

Lord of War Vol 2-81

Chapter 81: .Soul Spear

Soul Spear!

This skill is an enhanced version of the dark spear, but it is different from the damage that the dark spear directly affects the body. The soul spear is a direct damage to the soul. Although it is only a sixth-level magic, its power is better than the average seven. Level 8 magic is even more terrifying.

Sean's eyes showed surprise and surprise for the first time.

This magic is not a magic that ordinary people can touch.

Even if a player wants to learn this magic, it takes months to complete a cumbersome task process. In the end, it takes a lot of luck to have a certain chance of being able to learn this magic, but as to whether it can be learned Not necessarily when it arrives.

Because this magic is stored on the third floor of the Forbidden Library overlooking the Minaret.

Even if the player wants to learn this magic, it is difficult to reach the sky, let alone the natives of this world!

The powerful power fluctuations are constantly converging with the singing of the evil thoughts aggregates, and the outline of a spear about three meters long has faintly surfaced on its head. Suddenly there are electric sparks flashing in the air, but these electric sparks are constantly attached to this long gun, and gradually form a layer of golden light patterns. These light patterns look unusually complicated, but they have a unique kind of pattern. Beauty; followed by the color of this long gun is gradually darkening, it looks like it is beginning to be filled in with black paint.

Deep and charming.

Sean's pupils suddenly shrank, and his attention was unconsciously attracted!

Obviously, it was an instant life-and-death battle, and he was still distracted, and Xiao En was startled in a cold sweat. In the past in the game, although the soul spear was not a common magic, he had seen it the number of times. It had never happened before, but this time he recognized it as a soul spear at first sight. Even though his mind would still be attracted, Sean finally realized the seriousness of the problem.

Behind , three ghouls finally approached.

Not only the nauseating and rancid smell, but even the cold breath and the heat from their mouths can be clearly felt.

"Shoot!"

Sean's low voice suddenly sounded.

In the air, there was also a surge of magic power almost identical to the soul spear.

It was a black spear, but the formation speed of this magic was obviously much faster than the singing speed of the evil thoughts aggregate.

In just two seconds, this long spear has completely condensed and formed, and then it shoots down at the evil thoughts aggregate.

At the same time, Xiao En also turned around, the dead bones in his hand waved out a silver-white light like a moon, slanting upward from left to right.

The white body of the sword slashed through the claws of the first ghoul on the left, and cut its two hands at the elbow without hindrance, and then the tip of the long sword was slashed from the lower jaw of the ghoul in the middle. enter. The vibration of the blade on the hard bone is very clear, but the dead bone is worthy of an epic weapon. Its sharpness is obviously far more than that of ordinary weapons, because Sean only felt the moment from the sword when he cut into the skull at the blade. With the slashing sensation of a hard object coming from the body, the dead-bone sword edge had already chopped the head of the ghoul in two in the next instant, and the filthy black liquid spewed from the head of the ghoul.

The sword is exhausted!

The claws of the right arm of the ghoul on the right have touched Sean's right shoulder.

Tear!

"Curse Seal! Silver Scales!"

Silver brilliance, shining from Sean's right shoulder.

The sharp and piercing sound of metal friction and collision suddenly sounded, and sparks caused by the friction splashed out on Sean's right shoulder.

Only clothes are torn!

The silver brilliance began to fade from the neck, and then quickly spread to Sean's entire right hand.

Without the slightest hesitation, Sean's right arm swung towards the ghoul's face, and the fist with the handle into a fist hit the ghoul's face fiercely, using Sean's blessed power and strength. The hardening of the silver scale curse seal, the power caused by this punch is almost equivalent to a blunt blow.

I saw this ghoul almost completely collapsed because of the heavy blow. The jawbone was obviously broken. A few sharp teeth flew out of the ghoul's mouth, and then the whole body swirled around. Flew out in midair, and then hit a broken wall. It's just that this wall couldn't fully withstand the impact of the ghoul. The entire wall was knocked down by the ghoul in an instant, and the dust and fog raised by the stone crashing to the ground were obviously thicker than the gray fog.

After flying the ghoul on the right with a punch, the dead bone happened to be recovered by Sean, and the tip of the long sword placed horizontally was aimed at the throat of the ghoul on the left.

All this looks like this ghoul flies over to die by himself.

Through!

The ghoul, whose throat is penetrated by a sharp sword, and whose entire body is completely hung on the long sword, is constantly struggling, and the sticky black is constantly flowing from the ghoul's throat, but it has lost his hands no matter how hard he struggles. Free yourself from the dead bones.

Shaun was not surprised by the ghoul's sneak attack.

Evil Thoughts Assemblies, as the wild bosses that were extremely well-known and extremely valuable in the game, how could there be no "brothers" around them? It's just that Sean knows very well that since this world is real, the existence of "little brother" naturally cannot appear with the refresh of the boss, and the only undead creatures that exist in this ancient ruin area are ghouls and ghouls. There are two kinds of ghost fires, which is why Sean hunts ghost fires and ghouls everywhere from the beginning.

As long as these two undead creatures are reduced to the greatest extent, even if you encounter a boss in the end, it will naturally not be too difficult to fight.

Of course, at the beginning, Sean didn't know that the boss in this ancient ruin area was a gathering of evil thoughts.

Just as Sean wanted a sword to completely sever the ghoul hanging on the sword, behind him, there was a sudden burst of extremely strong magical power!

Suddenly in his heart, Xiao En immediately looked back, but saw that the evil thoughts aggregate was not penetrated by the dark spear as he expected, but three ghoul corpses were lying under its feet. The corpses of these three ghouls all have an extremely obvious scar similar to the mouth of a hole, and there is a black mist that is constantly filling out. There is no doubt that the dark spear that Sean has just cast has been affected by these three. Only ghouls can bear it!

At this time, the soul spear was finally completely displayed by the evil thoughts assembly!

The color is darker than the dark spear. The golden halo is imprinted on the handle of the spear, which looks unusually luxurious and exquisite. The spear head of the spear is pure white, with almost holy brilliance. Anyone's eyes are just looking at this spear, and their mind will be attracted involuntarily. The breath that does not belong to this world seems to * away the human soul at any time.

Xiao En bit the tip of his tongue, and finally took a lot of effort to look away from the spear.

When the world becomes real, many mysterious powers that you didn't need to care about before will also be amplified and become more real!

Xiao En's gaze was staring at the gathering of evil thoughts, his right hand involuntarily squeezed the hilt of the dead bone, the tingling sensation of the scalp became extremely strong, and his whole body even began to tremble slightly. But Sean knew that this was not a tremor of excitement and excitement, but the most instinctive fear from the depths of the soul. This was a fear that Sean could not restrain himself. In front of this soul spear, Sean felt like he was Like an ant!

As a warrior profession, Sean has absolute advantages in both strength and speed. Even in terms of endurance, he is better than ordinary people of the same level, unless he is a professional who specializes in endurance development such as knights. . But as a warrior, his flaws in magic are absolutely irreparable. Therefore, Sean knows that his mental power is a weakness. He knows how to evade the magic of nature, arcane, and even life. Magic can also be ignored, only the magic of the soul energy system can cause absolutely fatal damage to him.

The soul spear is not a taboo magic, but since the observatory spire, which is known as "the isolated follower of truth", is stored on the third floor of the taboo library, this is enough to prove that this spiritual magic is classified into the soul energy system. The terrible place.

Shaun's face with spiritual magic is enough to make him feel extremely tricky, not to mention the magic that is more terrifying than the spirit and specifically aimed at the soul.

The two sides fell into a state of silent confrontation. No one took the lead and naturally did not break the almost stagnant atmosphere.

The reason why Sean did not take the lead is because he had scruples about the soul spear, and he also knew the reason why the evil thoughts did not do it, because the magic of the soul spear did not have the ability to lock and automatically track. In other words, if the soul spear is thrown, it will not automatically track the target like fireball, so it will hit wherever it is thrown.

The Evil Mind Aggregate has fully grasped Sean's speed, so it obviously has some scruples about Sean's speed, and naturally will not waste this precious attacking opportunity casually.

But this confrontation is not meaningless. Sean knows that his light body technique can only last for five minutes, but the mana required for this extremely special magic of the soul spear is definitely not small, and the mana required to maintain the existence of the soul spear without throwing it out. They were all one-fifth of the time when they were cast. This is a very exaggerated data. Sean didn't think that the evil thoughts in front of him had so much magic power.

You must know that although the evil mind aggregates that have been transformed into undead existence can still perform all the magic of the parasite's life, they don't know how to restore the magic power, so every point of the magic power consumed is a real reduction of one point. Sean's instinct told him that it was because the host's magic power in front of him had been completely consumed, so this evil thought that swallowed his soul could not wait to find a new host.

After all, once the magical power of a magician is exhausted, it is no different from waste.

Time, one minute and one second is lost.

When four minutes passed, Xiao En's forehead finally saw sweat. The magic of this evil thoughts assembly was obviously more than he had imagined!

swallowed, Shaun's eyes flashed with determination, he knew that he could not delay any longer, otherwise it would definitely be him who died. Like the attacking opportunity of the evil thoughts aggregate, Sean has only one attack opportunity, that is, the moment when the evil thoughts aggregate throws the soul spear out, the "adrenal stimulation" is activated to accelerate, only in this way can he have a chance to avoid the soul. Throwing of the spear.

Without the slightest hesitation!

After taking a deep breath, Xiao En suddenly moved, and his whole body quickly sprinted towards the evil thoughts.

Perhaps it was because Sean took a deep breath too much, or it was that the IQ of the evil thoughts aggregate was not too low. Therefore, at the moment when he saw Sean take a deep breath, it also did not hesitate to change it. The soul spear is thrown out!

The golden and dark light appeared extraordinarily bright in this night.

And the same bright, there is also a long white moon shadow, that is the light that shines when the dead bone is dragged!

Two rays of light, in this lonely night, passed by in a flash.

Shaun's long sword finally penetrated the heart of the evil thoughts aggregate.

The evil thoughts gathered a stern and miserable howl, and the black mist madly erupted from its body. These black mists were like tentacles, flaring their teeth and claws in the air. Immediately afterwards, as if they had found a new target, they turned into sharp arrows and rushed toward Xiao En's eyebrows, and those who used them as the offensive target poured into Xiao En's body!

"what!"

The pain in the heart is totally unbearable even for Sean!

Chapter 82: .The Demon Hunter

The black mist has completely poured into Sean's eyebrows.

The piercing pain soon turned into a severe pain that almost bursts the entire head. After Xiao En let out a miserable howl, he finally couldn't hold on to the dead bone in his hand, and his hands tightly hugged his own. The head, the whole person fell completely to the ground.

The red skin becomes more vivid, a large amount of white mist evaporates from the body continuously, and a thick white mist has formed in a blink of an eye. It's just that this thick fog didn't spread out. Instead, it was more like a protective cover, only gathering around Xiao En to form an existence that resembled a sphere.

In this thick white fog, Sean's voice is not very strong, it can even be said to be a little weak, but if you pass through this thick white fog, you can hear Sean's almost tearing heart. Howl like a split lung.

Because of the loss of the existence of the ghost fire and the cluster of evil thoughts, the surrounding space did not suppress the gray fog. Soon, the gray fog gradually filled up again. It's just that the magical thing is that when these gray mists diffuse to the vicinity of the white mist, they don't continue to spread, but avoid the white mist as if avoiding something, so it looks like two confronting each other. All camps are average.

Gradually, the sound from the white mist became weaker and weaker, until it was completely inaudible at the end.

Only at this time, the situation within the white fog is a completely different situation.

