

Lord of War Vol 3-111

Chapter 111: .Magic Warrior

In the middle of the night, through the moonlight that has gradually dimmed and is no longer bright, two people can be seen walking on the mountain path. One of them is a taller man with a woman on his back. ..

These three people are Sean and Cecilia who broke out, and Xuefanio who is still unconscious.

After Sean and Cecilia broke out, they both completely squeezed the horse's physical strength to the maximum, in order to get as far away as possible from the soldiers of the Gray Wolf Blade as soon as possible. Because for the Mountain Army, reconnaissance, search, pursuit, etc., are their strengths-perhaps not particularly proficient, but at least they are within the range of expertise, so Sean and Cecilia He had never thought of hiding or deceiving the other party's search, because it was only a matter of time before he was chased up by the Gray Wolf Blade.

The only thing they need to do is to buy more time.

So after squeezing the horse's physical strength, Sean and Cecilia put the two horses away and moved on instead. Only considering the physique of Cecilia's magician, so Sean's speed naturally couldn't be too fast.

After a long journey for a whole night, Cecilia had basically reached the limit at this time, so Sean had to stop and rest. If Xuefanio is not in a coma, then with the strength of this priest with a knife, Sean can still walk for another hour or two with Cecilia on his back. With the strength of the golden powerhouse, one or two hours of driving at full speed, then the distance will not be small, unless the enemy also invests in the powerhouse to chase and entangle. But this point can be known almost without thinking. Since even the entire army of Gray Wolf Blade is dispatched, then the investment of the strong will definitely not be less.

Since the first case of a strong man falling under a siege by the army thousands of years ago, it has been in the history of the last thousand years. After such a long period of tactical refinement and improvement, it has now basically been recognized on the Marvel Continent: the dual combination of the strong and the elite troops is the most efficient combination to kill the enemy single strong. As for the confrontation between the two armies, in addition to comparing the level of the two armies and the strength of the strong, there is another important factor that is luck. Unless the difference in strength between the two sides is large enough to crush, then this iron law can be ignored.

After stopping to rest. Sean did not light the fire, but took out food and drinking water from the storage space, and then simply ate it with Cecilia. Fortunately, Sean had prepared a lot of various materials before. Otherwise, if you are now forced to go out to find food in this situation, that will be an even more headache.

Fenlisting family territory is only a marquise, but in fact, including two neighboring viscountry and an earldom can be regarded as the territory of the Finlisting family. But this time, according to Hela's return plan, Sean had to pass through a piece of viscountry that had actually been manipulated by the Finlisting family. Of course, at the beginning, Sean and others did not pay attention to it, because this viscountry, which has been shrouded by the Finistere family all the year round, has long been developed into a rich territory. There is no need to worry about public security issues at all, at least smart. People and normal people will definitely not choose here as an attack point. But now, the Fenlistine family not only dispatched the Grey Wolf Blade, a legion that no longer belongs to their family in name, but even brought a clever crossbow. Naturally, Sean did not dare to conclude that entering the Viscountry would be safe. .

After simply eating something. Cecilia began to close her eyes to rest up, and she couldn't help but recall the past.

A few years ago, when she and Sean were serving as mercenaries in the northern kingdom of Selian, they were always exhausted for a small task, even the food they ate. simple. Not to mention the living environment. She still remembered how much effort Sean put in to feed the two of them when she didn't know anything at the beginning, and it was from that time that she gradually learned how to survive as a mercenary.

Although since coming to the Kingdom of Lane, the standard of living is indeed much better than before, and there is no need to worry about survival anymore, but I don't know why, Cecilia has missed the past more and more recently, perhaps more of it. Days of adventure with Sean.

Thinking about this, Cecilia didn't feel at all how painful the next day would be, so naturally she wouldn't have any fear. On the contrary, at this moment, she was a little bit more excited and looking forward to her heart, just like the days when she and Sean had adventures in the Kingdom of Selian.

"What do you think?" Seeing the smile from the corner of Cecilia's mouth lying on the ground resting, Sean asked softly.

"Nothing." Cecilia shook her head, then turned her back to Sean.

After a moment of silence, Cecilia opened her mouth again to break the silence: "After the void leader develops and stabilizes, let's walk around together."

"Walking around?" Xiao En was taken aback, then smiled again, "Where do you want to go?"

"I don't know." Cecilia shook her head, "Just... let's take a look around the whole continent. Maybe we can go back to the Kingdom of Celian. I want to see how the place where we used to live has changed. What's it like?"

"That's a good idea." Sean thought for a while, and then nodded, "It happens to be that when we left the Kingdom of Celian, we borrowed something that did not belong to us, and now it happens to be able to return it back.... I hope that time, Celian and Portoroa haven't started war yet."

"Hmm." Cecilia's head moved, and she looked like she was nodding.

Then there was another silence.

But judging from Cecilia's gradual and steady breathing, she probably fell asleep.

Sean sighed lightly, and then began to close his eyes to calm himself. It's just that unlike the situation where Cecilia fell asleep because of exhaustion, Sean still retained a bit of attention to the surrounding environment to prevent the strong from suddenly chasing up, and of course he also checked his own situation.

Now he has officially reached the seventh rank, which is the lower level of gold, but the overall improvement is not as strong as Xiao En imagined.

【Magic Seal Warrior (Level 7 occupation): You have successfully understood the essence of "Curse Seal" and the reasons for the civil unrest of the Exorcist Association. However, you have always pursued the ancient power and will, and you have not degenerated or caused your soul to be corroded in any way. Your strength is not only reflected in the power you master, you know that starting today. Your responsibilities will be different. 】

【Inauguration Reward-Magic Seal Reinforcement: Unshakable belief and long-term persistence have finally been rewarded today. You finally discovered the essence of the curse seal, so that the power of your curse seal has been strengthened and transformed into a magic seal coat of arms. (The power of the sealed curse has been strengthened); ancient power: ancient power and will make you more powerful and fearless. Your strength has been greatly improved. (Strength +1. Strength limit +1, Endurance limit +8, Endurance limit +13. Agility +11, Agility limit +16, Wisdom +7, Wisdom limit +1, Will +9. Will limit +14)]

【Inauguration Penalty-None】

Although he didn't know why there was no inauguration penalty for this professional advancement, and it was not a bad thing, but Sean instinctively felt that the two curse seals he had sealed at the beginning had already appeared deviations.

In other words, he can't keep up with his rhythm.

【Magic Seal. Silver Scale (Level 3): Defensive effect, when activated, a large layer of demon skin can be covered on the body, and it can be immune to physical damage caused by any weapon with sharp and piercing value below 3. It has no effect on strike damage. It is immune to fire and dark magic damage, exempts from 3% water, ice, wind, and earth damage, and light damage causes an additional triple damage effect. The duration is seconds, and the cooling time is 1 hour. Note: You can now freely turn on or turn off this ability. After the duration of seconds or you automatically give up activating the skill, it will enter the cooling time. 】 ...

Magic Seal. The strengthening of the silver scales has not changed much, at least there hasn't been any change in essence, instead, there are more punishments that will double the damage if the light system is damaged. It's just that this ability is quite useful in some situations, such as when facing that vampire before, but more often this ability has actually begun to become a bit tasteless, because it is more offensive than the Demon Warrior. The fighting method is completely opposite.

Of course, if it is more tasteless, then [Magic Seal. Blood Charm] is even worse.

Basically, there is no change in this ability. It just adds a blood-sucking effect. It's just that this blood-sucking ability belongs to the "selling cute" series after being tested by Sean. Because in this real world, if you are hit to the point, it is the result of direct death, so there is no concept of "health bar" at all, so naturally, the so-called blood sucking is actually just accelerating the recovery of the injury. , Does not have any restorative effect or influence on the vigor value consumed during the battle.

Sion like this is naturally impossible to like.

But if you want to talk about gains, there are actually some.

At least, Sean has completely mastered the sword skill of [Soul Suppression]. At this point, Sean finally understood how terrifying this skill was.

【Soul Suppression (Fifty Swords): The sword is thrown out at a very fast speed, causing the shock of the space, which leads to the collapse of the space! Every time you cast a skill, you need to consume at least% of your own fighting energy, and cause tons of damage to all targets within a straight line of 30 meters and a frontal diameter of three meters. The damage will gradually decrease with distance. Side effect "Time and Space Stationary": This attribute judgment has priority. All targets within the attack range are agile and will be lower than 1 point, so they cannot evade; Side effect "Annihilation": Once the "Time and Space Stationary" decision takes effect, targets within ten meters Death on the spot; targets within ten to twenty meters will be severely injured; targets within twenty to thirty meters will be moderately injured. Swordsmanship / Tier 8 / Special / Sword. Note: Because this skill surpasses your current level, you need to charge up three seconds in advance before using this skill. 】

However, for the current Sean, the soul-suppression is also a "big blue consumer", because he can only use it twice in his heyday, and then he will face the dilemma of not being able to use the skills. However, if you cooperate with the skill of "Fighting Eruption", you can use Soul Suppression three times, but that's all. So even if Sean has entered the lower position of gold now, there is still no change in his fighting style: face more When he was a high-level powerhouse, he was still in a dilemma that he could not carry out a protracted battle.

Perhaps, only by becoming an upper-level gold powerhouse can you get rid of the current situation.

Sean sighed softly, his expression still a little helpless. Now that he can get the hole cards in his hand, except for the soul, there is no other hole cards at all, and there is an additional Xuefanio who is in a coma, and Sean's actual combat effectiveness is actually not high, he can't help but think about it if he is still sober Just keep going.

However, at this moment, Xiao En's eyes suddenly opened, and he jumped up from the ground when he turned over. The Black King was already held by Xiao En with one hand, and the bitter killing intent suddenly rose.

However, just as Sean put on such a fighting state, Monica's voice came from the darkness:
"I'm not here to fight you.")

Chapter 112: .intelligence

"I'm here to fulfill the agreement with you." Monica walked out of the darkness, obviously just a very ordinary environment, but with Monica's movements, the entire space seemed to be swayed strangely. Sean guessed that this was probably the reason why Monica was able to hide her breath and figure in a special way.

"It seems that you are very clear about the movements of the Finlisting family." Sean raised his eyebrows.

For Monica, he didn't completely trust him, so although he put the sword down, he didn't put it away. Of course, the killing intent from his body naturally didn't abate at all. Because he knows very well that Monica's method of hiding breath and figure is definitely related to the domain, because only the domain of the assassin rank can achieve the effect of arcane magic similar to invisibility without any magic. Fluctuations in breath.

Similarly, anyone who possesses the ability of a domain must not be underestimated, even if it is just a pseudo domain.

Sean can ignore Monica's strength in frontal combat. After all, unless the rank of thieves is in the promotion direction of the assassin type, the frontal combat strength is often not worth mentioning. Of course, it does not rule out that some people who are not advanced assassins are particularly powerful in terms of combat effectiveness, but Sean knows that Monica is definitely not such a person. "I have ended my covenant relationship with them." Monica shrugged, seemingly not caring about Sean's vigilance.

"What do you mean?" Sean asked in a deep voice.

Monica said nothing, and threw a letter to Sean.

Because of the darkness. Sean could not see anything directly, but when he took over and read the letter clearly through the faint glow of the night light. His face suddenly changed.

The familiar black envelope, with the entire Marvel Continent as the background, this is the list of famous players that Shaun is most afraid of appearing. Turning over the envelope, the lacquer on the back has been cut open, but closing the envelope is still vaguely able to see the double-sword seal.

In the game, although Sean has not received or seen this letter in person, it is for a world with extremely advanced information. There are still such things as forums. It's just because of the player's militant nature. The update speed of all the famous list is much faster than this world, almost reaching the situation of updating once a year in the game time. Therefore, many players who received the celebrity list can't wait to show off on the forum. Therefore, although Sean has not actually received this letter, he can say that he knows better than anyone how to identify the authenticity of this letter. no doubt. The letter in his hand now is a real list of famous players, not a fake.

Sean couldn't wait to open the letter, and then took out the two excellent quality magic papers inside.

The world of Miracle Continent, the mainstream paper currently used is still mainly parchment. For the poor, the parchment is relatively inferior, while the richer people will use the more luxurious and ink-absorbent vellum. However, the nobles usually use general-purpose writing and recording magic paper-also known as magic paper. This type of paper is better than parchment paper. It has many characteristics such as light and easy to carry, excellent ink absorption, easy to hide and so on. Therefore, it is also a conventional military paper. Of course, the most important thing is that only this kind of paper can be transported over long distances through a special magic communication device.

When Sean saw two pieces of magic paper. The look was obviously taken aback. Because at the beginning of the game, he saw that the players who received the celebrity list were only one piece of paper, and no one had received two pieces of paper. The only time I saw the contents of two pieces of magic paper on the famous list was when the Valkyrie was born, and this time when Xiao En saw two pieces of paper on the famous list. The first thought was that the Valkyrie was born?

Valkyrie, in this world. It represents not only famous generals, but also personal strength. However, for many kingdoms in this world, the Valkyrie is not so much a general as a mascot; but for players like Sean, the Valkyrie is not only a mascot, It also represents a powerful attribute bonus.

Like the title of Asuna, the additional attributes are that the army she commanded increases attack power by 5% and mobility by 10%, and can get an additional 3% power bonus when charging.

The title of does not seem to have much room for improvement, but if the army she commands is a rank 5 or 6 army, then the rate of increase will become very scary. If it is a light cavalry unit, with 10% increase in mobility, in terms of rushing and galloping, her movement speed will be faster than expected by one day at least; and if it is a heavy cavalry unit, it will charge. Power bonus and attack power bonus will also make troops extremely terrifying.

This is the special feature of the title of Valkyrie.

Shaun did not look at the famous player list, but turned to the second Valkyrie.

As expected by Sean, the Valkyrie has changed from seven to eight-unlike the ranking of the famous generals, the ranking of the Valkyrie is arranged according to the time of confirmation. So even if the Valkyrie dies in battle in the future, the ranking above will not change. Therefore, the thundering Valkyrie Asuna is still ranked seventh, but Rina's name appears in the eighth. .

The Valkyrie of Ben Thunder, Rina.

When the name appeared, Sean felt dizzy: "This time the Finlisting family didn't even care about face, is it because Rina became a Valkyrie?"

