

Lord of War Vol 3-411

Chapter 411: Chaos

"Two adults, I'm really sorry, I apologize for not being able to greet me personally."

At this time, Woody did not have the kind of indifference when confronted with Sean before, but gave people a feeling of flattery.

For the Peace Council, Woody can not care, or even ignore the other party. After all, the Peace Council never interferes with the administration of a lord. But when faced with people from the Church of God of War—especially the two saint sons, Woody couldn't care less, because these two people controlled the fate of the entire Wyrian family. If these two holy sons are dissatisfied, then it is likely that the entire Wyrian family will suffer along with it, so Woody can't help but care less.

"It's okay." Reaching out his hand to stop Woody from continuing to speak, a blond young man said in a deep voice.

This man is one of the two sons of the God of War Church, Bizos.

His facial features are very handsome, coupled with a bright blond hair and a confident smile on his face, the whole person looks very attractive. His strength is not particularly strong, just the pinnacle of the upper sanctuary, not a small gap from the legend. But as one of the two sons of the God of War church who can bear the surrender of God, Bizos's status in the God of War church is naturally not low.

And the other man standing beside Bizos, his facial features are not as handsome as Bizos, but his slashed face is full of fortitude, the same is a bright blond but not Stay long like Bizos, but trim very short. He stood next to Bizos and did not speak, but he felt unusually burly, and a * and strong aura like a battlefield veteran made it difficult for him to stand up against him.

This man is another saint son of the God of War Church, Su Anso.

On the bottom line, Bizos is much better than Su Anso, after all, he is the chief saint of the Church of God of War. Fame is much earlier than Su Anso, so the accumulated power is naturally greater than Su Anso.

But in terms of strength, Su Anso is better than Bizos.

Unlike Bizos, who was a nobleman, Su Anso was just a commoner before he became a holy son. He is relying on his own efforts to obtain today's achievements step by step, so in the field of experience. Su Anso has more experience than Bizos. Especially before he became the Son of God, Su Anso was already a young celebrity who had been famous for a long time. Therefore, it is a very normal thing to be more vigorous than Bizos in terms of momentum.

Originally, the plan this time was for the Northern Duchy to send a strong or a troop to block the Dark Face Knights of the Saint-Joles Empire, and also to prevent the White Wing Knights from entering the country. . As for the Demon God who had rampaged across the territory of the Commonwealth of the Northern Principality, the God of War Church decided to close one eye. Anyway, as long as the Demon God is not directed at the Northern Principality Federation and the God of War Church. Then there is no need to cause any conflicts and contradictions.

It's a pity that the plan never keeps up with the changes.

No one expected that the four paladins who had been operating separately from the Darkface Knights would meet again in the middle. For this reason, the Church of God of War had to reintegrate and concentrate their forces to deal with it. The Church of the God of War was originally prepared to give the Saint-Joles Empire an unforgettable result, so naturally it was a fight with all its strength, and the two sides launched a  fight for half a month.

After this battle, not only the secret army of the Saint-Joles Empire, the Dark Face Knights, was wiped out. Even Nazar, one of the four great paladins, also fell. But relative. Naturally, the Northern Principality Federation also suffered heavy losses. The upper sanctuary powerhouses lost a total of fifteen, and the guards sent by the princes were almost completely wiped out. Even the three legendary powerhouses of the Church of God of War also died. Bit, seriously injured one.

From the perspective of the results, the Northern Principality Federation has suffered heavy losses.

But in terms of glory, the alliance between the Northern Principality Federation and the Church of God of War gave a resounding slap to the Saint-Joles Empire.

Even the three paladins who escaped, all had injuries of varying degrees. Although the injuries were not serious, they were injured. Because of this, the Church of the God of War is like a shark that suddenly smells blood, and immediately decided to keep all the four great paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire, so it was originally prepared to deal with Edward and the two of White Wings. The Saint Child was immediately summoned back, and pursued and killed the remaining three Paladin Commanders.

Following the clues, the two men soon arrived in the city of Adroan.

Originally, the two did not want to reveal their identities, but seeing the situation in the city of Adroan and the demonic aura that they felt when entering the city, the two saints were immediately shocked, and for this reason they had to come forward to find the army. Di asked about the situation.

"I want to ask, what kind of situation is Adroan now?" Bizos glanced at Su Anso, and after seeing that the other party hadn't made any comments, he asked in a deep voice, "Why do we watch when we enter the city? What happened is that the entire city is under martial law? And... there is also a powerful demon aura, but at this time this aura has completely disappeared. What is going on?"

Hearing what Bizos said, Woody immediately explained the current situation of Adroan and all the things Christina had found.

He knew very well that although the Commonwealth of the Northern Principality is self-governing, the influence of the Church of the God of War is very powerful.

Although he is the confidant of Grand Duke Hemadian, he is not the only confidant of the Grand Duke's confidant, and now the strength of the Wyrian family has suffered heavy losses, and it is easy to be replaced by others, but if you can get the church of God of War Recognition, then his family status can also be guaranteed, so Woody naturally knows everything.

However, he did not dare to deceive Bizos and Suanceo. After all, the people who fought with him were the Peace Council. If he dared to take all the credit to him, once the incident happened, his fate would definitely be better than that of Hema. It was even more pathetic for Grand Duke Dean to give up. It's just that language itself is an art. Although Woody didn't take the credit to his body, he more or less hinted at the importance of his role in this incident, and even his subordinates lost more than half of it. [The Wyrian Cavalry Corps] are all described as warriors who sacrificed to defeat demons.

After listening to Woody's words, Bizos and Su Anso looked at each other, naturally seeing the surprise in each other's eyes.

hesitated for a moment, or Bizos spoke first: "You mean, there are people from the Peace Council in Adroan now?"

"Yes." Although I don't understand what the situation is, it depends on the expression of Bizos. It seemed a bit troubled, but Woody didn't dare to say anything and could only answer honestly.

"Did they say when to leave?" Su Ansuo frowned and asked.

Their actions against the Paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire naturally did not want too many people to know. Otherwise, if the wind is leaked, then it is likely to cause a massive invasion by the White Wing Knights. Even the Saint-Joles Empire will immediately start operations. The Peace Council can accommodate conflicts and contradictions within a certain scale, but they cannot tolerate large-scale wars that involve turbulence in the pattern of power. Therefore, if you know that the Church of God of War is going to attack the paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire, use the Peace Council's The neurotic personality will definitely intervene.

This is naturally not what the Church of God of War wants to see.

Although the relationship between the two saints and the Pope of the Church of God is not very good, they have one thing in common. That is, they all yearn to see the Commonwealth of the Northern Principality become the "Northern Empire". But want to be recognized as the eighth empire by the seven empires. This is not an easy task, at least much more difficult than the means of destroying an empire and replacing it. Because of this, the Church of God of War is more willing to use this opportunity to severely damage the Empire of St. Joel, so as to replace St. Joel. The possibility of the Sri Lanka Empire becoming an empire.

Woody didn't know these secrets, but he still said, "Two days at the latest.... They explained that Adroan's blockade can be lifted and the teleportation magic circle can be restored within the next day. After all the checks are completed the day after tomorrow, they will Will leave Adroan."

"First do what they said. After they leave, we will resume martial law." Su Ansuo suddenly said. "But don't restore the teleportation magic circle. If someone asks, it's in an overhaul state."

"Huh?" Hearing Su Anso's words, Woody was a little unclear. Therefore, why Adroan continued to restore military control, which made him very confused.

"Just do what Master Su Anso said, do you understand?" Woody didn't understand, but it didn't mean that Bizos didn't understand.

Before, Bizos did not speak, just because he did not react immediately, but at this time he already understood what Suanceo's plan was.

Obviously, the remaining three paladins knew that their identities had been exposed at this time, so it was no longer possible for them to leave the territory of the Northern Commonwealth with their secrets. For this reason, they also had to fight for the possibility of exposing their whereabouts to those cities that have teleported magic circles, and leave by teleporting magic circles-of course, it is impossible to leave the Northern Duchy Federation in one step, but they You can use the teleportation magic circle for short- and medium-distance rapid teleportation.

At this moment, as long as you can leave the Commonwealth of the Northern Duchy, all other means are no longer important.

Bizos knew that a special operations force had been sent from the St. Joel's Empire, which was obviously to respond to the three Paladins.

Before they were still wondering why the three paladins would expose their whereabouts near the city of Adroan, when they suddenly realized that the other party was coming for the teleportation formation of the city of Adroan. But I don't know if the opponent is unfortunate or what's going on. I actually encountered the Peace Council's action to annihilate the demons here. For this reason, the teleportation magic circle is naturally in a closed state. If you want to use the teleportation magic circle to leave, naturally Is broken.

"I understand." Although I don't know what's going on, since it was the two sons of the God of War church who spoke, Woody naturally didn't dare to disobey.

"By the way, you can ask your subordinates if you have seen these people enter the city in the past few days." Su Anso spoke in this way, and at the same time he handed a few portraits to Woody, the latter of course immediately Leading away.

After Woody left, Bizos said, "Do you think they have entered the city?"

"I don't think, I must have entered the city." Su Anso said lightly, "But with their methods, it is quite possible to hide from the soldier of the city lord."

"If that's the case, aren't you scaring me?" Bizos frowned.

"I'm not as good as you when it comes to power." Su Anso said, "But when it comes to strategy, you are not as good as me."

Bizos's face was slightly cold, and there was a bit of anger in his eyes.

But Suanceo didn't have any fear. He glanced at Bizos, and then continued: "The city of Adro is not small. Even if we search from house to house, even establish quarantine areas and blockades, we don't see it. You have to be able to find the mice... But if their portraits are published, the soldiers patrolling the city. On the contrary, it will be easier to find some clues than us. Coupled with the closure of the teleportation magic circle, They can't stay lurking in this unsurvivable soil for long."

After Bizos listened, although his brows were still frowning, the anger in his eyes had disappeared. Although he knew that Su Anso was telling the truth, and that they had their own victories, otherwise they would not win the support of different faction members of the Church of God of War, but at this time the pride of being a son still made him noncommittal. Pouted.

He can recognize the strength of his opponent. But he will never admit that he is inferior to his opponent.

This is the pride of Bizos.

And Su Anso. Obviously knowing Bizos's problem, so he didn't say anything about his noncommittal appearance, but said again: "In the next two days, I hope to be calmer.... This time we and The people from the Peace Council collide with each other, which always makes me feel a little uneasy."

Bizos rarely refuted or ridiculed Su Anso's views.

At this moment, the mentality of the two is surprisingly consistent: no matter what ideas and plans are coming next. We have to wait for the people of the Peace Council to leave.

.....

At the same time, in a three-story building in Adroan. There was a slight smell of blood in the air.

A woman is taking away a pot of blood that has turned scarlet.

Three seemingly young people are sitting around the fire. Two of them have bandages on their bodies, while the other has bandages on their arms. The expressions of these three people looked quite embarrassed, but if there was any serious injury to say, at least the spirit of these three people was good.

A young guy passed the woman and brought in some meals.

is a hard meat pie unique to the Commonwealth of the Northern Principality. It is usually used as dry food. It is the favorite food of the poor because it can be stored for a long time.

After the hard meat pie was served, the three of them began to devour them, and the young man took two of them and walked to the corner on one side, placing them in front of another man. If Edward or Enkos were there at this time, he would recognize this very decadent man who was thrown directly in the corner as Diane.

He glanced at the young guy, did not say anything, but also started eating meatloaf.

Diana was seriously injured, basically no longer able to continue fighting, but his vitality was not weak, so at this time, besides appearing decadent and haggard, there was no other problem. And along the way, because of the deliberate protection of the four paladins, even if he was attacked by the Church of the God of War, he was not injured. On the contrary, he was much healthier than the four paladins.

In fact, if it weren't for the purpose of protecting Diane from dying under the frenzied attack of the Church of the Gods of War this time, the four great paladins would not fall alone, and the Dark Side Knights would not be annihilated. Unfortunately, there is no if in this world, so Nazar died, Ziggs was wounded in his left hand, Laurent was stabbed in the back, and Jabien was shot in the abdomen, but the church of God of War who fought with them, Naturally paid an extremely heavy price.

But even with such brilliant results, the remaining three paladins were not happy at all.

"You mean, Adroan is now under martial law under military control?" Ziggs looked at the young guy, then frowned and asked, "Even the teleportation magic circle has been shut down?"

"Yes." The young guy said hurriedly.

He and his wife are one of the many chess pieces that the Saint-Joles Empire placed on the side of the Northern Duchy Federation, and they are responsible for sending some intelligence from the Northern Duchy to the Saint-Joels Empire. Regarding the Paladins of the Saint Joel's Empire, they naturally admired them for a long time, so seeing the arrival of the Paladins at this time, one can imagine how excited and excited the couple was that they ignored them. The three paladins were injured.

Hearing this young guy's words, Jebien on the side frowned, "Do you know what's going on?"

"I only heard that it was related to the Peace Council. I didn't find out the specific information." The young guy replied.

"If it has something to do with the Peace Council, it is probably related to the devilish breath that disappeared just now." Laurent bit a large piece of meat pie, and then said, "I heard that the Peace Council ran to the north this time. The Principality Federation was to wipe out a group of infidels. The demon aura has completely disappeared, which means that the demon should have been wiped out. If the standard process is adopted, the Peace Council should stay here for two more days. , Handle some aftermath and inspection work."

"But two days is too dangerous for us." Jebien said in a deep voice, "The Church of God of War can already be said to have been out of the nest. Our traces may have been exposed, and it will definitely be there. It attracted those guys."

At this moment, Jebien didn't know that the two sons of the God of War Church were actually following their steps into the city.

It's just that when they entered the city, they happened to have a deadly battle with Sean and the others and Blackhorn Phantom, so no one saw them entering the city. When the two saints of the Church of God of War entered the city, it happened that Sean and others had already solved the black-horned phantom, so naturally someone notified Woody.

"Now even if we want to leave, it's impossible. I didn't expect that Adroan's teleportation magic circle was actually closed. This is our miscalculation." Ziggs said in a deep voice, "Anyway, we have to and The Church of the God of War is coming to a battle and breaking a * road, so it is better to take a good rest during these two days and restore our state.... However, in the next situation, we may not be able to take Diane with him anymore. NS."

The few people present also understood that with Di An's words, they were naturally unable to fight with all their strength because they had to be distracted to take care of Di An. It was because they had suffered a loss in this aspect before that Nazar was killed in battle, and the three people present were a little guilty about this.

"It seems that we can only send Diane here temporarily, and we will pick up Diane when we go back and make a new deployment." Yerbian said.

"It can only be so." Ziggs nodded, "Xiaobai must have brought people over to support, as long as we insist on it....If the peace council people intervene, I'm afraid things will change. It's very troublesome, so let's take a shelter here for a while for these two days."

The people of the God of War Church worry that the Peace Council will intervene because they feel that the people in the Peace Council will definitely not allow large-scale turbulence in the North Continent. Because of this, people in the Church of the God of War and the Commonwealth of the Northern Duchy believed that the Peace Council would definitely intervene in protecting the Paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire.

