

Lord of War Vol 2-351

Chapter 351: Preemptive strike

The sky is slightly white, and although the sun has not yet come down, everyone knows that this moment is the last moment of dawn.

The darkest time before dawn has long passed.

On a wasteland, there is a small camp, but it can definitely be regarded as a tight camp.

From the perspective of scale and layout, there are many unreasonable places in this camp. For example, there is no aisle isolation between the camp and the camp. It's an aisle that can accommodate four people walking side by side, followed by two rows of twenty camps, and so on. Although this kind of camp layout can greatly reduce the space required for the camp, and make the management and patrol of the camp easier, if it is infiltrated by people, then this is simply an excellent opportunity for the enemy.

But perhaps the people who set up the camp have already considered this. Therefore, there are a lot of patrol soldiers in the camp, and almost every patrol route will have at least two teams overlapping at the same time, and each patrol team will appear in the other two. In the sight of the three patrols.

From this point of view, even if each patrol has only five soldiers, at least more than five hundred people are required to patrol the entire camp. This is not as simple as rigorous, it can be said to be cautious.

There are no dead ends in this camp.

If you want to take this camp, there will be no tricks except for the storm.

And because the layout of the camp is very peculiar, unlike the general layout of the regular camp, it is obviously very unrealistic to judge the number of soldiers in the camp from the camp. In addition, the soldiers in the camp also often carry out some relatively high-intensity long-term training, which causes the soldiers in the camp to not often gather together, so if you want to prepare meals through the logistics staff It is also not easy to judge the number of soldiers in the camp.

The cold wind blows.

The period from dawn to rising of ri is the period with the lowest temperature.

Especially on the wasteland, because there is not enough leeward place to shield the wind, when the cold wind blows, it is the easiest moment to catch the cold.

The soldiers who are in charge of patrolling in the camp are not bad, because there are indeed a lot of braziers placed in the camp, plus they almost never stop, the blood in the body is in a state of active circulation, so it is difficult for the cold to penetrate. Their body.

But relatively, for several scouts about a few hundred meters away from this camp, this is not so easy.

The cold wind blows, making them shiver involuntarily.

It's just that these people did not complain. They were still watching the camp intently, trying to find out what could be used.

I don't know how long it took. Finally, a young scout got up slightly, then wiped his face, wiped the moisture from his face, and spit fiercely: "Damn, I sometimes really doubt it. These guys are still not humans, and they can repeat the same routine all night without stopping."

Hearing the voice of his companion, the face of an older scout next to him was also a little low.

They have been in this territory for almost a month, and then they discovered the camp four days ago, and then naturally they followed the order to monitor and investigate the camp. But in the past four days, their only gain is that they discovered that two teams with a relatively large number and scale left the camp three days ago. They don't know where to go for training, but this is naturally not a piece of information. Because they don't know the size of the soldiers in this camp.

In the next few days, following their surveillance, the military literacy of the soldiers in this camp was even more shocked.

There are about four soldiers in charge of patrolling the camp, each of which is responsible for six hours, and conducts a comprehensive patrol of the entire camp without blind spots. During these six hours, these soldiers strictly followed the patrol routes and guard positions set by their superiors. No one would be lazy, or even take a nap. This is enough to prove that the camp is in good condition. The soldiers are definitely a jing sharp division.

Even if they are experienced personnel who specialize in investigating, they have been lying still and monitored for three days, but they are already a little uncomfortable and have to get up and move a little bit.

However, their movements are not large, mainly because the location is not far from the camp. If the movements are too large, they will inevitably be found. After all, the sky has been slightly white now, for some sight-seeing eyes. As far as hands are concerned, it is still easy to find.

At this moment, behind these scouts, there was an extremely small sound suddenly.

This voice is obviously someone who is walking crept forward.

The three scouts changed their faces, suddenly lifted their legs and pulled out the short blades from their boots, the next moment they would stand up and fight back.

"It's me." A low and majestic voice sounded.

This made the three scouts startled slightly before realizing who the person was.

"Master Alfred." The older scout in the middle said immediately.

Alfred nodded slightly, and then said, "Anything to find?"

"My lord, the patrols of the enemy camp are very tight, there are no dead spots at all, and they have processed the surrounding terrain when they set up camp. The 300 meters around the camp is completely empty, with a clear view, and it is impossible to approach it in secret. "The older scout said, "Besides, the only information we can get at the moment is that the opponent's size is about 10,000 or more, and it is an infantry corps, because there is no stable in the camp. "

Following the report of the scout, Alfred also glanced at the terrain not far ahead. Indeed, as the scout said, the other party also processed and rectified the surrounding terrain while camping. All weeds that might obstruct the view were removed, and the land was also compacted to prevent the enemy from approaching the camp by digging.

This is a mountain army with extremely rich combat experience.

At this moment, Alfred had a judgment in his heart. In the next moment, Alfred, who had made a series of malicious supplements to Darbion's military system because he was about to go to war with Darbion, immediately knew the origin of this mountain army.

In the entire southern aristocratic faction of the Darbion Kingdom, there are only three nobles who have formed a mountain army, while there is only one mountain army with a scale of more than 10,000 people with such a sharp level and combat experience.

The mountain lions from the Howard family.

The status of the Mountain Lions in the Howard family is just like that of the Tequila Black Guards and the Tequila Cavalry to the Boulder family. However, the only difference is that if the Mountain Lions fight head-on with the Tequila Black Guards, it is 100% sure that the Mountain Lions will be defeated. Even if the number of the Tequila Black Guards is only 1,000, it is enough to easily fight in the frontal battle. Defeat the mountain lion army.

However, if the war terrain is placed on terrain such as jungles and mountains, the Tequila Black Guards will not survive even a single person with the same number of scales.

The cause of this is the formation of the army.

The Howard family is inferior to the Nugus family in all aspects, but they have the confidence to challenge the Bould family, relying on this mountain lion army.

But no one thought that the Howard family was so willing to send the Mountain Lion Army here secretly, obviously intending to give Sean a surprise.

And thinking of this, Alfred couldn't help but sigh Sean's amazing intuition.

As early as two and a half months ago, when they returned from the Forest of Gray Shadows, Sean gave up the plan to attack Berbice immediately after meeting with Eli Kate, and then renegotiated the combat direction with William. And the plan, and in this discussion, he, Rena, and Clough participated in the meeting all the way. The final decision was to send back Stalin, Aldolf, and Knok led by Chilaf, and completely abandon Chilaf's collar. On this point, Sean and William quickly reached an agreement.

But the controversy that followed was completely different.

William advocated the unchangeable response to the ever-changing, while secretly hiding the hole card of the gray shadow black market, strengthening the military defenses of the three territories of Dayi, Yedby, and Panda, and centralized deployment of forces; and However, Sean is opposed and insists on making the best move. The first step is to directly invade the Suoan leader and start the national war first. Even if it is at a disadvantage in the war public opinion, he will definitely take the lead over the Kingdom of Darbion. Start the war.

This kind of controversy lasted for a full week, and it was not until after receiving an order from Thain to see him that William changed his normal and chose to support Shaun.

Alfred happened to be present at that meeting, so he knew what the news was that Thain had brought.

The Nugus family completely bypassed the intelligence network woven from the Void Realm, and had a secret meeting with Thain. And the content of this secret meeting is that they will help Thain regain the Tin Chiin collar and become the new Hasting family head, and the only thing he needs to do is to assist the Nugus family to carry out the Da Yi collar. Infiltration of troops, he secretly replaced all his 5,000 soldiers with soldiers from the Kingdom of Darbion, and tried to find excuses to increase troops. At this point, the southern noble faction of the Kingdom of Darbion would give him full support.

Of course, if the war breaks out afterwards, Thain and his army will also become the cards of the Nugus family.

Although no one knows why Thain reported this to Sean and William, it also made William finally understand that time is not on their side. Under such circumstances, William finally agreed to Sean's extremely adventurous plan-before the southern nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion reacted to it, they would capture the Soan collar, and then interact with the Mordege collar that Asuna controlled. Form a strategic situation that echoes each other.

As long as this plan succeeds, then the three territories of Yadby, Day, and Tinki will have a way out.

And the reason why this plan is said to be an adventure is because they have received news that the Boulder family's agave black guards and agave cavalry have left the agave collar and began to move towards the surrounding territory of the Mordge collar. reinforce.

This also means that the Boulder family has officially joined the war.

The national war has already begun.

So now whoever initiates the national war first can gain the advantage in the early stage of the war. Although this advantage is very weak, it is an opportunity that cannot be given up to Sean and others. After all, their strength can't match the whole. The southern aristocracy of the Kingdom of Bion is on the same level.

And, most importantly, Asuna has entered the palace.

Recalling the strategic plan made by Sean and William in his mind, Alfred said in a deep voice, "Is there no way to penetrate?"

"No way, I can only attack!" The middle-aged scout didn't know the situation, but he quickly replied, "Currently, there are not many troops in the camp. Their large forces are currently training in the field. Preliminary estimates are The strength of the camp is about 3,000."

"I see." Alfred nodded slightly, "Send a signal, this battle...we'll start the fight first."

"Yes!" The scout was taken aback for a moment, and then nodded with excitement.

Then.

A flare slowly rises into the sky.

Chapter 352: .The Lion King and the Lion King

The tail flames of the red se drew a long red se light trail, and then exploded a group of red se brilliance in the slightly white air.

Guanghua is not so strong and dazzling, but at this moment before dawn, it is particularly dazzling.

In the next moment, a sharp horn sounded from the camp of the Mountain Lion Corps.

The camp, which was originally silent as a pool of stagnant water, seemed to be fully alive at this moment. All the soldiers who were still patrolling and standing guard immediately began to assemble towards the designated area. Then the next moment, soldiers rushed out of those camps and joined the phalanx that had formed a formation in the designated area. Although these soldiers moved in a hurry and rush, they showed no signs of panic.

Alfred of this legion who was observing hundreds of meters away from the camp, his face became even more yin-heavy. Although he knew that the mountain division would be put to sleep even when sleeping because of habit, but even in terms of the reaction speed of the mountain lion army, it far exceeded the general sense of Jing Rui's division, which made Al Fred immediately understood that the next battle might be a fierce battle.

When the soldiers in the mountain lion army camp were assembled, they did not choose to wait in the camp, but directly drove out and left the camp, putting on an offensive posture.

Because it was a secret operation to enter the Soan collar this time, the Mountain Lion Corps did not erect a banner with their military emblem.

It's just that whether it's the pride of the mountain lion army or simply based on the mountain army's combat experience, the fighting method of sticking to the camp is obviously not suitable for them. Only fighting each other in the field battlefield is the way of fighting that truly adapts to the mountain lion army. .

But for the commander of the Mountain Lion Corps, fighting on this wasteland right now. It still makes him feel a little pity. If he can choose, he will definitely choose to fight in the mountains and forests, because that is their home ground. As long as he fights in the mountains and forests, he even has strong enough confidence that he can wipe out the Tequila Black Guards with the same strength. Such a powerful army.

It's just that, for things like war, unless it's the party occupying the initiative, there is usually no right to choose the right place.

But even so, Rowell Howard, the captain of the Mountain Lions, didn't really care.

Because it is one of the few truly brilliant legions in the Kingdom of Darbion. Rowell and his mountain lion army do have enough pride and arrogance. After all, in his eyes, the only opponent in the entire Kingdom of Darbion who can serve as their opponent is the Tequila Black Guards under the Duke of Tequila. And even if it was the thunderous front that was rumored to be extremely feared by the Marquis of Tonis, he would not be afraid, because he had already suffered the army once when he fought in a mountain forest area.

is also these shocking achievements. Only then created this mountain lion army that dared to claim to be invincible in mountain warfare.

So, in Lowell's eyes. It doesn't matter which army belongs to which force the enemy in front of you. He doesn't care.

When Rowell led the three thousand mountain lion army soldiers under his command to leave the camp and stand at a distance of about two hundred meters, he finally saw the army that had finally arrived late after sending out the signal bomb.

Qingyi se's blue se heavy armor, all soldiers are equipped with square shields, and their weapons are long spears and short swords.

This is a standard heavy infantry regiment.

Rowell's mouth raised slightly, his face showed a bit of mockery, and his eyes immediately moved to the banner held by the army that suddenly appeared.

That is a flag with only the family crest.

The edge of the flag is silver thread. The bottom se is black se, with embellishments similar to stars, and the flag's zhongyang is a pair of peculiarly shaped wings: half-spread and half-contracted wings.

Rowell quickly filtered through his mind, and then he determined one thing: he had never seen this family crest.

For a nobleman. It is a basic common sense to distinguish the family crests of those powerful families, and this identification is not only limited to one's own country, even the family crests of the great nobles in neighboring countries need to be remembered. Therefore, this family crest, which has never appeared in Lowell's memory, only represents two possible things: the first is that this family is not worth his memory at all; the second is that this is an emerging family .

Judging by the order he received from the Howard family, Rowell is naturally inclined to the latter.

And a new family dared to come to Suo'an to lead, even to trouble the mountain lion army, Rowell soon knew which family this family crest belonged to.

Connery family.

The family of Baron Sean Connery, who has stirred the entire south of Darbion forever.

Rowell is no stranger to this lord. He has heard too many stories about this lord in the past year, but the more he does this, the more he is inspired to fight. For a military madman keen on war, being able to confront different opponents and then completely defeat and annihilate them is the greatest pleasure and pleasure of any military madman.

But unfortunately, he has heard too many stories about Alfred, William, Thunder Lion, and Iron Wings in the Howard family, but he has never had the opportunity to fight against them, which makes Lowell's heart always suffocated. With a breath. So when he received a secret order from Jen Howard to lead the Mountain Lions into the Soan leader secretly, and waited for the order to prepare to climb the mountains located in the Dayi region to assault Pandaren, Lowell seemed to be hit. Like chicken blood, he became extremely excited.

At this moment, he suddenly encountered an army from Sean under the leader of Suoan. Rowell's first reaction was not why this army appeared here, but which army under Sean's army was. ? But there are more emotions in the heart, but it is a kind of intense pleasure that is generated after joy, and there is a sense of superiority that outsiders don't know where it comes from.

When Alfred led the Thunder Lion to finish the station 100 meters away from the Mountain Lion Corps, Rowell's gaze naturally shifted to Alfred's body, and he looked up and down thoroughly, then his face A playful smile appeared.

