

Lord of War Vol 3-181

Chapter 181: .weaken

Since Hina had recovered, Xiao En and others had no need to stay in the energy room. After getting enough rest, everyone set off again.

After leaving the energy room, Xiao En and the others soon discovered that there were suddenly a few more bronze knight-shaped puppets on the corridor outside. These bronze knights seemed to be walking aimlessly, but Sean knew that this was because they had already started patrol mode.

This seems to be a defensive measure taken by the mermaid when designing this dungeon.

Once the energy room is breached and the operation of the magic circle becomes invalid, all the mechanism puppets. Bronze Knights will switch from the alert standby mode to the patrol mode. If you have a mechanism puppet. The silver knight leads the team, then it will form a patrol unit consisting of a silver knight and four bronze knights; and if there is no silver knight led the team, it will consist of seven bronze knights to form a patrol unit.

These patrol units will begin to conduct irregular patrols without fixed lines in the entire water monster Vault.

In other words, once the fighting time drags on for a long time, or there is a particularly dark face, then it is very likely that you will need to face the siege of two or more patrol units at the same time. Even if the combat effectiveness of these organ puppets has been weakened, with the strength of Sean and others, they can almost reach the level of crushing, but once they encounter a multi-faceted siege, they will still fall into a hard fight, and even reduce their personnel. The first to bear the brunt is Hina.

It was almost as soon as Sean and others opened the door to the energy room. With the sound of opening the door, the seven bronze knights outside the corridor immediately turned their heads and looked at Xiao En and others. Obviously, after entering the patrol mode, these organ puppets have become extremely sensitive. Any sound of any sound will attract their high attention. Therefore, the opening of the door by Xiao En and others at this time naturally caused the attack of this patrol unit.

But when Sean looked around and found that there were only seven bronze knights, his heart relaxed a little.

At least not facing the end of the siege.

Watching the seven bronze knights rushing towards him and the others, Harding and Rorty Kabas deliberately tried to test the strength of these bronze knights after they were weakened, so they couldn't wait to rush up first. When Sean saw the two men rushing up, he simply stayed as a guard. After all, the bronze knight is not as powerful as the guard warrior, and Sean is still very qualified to be a meat shield in front of these institutional puppets.

and. He also had to act as such a position of a meat shield at this time.

After all, there are a total of seven Bronze Knights, and after the patrol mode is turned on, they will not be foolishly surrounding a target to attack. Sean has always felt that these bronze knights are not as intelligent as those NP enemies, because they also know how to cooperate, disperse, and siege. Of course, compared with the puppets of the Legion system that are used exclusively for warfare, it is naturally still a bit worse. However, the puppet of the knight system is better than the individual combat effectiveness.

However, when the battle broke out, it was not Rorty Kabas or Harding who attacked first, but Cecilia!

Eighteen flames suspended in the air quickly swelled into eighteen fireballs, and then as Cecilia's spirit locked in, all of these eighteen fireballs blasted to the mechanism running in the front of the center in one breath. Enter the puppet.

When the first fireball hit his body, the powerful force generated by the explosion made him pause for a moment, but because the material on his body was made of a special metal structure. Therefore, there was no obvious trace after the fireball exploded, and it was only slightly dark. But when the second fireball hit the same position. This organ puppet inevitably took a step back, and the black paint on his chest also turned into scorch marks.

Immediately after, after the third, fourth, and fifth fireballs all landed in the same position, the scorch marks on this mechanism puppet's body have spread over almost the entire chest cavity. Even because of the powerful impact of the explosion, he retreated and hit another organ puppet behind him. So next, the remaining thirteen fireballs bombarded. These two organ puppets have become brothers and sisters, and they have to be the same.

Under the action of this series of fireball explosions and impact. The circle of fire formed by Solomon's eighteenth flame engulfed this organ puppet in an instant. In the frantically burning pillar of fire, only two dark shadows can be seen barely struggling, but compared to the guard warrior, the two bronze knights are obviously weaker. At any rate, the guard warrior is still in such a high temperature. Able to persevere, but the two bronze knights obviously couldn't hold it.

Because in Sean's vision, the two bronze knights in flames are actually melting!

Be aware that when Cecilia was dealing with the Bronze Knights and Silver Knights before, even if it was Solomon's Eighteenth Flame, the power was not so shocking!

Also, Cecilia didn't even burst out of the small universe after solving the guard warriors, so she was promoted directly. So the only explanation is that it is not that Cecilia has become stronger, but that these organ puppets have really become completely weak after losing the protection bonus provided by magic.

Cecilia directly solved the two mechanism puppets in one attack.

At this time, Harding and Rorty Kabas started a contact battle with the other five bronze knights.

I saw a bronze knight slamming the broad-edged sword in his hand and slashing towards Rorty Kabas-if in the previous confrontation, the swing of this sword should be faster, and it should be brought with you when swinging. There is a strong whistling air force. But at this time, in the eyes of Rorty Kabas, the sword that the bronze knight wielded did not have any howling wind, and the strength of the swing was obviously not great, even Rorty Kabas could do it. Use the three words "soft" to evaluate.

The knight raised his gun.

There was a "clang" sound, but the broad-edged sword in the hands of the sword-swinging bronze knight was easily knocked off by Rorty Kabas. The sword that was supposed to be slashed at the enemy was slightly behind. Another bronze knight who had counted his steps slashed over. However, this bronze knight's reaction was not slow, and he immediately fetched his sword to block it, but with its level of intelligence, he definitely didn't understand why his companion would attack him.

Xiao En watched the battle here with interest, he even wondered if these mechanism puppets would fight inwardly.

But Rorty Kabas, this incomprehensible guy, has no idea of satisfying Sean's lively mood. After living in the underground world for a long time, he will develop many habits, including the fighting habit of killing with one blow. Even if he has been in the surface world for ten years, he has not changed this fighting habit.

So when the broad-edged sword of the bronze knight retreated with a shot, Rorty Kabas took another step forward. The knight's gun in his hand pierced out at a rapid speed. The roar was almost thunderous, as if even the air had been pierced by this shot of Rorty Kabas.

The tip of the gun was accurately placed on the chest of the bronze knight, and the metal in the chest cavity of the bronze knight was directly shattered with just one blow, revealing the core circuit of magic that was constantly flashing inside. It's just that, without seeing Rorty Kabas doing any more actions, this magic core circuit suddenly produced several cracks, which made the light of the bronze knight's pupils immediately weakened, and it was obviously severely affected. Interference and influence.

In the next second, this core suddenly shattered, exploded into powder and fell.

The whole mechanism puppet suddenly stood still as if it had lost its soul.

This is the secret of Rorty Kabas's gun. After shattering the armor of the bronze knight, the remaining vindictiveness also smashed the inner core of the magic circuit. Solving this mechanism puppet in such a quick manner, Rorty Kabas was a little bit complacent, but from the corner of his eye he caught a glimpse of Harding had let go of the heads of the two bronze knights, and let the two mechanism puppets slow down. When he fell down, his face didn't have the slightest complacency, but looked very ugly.

So, Rorty Kabas no longer hesitated and kept his hands, and directly swung the knight's gun to attack another bronze knight. The fate of the bronze knight, whom Rorty Kabas used as the target of venting, is doomed from this moment. Obviously, the final result of waiting for it cannot be complete, and it will definitely not be a lot more than the guarding warrior. How good are the broken parts?

However, Harding, Rorty Kabas, and Cecilia each solved the two Bronze Knights. At this time, the only one that was left rushed directly towards the middle Xiao En and others. As if to practice his hands, Sean was not polite this time. He rushed towards the mechanism puppet with a flash, and when he was approaching, Sean fell on his knees, and his whole body They all leaned back and quickly swept forward with the inertia of sprinting.

The broad-edged sword of the Bronze Knight can almost be said to be swiped by the tip of Sean's nose-if the magic circle was not closed before, with the force of the Bronze Knight's shot, even if it was not wiped, the screaming vigor of the sword It would definitely hurt Sean's nose. But now, the broad-edged sword just passed over the tip of Sean's nose, but it didn't cause even the slightest harm to him.

And after Sean passed this wide-edged sword, he turned over and stood up for the first time, and then suddenly stabbed the Black King toward the core of the Bronze Knight's magic circuit. This time the attack gave Sean the feeling that he was cutting tofu smoothly and crisply, without the slightest sense of blocking, the black king's sword tip had already penetrated from the chest of this organ puppet.

Chapter 182: .Clear the blame

"It seems, it's really easy to deal with." Cecilia looked at the remains of the seven bronze knights on the ground in disbelief.

Recalling a few hours ago, they just met two bronze knights and one silver knight, and they almost lost the confidence to continue exploring the dungeon. Unexpectedly, a few hours later, when they closed the magic center of the entire dungeon, dealing with these bronze knights was really like cutting melons and vegetables.

"What you said is really too modest." Rorty Kabas kicked the bronze knight that had been completely smashed into meatloaf, and then said indifferently, "Now there are so many things, I Can be easily resolved."

"There are three patrol units at the same time, and we can't hold it." Sean looked at Rorty Kabas, who had a terrible look, and poured cold water directly. "Now these organ puppets seem to be easy to deal with, but they are weakened. It's just their defense, attack and other performances. There is no weakening in combat awareness and cooperation. As long as the number accumulates to a certain level, it can still cause a qualitative change.... With our ability, we can deal with the pressure of two patrol units at the same time. Not big, even if these two patrol units are led by the Silver Knights, but if there are three patrol units, even if they are all Bronze Knights, we can't hold it." "No way." Rorty Kabas still didn't believe it.

"Hading, you and the two bronze knights were in close combat, what do you think?" Shaun ignored Rorty Kabas, turned his head and looked at Harding.

Harding didn't expect Sean to ask himself. However, he did not speak in a hurry, but frowned slightly and thought for a while before saying: "Indeed. Although the combat ability has been slightly weakened, the combat consciousness is still retained. If it is only one or two. It's really not difficult to deal with, and it can even be solved easily, but if there are a lot of them, they will inevitably engage in joint combat operations. At that time, if we still fight on our own, we will inevitably fall into a bitter fight."

Hear this. Rorty Kabas was stunned for a moment, and then he also thought about it: "If you gather all your strength to break through one side...then you will be attacked by the other side. It's easy to lose sight of the other..."

"Almost." Xiao En nodded, and then said, "So the two patrol units are basically the limit.... I can help solve those you missed, of course, because these organ puppets have lost the ability to protect them by magic. If they can If we circle together, it will be easier for Cecilia to solve it than we are." At this point, after Sean paused for a while, he continued to speak: "But these mechanism puppets are limited, so we can completely Take advantage of these organ puppets when they are not gathered together, first solve them, so that there will be no problems." "A good way!" Both Harding and Rorty Kabas both shined.

Dungeon wasteland and dungeons, the number of monsters in the dungeon is uniform, and there is no possibility of refreshing. Therefore, if you kill one, you will lose one. Even if it is a monster or creature on the world map, it does not mean that it will be refreshed immediately after being killed, but it will only appear after a period of "growth". At the beginning, the level of many players was stuck because they couldn't find monsters that could be farmed, and they were too lazy to do tasks, which led to a huge gap in the player's class in the game.

At this time, Xiao En decided to deal with these organ puppets first, and other people would naturally not object, after all, the fewer organ puppets. The easier it is for them to explore in this underground city.

So soon, everyone immediately started action under the leadership of Shaun.

Sean and others stood at the door of the energy room. Anyway, they were already on the central axis, so Xiao En simply led everyone toward the gate of the magic barrier. The magic barrier on this gate is another additional independent system, which does not belong to the magic center of the energy room. Therefore, even if the energy room is demolished, the magic barrier on this gate will not disappear. The left and right sides must be resolved. Only after the gatekeeper of the main road can this mechanism be closed.

Sean is very clear about this, but others don't.

But Sean didn't bother to explain, so he just took everyone on the trip.

There are not many puppets on the central axis road, and there are only six patrol units on the way from the energy room to the final gate. Although one of them was led by a Silver Knight, which caused Sean and others to be in a rush due to the sudden change in fighting style at first, everyone had to admit that the mechanism puppet. The Silver Knight was losing a steady stream. After the magic power was supplied, except that the armor on his body became a little harder, it was not as resistant as everyone encountered at the beginning.

So soon, Sean and the others directly dismantled this mechanism puppet, the Silver Knight, by virtue of the powerful difference in strength—it was a very thorough dismantling, because its opponent was Harding, who was best at dismantling Gundam with his bare hands. After solving this silver knight, the remaining four bronze knights were naturally not opponents of Sean and the others, so they soon wiped out this patrol unit.

During the period, Hina was also under the care of Rorty Kabas, holding a long spear for some actual combat—Sean seems to have already considered Hina would consume a lot of weapons this time, so he actually equipped her with ten. Several refined spears. In this actual combat, Rorty Kabas also discovered that Hina's progress is really rapid. She actually absorbed all the previous experience of everyone dealing with the guard soldiers and thoroughly used it in the actual combat. However, Hina, who is only the lower bronze strength, has the capital to compete with the bronze knight one-on-one.

Of course, it is impossible to kill even a weakened bronze knight with Hina's strength alone, because she can't destroy the bronze knight's armor. As long as the armor of the bronze knight cannot be destroyed, it is naturally impossible to cause deadly damage to it. But even so, Hina is still growing at an astonishing speed, even faster than her practice in the desert in the past month.

So. Sean and Cecilia knew that the blood power from the Crypt Cold Spider Queen was working in Xina's body.

The Crypt Spider Queen has a special ability, that is, perception sharing.

It can share perception and sharing with any crypt spider born by it. In order to gain the field of vision of these crypt spiders, and obtain their related memories and knowledge. And these memories and knowledge, the Crypt Cold Spider Queen can be stored in her own genetic fragments, and then as a kind of inheritance, the newly born Crypt Cold Spider will have these fighting memories and experiences.

Therefore, in the underground world, a crypt spider lair that has survived long enough is often more difficult to deal with than many high-level monsters.

And Hina. The characteristic reflected at this time is obviously the powerful learning ability of the Crypt Cold Spider Queen. Perhaps in addition to the ability to perceive and share. Hina is basically no different from the Crypt Cold Spider Queen, and as a human being, with masters such as Rena and Rotti Kabas imparting combat skills and experience, Hina will only grow faster and faster.

but. This is just an improvement in combat experience and skills.

Xina's rank is still three huge question marks, which is destined to be Xina's inability to break through in a short period of time, which makes Sean extremely regretful.

After solving the six patrol units on the central axis road from the energy room to the closed gate, Xiao En and others returned to the square and walked towards the square. This time, Sean and the others had a little bit of luck, because when the battle with a patrol unit came to an end, the fierce fighting sound attracted the attention of the other two patrol units patrolling nearby, so the situation quickly changed. It became the situation that Xiao En and the others had to face the attack of three patrol units.