The backs of Sean's hands and hands, bloomed with extremely bright brilliance, one silver and one red intertwined.

These two kinds of brilliance are obviously very blazing. According to normal conditions, no matter how thick the fog is, at least it should be visible within a range of hundreds of meters. But the facts are quite the opposite. Let alone a few hundred meters away, you can't see the dazzling brilliance even in the vicinity of this white fog, and even this white fog can't be seen.

It is as if all of this has been deliberately ignored by the will of the world.

I don't know how long it took, the extremely bright silver-red light in the white mist gradually weakened.

The faint gasp gradually sounded, and the white mist began to gradually disperse, but the thick gray mist never dared to approach the white mist. As the white mist diffused, the gray mist gradually became thinner, just like It is the same as being neutralized.

Xiao En was lying on the ground, his clothes had become messy, his hair was all stuck together, and his face looked very haggard.

But only his eyes are very bright, which is completely different from the weakness of the body that has been squeezed out at this moment.

It is obviously with a look of excitement and excitement!

Lying on the ground, Sean can clearly hear the strong and powerful beating sound of his heart, and he can even clearly feel a very unique power flowing in his body. Whenever this unique power flows through the place, Sean can feel that the place begins to glow with new vitality, whether it is physical strength, or deeper bones and meridians, Sean can feel it. An extremely obvious change.

just lay on the ground motionless, but there were continuous traces of cracks gradually spreading out from under him, as if the earth could no longer withstand the power and breath emanating from him.

The gray mist will be dispelled, not because of the sacred power of those white mist, but because of the breath exuding from Sean at this moment!

This breath is not strong, but it has a certain ability to purify darkness and evil.

This gray fog is completely a home court formed by the condensing of evil forces. Any undead creature in this area will gain a certain degree of strength increase. As long as it is not fatal enough, it will be restored in a very short time. . Only a person like Sean can ignore this home-court advantage in this area, because he has a passive skill "Hunting Demon".

The effect of this ability is not great, but any of his attacks will cause damage similar to serious injuries to evil creatures.

Only at the beginning, Sean didn't notice it, or he ignored it. Instinctive intuition made him mistakenly think that the ability of "demon hunting" is just for him to gain the effect of walking in this gray fog and looking for evil creatures. After all, he has seen too much in this world and the situation of the game is completely different. The conformity changed, and he didn't really wake up until this moment.

Many things may be changed, but as long as they are displayed by the system, they will not be changed.

Xiao En got up from the ground, his skin was no longer red, but he could still feel the blood in his body as hot as magma, but this time there was a very special force covering it and suppressing it. The restlessness in the body is precisely because of this special power, so Sean's skin will not be red again, but this power still exists.

Sean looked at the dead bones in his hand, tried to infuse the extremely active power in his body, and immediately felt that this power was obeying Shaun's command as if he had spirituality, and began to infuse it. A black mist visible to the naked eye spread out from Sean's right hand in an instant. Soon the pure white dead bone turned into a black long sword. When the black mist attached to the dead bone, it looked like a crossing. It has a black metallic luster, and it is not foggy at all.

With a wave of his hand, a black sword aura burst out immediately, shooting a ruined wall in the distance.

The speed of sword aura is not fast, slower than the sword aura that ordinary Xiao En sees, but when this sword aura hits the ruined wall, the whole sword aura suddenly exploded and turned into one piece. Thick black mist. The speed of the black mist is very fast, it is just a blink of an eye, and the entire ruins have been covered by this black mist.

And the dead bones, after this sword aura was emitted, the black sword body once again returned to its original white. If it weren't for the black mist in the distance, it all looked like an illusion.

Looking at the dead bones in his hand, the excitement in Sean's eyes was slightly calmer: "It turns out that this is the way of the Demon Hunter Swordsman that Andrew said.... No wonder so many people want this script. It's incredible."

While saying so, Sean stretched out his hand and opened his panel properties with a wave.

I can only see the original panel properties, but at this moment, there is an extra long bar similar to the energy bar.

Originally in this position, there should still be two identical energy bars, one representing the health value and the other representing the magic power value, but they no longer exist in this real world. Sean thought about many situations, but he did not expect to see the existence of this kind of energy bar again. At this time, seeing such a silver-white energy bar appeared, he felt a kind of kindness inexplicably in his heart. feel.

This energy bar represents the value of "vintage"!

In the game, the person with this energy bar represents the ranks of the fifth-tier profession.

In terms of this world, that is to officially become a low-level silver master!

Sean, has already stepped into the ranks of the lower silver.

It's just that this time the job change was completely unexpected.

His experience value has reached the pinnacle of high-ranking bronze very early. Whether it is the construction and development of the original territory or the several battles that broke out with the Kingdom of Darbion, Sean's experience value is almost insane. The speed is increasing. It's just that these experience points were all accumulated in the end, because at that time Sean's rank was already at the pinnacle of high-ranking bronze, no amount of experience points would allow him to step into silver, so Sean had to spend a lot of time. And energy to think about how to advance, but there has been no result.

This time when he traveled to the wild land, Sean went back to Hongye Town to ask Andrew about his job transfer. After all, Andrew was knowledgeable and a lot of things were not comparable to him as an old player.

And Andrew also gave Sean a suggestion: You alone can find a high-level evil creature or undead to kill and kill.

If it weren't for Andrew's words, how could Sean go deep into this ruined area alone in an obviously dangerous place like the ancient ruin area?

Facts have proved that following Andrew's advice on this trip is indeed a right thing, because after killing the evil minds aggregate, he did successfully step into the Tier 5 career and officially became a low-level silver master. Of course, the process was indeed a bit more dangerous. The evil thought that penetrated into his mind almost killed his consciousness and soul, but he didn't know why, but he survived in the end. This is even a bit of himself. Not sure why.

But in any case, Sean finally understood why Andrew had warned himself to be careful about divulging the manuscript.

Without this handbook, it is impossible to enter the advanced course of the demon hunter's profession.

Devil hunting, in fact, is the real specialty occupation of the Exorcist Association!

Demon hunting is just the first experiment on the road to the demon hunter. Only those who pass this experiment are qualified to embark on the real demon hunter career route. As for the so-called exorcists, it is simply because the demon hunters are engaged in killing all kinds of demons, undead, demons, etc., so they are mistaken by outsiders as a group of exorcists, but In fact, this is not the case at all.

The so-called demon hunting is purely to make oneself stronger.

At this point, the inaugural reward of the demon hunter has perfectly interpreted all of this.

【Demon Hunter (Fifth Tier Occupation): When you successfully hunt down an evil creature by yourself, you will understand the true meaning of hunting demon. Although you admire power, you are not lost because of it, so when you guard your heart instead of becoming a puppet of evil creatures, you finally find that you have the ability to control this power. 】

[Inauguration Reward-Demon Hunter: Any evil creature is your target and prey, but the identity of the hunter does not always belong to you (every time you kill an evil creature, you can get what you want Ability); enhancement of the demon hunter: After you successfully hunted and killed an evil creature by yourself, you finally know that the evil creature is far more powerful than you imagined. For this reason, you have to carry out the second stage of intensive training according to the Codex (Strength +6, strength limit +10, endurance +9, endurance limit +10, agility +7, agility limit +10, intelligence +5, intelligence limit +10, will +8, will limit +10)]

【Inauguration Punishment-Demon Hunter's Pain: In order to purify the dark power in your body, you will lose all your strength on the 15th of every month and fall into a state of absolute weakness. 】

In the skill list, there is also a brand new ability. This ability is automatically obtained after Sean becomes a demon hunter, and does not require him to consume any additional proficiency points. It can be said that this ability is the real core skill of the Demon Hunter, just like when Sean was transferred to the Spell Seal Swordsman, the light body technique was his core tactical skill.

【Demon Hunting Mark: Any evil creature you hunt will turn into a mark and be sealed by you here. You can use it to strengthen the spell seal or any other aspect. At this stage, you can only reserve one Demon Hunting Mark at most. 】

[Mark of Demon Hunting. Evil Mind: Every attack you make will result in a Will Judgment. When your opponent's Will check does not exceed 50, you will be judged as stunned. The duration of the stun is based on the target's will level; if the opponent's Will check is the criterion More than 50 will be damaged by mental shock, the skill duration is 10 seconds, and the cooling time is 24 hours. When you infuse your abilities into your fighting spirit, your fighting spirit will be transformed into a dark attribute, with range impact damage. All impacted targets will fall into a dark state. This state can be protected by evil or dispelled. Number of activations 1. The cooling time is 24 hours. 】

Chapter 83: .Touch the corpse

The new abilities given to Sean by the Demon Hunter are indeed somewhat unusual.

This is an ability similar to that of a curse seal swordsman, which is equivalent to saying that as long as Shaun does not choose to sacrifice, he will have the effect of three curse seals.

With silver scales as defense, blood charm as offense, and evil thoughts as auxiliary means, Sean can create a whole new set of tactical skills. Although with the current strength, he still has only three minutes of fighting ability when facing the next golden strong, but it is no longer the same as before and can only try to parry. If there is a suitable opportunity, it will be severely damaged or even lower. It is not impossible for the golden strong to kill.

Feeling the various changes in his body, Sean could clearly perceive a very peculiar force hovering in his heart. With every beating of his heart, this force would erupt and flow into all parts of his body. . It's just that in the process of the flow of this force, this force is not constant, but will gradually be consumed and then merge with the blood, but as the blood flows back into the heart, this peculiar force will reappear. It is activated to erupt, forming an unspeakable and wonderful cycle.

Sean didn't know what was going on in this process, but he didn't plan to look into these things. The only thing he knew was that this power is what people in this world call "vintage". As long as he has this power, it is considered Formally stepped into the ranks of silver masters.

It's just that, Sean quickly noticed that although the energy bar about grudge appeared on his status panel like the game, it was just slightly different from the game. That is, in the game, the grudge is expressed by a quantity value. Every time the player uses the attack method of the grudge, it will consume the value of the grudge. When the value of the grudge becomes zero, the player can no longer perform any attacks with grudge. Skill.

But on this status list, although there is a grudge energy bar displayed, there is no numerical value on it, which means that Sean will not be able to get the system's auxiliary reminder on the grudge usage in the future. He can only rely on his own experience. To judge the consumption of vindictiveness.

This is a very troublesome problem.

After examining his own situation, Xiao En finally looked at the skeleton not far from him.

This skeleton is obviously the corpse of the wizard who was host by evil thoughts, but after the demise of the evil thoughts aggregate, this corpse could not be preserved intact. After all, no one knows how long this corpse has been dead. But judging from the fact that the body of this corpse immediately turned into gravel after the death of the evil thoughts aggregate, and the bones of the whole body had been assimilated into black, it was obvious that the time of death should be very long, at least more than a hundred years.

Evil thoughts aggregates are rare wild bosses in the game.

No matter how rare the boss is, there must be a place to attract the player to make the player motivate to hunt this kind of boss. If a boss doesn't drop almost anything, then no matter how rare the boss is, there will never be players to take care of it.

Sean squatted down in a little distress. He was very self-aware, because he had never been a red-handed or face fighter, so under normal circumstances, he would avoid touching the boss by himself as much as possible. It's not that Sean never thought of going back to Cecilia to touch the corpse. It's just that the ancient ruins area is so big that he can follow the lights of the watchtower back, but he may not be able to find the way back here, so at the moment In such a compelling situation, Sean could only go into battle in person.

"Don't just give materials...Don't just give materials..." Sean prayed silently with folded hands, "Don't ask for a magic stone, just come up with a treasure map or magic props, as long as it's not pure materials!"

The reason why rare bosses such as evil thought aggregates are so popular with players is that they have a 1% chance of dropping magic stones.

