce.

But anyway, at this moment, the face of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce still shows excitement.

Because the strongest of their chamber of commerce has already encountered Sean.

For Sean, the lord, who solved the problem of two quasi-strong men here in the Black Market of Gray Shadow, people in the Chamber of Commerce naturally heard about it. But after all, it was only a quasi-strong. Although according to the deacon of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, Johnson had an epiphany during the battle and broke through the realm, but after all, he could not be regarded as a real strong because he had just broken through and had not yet fully stabilized his strength.

And the quasi-strong, there is still a big gap between the real strong after all. Called the quasi-strong, that is the honorary name of the silver realm masters for these people who are expected to become the strong, but in the eyes of the real strong, they will not be called "quasi-strong" at all. , But to call these people with a strong derogatory term like "pseudo-strong".

What's more, the gap between lower-level gold and upper-level gold is equally huge.

In front of the upper gold powerhouse of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, let alone that Sean only killed two pseudo powerhouses, even if he could kill the lower gold powerhouse, he would not take it seriously. Because he is the upper gold powerhouse. If he didn't even have this confidence in his own strength, then he wouldn't be able to become a high-ranking golden powerhouse.

So just like everyone else's excitement, this high-ranking golden powerhouse named Modes also has a look of excitement.

Because he has seen the dawn of victory.

The weapon used by Modes is a war gun.

This is a long-handled weapon that is defined as "heavy" in the game. It is usually a weapon belonging to the heavy cavalry class. The most common type of equipment is the class of the earth travel dragoon. Of course, some people who have undergone special transfers will use these extremely powerful weapons, such as the final transfer route of the heavy cavalry profession that Sean has seen-the war knight.

This profession is a profession that is completely opposed to the Paladin of Barrier.

Although they can act as a sequence like the second tank in terms of defensive ability, they are second only to the Berserkers in terms of their talents in terms of attack power, and they are not the same as thieves and assassins to follow the burst flow route. Their output The data is very stable. And it can also accept capacity increases from all quarters. But the biggest disadvantage is that their agility is almost zero, which is destined to be able to resist the enemy's attack and cannot perform such highly skilled moves as dodge.

Sean has always felt that it is precisely because this profession has almost no agility at all, it will be the dual positioning of high output and second tank in the game.

But Modes is not a war knight. Sean is not yet clear, but the profession that can use this special weapon is indeed very rare. At least this can show that the opponent's strength value is absolutely extraordinary.

So Sean started from the beginning. There is no plan to wrestle with the opponent in terms of strength.

Compared with the terrible smile on the other side's excited and hideous smile, the scorn and mockery on Sean's face seemed much more elegant and noble.

But this elegance, in addition to angering the enemy, obviously does not bring any real benefits to Sean.

Mordes suddenly stabs the gun in his hand forward, and in this windless space, there is a violent scream, and an extremely strong wind blows directly at Sean's face with a force of overwhelming power. Come. At the moment when he felt the terrifying force of Mordes' shot, Sean's face suddenly changed. The fighting energy in the body immediately burst out, but it changed the attitude of going straight forward, and leaped backward to open the distance between each other.

When this distance is pulled, it is a span of nearly ten meters.

It was almost the moment when Sean retreated. Modes' gun has just been pierced.

I saw a wave of air exploded from the tip of the gun, and then a little farther away soon there was a second wave of air that was slightly smaller, and then the third and the fourth. The waves, extending to a distance of seven or eight meters, finally did not explode again. And with the explosion of each wave of air, the ripples visible to the naked eye swayed in circles in the air and then spread.

On this battlefield, Sean can rely on his agility to dodge this terrible blow instantly, but it doesn't mean that other people can dodge this blow so easily. Although the Thunder Lion knew that this strong man was dealt with by Sean, so he had given up a large enough range for the two to fight against, but the power of Modes's blow was so great that the air waves The air ripples from the explosion can actually oscillate as far as tens of meters.

Although at this distance, the soldiers of the Thunder Lions do not have any lethal lethality, but it is still unavoidable that they will be affected. At least a dozen soldiers of the Thunder Lions are close to the battlefield. , On the spot because of this shock wave and temporarily lost combat capability. Fortunately, their position is relatively backward, so although they temporarily lose their combat capabilities, they will not be attacked by other enemies.

However, the decline in morale is inevitable.

Mordes glanced at the Thunder Lion soldier who quickly pulled a larger distance away from him, and the grinning on his face was even more prosperous. Although he was slightly surprised at Sean's quick response, he still did not put Sean in his eyes, because after all, the upper silver and the upper gold are an insurmountable gap. If it were not for the capture of Sean, it would be For Modes, this task is much simpler.

Of course, in the eyes of Mordes, a small baron is actually not a big deal, anyway, for the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, it doesn't matter even if it is missed. And it is precisely because of this attitude that he dared to use such a powerful attack skill in the first hit just now, but the one he was bound to win failed to completely kill Sean, so he still let Mo Des was a little upset.

However, compared to Modes' upset, Sean's mood is much calmer.

Since this battle has already started, he certainly has no plans to be merciful. Sean really wants to eradicate all the people who belong to the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce here in the Gray Shadow Black Market. He wants to give the Chamber of Commerce Alliance a real deterrent. It's not the verbal argument that used to be at the negotiating table. Therefore, Shaun didn't feel that there was anything wrong with Mordes's first attack. This is the dignity and pride that a real strong person should have.

But with this shot, Sean has basically figured out the attributes of Mordes.

There is no doubt that the war knight has almost no agility value. On the contrary, in the two genres of strength and endurance, anyone who can become a war knight must be blessed with a high genius, but Modes' talent in this area is definitely a genius level, because only the blow just now, Sean had already judged that Mordes' power value was definitely more than two hundred points, otherwise the storm gun he displayed could not be so powerful.

As one of the war knight's three signature skills, the Gun of Storm's appearance rate is extremely high, because the damage judgment of this skill is directly linked to the strength of xing. As long as the strength is stronger, the power of this skill will be greater. . Although the shot of the Storm Spear will be determined for up to three seconds, and the starting action is also very obvious, as long as you eat this skill head-on, you will not only receive a very terrible damage determination, but also fall into dizziness, concussion, etc. The judging effect of multiple side effects is equivalent to saying that for the war knight, the three-second straight time is completely non-existent.

Of course, the premise is to be hit head-on.

but!

The environment right now is not a game. If you insist on a storm spear on the front of the war knight, you must at least be a barrier Paladin like Bannock, and it must be a full-armed one. With the small body of Sean's flesh and blood, even if he is immortal with the gun of the storm frontally, he is absolutely half-dead, and with the war knight's special power of ten guilds, Sean believes that if he is also a high-ranking golden powerhouse, then he He dared to play with the opponent, but with the strength of the upper silver, how could he dare to parry or block Mordes' attack.

So you can only choose to avoid.

However, Modes' power value is far beyond his estimate, so once the distance is opened, Sean will not be able to counterattack immediately, even if in reality, Modes still has three after he casts the Storm Spear. The hard time is seconds, but at this time he has no time to get close to the goal.

The reason is simple.

The shock wave after the gun of the storm is shot.

If Sean chooses to fight back immediately after Modes takes the shot, he will definitely be involved in the impact of Shockwave. With his current willpower and equipment type, even if he can be exempt from the side effects of Shockwave, his body shape and Speed will still be affected to a certain extent. So actually calculated, Sean will face the possibility of fighting the war knight head-on no matter what he chooses.

In this regard, he has no advantage at all.

This is the terrible thing about war knights.

Whether they are pve or pvp in the game, they have always been called monster-level bugs, and because of this, there are not many players who can successfully find war knights in the game. But Sean never thought that he would encounter such a bug here. He didn't know whether to say he was lucky or unlucky. This kind of prize almost equal to winning the 5 million lottery would also fall on his head. superior.

It's a pity that there is no lottery ticket in this world, otherwise he might be able to try to buy one.

Chapter 344: . All the cards are out

Shaun has scruples and is not in a hurry to shoot, but it does not mean that Modes is willing to waste time with Shaun like this.

One step.

Only heard a thunderous roar, and there was a shallow pit several inches in the ground where Modes was standing, and cracks in the pit were growing.

Mordes, the whole person is like a cannonball that blasts towards Sean.

The magnificent aura burst out from him.

Due to the high speed and high temperature, some strange distortions appeared in the space around Modes.

This is one of the three signature skills of war knights, war charge.

This skill, like the Storm Gun, is a skill linked to power and vindictiveness, and is different from general charge skills. Although War Charge does not come with effects such as stun and interruption, it is a rare range. xing damage determination skills. However, in the real world, with Mordes' physique and strength, being hit by his war charge, any attack must be directly interrupted.

And the scope of xing damage, which means that Sean cannot play the limit with Modes. Even if it just dodges, it will also be hurt by the opponent's vindictiveness.

So when he saw Mordes throwing another signature skill without hesitation, Sean just cursed fiercely, and with the same astonishing reaction, he directly started the sprint and swept diagonally to the side. Because Shaun's reaction was extremely fast, it seemed to outsiders that he and Modes had a close exchange of positions—when Shaun's sprint and Modes's war charge were at the same time. At the end, Sean was already standing about five meters behind Modes' left side.

But this time, Sean no longer had the slightest hesitation.

Because basically he has thoroughly familiarized with several attributes of Modes.

The strength value absolutely exceeds two hundred points, and the endurance value is still unclear, but the agility value will never exceed fifty points, and its wisdom and will are obviously not high. Otherwise, it would not be so reckless to perform a war charge.

The real function of the war charge is to come up unexpectedly when fighting the enemy at close range.

Imagine what it would be like to be hit by a high-speed rail that has reached top speed at close range?

Now that Sean has basically figured out some of the war knight's data and xing grid, it is naturally time for him to take action, and most importantly, he has already used two of the war knight's three signature skills—— In this real world, skills also have a cooling time, although because the world is real, the cooling time of this skill cannot be as long as ten minutes or even several hours as in the game, but there are still a few minutes.