It's just that at this time, Rorty Kabas is stubborn. The shattering gun was directly used, and the last three bronze knights of the first patrol unit were forcibly destroyed. Anyway, they have Hitley, under the rescue of the goddess of life. Not to mention the health value, even the exhaustion of fatigue will be greatly reduced. The only fly in the ointment is that after the fierce battle, the physical energy consumed can only be compensated by rest and diet.

With the support of Hitley, after a short and fierce battle, Sean and others finally rushed to the next patrol unit. Completely resolve the two patrol units jointly. At this time, everyone finally had to take a break. Because they didn't expect that the physical consumption would be much larger than they expected. Of course, there may also be part of the factor that is due to the doubled mental consumption caused by the flanking attack.

In order to ensure safety, everyone could not help but withdraw to the energy room to rest. Fortunately, the organ puppets in the dungeon will not be refreshed. If one is destroyed, one will be lost. Otherwise, in this state, I am afraid that the puppets in the dungeon will not be cleared anyway. It's just that Sean is a little dissatisfied, but when solving these organ puppets, he actually didn't get any experience rewards, and he didn't even kill the guard soldiers. This situation is really rare. .

It's just that Sean didn't know the specific reason, but he didn't lack experience points anyway, so he didn't care about these things soon.

Wait until everyone finished their rest again, Sean directly led the team this time toward the gate where the Great Sword Knight was on the left. I don't know if the organ puppets that Sean and others have cleaned up before are already the size of the entire dungeon. This time, the patrol units encountered on the corridor on the left are obviously much less, but they are basically changed to silver. The Cavaliers led the team, and the difficulty of the battle did not drop too much, but compared to Sean and others, the threat was much less.

After all enemies with relatively strong individual strength, Xiao En and others can completely ignore or even care. Instead, the most feared enemy is not only the average strength, but also the excessive number. This is the biggest headache for Xiao En and others. While fighting, Sean also counted silently. When they arrived at the gate where the Great Sword Knight was, Sean found that there were only three Silver Knights in the entire dungeon, which was barely a good one. information.

Because as long as they have solved the Greatsword Knight, there will be fewer patrol puppets that they need to solve when they look back, so they will have more time to rest. Anyway, this dungeon, I am afraid that no one will find it, after all, the location is really too remote, of course, with Sean's caution, he must be prepared to be found here.

The really tricky problem is halfway through the fight with the boss. As a result, outsiders broke in and interfered, so this is the most painful.

Mechanical puppet. The place where the Great Sword Knight is located at the deepest part of the corridor on the right.

There is only one huge independent room here. The scale is probably larger than the energy room. Sean, who has watched the video, knows that the structure in the room is a round field, a bit like the style of the Colosseum, but the floor is not sand and stone, but the same crystal panels as the left and right corridors. On the top, there will be a circle of ripples like ripples spreading out.

At the beginning, many people who came to this copy did not know the value of these crystal floors, but just thought that these were related to the background of the copy. Until later, a more careful player found out. Whenever the boss performs a big move, the size of its coverage area will vibrate on these crystal floors in advance. The ripples of that circle are actually the location where the attack is about to be launched.

So in the future, the difficulty of the Greatsword Knight's challenge was much smaller than that of the Twin Knights, and it could even be said to be non-threatening. Because even if it's just a group of high-ranking silver players who don't even have a golden player team, just pay attention to it. It is still possible to kill the Greatsword Knight without taking damage-of course, it will take a long time to grind, but at least this also reflects how weak this boss is from the side.

At this time, Xiao En and others are sitting in front of a huge iron gate about five meters high. All the puppets on the way have been solved. Even if a new patrol unit arrives here, with the strength of Xiao En and others. It can also be solved quickly, as long as two or more patrol units do not appear at the same time. So everyone sat in a circle, eating food and drinking water to recover. While listening to Sean, he briefly explained how to deal with the mechanism puppet. Greatsword knight.

Sean's introduction is very simple, nothing more than two points.

The first is to move at any time and never stand in front of the Great Sword Knight.

Because of the huge sword in his hand. Therefore, the attack range of the Great Sword Knight is actually very wide. To explain in Sean's words, it is "almost the same as Rorty Kabas's attack range"-when Sean said this, everyone couldn't help but look at the knight's gun in Rorty Kabas's hand. If this thing is swept away, how wide the attack range is, it is naturally clear that they have been with Rorty Kabas for so long.

Great sword knight although the name is very strong. But in fact, most of his attack skills are only melee sword skills-of course, the attack range is based on its giant sword, which is definitely much larger than that of the player. So just avoid this. Then the Great Sword Knight is not terrible, of course, the most important thing is that because the magic power center system is closed, many of the Great Sword Knight's powerful attack skills are also unavailable.

As long as it is not ot, the Great Sword Knight is basically given away.

Speaking of this, Sean couldn't help but fall on Hitley's gaze.

"Look... What am I doing?" Hitley was a little disturbed by Sean's stare.

"Cough cough, I said little Hitley." Sean coughed, and then said, "When you are fighting, you should try not to take action unless I call you for help. Take action, otherwise even if you see Rorty, Harding, or even me being severely injured by that organ puppet, you will not be allowed to take action, understand?"

"I...I try my best." Hitley lowered her head in embarrassment.

When she was in the Life Church, the Holy See could not wait for her to react faster, but she did not expect to suppress this conditioned instinct, which really made Hitley a little uncomfortable. It's just that although she looks pretty cute and has a lot of problems, it doesn't mean that she is a fool. On the contrary, she already knows how much trouble her own existence brings to Sean.

But from the beginning to the end, Sean never scolded Hitley, which made Hitley feel a strange feeling: it was completely different from the Holy See in the Church of Life. Because of this, Hitley naturally hopes to be able to really help Sean.

Shaun took the Black King and drew a simple and easy-to-understand map on the ground, and carefully marked some positions on it. These positions are where everyone will stand after a while of fighting. After learning from the previous problems dealing with the guard soldiers, Sean can indeed be said to have a very serious OCD this time, and in order to ensure that everyone knows what he should and shouldn't do in battle, Sean really tires. 'S emphasized the fighting situation of the Great Sword Knight several times.

Until it was determined that everyone fully understood, Sean did not turn to the second stage of description.

This is also the second point that Shaun emphasized that needs everyone's attention.

That is not to be in a daze.

Once you see ripples on the crystal plate on the ground, leave the place where the ripples are shaking as soon as possible, because this position means the range that the Great Sword Knight's second-stage attack skills will affect. However, considering the movement speed of Cecilia and Hitley, Sean specially arranged Lanster and Hina to follow one of them, and once they saw the situation, the troops immediately took them and left.

"...The above is my fool-style stance. Do you have any questions?" Xiao En glanced around the crowd.

Lanster still looked at Sean with admiration.

Harding and Rorty Kabas are drowsy.

Hitley, as always, at a loss, waited until Sean finished her speech before returning from wandering.

The only person who can be considered serious listening is probably only Hina and Cecilia.

So, Xiao En sighed helplessly, feeling that he had been talking about it for a long time and was playing the piano to the cow: "...Let's play it first and then talk about it."

Chapter 183: .Great Sword Knight

The door slowly opened to the left and right under the promotion of Xiao En.

Although this door looks very bluffing, it is actually not as heavy as imagined. Of course, in terms of Sean's current strength of over 120 points, it is naturally not too heavy. If you change it If Hina or Cecilia come, I am afraid that the strength of the milk can not make the door move even a bit.

When the door was opened, a cold breath suddenly burst out from inside the door, as if looking for catharsis.

Xiao En and the others shuddered in an instant, and there were faint signs that the blood was frozen.

But at this moment, Cecilia suddenly waved and chanted a curse. Soon a layer of orange-red light appeared on everyone's body. This light was only a flash, but everyone felt a warmth at this moment, and even the cold inside the door could not be felt at all.

Shaun does not need to open the panel properties, he also knows that Cecilia has blessed the flame shelter for everyone. In addition to improving the resistance of the fire attribute, this magic can also resist the invasion of the cold atmosphere like the one at hand. It can be regarded as a resistance up skill with a wide range of uses. Of course, if Xuefanio was there, as the saint of the Church of Frozen and Winter, she could also bless everyone with the refuge magic that is immune to this kind of cold breath. After having blessings to withstand the cold wind, everyone filed in through the gate.

After entering the gate, what everyone greeted was not the vast field as imagined. It is a dark channel.

The passage is not long, and you can see the light coming from a short distance in front of you by standing at the gate.

The cold wind just now was obviously blowing from the front light through this passage.

Sean knew that there was no danger in this passage. However, seeing everyone's cautious appearance, he didn't even speak out. After all, it's not bad that everyone can maintain this kind of vigilance. At least it will be very helpful for the subsequent battles, because in the p2 stage, you must pay attention to the range of ripples on the ground during the battle. This is not something ordinary people can do. It takes a very high level of concentration to get there.

After passing through this dark passage, when everyone is standing outside the passage. There was a sudden sense of clarity in an instant.

Presented in front of everyone is a huge circular venue. No one can visually tell how big the area is, but it is definitely larger than the energy room. The surrounding venue is separated from the auditorium by high walls. The height of these high walls is 30 meters up, almost reaching the height of a conventional city wall. Unless it is a sanctuary powerhouse with the ability to float, even a powerhouse in the golden realm can't jump up, and these high walls are as smooth as a mirror, and there is no place to borrow. The entire venue is paved with azure blue crystal stones, and at first glance it feels like standing on the sea.

No matter how you look at it, this place is no different from places like the Colosseum and Arena. The passage that Xiao En and others passed through before was obviously a dedicated passage for the players participating in the competition to enter and exit. Everyone looked around the environment in the field, although they didn't see it really. But directly opposite the passage they entered, there was also a dark hole.

If everyone guessed right, there should be a passage there too.

certainly. At this time, everyone's eyes were not observing the passage, but fell on the organ puppet in the field.

When Xiao En was explaining before, everyone hadn't paid much attention to it, but at this time, after seeing this mechanism puppet. Greatsword knight, everyone had a clearer idea. I also understand why Sean said that the attack range of this mechanism puppet is very large, and now Harding and Rorty Kabas want to come. Sean's statement should be considered relatively modest and cautious.

Mechanical puppet. Great sword knight, the whole body is dark black. Although it is also a knight-shaped armor, it is obviously biased towards heavy knights. Only the armor shape on the body is not much worse than the image of Harding's whole body armor. It can even be said to be more hideous. It is a defense at a glance. Powerful. So at this time, everyone naturally felt very skeptical about what Xiao En said before that this organ puppet was a standing target.

Especially Harding and Rorty Kabas, they are even thinking, can they really cause harm to this mechanism puppet with their strength?

But when they stood far away, everyone didn't feel much. After everyone got closer, they realized that the height of this mechanism puppet was also a problem.

The mechanism puppet. The height of the giant sword knight is actually three meters higher, even if the tallest Rorty Kabas among all the people, if he stands in front of him, at most, he will reach the position of the opponent's chest and abdomen. And according to the consideration of the installation location of the magic circuit core of the organ puppet, at this time everyone is wondering whether they can really attack to get that location? Even if they can, do they have a chance to destroy it?

Harding glanced at the weapon of the mechanism puppet, and then secretly swallowed his saliva.

is also a three-meter-high giant sword, and the blade alone can make them sleep in bed. But what is even more frightening is that the blade of this giant sword is not thick. On the contrary, it is thinner than a normal epee. It looks almost like a steel plate, but look at the blades on both sides of the blade. The parts are shining and cold, you can know that the lethality of this thing is definitely not low, if it is really swept by this thing, I am afraid that even Citley can use the resurrection technique.

Because there is a prerequisite for casting resurrection, that is, the target corpse must be intact.

If the corpse is swept by this steel plate, the corpse is directly in two, and then a p is resurrected.

"You are really sure that we can deal with this guy." Rorty Kabas did not laugh at this time, instead he looked serious and serious.

In fact, it can't help that Rorty Kabas is not serious, because he is the master of this battle-the only person in the field who can fight head-on with any boss. There is also Rorty Kabas, a monster with an explosive power value. Therefore, the goal of attracting hatred positively is naturally the responsibility of Rorty Kabas, and the only thing he needs to do. It is indeed only possible to dodge the attack of the Great Sword Knight as much as possible.

As for Harding and Sean, these two agile and skillful characters, they naturally wandered on the edge of the battle, and then waited for the opportunity to launch an attack.

"As long as you do what I said, you will find that this boss is nothing terrible." Sean's face looked very calm, although it was the first time he entered this dungeon, it can also be regarded as the first command. This copy, but Sean had carefully studied that wasteland video before in the game anyway. For some play styles and tactics can be regarded as quite understanding, "The most important point is that you must not be greedy for merit. In any case, you must give priority to dodge actions.... Harding and I will let you You build a more stable hatred before you take action."

Although Rorty Kabas doesn't quite understand what the so-called stable hatred means, now that everyone has come here, and everyone is watching his performance. He can only nod his head. It may not be difficult for the dark elves to retreat. After all, they have long been accustomed to betrayal, but for the lost knight, this is indeed a shame. Therefore, once Rorty Kabas nodded in agreement, he would naturally Will go all out to fight.

Shaun glanced around at the others, and then waved his hand, everyone immediately scattered and ran away. Standing in the battle position that Shaun drew on the simple map before. Although everyone didn't quite understand it, since Sean had talked about the importance of these positions before, everyone else just had to follow them. After all, they all have a sense of identity from the soul for Sean.

Seeing that everyone was already in place, Sean and Harding looked at each other, then quickly evacuated to the designated fighting position, and then shouted at Rorty Kabas: "Okay, Rorty, you go up and kill. Bar!"

"Go strange?" Rorty Kabas was a little confused, turned his head and glanced at Sean.

"Uh..." Sean just realized it. Just now I actually yelled out the lines in the game, so he changed his words and said: "This giant sword knight is different from the guard warrior. His first round of hatred will only be locked in the first one that enters his radius of five meters. Enemy...Rorty, you just have to walk towards the mechanism puppet, but once he moves, you must roll to the right side or stay away from him for a distance of more than six meters."

After taking a few deep breaths, Rorty Kabas held the knight's gun tightly, and then started to walk towards the great sword knight.

This mechanism puppet. The giant sword knight stood in a standing posture. The giant sword was held tightly by his right hand, and it was erected on one side. The entire body of the puppet exudes a very strong gloomy aura. When Rorty Kabas approached the mechanism puppet within about four meters, the position of the pupil under the helmet suddenly lit up with two red lights. At this moment, Rorty Kabas suddenly felt The feeling the hunter is staring at.