This kind of magic stone is similar to the attribute gems in previous games, except that the situation in the miracle is slightly different, because the magic stone is not set with diamonds on the equipment—in fact, all the equipment attributes in the miracle are basically fixed. Forging equipment can be upgraded to enchanted equipment through the forging of the alchemy blacksmith, giving new abilities or strengthening the original abilities, but these equipment cannot be equipped with special abilities.

Equipment with special abilities, all of which are above Legendary level.

The special item of magic stone, its function is to be integrated into different body parts by the player according to the different function, so as to obtain the improvement and strengthening of combat effectiveness.

However, because the drop rate is indeed very cheating, players who generally hunt evil mind aggregates and other special wild bosses will never consider these unrealistic problems. They pay more attention to the treasure map or magic props on this kind of boss. The equipment dropped will naturally be different according to the different occupations that are parasitized, but if it is a treasure map, then it is. Not necessarily anymore.

The only thing with the least value is the material.

This thing is a magic material that drops 100%, but there are some differences in the amount.

Sean remembers that the darkest man in history happened to be the chief thief of their guild—with a technique that was so wonderful that it was admirable that he singled out a cluster of high-level gold evil thoughts, and then found a piece of magical material to make history. The lowest record. Because no matter how dark the face is, other people will find three to five pieces of demonized material, and only one piece of this kind of thing is probably because God is punishing him for the retribution that he likes to poke other people's chrysanthemums when he is okay.

After Shaun finished praying according to a ritual similar to a formula in the game, after three consecutive deep breaths, he finally reached into the pile of gravel.

As for the skeleton next to it, you don't need to look at it. It is the magic material [Essence of Evil Thoughts], but I don't know how many pieces can be used as materials. However, Sean believes that his face can't go dark, at least it should be no problem to get three pieces. If he can get five pieces with a little luck, it can be refined by the alchemist to get one piece. [Evil Thought Essence Stone], this thing is much more valuable than just five dollars [Essence of Evil Thoughts].

At this moment, even though the look on Sean's face looked very calm, the strong and noticeably accelerated heartbeat still betrayed his true emotions.

It is natural to say that he does not desire magic stones, but this kind of thing was not in the game at the beginning, and naturally he would not have much expectations.

There are not many gravels in this pile. Although it seems to be quite large, if you swipe it with your hand, you can clearly see what is inside.

Sean quickly scanned the front pile, and he even grasped the gravel in his hand after hand, allowing them to slip between his fingers, but there was still nothing in his palm. Shaun's original expression still had some other expressions, and finally gradually became a little grey and cold. The smallest treasure map was as big as a small marching map. If there is no such big pile of gravel, then only the last one is left. Naturally, there is no treasure map in the pile of gravel.

It is obviously impossible for a magician to have any equipment suitable for a swordsman.

The small pile of gravel was only a pile the size of a slap, and he couldn't even hide the capital of the protective dagger. Xiao En obviously had no expectations: "Knowing that my hands have never been red, but I didn't expect it to be like this. Not a piece of equipment will drop, is this too unlucky?"

Some irritable and uncomfortable exhaled breath, Sean waved his hand casually, not taking it as seriously as before.

But when the back of his hand swept across this small pile of gravel, the friction of a hard foreign object hitting the back of his hand made Sean instantly widen his eyes, and then he saw a black gemstone that was perfectly cut into a diamond shape. Flew out from this pile of gravel.

The surprise in 's eyes only appeared for a second, and the next moment Sean would no longer care about anything else, and immediately rushed out. He grabbed the gem from mid-air as soon as he picked it up!

Feeling the pain of the tip of the gem in the palm of his hand, Sean was still very cautious and cautiously letting go of his palm little by little, as if he was afraid that the gem would suddenly fly away from his palm with wings. .

After the palm was completely released, Sean still had an incredible look on his face. But soon, this incredible look turned into an extreme joy: "It really is a magic stone!"

[Immortal obsidian (magic stone), gemstone, dark attribute, give the holder a 20% increase in will, immunity to spiritual damage, and 50% exemption from soul damage. Light attribute damage will cause serious damage to the holder, and will damage the soul. Causes a burning effect, and at the same time suffers 100% mental impact. Equipment parts: head.]

【Item description: I will keep chaos and darkness away from you, but order and light will also no longer take care of you. 】

"It's actually immortal obsidian." After glanced at the attributes and effects of this magic stone, Xiao En's face showed an expression of joy or helplessness.

Since the magic stone is a "magic", it naturally has different attributes, and according to the different attributes and effects and the location of the equipment, its abilities are also different. Sean remembers that there are three kinds of magic stones that will be dropped by evil thoughts aggregates, namely, immortal obsidian, inherited black crystal, and desperate spar. The abilities of the three kinds of magic stones are different, and the immortal obsidian is the rarest type. , But its effect is not as good as the inherited black crystal. The reason for this is that the immortal obsidian has fatal flaws.

Naturally, Sean hopes to obtain a magic stone to make up for the regret of not having a magic stone in the game. However, facing such a polarized magic stone in his hand, he is a little hesitant to know whether it should be or not. equipment. Although it can be taken off after it is equipped, every time it takes off and re-equips it requires a one-week cool-down period. In other words, if equipped, if you encounter someone who knows the light attribute attack method in the next week, Then he really wanted to cry without tears.

"The place to go next is a wild land, priests and magicians will almost never encounter them, and those tribal priests are best at soul and mental attacks, maybe there is no danger in equipment?" He hesitated slightly. After a while, Sean finally chose to equip the immortal obsidian.

I saw that after Sean put this gem on his forehead, the whole obsidian suddenly emitted a dim brilliance, and then the whole gem was completely integrated into the center of Sean's forehead. Sean just felt a slight chill on his forehead, and there was also a subtle feeling that his brain seemed to be stuffed in. After slightly trying to think about the problem and doing a few actions, he found that there was no effect. I decided not to care about this gem.

However, when Sean was about to collect [Essence of Evil Thoughts] and then left here to return to the observation area, he saw that there was something similar to a notebook beside the corpse.

"Is it a treasure map?"

Chapter 84: .notebook

Shaun picked up the notebook on the ground.

This is a notebook with a black cover. The material is obviously not pure leather. It feels a little smooth to the touch, and it looks like it should be made of some kind of mixed material. This is very rare on the mainland. After all, according to the development history of this world, knowledge was still the privilege of the aristocracy a few hundred years ago, and it was invented by believers of the * of wisdom about a hundred years ago. Later, the inheritance of knowledge began to be truly popularized.

So in the past, parchment was the only source of knowledge inheritance, and notebooks were naturally something that only existed in the past century. It's just that this kind of thing has a very clear production specification from the beginning, no one will make a special cover or book cover for a thing that has been mass-produced, so the importance of this notebook is naturally also It goes without saying.

Shaun opened the notebook, a look of surprise appeared on his face.

The notebook is not big, it is about the size of Sean's palm, and it looks thick, but after actually turning it over, it turns out that there are not many pages inside, only less than ten pages. The reason why this notebook is so thick is purely because the pages inside are not ordinary paper, but sheepskin that has been specially tanned and treated. This kind of sheepskin will look very soft and smooth, and the ink will be more easily absorbed. Without spreading, it is possible to write very small text on these sheepskins.

In fact, the handwriting in the notebook is indeed very small, and every letter has a tail.

This is the swash font of the Millennium Covenant Empire that was popular one hundred and fifty years ago.

A magician of the Millennium Covenant Empire?

Xiao En's brows frowned slightly: "No wonder you know the magic of the soul spear. If you guessed it correctly, I'm afraid I would still look at the wizard over the spire."

The Thousand-Year Covenant Empire, Shaun's impression is neither good nor bad.

As one of the five oldest empires in the world, the Millennium Covenant was originally a federal state composed of many tribes. Later, it suffered a loss in disputes with other empires and changed from a federal system to a parliamentary monarchy—All tribes jointly elect a king, and when the king is incompetent, other tribes can dismiss the king and re-elect a new king, or even kill the king directly.

Only with the development of history, the millennium covenant empire has obviously gradually changed from a parliamentary monarchy to a dual monarchy. In recent years, the new emperor of the Millennium Covenant Empire is obviously no longer satisfied with this dual monarchy. The power of parliament has basically been completely emptied. Judging from the current situation, it is very likely that the Millennium Covenant Empire will perform. Become a democratic country.

Currently, among the seven empires on the Marvel Continent, there is not a single empire under the control system.

Except for the two empires that are constantly being replaced, among the remaining five empires, the Chenas Empire has been a constitutional monarchy since its establishment, while the Saint-Joles Empire is a monarchy with religious power greater than imperial power; The Ji Empire is a typical monarchy and parliamentary system. After all, magicians actually look down on ordinary people. As for the situation in the Emilia Empire, it is the opposite of the Maggie Empire. It is a parliamentary monarchy.

Dual monarchy, in essence, can be regarded as a constitutional monarchy, but the performance of the new emperor of the Millennium Covenant Empire is much stronger than that of the Chenas Empire.

Sean can't remember whether the council of the Millennium Covenant Empire was finally abandoned in the original game, but he knew that if he wanted to reawaken the Holy Land, then he would have to deal with the new emperor. At the beginning, in the game, people in this area were specifically responsible for this aspect. He didn't need to think about these things, but now as a lord, these things must be carefully considered.

Because every decision he makes is related to the entire territory and the lives of all his followers. And from the current situation, Asuna was completely tied to the same boat as him, and he even had to consider Asuna, the nominal lord.

"This ruin should be the territory of the Kingdom of Darbion. Why would the magicians of the Millennium Covenant Empire appear here?" Sean's brows wrinkled deeper.

The first page of the notebook does not record too many useful things. It is basically the content of the magician talking to himself, and occasionally a few words of magician's proper nouns and terms are involved. However, these contents are very short, occasionally a word or a few words, at most, a short sentence with less than ten words, and the content is also self-talking.

Shaun turned two pages casually, and there was nothing worth paying attention to.

But when he turned to the third page, his eyes changed.

In the first line of the third page, it reads "In May 1713, I finally came to Darbion with the mission."

"1713...the official beta date of the game was 1870, which is almost one hundred and sixty years ago!" Sean quickly reacted, "This is earlier than the internal beta!"

The miracle game has a timeline development line. Basically all tasks and historical events, etc., have actually happened. When the game officially started the public beta, the time in the game was 1870, but Sean heard that there was a three-month closed beta before that, and the number of invited players was not more than 10,000. The timeline was In 1770, it was exactly one hundred years before the start of the public beta.

When the game officially starts the public beta, all the historical issues in the game become things players need to discover by themselves. This is also the origin of the party.

"Why did a magician from the Millennium Covenant Empire come to Darbion Kingdom?" Sean frowned. "Could it be that Darbion Kingdom wants to build a fortress here to resist the invasion of wild tribes is an illusion?"

Sean remembers that Andre said that this place has been trying to build a fortress for more than a hundred years, and it was only in the last few decades that this plan was finally abandoned. If the real purpose of the Kingdom of Darbion is not to resist the invasion of the savage land, but to have a secret transaction with the Millennium Covenant Empire, then the meaning of the existence of the ancient ruins here is completely different.

Thinking of this, Sean couldn't wait to look down.

"In July 1713, after two months of long negotiations, an agreement was finally reached with Darbion."

There is still only one sentence, but there is nothing to say about the specific content of the agreement.

"In November 1713, the situation in the Rift Valley was as bad as the rumors, but it would be great if it succeeded."

"In February 1714, all the supplies were delivered, and I finally drew the blueprint."

