

Lord of War Vol 3-481

Chapter 481: .elder sister

On Assali's lead, Sean did not feel any peculiar situation, but after walking a long corridor, Sean found himself standing on a huge metal iron that was more than 30 meters high. In front of the door.

This iron door seems to be made of a very special precious metal. Just standing in front of the iron door, Sean feels a strong breath of power.

Shenwei meteorite iron.

For no reason, such a term suddenly sounded in Sean's mind.

It is said that this kind of metal is very difficult to obtain, and its birth is based on extremely  conditions. In the years of war when the gods were slaughtered like dogs at the dusk of the gods, the gods fell almost every day, and their blood was stained. The entire sacred court and sacred mountain were red. This special metal was mined in the sacred mountain that was dyed red by the blood of the gods, so they have some characteristics that only gods have.

It is no longer possible to see this kind of material on the Marvel Continent today.

"Is Jibril inside?" Sean retracted his gaze from the huge iron gate that was 30 meters high. He couldn't imagine how much magical meteorite iron would be needed to forge such an iron gate.

It's just that when Sean asked this, he found that he didn't get any response.

At this time, when he looked back again, he never saw Asali again. And the long corridor he had traveled all the way before, also disappeared behind him, replaced by an extremely luxuriously decorated empty hall, but Sean standing here only felt lonely, there seemed to be a kind of loneliness. The subtle illusion that "No matter how big this world is, it has nothing to do with oneself".

Such a sudden reaction made Sean's heart tremble slightly.

He couldn't help thinking, is this another accident?

Or, is it a trap?

After all, since Sean set foot on the land of the floating island, things were completely out of his control and prediction. First, the insurgent incident occurred, and then the inexplicable war with others. Then I finally collected a little bit of intelligence and hope, thinking that things could go in the direction that Sean expected, but he did not expect to be attacked by Locke first, and then because Locke suddenly mastered the method of concealment, he could not find people, leading to the fortress. The complete fall.

All these things are combined together. It gives Sean a feeling of falling into an enemy's interlocking trap.

so. It's no wonder that at this time he will show this idea of falling into the trap again-but he behaved so calmly, not because he is brave and fearless, but because he knows that even if he wants to resist, there is no hope at all. After all, the strength that Assali showed was completely beyond his imagination. If an enemy of Assali's level wanted to use conspiracy and traps against him, then he would have no hope of survival at all.

"Don't be nervous." Just as Sean was thinking about it, a beautiful voice suddenly came in Sean's mind, "It's very safe here.... And. You should call me your sister. Of course, Jibril. My lord, I can also accept it."

Accompanied by this sound like the sound of heaven. The closed heavy iron door slowly opened in front of Xiao En.

The first to break into Sean's eyes was a soft light.

As if the sun was shining in through the gap, Sean, bathed in this soft light, only felt a burst of warmth like a refreshing body and mind.

And when the iron gate was completely opened, the world hidden behind the iron gate was finally completely presented in front of Sean—somewhat different from the environment that Sean imagined, the world behind this iron gate was actually a vast expanse The wilderness, although there are no traces of animals. But the lush green space can also see the fertility of this wilderness, which is definitely a place that can form with a considerable degree of strong vitality.

Looking down this vast wilderness. In the distance there is a lake of the same size.

The water of the lake is crystal clear, and there are no water plants or fish at the bottom of the lake. It feels subtle like a sea of clouds floating in the sky. But what made Xiao En a little strange was that in his impression, these lakes seemed to be sweet—but Xiao En had never drunk these lakes.

"Come in." Jibril's voice sounded again.

"Are you able to create basic life?" Sean said with a surprised look.

Under Cecilia's popular science, Sean has already made it clear that it is not easy to give birth to life in the semi-plane of a magician, and even higher gods are unable to do this. Although those gods have repeatedly emphasized that life creation belongs to their domain, in fact, it is difficult for them to create even basic life, let alone create a complete life with soul characteristics out of thin air.

Basically, life creation is divided into three stages. The first stage is plants, which is the so-called basic life; the more advanced medium life is an animal, but the purest and primitive creature, not a monster; the third stage is the advanced life, which has the characteristics of the soul. Complete life, including humans, monsters, and other thinking creatures, etc.

"In fact, I can already create advanced beings, but I can't do it now." Jibril said softly, "I have not completely gotten rid of the influence of the main material world, so I can't create more than basic life forms here, otherwise If you do, it will go against the law of the will of the world, and then I will have to stand on the opposite side of you."

"Uh..." Sean took a bit of a chill. He couldn't imagine how bad Jibril was when he stood on the opposite side of him. "That's better not to create."

"Hehe." Jibril laughed, with a very light and pleasant smile, "You are so funny....Come over to me."

"How do I get there?" Sean was taken aback for a moment.

"Try to take a step to the farthest position you can see."

"Go?" Xiao En looked at the most extreme position he could see with some confusion, then raised his leg and took a step forward.

This step is very simple, but when Sean's raised right leg fell, he found that he was already at the most extreme position he could see. But in this process, he didn't feel the changes in the surrounding space at all, nor even any strange scenes appeared. This completely counterintuitive situation made Xiao En very confused, and he even looked around blankly.

"Didn't you find it?" Jibril's tone seemed a little disappointed, "It seems that your comprehension is a bit poor."

When Jibril said so, Sean suddenly felt a little clear.

Only you know your own affairs. So Shaun knows exactly what the outside world calls him a genius. If it were not for the ability of the game system, although he could gain a foothold with his understanding of the world and advanced insights, his brilliance would be much inferior to those of the real enchanting guys. At this time, Jibril said so. Sean is naturally a little embarrassed.

"Perhaps what you are good at is not analyzing this aspect." Jibril's voice seemed to be talking to herself. However, Sean still heard clearly, which made him have the illusion that his knee was shot, "This is the ability of the law of space.... I found that your domain is biased towards time and space, and you are in the law of time. The comprehension of the above is very deep, but the comprehension of the law of space is still slightly lacking."

"This is... the power of the law of space?" Sean was a little unbelievable, but he immediately tried again.

This time, he came to the lake in one step. The edge of the small island in the center of the lake can already be seen. However, it is different from the situation where nothing was noticed when moving for the first time. Sean has basically noticed some very subtle things. This ability seems to be similar to teleportation, but the essence of teleportation is super-high-speed movement, not a spatial transition. At present, this ability is more advanced than teleportation. some.

If there must be a metaphor, it is more like a shuttle between the stars.

When Sean raised his leg for the third time, he had already appeared on the island in the center of the lake, and the pavilion was clearly visible.

This time. The spatial energy fluctuation that Sean felt was even clearer.

"It turned out to be like this." Xiao En glanced at his hands, and he could even clearly see that there was still a faint energy remaining on his hands. Although it has become very weak and is gradually fading, he can still capture the weak flow of energy.

"congratulations."

A strange fragrance floated into Sean's nose.

When Sean turned around, he realized that Jibril was already standing next to him. From the sensory instinct, Jibril is simply the most perfect woman in the world. Even if Sean sees accustomed to beautiful women, he also finds that he can't resist the charm of Jibril. It seems that the subconsciousness in his mind is constantly changing. He sent him a message that "Jibril is the most beautiful woman in the world".

"Although this is the first time we have met, it feels like we have never left each other." Jibril tilted her head slightly, showing a sweet smile, as amiable as the sister next door, "I'm glad to finally I can see you, my brother."

"Well, me too." Xiao En smiled slightly. "It's nice to meet you, my sister."

Jibril's eyeballs turned slightly, and then suddenly stretched out a hand, touched Sean's head, and then rubbed Sean's hair. Smiled and said: "A long, long time ago. I wanted to do this.... Now I can finally do this once, and I don't have any regrets at all."

Hearing what Jibril said, Sean was taken aback for a moment, and then said: "Are you going to... leave?"

"Yes." Jibril nodded and smiled. "My meeting with you means that the time for parting has come.... The will of this world is our common mother. It is also our father. But mine. Growth has reached the limit that our parents can bear. If I continue to stay here, it will only harm our parents, so I have to leave, and I have to leave."

I don't know why, after hearing Jibril's words, Sean suddenly felt a little lost and sad.

If we say that in this world, in addition to Cecilia, it can also make Sean feel this kind of affection. There was only Jibril standing in front of him at this moment. But now, they finally met. Jibril said that she was about to leave for a long journey, which naturally made Shaun feel a little uncomfortable in his heart.

"Can we... still meet?" Sean asked.

"Probably..." Jibril wanted to say "Probably there will never be a chance", but I don't know why, but her almost ruthless heart trembled slightly, so a smile appeared on her face." ...There is still a chance. It's just that it may take a long, long time to wait, because...the next time we meet again, it means that it's time for you to travel far....If it's that time, we will We can meet again."

"But at that time, it means we have another brother or sister." Infected by Jibril's relaxed tone, Sean also smiled.

"Yes." Jibril smiled and nodded. "Although it is a pity and regret, the first time we met was the last time we met, but I am still, really happy to be here. At this moment, see you."

"Can I hug you?" Sean asked.

"Of course." Jibril smiled and nodded, then walked a few steps forward, and gave Sean a hug.

The time is not long, and the two of them chose to let go and retreat at the same time.

"The time we met... is also very short." Sean thought that there were countless things to say to Jibril, but at this moment, he didn't know where to start, just from Jibril. Judging from the performance at this time, Sean also knew that the time left between them probably wouldn't be long.

"Yes, I'm very sorry." Jibril gave a helpless smile, "But as a remedy, I will give you a gift."

"gift?"

"Unfortunately, I cannot give you the floating island, because this is a platform for me to communicate with this material world. When I leave, the floating island will leave with me." Jibril said, "I know that you are very short of some tactical talents, so I will leave you with a group, of course, there will not be too many, but Levi and Alyssa will also stay. They are true gods. Descendants, it's just that the blood is very thin. Perhaps Levi and Alyssa still hope to awaken the blood, but it's not possible for others."

"Well, so I am very grateful." Xiao En began to thank him.

"In addition, I will give you another very special power, which may be very helpful to you."

While Jibril said so, she also reached out and tapped to Sean's eyebrows. In an instant, Sean felt a very unique power pouring into her body. But what is strange is that after this force poured into Sean's body, it did not produce any irritating response to Sean's body. Instead, it activated a system that Sean had not been able to sense for a long time-he could obviously Feeling that the system was forcibly activated at this moment, and then directly swallowed this energy.

The next moment, the sound from the system prompt stunned Sean.

Chapter 482: .The existence of taboos

The blazing sun hangs high in the sky, which makes Sean very uncomfortable with the cold wind that has been on the floating island like the winter season.

This is the fourth day when Sean returns to the earth.

After talking with Jibril that day, after learning that the entire floating island is an extension of Jibril's plane, used to communicate with the material world, Sean suddenly Got anxious. He spent almost a week in front of and behind the floating island, but as far as the boundary is concerned, almost forty days have passed.

If you count the four days since Sean returned to the boundary at this time, it will take him almost a month and a half to leave the boundary.

On a vast expanse of land, Xiao En did not know how far he was from the territory of the Void Principality at this time. Because he showed eagerness to return, Jibril couldn't continue to leave Sean on the floating island. After all, she was once a person with a family business, so she naturally knew Sean's eager mood at this time. Moreover, she has basically explained the time that she should explain, and she has officially completed the handover with Sean, so she just throws it away...

Then when Sean woke up, he realized that he didn't know where he was.

After four consecutive days, Sean did not find any passers-by.

It's not that he can't find the direction at all. After all, he is also a middle-ranked sanctuary strong now, so he can still obtain a certain amount of intelligence by relying on certain advantages—such as a short-term high-altitude reconnaissance. It's just that Sean's seemingly not far away traces of people actually allowed him to run around for four full days. This is still the result of his rushing journey. If he only had the strength of the golden realm before, he didn't know how to drive slowly. How many days will it take?

Of course, there is another way to hurry. It's just... Sean didn't dare to use it.

"Someone is coming." A whistling sound rang, and then a gust of wind whistled and rolled up, making Sean a little unstable to stand.

When the smoke and dust lifted up by the strong wind dissipated, a well-proportioned and beautiful black-haired woman stood not far in front of Xiao En's eyes.

This is a young woman in a black light hunting outfit.

The material of the hunting suit is not known from what kind of monsters, but it has a metal-like luster. As long as it is a sharp-eyed person, it can be judged at a glance. This hunting suit definitely possesses a stronger defensive ability than ordinary armor. It might even exceed the defensive power of heavy armor—but Sean didn't dare to ask for a hunting defensive ability in front of this woman.

On the left side of the woman's waist, two arc-sword weapons similar to cutting blades are attached. However, judging from the scabbards of the two cutting blades, the sword body is obviously slightly narrower-this change is conducive to the faster slashing action of the knife holder, and it is more conducive to sports warfare with the hunting outfit. Characteristics, obviously better at high-speed mobile warfare and fighting environment that rely on skill to win.

But the same, the disadvantages of this type of blade are not small. That is not suitable for the environment of protracted warfare and fortified battle. After all, at the expense of the thickness of the blade. The hardness and toughness of the blade will also be reduced accordingly. It is naturally very unfavorable when weapons of the same quality collide with each other for a long time.

Only judging from this kind of equipment, then you must think that this woman is better at sophisticated combat skills-of course, this is under the premise of ignoring another weapon of the woman. If she saw another weapon she was holding in her right hand, then no one would think that way.

Sword-blade gun.

