

Lord of War Vol 3-101

Chapter 101: Fierce battle

In the town of Hakons, the game covered the upgrade route and spawn points from level 30 to level 50, so almost all combat players who choose to be born in the Kingdom of Lane will subconsciously after reaching level 30. The choice is here as a gathering point. Just because of the particularity of the town of Hakons, those players who failed to crack down on the friendliness of the Hakons survivors can only supply supplies at the Wind of Remembrance Hotel, so the importance of the Wind of Remembrance Hotel can be seen. Spotlight.

At this time, with the sound of fighting in the stables, it is no stranger to adventurers and mercenaries who have lived in the battle world all the year round. Therefore, there is a three-story building with more than forty rooms in the wind of remembrance. In the hotel, the lights are lit one by one like fireflies at midnight.

In an instant, more than half of the rooms were lit up.

A strong surge of magical power and elemental fluctuations also became stronger.

In the next second, accompanied by a scream and a roar of blasting, a wall facing the stables on the second floor of the hotel completely burst.

Dark red flames cling to the broken wall like vines, and strands of black smoke are rising.

Amidst the black smoke, a figure is gradually emerging.

It can be vaguely seen that the right hand of this figure waved in the air, so the dark red flame that was still licking the broken wall was like a backward time, shrinking back quickly from the outside to the inside, and all the flames were in an instant. The time disappeared completely without a trace, and the countless strands of black smoke that rose up naturally also disappeared. In this way, the true posture of this figure clearly appeared in everyone's field of vision.

It's just that, whether it is for the entire Wind of Remembrance Hotel, or for the two parties fighting at the stables at this time, even if they have not seen the true face of this figure. Everyone will never know who this person is.

Cecilia stood on the edge of the broken wall with a frosty face. Perhaps it was because she and Sean had been in the wild for a long time, so in this uncertain safety situation, she still slept in clothes. That magic robe hunted in the night wind. But it's really heart palpitating. It was the three dark red fireballs floating around Cecilia at this time, and the viscous liquid surging like lava in the fireball was clearly visible.

In the end of Cecilia's field of vision. A scorched corpse, whose appearance, clothing, and profession could not be distinguished at all, was lying quietly. Perhaps it was awe-inspiring outside of tonight's cold style, but in just a few seconds, this completely carbonized corpse began to collapse in several places. However, most of them turned into black particles and fluttered in the blowing of the cold wind.

Slowly retracting her gaze, Cecilia glanced at the battle in the stable.

This stable is located behind the Wind of Remembrance Hotel. There are thick stone walls about three meters high on both the left and the rear of the hotel to ensure that horses will not jump out of the wall, nor will the wall fall due to collision. The opening of the road is on the right: here is a three-meter-long two-sided solid wood gate.

But this time. One of the solid wood doors had collapsed, and it collapsed completely because of the impact of the black stone and it couldn't support it. On the collapsed wooden door, there was an assassin who had been stomped on most of his lower body, but had not died but was constantly wailing; and it was a little farther away. There are three other enemies entangled with Black Stone. The method they use is the usual Earthwalker provocative and encirclement strategy of Warcraft Hunter-that is, it mainly consumes the physical strength of the Earthwalker, and does not resist head-on.

From this point, we can see that this time the enemy has indeed come prepared.

Although Rina wanted to rush over to support Blackstone, but in the same way, she was also intercepted by two powerhouses who were not under her. Of course, this one was not under her, so she can only play 70% or 80%. The powerful Rina, if it were Rina in his heyday, these two people would have been solved by her long ago. Of course, there is another reason, that is, Rina is not wearing that set of angel armor at this time, otherwise, she can hardly support and join the black stone with her defensive power.

In this way, the situation on the battlefield is that Rina, as a dragon knight, was cut tactics by the enemy.

After cutting the combination of Rena and Blackstone, there are five enemies trying to storm the carriage parked in the middle of the stable. It is obvious that these people have also discovered that this carriage is the weakness of Sean and others. And the only people responsible for guarding this carriage are Venia and Marton. Originally, the strength of the two would not fall into a hard fight, but because of the abyssal toxins, the strength of these two people can't even be used for 50%. Therefore, he can barely use the carriage as an obstacle to defend, and it is completely impossible to counterattack.

Rina, who has been around Sean and William for so long and has a certain degree of military literacy, instantly understood the enemy's combat plan.

Crowd tactics, cutting tactics and multiple structure tactics of destroying tactics one by one.

But Cecilia didn't understand. At this time, this place can be said to be a battlefield. Where did the enemy find so many golden powerhouses? It is impossible for the nobles of Ryan to know how strong the followers of Sean are. At least no one died in the battle against the demon Edward by Sean and others. This should be judged. As a member of the nobility, Cecilia knows best: all truly powerful noble families attach great importance to intelligence.

To deal with Xiao En and others, if the strength does not reach a certain level, it is impossible to suppress it at all, because this is no longer a matter that can be solved by relying on the human sea tactics, unless the opponent pulls out an entire kingdom main force. Legion.

At the moment, not counting the assassin Cecilia solved by herself, the ten enemies still on the field are all golden powerhouses, and they are all high-level golden powerhouses with rich combat experience. Although most of these people are improvised from the cooperation and tacit understanding of each other, their consciousness is extremely clear and sharp, and a rare tacit understanding is gradually forming, and the joint attack of these people has also begun to become somewhat structured. stand up.

Cecilia is very clear that once these people form a tacit cooperation, then the pressure on oneself may rise to several levels.

So, between raising his hands, a dark red lava fireball shot towards the black stone.

Lava Bomb, this is a standard seven-level magic. Even in the game, it is a very advanced magic. Different from general fireball technique-although fireball technique will also produce some splashes when exploding, it is still a single damage magic in the judgment of magic-lava bomb is a product of high magic concentration, which is produced in collision After the explosion, its power is equivalent to the bombing of fifteen to twenty fireballs in a fixed-point area. Its range of influence is approximately one meter in radius. At the same time, the magma condensed in the lava bombs will also splash out, causing more intense sustained damage.

Magic like this. If it is cast in a small area, how terrifying its power is, you can see the corpse that directly turned into coke.

But it is precisely because of this, so if the lava bomb explodes too close to the caster. Then the caster himself will suffer very strong damage. Looking at the entire Marvel Continent, it is probably only Cecilia who dares to play magic like lava bombs, because only she has the characteristic of being immune to all fire attribute damage.

The dragon branch of the black dragon has extremely strong all-physical magic resistance. Although it has not undergone actual verification tests, some players have inferred that its resistance should be about 90%, which means that almost all physical properties The damage caused by magic is weakened by 90%. And Blackstone. As a mutant emperor dragon with a thick black dragon bloodline, even if it does not have the high magic resistance of the black dragon, it still has a relatively high resistance. Therefore, Cecilia's lava bomb splashes into the black stone even if it hurts. It is also within its tolerance.

Sure enough.

As Cecilia expected, when she saw the lava bombs flying over, the three enemies who were besieging and pinning Black Rock immediately chose to disperse. Only at this moment, Cecilia saw that the three of the other party had clearly developed a certain tacit understanding, because even if the three of them were scattered, they still formed a posture of encircling Blackstone, still blocking Blackstone and Rina. The possibility of convergence.

But for them, what they need to worry about is nothing to Blackstone. Even in such a fierce explosion, it is still rampant and destroyed, and this encirclement will be broken in an instant.

At this moment, suddenly a figure flew down towards Cecilia!

This assassin has been sticking to the eaves of the hotel roof, waiting for his chance!

I have to say that this timing is indeed an excellent opportunity to attack. Because Cecilia had a faint chance to break through at Blackstone, her mind relaxed a little, and her attention began to shift to the battlefield at the stables, ready to support Venia and Marton. Naturally, many other situations will be ignored. Judging from the technical level of this assassin who has been lurking for so long but has not been discovered, the outbreak at this time can definitely easily hit Cecilia.

Even Cecilia's face showed a bit of shock at this time, and her movements obviously couldn't keep up with her thought reaction. Because the assassin's speed was so fast that he was almost aware of his outburst, he was almost approaching Cecilia's face, and the short sword in his hand was like a serpent that spits out, facing the cock. Cecilia's heart pierced.

The fall of Cecilia is almost without suspense.

But!

In Cecilia's eyes, she saw the assassin's eyes suddenly protruding, and her eyes were full of incredible expressions.

Then, a strong wind brushed Cecilia's cheek, and suddenly a blood red appeared in the retina.

These are not the blood of Cecilia, but the blood of the assassin in front of her.

In the heart of this assassin, there was already a hole the size of a fist, and the internal organs were shattered to pieces, and through this blood hole, you could even clearly see the battle in the stable.

Parked on the top of the carriage in the middle of the stable, Marton half-kneeled on it. There were no arrows on the tall longbow, but the bowstring was still trembling.

At the moment Cecilia's eyes met, Marton once again picked up an arrow placed on the roof of the car—this is an arrow that resembles a crystal structure. Cecilia knows this. The arrow is called the Broken Dawn Crystal Arrow. It is a special arrow made of a very precious material. It is also a unique product of the Xuefeng tribe. Even Marton only carried five of them, but at this time, it was on the roof of the car. There were only four left—and then put it on the bow again, and a spinner shot at an enemy who was trying to go around and attack.

In the air, there was a silver-white aurora passing by.

The enemy who tried to bypass. It's a warrior-based profession, but it's obviously a defensive rank, because he also carries a square shield that can cover half of his body in his left hand. If not, he also holds a handle in his right hand. A large sword weapon similar to a chopper. I'm afraid no one will think this is an attacking professional.

Only this time. When the soldier saw the arrow shot by Marton, his face instantly turned pale.

The coldness of the forest from the silver-white aurora. Let his soul go wild, the fear of facing death at this moment makes him almost unable to move in an instant, it is an absolute shock from the depths of the soul. Even if he has rich combat experience, he can only move his body with difficulty. Try to avoid this silver-white aurora as much as possible for your own vitals, and at the same time raise the battle shield in your hand and block it in front of you.

But all this is useless in front of this silver-white aurora!

This beam of light penetrated the battle shield in the warrior's hand without any lag, and then shot to the distance.

In everyone's field of vision, it was possible to clearly see that the battle shield in the soldier's hand was shot directly through a hole, and the hole was not small. Almost as stout as a fist. But what's even more amazing is not here, but including the soldier's left arm was also shot directly in the silver-white beam, and the fracture was as neat as it had been cut by a cutting machine, even if the soldier succeeded in letting it. My heart hides from this beam of light. But the fist-sized wound also completely shattered most of his heart.

Broken organs and blood foam came out of the soldier's mouth. He just persisted again and ran forward for a few steps before he fell to the ground.

Because of the sudden death of this soldier, it was supposed to be an encirclement attack from several directions at the same time, and a gap suddenly appeared, which invisibly alleviated the great pressure on Winia, especially on the remaining four enemies. There is no longer any profession that favors defenders in the game. In the terminology of the game, it is "all are attacking high blood dps"-in the previous series of strong attacks, the defender was the main force to withstand Most of the injuries in Vinia.

It's just that, although the pressure has been reduced a lot for Winia, the danger has not completely ended.

The Dawn Crystal Arrow is obviously not an ordinary arrow. Even if Marton shoots this kind of arrow, it requires special power or consumes a lot of fighting energy. Therefore, after shooting two such arrows in succession, he can't help his face. There was a strange paleness, and the whole person was as if he had just been fished out of the water, sweating profusely.

The situation on the battlefield is subtly falling into a state of balance.

Although Cecilia was willing to provide support again, but at this time the two wooden walls on the left and right of the room she was in were suddenly smashed, and two enemies on the left and right attacked Cecilia in the room at the same time. In such a critical situation, Cecilia will naturally not take care of everything, because even the adventurers and mercenaries who have stayed at the Wind of Remembrance Hotel have enemies lurking, who knows how many enemies there are in this hotel .

So the two dark red fireballs exploded directly into the room without hesitation.

Seeing Cecilia's move, the faces of the two enemies who tried to directly kill Cecilia through the assault changed drastically, and then Cecilia finally saw evidence that she could believe that these enemies lacked sufficient understanding. : Of the two enemies, the one on the left chose to retreat for the first time and stopped attacking Cecilia at all; while the one on the right showed a hideous color after shock, almost squeezing the whole body's potential. Rushed towards Cecilia at an accelerated rate.

Perhaps Sean walked too close, or perhaps always subconsciously imitating Sean's actions, Cecilia's mouth rose slightly, revealing a sneer.

A roar of explosion resounded throughout the town of Hakons.

Fire, the second after the explosion sounded, lit up in the houses in the small town of Harkons.

And the entire Wind of Remembrance Hotel was mostly destroyed by this explosion. The raging pillar of fire that rose up into the sky not only overturned the entire roof of the Wind of Remembrance Hotel, but even more than two-thirds of the hotel's roof. All were buried in the sea of fire.

Screams, screams, all kinds of chaotic sounds, sounded in the burning Wind of Remembrance Hotel.

And soon, the entire hotel was completely buried in the sea of fire, and less than a dozen people crawled out of the Wind of Remembrance Hotel. Looking at the supply points of all the outsiders in this Hakons town with a look of horror. Among them, the most feared and sad people were the couple of the operators of this hotel. Of course, no one found Hampson who was also worried in the crowd.

But very fast. This horror spread to everyone's faces.

Because in their eyes. The flames that had swallowed the entire hotel suddenly flowed back toward the middle of the hotel like a docile cat. Then it turned into an orange flame, suspended in the palm of a girl in a magician costume. Then in the next second, a flame that was also orange suddenly ignited out of thin air, floating on the left side of Cecilia. Then came the second, third, and fourth flowers. One by one flames lit up out of thin air, floating around Cecilia's side. The caring person counted them carefully, and it was actually seventy. There are so many two flowers!

If there was the Royal Archmage of the Duchy of Lumber at this time, then he would recognize that these flames that emerged out of thin air were legendary magic that the Lumber family had completely lost since the first generation of Lumber's Patriarch.

Solomon's seventy-two heavy flame.

At this moment, Cecilia standing in the middle of the hotel. I finally know why this once incomparably powerful magic suddenly disappeared from the magic books passed down by the Lumber family from generation to generation, because the way of inheriting this magic is directly imprinted in the blood. This magic will only be awakened when the Phoenix bloodline of the Rembel family has been awakened and the bloodline branding of the third stage has officially begun.

I just want to really exert the power of this magic. It is necessary for the Phoenix blood to enter the fifth stage: to condense the true name, to be able to truly exert the power of "Solomon's 72 Heavy Flames". Cecilia has only just entered the quasi-third stage now, and can only play the power of the eighteenth-level flame at most, but this power is almost comparable to the quasi-ninth-level magic.

