

Lord of War Vol 4-231

Chapter 231: .Your emperor is back

The so-called portal, to put it bluntly, is actually to open a safe passage connecting two points in space. The plane portal, on the other hand, replaces two points with two planes. Although the essence is similar in concept, the actual technical content is hundreds of times that of the former, because the former is only a space under the same plane. , While the latter involves general knowledge of various aspects such as emptiness and planes.

As for the path of the abyss, it is a special existence between the two.

It is under the same plane, but it involves the theoretical knowledge of void learning. The path of the abyss that exists in the world and can be used is probably the only underground laboratory located in the fortress of the gorge of the void empire. The other paths of the abyss have either been destroyed or completely abandoned.

Of course, although it is abandoned, but in fact it just lacks enough energy to activate, and the opening of the door is in the underground world. In fact, some relatively special magnetic field cracks have been generated near these deserted abyssal paths. Residents of the underground world occasionally use these cracks to stay in a relatively stable state and smuggle some people into the surface world.

But different from ordinary portals—at least, different from portals in the surface world.

The portal of the path of the abyss, you can clearly see the situation on both sides of the portal.

After a wave of ripples, Xiao En finally walked out of the portal.

Under his feet is the path to the abyss that seems to lead to nowhere.

A huge roar was transmitted from the magical power machine next to it. The energy provided by this behemoth completely activated the entire path of the abyss, and the blue gloom gleamed in the path of the abyss. And these bright lights have also formed new power by pumping energy, and a translucent light blue platform is tiled above the wellhead of the path of the abyss, and strands of blue energy are emitted from this platform, and then on Intertwined in midair, condensed into a semi-plane portal that can communicate between the underground world and the surface world.

At this moment, Sean walked out of this portal, and the huge roar suddenly shook him a little dizzy.

But this situation only lasted for a moment. As far as Xiao En's physique today is concerned, his body can quickly automatically adjust and recover.

There were only two people standing outside the portal to greet Shaun.

Dianna and Hela.

"Slightly deserted." Sean walked out of the portal, then walked down the platform, and smiled.

"Everyone is waiting for your return in the king's capital." Dianna smiled back, but she could see that her smile was still somewhat reluctant.

Obviously, the shadow that Sean left Diana back then is still exerting influence. Moreover, this kind of influence is accompanied by the stronger strength of Sean now, and appears to be more deterrent. Just standing by Sean's side, Diana can't help but want to shiver, unlike facing others. People, even at the negotiating table, showed so strong.

"Don't be nervous, you are now one of the four giants worthy of the name of the Void Empire." Sean gave a gentle smile, which really helped Diana calm down the fear in his heart, "I think it should be... Huiqin has a silent barrier, after all, that thing...too noisy."

"All the work is already being arranged." Hela replied with a smile, "But...sir, you are really whimsical. You actually...you want to trade with people in the underground world, especially this one. The portal is our core secret."

"It won't be anymore. It's meaningless to keep hiding, doesn't it?" Sean stepped forward, Hela immediately followed, and Diana was slightly behind by about two positions, "Blood Elf's It's impossible to hide it, so it's better to take this opportunity to publicize and build momentum.... But the specific location here is really not suitable for exposure, so we can only rely on the portal to solve the problem."

In Xiao En's vision, this underground research institute will also undergo related expansion and reforms.

According to the expected plan, the reconstruction of the underground research institute will be completed at the same time as the underground city on the other side of the underground world. At that time, Alyssa will become the actual manager of the two cities-Sean has named the two trading cities "Twin Cities", and it will become the whole wonder continent, or the most dazzling miracle plane. A trading city may even become the source of 70% of the entire void empire's economy.

As a metropolis that can almost be said to be the economic lifeline of the entire void empire in the future, its guarding power cannot be inferior.

The defensive facilities that Sean has arranged for this twin city are the best in the void empire.

The fortress on the surface of the Gorge will be garrisoned by the Void Empire First Army, which has been reorganized and reorganized for the third time. By then, the total strength of the army under the command of Stalin, who is best at fighting positional and defensive warfare, will reach 200,000. huge. After all, the Gorge Fortress is also the most important gateway of the Void Empire, and an important strategic area that the Void Empire will never give up. Therefore, having such a force to garrison can be considered a perfect strategy.

In the underground fortress of the Strait, the spider army commanded by Xina is responsible for the defense. In the past year or so, Hina has rectified the entire underground space of the Xia Di fortress. Now this special terrain called the "Xina Labyrinth" has become one of the most dangerous areas in the Void Empire.

In addition, after the expansion and reconstruction of the Twin Cities on the surface side, the defense work will also be carried out by the steel wings known as the "Void Shield"; as for the Twin Cities on the underground side, it will be commanded by Levi. "Void Sword" is responsible for the Wings of Conviction. This combination of sword and shield is garrisoned here in the Twin Cities, and the effect is absolutely perfect, because no matter where the war breaks out, you only need to pass through the portal that has been completely stabilized, and it can be done in half an hour. Complete the support strategic plan.

Of course, as the teleportation point to the Twin Cities, Sean will of course not be located in the Gorge Fortress, but in the capital of the Void Empire-Oasis City.