As a lost knight, Rorty Kabas is also a person who has experienced countless battles, and he hasn't felt this way for a long time. After all, in terms of strength alone, he is hardly inferior to any powerhouse below the sanctuary. However, after all, he was also a person who crawled out of countless corpse mountains and blood, so Rorty Kabas will never forget what this feeling of being stared at by a hunter means.

Almost without even thinking about it, Rorty Kabas did not hesitate to follow the warning that Sean had previously ordered, and he leaned forward and rolled towards the right position.

The whistling sound of breaking through the air sounded at the moment when Rorty Kabas rolled.

Although he did not see the situation clearly, Rorty Kabas, who fell to the ground, could still see a large shadow passing over his head. Needless to think about it, it was definitely the gesture of the giant sword knight swiping the giant sword. If it was slow for even a second, Rorty Kabas would be cut into two directly.

At this time, Rorty Kabas was a little grateful. Fortunately, when he was outside the door before, he didn't really listen to anything.

Chapter 184: Fierce battle

After avoiding this sword, Rorty Kabas immediately remembered Sean's previous instructions, and immediately got up and rushed towards the Great Sword Knight without retreating.

Sure enough!

Almost the moment when Rorty Kabas started running, the Great Sword Knight suddenly lifted the Great Sword, and fell down with a vertical split.

The giant sword fell to the ground, and accompanied by a strong sense of shaking from the ground, a spectacular shock wave visible to the naked eye rushed from the front of the giant sword, and then rushed all the way forward. This shock wave is close to seven meters in height, and the coverage reaches ten meters in diameter. It looks like a small tsunami is surging. You can imagine it without trying. If you are involved in this shock wave If it is, I am afraid that even the bones will be gone.

However, it is also a blessing that these grounds are paved with azure blue crystal stones that give consideration to hardness and beauty. Otherwise, with just one blow, the ground might be broken into pieces.

Impact cut.

This is one of the offensive skills of the Berserker, but there is no .s. Neither the power nor the sound effects can be as spectacular as the great sword knight.

Fortunately, Sean had reminded everyone from the beginning, and arranged the position, so in the face of this magnificent impact like a tsunami, no one was in the frontal attack range. And Rotti Kabas, because he reacted fast enough, did not suffer any harm, but when the shock was sent out, he could still feel the strong tearing sensation coming from behind him. After quickly getting closer, Rorty Kabas did not hesitate, the knight's gun in his hand suddenly pointed towards the jaw of the greatsword knight's helmet.

The metal collision sound is very strong and obvious.

This position. It is one of the few weaknesses of the Great Sword Knight. It was a strategy that was summed up after the sacrifice of countless players in the game.

With the powerful brute force of Rorty Kabas, after this one stabs. Sure enough, the giant sword knight was beaten backwards, and the whole body couldn't help but backed two steps before stopping.

At the same time, Sean and Harding are not idle.

The two attacked from the back of the Great Sword Knight at the same time from left to right. However, considering the issue of "hate value", Sean did not dare to use too powerful attack skills, he just circulated the dark vindictive energy in his body. On the black king, to increase a little lethality. And Harding. The idea is similar to that of Sean-in the face of these metal structure puppets, Harding's fist attack is far more advantageous than his attack with a knife, but in order to prevent unnecessary trouble. Therefore, at this time, Harding could only greet behind the giant sword knight with his hand on behalf of the sword.

The flanking attack of these two people soon left several cracked white marks on the back of the Great Sword Knight. After losing the protection of magic power, the mechanism puppet, whether it is a bronze, a silver knight, or the leader-level giant sword knight in front of you. Its defensive capabilities have obviously been greatly weakened. If it is under normal circumstances. Shaun and Harding made such a move, at most they could only leave a few insignificant shallow marks. If you are lucky, you may be able to scrape off some of the paint and leave a darker white mark.

But now, looking at the white marks on the back of the Great Sword Knight, there are subtle cracks, which is enough to show that the defensive capabilities of these organ puppets are really very weak.

If you attack with all your strength, it's not a problem to smash the body of this mechanism puppet, but if you do this, you'll repeat the same mistakes you had made against the guard soldiers, so both Sean and Harding must resist this strong force. Attack desire.

After the two of them paused while the Great Sword Knight leaned back, they caused enough damage. Shaun and Harding quickly retreated without nostalgia.

At this moment, it happened to be the footsteps of the Great Sword Knight. While stabilizing the figure.

But almost at the moment when the giant sword knight had just stabilized his figure, the exaggerated giant sword in his hand suddenly swung towards the rear.

The giant sword made a roar of wind and thunder in the air, and even large black giant sword afterimages appeared in the air along with the trajectory of the giant sword swinging, and then disappeared one by one. With each aftermath of the great sword disappearing, the scope of the next aftermath of the great sword will expand by a circle. After the entire great sword is swung over the heads of Sean and Harding, then The area covered by the afterimage of the giant sword has reached a width of seven or eight meters.

Wind thunder sword cut!

If it were not for the fact that Shaun and Harding were not greedy for advances, the counterattack that the Great Sword Knight reacted at this moment would be enough to kill both Shawn and Harding on the spot.

But even if the two retreats are a little farther away, Harding still has some palpitations in his heart. This feeling of wandering on the edge of death made him unconsciously glance at Sean, but what he saw was Sean's calm expression, as if he was not at all affected by the terrible lethality of the Great Sword Knight. Shocked. But the more Sean acted so relaxed, the harder Harding's heart was calm, because at this time, he had already noticed that all the positions and attacks, angles of retreat, and timing that Sean had instructed before were all completely different. It is stuck in the blind spot of the Great Sword Knight's attack and reaction.

But more, it is still based on his knowledge of everyone's strength.

All the tactical links here are linked together. As long as one of them makes a mistake, the rhythm of the entire battle will be completely chaotic. I am afraid that there will be casualties.

To be honest, Harding doesn't like the feeling of dancing on the wire.

But he also knows very well that what he really hates is because of his inability. If he is leading the team, I am afraid that only the fully armored sword can block the sword just now, and the others may become the dead souls of the great sword knight. Of course, even Harding himself, he was not 100% sure that he could block the attack by the sword just now.

At this moment, he really understood what Shaun meant by "the great sword knight is very lethal."

After swing a sword, perhaps because of the inertia of the sword swing or because of other reasons, the Great Sword Knight has a very obvious pause. In fact. This situation is very common in games-most powerful skills will have a stiff (rigid) time after casting, so when to use powerful attack skills. It has become the biggest difference between master-level players and ordinary players.

Taking advantage of this moment's rigidity, Rorty Kabas's knight gun pierced forward again.

But this time, his attack target is no longer the jaw of the Greatsword Knight, but a crazy attack facing the upper body of the Greatsword Knight. In the eyes of others, these dense gun shadows are really scary, but Sean and others who know something about Rorty Kabas, know that this is not the full power of Rorty Kabas.

But such a dense gun shadow attack. It is definitely enough to attract attention.

So, when the Greatsword Knight turned around and started attacking Rorty Kabas, Rorty Kabas had already retreated and made way.

Basically. The attack skills of the Great Sword Knight are basically the same as those of the Berserkers, except that the power and attack range are much larger, but there are only three or four attack skills that come and go. In fact, if it weren't for Sean, it would be a pressure play. If he has been forcing the Great Sword Knight to use his fighting skills to fight back. Then this battle can never be so easy, at least when the giant sword knight swings his sword for ordinary attacks, there will be no hard time.

Although the rhythm of the battle is indeed like dancing on a steel wire, as the fighting time progresses, almost everyone has fully adapted to this rhythm, but it does not feel dangerous at all. When to retreat and when to attack, everyone knows when to do and what not to do. Once I got used to this style, I didn't feel any danger at all.

Only Cecilia and Hitley. The side who had been staring at the battle, did not dare to relax in the slightest.

Although Sean gave them the task of waiting for the order, as long as Sean did not give the order, they must maintain a high degree of concentration. Therefore, in this battle, it is Cecilia and Hitley who are the two most exhausted. As for Lanster and Hina, Sean did not expect the two of them to help much, so the task for them is simple, that is, to be optimistic about the ripples on the ground. Once they appear at their feet, immediately take Cecily Ah and Hitley took them away.

The battle continued, but the Great Sword Knight's body was already scarred.

Especially on its back, the criss-crossing white marks are full of cracks, almost to the point that it will be completely broken with a single tap. But whether it was Harding or Sean, the two of them still maintained a very light rhythm, and were careful not to break all these cracks. Although Harding didn't understand Sean's approach, since in this battle, the content that Sean said before became the key to their lives, then Harding naturally had no reason to sabotage.

"almost."

Sean shouted in a deep voice.

Hearing what Shaun said, Harding and Rorty Kabas had a dreadful look, and they were obviously serious again.

Almost as soon as Xiao En's words fell, the Great Sword Knight suddenly let out a harsh roar, and Xiao En and the others, who were so close, couldn't help covering their ears. But fortunately, the roar came hastily and disappeared quickly. There was not even a second before and after, and it seemed that the Greatsword Knight's body did not change at all, but only its eyes turned purple.

In the next second, the great sword knight suddenly grasped the hilt of the great sword with both hands, and then raised the great sword with both hands.

At the same time, on the ground of the entire arena, countless circles of ripples began to oscillate. But the magic is that the range of these ripples is not large at all. Probably the diameter of each ripple is only about three meters. It is just densely connected, but it makes the whole land seem complete. It's the same in the turbulent range of ripples.

"Withdraw!" Xiao En Dang even roared.

Immediately afterwards, Lanster and Hina moved in the first place!

Lanster grabbed the smaller Hitley, and then began to run on the ground-his luck was a little bit unlucky, because almost all the surrounding area was the shock range of the ripples, even a little standing edge None, for this he had to run a little further away. It's just that Lanster's physical stamina is a bit hard for him. After all, the bard has never relied on physical stamina to eat. Instead, eat on the face.

Xina is undoubtedly luckier, because there are relatively few ripples around her. In addition, Hina, who is a warrior class, is obviously much better than Lanster in terms of physical fitness and speed. So she picked up Cecilia, who was a lot taller than herself, without any difficulty. After a while and dodge, Hina had already picked a place without any ripples, and stood steadily on the spot.

But Sean, Harding, and Rorty Kabas are not very lucky.

The rippling circle around them is the largest in the audience, so if they want to avoid it. Then there is no doubt that the distance must be extended to 30 or 40 meters away, which is naturally a test for Xiao En and others. But at this time, the three of them would rather run far away. He didn't want to hide behind the Great Sword Knight—within a half-meter radius around the Great Sword Knight, it was in the blank area of the ripple circle.

But before, Sean had specifically told them not to walk into this area. So at this time, whether it is Harding or Rorty Kabas. Of course not to violate this order. Not to mention that Sean had warned them seriously before, and in the battle just now, the commands and instructions that Sean gave them also made them realize for the first time that the battle can be so easy, so at this moment, naturally no one will be stupid. Will go to doubt Sean's words.

As soon as the ripples circled, everyone was already moving.

Almost two or three seconds later, the giant sword knight finally slammed the giant sword into the ground fiercely!

But in front of everyone, it showed a very strange scene.

Because the tip of this great sword did not directly penetrate the ground paved with blue crystal stones. Rather, it was as if the situation where Sean used the Blood Charm, the place where the tip of the giant sword was inserted actually produced a bigger ripple out of thin air. This ripple almost swallowed most of the sword body.

Immediately afterwards, a violent wind suddenly rolled up from the side of the Great Sword Knight.

At this time, Harding and Rorty Kabas finally knew why they could not stand beside the Greatsword Knight. That location does seem to be the safest, but the wind is so abrupt, that people are not even mentally prepared. With their eyesight, just glance at it and know it. Even if the two of them are hiding there, they will definitely be blown to the sky when the wind blows, and they won't even have a chance to resist or struggle.

is followed by the next moment.

As soon as the squally wind blew, a black sharp stone pillar suddenly protruded from the ground at all the places on the floor where the ripples were generated.

The top of this stone pillar is sharp like the tip of a sword, and the whole presents a conical shape, but there are countless barbs on the surrounding edge. It is not difficult to imagine that once you are on the edge of this ripple circle, you can avoid being caught by the front of the stone pillar. The possibility of assassination will also be torn apart by the barbs of these stone pillars. If you are accidentally standing at the edge of several rippling circles...

This picture is so beautiful that Harding and Rorty Kabas can't even imagine it.

And the most palpitating thing is that all the stone pillars protrude from the ground at the same time. It does not mean that there is a front and a back. Therefore, there is no possibility of showing position. As long as one of them is rubbed off, The end of the waiting is light and serious injury, and severe death on the spot. As for standing next to the Great Sword Knight, once the gust of wind engulfed in mid-air where there was no room to borrow, then it was not difficult to imagine the end of the game.

Fortunately, Sean had already warned in advance, so at this time everyone was splitting up, except that Lanster, who was holding Citley, seemed a little bit dangerous, there was nothing wrong with the others. At least, with Hitley, as long as she didn't die on the spot, she would be able to recover quickly.

After these stone pillars suddenly rose to a height of two or three meters, they stopped continuing to rise. At this time, if you look down from the sky, it looks like a stone forest. However, although this stone forest is not a tossing and obscuring the sun, at least it can be regarded as obstructing everyone's vision.

"Everyone get down!" Xiao Enke didn't care about that much. When he saw the stone pillar stop rising, he shouted immediately, and then the whole person was on the ground for the first time.

Hearing Shaun shouting like this, others naturally followed.

Soon, another gust of wind suddenly spread in all directions.

Three people like Sean, Harding, and Rorty Kabas knew very well that this violent wind was the result of the violent wind blowing from the Great Sword Knight.

Any place where this gust of wind blows past, all the stone pillars are broken. Like a needle-pricked missile, it shot out in all directions madly. Under the bombardment of these stone pillars, this high wall resembling an arena has produced extremely astonishing cracks, which are as hideous and terrifying as a giant centipede.

The crowd lying tightly on the ground. I glanced at the surrounding environment silently, feeling a moment of fear in my heart. Had it not been for Sean's reminder and instructions, I am afraid that everyone would be buried under the great sword knight's move, and the lingering people couldn't help but glance sideways at the great sword knight standing in the middle of the battlefield.

At this time, the giant sword knight was half kneeling on the ground. The giant sword in his hand had been pulled out at some point, and it was lying horizontally on the ground, looking a bit tired.

But I haven't waited for everyone to react. Xiao En had already activated the light body technique and adrenal stimulation, turned into a shadow and rushed towards the back of the great sword knight, while running. He even shouted: "Cecilia!"