And the war between the master and the strong. Often a few minutes is enough to determine and expand the advantages of both sides in combat.

So Sean's proactive attack is not only a good timing at this point, but even the geographical advantage is completely on his side, because Modes is facing Sean.

After turning on the adrenal stimulation, light-weight technique, and the ability to use the field, Sean's agility directly exceeded the 250-point level. This data is already more than the average high-level golden peak powerhouse. A war knight as strong as Mordes has a power value of just over two hundred points. But the difference is. Modes's data is real, but Shaun has it with the help of many secret skills and special abilities, so he can't conduct any protracted battles at all.

However, the professions dominated by speed flow are not suitable for protracted warfare.

Modes felt a strong wind behind him.

As a high-ranking golden powerhouse, his perception is naturally very keen, but soon his eyes changed immediately.

Because it was almost at the moment when the strong wind came. A slight tingling sensation came from the back of his neck. As a long battlefield, he certainly knew what this feeling was. This showed that the lord he despised had a threat that could cause enough harm to himself. However, this is still within the range of Modes' expectations. After all, both Johansen and Dians were killed by Sean with simple and neat means, so it's no surprise that they have the strength to hurt him.

However, that's all.

The grin on Mordes' face was even worse, and then he turned around at a very fast speed, the gun in his right hand was even more rounded and ready to sweep. Judging by his own strength, he believes that as he turns around, his gun will definitely sweep Sean's ribs without any surprises. If luck is good enough, only this blow can make him inside. The broken rib stuck into his heart.

It's just that, at the moment when Mordes' figure moved, he realized that the situation was completely different from what he had imagined.

And this time, Modes changed more than his eyes.

As a high-ranking golden powerhouse, Modes is naturally very clear about his own situation, so at the moment of turning around, he has found that his speed is a bit slower than before. At this time, take the beat slowly, then it is very likely that something fatal will happen, for example, at this moment, he feels the tingling sensation in the position of his carotid artery becomes more intense.

"Roar!"

In desperation, Modes finally let out an angry roar.

I saw a burst of extremely strong red light burst out of Mordes' body. This burst of light had many similarities with fighting Qi, but its essence was not fighting Qi, but a special ability similar to secret skills. This ability can strengthen the caster's own abilities. Simply put, it is similar to the berserker's madness, but it does not have many side effects like the berserker.

This is the strongest and largest of the three major skills of War Knight: War Asylum.

The entire battlefield, accompanied by Mordes' roar and burst of red se light, can be seen clearly whether it is from Sean's side or from the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. But it is precisely because it is sufficiently clear that both sides have a great worry in their hearts-Alfred and Rena are worried because they can feel the stronger power of Mordes from this light. Therefore, it is natural to worry about Sean's safety; and the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is very clear about the strength of Modes, but at this moment, I was shocked to find that Modes not only used the gun of storm and the charge of war, but even War asylum is displayed together. The mystery and power of Sean made their heart palpitations even more.

At this moment, both sides are very clear that this is definitely a  battle of life and death.

Similarly, it was announced that the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce wanted to capture Sean alive, which was obviously impossible to succeed.

Because, at the moment when Mordes used the asylum of war, the attacks of Rena, Alfred and the Thunder Lion were obviously stronger, and they had even begun a fierce attack excluding casualties, so the original number was The casualties of the disadvantaged Chamber of Commerce Alliance immediately became tragic. Rina directly used injury for injury to forcibly beheaded a lower-level golden powerhouse, and then desperately launched a fierce attack on the other two lower-level gold powerhouses.

These two low-level golden powerhouses are not as strong as Rena. At this moment, Rina was violently attacked like crazy, and soon began to become unrestrained, and the injuries on the two of them began to increase. But right now, they didn't dare to exchange injuries with Rena anymore, because the death of another companion had been told to them just a moment ago. At this moment, the mad Rina didn't care whether her injuries would intensify or increase. All she needed was a chance to kill them.

And once there is cowardice in the heart. The flaws of these two lower gold powerhouses naturally became more and bigger.

So fight. Soon it started to become a one-sided situation.

When Rina paid a little bit of injury again as the price, this lower golden strongman became a corpse completely. As for the other lower golden man, he saw the second companion also died under Rina's gun. He chose to retreat without hesitation, and didn't dare to fight Rina at all.

In fact, if Rina wants to, with her great advantage in strength and equipment. She could kill these three low-level golden powerhouses without injury, but because she was worried about Sean's safety, she would rather choose to pay a little injury to quickly end the battle. However, this is also largely because the equipment on her body is a set of legendary light armor, if it is only a general standard equipment. Then Rina is not as simple as leaving a small injury.

To solve the two low-level gold powerhouses, Rina did not chase the low-level gold powerhouse that escaped, but turned her head and drove towards Xiao En.

But before the battle between Shaun and Modes was approaching, Rena had already heard Shaun's cry: "Go and support Fred."

"But..." Rina opened her mouth slightly, as if she wanted to say something.

"Reduce our wounded as much as possible." Sean's voice resounded again, "I don't have any problems right now."

Rena didn't know that Sean's current strength had improved a lot compared to before entering the Grey Shadow Forest. She worried that Sean was a knight's instinctive reaction loyal to the lord. At this moment, after hearing Sean's words, Rena did not immediately go to support Alfred, but stood at a relatively suitable distance and silently observed Sean and Modes. She knew very well that as long as she stood here, Then Alfred can safely command the army to fight a fierce battle with the opponent, thereby reducing the casualties as much as possible. This is the best plan to "let your own soldiers reduce the casualties as much as possible".

As for Rina's choice, Shaun saw clearly, he understood Rina's thoughts after his thoughts, so he didn't say anything. But in fact, the inner joy is still very strong, because Sean discovered that in these years it turned out that he was not alone in growing and advancing, including Rena, Alfred, Cecilia and others. , They are also constantly growing and advancing.

If you change to the previous situation, Rena will never make a judgment on how best to be in the current battle situation. She will only choose to obey the command, and then quickly end the battle with strong personal strength. Just as she chose to confront the three lower golden powerhouses just now, that kind of fighting style has become an instinct for her, and although this instinct still remains, she has become more aware of time and situation, and then Make the best tactical plan.

And Rena is standing here, and she can really help Sean a lot.

Rina's strength lies there after all.

A high-ranking golden powerhouse who is ready to take action at any time, no matter how powerful Mordes has turned on the asylum of war, he definitely does not dare to put all his attention on Sean. After all, judging from the paper data, Rena's threat is much greater than that of Sean, but after the moment of fighting just now, Modes has also made it clear that Sean is definitely not as easy to deal with as it seems.

Because, the wound on his left neck at this time is the best proof.

As long as this wound is a little bit deeper by one millimeter, it will cut off his carotid artery directly. Although this fatal wound with his current strength will not kill him on the spot, the decline in combat power is also absolute, and if If he can't get effective first aid in a short time, he will fall here too. But now, the wound really wouldn't be fatal, but he no longer dared to despise the simple-looking long sword in Sean's hand.

"The Storm Spear, War Charge, and War Asylum, you have already used the three special abilities, then does this mean that your hole cards have been exhausted?"

"Who knows." Mordes still has a hideous face, but this kind of hideousness is different from the excitement before. This time the hideousness is completely due to pain, "But I really underestimated you Lord Lord, I didn't expect You actually have mastered the special ability of 'field', no wonder you dare to face me alone.... Just do you think that you can kill me? You have used all your hole cards, but at most you can only It's just a tie with me. Even if your female knight joins the battle, she still can't kill me in her current state."

"Indeed, you did become more tricky when you turned on the secret technique of War Asylum, but it was tricky for me." Sean shook his head slightly, "Not to mention that War Asylum has a very big weakness, just talk about the hole cards. Okay, actually I still have a hole card that is useless."

Hearing Sean's words, Mordes' pupils shrank suddenly.

He didn't think it was necessary for Sean to deceive him, because at this moment he put Sean on an equal footing with himself.

The pride of the strong is destined to prevent them from deceiving their opponents with lies.

Not to mention, Sean has no reason to lie to him.

"To be honest, the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce did give me a surprise." Sean held the sword in one hand, while his left hand reached into the pocket next to the belt. "I know that the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce will definitely arrange to show its strength. A high-ranking golden powerhouse sits in town, but I did not expect to be a war knight. People like you are extremely terrifying and powerful individuals on the battlefield. Even if they join the empire at least, they can be a legionnaire. , I didn't expect to act as a guard here."

Following Sean's words and actions, Rina suddenly lifted the spear and then turned and left, rushing to Alfred's side, because she knew that the battlefield here no longer needed her to take action; those who were still watching the battle from a distance. Cecilia's mouth raised slightly, because she knew that Sean was set to win this battle.

As for Mordes, although he couldn't see the expression of Cecilia, the blood awakened person because he turned his back to Cecilia, his scalp suddenly exploded when he saw Rina chose to leave the battlefield. A strong sense of threat that was even more terrifying than the sword that Xiao En pierced into his carotid artery just now began to permeate him.

"But it's a pity that the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce rejected my proposal for two days. From the moment that the Gray Shadow Black Market will no longer have the position of this Chamber of Commerce." Xiao En said softly, and finally took his hand out of the bag. "Therefore, it is destined that all people who belong to the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce today will become victims.... I know this may be very cruel, but in my position, there are many things to consider, at least I will never Allow someone to disrupt the situation at this critical moment when I am about to start war with the Kingdom of Darbion. And you, I mean the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, not just against the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, what you did at this moment violated my bottom line. "

Sean slowly spread out his left hand. On the palm of his left hand, it was a golden ball of light.

At the moment when he saw this ball of light, Modes finally let out a scream of horror, because of the strong sense of threat, he finally defeated his defense at this moment!

"Now, I have all my cards out."