So, Cecilia couldn't help but raised her head and looked at the only place in the Wind of Remembrance Hotel that hadn't been burned by the raging flames just now.

There is a strong aura facing each other, and it is the emission of this invisible aura that disperses the spreading flames.

Standing in the middle of this aura, two young men are fighting each other with long swords in their hands.

In the confrontation of power, neither of the two sides can suppress anyone. This not only surprised Sean, but also shocked the young man who was fighting against Sean. But it was more shocking than that. When the battle broke out in the stables of the Wind of Remembrance Hotel, the two sides had already fought each other for more than ten rounds: at the beginning, Sean tried to use his own speed advantage to solve the opponent, but Unexpectedly, the opponent played the same idea, so in a series of fast breaks, no one can do anything about it. Therefore, both sides will try to suppress the opponent with strength at the same time, but this result is equally irrelevant.

At this time, the confrontation has already changed tactics for the third time between the two sides: the skill control of power.

The two sides completely concentrate their power on both arms, and the power of the lower body is only maintained at a level sufficient to support the upper body in a fight. Therefore, even if the entire roof has been shaken by the strength of both sides, it seems that it will collapse at any time, but it is like the lack of the last straw, and there is no sign of collapse at all.

Whether it is speed, strength, skill, or combat experience, consciousness, etc., Sean and the opponent are completely on par.

If it hadn't been known that the opponent's gestures had strong local characteristics of Miracle Mainland, Xiao En would even wonder if the opponent was a player like himself.

However, after the two sides have fought for so long, Sean has roughly figured out the identity of each other.

"The holy blood from the dark world, I didn't expect to appear here." Xiao En sneered, "It really shocked me."

But unlike ordinary people's reactions, this equally young opponent did not show any shock, but maintained a kind of elegance from the ancient family from beginning to end: "Humanity, you also shocked me. If you are a man. It's not that you don't have the breath of my clan, I even think you are from a certain noble clan of the thirteen clans."

After saying this, the two sides once again gave up and continued to wrestle and separated by mistake.

Even if it is still jumping and falling on the roof, but this is already covered with countless cracks like the roof of an ancient dilapidated house, but it still hasn't collapsed. As a result, Xiao En and the other two returned to the situation of confronting each other once again, but the aura pervading the surroundings was not weak but strong, and the atmosphere became abnormally stagnant.

However, it was the opponent who broke this stagnant silence first.

This young man who seems to be in his twenties, but whose actual age is likely to be several hundred years old, gracefully bowed to Sean, then said with a chuckle: "Since you have seen through my identity, then There is no need for me to hide my strength anymore."

Then, Sean saw that the opponent's body began to emit a dark red * smell that was so strong that it made people sick. After these breaths erupted from him, they turned into a blood mist and burst out, but the blood mist did not diffuse, but after it burst out, it was quickly recovered into the young man's body at an alarming rate. , Just like the flame under the control of Cecilia.

Perhaps in the eyes of most people, this man hasn't changed in any way, but in Xiao En's eyes, this man's face has turned pale by a few points. But these are not the most important. The real most important change is that the aura exuding from this man is obviously stronger than before, and the blue brilliance that originally entangled the long sword in his hand has also changed. Become a dark red dark energy.

At this moment, Sean finally knew why the breath of the adventurer disappeared instantly after the blue cold light penetrated the house.

Blood and energy plunder.

This is an advanced ability unique to the blood race, just like a racial talent.

At the beginning, this ability was called "blood energy extraction". Only the blood family that became the official rank sequence can awaken this talent ability, but it is to accelerate the recovery of one's own injuries by drawing the blood of others. Only after entering the lower-level blood family sequence, this ability can be promoted to "blood qi plunder", and only this blood qi plunder can convert the blood qi drawn into essence and blood for storage in case of emergency.

The standard of the lower kinship must at least be the official kinship member with the title of baron or higher. Unlike human society, in the kinship world, the title of title usually represents the strength of the kinship. And the lower-ranked blood race with the title of Baron, its combat power is at least equivalent to the lower-ranking gold of the human world. And the one in front of him is obviously not just the baron title, but the blood family above the earl title is considered the upper blood family, so there is only one title left.

A member of the blood family with the title of Viscount.

"Allow me to introduce myself briefly." The young blood clan said with a chuckle, "My name is Dino, from the ancient Assamaite clan."

Chapter 102: . Moments of crisis

Blood races, werewolves, demons, spider demons, plus dark elves and blood elves, these six races are the holy blood races of the entire underground world. Basically, the speaker of the dark council is usually among the six holy blood races. Since the birth of the Dark Council, there is almost no possibility of falling into the hands of other tribes. Since the birth of the Dark Council, only four times in history have the seat of the speaker fell into the hands of the tribe, but the four speakers are all More than ten years.

Among the six holy blood races, the history of dark elves, demons and blood elves can be traced back to the Ash Age. They were born after the migration of humans and elves to the underground world. The history of the werewolf and the spider monster can be traced back to the twilight era. Although the birth history of the spider monster is open to question, the birth history of the werewolf is undeniably created by the blood family. In a sense, the blood family is The creator of the werewolf clan.

There are only blood races, and their birth history can be traced back to the era of dawn, the era juxtaposed with the gods and gods. It is precisely because of this that among the six holy blood races, the blood races have always had a strong sense of superiority and pride. Because only their history and tradition are the oldest, they are facing the other five races. At that time, they all have a superior posture.

Among them, the thirteen clans of the blood clan are the most successful.

The clans of the blood clan are completely different from the tribal clans in the barren land of the surface world. Instead, the clans of the more human world are closer: each clan is a family. It's just that in the history of hundreds of thousands of years, the blood clan has become an extremely large race, and there are as many as hundreds of clans whose strength is in the whole blood clan world and can be evaluated by a "heard". . Not to mention the proliferation of those inferior clans that are defined as "third-rate clans" in the blood world.

But no matter how many of these clans there are, if you trace the roots, they will still be related to the thirteen clans. Because the entire blood world had only these thirteen clans from the beginning, and the subsequent clans were just independent clans separated from the thirteen clans, no matter whether they were strong or not.

Assamaite clan. It is one of the thirteen clans of the blood family.

Just like those families with strong backgrounds are prone to give birth to geniuses and strong men, the blood clan members of the thirteen clan are stronger than the blood clan of other clans in the same rank. In addition, creatures such as blood races are equivalent to monsters in the eyes of humans. Both power and speed are far beyond humans, and their long life span allows them to accumulate more combat experience, so they are more powerful than humans in the same realm. Much stronger.

Like the  viscount named Dino Assama in front of him, according to human standards, he is probably close to the strength of the upper golden peak, but in fact, he is not a half-step sanctuary-level powerhouse. I'm afraid I can't suppress him at all. Only Sean, a monster that cannot be theoretically evaluated according to a normal level, can barely fight this vampire called Dino to a tie-of course, before he has completely liberated his strength.

Although dark creatures such as blood are not considered heretics, they are for humans. Their behavior to strengthen themselves by absorbing human blood is also a completely anti-human behavior. Therefore, once discovered that they naturally have to face the chase of the major churches on the surface world, their hatred attraction is completely second only to demons and demons. Appears in the physical world. It is precisely because of these problems. Therefore, most of the blood races walking on the surface world. They will seal their own powerful dark powers with a set of secret methods, disguising themselves as "geniuses" in the definition of the human world to avoid the chase of the church.

It's just that after fighting against Sean for so long, no one can do anything about it, and Sean's identity was revealed. This young blood clan named Dino finally could not hold back his seal.

Shaun felt the strong dark waves surging in the air, and after taking a deep breath, he once again assumed the fighting start position.

Sean, who has always been self-aware, knows very well that with his current strength. It wasn't the opponent of this blood family viscount at all, but if he shouldn't fight. So once let him join the battlefield below, then absolutely no one can stop his attack, unless it is Rena and others in their heyday. Therefore, in this battle, whether Sean is willing or not, he must stand on the front line and become a strong shield to block the offensive of this blood family viscount. As long as he delays for a long time, then they are more likely to win. The battle in front of me.

From beginning to end, Sean did not lose any confidence in Vinia, Marton, Rena and others.

He always firmly believes that Rena and others can definitely solve those enemies, but it will take some time.

And these time, it is up to him to win.

"Leave me alone." Shaun stood on the roof and shouted in a deep voice, "Go and support Rena and the others. Leave it to me here."

It's clear who Shaun said this to.

Cecilia was silent for a while, then raised her head and glanced at the blood viscount who claimed to be Dino. There was a fuchsia gleam in her eyes, but she was not someone who didn't understand anything. Clearly, he turned and walked towards the stable. With each step of Cecilia's movement, the flames floating in the void began to gradually decrease. At first, only one disappeared, then two and three. As these flames disappeared, Cecilia's The momentum is getting more and more prosperous, just like a real phoenix rising from nirvana.

"You really have confidence in your companion." Dino glanced at Cecilia, his eyes showed a glow, but Sean knew very well that it was the blood family named Dino. Moved to kill, "I don't know, how long can you stop me now?"

"Try it and you won't know." Xiao En chuckled, the Black King in his hand pulled out a beautiful sword flower, and there was sword spirit flowing in the air wantonly, "You shouldn't have used all my cards just now. ?"

Dino raised his brow slightly.

I have to say that in terms of human aesthetics, Dino is indeed in full compliance with the definition of the word "junmei", but it lacks a bit of masculinity, so it appears a little more feminine. But his beauty is not the attraction formed by ordinary people using charm magic. It is a kind of real charm, a unique charm formed by the temperament, knowledge, experience and conversation that have been cultivated for a long time.

Even now, Dino raised his brow slightly. It still gives people a peculiar feeling that shines.

Of course, this person will not include Sean at least.

"I really want to see what your so-called hole cards have." Dino chuckled. The graceful behavior may have penetrated his bones and soul, so his gestures and gestures still show the style and etiquette of the ancient family, but in his eyes But the anger is also clear at a glance.

"Blood Qi is excited!"

"Lightweight technique!"

Two soft murmurs were made in the mouths of Dino and Sean, and two brilliances, one red and one blue, flashed away on each of them. In the next second, the two people slammed into each other like two outburst shells.

An astonishing air current burst out suddenly from the Wind of Remembrance Hotel.

This time, both of them may have disdain to show the little skill of controlling power, so they are in a violent collision. The half of the Wind of Remembrance Hotel, which had been filled with countless cracks, finally collapsed. But this kind of collapse is not the kind of collapse that is commonly seen, but at the moment when this rushing air current erupts, the whole building is directly and completely turned into dust, which obscures the sight of everyone around it.

In this hazy dust. The only thing everyone can see. It's just a few red or blue or black or white brilliance that shines from time to time, but the continuous sound of gold and iron clashing is endless, and almost every time this sound is heard, the dust around it will be fierce. The rustle spreads to a larger area, and the sound of the rustle is like countless poisonous snakes crawling. The adventurers and mercenaries surrounding the hotel are like seeing some terrifying demon, and they are backing quickly. As a result, naturally no one dares to easily approach the dust and smoke formed by these dusty powders.

In the dust and fog, the sound of gold and iron fighting has been resounding for two full minutes. Without the slightest pause, the same dust mist naturally spreads more and more widely.

The battle at the stables, because of the addition of Cecilia, finally tilted the sky, and the enemy's camp inevitably caused a little chaos. A man in warrior costume seemed to be trying to avoid an attack from Cecilia. He ran into the dust and fog without seeing the surrounding environment, and the screams of exclamation resounded throughout the night sky.

In everyone's field of vision, countless scars were drawn on this soldier's body instantly, as if he had been entangled with invisible sword energy. Although he was still struggling, it was simple to enter this dusty fog, and it was not easy to think about going out again. He just insisted on walking a few steps, and the whole person burst into a * fog. , Into this dusty mist.

All the people around who witnessed all this immediately felt even more frightened by this dusty mist.

In the core circle of Dust and Mist, Dino suddenly took a deep breath and revealed an intoxicated smile. With the force of a grid attack, he pulled a short distance from Sean without advancing or retreating. Then he stared at Sean, who was still solemn, and chuckled, "I really want to turn you into my servant. I have decided. I want to give you a first embrace."

"Heh, I am very confident." Xiao En sneered. Although in the previous match, he did gradually become unable to keep up with the rhythm. As a result, there were dozens of scars on his body, but his expression and attitude were different. As always indifferent and serious, "Do you really think you have a chance to embrace me for the first time?"

"Just beat you half to death." Dino chuckled. "Your movements are already a bit slower than before, and you can't keep up with my speed and rhythm. So I believe this secret technique of yours. The effect will soon be lost. At that time, the weakness after casting the secret technique will be enough to make you unable to move.... You said, do I have a chance to embrace you for the first time?"

Shaun was silent.

In fact, whether it is light-weight surgery or adrenal stimulation, there are naturally no so-called side effects or postoperative backlashes. However, in these two "secret techniques", the light body technique is better to say. Although it can only last for five minutes, there is actually no cooling time, which means that once the effect of the light body technique ends, Sean only needs to go once." A total of three seconds of cooling time of "cd" can perform the light body technique again.

The only real problem is adrenal stimulation.

The duration of this secret technique that can stimulate the body's potential is only three minutes, but the cooling time is as long as one hour. This is the real reason for the high-intensity combat that only lasts three minutes when Shaun has all his cards out.

At this point, there is only less than 30 seconds left until the end of adrenal stimulation, and after the series of high-intensity fights just now, Sean is very clear that once he loses the value-added effect of adrenal stimulation, then he will completely fall into a passive beating. The situation. At that time, let alone the three-second total cd cooling time of the light body technique, I am afraid that once the effect of the light body technique ends, he will be directly knocked down by the opponent.

With only two minutes left, can Rena and the others really be able to solve their opponents before this time is over?

Chapter 103: .Two minutes

White, gray, and black smoke filled the air, and the entire battlefield environment had become completely chaotic.

At this time, the so-called tactics have lost all meaning.

The enemy's one-by-one destruction tactics at the beginning were not very eye-catching. At most, they received a satisfactory evaluation. Of course, in terms of tactical implementation, the opponent did have the upper hand from the beginning. It's just a pity that when the other party launched a surprise attack, because of the warning device arranged by Marton, it did not bring the chaos that Xiao En and others had expected.

And in the next battle, the situation was not as smooth as they hoped.