He walked forward about 20 or 30 meters, and because of the unspoken rules of war, Alfred also walked forward a distance of 20 or 30 meters. As a result, the distance between the two sides is less than 40 meters.

The two sides looked at each other, but Rowell did not look at Alfred at all. His gaze fell on the halberd in Alfred's hand, and his eyes showed a bit of enthusiasm and greed-the flame lion roe. Ya has made a comprehensive improvement since Shaun came back from the black market in Gray Shadow. Now this weapon is considered a truly powerful golden magic weapon, and its power is more powerful than the Flame Gun Shattered Kong in Rina's hand, like A war madman like Rowell would show greed to the flaming lion fangs in Alfred's hand. This is a very normal reaction.

"Lion King Alfred?" After a while, Rowell's gaze finally moved to Alfred's face, regardless of whether there was this halberd. He can easily recognize Alfred's identity, because the aristocratic circle of the entire Kingdom of Darbion is not unfamiliar to Alfred, Sean, and William. "When we first met, my name is Rowell. Howard. Lion King Rowell."

Alfred's pupils shrank slightly, and he could clearly feel the warfare, hostility, and greed and desire for the Flame Lion's fangs in Rowell's eyes.

But these are not what he needs to pay attention to. He would stand in front of the Howard family member who claimed to be also the Lion King to listen to his nonsense according to the rules on the battlefield, just to find the man's weakness. But it is obvious. This man not only has the rigor of being a soldier. There is also the caution as a nobleman-his personal strength is not strong, Alfred believes that even without the Flamingo fangs, he can kill the opponent in one round, because he and William belong to the five scums of the war. .

However, he chose to keep a distance of forty meters from himself. If this distance were for Sean, he would surely be able to kill him easily. But for Alfred himself, he couldn't do it. Because he is not good at agility, even if he has engraved magic textures on all three pieces of equipment to increase his agility speed, his flame lion fangs are completely biased towards pure strength. Counting the weight of the armor and flame lion fangs on his body, all this can only allow him to barely maintain the agility value that a high-level silver master should possess.

At first, if Alfred thinks that the distance between the opponent and him is only forty meters, then through the other party's self-introduction, Alfred knows that this is not luck. Because the lion, especially the lion king in a tribe, in order to ensure their authority, they will kill all threats in the cradle ahead of time, and this keen sense of smell and perception of danger is manifested in war, that is, knowing oneself and one another. , So Alfred knows that the other party has a deep understanding of himself, as well as a deep self-recognition of his own strength.

This is a difficult enemy.

Alfred had such an impression in his mind.

"The name of the Lion King, only one person is enough." Alfred said lightly.

"I think so too." Rowell nodded, with a brilliant aristocratic smile on his face, "So, can I ask you to die?"

Alfred also laughed, his laughter was more wild and domineering than Rowell's slightly soft and pretentious appearance. In essence, Alfred, who was born as a mercenary, was more arrogant and domineering than Luo. Will is more like a lion: "Once, many people said this to me, but in the end they became the bones on which I stepped forward. I believe you will be no exception."

"It's hard to say." Perhaps because of the hostile rejection also known as the Lion King, Rowell was very upset with Alfred's laughter, which made his face sink a little yin. "But I can give you a chance..."

"I'll give you a chance." Alfred interrupted Rowell's words directly, "If you surrender now, then I can let you live. Of course, the number of the Mountain Lions can also be retained, no As for delisting from now on."

"Ha!" Hearing Alfred's words, Rowell smirked, "With such a big tone, do you really think of yourself as a lion king?"

"Isn't it?" Alfred may have been in contact with Sean a lot, and his attitude at this time is exactly the style of copying Sean's contempt for everything. "I said that the name of the lion king only needs one. That's enough. If you are willing to surrender, then I can agree to keep the name of the Mountain Lion Corps. If you want to be the Lion King, it's not impossible. But if you refuse to surrender, then don't say you can't be the Lion King. The Mountain Lion Corps will definitely be removed today."

"Hehe." Rowell let out a sneer, his eyes became extremely cold, "You, a person who doesn't even have a serial number and a banner, actually have the courage to say that you want to remove the mountain lion army, even if you are a Tequila Black Guard. Dare to say such a thing."

The designation banner, that is the highest honor belonging to the army.

Basically, only extremely sharp troops can obtain such a flag. Just like the Red Cross Cavalry of the Kingdom of Darbion, the flag they used when they went out was not a flag with the national emblem of the Kingdom of Darbion. It is a red cross flag with a white background. But no matter who it is, as long as you see this banner, you will know that this is the Red Cross Cavalry Regiment, one of the two ace armies of the Kingdom of Darbion.

In the Kingdom of Darbion, there are only ten armies with the duli designation flag, including the Red Cross Cavalry Regiment and the Third Garrison.

in. The Mountain Lion Corps has its own designation and banner.

In the Principality of Lane, there are even fewer troops with designation flags. There are only seven armies, including Asuna's Thunder Front. And Sean's army. Although each army currently has its own army designation, no army has a designation flag. Therefore, no matter how famous Alfred and the Thunder Lion are, no one will recognize that this army is a real army. Powerhouse.

Because he lacks a designation banner.

Of course, like this kind of supreme military honor, it is naturally impossible for the lord to get a banner and say that it is a serial banner. He must go through a series of complicated audits before finally making an announcement to the entire continent.

In the face of Rowell's ridicule, Alfred's  se is always calm as before: "The number and banner are really that important? I don't think it is necessarily. The strength of an army is determined by his commander and the army. The composition of literacy. It has nothing to do with this banner. It can only be regarded as a flashy icing on the cake. So what if you have a designation banner? If you don't surrender, then today is not going to be removed."

Listening to Alfred's opening and closing is expelled, Rowell's face looked very ugly.

If judged only from his aura and attitude, Rowell is obviously ashamed of the name "Lion King" no matter how he looks at it. On the contrary, it is Alfred's unmoving awe-inspiring aura that is truly like a mountain. It is the temperament that a lion king should possess.

Of course, Alfred said that he would remove Rowell and his mountain lion army. Naturally, he was not just talking about it at random, but he really had the confidence and strength.

The Mountain Lion Corps is of course a Tier 4 army, but this Tier 4 army is limited by the terrain. Only in special places can it truly display the sharp combat power that belongs to the Tier 4 army. In the current wasteland terrain, the mountain lion army is at most equivalent to a quasi-fourth level army. So in terms of combat power, the Thunder Lion and the Mountain Lion Legion can be said to be the same, even because the Thunder Lion has been fighting on wastelands and plains since its formation, and it is still the standard heavy infantry configuration and Sean. William has spared no effort to invest in armaments, so only in terms of combat power, the Thunder Lions are stronger than the Mountain Lions.

Of course, more importantly, Alfred's Thunder Lion has 5,000 people, while the mountain lion army at this moment has only 3,000 people.

Alfred really did not think that his Thunder Lion would be defeated when almost all of its armaments, forces, and terrain were dominant.

So in this battle, what did he dare not fight?

"Very good, I want to see today, how do you remove me!" Rowell yelled. Only at this moment, when he was furious, did he finally have the momentum of the lion king's anger.

But in the face of this momentum, Alfred simply turned around, and then returned to his legion the same way.

In the air, only the words he had fallen when he left: "See you on the battlefield."

A simple sentence, but it reveals an unmatched domineering.

The routine negotiations before the start of this frontal war naturally ended in failure, and the commanders of both sides quickly returned to their respective corps.

Without extra words or hesitation, the two armies separated by a hundred meters soon began to move forward towards the opposing lineup.

Neither the mountain lion army, which was born as a mountain army, nor the Thunder Lion, which is composed of heavy infantry units, did not attack from a long distance, so the two armies did not make any defensive advancement. They are like a group of lions already eyeing their prey and preparing to attack, slowly but firmly advancing towards the enemy.

The footsteps of the army were not very loud at first, everyone just marched in silence.

The distance of one hundred meters is not long, but it will not be so short that it only takes a minute or two to start the battle.

However, as the distance between each other shortened, the roar of thunder began to increase gradually, and the murderous momentum from the battle on the battlefield began to gradually rise in the two armies, and became more and more vigorous. At this moment, both parties seemed to feel that the whole world seemed to become static. Not only was there no sound of the breeze, but even the footsteps of the companions were gone. Everything around was silent except for silence, but everyone's heart began to hold a fire, and the anger was simmering. The more it burns, the more intense it gets. It burned more and more fiercely, as if it was gushing out of his chest at any time.

The former Alfred didn't understand what this was. But now he is very clear.

This is killing intent.

is the killing intent belonging to the army. It is the awe-inspiring killing intent formed by the unity of five thousand soldiers. It is also the "field", "potential", and "domain" that Sean said. It is a momentum unique to the army. If this momentum is more condensed, even to the extent that it can be realized, then even if the sanctuary powerhouse is caught in this environment, it will feel like a quagmire. This is also the secret of the army to deal with the powerhouse.

Judging from this momentum. Alfred knew that his confidence and confidence were correct.

He, and his Thunder Lion, are stronger than Lowell's Mountain Lion Legion!

This kind of strong confidence filled his chest, and then turned into a fiery torrent of violent surging in his body. Seems to burst out at any time. But he could only hold back forcibly, endure, and let this torrent of water continue to compress and condense in his chest, because it is not the time to explode.

When the distance between the two armies was shortened from 100 meters to 50 meters, the silence and silence became more intense and obvious.

Rowell's brows couldn't help but raised slightly. When he felt the momentum emanating from the Thunder Lion, his heartbeat couldn't help but slow down.

Because at this moment, he suddenly felt an awe-inspiring breath that he had only felt when confronted with Tequila Black Guards.

"impossible!"

Rowell's face Seyin was as sinking as water, he took a deep breath, and completely extinguished the fear thought that had just appeared in his heart. His mood was restored to the same level as before, but although his aura remained unchanged, but because of this momentary pause, the momentum of the entire mountain lion army's continuous ascent was inevitably slowed down. And if this point is in peacetime, it doesn't matter, but it is a bit dangerous when facing the Thunder Lion, which is not inferior to the Mountain Lion Legion in terms of combat power.

Because Alfred has keenly captured the moment of hesitation of the Mountain Lions.

Alfred, whose eyes were jingling, did not give the Mountain Lions a chance to breathe and recover. Alfred took full advantage of the momentum that had been slowed down by Rowell's change of mood, and completely killed himself. The mind burst out completely. And when feeling the aura of Alfred the coach, the soldiers of the Thunder Lion did not have the slightest fear on their faces. They became more silent, and the killing intent emanating from their bodies became more solid.

All of this makes the aura exuded by the Thunder Lion even more amazing.

finally!

When the distance between the two sides was once again shortened from 50 meters to only 20 meters, Alfred's throat let out a slightly hoarse roar.

That is the roar that belongs only to the lion king!

"kill!"

The full of anger and killing intent were intertwined and spouted from the depths of his throat, turning into a more awe-inspiring storm, and then merged into the killing intent emanating from the thunder lion. At this moment, it is like dripping boiling oil into the burning flame, completely making the burning flame even more violent. In the induction of Jing Qi, it is even vaguely recognizable that there is a beam of blood red light from the thunder. The lion's phalanx rose to the sky.

"kill!"

The roar of five thousand angry lions, as if responding to their lion king, neatly loud roars from their throats, like a sound.

The beam of blood rising up into the sky seemed to become stronger.

Like Sean's usual practice, Alfred took the lead in charging the Mountain Lions.

This tactic is the first to win. There is no obvious effect on the general Jing Rui Corps.

But there is no obvious effect, but it does not mean that there will be no effect.

Alfred took the lead in launching a charge against the mountain lion army, and after all, it played a certain deterrent effect, because at this moment, the mountain lion army was obviously slow for a second. And the momentum condensed from the 40-meter distance they had walked before was also inevitably weakened by most of the roar of the Thunder Lion, a strange emotion that has not appeared in the heart of the mountain lion army for a long time. Started to breed slowly.

"rush!"

Rowell, as the commander of the Mountain Lion Legion, is as familiar with the Legion as Alfred is the Thunder Lion. So at this moment. He had already noticed the subtle reaction emotions of the Mountain Lion Legion, which made him a little bit distressed, because at the last moment just now, he was actually a little distracted, and as a result, he missed the moment when the first tactic was launched. Let Alfred grab a start.

So at this moment, he naturally wants to shout the slogan of charging.

is red. Instead of killing.

Only from this point. It can indeed be seen that Rowell is an experienced commander.

Then, he took the lead and rushed towards the Thunder Lion.

As a commander, Rowell is also not the kind of person who just talks without practice, he is always at the forefront in every war. Although his personal strength is a high-ranking bronze-this is of course much better than William, but in the eyes of Alfred, he is still just a five-scumbag-this is of course more dangerous in the current battlefield environment. behavior. But I have to admit that Rowell's pioneering charge can indeed play a very positive role.

When he was the first to charge towards the Thunder Lion, the panic that had just emerged in the hearts of all the Mountain Lion Legion soldiers behind him. It was completely pinched out. All the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Corps were enthusiastic and undaunted facing the formation of the Thunder Lion, and then soon, soldiers began to pass their commander, and in a blink of an eye they were in the first place. Lowell no longer knew where he was.

Alfred's eyes were slightly narrowed, and there was a thick disdain in his eyes.

Acting school.

He spit out a thick sputum fiercely.

With Rowell's strength, although Alfred is considered the five scum of war, if he is really focused on charging, it is impossible to be surpassed by other mountain lion soldiers, but will be the first. Rush to him to confront him. But now, in Alfred's vision, Rowell's figure has completely disappeared, which shows that from the beginning he was not a sincere charge at all, he was just using some psychological cues to strengthen the mountain lion army. Courage and confidence.

In the eyes of Alfred, opponents like are simply worthless.

Because once the battle situation is weak, a commander like this will not be able to set an example at all, and defeat is only an inevitable result.

Alfred feels disgusted that he used Rowell as his opponent before.

Countless thoughts flashed through Alfred's mind.

Then.

He was the first person on the Thunder Lion's side to engage with the Mountain Lion Army.

