

Lord of War Vol 4-131

Chapter 131: .Not a beautiful encounter

The powerful prince rank powerhouse, came to the front of Xiao En and others in an instant.

But just like the astonishment on Sean's face, the dark elf commander who was in charge of leading the team also showed a hint of astonishment, but this astonishment quickly turned into a color of joy.

"Lord Roty Kabas!" The dark elf commander greeted him ecstatically, and then respectfully saluted the dark elf prince in front of him.

Yes, the powerful dark elven prince who appeared in front of Sean at this moment was Roti Kabas Botton, who was collected by Sean when he was assassinated by the Sené noble faction in the Kingdom of Line. The lost knight of the river of immortality.

Of course, nowadays, perhaps it should be called a knight of choice.

The Lost Knight is an inheritance class unique to the subterranean world. It has a system completely independent of all classes. Anyone who inherits this professional inheritance must go to the surface world to find the remains of the riding god-it is the legendary temple built by the gods in the dawn of dawn, but eventually disappeared in the world due to the battle of the gods at dusk. .

But no one knows the truth.

The only thing that knows about this job is that once the lost knights who have accepted the inheritance find the relics of the riding  and complete the professional inheritance, then they can gain extremely powerful power. According to rumors, this power is bestowed by the gods, and therefore it is called the chosen by the gods-it means chosen by the gods, but in view of the extremely high nature requirements of these chosen ones, it is very consistent. Today's definition of the term "knight" has led to the term "chosen knight".

According to rumors, there are now only six relics of the chosen knight.

There will be several candidates for each ruin—that is, the Lost Knights, but these people are competitors. Once one of them becomes the chosen one, the other candidates in the same ruin will be completely lost. Inheritance, reduced to a guard.

This loss of eligibility to run is more than just saying that they cannot be chosen by the gods. In the face of the chosen ones who have inherited the ruins, they must unconditionally obey the orders, and they must not even do harm to the chosen ones. Things.

Rorty Kabas looked at the twenty or so dark elves in front of him with a smile. His expression was easy-going, and he did not show unparalleled arrogance just because he became a high-ranking person or a powerful person—perhaps, this is a characteristic unique to the Reform Party. But in any case, Rorty Kabas at this moment, behaves the same as the Rorty Kabas in Sean's impression.

When the dark elf commander and Rorty Kabas reported on the mission, Sean did not go up and interrupt, and Kane would not rush forward.

The underground world has an extremely obvious class system. Facing a prince, Kane didn't want to find himself unhappy, so he chose to stand behind Sean very wisely.

"Friends, thank you very much for your assistance." After listening to the dark elf's report, Rorty Kabas quickly walked towards the position of Sean and Kane, and took the lead in sending the sincere and enthusiastic ones. Greetings, "If it weren't for you, I'm afraid this matter will become quite troublesome.... Even if I do it myself..."

Rorti Kabas hadn't finished speaking, and there was a ghostly look on his face.

Because of Sean, the silver scales that had been covering his face have completely returned to his body, revealing his true colors.

"Shaw...Shaw..." Rorty Kabas's expression was obviously unusually uncomfortable.

"My name is Zorro now." Sean said with a smile, but after making this simple introduction, a mask made of silver scales appeared on his face, "It's not a good habit to leave without saying goodbye. , Rorty."

Rorty Kabas, when he was on the surface, he was affectionately called Rorty, of course, some people called him Ross. But most people, including Sean, Cecilia, and others, like to make him Rorty, a slightly nasty name. Of course, Rorty Kabas resisted at first, but after the protest was invalid, he stopped struggling. After all, he himself was also a person with a lot of evil tastes.

This can be seen from the fact that he often molested Harding.

However, compared to Sean who was so familiar and natural to say hello to Rorty Kabas, those around him didn't come forward just now, so that they couldn't hear the conversation between the two at first, just heard the sentence said by Sean "When Rorty", the faces of all the dark elves looked strange.

Many of them even showed sympathy on their faces, as if they had seen Sean's end about to be torn apart by Rorty Kabas.

Dark elves are a very typical matriarchal social structure.

In this group, the status of female dark elves is naturally higher than that of men, so the space for getting promotion and salary increases is naturally larger and easier. Under the same circumstances, male dark elves need to pay three times or even more effort and price to obtain the status of female dark elves.

Of course, this is just a kind of cognitive common sense, and in some cases there are naturally exceptions.

is like Rorty Kabas, who has achieved unprecedented results-becoming a knight of choice, so his current position in the Dark Elf Reform Party can be said to be second only to a few elders and patriarchs. Under such circumstances, a slightly more normal person would not call Rorty Kabas Rorty, but would choose a more "masculine" nickname: Rose.

At least, for the moment, calling Rorty Kabas as Rorty is more like a scornful name.

"Ahem..." Rorty Kabas gave a lightly awkward cough, "I hope you can call me Rose."

"Okay, Rorty." Sean smiled and nodded.

Many people around him looked at Sean no longer sympathetic and weird, but with a kind of anger.

Because they felt that Sean was provocative.

Sean quickly felt the malicious gazes around him looking at him. His perception was not weak, so he couldn't help but laughed: "I didn't expect your popularity to be quite high, Rorty."

Several people eagerly prepared to come up and teach Sean a lesson.

But these people have not yet paid for their actions, they have been stopped by Rorty Kabas. Many people looked at Rorty Kabas with puzzled faces. They didn't understand why the most outstanding and powerful leader of the Reform Party would stop them. Only Kane curled his lips with disdain-different. For the others, Kane, who had been standing next to Sean, could clearly hear Sean's words "I am called Zorro now."

This let Kane know that Sean had known Rorty Kabas a long time ago.

Then contacted Sean as a surface man, said before that Rorty Kabas left without saying goodbye and Rorty Kabas was a lost knight, these clues let Kane know a fact. It's just that Kane knows very well what he can ask about, and what he can't ask about, so he is happy to pretend to be a fool.

After waving his hand to let the surrounding dark elves start cleaning the battlefield and preparing to evacuate, Rorty Kabas opened his mouth to Sean-he was too lazy to continue entangled with Sean about the names "Rorty" and "Rose". , Because he knows how bad Sean's character is: "I left without saying goodbye for a reason.... At that time, I found the black * ruins and was sent back after completing the inheritance, so I can't blame me for this. ."

The ruins of the riding god, it is said that there were twelve in total at the beginning, each represented by twelve colors. However, with the outbreak of the war of the Twilight of the Gods, the twelve temples of the Chosen have all been damaged to varying degrees. It can be directly confirmed that there are six temples of the Chosen that have been destroyed in the Twilight of the Gods and the Age of Ashes. Lots of seats. Whether the remaining six temples still exist or not is simply an unknown mystery. It is precisely because of this that many lost knights go to the surface to find the remains of these six riding gods.

But so far, only Rorty Kabas has been lucky enough to find it.

The temple of black, not to mention the remaining six horse gods, even the twelve temples of the gods back then, can definitely be ranked in the top three.

"Black God... the bloodline of the Destroyer." Xiao En asked curiously, "That's right, now that the Golden God and the Silver God are no longer there, the Destroyer bloodline should be regarded as the most well-deserved bloodline of the strongest choice of gods."

"I believe you are...Zorro now." Rorty Kabas originally wanted to say Sean's name, but seeing Sean's disguise at the moment and special emphasis, so he finally changed his words, "...but I'm curious, you..."

Rorti Kabas did not finish speaking, but looked at Kane with some curiosity.

"This is Kane, you already know, a blood from the secret party." Sean knew what Rorty Kabas meant, so he introduced him, "Well, strictly speaking, it's mine now. Disciple, it's my own, so don't worry."

Kane was very cooperative with Shaun's introduction and made a head-up gesture.

Rorti Kabas continued to look at Kane with great interest, but unlike the previous taste of scrutiny and vigilance, this time it was a little more sympathetic. It's just that Kane was completely immersed in Sean's words of "owner" at this moment, so he didn't notice the sympathy and pity in the eyes of Rorty Kabas looking at him.

At this moment, no matter how stupid the other dark elves are, they know that the God of War figure who is about to lead their Reform Party to rise must have a deep relationship with this ordinary person who seems to have nothing special in front of them.

Especially the dark elf commander whom Shaun had aided before, his eyes were astonishingly bright.

In her opinion, someone who can communicate with Rorty Kabas on such an equal footing must also be a big figure at the level of Rorty Kabas.

In the underground world, big people mean powerful.

Therefore, someone who can have equal rights to dialogue with Rorty Kabas, who is also an acquaintance of Rorty Kabas, and who has shown such great kindness to the Reform Party is definitely a big deal for the current terrible plight of the Reform Party. Good news.

"Let's get out of here first." Roti Kabas signaled to Sean, and then quickly left here under the protection of everyone.

During this process, Shaun carefully observed the dark elf army brought by Rorty Kabas.

This is obviously a true elite, which is different from the situation of the twenty dark elves before.

More than half of these nearly two hundred dark elf guards have reached the strength of the baron rank, and the rest are also equipped with the strength of knights and lord ranks. Judging by the level of military strength in the surface world, these nearly a hundred dark elves with baron ranks are already equivalent to the level of a 7th or even 8th level army-even if the number is smaller, they can be used on special terrains. The strength exerted by a hundred people will never be weaker than a force of a thousand people.

"Is this all your strength?" But looking at these people, Sean's expression was not at all relaxed, but his brows became even tighter.

"Although I don't want to admit it, but...Yes." Rorty Kabas nodded helplessly, "The two hundred people are the strongest force of our Reform Party. Although there must be more than that. But there are not many 'armies' that have been really trained. They are currently around 5,000, but they are all of a relatively low level."

At the end, Rorty Kabas curled his lips.

Sean quickly tasted what Rorty Kabas did not express from these words: I am afraid it is only between the level of the third-level regular army to the fourth-level elite force.

A "army" of this level, not to mention the werewolf tribe, the blood tribe has millions of people-after all, blood slaves are simply worthless waste to the blood tribe. But in contrast, there are not too many knights and higher ranks, and the blood races are not very good at warfare. Their so-called war is often to make blood slaves rush up to make trouble, and then the blood races above the knight rank rush. Fight into the enemy's formation.

There are no rules at all.

Compared with the blood race, the situation of the werewolf and the Nerubian war is actually similar.

The only people who really have the concept of an army are blood elves and dark elves.

But the low fertility of blood elves and dark elves also limited their army expansion-but anyway, the number of an army of five thousand people is still a very small number. Sean simply couldn't imagine how the Dark Elf Reform Party has persisted to this day, even if there are many other dark elf powerhouses of earls and marquis ranks, this number cannot reverse any situation at all.

"Now I know why I want to seek cooperation opportunities with you." Rorty Kabas looked at Sean, his eyes sparkling with excitement.

"I think you might have misunderstood something." Sean sighed helplessly. He felt it was necessary for Rorty Kabas to recognize the reality and situation at hand.

Chapter 132: .Discuss

In a tree-hole hut, three figures are sitting in it.

This is a secret stronghold of the Reform Party in the Forest of Knowledge, but at the moment this secret stronghold is a bit chaotic. A large number of dark elves are walking in it, seeming to be carrying something. The situation in the entire stronghold seems very busy, and there is still a moment from time to time. The yelling voice sounded.

Although it was discovered that the enemies in this secret stronghold had been killed, the Reform Party had to make a new round of transfers for safety reasons.

Because fundamentally speaking, the current strength of the Reform Party is completely insufficient to fight the Vengeance Party, let alone the Eternal Night Party.

Among the three dark elves factions, the Evernight Party is the most powerful and powerful, followed by the Vengeance Party, which is closer to the blood elves. Not to mention the power of the blood elves, according to the news that Sean heard from Rorty Kabas, it is clear that the Avengers have about one hundred thousand regular army forces—this kind of regular army power means that the strength has reached the silver rank and Strictly trained dark elf troops.

In contrast, the current overall military strength of the Reform Party is only about 5,000, which is a very large disparity.

As for the three dark elves factions, the most powerful Evernight Party has more than 300,000 regular troops.

And strong like Rorty Kabas, are not classified into the power system of the regular army. In the same way, underage dark elves and those dark elves who have not reached the silver rank or have not received strict military training are also not classified into the power system of the regular army.

This power system is derived from the kinship military power system.

After all, the blood races were already multiplying here before no outsiders entered the underground world: the term sacred blood race is derived from blood races, so the division of power levels, the power system of the army, etc., are also from blood races. Categorized in the class division.

But in any case, it is completely conceivable how weak the power of the dark elves to reform the party faction is.

This is also one of the important reasons why Rorty Kabas met Sean in the surface world, and when he heard that Sean had plans to enter the underground world, he did not hesitate to take refuge in Sean. Fundamentally speaking, Rorty Kabas wants to use Sean's power to win a better living space for the compatriots in the underground world.

But at this moment...

"You mean, you are now... seriously damaged?" Rorty Kabas sat in the corner of the tree hole, frowning.

"En." Sean nodded. For Rorty Kabas, he has nothing to deny or cover up, "I found your dark elves here because of the Eastern Capital....I have been to Ma. The Tartar tribe is gone. The doctor over there was unable to completely cure my injury, but he gave me a few suggestions."

"The eastern capital of the Marta tribe?" Rorty Kabas thought for a moment, and then showed a look of sudden realization, "That little wolf...hey, it really didn't make the wrong person to get him to join the Reform Party in the first place.... You are here to find him. Dr. McVen's, right? What advice did you give over there?"

"Life Flame Potion, or Life Crystal Core."

"It's a bit troublesome." Rorty Kabas frowned even more tightly.

"Whether it is the life flame potion or the life crystal nucleus, it is indeed a big trouble." Xiao En nodded in agreement, "Fortunately, the other materials are the star flame lion and the ghost dragon. It's not easy to hunt these two monsters, if I'm in the heyday, it's okay to say, but under the current situation...the ghost dragon will probably become very difficult."

"The life flame potion is indeed a bit difficult." Rorty Kabas nodded, "But..."

"Do you have a clue to the nucleus of life?" As soon as Rorty Kabas's attitude was heard, Sean realized the problem.

Compared to the trouble of finding the Starflame Lion and the Shadow Devil Dragon, Sean is more willing to fight a race to * a life nucleus, because this is much easier than the trouble of finding a Warcraft. . However, just as the blood race and werewolf have many divisions of clans and tribes, the dark elves in the well-known forest also have hundreds of different races. Which of these races still retains the nucleus of life, which is very important. It's hard to say.

Sean may be able to find trouble with one or two races, but he can't solve all the dark elves in the entire forest of savvy.

Although the Reform Party is not as rich and powerful as the Yongye Party and the Vengeance Party, but it has the advantages of small power.

Compared with the ever-fighting Eternal Night Party and the Vengeful Party, which has been struggling internally, the Reform Party can be said to be completely at an unprecedented level of unity. There is no division of any power and faction within them, and all the Reform Party clans are subordinate to one person. under. The inheritance of the lost knight of Rorty Kabas was inherited from this elder. Now Rorty Kabas has become a knight of choice, which means that the leadership banner of the Reform Party will inevitably be handed over to Rorty Kabas. On hand.

The Yongye Party and the Vengeance Party are different.

They still maintain the oldest elves meeting mode of power, and the various ethnic groups inside are on guard against each other, all deliberately wanting to become a dominant state. So don't look at the Yongye Party, which has 300,000 troops, and the Vengeance Party, which also has 100,000 troops. If they are actually scattered among different ethnic groups, maybe the forces that can be mobilized and commanded by those slightly weaker ethnic groups are not even as good as that. A united reform party.

As long as it is an intelligent creature, there will definitely be flaws to follow.

This is also the reason why Sean is more willing to find trouble with the Revenge Party and Yongye Party.

"I dare not tell the clue, but I know that the Cassedon tribe definitely preserves a nucleus of life." Rorty Kabas said in a deep voice.

"How to determine?" This matter is very important. If it fails, it will be a lot of trouble for Sean, so he must also ask clearly.

"The son of the current patriarch of the Cassedon tribe was killed by me." Rorty Kabas explained, "This is after I returned to the underground world.... That guy is in the same era as me, in the Vengeance Party faction. He is also a genius, but he has been stuck in the upper sanctuary for a long time... Oh, in our underground world, we call it a duke. But after I inherited the ruins of the black god, he was no match for me. For this reason His father specially asked him for a life nucleus, from the blood elves!"

Hearing this, Sean raised his brow.

The blood elves who claim to be the orthodox blood elves inherit the most ancient elves heritage, so it is not surprising that there are two or three life crystals in stock on hand. Although the shaman from the Mathar tribe said that there are at most five life nuclei in the entire underground world today, Sean doesn't really think so. He thinks this number may be more than what the shaman had guessed. Two or three, but they have not been announced.

"What kind of Karsedon clan... joined the blood elves faction?"

"En." Rorty Kabas nodded, "But you also know that the blood elves and our dark elves have different skin colors. It is only because the revenge party's ideas are similar that they can come together. In essence, The blood elves absolutely look down on our dark elves."

"In that case, the power of the Cassedon tribe must be huge."

"One of the members of the Eleven Clan of the Evernight Party." Rorty Kabas revealed the mystery, "The separation of the Cassedon tribe is a big blow to both the Evernight Party and the Vengeance Party. You know, They didn't turn to join the Avenging Party faction, but really volunteered to become blood elves... attendants."