First, the assassin who assassinated Cecilia was directly turned into charcoal, and then Cecilia, who was freed up, disrupted the siege of Blackstone. Then the battle at the stables was defeated and Cecilia broke out. Let the rhythm of this battle completely out of control. Of course, the biggest surprise was the confrontation between Sean and Dino, because from the beginning, no one expected that Sean, who was only a low-level golden power lord, had such a terrifying personal combat power. They didn't expect that their temporary ally was a vampire. And because of the appearance of Dino, coupled with the terrible storm of sword energy like a sandstorm, these people who were only temporarily united finally began to restore the nature of sand.

As a result, the pressure on Vinya, Marton and others was suddenly reduced. Coupled with the support of Cecilia, the balance of the battle at the stables was instantly broken. If it weren't for Cecilia to be distracted to deal with that expansion. The sard has become bigger and bigger, almost threatening to the dust storm of the carriage, and the battle in the stables has long been resolved by Cecilia and others.

After all, the powerful skills from the brand of blood and soul, even if Solomon's Seventy-two Heavy Flame can only exert the power of eighteen flames. But this is still an out-and-out quasi-ninth level magic. And at the moment, among the enemies besieging Sean and the others, no one has anti-magical means, or even demon-breaking equipment, so facing Cecilia's attack is naturally helpless.

How terrible is the nine-level magic?

Take the four-color dragon physique excluding the silver dragon and the black dragon as an example, the damage of level 9 magic even if it is such a behemoth will be a little overwhelming. The quasi-ninth-level magic, although it has not reached the real nine-level magic power, at least it is not far away. With a normal human physique, no one can withstand this degree of damage without having the ability to resist magic. . However, it is usually able to cast ninth level magic. That's also the method of a sanctuary-level magician, because the mana consumption of this level of magic is not an easy thing.

But the inheritance from deep blood is an exception.

At least with Cecilia's strength. If only eighteen heavy flames were cast, it would be easy to cast five or six times. Relatively speaking, none of the enemies present can stop Cecilia's Eighteen Flames. Especially after seeing the power of the Eighteen Flames, no one dared to attack rashly, because who knows it's all clear. The first person to attack will definitely attract all the firepower. However, the eighteenth flame is a range of magic damage, and it is not easy to avoid it. In other words, the first person to attack is to use his life to create opportunities for his companions.

But the problem is that these people are just temporary hires to put together loose sand. Is it possible to sacrifice your life for such an uncertain opportunity?

As Cecilia waved her hand, the eighteen flames floating in the air shot out spirally in the direction Cecilia pointed. There was a burning smell in the air for an instant, and the high temperature dissipated the coldness of the night. When several surrounding enemies saw the eighteen flames condensed and fired once again, everyone's first reaction was to stay away from the path of this flame as much as possible.

Next to , there was a huge bottomless pit that was directly burned by the eighteen heavy flames that Cecilia had just made a mistake on the ground. At this time, it was still braving with white high-temperature steam that could burn anyone. So no one would want to be bombarded by these eighteen flames head-on.

The fighting situation at the stables, Cecilia and others have almost completely gained the upper hand. The only thing left for them is when will they be able to completely defeat the enemy's defenses and force them to retreat. However, even though Cecilia is desperate now, she still restrained her heart very well, and did not mess with the rhythm because of this. She always kept in mind one thing, if she really wants to solve Sean's current predicament, then Rina and others must be liberated as soon as possible.

So, even if Cecilia's attack began to become violent and fierce, her tactics were still not in the slightest disorder.

And the other side.

The crimson brilliance draws a flash of fire like a vertical line in the dark night.

A man holding an epee quickly retreated with amazing agility and speed, and dodge the red radiance dangerously and dangerously. It was just the coldness at the front of the shirt, but he still made him look down subconsciously, and suddenly found that there was an extra scar on his right chest, not only had his clothes been torn out, but the injuries went deep into the skin and tendons. Almost knocked off the collarbone.

Fear finally appeared on the man's face.

Among the many people present, the two who besieged Rina were the strongest, and of course the guy who was arranged to find the lord troublesome was not counted.

However, from the fight to the present, the two of them can't suppress Rena at all. On the contrary, the harder they press, the subsequent rebound will become more intense. By now, it is the two of them who have fallen into the wind. NS.

The man holding the epee glanced sideways at the battle at the stables. According to the original battle plan, they should have restrained Rena, and the other three delayed the ground dragon, and then concentrated on the magic. The teacher and the two elves resolved. Immediately afterwards, we provided support to the battle situation here, striving to solve Rina in one breath. Even if it can't be solved, at least after beheading the magician and two elves, this action should be considered a good one. It's relatively smooth.

But the current result, even if he couldn't see the battle on the stable side, he clearly estimated that it was a matter of time that the entire army over there was annihilated. Didn't you see the light of magic light up one after another? This is enough to prove that the other party has completed the rendezvous with the magician, judging from their battle without any demon-breaking means this time. Let the magician join the battle, which in itself has declared the defeat of this battle.

The cold wind blows, blowing away the light smoke from several fire pits on the ground that were exploded because of the fierce fighting just now.

Then, the eyes of the epee warrior were so scared that they went straight.

In front of him, Rina has completely activated the dragon bloodline in her body. Most of her body has been covered with dragon scales. Although her height and shape have not changed at all, and her hands are still human hands, she is the whole person. It is a bit more extremely dangerous aura. Just being glared by her, the epee warrior felt his soul as if shocked. The whole body is a little weak, and I can't think of a duel at all.

The only remaining thought is to run away.

Escape as far as possible!

Almost this idea just came up. The man holding the heavy sword completely lost his courage, and he fled to the distance without turning his head back.

Seeing his companion do this, the other soldier who besieged Rina was stunned on the spot. Then he realized what the situation was like, but when he turned around and wanted to escape, Rina had already stabbed with a shot, and the soldier who also had the gun had to wave a gun to block it. But only this blow. He flew back several feet on the spot, and the jaws of his hands were directly shattered.

Rena after becoming a dragon. Each strength is a straight line soaring of doubling growth, simply comparing attribute values. No less than the general sanctuary powerhouse. The only thing lacking is that there is no domain bonus effect of the sanctuary powerhouse.

"Wait!" Feeling that his hands were already numb and trembling, the soldier saw Rina preparing to attack again. Hurry up and shouted, "I have no intention of being an enemy of you. I am only employed by others. I will leave here now! Never participate in any subsequent hostile actions against you!"

But Rina didn't give the other party any chance to continue speaking at all, and stabbed it again with a shot, and the force was much stronger than before.

And this time, the soldier with a gun finally couldn't stop Rina's wild attack.

With only one blow, the gunman's long spear was directly broken, and the flame spear in Rina's hand penetrated his throat directly.

At this time, the three demon hunters who besieged Black Rock finally couldn't resist the furious Black Rock. One hit by Black Rock directly hit one person, and another person was shot flying as soon as he swept his tail. I wanted to attack, but I saw that Blackstone bit the man who had been hit by a leap into two pieces, and his legs were so soft that he did not dare to attack again, and Rina next to him had already returned her gun to support here. , The demon hunter immediately left two of his companions and chose to escape in the dark.

The assault on Sean has basically been declared a failure.

When Rina rode the Black Rock back to the stables, only one of the soldiers besieging the stables was still alive at this time, and Winia was injured a bit, but it did not affect her actions. And when this soldier saw Rena rushing over to support him, he immediately turned around and fled without thinking, but he had forgotten to expose his back at this moment. This was not a sensible thing.

At least, Marton did not give up this great opportunity-he ended the opponent's life with an ordinary white feather arrow.

"boom!"

A strong bombardment sounded suddenly.

The dust and sword energy in the sky disappeared without a trace.

Obviously, the fight between Sean and Dino finally came to an end at this time, and there were less than 13 seconds left before the two minutes that Sean could hold.

Logically speaking, this procrastination battle should be regarded as Sean's victory.

It's just that when everyone looks to the middle of the battlefield, no one dares to act rashly.

Because, in everyone's field of vision, Dino's right hand has pinched Sean's neck, and his left hand has pinched Sean's right hand holding the sword, although Sean is still struggling, but In terms of strength, it seems to have fallen completely into the disadvantage. At this moment, anyone who can see with their eyes will know that Sean has been completely subdued by this * viscount named Dino.

"As I said, when your occult effect disappears, it is the moment you fail." Dino's mouth raised slightly, revealing a unique charm of evil charm.

"Those people are actually decoys. Your real goal is me." Feeling the strength of Dino pinching his neck, Sean knew that the other party did not intend to kill, at least the other party did not want to twist his neck so easily. .

"You're right, those people were just bait from the beginning." Dino chuckled lightly, then looked provocatively at Rina and the others who were throwing a rat, "Originally, I should break your neck now. "

"Then why not do this?"

"Because I changed my mind." Dino returned his gaze to Sean, facing Sean's eyes, a chill instantly hit Sean's heart, "I said, I want to give you a first embrace. , I want you to become my servant!"

While saying this, Dino's eyes turned blood red, and at the same time he opened his mouth to reveal his blood-sucking fangs: "Welcome to the world of our blood."

Chapter 104: .The real soul

The corners of Sean's mouth raised slightly, and there was a thick smile in his eyes: "Did you know?"

It seemed that he heard the sudden sound of Sean, Dino stopped biting Sean's neck and turned his head slightly to look at Sean, his eyes were a little bit more joking: "Know what? No matter what I know. I don't know what, but I believe you will soon know that becoming a blood clan...especially being the blood of me, Dino Assama, what a... uh..."

Dino hadn't spoken yet, when Sean suddenly vomited hard, he spit out the contents directly into Dino's mouth and slid directly into his throat.

"Uh...ah..." Dino subconsciously made a swallowing motion because of the conditioned reflex action, which made his face look very difficult to look instantly, "You worm, you dare to treat the noble like that. Samay! I will tear you to pieces!"

At the same time, Dino bit on Sean's neck.

"You have no chance."

Almost at the same time that Sean was speaking, Dino was already biting on Sean's neck. But the feeling of this bite does not have the tactile sensation of fangs cutting into the skin, but the sensation of biting on some kind of metal. If Dino's blood-sucking fangs are not strong enough, this bite goes up and says He might even break his fangs. When Dino took a closer look, he saw that Sean's neck and even half of his face had been plated with a metallic silver.

Curse seal. Silver scales!

This defense skill. Now Sean has rarely used it, mainly because after his combat effectiveness has been greatly strengthened, few opponents can force him to use this special hole card. And the person who had the privilege of seeing this hole card in the first place. Basically, they have become the dead souls under the sword of Sean, so in the intelligence against Sean, no one knows the hole card that Sean hides the most.

Of course, the [Curse Seal. Blood Charm] that matches the silver scale is also a secret.

A few sparks splashed from Sean's neck.

The vampire's fangs were so hard, it was a little bit beyond Sean's expectations.

Although from the point of view of the bite just now, based on Sean's rich experience, it was immediately judged that the sharpness and penetrating power were about 30 points or less. But it was very close to thirty. It was only because of lack of sufficient intelligence data to compare, so Sean could not speculate for the time being whether the fangs of vampires above the earl rank should be harder. If it is, then relying on the third-level silver scales can't resist it.

"What is this!" Dino let out a crazy growl. "A stunt to increase the speed of your death." Sean sneered, and then exerted a slight force on his right hand, but Dino's left hand firmly grasped Sean's right hand like a pliers, and he wanted to break free with Sean's current strength. Somewhat difficult.

"Do you think you can break free?" Dino let out a low growl from his throat. "I don't believe you can stop my fangs!"

Suddenly exerted force again, Xiao En felt a slight pain in his neck.

There were cracks, spreading like a spider web on the silver skin on Sean's neck, which surprised Sean.

"You gave me a lot of actual combat intelligence on the blood race."

Shaun's expression was somewhat solemn, because his experience with the blood clan was only limited to the data in the original game. This is the first time he has played against the blood clan in this reality. However, through this match, Xiao En has already obtained a lot of information about the blood race, and this information is already enough to give Shaun a sufficient advantage in the next scene where it is possible to face the blood race. This is the biggest gain from tonight's fight.

"But it's a pity." Sean murmured softly, as if whispering, "You have no chance."...

"Ha..." Dino wanted to let out a mocking sneer. But when the laughter sounded from the depths of his throat, there was a sudden and intense pain in his body.

This kind of severe pain starts in the stomach, it feels like the whole stomach is suddenly grasped by one hand and then squeezed into a ball, and it is necessary to rub a few more vigorously, but when the hand is released, it is already It was found that what was pinched in his hand had broken. Immediately afterwards. It was this severe pain that began to spread in all directions in the body, as if countless hands were constantly tearing.

Dino's face instantly distorted. Even the strength to catch Sean has been lost, and he can only hold his body in pain, staggering backwards.

A peculiar burnt smell began to fill the air.

Dino suddenly tore off his gorgeous costume, and he saw that many black spots had appeared on his body, and the burnt smell was emitted from these spots. And what's even more incredible is that these spots are constantly expanding and quickly become patches of black spots. At this time, the burnt smell becomes more obvious, and one of the black spots even bursts and flows out. The bright red blood mixed with silver luster.

"What is this!" The pain on Dino's body became more obvious, and even the self-recovering power of the holy blood race could not recover these injuries.

"Holy water condensed by a lot of grace." Xiao En moved his right hand a little, then said with a light smile, the silver scales on his face have completely disappeared, because he is not sure whether Dino's counterattack is scary enough, so Xiao En hasn't released this ability for the time being, "It's the thing that I vomited into your mouth just now.... I think you should be proud, the amount of that thing is about the same as you completely soaked in the holy water."

"You!" Dino seemed to want to drink something angrily, but just opened his mouth, it spewed out blood with a lot of holy water.

There is no doubt that the organs of Dino's body have been completely melted by the holy water.

"Don't worry, after you die, I will engrave an epitaph for you on your tombstone." Sean raised his left hand, and then tapped a few times from right to left in midair, "Never be there. Soak in the holy water... What do you think?"

"I'm going to kill you!" Dino is like a move that all lunatics who lose their minds would do. He rushed towards Xiao En with a grim face.

"You don't have this chance." Xiao En's face gradually turned cold, and once again activated the light-body surgery, he slowly raised his right hand.

this moment. In Sean's eyes, the whole world seemed to be still.

is like the tranquility before the storm, silent and depressed almost crazy.

At this moment, the same is true.

But the only difference is that Dino, who is in front of Sean, has a more shocking fear. It seemed that even the soul would be frozen for it, it was a kind of real fear and panic rising from the depths of the soul. The thought that crazily turned in his brain was to get him away from Sean immediately. Even if the whole body is corroded by the holy water, it is better than facing Xiao En right now.

But, no matter how strong the thought of running away, Dino's legs seemed to be completely nailed. Completely unable to move, he could only watch as Xiao En lifted the sword flat, and then began to stab out in front of him with one sword and one sword.