Sword-blade gun, a special weapon that combines a wide-blade sword with a long spear. It not only belongs to the long weapon department, but also has high requirements for strength, endurance, and skills in its use. Of course, the most important thing is strength. Moreover, the battle environment and skills of using long weapons are completely different from those of ordinary weapons. Compared with the combat experience of the sword blade that pursues speed and art, what the sword blade gun needs is a wide open and a more overbearing fighting method.

What's more, this sword-blade gun is not a normal sword-blade gun—it is almost one meter longer than a normal sword-blade gun, reaching an amazing size of 3.2 meters.

This woman is the person who impressed Sean the most in the "Guardian" system.

is also the person Sean used to intimidate Noro.

Kill Wu Ji. Alexis.

[Name: Alexis]

【Gender: Female】

【Race: Human】

【Realm: Super Power】

【Strengths: swordsmanship; spearmanship; physical skills; killing field;】

【Title: Killing Wu Ji】

【Special note: Killing is her only pleasure. ...This is an existence that has become a taboo in the world. 】

Killing Wu Ji was the last gift Jibril gave to Sean, and it was also the gift that shocked Sean the most.

At that time, after Jibril poured power into Sean's body, the system directly received this power and formed a named summon. The summoned object was the famous killer Wu Ji Alexis. However, Sean did not summon Alexis on the spot, but when Sean heard Jibril said that this special power was discovered during a trip to Outland, she didn't know how to use it for so many years. , Couldn't merge, and then felt that Sean should need everything in order to give this power to himself, Sean's mood at that time was a little broken.

After there are some small talks, but most of them are around the topic of "children of the world".

Sean also understands that this is the so-called "handover", so he listened patiently. However, in the subsequent summary, Sean found that most of what Jibril said was actually just a "introduction". According to his own summary and understanding, there is only one thing he needs to do: stop all behaviors that damage the root of the world. .

In other words, he must stop the invasion of other planes, such as the invasion of the devil, the invasion of the devil, the invasion of the undead, and so on, and he must fight all these * guys back to their hometown. Secondly, if there are some evil guys trying to extract the origin of the world, or vainly trying to become an existence above the will of the world, he must beat them so that he doesn't even know his mother.

After that, Sean was in a hurry to go home, and was thrown by Jibril onto such a plain where he didn't know what the * it was.

Seeing the aura completely released, Alexis, who rushed straight into the sky with awe-inspiring aura, fully expressing the meaning of "No one else enters" even without engraving on his face, Sean sighed lightly: "How many people have come? Is there a strong one?"

"Not a lot, just a dozen or twenty people, a group of miscellaneous fish." Alexis showed disdain.

Hearing what Alexis said, Sean showed a helpless wry smile.

He summoned Alexis out of nowhere, but Alexis's autonomy was extremely strong, and Sean was able to restrain him very little, unlike Noro, which could be suppressed by special techniques. It's not as innocent as Kozilek, and he can be obedient and obedient by relying on food. So to some extent, although Alexis belongs to Sean's summons, she can never hurt Sean, but it does not mean that she must obey all of Sean's orders. Therefore, the relationship between them Are equal.

Perhaps, this is the particularity of the super strong.

But even so, Sean is not dissatisfied.

He already knows that Cecilia, William and Hela have already begun to implement the Void Empire plan. And the most important thing for an empire is talents and combat power, especially the top combat power. To gain the name of an empire, it is not only enough to have a legendary powerhouse, but also to have at least two superpowers. The person sits down.

Like the empire of Saint-Joles that has been greatly injured.

Before the battle of fate broke out, this behemoth had three paladins who could enter the realm of super powers at any time. And this is still public information. In the non-public information, it is already clear that the Saint-Joles Empire also has two paladins who can also step into the realm of super powers at any time, one of which is the Darkface Knights. Chief instructor.

However, after the battle of destiny, the Saint-Joles Empire has been greatly injured, and the four sets of angel costumes have also lost two sets, which means that the Saint-Joles Empire will be able to step into the realm of super powers at any time. Talents. And if Sean, who got these two angel costumes, finds the right talents and cultivates them, it is not impossible to cultivate two super powers again.

However, Sean needs enough time to develop.

So when he really grows up, Shaun, who holds the two hole cards of Kozilek and Alexis in his hand, is basically invincible.

It's just that Alexis will not completely obey Sean's orders, which makes Sean a little helpless. Especially in the evaluation and judgment of the enemy's strength, for Alexis, basically the realm below the super power is a trash fish. But for Alexis, a legendary powerhouse who belongs to the category of miscellaneous fish, for Sean, it is almost an invincible enemy.

Perhaps seeing the meaning of Sean's helpless smile, Alexis rarely added: "Don't worry, even for you, it's a miscellaneous fish."

"Okay." Sean was a little bit more difficult to be confident, "Are they coming in our direction?"

"En." Alexis nodded, "Although I don't know the reason, these people have a very strong murderous aura, maybe the origin is not simple."

"Murderish?" Sean frowned slightly, then glanced at Alexis again, "Can we discuss it?"

"What to discuss?"

"Your aura is too strong, can you stop it?" Xiao En said softly, "I'm afraid you will scare them away.... We still need to find a few people to ask for directions and look here. Where does it come from?"

Alexis hesitated for a moment, and even nodded: "Okay."

Chapter 483: . Potential enemies

Sean began to feel that Alexis' math must have been taught by the physical education teacher.

Because he found that Alexis's description in numbers is very vague. Like the quantifier expression, she usually uses "some", "a group", "a lot", and "a lot of" as the standard. In terms of time and distance, they are described in terms such as "very soon", "very short", "not long", and "a little while". As for the most critical expression of the gap between the enemy and our strength, Sean has only heard the expression "trash fish" so far.

Of course, if the question is focused, Alexis will still answer a more specific number-but only limited to the range of 30 or less. Just like just now, when Sean asked how many people were in the approaching cavalry team, Alexis could still answer the description of "a dozen or twenty people". But what the exact number is, Alexis said that he disdains to remember the number of trash fish, anyway, to her, they are just trash fish.

In a way, it also proves how powerful Alexis has become.

So, many times when in contact with Alexis, Sean had to find out the meaning of these words by himself.

Like now.

Sean had previously asked how long it would be before the other party had an encounter with them, and Alexis's answer was "very soon."

Then it has been almost half an hour, and the guys whom Alexis called trash fish still haven't appeared.

This made Sean even start to doze off.

About ten minutes later, some traces of smoke and dust were finally seen in the distance.

"Well, the standard for 'soon' is more than 30 minutes and less than an hour." Sean muttered as he watched the flying smoke.

"What did you say?" Alexis asked.

"It's nothing." Sean shook his head. He knew very well that with Alexis's strength, it was impossible to hear his mumbling. Most of the questions he didn't understand him. But Sean had no plans to die. To mock the IQ of a guy who makes the gods and alien creatures fear in person is definitely a nightmare thing that is enough to think about.

"Oh." But Alexis didn't seem to have any intention of pursuing it. Instead, she looked at the flying smoke ahead with interest.

As a former PK fanatic, Sean really knew exactly what the gleaming light in Alexis's eyes meant. He only hopes now that if there is really a fight unavoidable for a while. The militant, Alexis, was able to control the killing. Don't wipe out all the enemies. At least one person must be left for him to ask for enough information before talking.

The flat grassland is the most suitable for horses to run.

Although it is impossible for a tamed horse to gallop on the grassland faster than a wild horse because of the load, if the quality of the horse itself is good, and the rider has excellent skills, it can still be comparable to the wild horse.

Judging with Sean's slightly critical gaze. This group of approaching riders are undoubtedly the best in equestrianism. They know how to move fast. Still try to preserve the horse's endurance as much as possible, while reducing the burden on the horse. In Sean's memory, people who usually possess this kind of superb riding skills are either members of the nomad family or well-trained knights.

A knight, not a cavalry.

According to the classification of the game, the former is regarded as a rank, and can also be called a profession. The latter is a military position-a profession that only NPCs can obtain, compared to the professions that players can obtain. The single combat ability is slightly lower, but after forming a sufficient scale, it has a relatively special combat ability and combat skills.

For example, cavalry is the most common group charge.

certainly. The training of knights is naturally much more difficult than that of cavalry-in the wonder world, most knights are nobles. Only a small number of relatively lucky civilian children can be lucky enough to become a knight's attendant, and then finally become a knight after passing a series of tests.

"A group of riders with very good qualities." Shaun made a rare assessment. "But this is not the Principality of Robin? If it is, it will be troublesome."

"What happened to this principality?" Alexis asked curiously.

"The Principality of Robin, the full name is Robin Knightland. This is a very special country." Sean frowned and said, "He was born out of the surrounding kingdoms because of the need for a certain buffer zone and special adaptability to the geographical environment. At the beginning, the so-called Principality's territory was only the size of a knight's collar. At that time, no one took him to heart. It was not until the emergence of the heroic king Rob Yin that this small buffer zone was finally allowed. Becoming a powerful group, this is also the origin of the name of the Principality of Robin."

"After that, the person who inherited the will of the heroic king Robin was the knight king Robin IV. Cavalry was the invention of this guy. He was the first person on the Marvel Continent to create an archer army. Nowadays, the various styles of cavalry tactics on the Marvel Continent have made indelible contributions....So people later called this country the Robin Knight State, but for the sake of omitting it, most people would just call it Robin Principality."

"So, does this country have strong knights?" Alexis asked.

"The territory of this principality is probably not as big as my Void Principality, but it has three knights and several cavalry regiments. On the contrary, there are only two regular infantry regiments... But because of the country's special geographical environment. Therefore, the role of cavalry is indeed stronger than that of infantry. Basically, if you want to invade the Principality of Robin, then you must be prepared for a serious injury." Sean looked at the team of horsemen that rushed into the distance. , And then said in a deep voice, "Because the geographical environment of the Robin Principality is basically a vast plain, and the neighboring countries do not have cavalry forces that can compete with them, the advantages of the Robin Knight Nation are too great for local combat. "

Listening to Sean's explanation, Alexis's eyes became more energetic: "Is it amazing?"

Seeing Alexis's performance, Sean knew that this war had completely misunderstood what he meant: "The trouble I said did not mean that we were going to fight them..."

But when Shaun said this, his tone was a little uncertain.

There are indeed some contradictions between the Principality of Robin and the Kingdom of Line, and the contradiction is not small. After all, the second son of Prince Lorne of the Principality of Robin died in a martial arts festival held by the Kingdom of Line. Even though the martial arts festival later went unnoticed due to the invasion of the Demon God. However, the grievances between each other have completely accumulated, which has led to the continuous eruption of border friction between the Kingdom of Line and the Duchy of Robin, which has taken over the northwestern territory of Darbion.

Although there has not been a real war, the hostility between the two countries has become more and more serious.

So Sean is really not sure, if you let them know that he is the Grand Duke of the Void Duchy. Will there be any bigger disputes? Even using this as a fuse led to the outbreak of the war between the two countries. And besides that, if this is really the Robin Knight Country, then it means that Sean's return journey must pass through most of the northwestern area outside the Ryan Kingdom, which is also a troublesome thing.

This still takes into account that there is Alexis by Sean's side, otherwise it's not a troublesome thing as simple as-when he executed the bad blood plan for King Ryan, he took the entire northwest aristocratic circle of Ryan violently. 'S offended it again. Those who have cut the weeds and roots also said that they are afraid that those who have not been rooted will learn that Sean is alone. Will it cause some trouble?

It was when Sean's brain began to think quickly. These riders quickly approached Sean and others.

After approached the distance, Xiao En realized that his worries were really unnecessary.

The sixteen riders in front of them are just some silver realm masters. The strongest one has not even reached the rank of quasi-strong, and at most is the upper silver pinnacle. With the strength of such a group of people, it is indeed a level of miscellaneous fish for Xiao En today.

Until this moment, Sean was a little surprised to find that he had already stood in the ranks of the real strong in this world without knowing it. only. After the battle of destiny, he went to the floating island and was used to meeting those high-quality teams and strong people on the floating island. On the contrary, some have forgotten that the land boundary is countless times wider than the floating island, and there will not be so many sanctuary powerhouses, legendary powerhouses, or even super powerhouses here.

"Who are you?" The gazes of several riders were full of vigilance, and one of them shouted boldly.

Hearing the voices of these people, Sean's face became hard to look.

Robuyin's language used by the Knight Kingdom is the lingua franca of the mainland, but because the territory is also bordered by the United Nations of the Karosha tribe, some orc languages are generally understood, and of course they can only communicate and cannot write. But because the deeds of the heroic king and the knight king have always encouraged the people of Robin's knight country, they have advocated justice, freedom, and bravery since they were young. They spoke with a very unique high tone and spoke clearly.

This kind of accent is not an authentic Robin, it is difficult to learn and imitate.

The rider who spoke at this time not only spoke clearly, but also had a very high voice, as if he was full of passion all the time.

And Sean, at this time, he can finally be sure that this is Robin Knight Country.

Chapter 484: .solve

"We are passing travelers, and we are going to the nearest city to supply supplies." Faced with the inquiries of these riders, Sean responded.

His voice has a unique high tone, which seems to be full of infinite passion and enthusiasm. Just like drinking a pot of warm wine in the cold wind, the whole person's body and mind become warm. This is the purest accent unique to the purest Robin Knight Country.

Several riders were surprised.

Even though Sean's face looked a little ugly when he heard their question just now, which aroused their suspicion. But for Sean's ability to speak such a pure Robin accent, the guard on the faces of these riders has faded a bit, but they have not completely let go of their guards.

"Are you going to Badu or Eloran?" the bolder rider asked.