The Flame Lion's fangs were raised high by him, and then slammed to the right, his right hand slid back on the handle of the halberd, when it slid to the end, Alfred's right hand suddenly exerted force and squeezed the battle tightly. The handle of the halberd. With Alfred's sudden power, the halberd swung to the right suddenly stopped in mid-air, but the sharp axe just cut through the throat of a mountain lion army soldier who was rushing towards him.

To outsiders, it seems that this soldier rushed up to find his death by himself.

But only in the eyes of real masters and strong players can they see that Alfred's strike is an excellent judgment of distance, speed and strength.

And when the halberd cut the soldier's throat, Alfred did not stay in place, his figure was still charging forward. However, his right hand was waved again, and this time the halberd was waved fiercely to the left, and then a soldier of the mountain lion legion was smashed directly into the air again-with the weight of the flame lion fangs With the xing bonus and Alfred's full shot, it is impossible for ordinary soldiers to stop him.

But this time, this mountain lion army soldier is indeed bad luck, because he triggered the special effect attached to the flame lion fangs.

Scorching heat.

So when this mountain lion army soldier was smashed into the air, a ball of flame suddenly exploded from his body. In less than a second, the flame swallowed his whole person, and his screams stopped immediately as soon as they sounded. All this is enough to prove how high the temperature of the flame is.

As the soldier was slashed out, it looked like Alfred slashed a fireball with a halberd.

On the ground, the light armor of this soldier was burned into black spots of molten iron falling on the ground.

In the air, it was the burnt smell of the soldier's body being thoroughly cooked.

Then, this human-shaped fireball fell on several mountain lion soldiers who were charging, and the extremely high-temperature flame condensed completely by magic instantly swallowed these hapless soldiers once again.

Alfred, after flying the soldier out, he owed even a glance at the corner of his eye.

He just kept charging, while constantly waving the halberd, without the slightest thought of stopping, instead he had a posture to pierce the formation of the entire mountain lion army.

That is a kind of indomitable dominance!

Facing such an Alfred charge, the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Corps quickly felt a chill, because at the forefront of the battlefield, they did not find the soul of their regiment-Rowell Howard, this Obviously he was the first commander in charge to charge, but at this moment no soldier of the Mountain Lion Army could see him!

The morale of the soldiers of the Thunder Lion is extremely high.

Because of their king, the lion king who led them to continuous victory, is in the densest place with the crowd, always in front of their sight!

is also called the Lion King, but Alfred and Rowell have opposite attitudes towards war.

Chapter 353: .Fearless lions [seeking a monthly pass]

Looking at the figure of Alfred charging, all the Thunder Lion soldiers who followed him were charging enthusiastically.

In their eyes, there was no fear at all, only Alfred's stalwart figure from the back.

For the soldiers of the Thunder Lion, they don't need to think about too many things. The only thing they need to do is to keep up with Alfred, and then kill all the enemies blocking them.

All mountain lion soldiers wearing gray and black leather armor are their enemies.

However, the soldiers of the Thunder Lion are only soldiers after all, and they are still different from the powerful Alfred.

Lion King Alfred can rush into the enemy group of the mountain lion army as if entering an uninhabited state. The halberd in his hand can be said to be a lot of effort. Especially after smashing a few soldiers blocking the way into fireballs to cause more mountain lion soldiers to burn, no soldiers dared to confront Alfred head-on, and they all tried to avoid Alfred as much as possible.

As long as it is a human being, there will definitely be fears, especially Rowell Howard, the commander-in-chief of the Mountain Lion Corps, doesn't even know where to hide at this moment. As a result, there is an extreme relationship between the Mountain Lion Corps and the Thunder Lions. sharp contrast. Watching the lion king of the thunder lion take the lead in the enemy line, but the lion king of their mountain lion legion does not know where at this moment, even their legion can not stop the thunder lion's charge, this is for the mountain As far as the Lions are concerned, it is an extremely demoralizing behavior.

A spear was pierced forward from the hand of a soldier of the Thunder Lion.

Because in front of him, a soldier of the Mountain Lion Corps was blocking his way to charge.

The spear made entirely of jing iron stabs a mountain lion army soldier's leather armor fiercely. At this moment, this leather armor, which has been tanned through multiple processes, finally performs its due role— -After the spear almost pierced the leather armor, it was blocked because of the loss of strength. But even so, the sharp tip of the gun still slightly stabbed the mountain lion soldier's skin, but compared to being stabbed by a gun, this result is undoubtedly perfect.

Feeling that the feedback from the tip of the gun is different from the past, the soldier of the Thunder Lion knew immediately that the gun he stabbed did not really hurt the enemy.

But without waiting for him to force the spear to penetrate the enemy's body completely, the mountain lion soldier in the gray and black leather armor stretched out his left hand, held the front end of the spear tightly, and then applied force. Pull it out-because the mountain army has to fight in the mountains and woods all year round, the soldiers of the mountain army are usually known for their endurance, and they are also not weak in terms of strength.

Perhaps if it were in a wrestling situation, the Mountain Lion Legion could not have won the Thunder Lion, but if they only pulled out the spear that has not really penetrated the body, they still have this strength.

After the spear was pulled out, the soldier of the mountain lion army let out a roar of death, and then rushed towards the soldier of the thunder lion.

As a northern barbarian, although he does not have the bravery of a barbarian, he is definitely much taller than the Darbion in terms of stature, so of course this Thunder Lion soldier will not be afraid of the opponent's approach, it's just him. It is obviously impossible for the long spear in his hand to assassinate the opponent at this distance. So without the slightest hesitation, the northern barbarian dropped the spear in his hand, then drew out the dagger he was wearing, and faced the enemy head-on.

Behind him, the other soldiers of the Thunder Lion didn't seem to have seen this scene of the battle at all. No one stayed, and no one came to support him. Instead, they continued to follow Alfred and charge. His back rushed forward.

"Dead!" This mountain lion army soldier slammed into the northern barbarian who had escaped from the battlefield, and then stabbed the short blade in his hand toward the waist and abdomen.

The short blade is a kind of short weapon, but it is different from the sharp two-end tip of the short sword.

The short blade has only one blade surface, and the other side is a non-lethal ridge surface. The blade tip is a sharp angle with a slight arc. In terms of length, the short blade is also shorter than the dagger, only slightly longer than the dagger. This weapon has advantages over both daggers and daggers in offensive at close range. It is one of the conventional weapons of the mountain army. .

It's just that when this mountain lion army soldier stabbed the short blade out of his hand, his heart suddenly shook.

Then, a frightened  appeared in his eyes, and the anger that saw death as home was gone.

As an experienced soldier, but also a soldier of the main army, he can basically judge the effect of this blow from the feedback of the hand feel and strength of the short blade stabbing. It's a pity that the strength of the feedback from the short-blade stabbing made this mountain lion army veteran know clearly that his attack was not a murder, and even the opponent's armor could not be pierced.

You must know that even if it is heavy armor worn by heavy infantry, there will be a gap at the waist and abdomen, and this gap is the only weakness of their mountain army that can deal with heavy infantry. But this time, the sensation of a short blade cut into the flesh did not come from this crucial position, which immediately made the veteran feel that the situation did not seem to be as simple as they expected, and at this moment it finally made him understand. , They didn't have the intelligence of the army in front of them at all.

The horror of the veteran was reflected in his pupils. The northern barbarian, who was born with steel wings, had no mercy. He raised his short sword without hesitation, and then pierced the enemy soldier's skin with a single sword. A, and this position happens to be the part of the heart. Even after a sword stabbed, the northern barbarian stirred the short sword in his hand fiercely, because he had to make sure that the enemy was truly dead.

Then, he stretched out a kick, kicked the mountain lion soldier's waist and abdomen fiercely, kicked him to the ground, then turned around and rejoined the team of thunder lion soldiers in the charge. As for the jingling iron spear on the ground, he didn't pick it—it's not that he didn't want to pick it, but he couldn't bend over to pick it at all. Not to mention this difficulty is completely impossible for ordinary heavy infantry. What happened, as far as the Thunder Lion soldiers wearing full body armor like them were concerned, wanting to pick this spear was simply a fantasy.

Only full body armor, there will be no gaps in the waist and abdomen, and there is no fear of the enemy's assassination.

The Thunder Lion soldiers following Alfred, like a hot burning knife piercing the butter, directly cut the square formation of the mountain lion army into two.

Bring an infantry corps into a cavalry force. I am afraid that there is only an army like the Lion of Thunder on the Marvel Continent.

Although there are still undaunted mountain lion soldiers desperately trying to stop the Thunder Lion's footsteps, these people have been assassinated with long spears by the Thunder Lion soldiers before they even got close.

Maybe a long gun can't assassinate the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Corps, but when two or three people stab them with their guns at the same time, the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Corps can no longer stop this turbulent offensive, and soon the Mountain Lions The legion began to suffer large-scale casualties. Only when the contact war has reached such a fierce degree, the fear of death has been driven away by the smell of blood in the air, and the casualties of the Thunder Lion have begun to appear gradually.

Since the full body armor had no flaws in the waist and abdomen, the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Corps began to stab the face of the Thunder Lion soldiers.

Similar to the soldiers of the Thunder Lion, one person may not be able to assassinate the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Legion with a spear, but when several people start to work together, all this is no longer a problem. And the most important thing is that the Thunder Lion is maintaining a high-speed charge like a cavalry at this moment, tearing apart the formation of the Mountain Lion Legion. Once blocked by the Mountain Lion Legion, the battlefield will become even more * and tragic. Of entanglement.

It's not difficult for soldiers who want to stop the Thunder Lion, as long as the mountain lion army's blood is still there.

The real difficulty is how to stop Alfred this furious lion king.

Soon, Rowell hiding in the dark began to order a death attack.

Several high-ranking silver masters, who are not weaker than Alfred, quickly emerged from the surroundings, and then attacked Alfred at the same time.

At a glance, these few people knew that they belonged to the masters of military operations, and they were specifically responsible for cooperating with the army to deal with those strong men who had fallen into the army, because the timing of their attack on Alfred was perfect at this time, and the joint attack was even more effective. Divide several flaws in Alfred's body. No matter how Alfred defends, they are confident that there will definitely be one or two people who can hit Alfred and inflict heavy losses on him.

It's just that the breath is not weaker than Alfred, and it doesn't mean that their immediate combat power is completely equal to Alfred.

Seeing that these people finally couldn't hold back their shots, Alfred let out a cold snort, but the speed of the charge did not stop because of the two masters in front of him, but still rushed up without fear. The flaming lion fangs in his hand seemed to feel Alfred's fighting spirit, and the flames surrounding the handle suddenly rose. In a flash, the entire halberd was completely covered by the flames. It was like Alfred holding a weapon made entirely of flames.

Neither can I see how fast Alfred's movements are, just a simple sweep.

But what was swept from the halberd was not a strong wind, but a purple flame.

The flame is like possessing a spirit, swiftly entwining the silver master on the left, but in an instant, the two masters who intercepted Alfred's body were completely swallowed by this purple flame. . Then Alfred once again dealt with the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Corps, just slapped each other with the left and right bows, and slapped the two groups of purple fireballs neatly against the enemy groups on both sides, bursting out two. The pillar of fire is even more dazzling.

Then, it was still an indomitable charge.

Only this time, Alfred discovered that there was no more enemy in front of him.

Because he has completely penetrated the square formed by the entire mountain lion army.

When Alfred stopped, the Thunder Lion soldiers behind him also stopped, but they didn't care that they stopped at this time, which meant that they had been completely caught in the middle of the mountain lion army. The only thing they knew was that there were many corpses left on the  road that they rushed out of. There were enemies and companions. Of course, most of them were the corpses of the enemy, but compared to their deadly attack against the mountain lion army. ,

The corpse of the Lion of Thunder soldier can only be described as terrible, and almost no one can still see the original appearance.

But even so, on the faces of the soldiers of the Thunder Lion, there is still no fear, and some are just indifferent to death.

"Kill!" Alfred let out an anger, his eyes could not help but focus on the few silver masters who had just tried to kill him together.

"Kill!" Responding to Alfred's voice, the voices of the soldiers of the Thunder Lion were still the same as they were at the beginning of the charge, but their eyes were staring fiercely at the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Corps.

Because of indifference, so fearless.

Because of fearlessness, so invincible.

This is the Lion of Thunder, the young lions surrounding the lion king.

Chapter 354: .The real lion king [seeking monthly pass]

In the brightly-lit conference room, Sean, William, Neal, Rena, Clough, Anno and others all gathered together, and even Sean Hastings attended. Basically, except for the three new-generation generals who had just withdrawn from the leader Chiraf to the leader of Panda, all the generals under Xiao En attended this meeting.

This is also the first highest-level military meeting held since Sean became a lord.

Shaun's gaze slowly retracted from Thain's body.

For Sean, Thain was only respectful. He did exactly what a follower should do. Even the Nugus family and his secret discussions he reported directly to Sean. In the eyes of outsiders, Thain's loyalty to Sean is absolutely beyond doubt, it seems that he has completely put down his father's vengeance.

Of course, this kind of behavior of abandoning blood feuds and choosing to surrender is not uncommon in this world.

But only Sean knew that Thain was not really loyal to him at all. Because of the existence of the real eye, Sean can see a blood-red halo on Thain's body. This is the strongest and dazzling halo that Sean has ever seen. This alone is enough. It proved that Thain wanted to dismember him completely.

After knowing Thain's true thoughts, Sean's impression of Thain was naturally more profound.

This is a very good at forbearance and dormancy...

enemy!

"What's the current situation?"

"If your lord your judgment is correct, then the southern nobles of Darbion will definitely hide an enemy army in the Soan collar." It was William who answered, "This army will be the entire strategic layout of the Darbion Kingdom. Timing hammer. But from this point of view, this is also the biggest flaw in the opponent's entire strategic layout. As long as General Fred can successfully find this army in Suoan and wipe it out completely, then the opponent's strategic layout It will completely fail."

"What is the chance of winning?" Rina asked.

"It depends on what kind of army you encounter." William's face is not very good, especially after Thain told him that day about the plan of the Nugus family to come to him for a secret talk. I haven't slept for a whole day. "Among the southern nobles of Darbion, there are no fewer than six armies that have reached a final value for this battle, including the Boulder family's Tequila Army, that is, They are the well-known tequila black guards and agave cavalry; in addition, they are like the Scarlet Knights of Prince Hodgety, the Mountain Lions of the Howard family, the Grizzlies of the Dubai family, and the Fourth Army of Dabion and The 2nd Cavalry Regiment of Darbion, previously controlled by the Hastings family."