This sword is amazingly the starting style for soul-suppression!

A long, long time ago, Beth once said that Soul Resurrection is a fast sword. The more swords pierced, the greater the power.

Sean, has always believed that it was true.

Until Edward was forced to retreat with his soul in the capital. And after breaking through the golden realm, Xiao En finally had a clearer understanding of soul-saving.

That is, Beth's words are actually misleading.

Of course, if it is purely to activate with proficiency points. In fact, there is no misleading. But if you rely on self-study to master this sword skill, then this is not something that can be solved soon, but a certain skill and a powerful force beyond anyone can grasp.

For example, agility and endurance.

Rather than, agility and strength.

In the real vision beyond the reach of others. Shaun "imitated" Beth's original actions, holding the long sword in his hands straight into the air.

His shots seem to be completely irregular. It just covered most of his body, piercing out with one sword from the east to the west. But with each increase in the sword, there will be a thick shadow of the sword in the air, just like the thick ink splashed on rice paper, which is clearly visible, so there are forty-nine clearly visible in the entire mid-air. Sword Shadow-Of course only Sean can see it, but perhaps the blood clan Dino can also see this amazing scene.

The coverage of the forty-nine sword shadows looks messy and dense, but if you stand in front of Xiao En, it is not difficult to see that the forty-nine sword shadows are actually arranged like a spiral. The front has the length and the short, the sword after the sword is overlapped in a spiral from the outside to the inside, only the narrow gap in the middle is exposed.

At the beginning, Sean was standing on the side looking at Beth's sword, so he naturally did not discover the mystery of soul-saving.

This is where Beth misled Sean.

The real greatest mystery of the soul-suppression lies in the spiral arrangement of sword shadows, like the relationship between a magic circle and a spell.

The last sword shot was the core key to activate this magic circle.

With Xiao En's current strength, he can only stab fifty swords, reaching the minimum standard of soul-suppression.

Then, Dino watched as Sean was still holding the Black King flat, and then stabbed the last sword in the narrow blank passage left by the entire array of spiral sword shadows.

In an instant, the situation changed color!

As if the ancient magic circle was finally activated.

Such slow motion only exists in the sight of Sean and Dino. In the eyes of the outsiders nearby, it was nothing more than Dino rushing towards Xiao En frantically, and then Xiao Enping lifted the Black King, stabs a sword towards Dino who rushed towards him, and then there was a discoloration like a wind and cloud. A deep black beam shot from Sean's sword.

When the black beam of light ran across, Dino's entire body had completely disappeared in front of Sean.

Not only Dino's body, but everything blocking Sean's front direction, whether it's alive or dead, even the land more than three inches above the ground, completely disappeared and turned into nothingness.

Not even a trace of powder floating around appeared.

This is the soul rejuvenation.

Look at all the creatures in the world, if there are those who disagree, town!

After a sword, the breath of horror finally began to slowly dissipate.

At this time, no one noticed that a woman in disguise was slipping away quietly among the dumbfounded residents of Hakons.

The woman was extremely fast, leaving the crowd, but with only a few breaths of effort, she had already moved away from Hakons Town, and came to a dense forest on the outskirts of Hakons Town. In this dense forest, there is a very faint smell of blood, but the smell is obviously not the kind of blood with slight rust unique to humans, but a more intense smell. It is obvious that this It is not human blood.

A young man who stepped on the body of an unknown monster, frowned slightly after seeing the woman's return: "I hope you bring good news."...

"Unfortunately, it's still bad news." The woman pulled off the camouflage on her face, revealing a stunning face. She was Monica who had dealt with Sean before. The special forces have been wiped out."

"Really?" The young man seemed to have expected it and didn't care at all, "Then what about the * lord? Is he dead? How many followers are he left?"

"Haha, you don't seem to understand what I mean." Monica sneered, "Then I re-statement, the annihilation of the army I said means that all of your people are dead, but the other person is not damaged. ...So, do you understand?"

"It's impossible!" The young man froze for a moment, and then said with an angry expression, "They are all strong men I have hired from the martial arts festival with a lot of money. Everyone is a warrior who has experienced many battles. How could it not even be solved by one of that brute's subordinates! That is a total of seventeen high-ranking golden experts!"

"I think you have to thank the lord for this matter." Monica said lightly, "I don't think you know, your loyal follower is actually a blood clan, right? It's still a viscount from one of the thirteen clans. If it's not for Sean Connery to help you bury him, once the matter of his blood clan is stabbed out, not only you, but even the family behind you Suffer."

Hearing Monica's words, the young man's face suddenly whitened: "This...this is impossible!"

"I think it is necessary for you to check it out first. Some of your followers recommended to you or who are close to that follower, and several of them were embraced by him for the first time." Ka Shen Sheng said, "Now, I very much doubt your command and leadership ability, so I have to participate in all your next plans, otherwise I can only stop our cooperation."

Chapter 105: . Chaos in Peace

Monica still has one piece of information that she did not tell the young man.

That is the sword skill that Sean has mastered.

This is the first time that Monica has seen Sean use such a sword skill. No such information has appeared in any previous intelligence. But Monica is not sure what the conditions for Sean's use of this sword skill are, because if the sword skill is so strong that it is sufficient to determine the outcome of the battle, then it will be displayed from the earliest time. The chaos and danger behind the battle.

But Xiao En waited until he was restrained by the blood clan named Dino before using this sword skill. Moreover, before using this sword technique, it was obvious that some secret method was used to weaken the fighting power of this blood clan, but because of the distance, Monica could not understand what kind of secret method it was, naturally. It is impossible to determine whether this secret method is only effective for the blood race or it can be effective for all enemies.

Of course, the more important thing is that Monica is still unable to determine whether this sword skill used by Sean cannot be activated instantly, and there must be a prerequisite for preparation? Because Sean stabbed the sword that shocked the audience when Dino was nearly seriously injured and weak, and he still held the weapon flat and made a three-second standstill-for an assassin like Monica , The static time of three seconds was enough for her to kill Sean more than ten times at that distance, provided that she was not as badly injured and weak as that blood clan.

All kinds of uncertainties prevented Monica from confirming the authenticity of this information, so she decided to hibernate and look for the next opportunity to explore the information.

But before that, she has successfully obtained the recognition of this young nobleman, and she can participate in all the following plans for Sean and make corresponding suggestions. This means that the other party has already shared information and resources with her. But she can selectively conceal some information.

Monica stood outside the dense forest, looking in the direction of the small town of Hakons, with the corners of her mouth slightly raised.

She has mastered all the initiative.

The next step is to find a suitable time to harvest.

At the same time, it is located on the side of the small town of Hakons. It is also a tense atmosphere.

Although there are not many residents in the small town of Hakons. There are only a few hundred people, but when all men, women and children choose to stand together in silence, the momentum is still enough to make people feel a little timid. At least those adventurers and mercenaries obviously didn't want to wade into this muddy water. Therefore, he chose to be a third party and gathered silently on one side of the open space, watching the confrontation between the remnants of Harkons and Sean and others with cold eyes.

Of course, instinctively speaking, they naturally hope to be hired by one of them, especially Sean and others. After all, after seeing the terrifying combat power of Sean and others, with the strength of their adventurers and mercenaries. Naturally, I don't want to be an enemy, after all, no one would be willing to die so easily. As for Sean and others, facing the phalanx of the remnants of Harkons, Rena and others would naturally not care at all. In their opinion, if these townspeople dared to make trouble, then they would not mind killing a group of people. Come to Liwei. Only Sean couldn't see any change in expression on his face. But my heart is still a bit more nervous, because if the party's speculations in the game are correct, then Hakons Town is definitely not as simple as it seems on the surface.

In addition to Vinia and Marton who are resting, Rina and Cecilia are cleaning the battlefield.

said it was cleaning the battlefield, but in fact there was nothing worth taking away from Rena and Cecilia. What's more, most of the corpses died in Cecilia's hands-which means that these corpses and their contents were all burned. Of course, if in the past, these corpses actually still have a lot of things worth taking away from Rena, such as weapons and armor. After all, being a mercenary is not a profitable business.

In the night breeze, there are wailing sounds.

It was the cry of the owner and the proprietress of the Wind of Remembrance Hotel.

For the couple, this hotel was their life's painstaking effort, but tonight, their painstaking effort was destroyed by a sudden and unwarranted disaster. For the couple, this battle was indeed There is no disaster. Because they know very well that in this case, they are usually unable to get any compensation. After all, they are in the business of adventurers and mercenaries, so they have some understanding of the things in these two circles: this is the one who owns it. Whoever fists has the right to speak in the circle.

If it is the past, some things will be destroyed at most, so if you take some money to repair it, you will forget it.

But tonight, everything was burned, even including their long-term savings.

The cry in the night wind is full of helplessness and sorrow for the world.

Sean walked forward slowly and came in front of the couple.

It seems that he was terrified by the strength that Sean showed. The man is not too old, but the man with white sideburns stretched out his arms and hugged his wife, and then looked up at Sean, although there was obvious in his eyes. Fear, but his hands are very stable, probably because he thinks that this will make his wife feel safe.

"I am very sorry for what happened tonight." Sean squatted down and stared at the boss.

"Outsiders, you are not welcome here!" A survivor of Harkons suddenly walked out of their crowd and shouted at Sean.

Shaun glanced sideways at the young and robust survivor of Harkons, but quickly passed him and looked at a middle-aged man behind him, even though the middle-aged man was hiding so well that he didn't even let anything. The breath leaked out, but Xiao En could easily capture the breath he had just mentioned in an instant. At the very least, this middle-aged man should be one of the real power managers of this small town of Hakons. At the very least, he should enjoy a relatively high status, similar to the identity of the elder, because of the breath that leaked just now. It is enough to prove that this middle-aged man has the strength of upper level gold.

The small town of Hakons, as expected by the party in the game, is very deep.

"Hampson." Sean retracted his gaze, ignoring the survivor of Harkons.

"You!" This action made the survivor of Harkons extremely annoyed. It seemed that he wanted to rush up to compete with Sean immediately.

But, probably this thought just came out of his mind, and it was instantly extinguished.

An arrow is nailed to his foot about two steps.

In an instant cold sweat broke out on the man's head.

If it wasn't for the middle-aged man who had been jealous of Sean, if he suddenly shot and held his shoulders and held him, it would be with the impulse he had just raised. Then the arrow shot by Marton would definitely shoot through his body.

"We will leave tonight. You don't need to bother." Xiao En looked at the middle-aged man and said in a deep voice, "I admire your unity and strength. But I spit on your behavior.... Sora has strong combat power and cohesion, but have you done anything for this country? Maybe you might think that this country is sorry for you first, but have you tried to fight for or protect it? Even you don't want to work hard to protect, so how about Blame others?"

The elders among the survivors of Harkons bowed their heads. But there was anger on the faces of those young people.

"Leave ten gold coins, and give the rest to the boss." Seeing Hampson, the butler standing by his side, Sean said softly, "I am the lord of the Void Lord and the Void of Lane Kingdom. Duke. I think you should be clear that this battle tonight is just an unsuccessful assassination planned by my enemies. Of course, I'm sorry for hurting others.... I don't know if my gold coin Enough to compensate for your loss tonight. But if it is not enough, you can contact me and I will give you enough compensation at that time. Of course, I also have another plan, if you want. You can move to mine Territory, now my territory is developing, and I believe that there will be many adventurers and mercenaries entering my territory soon, and I will give you rich enough compensation."...

The last sentence was what Shaun said to the owner of the Remembrance Hotel.

Soon, both Cecilia and Rena dealt with everything that was handled, and after Marton confirmed that the situation no longer needed his bow and arrow to deter, he lay down on the carriage again and rested.

After everything was ready again, Xiao En and others did not waste any time, so they set off again in the dark.

At least this time he knew that the next few days should be very safe. And if his enemy is smart enough, then Acorn Grassland will definitely not arrange any more attacks and harassment, because all this will be meaningless, it is better to seize the opportunity to plan a larger-scale attack, maybe it is really true. I hope that Xiao En and others will stay completely.

The townspeople of Hakons Town, just like the adventurers and mercenaries, just watched the departure of Sean and others. But at this time, the moods of the two sides are completely different. At least the remnants of Harkons are no longer so hostile to Sean, even if Sean's words just made them feel insulted, but for the Duke of Void Sean Connery. They were convinced and admired for the strength shown in the war that allowed Ryan to become a kingdom.

But those mercenaries and adventurers will no longer have the idea of accepting Sean's employment. Because past history has proved that any conspiracy or conflict that involves a country's politics or contradictions between aristocrats is extremely tragic and bloody, far from the level that their average mercenaries can participate, and they are better at exploring. Adventurers of similar activities are even worse.

Because this has exceeded the level they can reach.

Furthermore, these mercenaries and adventurers know very well that Ryan, who has swallowed all the resources of Dabion, will only become stronger in the next development. Because more and more powerful adventurers and mercenaries are entering this country, all the contradictions among the nobles that have erupted at this moment are extremely tragic.

Even the foreign envoys who are a guest in the capital at this time will not choose any team, because now is the most dangerous and chaotic time, and it is a pity that time is not on their side, so for them, any As long as a choice produces a little error, the result is unfortunate.

Of course, it is even more unfortunate that not only time is on the side of the Kingdom of Lane, but the harmony and location are also completely on the side of the Kingdom of Lane.

At least, at this moment, whether it is the Kingdom of Hales, the Kingdom of Fascism, the United Nations of the Carrosa Tribe, or the Duchy of Robin, they will not go to war unilaterally with the Kingdom of Lane without allies and support, because it means they It is necessary to face a lion that has just defeated the Kingdom of Darbion and is in a state of strong confidence.

In the night, sitting in the driver's seat of the carriage, Sean asked Rena who was riding Blackstone in a deep voice: "Do you know the identities of those people? Why are there so many powerful people suddenly? If this number is in Lane During the period of the Principality, it almost caught up to one-third of the total of the Principality."

"My lord, but it's not the time of the Principality of Ryan now." Rena replied, "Ryan has now become a kingdom."

"Okay, then." Xiao En said helplessly, "Even if it is a kingdom now, why are there so many powerhouses who are full and idle? You know, although Ryan has swallowed all the resources of Dabion, but this It includes those nobles from the old Darby ang period.... Even if the old Darby expensive clans are divided into two factions, I don't think they are willing to contribute so many golden powerhouses to trouble us."

"My lord, have you forgotten that there is another place that can provide so many powerful people?"...

Xiao En was taken aback for a moment, and then he reacted: "You mean... Wudou Festival?"

"Yes, my lord." Rena nodded, and then said, "Although I am not sure that all those people are contestants from the martial arts festival, I can be sure that there are at least three of them. They are all participants in the martial arts festival, because I have seen them in the group draw ceremony."