"Bado? Elorland?" Xiao En exclaimed, pretending to be surprised, the expression on his face was very exaggerated, "You tell me, where is this place! Why are we here! I remember... we are going to Suo Sha'an's way!"

Alexis glanced at Sean, but did not say anything, even if there was a somewhat impatient look in her eyes. But now it is Sean who is negotiating, so she is still very "polite" to keep quiet, waiting for things to change.

However, these riders did not notice Alexis's look. Instead, after hearing Sean's words, their faces were surprised. Some of them sneered and said, "What's the matter? Soshaan is in the east. Well, you are actually moving in the opposite direction, are you Lu Chi?"

"I said you went wrong!" Alexis suddenly yelled, her voice with a little girl's sweet voice, which formed a sharp contrast with the extreme * cruelty hidden in her personality, of course. In terms of appearance, Alexis can actually be regarded as a beauty. "You still vowed to tell me that this direction is correct! Look! What can you deny now!"

But the only flaw is that Alexis's intonation cannot be like Sean's, perfectly mimicking Robin's unique tonal voice.

"This lady is not a Robin?"

Sean smiled at Alexis, but his eyes were satisfied. It seems that Alexis and himself cooperate fairly well. At least much better than Kozilek. As for Alexis revealing that she is not a Robin, this is not a problem, so Sean replied: "Oh, she is not. She is an adventurer, and we heard that Robin has a great sun. After the gods practiced, they came here to see them."

Speaking of this, Sean turned his head and said to Alexis: "Actually, it's the same even if you don't go to Sossaan. We can go to Bado or Yololand."

"Hey. Then your luck is really good." Another rider spoke up. "Yiloran is holding the Sun God Martial Arts Festival recently. This is a festival on a larger scale than the Sun God practice.... How about, do you want to go with us?"

When the rider said this, his eyes basically fell on Alexis, and he didn't care about Sean next to him.

This makes Sean have to sigh, this guy is really courageous.

"What is the Sun God Martial Arts?" Alexis asked curiously.

"It is a grand ceremony to test the martial arts of young people like me. Unlike the cultivation of the Sun God, which focuses on spiritual cultivation, the Sun God Martial Arts Festival is a real competition." The rider seemed to be interested in the performance of Alexis. Appears extraordinarily excited. At the beginning, some eloquent explanations began, "This kind of competition is only available for people over 16 to under 22. It will be held once a year, and this year's competition is located in Eloran."

The sun  before the dusk of the gods is the  of light, order, and warmth. However, after the dusk of the gods, Helios, the first sun god, died on the battlefield. The godhead was broken and scattered on the ground. Apollo stole the godhead of light and order and called himself the new sun god. However, it is a pity that the sun  failed to endure the end of the battle of the gods and fell, and the world fell into the darkest and coldest ashes as a result.

Until the third sun god, the current sun  Luger, appeared, the coldness was dispelled-in fact, the godhead gained by Luge is warm, not unique to the true sun god. It's just that the time he lit the fire was just before the end of the Ash Age, so the Sun God Church completely attributed the credit for the end of the Ash Age to Ruger, saying that it was because the birth of the Sun God brought warmth and warmth to the world. Peace, therefore, ended the dark and cold ashes.

Because of this, the Sun God Church has also gathered a large number of believers.

The most fanatical among them are the people of Robin Knight Country. Because the heroic King Robin I was a fanatic of the sun god, after he founded the Robin duchy, he declared the church of the sun  as the state religion of Robin. Although he did not exclude other churches from entering the sermons, the entire Robin duchy exceeds Ninety percent of people only believe in the sun god, and only a few people trust the gods of other churches for professional reasons or other reasons.

The two most representative grand ceremonies of the Sun God Church are the Sun God Training and the Sun God Martial Arts Festival.

Because the godhead of the sun * is warm, he is responsible for humanity and soul, so the tempering of the soul does have a very outstanding set of methods. For many professions that need to cultivate to spiritual attributes, as long as they are not in absolute position conflicts, they will generally choose to come to the Principality of Robin to practice. However, the latter's martial arts festival seemed a bit dull and meaningless. After all, the sun * was not a * who was good at warfare. This kind of festival was more just a selection of national talents with a name.

If Sean is still a little interested in the cultivation of the sun god, then he has no interest in the sun * martial arts. I just don't know why, Robin's extremely hot-headed and deeply poisoned chivalry spirits like the Knight Kingdom prefers the Sun God Martial Arts Festival, so the Robin Sun God Martial Arts Festival is very grand every year.

"It's a pity that we are already over." Xiao En smiled and said, "We will not go to Eloran.... We just want to go to the Sun God Church in Baduo to participate in a practice, and then it will be over. Our current journey."

"Can you represent this lady's opinion?" The rider who had been looking at Alexis turned his head and looked at Sean, his face filled with dissatisfaction.

"I think it can." Sean smiled slightly. Don't mind the rider's face becoming more and more ugly.

He just doesn't want to cause trouble, it doesn't mean he is afraid of trouble. In particular, this place is still a land boundary, not the floating island high above. There may be forces and strong men above this land that can make Sean jealous, but that will definitely not include the ten or so riders in front of him. Not to mention that there are other nuclear weapons like Alexis beside him. Even if it's Sean alone. It is enough to solve these people easily.

As Alexis said, it's just a bunch of trash fish.

"You..." The rider was dumbfounded, and his eyes were very sharp, "This beautiful lady..."

"He can really represent me." Alexis was not interested in listening to this person's nonsense, and said simply, "I am about this..."

"It's all right." Xiao En hurriedly said, "We will not stop you from your path to victory. I wish you good luck."

He had to speak to stop Alexis. Because he was basically able to guess what Alexis was going to say. On the way to the Sun God Martial Arts Festival, saying something like "I am not interested in the Sun God Martial Arts Festival" to a group of participants is simply an insult. No Robin can accept them. They will definitely demand a duel. , Even a duel before the gods.

This result is not what Sean wanted.

Now what Shaun wants to do is to return to the Void Duchy as quickly as possible.

"Huh, hillbilly!" The rider seemed to have an extraordinary origin. Snorted contemptuously.

"Enough." The rider who was the most courageous at first, but has remained silent since. At this point he finally spoke.

But it is obvious that this person has extraordinary prestige in this small team. At this moment, when he spoke, the others stopped saying anything, and even the man who obviously wanted to trouble Shaun had to shut up. Just looking at the unwillingness on his face, you can know how dissatisfied he is now.

It's just that there is no dissatisfaction, and it's not about Sean at all.

After he said hello to everyone, he pulled Alexis away. Through the exchanges just now, he already knew that the city they were heading to at this time was Baduo—because these riders were going to participate in the Sun God Martial Arts Festival, and the host city was Yi Luolan, then Shaun and them were going in the opposite direction, naturally Baduo.

For this city that Sean had never heard of, he actually had a lot of uncertainties in his heart-Rob was in the Knights Country, and Sean didn't have much contact, so the only city he knew was Soshaan. . As for why Sean was able to speak such a pure Robin accent, it was thanks to his contact with the Robin at the martial arts festival held by Ryan before.

Looking at the backs of Sean, Alexis and others leaving, the rider who had a clear interest in Alexis finally said dissatisfied at this time: "Haku, why are you stopping me? That country boy... "

"Hakku?" The man named Haku raised his eyebrows, his face was extremely cold, which surprised the other riders around, because they had never seen this young man with such a cold look. "Do you know who he is?"

"He... has a background?" The rider said in a daze, "But what if there is a background? It's a big deal. I have a duel with him. There are not many people who can beat me in the silver realm. I just Unbelieving geniuses are all over the street."

"Heh." Haku sneered. He looked at the rider as if he was looking at an idiot. The naked contempt was barely concealed. "I don't know why his clothes are tattered like that, and I don't know. Why did he speak such a pure Robin accent, but the only thing I can know is that even if we all shoot together, we won't be opponents of others."

"How is he amazing?" Someone was surprised, "He seems to be only in the silver realm? I haven't heard of our Robin's strongest silver substitution."

"The strongest silver?" Haku glanced at the person who spoke and snorted coldly. "He was already the strongest silver before the Ryan Martial Fight Festival. Although it seems to be the strength of the Silver Realm, I am 100% sure. It was a disguise, maybe he has already stepped into the realm of legend."

"Legend!?"

"You are joking!"

"How can there be such a young legendary powerhouse!"

"Ordinary people may not have it, but if it is that person, it is hard to say." Haku said lightly.

"That person? Ryan Martial Arts?" The young rider who had been taught by Haku frowned slightly, "You mean... Ryan's Void Lord?"

Haku did not speak to answer, but his cold eyes showed everything.

At this moment, everyone present took a breath.

"Why did that grand prince appear here?"

"Is he scouting the terrain?"

"Could it be that Ryan intends to officially declare war with us?"

The chattering discussion immediately began, but there was not much fear in the tone of these people, but more of a kind of excitement. Only Haku and the young rider who had a strong affection for Alexis frowned, but after the two looked at each other, they made up their minds and focused on it at the same time. nod.

"Everyone, we will not participate in the Sun God Martial Arts Festival. I think the appearance of the Void Lord is very important. I want to return to the family to report to my uncle." Haku said, "You know, since my cousin died in After the Ryan Martial Fight Festival, our Lorne family has always been at odds with Ryan. Now this Void Grand Duke appears here, no matter what his purpose is, I must report this to my uncle as soon as possible."

"Ah, I have something to deal with, so I won't go to participate. Although it is a pity, I still have a chance next year."

After that, the two people said goodbye to the others, and then turned their horses around and left quickly.

"Oh, two little ghosts have left." Sean, who was still walking forward, had Alexis's voice in his mind, "It's the kid who was a little bolder before, and the one who wanted to fight with you. Conflict kid."

"Oh, things seem to be a little troublesome." Sean thought with a headache, "I hope I don't fight."

"Why?" Alexis was a little puzzled. "If you don't fight, it would be so boring."

"I assure you that after returning to the territory, some wars will satisfy you, but now, you still restrain your  and listen to my arrangements." For Alexis, Sean is really helpless. "After returning to the realm, my heart is always very uneasy, so I am very worried about Cecilia and the others..... This is the reason why I don't want to cause too much trouble here, because I always feel that Cecilia Leah and William seemed to have some trouble."

"Didn't you call out two guards before? Don't you get in touch with them?"

"The distance is too far, I can only roughly sense their location, and can also send some simple commands to him, but I have no way to communicate with them." Xiao En said in a deep voice, "and this kind of command information , Or one-way transmission... I think you should understand what I mean."

"Okay." Alexis's tone was somewhat helpless, "Then, do you need me to intercept them?...With my speed and their feet, it can be over in three minutes at most. The battle then came back."

"For safety..." Sean frowned slightly, and then said cruelly, "We want to make sure that none of them can escape."

"I like this." Alexis's arrogant laughter rang loudly in Sean's mind.

Chapter 485: . Circumstances have changed

Southern Continent, has begun to gradually move towards the tail of spring, and the scorching summer faintly begins to raise its head.

However, compared to other places in the Marvel Continent, the summer in the Wild Land is going to be even hotter. Especially in the Gobi terrain outside the wild land, under the shining of the sun, a hotter and hotter environment will be formed, which is an invisible pressure burden for heavy infantry.

Fortunately, the Cecilia Guards under the command of Cloff are mostly light infantry rather than heavy infantry, so there is no trouble in this regard. Although nearly half of the Lions of Thunder are heavy infantry units, the Lions of Thunder are not purely human units. The heavy infantry units are all tauren, bear people, etc., who are known for their endurance and strength. This kind of terrain also has a certain degree of resistance, and coupled with the transportation of heavy trucks, it did not cause too much trouble.

At least, the loss of non-combat attrition is much lower than William expected.

was at the top of a mountain at this time, and William rode up on a tall silver-white war horse and looked up, his gaze seemed very deep.

Since the agreement was reached, when Sean, Andrew and others left, William and others were on their way immediately. After they marched for nearly two months, they finally arrived at this place close to the jurisdiction of the Millennium Covenant Empire. According to the information provided by Hasas and Angel, William found that their itinerary was even better than that of that one. The transport force that secretly supports the rebel army of the Millennium Covenant Empire is much faster. If there is no accident, the transport team that secretly supports the rebel army of the Millennium Covenant Empire should be discovered these days. After all, the place where William and others are guarding at this time is the only commercial road from the wild land to the Millennium Covenant Empire. , And in order to prevent accidents, William has also dispatched all the reconnaissance troops out, and carried out a high degree of attention and investigation of the entire area.

Hasas drove up to William's side, and he could feel the chill and murderous intent emanating from William. This is very different from Hasas' impression of William. Because the previous contact with William was in the conference room, his aura was very restrained and rounded, just like a real politician, even when there was a dispute, he would do it most of the time. It was smiling.

"Thank you. Sir William." Hasas greeted William softly. "For this time."

"We have reached an agreement, so I'm just following the internal affairs." William replied with a chuckle, but the low aura radiating from him has not changed in the slightest, "Your Excellency Hasas, please don't Worry. This time, all the people who came with the army are real elites, and I have also prepared a number of countermeasures to ensure that you can become the final winner."

"Of course I believe Lord William's words." Hasas smiled and agreed. Then he turned his head and looked forward.

The location where William and others are stationed at this time. It is near a stone mountain in the Wildlands near the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire area. Because the scale of the stone mountain is not large, and the altitude is only four or five hundred, it is not possible to completely station the large forces on the top of the mountain. Therefore, the Lion of Thunder and the Cecilia Guards are camped at the foot of the mountain. On the platform at the top of the mountain, only William, Noro, Alfred, and Hasas' entourage at the moment.