Monica looked at Sean with a little pity, which made Sean realize that things are not that simple. Sure enough, Monica quickly motioned to Sean to look at the magic paper on the list of stars, and when Sean opened the magic paper that was the same size as the Valkyrie list but had a lot more content, he was at this moment. Suddenly there was a feeling of darkness in front of my eyes.

On this list of famous players, Sean saw a very familiar name.

William, Hella, Alfred, Rena, Clover, etc., even Aldorf, Stalin, Knok, etc., whom Sean and William originally planned to hide and cultivate secretly are also on the list. Of course, what surprised Sean the most was not that Thain's name appeared on it, but that Anno was also on the list. Although it was only ranked 100th, there was a more important premise. That is, under the premise that Sean already has so many famous generals, there is still one person occupying the 100th place. This is a very hateful thing.

But when Sean looked at the names of William and Hela carefully, he felt the seriousness of the problem.

ranked seventh, William Yale, the Principality of Lane.

ranked eighth, Hela Nugus, the Principality of Lane.

The existence of Hela Nugus, Sean never thought of hiding anyone from the beginning. It will be sooner or later that this matter will be discovered. After all, as long as he has carefully studied the battle in which he played a decisive victory in the southern battlefield, he will inevitably discover the truth here, and now Hella has not officially announced the change of surname, so Hella's name appears on this list of names. It's not a weird thing.

But what is really intriguing is the country of origin recorded on this list, and the four words "Principality of Lane" are also written on it.

This means that when this list was drawn up, Ryan had not announced his promotion to a kingdom.

"This is definitely not the final list!" Sean said with a certain degree of certainty, "And it is two to three months before the official release date, so this list is definitely not a real list of famous players."...

"Is it not important anymore." Monica said softly, looking at Sean's appearance.

Hearing Monica's words, Sean immediately realized the meaning of these words.

In terms of Shaun's situation today, it really doesn't matter whether this list is correct or whether it's a real star list. Because all of Sean's enemies have already seen this list, and the same list also gives them a perfect excuse to kill themselves desperately-with as many famous generals under Sean's command, once let him Returning to the territory to gather a large enough army, his enemies can never imagine that they can win Sean militarily.

Similarly, if there were unspoken rules protection from the royal family before, then after this list appeared, it has disappeared.

The reason is very simple, just four words: high power is the master.

Even if the King Ryan is a wise king, he doesn't mind that Sean has such a powerful subordinate, but it is also an inevitable result to restrict Sean's development by weakening, hitting, and suppressing. Shaun believed that if he hadn't had a secret agreement with the royal family about teleporting the magic circle, the people who chased him now would definitely include the King Ryan sitting on the throne.

"I owe you a favor." Sean looked at Monica, and then said in a deep voice, "As long as it is not for my life, then within my ability, I will help you unconditionally.... Even if If you defect in the future, I can also protect you."

"It seems that you really know our succubus whispering habit very well." Monica smiled, "but don't get me wrong, the reason I told you this is just that there is an agreement between us.... Then , What are you going to do next?"

"Do you think I have any choice?" Sean took a deep breath, and then said in a deep voice, "Whoever stands in front of me, then I have to send him to see Hades."

"It's not that I don't trust your strength, but..." Monica shook her head, "This time not only the Grey Wolf Blade of the Fenlistine family was dispatched, but the Silent Mountain Legion was already waiting in front. You, besides that, there are more than a dozen strong people who have entered the encirclement circle, and they are constantly..."

Before Monica had finished speaking, a sharp piercing sound suddenly sounded.

Along with the sound of breaking through the wilderness, a crimson brilliance lit up from a hundred meters away, and instantly traversed a distance of hundreds of meters, pulling out an extremely long red tail flame in the air, towards Monica shot over.

Chapter 113: .Fire Hunting

The red light came extremely fast. ?. .

It was almost just the moment when the naked eye saw the red light radiating, it was close to my eyes.

The air even exudes a strange burnt smell.

At the moment Monica perceives the danger, this red light is already close to her eyes. In this case, no matter how good she is, it is impossible to completely dodge this attack. So the only thing she can do is to reluctantly lean her body to avoid the vital damage of the red light to the heart.

However, almost at the same moment Monica turned sideways, a red light shone on her body.

This brilliance made Monica feel a peculiar warmth, as if her cold body suddenly became warm in this dark night. At this moment, she could even feel the friendly intimacy from the fire element.

Flame barrier.

The fire resistance magic blessing one level higher than the flame barrier.

The effect of in the game is to increase the player's current fire resistance by 5%. Compared with the effect of a fixed increase of 100 points in the flame barrier, it is actually useless for low-level players. But in this world, the blessing effects of the flame barrier and the flame barrier are definitely different from those in the game, and since the first moment Cecilia took the shot, the flame barrier was blessed for Monica instead of the flame barrier, so naturally There is reason for her. In fact, Cecilia actually woke up when Monica was approaching. After all, after being with Sean for so long, she was naturally very sensitive to Sean's murderous changes. It's just that at the very beginning, she prepared a high-destructive magic like Eighteen Flames. For today's Cecilia, this kind of magic from the blood and soul brand requires more magical power and spiritual traction. In terms of magic, it's much easier.

can almost be said to be arbitrary, not much weaker than silent magic, and it has the convenience of not generating magic fluctuations.

But before Monica did not show hostility, of course Cecilia would not attack. So when this sneak attack came so suddenly and quickly, Cecilia was able to cast magic like the Flame Barrier in the first place-it wasn't that she was unwilling to cast a higher level of resistance blessing magic than the Flame Barrier. High-level fire attribute resistance blessing magic such as flame shelter and fire element enchantment is naturally already mastered, but the time is too late.

is just the flame barrier, after all, it is just a fourth-level magic. Compared with this menacing red aurora, the level is obviously much weaker. Therefore, even after the strong flame power emitted by this red aurora was weakened by the flame barrier, it still easily penetrated Monica's chest.

Maybe because of the high temperature of the flame, after this red light penetrated Monica's body, it did not sputter any blood. Instead, a scorched small hole was burned in Monica's chest.

The wound is not big.

The injury is obviously very serious.

Because when the red aurora penetrated through Monica's body, Monica directly spewed out a mouthful of blood from her mouth, and the blood on her face disappeared instantly, and her whole body appeared sickly pale. She became very reluctant even to stand, she staggered forward a few steps, and almost fell to the ground like this, but probably because the training of the succubus whisper was extremely difficult, so Monica finally did not have it. Just fall down.

However, after the red light penetrated through Monica's chest, although the speed has been significantly slowed down. But compared to ordinary people or even people below silver, the speed of this red light is still very fast. But for Xiao En, it was already in a state that could be easily captured by the naked eye, so a black light was seen flying from Xiao En's front, and the blade was centered on the red light.

There is no harsh sound, nor any dazzling brilliance.

This red aurora pierced through Monica. As soon as he touched the blade of Sean, he made a slight "poof" and floated away like fireflies.

However, Xiao En's face changed instantly: "Hunting for Fire!"

"What is Hunting by Fire?" Cecilia heard Sean's voice sharpen sharply. Asked some incredible.

"Don't get up!" Xiao En only had time to say these words, and then the whole person flew forward, and suddenly threw Monica, who had just stabilized her figure, to the ground.

Almost just as soon as she fell on Monica, the second red aurora again lit up from a distance, and in an instant it crossed the distance of hundreds of meters, and shot directly against Sean's back.

Although the second red aurora did not have astonishing results like the first red light, when the red light rubbed against Sean's back, it was still inevitable to directly wipe all the clothes on Sean's back. It was burned, and even the skin on the cervical vertebrae of the back was burnt crimson.

"What the * is this?" Cecilia saw Sean's back. The whole person was immediately angry.

"Hunting by Fire. That's the name of a longbow." Shaun, who turned over from Monica's body, said in a deep voice, lying on the ground. "This is a...special-effect-level demonized weapon, and the history of forging...it's quite a few years."

Even if Cecilia doesn't understand the knowledge of magical equipment, she can still understand the meaning of Sean's words: "This is...ancient magical weapon?...The power of the flame aurora is no more than the sixth level. The magic is weak."

Sean nodded with difficulty: "The Hunt of Chasing Fire is indeed an ancient magic weapon. The flame aurora just now is the special ability attached to it, the fire * hunting. In a strict sense, this is even possible. Defined as a magic weapon."

Seeing Sean nod and admit, Cecilia's brows were also frowned. Because she knows that the so-called ancient magical equipment is basically something that can be equated with the gold-level magical equipment. In other words, the longbow of Chase Fire Hunt is a special-effect-level golden-grade magical equipment.

Of course, Sean still has something to say.

Fire Hunting made Shaun's impression so deeply, purely because this weapon later fell into the hands of a weapon forging master. And this great master-level figure discovered some extremely mysterious magic arrays from above. After a series of research and experiments, they finally successfully re-engraved these magic arrays on the magic weapons of the time, thus forging the miracle continent. An extremely epoch-making brand new long-range weapon-the originator of all magic guns: Robles' fire dragon.

"Why does the hunt for fire appear here?"

Shaun was puzzled.

Because of a small rural country as poor as Ryan, the number of gold powerhouses only got a significant increase after the annexation of Darbion. However, other corresponding national strength and related resources are obviously impossible to change so quickly, otherwise the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance would not hold an underground auction at this time when Ryan was promoted to the kingdom. And also earn a lot of money.

Look at the "legendary" prices of those silver and bronze magical equipment, you can imagine.

So Sean is completely unable to understand why there is a golden magical equipment like the hunt for fire that can be regarded as a super-era for Ryan: "Among those people you met before, is there anyone who uses bows and arrows?"

"Before I answer...cough cough...you question...cough, before..." Monica's voice was abnormally weak, and her whole person was completely weak. "Could you... take your hand first..." From my chest...remove."...

"Oh, sorry." Sean retracted his hand a little embarrassed.

Although Monica's dress looks pretty normal. But when she was pressing on her just now, Sean realized that Monica's figure was much hotter than her outfit. Cecilia raised her eyebrows, then glanced at Monica's breasts, then glanced at her own breasts, her face a little bulging.

However, Monica and Sean did not notice Cecilia's appearance. After a few moments of thought, Monica said, "I saw four people with...bows and arrows... But the ones who really use bows and arrows...as their main weapons...probably only, two people."

"Then among these few people. Is there anyone who is closer to you, or...has been in contact with you."

"What do you mean?" Monica turned her head and raised her brow slightly, "Although...I am the whisperer of the succubus, but..."

"I think you misunderstood what I meant." Sean said in a deep voice, "The Hunt for Fire has a special feature. That is, it needs to be marked to be able to perform the Vulcan Hunt."

"Mark?" Cecilia tilted her head, "Like a mental traction?"

"It's okay to understand it this way." Xiao En nodded, "Vulcan Hunting will only use the last marked target. In other words, someone must have been in contact with you before, maybe shaking hands or slapped you. Acts like shoulders and so on that don't make you mind at all."

Sean's next sentence was naturally addressed to Monica.

In the game, the mark determination of the hunting by fire is much simpler. You only need to perform a normal attack on the target to complete the target mark. Afterwards, within the maximum range of 300 meters, you can use the extremely powerful attacking skill of Vulcan Hunting. This skill not only damages ridiculously high, but also has the attribute that must hit the target within the field of view, and it also comes with extremely powerful fire attribute damage-in fact. If it weren't for the flame barrier blessed by Cecilia in time for Monica. The first arrow just now was enough to completely ignite Monica's human-shaped torch.

Of course, the disadvantage is that the display of Vulcan Hunting requires a lot of mana. It is not much less than the magic power of the sixth level of magic, so it is impossible for people who are not the advanced professional type of the bowman to use this skill. For those who use the Demon Archer as an advanced profession, referring to Sean's experience in the game at the time, the upper-level golden powerhouse may only be able to shoot three arrows Vulcan hunting. Of course, if the mental power is completely squeezed, then the first shot must be shot. Four arrows are not impossible, but afterwards, they will fall into negative states such as weakness and dizziness for a long time.

"This guy is really cautious. In order to prevent accidents, he did not attack until it was close to 100 meters. The maximum attack range of Vulcan Hunting is within 300 meters of the owner's field of vision." Sean said in a deep voice, "If I'm not mistaken, the opponent can probably shoot two more Vulcan hunts. Now we are sitting in the same boat, so I have to understand in more detail what kind of person the opponent is, so that I can decide to pick up. Whether to kill the opponent or escape."

"It should be... Northon." Monica's expression is still very weak, but it is obviously using some kind of secret technique, because her pale face is quickly recovering, and gradually becomes ruddy, "He is black. Eagle man."

"Black Hawk?" Sean froze for a moment. "Black Hawk, one of the three Dark Kings of Ryan?" After seeing Monica nodded, Sean's face suddenly became hard to look like: "I didn't go to provoke him. , He actually came to trouble me.... I'll write down this account first, and it just so happens that I still have some criminal evidence about him."

"Let's go through the current crisis first." After Monica's face recovered, she said for the first time, "I can't last long in my current state, and since Northon has appeared, others estimate We will arrive soon, so we have to make a quick decision."...

"Then do you have any good ideas?"

"You only need to buy me thirty seconds, and I will be sure to kill him!"

"You can't kill." Sean retorted without thinking about it. "People who can use Fire Hunter are not so easy to deal with. With your strength, unless you are not paying attention to assassination, otherwise it is impossible. Won him.... Mark also has one of the biggest advantages, that is, it can break the stealth, with your domain camouflage skills that have not been fully formed, as long as you show your face, he can definitely kill you for the first time."

Hearing Sean's words, Monica's face changed slightly: "Then you can't just spend it here..."

"So, the best practice is that we shoot at the same time." Xiao En said lightly, "but your chances of death are higher than mine....Because the other party gave you a mark instead of marking me, so once Vulcan is cast If you hunt, you will definitely die.... But as long as you can persist for ten seconds without dying, then I can get close enough to threaten him and prevent him from performing Vulcan hunting."

"Are you sure you only need ten seconds?" Monica looked at Xiao En, and asked seriously.

"I'm sure." Xiao En nodded, "You know, if it's time to delay, you and I can't afford it.... And this person is already on the kill list, otherwise just let him live. Go down, you have to finish it too."