Cecilia, who understood her heart, immediately got up from the ground, and when she raised her hand, Solomon's eighteenth flame burst out in the air. As Cecilia raised her hand and pointed, the eighteen flames immediately shot towards the back of the Great Sword Knight, but under Cecilia's intentional control. The flying speed of the Solomon Eighteenth Flame was slightly slower than that of Sean.

Shaun, who looked like a shadow, had no plans to keep his hands at this time.

He is very clear. After entering the p2 stage, the great sword knight will immediately launch the sword blade hell. At the beginning, many players were buried under this skill in the game, because its destructive power is so powerful that there is no occupation that can resist except for the purely high physical defense occupations. Can withstand this attack. But in this real world, it is naturally impossible to resist with the abilities of Sean and others. It is simply whoever touches who will die, so Sean would call everyone to get down.

But in the same way, Sean is also very clear. Once the sword knight is cast into hell, the sword knight will be completely frozen.

This state will last for one minute, and it is still not in a defensive state at all.

How much damage can be caused by this opportunity. It depends on the player's own combat power.

but!

The real world means to Sean that once he dies, he cannot be resurrected, but it is the same for others! As for Sean, who had already damaged the back of the Great Sword Knight almost before, he naturally wanted to take this opportunity to make a final attack.

When the distance was more than ten meters, Xiao En suddenly launched a charge, and directly traversed the distance of ten meters, and then stabbed the giant sword knight's back with a sword.

As the sword of Shaun fell, the black vindictiveness suddenly exploded from the back of the Great Sword Knight.

The Great Sword Knight's back was already scarred, and it was impossible to withstand such a violent blow from Sean, so all the metal on the entire back was shattered, exposing the internal structure—a lot of it. The magic nodes and circuits form a metal structure similar to a circuit board. Among them, a huge magic crystal is located closer to the head. This is the core of the magic circuit that controls these mechanism puppets.

These things seem to be very small, as if they can be completely destroyed by a random poke, but in fact their hardness is comparable to that of a devil's skin. Even if it was Sean, he couldn't easily smash these things without injecting a grudge attack. However, because of the tacit cooperation with Cecilia and Sean also believes in Cecilia, after one blow destroyed the back of the metal armor of the Great Sword Knight, he stepped up to the Great Sword Knight one by one. The head quickly swept forward after exerting force again, trying to keep the distance from the great sword knight as far as possible.

Behind it, the Solomon Eighteen Heavy Flames emitted by Cecilia almost penetrated into the interior of the Great Sword Knight almost in one breath when Shaun was quickly separating from the Great Sword Knight. Then in the next second, the scene where the guards appeared before was staged here again—amidst the roar of explosions, an explosion occurred in such a critical position, it was impossible for these mechanism puppets to hold Cecilia's attack!

When the flames soaring into the sky burned up, everyone did not need to look to know that this great sword knight must have been blown into countless pieces.

Chapter 185: Mermaid Chamber

The end of the Greatsword Knight is not much better than the guard warrior.

Compared with the hard exterior, the interior of all the mechanism puppets is very fragile. With Cecilia's extremely violent Solomon Eighteenth Flame, it is impossible to withstand the explosion from the inside. It is not easy to be able to see one place in a large number of scattered parts that can still distinguish the shape. After all, the giant sword knight has completely lost its magical protection compared to the guard warrior.

After Cecilia took back the flames, what everyone saw was the mess of a place. It was almost impossible to find a complete part. Most of them have been completely melted long ago, and only a lot of black iron * that cannot be seen before and black iron juice all over the floor are left behind. Facts have proved that once these organ puppets lose their magical protection, Cecilia's Solomon flame awakened by the Phoenix blood is extremely threatening to them. As long as they can be successfully ignited internally, they can be used to ignite these organs. The puppet was completely burned.

It's just that it's not easy to do this.

At least the Great Sword Knight was able to solve it so easily because of a big flaw, and the twin knights were not easy to deal with. In fact, a single twin knight is roughly the same strength as the silver knight, but at most it is slightly stronger. However, the twin knights are not single mechanism puppets, but are formed as a complete set from the beginning of production: each two is a combat unit-imitated the twins of the holy elves.

According to rumors in the dawn of time. The holy elves, the mother clan of the elves, are now a very powerful race. They are no different from today's human beings. Not only are they fertile normally, but the number of strong men born is extremely large. There will even be an extremely rare number of twins.

However, although the number of births of twins is extremely rare, each time they are born, these twins are born with a tacit understanding of heart and soul, and as they grow, they will gradually master some joint combat skills that other elves do not understand. According to the cognition of the goddess of the moon and the soul of the elves, they call this phenomenon the firm comradeship of the previous life: only comrades who are willing to sacrifice their lives for each other, when the soul returns to the embrace of the goddess. It is possible to become twins.

But when the gods erupted at dusk, the holy elves split into the dawn elves and the silver moon elves. No twin elves appeared again. Nowadays, although the elves have become more diverse, even with two different branches on the surface and under the ground, it is becoming more and more difficult for the elves to give birth. Although the level of extinction is not yet reached, it will only be a matter of time before the elves completely disappear if they continue to develop according to the current level of war attrition. Wars on the Western Continent are much more frequent than on the Southern and Northern Continents, almost reaching the level of one small battle in two days and one battle in five days. Especially concentrated between the elves and the orcs, coupled with the human kingdom that is always ready to fish in troubled waters, the elves of the West Continent are particularly exclusive, and even some of the elves have appeared to imitate the slavery team of the human kingdom. . Specially capture all kinds of human cubs and orc cubs.

Sean did not choose the twin knights to do it first, because the twin knights' combined combat skills were not good enough to deal with this. Because no matter how they beat the twin knights during the battle in the p1 stage. Once transferred to the p2 stage, the twin knights will definitely launch a combined attack against the same target, and this stage is still a chaotic stage without hatred, so far no one has found the twin knights p2 stage combat rules.

In the game, every time there was a challenge from a player, it was to pile up these two bosses with their lives.

But Sean didn't dare to take his life to the pile. It is estimated that only himself, Harding, and Rorty Kabas can block the twin knights' combined attack among them, and Hina may be able to suffer a severe injury without dying. But as far as Lanster, Hitley, and Cecilia are concerned, they are probably the type of death at the touch of a touch. In this regard, Sean really couldn't find a good way to deal with the twin knights for a while, but fortunately, he just solved the Greatsword Knight at this moment. Everyone needs a rest period, so it is not in a hurry.

Checked it a little, and after confirming that the Greatsword Knight's death hadn't dropped anything, Xiao En's face looked a little helpless.

Although I knew that this dungeon was notoriously poor, but after the guards had gained a lot of benefits, Sean naturally had high expectations for this dungeon. But looking at the situation in front of him, he still sighed helplessly. The Great Sword Knight has less than 1% chance of dropping that exaggerated great sword. Of course, the dropped great sword will certainly not be three meters long. The length, but at least close to two meters, is not something that ordinary people can play.

However, in terms of power, the destructive power of this giant sword is not much weaker than the ordinary legendary halberd, and it is a rare treasure.

But unfortunately, it did not fall.

And Sean also knew that in the future, I am afraid that there will be no chance to see this weapon drop. After all, the reality is different from the game. Even if it does fall, it is a three-meter-long giant sword. No one in Sean's current team can use something like this.

The magic barrier at the main entrance of the central axis is controlled by the two half-time magic organs.

And these two organs are not like the magic central system that must be controlled by some kind of control. In fact, the two magic node mechanisms refer to the twin knights and the great sword knights respectively, so as long as these two mechanism puppets are destroyed, the main entrance magic barrier of the central axis can be lifted, and there is no need for Sean and others to do it. What an extra thing.

When the great sword knight hung up, the stone pillars produced by the sword  also turned into a piece of sand similar to iron sand. However, due to the wide area of the arena, these iron sands did not cover the entire arena. On the contrary, it made this blue ocean-like ground seem to be contaminated by oil. It looks a bit ugly.

"Everyone, take a break." Sean sighed tiredly.

Dealing with the Great Sword Knight, although it seems to be very relaxed, as long as you master the rhythm, there is no problem. But in fact. Throughout the battle, Sean's attention has been highly concentrated, because others can perform brainless attacks, but he can't. He must always pay attention to all emergencies, as long as there is a problem in one link, then What greeted them was the end of Tuan Mie.

So when I can rest at this time. The most tired person is naturally Sean.

Whether it is physical or mental.

Shaun opened his status attribute and glanced at the personal column. Feeling helpless inwardly.

The black energy bar above has broken through the 50% limit, reaching 64%. Even Sean does feel a little overwhelmed by this level of consumption. Because according to his calculation, after solving the mechanism puppet. Golden Knight. Then he must take a pilgrim's holy water to remove these dark powers, otherwise he will be swallowed by the dark powers.

In reality, Shaun doesn't know what it will be like if it is swallowed by dark power. But in the game, if a player is swallowed by the dark power, everyone in his field of vision will become monsters and enemies. Of course, other players treat him in the same way, and as long as the player who is swallowed by the dark power is killed, Then not only can you get a lot of experience points, you can also get all the equipment and props that the player carries with him. There are also a lot of honor points.

Therefore, in the game, all players who can use the dark power or are likely to be swallowed by the dark power will try to avoid falling into this situation.

Shaun glanced at the inside of his storage ring. Then his brows frowned slightly.

This time he brought only four pilgrim holy water. Although the number is one more than the previous one, Sean naturally hopes not to use it lightly with this special product that is used once less. After all, he needs to go to a lot of places for this trip, so it is impossible to return to the territory in a short time, if the pilgrim runs out of holy water. Then in some cases he will lose the ability to fight.

For example, this type of battle is impossible to win with ordinary attacks.

"Are you okay?" Harding discovered the weirdness of Sean. So I sat next to him, "You seem to have a strong dark aura."

"It's okay." Xiao En smiled bitterly, "The problem is not big, but the preparation is a little insufficient. If I knew this would happen, I should prepare more things, but now it's too late to say anything, I can't go back and refocus. bring it on."

Harding nodded: "But I feel that your dark aura fluctuates more and more intensely. It's better to suppress it and be careful of being attacked by the demon."

"I know." Xiao En laughed, but hesitated again and again, he still didn't take a pilgrim's holy water. It's just that Sean has already begun to wonder if Hitley can go to the Church of Life and get a few more pilgrims' holy water if he takes the route to the human kingdom around the wild land. If he can, then he doesn't need it. Worry about the impact of combat effectiveness.

But at this moment, Lanster suddenly yelled: "Hey, look at me, what I found!"

Hearing Lanster's words, Sean and the others looked at them naturally, and they saw Lanster beckoning everyone at the entrance of a passage. When he saw this scene, Sean was stunned, because in his memory, the channel was blocked in the game and the player was not allowed to pass. At that time, some players guessed that this should be a picture. There is no open map.

But as soon as this statement appeared, it was overwhelmed by the saliva of other players.

"Miracle" is known as a brand-new concept of intelligent virtual online games. Its foundation is developed on the basic blueprint of "Sheng Shi". If it is a completely improved version, it is naturally impossible to have this so-called incomplete map. . But because of this, many players were attracted to this instance to challenge, but in the end they couldn't figure it out.

At this time, seeing this passage actually be able to enter, Xiao En's inner shock can be imagined.

Immediately, he couldn't wait to get up, and then ran towards this passage.

When other people saw Sean's reaction, they were naturally curious, so they ran over. After all, there are not many places that can make Sean curious or interested. It was rare to see this reaction from Sean at this time, and they naturally wanted to know the reason.

When I came to this passageway, what I saw was dark. There is not even a light source.

Cecilia's brows were slightly frowned, and then he raised his hand to call out Solomon's Eighteenth Flame. With Cecilia's finger, all the flames flew into the passage. But what's amazing is that at the moment the flame flew into this passage, there were waves of ripples on the passage suddenly, as if a lake was placed horizontally in front of everyone.

See this scene. The faces of everyone were shocked.

"How did you... find out?" Sean turned his head to look at Lanster in surprise.

He is very clear and sure that there was absolutely no such weird scene in the game. Otherwise, these secrets would be impossible to hide. With the player's gossip-loving nature and show-off personality, it is difficult to suppress the mentality of not showing off after discovering the secret, but from the beginning to the end, the entire copy of the water monster secret is from the beginning to the end of the door. No one has discovered this secret.

This time, Sean's approach is no different from the players who open up wasteland and play dungeons in the game. If there is a difference, it is that he brought Lanster over. So in this way, the answer is not difficult to guess. Only Lanster activated this secret channel. At first, countless players did not discover the secret. It is not that the map of "Miracle" is not complete, just because they did not bring it. A mermaid came over.

"Mr. Sean, you must have seen the topographic map records here before, right?" Lanster did not answer Sean's question. Instead, he looked at Sean expectantly, and then asked, "You know this place even better than me. But you are not very clear about many details, so I guess you must be I have seen a map of this place before, and it may be a broken map..."

"Almost." Sean knew that if he continued to act like this, he would probably be self-defeating, but some things would be difficult to explain by then. So he pushed the boat along and said, "I have indeed seen the map of the water demon secret...or a broken map. So I only know some related things about the water demon secret. At least the map I read, There is no record that there is a channel here."

"Hey, I know." Lanster was pleased that his guess was accurate. "But even if you have a complete map, Mr. Sean, you will definitely not know this secret path.... This is our mermaid clan. The secrets that have been passed down from generation to generation are only oral, without any written records. Originally, I just had the mentality to give it a try, but I didn't expect these to be true, hehe."

"Then what's in it?" Cecilia took back the eighteen flames, and then asked.

"To be honest, I am not very clear." Lanster hesitated for a moment, and then said, "But it's definitely not a shortcut to the Mermaid City. If we want to go to the Mermaid City, we can only go through the main entrance of the Central Axis Road. But I guess it's a place where people in the clan used to store some special items. I'm not sure if there is any danger, but... I think I should take a look at a mermaid secret room like this."

Speaking of this, Lanster's eyes fell on Sean, and the others also looked at Sean.

Sean hesitated a bit, then turned his head to look at Cecilia, and asked softly, "How do you feel?"

"It feels like there is no danger." Cecilia thought for a while, and then said, "But... after all, it is a distorted node in time and space, so perception can't extend too far, and I can't be sure too much. At least, , There is no danger in the area just after entering the door."

"Then, let's go in and take a look." When he heard Cecilia's words, Sean nodded slightly, and then said, "Hading, you can take the lead.... With your ability, even if you encounter danger after entering. You can start defenses and warnings immediately, I will follow you in, Rorty, you will enter last."