Chapter 345: .The cost of mistakes

Mordes was able to understand in an instant that Sean was using the field to suppress him, which is enough to prove that he has come into contact with the outermost surface rules of the world, and what he lacks is actually It's just an opportunity. As long as the "Literature Museum" gives him this opportunity, then Mordes can also control the field, and with his current strength, as long as he can control the field, then this means that he can step into the sanctuary 100%, and once he enters In the case of Sanctuary, then the field will degenerate into a domain.

Therefore, when Mordes sees the ball of light in Sean's hand, Mordes can naturally feel the power of the powerful laws attached to the ball of light, and these laws are absolutely deadly threatening to him. .

This is why Modes screamed.

However, at this time, Sean no longer needs to say anything. He has been choosing to back down just now, just to find a chance to give Mordes a fatal blow.

The Requiem skill, used to deal with the lower level golden powerhouse, is definitely one sword, no one can escape. However, if it is used against the upper gold powerhouse, then the power will be greatly reduced. In the underground battlefield of Hastings Manor, Sean has already tested it once, and as a result, even a magician can easily dodge. So when faced with a war knight, Sean didn't think Requiem could have any effect.

On the contrary, if he can't use Requiem to give Mordes a fatal blow, then he will become a living target in the next instant.

This is also the reason why Shaun's previous attacks did not use Requiem, but instead used the sharpness of the dead bones to assassinate Mordes. But I didn't expect that this fatal assassination with speed as the advantage could not be successful, which forced Xiao En to take Guru out.

Of course, the special skill of driving Mordes out of the war asylum is also a good gain.

And now, when Sean turns over the last hole card. This shows that the game has ended here.

The palm of her hand shook slightly, and Guru let out a low voice of dissatisfaction, but he flew into the air very quickly.

He has been in a deep sleep state for this period of time, so he is very dissatisfied with being awakened roughly by Sean. However, he and Sean have a soul contract relationship. In other words, Sean can do anything with him. He is absolutely impossible to pose any threat to Sean. Therefore, he can only deal with the extreme dissatisfaction. Vent to Mordes.

Seeing Gollum lift off, the panic in Modes's heart became even more intense.

At this moment, he first thought of running away. Instead of treating Sean as nothing like before.

But this time, it was Sean's turn to make a merciless shot.

When Modes' attention was completely attracted by Guru, Sean rushed towards Modes with a single stride, which was actually much faster than before. When Mordes, who hadn't noticed for a while, waited until he came back to his senses, Sean had already crossed his best attack range. At this distance, his shot power is much weaker, and coupled with a hasty response. Modes could only barely parry. It is even more impossible to fight back.

The dead bones and the gun were just a confrontation, and there was a dazzling spark, and the gun in Modes's hand, which was obviously a demonized weapon, immediately had a pale white scratch.

This change caused Mordes' pupils to shrink suddenly.

Although he had overestimated Sean's strength and equipment as much as possible, he did not expect these so-called overestimations in his opinion. Still too underestimated the strength of this lord. Because the equipment that can be used as a demonized weapon must be strengthened to a certain extent, only in this way can it withstand the side effects of the demonized weapon. Therefore, the stronger the demonized weapon, the greater the hardness. Even compared to the general legendary epic equipment, it is not inferior.

But even so, his gun was still cut with a shallow mark by the long sword in Sean's hand, which meant that if he dared to fight with weapons, the final result would be that his weapon was cut by Sean's sword. Off.

After understanding this, Mordes immediately realized the seriousness of the problem. He must distance himself from Sean and use his own strength as an advantage to suppress Sean. Otherwise, he might really be able to do so today. Fallen here.

And thinking of the threat of thinking, even Modes could not calm down completely.

It's just that he just retreated, and at the moment he tried to distance himself from Sean, a sharp pain in his bones came from his back. The pain was extremely violent and abrupt. He felt as if he had been hit directly by a siege crossbow. It seemed that his vertebrae were about to break. The next moment he felt a sweetness in his throat, and a mouthful of blood was sprayed directly. When he came out, the vigorous aura on his body was directly interrupted.

"Guru!"

It seemed that he was not able to kill Mordes with a full-strength collision, and Guru was confused and became even more dissatisfied.

He has been hidden by Xiao Enxue for so long, and he finally showed up again today, but he didn't make any achievements.

It should be known that even the lower level golden powerhouse, in the case of being hit by Guru at such a high speed and full force, even if he is not dead, will be seriously injured, because the power of the rules surrounding Guru is not a joke, basically it can be called it. It's the one that has nothing but broken. But in this case, it only made Modes spit out blood, and the injury was not too serious, which of course made Guru feel very uncomfortable.

But Sean knew very well that it was not that Guru was not strong, but that Modes's war asylum was too strong.

This ability has greatly strengthened Mordes' physical strength, and Mordes itself is also a person who is exposed to the rules, so this impact of Guru did not cause fatal damage to Mordes. But even so, at this moment, there is a huge  wound on Modes' back. This is the trace of being injured by the force of Gollum, and through this, it also lets Sean understand that Gollum's lethality is very strong. But it is similar to his requiem. Only when facing the lower level can one kill with one hit. If you are facing a too powerful enemy or an enemy that has touched the rules, then the lethality will be reduced accordingly. .

Similarly, Modes' arrogance is also one of the important reasons for his current situation.

Because the war knight is the occupation of positioning the assistant tank in the game, a heavy armor is the most basic configuration, but Modes dares to fight with only a magic weapon, and he did not wear that thick suit. In the traditional sense of heavy armor, what is this not a big one?

If he has this heavy armor on his body and cooperates with the war shelter skill, it is impossible for him to spit out a mouthful of blood directly in the face of Guru's sneak attack. Although this injury is not serious to him, as long as there is a slight injury in the fight between the strong, the injury will soon affect the tilt of the victory sky, so from this moment on, Maude In fact, Si has fallen into a disadvantage.

At least, before the few special abilities and skills that Shaun possessed have not disappeared, Shaun was a real high-ranking gold expert.

is still an upper-level golden powerhouse who has mastered the special ability of "field".

I know well the pvp combat principles that you need to know when you are sick. At this moment, Sean can't stop the slightest at all, but launches a fierce attack on Modes with a crazier force. And Guru, who had a close connection with Sean, also felt Sean's mind for the first time, so he quickly moved away and prepared to attack Mordes from a tricky angle once again.

Seeing the tacit cooperation between Sean and the golden ball of light, Modes' face became more yin and heavier. He immediately understood that this ball of light was definitely not an ordinary thing, maybe very It may be a special life form that he has never seen before. After weighing the two phases, Modes also immediately turned a lot of attention to Gollum, because compared to Sean's lethality, Gollum was obviously much more terrifying.

He doesn't think his body can withstand how many grunt bumps.

So in the face of Shaun's fierce attack again, Modes instinctively did not pay much attention, because at this time Guru had also launched an attack from the side.

Under such circumstances, Modes did not hesitate to swing his gun and pat at Gulu fiercely. He knew that there was a special rule force around Gulu, so he did not think about going head-on with Gulu, his purpose He just wanted to shoot Gollum, something of unknown origin, so he used a kind of ingenuity for this shot. Although he also knew that with the special regular force field around Gulu, most of his guns would be damaged this time, but for the sake of his own life, he could only do so.

As for Sean, he can already be sure that the opponent has the ability to threaten his own life, but Modes is still confident that he can cope, as long as there is no such * ball of light to get in the way.

However, when the gun was slapped at Gulu fiercely, Modes' face suddenly changed.

Because things did not develop as he imagined.

The shot he fired did not slap the ball of light into the air, but was stuck tightly by him. A peculiar impact was fed back to his hand through the gun, not only shocked. His right hand was paralyzed for a while, and he even almost got rid of the gun.

At the same time, Sean had already rushed to Modes' side.

Because Mordes did not pay enough attention to Sean and at the same time did not understand Gollum enough, facing the arrival of Sean at this moment, he had simply lost any ability to counterattack and parry, just like the meat on the chopping board. I can watch the butcher knife in Xiao En's hand swinging down at him!

"Do not"

Heart-piercing screams sounded abruptly on the battlefield, but this was clearly the voice of one person, but it overwhelmed the screams of killing thousands of people on the battlefield.

Deafening.

Chapter 346: .Showing fangs

On the battlefield, there was silence.

is true silence.

The people on the side of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance have stopped their attacks, and in order to reduce casualties, Alfred did not continue to order the attack, and the two sides had a tacit understanding and stopped fighting. However, when the people from the Chamber of Commerce Alliance saw the battlefield after the armistice, they were still deeply shocked by the tragic battlefield situation in front of them.

All the ordinary people who acted as cannon fodder in the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, at this moment, all of them turned into corpses, lying quietly on the ground. Most of them, their faces are distorted, their faces still retain the horror and anger before death, of course, there are also a small part of their faces that still retain the enthusiasm of dying for honor. Even the silver realm guards of the Chamber of Commerce have sharply reduced their number by more than half, but the main reason for this is that Rina joined the battle with an extremely tyrannical posture.

Before Rena joined the battle, although these silver masters still had casualties, they could at least barely maintain the defeat. At least Alfred's Thunder Lion was also uncomfortable.

But when they saw the situation on the battlefield at this moment, these silver realm's chamber of commerce guards knew very well that although they could pose a certain degree of threat to the Thunder Lion, in the end they would still be annihilated. Because the soldiers of the Thunder Lions fell on the ground, everyone's face was only calm, without fanaticism, fear, anger or other emotions, and it was this calm expression that really made these chambers of commerce guards feel terrified. .

Because they know very well what this peace represents.

That is fearlessness of death.

Is it possible that an army that dares to face death head-on and fights an enemy whose strength is far surpasses itself?

The answer arises in the heart of every chamber of commerce guard.

And it's amazingly consistent.

Although the two sides had a tacit understanding and stopped fighting at the same time, Alfred did not forget his responsibilities. He still ordered the formation of a circle of guards of these chambers of commerce. But this time, their actions were very slow. Obviously, they did not want to stimulate these people, and then another death battle broke out, because in the previous battle, Alfred had already lost more than one hundred and fifty Thunder Lions. Of the soldiers, at least fifty of them are from the Thunder Hero Division.