"Suo'an collar is not considered wealthy. This territory is regarded as a subsidiary territory of the Boulder family, and the only contiguous territory is the Dayi collar. Although it is bordered by our Panda collar from the floor of the collar, it is in the middle. There is a mountain range, so from the topographical point of view, the Scarlet Knights and the Second Cavalry of Darbion can be ruled out." This time it is Sean who is talking about the entire military power of Darbion. Yue just made it up, "And the Dubai family is a loyal ally of the Boulder family. These two families have just joined this war, and they can also be ruled out....Then what is left is the mountain of the Howard family. One of the two legions of the Lion Army and the Fourth Legion of Darbion."

"The conventional configuration of the Fourth Army of Darbion is 50,000. If you count the logistics, there are almost 70,000. If this force is used as the trump card, then..."

Neil's words can no longer be said at this point, because everyone present knows the fact that if Alfred and his Thunder Lion encounter the Fourth Legion of Darbion, Then don't say anything about the odds of winning, maybe Alfred will be wiped out this time. After all, in terms of military strength alone, Alfred has only 5,000 people. Although the Thunder Lion was expanded immediately after the decision to start the war, the scale was expanded to 10,000 people, but the 5,000 people joined later. It is not strong in actual combat capability and lacks sufficient armaments, so it can only be used as a reserve force.

But no matter if it is 5,000 or 10,000, facing the Fourth Army of Darbion, which is a level four army, there is no possibility of victory.

"The only thing we can do now is to pray that the other party intends to play surprises with us, so the army that is dormant in Suoan is the Howard family's mountain lion army."

"The duel between the lion kings...?" Sean whispered, "If this is the case, then Alfred must be the winner.... The commander of the mountain lion army, Rowell Howard, is of noble origin. , You will never take the lead when fighting. In the biological world, when facing threats, the lion king of a race will always be the front end. From this point of view, if Fred's opponent If it is really the Mountain Lion Corps, then we can directly implement the second phase of the plan."

"So....."

"Go straight to the preparation." Sean said in a deep voice, "In order to weaken the opponent's military power, we have to do anything at all costs. Even if... Fred's bad luck and really failed, we can't give up so easily."

"Yes!"

.....

Suoan collar, this is a small territory that is not very rich.

Of course, in terms of the area of the territory, this place is naturally much larger than that of the Modge collar, but there are only a few towns scattered throughout the territory, and there is not a single city. But because of this, the territory of Suoan is famous for its vastness and complexity. It is not difficult at all to hide an army with a strength of less than 50,000 on this territory.

Therefore, the mountain lion army from the Howard family is lurking in this territory. If it is not for the Void Realm to fully cooperate with the Thunder Lion's scouts to conduct a large-scale reconnaissance, it is undoubtedly a silly thing to find this army.

But the facts always have a lot of subtleties.

Therefore, the Thunder Lion led by Alfred encountered the main force of the Mountain Lion Army led by Rowell Howard on the White Plains.

Immediately followed is a complete fight between the two sides.

From the sky above the battlefield, the blue se that belongs to the Thunder Lion has completely covered the gray-black se of the mountain lion legion, and the gray-black se is also rapidly decreasing.

The Mountain Lion Corps is originally a corps fighting in the mountains. Naturally, their armaments cannot be based on heavy armor, but must be flexible and light clothing. Basically, conventional armaments are leather armor, mountain boots, and mountaineering. Pickaxe and short blade suitable for mountain jungle combat. Even if these three thousand people are the main force of the mountain lion army-equivalent to the status of the thunder hero to the thunder lion, but the equipment they use is slightly better in material, at most they are added under the leather armor. A layer of soft armor, but the essential equipment has not changed.

Because whether it is a short blade or a mountain pickaxe, these weapons can be deadly weapons in the mountains, unless they are hit on the vital parts of the Thunder Lion soldiers, otherwise they can't wear heavy armor and hold heavy shields at all. The Lion of Thunder caused any physical damage.

This is also the fundamental reason why the Mountain Lion Corps is not an opponent of the Tequila Black Guards in conventional combat.

Rowell certainly does not know the strengths and advantages of the Thunder Lion, but he still dared to order the death fight, this is entirely because he does not believe that Sean's subordinates will have such a powerful army. The pride and pride from the mountain lion army has made him very conceited, so he did not take the Thunder Lion composed of heavy infantry into his eyes, because he had also frontally defeated several other nobles' heavy infantry. Private army.

But this time, Rowell's arrogance became the root cause of his defeat.

If he had tried to kill Alfred with the help of several hidden masters in the legion before, thereby forcing the entire Thunder Lion to rout, then when he saw Alfred simply and neatly in a confrontation When the two high-ranking silver masters were beheaded on the spot, it was absolutely impossible for Rowell to suppress this lion king who had become completely violent without the golden powerhouse.

Similarly, when the young lions of the Thunder Lions followed their lion king to pierce the formation of the mountain lion army for the first time, Lowell also understood one thing, that is, the reality of the Thunder Lion. The combat power is almost not weaker than the Tequila Black Guards- the reason why it is almost, it is because the mountain lion army is not completely threatening to the Thunder Lion. At least in this round of hedge, the Thunder Lion was also killed. Hundreds of people.

However, the price paid by the Mountain Lion Army was several times that of the Thunder Lion.

Rowell only felt a chill. It was the threat and fear from death.

"How... how is it possible!" Rowell looked sluggish, "How can the Thunder Lion have the same combat power as the Tequila Black Guard..."

"Master Lowell!"

The confrontation on the battlefield has always been tragic and merciless.

And the silver masters in the Mountain Lion Army who were specially used to deal with the strong after losing two people, they immediately chose to retreat in the first time, and instead protected Rowell from dying on this chaotic battlefield. But at this moment, the main force of the Mountain Lion Army is not far away from the defeat, so of course these guards must first ensure the safety of Rowell Howard, a noble from the Howard family.

At this moment, there is no trace of pride in Lowell as the lion king.

His pride and conceit, which originated from the gorgeous record of the Mountain Lions since its establishment, was cruelly crushed by Alfred at this moment.

And in his ears, he couldn't help but echo the words he had communicated with Alfred before the war.

"The name of the lion king, only one is enough."

"I think so too, so, can I ask you to die?"

"A lot of people once said this to me, but in the end they became the bones on which I stepped forward. I believe you will be no exception."

"But I can give you a chance..."

"I'll give you a chance. If you surrender now, then I can keep you alive. Of course, the mountain lion army's name can also be retained and won't be removed."

"With such a big tone, do you really think of yourself as a lion king?"

"Is not it?"

.....

At this moment, who is the real lion king?

is already clear at a glance.

"The Tequila Black Guard is only less than a thousand people, why..."

"My lord! We still have 7,000 people, and the opponent now has less than 4,000 people. As long as we merge with other troops, we will be able to completely annihilate the enemy!"

"Master Rowell! The Mountain Lions are not defeated yet!"

"Yes!" Hearing the words of the guards around him, Rowell's eyes suddenly lit up, like a lifeline that the dying person suddenly grabbed. Rowell's  se quickly recovered, "We haven't failed yet. There are still 7,000 people in the mountain lion army!... Ordered, we immediately break through, send out the signal flare, and join the other troops!"

"Yes!"

Chapter 355: . Sean's First Army [Thanks to the head shadow of the moon]

There are no traces of scorched black magic bombardment, and there is no wood forest piled up with countless arrows.

But the tragic on the battlefield is not inferior to any battlefield on the Marvel Continent.

The whole land was completely stained red with blood.

Although there are no corpses stabbed by countless arrows, there are corpses stabbed to the ground by several or even dozens of spears. Although there are no corpses bombed by magic, there are also black bodies that are completely charred. se unknown mass; although there are countless corpses here, there is not even one wounded.

As long as it falls on the ground, it will only become a corpse, not just wound but not die.

The blood has become black on this land, and the rammed land has also become a piece of mud.

It is not muddy water that splashes after stepping on it, but * blood.

Many of the soldiers of the Thunder Lion couldn't stand firm for a while, just slipped and fell, and the heavy blue armor on his body was almost dyed dark red.

Thunder Lion and Mountain Lion Corps left more than four thousand corpses on this land.

Basically, the main force of the Mountain Lion Corps has been completely wiped out.

is just Alfred's face, without the slightest excitement.

For outsiders, a one-to-three loss ratio is almost a perfect record, but for Alfred, it is still an extremely heavy price. Because the Thunder Lion is different from the Mountain Lion Legion, the destruction of the Mountain Lion Legion may be a heavy loss for the Howard family, but for the southern aristocracy of the entire Kingdom of Darbion, it is only a drop in the bucket, but Sean's subordinate. There are only so many troops, and the greater the damage in the early stage of the battle, the more unfavorable it is for the next battle.

Although the Thunder Lion still has five thousand reserves, even if thousands of people have been killed at the moment, the equipment of these fallen soldiers is hardly damaged and can be used by the reserve soldiers behind. The establishment of 5,000 people was immediately restored. But Alfred knew very well that these soldiers who were originally intended to use as cannon fodder would not be able to truly exert the power of the Thunder Lion. On the contrary, it might even affect the performance of the Thunder Lion.

This is not a good thing for a corps at all.

But war has always been so cruel.

So Alfred had no choice.

His mission this time is to sweep the entire Suoan collar and develop a base here to catch up with the enemy forces that may retreat from the Dayi collar and at the same time confront the enemy forces that are also likely to pursue. Of course, a more important task is to become a springboard for Asuna's army to cut straight to the base camp of the nobles in the south of Bion. So in any case, Suoan's control rights must be firmly grasped by him.

This is war.

Soon, the battlefield will be cleaned.

The armaments of the 1,000 dead Thunder Lion soldiers have been unloaded, and they were replaced by reserve soldiers to formally join the Thunder Lion. Alfred ordered the corpses of the 1,000 dead soldiers to be cremated. Because he didn't have time to bury these soldiers properly, and he couldn't let them be exposed to the sun. So it can only be done. As for the corpses of nearly three thousand mountain lion soldiers. Alfred also ordered the cremation, after all, they still want to occupy after Suoan takes it. Of course, it is impossible to cause plague or other troubles at this knot.

After finishing all this, Alfred did not hesitate anymore, and immediately swung his army to continue chasing in the direction where Rowell Howard had fled before.

There is not even a moment to rest.

He must solve the trouble of the Mountain Lion Legion in the shortest time. Then send a message to William and Sean who are still waiting for his message. Of course, the news of the main force of the Mountain Lion Army was completely wiped out, and Alfred had already ordered to pass it back when the battle was officially over. If there is no accident, it can be transmitted to Yi Ling in about five days, and then directly fed back to Shaun via Da Yi Ling's magic communication.

The pursuit continues.

And the next battle is the real key.

.....

At the same moment that Alfred annihilated the main force of the Mountain Lion Legion, it was located in Void City, and Thain, who had just concluded the military meeting, also left the lord's mansion.

The second step of William's strategic plan, he will be the core, so he naturally needs to prepare in advance.

Like Alfred's resolute behavior, Thain did not stay or rest in the slightest. After leaving the lord's mansion, he immediately rode out of the void city and rushed to Dayi. Because he was in a hurry to report the news to Sean before, Thain brought only one entourage. At this time, he left Void City, and naturally only this entourage would travel with him.

The original rule of Void City was that no horses were allowed to enter the city. It was only because of the emergency that Thain and his followers were able to ride out of the city.

After exiting the city gate, the respectful se on Thain's face disappeared without a trace, replaced by a face of indifference.

He glanced at Thain coldly, and then said in a deep voice, "Your Excellency Thain, I hope you haven't let us down."

Thain looked ahead without squinting his eyes, his face se was as calm as water, but if you look closely, you can find the excitement hidden in the depths of his eyes. He just drove the horses and galloped continuously, and didn't seem to answer the meaning of the follower's words beside him, until the other party couldn't help but yelled his name again, Thain finally said in a slightly lazy tone: " Sean allowed me to increase troops."

When the name "Sean" was mentioned, Thain's tone was only indifferent, without the respect he had shown in the meeting room before.

"How much?" There was a touch of excitement on the face of this name.

"There is no upper limit." Thain said lightly, "but according to the situation of Dayi, and taking into account my ability and funds, I estimate that expanding the size of the troop to 20,000 will be the limit. If it exceeds this number, it will be the limit. Aroused the suspicion of Sean and William.... These two people are not stupid, don't think that your little tricks can be concealed from them."

"Twenty thousand?" The excitement on the face of the name Hu Cong did not subside, "Ten thousand more than expected, not bad."

"Up to fifteen thousand." Thain directly rejected the follower's words without looking back.

"Twenty thousand is the limit. Do you think it is so easy to reach the limit? Do you know the probability? ...I can only accept the size of 15,000 troops at most. If we exceed this number, we will even fail our negotiations."

"Five thousand and five is not bad." This Hu Cong originally wanted to say something, but when he heard Thain's firm tone, he could only choose to nod his head, but there was a little bit of hatred towards Thain in his heart, "I The Lord Duke will be notified, and everything will be done according to your instructions."

"Don't think I don't know what you are thinking." This time, Thain finally glanced sideways at the squire, but the slight sneer at the corner of his mouth made the other party's hatred even more, "If you dare to sneak in Send people in, so don't blame me for directly ordering the clearance.... I would rather spend more time designing the killing. I don't want to ruin my plan because of your chaos.... You need to know, even without you. , I also have the ability to kill Sean, so this time it is you who come to beg me for cooperation, not me to look for your cooperation. Remember to set the attitude for me."

"I...I know." The servant gritted his teeth a little bit resentfully, but in the end he chose to give in.

Because this time he secretly went to contact with Thain. Just received special emphasis from Hela Nugus. No matter what conditions Thain made or what harsh words he uttered, he had to endure it. If he can't reach an agreement with Thain, then he doesn't have to go back to the Nugus family, and just find a place to commit suicide.

Because of this, even in the process of negotiation. He was so angry at Thain that he did not dare to refute Thain's words.

"Let me ask one more question."