"In June 1714, progress was not very smooth. Although the Rubik's Cube had been constructed, the construction of the underground laboratory encountered difficulties."

Seeing this, Sean's gaze suddenly condensed: "Underground laboratory?... It is really just a cover to resist the invasion of the wild land.... No, it can't be said to be a cover, it should be that this thing is meant to kill two birds with one stone, Darbion The kingdom can't be a fool, and they can never do anything that is not good."

The content of the third page is over here. After all, this notebook is not big, even if the handwriting is smaller, but the space is very limited, not to mention the swash font of the Millennium Covenant Empire is still a pursuit of vision Aesthetic text, so there will be some space left, as much as possible to make the text look more beautiful, instead of all stacked together.

Turn a new page.

"In February 1715, the stagnant work finally made new progress."

"In March 1715, the underground experiment was finally completed successfully. I think I can start the first experiment soon."

"In May 1715, the guards finally attacked. I believe my first batch of experimental materials will be sent soon. Before that, I will check the Rubik's Cube."

"In August 1715, the first batch of materials was finally captured. I am so satisfied."

"May 1716, * it, the experiment failed!"

I don't know why, when Sean saw the words "material" and "experiment failed", he felt a very sad and terrifying chill from the bottom of his heart. And at the bottom of the fourth page, there is an extra number: 271.

Sean didn't know the meaning of this number, but his instinct was telling him that this number was definitely not good.

"In September 1716, the second batch of materials was finally sent, but the tribes seem to have discovered this place. The fortress has not yet been built, so I am a little worried."

"In November 1716, those inferior species seemed to have launched an offensive, but it was none of my business."

"In December 1716, damn, an experiment escaped! This disrupted all my plans! I must find it out first!"

"In January 1717, the front line was defeated, and Commander Enting had to retreat to the second line. Now I must evacuate here first."

"In June 1717, the war finally ended. Fortunately, we regained this area. Unfortunately, it seems that we must go through a period of construction again."

At the bottom of the fifth page, there is still a number written: 410.

This number is much higher than the previous one, and Sean finally understands one thing. This number probably represents the amount of living material.

Turning to the sixth page, the content record no longer has a date display, and it seems that it was written casually during his busy schedule, because the language is obviously messy, and many of them are even similar to sentimental content. The things recorded in the notebook are obviously no longer pure diaries or other things, but have become similar to experimental reports.

"Another war has broken out. How many times is this? My experiment has reached a critical moment. I will not leave here anyway. Anyway, those inferior species don't even want to find the correct entrance to the laboratory.... I heard that There is a princess from the tribe in the experiment materials this time, hehe, I can't wait to meet her."

"Damn it, it's been so long, why haven't I found the experiment that escaped before! Judging from the current results, the experiment is probably my most successful masterpiece, and I have to catch it anyway. !"

"I have to guard all the experimental materials. The  beast treats all my experimental materials as food! Sure enough, the inferior species does not have any ethnicity. But this time I was lucky enough to capture some of the beast. Blood, maybe I can perform some other experiments?"

"I really am a genius! Even incompetent guys like goblins can be strengthened to the silver stage by me, what about humans?... That  experimental material must have been fully strengthened, and I must catch him !at all costs!"

"I thought of an idea!"

"Sure enough, no creature can escape the thirst of desire in the end. Hehe...It fell in love with the princess, and actually let the princess have a child, hehe."

"I finally caught the beast today. Then I killed the princess in front of it, and took out its child. Oh, it's so wonderful that it's crazy.... Well, another war broke out on the ground... ..."

"Why is there a supernatural power in a beast! Is this the valley where a  fell?"

"The animal is finally dead. I have condensed the blood of his whole body into a spar. Maybe I should experiment with humans to see the situation?"

Seeing this, Sean closed the notebook with a "pop".

At this moment, he felt the blood in his body become abnormally boiling, and he knew that he was very angry now.

Such things as living experiments are not uncommon in this world. The followers of the God of Wisdom in the Heerson Institute often do such things, but they will never do it so cruel and bloody. It completely deviates from the definition of the so-called "magic experiment", but a real evil experiment! Sean couldn't believe that a magician who was born in the Observation Tower would actually do such a thing. He began to suspect that this magician should be the mage expelled by the Observation Tower.

After taking a few deep breaths, Sean reopened the notebook. There were only two pages left.

"I finally understand. It turned out that it was not my success in the experiment, but that this beast was infected with divine power and became stronger. The war on the ground was completely broken, and I was really trapped in this laboratory."

"I finally realized the feeling of that animal. It turned out that it was like eating the meat of a companion in order to survive."

"I can feel the endless evil thoughts in the laboratory, and these evil thoughts are about to manifest."

"I have been infected by evil thoughts. But I can still suppress this pressure. I must return home as soon as possible, otherwise, once my soul is completely consumed, I will become a gathering of evil thoughts.... But before that, I want to kill all the people in the laboratory. This plan is the core secret of the empire. It must not be leaked out, and there is also a lot of value here. I actually found a closed entrance to the abyss!"

The notebook is completely over here.

It's just that Sean's eyes have been unable to calm down for a long time.

The content revealed from the notebook shows that even if the details of this plan are not written above, Sean already knows what the Millennium Covenant Empire is. Originally, this incident was circulated as a rumor by a small number of players in the game. Although the rumor has never been groundless, no one has ever received the trigger point of the task, so this task will take place over time. Forgotten by the players.

Sean did not expect that the Millennium Covenant Empire was so cunning that it would not set up research institutions in its own borders, but set up research institutions in other countries. No wonder no player can receive the trigger point of the mission.

At this moment, an urgent shout suddenly came from behind Xiao En: "Sean!"

Chapter 85: .Personality gap

"Shaun!"

"Lord Lord!"

Cecilia, Andre, Dini and others suddenly appeared behind Xiao En at this time, and only a few bear men and soldiers with steel wings were following them. After Xiao En saw that they found themselves, the anxious look on their faces finally relaxed a little, obviously worrying about their safety.

"Why are you all here?" Sean said in surprise.

Andre and Dini are a bit silly, they really don't know what to say.

They can't say that all of them were dispatched because the eldest lady Cecilia woke up suddenly and found out that Sean was not there. Is that so? In fact, they do feel that the lord, Shaun, is too careless about his own safety. Knowing that the ruined area is so dangerous, they actually came out without a follower. This is really stupid. .

It's just that Sean is the lord after all, and they can't say these words.

is precisely because of this, so when Cecilia said to leave the lookout area to find Sean, none of them objected, even if Sean had specifically confessed to protect Cecilia before. Of course, they didn't dare to disobey Sean's order, but the way of protection was slightly different from Sean's imagination, so this group of talents would appear here.

"What did you promise me!" Cecilia ran to Sean. Originally, Sean wanted to give Cecilia a hug, but when he saw Cecilia's aggressive face, his hand Frozen, "You obviously said you wouldn't risk it!"

"But am I okay now?" Sean showed a helpless wry smile, and reached out to pat Cecilia's head. "Look, there is nothing wrong with it."

"That's just good luck this time. Can you guarantee how good luck every time?" Cecilia was crying anxiously, tears already rolling in her eyes, "If something happens to you... ..."

Looking at Cecilia, Sean suddenly reached out and hugged Cecilia into his arms, and softly comforted him: "If you don't take risks, your strength will not improve. If this is the case, how can I protect you? ... Not only It's you. I must also be responsible for all my followers. Because they choose to believe in me, I will give them the protection they deserve. You also know that my foundation is very thin, and I don't have much background and strength. The only thing we can rely on is ourselves, so it's still far from when I can safely sit in the back."

"But....."

"Don't worry, I won't die before you grow up." Sean smiled, reached out to help Cecilia wipe away the tears, and said softly, "I still have a lot of things to do. Before the event, no one can take me away....Of course, if something is too dangerous, I will definitely not take the risk, you see, you have been with me for so long, when I am not sure when I do something? So you You should believe me."

Cecilia nodded slightly, and responded softly: "En."

The conversation between Sean and Cecilia was not hidden, so Andre and Dini, who were standing not far away, naturally heard it very clearly, and they could tell from the eyes and experience of Andre, Sean. He didn't say this to buy people's hearts or to say it nicely, but he did think so in his heart. This point made Andre a little touched. After all, slave arresters are not a glamorous profession and identity. Although they are not enough to be full and hungry, they are indeed a very dangerous industry. A little carelessness is death. , If you can find a safe backer, no one will be unhappy.

Different from Andre's idea, Dini is a clergyman. She believes in the goddess of ice and winter, Aswinter, so it is the goddess who protects her, not the lord Sean. It's just that she didn't know exactly what kind of friendship the lord had with the  she believed in, so that the goddess personally issued an oracle to her, asking her to accompany Sean on this trip, and to follow Sean's command throughout the trip.

This is a very incredible thing for Dini.

So at this moment, when I heard the dialogue between Sean and Cecilia, Tini's biggest feeling is that this is a responsible lord, but like Andre's touching heart, there will be the kind of thoughts of true allegiance. , This is absolutely impossible.

The true allegiance of believers is only the gods they believe in.

Andre has sent a signal. It is something similar to a magic flare. Although the light of the magic flare will be dimmed in an environment like the ancient ruin area, people within a few hundred meters of the surrounding area should look at it. There is still no problem. And now the gray fog also has a gradually dispersing smell, maybe it will return to normal at dawn, and there is no need to wait until noon.

At this time, Andre, probably has been able to better integrate into the identity of the commander, and he has arranged to accompany him to guard the regular defensive formation.

The formation is quite satisfactory. The defensive formation with more than 20 people is just right, but Sean and Cecilia can tell at a glance that it is not a problem for people like Andre to command small teams, but if the scale is too big, he will Not a qualified commander, to put it simply, he is too petty. Essentially, he and Rena are in the same situation, but even if Rena becomes a commander in the future, she will command an offensive cavalry unit, and there is no need to consider defense at all. It's doomed the gap between Rena and Andre.

"Do you think he is still saved?" Sean asked in a low voice.

"I don't understand. William is more accurate in seeing people." Cecilia shook her head. She quickly saw what Sean was thinking. "But if I only teach him some simple military knowledge, I can still do it. Yes, I just don't know how much he can learn."

"How much can be learned." Sean said with a chuckle.

He had observed his data when he met Andre before. The wisdom attribute is not low, which also represents the standard of comprehension. Although it cannot be said that Cecilia can understand everything as soon as he teaches Andre, but I believe that Andre can still master the simple content.

At this time, all the defensive work had been done, but other people began to come back to join the team. Basically, there was no need for Andre to continue to command anything, so he and Dini walked over to report to Sean. Only when the two approached Sean's side, Andre's expression finally changed suddenly. Because the distance was a little farther, and he didn't dare to observe a lord, he didn't notice it, Sean. Actually, he is already a master of the lower silver.

"This... Lord Lord, you have already stepped into the Silver Realm?" Andre looked unbelievable.

After hearing Andre's words, Cecilia finally realized why she felt that Sean was a little different just now. It's just that she didn't pay attention to this aspect at that time, so she ignored the improvement of Sean's strength, or perhaps her subconscious thought that such Sean was normal, so she completely ignored Sean's strength from the upper position. The fact that bronze has stepped into the lower silver.

And Tini's situation is actually similar.

She really experienced Sean's suffocating absolute strength gap positively-on the night she became a believer in Eswinter, it was probably an unforgettable scene in Dini's life. So Sean stepped from the upper bronze to the lower silver, and Dini didn't feel much, if it weren't for Andre's sudden mention, even she hadn't noticed it.

"Yes, after killing a cluster of evil thoughts, it broke the limit." Xiao En said lightly.

A gathering of evil thoughts!