As for the army that Hasas brought, William did not take over the command, and the leader of the army is still Hasas. However, William will still issue some combat orders to the opponent, and the timing and circumstances of execution are left to the opponent's judgment.

Standing on the top of the mountain, you can see farther than usual. Especially in the barren land, the empty terrain that is full of Gobi deserts.

"Your Excellency, the wind on the mountain is strong. Let's go down the mountain first." Hasas said, "I believe that with your superb commanding ability, this war will be a complete victory. So in order to avoid catching the wind and chill, we Let's get out of here... The mountain has already prepared warm wine and delicacies, just waiting for us to go back."

Hearing what Hasas said, William knew that Hasas would be wrong.

He will blow a cold wind here, just to seek his inner peace, not to think about the next incident against the rebel army of the Millennium Covenant Empire. Although the information provided by Hasas is not very accurate, but with Angel's supplement, William has a very accurate understanding of the enemy's intelligence information. Because of this, William didn't take the other party to heart at all.

What's more, in addition to the two elites of the Thunder Lion of Commander Alfred and the Cecilia Guards of Commander Clover this time, Angel's Frost Legion is also responsible for the final blockade in the front. . Because of the special identity of Angel and the factor of the rebel army, even in the Barren Lands jurisdiction of the Millennium Covenant Empire, the Frost Legion can take action at will without worrying about being attacked.

So basically, the action to deal with this rebel army is simply a cutscene.

William is really upset at this time and needs to be calm, it is about Cecilia's special operations team.

The commander of this special operations team is Cecilia. In addition to Kozilek and Rena, the entourage includes Angel and William's sister Reilista and her three mercenary companions: Alisha Omera, Lucinda Courtwell, Mellie. And in order to prevent other accidents, Dini, who has been promoted to the post of cardinal and deputy commander of the priest fighting group of the Church of Ice and Winter, also joined the team.

Judging from strength alone, the combat effectiveness of this special operation is very strong: even if Kozilek is not included, Rina, who has already acquired the Michael suit, has terrible strength equivalent to the legendary powerhouse. Needless to say, Rina after Longhua can even make Michael enter the awakening state. Under the dual costumes of Longhua and Michael Awakening, Rina can probably display the terrifying combat power of Tier 14 even though it has not yet reached Legendary peak, but the general legendary powerhouse will not be Rina's opponent.

Cecilia, Angel, and Dini are all strong in the sanctuary. The only difference is that Angel is half of the legendary high-level peak strong in the sanctuary; Cecilia has already touched the law of depth. The edge of, can also be regarded as half a foot into the realm of the upper sanctuary; Dini is not long after entering the middle sanctuary, not only the realm strength has not been completely stabilized, and the increase in ability is not compared to the lower sanctuary. How big.

But in any case, the sharp knives composed of these strong men are enough to despise everything.

In this case, Rilitha and the other four are not worth mentioning. However, because they are all experienced and experienced mercenaries and adventurers, if they are responsible for leading the way, Cecilia and others can save a lot of trouble and time, and basically they can be regarded as having great benefits.

But I don't know why, for such a powerful special operations force, William's heart is inexplicably aroused in fear.

Just as Hassas was persuading William to return to the camp, a man wearing a special leather armor and a special mask walked out of a shadow on the top of the mountain and ran towards William at a quick pace. This masked man exudes a very strong murderous intent, and the murderous intent is so strong that it almost turns into substance, even Hasas and Moro can feel a slight chill on their back.

You must know that the strength shown by this masked man is only the upper level gold, not even the sanctuary!

But Moro has the strength of the upper sanctuary, this realm is enough to make him ignore many assassins and assassins. But at this moment, in front of an assassin who was not a high-ranking gold, Moro actually felt a threat, which made him subconsciously get close to Hashas's side, staring closely at this assassin who was walking towards everyone step by step. A masked man.

"Don't be nervous, it's his own." William naturally noticed Moro's performance, so he spoke.

The masked man took off the hooded mask, revealing a young face. But unlike the youthful vigorous aura that should be full of vigor, the young face under the mask looks pale and dead-the paleness may be due to the fact that it has not been exposed to the sun for a long time, but the dead silence on the face makes people feel terrified. , Because what he can see in his eyes is his disregard for life.

"This is Rupia, one of the leaders of the Void Realm, the commander of the Dark Blade of the Void." William opened his mouth to introduce to Hasas and Moro, "This time because of an emergency, I let the Void Realm also Joined the investigative operation... Rupiah, talk about your findings."

The last sentence, William turned his head and said to Rupiah.

Ignoring the amazement of Hasas and the others looking at him, Ruby saluted William and said: "The trail of the target force has been found. It is camped about five kilometers away from here. From here. Judging from the current investigations, it is obvious that that unit has already encountered at least two wars, because their scale does not seem to be as much as the initial intelligence records, and the camp is heavily guarded. It seems that It's in a state of rest, and I don't think there should be any possibility of action in the next few days."

After listening to Rupiah's report, William frowned slightly, and his voice became low: "What about the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire?"

"We have contacted the Frost Legion six days ago. The other party stated that they followed your instructions and arrived at the combat position for deployment the day before yesterday." Ruby replied. There are also some special phenomena on the side of the Covenant Empire.... So far, two forces have been detected to covertly move, one of which is bypassing the Frost Legion and entering the wild land, and the other is heading towards the Sighing Forest."

"Sigh Forest, there..." William subconsciously shouted, but he quickly realized the environment at this time, so he hurriedly changed his words, "...Pay close attention to the traces of these two hidden troops, especially over the Sigh Forest. Any discovery must be reported as soon as possible!"

"Yes!" Rupi nodded, then put on the mask again and left the mountain.

Chapter 486: . Forest of Sighs

Sigh, forest is not simply a term for a forest, but a collective term specifically referring to a fierce land within the Millennium Covenant Empire.

This forest area is extremely large. It is located in the eastern part of the empire, lying between the land of black soil and the eastern land of the empire. In the hearts of the people of the Millennium Covenant Empire, they never regarded the black soil east of the Sighing Forest as part of their empire's territory. The land is the territory of the empire.

It's not how kind the people of these thousand-year empires are willing to abandon their land, but this land is not a place that ordinary people can set foot in.

Infected by the land of black soil, coupled with various reasons that the Covenant Empire has tried to recover this land of black soil for thousands of years, the undead gathered in the Forest of Sighs have reached an extremely exaggerated level. Among the residents of the Eastern Frontiers of the Thousand-Year Empire, there is a legend that has been passed down from generation to generation: any living beings approaching will disturb these undead sleeping in the forest of sighs. Then they will tear the earth apart and climb from the abyss. Out, pulling all the living into the world of the dead.

Although the legend has a certain exaggeration, it is not nonsense. It's just that the undead creatures are not invincible in front of the strong with certain strength. At least the skeletons in the forest are not enough to stop a team composed of wizards, dragon knights, and many strong men. the power of.

A sharp sword light slanted upwards.

Although this sword light may seem sharp, it actually falls into the eyes of people who really understand swordsmanship, and it is easy to see that the power contained under this sword light is not large enough. If it were in a * battle on the frontal battlefield, this sword light would be forcibly blocked or parried by the enemy because of the lack of sufficient threats. Of course, in terms of advantages, it is not without it, at least some agility can be seen in the refracted light and shadow after the sword light flies by.

After the sword light passed. A bone frame was completely shattered and scattered on the black ground.

If you think that this will solve the enemy, then these scattered bones will definitely bring unforgettable surprises to those who ignore them.

The bones that were smashed by a sharp sword did not have any obvious broken marks, only a pale mark—a skeleton resurrected by the infection of the undead. As long as it is not the lowest-level skeleton soldier. But for slightly more advanced skeleton soldiers or skeleton warriors, then basically the bones on their bodies will become as hard as iron weapons. It is said that the more advanced the skeleton monster, the harder the bones will be—but in the land of sighs, obviously there is no more advanced monster than the skeleton warrior.

The bones scattered on the ground began to tremble slightly, just like magnetic guidance, and began to gradually attract other bones.

But before these bones regrouped, a long sword pierced directly into the skull on the side - in the sound of the friction of gold and iron. This hard skull can't stop the stabbing of the sharp sword at all.

It sounded like a crying soul. Many bone fragments, including this skull, all turned into a piece of bone meal in an instant, smearing a white mark on this black land.

Melly drew out the sharp sword that pierced the ground with too much force, and then turned her head to look around.

The threat around has been completely relieved—while she was dealing with the skeleton warrior, her three companions were not idle. In other words, in addition to Lucinda Courtwell, Alyssa Omera and Relitha William have shown their extraordinary strength and easily solved their respective goals.

Skeleton Warrior is an advanced enhancement of the Skeleton Soldier. Compared to a skeleton soldier whose bones are perfected, but the weapon is still a rusty knife. The skeleton warrior not only showed a white and dusty luster throughout the skeleton, but even the weapon was a machete that looked much more delicate. There was even an iron-clad cowhide wooden shield. In terms of offensive and defensive capabilities, skeleton soldiers are much better than skeleton soldiers.

If the skeleton warriors are formed in groups, the undead creatures whose individual strength is only Tier 4 will be more terrifying than Tier 5, even reaching Tier 6 terrible combat power. For this reason, the most conventional method to deal with skeleton warriors is to use cutting and separation strike tactics, so that these skeleton warriors cannot form a group, so as to gain group advantage, and can only maintain weak individual strength.

At least, with the strength of the four-member group of Relitha, a mercenary group, it is not a problem to deal with a dozen skeleton warriors alone.

After solving the trouble of these dozens of skeleton warriors, the group of four gathered again.

"I'm a little tired." It was Melly who spoke first.

This young female swordsman does not focus on strength and endurance. On the contrary, she takes a route that requires more skill-that is, commonly known as a light swordsman. Compared with the fast swordsman, the light swordsman's attack speed is not fast; and compared with the swordsman of the mean line, they are not known for their strength and endurance; the reason why the light swordsman was not removed from the branch of the swordsman genre at that time , Is because this kind of swordsman has very good attack ability and advance ability.

However, it is precisely because the two attributes of strength and endurance are not excellent, so the light swordsman is not good at protracted combat.

"We have been on the road for a long time. This is really not easy for Melly." Lucinda, who knows Melly's situation, said, and at the same time took out a few small test tubes from her body, and began to mix them on the spot. Finally, he produced a test tube with a pink liquid in it and handed it to Melly, "Drink it, it can speed up your physical recovery."

Melly frowned, obviously repelling this medicine. Only after hesitating for a long time, Melly took the test tube, then raised her head with a generous expression on her face and drank the liquid in the test tube. In an instant, all of Melly's exposed skin turned pink, and a large amount of white mist rose from the pores. This strange phenomenon lasted for about four or five seconds, and then everything went away. Back to normal.

And Melly, the exhausted color on her face has completely disappeared, replaced by a look of spirit, as if she had a full sleep.

"If it doesn't taste like the smelly water in the sewer, I would really like to eat this." Melly handed the test tube back to Lucinda, and then hurriedly took out the water bag and started to rinse her mouth. But even after rinsing it several times, Melly still feels sick.

"It's not enough to eat as a meal, this thing is just squeezing your potential." Lucinda put the test tube away, and then said, "When the efficacy time is over, you will feel very tired.... But anyway, we are fast. Today's task has been reached. You just have to take a good rest tonight. Tomorrow will be fine."

"Oh." Melly sighed, a little helpless, "Head, when are we going to carry out this kind of reconnaissance mission."

"Until the target is found." Alyssa Omera, the head of the petite mercenary group, said, "Originally, for this operation, we didn't need to enter the Forest of Sighs. But the target suddenly deviated. The direction entered the Forest of Sighs. So we had to keep up.... Anyway, our task is to find the location of the target as soon as possible, and then report to Miss Cecilia."

"Okay." Melly murmured something.

"Just treat this as a trial." Rilitha said in a deep voice, "We originally took refuge in Duke Shaun to hone ourselves and break through the shackles of the sanctuary. Now this kind of opportunity is treated as an opportunity. A new training will be fine."

Alyssa Omera pondered for a while, and her eyes lit up, and she smiled: "That's it. It's the younger sister of Lord William. I see the problem so thoroughly. I'm still wondering why Miss Cecilia before. Arranged for us to conduct a search in front of the enemy, but you have no objection."

Rilitha snorted. Then began to continue to explore the way forward.

Alissa Omela naturally followed quickly.

Only Melly, and some have not figured out the situation: "What's the matter?"

Lucinda sighed helplessly, and then explained: "There are countless skeletons in the Forest of Sighs, almost endlessly killed. So Miss Cecilia arranged for us to leave the main force and go forward alone except for Let us conduct investigations, but more so that we know how to make choices....

Here, blindly relying on force to solve the enemy is not the way to win. We must learn how to better retain physical strength and combat effectiveness."

"Oh." Melly responded.

But Lucinda looked at Melly, obviously not expecting this guy to understand what she just said.

But this time, the forward speed of this small group of four mercenaries has been significantly increased, and the frequency of fighting has also decreased. Of course, it is more of a tactical change. They are no longer limited to relying on the strength of the golden strong to carry out crushing open roads, but begin to make roundabouts and advances, so that under the same endurance restriction conditions, The distance they traveled is even further.

Located at a distance of about four or five hundred meters behind Rui Lista and others, Cecilia felt that the frequency of battles in front of the team was getting lower and lower, and the distance between her and other powerful players was gradually increasing. Celia's mouth raised slightly.