But in the same way, Ziggs and others did not want to contact the people of the Peace Council, because this time they did a kidnapping. If you let the people of the Peace Council know, you will definitely choose to rescue Diane. After all, Di'an's mission is to destroy the demon God Edward. It is impossible for the people of the Peace Council to watch the people of the Saint-Joles Empire do it out of selfish desire. This kind of violation of mainland peace comes.

It can be said that both the Church of God of War and the Empire of St. Joles do not want to meet the people of the Peace Council because of their respective concerns.

Because of this, the two of them would naturally not know that at this time, the city of Adroan was not only present by the church of God of War, the Peace Council, and the Empire of St. Joel. The Void Lord, who was equated with disaster, was also in Adroan at this time. The people in the Church of God of War didn't even know that Sean was going to leave here immediately after the teleportation magic circle was restored. I am afraid that if they knew, Woody would never let Woody continue to close the teleportation magic circle.

Same.

Because of their respective concerns and mentality, these people naturally would not know that the head of the seven sages who left from overlooking the steeple, the destiny Oscar, had already entered the city of Adroan without knowing it.

Chapter 412: .uninvited guest

The early morning sun has a rebirth meaning to the soldiers who have experienced the frantic darkness of Adroan last night.

No one wants to think about the cause of the battle with the demons last night, and no one wants to go deep into why there were so many demons in the encirclement war. Because they are afraid that after they figure out everything, they will go crazy for it.

Woody also acquiesced in this attitude.

Because he also didn't dare to think about it.

The city gate is still guarded by the [Wyrian Cavalry Corps], but it can be clearly seen that today's city gate inspection and supervision are obviously not very strict, and many mercenaries and soldiers who have passed the inspection are also allowed. Adventurers go out of the city and are no longer just confined to caravans. In addition, the patrol of soldiers in the city has also weakened a lot. This is partly because of the loss of a large number of soldiers on Little Barom Street last night, and on the other hand because Woody did order a change in the defenses. plan.

Since the two saints from the Church of God of War asked him to temporarily obey the explanation from the Peace Council, Woody had no reason to refuse. Instead, he wholeheartedly cooperated with the explanation of the Peace Council and strictly implemented it. The only thing that didn't follow was to arrange manpower to overhaul and prepare for the restoration of the teleportation magic circle.

Sean, Levi, Alyssa, Kozilek, and Christina are five people who are patrolling around in the city of Adroan at this time.

In fact, Sean is very clear that according to the definition and habits of the devil's nest, it should be unlikely that there will be any fish that slip through the net. Because demons are accustomed to gathering servants together to show their powerful conquering ability, even if there are other heretics, they must have been resolved in the battle against Roberts' mansion last night, and it is basically impossible to survive. Now.

According to Christina's meaning, since it has been resolved. Then it's important to keep on doing business and not waste time here.

But Sean wants to borrow the teleportation magic circle to leave here, so he must stay here. But if there is no good excuse, it is obviously a very suspicious thing to continue to stay at Adroan, so he found an excuse to check whether there is still a fish slipping through the net. But this excuse. Obviously, Kristina needs to stay and cooperate. So Sean naturally held onto Christina.

Although Kristina is a bit uncomfortable, this guy is more important to promises and oaths, so after making a deal with Sean, she quietly accompanied Sean in acting, and There is no noise to leave.

A whole day, Xiao En and the five people visited half of the city of Adroan—because it can be confirmed that there are no pagan remnants, so the so-called inspection work is actually running around the city. But for the physical stamina of the five people such as Xiao En. This is not a big problem. At least it didn't make people feel tired.

After nightfall, everyone returned to the hotel where they were temporarily staying.

After Sean and the others returned to the hotel, the report about the actions of the five people today was sent to Woody's desk truthfully.

It's just that the one looking at this report is not Woody, but Suanceo and Bizos, the two holy sons.

The two saints obviously did not trust the people of the Peace Council, and were afraid that they would suddenly go crazy and cause new problems in the city of Adroan. Broke their plan. However, after checking the report, it was proved that Adroan was indeed checking the abnormal situation everywhere in the past few days. The two saints also felt a little relieved in their hearts. They only prayed that after the inspection tomorrow, these madmen from the Peace Council could leave here as soon as possible.

While also looking forward to the departure of the Peace Council, there is another group of people-the three paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire.

These guys are also unwilling to run into the people of the Peace Council because of some ulterior secrets. It's just that in Adroan, although they have spies, they obviously don't have such a big intelligence network, so they don't know many things. Therefore, the intelligence information they can give back is naturally limited, and the three paladins can only analyze by themselves based on their past experience and understanding of the Peace Council.

Ignore the situation inside the city of Adroan, which is now a mess.

After returning to the hotel, Sean's brows were also frowned.

"What's the matter?" Levi and Alisa on the side had already discovered something wrong with Sean, but when Sean was silent, the aura exuding from his body was so shocking that Levi and Alisa didn't. How come the guys who have seen the world dare not speak to disturb Sean's thoughts, but Christina on one side is a little confused, "What happened?... Could it be that the remnants of heretics have appeared?"

"No." Sean shook his head.

"What's wrong with that?" Kristina asked, but there was obviously a sigh of relief in her tone.

"They didn't restore the teleportation magic circle." Xiao En said in a deep voice, "Once the teleportation magic circle is closed, it will take at least one day to recharge the magic power before the teleportation magic circle can reconnect with the mainland's teleportation network. And here it is. Before, it was necessary to conduct strict inspections on the teleportation magic circle to ensure that there would be no accidents when the teleportation function was restored.... It can be said that this is a very precise and patience work."

"So what?" Kristina didn't understand.

And even Levi and Alyssa are equally unclear. Although there is also a teleportation magic circle on the floating island, it has never been closed, and the teleportation network used by the teleportation magic circle on the floating island is also independent of the system of the earth boundary, and naturally it will not be affected in any way. What's more, the teleportation magic array of the floating island was built strictly in accordance with the technology of the dawn era, in a sense, it is naturally more advanced than the teleportation magic array of the realm today.

"So, it will take at least two days to restore the teleportation magic circle." Sean said in a deep voice, "The time I gave Woody is exactly the time for the teleportation magic circle to recover.... But in the afternoon I deliberately I checked it and found that the teleportation magic circle only had a repair sign, but no one was working there. Obviously Woody didn't want the teleportation magic circle to recover."

"Since he is unwilling, he must have his meaning and thoughts." Christina said lightly, "What are you worrying about? This matter has nothing to do with us, right."

"Who said it's okay!" Sean was a little depressed, but of course more angry, "I just came to Adroan by using the teleportation magic circle, but I didn't expect to meet you and the devil to fight here.... ...Now it's hard to solve the devil's matter, but the other party doesn't restore the teleportation array, so what am I doing in Adroan? Just to help you solve the devil?"

"Isn't it?" Kristina took it for granted, "This is obviously the will of the plane to guide you over."

Shaun looked back at Christina, the speechless color on his face became more obvious.

He wanted to tell Christina that he was the son of the plane. If it was really guided by the will of the plane, how could he not be able to sense it? It's just that, Sean just thinks about it, because he is too aware of the crazy character of the Peace Council. If you really tell Kristina that he is the son of the plane, he believes Kristina will definitely report. To the Peace Council, he will really have no peace at that time.

This is not difficult to imagine.

"Isn't it?" Christina asked rhetorically.

"Yes, yes, what you said." Sean sighed, and decided not to reason and reason with this crazy woman, because her brain circuits are completely different from normal people.

Hearing what Shaun said, Christina didn't think Shaun was playing her perfunctory. She felt that it was rare for her to have a common language with this lord, which made her very happy. In fact, no one knows about Sean's abilities better than Christina, and because of this, Christina actually had the idea of drawing Sean into the Peace Council for a long time. At this point, she didn't think there was anything wrong with it, after all, the Peace Council needed Sean's talent very much.

Kristina felt that perhaps it was a good opportunity to speak now, because she rarely had a common language with Sean.

It's just that before Kristina speaks, Sean is already a little frustrated: "No, I'm going to see Woody once and ask what the idiot is thinking about, why didn't he send someone to recover? Teleporting the magic circle.... I don't want to continue to waste two days here in vain. Chris, you go with me."

"Oh." Christina still wanted to say something, but after being robbed by Sean for a while, she had to subconsciously responded, "Okay...Okay."

But at this time, she was still full of question marks. Why did she suddenly become the rhythm of running to Woody with Sean?

She didn't realize that her behavior was a bit like a dog leg.

Even though, she subconsciously felt that something was wrong.

However, when everyone opened the door and was about to leave, they found that a middle-aged man was standing outside the door without knowing when.

Sean and others were shocked.

With their strength, they didn't discover when the middle-aged man came out of the door. This made the strong people subconsciously feel that the situation is not good. Even Kozilek frowned slightly, the vigilance in his eyes was very obvious, and he even looked like an enemy-this kind of reaction, Sean has never seen him since he summoned Kozilek. Been.

Chapter 413: .The Five Lines of Destiny

Sean quickly noticed Kozilek's nervousness, which made him feel more and more horrified at the mysterious middle-aged man in front of him.

The person who can make Kozilek show such a reaction, Sean has never seen him.

Because no one knows better than him, how strong Kozilek's realm is.

The middle-aged man glanced at Kozilek, with a confident and charming smile on his face, nodded slightly at Kozilek, and said: "Hello, breath of destiny, I don't know how to call it?"

Kozilek did not reply, but the nervousness in his body that had fallen into a state of complete alertness was obviously slightly relaxed. Kozilek can directly judge the emotional state of a species towards itself, even if the other party is good at hiding it, but Kozilek's almost intuitive ability to judge is naturally invisible. In layman's terms, Kozilek has the ability to judge hostility similar to Sean's True Eye.

The middle-aged man in front of him does not have any hostility towards himself.

This is not a disguise, but it is true.

That's why Kozilek can relax his vigilance.

He is very simple and straightforward in dealing with the good and evil of human nature.

Sean's brows were slightly frowned, and most of his mental attention was on Kozilek, but when he heard the middle-aged man call Kozilek a breath of fate, his heart still subconsciously speeded up a bit. Such an obvious and strong heartbeat, naturally, it is impossible to hide the other people in the room, so everyone's eyes could not help but slightly differentiated and fell on Xiao En's body.

"Don't be nervous. I have no malice against you."

Only this middle-aged man really understands the meaning of Sean's sudden acceleration of heartbeat.

I have to say that the middle-aged man in front of him is indeed very attractive.

He has bright blonde hair with the same hair color as Kozilek, and the contour lines of his facial features are relatively soft. Even if there are traces of the vicissitudes of life now, it is not difficult to see that this middle-aged man is definitely a real beauty when he was young. man. His clothes are obviously very elegant. Not to mention the reasonable tailoring of the lining, even the fabric on the body can clearly be seen that it is not ordinary goods, and the cuffs, collars, and buttons are obviously exquisite.

This name alone is enough to prove that this middle-aged man is definitely an ancient family from an imperial family.

The empire closest to the Commonwealth of the Northern Duchy. Naturally, it is the Saint-Joers Empire.

But the middle-aged man in front of him. But there was no such piety taste of the mad believers of the Saint-Joles Empire, which made Sean a little doubtful where the middle-aged man in front of him came from. But he knew very well that at least the other party could not venture to visit for no reason, especially someone who obviously possessed an extraordinary identity like him.

"Will you not invite me in and sit for a while?" The middle-aged man smiled again.

"Please come in." The situation is stronger than others, and Sean's strongest hole cards appear trembling in front of him. How can Sean dare to compete with each other.

A group of people in the house greeted the middle-aged man into the house like a big enemy.

This reaction and attitude. Suddenly, the middle-aged man was a little dumbfounded. So he had to continue to speak: "I don't know how to make you believe me, but I really don't have any hostility to you. Or it should be said that my intended opponent is not you, so you don't need to worry about me so much.... ...It's not good to say that with my current realm of strength, I will not easily make a move. There must be someone who is worthy of my move. And this person is obviously not you. Because you have not reached my level."

The middle-aged man's words are obviously too arrogant.

But everyone present. But they are all unable to refute, because they know that what the other party said should be the truth.

But the facts are facts, but watching the emergence of a real strong man who is powerful enough to suppress everyone living in the field, no matter who it is, obviously will not feel happy and relaxed. Therefore, even if the middle-aged man repeatedly showed his goodwill, it was still difficult for Sean and others to let go of their guards. After all, they were not as simple as Kozilek, so they could not be enemies if they were not hostile.

In their view, the unexpected appearance of the uninvited guest in front of them must be clear about his purpose.

"Oh." He sighed helplessly. The middle-aged man seemed to know that it was difficult to convince Sean and the others. So after a little thought, he changed his mind, "Since you don't welcome me, then I will To make a long story short.... Your Excellency Sean, the teleportation magic circle in the city of Adroan will not be repaired, because the two holy sons of the Church of God of War have followed the three holy knights of the Saint-Joles Empire into the city. They I plan to catch turtles in the urn, so in order to prevent the opponent from escaping, the teleportation magic circle will not be open."

Sean's pupils shrank suddenly, and the tension in his heart became more intense.

He did not expect that his identity had been exposed!

"You don't have to be so nervous, only I know your identity, and others don't." The middle-aged man said lightly, "In fact, I know the origins of the identities of these people here. But like these two A..." The middle-aged man reached out and nodded Levi and Alyssa, and said: "I only know that they are from the floating island, but I don't know the specific identity and origin. And this one..." Reached out to Kozilek and smiled: "I only know that he is from Outer Void, but I don't know the specific circumstances. On the contrary, it is the two of you..." The middle-aged man moved his finger and pointed to Sean and K. Christina smiled and said: "I know better.... Christina, the silver-robed executive officer of the Peace Council, and the Grand Duke of the Void Duchy, Sean Connery."

Shaun and Christina looked at each other.

Fortunately, Christina said, after all, her identity is not a secret, and when she came to Adroan to meet Woody before, she had already declared her family.

Only Sean, his face looked a little ugly.

"I have a vision of destiny, so I basically understand everyone's situation." The middle-aged man smiled, completely ignoring Sean's face, and then suddenly seemed to wake up and clapped his hands." Oh. I'm really sorry, it's so rude, I forgot to introduce myself." At this point, the middle-aged man suddenly got up, and then bowed slightly to the crowd to make a very standard ancient noble etiquette. Said: "My name is Oscar. Oscar Will Rodbub, from Overlooking the Minaret."

Shaun's pupils shrank suddenly.

Kristina also showed horror on his face.

Kozilek, Levi, and Alyssa are forgiven for not knowing, but Sean and Christina obviously do not know what the name "Oscar Will Rodbub" represents. meaning.

"Fate?" Christina was already shaking a little.

"It's right below." Oscar nodded slightly and smiled, "I came here following the footsteps of destiny. In the future I see, there are seven lines of destiny that intersect here. Now, including me, there are already. The five lines of destiny have arrived at the end of this trip. The other two lines of destiny will arrive soon.... But as everyone knows, the so-called future is not static, because all kinds of changes in thoughts will bring many differences in the future. Although I have no intention of interfering in future changes, this time is the exception. This future will have a profound impact on the world, so I have to intervene once."

Except for Sean, everyone else heard a little cloud.

Because no one knows better than Sean. How cruel and serious the changes in the future are.