Andre didn't know the horror of the creatures like evil thoughts aggregates, but Cecilia and Dini never knew it.

"The identity of the host?" Cecilia asked eagerly.

"The Magician..."

Cecilia and Dini breathed a sigh of relief. After all, Sean is a warrior, and as a magician, if he gets close, he is really helpless. And if Sean breaks out completely, the combat power is no worse than the average low-level gold. In addition, Sean is best at speed, so once he gets close, unless the difference in strength is huge, any magician can only drink hatred, and he will be safe. Dre hasn't seen Sean's full play, so he is not sure about Sean's strength.

"A magician with soul spears." Sean added the second half sentence.

"hiss."

Cecilia took a breath: "You're all right!"

No one knows the weakness of Sean better than Cecilia, so her expression is so nervous at this moment.

"Luckily won." Sean chuckled, but his face quickly became a little depressed.

Because he suddenly remembered that Cecilia rushed over. If he knew that Cecilia would come to him, he would not touch the corpse. If Cecilia, the little red hand, touched it, it might be even more rewarding. It's big.

"Here, where the corpse is, see how many pieces of evil thought essence can be collected."

Cecilia carefully checked Sean's situation again, and after confirming that it was really safe, she went to check the corpse.

Then Sean saw that Cecilia quickly removed the bones of the arms and legs of the corpse, so it seemed that there were only about five to six evil thought essences that could be used. Not bad, luck should be considered normal.

When Xiao En saw this, he was suddenly relieved: It seems that Brother's character is still good.

Later, he saw Cecilia walking back with the corpse with only the body bone and head left. As for the leg bones of the hands and legs that Sean thought could extract the essence of evil thoughts, they were directly stuffed. Celia threw it away, which made Sean feel a little overwhelmed: "These..."

"Essence of evil thoughts." Cecilia said naturally.

"How many pieces can be...purified?"

"From this situation, twenty-five yuan is the least." Cecilia glanced at the corpse in her hands, estimated and said, "It is not a problem to extract a crystal of evil thoughts."

Five pieces of Evil Thought Essence can be refined into a piece of Evil Thought Essence Stone, and five pieces of Evil Thought Essence Stone can be refined into a piece of Evil Thought Crystal. According to the grade system of the material, a piece of Evil Thought Crystal is equivalent to a seventh-level material, creating a handful of medium-effect gold. Grade magic weapon is more than enough. So in terms of value alone, this thing is much more valuable than the immortal obsidian that Sean touched. After all, evil thoughts aggregates are not common, and a piece of evil thoughts crystal can be drawn directly from an evil thoughts aggregate. What a strong character this requires.

Sean burst into tears on the spot.

He has made a decision and will never let Cecilia leave him for half a step in the future!

Chapter 86: .Blood experiment

The sky is completely bright, and the fog has long disappeared. Although the air still makes people feel a little bit cold, it is no longer as uncomfortable as before.

Because the team was not sure where he was when they set out to search for Sean before, the team needed to be scattered to search. Each search team was led by several members of the slave hunting team. At this time, it waited for a while before the other members of the team gradually found the location of Sean and others. During this time, Andre released two more magic flare flares.

This kind of magic signal flare is no longer an expensive item in this era. Basically, large mercenary groups or mercenary groups will always stock such materials, and the army is even more indispensable. It's just that the slave hunting team in the Wildlands will not use these things, because this is actually no different from suicide, but because of Sean's strong request, everyone in the entire team will be equipped with three magic flare.

Three of Andre's have been used up.

But the number of returning members is still less than a dozen people, which happens to be the number of a search team.

Everyone seemed a little silent. There is no doubt that this search team is still alive.

Even if Sean kills the evil mind aggregate, there are still undead creatures such as ghouls and ghost fires in this ancient ruin area, especially the species of ghost fire, which can greatly strengthen the abilities of the surrounding undead creatures. Dre's search team's allocation criteria, if it encounters a team consisting of five ghouls and a wildfire, then the search team will fall into a bitter battle.

And if the number of ghouls exceeds seven, then this search team cannot survive.

This is a very cruel fact.

Waiting for about twenty minutes again, Sean finally sighed helplessly: "Go back to the observation area, and then put a signal flares there, take a break tonight, if they haven't come back, we will leave here tomorrow morning."

The journey back to the watchtower was naturally very smooth and did not encounter any undead creatures.

Wraith fires generally do not appear during the day, and although ghouls are not afraid of the sun, they still retain the intuition and instinct similar to beasts. After seeing the size of Sean's team, it is naturally impossible to blindly launch an attack. Of course, this means that when the ghoul is not organized, if the ghoul is in a leading organization, then the result is likely to be different.

After returning to the area of the watchtower, Sean could feel the obvious relaxation of everyone's mind, and he was obviously in agreement with the sense of security in this area.

There is nothing else right now, so Sean naturally did not order anything, letting these people who have been busy all night go to rest. And he himself walked towards the watchtower. Cecilia, Dini, Andre, who wanted to take a break, looked at them, and immediately got up to follow suit. For this one who refused to take a break for even a second Lord, they actually have a headache.

"Is there anything in this watchtower?" Cecilia asked directly.

She knew very well that with Sean's unprofitable personality, she would never be interested in this watchtower. This can be seen from the fact that he hadn't stepped into this watchtower at all yesterday. But when I ran out last night, I actually decided to come to the watchtower after I officially stepped into the Silver Realm. This must be because of what he found. Cecilia was convinced of this.

"I suspect that there is a magic laboratory under the watchtower." Shaun did not hide it. He took out the notebook in his hand and handed it to Cecilia, "Although this magic experiment has been closed for decades at least. , But since it is a laboratory, there will definitely be a reserve of experimental materials, maybe we can harvest some materials or something."

Hearing Sean's words, Cecilia's eyes lit up. Any magician has an extremely strong curiosity, so when he hears words like magic experiment, he will never give up any opportunity to explore. But Dini looked indifferent. As a clergyman, Dini was not interested in so-called magic experiments, experimental materials and the like.

As for Andre, he has a frowning face.

This is not good news for him, because the so-called exploration is often equivalent to adventure, and adventure must be accompanied by the risk of casualties. Especially when exploring a magic laboratory. Although he is not very good at this knowledge, he is not an ignorant person. He knows that magicians who have a magic laboratory are not easy to provoke, at least they have to. Only with the strength of the golden realm is it possible to have a magic laboratory.

And how important the magic laboratory is to a magician is something that even a three-year-old child knows very well. To explore such a place, can Andre not frown? A few months ago, he was just a little man who lived in the wild and made a living by catching slaves. His mentality and vision have not yet been able to adapt to the current changes, so for Sean, he is going to explore a magic laboratory. , He felt fear instinctively.

It's just that Ren Xiaoyanwei, in his current capacity, really doesn't have the qualifications and position to say anything, so he can only bite the bullet.

At this time, Cecilia, who took the notebook, frowned and exclaimed: "This is a living experiment!"

"Yes." Sean nodded, "The oldest and core secret experiment of the Millennium Covenant Empire."

"Since it is a living experiment, how could there be any material left behind." Cecilia said softly, "We, still don't find this laboratory."

The so-called living experiment is naturally using living people as experiments, so the so-called materials in such a laboratory will naturally only be living people. As a magician, Cecilia is naturally very interested in exploring the laboratories of other magicians, because this will improve her magic perception, but it is obvious that before being a magician, she was still A girl will naturally be repelled.

"This is not a normal living experiment." Sean said, "This is the bloodline plan of the Millennium Covenant Empire."

Cecilia, Dini, and Andre looked at each other, obviously unable to understand the meaning of Sean's words.

"Bloodline is the most mysterious power in this world. It is another embodiment of the laws of the world." Xiao En glanced at the three of them, knowing that they didn't understand, so he said, "Although the power of bloodline can be passed on. For the next generation, but not everyone can have it. From the current known situation, the family history of all people with bloodline power must be traced back to the Ash Age, or even earlier, the dusk and dawn age. "

"But we all know that in the era long ago, the inheritance of the family was to breed each other in a fixed area, even in close relatives, so the bloodline concentration has always been maintained at a very high level. But with the historical era Human beings have entered a tribal period similar to beast behavior. At that time, in order to grow the tribe and multiply the population, women were reduced to reproductive tools, so the blood concentration dropped to a very low level, and many newly born children had no blood. Power, but more children are born with a new bloodline power."

When Sean talked about these allusions, he did not stop busy, still groping on the first floor of the watchtower. He knew very well that the entrance to a magic laboratory like this must be on the first floor, which is impossible. It is on the second floor or other floors. Of course, if the watchtower has a mezzanine, it is another matter. It's just that no matter how you look at it, this watchtower is obviously impossible to have a mezzanine.

"The pure bloodline has finally been greatly diluted and changed during this period. Perhaps for that era, this is a good thing, at least human beings can be inherited and reproduced. But for those who pursue bloodlines, But it's not a good thing, because it has caused many bloodlines to appear in ancient books."

Shaun touched the northeast corner of the observation tower, where a dark atmosphere was exuding, and he intuitively told Shaun that the entrance to the underground laboratory was here.

"What happened later?" Tini asked. The secrets that Sean said did arouse her curiosity and thirst for knowledge.

"Later? What happened later?" Shaun said, "The biggest difference between humans and beasts is that humans have feelings, so it is naturally a trend to like beautiful things or to chase power. When the tribe's survival crisis gets After alleviation, the elderly in certain tribes became more powerful, so they began to pursue pleasure, and they began to choose partners, so they also had daughters, sons... and love, conspiracy, and other things. There will be more and more incompetent people in the offspring, and the blood will become extremely thin from this moment, and even disappear completely."

"Of course, I said before that blood is another embodiment of the laws of this world. So no matter how thin the blood becomes, it is a force of law after all, so there is the possibility of activation." Sean He opened his mouth and said, "Once the bloodline is activated, the bloodline power that can be possessed according to the purity of the bloodline will naturally be different.... Purely from the ranking of bloodline power, Xuefanio is in Cecily Inferior, but in terms of blood purity, Cecilia is even above Xuefanio."

Although they are all the blood of the people, Xuefanio's blood is the blood of the gods, ranking first in the blood of the people; Cecilia is the third holy beast species, and it is naturally not as good as Xuefani in the ranking. Oh, it's just that Sean has seen the attribute panel of the two. When Cecilia's bloodline awakens, the bloodline power is activated, while Xuefanio did not activate the bloodline power. So in essence, Cecilia's The bloodline purity is definitely much higher than that of Xuefanio.

"So what about the bloodline plan of the Millennium Covenant Empire?" Cecilia asked.

Sean looked back at Cecilia and chuckled: "Since the bloodline power has become very thin now, it is impossible to even determine who has the bloodline and who does not, and even if it is certain that a certain person has the bloodline, but if it is not awakened, Isn't it useless? So someone in the Millennium Covenant Empire put forward a conjecture, since magic is omnipotent, and even able to fight against gods, can we also create artificial blood?"

Hearing what Shaun said, the faces of all three of them were surprised.

"Blood, can it be made?" Andre looked incredulous.

Sean turned a mechanism, only to hear the rumbling sound suddenly, the wall behind him immediately separated to the two sides, revealing a staircase leading to the bottom.

On both sides of this passage, the magic lights will light up in turn, and the whole passage will be completely illuminated in an instant.

"Bloodlines can obviously be created. Hasn't the Millennium Covenant Empire already succeeded?" Sean turned to look at this passage and said in a deep voice, "The only way they lack is how to make this artificial bloodline in the human body. Awakening.... And this magic laboratory is experimenting how to awaken the blood. Of course, it also takes into account the research and creation of new artificial blood, and even the role of stripping the blood."