Biting her lower lip, Monica also knew that she had no choice at all, so she nodded and agreed with Sean's approach: "Ten seconds, I will fight for you!")

Chapter 114: . Archer Northon

At two or three o'clock in the morning, it happens to be the darkest time in autumn and winter in the southern continent. If there are dark clouds during this time period, it can even be said that you are in a situation where you can't see your fingers. So often in many cases, this time is recognized as the best time to rest, of course, the same is also the best time for night attacks. However, unless it is equipped with more dedicated equipment, it is difficult to achieve night attack tactics.

But for Northton, there is no such situation.

One of the special effects attached to Fire Hunting is to give the holder the ability to have night vision.

It is precisely by virtue of the two powerful special abilities of night vision and fire * hunting that Northon possesses with the hunting of the fire, so he can train the advanced profession of the archer, which is mainly controlled and assisted in combat. Like a shadow assassin, deadly and dangerous.

Magic equipment, usually without the forger's explanation, many of the special abilities attached to it will not be able to be used, so the profession of demonized equipment appraiser is also available. However, this situation usually refers to modern demonized equipment, such as ash demonized equipment and ancient demonized equipment, which are basically not included here, because this kind of powerful equipment that can be regarded as magic equipment, at the moment when the holder obtains it, One or two of the special abilities are often automatically mastered. But if you want to know all the special abilities of this type of magic equipment, you need to look for not a magic equipment appraiser, but a magician with profound knowledge on the magic array.

Gently rubbing the longbow in his hand, Northon scanned the environment like a torch.

This is a mountainous grassland. It's not barren but it's not rich. All the weeds haven't grown to cover the eyes, and the natural field of vision is still vast. But the problem is. This mountain has many ravines of different sizes, many of which are even as deep as pits. There are also a lot of rocks around the same area, so even if the view is wide, it is not considered open.

At this moment, his enemy happened to be hiding in a shallow pit, even if he stood upright in this position. It is also difficult to see the other person's figure.

After a little hesitation, Northon finally drew a long arrow from the quiver behind his waist.

The length of this long arrow is different from that of a normal arrow. This long arrow is about two inches long. The starting weight is heavy, but there is no metallic color. It should be a special wood such as sinking wood. This type of arrow is often used as a high-level armor-piercing arrow, subject to the unique three-sided arrow. But this one uses round-pointed arrows. The spiral texture is engraved on it, and the tail feathers are closer to the shaft to minimize resistance. This is a special arrow that is more common in the Western Continent, mainly used to deal with the wild orcs of the Western Continent's beast armor cavalry. But this kind of arrow must be matched with a heavy longbow to be able to exert enough power, so the requirements for the archer's arm strength are naturally extremely high.

Actually speaking, Northon's archer rank is a dangerous weapon that cannot be controlled by this archer, but with the help of the hunt for fire, Northon naturally has no such problem.

He took an arrow to draw a bow, and directly drew a full moon bow. His eyes were staring tightly at the place where the target person was hiding.

The feeling radiated from the Hunting for Fire, Northon knew that Monica was not dead. It is hidden in the shallow pit ahead. From the moment he saw Monica, he knew that this woman was definitely not on his side, so he planted a mark on her, and has followed in secret since then. Fortunately, he has been like a shadow assassin for a long time. The careful life also kept him from being spotted by Monica, and after that he saw the hostile target of the trip.

Sean Connery.

Void Duke, one of the seven dukes of the Kingdom of Lane.

He naturally felt very excited about discovering such a valuable and important goal, but it was only for a moment, and then he suppressed his inner excitement. Relying on years of hunting experience, he cautiously approached the target at a distance of 100 meters. In fact, if he could, he wanted to go a little further, but his instinct told him that if he got closer, he would definitely be found, so In the end, he chose to launch a sniper from a hundred meters away.

Originally, everything should go smoothly.

But unexpectedly, the sudden appearance of the flame barrier ruined his chance to kill two birds with one stone.

This makes Northton feel a little pity.

However, this mood is only for a moment.

He has completely mastered the initiative on the battlefield. He believes in his own strength, not blindly, but clearly knows where his limits are. Therefore, even if he knows that as long as he procrastinates, he will lose a share of the credit if he is driven by others, but he still will not choose to take risks. This is also a habit he has developed over the years-as long as he is not in a place of defeat, never risk being greedy.

What he needs now is to wait patiently for the moment his enemy reveals his flaws.

Patience, he never lacks.

Soon, in Northon's field of vision, he finally saw a figure appearing from the shallow pit with a cat waist, and going to the side at a very fast speed. At this moment, in his eyes, this figure has a kind of energy surging like flames. This is the unique energy symbol of the target marked by the hunting by fire. As long as it is within 300 meters, he can clearly see this mark.

So he knew that this figure was Monica.

The corner of Northon's mouth was slightly raised, and instead of shooting the arrow in his hand, he still aimed at the shallow pit. At the same time, a faint starlight began to converge on the arrow, and the whole long arrow gradually emitted pale white. Guanghai, the surrounding temperature has dropped significantly by several degrees. The strands of cold air began to radiate from his body, and a large white mist spread around him at an alarming speed, and even the ground began to freeze.

Magic Arrow. Hoarfrost.

This is a unique offensive and defensive technique for the archer. It can create a frost field with a radius of at least three feet in the center. Anyone who steps into this field will suffer negative effects such as slowness. This is why Sean said Monica is definitely not the reason for Northon's opponent. Once Monica's greatest advantage is weakened, Northton also has various abilities of Chasing Fire Hunting, and naturally it will only be counter-killed by it.

Of course, if you shoot Magic Arrow Hoarfrost out. Then the frost domain encircled by the caster will naturally disappear. Instead, the same frost domain is created where the arrow hits, and the effect is much stronger than protecting the caster.

Because of the marking effect of the Hunt of Fire, Northon doesn't care about Monica's movements at all, because no matter how she moves, she can't escape his tracking. So Northon's goal is only one, and that is Sean. He just needs to bury him here. Then he completes his task.

Soon, he finally saw the appearance of Sean.

At the edge of the shallow hole, suddenly another figure sprang out. Its speed is slightly slower than Monica.

Northern sneered: "I knew it was a splitting tactic, it was really nothing new."

While saying this, Northon also calculated the trajectory of Sean at the same time, sneered at the loose string and shot the arrow.

The long arrow shoots out at an astonishing speed. When the arrow left the string suddenly. The white mist around Northon quickly chased the swift arrow with a magnificence like a long whale inhalation, pulling a white light beam in the air. Faint frost and blue ice crystals are all over the air, like a blue lightning pattern shining in the air.

However, Northon's attack is much more than that.

After one arrow was shot, he drew the second arrow with a thunderous momentum, and once again bowed and pulled the string.

But this time, the long arrows converge and shine are no longer the white brilliance, but the purple-blue brilliance, with a faint current surge.

Without the slightest hesitation. When the energy was gathered, Northon immediately let go of the arrow.

The sound of thunder and clouds burst into the air immediately.

When the sound of thunder and clouds sounded. Xiao En's gaze finally became serious.

Double magic arrows.

This is a unique little skill of the archer, even in the game, it is also used to distinguish the biggest difference between the professional game of the archer and the general game. The reason for saying this is that each magic arrow of the magic archer produces different effects. These effects are often not only effective for the enemy, but also effective for yourself, so how to match the order and effects of the magic arrows to maximize Hurt, that is an extremely delicate matter. In addition, the consumption of magic power is not a trivial matter, coupled with the rigidity of the attack time, etc., these all require a lot of small skills to be used.

Of course, based on the player's quality and ability, it is not difficult to shoot double or triple shots, so the standard for judging a master must at least be a quartet. As the quartet goes up, for each additional arrow stack, both the archer and the target have to face a double increase.

In the original game, the archer known as the strongest in the game can shoot up to seven magic arrows in a row.

Magic Arrow. Benlei's momentum is naturally greater than Hoarfrost, but the speed is not as fast as Hoarfrost.

On the surface, it seems that the lightning in the sky before finally turned into a real thunder curtain.

The connection of the two arrows seemed flawless, but Sean still couldn't understand Northon's approach.

Ice is not a conductor, and it can't combine with the thunder-attribute arrows to produce any powerful skill effects. If you first shoot the Thunder Arrow and then the Hoarfrost Arrow, Sean can understand it. After all, there is such a thing in the game. Combination method.

However, after the Penlei arrow shot, Northon only slowed down for about half a second, and then the third arrow shot.

trio!

The blazing flames almost burned out the entire arrow. But judging from the power of the arrow, the effect attached to this third arrow is obviously stronger than Hoarfrost and Ben Lei. Because as soon as this arrow was released, the surrounding area instantly reflected the scenery like a burning cloud, but what was hidden under this gorgeous scenery was extremely dangerous.

Magic Arrow. Red Hell!

The biggest difference between players and NPCs is that the players' professional research and gameplay are more fanciful than NPCs. Although the basic point of judging whether a demon archer player is a master is in the quartet burst, the judgment of NPCs is naturally to drop one level, so the demon archer who can play the trio, in the local world of Marvel Continent, is indeed Can be regarded as a unique master.

It's just that when Sean thought this was the limit, Northon drew five long arrows of the same size from the quiver in one breath. Only this time, instead of putting five arrows on the bow one after another, he put the longbow horizontally on the arm, and the right hand was loosened and shot at the same time, five arrows. They did not shoot out in a fan-shaped split, but shoot out at different speeds to the two sides of the three magic arrows.

Phantom five shots!

Although this is not a unique skill of the Demon Archer, it is also an attacking skill commonly used by the Demon Archer. Its greatest function is to shoot five arrows at the same time. Of course, the activation of this skill can't be regarded as a polyphonic technique, but at this time, the connection here can be regarded as a half polyphonic effect, because the five arrows are shot to the left and right sides, and the purpose is already very obvious. , That is to limit the direction of Sean's movement, forcing him to pass through the trio's serial attacks.

Each of Northton's attack skills is a perfect trap connection. With these traps activated, even though he can only shoot three magic arrows, the threat to Sean is no longer comparable to those in the game that can launch a quartet. How much weaker the high player is.

Especially, Sean also discovered another secret trick hidden in the trio of Northton!

Chapter 115: .The battlefield of the strong

Magic Arrow. The sky full of red reflected in the Red Prison infects the surrounding environment.

The blazing high temperature even completely dispelled the cold and gloom covered by hoarfrost, and a large amount of steam almost filled the field of vision between Sean and Northon.

Frostbolt is followed by rockets, which is a common duo match for archers.

Because there is a hidden special effect of freezing that is fragile, and most of the fire attributes have a burst effect, so the connection of these two effects can produce a very strong chain reaction. The most classic tactical reaction in the game is to directly kill players whose overall health is less than 5%, even if it is a boss, as long as the frozen coverage area is enough, it will be directly shot at a certain blood volume standard line.

At this time, although the second magic arrow fired by Northon was Benlei, but in fact the highest priority magic arrow in the attack sequence happened to be this Benlei.

The red light reflected by the red prison and the steam formed by the difference in high and low temperature are all to cover up the rapid speed of the thunder.

Qualified to fight against opponents at this level of Northon, and the basic combat literacy and abilities possessed by both parties can actually be regarded as knowledgeable. Therefore, when seeing Northon shoot the magic arrow Hoarfrost, his opponent will naturally be able to instantly determine where the arrow falls. Therefore, based on the instinctive reaction of combat, he knows what to do. How to make the right dodge, at least know how to avoid being affected by the ice area of hoarfrost. But this point happened to be the next trap for Northon!

Under the cover of Magic Arrow. Red Hell. It is difficult for anyone to find that the speed of Magic Arrow. Ben Lei is actually slightly faster than Magic Arrow. Hoarfrost. In addition to relying on the lightning attribute as a derived attribute of the wind attribute, it is accompanied by the unique swiftness of the wind attribute. The arrow used by Northon actually has an acceleration effect. But people who have not personally fought in the Western Continent will never know the danger of such arrows. Therefore, it will ignore the speed of the magic arrow.

And Magic Arrow. Ben Lei is not an offensive and defensive skill, but in fact this skill is also a range-type skill, and it also produces a paralyzing effect.

So the landing point of the magic arrow. Benlei will have an effect similar to the coverage of the power grid. People within the range of this power grid will have a certain chance to be affected by the paralysis effect. And the range of influence of the power grid is larger than that of the magic arrow. Hoarfrost, so if you are careless, you will be unable to move due to the effect of paralysis, so you can't get rid of the freezing effect of the magic arrow. Hoarfrost. Then it will naturally be hit directly by the magic arrow.

The viciousness of this series of traps can be seen from this.

As for the arrows shot to the sides, they actually only serve the serial trap. Of course, it does not rule out Northon's ultimate move hidden behind it. At least with the strength shown by Northon, Sean didn't think this Phantom Five Shot was just that simple. In the battle between the strong, the key factor that determines the victory or defeat is often only within a single thought.

Although the trio in front of us has reached the power of the quartet that is generally played in the game, it is even the insidious quintet after all. But facing the left and right sides who still don't know the back hand, they shot. Sean felt that it was better to break the strong.

So, he did not choose to dodge the roundabout attack from the left and right sides, but rushed out directly towards the trio in the middle.

Because of the interference in the field of vision, Northon did not accurately observe Sean's movements. But for an experienced archer like him, just listening to the sound in this silent night can already tell a lot of things, especially his vision is only blocked to the middle position, not right and left. It was affected, so when Sean was not seen on the left and right sides. Northon already knew that Sean had chosen the most dangerous and troublesome one to force a breakthrough.

This guess made Northon's brows slightly frowned. So the right hand that had touched the quiver and clasped the two arrows slightly loosened, and gave up one of the arrows. But after that, he drew an arrow at a very fast speed, and then drew a full moon bow again, without seeing the concentration of magic power, but suddenly two red stars appeared at the arrow, and Started to swirl around the arrow.

Silently reading the countdown timer, Northon focused on the movement ahead.

He shot all three magic arrows, how could he not know how long it will take to reach the attack point. Therefore, as the final decision-making arrow, Northon naturally knows when to shoot to achieve the best effect, and now he is waiting for the best time to attack.