Sean knows that the word attendant is pretty good.

The true meaning of the subtext must be a slave.

"Then how did you kill him?" But whether it was a servant or a servant, it didn't matter to Sean, what was really important was the situation that Rorty Kabas didn't explain.

"Don't kill him, let him become stronger and kill me?" Rorty Kabas rolled his eyes. "I received the news. I heard that their entire clan had taken refuge in the blood elves, and the blood elves gave them one. After the life nucleus, I immediately shot.... I deserved the guy's luck, I caught a chance to kill the killer directly. But it happened that I received the news of the accident right after I finished killing, so I just got the news of the accident. I rushed over to support as soon as possible."

"So, that life crystal nucleus has not been sent to the hands of the Cassedon tribe yet?" Xiao En asked.

"No." Rorty Kabas nodded, "So this is the key to what I want to say.... The Cassedon tribe has not officially accepted the life crystal core, so now the Cassidon tribe cannot be regarded as blood elves. People, the Vengeance Party and the Evernight Party are all trying to change the Cassidon family's mind, and the same blood elves will not give up fighting. Anyway, the well-known forest now forms a whirlpool around the Cassidon tribe."

"So, that life crystal nucleus is still on its way to the Cassidon tribe?"

"Of course." Rorty Kabas nodded, "If I hadn't received a secret report that something happened here, I would definitely find a way to grab the life crystal core. You know, this thing is also a great thing for me. Good thing, maybe I can become a super strong with this life nucleus in one fell swoop."

Shaun gave Rorty Kabas a slanted look: "Just your level? Even if you have the nucleus of life, you don't have more than a hundred years of polishing and accumulation, and you can't even want to become a super strong."

Rorty Kabas made a noncommittal poker at Sean's mockery: "So what do you say? Do you want to do it?"

"I have to ask?" Sean looked at Rorty Kabas with an idiotic look. "This life nucleus is on the way to the Cassidon tribe, not in the heavily guarded tribe treasury. It is so rare. How could I give up the opportunity."

"But again, it is precisely because this opportunity is very rare, so the other party will definitely do a good job of defending." Rorty Kabas looked serious and serious, "If I was the only one, I would not necessarily Can eat this guard team, but if you join it, it will be different.... Even if your strength is severely damaged now, at least you will be able to exert the power of the Marquis rank, right?"

"Under normal conditions, there are only earl ranks." Sean once again dispelled Rorty Kabas's eager thoughts, "but if you work hard, you can display the strength of the marquis ranks...then the question now is how many of the opponents are there. A prince?"

"I guess there is only one prince, and there should be no duke, but there may be one for the marquis." Rorty Kabas thought for a moment, and then said, "As for the viscount and the like, I am afraid there will be many, after all, this It's the blood elves' blood guard."

The Scarlet Guard, this unit also belongs to the famous level in the game.

may not be comparable to the holy puppet legion and the pure white winged knights in the surface world, but it can definitely be regarded as a quasi-ninth level army in the underground world.

There are three commanders in this force, all of whom have the strength of a legendary powerhouse (prince). The average strength of the soldiers in the army has reached the level of the lower level of gold (baron), and the team leader must at least have the power of the upper level of gold (viscount).) Only the strong can serve.

However, according to international practice, an army that is so powerful that it can be called a sky-defying army is naturally impossible to be large in scale.

So the maximum organization of the Scarlet Guard is 1,000.

The three commanders are one officer and two officers. Except for the commander who is commanding the elite troops of the Scarlet Guard: the Scarlet Guard Army composed of two hundred elite blood elves, the other two deputy commanders each have 400 men.

According to Rorty Kabas' investigative intelligence, this time the * force responsible for the life crystal core is the Scarlet Guard led by one of the deputy commanders.

This also means that this guard will have at least one prince, one marquis and three earls—because the Scarlet Guard led by two deputy commanders will have at least one assistant officer, who is only a centurion. , But he was able to give orders when the commander was absent, so the strength must be the rank of Marquis to be able to convince the crowd. As for the Viscount at the squad leader level, not to mention, the standard of the Scarlet Guard is one squad for every ten people.

"I will deal with that Marquis, and the Prince will leave it to you?" Sean asked.

"This can only be done." Rorty Kabas nodded.

"So what about the remaining people?...Don't forget, the other party still has four hundred soldiers. Can the two hundred people you brought do?"

"Our goal is just to grab the core of life, and we don't have to fight hard. We only need to aim at the opportunity to carry out a surprise attack, and then restrain the opponent's top combat power." Rorty Kabas curled his lips, "The war in the underground world, isn't it? Compared to your surface world, we must fight to death and life. Especially our Reform Party does not have so many manpower, so we need to save a little bit!"

Rotti Kabas emphasized the three words "Innovation Party".

"Okay, okay." Sean shrugged, "Anyway, in the underground world, you have the final say."

"Oh, yes." Rotty Kabas suddenly said as if thinking of something, "When I came out of the ruins of the Black God this time, I got a good thing, but unfortunately I didn't understand it myself. Yes... I originally thought, I will show it to you after I bring it out. After all, you have a lot of knowledge and may understand this kind of things, but I didn't expect that after I inherited the power of the relic, I would go back directly. The underground world."

"Nice stuff?" Sean was taken aback for a moment. He didn't expect Rotty Kabas to have extra gains, "So what?"

"It's over the base camp." Rotty Kabas said, "I knew I would run into you, so I took it with me."

"That thing is big?"

"It's not big, but it's very sharp. If you don't pay attention, it will be scratched." Rotty Kabas said, "I wanted to try to fit into my weapon, but no matter how I did it, it wouldn't melt completely. I couldn't perform a second smelting, so I left it at home.... I suspect that this thing is a product of the Ash Age, or even the Twilight Age. The magic pattern on it is very complicated, but it is not innate. Anyway, I can't understand it. of."

"No one can understand?"

"No, the elder said I don't know." Rotty Kabas shook his head.

Shaun's curiosity has become greater.

Chapter 133: Raid

The Forest of Deep Knowledge is the territory of the dark elves.

Since the Age of Ashes, the Silver Moon Elves have split into five tribes, namely the Dark Elves, Blood Elves, Highland Elves, Forest Elves, and Gray Elves. Among them, the dark elves and blood elves leave the surface world and escape into the underground world to seek development. In essence, dark elves and forest elves are close relatives, and they both have great combat advantages in the forest, but because of their adaptation to the dark environment of the underground world, dark elves are better at night battles than forest elves.

The blood elves have inherited the characteristics of the silver moon elves: they have unique talents in magic, swordsmanship, and archery, and they are even born to be able to communicate with all things in nature. And different from the definition of genius in other elven races, only blood elves with a magic mark at birth can be called geniuses and bear the name of saint child. But the law of heaven and earth is fair. While blood elves possess such talents against the sky, they do not have special geographical advantages like forest elves and highland elves.

Like the highland elves.

Prairie elves can naturally get shelter from the Swiftiness of the Wind when they are in the prairie zone, which will greatly increase their speed and agility. And another branch of the highland elves: the highland elves, they can obtain the calm shelter of the mountains when they are in the highlands, which will also increase their strength to a certain extent, even in terms of oxygen consumption. Biologically lower.

Similarly, dark elves and forest elves can gain a certain increase in ability when in the forest area, but the increase in the forest area is not as large as that of the forest elves, and the forest elves are not as sensitive as the dark elves in the dark environment.

As for the gray elves, no one knows their natural advantages.

In comparison, blood elves, such as the descendants of Silver Moon Elves, who have almost no obvious weaknesses and shortcomings, are even more annoying.

Of course, this kind of upset also depends on the situation.

At least in the Forest of Deep Knowledge, the advantage of blood elves is not necessarily great.

A guard team composed of more than two hundred people is marching fast in the forest of deep knowledge.

All members of this guard wear a set of golden hollow light armor. From the hollow part, it can be seen that the inside is a white bottom shirt, the lower body is black trousers, and a red long cloak is behind them. Every guard wears a long sword around his waist, and a quiver behind his waist, with a long bow slung across his body, but whether it is a long sword, an arrow or a long bow, it gives people the first impression They are all extremely luxurious, especially the golden armor made of iron  gold, which is relatively rare in the underground world. It is even more luxurious and luxurious, and it is designed for its gorgeous appearance.

Not to mention the performance of weapons, the iron  gold is certainly known as the unparalleled iron in the world, but more than two-thirds of such a set of light armor is hollowed out and embossed. The defensive performance of such armor is completely imaginable. And know.

You can see the majestic, proud and awe-inspiring appearance of this  team. It doesn't seem to be a problem.

This guard is the most famous blood guard among the blood elves.

The commander who led the team was a top-notch strong man with a strong aura. Judging from the aura radiating from him, there is no doubt that this is a true legendary strong man. And for this level of power, that set of light armor that can be said to be almost defensive has truly become a symbol of status and status-any legendary power at least has it. The body of silver is a powerful body that can withstand the blessings of the law.

Like Sean, he already had a silver body before he entered the legend.

It's just that Sean's silver body is still somewhat different from the legendary strong man's silver body. After all, Sean's silver body has not yet undergone the baptism of the legendary power. You know, the main reason why the physique of the legendary strong is so powerful is that their bodies have already endured at least one baptism of the legendary power, especially those who take the route of the warrior system, once they get the blessing of "legendary physique" , Then the power of the body is definitely far beyond imagination.

As for why it is said that the real genius will obtain the silver body before stepping into the legend, it is because the earlier the silver body is obtained, the greater the improvement that can be obtained. Once stepping into the legend, the legendary body can bear The more power.

This is the real reason why the gap between ordinary legendary powerhouses and genius-level legendary powerhouses is like a moat.

It is temporarily unknown whether the commander of the Scarlet Guard is genius, but judging from his aura, he can definitely know that the opponent is an old legendary powerhouse.

At this time, Sean, who was observing the  from a distance, did not dare to observe the legendary powerhouse, even Rotti Kabas did not dare.

Because the legendary powerhouse's perception ability is extremely amazing, a little gaze will attract their attention, which is not a good thing for Sean and Rorty Kabas who are preparing for a sneak attack. So whether it is Sean or Rorty Kabas, their attention is still on the rest of the Scarlet Guard, trying to find a suitable breakthrough point.

However, after observing, Sean still curled his lips in disdain: "Silly blood elves, who haven't grown much for so many years, are still the style of the Silver Moon Elf period.... What kind of defensive performance does this armor have? At any rate, it's better not to wear it."

"You also know the style of blood elves. For them, appearance is the first element of pursuit." Rorty Kabas also curled his lips in disdain.

Compared with the extravagant and exaggerated situation of the blood elves, the dark elves are undoubtedly much simpler. They have completely abandoned the flashy approach and are purely pursuing practicality. Especially the dark elves of the revolutionary party faction, whether in terms of background or materials, are even less likely to be compared with other dark elves, so their pursuit of practicality of equipment has reached a level of competition.

Of course, if it is purely a matter of practicality, the gray elves are the best among them-this group that even the dignity of the elven clan can be discarded has become a group of out-and-out soleists. That's why Gray elves are mostly used as robbers, bandits, and other reasons that are linked to bad terms.

Sean glanced at the gray leather armor on the people like Rorty Kabas, and then smiled: "Compared with the blood elves, you really look like beggars."

"At least much better than the gray elves and beggars." Of course, Rorty Kabas could hear Sean's joke.

"The other party's situation is not quite right." Xiao En did not continue the topic, but frowned slightly and said in a deep voice, "They seem to be a little worried."

"Hurry up?" Rorty Kabas also noticed the sudden change of the Scarlet Guard.

Just a few seconds ago, the Scarlet Guard, who had been a little relaxed and relaxed, suddenly had a commotion.

The commotion soon subsided, and the whole process took only a few seconds, but soon the queue had a slight change: the entire Scarlet Guard suddenly replaced the array, from the original array of advancement to being led by the team leader. In the squad mode, every three teams form a battle team, and start the formation to arrange.

The whole arrangement process is only a short period of tens of seconds, and the most valuable thing is that they complete the new arrangement in the process of moving.

Immediately afterwards, the speed of the entire Scarlet Guard team increased significantly.

But even so, it can be clearly seen that the Scarlet Guard still increases the protection of the several carriages in the array.

From this point of view, it can be seen that although the blood elves still do not change the extravagant and exaggerated style of the Silver Moon Elf Royal Court period, the level of combat power is still much stronger than the Silver Moon Elf Royal Court period. In essence, the blood elves have greatly improved and strengthened compared to the silver moon elves.

"What made them suddenly change?" Sean asked.

"I don't know, but I must have received some news." Rorty Kabas frowned and thought for a moment, and then said, "The core of life must be in one of the three carriages.... Follow me to the blood elves. Those silly people understand that it should be the carriage in the middle, because this is a group of guys who are very 'rules'."

Rotti Kabas emphasized the word "rules".

In fact, even if Rorty Kabas didn't emphasize it, Sean guessed like that.

Under normal circumstances, if a valuable item like the life crystal nucleus is escorted, normal people will never put on such a grand scene, and even wish to carry it with them. Especially putting such a heavy treasure directly on the strongest body, so that even if something happens, as long as the strongest person does not die, the heavy treasure will not be lost.

But this is not the case with the blood elves.

They seemed to be afraid that others would not know the news that they were carrying the treasures, so they directly put on an out-of-spec mission team, and fortunately, they did not cover up the situation of carrying the treasures.

In the surface world, usually only fools would do this.

"According to the original plan?" Sean asked.

"Are you sure that kinship is trustworthy?" Rorty Kabas asked.

"Don't forget, in terms of speed alone, even in the forest, your dark elves are definitely inferior to the blood." Shaun said lightly, "Although Kane is not strong, he is worthy of trust. And... Don't underestimate him, he can't be regarded as an ordinary blood clan."

"I never underestimate someone who can follow you and is worthy of your trust." Rorty Kabas laughed, "Okay, if you trust him, then I believe you too. After all, this matter is for It's more important to you."

"It's up to you." Sean said softly.

"Hey." Rorty Kabas laughed.

The next moment, he suddenly jumped from a tree, but the person was still in the air, he suddenly burst out of strength, the whole person turned into a black dragon and attacked the Scarlet Guard, before the opponent had fully reacted. At that moment, he had already tore through dozens of guards blocking the road with one shot, and then directly stabbed a centurion who had already been targeted by him with another shot!

Chapter 134: Siege

God Chosen Knight is a special profession that has existed since the dawn of dawn.

At the beginning, this rank was called the spokesperson of the gods and was responsible for all the standing management of the gods court. It consisted of twelve teams, distinguished by different colors, called the gold group, the silver group, and the black group. , White group, Red group, Green group, Brown group, Blue group, Purple group, Cyan group, Yellow group, Orange group. Except for the two groups of gold and silver which represent the supreme existence, the remaining ten groups have different powers corresponding to darkness, light, flame, wind, earth, ocean, lava, thunder, and ice in the order of color. ,soul.

But since the Battle of the Twilight of the Gods, there are only six remains of the Chosen: the black group, the red group, the green group, the brown group, the blue group, and the orange group.

Rotti Kabas inherited the power from the black group of the power of darkness, also known as the black temple.

On the surface, Rorty Kabas doesn't seem to have changed much. It is still the heavy armor that can be seen at a glance, and the huge war gun with exaggerated shape in his hand. With unmatched terrifying power, he was obviously a knight who took the route of pure power and abandoned all speed and agility.

But in fact, only in the eyes of the real strong can you discover the agility and rage hidden by Rorty Kabas under that strange power.

Such a sudden attack, this blood elf guard has no way to respond!

Of course, one person actually reacted.

That is the commander of this guard, a legendary powerhouse with the same rank as Rorty Kabas.

But although he reacted, he was a little far away from Rorty Kabas's position—as the commander, he was now leading the team at the forefront of the team, while Rorty Kabas' raid position was in the team's position. Middle and rear.

Like a tiger descending the mountain, Rorty Kabas easily killed more than a dozen guards, and then another shot directly penetrated a centurion—the centurion killed more than a dozen in Rorty Kabas. When he was guarding, he was already aware of the danger, but Rorty Kabas's speed was far beyond his imagination, so he was unable to evade and could only make a defensive response, hoping to block Rorty Kabas's obvious A terrible blow that has been planned for a long time.

It's just that this kind of hope is obviously just a luxury.

A strong dark power gushes out from the tip of Rorty Kabas' spear, and the powerful deterrence directly immobilizes the centurion, no matter how crazily he shouts in his heart, all his defenses are From the very beginning, he was directly disintegrated, and he could only watch Rorty Kabas a shot through his chest before being nailed to a carriage.

And when the impact on the carriage bounced back into his body from its back, his consciousness was completely sinking into the darkness.

When Rorty Kabas drew his gun, his mighty energy exploded suddenly. Not only the centurion, but the carriage also exploded, and the people sitting in the carriage were killed on the spot.

After a single blow, Rorty Kabas was in the middle and back of the blood elf guard as if he had broken into no man's realm. He completely carried out the killing ring, and his goal was also very clear, that is, the one in the middle. Carriage.

Hundreds of blood elf guards around, naturally it is impossible to watch Rorty Kabas directly take the core carriage of the team. Therefore, even if they knew they were invincible, they still tried to stop Rorty Kabas from advancing with a desperate impact. However, under the suppression of the absolute strength gap, these guards were just sending them to death, and it was impossible to stop Rorty Kabas.