Of course, there is a sentence, Sean did not say it.

Awakening artificial blood is just a matter of time for the Millennium Covenant Empire.

Chapter 87: .Magic Lab

After the second expansion is opened, in some copies of the Millennium Covenant Empire, a very special kind of humanoid enemy can be seen.

This kind of enemy usually acts as a boss and the like, and the things dropped are not bad, but the explosion rate is really low. And among the drops of these bosses, there is a special drop called "Bloodline Power". This special item is the player's earliest source of bloodline power-of course, at the beginning, don't expect these bloodlines to have What a great thing, it's just a bronze bloodline that can only increase ten to twenty attributes.

Later, in order to obtain a better bloodline, the players finally embarked on a new adventure, so the bloodlines of silver and gold were also discovered by the players. Then, the way to obtain bloodline power was finally no longer limited to the Millennium Covenant Empire, so players began to pursue more advanced bloodlines-legends and even the people, so the bloodline's capabilities, functions, and rankings naturally began to circulate on the forum. Open.

The way to get low-level bloodlines even has a fixed routine, which is a great help to novice players who join the game later.

It was at this time that a unique voice finally sounded in the forum.

"Since the artificial bloodline first appeared in the Millennium Covenant Empire, does this mean that the Millennium Covenant Empire has an experiment on bloodlines? If you touch this clue, can you find any secrets that have been deliberately concealed?"

But this kind of sound only lasted for a year.

When this clue was still not discovered by the players, and the progress of the game history has been transferred to the third expansion, the enthusiasm of the players was finally attracted by the new game content, and no one paid any attention to this rumor. May get clues to better bloodline power.

"Miracle" is a very real game, it has its own unique historical process, it can be said that this is a completely real world. So the weird things that players encountered in the game at the beginning must have their own unique development routines, rather than the game company's sudden addition on a whim-in fact, the game company can only minimally affect the progress of the game. For example, launch a wave of monsters that you already have in the game, but whether this wave of monsters will attack the city according to the wishes of the game company or something is another matter.

So, since there is artificial blood, there must be research on this aspect in the history of the game in advance.

At this moment, countless long-standing problems that plagued the original game, finally unveiled this layer of mystery in front of Sean.

This passage to the underground is spiral.

Sean, Cecilia, Dini, and Andre walked down all the way, without triggering any mechanism.

Sean wasn't sure whether there were no institutions in the channel at the beginning, or that the institutions had failed because of the age, but if he was asked to guess, he would naturally be more willing to believe the former. The reason is very simple. The mechanism of the special copy of the Magic Lab will never fail because of age. The mechanism of this type of copy is basically based on magic traps, and it will never fail before the magic is completely gone. .

Now that more than a hundred years have passed, and the large magic circle of the watchtower is still in use, it proves that the magic can't disappear.

Soon, the channel came to an end.

In front of everyone is a stone gate.

The stone gate is painted with very peculiar texture lines. The reason why it is peculiar is because these lines are irregular. From the perspective of magic in this world, any existence such as magic circle must be a rule of the axis, which means respect for the laws of the world, even the so-called used by witch doctors and priests in the wild. Sacrificial formations, etc., must also be able to match the axis formations.

Irregular, which means chaos.

This will suffer rejection in a world full of order.

"Perhaps, it's just a meaningless pattern." Dini was the first to express her opinion.

In this regard, Andre does not understand anything, so he will never have a say, so most of the time Andre will appear to have no sense of existence. But Andre never meant to underestimate himself. He knew what he was good at and what he was not good at, so he took care of a lot of things in his hands. This is also the difference between Sean and Cecilia. People admire his place.

"There are no traces of magical fluctuations on the stone gate. Perhaps it is really meaningless decorative patterns." Cecilia is a magician. The biggest difference between a magician and a clergyman is that the magician believes in "no investigation, no Say right", so Cecilia came to the conclusion after carefully observing the situation of Shimen, "but this Shimen is very thick, and it is definitely impossible to open it with brute force."

"There is no magic wave, and the stone gate is so thick, then it proves that the stone gate should be opened by some kind of mechanism." Xiao En frowned, and then began to fumble around.

This kind of obvious physical work is naturally competent for Andre, so he doesn't need to say anything from Sean, he joins the ranks of exploration. Andre, who is over forty years old, has made up his mind. The lord Sean looks very good. Both background and strength are very strong. He is indeed worthy of his refuge, but to make a lord feel worthy, not A piece that can be discarded at will, then he must show sufficient value.

This area is not large, so the work of exploration will soon be over. Xiao En did not find any mechanism, which made him a little distressed.

However, Andre on one side did not give up. His inspection work was much more careful than Sean, and he almost fumbled over brick by brick. In this regard, Sean's patience is indeed not as good as Andre's. Of course, the main reason for this is that Sean is a player after all. Although he is not a professional thief, he used to be more or less familiar in the guild. In addition, checking the secrets of these agencies is naturally based on the player's experience, so it is much faster than Andre.

It's just this way, but it is very likely that there will be some mistakes and omissions.

For example now.

"Lord Lord, I seem to have found something." Andre got up and got out of the way, then pointed to a rectangular brick that was pried open by him, and whispered, "There seems to be something in it, I don't understand it."

Sean was a little surprised: "Very careful, very patient."

Andre smiled, he was very satisfied that he left a good impression on the lord.

Sean looked down at the brick that Andre had pried open. Inside was a miniature magic circle that was constantly rotating. The light was not strong, but the line of the magic circle could be clearly seen.

For this special thing, Sean simply gave way to Cecilia, after all, she was the authority in this regard.

"It's a magic circle used for identification, but the magic power of this magic circle is not much." It took Cecilia only three seconds to thoroughly figure out the principle of this magic circle, "If there is a thief, you must It will be much more convenient to crack. I can only use a little means to change the recognition judgment of this magic circle, but it may take a long time."

"It's okay, you do it." Sean nodded.

So Cecilia squatted down and began to transform the magic circle.

Cracking like this kind of mechanism trap is indeed more suitable for a professional magic thief. It's just that Sean's current team camp does not have anyone who specializes in this area, which makes him a little helpless. He thinks that maybe a thief should be recruited as soon as possible, and the occupation of thief is not only applicable to traps. The hack can even be used to build your own intelligence network.

This point is also of great significance to the development of the territory.

Sean glanced at Cecilia with a focused expression, then turned his head and said to Andrea: "Go call some bear men and steel wings down, I feel there is a dark atmosphere inside, maybe there will be some undead. Creatures may also be...In any case, we should be more careful and prepare the team for battle. If the situation is not right, we will need to use force to occupy this place. Just leave one team on it. The job is to defend the watchtower."

"Yes." Andre nodded, then immediately ran towards the first floor of the observation tower.

"Where am I?" Tini asked.

"Do you have expertise in undead creatures?" Sean asked.

"no."

"Then you will be a cameo priest, you don't need to attack frontally."

"I'm a priest with a knife!" Dini was choked by Sean's nonchalant attitude, and protested very uncomfortably.

"So what? Without the expertise to deal with the undead, the value you can play is not particularly great. It is better to be responsible for applying divine magic to ensure the safety of the team in the rear." Xiao En replied, "Although you are a priest with a knife, But in situations where the situation is not clear right now, your value as an auxiliary is far greater than when you go to battle in person.... Don't forget, your * allows you to obey my command all the way."

Although she was a little helpless, Dini knew that the tactics Sean said was the most suitable for the situation, so she nodded and said, "Okay."

Soon, Andre returned with someone.

This area is not large, at most it can only let two people pass by side by side, but considering the size of the bear, it can only let two people pass by side by side at most. There are four bears brought down by Andre, and six of the northern barbarians. In this relatively small area, defensive tactics alone are definitely very extravagant, but this also makes Sean. Feel satisfied, because a more appropriate security defense is never a bad thing.

After waiting for about ten minutes again, everyone finally heard a "click", and the stone gate that was originally blocked in front of everyone was finally slowly opened.

Chapter 88: .explore

Black mist suddenly gushed out from the opening of the stone gate.

It was a stinking odor that was decayed to the extreme, and it even contained a very strong lifelessness in it.

It is not an exaggeration to say that these mists are poisonous mists!

"Purification!"

Tini gave a soft drink, her hand movement was also not slow, like a pouring rain, it lifted down on everyone, and it exuded bits and pieces of crystal. A fresh scent quickly neutralized the foul smell brought by the black mist. Except for the two bears standing in the front coughing violently, everyone standing a little behind. Almost nothing happened.

Shaun glanced at the two bears. The data brought by the real eye showed that the attributes of the two of them had been lost by almost half, which was obviously affected by the debilitating effect, which can prove the destructive power of this black mist. How strong.

Soon, the two bears who were still standing on the steps behind immediately replaced the two already weak bears, and arranged for manpower to take them up, let the two bears down again, and let the team fight at any time. And preparation for support. This is the advantage of a large-scale team. As long as they are not dead, combatants can naturally be replenished anytime and anywhere, but it is because the world is real enough that Sean can do this. If it is in the game, a copy The entry restrictions make all players helpless.

The opening speed of the stone gate is not fast, which is also convenient for Sean to re-arrange the formation.

With the opening of the stone gate, from the open part, Xiao En and others can already see the scene behind the stone gate.

It was a very messy hall with dead bodies and parchment.

When the stone gate was completely opened, everyone could clearly observe the situation in the entire hall.

The hall is circular, and there are three or four corpses on the ground, but the magical thing is that almost none of these corpses has decayed, but because of severe dehydration, these corpses have turned into dry corpses. In addition, there are countless parchments scattered throughout the hall, and at the same time, there are traces of blood spilled like abstract paintings, and of course, nicks similar to those scratched by weapons.

"Don't go in yet." Sean said in a deep voice, "Cecilia, throw a fireball to burn all the corpses."

"But there is still parchment in there..." Cecilia was a little surprised, "Maybe it contains secrets about this magic laboratory."

"It doesn't make much sense." Shaun shook his head and said, "We all know the role of this laboratory, so things like recording the experimental process of this laboratory are of little use to us. Are you planning to continue the Millennium Covenant Empire? experiment of?"

The blood experiment is a human experiment.

However, the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire has developed artificial bloodlines. Even if Cecilia really wants to take over, she must start with the production of artificial bloodlines. This is a huge project. And might Cecilia take over this kind of experiment? Obviously impossible, so after listening to Sean's explanation, she threw four fireballs at each of the four corpses inside without saying a word.

In an instant, the four corpses burned completely.

However, unlike what everyone imagined, the four corpses suddenly let out a strong howl, and then they got up from the ground, and even started to roll and run indiscriminately.

Seeing this scene, except for Cecilia and Dini, the eyes of everyone else showed a little more or less fear.

"Walking corpses, low-level undead creatures, don't need to care." Sean said, "Since this ruined area has been completely invaded by the dead, it is not surprising that there will be walking corpses here. Fortunately, they are not here. It is fortunate that there will be creatures like ghouls. In such an obviously small area, creatures like ghouls are really difficult enemies."

Seeing the four walking corpses finally could only run a few meters and then fell to the ground, completely burned to ashes, everyone felt a little weird in their hearts.

Sean took the lead in stepping in.

Cecilia and Dini followed close behind, followed by Andrei, the bear man, and the northern barbarian who came back to their senses.

Different from Sean's leisurely attitude and Cecilia's and Dini's curiosity, everyone else, including Andre, walked a little trembling, fearing that they might encounter an attack suddenly. And when everyone entered the round hall, several other bear people from behind also rushed over, and then erected shields to block the stone gate, in order to prevent strange creatures from running out of this magic laboratory, of course. In order to be able to more conveniently support to Sean and others.