But at this moment, Northon suddenly thought about it. He suddenly turned his head and looked to his left rear, only to see a flame-like energy rushing towards him at a fast speed.

This discovery made Northon curse fiercely.

Although he can indeed ignore Monica, the assassin, but this refers to the situation of head-on confrontation, if an assassin is close to him in a situation like this, he will still die. After killing Sean and letting himself be buried and resigning to his fate, Northon chose the latter without hesitation: instead of waiting for the best time, he immediately let go and shoot arrows. As for the result, this is no longer him. Can be controlled.

As soon as the arrow was shot, two starbursts began to swirl frantically on the long arrow. Soon, the whole arrow was like a bolide, leaving only a faint trace of sparks floating in the air.

At this time, Northon finally had time to deal with Monica. It was supposed to be the rhythm of one hit against Sean, but he did not expect to be disrupted by Monica in the end. Under his anger, Northon would naturally not let Monica easily, even though he wanted to speed it up. The battle quickly decided to kill Monica with a single blow, but considering that her own magic power was not much, he gave up the tempting idea of using Vulcan hunting to kill Monica with a single blow.

Faced with Monica, Northon was not so cautious.

On the contrary, he looked a little more arrogant. This is a kind of contempt for the weak.

Just, is he really qualified to despise Monica?

A normal two-shot, even the magic arrow is not used.

Faced with the two arrows that swiftly fired. With a light wave of Monica's right hand, she couldn't see how violent her movements were, but she could clearly hear two metal crashing sounds, and then two arrows were knocked down by it, but she rushed towards Nuo The speed of Si Dun did not weaken in the slightest.

At this time, Northon saw clearly that Monica was already holding a dagger in her right hand. And she also used this dagger to knock down the two arrows she shot. This made Northon's look slightly stunned: He was very clear about his own strength, this was not arrogance. It's the self-confidence of a strong man. Therefore, it is naturally clear that she can easily shoot down the two arrows she shoots and the speed of the sprint is not reduced at all, which means that Monica has excellent dynamic vision.

The distance between the two sides has been reduced from 100 meters to 50 meters.

Northern sighed slightly. Obviously it is a little regrettable. But the mood didn't change too much, but he narrowed his eyes, this time his expression was a little serious. It's just that he still didn't have the idea of using Vulcan hunting, but he didn't know what kind of mentality and thought he came from. What Northon shot again was still just ordinary attack methods. Of course, judging from the full moon of the bowstring, this An attack is obviously more serious.

Monica's eyes. It was as calm and calm as always, and it didn't cause any mood swings because of Northon's contempt.

In fact. If Monica wants to escape at this time, she has a chance to escape, at least more than half of the chances will be able to survive successfully. Because from the beginning, Northon did not pay attention to Monica at all, and more than the general chance of surviving, for an assassin, there was enough motivation to take a risk. But even Monica didn't know why she turned back halfway and joined hands with Sean.

Perhaps, just to see more secrets about this lord? Quite a few words—Monica comforted herself like this: As long as ten seconds are achieved.

Counting that he had successfully distracted Northon's attention before, Monica has managed to win two seconds for Sean.

The second attack from Northon was naturally much stronger than the first attack.

However, this still cannot pose a sufficient threat to Monica.

The dagger in the hand is raised gently-this is a special dagger coated with matte material, no light source will be reflected under any circumstances-only a crisp sound of "ding", there is a spark in the air Jumping out, Long Arrow was once again picked down by Monica steadily. However, if you observe carefully, you can find that when Monica was flying the long arrow, there was an obvious unnatural pause in her right hand.

Northern's brows raised slightly, a sneer in his eyes, and he drew a third arrow.

Five seconds.

Monica's eyes flashed with inexplicable meaning.

Golden brilliance began to condense on the arrow, and an unusually terrifying aura suddenly condensed on Northton.

didn't stay too much, Northon didn't even pull the longbow out of the full moon, he couldn't wait to loosen the bowstring, but his whole person seemed to collapse at this moment, and the blood on his face faded in an instant.

Magic Arrow. Dawn.

A strong golden brilliance bloomed out, and the darkness in this area was completely dissipated, instantly like the first ray of sunlight shining on the earth at dawn.

Bright and dazzling.

In Monica's vision, everything was already occupied by the golden light, and she could not even see the surrounding environment at all. The only thing she can do is to use her keen sense to judge the position of the arrow that is likely to take her own life—and in fact, even if Monica wants to ignore this, it's completely impossible, because The terrible breath was as obvious as a lighthouse in the dark night.

Faced with the powerful shot of this arrow, Monica had no retreat at this time, she could only make a choice between blocking and death. And assassins like her have always been very life-saving, so she naturally cannot choose to give up, so she can only use the location of the source of that terrible aura to wield the short sword in her hand. But even if Northon finally performed such a powerful ultimate move, Monica's low boxing skills finally opened without reservation.

Her left hand touched the back of her waist. Then he pumped forward suddenly.

I saw a black light flashing out of Monica's body instantly.

In an instant, the darkness that seemed to be real appeared in an instant, and it spread in pieces. All shielded the bright golden light of dawn.

Whether it is strong light or darkness, for humans, it takes a long time for the eyes to adapt to the environment. But for people who are dark, the dark environment is already an instinct for them, and there is no need to adapt.

So, the moment Monica emerged from the darkness, her eyes suddenly opened. He stared clearly at the arrow that was shooting towards him.

One thing Northton's judgment is very accurate, that is, Monica has excellent dynamic vision. But if you want to give a definition of this kind of excellence, then even Northton can't know the specific situation. Only Monica herself knew the limits of her great advantage. As for the magic arrow. Chenxi may be very powerful as a high-level magic arrow technique, but for her, this speed is still a target that can be captured.

After the darkness has flooded out, it is as if light and darkness are opposed to each other. The two kinds of brilliance immediately began to hedge in this small area.

"Eight."

Monica murmured. But her right hand instantly released the dagger that she had been holding tightly, and then the same backhand went to the back, and she drew a dagger again. This dagger was exactly the same as the dagger that drew the dense darkness before. . And when this dagger was also pulled out by Monica, the darkness that had enveloped Monica instantly surged, like boiling water, and it seemed unusually violent.

In the next second, the arrow from Northon's hand slammed into the thick darkness.

In an instant. It was like boiling water poured on ice cubes, accompanied by a loud noise. A large amount of white mist diffused out instantly. The dark gas visible to the naked eye is being eroded by a large amount of white liquid at an astonishing speed, especially the darkness directly in front of Monica, which is rapidly thinning, and the deep black color is quickly rendered into White, like a faded tablecloth.

But despite this, the arrow shot by Northon still failed to penetrate the darkness completely, but the impact speed was steadily weakening.

The impact of the absolute power of light and darkness, just a few strands of power that escaped, has completely destroyed the surrounding terrain.

Monica gritted her teeth with some difficulty. It was obvious that this kind of impact force was still very difficult for her who was not good at frontal combat. However, she did not give up the slightest because of this. Instead, she moved the black dagger in her right hand with difficulty and slowly moved closer to the black dagger held in the left hand in a horizontal position. , Tap the left hand dagger with the tip of the right hand dagger gently.

"Ding".

Slightly and full of a unique sound of sword strikes, faintly sounded.

In an instant, the darkness that had faded to almost completely turn into milky white immediately became abnormally turbulent. As if the endless darkness from the abyss began to crazily swallow the power of light that was rendered on this piece of darkness, just like the ashes after the ancient war, the world was only pitch black.

When all the whiteness disappeared completely, the arrow shot by Northon finally became unsustainable and could only fall to the ground slumpingly.

But Monica, obviously also very uncomfortable.

The blood on her face was the same as Northon's, and disappeared without a trace in an instant, leaving only a sickly pale. After that, she finally maintained the posture of standing without holding the sword, the whole person knelt down as if prostration, and the short swords held in both hands fell weakly to the ground. As Monica fell to her knees, the dark power that was like a giant net in front of her disappeared instantly, just like burnt paper, leaving only ashes in the air. drift.

"Damn it!" Northon cursed. Although there was no blood on his face, he had a few more chances to breathe and rest than Monica because he was the side of the shot. At this time, his face looked slightly better.

Looking at Monica who was kneeling on the ground, Northton took a deep breath and adjusted his emotions. After confirming that Monica was completely unable to interfere with him for the time being, he finally did not decide to shoot Vulcan hunting. Instead, he turned his head and looked in the direction of Sean. Although he couldn't see exactly what was going on in the smoke because of the limitation of his vision, he knew that no one could escape his serial magic arrow trap. The only thing he needs to do is to make up an arrow when the smoke is gone.

As for Monica, after he solves Sean, he has time to torture this beautiful and dangerous woman.

Watching Northton disdain to deal with himself. The corners of Monica's mouth raised slightly, and then finally uttered a word: "Ten."

The ten seconds she promised to Sean has completely ended, and no matter what the result is, it has nothing to do with her.

After forcibly taking a breath, Monica slowly got up. As a person trained by the succubus whisper, how can he not master a few secret arts. At least Monica still possesses this secret technique of forcibly mentioning the spirit and ability of action, so it was only a second later. Monica's pale face regained the blood color. She didn't even go to see how the battle between Northon and Sean would be. She turned and left quickly. She already felt two things. Powerful forces are coming here quickly.

If this time. Monica looked back at the direction of the main battlefield. Then she will definitely have a new understanding of Sean's strength. It's just a pity that she chose to give up at this time. Although the figure who fled was not embarrassed, the figure that was gradually disappearing still showed Monica's determination not to stay here.

On the other side, almost the moment Monica turned and left, a strong sword light ripped apart the water vapor smoke that was permeating.

Northern's pupils shrank suddenly, and only the five words "how is this possible" came to mind.

Can be seen at the end of his field of vision. It was the arrow with the purple-blue luster entering the ground, and countless thunder snakes were walking on the ground. Shaped like a spider web.

Slightly farther away from Thunderbolt, and slightly closer to the end of the line of sight, is the Frostbolt. The white cold air has completely frozen the surrounding area into a land of cold ice, isolating the walking Razer's net into a circle, and the cold on the ground is also spreading and spreading, shrinking the Razer at a speed visible to the naked eye. The range of motion until the entire thunderbolt is frozen into ice.

As for the magic arrow, inferno, and the last supplementary magic arrow. Ssangyong Flame, originally at this height, it should have hit Sean's body, which had been frozen into ice, one after another at this height, but at this time it was because Sean was not frozen into ice, and he did not know where he was shot.

A little closer in the field of vision, a sword tore through the smoke that filled the sky, and he was piercing Sean towards him in an extremely domineering posture.

Northern can even see the sword energy that surrounds the body of the black long sword in Shawn's hand and a completely materialized sword light extending from the tip of the sword.

Sean's speed is too fast.

Soon even Northon could hardly capture Sean's figure, which made his brain feel a panic once again. It's just that as a superior gold powerhouse, Northon's actual combat experience will naturally not be ineffective in this situation. Years of life and death wandering has made his body clearly remember a truth, so there is no trace of it. After hesitating, the whole person went backwards at an extremely fast speed, and at the same time, he had already begun preparations for a counterattack.

Xiao En's eyes narrowed slightly, and his toes touched the ground lightly, but the powerful force escaping from his body instantly caused the ground within a metre radius of Xiao En's foothold to collapse, like a spider web. The cracks are clearly visible, and only the small inch of land where Xiao En settled is intact. With the help of this power, Sean's speed rose again, reducing the distance between him and Northon to only one meter in an instant.

A strong wind whizzed past the two of them.

There was almost no pause between the two sides who retreated and entered. In an instant, the two had crossed a distance of tens of meters, but the distance between each other still maintained a gap of one meter, like a chasm that was insurmountable. But in the same way, Northon, whose right hand is already clasped on his quiver, has no chance of counterattack at all, because he knows very well that as long as he is slightly distracted to draw an arrow out, then his heart will definitely be shattered by Sean's sword.

Just hold on for another half a minute!

Monica can feel that two powerful breaths are quickly approaching. How could it be that Sean, Cecilia, and Northon could not feel it?

It's just that Northon deliberately delayed time to allow reinforcements to arrive. What about Sean and Cecilia?

Shaun looked as usual, as if he didn't care about the enemy's assistance at all. He was just a little tired of such endless pursuit and retreat. So after a soft drink, a red light suddenly lit up on the back of the right hand. These rays of light quickly turned into strips of red light wrapped around Xiao En's arm, and the whole piece of clothing on his right hand was completely shattered in an instant. Only a red mark like a magic pattern is left.

Magic Seal. Blood Charm.

Seeing the strange magic patterns on Sean's right hand, Northon's face finally couldn't keep any peace, and a death panic from the depths of his heart uttered completely.

When these * magic lines covered his right hand, Xiao En instantly felt the strange fluctuations in the surrounding space, and at the same time felt the signs of life-like pulsation in these magic lines on his right hand. He instantly developed a kind of insight that the spatial fluctuation of the former comes from the spatial attack ability possessed by the blood charm from the beginning, while the latter is like the pulse of life. It comes from the new ability after the promotion of blood charm: blood sucking.

Feeling that the two strong breaths are getting closer, Xiao En finally retracted his right hand, and then pierced out with a sword.

From this distance. It is impossible for this stabbing sword to hit Northon at all, but when Sean's sword stabbed, a blood-red magic circle appeared in front of Sean instantly, when the long sword pierced this magic circle. when. The part of the long sword that didn't enter the magic circle just disappeared out of thin air.

followed. Northon felt a sudden pain in his heart, and when he lowered his head, he saw a small black sword tip coming out of his body. When he turned his head and looked at his back, he realized that he did not know when there was a blood-red magic circle behind him, and most of the sword body that Xiao En pierced out of the magic circle disappeared. It appeared from here.

"How can this be..."

Faced with the last question when Northon was dying, Sean was not even ready to answer. At this moment, he was silently feeling the continuous feedback from the heart of Northon to himself through the black king. Blood. The blood passed through the sword of the black king. Then it passed to the blood pattern on the right arm, and then these blood patterns penetrated the absorbed blood into Sean's body through the surface of the skin. Assimilate with Sean's blood.

A peculiar tingling sensation instantly radiated from Sean's body, which made him feel a sense of shock in an instant.