"Retreat!" At this moment, the commander of the Scarlet Guard finally hurried back from the front of the team.

He glanced at his deadly cruel subordinates, his eyes were splitting, and he rushed towards Rorty Kabas after a violent roar.

Facing the furious hostile commander, Rorty Kabas was completely unafraid. When he suddenly raised his left hand, a large amount of black energy spewed from his left hand instantly, and then turned into a face that was three meters high. The huge black shield stood in front of him.

Only hear a roar and the earth trembles.

The commander's full blow with anger was completely blocked by the black huge shield. The powerful shock spread from both sides of the huge shield. Many Scarlet Guard soldiers who stood nearby and had not completely retreated were caught by this on the spot. A powerful force was involved, and there was no possibility of even a slight struggle. At the moment of being involved, it exploded into a puff of blood, no organs, no flesh and blood.

"Knight of God!" On the other side of the black shield, the commander of the Scarlet Guard let out a suspicious cry, "Assistant Officer! Lead people to move on immediately, without the slightest stay! The sooner the better!"

From the voice, you can hear the commander's slightly rapid tone.

Obviously, the scope of this battle is no longer within his control.

In the underground world, as one of the oldest heritages, the blood elves have a very good understanding of the power of the chosen knight. Even though there has not been a knight of choice for thousands of years, the blood elves' secret library still keeps information about the knight of choice, and in each generation, dozens of the most qualified blood elves are selected as the lost knights and go to the surface. Trying to find the remains of the riding god.

But it's a pity that the blood elves have never succeeded for so many years.

Now, the chosen knights, who have not appeared for thousands of years, finally reappear in the underground world, but they are enemies!

How can this blood elf not be upset?

But his anger only lasted for a short while, the next moment the commander's expression became extremely dignified, because the black shield erected in front of Rotti Kabas actually cracked directly!

The black shield is still a black shield, with the shape of a shield and the metal texture.

But on both sides of the gap that split in the middle, black mist surrounds it. It feels like a shield suddenly becomes two sides.

However, at the moment when the black fog cloud circulated, Rorty Kabas had already rushed out with a gun. The heavy gun in his hand was like a black dragon, taking the opponent's commander's face straight.

An unparalleled terrible pressure erupted from Roti Kabas, trying to frighten the commander. Although there is still a little effect, it is obviously impossible to imagine that the centurion was directly frightened and completely immobile like before. The commander's movements were slightly slow for a moment, but it was only time. His realm strength, but still able to make a defensive action to block.

The long sword in his hand was lifted and cut, and a golden sword light suddenly lit up, just like the dawn in the dark.

Rotti Kabas's spear point just happened to point on the sword light, and black energy gushed out, creating a strong confrontation with the golden sword light. It seems that because of the restraint of each other's attributes, the impact of the collision of the two forces has become significantly stronger this time. The surrounding ground has begun to collapse by an inch, and what is even more terrifying is the entire land. All the power of life seemed to have been swallowed at this moment, and it was constantly passing by.

The turquoise grass quickly withers and turns yellow at a speed visible to the naked eye, and then turns into ash sand one after another. And the land that had lost the shelter of vegetation also began to gradually dry up, revealing red-yellow cracks, and then the same inch by inch was turned into gray sand.

However, this kind of damage is far more than the impact on the surrounding ground. The armor of the blood elf soldiers who have not had time to escape from the clash between the two legendary powerhouses a little further away is also rapidly decayed, and then turned into A puff of sand poured down from them. But what was terrible was that not only the armor on their bodies, together with their underclothes and flesh and blood bodies, were quickly corroded under the influence of this force, but the final result was that no bones were left behind.

"Black God!?" The commander let out a real exclamation, it was obvious that his mind was greatly impacted.

Among the six remaining relics of the Great Riding God in the world, the black  relic is the strongest. Even in the dawn and dusk times, it was the third strongest under the two great temples of gold and silver. .

The power system related to the Black God is the power of darkness, including but not limited to darkness, negative energy, death, void, chaos, etc. Even if the relics of the Black Riding God are broken, and even the power of inheritance is less than one-third of the legacy, it can't be compared with the era of coexistence of the gods, but inherited this share recognized by the gods. The mighty Rorty Kabas, the power possessed by him, is still far beyond anyone's imagination.

This is why Shaun thinks that Rorty Kabas now has the ability to compete with the legendary powerhouses of the 13th and 14th tiers.

Although it is slightly inferior to the legendary pinnacle powerhouse of the fifteenth level, when Roti Kabas steps into the thirteenth stage, he has the strength to challenge the general legendary pinnacle powerhouse. Even in the face of legendary powerhouses such as Rena, Xuefanio, and Levi, it will not be inferior.

And all of this is due to the fact that Rorty Kabas inherited the power of the black  ruins.

The powerful dark power burst out, and in a blink of an eye, the area within a radius of several hundred meters was directly turned into a land of death, and all the vitality was swallowed up at this moment. If it weren't for this blood elf commander who is also very powerful, able to protect himself with the power of a powerful law, plus Roti Kabas has not yet been able to perfectly control his own power, I am afraid he would never be spared. .

But even so, this legendary powerhouse was dragged and unable to leave, but it has become a foregone conclusion.

Even more than one hundred of the four hundred Scarlet Guard soldiers he led have been completely buried here.

And this is just a surprise attack by Rorty Kabas on his own.

Similarly, it is just the first part of the raid plan made by Sean and Rorty Kabas!

As the guards hurriedly withdrew, Sean, who had already waited aside, also aimed his gaze at the assistant officer. He had already revealed his identity when the opposing commander issued the evacuation order. Sean listed as the target. Procrastination, or even the killing of this assistant officer, is the second link in Sean's next plan, and it is also the link where there is the least allow for any omissions, because among all the people present, only Sean has and The power of World War I.

Shaun hidden in the darkness, like a poisonous snake, at the moment the guard team passed by, his fangs suddenly appeared!

It's just that his goal this time is not the assistant officer, but another centurion!

"carefully!"

Shaun's speed is not as fast as Rorty Kabas, so he was discovered by the assistant officer. After he discovered Sean's intention to attack, he also issued a warning immediately, and rushed towards Sean quickly.

Faced with Sean's attack, the centurion had a solemn face, and in an instant he pulled out the two chopping knives he tied to his waist, followed by two knives, and directly made a defensive action.

He could see that Sean's strength was not so strong that it was completely irreparable, so the only thing he needed to do was to block Sean's offense, and launch a counterattack to drag the opponent, let his companions rush over, and then fight together. opponent. He didn't even blindly want to rely on his own strength to suppress and defeat Sean, all tactics are based on the premise that his side wins.

I have to say that although the blood elves are very arrogant and defiant, they are indeed people with real materials, and they have never made any blind impulse and reckless behavior.

It's just that, no matter how cautious the centurion was, he still underestimated Sean's strength.

Not to mention that Sean hasn't fully revealed his hole cards yet, just the Black King in his hand is enough to make these guys dumbfounded.

The black sword shadow swept across from left to right. Without stopping, Xiao En turned to face the assistant officer who rushed towards him.

The soldiers of the Scarlet Guard next to them didn't even react to what was going on. They couldn't understand why when the enemy, Shaun, ran in front of his Centurion, their Centurion didn't intercept them. However, the long-term military training has also given them a movement reflex that is completely loyal to themselves: almost without the slightest thought, these soldiers began to intercept Sean one after another.

Faced with the interception of these soldiers, Sean certainly wouldn't mind.

The black sword light is just a time of shining, and the soldiers who subconsciously intercepted Sean have all fallen.

Seeing this scene in front of him, the assistant officer raised his brows, and immediately shouted without hesitation: "Rojas Enke, hurry up and leave with the rest!"

Hearing the words of the assistant officer, Xiao En chuckled slightly, and turned slightly, but did not confront the assistant officer head-on at all, but continued to look for the ordinary soldiers like a tiger rushing into the flock. Trouble.

And until this time, the centurion who first tried to resist Sean's attack, his double knives with both hands finally broke and fell to the ground. Immediately afterwards, a line of blood emerged from his throat, and a large amount of blood suddenly spewed out like an explosion, directly rushing his head up.

At this moment, all the people present knew that at the beginning, the centurion had already died under the sword of Sean!

All the soldiers of the Scarlet Guard felt a chill in their hearts.

Compared to the huge gap that Rorty Kabas's strength is completely crushed, so that these soldiers can't afford the slightest sense of resistance, Sean seems to be not very strong, but it is still The relaxed atmosphere of being able to kill them with a knife in their hands was like killing a chicken, which made these soldiers feel extremely frightened.

The morale of the entire guard team has completely dropped to a freezing point at this moment.

Especially, seeing that their assistant officer couldn't stop Xiao En at all, and could only follow his  to eat ashes, which almost collapsed the will of these soldiers.

In just a short moment, more than fifty soldiers died in the hands of Sean.

"Asshole! Your opponent is me!" The assistant officer finally couldn't help but let out a roar, and the speed suddenly increased a lot.

"It's just right, I'm tired of killing these wastes." Xiao En sneered, and after lightly harvesting a group of soldiers, he finally returned to fight with the assistant officer thoroughly.

"Evacuate quickly!" Seeing that Sean was finally willing to confront him, the assistant officer immediately shouted at the only remaining centurion in the team, "Beware of enemies and ambushes along the way!"

At this moment, no need this assistant officer to remind him again.

Faced with the sudden attack of the two strong men, Rorty Kabas and Sean, this guard team would never know what happened. Therefore, under the order of the last centurion, this  with only two hundred people left quickly gathered together again, even in order to prevent the previous encounter between Rorty Kabas and their commander. The weird situation reappeared, this time their evacuation speed seemed extremely swift, and in a blink of an eye they were already hundreds of meters away from the battlefield of Sean and the assistant officer.

Looking at the rapid evacuation of this guard team, and even walked in a panic, even the protective formation turned into a guard formation, Xiao En knew that the second part of their plan had succeeded.

I saw Xiao En's head tilted slightly, avoiding the direct stabbing of the opponent's assistant officer, and after pushing the opponent back with a backhand, he was not in a hurry to launch a counterattack, but smiled: "Ambush? Where's next? What an ambush is needed. The strongest members of your  have been dragged down, and only the last centurion can't overcome any storms. If you let them evacuate quickly, it would be better to say it is right. That's what I want."

Hearing Shaun telling the truth so unobtrusively, the assistant officer's face changed suddenly, and he was about to get rid of Shaun immediately.

But at this time, how could Xiao En let the opponent leave so easily, his aura suddenly changed, and the aura that erupted from him was no longer under the assistant officer: "Did you just say that my opponent is you? Is it?... In that case, don't leave in a hurry, let us have a good fight."

Chapter 135: .snatch

The Scarlet Guard, there are two teams and an elite guard.

Considering the symbolic significance, the elite guards are naturally not suitable for dispatching, so the first team is responsible for the protection of the life crystal core and blood elf diplomats this time.

From the perspective of overall strength, the first team and the second team are not too far apart, it's just that the tactical styles of the two teams are different.

But at this time, the people in the first squad of the Scarlet Guard were very clear that they were clearly caught in the trap. There were a total of more than 400 people in the team. At this time, there were only more than 200 people left, and a small part of them was unlucky. The aftermath of the two strong raids was affected, and his body was more or less injured.

The first squad lost two centurions in just a few minutes, and the assistant officer and commander were delayed by the strong, which made the last centurion feel that There was a wave of worry.

The team is moving quickly through the Forest of Deep Knowledge, and they must reach the territory of the Cassedon clan as soon as possible.

It is not just because they were attacked and lost a lot of manpower, but more importantly, what they were protecting: the nucleus of life.

Although the highest authority of the blood elves is the Blood Elf Elder Council, unlike the dark elves, there are three major factions and hundreds of ethnic groups, but the entire blood elven inventory only has two life nuclei. This time, in order to win over the Cassedon clan, which is also the highest authority of the Eternal Night Party, the blood elves have laid their blood, and directly took out the precious life crystal nucleus.

Now, suddenly encountering an ambush and attack, no matter how stupid these blood elves are, they know that the enemy's target is definitely the nucleus of life.

So, on the next fast crossing, the centurion directly ordered the blood elves in charge of diplomatic envoys to abandon the carriage and drive at full speed.

Although these diplomatic envoys cannot be compared with the Scarlet Guard soldiers who are elite soldiers, the blood elves themselves have natural abilities. Therefore, their personal strength is not too bad, but they are barely able to keep up with these elite soldiers. Rapid marching speed. Even if they can't keep up, other soldiers can help with a little support, but they can solve the problem, at least not too much to affect the speed.

However, just after the  once again traveled a distance of thousands of meters, the centurion who rushed forward suddenly raised his right hand.

In a short time, the entire fast-moving Scarlet Guard immediately stopped.

The movement is the same!

Just looking at this point, you can see that the Scarlet Guard has a very high combat literacy.

But unfortunately, they fell into the trap set by Rorty Kabas and Sean from the beginning.

The most taboo of the rapid march is to stop suddenly after the rapid march, which will cause all the soldiers of the rapid march to have increased physical exertion due to the sudden change in breathing rate. Under normal circumstances, after a certain degree of rapid march, especially after a short sprint, the sprint speed will be gradually reduced, breathing adjustment and endurance recovery training will be carried out, and then after a fast sprint run, it is the rest time for jogging and breathing.

But now, the short sprint has just begun, and it is forced to stop. It is completely predictable how much endurance the blood elves consume.

If there is a choice, this centurion will of course not make such a self-destructive move.

However, he has no choice.

A total of two hundred dark elves have already placed a fighting position in front of them, completely in a combat stance waiting to be done.

The equipment of these dark elves may not be as elite as the blood elves, but as the most elite unit of the revolutionaries, the quality of the equipment is naturally not bad. In addition, the dark elves are already prepared to wait here for the slightly tired Scarlet Guard. Except for the top level of high-level combat power which is slightly inferior to the Scarlet Guard, the overall combat power is definitely better than the current Scarlet Guard. The guard is much stronger.

The centurion of the blood elves glanced at the enemy army, his face was gloomy and terrifying, but he did not flinch at all.

He has already seen that the strong man in the enemy army who should be a commander is just like himself a strong man of earl rank. It is not easy to say who is strong and who is weak before confronting each other. However, the two hundred or so dark elf soldiers can't compare with his scarlet elite in strength: like the Scarlet Guard, there are at least nearly 20 viscount-level captains and nearly two hundred baron-level soldiers.

But the soldiers of the Reform Party are generally only lords in strength. The number of barons is not that large, and there are even fewer viscounts.

The dark elves also seem to know the power of the Scarlet Guard, so they did not rush to attack after opening their positions, but they were also ready for all battles, waiting for their commander to give orders.

According to Sean and Rorty Kabas' plan, they are the third line of defense and the most critical line of defense. Naturally, their purpose is not to fight the Scarlet Guard, but to cause as much chaos and destruction as possible to the Scarlet Guard. . As for the level of destruction and chaos, it is up to the commander of this elite force of dark elves to be on the spot and judge.

As the Scarlet Guard guessed, the real purpose of Sean, Rorty Kabas and others is the life nucleus escorted by this force.

The dark elf commander stared at the Scarlet Guard with awe-inspiring gaze, his right hand held high, he was already ready for a thorough battle. However, his hand did not fall for a long time. Obviously he was also waiting, waiting for the Scarlet Guard to reveal a flaw-he didn't expect any fatal flaws, but at least he had to be good enough in the first round of offense. The result of the battle.

The power of the blood elves, as the dark elves who also live in the underground world, will naturally not know, so in this short distance of hundreds of meters, even the dark elves have only two rounds of shooting opportunities. This is because the blood elves were in a state of rapid marching, so they were not ready for battle. Otherwise, within a distance of hundreds of meters, the dark elves would only have one chance to attack at most, and then the two sides would enter a battle with arrows. state.

Perhaps, in the forest competition archery, the dark elves definitely have the advantage.

But in fact, it also depends on the opponent.

Like the blood elves in front of them, even the dark elves who can obtain natural shelter in the forest can not say that they can suppress the blood elves 100%. After all, the blood elves' talents are terrifying, this is not a joke.

The confrontation didn't last long. Although the atmosphere seemed extraordinarily solemn, it was actually very unfavorable for the dark elves.

The reason is very simple. The longer it takes, the longer the blood elves can rest.

So after ten seconds, the commander from the dark elf finally waved abruptly.

"Swish——"

A sharp arrow shot out from the dark elf's square.

"Dodge!"

Seeing the dark elves attack, the commander of the blood elves immediately shouted in a deep voice. However, the situation of the attack in front of him is completely different from what the blood elf commander imagined. He thought he would be the target of the key attack. After all, his strength was the strongest, but the result was shot at him. The arrows are very few, and even these arrows are just because he is standing on the attack path of these arrows.

Thinking of this, he immediately realized the enemy's fighting intentions.

But before he could issue new detailed combat instructions, the commander from the dark elf side had already rushed into the enemy line and attacked him. In the end, he could only shout out: "Protect the messenger to break through and leave! You can't be pinned here! Everyone is free to fight back!"

The next moment, the collision of swords and swords suddenly exploded.

The confrontation between the two powerful earls may not be comparable to that of Rorty Kabas and Sean, but for blood elves who differ only in the ranks of Baron and Viscount, it is still unimaginable. The strong clash. If you are a little careless, you will be affected by the aftermath of the battle. This level of damage may not directly kill them, but it will also cause some damage to them.