"Oh, the comprehension ability is pretty good." Angel on the side also felt the change, so she said, "I originally thought it would be at least three or four days before it, but I didn't expect it to be the third. Tian has already begun to understand flexibility.... But with their advanced tune, the latter is the trouble."

Hearing Angel's voice, Cecilia's rare raised mouth quickly disappeared, and her complexion didn't look so good.

Angel of course can keenly feel Cecilia's emotional changes, but she doesn't care. The strength of the two sides is almost the same, and the final result of the fight is no one can do anything. However, at present, Angel relies on the realm of strength to be higher than that of Cecilia, and she can still have a slight advantage, so from a certain instinct, she is I like Cecilia making trouble for herself so that she can gain some superiority.

But it's a pity, how can Cecilia, such a shrewd person, be fooled by Angel.

"Is your information really correct?" Cecilia asked in a deep voice.

"Of course." Angel replied, her tone full of pride, "Although I don't know what the situation of Reyce is, or why that team suddenly diverted into the forest of sighs, but I can be sure that that team The special team that secretly transferred Reyce did enter here.... Judging from the existing intelligence, because we changed the route very quickly, the opponent probably only led us for about three days, considering the midway Rest and sigh for the special environment of the forest. If there is nothing wrong with the route, we will be able to catch up to each other at most tomorrow or the day after tomorrow."

Although Cecilia doesn't like Angel, she knows that Angel's intelligence is very accurate, at least much more accurate than the intelligence that can be obtained in the Void Realm. After all, this is the Millennium Covenant Empire. It's Angel's site. So after listening to Angel's analysis at this time. Cecilia did not speak to refute anything, but was thinking about how to rescue Reyes without damage in the next rescue operation.

"I think, let's discuss how to rescue Reyce."

"I think what we should discuss now is how to rescue Reyce."

Cecilia and Angel said in unison-although the sentences are slightly different, the meanings expressed by the two are the same. In some ways, Angel and Cecilia should be regarded as "satisfying."

only. The two men were obviously very upset at this tacit understanding. So the two snorted at the same time. But when they found that the expression of disdain and tone were the same, the two people felt even more unhappy, so they said at the same time: "Don't learn from me!"

There was silence.

"Haha, you two are really fun." Rina looked at the two Peugeot beauties staring at each other, so she laughed, "Okay, don't pretend to be sculptures, let's quickly study how to save people. ...This forest is too cold. It always makes me want to sleep."

Because of the awakening of the dragon bloodline in the body, Rena naturally began to become a little lethargic. But perhaps it was due to the peculiarities of the dragon's bloodline. Even when Rina was asleep, the fighting energy in her body was still continuously growing and condensing, which put her strength in a state that could be improved all the time. Perhaps this is the reason why Rina's strength has grown so surprisingly among all of Sean's followers-of course, Rina as the subject is not quite clear.

Looking at Rina yawning and rubbing her eyes, both Cecilia and Angel looked defeated.

However, as both of the royal family and noble blood, and both have the name of genius, Cecilia and Angel have the pride that belongs to them. At this time, using Rina's words as a step down, it is also in line with the two people's intentions. . Therefore, it is rare for the two parties who disliked each other to temporarily let go of their prejudices, and then began to discuss how to rescue Reyes without being injured.

As for the results of this rescue operation, the two of them did not even think about it.

After all, their team besides Cecilia and Angel, who are enough to make ordinary sanctuary powerhouses intimidate, they also have a super power and a power that can reach the pinnacle of the legend under full firepower. —— Only the combination of these four people is enough to make even the ninth-level army dare not act rashly. Therefore, the result of the rescue operation was not seen by Cecilia and Angel at all. Their only concern was whether the enemy would kill Reyce if the enemy saw the situation badly.

But just as they were discussing, Kozilek suddenly sniffed, then suddenly turned his head to look in the direction of the road when they all came.

"What's the matter?" Cecilia keenly noticed the changes in Kozilek, and hurriedly asked.

Kozilek pointed his finger in the direction he was looking, and said, "Man."

"You mean, we have a skeleton warrior behind?" In fact, no one except Sean can have a smooth conversation with Kozilek, so Cecilia can only guess.

Kozilek thought for a while, then shook his head, and said again, "Live."

"Alive?" Angele has also had contact with Kozilek these days. Although Kozilek's specific strength is not clear, Kozilek does exude a horrible atmosphere that makes her feel dangerous and desperate.

Kozilek hesitated, but this time he nodded instead of shaking his head.

Cecilia and Angel glanced at each other, a trace of surprise flashed in their eyes.

Sigh for the situation in the forest. Under Angel's introduction, Cecilia and others also had a clear understanding. Under normal circumstances, even the Imperial Army would not be willing to approach this forest, let alone go deep. And even the bravest soldiers of the empire are reluctant to enter the forest. It is conceivable that most people will not enter this forest, and there are no treasures or relics worth exploring in the forest. Naturally, adventurers and mercenaries do not. Will enter here.

"How many people are there, can you know?" Angel asked, her voice a little hurried.

Kozilek shook his head, only spit out one word stingly: "Much."

"It seems there should be a lot of people." Cecilia also said in a deep voice, "Can you tell the strength of these people?"

"Weak." This time, Kozilek did not hesitate at all.

"How is it relative to us?" To be on the safe side, Angel asked one more sentence.

But this time, Kozilek did not answer immediately, but after thinking for a while, he pointed his finger at Cecilia and Rena.

But Angel and Cecilia have already understood: the strength of these enemies and Cecilia and Angel's strength disparity, just like Cecilia and Rena, there is a big gap between them. But even so, these enemies are also threatening to a certain extent-just as Cecilia and Angel can bring a little bit of harm to Rina if they fight to the end with Rina desperately.

"It seems that things are not as simple as we thought." Cecilia's brows frowned slightly, and her voice became cold.

Chapter 487: Disturber

Because Sean, Hela, and William all attach great importance to the characteristics of intelligence, all intelligence personnel in the Void Realm have a very special magic communication device, which was produced by those from the Heerson Institute. However, the materials of this device are extremely expensive, which means that Sean has an indelible and outstanding contribution to this teleportation magic circle, so the talents of the Heerson Institute are willing to help.

Ordinary people want to buy through normal channels-for example, people from the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Union discovered this secret, but no matter how expensive they are, Heerson Research is still unwilling to hand over the core formula, let alone make it for them. NS. And because of this, the Void Realm has a very unique advantage in intelligence transmission-but as a magic communication tool, this set of devices still has the possibility of being disturbed and stolen.

This is also why the Void Realm still uses human resources to report when it obtains some important and special information.

When Cecilia diverted into the Forest of Sighs, the members of the Void Realm who had been dispatched to contact Cecilia and William received the news as soon as possible and fed the news back. Therefore, William clearly knew that Cecilia and others changed their way and sighed in the forest. This is why he would blow alone on the top of the mountain to soothe his inner disorder. As far as William of the People is concerned, he is no stranger.

But then a troop that had not been revealed in intelligence suddenly appeared, and it was also heading towards the Forest of Sighs, which attracted great attention from William.

When William issued a message to pay close attention and remind Cecilia to be on the alert from the Ruby side, and passed back to the forest of Sighs, it was actually a bit late. Because no one expected that this secret force that entered the forest of sighs would take a rush in this dangerous forest, and even disturb the awakening of a large number of undead, and stir the whole long-silent forest. The dog jumps.

This way. For Cecilia and others, there are naturally pros and cons.

The advantage is that wherever these people go, the bones will follow, and the sound of fighting is basically impossible to cover. Therefore, it is easy to identify the trace of the other party. The downside is that now they want to keep going. It's also a very difficult thing-but the problem is that they are in their current situation, and it won't work if they don't want to move on.

After all, these guys are making such a big noise, and if the people responsible for transferring Reyce don't find out, then it's really hell.

"Who are these guys?" Cecilia said with a gloomy expression.

It's not that she can't beat these guys, because with the help of the domain's interference, Cecilia can already successfully perform Solomon's Seventy-Two Heavy Flame. According to Rilitha's reconnaissance, that force is good enough. But the strength of the members is not strong. It is not yet possible to threaten the powerhouses of the sanctuary-except that if Rilitha and others are trapped in the encirclement of the enemy's army, then they must pay the cost of casualties to break through.

"That's a viper." Angel's brows were furrowed, and the expression on her face looked more solemn than Cecilia's depression, "A legion worthy of being taken seriously."

"That is, at most, the trump card army equivalent to a top kingdom. It shouldn't be a big deal in your millennium empire?" Cecilia asked with some confusion, "If it is according to Sean, the army is the best. Most of them only have a quasi-sixth level of combat power, which can barely threaten the powerful in the lower sanctuary. But if you really fight it, you still can't keep the lower sanctuary strong, at least not enough threatening."

"Almost six?" Angel looked puzzled.

Seeing Angel's face blank. Cecilia's small face seemed a little smug, which made Angel a little bit unhappy, but because this theory was invented by Sean, Angel could only control her inner discomfort and put on a listener. situation. As for Cecilia, she can also satisfy her inner vanity and show off her close relationship with Sean. Naturally, she doesn't mind talking about Sean's theory with Angel.

This set of theory of Sean was naturally not invented by him himself, but was a comparison of strength provided to players in the original game.

Generally speaking, the sixth-level army is enough to threaten the lives of the lower sanctuary strong, while the seventh and eighth levels can even threaten the middle and even the upper sanctuary strong. Although the ninth-level army is the most powerful army in the world, the threat to the legendary powerhouse is not as great as the threat to the sanctuary powerhouse by the sixth, seventh, and eighth-level army. After all, the legendary powerhouses are truly standing. Existence at the pinnacle of this world.

It's just that if it's not necessary, the legendary powerhouse will generally not confront the ninth-level army head-on. After all, injuries are inevitable.

In this world, the only thing that can threaten the legendary powerhouse is the only tenth-level army of the Magi Empire-the Holy Puppet Legion.

Like the quasi-sixth-level army in front of us, called the "Viper", if it is transferred to a super-class kingdom, it will definitely be enough to become the top five army. It is usually not used in non-special circumstances. This is the definition of "ace". But for the seven empires, it's difficult for a regiment like the Viper to rank among the top five, especially in the Millennium Covenant Empire, the Chenas Empire, and the Emilia Empire. Empire of military capabilities.

"Do you use numerical classification to distinguish the combat effectiveness of the legion?" Angel nodded thoughtfully, "If it is based on the classification of Duke Shaun, then the Frost Legion under my command is probably the standard of the fifth level legion... ..Maybe better than the average fifth-level legion."

"What kind of viper army is this powerful?" Although Cecilia doesn't like Angel, it is only because Angel likes Sean. To be fair, Angel is indeed very good, compared to the traditional definition. As far as the geniuses are concerned, Angel can be regarded as the genius among the geniuses.

"The Viper Legion is a guard under the command of the Marquis of the Devil's Snake. Although the number is only about a thousand people, the combat effectiveness is very high, because it is said that the Marquis of the Devil's Snake trained this legion in the way of training dragon knights." For the Millennium. No one knows the military power and noble system within the Covenant Empire better than Angel, "With the same number of people, my Frost Legion is not an opponent of the Viper Legion. Especially in dense forest terrain like this. ...At least three thousand people are likely to win."

"Marquis of Devil Snake, do I remember that is not a nobleman in the southern part of the empire?" Cecilia said a little puzzled.

"There have always been rumors that he is a rebel party, but this time he did not participate in the empire's civil strife, but adopted a posture of watching the fire from the shore." Angel's voice seemed a little low. "But this is for the current situation in the empire. As long as the Marquis demon snake maintains a neutral attitude, it is enough. This is why there have been rumors that the Marquis of the demon snake is a rebel party, but the empire has not taken action against it. After all, the lack of evidence is on the one hand, and on the other hand, it is also not wanting to completely tear his face and push him to the camp of the rebel party."

"It's a complicated relationship." Cecilia shrugged, "There shouldn't be a strong combat unit in this army."

The last sentence. It was to Rui Lista and others who were in charge of investigating before.

"I don't dare to approach. But judging from our experience, there should be about one hundred to two hundred people." Rilitha replied, "There are a few more subtle auras that make me feel very scared, so we even Don't dare to get too close, you can only observe from a distance."

"It's a big deal." Rina gave a whistle, "If you dare to send so many living people in a place like the Sigh Forest, you are not afraid of attracting the abyss death knight? ... That thing is not easy to deal with."

"They are smart. They only go straight from the edge. They don't go too deep.... There must be a strong magician in their team."

As a magician, Cecilia can feel the breath of death in the entire forest. After all, this kind of breath is also a kind of magical power, so this is the reason why Cecilia and others can cleverly avoid the big troubles in the forest of sighs. It's not that they haven't encountered more advanced undead creatures before, but they have all been solved by Rena. Only those skeleton warriors and the like will let them go and let Rilitha and others practice their hands.

Sigh, the forest is much more dangerous than the rumors of the outside world.

"Their goal should also be the Rais team, just don't know..." Cecilia pondered for a moment, as if thinking about something, and then said, "...Is it the same as our goal? If each other If the goals are different, we may be able to join forces with each other."

"No!" Angel categorically rejected, "I will never cooperate with the Imperial Rebellion Party!"

Cecilia glanced at Angel. Originally, Angel thought they would have at least a fierce quarrel between them, and it was very likely that they would part ways. However, Cecilia nodded and agreed with Angel's words: "Okay, Since you are so persistent, then we won't cooperate.... But in this way, there will be two batches of enemies we need to deal with."

"In other words, do we need to find Reyce faster than these people?" Rina asked.