At this moment, the blood-sucking effect that Sean knew instantly was a completely different effect from what he had imagined. There was a refreshing effect and an effect similar to bloodthirsty. However, it is a little pity that it seems that the position of the heart must be centered in order to achieve this effect. If it is pierced in other positions, it will probably only speed up the healing of the wound.

Sean suddenly felt that he seemed a bit like a blood clan.

Looking at the corpse on the ground that was getting colder, Xiao En glanced at the hunting fire next to him, picked up the famous longbow with his foot, and put it into the storage space. Then he turned around in a leisurely manner, looking at the rushing weather that had rushed to about two hundred meters away from him.

The visitor wore a set of light armor, with a slicing knife held upside down in his right hand, all in black, and the murderous intent on his body was almost real.

There is no doubt that this person is naturally the Black Hawk, one of the three underground giants in the Kingdom of Lane.

At the same time, on the other side, there is also an assault that is not weaker than the Black Hawk approaching at the same alarming speed, but in that direction, there will also be a person intercepting it.

Cecilia Rembel.

Sean believes in Cecilia's power, so he will choose not to interfere when she also releases the breath of the strong—the flames rising from the sky as a signal to invite a duel. In fact, in the face of Black Hawk, Sean really has no way to be distracted to take care of Cecilia, or Xie You's current approach is the best solution. After all, once the two powerhouses are brought together, Then the opponent's combat effectiveness is probably not as simple as one plus one.

took a deep breath, and Sean temporarily turned off the ability of Demon Seal and Blood Charm. This ability may also unexpectedly produce some additional effects in the next battle. Of course, Sean is a little grateful for the few drops of blood that Northton has provided to him—the whole heart has completely withered away, and all the blood has been compressed into a few drops of blood. At this time, it has been completely It took effect on Sean's body.

Hesitated for a while, Sean waved his sword casually and tore Northton's body into several pieces, which was enough to ensure that the secret of Northton's heart withered would not be discovered by anyone.

It's just that, this will also anger the Black Hawk.

Chapter 116: .Meat grinder

The night is full, almost out of sight.

At this time, the moon seemed to have been frightened by the cruel and hideous killings on the earth, so hiding in the thick clouds, even opening a thread of eyes was not in a good mood.

Nordala Viscount, this is a territory connected to the fief of the Finlisting family. Although it is nominally the fief of the Romys family, the hereditary Viscount Nodala, since a daughter of the Finlistine family married to the Roomis family a hundred years ago, the territory actually belongs to Finlistine. The family's vassals provide the Finlisting family with a large amount of considerable taxes and precious resources every year.

But tonight, this viscount collar is destined to usher in a disaster.

A 500-man army responsible for the security of the territory was completely defeated by a cavalry force just two hours ago. If it weren't for this cavalry force to pursue, I'm afraid this army would be completely wiped out. However, even if hundreds of defeated soldiers regrouped and returned, they had already lost the courage to continue to be an enemy of the troop that defeated them.

At this moment, the entire Nodara Viscount Collar and others are completely undefended military blank areas.

But it's not over yet. After defeating the guards of Viscount Nordara, this cavalry unit did not stop there, but continued to go south and destroyed all visible facilities along the way. Even the towns were also invaded. Destroy its important facilities. In just two hours, Viscount Nodara lost more than 30,000 gold coins, even if Viscount Nodara was willing to reinvest a lot of money for reconstruction. It is not that the construction and restoration can be completed within one or two months, so if the accumulated losses over a long period of time are to be counted, this account only conservatively estimates the losses at least more than 200,000 gold coins.

This is just a loss in two months. If the time is longer, or if this cavalry unit destroys more things along the way, then the estimation of the loss will become more and more difficult and higher.

No lord will allow such an enemy army to wreak havoc on his territory.

But this time, the Romes family has a hard time talking about it.

Although this cavalry unit has a size of less than three hundred people, it far surpasses their territory guards in terms of equipment, personal strength, or commander's ability. therefore. In the first charge they met, they left dozens of corpses, among which the number of wounded was no less than the number of dead in battle. After that, the entire cavalry unit of the opposing team completed a perfect arc-turning charge at about 100 meters, and the commander of the Romes Family Guard knew that this battle was not needed. To be able to complete such a precise and neat short arc return is the lowest standard definition of the Knights on the entire Marvel Continent.

In other words, this is an unusual cavalry unit that cut them like butter in the first round of charge. It's a Knight Order!

After two rounds of charge. The house guard of the Romes family was completely defeated, with more than two hundred casualties. After this, there was another round of short-arc counter-charge, and the entire territory guard was completely defeated. They could no longer afford any courage to counterattack. They could only escape and were trampled to death by their own people in the process. There are at least dozens of people.

It was also after the third round of the charge that the commander of the house guard of the Romes family finally saw the emblem of the knights.

That is a bright red as the background color. There is a eagle-shaped shield engraved on it and the emblem of a knight sword and a spear is crossed.

This badge was used in the Second Founding War-Lane historians have called this war between the Principality of Lane and the Kingdom of Darbion the Second Founding War. Because it was this war that allowed the Principality of Lane to re-upgrade to the kingdom-no one knew it before, but since the Second National War, this emblem has instantly become one of the most important legion badges in the entire Kingdom of Lane.

Because the legion represented by this badge is the knight of the Void Duke, Sean Connery, and the emblem of the only knight that belongs to the Kingdom of Lane.

The Scarlet Knights.

Facing a frontal assault from a real knights, let alone the Romes family's territory guard has only 500 people, and usually neglects training, even if there are thousands of people, it will definitely not be the opponent of the Scarlet Knights. So this big defeat is entirely a matter of love, and knowing the decision made by the Finlisting family today and the situation in the Finlisting family's territory, the Romis family naturally did not dare to continue to hinder this. The advance of the knights.

Not only did he dare not, but he also had no such strength.

Therefore, for the destruction of the Scarlet Knights along the way, the Romes family can only admit that they are unlucky.

is just the panic that the Romes family will suffer tonight, and obviously it doesn't stop there. Because two hours after the Scarlet Knights defeated the Romes family's territory guard, another news came that the current patriarch of the Romes family, Quik Finlisting Romes, fainted.

One of the three main forces under the command of the Void Duke, the Lion of Thunder has officially completed the meeting with the Crimson Knights in the Grey Hills and the Scarlet Knights, which is led by Viscount Nordara. And Huiwu Town, which relies on Huiwu Hills as its main industry, was directly taken over by the Thunder Lion and under military jurisdiction. It directly used this as a stronghold for military fortification and rectification. At the same time, it has also begun to deploy defenses, and announced that the surrounding area will be within five kilometers. All are listed as military restricted areas.

With the five-kilometer defensive area surrounding Huiwu Town, Huiwu Hills was included in the defense zone, and this line of defense happened to be connected with the territory of the Finlisting family. The Thunder Lion occupies this area, which is tantamount to abruptly establishing an outpost on the edge of the Finlisting family, and then whether it is to continue to harass, looting, or attack Finnish Viscounty. The invasion of Listin's territory is entirely dependent on the Thunder Lion and the Scarlet Knights.

This behavior is no different from invasion.

Invading the territory of other nobles is equivalent to declaring war on this noble and his allies.

Logically speaking, unreasonable behavior like Sean. It will definitely cause a strong backlash from the aristocratic circle, and it is usually even a sign of the outbreak of a civil war. But this time, Viscount Nordara was not even in the mood to ask the Finlistine family for help. Because he knows very well that even if he asks for help now, the Finlisting family can't spare anybody to help him, because they are now encircling Xiao En in the territory.

It's just different from what Sean did. They all did it in secret, at least they knew how to put on a layer of disguise.

But this Void Duke has mobilized his army to invade without any scruples. He didn't even want to do the slightest disguise. Such a grand invasion was really something Viscount Nodala couldn't accept. But he also knows. The current situation can no longer help him to speak, no matter whether he accepts it or not, he can only choose to endure it. As for things like launching a counterattack, the Viscount Nordara has completely given up.

Because he has learned in just over two hours. The commander who led the Thunder Lions force this time. It was Alfred Worst who swallowed the mountain lion army by himself and won the name "Lion King". More importantly, the ability to include the area within five kilometers as a defense zone is enough to prove that the Thunder Lions are definitely not a small unit like two detachments, but the entire Thunder Lions army is dispatched. NS.

Before this, Viscount Nodara had not heard any news. The more he thought about this, the more he feared the Lion of Thunder.

But anyway. He believed that by tomorrow, it was estimated that all the lords in the surrounding territories would know that the Thunder Lion and the Scarlet Knights had invaded. And accompanied by the official debut of these two armies. The storm that takes this as the origin will quickly sweep through and involve all the surrounding territories, and even a steady stream of troops will be mobilized and thrown here. By then, this war zone will officially become a meat grinder. Killing battlefield.

Thinking that the coming war is likely to destroy the entire Viscount Nordala, the lord Quik Finlisting Romes wanted to cry without tears.

At the same time, in the outpost that has been established in Huiwuzhen, the soldiers of the Thunder Lion are constantly driving away the residents of Huiwuzhen. However, most of the soldiers of the Thunder Lions were naked and even undressed. They just wielded tools such as sledgehammers to demolish all the houses marked with the red cross, and then remove the stones. , Timber and other materials were transported to other designated locations, and corresponding defense facilities were built.

The so-called military fortification and rectification means that everything is based on stronghold defense as the core consideration. At this time, whether it is personal assets or houses, if necessary, they must be demolished. So once a town is listed as a stronghold and undergoes military fortification, it usually means that the town will be completely destroyed.

Located in a temporary command center built in Huiwu Town, Alfred is staring at a map on the table intently, on which a few circles have been drawn with red ink, and there is also a The red line where the circles are all connected in series. In addition, several places were painted with red slashes, and the words one, two, and three were also marked on them.

There is a sudden sound of footsteps.

Alfred raised his head and saw the three knights walking towards the command center. The two knights who were slightly behind the young knight half-length stopped at the gate of the command center, only the middle knight. Step into it.

"Master Alfred." As soon as he entered the command center, the young knight paid a military salute, and then stood straight across from Alfred.

"Captain Dwight, you don't need to be so serious." Alfred smiled, "The raid at night and the subsequent destruction along the way, you have worked hard."

"I just follow the instructions of the adults."

"That was not my instruction, it was William's instruction." Alfred smiled, "The combination of William and Hela is simply terrible. I am afraid that now the Viscount Nordara doesn't even know how we are. Infiltrated."

Thinking of this, as serious as Dwight, not only the corners of his mouth raised slightly: "Then, what are we going to do next?"

"According to the information provided by Hela, William has already analyzed the places where Sean might be able to pass through, but Hela also said that those nobles will definitely not allow Sean to leave so easily, so if you go deep into Finlisting In the family territory, there will inevitably be an encounter with the enemy. Please be prepared for a large number of battles and attrition." Alfred's expression also became serious, "Our biggest advantage at this time is that the other lords have not yet Discovered our actions, but according to William's speculation, the entire Ryan will know of our invasion by noon tomorrow, so you don't have any rest time, Captain Dwight."

"Master Alfred, please give orders." Dwight said in a deep voice.

"You must remember these travel routes." Alfred pointed to the places on the map that were marked in red circles. "Because the possibility of encountering enemy snipers is extremely high, you must do nothing before arriving at Bai Mengsen. There are three requirements for love fighting, no division of troops, and no initiative. After this, the search area will change in both north and south directions, so you can only explore by dividing troops, but no matter what the result is, you will eventually be in Luquan. The rivers converge, once your troops reunited and there is no trace of Lord Sean, then you must return here immediately anyway."...

While saying this, Alfred clicked on the slashed area marked as two on the map: "I will set off after you. Here I will leave three thousand soldiers on defense and travel south along the way. I will also establish two strongholds.... This is our second supply point. Once the enemy knows that we have established an outpost in such a deep area, they will definitely launch a strong attack to break our back road, so when the time comes We probably need to regain the security of the logistics line, so I need the assistance of the Scarlet Knights."

"I see, Lord Alfred!" Dwight nodded heavily, "I will definitely follow the instructions."

"One more thing, please remember." Alfred said again, "According to Hela's estimate, you only have three days to move. By the fourth morning, whether you arrive at the River of Green Springs or not. , And whether you find Sean or not, you must return to this stronghold immediately."

"Then if you still can't find Lord Shaun..."

"Don't worry, if you still can't find Sean by then, William said, we can let go and make a big fuss." Alfred's eyes became sharp, and the true ferocity of the lion king was also revealed at this time. , As strong as Dwight, he only felt that the murderous aura almost suffocated him, "I will gather all the troops directly here..." Alfred pointed to the slashed area on the map with "three": "... ...Establish a battle base."

Dwight looked at the markers on the map, his eyes shrank suddenly, but it was not fear, but excitement.

Because the place Alfred is pointing to is the most important heart of the territory of the Finlisting family—Fenlisting Castle!

Chapter 117: .Black Hawk's Hole Card

The predecessor of the Kingdom of Lane, before annexing the Kingdom of Darbion, there was a saying of the Dark Three. Looking at the latest and most complete novel, it is said that these three people are firmly in control of the entire underground world of the Principality of Ryan. Basically any information and work related to underground transactions will eventually be collected in the hands of these three people. Therefore, in many cases, these three people's In fact, work overlaps each other, so there are fights and fights with each other.

However, as the intelligence and work focus between each other changes and differs, over time the three people seem to have an extra barrier between them, just like the domain of the sanctuary powerhouse, they will never interfere with what other people are good at. And the scope of operations. In this way, the darkest and * underground disputes in the Principality of Lane ushered in peace earlier than the fights and secret fights on the surface.

Of course, this is inseparable from their own backing, strength, luck, etc.

Like the Marquis of Floris, as a close minister and confidant of His Majesty the Emperor, he naturally owns the entire royal family as a backer. Therefore, the resources that can be mobilized and the corresponding intelligence network and logistics are naturally beyond the control of the other two underground worlds. Comparable. Basically, in the old Principality of Lane, the Marquis of Flores was the undeserved king of the three giants, but the underground world transactions he was responsible for were mainly dealing with foreigners, not the dark affairs of the country.