Rorty Kabas and Harding nodded, and then Harding stepped forward. After a while, there was a wave of ripples in the air, and Harding disappeared in front of everyone. , Followed by Sean, and then Rorty Kabas. The others stood outside and waited for a while, only to see Sean's hand stretched out from the other side suddenly, beckoning to everyone, and then the others began to file in.

.....

Just when Xiao En and others discovered the Mermaid Secret Chamber, another large-scale team also came to the entrance of the Water Demon Secret Chamber at this time.

This group of people formed a circle at this entrance, and if you look at it roughly, there are almost forty people.

However, these people only formed a circle around them, but they were not too close to the location of the entrance. There are only four people who are truly qualified to stand at the entrance, and the aura emanating from these four people will faintly transform into a thick blood-red aura soaring into the sky. Only the ruthless people who have truly experienced countless killings are there. May have such a strong murderous aura.

The three of them standing at the entrance, their eyes fell on the one in the middle.

This person is really the Dragon Slayer. Mai En!

What Shaun didn't know was that they seemed to be resting while fighting in the water demon secret. The time before and after didn't feel too long, but in fact, it was already a whole day outside. At this time, Maine spread out all his subordinates, searching for the traces of Sean and others in this area like a hunting dog, but I did not expect that they completely lost the traces of Sean and others. It was only at this moment that they were accidentally discovered. This looks like the entrance to a treasure trove.

"What the mermaid said seems to be true?" A man with red hair and a young-looking man said in a deep voice, "Boss, then we now..."

"Go in and take a look." After a moment of thought, Mann suddenly waved his hand, and then said, "If there are other exits in this place, then it would be meaningless for us to stay here. Go ahead and see the situation.... I didn't expect that what the mermaid said was true. I knew I should have followed him to hunt for treasures. But it's not too late. It's good to have those guys find the way for us anyway."

Speaking of this, Mann let out a hearty laugh.

The others also followed up with consonant laughter.

"Just leave a few people on top. You don't need to stand around here and disperse to the periphery to be on guard. As long as someone approaches, remember to come down and tell us as soon as possible." Mann is not the kind of person who just sees the treasure. The person who will be dazzled, his sanity is still sober, "Anyway, the following must have been explored almost. We still retain such a complete strength. By then, it will really be able to catch up with all people and money. !Ha ha!"

Chapter 186: . Mann's Judgment

Man's team is much larger than Shaun.

A full thirty-five people filed in.

However, if you really want to be considered strong, there are only three other people who are qualified to stand side by side with Mai En. The strength of the other thirty-something people appears to be a bit uneven, but as a whole, they also have the level of low-level silver. People like them who have been in the wild for a long time in this kind of black, eat, and black, even if only the level of lower-level silver, is not necessarily much worse than some upper-level silver, and if they really want to fight their lives, they are only afraid of ordinary people. The upper silver is not necessarily the opponent.

The overall strength of this team is very strong.

Being able to gather such a strong team, Mann is obviously not a waiter. But people who can really make these blood licks are willing to obey Mann's orders. In addition to the strong strength of Mann himself and the series of awesome names, the most important thing is that he is the leader no matter what kind of battle. , It is very different from other bosses who like to drive their subordinates to attack and watch the play by themselves.

Has Cecilia with Sean and others, so there is no need to prepare any lighting objects. The invisible fingers in the passage quickly made Mann frowned. As a person who can hang around in the wild, almost everyone has a certain ability to adapt to the dark environment, including night vision. Of course, compared to the elves or races that are born with night vision capabilities, there are still many There is a big gap-because anyone who can't see in the wild at night has already died in countless attacks from the dark night. Here in the Wildlands. If you want to live, you must adapt to the changes in the environment.

At this time, Mai En and others are completely invisible in this passage. The darkness is very contemplative.

soon. Everyone retired, and he decided to make adequate preparations before proceeding to explore. So soon someone began to take some members out of the team and returned to their camp to prepare things for exploration, including kerosene, cloth strips, larger and thicker wooden sticks, and even other dry food and Odds and ends. Being able to live in the wild for so long, basically they have already adapted to the environment here, and naturally they know what to prepare.

It's just that. It seems that almost eight or nine years have passed since Maien and the others needed to use the torch.

When Maine once again led the team into the underground passage of the water monster secret. It was already dark, but this time they were much better prepared. Because of the shining of torches, the dark passage cannot bring any influence to them, and because of the large number of people. The leader is also several powerful men such as Mai En, and everyone has grown up in countless killing environments, so this dark tunnel did not bring any influence to them. Soon, everyone came to the end of the tunnel.

Here, Mai En and others naturally saw the ground thorn traps exposed after the first few steps collapsed.

"This..." the young man with red hair said in surprise, "After they triggered this mechanism, no one actually fell?"

"These guys seem to be more difficult to deal with than we thought." A burly middle-aged man furrowed his brows. "This kind of reaction power is not something that ordinary people can have. ... I just don't know. The other party is. Everyone is so strong, or is it just a few people."

The so-called "seeing the micro-knowledge works", only from a little detail, we have already judged the tricky degree of Sean and others. The people who can follow Maien or even stand by his side are obviously strong people with real materials.

glanced around at a few people around him, Maien said: "The other party dared to enter the deep belly area of the Wild Land with only six people. Do you still think the other party is easy to deal with?"...

His voice was very calm, and there was no emotional fluctuation, as if he had already known that these opponents were not easy to deal with: "How many people were when we first entered the wild? How many were when we dared to go deep into the wild? And now. We. How many people have survived?...If it wasn't for me to know that the opponents are not easy to deal with, would I let you all gather together?"

Hear what Mann said. Everyone fell silent.

"Never treat your opponent as a fool." Mann said lightly, "I don't deny that there are really fool opponents in this world, but if you consider one or two fool opponents you meet on the road of life. If this is the case for all enemies, then you will surely stumble."

At this moment, all talents really put away their contemptuous attitude.

No one is a fool who can mix to the scale and strength of today in the wild land. Perhaps because the past smooth winds have made them seem a little proud, they don't even put other people in their eyes, but they don't have simple minds and arrogance to the point of self-reliance. At this time, they saw the alarm bell sounded by this thorn trap. After that, everyone realized the problem, and no longer dared to despise and care.

After jumping over the exposed trap, Mai En and others continued to move forward.

Soon, they came to the central square of the Water Demon Secret.

Just as Shaun and others were shocked and surprised at the beginning, Man and others were also shocked by the sight in front of them. It's just that they don't understand as much as Sean, so naturally they can't see the symbolic meaning of the three-story structure of the central fountain, nor can they understand how amazing the materials used in the construction of this square are.

Of course, strong people like Mai En, their eyes are naturally focused on the organ puppets that were dismantled by Sean and others on the square.

Among the three strong men who can stand side by side with Maine, the only one with long hair walked quickly to the side of these mechanism puppets, and then squatted down to check on the spot. However, Mai En and others slowly stepped forward and separated around them. Although they seemed to stand randomly and unintentionally, they actually completely protected this person in the middle, preventing all possible hidden murderous intent.

And the thirty-odd Maie's men also consciously dispersed into a vigilant line. Form a larger protection circle to protect Maie and others inside.

The actions of these people are well organized, and everyone not only maintains a high degree of vigilance. Even the stance is very particular, and people have almost reached the perfect distance for mutual cooperation and cover. If William saw the actions of these people, then he would definitely suspect that Maie had a very capable general, otherwise it would be impossible to train a slavery team into this kind of army mode.

The man with long hair carefully inspected these organ puppets on the ground. Only at this time could he see that his right hand was full of metallic luster, and his arm was still structured like iron pipes—— This is actually a robotic arm!

His inspection is serious and cautious, not like random observation at all. He even reached into the organ puppet and pulled out some parts, just to see how he frowned. Obviously he doesn't understand most of the components. Fortunately, the destruction of the twelve organ puppets in the square was different, so it was a great help for him to check the materials.

Mann hasn't spoken, so he watched in silence until the man stood up behind him. He just said: "How?"

"It looks like it should be a puppet, but..." The man's brows were slightly frowned, and he was obviously confused. "But it is very different from today's alchemy puppets and flesh and blood puppets. I have never seen such a puppet creature. But. What is certain is that these puppets rely on a special kind of crystal nucleus to operate. As long as these crystal nuclei are destroyed, these puppets will be paralyzed."...

"Sounds simple?" Maïen grinned, "Then it doesn't look like this place is so scary....Since they only have six people who can solve these puppets. Then there is no reason for so many of us not to do it."

Obviously, Mann has once again forgotten the mermaid Lanster.

However, the mermaid tribe is notoriously low combat power, anyone who has read some history books will know. So Maïen didn't pay attention to Lanster. This is also normal, after all, this mermaid was once planted in his hands.

Soon, someone came over to report the situation.

There are various pieces of puppets in the middle axis road and the right corridor. It is naturally impossible for people to forget such conspicuous things. Therefore, the action path of Sean and others can't be concealed from Maïen and others, but it is impossible to be sure that Sean and others are now advancing in the direction of the central axis. Continue to the direction of the road on the right.

"Boss, the road on the left. They don't seem to have walked." The red-haired young man quickly discovered the abnormal condition of the left corridor. After all, this side is too clean. Compared with the parts of the puppets that can be seen everywhere in the corridor on the right, here is also unusually eye-catching, "They should come back again?"

"It's not that it should, but it's affirmation." Mann took a look, and then said in a deep voice, "Unless they are dead, it is impossible to abandon this unexplored path.... Klee, Jeba, you guys. Two people each took ten people to see the other two roads. Anyway, they have been cleaned up. We just need to follow them. If we encounter any danger or find their tracks, we will go back first. , These guys are not easy to deal with, we have to concentrate our full attack."

"I see." The red-haired man nodded.

"Yes." And the burly man also had a clear look.

Soon, the two men led ten people to the central axis road and the right corridor respectively.

"Boss, those puppets are approaching!"

Just after the two people left the group, a slave arrester who was in charge of guarding the corridor on the left shouted, and it attracted the attention of how many people at once.

Man hurriedly got up and walked over, and he saw about ten puppet creatures approaching in the corridor on the left. They don't move fast, but they are very calm. With Man's sophistication, they know that such a guy has a stable chassis. It is not easy to knock them down. But now that he knew the weaknesses of these puppet creatures, he naturally wouldn't be troubled by these puppet creatures.

After all, as long as the so-called crystal nucleus located on the front chest is defeated, these puppets can stop working.

Man excitedly stretched out his tongue and licked his mouth, the grin on his face became more intense, it was the appearance of the blood in his body boiling. And the other slave trappers who knew about the fighting situation of Maine stepped back a bit at this time, and moved a certain distance away from Maine, fearing that they would be involved in Maine during the fight for a while-follow. After Mann for so long, they still don't know Mann's fighting style.

However, when he was about to fight, Mann didn't get excited because of his excitement. Instead, he maintained a high level of calmness: "The two white puppet creatures, are the crystal nuclei in the same position?"

"It should be correct." The long-haired man nodded. At this time, he was also ready to fight. "There are also many white puppets around here. The location of damage is also the same, so the location of the crystal core should be different. It will change... But unfortunately, we don't have a magician, otherwise it would be easier to deal with these puppets."

There are many organ puppets burned into iron by Cecilia.

This made this long-haired man naturally impressed.

"Since that's right, then don't have to wait, little ones, come with me!"

Chapter 187: .Distorted space

The water monster secret store ushered in the second group of guests, Xiao En still doesn't know.

At this moment, they are in a very strange space.

Originally, when Xiao En and others entered, there was still an aqua-blue vortex slowly spinning behind the space. This was the door when Xiao En, Harding, and Rotti Kabas entered here. But after Sean stretched out his hand to signal the others to enter, when Lanster stepped into this space for the last time, the water-blue vortex-like space door disappeared in front of everyone so strangely.

Only left, a stone wall.

If the average person finds such a situation, he will definitely fall into a panic.

But Cecilia and others didn't. They just watched Sean quietly—perhaps that Sean's performance during this period of time has been enough to conquer the arrogant king of exile, Even Harding was silent, without showing the slightest dissatisfaction.

They are all waiting for Sean to give new orders and instructions.

&Nb-万-书吧-小说---msp;? Xiao En did not immediately reply, but walked to this stone wall and reached out to touch it.

The feeling at the beginning was the coldness and unevenness of the stone, and after Sean reached out and pressed a few more times, he also felt that the stone wall was not hollow, but very hard. Obviously it was nothing. Phantom. "Distorted space?" Sean was a little unsure.

Today, Sean is no longer the one who can only explore according to the game strategy. It is not that the strategy in the game is useless in this world, but he has lived in this world for so many years. So it is clear that there is still a big difference between the game and reality. An area like this one is just an extra map in the game. What it can provide is to bring players more adventure experience. No matter how dangerous it is, as long as the player is dead, they can return to the soul-bound main city and resurrect.

But in reality, this situation is impossible to detect.

Like this space right now, it is not just an extra map that brings more adventure experience to Sean and others, but a real plane space.

Of course, it may also be a semi-plane space, or other incomplete spaces of this kind, etc. Anyway, it will definitely not be an additional map.

And in such a place. It's not that as long as you die, you can go back to the soul-bound city and start your adventure again.

In this world, death means the end of life.

"Should be." In terms of magic knowledge, Cecilia is truly authoritative. Maybe she was just a magician specializing in fire elemental magic before. But when the bloodline awakens and the bloodline memory is completely awakened, the magic knowledge that Cecilia knows is no longer limited to natural magic, she also knows a lot about space magic and some other related magic knowledge. But Cecilia's blood is Phoenix blood after all. So it can only exert its magical power. It's still fire magic, but this doesn't mean that Cecilia can't know other magic.

For the existence of ranks like Sorcerer, the prerequisite for promotion in the game is to be proficient in all the magic of the current system.

For example, for a magician who specializes in the nature element, the prerequisite for becoming a magician is to master the four elements of wind, fire, water, and earth. As for the derivative types of thunder and ice, there is not much requirement. In the same way, those of the soul power system must master the two major branches of spirit and illusion. As for the soul class, unless it is a magician who specializes in the soul power system. Otherwise, there is no big requirement.

Cecilia carefully checked the surrounding situation.

At this time, the place where Xiao En and others entered is a bit like in a tunnel: all around are stone walls on the left and right sides. However, it can be clearly seen that these stone walls have been sharpened, so there is no sharp ruggedness. It's just that this kind of grinding is obviously not skilled enough, so there is still a bumpy feel on the stone wall, but besides that, there is no strange place around it, not even the penetration of magic.

"This should be a one-way magic door." Cecilia carefully checked the situation before speaking, "We can come in from here, but once the magic door is closed, we can't get out of here. .but....."

"But what?"