This magic laboratory was still full of magic power, so the magic lights in the laboratory did not go out, especially when Sean and others entered the hall, almost the entire magic laboratory that had been stagnant began to operate again, countless The magic lights brightened one after another.

There are three passages in front of everyone.

The middle and right ones are still unclear for the time being, but the left one can see some clues.

After walking straight for a few meters, there are single rooms separated out, and the area of each single room is not large.

With Sean's current location, only a few of the single rooms can be observed. The things stored in these single rooms are not the same, but what is vaguely recognizable is that these single rooms used to be this magic laboratory. Single workplace. And according to the different tasks assigned, their work directions are different. On the whole, the talents who work in these single rooms form the basis of the entire magic laboratory.

If you want to understand the essence of the bloodline experiment plan of the Millennium Covenant Empire, it is most appropriate to go to the left. Through the contents presented in these individual rooms, you can see the operation process of the entire magic laboratory.

However, Sean and others are not interested in the bloodline plan of the Millennium Covenant Empire at all, so the passage on the left was naturally rejected by Sean and Cecilia.

"Middle or right?" Sean asked.

"Middle." Cecilia thought for a while, and then said, "The left side is the common single-person workshop in the laboratory. Then according to the layout of the laboratory, the material library must be in the middle road, and the right side should be the experiment. District. Only in this way, whether it is a single-person workshop or an experimental area, can it be supplied in the shortest time. After all, for a magician, time is money."

In this regard, Cecilia is indeed an authority, so Sean said: "Then go to the middle one.... Let the outsiders come in and build a defensive front with this rotunda. No matter what, you must resist. There may be attacks on the left and right sides of the residence."

The bearman and the Iron Wing members standing outside the door nodded, and the following teams soon began to enter the rotunda, and then arranged to form a defensive line. This is also due to the fact that the three corridors are not spacious. These corridors allow two bears to walk side by side, which is the limit. When converted into the size of an ordinary person, it is about three to four people. The pressure on the defending side is almost negligible.

However, as he walked forward, Xiao En said again: "You have to pay special attention to the right. The experimental area is likely to have more powerful enemies, not just walking corpses, so the focus of defense is on the right. If you can't resist it, you are allowed to exit the Rotunda, but this is the limit, and the monsters in this laboratory must not be allowed to escape.""

"Lord Lord, otherwise I will stay to defend?" Andre thought for a while, then said, "After all, a commander is needed here."

"That's it..." Sean was silent for a moment, "Then you will stay with Dini. There should not be too many enemies in the material library, so if you stay to help, the safety factor of the people here will be higher."

"I see." Dini nodded, this time surprisingly not resisting or unhappy.

After everything was allocated, Sean and Cecilia, two bear men and four northern barbarians began to formally set off towards the middle. Because of the trust in Tini and Andre behind him, he naturally did not make the bear person responsible for the protection behind him, but for some safety considerations, Sean still chose to break the queen himself.

When he really moved forward, Xiao En realized that the passage was narrower than he had imagined.

It is impossible for two bears to walk side by side. They can only make a front-to-back formation about two or three centimeters apart. If you change a place or an enemy, Sean will absolutely not dare to take this risk, because for silver-level masters, this little gap is enough for them to find a breakthrough hole, and fortunately here. It is a dead creature that has been abandoned and only has a low IQ, so this flaw is not a big deal.

The team moved forward for a few minutes, and finally doors appeared on both sides of the passage corridor.

Cecilia checked one side very carefully. There were no magical energy fluctuations on the door, which proved that these rooms were not important.

After all, for a magic laboratory, the storage of materials is a very important thing, after all, this is related to the key factor of whether a magic laboratory can operate smoothly. Therefore, no matter how small a magic experiment is, the security of the material library is absolutely the top priority. As long as the situation permits, let alone guards and magic traps, even the interior of the material library will have many absolutes. Fatal trap.

So Sean did not stay in these two rooms, but chose to move on. If there is still time afterwards, Sean does not suggest to take a look at what is placed in these rooms.

moved forward again for about twenty minutes, and passed about five rooms during the period, but still did not find any door with magical fluctuations, which surprised Sean a little. He really didn't expect that this magic laboratory would be so huge. They walked a corridor passage for nearly half an hour, and encountered seven rooms in total, but they hadn't arrived at the material library, which was really incredible. .

"For the storage of the material library, the first thing to consider is to be able to get the materials in the work room and the experimental area in time?"

"Yes." Cecilia nodded.

"But half an hour..." Xiao En frowned slightly, "If you calculate the distance between the work room and the experimental area, I am afraid that the request for materials will be more than this time?"

This time, even Cecilia was a little confused.

But in the next second, her face showed joy: "I feel the magic wave!"

Chapter 89: . Confidential Document No. 4

Magic power fluctuations!

If Sean was still in Tier 3, he could more or less perceive the traces of magic fluctuations, but now after stepping into Tier 5, the direction of his combat functions has changed greatly, his ability to perceive magic. Almost zero.

So at this moment Cecilia can perceive the fluctuation of magic power, but Sean is totally unable to.

Everyone followed Cecilia to a door on the left.

The door of this room looks very simple, and it is no different from the door that everyone has just seen. If it is just a cursory sweep, no one will be able to find the difference. It's just that there is a magic circle attached to the door of this room, which makes this room immediately distinctive.

In a magic laboratory, any room with a magic circle is by no means simple.

"Can it be opened?" Sean asked.

"Let me take a look." Cecilia didn't answer immediately, but closed her eyes and began to feel the magic wave on the door.

In Cecilia's perception, the dots of magic power converge into lines, and then these lines crisscross and entangle each other on the door of the room, delineating one magic circle after another, which overlaps and blends with each other. It forms a defensive barrier on the entire door.

"This is a magic circle with multiple structures. I can perceive the flow of magic power and key nodes, but I can't open it." Cecilia said helplessly, "This is a magic trap. The array is different."

"So this requires magic thieves to disarm the trap?" Sean asked.

Magic thieves are just a statement, but in fact they are not a brand-new profession.

As long as any thief systematically learns the knowledge about magic and can successfully remove the magic trap, he will be awarded the personal title of magic thief by the thieves guild. However, the person who first obtained this title can only remove some relatively elementary magic traps. The success rate is related to the unlocking skills of thieves. However, if you continue to delve into the knowledge of magic and unlocking skills, this title is fine. Continue to upgrade, and later will have some more special abilities.

It's just that this kind of research can't be solved by just reading a few books or something, it requires a lot of energy and patience. Even the players may not be able to endure this kind of loneliness, so in the beginning of the game, the more famous NPC magic thieves were basically people over 30 years old.

Shaun's current camp, let alone magic thieves, there is no thieves.

"There is another way to open it." Cecilia said, "cut off the supply of magic power to the entire magic laboratory. In this way, all magic traps will be invalid. Maybe you can try to use brute force to open these doors."

"Then cut it off," Sean said.

"But if this method is adopted, the magic blockade on the experimental area will also be lifted simultaneously, which means that the experimental creatures that have fallen into a dormant state due to the influence of magic will also be awakened." Cecilia knew that Sean was concerned about magic. She didn't know this kind of stuff very well, so she had to remind Sean, "Moreover, the defensive enchantment of the entire observation area will be completely useless due to the cut-off of the magic power supply. In other words, it is very likely that there will be undead creatures here. Invade."

"Sounds... it seems troublesome?"

Cecilia definitely added: "It's very troublesome."

"So what do you think?" Shaun glanced around, feeling very sorry that the door could not be opened, "Maybe there is something great in it."

"I read the notes. The strongest strength of the experimental creatures is probably the upper silver. If the number is not large, this is not a problem for us." Cecilia thought for a while, and then replied, "It's really troublesome. It's the undead creatures here. We have a team of people who are currently missing. If this is all the undead creatures in this area, it's okay, but what if this is only a part?...Don't forget, where we are now, But it's an ancient battlefield."

Xiao En's brows frowned slightly, he could not perceive the fluctuations of magic power, but he could feel the permeation of darkness.

In the entire magic laboratory, the darkest place is in the experimental area. Of course he wants to avoid fighting with too many monsters if he can. Because it's not good for him. At present, his experience value is completely overflowing. Even if he is now promoted to Tier 6, he can immediately rise to Tier 10. Therefore, the experience value of killing monsters is basically for him. Not the most important.

If the gain is not proportional to the effort, then the transaction will lose a lot.

"Give up for the time being." After thinking about it, Xiao En finally decided to give up temporarily, "Let's go to other rooms and see, what we can gain is nothing."

Sean still has a chance to draw a lottery at present. He found that even if he doesn't draw, he can accumulate it without wasting, so Shaun has no idea of using this reward for the time being. Although the instability of this reward is very high, it is often impossible to draw what you want, but every time you draw something you can more or less find a place to use it, so Sean is not particularly worried.

Because of this situation, Sean does not think that there is a need for a complete risk in this magic laboratory.

No one will find this place anyway. You can wait until he has handled all the current affairs before sending troops to carry out a comprehensive sweep and rectification.

Thinking about it this way, Xiao En and the others didn't say anything, but instructed everyone to start opening all the doors that could be opened to see if there was anything worthwhile inside.

For this kind of thought of having a try, Sean naturally has no expectations. And it turns out that this magic laboratory has been abandoned for a long time, and there are really not many things that can survive. There are a total of nine rooms in the middle corridor. Except for the room where there are magic traps and I don't know what is hidden, the items stored in the other eight rooms are all items that require a shelf life, including food and some semi-finished liquids. 状材料。 Shaped material.

But it's a pity that these foods and materials certainly can no longer have any preservation value.

Afterwards, in a room, I found a lot of mineral materials, but they were all relatively low-level ores, such as high-level materials such as mithril, fine gold, lapis lazuli, etc. Naturally, there was no survival. Although all these ores are worth tens of thousands of pan-continental gold coins if they are all emptied, at present, because of the lack of adequate transportation means, they can only be left alone for the time being.

As for the working single room area on the left, Xiao En thought about it or let someone form a defensive formation to advance, and solve all the walking corpses inside.

The number of walking corpses is not large, but it took a little effort and time for this, and even two northern barbarians were injured as a result. Fortunately, Tini was there, so the injury would not get worse. The corpse poison was only removed from the two of them. There may be a period of weakness, but it would not pose any threat to life.

Only in the work room area, and did not find what Shaun wanted.

The entrance to the abyss.

"It seems that the entrance should be on the experimental area." Xiao En's brows frowned slightly. The darkness in the experimental area was too strong, and he really didn't want to go to the experimental area if he could.

...The time is slightly moved forward for a while.

It was the moment when Sean and the others opened the gate of the underground magic laboratory located in the Observation Tower of the Rift Valley.

Located in a room on the central floor of the Star Tower of the Millennium Covenant Empire, a bright red light suddenly lit up.

The light is very solid, but it is also very restrained and not very dazzling.

It's just that the several young people who looked like apprentices working in this room were all startled.

"Quick! Go report it to the tutor!" Soon, a blond young man woke up immediately and immediately began to order, "Others start recording immediately."

As the most important building of the Millennium Covenant Empire, the teaching method here is not similar to the very popular college system. On the contrary, it follows the ancient teaching method of the mage tower, that is, a tutor leads several to ten. Several different apprentices.

Among these young apprentices, the young blond is not their leader, or they do not have the concept of leader. Only at this moment, following the words of the blond young man, the apprentices in the whole room immediately became busy. Except for a young man who was closer to the door, who ran out to find their tutor for the first time, the rest of the room The young people soon began to record the many information content that appeared immediately after the red light was lit.