"This is indeed my negligence." Xiao En's brows frowned. "The martial arts festival has flooded into so many golden powerhouses, and there are so many nobles watching the game. They will definitely not let it go. The opportunity for my own family to replenish strong combat power and blood.... Maybe the potential newcomers in the Silver Division have also been recruited. The hateful thing is that I didn't even think of this."

"A wise man must have a misfortune, my lord." Rena comforted.

Shaun knows very well that what Rena said is indeed in line with his current situation, because he still hasn't fully adapted to his status as a lord, so there is no such concept as "family", "territory", etc., he At present, it still retains the inherent thinking of the players to a large extent, that is, only pick the best and strongest to use, and will not consider the so-called "cultivation". At least he did not have a fictional "Connor" "Li Family" has a more intuitive impression.

This is Sean's biggest problem now.

He is already a group, not an individual. Moreover, this group is quite different from the so-called team in the game. The group he needs to consider now is the "Connery Family" instead of the "Sean Elite Group."

"But I didn't expect that you would say that the wise man must have lost everything." Xiao En smiled.

"It was taught by Lord William." Rena smiled back. She knew that Sean was still in the mood to make a joke, so it proved that he didn't care about tonight's affairs, and as Rui who had followed Sean for a long time. Na also knows very well that only such Sean can deal with the next battle with a better mentality and strength, because he really doesn't care about the assassination plans of those Ryan nobles, and he has strong enough confidence to deal with such a situation.

"I only hope that the black letterhead with the entire continent as the background color and stamped with the double sword seal has not yet been released." When Sean said this, his tone was unprecedentedly low. "Otherwise, we need face-to-face. The right enemy is not just the idiots from Lane."

Hearing Sean's words, Rena also became solemn.

Double Sword Seal, on the Marvel Continent, besides representing the family crest of the Wayne family, which belongs to the Chenas Empire, it has another meaning.

Miracle mainland famous players list.

Chapter 106: .The list of famous players whose historical trajectory has changed

There is a place in the Chenas Empire that many people on the mainland feel incomprehensible, that is, the place where their ministers of real power live is never on the same street, unlike the Seventh Avenue in the Kingdom of Lane, where almost the whole is gathered. All the nobles in the royal capital. Although many cities in the Chenas Empire also have areas similar to the noble district and the wealthy business district, the Chenas people usually call them the upper city and the lower city.

The important signs distinguishing the two urban areas are the integrity of their public facilities, the intensity of public security patrols, the prosperity of the variety of shops, and so on.

Basically all the nobles and real powers will choose to live in the Shangcheng District, but they will not all live in a certain avenue, but present a form of scattered flowers like ground flowers. Although many people feel inexplicable about this ideology of spiritual fairness, in the eyes of the Zenas people, it is a true fairness and justice without any privileges.

However, the capital of the Chenas Empire, the city named Chena, is a little bit different from other cities in this empire.

This is different, that is, there is no distinction between the upper and lower districts of Chaina.

In fact, many, many years ago, Chena actually had the division of the upper and lower districts, and compared with other cities in the Chenas Empire, the distinction between the upper and lower districts was more obvious and clear, just like many empires. Like first-class kingdoms, nobles always have many privileges, even powerful privileges of taking life and death and doing whatever they want. The naked rule of the law of the jungle, such as the rule of the weak and the strong, is extremely obvious in this kingdom. This situation continued until the emergence of King Peran XV.

Hywes Ro Pellan XV, is the most wise emperor of the entire Pellan dynasty so far, and he repealed more than 30 laws against the crowd. Among them are that the civilians cannot be named hereditary nobles within five generations, the lieutenants of the imperial regiments and the corresponding ranks can only be held by the ranks of the viscount or above, the titles of the earls and above have the exemption for killing civilians, the highest civilians can only become sergeants, and the salary ratio of nobles in the army. A series of decrees such as double the number of civilians and double the merits of noble officers.

One of the most outstanding achievements is probably the extraordinary promotion of Jason Wayne, who is now the  of war.

But it is a pity that the most wise emperor could not escape the murder of the conspiracy, because at that time the entire Chenas Empire had become a chilling state.

later succeeded to become the new emperor of the Chenas Empire. It is the niece of Pellan XV. Fabia.

This also means the end of the Pellan dynasty and the establishment of a new dynasty.

It's just that when the nobles of the entire Chenas Empire think that a queen is easier to manipulate than an emperor as a puppet, no one knows except Jason Wayne. This then twenty-six-year-old Miss Fabia was actually the illegitimate daughter of Pelaren XV. In the next five years, she quickly gathered a powerful army and a group of loyalists and soldiers with the help of Jason Wayne, the future military god, through various public or private means. After that. It was a series of  revenge and dynasty reforms.

It took ten years from Fabia's succession to the completion of the Great Purge and reform of the entire Chenas Empire.

Although this also advertises that the Zenas Empire has completed a Nirvana rebirth, everyone knows that the Zenas Empire is the most vulnerable at this time.

At least at that time, the civil strife caused by the rebel nobles, as well as the rebellion of several neighboring vassals and the invasion of neighboring powers, all concentrated at the same time, and almost the entire continent believed that the Chenas Empire was about to be destroyed. Jason Wayne put down the empire's civil strife in just two and a half months with the momentum of thunder, and ordered the killing of thousands of people including seven noble families.

After , it was to abandon up to two-fifths of the territory of the entire eastern and southern empire, and to use the tactics of solid walls and clear fields to force the enemy invaders to lengthen their battle lines and supply lines. After that, the three-horse light cavalry tactics were used to build dozens of horse teams. Direct attacks on the opponent's supply lines have forced the enemy invaders to invest a large amount of defensive force on these supply lines, increasing the burden on the enemy forces.

At the same time, the strength of the five main legions was invested to build a solid three-layer overlapping line of defense in the southeast. The order of death did not allow any active attack, and it fully resisted the enemy's attack. And he led the strength of a main army, raised the blood flag with the most powerful principality of all the original vassals, and through a series of perfect and precise tactical maneuvers, he steadied this in less than four months. In the Principality, all the nobles, generals, and soldiers throughout the country were massacred, and all the civilians were all used as slaves.

After , within two months, they broke through the armies of the other two vassal countries, beheading all their royal blood, and all the nobles became slaves. Seeing this, the other vassal states immediately announced their surrender and handed over all the domestic troops to Jason Wayne for dispatch and control, completely giving up any initiative. In only nine months or so, all the civil strife in the Chenas Empire was settled, and Jason Wayne could finally put all his energy into the war with the invaders.

However, the fierceness of the battle surpassed all military records on the Marvel Continent, because the main army of the Chenas Empire was composed of 200,000 people. After the rebellion of the vassal country was put down, the one led by Jason There are already less than 60,000 people left in the main army, and all cavalry arms are depleted, and the infantry arms are only two arms, light infantry and archer. Although scholars of later generations generally believed that if the vassal countries resisted for a while, it might be Jason Wayne who would lose, but in any case, Jason Wayne's name as a military  was also established at this time. .

Then there was a two-year land reclamation operation: Jason Wayne first replaced the light cavalry, which was mainly harassment, with armored cavalry, which was mainly harassment and cutting. This is a new type pioneered by Jason Wayne. The cavalry unit is between the light cavalry and the heavy cavalry-to cut off all the supply lines of the enemy country, and put in two main armies and three new armies with a size of 100,000 people at one go to build a whole-hearted defensive front. , Directly realized that the enemy army was cut, and the forward main force became a lone army in depth.

So far. There is basically no suspense about the war.

After two years of lost ground and recapturing operations, the next five years of three-line invasion operations-the Zenus Empire turned over and turned from the defensive side to the aggressor, and it still counterattacked the three invading enemy countries at the same time. The most obvious results are the two main armies led by Jason Wayne, four standard-configured pure infantry regiments, and a combined light and heavy cavalry regiment with a total strength of one million. Based on this, the super-first-class kingdom that should be expected to compete for the name of the empire directly became a third-rate kingdom. Also reduced to a vassal state of the Zenas Empire.

After , history repeats itself just like the surrender of the vassal states before, and the other two invader kingdoms announced their unconditional surrender at the same time. And promised a series of compensation clauses for bereavement and humiliation. After nearly nine years of war in the Zenas Empire, it has finally been completely calmed down, and this ancient kingdom that was considered by many kingdoms and empires to become history not only did not collapse as they expected, but became stronger. stand up.

At this time, Jason Wayne, a powerful general who has been completely recognized as a military god. He was only thirty-six years old. And Fabiya, the 46-year-old Queen of the Zenus Empire, gave the throne to her son the day after Jason Wayne returned home in triumph, and restored the title of the Pellán dynasty. And the new king of the Zenas Empire, who succeeded to the throne as Pellán XVI, was only twenty-three years old at this time.

And in this war, whether it is the Chenas Empire. The three invader kingdoms or the vassal states actually gave birth to many amazing generals, but they were all too loud because of Jason Wayne's name of the  of war, so that in the past nine years The famous generals emerging from here have become a little unknown, just like the war between the southern nobles of Darbion and Sean. The brilliance of people like Stalin, Aldorf, Knock, Alfred, etc. were all concealed by William.

However, they are forgotten by the world, but it does not mean that they will be forgotten by Jason Wayne.

So after the war, Jason compiled a review of these famous generals, but perhaps on a whim, he almost sorted out hundreds of generals who had seen or had actual intelligence inferences over the years, and gave them back. All have carried out a series of three-six-nine divisions. Of course, this sorting of information is naturally a non-public document, just to make the military power of the Zenas Empire stronger. Only the senior generals of the Zenas Empire and the few non-military powerful figures have it. Qualified to read this document.

But I don't know why, but this confidential document has spread throughout the entire Marvel Continent in less than half a year, and almost all the military departments of the kingdoms and empires have a copy. Of course, at that time, no one knows how much influence and change this letterhead with the background color of the cover in black, the world map of the Marvel Continent as the background, and the seal of the Wayne family's double swords printed on the back of the cover will bring. .

And this is also the first time that the Marvel Continent's top players have appeared.

What really made the entire Marvel Continent pay attention to this letterhead was a war between the Chinar Empire and the Podon Kingdom at that time. At that time, the Podon Kingdom, which was only a second-rate kingdom, adopted a series of extremely targeted and thaumaturgic tactics in the face of the invasion of the Qinah Empire. The result of this war not only made the Podon Kingdom ever since. Becoming a super-first-class kingdom even led the Qinah Empire to withdraw from the list of the seven empires, and was an important turning point for its complete destruction.

It is the famous player list from Jason Wayne that caused all this.

Later, when Jason Wayne was forty years old, the second ranking was released again, and it spread faster than the first time. It spread throughout the whole wonderland in less than four months, and even Even the nobles of all empires and kingdoms have a share. It's just that this second time the famous generals list appears, but there is no longer any comment about the famous generals, because in the past five years, those outstanding generals who have been on the first famous general list have almost all died on the battlefield.

Directly nailed to death by the enemy with fully targeted tactics.

However, although there is no comment on this second ranking list, perhaps for the sake of fairness, it still lists the key battle loss data for these famous players to be included in the list. However, such a result is also of no benefit, because after knowing these key data, naturally there will be people who are interested in looking for these battle reports, so as to study targeted tactics. Even if that doesn't work, there are other assassinations.

In the past, I didn't know what kind of generals to assassinate to make a country hit hard, but since there is a famous list, all this is no longer a problem.

For this reason, the major countries finally have to take various protective measures for these outstanding generals on the list.

When the third place is out. Only two months have passed. It has spread throughout the entire continent, but this time, there is an additional "Valkyrie" list after the list of famous players. And absorbed the improvements of the previous two. This time, the list of famous generals has nothing but one name. On the contrary, the Valkyrie's list has a few more words, but it is only a very brief comment that can not be any clue at all.

In the next two years, this third place ranking has undergone seven changes and changes, and the Valkyrie list has gradually increased from two to seven.

Now. It has been five years since the first appearance of the third general list, and the fifty-year-old birthday party of Jason Wayne, the miracle army god, has also passed, so there is no doubt that the fourth general list should also be recently. It will spread throughout the entire continent of Miracles in a few days, because this has become a practice for the past fifteen years.

And people in the entire Marvel Continent believe that this time the transfer speed of the famous generals list may be faster than the last time, and it is estimated that it will not take a month. It will spread throughout the whole wonderland.

It's just, in fact, it's earlier than everyone guessed.

Located in the Lord's Mansion in the Void City, the guards tonight are more strict than in the past.

Not only was the core heavy armored guard of the pitch black wings trained and trained by William himself, but also the core of the dead soldiers of the Cecilia Guards under Commander Clover, the same core guards of the Iron Wings, and the previous guards in Darfur. The veterans of the 1st and 2nd Infantry Regiment and the Infantry Cavalry Regiment who survived the Bien War were also present to coordinate the defense.

at this time. In the large conference room of the Lord's Mansion, the air seemed unusually stagnant and low.

Participants including William, Hella, Klov, Aldorf, Stalin, Knock, Anno, Thain and others were all present. It can almost be said that except for Rena, Alfred, and Dwight, all the high-ranking generals of the void collar have all gathered together. At this time, if someone can kill all of these people, then all the military system of the entire Void Nation will be completely abolished - of course, the premise is that the person who implements the decapitation tactics must at least be a strong man at the sanctuary level.

On the round table in the large conference room, each of these attendees had an opened letterhead in front of them, and there were also two unopened letterheads in the empty space next to them. But regardless of whether it has been opened or unopened, these letterheads are all in a uniform black background, with the Marvel Continent as the background, and are stamped with the double-sword seal of the Marvel Army Jason Wayne.

This, impressively, is the list of famous players in the mainland of miracle!

However, if you look closely, you will still find that these letterheads are slightly different from the general Miracle Continental Masters list letterhead, because there are golden fringes on the edge of the letterhead, and there is also a pure line on the letterhead that serves as a symbol of binding. Gold thread.

It is rumored that only the outstanding generals on the famous generals list will receive the famous generals letterhead with gold fringing and pure gold thread.

In this small meeting room, everyone is on the list of famous players!

Regardless of ranking high or low, so many famous generals gathered together, not only belonged to the same force, but also belonged to the same person. This is definitely news that is enough to shock anyone! What's more terrifying is that this news is completely impossible to hide. I am afraid that the whole of Lane will know this news tomorrow morning, and then in a few days, all the countries around Lane will know.

Next, the situation they need to face will be countless times more dangerous, and various assassinations will become the most common scenario in their lives.

But if the ranking is relatively low, then the pressure to face is actually much less.