"But in general, the entrance to such a distorted space, or plane, is not fixed, but rather a single random teleportation." Cecilia thought about it, and then made a simple explanation, "That is In other words, we should be scattered when we enter such a place, and we will not all appear in the same place..... Because there are fixed import and export spaces and planes, they are all perfect, and at the worst, they have relatively complete rules. ."

Hearing this, Rorty Kabas frowned: "When you say this, I seem to have found it."

"There is no vitality." Harding also frowned and took the words, "This place feels like a dead place, without any vitality and... I don't know how to say it, but it makes me feel very uncomfortable."

"Because there are no rules here." Cecilia said softly, "This space is a chaotic and distorted place. The laws of the world cannot extend here. It is probably equivalent to capturing a piece of broken and incomplete land in the endless void. , And then protect this land with great power from turning into powder under the invasion of the void storm.... In such a place, even if the sanctuary or legendary power comes, it can only rely on the power of the flesh Fight."

"Then your magic..." Sean quickly caught the point.

"It can still be used." Cecilia gave Sean a relieved smile, "It's just that my magic can't be replenished. I tried it. Even if I meditate, I can't recover it, so it can be said that my magic will be better. Use less."

"Forbidden space?"

"It's not like it, but... it should be considered a similar environment."

Cecilia just wanted to deny it, but after thinking about it, if she hadn't had the Phoenix bloodline and could rely on the power of the bloodline to perform magic, then she would probably be no different from a useless person in this place. But even so, once the magic power stored in her bloodline is exhausted, then she also has no way to use magic.

"Then what shall we do now?" Rorty Kabas asked in a deep voice.

Cecilia's existence can be said to be the strongest firepower in their team. As long as she can provide her with the opportunity to attack, the combat power she exerts is comparable to that of Sean, Harding, and Rorty Kabas. It's even bigger. But now, this mortar, which should have been said to have unlimited ammunition, has suddenly become a situation with limited ammunition. This feeling still makes everyone feel a little uneasy.

"Let's go ahead and take a look." Xiao En thought for a while, and said, "Now no matter what this so-called space has, we must find a way out.... But fortunately, there is a place to rely on it. Where physical strength determines the rules of victory and defeat, then we still have a great advantage."

Hearing what Shaun said, Harding smiled.

If you really want to talk about pure physical strength and tyranny, then the most powerful among them is naturally Harding. After all, the blood warrior profession has brought him a lot of increase. But it wasn't Rorty Kabas or Sean who came in behind Harding, but Hina.

After passing the Crypt Cold Spider Queen's power bonus, Hina is not an exaggeration to say that it is a humanoid monster. In terms of physical tyranny, she is even expected to reach the level of Harding before the age of eighteen. It is even possible for her body to automatically grow into a bronze body at the age of twenty. One of the prerequisites of the domain.

The only pity is that Hina's personal martial arts growth is still slightly insufficient.

"By the way, Hitley, can you...can still perform magic tricks?" Sean turned his head and looked at Hitley.

Hitley's ability to continue to perform divine magic is the key, because this determines the endurance combat capability of Sean and others in this space.

However, although I had already guessed in my heart, after seeing Hitley shook his head, the faces of everyone really became a little hard to look at this time.

Rotti Kabas gave a wry smile: "It seems that this time is really a big crisis."

"I can't communicate with the goddess, it seems to be blocked by something." Hitley said helplessly, "However, my situation is probably similar to sister Cecilia, I can still rely on my own divine power now. Come to perform divine arts, but once these divine powers are exhausted, I will not be able to replenish them. Then..."

Speaking of this, Hitley had a small grievance on her face.

Don't need Hitley to make it so clear, everyone also knows the result.

Citley's personal strength is much lower than Cecilia. After all, Cecilia also worked as a mercenary with Sean for a period of time, and she still has some survival experience. And once these two legal personnel lose the ability, then it can be said to be of no contribution and value to the entire team, and even for the safety of the two, Xiao En and others will have to separate one or two to take care of , This situation is very troublesome.

"Forget it." Sean sighed helplessly, "Let's go ahead and take a look. You two try to save money, and don't get involved in the fight if you don't have to. I always feel that this place is extraordinarily weird. , It's absolutely impossible to be safe and sound." At this point, Sean turned his head and looked at Hitley: "Now, you must control your reflexes anyway, and don't just make a move. Unrestrained consumption of magic arts, learn more about the judgment of the battlefield situation, sometimes the problems that small magic arts can solve, you don't need to use the magic arts."

"I...I see." Hitley nodded.

Chapter 188: .Mobile treasure house

After walking out of the tunnel, what greeted everyone was not a scene of mountains and rivers, but a dilapidated scene like ruins.

Although after listening to Cecilia's explanation, everyone understood the truth between the law and the world, but when they saw this space present such a scene with their own eyes, they were still a little shocked. It's not the shock caused by the high and wide mood, but the shock caused by the depression like despair.

No one knows how vast this space is, but the edge of this space is indeed not seen as far as the eye can see.

The sky is gray, it looks unusually depressed and low. Moreover, the air is relatively muddy, even more muddy than the dungeon of the Water Demon Secrets, which has been sealed for countless years. Although it is not strong, it is a pungent smell that makes many people frown.

Because of the lack of sufficient water to moisturize, the earth has already dried up, and the exposed earthy yellow surface is also full of cracks. All the trees planted on this land have also withered, and the remaining dry trees look strange and terrifying on this land.

Perhaps, a long time ago, this space was also a beautiful world full of vitality, and from the scale you see now, it is generally not difficult to judge how beautiful it used to be. At least in places where people and fish people are responsible for it, even if they don't want to be beautiful, it's difficult to do it.

But now.

Only desolation and decadence remain.

"At least, the space wall hasn't broken yet." Looking at the scene in front of him, Xiao En gave a bitter smile and said with comfort.

"En." Cecilia raised her head and glanced at the gray sky, but she was not too happy. "But it won't last long. This space is dead. If there is no inherent law, this space will not exist. Any original power. Therefore, the loss of the space wall cannot be recovered. It can be maintained for so long without any rupture, the person who was able to create this space plane was at least a super power."

"The mermaid family doesn't exist like this." Xiao En frowned.

However, considering that the establishment of this dungeon was at least in the twilight era, or even earlier in the dawn era, at that time, let alone a super power, any * can create such a world. After all, the mermaid has always been the pets of the gods. So build such a small space or plane for your pets to store some things. It's not that difficult.

After understanding this, Xiao En's brows gradually loosened: "However, this dungeon was established early, who knows which great * made it. Anyway, some unexpected changes must have taken place in it. ..."

Speaking of this, Sean's gaze turned to Lanster.

Similarly, the eyes of others were all focused on Lanster, which made Lanster seem a little cramped.

Sean always feels. Lanster told himself in the information. Some words are unclear. It's just that he couldn't be sure whether this part was intentionally concealed by Lanster, or he didn't know it himself.

If it is the former, then Sean feels it is necessary to give Lanster a wake-up call. After all, Lanster deliberately concealed his powerful attack skills when dealing with guard soldiers, which made Sean's tactics implement. Subject to certain limitations.

But considering that it was the first cooperation of everyone, and no one expected that Hitley's healing technique would be so hateful. So Sean didn't say anything. However, a large part of this is also due to Lanster's detailed explanation afterwards. At least Sean already knew the restrictions on the use of Lanster's powerful attack skills, as well as some related weaknesses and other abilities that Lanster mastered.

"You... what are you all looking at me doing?" Lanster asked nervously.

"How much do you know about this place?" Cecilia glanced at Sean and saw Sean's brows frowning, as if he was hesitating, so he simply said, "You said before, The information you found contains information about this place, so we must figure out what kind of existence this place is."

"I'm looking for it." Lanster was stunned for a while, then suddenly he woke up and took out his notebook from his body, and then quickly began to look for it.

Looking at this scene, everyone has a feeling of black lines.

Now, Sean can be sure that this Lanster has never thought of hiding anything. Probably many times, he might not even remember what abilities he possesses or what information he has mastered. Although this kind of thing is indeed quite frustrating, considering that Lanster's race is a mermaid, this kind of thing is not something to be surprised, after all, the mermaid is born to be a cute group.

"Let Cecilia help you." Sean said helplessly, so that Lanster went on searching, when would he find the head?

This space involves magical knowledge about space science, and only Cecilia can understand this kind of knowledge. After all, she is the authority in this area, so Sean naturally refers to Cecilia Roll out. Anyway, it's okay for him to pretend to be a magic stick, but if he really wants to involve him in these highly professional knowledge or academics, then he can do nothing.

"Also... well." Lanster hesitated for a while, did not refuse, but carefully handed the notebook in his hand to Cecilia, "Little... be careful, this notebook is The heart of the mermaid."

Although she understood what the mermaid heart meant, after hearing what Lanster said, Cecilia couldn't help rolling her eyes, and said, "You have a lot of mermaid hearts."

"Hey." Lanster smirked a little embarrassedly.

"She is not complimenting you by that." Rorty Kabas looked at Lanster, and then gently engaged in the technical work of repairing the knife.

"Huh? Isn't it?" Lanster was stunned.

Sean didn't bother to pay attention to the conversation between the two men. He turned his head and looked at Cecilia, and then asked, "How is it?"

"This notebook... is a magic book." After turning a few pages, Cecilia showed a look of surprise on her face. "This is... Dragon Skin? A Dragon Skin Magic Note? This thing even comes out. You can use the powerful magic power directly...You are only used to take notes? Too...wasted!"

Cecilia was a little bulging, obviously because of Lanster's violent behavior.

In the game, except for certain occupations. Most professions are those that can use two-handed weapons. Of course, the premise is to learn a special skill that can be used to master two-handed weapons-in this way, even dual-wield weapons can be mastered with one-handed. However, is like a classic equipment match of one-handed sword and shield. In the definition of weapons, the former is the main weapon, and the latter is the secondary weapon.

depending on the situation, there are many different schools of using two-handed weapons, such as using two one-handed weapons at the same time. Or use a primary weapon and a secondary weapon, etc.

Magician is one of the few professions that can equip two weapons at the same time even without learning special dual-weapon mastering skills.

And magic books, or magic notes, magic books, or even magic orbs, etc., are the secondary weapons of the magician.

The magic notebook that Cecilia took from Lanster is a secondary weapon that Cecilia can equip. And judging from Cecilia's voice, the effect of this magic equipment is obviously still very good. Otherwise, it wouldn't make Cecilia such a fuss.

But in fact. As long as anything has something to do with the "dragon", then it will definitely not be bad.

"Yalongpi or..." Sean asked cautiously.

"Dragon." Cecilia said softly, "The real dragon skin, the magic power on it is very well preserved. It must be the same person who hunted and made this magic book, and the strength is still very powerful. "

Sean made a sound of surprise.

The only ones who dare to regard such truly terrifying creatures as dragons as prey are the terrifying magicians who have caused the Twilight of the Gods. After destroying the sacred mountain, causing the gods to fall or fall asleep one after another. The entire Marvel Continent has finally fallen into a terrible dark period-the Age of Ashes, and in this era the potential of each race has been exploited to the extreme. Among them, human beings are undoubtedly the greatest potential development.

Magic was also widely spread and learned during this period.

A variety of powerful equipment, weapons, etc., born with real dragons as materials, originated from this period. Any piece of equipment born with a dragon as a material must have a history that can be traced back to the Ash Age, and most of the equipment that can be classified as epic can also be related to this era.

Sean, who is familiar with these histories, of course knows how valuable the dragon skin magic book Cecilia is holding now.

"This thing is really a treasure." Sean reached out and took the magic book from Cecilia, and watching Sean's rude behavior, Lanster and Cecilia both People seem to be very painful, "The value of this thing, I am afraid it will not be lower than the infinite magic stones we harvested before....Unexpectedly, you really have a lot of good things."

"I, I don't know either." Lanster said with some confusion, "Is it so valuable?"

Seeing Lanster in such a state of performance, Sean and the others really wanted to beat him to death.

Many people are poor in wealth that they can't obtain in their entire life, but this guy casually takes him and runs around. But it doesn't matter if you run around with you, but the problem is that Lanster didn't realize how valuable these things are. How could this make people feel uncomfortable.

Especially Harding and Rorty Kabas.

They came to the Continent of Miracles and Lanster's situation was not much different. They were also struggling to survive in this world by themselves, but they didn't have the luck of Lanster, and they got Xiao at the most dangerous time. Gracious assistance. Of course, they are also not like Lanster. They still carry a priceless dragon skin magic book. You must know that if you sell this thing to the northern solitary tower or the old antiques overlooking the spire, let alone the wasteland. The Water Monster Vault has searched for the city of mermaid, even if Lanster said he was going to attack the castle of the Count of Death, I'm afraid those madmen would follow.

Thinking of this, Xiao En suddenly said, "By the way, do you have anything else on your body? Take it out and let us have a look, so that we can help you identify the authenticity of these things. See if they are of any value. thing."

Hearing what Shaun said, Harding and Rorty Kabas both smiled at the same time, and then looked at each other. But soon, the two realized that the person they looked at each other was their most annoying guy, so two soft hums sounded in unison.

And Hitley. Still at the point where it is completely unclear.

Instead, it was Hina. Looks like a good show.

As for Cecilia, the look on her face was obviously looking forward to it.

Only Lanster seemed to instinctively feel that something was wrong, but he just couldn't remember it and didn't know how to say it. Finally, under the urging of Xiao En, Lanster began to take out the things he carried with him one by one. It was also at this time that Xiao En and others found out. The pocket on Lanster's belt is actually a space storage device.

Able to make space as storage utensils. There are only masters who are proficient in space magic.

In the game, as soon as all players enter the game, they can automatically get a space storage belt that can store ten items. After completing a series of novice tasks, you can get a storage belt bag with the same storage capacity of ten blocks-the kind that Lanster currently uses. The twenty-segment storage space is naturally far from enough for players to use, so in the game, there are also many ways to upgrade the space storage items, but this kind of way is very troublesome, and the number of upgrades and the limit They are all very limited, and it is not possible to grow without limits.

Really want better space storage props. Then there are only two ways: the first is to buy, and the second is to ask a space master to make it.

But no matter which one it is. The required expenses are extremely expensive.

Storage belt bag, naturally cannot be as good as the storage ring in Sean's hand, because the two not only have a big difference in loading capacity, but also have storage restrictions.

Like the storage ring in Sean's hand, as long as he wants, anything that the ring touches can be directly stored in it.

But Lanster's storage pocket is not good. Only things that can be stuffed into his pocket can be stored in the storage pocket. In other words, the size of the object must be able to enter the pocket of the storage pocket. This is why the bow in Lanster's hand is obviously of the same value, but he has been carrying it on him-because This thing really can't fit in the pocket of that waist bag.