So, the blood elves also had to start to evade, and then seek opportunities to counterattack in the gap between evasion and hiding.

This is also the reason why this dark elf commander is willing to risk rushing into the blood elf camp and confront the opposing centurion.

This kind of battle of a strong man is exactly which party launches an active attack first, which party will take advantage of the geographical advantage-not the use of the advantage in the terrain, but the ability to avoid causing additional damage to one's subordinates as much as possible burden.

For a time, in this area, the arrows of the blood elves and the dark elves were constantly intertwined with each other.

Every arrow has a strong sound of breaking through the air.

The roaring sound is as fierce as a thunderbolt.

And not only the howling of the arrow is strong enough, but its power is also extremely terrifying: not to mention that it is almost completely submerged in the tree, and even the stubborn stones on the ground are enough to shoot into the half of the body. In this case, if the hiding cover is not thick enough, it will still be shot on the spot by arrows that pass through the object.

Of course, the dead party is not only the blood elves, but the dark elves have also lost a lot of staff during the shooting of the arrows.

Different from the dark elves that can feel the airflow in the forest, so that their arrows become more powerful and faster. The blood elves' talents in archery skills are equally terrifying. They don't even need to aim at all. They can shoot arrows based on the feeling of shooting with a bow, and they can already be on par with the dark elves in the forest. In the forest area, the dark elves must be completely suppressed in archery shooting.

Fighting, after several rounds of arrow shooting, another wave of fierce battles soon ushered in.

The blood elves were unwilling to be suppressed by the arrows of the dark elves. Some blood elves took advantage of the gap created by the reflex suppression of their companions, and quickly escaped from the hidden point, and quickly touched the dark elves from the left and right sides. . For the blood elves, archery shooting is not everything to them. They are also good at swordsmanship, magic and other fields, but the Scarlet Guard does not have a magician enlisted in the army, so at this time there is no magical battle.

But once these blood elves touch the side of the dark elves square, the fate of these dark elves is definitely predictable.

Therefore, it is naturally impossible for the dark elves to let these blood elves rush into their own formation. They had no choice but to finally start tilting the fire to the two sides, so that the blood elves archers who were suppressed by the arrows in front of them, naturally also Given the time to breathe, their unfolding reflexes have become more ferocious and quicker. In this way, on the contrary, the dark elf side quickly fell into the disadvantage, not only the blood elf archer in front could not suppress it, nor even the blood elves on both sides could restrain the forward speed.

But just as the blood elves saw that they were about to harvest the fruit of victory, a scream came from behind the blood elves.

The blood elf commander looked back and his face instantly became abnormally shocked.

A blood clan was taking out a box from the screaming blood elf, and then quickly turned and left without looking back. And beside this blood elf who had died tragically under the sword of the blood clan, was the body of more than a dozen blood elf guards. All of them had only one fatal injury: they were directly penetrated to the heart of the heart, or it was A terrible wound was wiped away in the throat.

However, it was only a mere viscount of the blood clan, but with his own power he killed more than a dozen blood elf guards, thus taking away their blood elf's most precious treasure this time. How could this blood elf commander fail? angry.

"Go away!" The blood elf commander let out a roar, and the sword in his hand suddenly swept away, pushing back the dark elf commander who was confronting him.

And the dark elf commander did not do much entanglement. He knew the plan of the trip and the most important purpose of the battle. Seeing that the blood viscount, who was not recognized by their dark elves before, killed the target person so easily, and Taking away the life nucleus, his heart was more or less surprised. Especially the blood elves who died under the sword of Kane around him, just looking at the fatal wounds, he knew that if this blood viscount grows up, he will be a terrifying figure in the future.

But at least, at this moment they are allies.

So ignore the angry blood elf commander. This dark elf commander knows very well that since their battle plan has been successful, even if the opponent is going to hunt down the blood viscount, it is impossible to catch up. If he were to be replaced, it might be possible in this well-known forest. After all, the geographical advantage and the shelter of the wind's swiftness are not a joke, but if it is a blood elf, there is no such possibility.

After all, the best thing about the blood race is not strength, nor endurance, nor the terrible recovery ability, but their speed.

Therefore, after being pushed back by the opponent, the dark elf commander also retreated, and soon retreated to his camp. Naturally, he took advantage of the situation to solve some blood elf guards in the middle. You must know that this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to weaken the power of the blood elves. For the Reform Party, except for the neutral blood secret party, the werewolves who are also reformist factions, and the spider monsters who do not pay much attention to the world, any other races and forces They are all their enemies, so as long as they have the opportunity to weaken the enemy, of course they will not let it go.

Because the dark elf commander withdrew from his own formation, the blood elves who outflanked the dark elf phalanx from both sides would naturally not continue to entangle here, especially after seeing the dark elf commander slaughter more than a dozen comrades. Very tacitly and quickly chose to retreat. Even so, they also need to pay some casualties, but under the cover of shooting from their own blood elves, these casualties will naturally not be too heavy.

Of course, the more important reason is that the dark elves have no interest in continuing to fight at this time. While quickly sorting out the battlefield, covering the injured comrades and the dead comrades on their backs, they quickly retreat towards the rear, not with the blood elves. Continue to entangle.

And the blood elf commander, even if he knew that the blood clan was with the dark elves in front of him, compared with the life nucleus that was stolen, he would not continue to fight with the dark elves here, but quickly Organize a small team, led by him, and then chase Kane.

Of course, the result of this fact has already been confirmed from this moment!

Chapter 136: .Unwilling Serena

The news of the heavy casualties of the first unit of the Scarlet Guard, the proudest blood elves, soon swept the entire underground world like a hurricane.

A whole team of four hundred people, but in the end only more than one hundred people survived.

The deputy commander of the Scarlet Guard, the commander of the first unit, the powerhouse of the prince rank, died in battle.

Four centurions, and only one survived.

This is a great loss for the blood elves.

Because blood elves have huge advantages in talents that other elves can't match, but their fertility is weaker than other elves. Even with the essence of the tree of life, their fertility is always the same. It is not up to the normal level, which is why the blood elves have been difficult to grow. Especially after several battles and the older generations are dying of old age, it is difficult for the blood elves to compete with the dark elves for their population base.

This is also the reason why the blood elves value the Cassedon race so much.

For the blood elves, drawing the Cassidon tribe into their blood elves and becoming their followers. This is an important turning point in whether the blood elves can grow.

So in fact, not only the Evernight Party and the Vengeance Party are trying to prevent this. Of course, if the young patriarch of the Cassedon tribe was killed by Rotti Kabas, this kind of prevention is naturally impossible to talk about— -Even the other holy blood races in the underground world are paying close attention to this matter, especially the blood races who least want to see the blood elves grow up again.

Because that year, when the blood elves were forced to leave the surface world and enter the underground world, they fought fiercely with the blood clan.

It is precisely because of this war that the subterranean world is divided into six sacred blood races.

Therefore, in some aspects, the blood elves are the least hopeful to see the blood elves grow, especially as time goes by, the blood elves have always maintained a stable population base, and even have a relatively stable development, while the blood elves' population The base number is constantly decreasing, which makes the blood race even more happy. After all, before the blood elves entered the subterranean world, the blood races had always dominated the entire subterranean world. How could there be any werewolves and arachnophobes, so for the forced recognition of arachnids, werewolves, dark elves, demon descendants, and blood elves. The fact that the five races have the same noble bloodline as the blood races and are the six most powerful saint blood races in the underground world has always been considered a shame by the blood races.

So after hearing that the most elite blood elves, the Scarlet Guard, suffered heavy losses, the plan to win over the Cassedon tribe was frustrated, and the blood tribe was the happiest.

Because this means that the hope that the blood elves will once again grow and rise has been dashed.

Having waited for thousands of years before finally waiting for such a perfect opportunity, but in the end it passed by. The blood elves' anger can be imagined.

But no matter how angry, what's the use?

Even if he already knows that the enemy is the Dark Elf Reform Party, all this is still meaningless—no one knows where the Dark Elf Reform Party is hiding in the Forest of Deep Knowledge. You know, the Evernight Party, known as the half-owner of the Forest of Profound Knowledge, cannot find a hiding place for the Reform Party. How can the blood elves, whose base camp is not in the Forest of Profound Knowledge, know?

Moreover, the relationship between the Dark Elf Night Party and the blood elves has never been particularly close—of course, it will not be alienated, after all, there is still a Vengeance Party in the middle of it. If it weren't for the Yongye Party's inability to contend with the other great sacred blood races, the Yongye Party might even be incompatible with the Vengeance Party. After all, the concepts of the two parties are completely different.

This kind of partisan ideological controversy is much more serious than the surface world.

Gradually, as more details about the war in this well-known forest were revealed, the other major holy blood races, and even the hostile factions, finally ceased to look like a sullen joy.

This time, the blood elves escorted the life nucleus to the Cassedon tribe, one of the members of the Eleven Clan of the Dark Elf Eternal Night Party. This is no secret.

But it was a viscount of the blood family who took the life nucleus, which made the blood family feel a little unbelievable.

Not to mention what the meaning of the * viscount's shots represents, just listen to the details that revealed that the * viscount used the sword to kill the enemy, and all the blood elves who died under his sword killed the enemy in one shot, and But it was a fatal injury, which caused many people to look at the inside of the blood clan.

There will be no more than five young generations with such sharp sword skills, two of whom are in the secret party faction, two are in the presbytery faction, and one is in the demon party faction.

It's just that according to the latest battle conditions, Tibone Tadez, who possessed such sharp sword skills, has already been killed in battle, and the Tad's clan was uprooted by the Werewolf Matar tribe, and the entire clan has become a thing of the past. . So many people are wondering whether it was another young master of swordsmanship from the blood family secret party or the secret instruction of the blood family elders' meeting that did this kind of thing?

After all, the attitude of the Presbyterian Church has always been ambiguous, and it is difficult to determine whether they support the Mi Party or the Mo Party. The only thing that is certain is that the Mo Party will never cooperate with the Dark Elf reformers. On the contrary, the Mi Party is more likely, especially since there is indeed no news about the Mi Party's swordsman master.

As a result, new problems have arisen.

Why would the blood race want to help capture this life nucleus?

You must know that the life nucleus is meaningless to the blood race, and the same is meaningless to the arachnid. The only ones that can have an effective effect are the four races of dark elves, blood elves, demons and werewolves. However, the Scarlet Banner has always been in charge of power. Although there are some other voices in the Demons, the Scarlet Banner has led the thoughts of the entire demons for tens of thousands of years. It wants to reverse and change in a short period of time. It is impossible to do it.

Then the answer is whether the Dark Elf Reform Party acted as a lobbyist, wooing the kinsmen and werewolves to tie their own chariots?

Although the blood race and the werewolf are seriously at odds with each other, this is not absolute.

As early as when they attacked the surface world for the first time, the blood race and the werewolf showed an extremely tacit ability to cooperate. If it hadn't been the failure of the first surface expedition, perhaps the relationship between the werewolf and the blood race would be much more harmonious now than it is now. . But anyway, the werewolf tribe also has supporters of the reform party faction, so if the dark elves of the reform party faction are taking the lead, as long as it is a secret party or a blood clan that is not too radical, it may really be possible to go with the werewolves. Cooperation.

Because of Kane's shot, extremely strange analysis information was suddenly produced in the entire underground world, and even the internal war in the underground world that had been completely unfolded suddenly calmed down and stopped for a moment.

At least, a large-scale war in a short period of time will definitely not break out before a conclusion is drawn to the weird situation in front of us.

Because everyone is worried, the ally in the previous moment will become an enemy in the next moment and will stab you directly in the back.

However, in such a situation, there is a person who realizes the key to being overlooked.

Selena Resenba.

The focus of others is always on the mysterious blood clan helping the reformers, whether there are any hidden conspiracies and plans, thus completely ignoring the role and value of the life nucleus. But for Serena, who knows Sean's details, she knows very well that Sean, who was seriously injured like her, must be seeking a chance to heal at this moment, and the life crystal nucleus happens to be able to produce extremely positive therapeutic effects on him. Special items.

In addition, the Dark Elf Reform Party and the Blood Viscount—maybe others don't know it, but Serena is very clear that the place where Sean first appeared was in the territory of the Blood Secret Party. It's a pity that she was banned that time, so she could only send her confidant to go, but she didn't expect to let Sean escape in the end. Serena was convinced that if she did it by herself, Sean would never It might be easy to escape like this.

At least, Serena is 70% sure that this time the blood elves escorted the life crystal nucleus and suffered a sniper attack, and it was severely damaged by Sean.

Because Serena had heard a lot about Sean when she was on the surface.

In Serena's view, Sean is not a fuel-efficient lamp, but a * person.

There were several major battles in the Southern Continent, behind the shadow of this man. Of course, Serena did not know that several major events occurred in the Northern Continent, such as the battle of destiny, the integration of the Commonwealth of the Northern Principality, and the church of God of War. The change of ownership and so on were all made by Sean. If she knew it, then she could be 100% sure that this attack on the blood elves was definitely made by Sean.

There is no other reason.

The first thing Sean did when he came to the underground world was to cause civil war to break out in the entire underground world again.

Sitting in a room in Resenba Castle, Serena frowned.

Since the last time she promised to attend the ball and meet the tyrant, although Serena is no longer detained, she still has not been given the opportunity to enter the blood pool. Obviously, Prince Abule, the patriarch of the Luxemba clan, does not want to fully restore her strength before Serena marries the tyrant of the Giovanni clan, even if she wants to sleep in the blood pool in the future to restore her strength. Enter the blood pool of the Giovanni clan.

However, Serena knew very well that she probably never hoped to enter the blood pool to recover her strength in her entire life.

Because the tyrant Giovanni would never allow Serena's strength to be fully restored, because once her strength is restored, then he will have the strength to fight against him. This is something that tyrant never wants to see. . What he wants is to watch Selena, the magic party genius and the princess of Resenba, who is always under him, and can only obey his commands and orders, instead of having the qualifications to talk to him on an equal footing. .

This is a fact confirmed after Serena and the tyrant met once at the ball.

What the tyrant wants is just a pet!

Selena closed the book in her hand, then got up and walked outside the door.

Four guards wearing black hooded cloaks immediately got up and followed after seeing Serena coming out.

They walked silently, and even the breath on their bodies did not leak the slightest. If they hadn't been able to see these four people following Serena's back, absolutely no one would have been able to spot these four people.

These four people are members of the blood clan from the Giovanni clan, and all four of them are the real powerhouses of the marquis rank strength.

Unlike the frontal fighting power that most of the bloods cultivated by the Resenba clan have, the bloods cultivated by the Giovanni clan are more inclined to the style of the demon, and they are better at stealth operations, assassinations, secret guards, etc. Kind of combat.

Although it is nominally sent to protect the future patriarch's fiancée of the Giovanni clan, in fact, everyone knows that they are here to monitor Serena's actions. Of course, if some secrets of the Resenba clan can be discovered on this basis, then naturally it would be perfect. But even if Lesenbamin knew about Giovanni's plan, it was just for the stability of the alliance, so they could be considered patient for the time being, and even throw out some insignificant secrets as bait.

As Serena moved forward, the four blood members of the Giovanni clan seemed to finally realize something. One of them slammed in front of Serena: "Master Serena, please don't embarrass us."

"Go away." Serena's face sank, and she shouted in a low voice.

But the member of the Giovanni kinship who stood in front of Serena did not give way, but continued to say in a deep voice: "Sir Serena, you are injured now, Lord Miller asked us to protect you. Now. The war is going on outside and it's very dangerous. It's better to ask Master Serena to stay in the castle.... At least, with your current physical condition, Master Serena, it's really not suitable to go out."

Since the blast of Path of the Abyss, Serena has undergone a certain degree of treatment, even sucking a lot of blood and blood, but her current strength has barely recovered to the rank of earl. Not to mention that it was only half a step before you could become a prince, even the four Marquis-level members of the Giovanni blood clan in front of them are much stronger than Serena.

"Where I am going, I don't need to report to you, let me say one more thing, get out of here." Serena's voice became extremely cold.

The four blood members of the Giovanni clan looked at each other, and the three people standing behind Serena stepped forward at the same time, directly surrounding Serena. And the blood race that blocked Serena's path forward said in a deep voice: "Master Miller has an order. If you must go out, Master Serena, allow us to use some violent methods. So, we have to..."

Before this blood member of the Giovanni clan could finish speaking, Serena had already taken the first step.

It was just a flat blow with a palm, and the strong blood rushed out from Serena's right hand, turned into a huge * palm, directly printed on the opponent's body, and knocked the opponent out on the spot. . While the other party was still in the air, he could clearly see that his chest had sunk into a large area, and the blood splattered all the way along the trail of him flying out.

The three kinsmen behind them saw Selena's first move, and immediately stopped worrying about anything, and directly besieged Selena.

The blood family has a strong recovery ability. As long as it is not completely killed by the damaged blood core, even if it is broken hands or feet, it can be completely restored after a certain degree of rest and blood supply. Therefore, the three blood members of the Giovanni clan directly laid a heavy hand on Serena. Anyway, as long as Serena is not dead, there is no problem for them, and there is really only one way to subdue Serena. Just break her hands and feet.