Unfortunately, among all the people sitting in this room at this time, the pressure that two people have to face is absolutely enough to make people who are in a poor state of mind go crazy.

William played with a black seal on his hand. This is a seal almost as thick as a gold coin. On the front is engraved with the double sword emblem from the Jason Wayne family, and there is an engraved in the middle of the double sword hilt. It represents the number "four", and the back is engraved with a "seven" that also represents the number. The whole seal is smooth and cool at the beginning, and it is not clear what material it is made of, but I am afraid that the material should be extremely good, and I don't know who is so big and willing to pay such a blood.

This seal has a name called "Certificate of Famous Generals". It is said that only those who are on the list of famous generals will receive it.

The number in the middle of the double sword hilt in the front of the certificate of the famous generals represents the number of generations of famous generals. At this time, the "four" above refers to the fourth famous generals list; and the number on the back represents the ranking. The ranking of the famous generals list, like the one in William's hand, represents the meaning of his ranking seventh on the famous generals list at this time.

"I knew, I should have kept a low profile at the beginning, but now I am in a lot of trouble." William showed a helpless wry smile.

"Do you think my troubles are alleviated?" Hella gave William a blank look, and pointed her finger at the certificate of his famous general.

William, who has already seen the list, is of course very clear that Hella's ranking is only one place lower than himself, ranking eighth. And among the top 30, there was one of the people present, Klov, ranked twenty-four; Aldolf, Stalin, Knok, and Thain were the finalists who swept the 47th to the 50th. Four seats; Anno, the steel-winged commander, just bit the tail of the famous generals list, ranking the 100th.

Of course, the other two letters are addressed to Rena and Alfred respectively.

On the list of famous players, these two people are also the big figures in the top 30, ranking 27th and 19th respectively. It's just that although Rina is ranked 27th, she also has another status: the Valkyrie.

The eighth Valkyrie on the Marvel Continent, the Valkyrie of Lei!

In terms of identity strength alone, Rena's value is much greater than that of Alfred and Clover.

Similarly, William also saw many old acquaintances on this list.

Menso Helian, ranked tenth, Asuna G. Evans, ranked twelfth, Vivienne Michel, ranked eighteenth, and even a few who happen to be in the current identity of Sean. A member of the opposing Sené nobility faction.

Jason Wayne once said: "War is the best way to screen famous generals."

And now, this sentence has been the most perfect testimony and embodiment at this moment- not counting the followers of Sean, there are close to ten famous generals born in the Kingdom of Lane. And the main reason why there are so many people under the command of Sean is on the top of the list, the main reason is that the biggest competition between the two countries was the southern battlefield, and Sean's victory was also the biggest key point and turning point of the whole battle.

It's just that, Sean knows very well, but now that he is put on the table toplessly, he is not happy at all.

And if he can see this list, he will not only not be happy, but will be extremely frightened on the contrary.

Because the characters recorded in this famous list are completely different from the list in his memory.

Chapter 107: .Son of the Tiger Father

Jason Wayne grew up in a single-parent family. His mother ran away with others when he was very young. It was his father who pulled him up. And when he was seventeen years old, he was appreciated by Pelarn XV. In fact, there are many coincidences. Even Jason himself once said that if he was one second slower or one second faster that day, Neither will meet Pelarn XV. So after he became a military god, he did not move away from his house in the lower city, because it was only one block away from where he and Pellarn XV met.

Because Jason Wayne did not move out of the Xiacheng District, this prompted the city to completely abolish the boundary between the Shangcheng District and the Xiacheng District, which indirectly led to the prosperity and development of the city.

Jason Wayne, now fifty years old, did not show any fatigue or oldness, even though his head is full of silver threads, but his hair still looks shiny, and the skin on his body is still full of elasticity. Unlike ordinary fifty-year-olds, the skin has lost any elasticity, and even age spots will appear. From Jason's various physical signs, we can get clear proof that the old man still persists in a lot of exercises, and has not stopped these physical exercises because of his age. Of course, the guards who followed Jason were even more aware that the army  they respected still maintains extremely good work and rest habits, and his self-discipline requirements have reached the state of a saint.

At this time, the military  is standing in front of a window. From the position where he is standing, he can see the place where he and Pellarn XV met.

Now this place. It has been planned as a small square. There are two statues in the center of the square. The sculptures are exactly the scene when Jason and Pellarn XV met. Although it was copied according to the dictation of the guards of King Pellarn XV at the time. But in fact, there is still a slight difference from the scene in Jason's memory, but he will not waste the slightest energy on this kind of thing.

Because it is meaningless.

Slowly retracting his gaze, Jason turned around and faced a young man standing in front of him.

This man looks handsome, well-proportioned and strong. The black military uniform exclusively used by the senior officers of Emperor Qinasi's body is worn on his body, revealing a cruel and murderous aura. Maybe this. It also has a lot to do with the murderous aura that emanated from him that was very similar to that of Jason Wayne, but if you look closely. It can be found that there are many similarities between this young man's eyebrows and Jason Wayne. Rowe Wayne.

Jason Wayne's eldest son.

If you want to say which of the younger generations of the Wayne family in the Chenas Empire is most like Jason Wayne, it must be Philo Wayne. Because he worked hard to become the commander of the 14th Army of the Zenus Empire eight years ago. At that time, Rowe Wayne was only eighteen years old, only later than Jason Wayne's chance encounter with King Peran XV. One year. But it was three full years earlier than Jason Wayne who became a legionary commander.

After , Rowe Wayne led the Fourteenth Army to the southern frontiers of the empire and fought against the barbarians there for eight years. In one fell swoop, the Fourteenth Legion, which was not even a second-rate Legion, was abruptly honed into the super-first-class Legion of the Zenus Empire—just in the Emperor's performance before Jason Wayne's 50th birthday banquet. The Fourteenth Army defeated the Burning Eagle Legion, which had been the champion for four consecutive years in Emperor Yan.

You should know that although the Burning Eagle Legion is not a legion trained by Jason Wayne himself, it is also one of the ten main armies of the empire. Before that, apart from having a registration number in the Imperial Ministry, no one knew what the army was doing.

Until this time. The Fourteenth Army became the champion of the emperor's performance.

Standing in front of his father, Rowe Wayne can finally raise his head full of confidence once. Because he has been living in the shadow of his father for too long. As long as eight years ago, he was completely frustrated and led the 14th Army that he had formed on the road of expedition to the barbarians in southern Xinjiang. In fact, even he himself did not expect that he could really conquer hundreds of barbarians throughout southern Xinjiang and then return triumphantly.

Victories time and time again, success time after time, killing time after time. Finally developed his current confidence, confidence and momentum.

And he finally felt that. I am one step closer to the great father of Jason Wayne.

"Do you think that you have won this military exercise, so you are one step closer to me?" Jason spoke slowly. His voice was neither fast nor slow, but his words were very clear, but even so, it still gave people. An extremely strong sense of coercion.

Hearing this suddenly, Rowe Wayne was taken aback for a moment, and immediately felt a sense of panic that was thoroughly seen through. The self-confidence and pride accumulated over the past eight years was so easily shattered at this moment. The shadow that existed in childhood was instantly enveloped on him. Rowe Wayne even felt aggrieved, as if he was helpless. Like a child, there is a feeling of wanting to cry, and the eyes are already red.

Seeing his eldest son like this, Jason sighed softly. At this moment, he looked more like an elderly father than the aloof miracle war god.

"You have done a good job in the past eight years."

Hearing this, Rowe Wayne even had an illusion.

"However, this is not something you are proud of." Jason Wayne said softly, his tone of voice was as unhappy and not slow as always, but this time it was obviously a little more proud of being a father, "Our family has already Strong enough, but still too young. Although your two younger brothers are also very hardworking, they lack enough talents, so they are not like you, and I have very high hopes.... You need to know that you will be in the future. To support the men of Wayne's family."

This is the first time that the father and son Jason and Luo have such a heart-to-heart exchange.

Before the age of eighteen, Luo's impression of Jason was never-ending learning: military, political, and martial arts. Whatever it is, he will be asked to do his best, at least relative to his two younger brothers. His requirements are always much higher. At that time, he didn't know why. Until today, he finally understood that his father, the miracle soldier god, would also be old, and he would eventually become the patriarch of the Wayne family.

"The Hundred Savage Blood Guards you trained by yourself are very good, as your guard regiment. At the same time, the core main force of the Fourteenth Corps is indeed strong enough.... This time the military exercise contest you are using this force, right? Jason said, "But this is far from enough.... This time the main force of the Burning Eagle Legion did not attend because they went out to perform a special mission. Therefore, it is not considered that you have truly defeated the Burning Eagle. , And... this year's military exercise, several other main empire armies did not participate. Your performance can only convince the other first and second-line armies. But if you want to subdue the main armies of the empire, you are still a little bit close."

"I see." Rowe Wayne nodded, "Father."

"I have one thing on my side, and I can just leave it to you." A rare smile appeared on Jason's face, and then he handed Luo a file bag.

After the latter took the file bag, he opened it, and Luo's face changed with just a glance. Because the information contained in it is impressively the information of the famous generals. But it is completely different from the list of famous players that is circulating on the entire continent. At least this list of players includes the followers of the Void Duke Sean Connery. There are only ten outstanding generals in the entire Kingdom of Lane.

"this is....."

"This one is the general record I am going to put in the military archives for the record." Jason Wayne's face looked more solemn than ever, "The previous one was just a draft I drafted, not really. It's going to be recorded. And I've never shown it to anyone. I've always kept it in this study.... It's so easy to hide it from the guards in the house, and intercept this information without even realizing it. There is only one organization on the entire continent."

"God Eyes?"

"Except this one, there is no one else." Jason said in a deep voice, "When the empire came into being, I made an agreement with God Eye. They helped us build an intelligence network throughout the continent. I acquiesced that they did not involve the empire. They sell some imperial intelligence under confidentiality, even tacitly that they advocate the trade of popular goods. But... these years, their ambitions have been too great, and they have been too far-reaching, so I reorganized the whole intelligence ten years ago. The internet."

Rome silently listened to his father's dictation of these imperial secrets, and listened verbatim.

"This time, they have touched my bottom line." Jason said in a deep voice, his voice added a chilly breath, "You take your 14th legion, and I will authorize you to mobilize all the troops in the empire. The right to act, and your task is very simple..... is to clean up all the members of the God Eyes in the empire. This is a very precious lesson, because you will realize the importance of intelligence, so I hope you Be able to work harder. But once your loss reaches the bottom line of my acquiescence, then I will take care of it myself, and your mission will be a failure at that time."

"I know my father!" Luo Ta walked a military salute, his expression was unprecedented serious, "I will not let you down!"

Jason shook his head, and then said word by word: "It's not to disappoint me, but don't let yourself down.... You obviously haven't realized it. After 30 years of stability, God's eyes have penetrated the whole From the roots of the empire, it is bound to offend many nobles to eliminate all the members of the God Eye. This is another Nirvana rebirth of the empire. I hope you can understand the meaning and cost of this."

Hearing what Jason added again, Luo really realized the arduous task of this time: "If the entire empire is involved, then the main force of the empire..."

"Go and prove to them, your Fourteenth Legion, your Hundred Savage Blood Guards are stronger than them." Jason said without hesitation, "You just need to know that the Double Sword Badge of the Wayne Family is on the Dead Mountain. Just kill them out of the sea of blood."

"Yes!"

"You can take a good rest today, and you can leave tomorrow." Jason nodded, "By the way, our family has no fief so far. I have applied to His Majesty the Emperor. I hope he can conquer you. Piannanjiang is our family territory. His Majesty the Emperor has already agreed.... I have helped you realize the promise you made to the barbarians in southern Xinjiang. But I hope that when you make promises in the future, you will know the consequences. , Don't make promises beyond your ability."

"I follow your teachings."

"Then this time, if the member of the God Eye you meet is your old acquaintance, can you also handle it cleanly?"

"God Eye is the enemy of my father and the enemy of the empire, so it is my enemy!" Rowe Wayne said in a deep voice, "As long as it is an enemy. No mercy! Because the kindness to the enemy is cruel to oneself. It is the poison that hastened our death!"

"Very good." Jason nodded and smiled, "Go and meet your mother, she has been excited about your coming back for several days....and your two younger brothers. I heard that you won. This military exercise is also very excited."...

"Yes, father." Luo also smiled and nodded.

When Luo left the study, Jason turned his head again, through the only window of the study, he cast his eyes on the square again. Before this small square was built, Jason still remembered that there were two equally dilapidated three-storey houses here. It was only because of the construction of this "Encounter Plaza" that they were demolished. He still remembered the two buildings at that time. The owner of the house had to face the painful appearance of the ancestral house being demolished.

Not everyone. They are all willing to let others tear down their ancestral home for the so-called compensation.

Of course, Jason also knows that more people have their houses demolished. Not even a trace of compensation.

It's just that he is the  of war, the person in charge of the entire emperor's affairs, not the person in charge of finances and politics. A soldier like him, even if he knew the handling of government affairs and the handling of the empire's finances, he still did not dare to take risks to contact him, because all of these were taboos.

Slight footsteps sounded in the study. The master of the voice seemed to appear out of thin air.

"grown ups."

"Protect Luo." Jason said softly.

"My lord!" The owner of the voice seemed to be a little excited, "Why don't you tell the young master. Miss Emily is the cadre of God Eye?"

"Because I want to see what kind of decision he will make when he finds it out." Jason said in a deep voice, "I have already hinted at him. This war will make him realize the importance of intelligence, and I have already hinted at it. What kind of enemy he will face... It's just a pity. Although he understands, he still doesn't know. This war has already begun from the moment I talked with him."

"My lord, if you do this, the eldest master is likely to hate you forever..."

"It's better than he died before me in the future." Jason's voice is still low, but he reveals an irresistible taste, "Also, you'd better not do extra things, I know that with your means It's very simple to pretend that Emily was assassinated, but you have to know that Emily is not only a member of God Eye, but the whole family behind her is on God Eye's side, so Once Luo discovers this, guess what will he think?"

The voice behind Jason fell silent suddenly.

"Since he is my son and the future heir of the Wayne family, he must bear all this." Jason's voice suddenly became lighter, "I know you have guarded him in Southern Xinjiang for eight years. You have already regarded him as your child, but you have to remember that once I fall down, then my enemies over the past 30 years will surely gang up and attack, if he can't keep it by then, then they will What kind of situation has it become?"

"But....."

"Nothing." Jason shook his head, "Since I have chosen the path of loneliness, then it is destined that my enemies will only be more, not less.... In fact, from the very beginning, Emily When I came to approach Luo, I already knew what she was thinking. The reason why I didn't object or break it was for today. Of course, if I had to say something, then from the day I cooperated with God Eye, I I knew there would be such a day, so I spent thirty years setting up this game, and everything was just to make the empire prosper again."