"Please say."

"On the Soan collar side, what is the hole card you are hiding?"

Hearing these words from Thain, the face of the Nugus family member who pretended to be Thain's resignation suddenly changed. Looking at Thain's face se immediately became a little frightened: "You... how can you..."

"It's not how I knew it, but it was inferred by Sean and William." Thain said in a deep voice, "They even concluded that the trump card you hide in the Soan collar is an army, and this army is not Howard. The mountain lion legion of the family is the Fourth Legion of Darbion in the Kingdom of Darbion.... So I am curious whether the card you are hiding is going to be used for a sneak attack or is it used to kill Sean by surprise. "

"Is there a difference?" the Nugus family member asked rhetorically.

"Of course there is a difference." Thain said of course, "Thunder Lion has entered the Soan collar.... If you are hiding there is the Fourth Legion of Darbion, then you can definitely give Sean one. It's a great surprise to leave the Thunder Lion on that land. This is absolutely good news for you. But if you hide there is a mountain lion army, then I'm afraid you will receive the surprise. You guys."

"Huh! The Howard family's mountain lion army is a Jing sharp army comparable to the Boulder family's agave army. How can the thunder lion be the opponent of the mountain lion army." This Nugus family The members snorted in disdain, "If it were the steel wings of the strongest army under Sean's command, it might still cause some trouble for the mountain lion army, but the ultimate victory would definitely be the mountain lion army! ... And as long as Xiao Xiao If you dare send out steel wings, then he will wait to be invaded by our coalition forces."

"Haha!" Hearing the man's arrogant words, Thain couldn't help laughing.

"why are you laughing?"

"I am laughing at your ignorance."

"If you knew the record of the Mountain Lions, then you would not laugh like this."

"Do you think I'm laughing at the Mountain Lion Army?" Thain glanced at the member of the Nugus family coldly, and the ridicule on the corners of his mouth became more intense, "I am laughing at your underestimated enemy! You really Do you think that Sean's first strong army is Steel Wings?... I might as well tell you the truth, the real strongest army under Sean's command is Alfred's Thunder Lion, followed by Clover's Cesi Leah Guards, and then it's Anno's steel wings in the third turn!"

"Make some trouble? Haha! If the Soan leader is really a mountain lion army, then I am afraid that the whole army is annihilated waiting for them."

The eyes of this nobleman opened wide, obviously unbelievable.

Chapter 356: .Two-Face

Dayi collar, after being captured by Sean, this was once the largest and most stable source of income for Sean's territory. It wasn't until Neal repeatedly introduced new policies that the economic income of this territory finally gradually became less important, but its stability has never changed. After all, Dayi is led by Rudd Mitchlin. The entire territory already has a complete system.

So all the time, whether it is Neil or William, the importance of Da Yi collar is second only to Panda collar.

In this territory, Iron Wings and Thunder Lions have been stationed here for defense, and William and Neal have come here several times to directly command. It can be seen that the importance of this territory is not as simple as just talking about it. If it weren't for Thain's sudden surrender, and if Sean's subordinates were unavailable, Da Yi led Sean would definitely not be handed over to Thain for defense.

just keeps the two armies of Steel Wings and Thunder Lions trapped here, which is really overkill.

In the center of the Da'i territory, there is a city. This city is the brainchild of two generations of the Mitchlin family, and there is a fortress not far from the city. The two echo each other and have long been summarized. Enter the territory's defense system. Since Thain took over, although he has not modified the defense system, no matter who it is, he can see that Thain does not pay much attention to fortresses. He just concentrates all his forces in the city. This is true. The security of the city has been improved a lot, but on the other hand, it has also made the defense network monotonous because of the concentration of the territory's troops.

After leaving the Void City, Thain and the nobleman from the Nugus family rushed back to the city where they arrived at Yi Ling without stopping. At this time, 11 days had passed since they left the Void City.

So the good news received from Suo'an has already been passed on to Xiao En's hands.

When Thain, who is now acting as the acting lord of Rudd for the time being, returned, someone also immediately went forward to report, and handed the mission letter sent back by Shaun through Magic Communication to him.

Magic communication like this can only be carried out simply by sending some letters, and the cost of each transmission is huge. Therefore, on the Marvel Continent, if it is not particularly important and urgent, magic communication is generally not enabled. It is precisely because of this that Thain is naturally very curious about Sean's expense to pass this letter back.

He has opened the letter before he sits down.

The above content is only two words.

Start.

Others may not understand the meaning of these two words, but because he participated in the military meeting held in Void City eleven days ago, Thain understood the meaning of these two words at once.

The two words mean that the second phase of the plan begins.

"It seems that the hidden trump card on the Soan collar is the Howard family's mountain lion army." Thain smiled and glanced at the Nugus family member, but his smile, no matter how you look at it, obviously makes people. Very violently beaten up, "I'm afraid the Howard family is really going to cry this time."

The face of this member of the Nugus family is extremely ugly.

"Don't believe it?" Thain raised his eyebrows, and then pulled a rope in the room.

Soon, there was a knock on the door outside the study.

"Come in." Thain's voice was as cold as frost.

"My lord, what's the matter?" A gray-haired man opened the door and walked in.

"Send the previous rizi back to the backup file of the information in Void City." Thain was sitting on the chair behind the desk, looking at the unprocessed files that had been piled up because of his previous departure. Said without raising it.

"Yes." This gray-haired old man is Thain's butler in the city's lord's mansion.

According to Thain's previous order, any information passed through here must be backed up. Although the old butler did not know the purpose and reason of Thain's doing this, as a cautious old man, he still followed this order very seriously and cautiously. Therefore, regardless of whether Thain was present or not, as long as he was in Thain All the information transmitted in the management area will be backed up, collected and sorted.

Soon, the old steward submitted the report that was passed back to the void city through here five days ago.

Sean just glanced, the corners of his mouth raised, and then he threw the piece of paper to the nobleman from the Nugus family. The latter took the piece of paper and looked at it, and his face immediately showed horror. There was no such arrogance and contempt before, and some were just incredibly shocked.

Just one sentence written on the piece of paper.

"The main force of the mountain lion army was wiped out. The enemy commander Rowell Howard flees. We are currently in pursuit."

A simple sentence fully demonstrated the power of the Thunder Lion. At this time, this nobleman was willing to believe that Sean's first army was the Thunder Lion rather than the steel wings as they had speculated. fact.

"Such an army... does not have a designation flag?"

"He is just a baron." Thain sneered and reminded the nobleman of a fact that must be faced.

Sean still became a baron because he fought with the Hastings family, otherwise he was just a pioneer knight. Only after becoming a baron can Sean finally fly the family banner with his family crest. Otherwise, even if the Thunder Lions and Iron Wings are all subordinate to his private army, they can only fly it belonging to Assy. Na's family crest banner.

And a person who has only been a baron for half a year, naturally it is impossible to enter the line of sight of the senior leaders of the Principality of Ryan. Even if they could, few people would believe that Sean's army could have a designation flag, and even the entire Principality of Lane had only seven armies with a designation flag. According to the current strength of the army under Sean, there are three troops that can apply for the designation flag, which is almost equivalent to half of the duli designation army of the Principality of Lane.

A baron has three legions that have been given a banner. Does anyone believe this?

This is almost equivalent to the military power possessed by a powerful duke of a second-rate kingdom.

But whether others believe it or not, Thain knows very well that Sean does have this strength.

"Where are you going?" Seeing the nobleman from the Nugus family got up in a panic and wanted to leave, Thain asked coldly.

"I...I'm going to inform Your Highness." This nobleman was unnaturally drunk by Thain like this, but he still reacted quickly, "Let her send someone to support the Mountain Lion Army immediately, if possible..."

"Heh." Thain let out a chuckle, then shrugged indifferently, "If you find it useful, then go."

The other party instinctively wanted to step forward, but it seemed that he had thought of something, but in the end he didn't leave here, he just turned his head and looked at Thain with doubts.

Thain pressed his left hand slightly and closed the book he was looking at. Then he raised his head to look at the young Nugus family member, and said calmly, "You know why Alfred's Is the army called the Lion of Thunder?"

"Why... why?"

"Because the Lion of Thunder, under Sean's command, is known for its strongest combat style, the shortest combat time, and the highest combat efficiency. It is a truly swift and fierce army." Saïen explained in a deep voice, "Originally based on Xiao In the naming rules for the army, the initial designation of the Thunder Lion was Thunder Wing, but because Alfred was called the Lion King, it was renamed the Thunder Lion."

Having said this, Thain stretched his finger at the note in the hand of the nobleman, and said again: "The battle report you hold in your hand was sent from here to the Void City only five days ago. In other words, this is actually the report of the battle eleven days ago.... Judging from Alfred's serious attitude towards the mission and the combat style of the Thunder Lion, the eleven days' time is the worst enough for him to chase. The other troops of the Mountain Lion Corps, maybe even the Mountain Lion Corps has been annihilated."

"This...how is this possible..."

"Whether you believe it or not, I believe it anyway." Thain shrugged. "If I were you, I would report back the worst result. If Hela Nugus is a wise man, Then she knows how to take advantage of this opportunity... I think the Fourth Legion of Darbion is good."

The Fourth Army of Darbion, although it did not receive the designation flag, is also a fourth-level army with an organization of 50,000. It belongs to the Southern Military District of the Darbion Kingdom and is also the main army of the southern nobles besieging Shaun this time. one.

With the jingming level of this Nugus family member, he immediately understood the meaning of Thain's words. If all of the vacancies for the 5,000 people of Thain's army are filled by the Fourth Army of Darbion, then this is definitely a powerful threat to Sean in the current situation, maybe as long as Sean shows the slightest slack. , Then this army can easily take Sean down.

"I will report immediately." This member of the Nugus family turned and left with excitement.

After all, the Mountain Lion Legion is only a private soldier of the Howard family, not the Nugus family, so although it is a pity for the destruction of the Mountain Lion Legion, it will not make him feel pain after all. But if their Nugus family can make good use of this opportunity to successfully take Sean, then this will be a great contribution to the Kingdom of Darbion. Maybe they can make the Nugus family become a Dabian in one fell swoop. The head of the five dukes of Bion.

After the nobleman left, Thain picked up the quill and wrote a sentence on a blank piece of paper: The second phase of the plan has gone well so far, and Darbion will send 15,000 people to me. Of troops.

Thinking about it, and added another sentence: The other party already knows the movement of the Thunder Lion.

After writing these words, Thain sealed the paper in the envelope, and then rang the rope again. After the old housekeeper came in, Thain handed the letter to the housekeeper and asked him to immediately Send the letter to Sean.

After the old butler left, Thain put down the quill and closed his eyes to calm his breathing.

After more than ten minutes, he opened his eyes again. This time he didn't hide it at all. All he had in his eyes was endless hatred: "I don't know when you found out that those 15,000 soldiers were not ordinary soldiers. Wouldn't you be shocked when it was a soldier of the Fourth Army of Darbion?"

In Thain's eyes, since the Nugus family did not send troops to reinforce his father and let his father die in battle, he has no good feelings for the Nugus family. This time the Nugus family came to him. For Thain, they just used each other: Nugus wanted to use him to infiltrate Shaun, and he wanted to use Nugus to penetrate into Shaun's inner circle. Knowing Sean has more secrets and plans.

In William's tactical plan, the second stage is to allow him to allow Nugus to send people to disguise as his army, and then Sean and William will find a way to eat all of this army, thereby completely weakening the southern nobility of Dabion. Of combat power.

In this regard, Thain did not object, but acted very cooperatively. It's just that he used hints and intelligence along the way to let the Nugus family directly use the Fourth Legion of Darby. Quite a lot, but they are relatively weak. At this time, if the Fourth Legion of Darbion can give Sean an unexpected surprise, then he will naturally have a chance to solve Sean, which is regarded as revenge for his father.

Of course, if the Fourth Legion of Darbion is finally eaten by Sean, there will be no loss to him, because it will only be the nobles on Darbion's side. On the contrary, he can even gain the trust of Sean and William through this cooperation.

With Thain's cleverness, he knows that relying on external help is difficult to succeed in the end. But if he can successfully gain the trust of Sean and William and become one of his core members, then Sean will definitely be less wary of him, and the chances of him wanting to kill Sean will only increase. It was precisely because of this idea that when the Nugus family came to him at random, he did not intend to be obedient and return to the kingdom of Bian to be the dog of the Nugus family. Instead, he thought about how to treat Nugus's The value was thoroughly squeezed out so that it would be easier for him to break into Sean's core layer.

Of course, if the Fourth Legion of Darbion can really get rid of Sean this time, Thain will of course not mind.

So only from this plan, Thain was the winner from the beginning, because he didn't have his place in this game, he wouldn't be stupid enough to risk himself so quickly.

It's just that if Thain knew that because of his true eyes, Sean could clearly see through his hostility towards him, then Thain would probably not think so. Because in Sean's eyes, Thain is always a loser, no matter whether he will join the gambling game and play with Sean himself, he will lose the most important resource in every attempt to gain the trust of Sean.

Double-faced people, when they are completely isolated and lose trust, they no longer have the chance to comeback.

Chapter 357: .The Fall of the Mountain Lion Army

Fire, burning on the battlefield.

The blood splattered on the ground has already dried up, condensed into patches of dark red.

It's still intact, but the dead bodies are extremely tragic corpses, almost everywhere in the entire battlefield. And the people who can survive at this moment are not because of their superb strength, but their luck.

A small group of soldiers wearing gray and black leather armor gathered in Zhongyang on the battlefield, forming a circle. Although they were barely able to form a defensive circle, most of their trembling bodies still completely betrayed their hearts. True emotions.

When the threat and fear of death really come, not everyone can face it peacefully.

The flames are still burning, and thick and strong black smoke continues to rise.

The clanking sound of the armor rubbing from walking fell in the ears of these surviving mountain lion soldiers, just like the footsteps of the * of death approaching.

Three hundred against six thousand.

After nearly half a month of encounters, pursuits, and encirclement and suppression, the 7,000 Mountain Lion Corps second echelon soldiers who had survived training out, also had more than 5,000 remaining due to consecutive defeats. Then, in the next day-long pursuit, the soldiers of the second echelon of the Mountain Lion Army were finally driven to a ruin, and they were forced to peacefully peaceful the thunder lion in this unoccupied central desert plain of Suoan. A large-scale death battle.