It was just that these three blood clan members did not expect it. Even if they really made a heavy move, they still underestimated Serena's strength.

Before the attack of the three fell on Serena, two of them were shot and flew out, but unlike the person who was hit hard by Serena before, the two were directly embedded in Serena. On the stone walls on both sides of the castle corridor, and looking at the degree of distortion of the limbs, it is obviously impossible to fight again.

As for the last person left, his hands were easily held by Serena, and then Serena slammed it hard, and the sound of a crisp fracture suddenly sounded. This blood member of the Giovanni clan had both hands on him. Cut off by Serena.

Afterwards, Serena pinched her right hand, and pulled it directly in front of her by pinching her neck.

Looking at Serena's blood-sucking fangs suddenly exposed, this member of the Giovanni blood clan began to struggle frantically, but no matter how he struggled, he could not escape Serena's right hand.

"I have told you not to get in the way, but you just want to block my way, so I can't help it." Serena said calmly, that calm posture is not so indifferent, it is better. A kind of contempt, "It happens that I need more combat power to go out this time. Since everyone is preventing me from entering the blood pool, then I can only draw strength from you."

"You, you can't do this, we are...no!"

Before the blood of the Giovanni clan could finish speaking, Serena had directly bitten on the other's carotid artery. With Serena's throat squirming, Serena was constantly sucking a large amount of blood. The blood of the Giovanni clan who was caught by Serena quickly turned into a corpse at a speed visible to the naked eye. After that, Serena's right hand suddenly pierced his chest, dug out its blood core, and then threw it into his mouth and bit it.

With bursts of clicks, Serena loosened her right hand, and the dead blood corpse was thrown to the ground at will. Then Serena stepped towards the wall and was completely immobile. The second member of the blood clan of the Giovanni clan.

"no no!"

Screams of horror resounded in this corridor.

But weirdly, no members of the Resenba clan appear here.

Not long after, Serena had already swallowed the blood gas and blood cores of the four blood members of the Giovanni clan. She gently wiped the blood flowing out of the corner of her mouth, her eyes suddenly bloomed with an extremely bright look. At this moment, her strength finally returned to the state of marquis rank, although she was still far from the peak of the marquis, and even her own heyday. A long way to go, but at least there are not many people who can suppress Serena at this moment.

"Sean..." Serena said coldly, and then stepped out of here, "By the way, I have to thank Miller for the gift that he gave me. Huh."

After Serena left, Azina, the maid of the Resenba clan, appeared in this corridor. She quietly stared at the four corpses in front of her who could be called corpses, without even frowning her brows. , Began to organize the scene.

Soon, the battle traces in the corridor-not only the blood splattered from the surroundings, but even the sunken rock wall, the smell of blood in the air, the four blood members of the Giovanni clan that have become mummies, etc. All were completely wiped out by Akina.

and.

In the record of leaving, Serena also left alone and turned into four guards from the Giovanni clan and left with Serena.

After finishing all this, Akina turned and left the corridor, and soon fell into the darkness again.

Chapter 137: .Burst Gun

It has been more than five months since Sean disappeared, almost half a year.

In the past six months, the void empire has completely grown into a real behemoth.

And all this must be attributed to one person.

Queen of Phoenix, or as it should be called the Queen of Phoenix now: Cecilia Connery.

Under the decision of the queen, the void empire is now presenting a prosperous and prosperous state.

The Northern Alliance Millennium Covenant Empire formed an alliance of empires to fight against an army of bones.

Nan and the Chenas Empire divided the fascist kingdom and signed a non-aggression treaty.

East assisted the Principality of Garrod to counter-attack Robin and Carosha's coalition forces to recover their lost ground.

West Tun savage land, the tribes called their courtiers, preventing the coalition forces from outside the great fortress.

It even helped Princess Frches to quell the civil strife in the Kingdom of Ryan, to remove the army of the eldest prince Adams of the Kingdom of Ryan from danger, and completely stifle all the dangerous factors of instability in the Kingdom of Ryan, the existence of Adams. It is an important factor in the stability of the northern part of the Kingdom of Ryan, and he is also the only remaining blood relative of Fulhis. Public and private Fulhis is unwilling to see Adams die.

It is precisely because of this that, under the request of Fulhis' efforts, coupled with a strategic plan that can match the Millennium Covenant Empire, Cecilia will let William lead the attack and bring Adams and him Rescued by the Oath Legion. However, as a condition, this fateful prince can only sit in the northern part of the Lane Kingdom for his entire life, and his children will never participate in the battle for the heir of the Lane Kingdom.

In this regard, Adams has nothing to say, because he knows he has no choice.

Especially when the void empire is getting stronger and stronger, blatantly provoking the authority of the void empire is simply death.

After Fulhis took over the throne of the Kingdom of Ryan, the first thing she did was to give the Tonis Fortress to the Nether Empire, and recognized the status of the sovereign state of the Nether Empire, and at the same time, the former Darbyon Kingdom All the territories were given to Asuna, and the Principality of Garrod of Asuna was upgraded to the Kingdom of Garrod.

Of course, Cecilia will not refuse these good gestures.

Just before leaving, she glanced at Frches, the woman known as Ryan's Heart. But in the end, Cecilia didn't say anything. She just nodded slightly, expressing her approval of Fulcis's kindness, and then returned to the Void Empire, because she had too many things to deal with, and now she is The status of a princess in the kingdom like Fulthis is not very attractive to her.

If Sean had not had an entanglement with the Ryan Kingdom back then, and had also accepted Asuna's love, Cecilia would not necessarily help Ryan Kingdom solve these problems.

Leaving with Cecilia, Diana and Hela were also two, and only two people were responsible for safety work.

Although there are only two people, no matter who it is, they will never go to Cecilia's idea.

There is no other reason, because the two men responsible for the defense work, one is named Alexis, the other is named Kozilek.

As for Ulamog, it is located in Oasis City.

Void Empire, it's no secret to have three super powers.

Perhaps for some great empires, the background of the three superpowers is still slightly thinner after all, but if only in terms of combat power, apart from the five ancient empires, I am afraid that no one really dares to provoke the void empire. . Apart from other things, Alexis can deal with at least three superpowers by himself, and Kozilek may be incapable of dealing with two, but dealing with one alone is definitely a battle that will win. As for Ulamog, Can also solve a super strong alone.

Therefore, if you want to attack the Void Empire, without more than seven superpowers, it is impossible to eat this powerful behemoth.

And the empire with seven super powers, I am afraid that there are only three of the Zenus Empire, the Millennium Covenant, and the Emilia Empire.

Before, the Saint-Joles Empire was also an empire that could send out more than seven superpowers, but since the Battle of the Fate of the Northern Continent, the Saint-Joles Empire has been a human being with its tail between its tails for a long time. Today's Saint-Joles' empire can be described as a two-sided enemy: the border friction with the Maggie Empire continues, and the new North Kingdom, which is integrated by the Church of War God, has been eyeing the eye. New Northland, where Mi Li is completely in power, will never let it go.

Of course, even if there are seven super powers that can contain the top combat power of the void empire, it will also require a strong legion.

In this way, the only empires that are truly qualified to fight the Void Empire are the Zenus Empire and the Emilia Empire. The Thousand-Year Covenant is now dragged down by the army of the bone plane, and the casualties are quite heavy. Even if it is really capable of fighting, it will definitely not go to war with the void empire. Of course, the secrets involved in it are not known to outsiders.

So, this is also the reason why the countries surrounding the Void Empire either unite together or are attached to the Void Empire.

Cecilia, after Sean created a new era, he perfected the rules of this new era: the rule of balance between the weak and the strong.

The eight empires check and balance each other, and no one will lightly start the war. This gives many weak countries a certain amount of living space. Everything seems to be back to the era when the Peace Parliament still existed: No Baotuan means attachment. Of course, in fact, there is still a certain gap from the era when the Peace Parliament existed, but at least there has not been a sense of despair that made other countries feel helpless.

It's just that, as the void empire grows stronger and stronger, the United Baotuan is after all a road to destruction. Perhaps in this new era, small countries can only escape destruction by becoming vassals.

In the foreseeable future, the Marvel Continent will inevitably evolve into a situation where the empires restrict each other.

Because of this, those super-class kingdoms that already have the strength to advance toward the empire are also growing wildly, because they all know that once the power structure is determined, they will never have a chance to become a great empire in the future. At least, these countries that have established their imperial structure will never allow new countries to challenge their status and authority.

This is a phenomenon not seen in the era when the Peace Parliament existed: a prosperous scene of contention among a hundred schools of thought.

As for whether this prosperity is true or false, no one cares.

People will only remember how powerful the Void Empire is today, and how can they know that 15 years ago, Sean and Cecilia didn't even have the qualifications to join those little mercenary groups?

The current void empire, not to mention Cecilia, who has stepped into the realm of legend.

The existence of the first-level town country powerhouse, there are the killing of Wu Ji Alexis, the truth butcher Kozile, and the endless reincarnation Ulamo.

The next top powerhouses are Dragon Knight Wu Ji. Rina, Winter Pope. Xuefanio, Son of Demonic Vessel. Harding, Sword Emperor. Levi, Silver Flowing Fire. Alyssa, Final Elf Noro, Sword Dancer, Venia, Marksman Marton, Absolute Swordsman Fannie, Spider Queen Hina, Wolf King Olianna, and the former peace who was coerced by Sean to join her camp. The peace messengers of the parliament, the golden robe executives, and the legendary strong men who came to defect after hearing about the powerful reputation of the void empire from all over the world.

These are just the top powerhouses representing individual combat power.

As for the Legion, perhaps the Void Empire is still unable to compare with the old seven empires, but it is definitely not weak in terms of military strength or the background of famous generals.

Those who have reached the level of the sixth legion, apart from the first three veteran troops: the Thunder Lion, the Cecilia Guards, and the Iron Wings, after a series of * battles, the pitch black wings, the conviction wings, and the scarlet The Knights, Silver Temple Legion, Wild Legion, etc., have also reached the level of combat effectiveness of the Sixth Legion. As for the 500,000 army gathered from the various tribes in the Wildlands, although there is still a lot of gap from the level of the fifth-level legion, some of the legions have reached the level of the quasi-fifth-level legion. The level is also maintained between the third to the fourth level of the army.

In addition, the Void Empire, which already has a complete reserve force supplement system, has been continuously reorganizing, expanding, and forming legions that can adapt to various combat conditions and environments.

Responsible for commanding these troops are naturally the famous generals familiar with the Southern Continent today: such as Dwight, Alfred, Abaza, Stalin, Aldolf, Knock, Klov and so on.

These people are not only responsible for commanding the army. In their spare time, they even go to the Void Empire's Void University to teach military courses. The Void University is the first major project established after the establishment of the Void Empire. Its purpose is to The Void Empire continuously cultivates all kinds of talents, including but not limited to several major projects such as military, politics, economy, culture, martial arts, and magic.

And all this is attributed to the four giants of today's void empire: military officer. William, strategy officer. Hela, interior officer. Neal, and diplomat. Diana.

In addition to the reputation of the four giants, in fact, it is the three small giants that really make many seniors of the void empire feel jealous, but the three leaders from the intelligence department of the void empire: Ruby, Heberly, and Eli Kate.

All affairs in any void empire cannot escape their investigation and understanding, as if there is an eye staring at it all the time. Although the Void Realm today is not enough to easily collect the intelligence of the entire Miracle Continent, but with the business development over the past ten years, the entire Southern Continent is not considered to have any secrets to the Void Empire.

All of these are the real terrifying aspects of the Void Realm.

In time, the Void Empire can definitely be compared to the Zenus Empire in terms of intelligence collection.

With the Void Empire in such a prosperous situation, all affairs are already on track, Cecilia no longer needs to worry about and busy with empire affairs. But in fact, this is not the case, because in the eyes of outsiders, the Void Empire, which is so prosperous and prosperous, actually has an undercurrent hidden in it all the time.

And this undercurrent is exactly what Cecilia doesn't want to see: factions.

During the six months since Sean's disappearance, because of the struggle for a common goal, even if the undercurrent is lurking, it will not affect the situation. But with the current situation in the Void Empire that the overall situation has been set, this undercurrent suddenly became turbulent.

The reason is simple.

Void Wudi.

Void Empire is a situation created by Sean. From a small territory, to the principality, to the kingdom, and then to the empire, it can be said that Sean has put in countless efforts to finally be able to make it from nothing. So no matter from which aspect, the first emperor of the void empire must be Sean, and not anyone else. Even to put it bluntly, this is the empire built by Sean, and the future emperor will inevitably be Sean's heir.

However, as the name "Void" grew stronger, many followers who joined later did not see such a hard side of Sean, let alone that they had never fought side by side with Sean. The only thing they know is that the current Void Empire has become a banner of the Southern Continent, and even the entire Marvel Continent, and it is the Queen of Phoenix Cecilia, who can even be said to be the four giants of the void.

Therefore, inside the Void Empire, the call for Cecilia to become the emperor is very high.

And the chief messenger of all this, you don't need to think about who it is.

Clover.

It was because he had seen the legitimacy of Cecilia's bloodline that he betrayed the Duchy of Rembel, took refuge in Cecilia's command, and formed an army of dead soldiers who were not afraid of sacrifice: Cecilia Jin Guards. Therefore, his all-time ambition is to watch Cecilia become king the day, and even long for Cecilia to shoulder the name of the Phoenix of the Rembel family again, so that Rembel's reputation will once again resound in the mainland.

It's just that Cecilia has been reluctant to fight these things, she is more willing to accompany Sean silently.

At that time, because Sean was still there, and Sean had promised to Clover that he would help Cecilia regain the Duchy of Lumber one day, so Clover would be willing to go out for Sean. Because in his opinion, helping Sean to fight for benefits is equivalent to helping Cecilia fight for benefits. It is even no exaggeration to say that in the series of major battles established by the Void Empire, Crof's credit can definitely be accounted for. Thirty percent.

But now, with the disappearance of Sean, Cecilia took over the regime to become the Queen of Phoenix, and Clover's mind naturally increased.

He began to use his influence to build momentum for Cecilia, trying to make Cecilia the first emperor of the void empire. In fact, Cecilia's external address has always been "king" rather than "emperor", and the title of "Queen of Phoenix" was created by Cloff. As far as the Void Empire is concerned, Cecilia did not hold the enthronement ceremony, so naturally cannot be regarded as the emperor, but to the outside world who does not know the truth, from the moment the name of the Queen of Phoenix spreads, many people think that Cecilia Celia is the emperor of the void empire.

All these situations, and even public opinion building momentum, are naturally the work of Cloff.

However, he underestimated Cecilia's determination.

No matter how loud the voice is, no matter how the outside world thinks it, even Clover has proposed countless enthronement ceremonies, Cecilia remains unmoved.

In this way, it is naturally extremely detrimental to the stability of the void empire.

In other words, someone began to look at the Big Four.

Many people believe that the merits of the Big Four are not necessarily lower than that of Cecilia. Now that Sean is missing, the Void Empire cannot never have an emperor. Since Cecilia is unwilling to take the throne, perhaps the Big Four will willing. So gradually, some people began to try to put the bet on the Big Four, because only they won this big bet, then they will be the heroes of the empire. Driven by this kind of interest, countless people are Furious like a eagle.

It's just that they, who don't know the history of the founding of the Nether Empire, will never know the secrets hidden in it: neither Cecilia nor the Big Four can fight for the position of the emperor, it will belong to them forever. The spiritual symbol of Sean Connery's position.

Of course, if Sean has children, then even if Sean disappears now, these veterans who have followed Sean and witnessed Sean's emergence from nothing will of course be happy to assist Sean's. Offspring. But unfortunately, Xiao En suddenly disappeared without leaving any blood. Except for the fact that he is still confirmed that he is not dead, no one knows where he is now and what he is doing.

This is the reason for the undercurrent surging inside the Void Empire.

After returning to Oasis City, the base camp of the Void Empire, Cecilia didn't have any delay, but quickly returned to the palace.

Today's Oasis City, as the capital of the Nether Empire, is the economic, political, cultural, and military center of the entire Nether Empire. Therefore, in this short period of nearly half a year, it has been expanded three times. Each time, the original expansion project has not been completed, and a new round of expansion work has to be carried out. After all, Oasis City is not a floating population, and its resident population alone has reached 500,000. It is a well-deserved real Giant city.

Void Palace is the palace of the void empire. It is built adjacent to the void university.

Different from the traditional palace where only the disciples of the royal blood can live in, the four giants and their family heirs, the strongest of the country, the top powers, the famous generals, etc., all have the qualifications to live in the Void Palace. In fact, the vastness of the Void Palace far exceeds the general specifications of the palace, because the Void Palace and the Void University College were both built on the old site of Oasis City, and its specifications are large enough to accommodate 100,000 people. It is the city within the city of Oasis.

After entering the council chamber, Alexis nodded to Ulamog, then turned and left.

Only Ulamog smiled helplessly as he followed Cecilia, Diana, and Hela into the council chamber.

In the Council Chamber, only Neil is in the office.

It's not that Neil didn't help him. On the contrary, Neil now has more than one hundred assistants responsible for passing Neil's orders and decisions. However, because of Neil's high efficiency actions, these assistant officers have no time to spare at all. They are running and busy almost all the time. It can be said that being Neil's assistant officers is the most difficult thing. .