"That's right." Cecilia nodded, "Then next, we have to change our course of action."

As Cecilia's words fell, Angel probably already understood Cecilia's plan, but she only showed a slight hesitation between her brows, and then disappeared quickly, as if she decided not to object. Cecilia's actions. As for the others present, they are naturally even less likely to refute Cecilia's upcoming plan. After all, in terms of status and status, they were originally Cecilia's subordinates.

So, everyone quickly parted ways.

Rilitha and others, continue to search for the whereabouts of Reyce. They will leave distinguishing marks along the way for Cecilia and others to identify. Rena is responsible for the accompanying protection in case of special circumstances. And Cecilia, Angel, Kozilek, and Dini are responsible for intercepting the Viper Army's action team to ensure that they will not cause any trouble to Rilitha and others.

When Cecilia made this decision, Angel knew that Cecilia was going to make an all-out effort to solve this problem as quickly as possible. After all, this Viper Army has only about two hundred people. If it has a strong combat unit, then it may be able to bring some trouble to one of Dini, Cecilia, and Angel, but now With such a small amount of manpower, even without Kozilek, it would not be a threat to Cecilia and others.

Bringing Kozilek is also to prevent the emergence of certain accidents.

As far as tactics are concerned, Cecilia, like William, believes in the core idea of "the lion fights the rabbit, and also uses all its strength", which is different from Hela's practice of "using momentum to suppress others after forming a momentum". Of course, if you take a strategic vision, Hela is actually better, especially when Hela formulates a strategic policy. When William is responsible for the implementation of tactics, the cooperation of the two can be called the enemy's nightmare.

It's not difficult to find the action team of the Viper Legion, just follow the movement in the forest.

This is a very strangely equipped unit.

Most of the armors on their bodies are leather armor mixed with iron sheets. This kind of equipment can only be woven by hand, and the process is extremely cumbersome, so the cost is usually very expensive. A set of iron sheet leather armor with such a production process can basically buy a set of light armor, and its defensive ability is much higher than this kind of iron sheet leather armor, so this type of armor is rarely used when armaments are purchased.

Of course, compared to light armor, this iron sheet leather armor is undoubtedly much more flexible and has better air permeability, making it very suitable for use in some special terrain. And if there is any slight damage, this kind of leather armor can also be directly repaired on the spot, which is very suitable for wars of attrition and protracted wars.

However, at this time, Cecilia's eyes did not fall on these equipment, but on their standard weapons.

A military short bow-this kind of bow is a military bow modeled after a hunting bow. Its effective range is only 50 meters, but at this distance it has very strong penetrating power and is most suitable for use in the forest. In addition, there is a short knife, a round shield, and a short spear, which basically completely cover the three different attack capabilities of short, medium and long distances.

This is a regiment that is very good at jungle warfare.

It's no wonder that Angel said that in the jungle area, the Frost Legion under her command must be at least three times as likely as the opponent to win.

"They are resting now. This is our best opportunity to attack..." Cecilia approached cautiously, looking at the Viper Legion that was resting and resting, and then said in a low voice, "Angel and Tini, you guys. First, I made an ice wall to limit their range of activities, and then I focused on their crowd..."

"Oh oh oh, lady, you can't do this."

An old voice suddenly interrupted Cecilia's tactical arrangement.

The sudden voice shocked Cecilia.

She did not expect that someone could lurk to them but still not be discovered by them. This is not a good news—especially, after Cecilia saw Angel's face also become difficult to look. Without using the blood talent, Angel is slightly better than Cecilia in terms of personal strength, which means that Angel is stronger than Cecilia before she can stimulate all her abilities.

But even Angel did not notice the arrival of the enemy, which means that the enemy's strength is likely to be stronger than those of them.

Thinking of this, Cecilia turned her gaze to Kozilek again.

But he saw Kozilek looking at a dead tree in front of everyone-obviously the enemy was hiding there, and Kozilek had already spotted the opponent.

This result made Cecilia a little depressed, because Kozilek could give them a reminder so that they would not appear so passive. But considering that Kozilek is a super strong, and even Sean's orders may not be obeyed, Cecilia naturally can't say anything.

"Can you deal with him?" Cecilia took a small step back, and at the same time whispered to Kozilek.

"Yes." Kozilek nodded, but in the peripheral light that Cecilia couldn't see, a flash of excitement flashed in the eyes of Kozilek who was looking at the dead wood ahead.

"Who are you?" After receiving a clear answer from Kozilek, Cecilia calmed down.

However, this scene fell in the eyes of the other party, and it was obviously just a little girl pretending to be calm, because there was a burst of evil laughter in the forest. This voice had some slight magic fluctuations, which seemed to belong to a kind of soul energy type spiritual magic, because Cecilia and others felt a slight dizziness, which made everyone's hearts slightly horrified.

"It doesn't matter who I am. The important thing is..." It seems that I felt the horror in the hearts of everyone, and the voice that seemed to come from the void seemed a bit aggressive. "According to what you just said, the relationship between us seems to be Opposite, right?"

Cecilia did not answer, but she saw the soldiers of the Viper Legion who were resting and quickly stood up. Then quickly completed the assembly and began to disperse under the leadership of their respective captains. Some people continue to move forward. Apparently it was the appearance of Cecilia and others that disrupted their plan, forcing them to continue their pursuit immediately to prevent their target from escaping; however, a considerable number of soldiers entered the jungle to cooperate with the mysterious man. Surrounded all Cecilia and others.

"Now, it's my turn to ask, who are you!" The voice became magnificent and majestic, obviously using mental shock.

If it is an ordinary person. Was struck by this kind of mentally shocking attack. She was so frightened that she was peeing, and she was shivering on the ground. However, the people present are obviously not ordinary people, so they have not been shocked by this kind of mental shock. Cecilia has the Phoenix bloodline, which can be greatly immune to the shocking effects of the spirit; Angel's bloodline is not as powerful as Cecilia. , But her personal will has always been extremely firm; and Tini had already changed her beliefs once, and was burned by the fire without dying, and her spiritual resistance was naturally not low.

However, facing the mental shock of at least the legendary powerhouse. It is impossible to keep calm completely.

It's just that the faces of a few people are just pale, which still surprised the mysterious magician. He couldn't help but let out a soft voice.

"It's interesting." The magician's voice sounded again, "It seems that you are not ordinary people."

There was a black shadow slowly walking out from behind the dead tree-this man was wearing a round top hat and a pure black ground-reaching robe, as if he was showing the glory of the strong. Strong magical fluctuations.

Compared with the person in front of him, the magic fluctuations in Cecilia's body were so cryptic that there was almost no sense of existence. Even under the suppression of this magician, Cecilia's mental tentacles could not be extended at all, which made it difficult for her to compete with the magician in front of her even if she expanded the domain, let alone compete. At this moment, Cecilia and others can finally determine that this magician is definitely a real legendary powerhouse!

However, considering that the spiritual coercion of this legendary powerhouse is not particularly strong, Cecilia guessed that the opponent is likely to be a legendary powerhouse "made" through some special means-this type of legendary powerhouse is because of the quick success. The relationship between the general strength is weaker than the average legendary strong, and it will forever cut off the road to continue to rise and climb the strong. But in any case, after all, he is also a legendary powerhouse who has mastered the legendary ability. In addition, based on the insurmountable threshold between the sanctuary and the legend, when facing the sanctuary powerhouse, even this kind of legendary powerhouse is basically Can also be suppressed.

When she saw the middle-aged magician walk out of the darkness, Angel shrank her figure a little unnaturally, using Cecilia's posture to block her direct encounter with the other party. Seeing Angel's actions, Cecilia obviously realized something, so she took a step forward, so that her figure could better shield Angel who was hiding behind her-even though Cecilia and Angel There are indeed some contradictions, but it seems to Cecilia that it belongs to the contradiction between the two of them. When facing the dispute of foreign enemies like this, the discord between them can be completely ignored.

"Be careful, he is one of the confidants of the Marquis of the Devil's Snake, Rattlesnake Uba." Angel is also a smart person. Of course she knows what Cecilia is thinking when she sees Cecilia's actions. "There are three poisonous snakes under the Marquis of the Demon Snake, and this is one of them.... I didn't expect that even such a big person would appear. It seems that there must be something inside of Reyce that we don't know. "

"Regardless of this, the most important thing for us is to solve this guy as quickly as possible." Cecilia whispered, "He just divided a group of people to continue chasing after him. If this is the case, it is likely to be with Rui Lisi. There was an encounter with Ta and the others.... Fortunately, I let Rina follow Rilitha and the others, at least not to fall into any crisis."

"Dragon Knight... isn't it suitable for fighting in this kind of terrain." At the thought of Rina riding that huge earthwalking dragon fighting in the dense forest, Angel's face looked a little weird, "And with Rina's Strength. I'm afraid it's not much stronger than us, right?"

Dragon knights are extremely powerful in combat, but they also have requirements for the terrain environment-the more open the terrain, the more suitable for them to exert their combat effectiveness. On the contrary, in the jungle and other terrain, it is difficult for the dragon knights to fully exert their strength.

But Angel didn't know. Rina is not a real dragon knight.

Although she now has a Michael suit. But the weapon configuration is not the dragoon, but two knight war guns. Although this weapon will be affected to a certain extent in the jungle, at least it is not as affected as the dragoon. Of course, the other point besides this is that Angel doesn't know the true strength of Rena, she only knows that Rena is a strong man whose strength is no less than hers.

Same. She is also not clear about Kozilek's true strength. However, seeing that Cecilia can bring her by her side, her strength should never be weaker than her own, and it should be a special way to hide her aura so that she can hide her feelings. No matter how you think about it, no matter how big your brain is, Kozilek will never think that Kozilek will be a super power. After all, the establishment of the Void Principality is too short.

From the perspective of development history, it is a duchy with no foundation and accumulation-even if the miracle lord and the void Grand Duke Sean Connery have a brilliant record. Nor will it be regarded as the same thing by those superpowers. Because things like background can't be formed overnight. It takes a long time of accumulation to form, and even requires a certain degree of cohesion, centripetal force and other requirements.

"Rina is not an ordinary dragon knight." Cecilia replied softly, and then she didn't say much, because only she knew the horror of Rina.

Seeing Cecilia's steadfast expression, Angel didn't say anything, but focused on the battle now: "Since the rattlesnake is here, then the two dead men under his command must also be hidden in this group. Among the people... Those are his two fangs, but no one has seen their true identity."

When Angel said this, Cecilia naturally became serious.

Instead, it was Kozilek, his expression showing a bit of disdain. He indeed found two stronger presences in the enemy crowd than those soldiers, but these two men failed to attract Kozilek's attention. At least in the eyes of Kozilek, this so-called "fang" is nothing but a joke, and it is not comparable to the magician named Uba. However, considering the trouble that the two fangs may cause, Kozilek is still slightly different. A trace of attention is on these two people.

"Since several people are unwilling to reveal their identities, don't blame me for being rude." Seeing Cecilia and others have been whispering, this poisonous snake, known as the rattlesnake in the south of the Thousand-Year Empire, does not seem anxious. It's not irritable, it's completely confident, but his voice shows a bit of desire. Hopefully, he completely betrayed his heart, "But no matter how strong the will is, he will be in front of me for a while. Begging for mercy, especially women...hehe."

Cecilia looked at each other with a gloomy face, she had indescribable disgust in her heart.

The wave of magic power began to gather around Cecilia, especially the fire element, which became extraordinarily active. With Cecilia's current level of magic manipulation, it is undoubtedly very high, even if it is a general Sanctuary powerhouse, it is difficult to find the elemental magic that Cecilia is secretly mobilizing. However, this method, just like Uba's previous mental deterrence was ineffective to Cecilia and others, almost the traces of magical changes appeared, Uba had already sensed it thoroughly.

I saw Uba grinningly, and then suddenly moved his hands. He did not see any special movements, but the surrounding space seemed to have a strange vibration. The air seemed to be surging in the air. This airflow quickly completely changed the surrounding air environment. The originally humid and cold air started to appear a little dry when the fire element became abnormally active, but now This feeling of dryness and scorching heat also disappeared, replaced by a calmness.

is not the calm before the storm, but a kind of true tranquility and peace, the illusion that can make people feel relaxed-if it is not for the strong mental power fluctuations in the air that almost turn into substance.

Cecilia's face suddenly turned white, bloodshot overflowed from the corners of her mouth, and her whole person became swayed and staggered. If it hadn't been for Angelia to step forward and support Cecilia in the first time, I'm afraid Cecilia would have collapsed to the ground at this time.

"Are you all right?" Angel hurriedly asked.

"Expelling the fire element!?" Cecilia did not answer Angel's words, but looked at the magician in shock, "This legendary ability cannot appear...No, you are not a magician! You are a magic breaker !"

"Hehe, I never said that I was a magician, my little girl." The middle-aged man dressed up in spells smiled triumphantly, "And the name Demon Breaker, for me It's not very vivid either.... My rank is called the "Secret Sword Breaker". What you saw just now is my legendary ability, elemental rejection, which is a special ability that is more advanced than elemental exorcism. So in front of me, you have no chance of winning."

Cecilia wiped away the blood that overflowed from the corners of her mouth, and after a cold snort, she stood up firmly-although in the state of magic resonance just now, Cecilia was affected by some magic shock backlash, but This will not completely make Cecilia lose the ability to fight, but on the contrary it arouses her victory. Without waiting for the other party to speak again, Cecilia squeezed her hands and drank it suddenly. Her hair completely turned fiery red in an instant, and her eyes and pupils also turned bright red, and there was even a faint flame burning.