But if you want to trace history, in fact, Old Potter in the Potter Tavern is the dark family with the longest history. It is said that from the generation of his great, great-great-grandfather-before the Kingdom of Line became the Principality of Line-he has been responsible for the dark work of Line, and because of this, this family has a very mature underground intelligence network and Corresponding series of task reports and reward system.

Old Potter and the Marquis of Floris. It can be said that the entire underground world of Lane is divided into north and south. Basically, any dirty work, tiring work, or the private affairs of a nobleman, etc., can be answered in the Potter Tavern-most of the time. But there is a business. That is an area that the Potter Tavern has never touched, and that is related to the secrets of the royal family and the affairs of the king.

In any case, Old Potter and Little Potter, who is about to inherit the name "Porter", are still very principled Lane people.

And the third big figure in the Ryan underground world, who has the nickname "Ryan's Darkside Lord" and who calls himself the "Black Hawk", is a man with no principles and no bottom line. But unfortunately, this big man is known for his powerful and terrifying combat power in Lane's underground world. Moreover, the organization under his command, the "Dark Side of Lane", also has many powerful individuals with extremely high personal combat capabilities.

Because of this, the businesses that Ryan secretly engages in are relatively high-end businesses. From providing private bodyguard services to those nobles, down to performing indiscriminate assassination missions. Even infiltrating military secrets and many other tasks, Ryan has never refused in the dark side. As long as he can afford the corresponding reward, they will take on any task.

The middle-aged man standing in front of Sean. It was the dark side of Ryan who was kept silent by many Ryan people. Black Hawk.

Thanks to his night vision ability, Sean was able to see that the black eagle was wearing a dark light armor. This light armor was obviously specially made because it not only fits perfectly with the black eagle's figure. , And there is no gap in this light armor. As for the thickness and defensive power, although Sean can't tell at a glance, he can be worn by the black eagle and directly fight, which is enough to prove that the defensive power of this armor must be very good.

There are actually many professions that can wear light armor. However, most of them are advanced defense occupations of the sub-t category, and only a few are based on combat output capabilities.

Even though Sean had almost had combat experience against all professions in the game. But with the particularity of the current Black Hawks, Sean couldn't tell at a glance what the other party's specific occupation was. However, judging from the fear of the Ryan people towards the Black Hawk, Ryan's dark side master, he obviously would not be the kind of advanced class that focuses on defense, otherwise it would not be possible to become such a cruel person.

But if you want to say cruelty at this time, in the eyes of Black Hawk, Sean has already been equated by him.

The Black Hawk glanced at the fragments that had been cruelly dismembered by Sean, gently trampled over a head that had rolled under his feet, looked at him calmly, and then raised his head to look at Sean again and said, "That's right. You killed Northton?"

"It's me." Sean nodded without denying it.

In fact, there is nothing to deny about this kind of thing. Because he was the only one present and the corpse of Northon, could Sean still say that he just passed by? Don't say that Black Hawk wouldn't believe this kind of thing, Sean didn't believe it himself.

"Although Northon is not the strongest person under me, he can also be ranked in the top three." Black Hawk said lightly, his expression full of a sense of superior superiority, as if all the situation was firmly controlled by him. In the hands of the same, "However, he is not so easy to kill someone, after all, he is not a person without melee combat ability.... So, boy, I am suddenly very interested in you."

"There are too many people who are interested in me. I think you should still line up." Sean sneered.

"Haha." Black Hawk suddenly let out a burst of hearty laughter, but this reaction made Sean more vigilant, because he didn't feel the slightest sign of relaxation in the surrounding atmosphere, but became more stagnant. It is a dangerous performance.

"Boy, you are really interesting." After laughing for a few seconds, Black Hawk stopped laughing, and his eyes on Sean became unusually sharp, "I can give you a chance.... One, The chance to live your life."

"I thought you were going to say something." Xiao En let out a laugh, the contempt on his face didn't hide the slightest, "Is it possible, do you really think that you can stop me here alone? No, do you really think I will not have any back-ups?"

"You can only be the Duke of Lane when you are alive. Little devil." Black Hawk looked at Sean, then shook his head, a look of disappointment in his eyes. "Sure enough, you are still too young and naive.... But it's okay, you still have a chance to remedy it. As long as you are willing to join my dark side of Lane, then I can give you a brand new identity, and I can assure you You will never restrict all your actions, but you have to give up your identity as the Void Duke."

"I think it's you innocent." Sean shook his head, the mockery in his eyes even more evident. "Even if I join your dark side of Ryan, why do you think I will obey your orders? Since I didn't put you in my eyes from the beginning, then you think you might use force to attack me. Deterrence? Or rather. Poison me?"

While saying this, the corners of Sean's mouth raised slightly, and then he stretched out a finger: "Then the problem is..."

Black Hawk raised his brow.

"Although I really want to ask you which excavator technology is strong, but... what I really want to ask is. Do you think you have a chance to poison me?"

Black Hawk smiled. The smile was full of indifference, but the surrounding aura became obviously stronger: "Who knows."

Xiao En's face also raised a slight smile, and the smile was as indifferent to the current situation as the Black Hawk. But behind this smile, Sean's eyes became extremely clear, his gaze fell on the knife in Black Hawk's hand, and his face finally gained a little more confident confidence: "I thought I wanted to. After fighting, I can roughly understand your tendency to fight, but now...I have to thank you for the information you gave me. Thank you for making me invincible."

"Oh?" Black Hawk raised his eyebrows again, and the smile in his eyes became more obvious. "I really want to know, kid, where does your confidence come from."

"I can list dozens of professional tendencies at any time for the combination of light armor and swordsmanship, but based on your personality, I guess you must be more aggressive, so there are only six professional tendencies left." Shaun smiled. He said, "And on this basis, plus a 'poisoning' ability limit, then there are only two types left... I don't think you can poison me after fighting against me, so the only The explanation is that you can only poison me in battle, and this is your hole card, and of course it may also be one of the hole cards. After all, whichever one of the remaining two professions is, it is very disgusting."

As Sean said these words word by word, the smile on Black Hawk's face gradually disappeared, and the surrounding atmosphere began to gradually become dull. The feeling that the secret hidden in the deepest part was peeled away bit by bit made Black Hawk become a little uncomfortable, and this feeling has not appeared for many years since he established the "Dark Side of Lane" "After this organization.

And when Sean uttered the words "poisoned", Black Hawk's expression became visibly stiff, and a completely see-through feeling of shame instantly surged into Black Hawk's heart.

Quenching poison, this is a very special skill.

In the game, "poisoning" is a time-lapse active skill. Only players who master this skill can perform the poisoning operation on the weapon-this step needs to be carried out in advance and cannot be implemented in battle . This ability can be accompanied by physical attacks to cause additional poison damage. It is different from magical damage effects, so naturally it is impossible to exempt poison damage through the increase in magic resistance. The only thing that can be weakened and exempted is it's just a strong physical fitness. However, as the level of poisoning skills increases, there will be more and more toxins that can be used on weapons. In the end, they can even use some special ones that are enough to cause pollution and damage to the body of the sanctuary powerhouse. toxin.

However, the ability to "damp poison" is usually in the hands of advanced pros such as assassins and thieves. Among the advanced occupations of the fighter system that are based on physical output capabilities, only two occupations have special skills for quenching poison, and all their related skills are tactical battles that are extended from this core.

The two professions are the Frenzy Warrior and the Fallen Samurai, both of which belong to Tier 7 professions.

However, relatively speaking, the former is more troublesome than the latter, because the tactical core of the former is not just around "poisoning", he also has another combat genre, which is mainly derived from aura skills. Out of the tactical core.

Sean took a breath, and then slowly exhaled. He has been staring at the movements of the Black Hawk up until now, hoping to determine which profession the Black Hawk belongs to. But it is a pity that the Black Hawk, who is obviously inclined to be cautious, did not reveal any flaws because of this. Even the slightest chance was not given to Sean—just standing so casually and communicating with Sean casually. , But Sean didn't find any flaws all over his body.

But, just keep consuming, Sean is not a good way.

So just after facing each other in silence for a few seconds, Sean finally made a decision: attack first!

Although this is contrary to his usual fighting style, this situation is the only way he can do it right now, but it is important to note that he cannot be slashed by the chopper in the hands of the Black Hawk even once, otherwise he might be true. Can't escape the fate of being controlled.

Chapter 118: .Cecilia's field prototype

The blazing flames almost dyed the entire sky as red as the setting sun.

Within a radius of several hundred meters, there is a sea of flames burning. Among them are huge pillars of fire rising into the sky, fire dragons flying in the air, and countless fire lotuses blooming like lotus flowers. This is truly a fierce and evil elephant like purgatory.

In this sea of flames, two figures are engaged in a fierce confrontation.

One of the taller figures always accompanies the other petite figure every time it raises its hand, and has to make a large-scale dodge movement.

At this moment, looking at the light source in the sea of fire, we can clearly see that this taller figure has many traces of flame burned on its body. Among them, there is a large scorch mark on the right arm, which is obviously in this sea of fire. Among them has suffered a lot. Because of this, every time he dodges and moves, he would rather retreat a little farther, and don't want to show off in this sea of fire.

The so-called high-end show can only be carried out when the combat power is sufficient to form a crush. The strengths of the two sides are similar at present, and it can even be said that if the taller figure is basically at a disadvantage and continues to show high-end, then it is actually no different from looking for death.

The stronger you are, the more you understand these subtle truths.

Therefore, after dodging another huge pillar of fire ejected from the ground, he stood one hundred and fifty meters away from the petite figure, staring coldly at each other.

This petite figure is naturally Cecilia.

And that taller figure is one of the two strong men who rushed here to try and kill Sean with Northton. It's just that he was not as lucky as the Black Hawk, and the direction he chose was slightly deviated, so he "coincidentally" entered Cecilia's home court and was completely blocked by Cecilia.

This sea of fire is the rudimentary form of the realm that Cecilia found after comprehending Solomon's 72 heavy flames-Hell.

With Cecilia's current strength and realm, it is an inevitable trend to step into the sanctuary. As long as she completely perfects her inferno and completes the strengthening of her body, then she will be a real sanctuary powerhouse. Of course, with Cecilia's strength today. Maybe it can't be called a half-step sanctuary, but it's actually not far from this limit.

Looking at Cecilia, the middle-aged man wiped his face in a rough and wild move, but this was only to cover up his inner shock. When he inadvertently broke into the prototype of this field at the beginning, he didn't put Cecilia in his eyes. After all, he hadn't played against a magician, but basically there was no magician against him. The living, no matter how powerful at the beginning or even a magician who completely suppressed him, would eventually die in his hands.

But this time. The middle-aged man knew that the situation was not as smooth as he had imagined.

The surrounding area of the sea of fire has a radius of close to 300 meters. This is already an extremely large area. Generally speaking, only the strong of the middle sanctuary level can have such a large area. Although the prototype of the domain is completely formed, the domain will be reduced by removing impurities and loopholes to improve the scope of the domain. But in any case, Cecilia has a coverage of 300 meters in just the rudimentary area, which is definitely not something ordinary people can do.

In the mind of this middle-aged man, a noun emerged involuntarily.

Probably only a real genius can explain why just a prototype of a field has a coverage of 300 meters.

However, what really makes the middle-aged man helpless is not that he has always been unable to narrow the distance between himself and Cecilia-from accidentally breaking into the Hell to the present, this middle-aged man and Cecilia The shortest distance between Celia was one hundred meters, but only a few seconds later she was pushed back. Not to mention being close to Cecilia's side, even within 100 meters can't do it at all.

It seemed as if there was a sky trench, lying between him and Cecilia, like the huge thunder pond, unable to cross half a step.

What really makes this middle-aged man feel tricky and helpless is that he even wants to leave Cecilia's domain at this time. It has been impossible to do it. The surrounding fire dragons are not just to stop him from moving forward, but also to stop him from retreating. He even discovered another secret in the rudimentary form of this field, that is, these skyrocketing. All of the pillars of fire possess the attribute of "door". These fire dragons can enter and exit these doors at will.

The burnt marks on 's right hand are evidence that he just ventured out of this sea of flames and failed.

This makes him more cautious.

However, in the duel between the strong and the strong, the intuition is always unusually sharp.

The middle-aged man straightened his waist, and then shouted in a deep voice: "You are almost at your limit."

"Who knows." Cecilia's voice was indifferent, without any emotional leaks, "Would you like to try again?"

While saying this, Cecilia raised his hand to light a pillar of fire that rose to the sky in the rudimentary form of this field. In an instant, there were dozens of pillars of fire scattered scattered throughout the field. But if you count carefully, you will find that these pillars of fire have a total of seventy-two paths. Although they seem to be scattered very far from each other, these pillars of fire are perfectly distributed within the prototype of the entire field, and each other. The distance between the two is the same.

Distributed between these fire pillars are huge fire dragons with a length of nine meters, a length of one meter and a thickness of one meter. Of course, this kind of thing should be called fire snake or fire python in Sean's opinion. However, it was these fire dragons cruising in the air that left this middle-aged man completely in the rudimentary form of this field, and even leaving it became a luxury.

But even so, the middle-aged man did not despair.

As a full-time demon-breaker profession, his understanding of magicians is often better than many magicians themselves. Because of this, he knows how much the maintenance of large-scale magic consumes the magician. The breath emanating from Cecilia, the middle-aged man knows that the little girl in front of him is a genius, but at the same level as himself. It's only a strong person, so he doesn't believe how long the other party can hold on.

What's more, the cost of an unformed field is even dozens of times more than the current magic.

can last for more than ten minutes, this middle-aged man has been deeply shocked. I even felt a little regretful for this-the regret to kill a genius. Therefore, the shock in my heart soon calmed down, and my mood became calm as before, without the slightest flaw. He knew that if he wanted to break through the prototype of this field with his own strength. There must be a heavy price to pay, so the best way right now is to spend time with the other party.

Because of the war of attrition, the opponent must first be unable to support it. If the rudimentary domain can no longer function, then the middle-aged man is confident that he can give the opponent a fatal blow. As for the scope of forcibly leaving the rudimentary form of this domain, he no longer thinks about it. The scars on his arm that are still aching up to now have already proved a point for him.

Anyway, time must be on his side, and more and more powerful men are coming to this battlefield, and victory will still belong to them. Of course, the biggest prerequisite to taste the fruits of victory. That is, he must be alive after this war is over, because for the dead, regardless of the outcome of the final war, it is a failure for them.