Seeing the return of Cecilia and others, Neil just raised his head and glanced, and then lowered his head to continue to be busy: "How?"

"That woman is not easy." Cecilia said softly.

"I can get your evaluation of 'not easy'. It seems that this woman named Fulhis is indeed very powerful." Neil nodded, "Regardless of whether the virtuous king Ryan was poisoned by her, this has been. It doesn't matter anymore, she is the final winner anyway."

"She still has a hole card in her hand." Hela laughed. "It's just that she didn't even think that the Peace Council would be destroyed by us. But this woman is indeed very clever. Asuna is tied to her chariot, so that even if we don't help her, at least we won't stand on the opposite side of her. Judging from this move, she is already invincible.... As for the rest of the matter, well, except for the death of the third prince, which was something she planned, the other things should be beyond her plan."

"How is Vannie?" Cecilia asked again.

"It has stabilized." Neil replied, "I have to say, we should thank her, otherwise, a legendary powerhouse like Fannie won't come to us, even if we are now firmly established in the South Continent. Up the heel."

"What I am more curious about now is whether Floris had been bought by her from the beginning, or whether the virtuous king of Ryan did not take refuge in her until he died." Hela sat in her seat in the chamber. Go up, and then speak.

"Is there a difference?" Cecilia was a little confused for a while.

"Master Cecilia, the difference is still there." It was Diana who was puzzled. "If the Marquis of Floris was first bought by Queen Frches, then she knows the throne's will. The designated heir was not her, so she would be a murderer and asked the Marquis of Flores to act with her, saying that the will of the designated heir was gone."

Hearing Diana's words, Cecilia suddenly came to her senses: "On the contrary, if the virtuous king died before taking refuge in her, then it means that the Marquis of Floris placed the bet on her. In other words, she is indeed not the murderer who poisoned the king."

Hela nodded, and then said, "According to my observations, the two most outstanding heirs in the Ryan Kingdom are her and Grain. So the heirs designated by the disappearing will are either she or Grain, that is, Said that the murderer of their father must be one of these two people. The only evidence is who is the heir specified in the will.... It's a pity that the will is gone."

"So I have already said that it doesn't matter whether she poisoned King Ryan VI." Neil rolled his eyes, and he had to discuss such meaningless results. He really couldn't bear it. Because in Neil's opinion, this is a waste of time, "This is a woman who is very good at using her own advantages. She gave all of Darbion's territory to Asuna, and also gave us the Fortress of Tonys. On the surface, She suffers a lot, but the shrinking of the territory also represents the concentration of power and easier control. The most important thing is that after we accept her kindness, it is equivalent to announcing our asylum to the Kingdom of Lane to the outside world."

"So I said, she is not easy." Cecilia opened the mouth and made a final summary, "Is there anything in the empire during the time I left?"

"The same way." Neil raised his head and glanced at Cecilia. "The undercurrent is showing signs of aggravation. The canonized aristocracy has begun to contact other people, even reaching out to the second and third generations. "

The so-called second and third generations refer to the second-generation generals and heroes who were drawn out by William and Rena like Stalin, Knock, and Aldolph, as well as those who took over the command of the legion such as Dwight and Abaza. The third-generation generals and heroes of great power.

Now the Void Empire has begun to develop into the fourth generation. As the leaders of the fourth generation, they are the Spider Queen Hina and the Wolf King Oriana.

Two people, one represents the interests of the original Void Principality, and the other represents the interests of the wild tribes.

Although the two have a very good personal relationship, they are good sisters and good girlfriends, but because of external pressure and different demands, the two have gradually been erected as a pair of rivals. Even to put it harder, in the not-too-distant future, the two people may even become political enemies. As for whether this will destroy the friendship between the two, that is something that no one can say. .

Having said this, Neil turned his head and looked at Hela: "According to the information of the Void Realm, your nephew has been very close to the Mora family recently, and there are rumors that they have begun to do something with your name. ."

Hearing this, Hela's face suddenly became difficult to look.

The Mora family, originally the Mora tribe in the wild land, is not a very big tribe, but it can barely make it to the end of the first class. This family was originally one of the most steadfast supporters of the Void Principality, and it is precisely because of this that after the Void Principality was upgraded to an empire, he was one of the first many families to be canonized as a marquis. And because Hela has always been in charge of the affairs of the Wildlands before, and the deputy legion of the Wild Legion is a talent from the Mora family, so the Mora family naturally hope Hela can become the emperor of the void empire.

To put it simply, the Mora family is one of the supporters who support Hella's struggle for the throne, and is also the biggest supporter.

Although the most core followers around Sean know Hela-let alone Hela, even the Big Four, Cecilia, cannot be the emperor, but Hela has always been in order to show her innocence. Did not get too close to the Mora family, it can even be said to be deliberately alienated. But now, the nephew of Hela, the Garcia family, is now one of the eight top nobles in the void empire, but they are coming together with the Mora family. This is easy to be misunderstood by people who are interested, as a signal transmission.

"I will take care of it." Hela said in a deep voice.

For this kind of thing, everyone present was silent and said nothing.

Because they all know that even if they will not fight for the throne, or even get too close to the so-called supporters, it is still difficult to avoid such a situation for families with descendants like Hela. And if this situation is not stifled in the first time, it will cause the undercurrents within the empire to become more fierce. This is absolutely unfavorable for the Void Empire that has just established a foothold, and it is also unwilling to see it. Arrived.

"Also." Seeing that Hela had already expressed his opinion, Neil said again, "Clough has been a bit big recently."

This time, it was Cecilia's turn to frown.

Unlike Hella, it's because of the misunderstanding of blood parents and heirs. For example, Clover has always advertised himself as Cecilia's spokesperson, so if Clover does anything, he will easily be regarded as Cecilia's instigation. of. This is also the reason why so many people responded and supported Cecilia's enthronement as the emperor of the Void Empire when Clover did something in the first place. In the eyes of many people, perhaps it's just that Cecilia didn't have a name. That's why he refused to take the throne, and therefore he was instructed to help him build momentum and try to use the momentum of public opinion to achieve the purpose of legitimization.

Of course, this is not the case. At least those core followers and first-generation followers who followed Sean knew this.

But Clover's actions are still very misunderstood.

"It seems I want to find something for him to do." Cecilia sighed.

"Troubleshooting the symptoms, not the root cause." Neal said softly.

"No way, why do you think William led his troops out to fight the undead? It's not because he is unwilling to face those interest chasers in the capital." Cecilia sighed helplessly, "Furthermore, K Love did a great job in the Void Empire, and the Cecilia Guards had no command other than Klov, so I had to do this."

William's departure from the capital of the Void Empire really made his attention much smaller, and at least to a certain extent suppressed the changes in the empire's undercurrents.

After all, without a "competitor", the volatility of the undercurrent will not be that big.

"Then what are you going to do?" Hela asked.

"I plan to let him attack the Duchy of Lembel."

"This..." Not only Hela, but Neil and Diana were shocked.

But soon, Hela reacted: "This plan...feasible! If used well, it may be possible to temporarily calm the current undercurrent of the empire, so that we will have a lot of time."

"Indeed." Neil thought for a moment and immediately understood Hela's plan. "This is a war that spans the entire Marvel Continent, so the marching route needs to be adjusted and arranged. In this way, it needs to communicate with other countries... ..."

"Dianna, I, and Clover are going to leave." Hela said, "and you have been in the Void Palace. No one can meet you. In this way, the nobles will not be able to reach us temporarily. They won't have the mind to fight for rights. This should be able to keep them quiet for a long time."

"I'm back to the Black Swan Castle." Cecilia also said.

"No." Neil and Hela objected for the first time. "You must sit in the capital, but as long as you pretend to be very busy every day, those people should not dare to disturb you, especially if Clover is not in the king. In both cases."

"But if this battle is won completely..."

"So I plan to invite Master Alexis to go with him." Hela replied, "In addition, we will let Alfred and Dwight act together. The prestige will not be taken away by Clover. Don't forget, I'm the commander-in-chief of this war, and I'm in charge of the arrangements for the battle. Whoever gets the credit and who can't get the credit is just a matter of mine."

"Then it's so decided!"

Ulamog quietly watched the few people in the chamber calm the undercurrents in the empire in a few words, and his heart could not help but nod slightly. Even if this is only a temporary solution, it at least guarantees the stability of the empire and also guarantees Sean's rights and interests-in fact, whether it is Cecilia or Neil, Hela, William, and Diana, and I don't know that Alexis is already very dissatisfied.

Naturally, they will not pay attention to these people who are fighting for power. After all, it has nothing to do with them. It is just that this matter involves Sean, which is the rights and interests of their contract owner, so Alexis has had the urge to shoot several times. NS.

Of course, if Alexis were to take action, then she would definitely not be so gentle, I am afraid that the entire king will have many people and many families that will be extinct overnight.

Now that this kind of * conflict can be avoided, Ulamog is naturally more happy, so he quickly put forward a suggestion: "It's not enough to have Sir Alexis alone. Bring Kozilek with him."

Soon, all the itineraries were completely prepared.

Looking at Hela and Diana hurriedly leaving the council chamber, Cecilia couldn't help but sighed, "Sean...Where are you?"

.....

Location: The underground world, the forest of deep knowledge, the base camp of the Dark Elf Reform Party.

Time: three o'clock in daylight.

Cheers resounded one after another, and a grand celebration was being held here.

The main purpose of the celebration party is to celebrate the success of Rorty Kabas' inheritance. In addition, it was also to celebrate the death of the young chief of the Setun tribe. For the Reform Party, this was a serious injury to the enemy, not to mention the nucleus of life of the blood elves and the power of the blood elves.

No matter from which aspect, the success of Rorty Kabas is an extremely significant morale boost for the Dark Elf Reform Party.

Although the celebration is still going on, Rorty Kabas has already brought Sean and their doctor to the end of the meeting. After another detailed examination of Sean, he finally issued an accurate conclusion: as long as With the successful production of the Life Crystal Core Potion, Sean's problem will be completely ended within a month, and his strength will be fully restored by then, and it may even increase.

For this result, Sean is naturally very excited.

When his strength is fully restored, it is when he enters the upper sanctuary realm. If it grows, then it means that he is one step closer to the legendary realm-with Shaun's current strength, he becomes a legend. The strong is only a matter of time, because the most difficult thing for him is to integrate the law of time and the law of space into the law of time and space.

But because of the impact caused by the explosion of the path of the abyss, although this did damage his strength, it also made him truly feel the deeper power of the law, and successfully merged the law of time and space into the law of time and space. Based on this alone, it is a huge profit for Sean, because it has already cleared all the obstacles before Sean became a legendary powerhouse.

Leaving from the tree hole of the great physician, the dark elf, Sean felt more relaxed than ever.

"Let's go." Rorty Kabas said with a smile.

"Where to go?" Sean asked.

"I didn't tell you before, I picked up a very interesting thing in the ruins of the Black God." Rorty Kabas said with a smile, and at the same time stepped forward to lead the way, "This thing, it looks like it should be a fragment of a gun blade. It's only a small part anyway, but... it's sharp, you have to be careful."

Following behind Rorty Kabas, Sean soon came to Rorty Kabas' tree hole.

Without any explanation from Rorty Kabas, Sean's eyes had fallen on the tip of a small cutting edge placed on the small stump that served as a table in the middle of the tree hole.

The tip of the blade is only a small part, even less than an inch long.

In the eyes of ordinary people, there is nothing noteworthy about this swarthy cutting edge. But in the eyes of the real strong, they can feel that this cutting edge has an extremely terrifying aura, and it can even be said that this aura has produced some distortions of spatial fluctuations-of course, only the real strong, To be able to see this special twisted wave.

"This..." Sean stepped forward with a look of surprise.

"The ruins of the Black God are protected by a powerful asylum law, so many things are well preserved inside. I brought a lot of things back, but after leaving the temple, all the things were decayed, only this section The gun blade still exists." Rorty Kabas knew why Sean was surprised, so he explained, "I originally planned to dissolve this gun blade and see if it can be mixed into any weapon, but when I found out When the breath of the gun-point was lost too quickly, I knew that my thoughts were too naive."

"Lost breath?"

"When the tip of the gun was first held by me, the aura was so strong that even ordinary people could see the twists and turns in the air." Rorty Kabas said, "but it doesn't work anymore, now only the Marquis is above the ranks. Rank... Oh, that is, only the strong above the middle sanctuary can see the aura fluctuations. It is estimated that it will not be long before this tip of the gun will decay."

"Then you tell me." Sean said irritably.

"I don't know that you are knowledgeable, so let you see if there is any way to save it." Rorty Kabas said with a smile, not embarrassed at all, "If it can be saved, take this point of the gun. The sharpness of...hehe, maybe even those big people who escape from the world can be hurt."

Rorti Kabas refers to the super-powerful in the underground world.

In the current underground world, the truly active powerhouses are basically based on the ranks of viscounts and earls. There are not no powerhouses of marquis and duke ranks, but they are rarely active in the underground world, and only those large-scale actions can do it. See the emergence of such strong men. As for prince-ranked powerhouses like Rorty Kabas, unless it is on the large battlefield of the civil war triggered by Sean, it is usually difficult to meet each other, most of them are hiding in the depths of their own territory.

Shaun ignored Rorty Kabas' words, he just reached out and touched the tip of the gun.

But the next moment, a scene that appeared in front of him made Rorty Kabas so shocked that he couldn't close his mouth: "You...you...you...what did you do!"

This powerful gun tip, under the touch of Sean's fingertips, turned into a powder!

Faced with Rorty Kabas's horrified question, Sean had no intention of paying attention to it at this time.

Because, as soon as he touched the tip of the gun, he received a long-lost system prompt.

【Detected broken gun fragments, the system is in the process of judging. 】

Suddenly, Sean's heart jumped, and a special power he was very familiar with instantly poured into his mind, as if he had established a connection with some powerful existence.

Not far from this secret stronghold, the space suddenly produced a strong wave.

Immediately afterwards, there was a sound of space shattering.

A figure dressed in black and red and a luxurious evening dress with gilt and silver stripes is walking slowly out of this broken space, but his skin is wrapped with a white bandage, revealing only the green color. With her eyes and a few strands of brown hair exposed from the bandage, she couldn't see her complexion and appearance at all. The only thing that can determine his gender is because he has a very obvious Adam's apple in his throat.

This is a man.

The man's right hand is holding a blood-like crystal spear. The spear is a typical cross-spear shape. If you look closely, you will find that the tip of the spear in the man's hand is similar to that of Roti Kabas. The little spear tip brought out from the remains of the gods is exactly the same!

As he walked out, the broken space behind him was quickly repairing at a speed visible to the naked eye.

"The new owner... Sean?" The man whispered, and then he looked sideways at the secret stronghold of the Dark Elf Reform Party where Sean was. Kozilek is here. Well, but...why can't I get in touch with them? This feeling...that's how it is."

Chapter 138: .The chain reaction of the strong

In the Void Palace, Ulama, who was following Cecilia's footsteps, suddenly stopped. It seemed that the strength of his body suddenly lost control, and the ground within a radius of tens of meters collapsed.

With a loud roar, even Cecilia couldn't keep her figure, and couldn't help but fall into the pit.

"What's the matter?" But Cecilia is a legendary powerhouse after all. Even if she is only a legendary magician, she immediately flew up and stood in front of Ulamog after she fell into the pit. , Asked with concern, "What happened?"

Ulamog's face showed a little surprise, it seemed unbelievable, but also extremely happy. After such a moment of loss, he laughed loudly and said: "Sean is okay!"

"I know Sean is okay." Cecilia's face darkened slightly, and she sighed helplessly. "But what I want to know now is where he is, how well he is, and when Able to come back."

"I believe that Lord Sean will be back soon!" Ulamog said in a deep voice, his expression extremely serious.

"Really?" Cecilia was taken aback for a moment, and then realized something, "It has something to do with your kick...?"

Ulamog lowered his head and glanced at the huge pit he had stepped on, and a trace of embarrassment flashed in his eyes.

He is a magician, and it is logically impossible for him to have such a terrifying physical power, but at that moment, he caused such a powerful destruction because of the huge impact of his mind, which caused the law and aura of his body to dissipate. . After all, super powers are no better than ordinary legendary powers. Basically, there must be no shortcomings to become super powers. The reason why there are professional systems such as magicians and warriors is only because of their differences. Fighting habits and special skills are nothing more than.

"Yes." Ulamog nodded, and then said, "Imoku is here. He is now by Lord Sean's side. With him, Lord Sean will be safe and sound, even if he can't be in the underground world. Coming in and out, but protecting Master Xiao En back to the surface world is not a problem."

"Imoku?" Cecilia was a little unsure, so, "Who is he?"

"Me and Kozilek's brother." Ulamog is just a simple sentence, but the aura that exudes is a kind of domineering look at the world.

Brother of Ulamog and Kozilek! ?

Cecilia looked at Ulamog in horror.

Few people saw Ulamog's shot, so even if they knew he was a super strong, they didn't know how strong he was.

In the void empire, people are more familiar with Alexis.

After all, the name of killing Wu Ji is not a joke, especially the wild tribes who have experienced the terrible aspects of Alexis. It is very clear how this charming and coquettish woman is once launched. horrible.

She alone dared to tear down the entire South Continent lair of Deadthorn, and personally suppressed the many powerful men of the Peace Council. In today's world, there are probably no more than three people who can compete with Alexis. many.