This is the sign that Cecilia has completely awakened her blood!

In the palms of both hands, two clusters of flames suddenly appeared, and their burning vigorously was like throwing a gasoline barrel into a campfire. Immediately afterwards, Cecilia shook her hands abruptly, and at the same time pinched out the two flames in her palms-but this was not a real extinguishment, but a special method similar to energy conversion, seventy-two flowers. Flames emerged from Cecilia's side one by one, forming a circle around Cecilia, moving slowly according to a certain pattern.

The feeling of is quite shocking.

Even Uba, who claims to be a magic-breaking secret swordsman, looked at Cecilia with a surprised look. It's just that if you look closely, you can find that Uba's eyes are extremely jealous.

"This is..." Angel said in shock.

"Mystery of Blood Vessels!" Before Cecilia could answer, Uba had already spoken first, "I have already rejected all the elements in this area. It is impossible for her to display any elemental magic.... ...But now there are flames born here, so there is only one explanation. These flames are the most primitive and pure original fires, inspired by the unique ability hidden in the bloodline as a price."

"Hmph, it seems that you have a high degree of understanding of the power of bloodline." Cecilia said coldly, "Yes, this is my bloodline secret technique, Solomon's 72 Heavy Flame, it was born from fire. The purest original fire on the elemental plane does not belong to the fire element."

As Cecilia's left hand moved slightly, these seventy-two flames were soon automatically divided into two parts in mid-air, and then regrouped into a pair of wings attached to Cecilia's back, but Cecilia's clothes were not burned, nor did they cause any harm to others. And when the pair of flame wings were attached, Cecilia's right hand moved slightly again, and twelve flames separated from the wings, and then condensed into twelve muskets about one meter long in the air. To Uba.

"Solomon's twelve heavy flames, burning magic spear!"

Chapter 489: .The game is over

Twelve flame guns nearly a meter long suspended in mid-air, emitting extremely high temperatures, as if to completely ignite the entire surrounding space.

"Very interesting little technique." Wuba looked at the twelve flame guns, with a sneer at the corners of his mouth, "But, do you think this can pose a threat to me? Hehe, then you really underestimated me.... Even if my legendary ability cannot affect your bloodline secret art, my rank as a lawbreaker specifically restrains people like you."

"Are you sure, is this aimed at you?" Cecilia asked rhetorically.

Uba raised his eyebrows, then his face suddenly changed, and the whole person immediately flew towards Cecilia.

The distance between the two sides is not even 20 meters. At this distance, it is extremely dangerous for a magician to face a surprise attack by a legendary powerhouse of the melee type. Especially the opponent is a professional who breaks the law. If it is a general melee professional, then the magician may still be able to use some magic to intercept, thereby slowing down the opponent's rush speed, creating more fighting space for himself, but facing the magic-breaking profession with certain magic resistance. However, this is really helpless.

However, Uba's full advance did not succeed, and he was intercepted almost at the same time as he moved slightly.

And the person who intercepted him was Angel.

At the moment Uba moved, Angel's hands had already been slapped on the ground, and she shouted in a deep voice, "Permafrost!"

In an instant, a large white mist filled the ground without warning, and the mist soon caused a piece of ice that was thick enough to be called thick to freeze out on the ground. It seems that even if the wind enters this white misty space, it will be completely frozen, not to mention Uba who plunged into this white mist unsuspectingly-he was almost breaking into this area. At the same time, he immediately let out an angry roar: "Permafrost!...Her Royal Highness Princess Angel!"

It's too late to say, it's fast then.

While Uba broke into the white mist, Cecilia also launched an attack.

"shoot!"

Accompanied by Cecilia's roar. The twelve flame guns suspended in mid-air immediately shot out in all directions.

Judging from the firing power of the flame gun, it is like some strongman is throwing this short gun. I am afraid that even heavy armor can completely penetrate it within a hundred meters.

The Viper Legion soldiers who surrounded Cecilia and others did not expect to encounter an attack at this time, so when the flame gun was thrown at them. Many people didn't even react at all. They were directly penetrated by these flame guns and turned into human-shaped torches. The most frightening thing is that these flames are extremely viscous and contagious. Several soldiers who were thinking about rescue at first helped put out the fire, and a few clusters of flames jumped on them, igniting them into human-shaped torches.

Along with the fall of the Viper Corps soldiers, the two fangs hidden in the dense forest were finally exposed uncontrollably.

I saw two black figures suddenly attacking Cecilia from the left and right. Its speed is not much weaker than the average assassin.

If there is no reminder from Angel before. I am afraid that Cecilia will inevitably be severely injured by these two fangs, but after Angel's reminder, Cecilia will obviously not make such a low-level mistake. What's more, Dini, a priest with a knife, stood by. With her swordsmanship and reaction ability, she would naturally not let these mice hiding in dark corners easily succeed.

Therefore, only a whisper of the sword was unsheathed—almost as soon as Dini drew the sword out of the sheath, several rays of light flashed on Dini one after another in an orderly manner. These are all the blessing magic techniques she blessed for herself in advance, and at this time they are just transforming them from the hidden state to the activated state.

Follow. Dini greeted the two assassins who were trying to sneak attack.

Although Dini's strength is only in the lower sanctuary, if she is regarded as a general lower sanctuary powerhouse, then her enemies will probably eat hatred for it. Not to mention the powerful combat power of the priest with the sword, the endless blessings of divine arts alone are enough to make her face many powerful people of the same level, even if it is the body of the lower sanctuary against the upper sanctuary. It is not impossible.

What's more, the two famous fangs of the rattlesnake. Uba's command are only the powerhouses of the upper golden peak. Perhaps they are much more powerful than the general upper-level golden peak powerhouses, but they have already stepped into the sanctuary. As far as Dini was concerned, it was obviously still not enough.

I saw a sword shadow suddenly flashing in the mid-air, and the icy blue brilliance seemed to burst like a bright starry sky in the night, easily blocking the attack of the two killers.

"Solomon's Reigning Flame. The Twin Snakes of Flame!"

From Cecilia's pair of wings, each flew a flame and shot into the air.

The speed of these two flames was extremely fast, they met each other in mid-air in the blink of an eye, but they did not merge into one, but they continued to fly forward, but they swirled with each other. Accompanied by the entanglement of the rotating spiral, two creatures that looked like giant pythons emerged in the air, appearing extremely ferocious and ferocious, and swept towards the positions of the two assassins.

At this time, it happened that two assassins had just been pushed back by Dini's sword, and they were planning to continue their counterattack. Seeing these two fiery snakes approaching fiercely, the expressions of the two assassins were slightly drunk, but they did not choose to retreat, but put on a defensive counterattack posture, ready to detonate the fiery snake in mid-air with skill and vindictiveness. Avoid hurting yourself.

"That is the original fire of the world! Don't get close to those flames!"

Suddenly, an angry shout came out from the white mist covered by the permafrost.

Hearing the roar, the two killers hurriedly moved away from the two fire snakes, but they did not expect that the two fire snakes could still track them. After an evasive killer was entangled by the fire snakes, he was directly caught and burned to ashes. Although the other assassin was also unfortunately recruited, he was much more decisive than his companion. Without hesitation, he swiped his sword and cut off his left hand directly.

Seeing that the two strong men under Uba's command were hit hard by this, the soldiers who tried to carry out the second round of fire fighting were naturally deterred, and they did not dare to approach the soldiers who were still rolling on the ground and howling. They were obviously terrified. I became one of them.

And accompanied by this roar sounded. A bright brilliance suddenly burst out from the white mist, turning into a beam of light about four or five meters thick and rushing straight into the sky. Under the impact of this terrifying beam of light as strong as thunder and lightning, Angel's face suddenly turned white, the blood on her face faded completely, and a mouthful of blood was sprayed directly. Staggered several steps and fell to the ground. It was obvious that he couldn't stand up for a while.

And that piece of white mist, which seemed to be enough to freeze all space and time, was also completely shredded under the impact of the beam of light.

Standing in the beam of light, it was Uba who had changed the cold and wretched image before.

At this time, Uba really stood in the field like the return of the  of war. The ground-reaching wizard's robe that was originally draped on his body has been lifted by him, revealing a set of delicate silver-white light armor inside, with extremely complicated carvings on it. Bronzing pattern. These patterns are obviously not just decorations. Because at this time, these patterns all glowed with a faint golden light, which blessed Uba with a special defensive effect.

He is holding a long sword in his right hand, with barbs and serrations on the tip of the sword, and three blood grooves on the upper end. It is not difficult to imagine that if a weak magician is stabbed or slashed by this weapon, I am afraid that Uba does not need to make another shot, it is enough to make this magician hate on the spot.

In this situation where the grudge broke out completely, Uba's eyes stared at Angel tightly. But he did not look at Cecilia again: "It turns out that Her Royal Highness Angel was among them. This is an unexpected harvest of my trip.... There is exactly something I want to ask Her Royal Highness. I also ask Her Royal Highness to accompany us. Let's take a trip."

"Do you dare!" Although Angel's face was pale, her will was extremely firm after all, so she forced her severe headache down and stared at Uba coldly.

At this moment, a light shining with stars suddenly flashed from Angel's body.

The sudden cold breath not only weakened Angel's headache, but also made her calmer. She had not suffered any trauma, but in fact, if the bloodline secret technique is broken, it will bring more blood to the bloodliner. Dangerous mental trauma, many talented people who have awakened the bloodline after the bloodline occult technique is broken, many become idiots or irrational killing creatures because they can't bear this mental trauma.

But fortunately, Angel is not like that.

"Thank you." Angel said in a low voice.

Uba's eyes narrowed slightly, and his gaze fell on Dini who was standing a little later, with a cold expression: "Ice and Snow Magic? Priest with a knife?..." At this point, Uba's gaze shifted to Dini. Cecilia's body, then suddenly let out a burst of laughter: "Hahahahahaha! I know who you are! This action is simply a good harvest! I didn't expect that the goddess of luck would actually care for me so much! ... Void Miss Cecilia Connery of the Principality, do you know how many people in the Thousand-Year Empire want you? Unexpectedly, you dare to step in here."

Cecilia looked at Uba coldly, with a slight contempt in her voice: "Just you, want to catch us?"

"Yes, just rely on me." Uba's face still has a look of ecstasy, and it seems that he doesn't care about Cecilia's ridicule. "Three strong sanctuary, do you think you can handle me? ... Originally based on my character, it should be for you to see the gap between us with your own eyes, but it is a pity that the task this time is too important, so I won't allow me to make any mistakes."

Speaking of this, Uba frowned slightly. He glanced around the battlefield and looked at the soldiers who were still howling.

The next moment, Uba suddenly waved his hand, as if a string was plucked in the air, and all the soldiers who were still screaming suddenly burst open at their necks. But what horrified the soldiers present was that the carotid artery spewed out of blood instead of blood, but turned into fiery red flames. However, at least everyone was completely suffocated because of this action, and no longer had to endure the pain of being burned by the original fire.

"Very subtle technique." Cecilia's expression was weak, and she raised her hand to retract the fourteen Solomon Flames, "create blank spots on their bodies, and immediately repel them after attracting the condensation of the elements to crush them. The elements thus form a blast... there are already some prototypes of the laws of space."

"You have a very deep understanding of the law, what an enviable talent." Uba laughed, but his tone was completely insensible, but rather cold, "but don't worry, wait. After I bring you back, I will definitely study you carefully." At this point, Uba suddenly raised his right hand, and there was a rustling noise in the dense forest. It turned out to be the hidden vipers. Legionnaires began to reveal: "Second Killing Array."

Suddenly, all the Viper Legion soldiers took off their short bows, and then aimed their arrows at Cecilia and others.

Dozens of cold murderous intentions fell on Cecilia and others, and gradually converged into a murderous aura that was enough to make Cecilia and others' skin a slight tingling sensation—although this was not enough to threaten Cecilia. The lives of Leah and others, but the tingling sensation on the skin also showed that the attacks of these Viper Legion soldiers still have a certain amount of damage, rather than being completely ignored.

"The game, it's time to end." Uba gave a grin, then took a step forward.

'S aura suddenly burst out, and the true power of being a legendary powerhouse finally burst out completely at this moment without reservation.

"It is indeed time to end." Cecilia glanced around, her face so calm that Uba felt uncomfortable.

Only Angel's reaction was more like a normal person—there was a trace of unshakable sadness between her eyebrows, but her eyes were the kind of firm will that would rather die than surrender.

Kozilek took a step forward and stood in front of everyone.

Uba looked at Kozilek who suddenly stood in front of the crowd. He was taken aback for a moment, but he didn't feel any breath from Kozilek, and immediately let out a wild laugh: "End? Haha! If this is what you call the end, Well then, I will start with this kid first, and solve you one by one, haha!"

After that, Uba's figure suddenly disappeared from everyone's sight, and only the fading shadow remained in place.

Afterimage!

Uba's speed has obviously surpassed the naked eye catching ability of all the people present. This speed is absolutely dangerous for a magician. Even if a legendary powerhouse does not take precautions, it is easy to be caught. It was solved with one blow, not to mention those Cecilia who had not yet stepped into the realm of legend. As for the soldiers of the Viper Legion, after seeing the afterimage of Uba fade away, everyone's heart revealed the idea that the outcome was determined.

Only the next moment, a roar suddenly made everyone in a state of confusion-even Angel.

In the sight of all the Viper Legion soldiers, Cecilia, Angel, Dini, and Kozilek still stood there, but their leader, Rattlesnake Uba, was missing. And the series of roaring and blasting noises originated from behind the place where Uba was originally standing: it was the sound of at least ten big trees bursting and collapsing from it.