This time, Alfred changed his previous attitude and put into the battle the reserve soldiers originally prepared to fill the battle damage of the Thunder Lion.

For recruits, it is natural that they cannot be the opponents of these four-level army mountain lions, so their death rate is astonishing. But after this war, the surviving Thunder Lion reserve soldiers is naturally also a completely qualitative transformation.

It's just this kind of transformation, but it's just barely upgrading from cannon fodder to the level of regular soldiers.

However, because the veterans have also grown, the overall level of the Thunder Lion has not been reduced.

is still a quasi-fourth level army.

However, compared to the previous 5,000 people, the Thunder Lion now has an increase of more than 1,000 people.

The ocean like blue sea suddenly separated to the left and right as if retreating, giving way to a passage.

Alfred, holding the flaming lion fangs, slowly walked out of the thunder lion crowd through this passage, and then appeared in the field of vision of the surviving mountain lion army soldiers.

At this moment, Alfred was already covered with blood, and the blood almost covered his entire face, like a layer of red dye. However, if you look closely, you can still see a scar of flesh and blood on his right cheek. This was the wound when he was temporarily counterattacked when he was beheading the last high-ranking silver master of the Mountain Lion Legion.

Even with Alfred, who now has the power to fight against the lower gold powerhouse, his endurance limit is still at the level of the upper silver pinnacle, and the  battle for half a month has basically reached him. The limit. And the exhaustion caused by this limit will inevitably slow down his reaction, so the hands are naturally very natural. In fact, if it were not for the flaming lion fangs and the heavy armor on the body, it might be here. Alfred will also fall in the battle.

The war of Jing Rui Corps is no better than the long march that he traversed several Darbion territories.

There is a fundamental difference between the two.

"Rowell, I advise you one last time." Alfred resisted the pain on his face, and then still spoke in a deep voice, "surrender now!"

no respond.

Alfred's right hand lifted slightly.

With this action of him, the Thunder Lion soldiers who had formed an encirclement against the soldiers of these mountain lion legions one after another slammed their square shields to the ground, and the roaring sound of the shield was like a sudden explosion of angry thunder. , Shocked all the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Legion panicked. Immediately afterwards, there was another neat sound of guns. Watching a gleaming jing iron spear hung on the edge of the shield, aimed at them, the enemy soldiers, the soldiers of the Mountain Lion Army finally made a burst of sao. chaos.

But sao chaos, it stopped soon.

Because the captain of the Mountain Lion Corps, Rowell Howard, who is also known as the Lion King like Alfred, has also stepped out of the protection circle of the Mountain Lion Corps.

At this moment, he does not have the temperament that he had when he met Alfred for the first time, and some were just embarrassed.

"The Howard family will not surrender to the enemy!" However, even though Rowell is already covered with dust and dirt at the moment, his eyes are still astonishingly bright, and it can even be said that they are still full of a  called perseverance. , "Our death will never be worthless, but it will make the Kingdom of Darbion have a clearer understanding of your combat power. Perhaps this time you can annihilate us, but in the end it will be you!"

Alfred just glanced at Rowell, then turned his gaze to the mountain lion soldiers behind him. The vast majority of the people in it were afraid, or fear, their bodies shivering. Can fully illustrate this point. However, more people seemed to be infected by Rowell's words. Their faces also showed a firm spirit, and their hands holding the short-bladed sword hilt became harder.

"Are you all willing to die for the Howard family?" Alfred's voice was not very loud, but his words were clear.

Every word, like a thunder, exploded in the hearts of the trembling soldiers.

"Of course! They are the most proud of the Howard family..."

"I don't want to die!" A soldier from the Mountain Lion Corps suddenly interrupted Rowell's voice. His mad scream was particularly harsh on this almost silent battlefield.

"What are you talking about..." Rowell turned around angrily, the  se on his face looked unusually ferocious.

But when he turned around, he felt a sharp pain in his chest, which made his hideous face appear a little bit of astonishment and disbelief. He lowered his head a little hard, and what he saw was a mountain lion legion-style short blade that had pierced into his heart. The blood was soaking out at an unstoppable speed, on his white shirt. Quickly spread. Then, he raised his head again with difficulty, looking at the still young soldier looking at him frantically, and under that crazy face, tears were streaming from his eyes and sliding down his face. , Dripping on the pointed chin.

Rowell faltered back several steps.

He lifted his right hand to grasp the hilt of the short-edged sword, and then pulled out the short-edged sword with force. This action caused his vitality to drain from his body at a faster speed.

"I don't want to die! I don't want to die! I don't want to die!"

The soldier who assassinated Rowell with a knife shook his head frantically.

"Traitor!"

A soldier from the Mountain Lion Corps uttered a roar, and then he was about to rush towards the soldier.

At this moment, Alfred's gaze froze, then he waved his hand at a swift speed to grab a jing iron spear, and slammed the spear towards the one who was trying to kill the assassin Lowe. Soldiers of the Mountain Lion Corps threw away.

The spear let out a roar of wind and thunder in the air. This shot that was filled with vindictiveness by Alfred pierced the head of the mountain lion soldier at a speed that could not be captured by ordinary eyesight. The moment the spear pierced the soldier's head, strong grudge burst out suddenly, everyone only heard a "bang" explosion, the soldier's head burst like a broken watermelon. Come.

The liquid of red se and white se, mixed with a lot of fragments, splashed out in all directions.

The spear thrown by Alfred did not just fall to the ground. Instead, it penetrated through the bodies of two mountain lion soldiers like a bolt of lightning, and finally pierced the third mountain. The body of the lion army soldier stopped only afterwards.

The three mountain lion soldiers who were assassinated by the spear were the same soldiers who had the same perseverance in their eyes after listening to Rowell's words just now.

Rowell watched the scene before him. He wanted to stop, and wanted to kill the rebellious soldier, but all this was powerless to him after all. There was confusion and confusion in his eyes. He couldn't understand why soldiers killed him. They were the proud mountain lion soldiers of the Howard family. It is the supreme honor to die for the Howard family!

Why?

Why did you surrender?

Why?

The blood-stained short blade that pierced his heart fell from Rowell's hand to the ground.

Then, the lion king of Xiri also followed in the footsteps of this short blade and fell on his back.

At this moment, the vitality in his body was finally completely drained.

But when he died, his eyes were not closed, and his eyes were deeply puzzled.

And the other mountain lion soldiers, after seeing Alfred's thunderous blow, no one dared to rush to kill the soldier who assassinated Rowell at this moment. Especially when facing the cold eyes that Alfred then glanced over, these mountain lion soldiers lowered their heads one after another, and only a small group of people were still looking at their former commander with the corner of their eyes. , The eyes are full of a kind of helpless sorrow.

Alfred glanced at Lowell's body, hesitating whether to chop off his head. But in the end, he still didn't do it, because Rowell Howard may be an acting commander, not very effective in personal combat, and he did not dare to charge on the front line of the battlefield, but until the last moment of death, He did not bow his head to his enemy, but chose to stand and die.

So in the eyes of Alfred, this is still a respectable enemy.

"I'll say it again." Alfred slowly raised his head, "Surrender, don't kill."

There was silence.

Ten seconds later, there was finally a soft sound of a metal object landing.

It was a soldier of the Mountain Lion Army finally discarded the short blade in his hand.

If there is the first person to surrender, there will naturally be a second and a third person.

Soon, the ding of metal objects fell one after another.

Chapter 358: . The strange behavior of the Boulder family

There is a large-scale manor in the territory of the Nugus family, covering an area of tens of acres. There is a completely private horse ranch, hunting grounds and some other more luxurious architectural facilities. The entire manor is just a regular There are as many as five thousand guards.

The se keynote used in the building of this manor is white se, and the building material is also pure white star stone, which is relatively rare in the kingdom.

Only in terms of the degree of luxury, the scale of this manor is definitely second to none in the Kingdom of Darbion, and it is hardly under the several royal estates of the Kingdom of Darbion.

This is the White Se Holy Grail Manor where the Nugus family is located.

There is a five-story villa in the northeast of the manor. Although the scale of this villa is not small, the decoration is very simple and simple, which does not fit the identity of this villa at all. However, judging from the number of guards patrolling in the villa, it can be seen that the Nugus family attaches great importance to this villa, because in addition to more than fifty guards, there are two more. The strong man with high ranking gold sits on the ground.

At this moment, on the fifth-floor window of this villa facing the north, there is a beautiful figure standing against the window.

Her appearance is not so outstanding, even the maids in this villa are countless times more beautiful than her. And the temperament of this woman is also not outstanding, not to mention noble or dusty, even if she wears countless expensive luxury jewelry, she can't build up even the slightest treasure, and even gives people a kind of The sense of violation of jewellery thrown on the garbage dump.

As long as someone like this is thrown into the crowd, no one will look at her.

However, the appearance of her frowning tightly at this time made her exude an awe-inspiring force. This kind of aura is usually only manifested in those who are truly superior. Only from the aura that exudes from this moment, this woman who is extremely ordinary in appearance, body and temperament has so much more Different and superior.

This woman is naturally the next heir to the head of the Nugus family, Hela Nugus.

At this time, Hela's eyes were looking to the north of the manor.

There is a racecourse with a large area, and beside the racecourse is a stable, and from the left side of the stable is a horse ranch surrounded by wooden fences.

For a long time, more than one thousand horses lived in this horse pasture.

These horses are wild horses captured in the kingdom of Darbion.

At that time, the Nugus family was young and vigorous, full of vigor and vigor that other families did not have. Everyone in the whole family was holding a breath, trying to make the Nugus family members the strongest in the entire Kingdom of Darbion. Sheng's family. At that time, the Nugus family may still have some small dissonances inside, but it was extremely united externally, and even its cohesion far surpassed the Boulder family.

You know, in the Kingdom of Darbion, the Boulder Family Hall of Seven is very famous.

However, the Nugus family does not have institutions such as the Hall of Seven, but the cohesion is far higher than that of the Hall of Seven. It is not difficult to understand why the Nugus family has the courage and courage to challenge the Boulder family. strength.

But it's a pity, the good times don't last long.

Under the lead of a political marriage event as the fuse, the most proud cohesion of the Nugus family has completely dissipated, and the whole family even fell into an atmosphere of turbulence and division. At that time, the brothers, sisters, uncles and aunts who grew up with Hela were involved in the dispute between Yin's conspiracy and assassination.

was shot by the most famous genius in the Nugus family, Angie Nugus.

She, Hela and Angel's twin sister at the time were called the flower of Nugus together. It can even be said that as long as the Nugus family has these three, then Nugus's prosperity will be a matter of time.

It stands to reason that Ashan Nugus, the head of the Nugus family at the time, was a powerful duke who was known for his skill and skill in the Kingdom of Darbion and should not let these three daughters be lost from his own family. Even political marriage shouldn't be to pick off these three flowers. But the fact is that the Duke of Yashan at that time pushed one of the three flowers, An Qi's sister, as a bargaining chip for political marriage, and it was because of this move that the Nugus family was turbulent for six years later.

Because of this turmoil, the horse pasture eventually became the biggest victim of it.

The plan of the Nugus family to spend a lot of money trying to build the most powerful cavalry force in the Kingdom of Darbion was thus shattered.

Nowadays, in Hella's field of vision, there are only a few horses left in this horse ranch wandering freely. As for the horse racing course, it is of course not to mention that the horse track has long since become dilapidated due to disrepair. .

Hela looked at this deserted horse farm, and her thoughts could not help but flutter: If it wasn't because of her father who made a wrong decision, maybe the Nugus family could now have a dragon comparable to the Boulder family. Jing soldiers like the Tequila Cavalry in the Quilan Army. Maybe even the Red Cross Cavalry of the Kingdom of Darbion can be compared, even if it is not possible to do so because of lack of experience, but at the very least, it should be able to be a heavy-duty belonging to the Holder family that Ronnis has made. The infantry cavalry is higher and lower.

But Hela knows that these are all just extravagant hopes now.

Among the private forces of all the nobles, the Nugus family is not considered strong at all, ranking only the bottom of the five dukes, and even among the many powerful marquises, there are several existences that are completely comparable to the Nugus family.

For example, the Marquis of Romea who always followed the Boulder family.

"Huh." Hela exhaled slightly.

There is a breeze blowing, with a little chill.

So Hela knew that autumn was almost over, and the coldest winter in the southern part of Miracle Continent was about to usher in.

"Say." Without looking back, Hela also knew that someone appeared behind him at this moment.

"The news from Master Yad has been confirmed that the Howard family's mountain lion army has been wiped out." A cold female voice sounded behind Hela. This voice sounded a little soft, but perhaps it was a woman. Because of the temperament exuding from the body, anyone who hears this sound will only feel the chill brought by the breeze outside the window.

This is a woman of plump body, she has proud double peaks and a small waist and slender legs that are enough to make any woman jealous.

Obviously, the white shirt of se can't block the scenery on her chest at all, even if she added a small black suit outside, it would be better to say that the squeezing of these two pieces of clothing caused the gully on her chest. Become extraordinarily deep and charming. The lower body is a long black dress that splits to the thighs. Although she can't see anything when she is standing, when she walks, she can see her charming smooth thighs from the split skirt. .

Of course, while this woman has such a perfect figure, her face is also charming enough to make anyone jealous.

But what really makes people feel excessive is that the years not only did not leave any scars on this woman, but instead gave her a temperament called maturity.

If Hela Nugus belongs to the kind of woman who will never be found in the crowd, then this woman who is reporting to Hela definitely belongs to the kind of perfect woman who is highly regarded no matter where she goes. It's just that in this villa, whether it is the guards, butlers, maids, or even the two high-ranking golden powerhouses, they dare not look at this mature woman.

In other words, anyone who is familiar with this woman dare not look at this woman, let alone look at it.

She is now the most powerful and trusted assistant of Hela Nugus, and she is also the most loyal admirer and follower of Hela.

The eagle under the command of Gessen Nugus, now Higley Bernie.

Hearing Sigrid's report, Hela raised her brow slightly, and the awe-inspiring chill on her body became stronger again, which made Sigrid's heart beat slightly faster. Only she knows how terrifying and terrifying this very ordinary woman in front of her is. All those who despised her and teased her before have now become bones, buried in the history of this world. .