The second only to Alexis is Kozilek.

For this kid who only likes to eat and looks innocent, many soldiers who have fought with him are fearful from the heart. Because dying in the hands of Alexis, it is possible to leave a whole body, but dying in the hands of Kozilek often does not even exist.

But only a high-level person like Alexis knew that Ulamog alone was equivalent to a legion. And Alexis has also personally admitted that if Ulama is given enough time, and even if he can explode his true strength at all costs, she is not willing to fight Ulama-this also means that Ulama Ramo is capable of threatening Alexis.

And Ulamog and Kozilek's brother?

Cecilia doesn't know who this Imoku is, but she does know that he must be very strong.

With such a person by Sean's side, Cecilia was naturally relieved a lot.

"Our three brothers, it's been a long time... a long time... it hasn't been together." Ulamog smiled.

However, Cecilia may not have reacted before, but now hearing Ulama's words, and in connection with what Ulamog said before, Cecilia suddenly thought of a key point.

Her face looked a little tangled, but after a long silence, Cecilia finally mustered up the courage and said, "Master Ulamog, you just said...Imoku is here? Can you tell me, what does this mean? Is it?... I found that both you, Kozilek, and Alexis seemed to suddenly appear out of thin air, and then followed by Sean's side. I can ask... why is this?"

"I'm sorry, Miss Cecilia, I can think of many excuses, but you certainly don't want this kind of answer." Ulamog smiled, the previous domineering a little lessened, "this It belongs to the secret between Lord Sean and me and cannot be said.... But the only thing I can tell you is that our three brothers once slept in a very special place, and Lord Sean released us all. of."

"So does Alexis?" Cecilia asked.

"Yes." Ulamog nodded.

"Then why..." Cecilia frowned and thought, "Why Master Imoku can appear next to Sean, but you can't get in touch with Sean."

"I can't answer you on this point." Ulamog shook his head slightly, "All I can tell you is that this is limited by the power of law."

"Then why do you know Lord Imoku has awakened?"

"Because the three of our brothers will all be sensitive to each other's existence, or resonate." Ulamog smiled and said, "At that moment, I sensed Imoku's awakening. Maybe I haven't yet. Ways to contact him, but the shackles of the law that he lifted when he woke up made us stronger."

"Imoku...very powerful? More powerful than Alexis?" Cecilia was really curious this time.

"If we are alone, we probably won't be the opponent of Your Excellency Alexis. If Your Excellency Alexis wants to solve us at all costs, then we will still die." For Alexis's Ulamog did not deny that he was strong, but his domineering aura was not necessarily weaker than Alexis, especially what he said at this time: "But if our three brothers join forces, then Even Sir Alexis will never confront us."

At this moment, Cecilia really felt Ulama's domineering and majesty as a super powerhouse.

After all, neither Kozilek nor Ulamog or Alexis had shown this kind of lofty arrogance before. Many times it would make people forget that they are actually super powers with real money, and they are still in the Marvel Continent. A terrible existence that can be ranked among the top among the many super powers on the market.

In fact, super powers are indeed not something ordinary people can command, because their strength is so powerful that ordinary people can't control them.

Not to mention other things, like super powers exist, as long as they are willing, it is not difficult to create an empire. After all, only super powers can resist the super powers, no matter what kind of powers or legions they are. Can't stop the attack of the super strong.

In the previous era, the reason why the superpower did not independently create an empire was because the rule of nobility was suppressed by the treaty. Moreover, since the beginning of the Ash Age, each of the founders of the five ancient empires is truly amazing. They themselves are the pinnacles of the times, and they are the super powers among the truly well-deserved super powers, and it is precisely because of this. , So they can suppress other super powers and make them the patron saint of the empire and the power of the country.

In the following era, the super-powerful did not make waves, but it was because the Peace Council, a nosy behemoth, was pressing on them. In history, there have been several records of superpowers making waves on the Marvel Continent, but the final result is that these superpowers who ran out to make waves eventually died under the suppression of the Peace Council, so later those superpowers even wanted to To establish a kingdom, it is also gradually developed from scratch step by step.

This has almost become the unspoken rule of Miracle Land.

But according to normal circumstances, if any country wants to become an empire, its founders must be super strong.

This has been the case for hundreds of thousands of years since the Age of Ashes-even if other countries, except for the five ancient empires, compete for the top of the two empires, it is because their king is a genuine super The strong. In fact, most of these empires' strongholds were descendants or students of the founding emperor, because only in this way can a stronghold of towns stay willingly to help.

But only the Void Empire is not.

No one knows where Alexis, Kozilek, and Ulamog came from, because no one among the older generation of superpowers has ever heard of their names. What makes people even more incredible is that Xiao En is clearly just a sanctuary strong, how can he have such a powerful and terrifying super strong to follow? This is completely unruly and reasonable.

As Ulamog said.

Imoku was born, and Noro and Alexis did not feel it. After all, they could not get in touch with Sean, so they did not know that their "kind" had one more person. However, Ulamog and Kozilek, who were of the same origin as Imoku, could easily feel it, but Kozilek did not produce mood swings like Ulamog, so Hela and others did not know these.

But if you look closely, you can find that Kozilek, who was originally sullen, smiled and looked very happy.

certainly.

I am happy, but Kozilek and Ulamog will not be alone.

Sean, also felt extremely excited.

is just his excitement, more from the introduction of the system.

【Legend of Eldrazi: Special effects, Eldrazi brothers and other ranks +1, when the three brothers are on the same battlefield, all abilities are +100%. 】

What is the concept of level +1?

This means that the strength of the three Eldrazi brothers has been greatly improved.

Like Kozilek and Ulamog, both of them are only strong people of the eighteenth order, one level lower than Alexis, but now the congruent +1 means that the two of Kozilek and Ulamog The strength has officially reached the level of the nineteenth level, even Imoku is the same. And this also means that once Shaun is promoted to the legendary powerhouse, the strength of the Eldrazi three brothers can be displayed to the terrifying level of the twenty-first rank.

But this is not the most important thing.

The most important thing is the sentence "when the three brothers are on the same battlefield, full power +100%".

What is full power?

Full power refers to all things that can be judged as "ability" in the category of strength, endurance, agility, wisdom, will, and all skill power. And the full power is +100%, which means that once the Eldrazi brothers are on the same battlefield, let alone Alexis, even if there are ten super powers, they can easily defeat each other. .

After all, the existence of super powers at this level, not to mention doubling their full capabilities, even if only one of their abilities is doubled, means that their combat effectiveness has increased exponentially.

The only thing Shaun feels pity is the "Never Ending Legend" about Alexis's collection, which still shows three golden question marks.

Sean guessed that this should be a special content that will not be unlocked until he stepped into the realm of legend. Only because Imoku was summoned in advance, this special content will be released at this time.

【Name: Imoku】

【Sex: Male】

[Race: Unknown]

【Realm: Super Power】

【Strengths: Spear Technique; Planar Intervention; Infinite Counterattack】

【Title: Trauma of Eternal Life】

[Special note: Imoku may not be the strongest, but he is the most difficult. In particular, he has the power to interfere with the laws of the plane, which in itself has made him basically invincible. But the real scary thing is the shattered gun in his hand...]

At this moment, Sean is at the entrance of the secret base camp of the Dark Elf Reform Party, eagerly awaiting the arrival of Imoku.

Because just ten seconds after Shaun summoned Imoku, he had already contacted Imoku, and Imoku was coming to Shaun.

However, Roti Kabas, who was unknown, was a little confused. He didn't understand why Sean suddenly became so excited and ran to the entrance, looking like someone waiting. According to his understanding, Sean should have no known talents in the underground world. And the most important thing is that Rorty Kabas is still distressed that the blade of the gun has turned into powder.

It's just that Rorty Kabas didn't know that the strong fluctuations produced when Imoku was summoned by Sean had already caused many superpowers in the underground world to be aware of it. This kind of fluctuation from the plane level is not a secret to the top powerhouses at all. Just like when Sean summoned Kozilek, Ulamor, and Alexis in the surface world, no Young and old antiques can feel it.

Even Lake wanted to set off to kill Sean immediately, but it was a pity that he didn't succeed.

Sean didn't know why he couldn't get in touch with people on the surface now, but he knew that summoning Imoku from the underground world would definitely not hide from someone's investigation. I am afraid that soon, many big people will start to test the Forest of the Well-Skilled, and this also means that this secret stronghold of the Dark Elf Reform Party is no longer a secret.

Soon, Rorty Kabas felt a terrifying breath coming from not far away.

His face suddenly changed. For a while, he thought that the stronghold was exposed and an enemy attacked.

"Don't be nervous, it's his own person." Sean smiled and prevented Rorty Kabas from starting the alarm, and then stared intently at Imoku, who was gradually emerging from the forest, "He is here to find me. I just contacted the other party just now."

Soon, Imoku appeared in front of Rotti Kabas.

Looking at the unique shape of Imoku's body wrapped in bandages, this made Rorty Kabas feel extremely astonished.

It's just that Imoku didn't pay attention to Rorty Kabas, he walked straight to Sean, then knelt on one knee, his head slightly lowered, and his right hand put the scarlet and enchanting cross gun gently on the ground, and then gently put it down. On his chest, his left hand was holding the boxing ground, and he said in a deep voice, "My lord, Imoku has followed your instructions. Please give orders."

Sean watched Imoku's behavior, but his expression of excitement suddenly changed, revealing something incredible.

Maybe others don't understand the meaning of Imoku's action, but Sean is very clear, because he has seen it in the game's promotional animation.

Imoku's actions at this moment are exactly the loyalty etiquette that has spread among the people in the twilight era.

is also the predecessor of the knight's oath of allegiance to the lord today-ancient knight etiquette!

Especially when Sean glanced at the tip of Imoku's cross gun, his heart was even more shocked: perhaps the ancient knight's etiquette is likely to be a common practice in multiple worlds, after all, the knight's etiquette is like that back and forth. One set, even if it has been simplified a lot now, it still can't escape the practice of lowering the head and stroking the chest. However, if there are nearly the same weapon fragments, this is obviously not that simple.

Especially, when Sean touched the splinter tip fragment before, the system clearly told him that it was a broken spear fragment.

And now in the information materials of Imoku, it also shows such a sentence-

"But the real scary thing is the shattered gun in his hand..."

This makes Sean have to guess more content.

Sean took a deep breath, tried to calm down the shock in his heart, and then asked in a spiritual connection: "Imoku...Have you been to this world?"

Chapter 139: .Imocu

Faced with Sean's question, Imoku did not hesitate at all, but responded: "Yes."

"I don't know if you know it, but I got the power to awaken you from the fragments of the smashing gun." To Imoku's clear answer without hesitation, Sean felt a little excitement in his heart, "You should be Have been to this world a long time ago."

Imoku nodded slightly, his movement was very light, and only Sean had noticed this move.

Immediately, Imoku said: "I have been in this world a long time ago. I don't know what the world is like now, but the last time I came, the world was in a war. I Witnessed the shattering of the kingdom of God, the destruction of the court, the fall of the gods, and the burning of the world tree."

"God Twilight!" Sean's heart was suddenly startled.

"Does later generations call that battle that way? Um... it's a very appropriate name." Imoku nodded slightly. "However, I think it would be more appropriate to call it the end of the gods. In fact, if it weren't that one. It's impossible for me to come to this world during a war and bring darkness to this world."

"Bring...Darkness to this world?" Sean was taken aback for a moment.

"Yes." Imoku said, his voice was very calm. Obviously, what he had done before was nothing hard to say to him. "Well, my master at the time should say He is a member of the gods, he cursed the world, cursed the people of the God Kingdom Expeditionary Army, so he summoned me to come to this plane at the cost of his own life, and my duty at the time was to destroy this world."

Shaun's pupils shrank suddenly.

"However, Lord Sean, you can rest assured now." Imoku felt the horror in Sean's heart, so he immediately said, "Now my master is you, I can feel your connection with the world. I am. I will not do anything to harm you, so I will never hurt the world, or...the current me should be one of the forces protecting this world."

Sean knew that these words of Imoku were true, and he was not fooling him.

He had heard from Noro that the people he had summoned must not harm his interests, nor could they make any dangerous actions against him. Even to say, they must protect Sean's safety at all costs, because if Sean dies in front of them, then they will be punished very severely, which they don't want to contact at all.

But even so, Imoku's attempt to destroy the world still made Sean feel a little... embarrassing.

"Can I ask... how did you die in the end?" Sean asked.

"It was killed by a woman named Jibril." Imoku said, "After the end of the Twilight War of the so-called gods, that woman rose from the sky island and transcended the world. And I, It was at that time that darkness, chaos, and death were spread into this world. If it weren't for the protection of the gods, the world would have been completely destroyed by me....Of course, even if the protection was left, it would actually be It's just delaying my pace of destroying the world, but it is still powerless to stop me from devouring the entire world."

Age of Ashes!

Hearing what Imoku said, Sean knew what was going on.

At the end of the Twilight Battle of the Gods at the end of the Twilight Age, the entire plane entered the Age of Ashes, or the Age of Darkness.

In that era, there was no light in the world, but darkness and despair, because order had collapsed. Therefore, the entire land began to be eroded by the forces of chaos, darkness, and death, and gradually corrupted into pieces of black soil, and when all the lands of the entire plane turned into the black soil, it was the entire plane. Being dragged into the dark side of the world, a moment of chaos.

For a long time, no one knows where the so-called black soil came from in the darkest era of the Marvel Continent.

Now, after hearing Imoku's words, Sean finally understood.

But he was even more shocked, but Jibril was able to kill Imoku and prevent the Black Earth from engulfing the plane of miracle. Although it took a long time for the surviving people to gradually turn these lands back into the land of order-although there are still many places in the black soil today, at least it does not affect the living space of all races on the plane of miracle.

And it is for this reason that later talents will call that era the Age of Ashes, rather than the Age of Darkness-at least, the ashes are not all dark, there is still a little spark, as long as the timing is right, it can still be burned again. Fire up.

That is an era that still carries hope in despair.

"Although the gods have fallen countless, the curse from the gods is also eroding the general, but the gods will still survive, the legacy from the gods: the twelve halls of the gods still exist. I know, if you want to destroy the whole In terms of the world, then I must let all hope be extinct, so I destroyed five of the temples, but unfortunately I met Jibril, the leader of the Kingdom of Gods Expeditionary Army, and finally lost to her when I was in the sixth temple. Hands."

Imoku's narrative is very calm, with almost no mood swings at all, as if she was telling a story about someone else.

There is no such madness to destroy the world, and no unwillingness to be killed by Jibril.

Only calm and indifferent.

According to what Imoku said, the  who summoned him at that time might be able to let Imoku fully use his true strength. But in the end, he still died in the hands of Jibril, which means that Jibril was already at the top of the world at the time, otherwise it would be impossible to kill Imoku, or even destroy it. The bursting gun in his hand was shot.

Thinking of this, Sean suddenly realized something, so he asked: "Have you... ever met Alexis?"

Imoku, who had always maintained an indifferent expression, suddenly changed his face and seemed a little difficult to look at, but in the end he let out a sigh of relief: "That crazy woman... She has encountered it. With the joint efforts of Kozilek and Ulamog, I successfully repelled Alexis, but that guy was like crazy and started to trouble us every day. As a result, I was once. I didn't pay attention, I was attacked by her alone, and fell into a deep sleep after being hit hard by her. When I woke up, I had been summoned to this world."

"World Eight Thousand and Thirty-Three?" Sean was a little confused.

"This is the eighth and third world we went to. There are too many destroyed worlds, and we can't remember all the names one by one, so we use numbers to mark them. Strictly speaking, now This world is the eighth and thirty-fourth world I arrived in. It's a pity... I couldn't destroy it last time." Imoku shrugged, and then said, "This time, um...my It seems that the duty is not to destroy, but to protect. It is a strange feeling."

Sean is not clear about the true meaning of the five words "Legend of Eldrazi".

But now from Imoku's words, I think that both Ulamog and Kozilek were born in the dark side of chaos and devoured the origin of life. Obviously, these three guys are not believing men and women.

"You get up first." Sean said.

This time, Sean is not talking in a spiritual connection, so Rorty Kabas heard it very clearly.

"Yes." Imoku stood up, his posture was as tall as a gun, giving a very fierce aura.

Different from Kozilek's seemingly harmless appearance of humans and animals, and unlike Ulamog who exudes a wise aura, Imoku always feels like a fierce weapon from beginning to end. He may not be as sharp as Alexis, but the awe-inspiring aura emanating from his body is not weaker than the aura of those super powers that Sean once felt in the battlefield of the battle of fate.

The arrival of Imoku solved some of Sean's doubts.

For a long time, he didn't know exactly where Jibril got the power of Alexis. On the floating island, Jibril gave the power of Alexis to Sean. , So that Sean can summon Alexis. But now, Sean knew where Jibril got this power, obviously the power intercepted from him when he killed Imoku.

After all, Imoku fell asleep in the dark world because he was killed by Alexis. And if it wasn't for Alexis to kill Imoku, then the gods of the Marvel Continent would not be able to summon Imoku, and the world would not enter the Age of Ashes.

So... the world line of Miracle Continent may become completely different.

The era of dawn is the era when the gods created the world and established order.

The twilight era is the era when Jibril formed the Kingdom of God Expeditionary Army.

The Age of Ashes is the era when Imoku is spreading darkness and chaos.