"What are you doing!" A few roars came from the back of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, "Hurry up!"

The guards of these chambers of commerce are their last hope and the basis and basis for their survival.

Especially for the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, if they lose these guards, they will have no one to live today. Therefore, seeing these chambers of commerce guards stop their hands at this moment, all members of the chamber of commerce alliance felt unusually fearful. It was a kind of fear and chill from the depths of the soul.

Of course, it was not that they did not hear the last scream of horror from Modes.

is just a subconscious choice not willing to admit it.

In the face of the desperate voices of the deacons of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, none of the Chamber of Commerce guards acted. They just looked at Alfred and others cautiously, a little uneasy, and after the * battle just now, they have clearly understood the fact that when facing the regular soldiers in the army, even if their individual strength far exceeds their opponents. It is also difficult to obtain any advantages.

was able to kill more than one hundred and fifty soldiers on the other side, and that was done with the cooperation of nearly one hundred cannon fodder. However, this result still made them pay the lives of more than 30 silver realm chamber of commerce guards.

One hundred fifty and one hundred thirty, the casualty ratio is close to one to one, which is actually a disastrous failure for them.

"Except for the people in the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, everyone else should surrender, and I will spare your lives." Shaun's voice came from the thunder lion crowd.

The remaining sixty guards of the Chamber of Commerce glanced at each other, and there was a trace of terror in each other's eyes, especially the guards of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, their faces instantly became very ugly. Before, the identity of the guard of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce was their pride and gave them a great sense of superiority, but now this identity has become their urging talisman, this kind of strong change made their hearts rise up. An incredible feeling.

However, perhaps it was because Shaun's words were too domineering, or perhaps because these guards still didn't trust Shaun in their hearts. Therefore, under Shaun's intimidation, these chambers of commerce guards did not surrender or lay down their weapons. They chose The shrinking formation.

It seems that only in such a crowded situation can they dispel the fear in their hearts.

"I count to three. If you are still unwilling to surrender, then you don't have to surrender." Sean's voice came from the crowd again, and at this moment he really has the appearance of a lord—— It is not that the charge is at the forefront, but he chooses to hide in the soldier's protection circle. Although this behavior makes Sean a bit uncomfortable, it must be said that the coercive aura of this kind of superior is more powerful than he rushes to the most. The front is even more impressive.

"one."

The sound of sounded, and all the chamber of commerce guards became more frightened.

"If we surrender, will you really spare us?" Someone finally asked in the crowd.

"Don't be stupid!" As soon as the voice of the question fell, someone retorted, "How could he spare us! As long as we lay down our weapons and surrender, we will be greeted with a massacre! Don't forget the end of the Baise Pigeon Chamber of Commerce! "

The crowd became silent, and the atmosphere of tension, fear, and despair continued to spread.

"two."

Sean's voice was still as steady as before, but at this time he did one more action: throwing something into the chamber of commerce.

That is a round object.

This object made a parabolic arc in mid-air, and then landed on the ground. Because of inertia and gravity, this object bounced a few times after landing, and then rolled forward.

Because of the fear of the unknown, facing the rolling of this object, the Chamber of Commerce guards quickly gave way. No one dared to touch this object. After the round object stopped, everyone finally saw it. What the * is the thing.

The next moment, several crashing screams sounded.

But more, panic spreads more quickly.

It was a head, a head with a panic expression on its face.

And the owner of this head is the high-ranking golden powerhouse of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

War knight, Modes.

Although he had heard Mordes scream before, most of them knew in their hearts that Mordes was mostly defeated. It's just that they didn't expect that Modes, who was a high-ranking golden powerhouse, didn't even have the ability to escape, and even his head was cut off by Sean.

This is not only a kind of humiliation and contempt, but more of it shows Sean's anger at what Leiyun Chamber of Commerce has done.

and his unwavering attitude.

"three!"

Sean's voice sounded again.

"I surrender!" In the face of such a courageous anger, someone finally couldn't bear the pressure and chose to surrender.

I saw a Chamber of Commerce guard quickly dropped his weapon, and then quickly rushed out of the group of Chamber of Commerce guards.

He held his hands high, his face was a panic  se that Jing God collapsed, and he quickly ran towards the Thunder Lion.

At the sign of Sean, several soldiers of the Thunder Lion quickly stepped forward to subdue him, and the guard of the Chamber of Commerce did not resist in the whole process. Of course, the soldiers of the Thunder Lion did not do anything excessive to stimulate these people. They just subdued the guard of the Chamber of Commerce and then took them away.

With the first person, there will naturally be a second person and a third person. Soon this herding effect will completely spread among all the chambers of commerce guards, and almost everyone has chosen to surrender. In the face of the desperate situation of death, of course they will desperately refute, but when there is hope of survival in this desperate situation, no one will still choose to die at this moment.

Except for several guards from the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

At this moment, they are truly desperate.

Because the comrades who were still fighting together before have chosen to surrender, they naturally become the lone army in the fight.

In this environment of Jing God's torment, these Leiyun Chamber of Commerce guards finally couldn't bear the pressure and collapsed completely, and rushed towards Xiao En and the others after giving out a roar. But what greeted them was the cold and merciless attack of the Thunder Lion. Miracles, mercy, and forgiveness did not appear on these people, so death was the only thing waiting for them.

Seeing that all the chamber of commerce guards were all swept away, the faces of all the deacons of the chamber of commerce alliance finally changed.

Fear, regret, despair, there are any emotions.

Then the next moment, the deacons of the Chamber of Commerce finally started to flee after a scream of horror.

The chaos will soon begin to spread completely, and I am afraid that it will sweep the entire gray shadow black market if it is not used.

However, at this time, the overall situation has long been decided, and the fleeing of these chamber deacons is naturally irrelevant to Sean, because the three passages that can leave the black market in Gray Shadow are guarded by Sean's people, so it is impossible at all. Someone can escape from here. Therefore, Sean will naturally not waste manpower at this moment to hunt down these escaping deacons of the Chamber of Commerce.

He just took people and walked towards the gate of Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

There, there are still some people who have not escaped. These people are from the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

"Sean, you really want to be an enemy of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce!" The deacon of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce from the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire still looked incredible. The Chamber of Commerce is the enemy, he is just a little lord and baron.

"It's not that I want to be an enemy to your Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, but your Leiyun Chamber of Commerce is to be an enemy to me." Xiao En said calmly, "The opportunity, I have given you, it is you who are not rare.... In that case, , You can't blame me for showing my fangs."

"I want to negotiate!" The deacon of the Chamber of Commerce seemed to know that the general situation was over, so he did not clamor again, "Is the identity of the nobleman of the Millennium Covenant Empire, not the identity of the deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce."

"I refuse." Sean shook his head, "Here, there are no nobles, some are just merchants.... I can't let you set this precedent, because it will disrupt my opportunities."

"you....."

"So, everyone in the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce today must die here... as a merchant."

Hearing Sean's cold words without a trace of emotion, the deacon of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce from the Millennium Covenant Empire's status was wide open. At this moment, he finally understood what Sean meant by "showing his fangs". .

This... means going to war!

Chapter 347: Lord of Grey Shadows

The scale of the Greyshadow Black Market is not small, it is even larger than the small towns in the Panda collar at the beginning of Sean. However, it is naturally not comparable to the later Void City, after all, it is a big city that can accommodate hundreds of thousands of people.

But at this moment, the whole gray shadow black market is full of pungent blood.

Although the ventilation system here is obviously improved to a large extent, the * smell has not been dissipated for a long time. Especially the street that was once the most prosperous and prosperous in the entire gray shadow and black market, there not only has a strong and disgusting * smell, it is even colder than other places.

That is the chill that the dead soul of the dead has not yet dissipated.

The headquarters of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce in the Gray Shadow Black Market, including all members of the deacon, trader, guard, and handyman, all of which were slaughtered by Sean's order.

This is a * killing.

Under this naked iron-blood suppression, the survivors of other chambers of commerce did not dare to resist, so when Alfred once again brought the soldiers of the Thunder Lion to the door to count and confiscate the materials in the inventory of these chambers of commerce, there was no A chamber of commerce dared to resist.

Of course, it is naturally unavoidable to use the cunning of the businessman to do things like hands and feet in secret.

If, under normal circumstances, a lord like Sean has achieved a victory advantage, he will usually choose to close one eye, after all, this is also a rule of the game.

Only this time, Sean did not do it.

In other words, if there was no Leiyun Chamber of Commerce's leading resistance and the response of these chambers of commerce, Sean might really have closed one eye. But since he has chosen to slaughter the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, it is naturally no longer possible to allow these chambers of commerce to violate their prerogatives.

As a result, the slaughtered chambers of commerce soon added a few more.

Perhaps this kind of slaughter finally made these merchants and guards feel the inferiority of their lives, and soon some people began to organize an escape movement. But for Sean, who has blocked three entrances and exits. Of course he couldn't let these people escape, so Sean didn't care who was among those who flee, and the measures he took were still the same as before.

massacre.

is still a naked massacre.

Soon, people began to call Sean a tyrant in the black market.

Tyrant Sean.

This is the second unofficial nickname for Sean since the miracle lord.

But thanks to the appearance of this nickname, at least no one in the black market dared to fight Sean again.

.....

Standing by the window, watching a team of soldiers from the Thunder Lion guard the important road junctions in the street, and then continue to move out the various materials that the chamber of commerce still had not been able to transport to the headquarters one by one, Wilson would say he would not be envious. That must be fake.

As the owner of the gray shadow black market, he is very clear about the market prices of these materials.

Similarly, he knows better. According to the rules of these chambers of commerce in the gray shadow black market, the goods are delivered every six months. But because the war between Sean and the Hastings broke out too quickly and ended too quickly, the goods here have been piled up for more than eight months, which is almost equivalent to two shipments.

This is not a small sum.

But no matter how envious it is. Wilson didn't dare to make the idea of these goods. In Wilson's view, there are probably only seven empires on the entire continent who dare to play the idea of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. Of course there is now a tyrant Sean Connery.