"You mean, we need to stay here in this future?" Sean asked in a deep voice. There is unprecedented seriousness in his attitude.

"I heard that Duke Void is a very shrewd businessman, so in order to make this future come true, I am willing to make some small concessions." Oscar did not answer Sean's question directly, but smiled and said another sentence. Words, "I know that you plan to use the teleportation magic circle to go to the northern solitary tower, and also know that your real purpose is to find the observation tower.... But unfortunately, if you go to the observation tower, it will cause the destruction of the observation tower. For this reason I can't let you go to the Observation Minaret. But I am willing to be here to lift the seal of the Blue Tears and Vermillion Tears. As long as your purpose of going to the Observation Minaret is completed, then you have no reason to continue searching for the Observation Minaret, do you ?"

"Yes." After thinking for a moment, Sean nodded heavily, "Since you said this is a deal, then you should have requested it too, right?"

"You stay here for two more days." Oscar said lightly.

"I have no intention of being involved in the dispute between the Saint-Joles Empire and the Church of God of War. To be honest, these two forces are very terrifying behemoths to me today. If I get involved, I am afraid that even I will be torn to pieces." Xiao En said in a deep voice. Although he wanted to unblock the two pieces of equipment, no matter how good the equipment was, it had to be useful. If he died here, then everything would be meaningless.

"You won't be crushed, but you will profit from it." Oscar smiled, "Moreover, even if you don't intend to get involved, it's also impossible.... After the Church of the God of War solves the troubles of the Saint-Joles Empire, they will look at you, because you have the fateful aura that Marz wants to swallow, so in fact, all of this can't help you make your own choice."

Speaking of this, as soon as Oscar's right hand was put on the table, a pink medicine bottle suddenly appeared on the table.

Shaun's pupils shrank suddenly.

This medicine bottle is the real reason why he wants to go to the northern solitary tower.

"This is the blood awakening potion I made by myself. It is better than the northern tower." Oscar's performance at this time is more like an abductor. "You can indeed avoid this future now, but in the end you still have to face it. Against the Church of the God of War. So, are you here to take the opportunity to solve the trouble of the Church of the God of War, or face the threat of the Church of the God of War alone in the future. I believe that with the wisdom of the Void Lord, you will not fail to understand the key here."

Sean did not speak immediately, but after a moment of contemplation, he said: "You said, there are already five lines of destiny gathered here. You are one of them, and Christina and I are the other two, so why not? Two are the Saint-Joles Empire and the God of War Church, in that case...what about the three people beside me?"

"They and your destiny are tied together." Oscar glanced at Levi, Alyssa and Kozilek before saying, "In fact, the true value of your line of destiny is the three of them. You should also be clear about the reason.... To be honest, I don't know what the specific future will look like, because even I have seen a fragmentary fragment, but I only know that these seven lines of destiny are indispensable. So I must do my best to keep you here."

Speaking of this, Sean has already heard that Oscar's words have an unquestionable tough attitude.

Obviously, if Oscar can't persuade Sean with words, he doesn't mind using force to keep Sean and others here until the other two lines of destiny arrive.

"May I ask, who are the other two lines of fate?" Sean asked.

"I don't know." Oscar shook his head. "What I can know is that these two lines of fate should be known to you or familiar to you.... I repeat, I don't intend to interfere with you. Action, I just want you to stay here for two more days. When the other two lines of fate also meet here, I think you should know what you should do by then."

Shaun fell into silence again.

In fact, if it weren't for what Oscar had just said, if the Church of God of War were going to attack Kozilek, Sean had already planned to leave the city immediately. But it is true that, as Oscar said, if he were to face the behemoth of the God of War Church alone, it would be really difficult to get any benefit with his current strength. The basic condition for dealing with those big forces is to survive in the middle of nowhere.

Now that the Church of the God of War is preparing to clash with the Empire of St. Joles, Sean's best solution is naturally to stand on the side of the Empire of St. Joles. However, because of Cecilia, Sean did not want to join forces with the Saint-Joles Empire. In the future, he is destined to fight against the Saint-Joles Empire. Therefore, the best way is to attack both sides at the same time. Only in this way can we get the most profit.

But, how easy is it to talk about these two behemoths at the same time?

Oscar seemed to see Sean's distress. At this moment, he suddenly got up and whispered a few words in Sean's ear. In an instant, Sean's eyes lit up.

Chapter 414: .The sixth line of fate

In the next two days, Sean did not continue to appear in Adroan.

He originally wanted to behave, so he found an excuse to stay in Adroan City, but now that he knows that Adroan City has no plans to repair the teleportation magic circle, then Sean naturally doesn't even bother to do it. Just nestled in the hotel. Kristina was completely implicated. She stayed in the hotel with Sean in a daze, and she didn't know why she stayed here.

However, as soon as Sean and Christina stayed like this, the people of the God of War Church couldn't sit still.

In order to wipe out the people of the Saint-Joles Empire, they naturally mobilized all the powerful nearby, and now they are all on their way to Adroan. Because they have ghosts in their hearts, they naturally think more about it. For example, if they are discovered by people from the Peace Council when they enter the city, what should they do if they inquire? So it can be said to be so anxious that he even asked Woody to come to understand the situation directly.

But this time, Sean didn't give the right face.

Don't say that he and Oscar have already made some kind of deal, even if it didn't make a deal, Woody would dare not repair the teleportation magic circle, Sean didn't need to show the other side a good face. Therefore, when Woody came to the door, Sean directly closed the door to thank the guest, and didn't even bother to open the door, which made Woody's expression distorted with anger.

However, the people of the Church of God of War couldn't sit still, and the three paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire seemed very calm.

They still hid in the house of the two spies of the Saint-Joles Empire, and did not show up rashly or do anything strange. In fact, for the three of them, the background of the Northern Principality Federation and the Church of the God of War is still too light, and there is no real strength to compete with them-although the two saints can really make them unable to eat if the gods descend. As we walked, the three paladin commanders also knew very well. Once the two sons of the God of War church descended, no matter whether they could be left behind or severely inflicted on them, it would be impossible for these two sons to survive.

The price of God's surrender is the life of the saint son and saint woman, without exception.

certainly. They don't know. In fact, there are exceptions in this world.

The saint of the Church of Frost and Winter was still alive after God descended. When collecting information, most people only knew that Xuefanio was completely in a coma after God descended, and didn't know that she was actually already wake. These people who collected information are all using past experience to analyze and judge, so they all think that the saint has fallen, and now the saint of the Church of Ice and Winter. In fact, there are other people.

is precisely because of this. Therefore, the churches of the gods of higher divine power did not pay attention to the Church of Ice and Snow and Winter.

What the three paladins were scrupulous about was that the dogs of the God of War Church jumped over the wall and fought hard with them through the surrender of the gods. It is precisely because of this that they hide in peace, as long as they don't plan to show up until they are discovered, they just heal their wounds quietly. Prepare to wait until the injury is completely healed before leaving. Of course, there are also people who want to attract the attention of the God of War Church. In order to facilitate them to transfer Diane's mind.

In any case, the current city of Adroan is actually a bit turbulent.

And it is not an ordinary undercurrent.

Because under this undercurrent, all hidden beasts are extremely ferocious beasts. Once they jump out of the water, they can definitely shock the entire Miracle Continent.

As for Oscar, the culprit who made the entire city of Adroan completely dangerous, after helping Sean solve the problem of "Two Rings of Destiny", he didn't know where to hide. Even Sean couldn't find anyone else. , Let alone other people.

At this moment, Sean, who was nestled in the hotel room, was playing with two rings.

Originally, the scarlet tears were in Cecilia's hands, because the added attributes of this ring were intelligence and spirit, and the benefits for Cecilia were obvious. But this time, because Xiao

En planned to go to the northern continent to look for the observatory spire, he took the ring back, so at this time the two rings were in Xiao En's hand, and he was lucky to be able to lift the seal.

But what makes Xiao En even more delighted is that these two rings are indeed worthy of the legendary quality attributes.

【Vermillion Tears, Legend, Intelligence +15, Will +15. The special ability "Sigh of Destiny" can be obtained when worn with "Tears of Cangqing" at the same time. 】

[Item description: It is said to be an heirloom of the Hochdi family, and it is paired with the Tears of Cangqing. Prince Kazes Hochdi calls it the double ring of destiny. 【Cangqing Tears, Legend, Strength +15, Agility +15. The special ability "Sigh of Destiny" can be obtained when worn with "Tears of Vermillion" at the same time. 】

[Item description: It is said to be an heirloom of the Hochdi family. It is paired with the Vermillion Tears. Prince Kazes Hochdi calls it the Double Ring of Destiny. It is said that the only person who owns both rings is Huo. The orthodox heir of the Qidi family. You have completely unraveled the power hidden in the ring by some means, thus discovering the true power in it. 】

[Sigh of Destiny: When the effect is activated, its own attributes gain a 50% increase, the duration is 30 seconds, and the cooling time is 30 days. Special note: The sound of sighs from the depths of destiny is the key to your destiny. 】

Simple attribute increase, Sean actually didn't care too much, because with Sean's strength, the fifteen-point intelligence and will are actually not very important. But the 50% increase in his attributes is absolutely amazing. In particular, this attribute is simply a late-stage  attribute-with the increase in strength, the 50% fixed percentage attribute increase is simply more powerful. It can be said that with this attribute, Sean can even compete with the powerhouses of the upper sanctuary. One is higher and lower, and in the future when you are in the realm of the upper sanctuary, you can even contend with the legendary powerhouse.

Even if it's only thirty seconds, this attribute deserves to be called the "sigh of destiny".

But it's a shame that Sean can only use it once a month.

Playing with the two rings, Sean completely ignored Woody, who was leaving with a look of despair, and his expression looked unusually disdainful. Maybe before that. Shaun didn't want to confront Woody head-on. After all, the difference in strength between the two sides lay there, but after having a sigh of fate, Shaun, who had already seen Woody's fighting tactics, didn't put the opponent in his eyes anymore, because it was 30 seconds away. Time is enough for him to have the ability to turn the tide of the battle-of course, the premise is that he has to continue to sell a flaw to Woody.

"How long shall we wait here?" Kristina asked, frowning.

What is the situation and future of Adroan. Christina didn't care or care at all. What she really cared about was the demon code. It's just that she is a person who keeps her promises, so after making a deal with Sean, no matter how anxious she is in her heart, she can only wait here.

"Alright." Xiao En looked up at the sky outside the window, and then estimated the time.

"According to the old news of Oscar, wait at most one or two hours before the troublemaker will come. At that time. It's time for us to save people."

"Save someone?" Kristina was taken aback. "Save who?"

"The confessor. Edward, you should know?" Sean glanced at Christina, and then asked.

"I know, the demon * who planned to kill you in King Ryan back then."

Sure enough, as Sean expected, the birth of Edward, and now no one on the whole wonderland knows. However, everyone only knows that he is the seventh known demon * in the world today, but I am afraid that except for Sean and the people around Sean at the time, no one knows that this demon * is actually Sean's. Uncle Master. I'm afraid this should be considered a blessing in misfortune, right?

However, Christina still didn't understand. Why did Sean suddenly speak of Edward, and her eyes were curious.

"The Confessor. Edward, is the sixth line of fate." Sean explained, "He will be here soon to make trouble."

"What!?" Christina showed a look of horror, and she couldn't sit still, "Why didn't you tell me about such an important thing sooner!"

However, what Shaun didn't expect was that when Christina showed a look of horror, Levi suddenly spoke: "You mean the demon is coming here?"

Sean was taken aback. He didn't expect that Levi, the floater, knew about Edward Demon. It seemed that Comrade Edward was really well-known in the whole world of Marvel Continent. However, after a slight nod to Levi, Sean turned his gaze to Christina again, and then said: "Tell you what to do? Let you go to the golden robe executives of the Peace Council or the Peace Council. Messenger to support?"

Kristina was taken aback, and then she looked like she took it for granted: "Of course! With your and my strength, do you think you can stop the Demon God? The Demon God is growing extremely fast. I saw it half a year ago. When it comes to the intelligence of Edward, it already has the strength of Tier 14, and now it is conservatively estimated that it must have Tier 18 or 19. This strength is not something we can handle!"

"Indeed, we can't be the opponent of that Demon God." Levi nodded in the same way, "However, we don't have to fight against him.... Master Jibril has a word for us to tell the Demon God, before I really can't find him, but this time I can probably complete the mission."

This time, it was the turn of Sean and Christina to be a little curious.

"Who is Jibril?"

"What is Jibril telling Edward?"

Levi glanced at Christina, and then said: "Master Jibril is the real owner of the floating library." After saying that, he turned his head and looked at Sean again and replied: "Master Jibril Let us tell the Demon God and let him get out of this plane as soon as possible, otherwise she will do it herself."

Hearing this, Sean raised his brows slightly, and then smiled: "If it was my sister who made the move, I believe that demon * is really not a threat.... But I'm afraid that guy doesn't know my sister. Name, so it may not put you in the eyes."

Levy's face soon showed a distressed look: "I think so too."

"Floating Library? Jibril?" Kristina only knows the existence of the Floating Library, a force organization, and also knows that the relationship between Fort Solomon and the Floating Library is not harmonious, but I didn't know that the real owner of the floating library was originally called "Jibril", let alone that the man was Sean's sister, which was very important information for Christina. "It turns out that you are a floating islander!? No wonder that even the Peace Council can't find your origin at all, and even foresight can't deduce your past."

Sean had known for a long time that if he were to deal with the Peace Council, the other party would definitely check his origins, which is not surprising. But some words. Sean did not intend to be so clear. After all, it is a good thing to make the Peace Council scrupulous, so Sean naturally changed the subject at this time.

"I'll talk about this later, anyway, even if you want to notify the people of the Peace Council, it's too late." Sean said lightly, "Anyway, you'll be ready to save people with me in a while. Other things, We'll talk after we rescue people."

"I have to know who the person we are saving is." Christina's attitude is very firm.

"I don't know." Sean also looked helpless, "Oscar, the old and undead man, did not clearly state the identity of the other party. He just said that this person is the key person who caused the convergence of the seven lines of fate this time. And his Life and death will determine the future mainland power pattern.... You know, you were there when I was trading with Oscar the day before yesterday. Since I have received the benefits, then it must be done for Oscar's undead guy. of."

In fact, there is one more thing Sean did not say to Christine Naming.

That is, if this key person is rescued, Sean can be trapped in the Church of God of War and the Empire of St. Joels at the same time. As for the specific extent, Oscar said that it depends on what Sean did in this incident. Played the role. Take Sean's cleverness. Naturally, I can hear the meaning of Oscar's words: since seven different lines of destiny converge here, there is naturally a distinction between the protagonist and the supporting role. Wanting greater results naturally depends on whether Sean is willing to play the protagonist or the supporting role in this event.

With Sean's heart, naturally he is unwilling to leave the game so easily.

But wanting to profit from so many giants is undoubtedly equivalent to taking chestnuts from the fire, so Sean naturally wants Christina to be dragged down.

At this time, Christina looked at Sean with a serious look, and couldn't help but recall the conversation during Oscar's visit. She found that there was really nothing suspicious about it—whether it was Oscar or Sean, it was obviously very A typical * stick, if these two actor-level characters can show Kristina a flaw in their performance, then the two of them will not be able to "have embarrassed each other."