Huh? What happened? ——This is the only thought in everyone's mind at this time.

Chapter 490: .One-sided situation

In the already very silent forest of sighs, there was even more incredible silence.

At this moment, it seems that even the sound of the breeze can be heard clearly.

Everyone's eyes looked along the place where the big tree collapsed, and they suddenly found that it was a blank long mark tens of meters long—all the trees along the way were left with stumps about one meter high. These big trees were subjected to extremely strong impacts which caused the tree body to burst directly. The direction that dozens of giant trees fell to the ground was towards Cecilia and others. This information clearly showed that someone was completely knocked out from the front by Cecilia and others just now.

Among the people present, only the legendary powerhouse, Rattlesnake Uba, launched an attack on Cecilia and others just now.

This result is naturally obvious.

Just, maybe no one wants to believe it.

A legendary powerhouse was actually knocked out by several sanctuary powerhouses?

The soldiers of the Viper Legion would rather believe that the sun this morning is rising from the west.

"This is impossible!"

However, an angry roar completely shattered all the rumors that the Viper Legion would rather believe that the sun rises from the west.

I saw a sound of explosion among several disorderly overlapping and collapsed trees, as if they were venting some resentment. All the dead wood was blasted into countless fine wood chips, flying all over the sky like a dust storm that was about to come. Uba got up from the ground with a  face. The delicate light armor on his body was already covered with cracks, especially in the middle of the breastplate. The cracks were particularly obvious, almost completely shattering the entire light armor.

Because of the damage of the breastplate, the bronzing magic pattern on his body was broken, and certain blessing spells reinforced on this light armor naturally failed.

At this time, Uba is not as awe-inspiring as the  of war a few minutes ago. It's more like a bereaved dog.

"Legend? No... if it's just a legend, it's impossible... Could it be the pinnacle of the legend?" Uba's eyes showed a hint of astonishment, "Who are you?...Unexpectedly, Princess Angel is really good. Means. Unconsciously, such a person was caught. Even I almost died in this scam."

Angel looked at Kozilek in a daze. She didn't expect that this little guy who seemed to know nothing but eating was such a terrifying powerhouse. Even the famous rattlesnakes in the southern aristocratic circle of the empire would be so relaxed. solve. But thinking of this, Angel's heart couldn't calm down even more, because Kozilek was not a follower he caught, as Uba said, but a person from the Void Principality.

in other words. The Principality of the Void has been established only three years ago. There is actually a legend, and even the legendary peak powerhouse is in charge.

Angel found that she really couldn't see through Sean—and before that, Angel felt that her data collection for Sean should have been perfect, except for the blank history before Sean appeared in the Kingdom of Lane. . All this is why Angel feels that she is the most suitable candidate for Sean's marriage. She has even made a series of preparations to convince Sean, one of which is that she can make the Void Principality a super-class kingdom.

However, judging from the current situation, it seems that the Void Principality can become a super-class kingdom even without its own assistance.

certainly. Angel did not know that the ambition of the Void Principality was much greater than she could imagine.

"I was deceived by you! I thought you didn't know anything. I didn't expect..."

Ubana's angry roar interrupted Angel's thoughts because Kozilek was a legendary powerhouse. When she came back to her senses, she found that Cecilia was already trying to make a routine. It was obvious that the secret transfer of Reyce from the Millennium Empire this time definitely hides some important internal information, but whether it is Angel or Cecilia, obviously. I don't know these inside information, and the only person who knows it at the moment is probably the legendary strong Uba in front of him.

"Of course we know many things, but some details are not yet understood, so... can you please explain to us." Cecilia said with a smile on his face, "We will be very grateful."

Uba's expression seemed a little uncertain, but soon, as if he had made some major decision, he said, "I will tell what I know, can you agree to let me and my men leave? "

"Of course." Cecilia smiled and nodded, and at the same time stretched out her hand to press on Kozilek's shoulder, she keenly noticed that Kozilek looked a little dissatisfied and impatient, and she was afraid that Kozilek suddenly refused to follow the instructions to take action, then it is very likely to be. Missed some information content.

Kozilek naturally felt unusually dissatisfied with Cecilia reaching out to stop her behavior. Not only did this not comfort him, but it made Kozilek appear more manic. So Cecilia had to take out some sweets from her body to appease Kozilek, but even so, it could not completely suppress Kozilek's inner mania, at most it can only be said to be slightly restrained.

Uba's pupils shrank slightly, and then as if struggling, his voice said with a bit of sorrow: "Well, I will take everything I know..."

Uba deliberately stretched the ending sound, and the expression on his face was very painful. This was enough to arouse the curiosity of everyone present, and of course, his vigilance would inevitably be slightly relaxed. However, after a heartbeat time, Cecilia and others did not wait for Uba's information. Instead, they heard Uba's murderous cry: "Kill!"

Almost at the moment when this sentence was finished, all the soldiers of the Viper Legion did not hesitate to let go of their arrows, shooting those arrows towards Cecilia and others. A intensive shooting of hundreds of arrows at a distance of more than 30 meters, the picture is really like standing in a field facing a group of locusts flying in, it makes people feel a heart palpitation from the depths of the soul panic.

"Ice barrier!"

"Permafrost!"

Dini and Angel shot at the same time-the former made a light white translucent halo shield with three people as the core. This magical shield can absorb the magical damage of ice and fire by itself, and it is very effective for most Long-range physical attack methods also have a certain slowing effect; and the latter's permafrost has already proved its effect and effect when dealing with Uba.

The emergence of these two spells is very rapid, not much slower than the arrows, but because the timing of launching is a bit slower than the timing of the attack ordered by Uba, it is impossible to completely stop those arrows by relying on the frozen ice area alone. . But making these arrows covered with a layer of frost is not a problem at all.

The arrow that was affected by the permafrost ice region became heavier and slowed down the flight speed and penetrating power. After passing through the shield of the ice barrier, it has completely lost its accuracy and lethality. Many arrows are almost the same. After passing through the barrier, they fell to the ground one after another, and only a few of them were still fighting alone like tenacious heroes. Trying to touch Cecilia and others. But the lethality is completely conceivable.

You don't even need to evade at all. You can easily shoot these arrows off with just one swipe.

It's just that Cecilia and others didn't take the risk, because in the end there was the last protection Cecilia was responsible for—the pair of flame wings behind her were completely scattered, turning into a circle of fire, and then from Celia swung away. When all the flames were about to touch Dini and Angel, they bypassed the two as if they had self-consciousness. Then they greeted all the arrows that still had room to move on.

These are just arrows made from ordinary logs and iron ore. It is impossible to stop the original fire from the natural fire of Cecilia's bloodline.

In an instant, all the arrows turned into ashes.

However, Cecilia's attack obviously did not stop because of this: "Solomon's 72 Heavy Flame, burn it out!"

Seventy-two flames turned into sharp arrows in an instant, and shot them at the Viper Legion soldiers who had completely exposed their body as a result of the attack.

is clearly an arrow shaped by flames, but both its power and speed are sharper and more terrifying than the arrows shot by the soldiers of the Viper Legion. There was hardly any struggle, and all the Viper Legion soldiers who remained here turned into human-shaped torches, and they could only take their last breath in the pain of howls.

"Let him run!" Dini glanced at the empty field. Then he said in a deep voice.

"He can't run." Cecilia said lightly, "Kozilek will take care of him."

"That child..." Angel looked like she was hesitant to speak. It's easy for Cecilia to realize her thoughts at this time. After all, both of them are very smart women, and often one expression or action is enough to express a lot of information.

Cecilia shook her head slightly, stopping what Angel wanted to say. The latter was naturally very smart and did not speak again, because she knew that the relationship between herself and Sean, or the Void Duchy, was not good enough to know the secret of Kozilek's existence. If it is a change of ordinary people, you should worry about whether you will be silenced at this moment, but Angel knows very well that she will not be silenced at present. As for the future, that is the future that no one can say.

"We should rush over now to support Rena and the others." Cecilia said softly.

So, Cecilia, Angel, and Dini immediately followed the trace left by Rilitha to catch up.

On the other side, Uba, who abandoned his subordinates and fled, has no intention of fighting at this moment.

He knows his strength, maybe his talent is not bad, especially when he pretends to be a magician, he can always make many people think that he broke through to the legendary realm by forcibly upgrading the ranks through special methods, which will make many people because of this. And commit the mistake of underestimating the enemy. For a long time, he used this method to solve some hidden enemies for the Marquis of Demon Snake.

But today, he knew that he was completely impossible to win the strong man who seemed to be just a child.

His current strength is almost about to break through to the thirteenth rank. Compared with the realm of the twelfth rank, which can be called a legendary powerhouse, the strongman who breaks through to the thirteenth rank can truly be called a "legendary." Because the breakthrough after the legendary realm is not the same as the previous realm improvement, after every improvement, some ability enhancements can be obtained. After the legendary realm, the benefit of each realm breakthrough is to obtain a new legendary ability, or to strengthen the legendary ability that one has already possessed.

The legendary ability obtained by Uba is "element rejection", which can repel all the elements within a certain area. This ability is very effective for elemental magic, and can even be immune to elemental magic attacks. And Uba, who is approaching the critical point of the thirteenth order, has already touched the edge of the law of space, which let him know that once he can break through to the thirteenth order realm. Then his legendary ability is likely to evolve into "magic rejection".

At that time, not to mention the real magic immunity, but a large degree of magic immunity can still be achieved.

In a sense, Uba has great potential.

But now, this is also a famous figure in the southern aristocratic faction of the Millennium Covenant Empire. But ran away like a bereaved dog.

Only because he knew. The moment he was confronted with the opponent just now, he was completely suppressed-no matter whether it was the legendary ability, his own domain, strength, or speed, none of them could win the opponent at all.

Listening to the screams coming from behind, Uba's face looked very ugly.

It's just this ugly, and it quickly turns into horror.

Because there is a slight sound of footsteps behind him, it means that his enemy has caught up. And there is only one possibility to keep up with his speed.

"You quickly go back and report to the Lord Marquis. Princess Angel has a strong man at the pinnacle of legend!" Uba solemnly shouted to the follower with a severed arm. "The power of the imperial family is even stronger than we thought, so Master Marquis must continue to endure it anyway! At least, until he has enough power, he can't turn his face with the emperor!"

"My lord, then you..."

"I can't go!" After saying this, Uba stopped escaping, but turned to face Kozilek who was chasing from behind, "You go! I can help you delay at least five minutes. !...In any case. You must go back alive and report to the Lord Marquis!"

The assassin with his broken arm looked at Uba's back, a trace of struggle flashed across his face. But soon he turned around and left quickly. Because he knew that in the battlefield of the legendary powerhouse, with his meager strength, it was impossible to help anything at all, and he didn't even have the value of being a cannon fodder. His only value at this time is to bring this clue information back to the Marquis of Demon Snake.

Looking at the follower's departure, Uba took a deep breath, and then stopped in front of Kozilek: "I won't let you pass easily!"

Kozilek watched Uba, who had been desperately running away, suddenly stopped and stopped in front of him. This behavior made him very curious. In Kozilek's view, it was as if the food that ran away suddenly jumped into his mouth. So he just glanced at the killer who was quickly fleeing the battlefield, and then chose to ignore it completely, because in Kozilek's view, Uba was obviously more delicious.

As for the prevention of information leakage or other things, Kozilek is not in the scope of consideration at all.

But Uba didn't know this.

He watched Kozilek stop and did not pursue his followers, which made a trace of luck suddenly appear in his desperate heart. As a result, he quickly recalled what Cecilia had done to Kozilek before, which made him think that Kozilek was probably just a guest hired by the other party, rather than a follower who really obeyed Angel and others: "Do you want sweets? I can satisfy you! As long as you are willing to work for the adults behind me, we can assure you..."

Without continuing to listen to Uba's nonsense, Kozilek's face showed a bit of excitement and distortion, and then he rushed to Uba's face.

However, unlike the previous situation, this time Kozilek was holding his huge epee tightly in his right hand.

Split with one sword!

Uba who hurriedly responded was bombarded by this heavy force, and fell directly to the ground. More than a dozen cracks appeared on his body, and blood spewed frantically from these wounds. However, compared to these scars that can be regarded as skin trauma, the impact on Uba's internal organs is more intense, almost directly shaking the internal organs completely-this is almost impossible to appear on the legendary powerhouse. And it didn't stop there. The moment he fell to his knees, the sound of broken bones and the sharp pain made Uba understand that the knee bones of his knees had been completely shattered.

too strong!

Uba's eyes were filled with shock and fear: "You...you are not the pinnacle of the legend, you...you are..."

The four words "super strong" can no longer be said from Uba's mouth.

Because Kozilek had already slapped Uba's head suddenly, his head burst completely like a watermelon that had been smashed into pieces. However, all the life force in this body was completely absorbed and swallowed by Kozilek's palm.

The next moment, Kozilek's face showed a satisfying color.

It's just that Kozilek didn't wait for Kozilek to start reminiscing about the deliciousness of this powerful fire of life, his face became solemn, but what is even more unbelievable is that Kozilek actually put on a defensive posture against a shadowed corner. ——This is the first time Kozilek has assumed such a passive defensive posture since he came to this world. Before that, even if he was directly involved in the battle of fate and faced a slightly stronger opponent than himself, Kozilek had not shown such a solemn and cautious color.

"What a vigilant little guy."

A voice sounded from the shadow corner, and then a black shadow was suddenly thrown out of it, flying towards Kozilek!