Wilson thinks. This name really fits Sean.

Because Shaun gave Wilson the feeling that he was an unruly beast, he always had ways that others could not understand to destroy the established rules of the game very thoroughly, and then establish his own rules of the game based on the broken rules. , And force others to follow. Of course, this approach does not seem to be magical or special in Wilson's view. To put it bluntly, it is the dual policy of carrot sticks and courtesy first. It's just that the identity of the person who made this rule is extremely low, so this approach seems a bit weird.

A baron wants to make game rules, which is simply impossible on the whole wonderland.

But in fact, all this is now not only successful. And no one dared to resist.

Because everyone who dared to resist has become a corpse.

"You were put in one, Mr. Wilson." Roma from the Kingdom of France let out a chuckle, a little gloating in his eyes.

For the previous owner of the gray shadow black market to refuse his move, it would be impossible for Roma to say that he did not mind, just as Wilson did not envy Sean to swallow the goods. But just like Wilson's scruples, he also had deep scruples for the lord Sean Connery. After seeing Sean's treatment of these chambers of commerce, he is now deeply afraid. .

So he dare not laugh at Sean, does not mean he dare not laugh at Wilson.

"It doesn't count as a pose." Wilson retracted his gaze from the window and said calmly, "Since I accepted his proposal, I knew I had no turning back."

"But you certainly didn't expect that he would carry out such a thorough massacre on the Chamber of Commerce Alliance." Roma sneered. "Even the people of the Seven Empires would not dare to do so. This lord did so as to completely alliance with the Chamber of Commerce. His face is torn, and the Principality of Ryan can't protect him."

"Do you think he really needs to rely on the Principality of Ryan?" Wilson glanced at Roma and let out a chuckle. "I finally know why you have an earl title but you can't become a field lord. You can even give it to someone like you. You have a piece of land, and you will soon sell it."

"What do you mean!" The territory is Roma's pain and his weakness. Wilson's words make his face difficult to look.

Wilson sneered, but said nothing.

Roma's strength is really good, and he can become a high-level golden power at a young age, which is enough to prove that his talent is very strong, or his blood is good. But unfortunately, not every genius is an almighty genius, so Roma's political ideas and sense of smell are very bad. This is also the reason why the Nomir family has not arranged a territory for him, because of politics like him. Idiots and people who don't have the slightest ability to manage a territory are responsible for a territory. The whole territory will only get worse and worse by him.

Just then, a knock on the door suddenly sounded.

Wilson froze for a moment, then reached out and rubbed his face, trying to squeeze a bright smile from his face, and then said, "Please come in."

Seeing Wilson's movements, Roma was stunned for a moment, and then immediately understood who was coming in.

Just as he had guessed, after the door of the meeting room was opened, the first to walk in was the lord who made him fear.

Sean Connery.

Then came Wilson's left and right hand, Robert, and Rena and another fellow who made Roma also feared Roma.

Butcher Clover.

The Kingdom of Darbion didn't know enough about Sean's intelligence. But this does not mean that other kingdoms and nobles are the same.

At least, Roma, who was born in the Nomir family, knew that in addition to the two fearsome generals, Alfred and William, under Sean's command, there is another one who also needs to focus on, that is, Cecilia Guards. The head of the regiment. Clover nicknamed the butcher.

If Rina, Cecilia, and Sean themselves constitute the most powerful iron triangle of Pandaling's personal strength, then the military iron triangle is Alfred, William and Clover. Three people. Instead of Alfred, William and Anno as the Kingdom of Darbion thought.

Perhaps no one in the Kingdom of Darbion knows how terrible Clover is. But Roma absolutely knew it.

Because of the original operation in the Wildlands, there was a sentry belonging to the Nomir family. Although he didn't know much about it, he knew very well about the military power that Clover swept across several trading points in the Great Rift Valley at the beginning of the war, so he naturally knew the origin of the nickname "Butcher". At that time, there was a sand table deduction inside the Nomir family, and finally came to a conclusion. In the case of equal forces, no general in the Nomir family would be an opponent of Clover.

is also this discovery, so the Nomir family pays more attention to Klov than the Kingdom of Darbion.

At this moment, Roma's heart is truly shocked.

The Butcher Clover, the Lion King Alfred, the tyrant Sean, Rena, Cecilia, if you add a William. So the two iron triangles that make up Pandaren's strongest military power are all members.

However, at this time, neither Sean nor Wilson and others paid much attention to the existence of Roma. Roma is only the strength of the upper gold powerhouse. Sean does have the qualifications to despise him, so neither party found Roma's god. se changes.

As soon as he saw Sean appear, Wilson had already greeted him with an exaggerated appearance: "Sir Sean, you are really flattered by your visit in person."

"Hehe, Mr. Wilson, no matter how you say, you are also the Lord of Gray Shadows. I definitely need to visit in person to show respect." Sean smiled and hugged Wilson.

The Lord of Gray Shadows!

Hearing this name, Roma's pupils shrank again.

Wilson's face is full of unspeakable ecstasy.

Before Wilson, although he could also be called the Lord of Grey Shadows, he was only a self-proclaimed title after all, and he had to be called by others to give him face, but in fact it was of no benefit. It was just like It's like a nobleman with a false name but no territory or real power. But now that this title is shouted from Sean's mouth, the meaning is completely different, which means that Wilson has received a kind of "official" recognition at this moment.

Of course, this official refers to Sean's side.

But as long as Shaun is still alive and his territory has not been lost, or that this piece of Gray Shadow Forest is still within Shaun's territory, then he is the real Lord of Gray Shadows, and the entire Gray Shadow Forest belongs to all His jurisdiction. And this means that from now on, he no longer needs to look at the face of the Chamber of Commerce, he can even become one of the rulers of the game in one fell swoop.

And the scope of application of this game rule is naturally the entire Grey Shadow Forest.

Maybe others can ignore him, but anyone who wants to find materials that can only be produced in the Forest of Gray Shadows must follow the rules of the game he has set.

Lord of Grey Shadows, this is what Shaun gave Wilson.

He is not only a promise and honor, but also a practical benefit!

However, this is not without cost.

The price Wilson needs to pay is to completely offend the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. Similarly, when he chooses to accept the honor of "Lord of Grey Shadows" given by Sean, it means that he has chosen to surrender to Sean. At this moment, his interests are completely tied to Sean, so in the face of the upcoming war in the Kingdom of Darbion, he cannot choose to stand idly by, but must help Sean.

Because whether Sean died or was defeated by the Kingdom of Darbion, this meant that his title of "Lord of Grey Shadows" would once again become an empty title. It might even be killed here due to the revenge of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

So, Wilson and Sean's embrace of each other is not just a courtesy behavior.

More, it is a convention of offensive and defensive alliance.

is also a covenant of two game rule-makers.

Chapter 348: . War in preparation

When secretly reached a certain agreement with Wilson, it also meant that the actual control of the entire Grey Shadow Forest completely fell into the hands of Sean.

Of course, it also means that Rom Nomir, the earl from the Kingdom of France, who has witnessed the entire incident, also lost his body at the same time. There is only one way before him, and that is to follow Shaun to leave the black market of gray shadows, because Wilson and his black market of gray shadows are Sean's biggest secret at the moment, and until the kingdom of Darbion is completely resolved, this secret cannot be There is any possibility of exposure, so of course Roma loses ziyou.

However, Roma did not express any objection to this point-of course, even if he objected, it would be impossible.

So, when a torrent of steel consisting of black se, blue se, and gray se leaves from the forest of gray shadows, Roma is also in the line. However, compared to the deacons and servants of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, Roma can at least be a ziyou as a guest to a certain extent. This is enough to envy the deacons of the Chamber of Commerce who once possessed the power of calling the wind and calling the rain in the black market.

Because only in terms of identity, they are Shawn's captives.

Being captive, it means that there is no right to ziyou.

Seeing that the deacons, guards, and servants of the upper chamber of commerce became captives, the Thunder Lion soldiers, who were once captives, were not angry or disappointed at Sean's actions and methods. On the contrary, everyone looked happy. . Because looking at these people who were able to determine their life and death in one sentence, they suddenly became people who could be insulted at will. What these soldiers had was just pleasure, not sighs of sympathy.

This is the hatred that has been imprinted deep in the soul.

And Sean, just cleverly used this hatred.

As he continues to live in this world, Sean finds that many of his ideas will be greatly expanded and improved, and the way of thinking about problems is gradually no longer limited to the one in the game. Therefore, Sean also gradually realized that although the historical process of this world will still largely follow the historical process in the game, many things will not be changed without the cooperation of a sufficient number of players. If these details are not changed, then it will affect the historical process of the entire world to a certain extent.

This is a principle xing problem that cannot be changed.

In addition, because of his appearance, many historical events have been changed or advanced, which also caused a great degree of interference to his actions and policies.

But if there is no benefit, that is not all.

is just a lot of benefits, and there is no way to get the most out of it.

Of course, if you want to get more and greater benefits, then one of the biggest prerequisites is to live.

It took longer for the vast army to finally get out of the Grey Shadow Forest, and this time they came out not from Yadby, but Panda. In the middle of this team, there are hundreds of carriages for transporting goods. These are the transportation vehicles that have been hidden in the forest by the major chambers of commerce in the gray shadow and black market. Usually, when the goods are transported out, they will be mobilized by horses from the outside. .

And this time is obviously an exception, because it is not the horses that are pulling the carriage, but the people from the major chambers of commerce in the gray shadow black market who have become Shaun's captives. These people have really experienced what life as a slave is like this time, but even though this behavior is a great insult to them, it also makes them feel extreme dissatisfaction in their hearts, but they have seen it. No one would be stupid enough to choose to resist after Sean's harsh methods.

When the army is out of the range of the Forest of Gray Shadows, it happens to be late at night.

In this silent night, there was soon a noisy sound.

The sound is not very loud, but the ground is still shaking. This is obviously the sound of the marching troops, and the scale is probably not small.