"I have to make a statement in advance." Christina said in a deep voice, "It is not a problem to act with you, but if you let me know that the rescued person is not worth saving, then you can't blame me for turning my face.... You should know that the Peace Council..."

"Yes, I know." Sean interrupted Christina's preaching, "I don't know the principles of your peace parliament. After we rescue people, we will discuss any problems. Bar."

"Yes." Christina said in a deep voice, "Then, where is the person to be saved?"

"Still in the hands of the Saint-Joles Empire." Sean said.

Hearing Shaun's words, Levi and Alyssa couldn't help but glance at each other. Because they knew that the so-called Saint-Joles Empire actually refers to the Morning Light Church, and this time when they came to the realm, Jibril said that they asked them to find out what the Morning Light Church was doing. At this time, this incident was not only related to the confessor Edward, the demon god, but also related to the Chenguang Church. The two of them could not help but suspect that they were in this so-called "line of destiny" incident. What kind of role does it play?

Sean and Christina are naturally keenly aware of the unnaturalness of Levi and Alisha, but they did not say anything. Because Kristina thought that Sean knew about this, but I was embarrassed to tell myself; but Sean thought that because Kristina was there, Levi and Alyssa were embarrassed to tell themselves the truth. .

So in this delicate situation, neither of the two asked about this matter, but chose to ignore it tacitly.

But soon, Christina asked again: "So, when will we start saving people?"

"Again....."

Just as Sean wanted to answer, there was a sudden violent explosion in the sky above Adroan. Immediately afterwards, a very depressing storm struck suddenly. This was a storm with a very strong and terrifying aura. Almost everyone trembled involuntarily when they felt the change in atmosphere.

Immediately afterwards, there was a voice that roared like a billowing thunder: "The bunch of * from the Morning Light Church, hand them over to me!"

For Sean, who is very familiar with Edward, he naturally knew when he heard this voice, Edward is here!

"It's now!" Xiao En Dang even got up, "Let's save people immediately!"

But this time, Christina's face looked gloomy: "Who is the person we are going to save!?"

Chapter 415: .The disaster of Adroan

In the sky, there is thunder rolling.

Oscar glanced back at Adroan's direction. He could clearly see Edward standing on the dark cloud with countless electric snakes roaming in the background, like a god.

"The devil is also a god." Oscar muttered softly, "but it's really hard work. It can actually suppress growth... It's a pity, in this doomed battle of fate, your opponent is not me, otherwise If so, I really want to fight you once. Now, leave it to those little ghosts to toss..."

While saying so, Oscar also chanted a mantra slightly.

A golden star shines from Oscar's body, and then falls on the earth like stars.

soon.

There is a golden line rising from the ground, and then the second, third...and countless golden lines rising, intertwined with each other intricately. But if you look down from the sky, you will find that after these countless golden lines are intertwined, they actually form a grid-like giant net with a radius of 500 kilometers with Adroan as the core. Included.

"The realm, fate is isolated."

Oscar's voice fell slightly.

There is an invisible golden brilliance passing above the giant net.

Immediately after, this huge area within a thousand kilometers in diameter was suddenly isolated from the sense of the whole world as if it were isolated from the world. At this moment, everyone's concept of Ad Roan was completely blurred, as if this city had never existed in this world. Even those people who were in the city, all the senses were interrupted one after another.

Only those truly top powerhouses in this world suddenly realized something and set their sights on this one after another.

Oscar took a greedily breath of the air in this world, and then took a step back, and the whole person retreated into this "fate-isolated" network. There are ripples of light ripples from the air as Oscar retreats. But when Oscar retreated into it, the ripple quickly disappeared, but when people standing outside the network cast their eyes on it, they didn't notice it at all. As if Oscar has disappeared from this world.

And those caravans, travelers, adventurers, and mercenaries who take Adroan as their destination. As long as they are outside the 500-kilometer range, they will subconsciously change their goals and move to other places one after another.

Oscar, who closed his eyes and felt everything silently, sighed softly: "The chess game has been set, just wait for the seventh line of fate to appear....I don't know if that kid can rescue people, if not. If it comes out, destiny will be rewritten....Sigh. Now that I am unable to change anything. I can only wait here for my opponent to appear."

is located in the city of Adroan.

Edward's appearance immediately caused the entire residents of Adroan into panic. Because of the ban for a long time, Adroan's popularity has been sluggish. The situation has been a little better in the past two days, so there are a little more people on the street, but I didn't expect to encounter the demon * descending. Everyone panicked, after all, these ordinary people couldn't resist even the madness of the devil. Not to mention the power of the demon * who is more powerful than the devil.

"Little ghosts of the Morning Church!" Edward floated in the air, roaring like thunder. "Your sour smell, I can smell it all the way away, do you really think I didn't find you?"

In the sky, Edward was constantly roaring and roaring, and there were faint signs of violence.

But in a hotel, the atmosphere is also a bit tense.

Levi and Alyssa looked at Kristina warily, both of them were ready to take action, because at this time Kristina's momentum was not joking, it was her body. Both the killing intent and the hostility fully demonstrated that she had entered a state of battle. It's just that even Levi and Alyssa didn't figure out why Christina, who had said so well before, would suddenly kill Sean.

And Sean, also has a headache at this time.

He has long known that the people of the Peace Council are not very good at their brains, and they are all stupid stupid idiots-although for Sean, it is really simple to flicker, and he can even use this sharp blade to threaten him. Down the enemy. However, once they violated their beliefs, these guys turned their faces very happy, not to mention tactics such as playing emotional cards, even their tribesmen and relatives would also have no psychological burden.

Sean didn't know whether to say that they were born with heartlessness or their brains were rolled over by the drum washing machine.

At this moment, Sean really has a grievance against Edward.

If you say that you have a conflict with Chenguang Church, you will have a conflict. After all, you can't just catch up here, so you can just demolish the house and make the most of the trouble. In this way, Sean can also take Christina to do some sneaky things, but he just runs here to make threatening remarks, which is simply to make Sean not painful.

He finally knew why Edward hadn't achieved much for so many years, and in the end he had to give up his identity as a human being and join the demon clan completely.

This is simply a silly lack.

However, no matter how much resentment, Sean can only appease Kristina at this time: "I really don't know who that person is.... We have been working together for a long time, not once or twice. If I knew it, could I not? Tell you? After all, we are now in the same boat."

Kristina stared at Sean coldly, her eyes clearly not believing Sean's words.

After all, Christina is not really stupid. She and Sean have indeed cooperated several times, which is why the understanding and cognition of Sean is far better than others. The reason why I cooperated with Sean before is very simple, that is, the interests of the two sides do not conflict, and it can even be said that they are revolutionary comrades who share common goals. Therefore, Christina is natural for some of Sean's behavior. It is to open one eye and close one eye, and ignore it.

But now, Christina obviously can't let Sean be so messy, because she feels that this incident is a bit contrary to her beliefs.

The Peace Council is a group of fanatics, and this sentence is not false.

Sean sees that Christina does not believe it. Although the look on his face hasn't changed much, the brain is running fast at this time.

Today's city of Adroan, the giant crocodiles lurking underneath can be regarded as extremely terrifying and huge existences.

Not to mention Edward in the sky.

There are two saints of the God of War Church in the city. Although these two people are only the strength of the upper sanctuary, once the gods descend. That is at least sixteenth and seventeenth-order existence. This level of existence can kill Sean with a single finger; while the lineup of the Saint-Joles Empire side is obviously more terrifying. The three paladins are here, and these guys are all at the same level as Kozilek. The role, and according to the statement in the game is said to be able to play the strength of the super strong, this is again tyrannical.

Even if Sean has Kozilek, it is not a problem to deal with a powerhouse of this level with Kozilek's strength. Faced with multiple people at the same time, there is no fun at all.

So he must now bind Christina to his chariot. Only by forming a group can they be qualified to take the chestnut out of the fire in this battlefield of several parties.

Seeing Kristina's colder and colder face, and even faintly having a complete turn of the face, Sean finally said in a deep voice: "Oscar didn't say who that person was, but only told me that that person was the destiny. The most critical existence in the battle....Because of him, the gathering of other forces, and the situation today. Edward wanted him because it is said that only this person has the possibility of killing Edward. So. If he dies, then Edward really cannot be killed. At that time, the entire Miracle Continent will be in a state of disastrous life!"

Kristina was visibly taken aback when she heard what Shaun said, and the frosty color on her face disappeared. She asked in a deep voice, "What are you saying is true?"

Shaun didn't know that his words were actually very close to reality. He was only trying to stabilize Christina, so he had to bite the bullet and nod his head: "Of course it is true. This is what Oscar told me... He said that this matter should not be known to too many people, otherwise the road of destiny would be changed because of this. I didn't want to say it at first, because I was worried that if it really changed the situation, very troublesome things would happen, but you don't. I am willing to help, so I can only tell you the truth."

Kristina's face really changed this time.

Levy and Alyssa could not help but turn their heads to look at Sean. Obviously, they were also a little dazed. I didn't expect that Sean would not speak before because of this reason.

Only Kozilek, his mouth curled.

Others may not be clear, but Kozilek, who has a soul contract connection with Sean, can't be more clear.

Sean just pushed all the troubles and responsibilities to Oscar. Even if something goes wrong in the future, Oscar will carry the pot, not him.

When it comes to Yin people and troubles, if Sean considers himself second, I am afraid that no one in this world is qualified to recognize the first.

Just then, a violent explosion suddenly sounded.

Edward, who has been waiting for a long time and has not received a reply, has brazenly taken action and started to kill!

Sean really wanted to point to Edward's nose and curse fiercely. Nima's early action would be fine, and he said so much nonsense. Do you know that 99% of the wicked are because they talk a lot? Just died?

Of course, this kind of thinking is actually just thinking about it.

Sean is now unable to point at Edward's nose and curse. Instead, he has to avoid Edward as much as possible, because this guy still remembers the code on Sean's body, and he was still in Sean's hand when he was in the royal capital of the Kingdom of Ryan. It's such a big loss. Now there is no one around Sean who can stop Edward, so Sean naturally doesn't want to run into Edward.

The roaring explosion sounded again.

But compared to the first explosion, it was not as deafening, but this time there were countless screams.

Obviously, the residents of Adroan are beginning to suffer.

All of this seemed to be a fuse, and Edward finally started to take a shot regardless of his emotions.

As a demon god, he gives people the impression that he always destroys the world and destroys the earth wherever he goes.

And Edward is indeed worthy of the name of the devil. The ice flame he possesses is the most powerful weapon for life. Anyone who gets it will instantly turn into powder. Although a person who is strong enough to a certain level can avoid turning into a powder, it is not a simple matter to extinguish the ice that has contaminated the upper body. It may even run out of vindictiveness.

With Edward's killing, Adroan began to have adventurers and mercenaries below the golden realm who died one after another, and even the golden powerhouses began to fall one after another. At Edward's level, the human tactics and the strength of the army can be said to be meaningless, because they all possess extremely powerful range of lethality. Even his personal strength far exceeds the reaction speed of a normal person.

is just a few explosions. Several blocks in the city of Adroan were completely destroyed by Edward.

Looking down from the sky, it is as if a azure blue flower that occupies one-eighth of the city is blooming in the interior of Adroan. Moreover, this flower is still spreading. According to such a trend, it will take less than a few minutes to occupy one-seventh of the entire city.

And the number of casualties, at this time, is also climbing rapidly at an extremely terrifying speed.

The worst death was the [Wyrian Cavalry Corps] under Woody's command.

At this moment, Woody is located in the City Lord's Mansion. The complexion is simply ugly to the extreme. But he is very clear. His own strength is simply not qualified to compete with Edward, even if the two saints do not descend, they are not qualified to compete with Edward. And Woody also knows that even if he opens his mouth to the two saints and asks them to take action against Edward, the two of them cannot agree, because the difference in strength between the two sides lies here, and they cannot sacrifice their lives to deal with Edward. .

So, Woody can only order his army to evacuate and cover quickly.

This war. The situation at this time is no longer a situation where he can intervene.

Death threats and panic have begun to spread rapidly throughout Adroan. At this moment. Residents in the city also began to rush out of the city frantically, and the streets were full of dense crowds. They did not know that this situation would increase the death toll even more frantically. Especially those who rushed to the gate and prepared to leave the city, were even more shocked to find that the four gates were frozen in the instant Edward started to kill.

So the people at the city gate wanted to return, but the unsuspecting people were desperately squeezing toward the city gate, and the chaotic crowd even began to stamp out, which undoubtedly aggravated the death toll. In this situation, even the army is completely powerless to stop it. On the contrary, a large number of soldiers do not even have the opportunity to find cover, and they are completely caught in the flow of people and face their death helplessly.

This is the disaster of Adroan.

is also the death of Adroan.

Edward has begun to wave his hand to plant the second flower of death ice crystal, and nearly one-seventh of the entire city of Adroan has become a death zone.

finally.

The Paladin from the Empire of St. Joels finally couldn't help but shoot.

The head of the pure white wings, Ziggs, and the "Eternal Shield" Yebien both lifted into the air together. The dazzling light emitted by the angels' outfits gave the entire city of Adroan a kind of light at this moment. It's like the illusion of a * descending to the earth. Many residents knelt to the ground at this moment, praying to the * of war, Marz, and both Ziggs and Jebien, who witnessed this scene, their faces twitched unnaturally.

In fact, the two of them did not expect that the two saints of the God of War Marz had such a cruel heart, and would rather watch the death of countless believers than fight against each other.

So, the two of them couldn't help but shoot.

If it were more than half a year ago, Ziggs alone would be enough to deal with Edward.

But to this day, even if Ziggs is in an awakened state, he can't compete with Edward. For this reason, he has to join forces with Jebyan.

The two paladins were suspended in mid-air, and after looking at each other, they attacked Edward very tacitly.

And Edward knew that if these paladins were not resolved, he would not be able to rescue Diane, so he also greeted them without hesitation.

The three people who fought fiercely in the sky at this time did not notice that on the roof of Adroan, suddenly several figures appeared.

Chapter 416: .Mistaken encounter

At this moment, Adroan City has completely fallen into a state of death hell.

Originally, the population saturation of Adroan would not make the streets appear crowded and trampled, but because close to one-sixth of the entire city is completely dead, plus it shouldn't be in the city. All the garrisons appeared, so the scene became completely chaotic.

If you really want to travel in the whole city, the only option at this time is to walk on the roof.

In fact, many smart people have already climbed onto the roof, trying to find a way out by relying on the roof. But unfortunately, they soon discovered that if there is no strength above the Silver Realm, there is no way to walk on the roof, because the houses in many areas have huge gaps between each other, and there is no vindictive support to grow with explosive power. If the distance jumps, it is meaningless even on the roof.

But soon, many people discovered that there were five figures flying by at an extremely fast speed on the roof.

Judging from the movement speed and jumping ability of these people, there is no doubt that they are truly strong. Many people seeking an escape route have opened their mouths for help, hoping that these people can take a ride on their own to escape the city of death. Obviously, these people simply ignored the calls for help from the surrounding area, and the people around quickly saw the problem, because the movement of these people was not towards the outside of the city, but towards the death area inside the city. .