Just as the middle-aged man was thinking about how to delay the battle, he keenly caught a trace of magical fluctuations. Relying on the body instinct like conditioned reflex. He immediately jumped backwards without even thinking about it. The distance of this jump was also more than ten meters, but almost the moment he jumped to the ground, a pillar of fire spewed out from where he was standing before.

This pillar of fire ignited all the surrounding area within a few meters. If the middle-aged man's reaction was not fast enough, and the distance away was far enough, I am afraid it would be directly swallowed by this pillar of fire at this time. Because the appearance of this pillar of fire was faster and more sudden than the appearance of those pillars of fire before. This made the middle-aged man keenly captured a message: the magician girl was already anxious.

As if to confirm his guess, a huge fire dragon rushed out of the pillar of fire at the moment it was burning, rushing towards the middle-aged man with an anxious heat wave and a kind of domineering.

When he saw this fire dragon, the right hand of the middle-aged man was glowing with black light, which was a sign that his exclusive ability to destroy demons was being activated.

It's just that the sword that should have shattered the fire dragon did not pierce it. Instead, he was forcibly interrupted by the middle-aged man, and once again quickly jumped to the side, also pulling a dozen meters away from the original position.

As in the previous situation, almost the moment the middle-aged man jumped sideways, another pillar of fire on the ground rose into the sky. But compared to the previous one. The speed is obviously faster again, and the fluctuation of magic power has become more slight. And the moment the fire dragon headed forward hit the pillar of fire at one end, it immediately rushed out of the pillar of fire on the side where the middle-aged man retreated-only this time it was not one, but two fire dragons. The entanglement rushed over like a spiral.

Just when his toes hit the ground, the middle-aged man quickly leapt back again.

Because a huge pillar of fire appeared on the ground again, and after the two fire dragons crashed into the third pillar of fire, three fire dragons flew out of the pillar of fire and began to chase the middle-aged man.

And then, after almost every jump of the middle-aged man, he will immediately start the next jump, because a steady stream of fire pillars are continuously chasing his moving trajectory and erupting. And every time the pillar of fire appeared, the number of fire dragons pursued would be increased by one more, as if it was not intended to let it rest at all, and the endless pursuit began.

The sudden change of the battle situation made the middle-aged man's brows frowned. He had begun to feel that the battle situation was completely out of his control.

Although he has discovered some rules: in the rudimentary form of this field, the number of fire pillars will always be 72, and every time a fire pillar is added, one of the originally burning pillars of fire must disappear; and the fire dragon Although the number will always remain at the limit of eighteen, there are only six at most to pursue him, and the other twelve exist as a blockade and restriction of his movement path.

But even so, he didn't find any chance to make a shot. After all, as an advanced class of Demon Breaker, he relied on signs of magic to judge Cecilia's intentions, but the appearance of the pillar of fire was getting faster and faster. , The traces of magical fluctuations became more and more vague and slight, so naturally it was not good news for him. The avoidance up to now has been completely relying on the body's instinct to move, as for thinking and calculations have been completely removed from his brain.

"Do you think your magic power can be maintained until my stamina is exhausted?" After dodge again. The middle-aged man took advantage of a subtle gap and changed his breath. Seeing that Cecilia's offense had become so frequent, he could finally formally determine the prototype of the domain and the consumption of these pillars of fire and dragons was extremely magical to her. Yes, and the other party is likely to have begun to be unable to support it, that's why he started to want to win himself so strongly. "If this is the case, then you are too overestimating your own strength, right?"

Cecilia glanced at the middle-aged man, her tone as calm as ever: "Who knows.... Maybe we can try."

"Arrogant!...The Mirror of Broken Demon!"

The middle-aged man yelled violently, his hand was full of black light, and then he pierced directly towards the ground with a sword.

I saw a strong black glow suddenly exploded, and soon the ground was attacked like ice, quickly eroded by the black light, turning into a smooth black mirror like obsidian. The black light spread to a radius of ten meters before it stopped expanding, and on this black mirror surface, from time to time, there was a small black light shining like a thunder snake. But soon the shining little black light became brighter and brighter, and it was no longer shining like a thunder snake, but shining on the whole mirror-like ground.

In the next instant, there were waves of shaking on the ground.

The land around the black mirror surface quickly turns red. The ground even began to soften, red foam as big as a fist continued to emerge and burst, and a large number of heat waves and flames were surging like magma.

This change caused Cecilia's brows to frown.

"Give up, you have given me a chance to use the magic broken mirror. The trick you just now is completely useless to me." Said the voice. "You have the prototype of your domain, and I also have the prototype of my domain.... The Devil-Breaking Mirror is the domain ability derived from the prototype of my domain.... On this issue of occupational mutual restraint, do you not? May have won me, surrender."

"But didn't you also lose the means of attack?" Cecilia said softly, still maintaining the grace and calmness of the noble mage. "I really can't understand. You also pose no threat to me. Why do you have the face to make me surrender."

"Do you think you still have a chance to win?" The middle-aged man let out a laugh, "You are destined to be losers from the beginning of this battle.... I only need to be invincible to defeat you.... How long do you think your domain and your fire pillars and fire dragons can last. When you lose the magic power to maintain them, I think it's no harder to kill you than to kill a beast."

"Then how long can the rudimentary form of your domain last?" Cecilia smiled slightly, "Respected Mr. Demonbreaker, do you want to compete with a wizard for mental power?"

Hearing what Cecilia said, the middle-aged man was suddenly choked.

The prototype of the field is not like a complete field.

The latter is formed by using and relying on the power of the world law. What the caster needs to do is only play a guiding role, and it is not very expensive for itself; but the former requires the caster to consume his own spirit. Power and even vitality can be maintained, and this consumption is extremely dangerous and burdensome for the performer itself, and few people can maintain it for more than ten minutes.

It is already a very powerful symbol that Cecilia can last for such a long time.

Even if the "Mirror of Broken Demon" is not strictly a domain prototype, it is only a domain-like ability derived from the domain prototype, and the burden required is much smaller than the domain prototype, but in terms of the strength of a middle-aged man, I think It is impossible to maintain ten minutes. Before he spoke, he was just trying to hit Cecilia, but he didn't expect that Cecilia caught the flaw instead, which shook his heart.

This kind of psychological tactics is extremely common in real strong wars, and once one of them is shaken in the battle, then the combat power will undoubtedly drop by several levels. The most obvious thing is that the original demon-breaking mirror had a diameter of 20 meters, but at this time it had shrunk to a diameter of less than 15 meters. This shows how big the blow was for this middle-aged man.

"However, you reminded me of one thing." Cecilia smiled suddenly, and then drew a wonderful rune in the air with her right hand. All the fire pillars and dragons disappeared in no time. Without a trace, even the aura of the rudimentary domain has become extremely weak and weak, "Since you can't actively attack me, then I don't need to continue to maintain such a large consumption, do I?"

Seeing Cecilia's actions, the heart of the middle-aged man suddenly jumped: chance!

Chapter 119: .Corruption

The black brilliance continued to collide, and there were bursts of distressing noises.

Countless black energy overflowed from this group of brilliance, raging crazily in all directions around it, and drew a series of bottomless slender groove marks on the ground. Only when these ditch marks were criss-crossed together, large tracts of land could not bear the damage of pressure and began to collapse one after another, and even huge pits with a diameter of more than ten meters and a depth of several meters appeared.

It's just that the black brilliance that was the instigator did not show any signs of stopping.

In other words, I can't stop at all.

Because in this group of black brilliance, there are two people, Shaun and Black Hawk who are fighting each other.

As soon as they played against each other, both Sean and Black Hawk had a momentary understanding of the strength of their opponents, so from the beginning, they immediately entered into a fierce battle. Not even a trace of reservations. But it is precisely because of the collision caused by this overly powerful force that it has caused almost destructive damage to the surrounding environment, which is no less than the destructive power of the general lower sanctuary powerhouse.

But to be surprised, Sean still has some.

The Black King in his hand is a special modification made with dead bones as the main material. Although it also destroys its inherent demon spirituality, it is still an epic weapon even if the quality is reduced due to this. Whether considering the hardness or the sharpness, the Black

King can be regarded as the absolute best, and even once it is completely completed, it is likely to be comparable to a mythical weapon.

But. Such a weapon is completely unable to obtain the advantage of the weapon in the confrontation with the Black Hawk. This really surprised Sean.

The only conclusion that can be drawn is that the chopping knife in Black Hawk's hand is definitely a legendary weapon.

Of course, if Sean was only surprised, then Black Hawk was completely shocked.

The slicing knife in his hand, as Xiao En had guessed, was not an ordinary weapon. It is an ancient weapon found in a certain ruin. When it was first unearthed, this weapon was naturally tattered, so for a long time the Black Hawk was looking for the master craftsman to repair and restore it, and it took several years to restore this ancient weapon to a new look. Become a true legendary weapon, not even inferior to epic weapons.

For a long time, the Black Hawk has used the sharpness of the weapon to directly cut off the opponent's weapon, thereby injecting control toxins into the opponent's body. Let the other party take orders from yourself. And when playing against Sean. The Black Hawk really planned it this way, but he didn't expect that his weapon would not be able to gain any advantage at all, and he even keenly felt that the weapon in his hand was in a faint disadvantage. How could this make the Black Hawk not shocked?

What Black Hawk doesn't know is that if the weapon in Sean's hand is a dead bone that has not been reformed before, or the Black King that has been completely reformed, then it is impossible for his weapon to have such a strong confrontation with Sean. Now, maybe it will be the cutting knife in his hand that will be cut off. It's just a pity. The Black King in Sean's hands is not a finished product, but just a semi-finished product that is still in the midst of rebuilding. Therefore, a series of related attribute judgment bonuses were not obtained, which also led to the hardness, sharpness and quality of the black king and this slasher.

In some ways, Sean and Black Hawk have great similarities: for example, in long-term battles, both of them are used to relying on the performance advantages of their weapons to suppress their opponents. . Therefore, in this fierce battle, for the sudden inability to suppress opponents by weapon superiority, whether it is Sean or Black Hawk, they are actually quite unaccustomed, but compared to Black Hawk's unaccustomed to Sean In terms of it, it is even more unfavorable. After all, Black Hawk is a real high-ranking gold powerhouse. In terms of rank, he is actually a level stronger than Sean.

Of course, not all situations are detrimental to Sean, at least one thing can be considered lucky.

That is, the Black Hawk is an advanced class of the fallen samurai—the fallen, not the rank system of the frenzied warrior.

Compared to the fallen samurai, the fallen have no significant increase in various numerical abilities. This is also the main reason why Sean can fight with the black hawks and still stay the same. However, in contrast, the use of various special abilities of the Fallen has extremely significant qualitative effects, especially special skills such as poisoning, and even derived from this special "toxin making" ability. .

Shaun is now completely certain that Black Hawk can control other people's special poisons because of the poison-making ability of his fallen ones.

This is a very dangerous ability!

There are thousands of poison-making formulas in the game, and the materials needed in each formula have a variety of substitutes, and the resulting poison effect will be different. Even some more sophisticated players can develop new poisons on their own, and the detoxification methods required for the resulting poisons are naturally only known to the drug maker.

This is probably the source of Black Hawk's strong self-confidence.

However, Sean feels that the most dangerous thing about Black Hawk is to make poison and quench it. But for Black Hawk, if he is only shocked that his weapon can't suppress Sean's weapon, then Sean possesses the same as him. The fighting power that is still comparable to this day makes him feel a little horrified. If in the first few minutes, it was Sean who used some secret technique to do this, then Black Hawk can still understand it, but nearly ten minutes have passed by now, and what Black Hawk feels is Except that his strength is a bit larger than that of Sean, even if Sean's speed has dropped a little at this time, he does not have the feeling of completely suppressing Sean.

This made the Black Hawk become a little maniac.

It's just that, in this kind of hard fight that is almost a life-and-death confrontation, whoever makes a mistake is likely to die as a result, even if the black hawk is a little manic in his heart, he has not messed up his knife skills. The rich combat experience allowed him to still maintain a calm state of mind at this time, calmly engage in every fight with Sean, and even began to try to bring the battle to his own rhythm-to reduce the attack speed of the sword.

Almost when the attack speed of the Black Hawk was reduced, Sean keenly caught the Black Hawk preparing to change the rhythm of the battle.

Chopping knife, as a type of heavy weapon in the knife class, is naturally not suitable for fast-swinging the knife, because it will not only cause excessive consumption of the knife holder's own strength, but also reduce the cut. The offensive value of weapons such as knives. The most suitable battle rhythm for a weapon like this kind of powerful and heavy weapon is to swing with every blow and to suppress one's opponents in a powerful and ingenious way. Only in this way can the sword be able to be used to the fullest. Combat value.

Only at the beginning of the battle, Sean picked the Black Hawk's posture of underestimating the enemy, and forcibly brought the battle rhythm into the fast break.

After activating the double secret of adrenal stimulation and light body surgery, Sean's agility value has actually been infinitely close to the level of the sanctuary powerhouse, so he provoked the black hawk with a very arrogant attitude, letting the black hawk and himself Do standing piles and fight knives. Under such circumstances, both sides can only take the fast attack method to fight the sword. As long as one of the attack speeds is slow, then it will definitely be injured or even killed.

However, after Sean's light-weight technique and adrenal stimulation were over, this kind of fast knife fighting naturally brought a certain load to him, but he had been accustomed to fast breaks for a long time. The pressure is not too great, and the rhythm is basically in his hands, so naturally he can still fight the Black Hawk inextricably. Of course, in Sean's tactical thinking, that is to exhaust the Black Hawk's physical strength as much as possible. Although he knows that this is a very difficult method, in the face of a Black Hawk that is almost flawless, Xiao The only thing you can do is this.

But now, the Black Hawk finally sees through this little skill of Sean, trying to control the fighting rhythm in his own hands, and use the weapon advantage of the chopper, which means that the Black Hawk has put away the thoughts of despising Sean. , Really regards Sean as an opponent who can fight with all his strength. Such a result is naturally not good news for Sean, especially in the previous confrontation, Sean's physical exertion is not necessarily so small, if it is not for the absorption and digestion of the few drops of blood. If this happens, Sean will definitely show fatigue at this time.