But at this moment, the soldiers who had just come out of the Forest of Gray Shadows did not pose any position. On the contrary, everyone's face revealed a kind of relaxed spirit, because they were worried that they would encounter enemies in the Forest of Gray Shadows. As a result, they have had a very hard time in the past month, and their sleep time is seriously insufficient. Until this moment, after leaving the Grey Shadow Forest and stepping into the territory of Pandaren, they could finally relax completely.

Nothing else, just because this is Pandan, it is Sean's first realm after becoming a lord.

In this territory, they don't need to worry about the possibility of a sudden attack.

For a long time, a figure finally appeared on the horizon.

After that, when the figure rode a galloping horse, a large army appeared immediately behind him.

The rushing sound like an earthquake originated from the actions of this army.

The man riding a horse quickly approached Sean's army, and as the man gradually approached, all the soldiers stopped their work and stood upright and saluted the knight. The man on the horse just smiled and nodded in greeting, but did not slow down the horse. When he was close to Xiao En, the man finally got up. The man who made a neigh of the horse stood up, and then steadily stopped at Xiao En's side.

"You are two days late."

The war horse just stopped, the person who came to knock on his back, and then lay directly on the horse's back, his face was as lazy as ever. The first thing he said was not to say hello to Sean, but to blame Sean for wasting two days. Among all of Sean's followers, there were only two who dared to talk to him like this.

A man still manages many territorial affairs in Void City.

The other is right in front of Sean at the moment.

William Yale.

Roma, who recognized William at first glance, suddenly shrank his pupils, but no matter how he tried his best to keep calm at the fastest speed, the breath fluctuation at this moment still attracted the attention of everyone around him. Even if it was William, who had no strength at all, he looked sideways at the middle-aged man who exuded a breath that was not inferior to Rina.

Then, William said something that completely changed Roma's impression of him in an instant.

"If you have a new love, you can forget your old love." William curled his lips. "I have worked so hard here to help you deal with things. You actually brought a new man back without saying a word. You said you brought a beautiful woman. Just forget it when I come back, I brought an old man back, I misunderstood you, Sean!"

At this moment, everyone including Cecilia turned their heads away from looking at William, as if they didn't even know William.

Because they have to admit that William's "beauty" that is almost inferior to Cecilia, coupled with his obviously slightly soft voice and the appearance of crying at this moment, there is indeed an extremely deadly Appeal. And this kind of attraction is naturally not something ordinary people can parry and bear. Whoever sees William like this will definitely subconsciously choose to favor him instead of the person he blames.

But the problem is.

William is a man.

"People already know your identity. Naturally, they know your  well. Is it interesting for you to play like this?" Xiao En gave William a slanted look, although he also wanted to pretend not to know William, especially at this moment, but he knew something. He had to speak, "Rome Nomir, a member of the Nomir family in the Kingdom of France."

"I fell into Sean's hands at a young age. I really mourn for your future." William glanced at Roma, his tone was much calmer, but this appearance remained for less than a few seconds, and then again. Once it made people helpless, "Sean, what do you like about him? Do you really like this older man?"

"William!" Sean let out a roar.

But William didn't care. He just looked up and down at Roma again, and then calmly said: "The Nomir family, but a big family with the same name as the Wiles family, can collect more detailed information. It's not difficult either. But judging from your performance and reaction, it's clear that you have a very thorough understanding of Sean's things, but it doesn't matter. I won't care about what you want to do, but there's one thing I must advance in advance. Make it clear to you that once you enter the Void City, you'd better put away your unrealistic ideas, because before you start trying, you will soon find that sometimes death is a relief."

Hearing what William said, Roma felt a chill in his heart for some unknown reason.

Among the people present, it is clear that Rina and Sean are the only ones who can threaten his life. And for people like William, he can kill hundreds of them. After all, William is no different from an ordinary person. He doesn't have any self-protection ability at all. But when William said something, Roma felt a while. fear.

Of course, what is even more fearful is that with the emergence of William, the two iron triangle structures representing the strongest combat power of Panda have finally arrived.

"What's the current situation?" Sean ignored William's jingle to Roma, but instead asked instead.

"The Chamber of Commerce Alliance does not know the situation, but it is estimated that it will not be long." William said calmly, "I intend to store this batch of assets in the base of Steel Wings first, but now I see it with my own eyes and I change it. I have an idea, but fortunately, there are enough people to take this time to ensure the stability of the route, and it is not a problem to send it back to the Void City directly."

"You arrange." Sean nodded, "But we must take the lead before the Chamber of Commerce can fully react."

"So what about these people?" William snapped his finger at the deacon and guard of the Chamber of Commerce who had been captured alive by Sean.

When William pointed at him, the faces of all the Chamber of Commerce guards and deacons became blank. They knelt down and begged for mercy, fearing that Sean would think they were useless and would slaughter them all with a knife.

"For the time being, they will all be detained. After the Chamber of Commerce knows the situation, these people can still be used as hostages." Xiao En glanced at the people, felt the fear in their eyes, and said softly, "If the Chamber of Commerce If there is someone from the alliance to negotiate, then it will be dealt with in accordance with the noble covenant, and the ransom will be as high as possible. If the chamber of commerce alliance is not happy, it will all be sold as a slave."

"What if they don't buy it?"

"Then I have to be fertilizer." Sean sneered.

But this sneer made all the guards and deacons of the Chamber of Commerce panic.

"By the way, how did I prepare you before?" Xiao En asked suddenly.

"Asuna has agreed, and it is estimated that it will be in place soon." When it comes to business, William immediately changed his laziness before, and said with a serious face, "In addition, because of the extra contribution of the Hastings family, I Neal made a trip to Tonis Fortress, where he hired several mercenaries and bought a group of slaves back. So now our total force can be made up to 70,000 people, but the force directly affiliated to us is still 30,000, the other 20,000 are from the three mercenary regiments, and 20,000 are newly bought slaves. However, due to lack of training and sufficient armaments, the 20,000 cannot play any role for the time being. Now it's true. If you want to go to the battlefield, it is estimated that it can only be used as cannon fodder."

"70,000 people? This is really a surprise!" Sean said with a look of excitement, "but what needs to be considered at the moment is the issue of training. On the contrary, there is no need to worry about armaments. The eight-man army, those armaments are enough for us."

"Really decided to lead Berbice?"

"Do we still have a choice?" Xiao En said in a deep voice, "The Chamber of Commerce Alliance stabbed us in the back. This is completely driving us to a dead end. If we don't take the initiative to attack, then there is really no way out. ...Now that Asuna has agreed to our plan, what we need to do is to directly provoke the war. At that time, even if the Chamber of Commerce knows about the gray shadow black market, they will have nothing to do with us. After all, we have it in our hands. Few hostages."

"I understand." William nodded. He also knew that the method Sean was talking about at the moment was the best way to crack it. Otherwise, once the Kingdom of Darbion and the Chamber of Commerce Alliance join forces, then they really have no chance of winning. Maybe the Principality of Lane will become history. After all, the funds and influence of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance are too huge. "If this is the case, then we should rush back to the Void City immediately."

"What happened?" Sean was a little puzzled.

"Nothing happened, but there is someone you have to meet. Maybe he can bring us more surprises."

"Who?" Sean asked.

"Ari Kate." William replied, "After the demise of the Hastings family, he became the target of the Nugus family. Now his head is worth 200,000 pan-continental gold coins. There are two killer organizations. He was chasing him.... But he escaped to us very smoothly and wanted to seek your asylum. Because this matter is too important, Neil and I dare not decide, so let Ruby arrange a secret place to hide Kill him."

"If it were Eli Kate, maybe it would really bring us some surprises." Sean didn't know much about Eli Kate at first, but he stole the documents at Hastings Manor. After the incident, Sean paid attention to this person, and soon discovered that this guy is also a rare spy talent. If he joins the Void Realm, it can greatly improve all aspects of the Void Realm. strength.

So after knowing that it was Eli Kate who came to seek asylum, Sean decided to take him in without even thinking about it.

As for the question that taking him in would offend the Nugus family, it is completely out of Sean's consideration. Anyway, he and the Kingdom of Darbion must go to war, and after this trip to the Black Market, Sean has also decided to take the lead in provoking the war, so the killing order issued by the Nugus family is just a joke. Only, as long as he can solve the Nugus family, the two assassination organizations that tried to kill Eli Kate will also choose to stop.

Because no one will pay them these two hundred thousand gold coins, it is also possible to completely offend Sean.

"By the way, there is one more thing." William suddenly said as if thinking of something.

"What's up?"

"We have found out who is the commander of the southern nobles of Darbion this time." William said in a deep voice, "I am not sure if this person is the one you are scrupulous about, but there is no doubt that she is in the southern nobles of Darbion. She has a very high status in her circle. We sacrificed more than 20 people and finally found her name.... But only the name."

When he said the last sentence, William was completely gritted his teeth.

After all, the Void Realm is the intelligence department that William spent the most time to create, and he sacrificed a lot of people in the previous espionage confrontation with the Millennium Covenant Empire and the subsequent confrontation with the Hastings family. It can be said that the entire Void Realm was early It's already badly injured. Now, in order to discover the identity of the enemy commander who formed an encirclement against Sean this time, he has sacrificed more than twenty members of the Void Realm. How can this make William not angry?

You should know that after this trouble, the entire Void Realm can still be active and active now that there are no more than 30 spy personnel, and half of them are even novices. This is equivalent to saying that the Void Realm is dead in name.

However, after hearing William's words, Sean's heart "cocked" a bit, and vaguely had bad thoughts in his heart: "You mean, this commander is a woman?"

"Yes." Although Sean's reaction was a little strange, William nodded, "What's wrong?"

"What's her name?" Sean asked eagerly, but at the same time he kept praying in his heart not to be the person in his mind.

"Hella Nugus."

"Hella Nugus?" Sean was taken aback for a moment, "Are you sure it's Hela Nugus?"

"Yes, I'm pretty sure." William was a little unhappy when he heard Sean's words, "That's information from twenty lives. Is it possible that something went wrong?"