Of course, Sigrid knows that there is one exception.

It's not that Hela doesn't want to deal with her, but the other party is too smart, so smart that Hela can't find a chance at all.

This person is naturally Angie Nugus, who is as famous as Hella.

However, at this moment, the murderous intent on Hela's body was so condensed, which still made Sigrid feel a little frightened. Even if she knows that Hela is not a capricious, moody person, but since she has followed Hela to do things for the past six months, she has a deep fear of Hela, because she is so clear about herself. The new owner's spleen is xing, and when it falls into her hands, death will only become a relief and enjoyment.

"How is the situation of Suoanling now?" Hela asked in a deep voice.

"After the collapse of the Mountain Lion Army, the Thunder Lions began to move and rest in Suo'an. They invaded a small town, wiped out the town's armed resistance and searched all the supplies in the town, and then left. "Now," Sigrid replied, "After that, the Thunder Lion seemed to be broken into pieces. Except for a thousand-man team escorting the captives of the Mountain Lion Legion and returning to Panda, the other Thunder Lion soldiers have all been disbanded. And disguised and mixed into all parts of the Suoan collar."

Speaking of this, Sigrid's face showed a bit of guilt, and she said with some embarrassment: "At present, the only thing I can track is the Thunderbolt who escorted the mountain lion army to return to Panda. Lion squad, and the trail of Lion King Alfred, as for the others... I'm sorry, news of whereabouts has been completely lost."

"Don't blame you." Hela shook her head and said softly, "In order to lock such a big man, you must have deployed at least two-thirds of the resources, so you will definitely be negligent in other aspects, and therefore lose the Lion of Thunder. The movement is not a strange thing, after all, they still have 6,000 people after this battle. Even if 1,000 people were set aside to * the mountain lion army away, the others would still have 5,000 people, and you only had less than a hundred people. , So it's normal to not be able to lock and track.... In other words, it's good to be able to track Alfred's trail."

Sigley lowered her head, afraid to answer.

"How is the situation on Boulder's side."

"The Boulder family only mobilized the Tequila Army and a force of 30,000 people." Although Sigley's report is a bit simple, but a smart person like Hella doesn't need Sigley to do extra work. In the analysis report, because she is not a fool like Gessen, Sigley only needs to tell the information she knows, and Hela can analyze and judge the hidden content. "But the Boulder family is in After learning about the situation of Suo'an collar, the reaction was a little strange."

"Strange?" Hela turned around abruptly, and the breath radiating from her at this moment looked very sharp.

Seeing Hela's reaction so great, Sigley knew immediately that Hela took this piece of information very seriously, and it could even be said that he attached great importance to it. The family's 30,000-strong force set off first, while the Tequila Army was located at a relatively rear position as the core force, about three days away from the forward force. At that time, the Boulder family knew that Suoan was leading the team. At the time of the news, the two troops were just in the fringe area of the Soan collar. According to the layout plan drawn up by you, the Boulder family should be responsible for the Soan collar, but the Boulder family after knowing the situation of the Soan collar. Not only did it not immediately enter the Soan collar, but instead allowed the vanguard troops to be stationed in place, while the Tequila Army continued to advance and entered the Louvre collar this morning."

Luofu collar, is a viscountry, this territory is led by Modge, and the Viscount family that manages the territory belongs to the Boulder family faction.

"You mean, the Boulder family did not enter the Soan collar?"

"Yes." Sigley nodded.

"What about the garrison led by Suoan?" Hela's brow furrowed deeper, and she began to feel that the situation was a little out of control.

If Sean hadn't attacked the Berbice leader, she had been prepared for it, and if Sean suddenly sent troops deep into the Soan leader to fight against the Mountain Lions and was still under her control, then the Mountain Lions would be destroyed quickly. It really exceeded her expectations. Because she knows very well that in the initial strategic arrangement, the Boulder family will be responsible for the leadership of Suo An, and she has already told Boulder's people about the importance of this territory, but she did not expect it. The Boulder family would be so uncooperative, so that her encirclement network cannot be completely formed.

But with the opposition between the Boulder family and the Nugus family, this is actually nothing. And when she knew that Sean's side would withdraw troops from Chiraf and no longer attack Berbish, she knew that the other side would definitely send troops to Soan. Because with her knowledge of the talents of William, the military commander under Sean, she believed that William would definitely see the flaws in Suoan's collar, so he would definitely send troops to invade Suoan's collar to break the current deadlock.

According to her plan, the Boulder family should be almost close to the Soan leader at this time, and the Mountain Lions can join forces with the Boulder family to eat the troops Sean sent to the Soan leader. And she can also directly use other forces to attack the Chilaf collar while simultaneously attacking the Yedby collar, Day collar, and Tin Chiyin collar, and even give Sean one through the cooperation of Sean Hastings. Ruthless, so that this war was completely over within a month.

As a result, Chiraf took her to eat, but other aspects were completely unsuccessful, which made her dare not even launch an attack on the other three territories.

Of course, the most important thing is that the mountain lion army's destruction speed is too fast, and the subsequent tactical plan changes that the Thunder Lion launched after eating the mountain lion army's forces are also very fast, all of which make her feel a little bit Tricky. But now, the strange behavior of the Boulder family made her feel extremely uneasy, because she felt that some things had been completely out of her control and became out of control.

In her heart, there is even a bold conjecture at this moment.

"What is the situation with the agave collar?" Hela asked.

"We are gathering forces, but the details are not clear." Sigrily said.

"Go and investigate immediately!"

"But..." Sigrid was taken aback for a while.

"Alfred's lion's affairs can be temporarily slowed down. Just keep an eye on it. Don't worry about the others. Now the most important thing is the attitude of the Boulder family!" Hela said in a deep voice, her face already Yin was sinking to dripping water, "Also, regarding Thon Hastings, some people were also sent to investigate his movements.... He offered to let the soldiers of the Fourth Army of Dabion come in. This It's definitely not a normal thing. With the sharpness of those soldiers, he definitely can't hide the jingle of these people. Sean and the others are definitely not fools."

"...Go, and immediately find out what the old fox Hatch and Thain want to do!"

"Yes!"

Chapter 359: . Renegade

The Nugus family took the lead, and all the nobles of the southern faction of Darbion responded and launched a counterattack against the Lord Panda of the Principality of Ryan, thus completely regaining all the territories of the former Kingdom of Darbion, including the Bandar, and forcing the Marquis of Tonis back to her Fortress.

This is the strategy developed by Hela Nugus.

A few months ago, everything was being staged according to Hela's script.

The situation is clear.

But all this suddenly became confusing and confusing half a month ago.

On July 19, 1713, Baron Pandan Sean Connery gave up the Chiraf collar, and the three thousand soldiers stationed by Chilaf also retreated into the Pandan collar and laid fortifications in the Gorge Rift. The steel base in Panda Town now forms a corner.

On October 16, 1713, the Thunder Lions of the First Legion of Bander Baron Sean Connery assaulted the Soan leader and fought fierce battles with the Mountain Lion Army, which belongs to the Howard family. The main force of the Mountain Lion Army was wiped out.

On November 3, 1713, the mountain lion army lurking in Suo'an was completely annihilated, and at the same time lost the trace of the Thunder Lion.

Today is November 20th, 1713.

Hela's face is not as rosy as it was four months ago. She looks a little haggard, but her eyes are surprisingly bright, and there is an awe-inspiring breath all over her body. Obviously, she has not been affected by this strategic layout. Shaun was destroyed and hit. In other words, it is precisely because of Sean's sudden break in the game that Hela has a clearer understanding of the reason for his failure.

"I underestimated the decision of the Boulder family." Hela murmured, "Now, Sigley, what do you want to do next?"

"Report to the royal family...?" Sigrid asked a little anxiously.

After all, she is only good at intelligence collection. As for the analysis ability, it is only related to intelligence collection, so it is also involved, but after all, it is not a se. As for the coping ability, this is not her area of expertise, so it is normal for Sigley to be a little nervous when asked by Hela at this moment. If a person can perform extremely well in the three areas of intelligence collection, analysis, and response, then he can definitely rank among the top 100 outstanding generals in mainland China.

A person like Sigli, at most, can only be a staff officer.

"The report is affirmative." Seeing Sigrid's anxiety, Hela let out a chuckle. In fact, according to her personality, people like Sigrid who framed her will definitely not stay, but hope Gerry's talent in intelligence made her really excited, so she didn't kill Sigrid when dealing with Kasem. "But even so, we still have no choice but to use the agave collar....Look. This time, I did not do well enough and left such a big flaw. I knew that I should have taken the shot myself. But forget it, although the current loss is a bit large, it is still within a tolerable range. , And this has also speeded up some steps. Generally speaking, we still have a little advantage, but the advantage is not big."

"My lord, what do you mean..."

Hela's mouth raised slightly, and the laughter was a little more cheerful, but Sigrid's face was even more unnatural.

Because she knows very well that once Hela laughs, it means that she has fallen into excitement, and this also means that her shots will become more fierce.

"Didn't Thain want the 15,000 members of the Fourth Legion of Darbion, give it to him." Hela smiled cheerfully and relaxedly, "Let's see if he can make good use of these 5,000 people. , If he can successfully kill Sean, we can also save a lot of trouble. If not, it means that he only has this ability.... Actually, I don't like someone like Thain. I don't hate it. After all, the Nugus family sorry for him first, but I don't like someone playing clever tricks behind me. Since he decided to give us a surprise, we might as well give him one."

Just then, a knock on the door suddenly sounded.

At Hela's sign, Sigrid immediately turned from the desk and walked over, opening the door of the room.

There are two people standing outside the door.

Ashan Nugus, the current patriarch of the Nugus family, and Jen Howard, the current patriarch of the Howard family.

"Didn't you say that there will be no accidents!?" As soon as he entered the door, Jen roared.

His eyes were red and his face was haggard, which was obviously caused by the annihilation of the Mountain Lion Army. After all, for the Howard family, their greatest reliance is the mountain lion army, a powerful army, but now the mountain lion army has been wiped out. This is tantamount to announcing that the Howard family's military strength has been weakened by at least half. In terms of the situation, the Howard family is even inferior to the Nugus family.

As we all know, the military power of the Nugus family is the weakest among the five dukes of the kingdom.

"According to my plan, there will be no accidents." Hela said calmly.

"Then why did the Mountain Lion Corps be wiped out! Am I not following your plan?"

Hela glanced at Jene Howard, with a bit of contempt on his face, which made the irritation on the face of the Duke of Jene even more intense. At this moment, he already regretted working with the Nugus family, because if this were not the case, how could his mountain lion army be wiped out? Only now, no matter how much he regrets, no matter how angry he is, he still dare not turn his face with the Nugus family.

As the head of a family, especially if the family is still a ducal family, there are too many things he needs to consider, so there are many things to measure and judge. Under all kinds of constraints, it is of course impossible for him to act and make decisions based on his own preferences, especially at this juncture. If he and the Nugus family turn their faces, then I am afraid that he will soon be taken by Nugus. The family is annexed.

Because the Howard family today is no longer the Howard family that has the capital to compete with the Boulder family. Among the five great duke families, the Howard family is now the real bottom family. After all, even when facing Asuna's invasion, his mountain lion army was not annihilated, and even let Yasi in the forest battle. Na suffered enough and forced Asuna to change her marching route.

It seems that the Howard family still has some value. Although Hela showed contempt, he did not continue to stimulate Jen Howard. At least in face, he still gave the other party the respect that a duke should have: "Uncle Yen, You did make arrangements according to my plan, and the previous plan was indeed successful. But... the Boulder family did not act according to our plan. Besides, the Boulder family's Tequila Army was already in there at the time. In the vicinity of Suo'an collar, if they rush to the rescue immediately, the mountain lion army will not be annihilated..."

"The old fox of Hatch!" Now that some time has passed since the demise of the Mountain Lion Army, a lot of information has been circulated. Of course, the ability of the Grand Duke like Jern in this area of information collection cannot be inferior to others. People, so of course he also knows exactly what is going on.

It's just that, of course, there are reasons for the Boulder family to indulge in this aspect, but it is more that their understanding of the Thunder Lions army is really insufficient. Even more bluntly, they seriously underestimated the strength of Sean Connery, which led to the situation like this. If they paid more attention to Sean from the beginning, then maybe the situation will be a little better.

Because of the clarity, Jen Howard couldn't say anything. He could only vent his anger on the Boulder family.

This is the nobility.

Never seek the reason from oneself, only shift the responsibility to others.

"Don't worry, Uncle Jen, the Boulder family will definitely pay the price." Hela smiled.

"What do you mean?" Yen and Yashan looked at each other, and then Yen said in a deep voice.

"Uncle Yen, I wonder if you are not interested in the tequila collar sense?" Hela asked instead without answering directly.

Yen's pupils shrank suddenly, but out of the noble's caution, he did not speak.

"The Boulder family only brought four thousand agave troops and 30,000 infantrymen into battle. Isn't this a suspicious thing?" Hela smiled, "The agave leader has a fortress-level manor, three A large manor and a border-level fortress, two war-level fortresses, and five legion-level fortresses.... Some of these fortifications are left over before, and some were built after the invasion of Tonys Fortress, but In any case, it is impossible for the military power of the Boulder family to hold all these twelve fortifications."

Fortresses, castles, fortresses, and manors are all fortifications on the mainland.

According to the different scales of defense, capacity, structure, etc., it can be roughly divided into five scales: legion level, war level, border defense level, fortress level, and empire level. Legion level and below are not classified, usually As a troop point or supply point, of course, there are also manors or castles that have no strategic value but simply have the quality of viewing and playing. In these conventional scale divisions, fortresses must be built based on the fortress level, and only larger and not smaller are allowed in terms of construction requirements, so these five scale classifications are not used for evaluation.

Fortresses like Tonys Fortress in the Principality of Ryan, St. Drones Fortress, and Garrod Fortress in the Kingdom of Darbion will not be evaluated by five large-scale standards, but collectively referred to as "war fortresses." However, if it must be divided by rating standards, the scale of these fortresses are all empire-level. Of course, the standard of Tonys fortress may be higher. After all, this is currently the only super fortress on the entire continent.