These contents include the time of the most recent appearance, the record number in the Star Tower archives, and a record location. This location may be just a rough direction or location. Of course, if it is within the territory of the Millennium Covenant Empire, then this location will have accurate coordinates.

Although the content of the record seems to be very small, in fact, the information reflected is generally very much.

The red light represents that this matter belongs to the highest level of existence in the Star Tower mission, that is, the situation that needs to be dealt with with the highest priority.

It's not the first time that young apprentices have recorded these contents. It's just that there has never been a red light signal, and when these people have gathered to start recording the content that is about to appear on the magic display, everyone But he was surprised by the next scene.

I saw that at this moment, the magic display did not display a series of long information content as they expected, except for a simple general direction, there was only a red number.

Four.

Empire No. 4 Confidential Document!

Chapter 90: .The new empire under the pure white throne

In the royal capital of the Millennium Covenant Empire, there is a huge palace.

The royal palace is located in the center of the royal capital. It is very different from ordinary empires and kingdoms in the way that the royal capitals are built. This is mainly because the original millennium covenant empire was based on the federal system and owned by dozens of large tribes. The power that determines the direction of the empire. Therefore, in order to express the term "equality", the palace is not built on a mountain or in a single-door construction pattern, but has four doors in an open manner.

is a palace with four entrances, east, west, south and north.

When the palace was first built, it was not actually called the palace, but later the people of the Millennium Covenant Empire began to build their own houses around the palace, and over time it became a huge city with hundreds of thousands of people. The distinction is why the building in the middle is called the palace. Although in recent years, the palace has undergone many renovations and great changes have taken place in the architectural pattern, the four palace gates, which are a symbol of "equality", have never been demolished.

However, if one day the Millennium Covenant Empire really becomes a military system, then probably only one of these four gates will remain.

In the palace, after entering the main entrance of the north gate, there is a magnificent hall.

The main hall is pure white and is made of white jade and white steel. There are a large amount of magic stone materials in the interlayer of the building to shield all magical attacks. At the same time, it can also isolate the magicians above the sanctuary from using teleportation. Magic comes in and out. As for the defense of regular force, there is no ambiguity. As long as the imperial emperor himself is present, at least two high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses will follow him.

The foundation of the main hall is about 33 meters high, with a total of ninety-nine steps.

The space layout in the main hall is very wide. There are sixteen white high columns about 20 meters high. The dome is about 21 meters high from the ground. On the surface, it seems that 16 high columns support the entire dome, but in fact This is not the case at all. There are more than 30 windows in the main hall, all of which are arranged at a distance of about five meters in height. These windows make the whole hall look particularly bright on sunny days.

The magnificent architectural style, and the bright space sight, is the main hall of the imperial palace of the Millennium Covenant.

is the White Palace of the Millennium Covenant Empire.

In the hall, there is a platform about five meters high at the end, but there is a huge chair carved out of a huge stone on the platform.

The back of the chair is three meters high and two meters wide. It looks like a thumbnail of a mountain range. Both the fine texture and the pattern on the mountain range are carved very delicately and realistically. At the top of the mountain range, there is a circle. And the lying dragon. The two rivers extending from the back of the mountain chair are the two armrests of the entire chair, and at the handles are waterfalls formed by the pouring of the river.

The mountains are very real, and the dragons, rivers, and waterfalls are also extremely real and delicate. It's a pity that the platform and high chairs are all white, which makes this exceptionally delicate and gorgeous chair and the entire platform look a bit monotonous.

is just monotonous, but it still can't hide the preciousness of this chair.

The pure white throne.

At this moment, the emperor of the Millennium Covenant Empire sits on the pure white throne.

This is a middle-aged man. He has short blond curly hair, a full face and a beard. His nose is quite warped, and his pursed lips look a little thin and long. His clothes are very simple, just a white long dress and a pair of simple trousers, without a trace of imperial style. At this time, his body leans slightly to the right, with his right hand clenched on the armrest and supporting his cheek. The expression looked a little lazy, but the green eyes were wary and cold like a wolf.

He stared at the five people in the hall so coldly, before finally speaking after a while, his voice was low and slightly hoarse: "The fourth confidential document has been opened?"

"Yes." A magician wearing a brown robe said in a deep voice, "It is indeed the No. 4 confidential document, which has been repeatedly verified."

"Confidential No. 4..." the man sitting on the pure white throne asked, "Is it the blood awakening experiment?"

Hearing the words of the man on the pure white throne, the other three people present were awe-inspiring.

The four of them are the heirs of the new king of the Millennium Covenant Empire. They have been fighting together since he was a prince. Now the companions of the past years have become the real supreme authority of the entire emperor, and several of them have gradually become the dignitaries of the empire under various "coincidences" and "luck", and they can basically be regarded as commanders. The real authority figure.

So over time, of course they also came into contact with all kinds of imperial secrets.

Of course, not all confidential documents can be accessed, but they really have heard of the fourth confidential document.

Blood awakening experiment.

It is said that this imperial secret has been secretly carried out more than a hundred years ago. At that time, the new king they are loyal to has not yet been born, but it is not known why the experiment was finally suspended, but It was just a pause, and was not given up. The reason they know this secret is that they reopened the experimental project after the new king became the throne a few years ago. In recent years, they have been busy with this project, so it is natural for the empire's "blood awakening experiment". I have heard, but many key contents of the fourth confidential document are missing, so they have to start from scratch.

Fortunately, today's magic technology and scientific research technology have improved a lot compared to more than a hundred years ago, so their current progress can be said to be relatively smooth. But everyone agreed that if the laboratory of the blood awakening experiment and related scientific research materials can be found again, it will inevitably have a major milestone breakthrough for the progress of the current project.

"Did you infer the approximate direction?" the middle-aged man asked again.

"Yes, it's located in the northeast." The magician replied, "But there is no way to accurately locate and calculate, because there is a strong divine interference. I don't know the specific situation, but I found that it seems to be the same as the last time the Phoenix blood broke out. Some overlap."

"Meaning, the Bloodline Awakening Laboratory is in the Principality of Lane?" a middle-aged man in armor asked.

"Yes, even if there is a deviation, it should not be deviated to where." The magician nodded, "I guess it should be in the territory of the new lord of Panda. After all, judging from the old document of No. 4 Secret At the beginning, this secret had a series of secret agreements with the Kingdom of Darbion, but later it was not known for what reason that the agreement between the two parties was invalidated. Therefore, the relevant records concerning the involvement of the Kingdom of Darbion in the No. 4 confidential document have been Destroyed, otherwise we won't have to be so troublesome."

"Dabion's archives, did you find anything?" The new king of the Millennium Covenant Empire looked at another man who also wore a cloak.

He was dressed similarly to the magician, but he exuded a cold breath, which made others feel a little uncomfortable. It's just that everyone has been with each other for a long time, so they know that he didn't mean to do this, so their faces are very calm, but if you think this person is a magician, then his dagger will be in the next second. Cut the throats of everyone who despised him.

This is a pariah born in a slum. If he was not the new king of the Millennium Covenant Empire, he would die at the hands of a great nobleman when he was still a young man. Today, the new king is enthroned, he has become the true commander of the intelligence department of the Millennium Covenant Empire, and the sharpest sword in the hands of the new king, but there are definitely not many people who can see him, because most people are watching. At that moment he died.

"No." The commander of the intelligence department said softly.

His voice is very soft, it sounds more like a female voice, but everyone knows that this is an out-and-out man: "Confidential Document No. 4 was called more than 30 years ago. Stop, all the data on the Darbion Kingdom is estimated to be destroyed simultaneously with the data on the Star Tower.... I guess that there must be something in that laboratory that you don't want to be found."

"There is indeed something." The middle-aged man was satisfied that the intelligence officer he had cultivated had such a keen sense of smell, "That thing is called the Divine Blood Marrow Stone. It is precisely because of this thing that the empire was born. A secret project plan, but it's a pity that the plan had to be suspended at the very beginning, because the wild tribe's crazy outbreak led to the missing of the head of the laboratory, so the only thing that can be judged is that the thing is still there. In the laboratory... the Star Tower will sound an alarm because the laboratory has a special secret technique. This laboratory must be under surveillance throughout the entire process, so once the door of the laboratory is opened, the Star Tower will be activated. The alarm sounded immediately."

"Will it be a treasure hunter?" another middle-aged man who also wears armor said, but he is impeccable in his standing and manners, looking like a real knight nobleman. "After all, this laboratory is something more than a hundred years ago, and it has been in the dust for more than 30 years. The treasure hunters' group of keen hunting dogs likes this place the most."

"If it is a treasure hunter, then it will be in trouble." The new king finally frowned. "For safety reasons, the magic laboratory had two imperial fine gold flesh and blood puppets, and their fighting power was comparable to that of the sanctuary. If you use brute force Destroy the magic traps arranged in the laboratory in a way that the two puppets will be activated...The treasure hunters, won't they crack them with brute force?"

The four ministers in the hall fell silent.

"Diels, you sneak into the Pandan collar as quickly as possible, and collect information on the Phoenix Bloodline Awakened first. The second focus is to inquire about the information in the Magic Laboratory, and if possible, retrieve the Divine Bloodmarrow Stone. Come, in addition to the laboratory materials and files, you only need to bring the 13th to the 20th, and all other materials are destroyed." The new king sitting on the pure white throne finally sat upright. , The breath radiated by the whole person immediately became completely different, "All actions are controlled and judged by yourself, and the collected information will be handed over to Turman at that time."

"Yes." The person who exuded a cold breath responded, and his figure quickly disappeared in front of everyone.

"Tulman, you take a small group of Imperial Dragon Knights and immediately set off to catch up with the envoy. After Diels handed you the information about the Phoenix Bloodline Awakener, you will find a way to get close to this bloodliner. If you can It's the best to win over to the Empire. If it doesn't work, you have to get her blood. Of course, the more the better, I don't think I need to say that you can understand it?... If necessary, allow you to ask the Principality of Ryan. Put pressure, whether it is political or military, Oscar will assist you in this regard."

"Yes!" The knight who was impeccable in manners, appearance and temperament replied in a deep voice, and then turned and left.

"Oscar, once Turman gives you information, you will assume a posture of preparing to invade the Principality of Ryan, but Turman will judge whether to send troops to attack or not. You are not allowed to attack without authorization."

"Yes!" The middle-aged man in armor nodded, and a look of excitement and excitement flashed in his eyes.

"Wyer, you continue to return to the Star Tower to monitor the country's movement.... I will send you all out this time, and the high-ranking nobles in the country will probably be unwilling to be lonely."

"The Star Tower is all ready." The corner of the magician's mouth raised slightly, showing a confident smile, and then he bowed and left.

Looking at the hall for a moment, everyone had left. After a moment of silence, the king sitting on the pure white throne finally stood up.

He just stood on the platform of the throne, looking down at the entire hall, and his eyes extended along the floor of the hall. What fell in his eyes was the gate of the entire palace and the capital outside the gate.

Aquamarine eyes are deep and charming, as if what fell in his eyes at this moment was not the hall, the palace, the capital, but the whole world!

"I once said that I will sit on the pure white throne."

Then, he sat down.

"I once said that the empire will be strong because of me."

His hands are placed on the handle of the waterfall on the throne.

"who I am?"

He spoke.

"You are the king of the empire! You are my eternal king!"

A hazy figure gradually appeared under the pure white throne. He has long blue hair and is wearing a set of retro-style heavy armor. He knelt on one knee, bowed his head, and the white cloth covered him. Eyes, but the whole person exudes a cold temperament.

At this moment, the new king is full of spirits.