At the beginning, everyone was still in the mood to see what Lanster took out of his pocket, and even to observe Lanster's pocket.

But as he took out more and more things, and when the types began to become more diverse, the expressions of Xiao En and others finally couldn't help but change slightly. Because among the things that were taken out, several of them exuded very cryptic but powerful aura. These things are not mentioned in the auction grounds of the surface world, even in the auction grounds of the underground world. It is a rare treasure that is very difficult to encounter. Almost every piece has a starting price of no less than one million gold coins.

As for the transaction price, it is even more amazing.

Sean's eyes swept over these treasures one by one, and then swallowed a little hard, his eyes on Lanster changed.

This is simply a mobile treasure house!

The beating heart of the deep-sea dragon, the night fish tendon, which is one of the necessary materials for making bows and arrows of legendary quality and above, the pure water orb that contains the powerful water element, and the ice that can only be found in the eyes of the deep-sea maelstrom skeleton.....

These things, in addition to the deep sea dragon heart and night fish beast tendons, pure water orbs and ice skeletons fall into the hands of a natural magician who uses water element as the main attack method, at least it can double them The above strength. Of course, the only difference is that the ice skeletal is a one-time use item, but compared to the value of the pure water orb, the ice skeletal is undoubtedly larger, because the ice skeletal can be used not only as a spellcasting material, but also as an alchemy material and forging material. and many more.

The value of ice remains is distinguished by size and transparency. The larger and more transparent the ice remains, the higher the value.

Watching Lanster throw out a bag of ice skeletal that was about twenty thumb fingernails as big as a trash and completely transparent to no impurities, Xiao En felt a real pain.

only.....

When Lanster took out these things, Cecilia suddenly raised her head, frowning and scanning her surroundings.

Only Sean was keenly aware of this.

"what happened?"

"Maybe... it's my illusion, right?" Cecilia said with some uncertainty. "After Lanster took these things out, I seemed to feel the space tremble, as if something was awakened. feel."

Hearing this, Xiao En's brows frowned: "It seems that this space is not as simple as we thought."

However, just when Sean was about to say something, he was suddenly attracted by something Lanster took out.

It was a transparent skull like a crystal. Just looking at the shape, it should be a human or humanoid skull, but its size is less than half the size of Lanster's palm, and it's no more than three inches tall. It's almost like the skull of a mini-man.

But when Sean saw this thing, he couldn't look away at all.

Because there is such a thing among the many materials that Andrew asked him to help collect.

The crystal skull of the deep sea goblin!

Chapter 189: .Young people are still too young

Sean stared at the small crystal skull in Lanster's palm with fiery eyes.

The crystal skull of the deep sea goblin.

Deep Sea Fairy, this is a kind of fairies that live in the depths of the ocean. They are not evil in nature, at most they like to play pranks, such as playing tricks on navigators, making them temporarily disoriented and so on. The deep-sea goblins are variants of the deep-sea goblins. Because of the dissipation of a large amount of abyssal breath near their place of residence, long-term contact with the abyssal breath will cause them to produce various changes, including changes in body shape.

Deep-sea monsters usually have a height of less than five inches. Compared with other monsters, deep-sea monsters have no wings behind their backs, but they can be invisible in the water and swim extremely fast; while deep-sea monsters have a height of seven inches to one inch. Between the ruler, the eyes are red, the skin is dark brown, and the blood in the body is highly corrosive, and the personality has become very bad. Not only likes to tease people, but also attacks all activities. Of creatures.

The crystal skull in Lanster's hand is shining, but if you look closely, it is not difficult to find that there are black threads entwined on it. These black lines do not appear directly in the crystal skull, but more like a decorative object or a trace similar to weathering, and will not affect the beauty of this crystal skull.

If it wasn't for Sean's mind that Andrew had left him with memory fragments, he would never recognize that this thing was the crystal skull of the deep sea goblin.

At first, when Andrew met with Sean for the last time, he gave Sean a list of materials.

Said it was a list, but it was actually just a piece of memory. It was a memory directly transferred by Andrew to Sean's mind. The above lists a total of thirteen kinds of materials that Andrew needs. These materials are not just names, but also related graphics, detailed instructions, and teaching Sean how to distinguish between authenticity and so on.

This is why Sean can recognize the crystal skull of the deep sea goblin at a glance.

The 13 materials that Andrew needs to go home are large and small, and some are calculated by catty. There are also calculations by piece, which vary. But if you count the crystal skull of the deep-sea goblin in Lanster's hand, even if Sean helped Andrew collect two materials, now there are only eleven other materials left. Of course, these eleven gadgets are obviously not easy to find. Many names are even the well-informed Sean. It is also unheard of, and the list of materials given by Andrew has no introduction of the relevant origin, so it is not small to collect it.

"Can you sell this thing to me?" Shaun looked away from the crystal skull with difficulty, then looked at Lanster, "You make a price, I really need this thing. Of course. It's also possible to barter...but I'm not sure if I have what you need. But you might as well ask for a price first."

Hearing Shaun's words, Cecilia, Rorty Kabas and Harding shook their heads in unison.

Among these three, apart from Rorty Kabas, Cecilia and Harding were both members of the royal family. Naturally, they dabbled in matters such as transactions and negotiations. Even if they are not particularly proficient and good at it, they will not be bad. Where to go. As for Rorty Kabas, who has been hidden in the human world for so many years, he has already learned some relevant negotiation skills. Naturally, he also knows how to maximize his own interests.

So they naturally feel a little absurd about the impatient appearance of Sean right now.

But in fact. They also knew very well that Sean was just a little impatient at this time. If he was allowed to calm down, then there would not be such an almost inferior negotiation situation. After all, in the past negotiations between Sean and others, he has never suffered. It can even be said that he has forced others to have no choice but to compromise with Sean.

"Is this thing worth the money?" Lanster looked confused, "But if you like it, I'll give it to you. Anyway, I don't know what I can do with this thing."

Sean was overjoyed: "Can you really give it to me?"

Lanster nodded: "Of course, just take it as your reward for saving me before."

Lanster said as he put the crystal skull of the deep sea goblin in Sean's hand. And Xiao En, on the other hand, unceremoniously put the thing away, seeing the others around him dumbfounded. Especially Rorty Kabas and Harding, the two people just laughed at Sean's inferior negotiation skills in their hearts, but they didn't expect such a turnaround, and Sean got this thing without paying anything.

At this time, the two underground residents, Harding and Rorty Kabas, were madly cursing in their hearts. Is Lanster a fool? I don't know if the things that can be seen by the old gods like Sean must be invaluable? Instead of what Shaun said to them, they must carefully weigh and estimate the value, and then perform a fierce bloodletting on Shaun.

only...

Cecilia glanced at Sean, then her face turned red. She was ashamed that she felt that Sean's negotiation skills were inferior. It's not the first time Cecilia has met with Sean to negotiate, but she has never seen Sean suffer a loss. Almost every time he can get the most benefit, it is obvious that the look just now can't wait is also It was shown by seeing Lanster's character.

Thinking of this, Cecilia glanced at Harding and Rorty Kabas, she suddenly felt sympathy for the inhabitants of these two underground worlds.

After putting away the crystal skull of the Deep Sea Goblin, Sean glanced at the treasures all over the floor, then raised his head to look at Lanster, and said with a heavy face: "What are you going to do with these things? Is there any in it? There are few good things."

"Yes, is that so?" Lanster looked nervous, "Is it valuable?"

"It's okay." Sean pondered. "For me, these things are definitely not worth much, but for those who have arrested you, these things are enough for them to kill you... So, it's different from person to person."

After hearing Sean's words, Cecilia had already turned around, and she couldn't bear to keep watching. And Harding and Rorty Kabas, the two were completely stunned by Sean's acting skills. Of course they could see Sean's desire for the treasures everywhere, at least when they saw these things. Obviously, I could feel that Sean's breathing became a little heavy. If Sean was not interested in these things, both of them would cut off their heads and give Sean a chair.

"This...this...what should I do!" Lanster began to panic when he heard what Shaun said. "I. I have never been to land. I... Your Excellency Shaun, what should I do? That's great."

"It's very simple. Don't put these things on yourself? Just ask someone to take care of them for you." Sean took it for granted, and with the look of how you are so stupid, "and As long as you don't reveal your race, most people will treat you as a human. Naturally, you won't think of too many places. So overall, you are still relatively safe."

Harding and Rorty Kabas looked at each other, and they both wanted to laugh out loud. In this situation, unless a fool doesn't know what Shaun thinks. So the two of them started to expect what Lanster would react. Harding thought that if Sean said to him like this, he would definitely make Sean's face; and Rorty Kabas found it very interesting. Yes, I would probably play a joke with Sean and then refuse.

But it's a pity. Lanster's approach is completely different from what Harding and Rorty Kabas thought.

He suddenly realized that he obviously had a great sense of identification with Sean's words. Only soon, he was frustrated again, and said helplessly: "But...but I have no friends in the surface world, I...I don't know who should store things better, I..."

Harding had only one thought at this time: this Lanster is a fool.

Rotti Kabas clearly understood Harding's meaning, and he nodded seriously: definitely a fool.

But watching Sean take down all the good things so easily, Rorty Kabas and Harding also seemed a little dissatisfied. After all, the relationship between them and Sean is only a collaborator, not an affiliation, let alone a guest such as Sean's followers. Naturally, there is no reason to look at Sean's family dominance, especially considering that they might still be in the future. To represent the ethnic forces in the underground world to deal with Sean, the ideal balance between the two sides is the balance of strength.

Thinking of this, Rorty Kabas suddenly said, "I'm happy to be your friend!...Well, you can leave these things to me for safekeeping and ensure that no one can * them from me."

When Harding saw Rorty Kabas said this, he was naturally unwilling to be outdone: "Yes, I am also very happy to be your friend.... Don't forget, but I saved you first. Trust me, the savior, That's right!"

"You guys, you are really wonderful." Lanster's eyes moistened in an instant, "In that case, I will put these things in your place."

Hearing what Lanster said, the eyes of Rorty Kabas and Harding both showed excitement, but what made them wonder is why Sean didn't say anything to refute? The two looked at each other, and they could see the doubt in each other's eyes: Isn't Sean really interested in these treasures?

"Heh." But soon, the two shivered in unison, because they finally heard Sean make a sound.

Sean looked at Rorty Kabas and Harding indifferently, his right hand was raised, and his left hand gently rubbed the ring on the ring finger of his right hand. As soon as Harding and Rorty Kabas saw the ring, they realized the problem.

"You two want to help Lanster keep these things, how do you keep them? Just take them on your body?" Sean laughed softly, "It's not very dangerous, so it's better to let Lanster put them in that pocket. Inside, at least no one knows that the thing is a storage pocket without opening that pocket."

Harding and Rorty Kabas are a bit speechless, and they missed this point.

"It's better to put it here." Xiao En continued, his voice still soft, but with a bit of pride, "After all, I have a storage ring, and it's safer to put it here. And, who else? I would think that my ordinary ring is a storage ring, right." While saying this, Sean gave Harding and Rorty Kabas a look: "Young man, After all, it's still too young."

This look made Rorty Kabas and Harding itch with anger, but the truth is that Sean was right, even if they held these things, they couldn't sort them out. Do you go to fight every day with big bags and small bags? It will destroy these treasures, which is a more intolerable thing for them, but when they think that once these things are in Sean's pocket, it is obviously impossible to let him vomit them out. Things, Harding and Rorty Kabas felt very uncomfortable.

"Lanster. Come on. I'll take care of it for you." While Sean said so, without giving Lanster a chance to speak, he swept all the treasures in with a big hand. In his storage ring, "In the future, you will follow us to act together. After you stabilize, I will return all these to you, don't worry. I guarantee that one is indispensable."

"Thank you! Thank you!" Lanster shook Sean's hand with a look of excitement. "Your Excellency Sean, you are really kind to me! There are still good people on land!"

"You're welcome, we are friends after all." Sean stretched out his hand and patted Lanster on the shoulder, with a serious expression on his face, "Don't worry, since we are friends, I will take care of you in the future. You just need to follow. I don't have to worry about no living space....As a mermaid. You should like water, don't you? Come back to the territory with me, and I will give you a castle. There is a big lake on it. You can play with the water any way you want."

"Ah, really?" Lanster looked excited, "Master Shaun, you are so kind to me! When I go back, I must refute our elders. Before leaving, he let me Be careful of those knowledgeable people on the land, and you must be careful what they say about the black water. Lord Shaun, you are not only knowledgeable, but also so kind, and willing to take me in, really...really...too I was moved."

"Puff." Hearing Lanster's words, Rorty Kabas couldn't help it, but he couldn't do this kind of dismantling.

Shaun's smile was a bit far-fetched and reluctant, but soon, he seemed completely indifferent. The light handles were pulled out from Lanster's tightly held hands, and then turned to look at Cecilia. Perhaps because of the large amount of treasures he had harvested, Sean felt particularly good, and even gently hugged him. Cecilia's waist was touched, and this movement made Cecilia's body stiff in an instant.

"What's wrong?" Sean asked with some confusion.

"No...nothing..." Cecilia swallowed, and she suddenly felt a little dry mouth, "I, it seems to have found something."

"Oh?" Sean immediately became interested, and the others quickly leaned in.

Cecilia took a deep breath, and after calming down her inner peace, she pointed to a certain line of the dragon skin magic book and said, "Watch here."

"Here?" Rorty Kabas frowned. "These are the symbols of the magic mark? What do they mean?" Having said that, he turned his head and glanced at Lanster: "This is what you copied. of?"

"No." Lanster shook his head, "I have already said that this magic book is the heart of a mermaid, which I passed on from my ancestors, and when I got it, it had already recorded these contents. I have tried to erase it, but no matter how I do it, I can't erase the content that has been recorded by my ancestors. Perhaps...this is the true meaning of the mermaid's heart."

While speaking, Lanster fell into the memory and interpretation of his personal emotions, and Rorty Kabas felt a headache.

But other people seemed to be used to it, so they didn't take Lanster seriously.

Cecilia whispered: "These are ancient magic texts, which are very different from the simplified magic texts. However, I used to specialize in ancient magic texts at the Magic Academy of Maggie Empire, and I have already achieved level six. Professional qualification certificate, if it weren't for some accident, I have now obtained the eighth certificate."

The Maggie Empire is very different from other empires. It is a highly civilized country where scholars gather. Therefore, the Maggie Empire has a set of imperial professional legal systems with perfect rules: you must obtain a qualification certificate in advance if you want to engage in any job, and the jobs that can be performed vary according to the level of the qualification certificate. Of course, the salary is also the same. different.

"What did it say?"