Although he felt the upset in William's words, Sean's  se still couldn't calm down: "Check it out and see what the surname Garcia has to do with her."

Although a little surprised at Sean's special and intense reaction, William nodded when he saw Sean's serious face: "I know... But I really want to know what is so special about the surname Garcia. Where? It shocked you so much."

"The last name of Garcia once had a commander who was very famous in history. Even by the current standards, he is definitely ranked among the ten generals." Sean really didn't know how to explain to William, so he could only make up. A lie came out, "I once heard a prediction that the descendants of Garcia's family will give birth to a female Xing named Hela, who will completely inherit the blood and wisdom of this ancestor... If this prediction is true, Then the enemy we will face this time is a ten general."

Hearing Sean's words, William's face also showed a bit of shock. Although he is very confident in his abilities, William does not think he can be compared with ten generals because of his mentality and other reasons. Even in Sean's eyes, this is a ten generals in the future, but at least for now, William has not really qualified to enter the ranks of ten generals.

Because he is also very aware of Sean's abilities as a stick, he naturally believes in this prophecy that Sean has heard.

So at this moment, both William and Sean are expecting this woman named Hela Nugus not to have anything to do with the Garcia family.

William is scrupulous about the prophecy that Sean said.

And Sean, what he is worried about is the special talent of this female commander.

Because Hella Garcia is one of the ten future generals, and her ranking is higher than William: seventh.

Although perhaps in the current era, Hella Garcia may not be eligible to enter the rank of ten generals, this information from the future also clearly shows that Hella's future achievements are definitely higher than William's. . And if this time the commander of the southern nobility of Darbion really has something to do with the surname Garcia, then there will be a reasonable explanation for all the layouts that Sean is currently unfolding.

Because Hela Garcia is best at building momentum, borrowing momentum, and fortune. To put it simply, she is particularly good at layout, because she has an amazing view of the overall situation. Perhaps he is not as good as William in formulating tactical plans, and he is not as good at surviving adversity as William and using all available resources to counterattack, but there are indeed not many people who can win her at the strategic level, and once she is fully mastered In terms of the general trend, even the war * of the Zenas Empire on the mainland today would be difficult to defend against.

This is the real horror of Hella Garcia.

Similarly, it is precisely because she is only good at layout and not good at other aspects of the art of warfare, that's why she ranked seventh.

But if it is really this woman, then Sean must choose to attack faster.

Because the longer the delay, the more perfect the layout of this woman, then no matter how hard he struggles, he will only fail.

Chapter 349: . Surprised but not happy

The light in the room is very yin dark, and there is no lighting equipment here. When the sunset goes down, the room will fall into darkness.

For many people, a dark environment often means fear.

But for a small group of people, the dark environment will make their lives more comfortable.

"Is it here?"

Outside the room, a sound suddenly rang.

"Yes, my lord."

From the sound, there are at least two people.

The next moment, the door of the room was opened.

There is no knock on the door.

Outside the dark room is a corridor. The layout of the corridor and the room is different, because when the door is opened, the light from outside the corridor enters with the opened door, as if driving away the dark light.

Through this bright light, you can clearly see that the layout of the room is very simple.

The floor and walls are all white, there is no table or chair, only a bed.

At this moment, there is a person sitting by the bed.

It seemed that because the door was opened, and it seemed that there was light shining, the person sitting on the edge of the bed raised his head and glanced at the two people standing outside the door. Just because of the backlight, all he saw in this person's field of vision were two completely dark figures, and he couldn't see who the person standing outside the door was.

And only one person walked into the room.

Then the door was closed.

The room fell into darkness again.

"Sean?" The person sitting next to the bed in the room spoke first.

"It's me." Sean nodded, "I heard you are seeking asylum?"

"Yes." After a moment of silence, Eli Kate finally said, "The Nugus family is too strong, so the Thieves Guild sold me directly, and it took me a lot of effort to finally escape.... ...So I have come to seek your asylum."

"It's not a problem to protect you. Anyway, it just offends a thieves' guild." In the darkness, although Sean's expression was not visible, his voice seemed very indifferent, "As for Nugus, they will soon become history, so there will be no assassins coming to trouble you.... But for safety's sake, it's better for you to stay here temporarily during this time."

"Thank you." Avery Kate said softly, "So, what price do I have to pay?"

There is no free lunch in the world.

This sentence is universal no matter in which world and era.

As for a smart person like Avery Kate, he certainly knows that his status and status are not enough to allow Sean to protect him. After all, the cooperation between him and Sean was only a contractual relationship. So he helped Sean solve the problem, and Sean paid him money. The relationship between the two parties ended automatically after the end of that mission. So in the same way, he also had all the consequences when he accepted that mission. Must bear it alone.

It's just that Eli Kate did not expect that the Thieves Guild would choose to betray him, which made his heart feel unusually cold.

So in desperate circumstances, he can only choose to seek asylum from Sean. After all, with his talent and ability, for the current Sean, it can be regarded as a help in the snow, which also ensures that he may seek asylum. Great improvement.

Sean did not express any surprises about Eli Kate's words. After all, Eli Kate is a smart man. Of course he knows what price he has to pay if he wants to shelter him, so he must have a certain degree of contribution. Row. So there is almost no need to think, and Sean replied: "My intelligence department paid a heavy price when investigating Hela Nugus. At present, there is very little manpower, but it is not suitable for your current situation. Mission, so I will assist Rupee and William in charge of intelligence analysis for the time being."

"Hella Nugus?" Avery Kate repeated the name in a deep voice, but Sean heard an unforgettable hatred in his words.

"It seems you know this person well."

"She was the one who forced me into this situation." Avery Kate said in a deep voice, "This woman...not easy."

"I also know that she is very difficult." Sean sighed, but soon he suddenly said as if thinking of something, "Do you know the last name of Garcia?"

"Garcia?" Elicket was stunned, but judging from his reaction, he obviously knew this. "The Garcia family is a marquis family in the Kingdom of Darbion, but this family has been in decline for a long time. The Garcia family has lost all its fiefdoms in the Kingdom of Darbion. If it weren't for the current Patriarch's sister to become the concubine of Ashan Nugus, the Garcia family would be an empty title family."

"You mean..." Sean's pupils shrank suddenly, and his voice became a little bit more shocked, "Hella Nugus' mother is Garcia?"

"Yes." Avery Kate was a little surprised by Sean's reaction, but still replied, "What's wrong?"

Sean's face changed drastically. At this moment, he could finally be sure that Hela Nugus, who directly supported the fighting spirit of the entire southern aristocracy of Dabion, is the seventh of the ten most famous generals in the future. Hella Garcia!

In the original game history, because the first and last snake plan of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance began to be destroyed after the second expansion, the situation in the Kingdom of Darbion has not changed, and the same thing about Pandaling is also in Darfur. After the Kingdom of Bion was destroyed, players won it. Therefore, Gerson Nugus did not die, so he eventually became the next successor of the Nugus family. In this process, Hela Nugus may have left Dadar for some reason or persecution. The Kingdom of Bjorn did not reappear as Hella Garcia until the end of the third expansion in the future.

But now, the appearance of Sean not only occupied Pandaling and Black Swan Castle in advance, but also destroyed the head and tail snake plan of the Chamber of Commerce in order to start war with the Kingdom of Darbion, and for these various reasons let Gerson. Nugus died prematurely, causing Hella Garcia to step onto the stage of history before regaining her mother's surname. Perhaps in the current situation, Hela Nugus is still unable to compare with her ten years later, but her potential and strength are there after all, so she can still threaten Sean.

History has been changed!

Wanted to understand this, Sean was even sure that if he dared to send troops to attack Berbice, then he was really caught in the trap of this woman.

"Tomorrow Rupiah will arrange everything for you. You don't need to worry. I will leave first if I have something to do for the time being." Sean confessed in a deep voice, then immediately turned and left the room. He must now go to William again. Negotiate the next strategic plan, otherwise it will be too late when the war really starts.

Looking at Sean hurriedly coming out of the room, Ruby, who had been standing outside the door waiting for a while, just glanced at it with some doubts, but he didn't ask anything more, but looked back at Eli Kate in the room.

Rui is no stranger to this old acquaintance. He was one of the few best friends of his adoptive father back then. It is said that he had urinated on his head when he was a child.

Thinking of this childhood memory, Ruby could not help but sigh that the world is fickle. He never thought that he would have the opportunity to work with Eli Kate, who is also a legendary figure in the Thieves Guild. Of course, in the current situation, Avery Kate is still his subordinate, but he is a little worried that Avery Kate will be dissatisfied with the current arrangement.

But Avery Kate seemed to know what Rupiah was thinking. Although he couldn't see the appearance of people outside the door because of the backlight, he could easily tell that the person outside was Rupiah because of his instinct as a thief. A reassuring smile soon appeared: "In the future, I will eat under your hands, little rupiah, because your father and I were friends in the past, I have to take care of my uncle more."

On hearing Eli Kate's words, Lube's face was slightly relaxed.

At this time, Sean was not in the mood to care about the touching scenes of these two old acquaintances.

This house was transformed from a temporary warehouse in the Void City. On the surface, it looks like a warehouse, but in fact, there is something else in it, which is considered to be a secret location in the Void Realm. This development strategy was proposed by Sean. The main source of inspiration came from the spy movies he saw on the earth at that time. It can be regarded as a relatively advanced idea in this era.

After leaving the warehouse, Sean quickly went straight to the lord's mansion.

In this regard, he did not spend too much time, of course, mainly because his strength is already considered good.

The few dark-winged soldiers who stood guarding outside the lord's mansion instinctively wanted to salute when they saw Sean, but at this time, Sean didn't have time to stop, so he smashed away from the lord without waiting for these people to salute. The gate of the mansion went straight to the third floor. Seeing Sean so panicked, these dark-winged soldiers instinctively realized the seriousness of the problem. It was only because of the military discipline that William emphasized, so they did not suspect anything privately, but continued to patrol with their inner curiosity.