The five figures are naturally Sean, Levi, Alyssa, Kozilek and Christina.

The five of them started from the confrontation between Edward and two Paladins from the Empire of St. Joles, they quickly climbed up the roof, and then moved quickly with the help of the vastness of the roof. Originally, they didn't know where the person they wanted to save was hidden. Although Sean had obtained information from the old Oscar cudgel, they only had a rough guess as to the specific hiding place, which was impossible to be completely accurate. Specific coordinates.

But when the two Paladins took off with Edward, Sean also spotted the specific location sharply. So at this time, he led others to quickly move closer to that place. Because there is a hole card like Kozilek, Sean is not too worried. After all, even if Kozilek is not the opponent of the opponent, it should not be a problem to entangle the opponent, and this is enough for Sean and others to save the people. Left quickly.

It's just that. The development trend of things. Obviously the situation is more complicated than Sean expected.

stared at this place, obviously not only Sean.

The two saints from the Church of God of War, Bizos and Suanceo, and Woody, the lord of Adroan, also appeared on the roof, and they also intersected with the travel routes of Sean and others. Ben didn't notice the opponent's sides, and soon stopped halfway through. Standing on the two sides of a roof separated by a roof facing each other far away-different from Woody who needs Christina to report her home before she knows each other's identity. Bizos and Su Anso only glanced at Christina's clothes, and they knew Christina was the silver-robed executive officer of the Peace Council, so they looked at Sean and the others involuntarily.

They had heard Woody's report a few days ago and knew that Adroan now has five peace council executives.

For the two holy sons, they naturally did not want to have any conflict with the Peace Council. After all, this would not do any good to the Church of God of War. Especially at the moment, when the seventh demon is attacking and the paladin commander of the St. Joel's Empire is also present, they do not want to conflict with the five executive officers of the Peace Council. After all, according to Woody's description, the strength of these five people is not weak.

But when the eyes of the two saints fell on Kozilek. The expressions of Bizos and Suanceo changed drastically.

"Fate!" Su Ansuo shouted directly.

Perhaps for ordinary people, the strong fate aura of Kozilek has already calmed down after this period of time, and there will be no more strong fluctuations. But for the saint sons who came from the church, Kozilek's breath that is obviously incompatible with this world can never be completely eliminated no matter how long it takes, so it is not surprising that they can recognize it.

When he heard Su Ansuo's voice, Xiao En's face suddenly became cold, and his eyes became clear when he looked at Bizos and Su Ansuo.

From the beginning, Sean had no intention of conflicting with the Church of God of War—at least not now. Even after hearing Oscar's words, he thought about teaming up with the people of the God of War church to deal with the Paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire. After all, the interests of the two parties are the same, which leads to the enemy at some point. It is possible for the two parties to have the possibility of cooperation-as far as Sean is concerned, now only he has a conspiracy against the Church of God of War, but the Church of God of War does not know his existence.

But now, hearing the voices of these two saints, Sean knew that since the moment Kozilek appeared, the people of the God of War Church must have been fighting Kozilek's idea.

The so-called enemy is nothing but an opponent of a conflict of interest.

So at this moment, Sean realized the possibility that he would never cooperate with the Church of God of War in this battle.

Su Anso and Bizos glanced at each other, and both saw the heat in each other's eyes.

At first, they thought it would take a lot of hands and feet to catch this breath of fate, but they didn't expect this person to appear in front of them. How could this make the two saints not excited? After all, compared to the paladin commander who killed the Empire of St. Joles, for the Church of God of War, bringing Kozilek back to the Great Sanctuary of Marz for sacrifice is more important!

Because this will not only allow the Church of the God of War or the Commonwealth of the Northern Duchy to give birth to more legendary powerhouses, but it may even allow their own strength to enter the ranks of super powerhouses. If they can really become a super strong, then it is basically equivalent to standing at the pinnacle of this world. By then, they will no longer need to rely on the method of God descending, and they can have extremely high levels based on their own strength. status.

So at this moment, these two saints no longer care about the paladin commander of the Saint Joles Empire.

Thinking of this, Su Ansuo and Bizos could no longer hold back their inner excitement, and rushed towards Xiao En and others.

As for the peace council, at this time Bizos and Suanceo didn't care about the thoughts of the two people. Anyway, the whole Adroan has been chaotic into this situation, even if they kill the people of the peace council. It can also be pushed to the head of the Saint-Joles Empire and Edward. When the time comes, the Peace Council will find the trouble of the St. Joel's Empire, but it will bring more benefits to the Commonwealth of the Northern Duchy and the Church of the God of War.

The two saints made such a resolute shot, which naturally caused Woody's reaction to be slow.

By the time he reacted, Bizos and Suanceo had already rushed in front of Sean and the others, preparing to attack Kozilek from left to right.

It's just that. Not waiting for Kozilek to fight back. Christina and Levi next to them had already greeted them one by one.

Although Kristina's strength is only in the lower sanctuary, his combat effectiveness in a fully explosive state is not necessarily weaker than the upper sanctuary. In addition, at this time, the two saints did not release Sean and others at all. In the eyes, so when Christina made a brazen move, Bizoston, who was her target, was a little rushed. For this reason, Bizos also had to give up the offense, so he stopped and shot to parry Christina's attack.

A wave of air burst out suddenly. The robes on both sides were shaken up, and the roof couldn't withstand the explosive force generated by the two, and it just collapsed. The two who had lost their foothold also had to jump up, and then both sides landed on the two roofs again, but Kristina's posture was a little better because of the attacking shot; and Bizos It was attacked by a heavy punch from Christina, and it flew back with the force of the fist, so the roof of the foothold had to remove this burst of power. So a large area was collapsed.

As for Suanceo, who was greeted by Levi, the situation was no better than Bizos.

After seeing the opponent shot. Levi knew that the person in front of him was an enemy or not a friend, so naturally there was no emotion at all when he shot.

After the broad blade in his hand was swung out, a golden sword gas burst out of the air like a horse.

This sword qi is two meters high. Although it seems to be less than ten centimeters wide, the scope of the sword qi's raging influence extends to three meters. It can be said that it completely envelopes Su Ansuo. If Su Ansuo insists on continuing to attack, then he will not be able to avoid the attack of this sword aura, and with Levi's obviously not weaker than Su Ansuo's strength, it is obviously impossible for him to bear the damage of this golden sword aura. For this reason, Su Anso had to immediately give up the attack and quickly withdrew and retreated.

And Kristina and Levi are standing on both sides of the roof.

At this time, both sides of the roof were subjected to the unreserved strength of these three sanctuary powerhouses. Naturally, it was impossible to keep the entire roof, so it quickly collapsed completely. It even affected the structure of the entire house, and it collapsed directly from top to bottom.

After swinging a sword, Levi naturally realized that something was wrong. At this time, Christina had also got up and jumped to another roof, so Levi reached out and picked up Eliza next to him, and leaped towards Christine. On the roof where Na is. As for Sean, Kozilek, who was also quick-eyed, grabbed the collar, then jumped out and landed beside Levi and Alyssa.

In this brief confrontation, it seemed that the two sides were tied, but in fact, the two saints from the Church of God of War both suffered a small loss.

, Woody didn't come back to his senses until this meeting, some dumbfounded looking at Sean and the others, he couldn't help but feel a little grateful that he hadn't provoke these lunatics before.

However, Bizos and Su Anso both looked gloomy.

It's just that under this gloomy expression, the eyes of the two have also become sharp, and even a bit solemn.

The real strong, after reaching a certain level, will not care too much about the gap in level.

Especially the realm of Sanctuary.

The gap between the upper, middle, and lower three is entirely due to the degree of understanding of the rules and the degree of perfection in their own fields, but the gap in personal strength is not particularly large. Of course, this point is for real geniuses like Christina and Levi. For people like Woody, it is obviously impossible for him to compete with the upper sanctuary at the stage of the lower sanctuary.

So in this confrontation, Bizos and Suanceo discovered that they regarded the people of the Peace Council too simplistically.

But this can't be blamed for being so defiant before.

It is true that they themselves are also one of a thousand geniuses, and in addition, they have won a series of big victories in the recent battle against the Saint-Joles Empire, so under this momentum, they are naturally a little defiant-after all, Of the strong against the war. The most important thing is momentum and self-confidence. If they don't even have the self-confidence and aura of invincibility, then they will be destined to end the realm of this life.

Bizos and Su Anso looked at each other, and then turned their heads to look at Xiao En and the others again, their expressions had become extremely serious.

There is no one in the eyes, but after discovering that the opponent's strength is not weak. Naturally, they can also quickly return to their normal attitude toward the enemy-as a high-ranking sanctuary powerhouse who impacted the legendary realm. This self-control ability is still there. It is impossible for those bronzes and silvers to appear frustrated or panic after discovering that the opponent's strength is not weak.

"Leave it to us here." Levi looked at the two saints, and then suddenly said.

He did not go to see Sean, but the situation at this time did not allow him to be distracted.

The straight-line distance between the two parties does not even exceed 30 meters.

This distance is not far from the silver or bronze realm, but for the people of the sanctuary realm, it is just an instant burst of help. So Levi naturally didn't dare to be distracted to look at other places, because after the confrontation between the two people just now. Just adjust the mentality immediately. With this serious situation, Levi knew that his opponent was not simple.

No matter how cautiously you deal with it, there is no exaggeration.

Some enemies can tell at a glance whether they are worthy of their all-out attack.

Undoubtedly, in Levi's eyes, these two saints are goals worthy of their all-out efforts.

Even, Levi was faintly excited.

It has been a long time since he met such a strong man who deserves his full strength.

You must know that someone who aspires to become a legendary powerhouse, and even a super powerhouse. The lifelong path of growth is bound to require several qualified whetstones. Only by gradually accumulating and forming their own experience in these countless battles can they examine their own shortcomings. So as to perfect their own growth path and advance to a higher realm.

Shaun glanced at Levi, he did not ask if he could solve the opponent.

Judging from the fighting spirit and momentum that Levi exuded at this time, Sean knew that Levi was in a state of excitement.

He once heard Eliza inadvertently mentioned that Levica has been in the upper sanctuary for a long time, and has never sought an opportunity to break through-for the residents of the floating island, apart from going to the experience plane They rarely encounter life-and-death battles, and Levi is already the strongest in their age group, and ordinary people can't fight Levi at all, so he has not found an opponent that can make him deal with it seriously.

At this moment, there are rare enemies that make Levi's fighting spirit boil, and Sean will naturally not speak to disrupt Levi's momentum.

He nodded heavily and said, "Okay!"

There was no other scenes, and no discouraging words to make Levi be careful, Sean just trusted Levi unreservedly, and after pulling Kristina a bit, he continued towards the target location without looking back. go ahead. He naturally knows who the "we" in Levi's "give to us" refers to, and obviously he and Levi have always been in the form of a partner who cooperates with each other tacitly.

Although Christina still has an unwilling look on her face-she does want to fight Bizos, but she also knows that sometimes, there is a gap between teammates who cooperate with each other and teammates who have no tacit understanding. How big. So she could only turn around and leave with Sean silently. After all, she knew she still had something—she might be able to compete with the general high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses, but facing the same genius-level high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses, her The advantages and talents are obviously not enough.

Perhaps she can contend with Bizos in a short period of time and exchange offense and defense, but if the fighting time is long, she will naturally be completely suppressed. Therefore, at this time, if she and Levi join forces, they will only become Levi's burden and burden, and will not be able to provide any support and cooperation. Therefore, it is far less valuable than Alyssa, the magician.

Watching Sean and the others show their backs unsuspectingly, Bizos on the side wanted to chase.

But just as he showed such intentions, Levi's fierce aura broke out completely, like a fierce sword that had been confined for countless years and was finally able to come out of the world, so shocked that Bizos didn't dare to do it. There was the slightest movement-because he found that he had been locked by Levi's Qi machine. On the other side, Su Ansuo was also locked in by Alyssa's aura at this time. At this time, Su Ansuo suddenly realized that the girl who looked like a magician girl was not as simple as a magician.

Turning his head, Bizos stared at Levi coldly. He knew that if Levi and Alisha were not resolved, they would not want to leave easily, so he could only say to Woody in a deep voice: "Woody, After catching up with them, apart from the little devil, the other two people will solve it directly."

Chapter 417: . Kozilek at Full Fire

Shaun, Kozilek, and Christina are moving fast on the roof.

Since his identity has been completely exposed, and he has torn his face with the God of War Church, there is naturally no need to continue to covertly advance, so the speed of everyone has naturally increased a lot, and it can even be said to be extremely fast. Those who were also on the roof were distressed about how to get out. When they saw the figure of Xiao En and others, everyone's face showed an indescribable shock, because their naked eyes could not catch Xiao. With the speed of En and others, the only thing that can be seen is a few extremely vague black shadows.

Many people can't understand. Since Xiao En and others are so strong, why don't they want to leave, but instead move in the direction of the hardest-hit area?

But there are some things that others cannot understand, but it doesn't mean that doing so is meaningless.

The speed of the three people was extremely fast, and they arrived at a distance of only 100 meters from the destination in a short while.

But at this moment, Kozilek's figure suddenly stopped. His small hands suddenly grabbed the clothes of Sean and Christina, and pulled the man directly behind him. Sean and Christina obviously did not expect such a situation to happen, and they were caught off guard, and they were immediately thrown out by Kozilek.

Sean is okay, after all, he knows the strength of Kozilek.

But Kristina's heart rose again for a while.

The strength of Levi and Alyssa has already shocked Christina severely, because she can't understand where Sean has collected so many masters. As for Kozilek, Kristina only treated him as a timid child before. Until today, when she was acting on the roof, she realized that Kozilek's strength is not weaker than that of the lower sanctuary, but such a small child actually has it. With such a strong strength, Kristina couldn't help being shocked again.

is available until then. Kristina realized that Kozilek was not a lower sanctuary at all.

Because if it's only a lower sanctuary, it is impossible for Kristina to feel Kozilek's shot.

Kristina will not be able to sense it only if a strong player is stronger than her.

But...

Kristina, who was thrown out by Kozilek on the roof of a house ten meters away, still looked at Kozilek in disbelief.

Almost the moment when Sean and Christina were thrown out, and then they fell to the roof together. An extremely strong momentum burst out suddenly. This extremely strong aura broke out to the naked eye. It was truly surging like a tsunami. All the houses in this azure blue momentum were crushed to dust in an instant, even the residents who were in the house before they could escape. Then it turned into blood mist.

Kristina, who was still horrified by the strength of Kozilek, saw this scene in front of her in a blink of an eye, and her face instantly became extremely angry.

With her vision of strength, it can be seen naturally. A person who can burst into such a terrifying aura. Definitely the true top powerhouse at the pinnacle of legend.

At this time, the only legendary peak power left in the city of Adroan is naturally the third paladin commander who did not participate in the siege of the confessor Edward. Obviously, Ziggs is not assured that there is no one guarding Diane—it's not that he doesn't want to take advantage of the confrontation with Edward and let Laurent take Diane away, but he knows very well that if Laurent is asked to do this, Edward will definitely attack Laurent directly without hesitation. This will cause more casualties.

Especially, at the moment they are still on the enemy's territory.