After all, there is still a gap between lower-level gold and upper-level gold if they want to engage in a protracted war of attrition.

The black brilliance is still strong, and it may seem to outsiders that the attack speed of the two sides in the battle has not slowed down much, but neither Sean nor Black Hawk knows that this attack speed is nearly two beats slower than before. . This point can be seen from the decreasing frequency of the sword energy escaping from this group of black brilliance; of course, the change is replaced by the destruction of the surrounding earth environment by the sword energy escaping from then, which is much stronger than before. Almost one sword is worth the effect of the previous three swords.

And Sean, in this case, he finally began to feel the tingling of his right hand.

In terms of the power of the Fallen, it is indeed larger than that of Sean. Coupled with the suppression of the power of Cutter Blade, Sean's physical energy will only be consumed faster than before.

It's just that even so, Sean's expression didn't change at all, he was still persisting.

Because no one knows a very secret key detail better than him, that is, with the change of the active rhythm of the attack and defense, there will often be a fleeting flaw. And for this flaw, or to create this flaw that can be regarded as the only flaw, Sean has played for nearly 13 minutes, so the only thing he needs to do at this moment is to catch it so cautiously that he almost never reveals it. Any flawed Black Hawk reveals this weakness!

This is also the only opportunity for Sean to cause damage to the Black Hawk!

Chapter 120: . Sean's Bureau

The black brilliance is still strong, and there is no sign of weakening.

On the contrary, after the frequency of the escaping sword energy is reduced, the black light is actually stronger and richer.

Every sword that the black eagle swayed carried a very strong and obvious black sword light and a sharp whistling sound. And after the black sword shadow remaining in the air collided with Sean's Black King, before it could dissipate, a second black sword light whizzed out again and slashed towards Sean from the other direction. However, it was blocked by Sean with a sword, and a few sparks were splashed in the air and the vigorous impact caused by the strong impact.

Of course, there is still a black sword light left in the air.

The black brilliance that surrounds the two of Shawn and Black Hawk, like a bowl, is actually formed by countless black sword lights remaining in the air (mobile version).

But if you think that these sword glows are just afterimages, then those who dare to touch them will definitely leave memories that will last a lifetime—even if it was Sean and Black Hawk, they attacked again with their swords. The wrists will avoid these remaining sword lights as much as possible, because the strands of sword air escaping from the sword lights remain, deeply stinging their skin.

After the sword and the black king once again struck each other, along with a splash of sparks, the impact generated by the strong collision of grudges also burst out from the impact of the sword. Affected by this impact, a black sword light hovering in the air suddenly exploded, swept out from the black circle of light, and blasted into the earth fiercely. Then draw a long mark that is less than a dozen meters long.

It's just that, no matter how serious the impact on the outside world, it still can't stop the continuation of the battle between Sean and Black Hawk.

In this life-and-death confrontation that has completely heated up. The Black Hawk no longer wanted to control Sean—in fact, from the moment the Black Hawk finally officially started Sean, his goal was only destruction, not control. Sean's strength is far beyond the Black Hawk's assessment and prediction, which brought him a very bad idea, and he has always believed in the Black Hawk, who has always believed in his sixth sense. Naturally, they will not continue to be entangled in this issue.

So it has become an inevitable thing to kill Sean.

As his heart became more and more calm and composed, Black Hawk's shots became heavier and more fierce. Although the speed has dropped slightly, this is only relatively speaking, and its attack speed and frequency are still relatively fast compared to the general low-level gold powers who are mainly non-agile types. Sean was able to perfectly capture every attack of the Black Hawk, which was actually very difficult. It can even be said to be a more shocking thing.

Because even people with keen eyesight are captured dynamically. After all, there is still a gap in realm strength. And if you want to compete for combat experience, it is also impossible for someone to have more combat experience than those living in the dark world. After all, for the killer assassins in the dark world, the theme of their lives is always to kill and be killed.

When sparks burst out again, Sean's right hand seemed to be finally retreated by the Black Hawk because of exhaustion. Naturally, this sword could not perfectly block the Black Hawk's attack. Even the Black Hawk hadn't expected that his attack would have such an effect on Sean, so his attack also messed up the rhythm. Missed the perfect attack opportunity to kill Sean with a single knife.

Sometimes, opportunities are so subtle. A slight miss is a complete miss.

It's just that the situation is more favorable for Black Hawk. After all, the knife is counter-shocked, and he only needs to add one more force to slash a stronger force. The double slash launched in this way of attack can also be regarded as a passive attack skill unique to the Fallen-"Stacked Slash": When the attack is shaken off by a rebound, it will be given a percentage. A force of one hundred and fifty quickly launched a second attack.

Watching the Black Hawk slam the knife down, Xiao En's face did not show the slightest panic.

In other words, the corner of his mouth is slightly raised.

At this moment, Black Hawk keenly smelled a trace of conspiracy. It's just that at this moment, his attack is an all-out slash, and there is no time to stop. This can also be said to be the only drawback of "stacking".

As if everything is like a rehearsed plot.

Facing the knife that Black Hawk was slashing across, Sean bounced off Black Hawk's chopping knife, and at the same time he deceived him with a big horse stance. Sticking to the black eagle's chest, the long sword held in his right hand was raised diagonally and pointed directly at the black eagle's throat. Feeling the slashing sword passing over his head, this time there was no black blade left in the air, but there was a strong tingling sensation on the scalp.

This is the effect of a trace of vindictiveness released outside, but this effect is not enough to cause any substantial damage to Sean.

After the knife was slashed across Sean's head, Sean's attack also unreservedly unfolded instantly-black vindictiveness radiated from Sean's body, and quickly condensed towards the black king at an astonishing speed. . The strands of black fighting gas turned into a black ribbon, and then it was wrapped around the black king, spinning like a spiral around the sword body, and completely penetrated into the sword body, which made the black king's sword body change. The darkness got deeper and deeper.

A strong and dangerous breath filled the air.

Black Hawk's pupils suddenly shrank, he hadn't thought that Sean had even reserved such a trick.

At this moment, the Black Hawk has come to realize that with hindsight, the seemingly de-strength blow of Sean just now was not because he was really shocked by his own power, but the other party was already preparing from the beginning. The layout. The only attack opportunity he aimed at was the momentary flaw that would occur when the offensive and defensive rhythm changed. Everything else was just paving the way for this.

Black Hawk even thought of a further layer: So was it the moment when Shaun took the initiative to attack from the beginning, he was also preparing for this moment?

There is no need to think deeply. The Black Hawk can be sure of this answer.

From contempt, to face up, and then to take seriously. The Black Hawk found that he still far underestimated the lord Sean Connery. He has always thought that his combat experience is the most abundant, but he did not expect that Sean, who seems to be young, also has actual combat experience that is not inferior to his own. Even Black Hawk thinks that Sean's combat experience is far better than that. He is richer and sharper-he has already begun to realize that his "stacking" must have already fallen into Sean's calculations.

And what Sean is waiting for is definitely the flaws exposed after he slashed the knife with a stronger force!

Will Sean let the attack opportunity captured only under this careful planning? The Black Hawk knows without even thinking about it. The opponent will definitely do his best to perform the most fierce blow, even if he wants to close the sword and replay it at this moment, time is completely too late-in other words. When everything falls into Sean's calculations, Sean will never give himself time to close the knife.

"The winner... is decided!"

Xiao En shouted in a deep voice, and at the same time, his right hand suddenly pierced the Black Hawk's throat.

A brilliance that was far deeper and darker than usual, burst out from Xiao En's long sword. It was just like the black sword aura coming out. It looks like the length of the sword of the Black King has been extended by several meters.

This fierce blow was pierced by almost exhausting all of Sean's strength. It was not that he didn't want to use Requiem or Requiem at this moment, but it was too late for him to fully use these two powers. Of course, the bigger reason is that he has consumed a lot of fighting energy in the head-to-head fight with Black Hawk, and the remaining fighting energy in his body is no longer enough for him to activate these two powerful skills.

That's why Sean can only use this method to gather all the strength of his whole body and stab a sword that is enough to determine the final victory.

There is no explosive roar, nor any brilliant brilliance.

But at the moment when this sword pierced. Sean has already discovered the problem-the feedback from the long sword stabbing the target is not the kind of feeling that the sword is in the flesh. It felt more like being stuck on a barrier such as a shield.

This caused Sean's pupils to shrink suddenly.

As a sharp weapon, the Black King cannot understand the sharpness of Sean as a forger or a user. Ordinary weapons and armors are simply impossible to block the Black King's attack, let alone this kind of blow that forcibly enhances the Black King's sharpness after infused with vindictive energy.

But the fact is, the Black Hawk really blocked Sean's all-out blow!

——With the right shoulder armor of the light armor he is wearing.

When Sean launched this near-final blow, the Black Hawk gave up any physical resistance, moved his body in an inconvenient moment, and avoided the fatal blow that his throat was about to penetrate.

Shaun's eyes showed a touch of disbelief.

Black Hawk possesses a legendary weapon, which can already be said to have taken a lot of * luck. But in any case, he did not expect that the Black Hawk still has a complete set of armors of the same legendary level. This increase is not so big-this only depends on Rina's combat power after wearing the angel armor. Learned. But perhaps it is precisely because this set of light armor is a legendary light armor that can withstand the black king, so that Xiao En can't see any seams.

However, this does not mean that the Black Hawks have no losses.

Sean's fighting spirit belongs to the dark fighting spirit. This kind of fighting spirit has always been extremely corrosive. In addition, the black king is forged by using the demon lord's leg bones as the main material. The superimposed increase of the two is natural. It's far from ordinary. So even if this blow failed to kill the black eagle, the black eagle's right shoulder armor had been completely deformed-under the powerful blow of the black king, the entire right shoulder armor had been completely sunken in, and more It may have caused a certain degree of damage to the Black Hawk's right shoulder.

Suit armor, the defense power of a single piece is usually weaker than that of the individual pieces. Only when a complete set is assembled can the advantages of this suit armor be maximized. And now, when a right shoulder armor has been abolished by Sean, it completely means that the armor on the Black Hawk has completely lost its suitability and has become a light armor that is weaker than ordinary legendary parts. , In this case, it would be impossible to block another powerful attack that Shaun stabbed the Black Hawk's throat just now.

And Black Hawk, obviously knows this.

So only after this blow. He had completely retired in his heart, planning to avoid Sean's edge first.

It's just that it's rare to catch such an opportunity. How could Sean let a big fish like Black Hawk go? You have to know that when a boss like Black Hawk is placed in the game, it is simply a mobile treasure house that makes players want to stop. Whether it is weapons or armor, they are all legendary grades, and it is impossible for players to let it go. Even though Sean has been assimilated into this world a lot now, his nature is still more towards the player.

So when the Black Hawk retreated, Sean's attack also unfolded simultaneously.

There was still a little time of the magic mark in dealing with Northon before. The blood charm once again appeared on Sean's right hand. Dye the entire arm in blood red. The strong spatial fluctuation aura immediately surrounded Xiao En's body, watching the black eagle's escape range not more than one meter. Xiao En cut out at the Black Hawk with a sword without even thinking about it.

When Black Hawk saw that Sean's right hand was red, he had already realized that Sean must have used some kind of secret technique again. But at the next moment, a magic circle appeared in front of Xiao En, and immediately after the blade of the black long sword in his hand suddenly disappeared into the magic circle. The Black Hawk immediately realized what the effect of Sean's secret technique was. At this moment, his inner vigilance has reached the highest point.

But even so, the Black Hawk couldn't predict where Sean's attack would come from.

When Demon Seal Blood Charm is activated, Shaun can make his attack appear at any position within a radius of one meter-of course, this is actually limited, that is, this position cannot be higher than Shaun's head. The place. Therefore, it is completely unworkable to use the Demon Seal and Blood Charm to attack the head of the owl, but it is completely enough for the current situation.

The sudden magic circle appeared in the arms of Black Hawk!

However, the target of Sean's attack was not Black Hawk's chest and other parts, but Black Hawk's right hand!

If it weren't for Sean's time to entangle the black king with all his grudge. Then his attack with this sword would definitely not choose the right hand. But even so, under the effect of losing the full set of legendary armor suit attributes. Sean's sudden and powerful slash still flew the slasher in Black Hawk's right hand.

This slashing knife that had spent the Black Hawk years of hard work broke away from the Black Hawk's right hand, turned into a black streamer in the air, and then flew to a place tens of meters away.

When he saw this scene, Black Hawk's heart suddenly chucked, and he almost immediately rushed towards the position where the sword fell. This slasher is too important to him. It can even be said that he can achieve what he has today. The light armor on his body and the slasher in his hand are completely indispensable. Now the light armor on his body has been scrapped by Sean. Half, if even this slasher is gone, then his combat power will definitely drop by a level, maybe the next time he meets Sean, he won't be his opponent.

However, Black Hawk is fast, but Sean's speed is much faster than him.

The cooldown of the light body technique has long since ended, and Sean has never used it again. It's not that he forgot, but that he hasn't used it in the previous plan. At this moment, on the contrary, Sean has the capital to be one step faster than Black Hawk.

Almost only a black light flashed across, Sean easily surpassed the black eagle in front of him, and rushed to the position where the knife fell. As soon as Sean's right hand was swept away, without even touching the knife, this legendary weapon that the Black Hawk was famous for disappeared directly in front of the Black Hawk, and was taken into the store by Sean. Thing in the ring. And watching the knife disappear in front of him like this, Black Hawk didn't know that Sean had room to store such rare items as items.

Although his face was unusually ugly, seeing that the matter was already there, Black Hawk didn't hesitate at all, and immediately turned around and fled.

With a light breath, Sean knew that it would not be easy to kill the Black Hawk completely under the current situation. After all, he still has a set of legendary light armor protection on his body, and if the Black Hawk gets his heart If he didn't want to fight back, Sean really couldn't help him for a while, but could easily get himself into a deadlock. After weighing the pros and cons for a few seconds, Sean chose to temporarily let the Black Hawk off. After all, his gains tonight are already pretty good, and the most important thing at this moment is to rush to support Cecilia.

For Cecilia, Sean is still a little worried after all, even though Cecilia's strength has become stronger now.