"The place we used to deal with giant sword knights was the mermaid arena." Cecilia explained, "Because of the highly developed civilization of the mermaid empire, coupled with its own problems, they don't like naked and  fighting, so Only then has the competition method of using organ puppets to fight.... And the place where we are now, used to be a place for members of the mermaid royal family and a group of nobles to rest, called the sacred fish courtyard, is caused by..."

"What's the cause?"

Cecilia's face suddenly became a little difficult to look: "It was built by Hanas. This is the eternal shelter he gave to the mermaid clan..."

"Hanas..." The faces of Hitley and Sean also became difficult to look at at the same time.

Although Harding and Rorty Kabas' faces are not as ugly as Sean and Hitley, they are obviously not much better.

Only Hina and Lanster, who are unknown, are still wondering: "Who is Hanas?"

"Before the gods twilight, Hanas's priesthood is to control death, desolation and disease. His kingdom is called the underworld, and he claims to be the king of the underworld, and he is an incompatible  with the goddess of life." Xiao En said in a deep voice. "But after the twilight of the gods, Hanas was one of the main gods whose divine power was the most severely damaged. Of his three gods, only death and disease were partially preserved, and the barrenness was shattered. Even the kingdom of God was almost broken and destroyed, and because of this he lost the title of Pluto...now he is called the * of death, that is, the * of death."

"He is an existence rejected by all the gods!" Hitley exclaimed a little excitedly, "This is a despicable * who specializes in stealing the souls of the sons of other gods."

The soul is the common realm of the gods, so no matter which * it is, there will be no godhead dedicated to the soul.

If there is a * who dares to do this, then his kingdom of God will probably be attacked by all the gods. Even if Hanas is stronger than one of the main gods, he just retreats to master the priesthood of death, instead of directly intervening in control of the soul.

"If it is really the sanctuary built by this * for the mermaid clan, then our trouble will be big." Sean sighed helplessly, "The place where Hanas built, the soul will never disappear for no reason. , And considering that this sacred fish courtyard was established before the Twilight Battle of the Gods, then...we may soon be attacked by undead creatures."

At this point, Sean showed a wry smile: "Cecilia, the feeling that something has been awakened by you just now does not seem to be an illusion....Here, I am afraid it is already a paradise lost."

Chapter 190: . Paradise Lost?

Paradise Lost.

The term * has always been a taboo term in many churches, and even in the Magic Guild, it seems a bit taboo and not easily mentioned by magicians.

Basically, the outside world's understanding of Paradise Lost is the forbidden zone of life, the playground of the dead, the root of evil, and many other words that are extremely evil. In fact, Paradise Lost is indeed not a good place, at least it is indeed a place where living creatures dare not easily set foot. The only subtle thing is that creatures such as monsters or ordinary beasts can feel the kind of breath that escapes from Paradise Lost and avoid them in advance. However, humans do not have this ability and will inexplicably fall into loss. In Paradise, and then die in this place, and the soul will be bound forever in Paradise Lost.

The soul can never rest in peace.

This is the real scary place of Paradise Lost.

And even if the player dies in the Paradise Lost area, the death penalty will be particularly severe: death will directly drop the rank, which means that once a Tier 8 profession dies, it will directly become Tier 7, and all the equipment and props carried with them will be lost. In addition, players will fall into a state of weakness for a month of gaming time.

In fact, Sean did not personally enter the Paradise of Negligence in the game, and naturally he never died in such a place. But there is such a huge intelligence agency as the forum, so I know some information about Paradise Lost more or less, of course, the information that can be heard from hearings like this is still lacking in experience after all. At least a lot of information Sean is not very clear, or other players are a little unclear.

In addition to knowing what kind of existence Paradise Lost is, and there will be undead creatures here, everything else is unknown.

After listening to Sean talk about the knowledge about Paradise Lost, everyone's expressions were not very good.

However, Hitley probably had heard the term Paradise Lost a long time ago, so there was no strange expression on her face, but when Sean was narrating it. I also added a little bit to explain that this is truly in line with her status as the chief saint of the Church of Life. However, it is true that this girl has no eyesight at all, because after she added the explanation, everyone's face became even more ugly.

Others they didn't hear clearly. But the term "undead army". They understand.

"So, if it's Paradise Lost, it's understandable why Little Hitley and Cecilia have lost their ability." Sean sighed helplessly, and then made a final summary, "What Hanas established The sanctuary originally banned all fighting, so this place can also be regarded as the domain of the gods in some ways. In such a place, all magic and divine power are naturally forbidden. After all, these will endanger the mermaid tribe."

"If this is really Paradise Lost, then how should we get out?" Harding frowned.

Although I don't know that Hanas was once called Pluto, the name of the Church of the God of Death is very loud even in the underground world. Compared with the surface world, death is the eternal theme in the underground world that advocates blood, violence and the predation of the weak. Therefore, the scale of the church of the * of death in the underground world is much larger than that of the surface world, so the * of death Hanas's Names, for underground residents like Harding and Rorty Kabas, who prefer a more peaceful stance. Nature is not a good symbol.

At this time, after listening to Sean and Hitley's knowledge spread. The mood of Harding and Rorty Kabas is naturally very complicated.

If they can, they don't want to stay here for a moment.

"But, this Paradise Lost is a bit strange." Cecilia frowned as if she hadn't heard Harding's words, and then said with some doubts, "It stands to reason that a place like this is not It should continue to exist... but..."

"But what?" Sean's understanding of "Paradise Lost" is limited to the forums in the game, but there is still a big gap between the game situation and reality, and many places have changed, so Sean does not dare Saying that I know 100% of Paradise Lost.

"Even if it is a god, it is essentially the representation of the law. But this place, there is no law, it is completely a place of death, so... can it be called Paradise Lost?" Cecilia said with some doubts. "I remember that the predecessor of Paradise Lost should be the eternal shelter of Hanas, so this place should be protected by the power of Hanas. Only when Hanas's power is out of control or suffered some special After destruction, these shelters will become Paradise Lost, but even so..."

"The rules are just being distorted, not that they should completely disappear." Sean added her unspoken words for Cecilia, "but here is a dead place, even the rules... no longer exist. ."

The atmosphere in the court fell into silence for a while.

"And it's more than that." Cecilia sighed, her face looked a little hesitant, but in the end she still said, "This place has the influence of disturbing perception. My perception has been completely disturbed, I am now I have completely lost my sense of time..."

Hearing Cecilia's words, everyone's complexion changed, and then they immediately closed their eyes and began to feel silently.

Soon, everyone's face showed the same horror.

Because they also discovered that they have completely lost their sense of time.

As a strong person, they have a set of their own criteria for the flow of time, and they do not need to use tools such as magic hourglass or magic watch to check. But now, their accustomed way of sensing and judging time is completely ineffective. As a result, they don't know the current time point at all. Naturally, it will cause a lot of trouble. Among them, the most terrifying is Will accelerate mental breakdown.

"Magic Watch..."

"It's useless, it's stopped." Cecilia took out the magic pocket watch that she had always carried with her, and then opened it to everyone. The pointer on it had stopped moving, no matter how Cecilia poured magic power, this magic The watch will never continue to work.

Seeing this, everyone also showed helplessness.

But after helpless, no one feels desperate because of it. Especially after a brief period of restlessness, everyone calmed down.

The top priority now is to find a way out of here as soon as possible.

According to the dragon skin magic book, the place to leave the sacred fish courtyard is in the center of the main building garden in the backyard, as long as it can reach there smoothly. After all, there is still a way to leave. After all, Lanster was there. With his blood, he might still be able to open the way to leave. After all, Lanster had fiddled with them before they entered this place, so logically speaking, it would be more troublesome at best.

"The loss of time may be minor, but if we continue to develop in this situation, we may lose our sense of direction." Cecilia glanced at the crowd, although she felt that she couldn't bear to say these things at this time. To hit everyone. But she didn't want to wait for everyone to discover this by themselves and feel even more disappointed and collapsed. "To be honest, I feel a little lost in direction right now... Do you remember where we came from?"

In a split second, apart from Sean and Cecilia, the other five, including Harding and Rorty Kabas, pointed out all directions. And when Sean saw this scene, his heart felt awe, because he had discovered that the problems they encountered were more serious than he thought.

With their strength. Naturally, he will not be afraid of any battles.

It can even be said that in such a stressful environment. Fighting can instead allow them to get better vent, so that they won't get any mental illness. Anyway, as long as they can find the garden center of the main building, they can leave here, and Sean's storage ring has stored food for several months, so there is no need to worry about starving to death here, after all, a courtyard space How big can it be?

But now, after their sense of direction and sense of time are lost, then they will have a very serious cognitive impairment. Maybe they even found out after walking here for more than half a month, they still keep walking around here. If this problem is not resolved as soon as possible, they will probably never be able to find where the garden center of the main building is. If this happens, even if they are not exhausted, they will starve to death here.

Obviously, it's not just Sean who thinks of this, but other people also think of it.

Everyone's face looks very ugly.

Except, Cecilia.

"Is there any solution?" Sean looked at Cecilia.

But helplessly, this time Cecilia shook her head: "I think this is no longer a place of order, but a bit like...black soil."

"Impossible." When Hitley heard the name of the black soil, she trembled suddenly, "The black soil will not interfere with our perception and the flow of time."

Sean also looked at Cecilia with some doubts.

Black soil, he and Cecilia also ventured across the land back then, and there were many people with them at the time. If the black soil can really make people lose their sense of direction and the sense of the flow of time, then he would not dare to lead a group of people through the Forest of Starfall. In other words, it can be regarded as a dangerous place with ten deaths and no life.

"According to the Maggie Empire School of Magic and the ancient magic dictionary records that I studied at the time, there are actually two types of black soil." Cecilia explained, "Well... I may not be accurate in saying that. . Strictly speaking, the black soil should be called the land of chaos. It is unclear whether this kind of place has the power of law, but just like there is light, there must be darkness. The land of chaos corresponds to the land of order. It's just that the Domain of Chaos has life, so it will continue to confuse the entrant's perception and the flow of time until it swallows and assimilates the entrant to become a member of this land."

"The black earth..."

"Black soil is the realm of chaos that has died." Cecilia said, "No one knows how the realm of chaos was born, but such a place is said to have life, and when its life is gone, Such a place will become what we call the black soil today, a real dead place. As long as the fire of order is introduced, such a land can be returned to the ranks of order, and everything will return to normal."

"However, I now begin to think that this may be related to the divine power of Hanas." Cecilia hurriedly added, "As the main * of this world, the strength of Hanas is beyond doubt. It is even said that he is still worshiped by other planes and worlds at the same time. But in the order of God, he does not belong to the ranks of order, but he does not belong to the ranks of darkness, so it is very likely that he belongs to the third rank..."

"Chaos." Hitley frowned, "But. The Third Order is just a hypothetical theory. It has not been confirmed."

"However, the realm of chaos has not been seen by anyone before, and even today's classics have no records. I have only seen such a brief description in a very partial ancient classics." Cecily As a magician, Ya's truthfulness is finally fully manifested at this time, "And where we are now, according to the magic book. This is a shelter built by Hanas. Paradise lost The birth was also caused by the out-of-control of Hanas' clerical power, but now from all aspects, it is completely consistent with the statement of the realm of chaos. Can this not be used as evidence?"

"This is different!" Hitley shook her head. Before that, Hitley had behaved very well-behaved, so everyone was also surprised that Hitley would show such a well-argued performance at this time. "None of us has entered the Paradise of Lost. And we all heard about Paradise Lost from other places and summarized it. But maybe Paradise Lost also has the ability to disturb the sense of disorientation and the flow of time? "

"Since you also know about the existence of the summary of Paradise Lost, then you should also know that when anyone mentions Paradise Lost, they are convinced that there will still be laws for Paradise Lost, not like it is now. All the laws of the land of order are gone!"

"But this space is completely dead, isn't this what you said before?"

"This space is indeed dead for order, but maybe it is alive for chaos."

Hitley and Cecilia were totally unwilling to give in. They were arguing like this, which made Harding, Rorty Kabas and even Sean feel a headache.

But to be honest, Sean wasn't incapable of understanding why Hitley was fighting for reasons.

As the enemy of the goddess of life, Pluto—or Hanas, the  of death today, is naturally unpopular. But the current problem is not about the opposition of the gods, but about the position of the gods. If you want to recognize the existence of the third order of the gods, then it is equivalent to making Hitley have to reshape her own three views. , Even to break many traditional theological theories for this reason, this is the reason why Hitley fought hard.

Because according to the division of the three divine order camps, once the existence of chaos is recognized, then the God of Time, the eternal ally of the goddess of life, will be classified into the chaos camp. Chaos itself is eternally hostile to order. In other words, it is necessary to make the people of the Church of Life cast aside the God of Time, and may even trigger a war between the two churches that should be allies. This is the root of it. The essential.

Therefore, Hitley is reluctant to admit the existence of the three major divine order camps, and naturally there is a reason.

sighed helplessly, even if Sean wanted to dissuade this meaningless argument, he didn't know where to start.

But at this moment, a rustling sound attracted the attention of everyone except Hitley and Cecilia. However, as this voice became denser and louder, even if Hitley and Cecilia had a loud argument, they had to stop because of a skin thorn that left them naked in the air. The pain is reminding everyone that this rustling sound is deadly threatening to them.

Under such a situation, Hitley and Cecilia could not argue with each other.

Soon, everyone finally saw the source of the rustling.

That is really hordes of ghouls!

These ghouls did not know where they came from, but according to the visual observation of Xiao En and others, there were at least hundreds of them. And when these hundreds of ghouls were densely piled up together, and then like a sea wave, they continued to climb from a distance to the crowd caused by the visual impact, Xiao En and others still felt a shock.

The rank of ghouls is not high, and Hina can deal with two or three ghouls alone.

As for Sean and others, let alone.

There are only a hundred ghouls, so Xiao En and others feel that their lives are threatened. However, the tingling sensation felt by the skin exposed to the air has not been relieved by the appearance of ghouls, but there are signs of intensification, which shows that the threat of death has become closer and greater. It is possible to make the strong in the golden realm feel threatened. This is possible at least if the strong of the same class takes the action, but how could such an undead creature like a ghoul but not a Tier 3 or Tier 4 make Xiao En and others feel threatened? Threat.

However, when hundreds of ghouls finally appeared clearly in the sight of everyone, everyone finally knew what made them feel threatened.

Behind the ghoul, is a heavy armored knight wearing heavy armor, holding a halberd, and the horse under the crotch.

The four hooves of this war horse are burning with faint blue flames. As it moves forward, a path of blue flames emerges from the ground.

But what is truly heartbreaking is the knight's pupils.

There are two bright red flames burning like ghost fire.

This is actually a fear knight!