So I heard Edward's attack. Ziggs also made the decision at the first time. He and Jerbien joined hands to entangle Edward, and then tried to delay the time until Xiaobai led the people to come to support. Only in this way can they successfully take Diane away, and because of this, in order to prevent other people from sneaking in troubled waters, Ziggs let Laurent, who is known as the left wing of the gods, be responsible for "protecting" Diane.

When Laurent felt that Sean and the others unscrupulously cast his own momentum to directly attack, he naturally ignored other things, and immediately fully expanded his domain and included everything around him in the restricted area. . In order to ensure the safety and cleanliness of the surrounding area, Laurent naturally had to bloodbath the residents of Adroan. Anyway, for their Morning Light Church, these believers of the God of War, Marz, had been with them. Not a class of people.

So when he started, Laurent was free from burden and pressure.

It's just this kind of behavior that obviously angered Christina, the silver-robed executive of the Peace Council.

And the same angry, there is Sean—but Sean's reason for anger is different from Christina. If Kozilek hadn't suddenly taken the two of them away, I'm afraid that even if the two of them could withstand the suppression of Laurent's domain, they would definitely suffer a lot of injuries. After all, they didn't feel the suddenness. The burst of field aura.

I saw a man wearing a navy blue battle armor with his hands on the hilts of two long swords around his waist, and a man wearing a covered helmet was slowly rising from the only intact building within a few hundred meters. . The aura exuding from his body is very strong, especially in the range of three or four meters around him, it can be seen that the air is completely distorted.

"I am Laurent Hegler Tyre, the left wing of the gods, one of the four great paladins of the Saint Joles Empire." Laurent floated in the air, his voice was not loud, but it was very At least Sean and Christina can hear it clearly, "We have no intention of being an enemy of the Peace Council, so I hope that everyone in the Peace Council will not make it difficult for us. Let's make each other's steps."

"Hand over those who are imprisoned by you." Christina was too lazy to talk nonsense with each other, and immediately said in a deep voice.

"This man is a traitor within our church. We want to take him back to St. Joles for trial." Laurent replied in a deep voice, "This is an internal matter of our church and is not within the jurisdiction of your peace council. , So you have no reason to intervene."

"This person is the key to resolving Edward. You must hand him over." Christina will not be frightened by the other party, and the Peace Council has never been a group of reasonable people. They are reasonable and have disputes. Said the two countries. If it involves their own problems, they have never bothered to be reasonable, because the brain circuits of this group of people are not the same as normal people, "Don't let me say it again."

"I'm sorry, I can't agree to this." Laurent also simply rejected Christina's request. For them. Di'an is related to the church's inheritance mission for thousands of years. How can it be possible to hand over people here, "As for the demon god, our Chenguang Church is already working hard to solve it at this time, but it is why the people of your peace council want The internal traitors entangled with us really make me deeply suspicious."

"I'll say it one last time, hand over the person. He is the key to solving this problem!"

"I know this traitor better than you. Even if he is handed over, he will never attack Edward, because you don't know about some things." Laurent still said, if he could solve the problem with words, he said To be honest, he didn't want to do it, "This is a heretic! He once joined forces with Edward to cause trouble. In order to solve this trouble, Chenguang Church let us four paladins take action together. So this traitor must be brought back. The church accepts judgment."

Kristina's pupils shrank suddenly, and she turned her head to look at Sean. There were not only some doubts in his eyes, but also a cold look.

But who is Sean, how could he care about Christina's look.

Things have developed to the current map. How could he fail again, so he said directly: "You want to bring him back to the church for trial. We don't care, but at this time only he can solve Edward, so I think You should let him come out and help to solve the current crisis.... Or, what kind of conspiracy is hidden in your St. Joel's Empire, so you dare not let people out?"

Laurent's gaze fell on Xiao En, and his eyes suddenly became sharp.

Although Sean felt the great pressure, he was not too scared, because he knew from the beginning that it was impossible to negotiate with the other party to solve the problem. The paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire have become habitually strong, especially when Sean heard from Oscar that this person who was personally arrested by the four great paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire is a very important person, Xiao En is even more sure that there is no possibility of compromise between them, so Sean's real purpose is to arouse the contradiction between the Saint-Joles Empire and the Peace Council.

Seeing that Laurent hadn't spoken, Xiao En shouted directly: "If you don't hand over the people anymore, then don't blame us for using force."

This time, it seems that Sean, the "low-strength" guy, finally offended Laurent, the legendary powerhouse, and his attitude became extremely tough: "My domain is an absolute restricted area. If you dare to step on it without authorization, If you enter, then I will treat you as infidels."

Hearing this, Kristina suddenly smirked.

As a silver-robed executive officer of the Peace Council, when has she been so threatened and slandered?

"Then I will give it a try."

Sure enough, Christina shouted coldly in an instant, and immediately wanted to rush into Laurent's domain. Just as soon as Christina made a move, Sean next to her directly stopped her. This move naturally caused Christina's extreme dissatisfaction, and even faintly meant a transfer of hatred.

"The difference between our strength and his strength is too big. It is not an opponent. You are only going to die when you enter. His attitude is not joking. You are only going to die." Sean said in a deep voice, "This person, leave it to Kozilek. Bar."

"He?" Christina had a somewhat angry look, but suddenly became stunned.

Kozilek did not speak, but turned his head and looked at Sean, then pointed to Laurent floating in the air in front of him, and said, "Eat?"

Sean didn't know what Kozilek's words meant, but he knew how strong Kozilek was, so he simply said; "This time, you can do whatever you want. I don't care about you. Anyway, you just have to let He doesn't have time to trouble me."

Hearing this, Kozilek nodded heavily.

Then when he turned his head and looked at Laurent, his face was a rare excitement, and he even subconsciously licked his lips.

And Laurent, but don't know why, when this child who had been ignored by him before stared at him so, he suddenly had the illusion that he was standing upright. And the next moment. Laurent, like many people, looked at Kozilek with horror—more precisely, at Kozilek, who had completely exploded out of the astonishing aura that had converged in his body. This aura quickly broke through the realm of the sanctuary. , Directly entered the unique aura intensity of the legendary powerhouse.

But even so. This momentum has not stopped. Instead, it continues to climb.

Thirteen steps.

Fourteenth order.

From the first to the fifteenth level, Kozilek's aura stopped growing.

This is the unique strength of the legendary peak powerhouse!

Laurent looked at Kozilek with a shocked look. He did not expect that this guy who looked like a child would actually have the same strength as himself!

After almost letting his aura climb to the pinnacle of the legend, Kozilek suddenly waved his right hand, and the ring he wore on his  emitted a dazzling cold light, and then the cold light gradually turned into a sword. shape. And when Kozilek's right hand was on the hilt of this sword. The light on the sword began to gradually enlarge and extend. However, in just a few seconds, a lightsaber that was only a few inches long became a pure white epee about two meters long and more than one meter wide.

The epee has an obvious double-layer floating feeling. The middle part of the blade is thicker, but the blade of the double-pass blade is slightly thinner. The middle part of the sword body is silvery luster, and the complex golden texture extends from the guard of the sword to the tip of the sword. Although these patterns do not show exactly what they are, they seem to be some kind of inscription.

This epee looks at least several hundred kilograms, almost equal to the height of two Kozilek. Kozilek was holding it in one hand.

I saw Kozilek erect his epee and raised his head high.

A calm and calm face suddenly changed. He looked unusually solemn and serious, and accompanied by his soft drink, the heavy sword suddenly swung down.

A silver-white light burst out in an instant.

The speed of this sword light was extremely fast, almost as soon as it appeared, it had already crashed into Laurent's domain barrier.

When the light dissipated, a large web of cracks occurred in the area that was bombarded by this sword light.

The next second, Kozilek disappeared on the roof where he stood before.

Everyone could only hear a crisp sound. When Sean and Christina looked intently, the area where Kozilek hit was ruptured. At this time, there was only a hole-like hole, and a hole. At this time, the tiny figure had already collided with Laurent severely. Immediately afterwards, the domain that Laurent expanded completely disappeared, and his face at this time was even more shocked, because even he himself couldn't figure out why his domain suddenly collapsed uncontrollably. NS.

Only Sean knows that this is Kozilek's unique ability.

The law is twisted.

Laurent, who held Kozilei's silver-white epee with two swords, was not only shocked at this time, but also extremely nervous in his heart. Because he found that he really underestimated the kid in front of him, he did not expect that his domain was not only broken, but even the opponent's speed was far beyond his imagination, if it weren't for his extremely rich combat experience and danger With keen perception, coupled with the conditioned reflexes trained all the year round, I am afraid that he has been killed by Kozilek with a single sword at this time!

Seeing that his sudden blow was blocked, Kozilek's face also showed a slight astonishment, as if he himself did not expect such a result.

So, this situation immediately made Kozilek feel a little uncomfortable.

I saw Kozilek swiftly lift the heavy sword high again, and then immediately fell suddenly, its speed almost surpassed the normal physical limit of human response. What is even more terrifying is that when Kozilek's sword fell on Laurent's double swords again, a sonic boom suddenly swayed in the air, and the surrounding air seemed to be completely emptied in an instant. The vacuum area.

And Laurent was directly slashed by Kozilek's sword, and then landed on the side of the city wall hundreds of meters away!

Chapter 418: . All pieces are placed

Loran fell straight down the city wall like a cannonball, directly destroying a short section of the city wall.

With the collapse of this section of the city wall, countless rubble splashed out at the same time, pouring down like a puddle of stone, smashing countless houses.

This undoubtedly made Adroan even worse.

As the left wing of the gods, one of the two guardians of the Pope of the Morning Light Church, when Laurent encountered such an unlucky situation, he was shocked in his heart, and naturally a burst of anger rose up in his heart. He let out an angry shout, shook all the rocks that were on his body, and then crawled out of the collapsed stone pit of the city wall, looking up and glaring at Kozilek, which flew by at an extremely fast speed.

Laurent took a deep breath, the azure blue armor on his body exuded a soft light, Laurent's slightly turbulent breathing quickly calmed down, and the injuries that were invisible under the armor were also Get rapid treatment and recovery in an instant.

The angel outfit on Laurent is called "Gabriel" and the attribute is "water". It is known for its best endurance and long-lasting combat capability and possesses the magical ability to heal his own injuries. Among the four great paladins of the Saint-Joles Empire, Laurent is recognized as the strongest at prolonging the battle time. Even Ziggs with Michael, can't even defeat Laurent in a short period of time. Laurent, the holder of this Gabriel, is the second place among all Gabriel holders in the Saint-Joles Empire with a record of battery life and combat time.

If anyone is changed to fight Laurent, only the defensive field that Laurent has displayed before will not necessarily be able to break through, let alone be able to take Laurent away with a single blow. Only if Kozilek possesses a cheating method that can distort the law, can he suppress Laurent.

At this time, when Laurent rose into the air again, the whole person's aura suddenly changed.

Perhaps until this moment, he is really serious.

Kozilek, who arrived with his astonishing aura, also stopped at a distance of about 100 meters from Laurent.

His eyes were slightly scrutinized and puzzled.

For their own strength. Kozilek is naturally very clear, so he also knows what kind of injuries his blow would cause after taking Kozilek flying away. But now, Kozilek did not smell the blood that should have been in the air. And even though he couldn't see how Laurent looked. But Kozilek knew that judging from the aura radiating from the opponent, he was in better condition than when he was knocked into the air before.

The state of also made Kozilek be cautious, and put away his inner juggling mentality.

But if this alone would leave Kozilek at his disposal, it is obviously impossible.

Because the two sides only confronted each other for less than ten seconds. Kozilek took the first shot once again-saw Kozilek rush to Laurent again at a very fast speed. A sound barrier burst into the air. Laurent's pupils shrank suddenly, and the long swords held in both hands quickly separated, and he pricked rapidly in the air. Almost every * left a blue icy edge in the air. People are also backing fast.

Perhaps Kozilek's speed is too fast.

So that Kozilek's figure is not visible in the air at all, the only thing that can be seen is the ice ridges floating in mid-air exploding one by one.

But in just a second, Laurent's hundreds of ice ridges all over the air had already exploded. A beautiful mist of blue crystal sand was scattered in the sky.

This caused Laurent's pupils to shrink suddenly. The corner of the eye caught a silver-white cold light sweeping from left to right, and its speed was as fast as it would wipe out the air completely. This made Laurent hurriedly overlap the two swords again, blocking Kozilek's epee like a pair of scissors.

A sonic boom blasted through the air again.

But unlike the previous vacuum area created by the confrontation between Kozilek and Laurent, this time when the epee and the two long swords fought again, a light gray sphere was instantly unfolded with the two as the center of the circle. Energy shield. This energy shield expands rapidly at a very fast speed. The naked eye can vaguely see countless gray lightnings swimming on the energy shield. As the energy shield expands, all objects that touch the edge of this energy are located. Was completely crushed in an instant.

Not only was the building turned into dust, but even the earth broke and collapsed in an instant, and those who had no time to escape were instantly crushed into a  mist by this powerful energy impact, without even leaving a trace of broken meat. Down.

The area within a radius of several hundred meters, in the confrontation between Kozilek and Laurent, turned into a real clear space.

Just, this is still not the end!

And Laurent, obviously can't stop Kozilek's sweeping sweep-he was once again taken away by Kozilek hundreds of meters away. Only this time, Kozilek did not wait for Laurent to fly away and then follow up as slowly as before, but at the moment Laurent was taken away, he chased him at an extremely fast speed. It was even slightly faster than Laurent, who was drawn out.

Because of this, when Kozilek stopped, he happened to be right in front of Laurent who flew out.

I saw Kozilek holding his sword up high, then aimed at the trajectory where Laurent was drawn to fly, and suddenly swung the epee down.

Along with the silver white sword light bursting out, the epee fiercely smashed Laurent's chest, directly knocking him to the ground, without even a symbolic struggle or resistance. Almost only heard a loud roar, the hard ground was actually like a sea wave, and the whole land shook like a tsunami-like wave of sand and stone, extending a distance of hundreds of meters-in this completely change the terrain. Under the shaking, houses within a radius of 100 meters completely collapsed, and only a puff of gray-white smoke was raised.

Kozilek and Laurent faced off extremely fast.

Three consecutive battles, but only a short period of less than a minute.

What Shaun and Christina can see is nothing more than the smoke created by two battle sites separated by four or five hundred meters. Of course, with the eyesight of the two of them, it can naturally be seen that Kozilek is the one who has the upper hand, and the left wing of the gods. Laurent, one of the four great paladins of the long-famous Saint Joles Empire. , But under Kozilek's suppressive attack, unresistible like cannonballs were beaten back and forth.

This scene. Kristina felt incredible.

"That kid... isn't a human?" Kristina asked suspiciously.

But facing Christina's question, Sean did not speak. His gaze fell on the only intact house about a hundred meters away—because of the defensive field that Laurent had deployed before. Laurent's houses have been completely destroyed.

This is the power of the legendary powerhouse.

It is simply a simple matter to destroy a city with every gesture. The aftermath of the two encounters between Kozilek and Laurent has destroyed everything within a radius of six to seven hundred meters. This is why once the legendary powerhouse starts the battle. Will try to avoid the cause of being in a crowded place as much as possible. Because this kind of movement cannot be concealed at all.