"grown ups....."

"Zhiyu Plaza, which means the grace of knowing." Jason's gaze fell on the two statues, and the memory seemed to go back to the height of summer 33 years ago. "That year, Perron XV His Majesty the King said to me. He asked me if I want to change the empire and make her rebirth from Nirvana to become stronger. I said yes, and then he told me, then, in the future, everything you do will be required. Keep one principle in mind."...

Speaking of this, Jason Wayne slowly turned around and looked at the person standing behind him: "Do you know what it is?"

"For Chenus."

"Yes." Jason nodded slowly, "For the empire! For Zenus! ... This sentence is engraved on the stone stele in Zhiyu Square. Anyone who goes to the square will remember this sentence. But they Never know, there is actually a second sentence."

Looking directly at the person standing in front of him, Jason slowly uttered the second sentence spoken by King Perron XV, which was not written on the stone stele at Zhiyu Square: "Be loyal to the people! Be loyal to Chaina." Si!"

For the Empire! For Zenus!

Loyal to the Empire! Loyal to Zenus!

Thirty-three years, Jason Wayne has been abiding by this principle and acting.

Everyone believes that the military * of the Marvel Continent, the most legendary figure of the Chenas Empire is a lone minister who is loyal to the throne and loyal to His Majesty the Emperor. The most obvious feature is that he only obeyed the orders of Queen Fabia fifteen years ago. He only obeyed the orders of the current King Perron XVI and never managed cronies. But in fact, Jason Wayne would choose to obey the orders of Queen Fabia, purely because she was really thinking about the Zenus Empire, and the reason why she would obey the orders of Perron XVI later was also It's just for the same reason.

Once someone commits an act that endangers the Chenas Empire, then he will not hesitate to slay the butcher knife.

Even if this person is the emperor sitting on the throne.

Because he is a lone minister loyal to the people, not a lone minister loyal to the throne.

Everything is for the empire, and only loyal to the empire.

"I see, sir." The person standing in front of Jason nodded slowly, "I will take care of the young master, and I will never let him lose any."

"Thanks for your hard work." Jason Wayne nodded slowly, "As long as you don't do unnecessary things, it's okay.... He must grow up as soon as possible, the sooner the better. He has gotten a transformation. If he can understand the importance of this civil war this time, then he can get real Nirvana, so I can rest assured."

"My lord, have you forgotten? There is an old saying in our empire that there is no dog but a tiger father. I believe that the young master can take the Wayne family flag from you and let this flag continue to fly."

Chapter 108: .The nobles of Sené conspired

It's not just Sean who received the letter of the famous star list from Divine Eye scattered throughout the Marvel Continent.

To be correct, it's just that people who have been on the list will know the news a bit earlier than others. However, things like the list of famous generals that are completely enough to affect the structure of the major kingdoms and empires of the entire continent can not be hidden at all, unless the eyes of the gods can no longer steal the general records made by Jason Wayne. Of course, even if there is a list of famous generals, it does not really mean that the kingdom with these famous generals is the most powerful.

As Jason Wayne said: War is the best way to screen famous generals.

Only the generals who have been honed in countless wars will be the real celebrities. Because in the past ten years, there have been countless generals who have been on the list of famous generals when they went to war with other kingdoms, tribes, and barbarians, but were defeated by unknown generals. Although these examples have made many kingdoms and empires defeated. Everyone knows that the name of the "star" that really deserves the name of the famous player is probably only the top ten people, and the latter ones are probably just making up the numbers.

But with this kind of scorn and contempt, after all, there are only a few empires and super-first-class kingdoms, and most other kingdoms can still only use some small conspiracy methods to deal with these so-called famous generals.

Just three days after William and others received the list of famous generals, those nobles with a little strength and heritage in the Ryan Kingdom have all received this list of famous generals sent by God's Eye. It's just that when these nobles saw this list, they had quite different ideas in their hearts. At least the faction of the nobles of Sené who had been out there. At this time, there are two more voices, instead of just maintaining a unified thought as before.

But no matter how intense the debate between these two new voices is, their core ideas are the same. That is winning.

The only difference is that most nobles believe that they should draw Sean over and let him join the noble faction of Sené, instead of pushing him to the opposite side and handing over to the noble faction outside of Senegal.

The main argument for this kind of thinking is that Sean was also Asuna's pioneering knight. And Asuna was a nobleman born and raised in Ryan from the beginning, no matter how they were, they should be regarded as members of the noble faction of Sené, and as long as they could win

Sean. Then Asuna and Roald will naturally join the faction of their Sene nobles, so that they can grow stronger, thus realizing the real suppression of Darbyan's old party nobles, which is what they are today. Nobles outside the Great Wall.

In some ways. Such calls should indeed become mainstream.

But some people don't think so.

The reason is that Sean did not appear on the star list. In other words, the lord is actually not worthy of his name. His achievements today are entirely the credit of those under his men. So why do you want to win such a waste? They really need to draw these people into the circle of the Sené nobility in order to strengthen the strength and heritage of their faction, but the people who need to draw should be the followers of Sean, not Sean himself.

The main targets are William and Hella, followed by Rena, Alfred, Clover and others.

Those who put forward this statement are all relatively powerful nobles. As a lion nobleman. They have already accumulated ample accumulation in terms of history and background, and it is only because of various reasons that they finally failed to let the family move forward again. So this kind of people have a thought: Since the young man named Sean can grow to today's scale by relying on those followers, then they only need to provide ten times or a hundred times the value that Sean can give them. People won't change camp?

Feeling that the circle of the entire Sené nobility faction is faintly divided. The old Ryan nobles who first gathered are naturally very troubled, but they also know that no matter what they say at this time, they are obviously all Can't play any role, only when those people really hit the wall, they will understand the truth of some things.

But to say that the most uncomfortable mood is probably none other than the Dovigo family.

In order to obtain the rationality and support of public opinion for revenge on Sean, they even secretly made a blood revenge situation. The child whose hand was cut off by Sean had already been buried underground. For this reason, they finally got the acquiescence of this attack against Sean, but to what extent the scope and bottom line of this acquiescence are, but no one is sure—but now, the Dovigo family can be sure of this. The scope and bottom line of this acquiescence may soon be rejected.

And all of this is because of the appearance of the famous list.

At this time, it was located in the mansion belonging to the Dovigo family in the royal capital-this mansion was not particularly damaged during the Edwardian riots. Although it was damaged due to panic and the shock wave of the battle, it only needs to be repaired. It can be restored to its original appearance. Of course, other things are similar to freezing of ice crystals or some changes in the terrain. There is no way to solve this-there are five people sitting in the patriarch's private meeting room.

Except for one of the patriarchs of the Dovigo family, the remaining four are the core members of the Sené nobility faction, including Michael Att, Marquis of Thornweed, who has the same ownership as the Evans and the Saber family. Karlovy Fenlistine, the owner of the Fenlistin family with a long history, owns the Marquis of Foz Cebarkos, who is known as the "Silent Mountain" of Ryan's strongest infantry regiment, and the former Darby expensive family. Roja Calci, one of the Duke of Ryan.

Roja Calci's family and the Boulder family have been at odds since Dabion was founded, and almost all the nobles understand the principle that "the enemy of the enemy is a friend", so Roja Calci joined The faction of the nobles in Sené seems to be a matter of course. In addition, it also played a role in the differentiation of the expensive family of the old Darby, and this effect can be described as "outstanding effect" in the current situation.

"Has the Marquis of Rodis not made a clear statement yet?". Although the status of the Dovigo family is only a real marquis and its influence is relatively limited, he enjoys a certain status among the young and Zhuang officers of the Royal Military Department, so it can be regarded as a potential stock in the circle of the Sené nobility faction. , They are naturally core members, "What do they want to do!"

"The candidates for the successor of the Rhodes family are now proceeding to the most critical point. I am afraid that even if they have the mindset, they will not have the time or energy to provide any support." The Marquis of Ceballoques, "I guess the old Roddis probably wants to give this opportunity to the next Patriarch."

"I heard that among the two people competing for the position of the Lord of the Rhodes, one of them is your son?" someone said again.

"He is no longer a member of the Ceballoques family." Marquis Foss Ceballoques said lightly, "Let us return to the subject, on the question of Sean Connery. , I think it is necessary for us to reach an agreement. As for the following people no matter how noisy, after we make a decision, they can only choose to comply, the will of the next person does not need to be considered."

"I think the biggest problem should be those old guys." The Patriarch of the Dovigo family said in a deep voice. Those of the Duke's followers? Just as a reward for the title, Sean can make all his followers be an earl, and there are even two hereditary marquis positions, and with the vastness of the void now. , Wouldn't it be more than enough to draw out two Marquis collars!"...

"Their family has suffered bottleneck development for too long, and they have forgotten the essence of nobility." This time, it was the leader of the noble faction of Sené, Michael Att, Marquis of Thornweed. A typical aristocratic person with the highest interests, although he did not get the title of Duke, but in terms of overall strength, he is not inferior to any of the seven Duke of Ryan today. Perhaps the only fatal flaw is There are not enough good generals.

"Even if you want to win over those followers of Sean, it must be based on the fact that Sean is dead." Michael Att said softly, "I support Lord Dovigo's proposal, but given that my territory is more It's too far to coordinate with the mobilization of troops. Therefore, in this operation, I will convert all the responsibilities that I need to bear in cash."

"I can send a team of Silent Mountain troops to work together."

"After the Acorn Prairie is the border of my territory, I will prepare the Grey Wolf Blade troops in disguise. However, before the encircling net is formed, the Grey Wolf Blade will only contain, delay and harass. After the encirclement net is completely formed, I will let Gray Wolf Blade order a death attack."

The Grey Wolf Blade of the Fenlistine family is a very mobile mountain and jungle combat unit. Although its combat power is not as good as the mountain lion army of Darbion, the application range of the Grey Wolf Blade is better than the mountain. The Lion Army is much larger, at least this is not an army that only specializes in mountain warfare. Just as the name of the army has the word wolf, the blade of the gray wolf is particularly good in pursuit and harassment warfare, and as long as the enemy relaxes slightly, then they will really bite a large piece of flesh and blood like a pack of wolves. .

"The places where I can provide support are very limited." Roha Calci was silent for a while, and then said, "Because now, if the sanctuary powerhouse is mobilized to take action, it will inevitably cause a great backlash, but if it is not Sanctuary For the strong, I guess it will be difficult to kill Sean. But... The Black Hawk owes me a favor, and I can let him take the shot himself. As for when I want to choose to take the shot, I will leave this opportunity to you to decide."

Chapter 109: .anxiety

Not long after leaving the small town of Hakons, Xiao En and others officially entered the Acorn Prairie.

The barrenness of this grassland is obvious to all in Ryan. It is said that this result was caused by the extremely tragic blood war that broke out here when Ryan established the country. The entire land was infiltrated with blood, and the bodies of those who died were also buried on the spot, so it completely changed the quality of the land.

Of course, Sean, who came across from the earth, feels that this is simply nonsense.

Whether it is blood or corpses, it will indeed change the geology of the land, but it will make the land more fertile, not barren.

Since this world is a world that cannot be recognized and identified by scientific common sense, Sean would rather believe that the acorn prairie is a cursed land-this is also an internal argument put forward by the Helson Institute for nearly a hundred years, but these are not the same. Sean has nothing to do with half money. Similarly, he hasn't been great enough to save the villagers on this grassland in the deep waters. For him, if he quickly returns to the Void Nether, he needs the most attention at the moment.

But I don't know if it was Sean's political opponents who gave up meaningless kid harassment tricks, or were planning other conspiracies. In short, Sean did not encounter any attacks during the first three days of entering the Acorn Prairie. Or harassment. Of course, Sean didn't go to the village on the return route to stay overnight in order to hurry. At least he had the subconscious idea of not wanting to hurt others.

"How many days will it take to leave the Acorn Prairie?" On the carriage, Xiao En asked.

"According to our traveling speed, we can leave the boundaries of the acorn prairie probably by tomorrow morning."

Rena thought for a moment. Then he replied. She has an extremely keen intuition for distance, speed, and time. Basically, she rarely makes mistakes, even if there are occasional deviations. The journey usually takes no more than an hour, so when she was a mercenary before, the marching route and distance were all judged by Rina. And now, although Rena's strength has been greatly improved, she is still the commander of a legion, but some instinctual things do not mean that changes can be changed.

"Why are those guys so peaceful these days." Xiao En frowned slightly, "With the character of those guys. It is impossible to let us leave so easily. Now we are almost crossing the entire acorn prairie, but they actually paid it back. No action. This is really incredible."

"After crossing the acorn prairie, our return route will pass through the territory of the Finlisting family." Rena reminded her.

"Fenlisting family?" Sean was taken aback for a moment, and then he remembered that he had killed a member of the Finlisting family who had been sent for gilding on the southern battlefield. And this is also an important reason that led to the affair with the Finlistine family. "This family didn't seem to have any particularly eye-catching actions and contributions in the Battle of Darbion before. Later, when William investigated the family, did he find any other information?"

"According to the report of the Void Realm, the Fenlistine family has a long-established veteran force called the Grey Wolf Blade. They are particularly good at fighting in the jungle and mountains. Before the fall of the mountain lion army, they had a history of four fights, two One win and one draw." Rena put out all the information she knew one by one. "In addition, there was a record of fighting against the Shadow Legion of the Fascist Kingdom. Although the results of the battle at that time were heavy losses. But at least the strategic goal was successfully achieved.... In addition, according to the information collected, the Gray Wolf Blade also had a fight with Carlosha The souls of the Ancestral Leopards of the United Nations of the Horde and the Hand of the Dead Souls of the Kingdom of Hales have records of fighting against each other."

"Needless to say, it must be a big defeat." Sean curled his lips.

"Yes." Rina nodded, "It is indeed a big defeat, but every time the strategic requirements are successfully fulfilled..."

"Oh." Sean raised his eyebrows, which really surprised him this time.

Whether it is the Shadow Legion, the Soul of the Ancestral Leopard, or the Hand of the Dead Soul, they are all very professional mountain army units. Whether it is professional or actual combat effectiveness, it is naturally better than the previous mountain lion army of the Kingdom of Darbion. Much stronger. Of course, another place that is stronger than the Mountain Lion Army is that these three armies are all quasi-fifth-level troops. Although the overall combat effectiveness is still not small compared to the real fifth-level army, they are in mountains, jungles and the like. If it is to fight on the terrain, even if it is a real level five army, it may not necessarily be able to secure a victory.