The Boulder family belongs to the Tequila Collar, in addition to three large estates that are not classified, it has a total of eight graded forts and a fortress-level manor where the family is located. This manor may not be as vast and luxurious as the White Se Holy Grail Manor of the Nugus family, but this manor is known for its defensive capabilities and is also the political center of the entire Boulder family.

"What do you want to say?"

"The garrison led by the agave is being mobilized on a large scale, but it is moving towards the position of the home. This is obviously gathering forces and shrinking the defense line. What do you think is the real purpose of the Boulder family?" Hela again He opened his mouth and asked, "In this situation where it is clear that war cannot be avoided, the Boulder family has no signs of sending troops to the front line, ha ha..."

"You mean!" Yashan and Yen both looked shocked.

"If Uncle Jen is interested, then get ready." Hela smiled, "Duke Hatch is indeed a very smart man, he knows how to make some abandonment, at least he knows he can't hold it. A big agave collar, so according to my assessment, he will probably abandon the five regiment-level fortresses and three large estates outside. The main force will be all concentrated in the agave manor, and the key defense will be carried out in the agave fort. , And then if there are surplus troops will be stationed in the two war-class fortresses.... In this way, he can control at least one-fifth of the agave collar."

Yen and Yashan looked at each other, obviously neither of them expected the situation to change so quickly.

Of course, what I didn't expect was that the Boulder family would rebel!

"Until the internal worries are solved, we can't deal with the external problems." Hela said with a smile, "because if the Duke of Tequila is not resolved, then the entire south of Dabion will fall. But if we concentrate our forces on it. If the Duke of Tequila is resolved, then Sean will definitely take the opportunity to attack, so no matter what the attitude of the royal family is, this national war is inevitable. This time it is no longer a matter of our southern aristocratic faction. The other two aristocrats Factions will definitely intervene."

"What does the niece mean...?" Jen was quite convinced of Hela, and he also recognized Hela's strength and talent, otherwise he would not dispatch the Mountain Lion Army. At this moment, calling Hela a niece, in addition to expressing apologies and conviction, is more to close the relationship between the two sides, because the Howard family and the Nugus family are now completely tied together.

"Tequila collar, we can only eat one-fifth." Hai stretched out a finger, "Although the Boulder family is a faction of our southern aristocracy, but if the interests are monopolized by us, then we must Facing greater pressure.... The demon in Tonis Fortress will never stand idly by this time, and according to my intelligence investigation, the Seventh Army of the Principality of Lane, stationed at Tonis Fortress, seems to be preparing for war."

"The Seventh Legion of the Principality of Lane?" Yashan raised his brows, "What can this waste Legion do?"

"Although we can't do anything, but the early stage is enough to cause us a lot of trouble." Hela said, "and the actions of this legion are actually a signal, that is, the ideas within the Principality of Ryan have been unified... ...The last time Asuna invaded our Darbion and did not invade the territory, but this time the situation is different. Once the national war begins, we will only maintain the integrity of the territory at best if we win, but if we fail, we will be subjugated."

This time, Yashan and Yen finally realized the seriousness of the situation.

They did not expect that the Boulder family's rebellion would trigger such a chain reaction, which was completely beyond their expectations.

Hela said in a deep voice, "Therefore, although we have the advantage in the plan for the advancement of the tequila collar, in fact, we can't get any benefits at all....Because if we want to invade large-scale territories, we need to use them. The greater the strength of, the less the strength of the side facing Sean, and if we want to focus on Sean's side, we will not be able to get enough benefits from the agave leader. This is why I say that only occupying one-fifth of the territory is good."

The agave collar can be regarded as the largest territory of the Kingdom of Darbion. Even if it only occupies a fifth, it is almost equivalent to the size of a standard marquis collar.

"Now that Sean has nearly 70,000 troops under his command. Although many of them are mercenary groups, it is enough to defend the Panda collar, and his private soldiers can be used to fight against us. Aspect." Hela said calmly, "so now it's up to Uncle Yen what you plan to do."

"What else can I do?" Yen gave a bitter laugh, and the laughter was full of helplessness. "Now our two families are completely tied together, so in this regard, our Howard family will definitely cooperate with your Nugus family. Action."

"I see." Hela smiled sweetly, "With the words of uncle, I know what to do."

Speaking, Hela nodded to Sigley, who soon left and started to deal with the things Hela had previously explained. And soon, Yashan and Jen left one after another, because the Boulder family's rebellion is currently only known to them, so the sooner you prepare now, the easier the response will be at that time, at least not too much. After being in a hurry, there was enough time to spend on the battle with Sean.

Seeing everyone leaving, Hela poured herself a glass of red wine, but the smile on her face increased instead of decreasing: "If I guess right, the old fox Hatch Boulder should be talking to Tony now. The demon at the Fortress made contact."

.....

In fact, at this moment, in the small town led by Modger, Hatch Bould did arrive in secret with only a few entourages.

It's just that it's not Asuna, but Elizabeth, who approached Hatch.

At this time Elizabeth changed to ri's slightly slutty style, and instead wore a set of officer uniforms of the Principality of Ryan. This leather uniform showed Elizabeth's figure more perfectly, but despite this, but What exudes from Elizabeth's body is a cold and solemn breath. And under this breath, no one has the leisure to appreciate Elizabeth's figure and face.

"I'm really sorry, the Lord Marquis of my family has not returned, so I can only receive the Lord Duke temporarily." Elizabeth said in a deep voice. She has never slackened in dealing with this kind of business. Our lord has already said all the requests that come out, and the Principality will accept it with full authority, and you will become a member of the first batch of dukes of the Kingdom of Lane."

Hatch Boulder didn't smile at all when he heard this, but only a kind of helplessness.

If it weren't for Nugus and Howard to press so tightly, he would actually not want to defect. It's just that some things are not as simple as he thought in the end, so for the sake of the entire Boulder family, he can only choose to defect.

"I will definitely follow the instructions of the Kingdom of Lane, please rest assured that the Kingdom." Hatch said in a deep voice.

"I will tell the Lord Marquis." Elizabeth nodded, "In addition, Lord Marquis has a personal matter and would like to ask Lord Duke for your help."

"Please speak." Facing the female mage in front of him, Hatch did not dare to look down upon it.

Chapter 360: .Surprise in preparation

A steady stream of trucks entered from the city gate.

Each of these trucks is three meters wide and ten meters long. Because of the brackets, the height of these trucks is also more than three meters, which is a special order extra large truck. This type of truck is generally used by the Chamber of Commerce when it conducts relatively large-scale and large-scale transactions. Normally, even if it is only a large-scale transaction, this type of truck will not be used because the transportation cost is too high.

The one responsible for pulling the cart is a kind of herbivorous Xing Yalong called Caolong.

This sub-dragon is a bit like the triceratops of the ancient earth, but there are no sharp horns on the head, and the limbs are relatively thicker than the triceratops. They have very good endurance and can walk tens of kilometers with only one meal a day-of course, the slow moving speed cannot be changed in any way, but one advantage is that the grass dragon can move forward for three consecutive days before resting.

Although it is not the first time I have seen a grass dragon, the residents of the city, whether they are adults or children, are all amazed.

Faced with such a scene, these grass dragons did not show any panic, but only sprayed a white mist from their thick nostrils. Obviously, these grass dragons have undergone a certain level of training after being captured and tamed, otherwise, even the docile Yalong who is herbivorous will become restless.

Standing in the city lord's mansion, Thain watched some truck queues with a certain chamber of commerce passing through the long central street, his eyes looked a little deep: "This is the last batch?"

"Yes, the last five thousand people." The young man from the Nugus family named Yard said.

I have to say that the Nugus family is indeed a very efficient family.

After Yad passed Thyene's words back, in the past month, the Nugus family has organized three transports of this size, each time secretly transporting five thousand Darbion Fourth Army Corps. Of soldiers come over.

Three times is exactly 15,000 people.

Judging from the rapid response and preparation work of the Nugus family, it is obvious that the other party has prepared everything from the beginning. If the other party was not premeditated, Thain would not believe it. It's just that at the moment he can't help but also have some doubts. If he didn't agree to this approach at that time, wouldn't all the preparations of the Nugus family be wasted?

But this thought, Thain just thought it for a while and then dismissed it from his mind.

He can't wait to know what Shaun's expression will be when he finds out that the gift he is going to give him is 15,000 soldiers from the Fourth Army of Darbion. If this sao move is enough to cause a fatal threat, Thain will never let go of the opportunity to assassinate Shaun. Of course, he also knew very well that once they returned to the Void City, everyone including Yade would probably not want to leave alive, and this was the surprise that Thain had prepared to give Yade.

All of this is the second stage of William's tactical plan.

Trick.

However, according to William's plan, he hoped that Thain could deceive enough soldiers from the Kingdom of Darbion to come over as much as possible, because only in this way can the military strength of the southern noble faction of Darbion be weakened to the greatest extent, and to improve their future forces. Winning percentage. So in fact, the second phase of the plan is not like Thain told Yade, the maximum can only recruit 20,000 people.

But Thain knows very well that if he asks the opponent to send the entire Darbion 4th Army secretly, then the opponent will definitely be suspicious. But if it was just an ordinary private soldier, Thain felt that it was really weakening the military power of the southern noble faction of Darbion, which was not the result he wanted. What he wants is that the Nugus family can give him a chance to assassinate Sean. As for how many lives are needed to fill up such an opportunity, it is not something he needs to consider.

In order to kill Xiao En, he even slaughtered all his people. It was from that moment that Thain's heart had completely collapsed, and no one in this world could stop his determination to kill Sean.

"Now that all preparations are complete, I will contact the Void City to fight for a chance to return to Panda." Seeing this disguised caravan go to the designated location, Thain said in a deep voice, "I hope you will Do not let me down."

"Don't worry, the eldest lady has already explained that this time the Fourth Army of Dabion will be under your command." Yard said with excitement, "So, the commander of the Fourth Army and the two deputy commanders this time. Neither has come. In terms of command, you have the highest priority."

Hearing Yade's words, Thain's pupils shrank suddenly, and his eyes were a little bit more surprised, but this kind of overreaction was only fleeting and did not fully reveal, so Yade next to him did not notice anything.

"You mean, these five thousand people are under my command?" Thain's voice became a bit more chill.

"Yes." Yade apparently did not hear the change in Thain's tone. All he was thinking about at the moment was the credit after the victory of this trip. His face was still frantically excited. "I was appointed as your Excellency. Although I'm not good at personal martial arts, I'm from the Dabian Imperial Academy, and I will definitely be able to serve as an assistant in military operations, so please rest assured, Lord Thain!"

Before Yade's bowing of his head was due to Hela's helplessness, but now his tone and attitude are obviously somewhat respectful.

As an orthodox nobleman, Yade is not the kind of pedant who does not know how to turn, otherwise he would not have the status of today. Of course, part of the reason for this is exactly as he said, because he graduated from the Dabion King's Academy, but it is more of the various skills of life and work taught to him by the big family of Nugus. Of course, part of the reason is because he is just a member of an out-of-family family.

But no matter how you say it, Yade's change of attitude at the moment is due to the great contribution that Thain is about to get. For someone like Thain, as long as the plan is successful this time, he can not only restore the Hastings family's title in the Kingdom of Darbion, but he may even be promoted as a result. As Thain's assistant, he Yard The identity of Nugus will naturally rise as a result.

However, Thain did not pay attention to Yade's thoughts at this time, and his mind was completely filled with anger at this time.

.....

Almost the same moment, when this nominal chamber of commerce team entered the city under Thain's jurisdiction, Sigrid also came to Hela with a report. It's just that when she put the report in front of Hela, the first sentence she said was: "My lord, do you really want to give up Master Yad?"

"You can't bear it?" Hela didn't lift her head, her voice was so calm that it could be said to be cold.

"No." Sigley shuddered subconsciously, stood up straight, and then spoke.

Hela did not answer the conversation immediately, she just still didn't know what to write on the paper, although Sigrid could see exactly what Hela was writing as long as she lowered her head, but she did not dare to do so. After about ten minutes, Hela finally stopped, and the rustle that had been ringing in the room finally stopped, which made the surrounding air seem to be much colder.

Sigley swallowed a little hard.

Putting down the pen, Hela raised her head, glanced at Sigley, and then said: "I know that since you left Kasem, the boy Yad took care of you. But don't forget that you are now Identity and Yard's background."

Hearing Hela's words, Sigrid's heart beat suddenly.

"With your abilities, it should not be difficult to know, what were the two subjects with perfect scores when Yard graduated from the Wang Academy?"

"Tactical psychology and...noble communication." Sigrily replied.

"Since you know it, you should also know the reason why Yad approached you?" Hela didn't seem to care whether her words would make Sigrid feel uncomfortable, and she still said to herself, "Of course, you were in the beginning. When recommending Yad to me, I would agree that part of the reason is that his personal ability is not bad. So if he can survive this time, then he will prove that he does have the necessity and value of living. If he is right You are sincere, so I can consider giving him a second chance. But if he can't come back alive, it can only show that his ability is nothing more than that, and we don't need to bother."

"I...I understand."

"You still don't understand." Seeing Sigley's appearance, Hela shook her head, feeling disappointed in her heart, "Forget it, I don't expect you to understand now. But there are some things you have to figure out. Primary and secondary... Now, I just want to know, is there anything happening on the Boulder family?"

"Not yet." Sigley shook her head. "The agave collar seems to have just contracted the line of defense and garrisoned troops, but it is a movement that is about to come out of the nest, so I secretly arranged to spread it in the capital. The rumors of the royal family have not been accepted.... In addition, the Marquis of Romea has also sent troops from the territory. It seems that the situation seems to have come out of the nest. According to the direction of the march, I speculate that it should be the Mordege collar, which is the front line. It seems that It has reached an agreement with the Boulder family to provide strategic support."

"It seems that even the Marquis of Romea has betrayed." The corner of Hela's mouth raised slightly. "The old fox of Hatch is really not easy. Although his political vision has always been good, it would never be possible if it was just him. In this strategic layout... Is it the thundering Valkyrie that intervened? If this is the case, then it is normal for Darbion to not see his rebellious tendency before the Boulder family completely rebelled. "

"My lord, what should we do next?"

"Proceed as planned."

"Yes."

"I wonder if Sean and Thain will be satisfied with this surprise I prepared."

The corners of Hela's mouth raised slightly.