Kristina was very angry because Laurent directly slaughtered so many residents in the city before, but at this time she has no more angry thoughts.

"Let's go and save people first." Xiao En said in a deep voice.

Christina did not ask about Kozilek again, but said in a deep voice: "Laurent has not yet entered the awakening state, maybe the kid can be suppressed now, but once the angel costume enters the awakening state, Laurent's strength will also be Ascend to the ranks of super power..."

"I know." Sean nodded heavily.

He is naturally very clear about this. But he had no choice.

Only Kozilek can play against Laurent. Apart from that, no one on their side can fight each other at all.

Of course, there is also hope.

If Shaun can step into the sanctuary realm here, then Kozilek's strength can also be further improved. But Sean really has no confidence in himself, so he is so eager to rescue the person imprisoned by the Saint-Joles Empire-according to Oscar, this person has the strength to fight Ziggs. Therefore, only when he is liberated can Sean be the biggest winner in this melee.

"someone is coming."

Just when Shaun and Christina were about to leave, Christina suddenly turned her head and said in a deep voice.

It was almost the moment Christina's words fell. A figure rushed over at a fast speed, and the vigorous aura on his body was even more astonishing. But neither Sean nor Christina. It's no stranger to this soaring aura, because they have already fought each other before.

This person is naturally the current patriarch of the Wyrian family and the city lord of Adroan, Woody Wyrian.

At this moment, Woody has lost the personable appearance he had before, and replaced him like a madman, not only with a disheveled hair, but even both eyes are bloodshot and flushed. Or maybe it's because he has entered a state of madness, so the aura emanating from Woody's body can seem so amazing.

In fact, it is not difficult for Sean to understand Woody's mentality at this time.

The city that he worked so hard has actually become the home ground of this war. It was first destroyed by Edward by a sixth, and now it was destroyed by Kozilek and Laurent directly by another seventh. If you count the two war gods on the other side. It can be said that the entire Adroan has been destroyed by almost a quarter of the fluctuations that occurred when the Saint Son of the church played against Levi and Alyssa.

I don't say whether it can be repaired afterwards, but the only certainty at the moment is that after this battle, Adroan may never be able to restore his former glory.

If this happens when Shaun's Void City is replaced, Shaun is afraid that he will have the heart to declare war directly with the Church of God of War and the Empire of St. Joels.

But being able to understand does not mean that he will give up or sympathize.

After all, the positions of the two sides are different.

So this battle is naturally destined to be unavoidable.

Sean took a deep breath, looked at Woody who was rushing in, and then said in a deep voice, "With his current state of madness, I am afraid that it will be difficult for you to stop it alone."

Kristina did not speak, but she also knew that Woody is almost desperate to death. Even if she can fight Woody in a normal state without losing the wind, she will definitely have to pay a certain price when facing Woody like this at this time, so for the words that Sean said at this time. Kristina naturally wouldn't resolutely refuse: "I'm in charge of the frontal battle. You can look for opportunities on the sidelines."

"Okay." Sean, who also has self-knowledge, certainly wouldn't ask to fight Woody head-on.

He knew very well that the person in front of him was the last obstacle in front of him.

at this time. Located on the other side of the main battlefield in Adroan.

Oscar, who had been keeping his eyes closed, suddenly opened his eyes suddenly: "Here."

at this moment. There was a golden light shining from the sky and the earth.

It was Oscar who was silent and lonely like a stone, and the blood under his body immediately boiled, and his aura spewed out, almost instantly reaching the limit that the world wall can withstand, and the surrounding earth began to produce a burst. Slight shaking.

A black lightning flashed silently in the air about 100 meters in front of Oscar.

followed. This black lightning turned into a black lightning ball.

The air around began to pour into the black lightning ball continuously. Quickly let this lightning ball fill and expand, and then gradually turned into a black void-this is a space crack!

There was a cold air that diffused from the other side of the void crack, spreading like mercury, directly covering the surrounding ground tens of meters with a layer of frost.

But in Oscar's eyes, the scenery he saw was a little different from the situation before him: what he saw was the countless breaths that symbolized death slowly spreading. And what was in his ears was the howling of countless souls. Sad and terrifying.

There is a figure, stepping out of the void in the crack.

This is a young man in a black evening dress. He has long black hair that is extremely supple, and his body exudes an awe-inspiring aura of pride.

If Sean were here, then he would definitely be stunned.

Because this person who stepped out of the void is not someone else, it is bass!

When Bass stepped out of this void crack, the void crack behind him quickly disappeared. But looking at Oscar who was blocking him, Beth's eyes also showed a strange color. Obviously he hadn't expected that there was still someone in front of him at this time: "You want to stop me?"

"Yes." Oscar chuckled and nodded, his expression was very calm and calm, and he was not frightened by the awe-inspiring and terrifying aura exuding from Beth, "In this doomed battle of fate, You are the seventh line of fate, and I am your destined opponent in this battle."

"You are not my opponent." Beth shook his head slightly, then said lightly.

"I know." Oscar still kept smiling. "So I never thought of defeating you. All I need to do is to intercept you here until the doomed battle is over.... You know, have access. You are not the one who tickets for the battle of fate behind you."

Beth frowned slightly, as if he seemed to be a little impatient: "You are the one who has the vision of fate that Andrew once mentioned?... So it seems that the team that Solomon sent out to find the remnants of the floating island was Annihilation, is your masterpiece?"

"I just follow the instructions of destiny." Oscar shrugged, "the battle of destiny only requires seven lines of fate, so I have to ask them to temporarily avoid the two extra lines. This is also for the balance of the world, if not If everyone is allowed to participate in disagreement, this place will become a land of black soil."

"It seems that I can't make you quietly give way."

Oscar just smiled: "You can rest assured that I have already greeted your master, so even if you don't go there, there will be no problem. At least, this is what my vision of fate tells me. ."

Hearing Oscar's words, Beth's face suddenly changed, and his strong killing intent almost turned into a direct direct at Oscar.

Chapter 419: .Battle of Destiny (1)

In the air, there was a sudden burst of noise.

A bell tower over twenty meters high is slowly collapsing, arousing a burst of smoke.

There was a black figure. From the turbulent smoke, it flew up and shook the smoke out of the sky. After this figure flew out, it quickly paused in mid-air, as if there was a hard object in the air on which he was falling, and then it quickly jumped to a higher air, and the whole person showed a range. The larger parabolic back jump landed on a roof.

It's too late to say, it's fast then.

This figure broke through the smoke and landed on a roof tens of meters away. The whole process was only less than two seconds.

After that, this person suddenly exerted force, and his strength was so great that the entire house was completely collapsed.

And he himself, like a cannonball, shot back to the place where the bell tower collapsed.

At this time, another figure jumped out of the smoke.

Perhaps because the sky filled with smoke obscured the field of vision, the latter figure could not immediately detect the assault of the former figure. When the second figure noticed that the attack was coming suddenly, it only had time to make the simplest defensive action of overlapping arms, hoping to block the opponent's attack. But even so, this second figure was shot back into the ruins of the collapsed bell tower. Not only did it make a louder explosion, but the dust and smoke became chaotic.

The visibility of the field of view is almost less than three meters.

The figure that knocked the opponent back to the ground with that blow did not have any good hesitation. After the blow was successful, his unyielding center of gravity sank, and the whole person quickly fell to the ground, obviously intending to take this opportunity to expand the result of the battle. From this point of view, this person obviously also has extremely rich combat experience. Not only is the tactical mind flexible, but also has strong action and courage, and knows how to seize the opportunity to pursue the results.

Just before he fell back to the ground, he saw a black sword glow suddenly flying out of the dust and fog.

Before the sword light broke through the air, there was not the slightest movement.

But at this moment, it is in the air. The howling sound actually caused a shock in the air. Appears exceptionally sharp.

Faced with this sword light, the person who wanted to expand the results did not dare to be careless. He hurriedly waved the halberd in his hand and fought against this sword light fiercely.

There was a sudden explosion in the air.

Although the sword light was broken, the impact of the strong air current also blows away all the surrounding dust and mist, revealing the situation underneath. And this figure, who was eager to hunt down and expand the results, was also affected by the impact of this strong wind. After having to jump more than ten meters away. Then he fell back to the ground and looked at the two people about thirty meters away in front of him.

These two people are naturally Christina and Sean.

And the one that completely dominates the rhythm is undoubtedly Woody.

Kristina pushed away a few stones that were pressing on her body, and then crawled out of the rubble. Her face was a little pale, and the robes on her arms had been torn, and she could clearly see the forearm of her right hand. There was a bloodstain about ten centimeters long, obviously. Just now her arms were superimposed to resist Woody's halberd slash, which was not as simple as it seemed on the surface. This move still caused her some injuries.

It's just that. The bone wound on the arm is slowly healing at this time.

If it weren't for the blood stains on the arms that were still clearly visible, and the cracked marks on the robes were also obvious, I'm afraid no one could see Christina had been injured before.

This is probably where Christina's field advantage lies.

As long as Christina can support the maintenance of the domain, then she is basically invincible-unless she can be killed forcibly, or her injuries are hard to heal or even impossible with a very fast attack speed. Heal quickly, otherwise I'm afraid I really can't kill Christina.

This point, Woody has already discovered during the series of battles just now.

So watching Christina's wound heal again at this time, Woody's expression seemed very calm. Perhaps when he first started fighting, he did show the craziest side regardless of everything, but as Christina also showed the almost immortal side, Woody gradually calmed down, after all, his strength advantage It still exists. As long as he doesn't make any major mistakes, although it is difficult for him to kill Kristina, he will not be killed by Kristina either.

It's just...

Woody's gaze fell on Sean.

At the beginning of his fight with Christina, Woody did not put Sean in his eyes. After all, he was just a quasi-sanctuary powerhouse. In the eyes of such sanctuary powerhouses, Shaun was not Anyone who is strong will naturally not be in their eyes. However, after many confrontations, Woody also found that he could not treat Sean as a general quasi-sanctuary powerhouse, because he found that Sean was swept from the side, it was difficult for him to expand the result of the battle, and even Chris Tina caught the danger of the flaw.

The three people present are all experienced veterans.

So Woody looked at Sean at this time. For Christina and Sean, it is no stranger to what they mean.

But Sean is not afraid at all.

He also holds the strongest hole card in his hand: Sigh of Destiny.

Although it can only last for a short period of thirty seconds, once it is activated, Sean believes that it can still make Woody in a hurry. If it works at a critical moment, it might be possible to kill Woody directly.

Over ten minutes of fierce confrontation, Sean had already seen clearly.

Woody's combat experience is very rich, and the basic skills are also very solid. Unlike the nobles he used to see in Lane, the realms are all piled up virtual realms, and there is no corresponding real strength and rich combat experience. Therefore, it is actually not an easy task to kill Woody, because he was too cautious, so that in the past ten minutes of confrontation, there were only two flaws, but it is a pity that Sean and K. The cooperation between the two of Christina is still not tacit enough, so I can't grasp it.

It was Christina, who was injured four times by Woody.

In three of these four times, if Sean didn't make a timely move, Christina wouldn't even think about regaining combat effectiveness so quickly even if she didn't die.

It is true that the Absolute Light can give Christina a longer-lasting combat capability. But the field is not a panacea.

"Be careful," Christina said in a deep voice, but she still jumped from the ruins and stood in front of Sean, blocking Woody's sight.

Looking at Christina's calm look, Woody snorted coldly.

However, his appearance may seem disdainful. But in fact, whether it is attention or fighting posture. But there is not the slightest slack. In fact, Woody is also very clear that Sean and Christina will not be his opponents alone, but the combination of these two still gives him a lot of pressure, and at this time even if he wants to target Shot against Sean, but with Kristina blocking him, it is not easy for him to succeed.

Thinking of this, Woody couldn't help but glance back at his surroundings.

Adroan's situation at this time is as if he has suffered a rare natural disaster in a thousand years. Most of the city has been completely destroyed. Not to mention the huge sonic booms that sounded from time to time in the sky and the howling gusts of wind. Only the occasional sound of explosions in other areas of the city and the sense of vibration from the ground have caused the damage to the city to be exceptionally serious-collapsed buildings and diffused dust and fog can be seen almost everywhere.

Especially in the battle next to the city wall, where the traces of power fluctuations are most obvious, and therefore the destroyed buildings are exceptionally tragic-basically it is impossible to have a complete one. Either it turns into dust and dust, or it is directly erased in pieces. This is the terrible power of the legendary powerhouse.

Woody's heart is bleeding.

Adroan is the result of the hard work and hard work of more than a dozen members of the Wyrian family to form today's situation.

But all this. But it was ruined in his own hands.

Woody dared not get angry with the two saints of the God of War church. so. In the face of Sean and Christina, Woody naturally passed all the anger on them. In Woody's view, even if it hadn't been for the people from the Peace Council to come here without problems, it would have been impossible for such a thing to happen, and Adroan would not have faced such a disaster.

"what!"

let out a roar like a vent, Woody rushed over again like a bull.

His rampage-like figure has an astonishing aura of desperation, which is undoubtedly particularly astonishing.

It can be said that this vent-like impact is exactly the strongest and most prosperous moment of Woody!

So his attack is also the most powerful and fierce!

If you change to a normal strong person with rich combat experience, you will definitely choose to avoid his edge, first focus on dealing with it, and then counterattack when the momentum is exhausted.

But Christina did not do this.

Which one of them is not a human being?

Kristina knows exactly what Woody's mental abacus is. If she gives way at this time, it doesn't matter whether Sean's speed can evade Woody's pursuit, just the idea of her choosing to avoid will weaken her momentum, and the fighting rhythm will be completely controlled by Woody. If a high-ranking sanctuary powerhouse mastered the rhythm of the battle, he would know with his toes that the next battle would not even have to be a counterattack, and there would be no need to continue the battle.

So, in the face of Woody's most powerful blow, Christina couldn't retreat at all!

Seeing Kristina clenched her fists, her breath sank slightly, and her breathing could not help but slow down.

The original distance of thirty meters, for Woody and other high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses, is just a blink of an eye.

But when he saw Christina's movements, Sean didn't know why, as if the flow of time in the entire world had slowed down due to this. In the next moment, Sean suddenly realized that perhaps this was Christina's real trump card. For a long time, Sean only saw Christina fighting with boxing skills, even though she knew she was also Austrian. The three abilities of art, magic, and martial arts, but I have never seen Christina use it.

Seeing Kristina breathe out gently.

In an instant, countless gray and white lines began to emerge in the air, and they gathered at Kristina's body at an extremely fast speed, and began to outline on Kristina's body, as if they were trying to overcome Just like Christina added a pair of close-fitting armor.

Sean's extremely broad insight ability played a great role at this moment.

At a glance, he recognized that this ability to draw countless lines is exactly a kind of arcane-sculpting energy, also known as energy shaping.

Arcane, as a magical ability that can keep pace with elemental magic, its most typical feature is to rely on powerful mental power to manipulate it. And the most representative ability of this kind of magical ability is the magic known as the "energy-shaping system"-basically, most of the magic of sorcerers and wizards is derived from the energy shaping of arcane arts.