The Grey Wolf Blade army, whether in the game or in this era, Sean has never heard of it, so it can be seen that this is not a powerful army. At least in the eyes of Sean, he could have a record of two losses and one win against the Mountain Lions. Facing the three quasi-five mountain troops, it would not be enough to see. Shaun felt that Rina's statement was too shameful. At the very least, it should be close to annihilation of the entire army.

However, if in front of these three more professional troops than the Mountain Lion Corps, they can persist until they complete the established strategic goals, then this is another matter.

At the very least, this is definitely an extremely resilient army.

Unfortunately, the attribute "toughness" was originally an extremely rare special army attribute in the game. An army with this attribute will not "run away", and can even be completely immune to the negative effects caused by low morale. The most rare thing is that it will not breed other problems due to problems such as rapid marching and long waiting. Many negative emotions, it can be said that this characteristic appears in a mountain army is simply a perfect fit.

"Shit luck." Sean cursed in a low voice.

"My lord, what did you say?" Rena asked.

"Nothing." Sean shook his head, "Will Fenlisting plan to mobilize the Gray Wolf Blade to deal with us?"

"I think it's very likely." This time, without waiting for Rena to speak, Cecilia's voice came from inside the carriage. "Analyzed from the current intelligence, it is difficult for us to cause any substantial harassment by ordinary troops. Influence, and now we have not completely quarreled with the people of the so-called Sené nobility faction. Therefore, it is very unrealistic to send a large-scale army to besiege us. As for the use of the sanctuary powerhouse, the person on the throne I would never agree."

Hearing Cecilia's voice was still somewhat lazy, Sean smiled and leaned back, and then smiled: "When did you wake up?"

"Just now." Cecilia replied in the carriage, "I'm talking about business."

"Okay, you say."

"In my opinion, even if the Grey Wolf Blade is dispatched, it is actually nothing terrible, because they certainly can't dispatch too many people. After all, it is impossible to hide anyone from such a military transfer." Sisi Leah continued to analyze, "So I guess that even if the Gray Wolf Blade is deployed, the scale should be around a hundred people, at least it can be disguised as a robber, but once this number is exceeded, it will become a regular one. Military action."

"Same as I thought." Sean nodded.

is just a military unit with a scale of hundreds of people, and Sean is actually not worried. Because according to the proportional data in the game, to form a strong combat unit, at least it needs to be 500 people. However, judging from the combat effectiveness of the fourth-level army, the force of a strong combat unit can only block Rina, who is now only 70% strong. Even if the battle location is changed to the forest or jungle, it will probably block Rina and It is obviously impossible for the two of Weinia to completely intercept Xiao En and others.

After all, Sean himself is not low in combat power nowadays, coupled with the existence of the magician Cecilia, even a strong combat unit may not be enough to see. As for the number of non-powerful combat levels, Xiao En felt that it was nothing but meat buns and dogs.

So for the possible attacks and harassment of the Finlisting family, Sean and others just discussed the countermeasures at will, and did not pay attention to them, still maintaining the existing speed of travel.

Everything was just as Rina expected. Before noon the next day, Xiao En and others left the boundaries of the Acorn Prairie and formally entered a baronial territory. The lord of this territory is in the information of Sean, who happens to be a member of the Sené noble faction, but just a small baron can't pose any threat to Sean and others, so Sean naturally won't pay attention to it.

If they continue to move at their speed, they will officially enter the Finistere family territory in three days.

Only the next situation, it becomes very strange.

All the assaults and harassment that Sean expected did not appear. Even if Sean deliberately slowed down, he did not encounter any attacks after staying in this baron for more than one day.

This time, Sean finally realized that something was wrong.

He didn't think that political opponents who wished him to die immediately would let him go so easily, and according to his understanding of the nobles, the more safe this journey, the more violent the storm that would follow. And all this situation was not what Shaun wanted, because according to Hela's layout and William's plan, the follow-up support troops would not arrive so soon.

But no matter how much Sean couldn't figure it out, he couldn't stop here, he could only continue to choose to move forward.

Four days after entering the baronian, Sean and others left the baronian and officially entered the territory of the Finlistine family. And lying between the Marquis and Baronies of the Finlistine family is a mountainous forest structure area with extremely complex terrain. Such an area is almost like a combat area tailored for the Gray Wolf Blade, and soon, almost as early as the night, Sean and others have seen the reason why this army with toughness characteristics can The shadow legion, the soul of the ancestor leopard, and the hand of the dead soul all feel tricky and difficult.

Chapter 110: .Blade of Grey Wolf

In the night, a carriage was racing along the mountain road. . .

Because it is a cloudless night, the bright moonlight can be scattered on the ground in patches, and naturally, we can clearly see the embarrassing scene of this carriage.

Perhaps because the speed was too fast, when the carriage was running, the wheel hit a raised stone, and the whole carriage even lifted off the ground. However, this kind of suspension did not last long, which was probably a second or less, and then the carriage fell heavily back to the ground. Fortunately, this car is strong enough. Otherwise, with such a heavy fall, even if the car is fine, most of the wheels will have problems.

However, seeing that the carriage was filled with dozens of arrows at this time, it was almost densely packed and almost turned into a hedgehog. One can imagine what kind of treatment this carriage had suffered before.

After the carriage landed heavily, the carriage still ran wildly, without even the slightest idea of stopping for a while.

At this moment, dozens of figures suddenly appeared on both sides of the mountain road.

These people just stood on both sides of the mountain road, and then placed a small mechanical crossbow arrow on the arm with their left hand and right hand, and suddenly pulled the trigger, and a burst of locusts suddenly poured from both sides of the mountain road. . "Ingenious crossbow!"

In the carriage, someone suddenly exclaimed.

Listen to the voice, it is obviously Cecilia's voice.

The Ingenious crossbow is a reduced version of the military crossbow. Although the power is only half of the military crossbow, it is far better than the average bow in terms of penetration and rate of fire. And the most important point is that this type of crossbow is relatively small, so it is easy to carry, and coupled with its compactness, the sound when shooting is relatively small. Therefore, it is very suitable for night raids, jungles, mountains and other combat situations. It can be regarded as the standard equipment of the mountain army on the mainland today.

Cecilia can tell, precisely because the sound of this crossbow arrow shooting is different from that of ordinary arrows.

However, because the Kingdom of Lane lacks the three materials and related technologies necessary to make this kind of crossbow, they are all imported from neighboring countries through procurement, and they are prohibited resources at the military level. There are express regulations in the country that do not allow any noble's private army to purchase. Therefore, the only way to get a clever crossbow in Lane. It is only after the private army under his command obtains the qualifications of the Ryan regular army and submits a report and application to the Ryan military headquarters before they can get it.

And according to Sean's current knowledge. In the entire Ryan, there are only three legions that have this kind of military first-level banned resources, which happens to include the Grey Wolf Blade Legion of the Fenlistine family. "This is a munitions, are the people of the Gray Wolf Blade crazy!" Hearing Cecilia's voice, Sean's voice also let out a curse, "Not only does not even disguise it. Directly dispatch the entire army. Killing us, now they are using military supplies, aren't they afraid of causing an uproar in the empire!"

"If they can kill us, they can be said to be conducting military exercises." Cecilia's voice will be much calmer, but the strong magical fluctuations are completely bursting from the compartment.

At this moment, both Sean and Cecilia are very clear about the situation of this carriage. It is impossible to stop these crossbow arrows.

Without any hesitation, Xiao En suddenly stretched out his right hand and shouted in a deep voice: "Get down!"

Soon, the black king's sword exudes a strong black glow.

I saw Sean slashing backwards with a backhand without looking back, and with only a single sword, the carriage of the carriage was completely cut across. Exposed the entire interior of the carriage. At the same time, the flames that bloomed like a lotus flower suddenly exploded in the carriage, circle after circle around the entire carriage and burned in the air. The temperature of these blazing flames is extremely high, but even so, it is still unable to block all the crossbow arrows that are shot hard. There are always a few that can penetrate the layers of protection of these blazing flames, but at this level, they are threatening. Naturally, it is not as terrible as it was at the beginning.

But even so, it must be treated with care.

Perhaps Sean can be unafraid of these military crossbows, but a fragile magician like Cecilia must pay special attention.

The concept of "strong combat unit" specially set up for the strong refers to normal soldiers without special equipment. Unfortunately, military items such as the clever crossbow happen to belong to the list of "special equipment".

A intensive clanging sounded one after another, and the black king was waved out of a black light curtain covering a wide range in Xiao En's hand, blocking all the fish that slipped through the net. In fact, if the shooting of these crossbow arrows had not been weakened by Cecilia's Fire Lotus, Sean would not have been able to block it so easily. After all, there were too many crossbow arrows.

"We give up the carriage!"

Xiao En sighed in a deep voice and swiped his sword at the same time. A black sword gas burst out of the air and shot towards the mountain road on the left. A piece of rubble was thrown out. Several Gray Wolf Blade soldiers who could not dodge were caught by Xiao on the spot. En Yijian shocked and killed. However, after swinging this sword, Sean did not even look at the results of the battle. He leaned over and picked up Xuefanio who was sleeping on the bed, then put his back on his back, turned and jumped to pull. The car is right away.

At this time, Cecilia had already jumped onto another horse. Seeing Sean had also jumped on the back of the horse, with a flick of his finger, two sparks shot at the lasso between the carriage and the horse. , Directly burn it. Immediately after Sean and Cecilia tapped the horse's belly lightly, the two horses quickly fled forward, but because they were not war horses, it was naturally difficult to control, but Sean and Cecilia The two of Ya are also not ordinary people: Cecilia uses magic and spirit to comfort the horse, so that it will not lose control in this war situation.

Sean is much simpler and more rude. Once the strong pressure comes out, the warhorse is obedient and obedient. He doesn't even need to control it. He just needs to make a gap in his pressure field, crotch. The horse will automatically run forward when it gets off.

"What about Rina and the others?" Cecilia asked.

"Don't worry about them." Shaun said in a deep voice, "Rena will definitely be fine with Vinia and Marton. What I am most worried about right now is Hampson."

Think of Hampson. Cecilia also felt a little uneasy.

With the combination of Rena, Winia, and Marton, unless it is a large-scale army encirclement and annihilation, they will definitely not be able to stop these three. However, to carry out a large-scale regional blockade and then implement a war of siege and annihilation, it will take time and a large amount of troops. It is impossible to do it with a gray wolf blade alone. And when the troops were mobilized to form a net of encirclement, Rena and others would have already left.

After all, in terms of combat effectiveness alone, Rena's combat effectiveness is much stronger than that of Sean. Even if they can't play their full strength now, but the three of them together won't be too weak. But Hampson is different. He is just a very ordinary civilian. In such a war environment, he has no means or ability to protect himself. Unless he is lucky enough.

"You are not suitable to go with me now." Sean said in a deep voice, "Their goal should be me, you are not safe with me!"

"Do you think it's safe to let me leave?" Cecilia asked rhetorically, "Now my name is Cecilia Connery, not Cecilia Rembel, so you really think I'm Is it safe to walk away from you?"

"Damn it!" Shaun cursed, and there was no pause in the movement of his hands. The Black King doesn't look like a sword in Sean's hands, but like a shield. He is slightly behind Cecilia half a horse, but he blocks all the crossbow arrows from the left and right sides. , But even if he can stand it. But the tiger's mouth on his right hand had also been shattered, and the blood dropped to the ground drop by drop, sprinkling a long blood stain.

And Cecilia, at this time, was also full of anger on the mountain roads on both sides.

Solomon's Eighteen Heavy Flames outlines eighteen dark red flame flowers in the air, which are spurred by Cecilia's spirit and shoot out to both sides.

These flame flowers seem to be just a small flower, but when they land on the mountain roads on both sides, they directly smash a huge fire pit, whose power is not much weaker than the ordinary fourth-level magic. Of course, if these eighteen flames are combined, the power is quasi-ninth-level magic. Although such power is terrible, in terms of the scope of the target, it is naturally better to disassemble the eighteen flame flowers. To use.

Perhaps because the attack area was too wide and the loss to the Gray Wolf Blade was also a bit large, the Gray Wolf Blade soldiers on both sides of the mountain road quickly chose to evacuate, and did not continue to attack Xiao En and others. But even so, Sean never dared to take it lightly and relax, because this time the Finlisting family's response has completely exceeded Sean's expectations, and even better than Dovigo, who is nominally revengeful by blood relatives. The family is even more radical.

Sean knows that things are likely to far exceed the expectations of him, William, Hela and others in some aspect. Otherwise, they would not encounter a direct night attack by the three remote forces belonging to the Gray Wolf Blade on the night they entered the Finistere family territory. The entire fight lasted for half an hour, and it was truly that kind of killing. In the soft situation, but even so, Gray Wolf Blade didn't mean to retreat in the slightest. It was completely a death fight, even if it could bite Xiao En and others before dying, it was good.

And this fight that lasted for more than half an hour was no less tragic than any war that Shaun had experienced in the southern battlefield. The number of Gray Wolf Blade soldiers who lost the ability to fight again exceeded a hundred, not to mention those who were directly killed by Sean and others on the spot, but in this way they did not have the slightest fear. And the whole three troops of Gray Wolf Blade were as large as three thousand people, which was completely inconsistent with the five hundred people Xiao En had guessed, so he also had to order a temporary retreat.

However, the strategic goal of the Gray Wolf Blade seems to have been to force Sean and the others to retreat from the beginning. Therefore, when Sean and the others retreat while fighting, the people of the Gray Wolf Blade are more like stimulants. Generally, a desperate attack. In the end, in order to protect Xuefanio, Rina and Venia voluntarily stayed behind and let Sean, Cecilia, Marton, and Hampson leave with Xuefanio first.

I just didn't expect that at this time, a high-ranking golden powerhouse suddenly came out halfway, forcibly separated Marton and Sean and others, and Hampson was also shaken out due to the impact of the carriage at this time, life and death unknown.

At this point, only Sean and Cecilia were the only ones who succeeded in breaking out of the encirclement of the night raid.

But in the next situation, there was no good way to go. Waves of attacks were like a series of attacks, so that Sean and Cecilia didn't stop at the slightest. Obviously, the opponent who is in charge of directing this war must be a powerful general who has participated in countless wars and has fought head-on with the real strong. Otherwise, it would be impossible for the strong to be so clear when facing the army. The biggest weakness.

As long as it is a human being, the physical strength cannot be endless. This is also the reason why the human sea tactics will become very effective in the face of the strong. Because the vast majority of the strong will eventually be besieged to death precisely because they are weak in their kills, and they don't even have the strength to escape. It's just that in the face of the crazy killing of the strong, few troops can withstand this fear of death and stick to it.