The era of chaos and order after is a new era in which the entire miracle plane rebuilds everything.

And now, the era of the strong created by Sean has officially descended on the surface-the only pity is that Sean only set the beginning for this era, and the perfection and formulation of other rules is Cecilia. Completed by the Big Four of Yahe Void. However, Sean didn't care about this. He trusted Cecilia, William, Hella, Neal and others, just as these people have never let Sean down.

They have their mission, and Sean also has Sean's responsibilities.

"Here, it's not safe anymore. We must evacuate as soon as possible." Shaun turned his head and said to Rorty Kabas.

Rorty Kabas looked at Sean's solemn expression. He knew that Sean was definitely not joking. He didn't ask how Sean knew, just like he hadn't asked Imoku from the beginning. Who is the same-in fact, if Rorty Kabas really asked who Imoku was, then Sean would really have a headache.

Because in essence, Imoku and Rorty Kabas are on opposite sides: the gods of the Black Temple and a group of guarding knights died under the gun of Imoku. It's just that before Imoku could leave, he was killed by Jibril, who came afterwards. This is why there are still the remains of the Six Mount Gods in this world. Otherwise, if Imoku is allowed to continue to kill, I'm afraid that the relics of the twelve mount gods will disappear, and the whole world will be completely plunged into despair and darkness.

But even if Rorty Kabas really didn't ask about Imoku's origins, Sean couldn't really ignore it at all. So, for Imoku, Sean just said: "This is Imoku, one of my... family knights."

He can't tell Rorty Kabas: This is the trauma of eternity. Imoku, the man who killed the black god, is the disseminator and maker of death in the Age of Ashes.

Rorty Kabas, who trusted Sean very much, didn't say anything, but turned around and returned to the stronghold, and began arranging preparations for evacuation.

This is the biggest secret stronghold of the entire Dark Elf Reform Party.

It was originally built as the last fortress, especially as the persecution of the Dark Elf Reform Party has become more and more serious in recent years, several consecutive targeted wars have caused the Dark Elf Reform Party to lose countless powerful people— —This is also the reason why Rorty Kabas immediately attacked the Casseddon tribe as soon as he returned to the underground world— After that, the power of the Dark Elf Reform Party was so weak that it was almost negligible. In order to prevent it from being truly driven to extinction, so Now all the surviving Dark Elf Reform Party in the Forest of Knowledge has gathered here.

Except for the 5,000 troops that can be regarded as the regular army, the remaining dark elves are about 50,000, but most of them are old and weak women and children, and there are less than 20,000 who can actually draw a bow and hold a sword. Among them, there are only two powerhouses at the rank of prince and above, except for Rorty Kabas. One of them is the leader of the Reform Party and can also be regarded as the master of Rorty Kabas.

There are only four strong dukes, but two of them are slightly older and belong to the type of sacrifice after the break in the plan of the Reform Party. There are only five marquis rank powerhouses, but three of them can be said to have almost no actual combat experience. Sean can't imagine how such a person grows up. After all, dark elves are not more powerful than blood elves. You need to come out slowly, step by step.

But anyway, Sean has a clear understanding of how weak the Dark Elf Reform Party is.

"How many days do we have?" His master didn't say anything about Rorty Kabas' request to evacuate, but agreed after a moment of silence.

Shaun did not speak, but looked at Imoku.

Imoku thought for a while before he said: "Generally speaking, it will not take more than three days. When I appeared, at least more than twenty auras locked me in an instant, although I got rid of ten of them. , But the remaining ones are at least locked in the approximate range...If they personally explore it, or arrange a large number of manpower to search, they will definitely be able to find here in three days."

"In other words, you only have two days." Sean turned his head and said to Rorty Kabas, "It will take at least one day to clean up the traces."

"Why does it take a day to clean up the traces?" Imoku said, "It only takes ten minutes."

"Ten minutes?" Sean and Rorty Kabas were a little unbelievable.

"It's not an ordinary method." Imoku replied, "It's only about ten minutes."

At this time, Sean suddenly remembered that among Imoku's strengths, there was an ability called "plane interference." He asked with some doubts: "Interfere?"

"En." Imoku nodded, "One of my special abilities. If there is Kozilek, I can even influence the highest law. Of course, it is impossible to interfere... Generally speaking, only It can interfere with the power of the lower laws. So simply interfering with the traces of this area is not a difficult task for me. Ten minutes should be enough."

"So two and a half days to complete the evacuation work, is it okay?" Sean thought for a while, and then said, "Leave for a long time... Maybe we can fight an ambush or something, so that those guys will come. No reply..."

Hearing Sean's combat thoughts, Rorty Kabas's eyes gradually brightened.

Chapter 140: Set ambush

The Forest of Deep Knowledge has always been the territory of dark elves.

In this forest, dark elves can have a natural geographical advantage: through communication with the trees in the forest, they can easily find the hiding place of the enemy, and even when the arrow is shot, they can automatically get the airflow in the forest. The boost of power, resulting in incredible lethality.

It can be said that fighting against the dark elves in the forest of deep knowledge is simply a matter of seeking a dead end.

Because of the dark elves, the entire forest of deep knowledge has long been turned into their home court.

At this time, countless figures are quickly walking through the forest of deep knowledge.

Some jumped quickly from the ground, some jumped from the trees in the forest, and some jumped slightly above the tree. Countless densely packed figures marched silently and fast in this well-known forest, and the whole scene looked strangely weird.

Moreover, these countless figures are marching one after another without any pause at all. At a glance, there are at least a thousand people, and it may even be as many as tens of thousands.

At the forefront of this force, there is an extremely powerful figure with five auras.

The faces of the two dark elves flying in the forefront have weird and enchanting purple patterns. The dark purple light flashes, making them seem to have mysterious and powerful power, especially one of them holds a handle in each hand. The giant sword, the aura is extremely deep and terrifying, and it is obviously the leader among this group of people. Although the other aura was not as powerful as the dark elf with both hands holding a huge sword, the aura on his body was extremely restrained, and there seemed to be a terrifying ocean of magic power roaring in his body.

These are two super strong men.

Really super strong!

Although the foundation of the underground world has been almost consumed in several civil wars and previous surface expeditions, as many ethnic groups who have escaped to the underground world from the end of the twilight era, they still maintain a considerable part of the foundation power-only super strong The number of people, the six holy blood races now have digits or even tens of digits, and this number is naturally much stronger than that of the surface world.

However, this is already the last force of the underground world, and it will not be easily used until the last moment.

Therefore, in the eyes of many people, although the scale of the civil war in the underground world appears to be extremely large, in fact, without the intervention of super powers, for the thirteen clans of the blood family, the sixteen tribes of werewolves, the eleven clans of the night dark elves, Revenge of the seven dark elves, the meeting of the seven elders of the blood elves, the eight legs of the spider demon, the nine patterns of the demon descendants, and other top powers who can truly dominate the entire underground world, they are simply insignificant.

Like the blood clan Kappa clan, Tades clan, werewolf's Marta tribe, etc. In the eyes of these big people, even if hundreds of them were destroyed, they would not feel any pain.

In the past, the Reform Party dark elves also had a super strong man.

But since Rorty Kabas left the underground world and went to the surface, after the Reform Party dark elves exposed their stronghold in an operation, they were joined by the Avengers Party and the Evernight Party and used four superpowers to kill him on the spot. In that battle, many strong and elite forces of the Reform Party were also sacrificed, which led to the dark elves of the Reform Party being depressed, so that in the following years, the Reform Party could only linger.

This time, after feeling the appearance of the tyrannical aura, the eyes of countless powerhouses in the underground world were instantly cast into the forest of deep knowledge.

The Vengeance Party and the Yongye Party, as the owners of the site, naturally responded in the first place: when the two sides exchanged, they found that the superpower who entered the well-known forest was not the person of both of them, then the answer is also It's not hard to guess. Whether it is the Eternal Night Party or the Vengeance Party, it is clear that they would not want to see the Reform Party rise again, especially when Rorty Kabas returned strongly to attack and kill the minor patriarch of the Cassedon family, and then severely damaged the blood elves' guards. After demonstrating his great strength, the masters of the forest well versed in the forest do not want to have a three-legged situation again.

Therefore, the two large ethnic groups closest to the incident site: the Kasedun ethnic group belonging to the Evernight Party and the Noboiser ethnic group belonging to the Vengeance Party immediately joined forces and rushed to the point where the incident occurred. And the other large ethnic groups that followed were also rapidly rectifying their personnel and then sending troops. Regarding the activities of the Reform Party dark elves, the Evernight Party and the Vengeance Party had obviously reached a consensus, so they had no idea to keep their hands at all, the only thing they wanted What is needed is to completely annihilate the Reform Party.

A team led by two super powers, coordinated with three legendary powers, and supplemented by nearly 10,000 combat troops, this force is even against any of the top powers such as the thirteen blood clan or the sixteen werewolf tribes. The strength of the ethnic group is not inferior.

Therefore, facing a Reform Party that has only just begun to gain momentum, it is naturally at its disposal. What's more, the true role of this vanguard force is not to launch a strong offensive with the Reform Party, but as long as it forms a siege and waits for the large rear troops to arrive, it will be able to directly destroy the Reform Party with the power of Mount Tai.

This unit is moving extremely fast, and in a blink of an eye it has reached the place where Imoku appeared before.

As Shaun expected, the Evernight Party and the Vengeance Party have been looking for the secret base of the Reform Party for a long time. The appearance of Imoku leaked this place, so these two dark elves' strongest parties are absolutely impossible to release. Have such an opportunity. And judging from their rapid actions, it's obvious that whether it's execution ability, military literacy, cohesion, etc., far surpass Sean's understanding of the two major parties of the dark elves—of course, part of it comes from Because of the pressure exerted by the blood elves, and the revenge obsession of the Kasaiton race.

According to legend, dark elves are a group of petty, narrow-minded, and obsessive guys.

The dark elf holding the giant sword in both hands suddenly landed from the sky.

Although he was not wearing a thick heavy armor, looking at the two giant swords that looked like door panels, it was obvious that the weight would not go anywhere, but he suddenly fell to the ground from mid-air, but it did not cause any vibration on the ground. And the sound, not to mention the damage to the ground. In terms of control, this super strong from the Cassedon race has obviously reached an extremely terrifying level.

The one who fell right behind was the magician with magical power in his body. The purple magic pattern on his face was obviously more complicated than ordinary people, and the coquettish purple light was brighter and brighter. Because although this magician from the Noboisle tribe is covered in a loose cloak, the purple glow from under the hood is extremely dazzling, and this cloak alone cannot conceal his pride. The twin peaks of humans, obviously this is a female magician.

Along with the landing of these two people, the dark elves behind them also stopped around one by one.

Everyone's movements were extremely quick, but there was no sound, and everything seemed silent. If it weren't for the fact that there were so many dark elves standing around, no one would have imagined that tens of thousands of dark elves had gathered here at this moment. What's more frightening is that the sounds of insects and birds in the forest are still sweet, and they don't seem to be quiet because of the danger.

"Sure enough, it's like me." After the man holding the giant sword landed, he just sniffed the smell of the air, and then said, his voice was like an iron grindstone, very harsh, "The smell is very special. , I have no impression. How about you?"

"No." The female magician also shook her head slightly, "Underground world, there should be no strong people of the same level that we are not familiar with, right?"

"Where did the Reform Party guys find them?" The male soldier also looked puzzled, "Is it from the remains of the riding god?"

"It's very likely." The female magician thought for a while, and she said, "Besides, it is totally impossible to explain why there will be a strong person who can match ours. You know, the current situation is not better than that of the past. It is said that the last passage was also blown up half a year ago, and the Luxembba clan of the blood race even had to marry the tyrant for this."

"What the Resenba clan thinks, everyone knows that everyone is not blind." The male soldier said in a deep voice, "Now there are only two channels for energy to be activated. There are only two channels left. One of them is on the side of the demon. But they said nothing could be opened. The remaining one is in the hands of the Giovanni clan. Resenba sacrificed a genius, but in exchange for the opportunity to open up a new pattern with Giovanni. This is Resen. Ba earned it."

"I heard that the Scarlet Queen left Resenba Castle."

"It's none of our business." The male soldier shook his head, "Let's settle the matter here first....Are you ready?"

The female magician nodded, and then raised her right hand flat, and a drop of purple droplets instantly condensed from her fingertips.

I saw the magician gently tap his finger, and the purple droplet broke off from his fingertip, and then fell to the ground.

In , a faint purple light instantly lit up, and then quickly turned into a deep purple line, which quickly extended forward.

Beacon.

A special kind of magic that originated from the dawn of dawn, after undergoing changes in several times, it has now become a very special tracking magic. Unlike other tracking magicians, there are very many restrictions. In the hands of this female magician of the Noboisle tribe, she only needs some scent remaining in the air to condense a beacon to identifies the route that the tracked person has walked.

As long as the beacon is staring at it, even if it washes away the smell through the water, it still cannot get rid of the beacon's tracking.

Of course, the limit is not without, but it is very small.

This beacon quickly stretched forward, and everyone quickly followed the beacon and rushed towards the secret stronghold of the Reform Party's dark elves. However, in the middle of the journey, the beacon was suddenly disconnected, as if it was disturbed by some strong resistance, and then completely collapsed.

Seeing this scene, the female magician snorted coldly. She just sniffed a few times in the air, and then spread her five fingers. Five purple water droplets condensed on her fingertips, and she swung them down suddenly, five water droplets. Immediately condense into five brand-new beacons. Although the five beacons are staggered and separated from each other, they can be seen from hundreds of miles away, reuniting together, forming a larger beacon and heading forward.

"Illusory illusion." The female magician snorted proudly, and then quickly led the crowd to move on.

This time, without any hindrance, everyone soon came to this secret stronghold of the Dark Elf Reform Party. But even standing outside the gate of this stronghold, you can see the loneliness and loneliness in the stronghold. Of course, it is even more clear to everyone that the entire stronghold appears unusually messy. It is obvious that someone was evacuating before. It's just that they walked so hastily that a lot of things are still left in this stronghold.

"Not good!" The male soldier of the Cassedon tribe changed his face slightly, "One step too late!"

"It's not too late." The female magician said in a deep voice, "Follow the beacon.... Although the other party wants to be smart, but he doesn't know that I have the ability to guide the beacon. If it is not my ability, I'm afraid it will be returned. I will be deceived by them."

At this time, what everyone saw was that the thick purple beacon did not leave the stronghold, but went straight across the entire stronghold, moving toward a deeper place.

All of a sudden, the male soldier reacted: "There is a secret passage!"

The female magician nodded, and said: "Let's chase it. The other party definitely didn't expect that we would discover their secret passage, so we won't run too far. It's not difficult for us to catch up with them.... But the other party has one who can talk to them. I'm waiting for the strong one to shoulder, so it's better not to start the war rashly, and leave some people to report to the troops in the rear. We first catch up with each other, and then form a net of encirclement."

"Okay." Although the male warrior from the Cassedon tribe wanted to avenge Rorty Kabas for killing their young patriarch, he must not be an irrational person to reach his level, so soon He calmed down, nodded and agreed with the opinion of the female magician of the Noboisl ethnic group next to him.

After a little negotiation, the two decided to keep a hundred people. In addition to arranging signals and coordinate points along the way, it was also to facilitate communication with the rear troops, and the remaining people pursued them with all their strength.

After made a decision, under the leadership of two dark elf super powers, quickly marched towards the depths of the stronghold.

However, just as the army passed by the large square where the Reform Party's secret stronghold was located, a huge red cross light that was hundreds of meters long suddenly appeared on the square.

The next moment, before everyone reacted, a huge explosion suddenly sounded.

Screamed again and again in an instant, the soldiers of this unit who followed the two super-powerfuls, instantly more than half of the people died in the explosion.

And all this is not over yet.

A figure that appeared from nowhere was standing in the middle of the explosion point, and saw that this figure suddenly waved the scarlet cross spear in its hand, and a circle of crimson brilliance immediately burst out of its body and quickly turned into A red circle was formed, and then quickly spread to the surrounding area. All those who touched the circle were directly cut into two sections by the sharp air current of the circle on the spot, and they couldn't die anymore.

With the continuous expansion of the ring, more and more soldiers died in the ring.

Looking at countless soldiers dying here inexplicably, the warrior and magician were splitting their eyes.

"Shameless man!" The male warrior let out a roar, and the man with two swords in his hand greeted the circle in front of him, and immediately after the two swords were raised high, he slammed and slammed directly on the circle.

A powerful force suddenly spread out from the double swords, and then traveled around the entire circle at an astonishing speed, and immediately completely destroyed the power composition on the circle, and shook the entire circle airflow. Come, turn into the most ordinary airflow. However, when this air current erupted, it still produced an extremely astonishing explosive force, and some people who could not dodge were blown to pieces by the air current on the spot.

There are tens of thousands of soldiers, but under this moment of change, there are only a thousand people left.

Imoku was the one who launched the attack.

The fighting power of the super strong can be seen from this!

From the very beginning, Imoku had obviously made an ambush, just waiting for the enemy to set foot.

At this moment, Imoku is still standing on the spot, with a free and easy and elegant temperament, and exudes a calm and unhurried aura from all over his body. Obviously, he had fully estimated the casualties caused by his two attacks, so he was not surprised because his second attack was interrupted by the opponent.