Sean doesn't know what Christina is shaping at this time, but what he can feel is that Christina's offensive and defensive capabilities have been significantly improved at this time. Until this moment, Sean suddenly understood why Christina has never seen any weapon used. Because of the existence of the arcane ability, Christina can obtain a weapon with comparable performance and sturdiness in an instant. Special means, naturally, there is no need to purchase any weapons to increase the burden.

It was almost the moment when these lines were drawn on Kristina's body, Kristina suddenly disappeared from Sean's sight.

The only thing left is that Sean's perception ability can still capture Christina's movements-she also rushed towards him at a speed that was not inferior to Woody. But if there is a stronger power present at this time, you can see that Sean is limited to the subtleties that the realm cannot see: countless air currents are surrounding Kristina, which makes Kristina When you charge quickly, you have to face less resistance, but when you shoot, move speed, etc., you can burst out with stronger power.

If there is an alchemist present, you can also feel that the enchantment power formed by the alchemy is affecting the fluctuation of the surrounding airflow.

Obviously, Christina not only used the shaping energy, but also activated her own magic ability.

When Woody felt Christina's abnormality, it was obviously too late for him to make defensive actions.

Because Christina almost suddenly appeared in front of Woody in a face-to-face manner, it was obviously impossible for Woody, who was holding a long weapon, to want an immediate backhand attack. At this moment, he has only two options left. One is to fight head-to-head with Christina, to see who can't bear the superimposition of injuries first and choose to retreat, completely handing over the advantages accumulated with difficulty to the opponent; and the other One is the same choice as Kristina faced before, the choice to retreat temporarily to avoid the edge, although this may avoid injury, but the control of the battle rhythm also has to be handed over.

Woody, who can become the current patriarch of the Wyrian family, is undoubtedly a powerful and courageous person.

So he chose to fight head-to-head with Christina.

He has obvious confidence in his own strength. After all, his realm is stronger than Christina, so he firmly believes that the stacking of injuries will end in Christina's overwhelming. In particular, this kind of opportunity to fight each other has never appeared in previous battles. Obviously Kristina is also trying to avoid the current situation where it is necessary to exchange injuries to increase victory.

Woody believes that this is an opportunity to solve Christina!

But unfortunately, Woody ignored Sean.

And Christina did not ignore Sean.

Because if it hadn't been for the strength and vision that Sean had shown with the help of the previous sweeping array to give Christina confidence, she would not dare to fight the army in such a desperate way of killing the enemy. Di played against.

Because if she fails, it is very likely that she will completely fall here.

But on the contrary, if this tactical choice is successful, then Woody should be the one to fall!

And her right hand slammed toward Woody's chest with a swift and violent force entraining the momentum of the thunder.

Due to the fluctuating air currents formed by the alchemy, Christina's attack has more swift and violent power than normal. And when Woody realized that Kristina's attack power was stronger than he thought, it was obviously too late for him to dodge, so he was sturdily different from Kristina. An ordinary punch-a strong burst of energy shook the two of them each step back.

But Christina was only affected by the reaction force, and actually did not harm her.

Only Woody is different.

He felt like he was hit by a dragon's breath bomb head-on, and the shock from the left chest made him feel that his bones seemed to fall apart. Especially the heart stopped abruptly under the impact of this force, and a mouthful of stagnant air mixed with a strong smell of sweetness rushed to his throat in an instant, which made him almost spit out blood--though Woody knows very well that swallowing this blood back is likely to cause a backlog of internal injuries, but in the current life-and-death battle situation, if he loses momentum, then he is likely to be defeated, so he can only tolerate Chris. Tina's first blow brought herself the result of internal injuries.

And all this is because he was too careless!

However, thanks to the retreat caused by this burst of vigor, Woody smoothly distanced herself from Christina. A fierce flash flashed in his eyes, and the right hand holding the halberd lightly loosened, the position of the handle moved a few inches back, and immediately after a sudden grip, the whole person quickly withdrew a few steps backwards, his right hand With the force of inertia, he swept forward towards Christina.

The black fishy wind whizzed out from the waving trajectory above the halberd. Its violent momentum is not much inferior to the sound of Kristina's punch just now.

Faintly, there is more thunder that tears through the air.

Woody's attack completely grasped the moment of inflexibility after Christina's forcibly changed moves-this flaw is impossible for ordinary people to catch, because the whole process is even Not even a second. But Woody not only caught it. And also grasped it-although this was the product of his forcibly eating a frontal punch from Christina. But if you look at the results of swapping injuries, Christina will suffer even more.

Woody, who has the advantage of weapons, ultimately has to master a greater threat in terms of lethality.

Even if Christina can increase her offensive and defensive abilities through energy-shaping magic, she can only guarantee that she will not be seriously injured by this blow-but the result of the injury is inevitable. After all, Woody is not one of those sanctuary powerhouses who have no realm but no corresponding strength. His achievements today are entirely his own step by step. Therefore, he possesses greater courage and consciousness than other sanctuary powerhouses in the same realm.

If Sean is not there. Then Kristina might really suffer a big loss because of this.

I saw Sean skimming towards Woody's side at a very fast speed, and the Black King in his hand also handed it forward at the same time. The black sword shadow turned into a breathtaking black light.

As if all the brilliance between the world and the earth, under the sword of Xiao En, it will be eclipsed!

But on the contrary, this sword still has a peaceful and peaceful taste, which makes people feel involuntarily immersed in it.

Requiem!

One of the strongest killers taught to Sean by Beth!

Woody just lost consciousness for a moment, and suddenly broke free of the unique charm brought by Requiem. The whole person also wakes up completely. And he also understood at this moment, if he had to let the halberd be cut on Christina's body. While bringing her trauma, I'm afraid that Sean's sword will also abolish a hand. If that's the case, then his combat power will at least drop by half, let alone continue with Chris. Tina fought, I'm afraid he doesn't even have the ability to clean up Sean.

It was also until this moment that Woody really woke up.

The battle between him and Christina is not the so-called one plus one is still equal to one, but the most normal battle situation where one plus one equals two!

Shaun is an important threat that he can't ignore!

But even at this moment, no matter how strong his hatred of Sean is, Woody will never make fun of his life. So despite being very regretful, Woody stopped continuing his attack on Christina, but immediately dragged his right hand toward his side, dragged the whole halberd to the left, and quickly held it with his left hand. The position of the handle held by the right hand before, while the right hand was held at the junction of the axe and the handle, and then both hands were raised again, making a movement similar to felling.

The blade face of the axe and halberd collided fiercely with the tip of Shaun's Black King sword.

"boom!"

A strong explosion sound was generated at the moment when two weapons collided.

Accompanied by the sound of the explosion, there was also the energy that flew around like a wind blade.

These strengths are still within a range that Woody can withstand. After all, there are domains suppressing it. It is naturally impossible to hurt Woody with this. But for Sean, it was a real injury. Even though he had a silver body to make his body stronger, there was no distortion of the domain.

The wind blades generated by these vigor cut on him. , Still caused him many scars of different sizes.

It's not that Sean doesn't want to use a more powerful soul-suppressing.

It's just that Sean's control over the soul-suppression is not as arbitrary as Requiem, especially in the current fierce battle rhythm accompanied by high-speed movement, it is undoubtedly that the difficulty for Sean to use the soul-suppression will be increased many times, if one If you are not careful, I am afraid that even Christina will be included in the attack range. After all, the current level of battle is actually not something that people of the level of Sean can get involved. Coupled with the control of the battle rhythm, it will only change hands between Christina and Woody, not at all. It may be under the control of Sean, so Sean's position for himself is to sweep the formation, threatening with high-lethal martial skills, forcing Woody to be unable to take advantage of the victory.

so. The most suitable for the kind of emergency situation just now is the more secure Requiem.

As for the wind blade produced by the confrontation of two vindictive airs, this is obviously an unexpected product.

Of course, there is something even more unexpected to Sean, is Woody's vindictive purity and condensed level, even far beyond the average sanctuary powerhouse-and this result. It was the result of Sean's confrontation with him. On the contrary, Sean was shocked by a lot of grievance. Not only was the tiger's mouth shattered, but even the internal organs were also affected. The fate was no better than the punch that Christina hit in the chest just now. How much better.

However, Sean's treatment is obviously different from Woody.

The strands of life breath quickly poured into Xiao En's body. All the wounds not only stopped the bleeding in the first time, but also healed quickly at a speed visible to the naked eye. Sean's face only paled. Soon it became ruddy again. As if he had never been injured before, if it weren't for the tingling itching at the location of the previous wound, absolutely no one would believe that Sean almost became a blood man just a second ago.

Woody's pupils shrank suddenly.

He knew that Kristina's domain was very abnormal, but he had not found such a abnormal side when he fought Kristina before. Until now, after having such a clear reference as Sean, Wu Only then did Di know how disgusting Kristina's realm was. With this ability, if Kristina's domain cannot be suppressed, or simply hedging consumption forcibly. Then there is no need to fight Christina at all, she is already in an almost invincible state.

Even if you know the domain's ability, you can't use it endlessly. However, before Kristina's mental abilities are completely exhausted, as long as the domain can continue to be maintained, there is no other way unless Kristina's domain abilities can't be restored in an instant. Can compete with Kristina for consumption-Woody believes that Kristina and Kristina hurt each other, so Kristina's domain healing ability can not keep up with the rate of depletion.

But there is a premise here.

That means there is no interference from Sean!

Woody watched Sean's injury completely healed almost in an instant. He suddenly bullied him and planned to take advantage of Sean's complete stiff state to solve Sean first. If the two people continue to join forces, once they have a tacit understanding between each other, it will be even more impossible for Woody to solve Christina and Sean.

But!

Woody just started to move, and a person next to him killed him faster than him.

Kristina rushed towards him with a tyrannical posture, and directly knocked Woody out. The flaw that she had revealed at the moment she confronted Woody was not something that shouldn't be caught, but Woody's ability to capture this really shocked Christina. But Christina's biggest advantage is that she never blindly self-confidence, she knows how to use all the surrounding fighting environment, especially when she knows that she can't solve Woody alone.

So Kristina trusts Sean.

She knew that Sean would make up for the flaws she revealed.

Similarly, Sean also trusted Christina.

He knew that Christina, this woman, is an out-and-out madman. It is undoubtedly a very painful thing to be her enemy, but as her teammate and partner, this is a very happy thing. Not to mention that her domain ability is almost equivalent to one-third of Hitley, that is, her reaction ability and that fearless spirit are enough to give her back to her with peace of mind.

After hitting Woody in one fell swoop, Kristina immediately chased up. Since she completely controlled the rhythm of the battle, of course, she had no reason to give it up.

At this moment, Christina was also obviously more cautious, she just kept pouring her attacks at an extremely fast speed, bombarding like a storm. Although Woody supported a bit hard, but he was not broken the defense, at least he was able to exchange offense and defense with Christina many times. If it wasn't for Sean to take three consecutive shots in the middle, Woody was indeed Have the ability to regain the rhythm of the battle.

However, as Sean and Christina joined forces more and more times, the tacit understanding between the two began to become closer, which undoubtedly increased the pressure on Woody. In this case, Woody certainly wouldn't continue to hold on. It's just that he wants to retreat, but Kristina and Sean obviously wouldn't agree. The battle has turned into such a feverish degree, how could it be possible for Woody to leave.

So after several failed breakouts, Woody's look suddenly changed. Also began to counterattack desperately towards Christina.

This way. Kristina naturally quickly couldn't sustain Woody's life-threatening counterattack-he almost completely ignored his own injuries. He had been injured in many places and even vomited a few mouthfuls of blood. Christina is totally unhappy. With Christina's domain abilities, she was gradually unable to keep up with her injuries, and wounds that were too late to heal began to appear on her body.

And just now!

Woody let out a roar, followed by a rapid sonic boom in the air.

Christina, who had rushed towards Woody, couldn't help but pause. His face became extremely pale. Also unable to restrain the injury, he spouted a mouthful of blood. She looked at Woody in amazement, but when she saw that Woody's face was also pale, she clenched her teeth and rushed towards Sean suddenly.

Seeing this scene, Kristina's pupils suddenly shrank, but she also simply, preferring to hold on to the worsening of the injury, also chased Woody at the same extremely fast speed. Because Kristina saw it very clearly, Woody's shot this time was a ruthless move. After all, he just used the destructive power of the domain to explode to offset his absolute holy light, in exchange for his own serious injury-of course. In terms of injuries, Woody is definitely more serious than Christina.

It's just that no matter how serious it is, if Woody's thunder is used to forcefully kill Sean, it's still okay. Even if he will be killed by Christina in the end, but at this time, he is obviously holding it. A back-to-back mentality.

Watching Woody charge towards him.

A hint of panic flashed in Sean's heart, but this situation was slightly better than the situation he had hurriedly shot before, at least he still had almost two seconds to react. So without even thinking about it, Sean was going to force Woody to stop using his soul-suppression. Even if the other party really wanted to die, Sean believed that with the power of the soul-suppression, he could definitely protect himself from death, but the result of a serious injury was Inevitable.

If it were not for this moment, even if the fate sigh was opened, it would have been impossible to change the wounded person, and Sean would definitely open the fate sigh without hesitation.

But at the moment when Xiao En was about to raise his sword, he suddenly felt a sense of enlightenment like a blessed soul.

This feeling is very subtle.

So that at this moment, the whole world seems to be a slow motion world in Sean's eyes.

However, Sean knew that this was caused by his thinking and consciousness becoming faster than his body's reaction and neural reflexes.

In this state, what Xiao En can see, experience, and feel is more than what he can see, smell, and touch under normal circumstances. He can even clearly see the airflow trajectory surrounding Woody when he sprints, and Christina's body is constantly peeling off one phantom after another, until after seven or eight phantoms appear, the first The first ghost that appeared gradually disappeared.

From this point of view, Sean knows that Christina's speed is better than Woody.

Sean suddenly found that his understanding of the world seemed to have gone further: the lines around him that were floating around and invisible to the naked eye, emanating from him, seemed to be the embryonic form of his own domain. At this moment, Xiao En suddenly had a comprehension, it seemed that as long as he knit these threads, he could give birth to his own realm, and thus truly step into the realm of the sanctuary.

But Shaun knows that he is not thinking about these times right now.

So, he took a deep breath, shielded all his worries and worries from his mind, completely emptied his mind, and only focused completely on the Black King.

At this moment, the whole world has become completely quiet.

This kind of tranquility is not Requiem's breathtaking tranquility that grabs the attention of others.

but the tranquility where Sean's body and mind are completely relaxed.

The whole world is still a dynamic world, and the only thing that becomes static is Sean.

It is as if he has completely integrated into this world and has become a part of this world itself.

In this state, all that is different from Sean are foreign objects.

is the barrier that prevents Sean from integrating into this world.

Without the slightest hesitation, Xiao En suddenly raised his sword, and then slashed quickly, and a black sword burst out of the air.

But weird, but all of this seems silent.

It's like the world is static and silent.

This is the true origin of the world.

Woody, who could rush towards Sean, saw the black sword light that Sean was swinging, his expressionless expression finally showed a hint of horror again. He opened his mouth, as if screaming or yelling frantically, but at this moment there was no sound, as if he had become a mute.

The only thing that sounded was the two words slowly spit out from Sean's mouth.

"Soul Slash."