Soon, when Sean smashed through the door of the conference room again, both William and Neal in the room showed a bit of shock on their faces.

"What's the matter?" William asked immediately. He knew that Sean had just met with Avery Kate. Seeing that Sean was so nervous at this moment, I knew that the news he had received from Avery Kate was not good information.

"I got confirmation from Eli Kate." Sean said eagerly, "Garcia is the surname of Hela's mother. This can prove that Hela has the blood of the Garcia family in her body! ... Now, Immediately abandon the plan to attack Berbice! We have to shift our strategic goals!"

Chapter 350: . Respective conspiracy

In a meeting room of the Nugus family manor, half of the members of the southern aristocratic faction are gathering at this moment. It is said that it is a member of half of the faction because neither the Boulder family nor its allies are present, but from this alone, it can be seen that the Nugus family is now in the entire southern aristocratic faction. Influence.

And all of this comes from one person.

Hella Nugus.

is her appearance, making the entire Nugus family the largest and hottest family in the Darbion Kingdom, and even the Boulder family, which has been the highest in the Darbion Kingdom before, had to lower its proud head.

However, at this moment, Hella Nugus' face seems not very good-looking.

She stands at the top of the conference room, and on the left and right of her next position are her father, Duke Ashan Nugus and Duke Jen Howard. Counting on, they are loyal allies from the Nugus family and the Howard family. They have different positions according to their status and strength. Basically, the closer the two dukes are to the two dukes, the natural status is. The higher and the stronger the noble.

"According to the frontline report from the Berbice collar, our baron has completely given up on the Chiraff collar." Duke Jen Howard reported in a deep voice, because the viscount at Berbice chose to join him. Therefore, he is naturally the first to know about all the conditions of the Berbish collar.

"The three legions originally stationed in the Chiraff collar have all withdrawn from the Chiraff collar. From the intelligence point of view, it seems to be blocked. Import and export of the Gorge Rift."

"So, did they give up the Chiraff collar?" a real power earl asked.

Duke Jen was taken aback for a moment, then put down the written report in his hand, took off his glasses, and said, "Perhaps... you can say that."

"What the * does he want to do?" Another real-powered earl couldn't help but ask.

No one present can answer this question. So everyone turned their eyes to the woman sitting in the first place.

It was her appearance that made the Nugus family and the Howard family work together. It was also her appearance that made the Nugus family the most powerful family in the Kingdom of Darbion, even Boulder, who was once the head of the five dukes. The family also had to bow their heads. In the past few months, they have fully seen this woman's terrifying skills. The methods she used are actually a lot of people present. To put it simply, it's nothing more than being together, but no one can do everything like her. Both shots were absolutely successful.

is precisely because of this, so for this woman sit in the first place. No one will be dissatisfied.

After all, she is the next head of the Nugus family, and now that he has been pushed to the stage, Ashan Nugus will certainly not steal the limelight with his daughter, while Jen Howard is simply showing personal affection. Give Hela, and naturally won't compete with her. In this way. Other nobles who depended on and surrounded these two duke families, of course, would not be so insightful to rank with Hela.

at this time. Feel everyone's eyes. Hela just smiled, and then said: "I have been thinking about it for a long time, but I also don't know your question, because I am also very curious about what he wants to do."

Hearing Hela said this, all the nobles present were somewhat disappointed. It's just that they cover up very well, and no one really reveals it.

"But." Hela glanced at the people present, and naturally and easily caught the disappointment in these people's eyes with her ability.

And following Hela's "but", all the nobles present immediately raised their heads again. Staring at Hela.

Feeling everyone's attention, Hela didn't have the slightest stage fright. There was a touch of excitement hidden in her calm eyes: "But I know that our Baron Sean Connery has seen our trap. The Berbish collar has lost its value as a bait."

As soon as this remark came out, everyone was shocked.

Because they all know that in the strategic plan made by Hella, Berbice is a big bait.

On the surface, it looks like Berbice has more than 80,000 troops stationed, and it feels like a strong soldier. But at the same time, Hella also let people spread some news about Berbish collar. These news are not very secret, but they are basically supplementing the intelligence of the entire Berbish collar. That is, Berbish collar is far away. On the surface it looks so strong, the garrisons are all old, weak, sick and disabled, even among the private soldiers of the nobles, they are all cannon fodder.

This is a fact, but it is also another trap, depending on whether Sean believes it.

If Sean believes that sending troops to eat these 80,000 people, then his gain will be a pile of broken copper and iron and tens of thousands of prisoners who are likely to rebel at any time and stabbing him in the back. As for Berbice, it will also be a ruin. Territory-like territory-Hella had already ordered it long before. Once Berbice was unable to block Sean's army, then all the things that Berbice could destroy would be destroyed, leaving no benefit to Sean. .

So as long as Sean sends troops to attack Berbish, he will not get any benefits. On the contrary, he will be invaded from Yadby by Hella because of the emptiness of the territory due to the mobilization of troops. Then he will directly take the Void of Pandan. City base camp.

Of course, if Sean can't even eat these 80,000 cannon fodder, then there will be no tactics and strategy behind, Hella only needs to push flat.

But now, Hella actually said that Sean had seen her bait, which is tantamount to saying that everything they had prepared in the past few months would be in vain.

"It won't be without any gain." Looking at the faces of these nobles, Hela easily guessed what they were thinking, so she just let out a chuckle, "Lord Soraka can take the second step. It's planned...Since Sean took the initiative to give up the Chiraff collar, this territory was originally our Darbion's, so it doesn't matter if we take back this territory now."

The Chiraff collar, strictly speaking, should be regarded as the territory of the Holder family. This is a nobleman of the pro-Boulder family faction, so this territory naturally does not belong to all the nobles present. It's just that Hella very cleverly said, "This territory belongs to Darbion", which allows the nobles present to have the qualifications to occupy and divide this territory. After all, it was the Holder family who gave up, and now it was taken back by their other southern nobles, and this credit will only be counted on them. Not on the head of the Holder family, nor on the head of the Boulder family.

This is another important reason why Hela arranged for the Boulder family to contain Asuna.

In the southeast of the battle line, Asuna is the most difficult bone to gnaw, but the benefits that can be reaped are the smallest, which is tantamount to completely weakening the strength of the Boulder family.

On the other hand, Sean's territory has five territories, namely the Chiraff collar with extremely high strategic value, the fertile Yadby collar, the mature Dayi collar and Tingqiin collar, and the Panda collar as the core of Shaun. It can be said that this is the real most valuable and attractive place. Of course, the most important thing is that both Dai and Chiraff are territories that once belonged to the Boulder family faction. The pleasure of dividing up the territories of political opponents is enough to excite all the nobles present.

While winning the face of the Kingdom of Darbion, it was able to give the Boulder family a resounding slap. It also made them suffocated and must swallow their anger. This is the reason why everyone supports Hela's strategic plan.

At this time, although it did not start as originally planned, it did not take a single soldier to take down the Chilaf collar, which is currently of great strategic value to the Kingdom of Darbion. Of course, these nobles are very excited.

And after the excitement. They immediately became active: "Then, Miss Hela. When do you think we can strike out immediately?"

"It's not time yet." Hela shook her head. "The Boulder family has been dragging on for four or five months, and there has been no sign of any movement. Now if we launch an attack, we have to face the Marquis of Tonis, which is extremely unfavorable for us. Yes....Anyway, we have all been waiting for so long, and we don't care about waiting for one or two months. I believe His Majesty the King will soon order the condemnation of the Boulder family. As long as the Boulder family is on the front line, we will Can send troops immediately."

Hearing Hela's words, all the nobles nodded clearly. Nothing more.

"That's right." As if thinking of something, Hela suddenly said again, "The survivor member of the Hastings family, have you found it?".

Hearing Hela's words, everyone's faces seemed a little embarrassed.

In the end, Ashan Nugus said: "The guy Shaun has handled it so cleanly that there is no survivor.... The only clue I know is that the illegitimate son of that old fellow Domingo chose to take refuge. Sean, now commanding nearly five thousand troops stationed in the Dai leader. In addition, there is a collateral member of the Hastings family, called Soma Hastings, who is currently in Yadby. Hierro City."

Hearing this, Hela's eyes suddenly brightened and she immediately said, "Can you contact him?".

"Soma Hastings may be a bit difficult, but I have secretly sent someone to contact him on Thain's side."

"Can you be sure that this person will take refuge in us?". Hela couldn't help asking again, her strength is in formulating the overall strategy, and she has no full grasp of these uncertain factors.

"I think it must be okay." Ashan Nugus laughed, with unconcealable pride in his voice, "As far as I know, the relationship between Thain and his father Domingo has always been very good. I admire his father very much, and now Domingo is dead in the hands of Sean. As long as we give Thain a chance to take revenge, he will definitely choose to take refuge in us."

Although Yashan emphasized that this trip would be a success, Hela always felt that some places were ignored by her, and at this moment, she couldn't remember anything for a while.

Her gaze couldn't help but fall on a piece of territory bordering Dayi.

It is a barren land located southeast of Dayi Nation, called Suoan Ning.

This territory is the only loophole in her current overall plan. And this loophole originally needed to be filled in by the Boulder family, but because the Boulder family has not left, and as the decoy Berbice loses its due value, the loophole formed by this territory It is also being infinitely magnified-as long as Sean captures this territory and at the same time abandons the Chiraff collar, Yedby collar and Tin Chiyin collar, then the strategic encirclement network she has formed will become a joke.

But will Sean abandon the Yadby collar and Tinky collar?

Hella's instinct told her that she would not, that the reason the baron gave up the Chiraff collar was only to shrink the line of defense. But I don't know why, Hela always has some anxiety in her heart, because she always feels that something has been missed by her, but she can't remember it for a while.

at the same time.

At the moment when Sean chose to withdraw troops from Chiraf, a brave young woman finally stepped into the palace that she had never walked into since she was awarded the title of emperor.

Lane Palace.

And this woman is naturally the Marquis of Tonis, the thundering Valkyrie, and the Silver Sword Fairy.