According to Neal's calculations, if the teleportation point is placed in Oasis City, tariffs can also be imposed on the incoming and outgoing goods-anyway, now the trading capital has also been annexed by the void empire, and the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance has actually existed in name only. . Now the entire Miracle Continent is busy building its own chambers of commerce and redefining trade routes, and even the market pricing of various countries, so these tariffs and the import and export taxes of other goods are already at the discretion of each country.

In a sense, the shackles that shrouded the entire world broken by the establishment of the void empire are not only the destruction of the Peace Council.

The entire miracle continent has begun to glow with more powerful vitality.

However, some people began to look at the fat of the Void Empire.

Yes, in the eyes of many people, the Void Empire is a huge and delicious piece of fat.

It has only been three years since the establishment of this empire. If you count the previous preparations and some other time periods, it will not exceed four years when it is full. But in the past four years, this new empire has shown a powerful execution, ambition, and an almost desperate background that makes countless people feel palpitation.

This empire has three ten generals——

The ten generals ranked sixth. He is good at tactical strikes and can make perfect use of all available battlefield opportunities to achieve victory on the seemingly unwinnable battlefield. Therefore, he is known as the "battlefield scalpel" William Yale.

The ten generals ranked seventh. They are good at strategic layouts. They often start layouts before the war breaks out, so that once the war breaks out, they can occupy an absolute advantage. Hela Garcia is known as the "battlefield player".

The ten generals ranked tenth. They are good at using the number advantage. Although they are not as good as Hela Garcia and William Yale, the two commanders in the same position in tactical literacy, the former Principality of Lembel has rarely failed in a lifetime record. Commander, Apollo Beta.

Since Hela and Apollo faced off in the Duchy of Lembel, with the dissolution of the Duchy of Lembel, Apollo joined the void empire, and now in the ranking of ten generals, Hela has risen to seventh place. As William, who has achieved extremely accurate battlefield results in countless wars, he naturally rose to the sixth place. Therefore, Apollo, who was defeated by Hela, could only fall from ninth to tenth.

But in fact, everyone knows that in the battle between Apollo and Hella, Apollo's failure was not that he was inferior to Hella, but only because the Principality of Lembel could not make up a sufficient number of troops. Otherwise, it would be difficult to say who would die. .

But now, no matter what the situation of that battle will be in another situation, it will end with Apollo joining the void empire.

In the entire Marvel Continent, even if it is an old military power such as the Chenas Empire and the Millennium Covenant Empire, there are no more than two ten generals, but the Void Empire has. How can this make people not enviable or even jealous?

In addition, the Void Empire also has four strong planes.

Perhaps most people don't know the distinction between super powers and plane powers, but the town-state powerhouses of the major empires absolutely know the division of power here, especially the town-state powerhouses of the five ancient empires, because of themselves. Is a strong plane, or is about to become a strong plane.

It is impossible to eat the void empire by the power of one empire alone, but what about the power of two, three empires, or even four or five empires?

With the foundation and resources displayed by the Void Empire, it is absolutely enough to divide the four empires equally.

After all, the void empire has a very fatal flaw: the empire is too young.

No matter how strong the Void Empire is, the establishment of this empire is still too short. There is a fatal problem in the entire empire that cannot be avoided, that is, the fault is too serious.

Under the four strong planes, there are only two super strong ones.

That is when Xuefanio has to turn on the goddess state and Rina has the angel outfit to be able to have the power of the super strong, otherwise the two will only be the strength of the legendary strong.

As for the entire Void Empire, there are nearly forty legendary powerhouses at full play. This is because the Void Empire strongly annexed the Peace Council and put many legendary powerhouses on “yoke” to have such a large number. If Sean gave these people freedom, I am afraid that he would have to run halfway at least-the nearly twenty legendary powerhouses whom Cecilia sent to the underworld by launching an offensive against the underground world were used as cannon fodder.

After Legend, it is the realm of Sanctuary.

But the entire void empire actually didn't even have twenty sanctuary, and the number was even less than half the number of legendary powerhouses. As for the military's combat power level, the current top first-class military water standards are basically level five or six, and the second-rate level even drops directly to level three or four, and can only serve as a local garrison or reserve for training. , And this is because many tribes in the wild land have joined such a large number of army reserves.

Of course, the death training camp of the Void Empire is also famous throughout the continent.

But these are all helpless actions. After all, once a war breaks out, the Void Empire's army will have to consume a large number of soldiers to fill it, and in order to be able to get recruits into the army as soon as possible without dragging its feet, it can only take high Intensive death training method. Although the disability rate is terribly high, Tonier's overall management, the Void Empire can now perfectly compensate for its financial expenditures, and once the soldiers graduated from the death training camp, which one will they join? The army can have the level of combat power equivalent to that of a fifth-level army, at least not dragging down the entire army.

All of these are the weaknesses of the current status quo of the Void Empire.

Before that, the Void Empire had a more fatal weakness: there was no emperor.

Cecilia insisted on claiming herself as a regent. None of the Big Four wanted to become emperor. The second generation of the core circle of the empire did not dare to show the slightest thoughts. The third- and fourth-generation seniors who jumped the most joyously have also been transferred, sent, demoted, or died in various names in the past year. To say that the internal stability of the void empire is stable. , I'm afraid no one would believe it.

Because of this, in the past two years, the Void Empire has also changed its normal strength and adopted relatively moderate diplomatic methods.

For example, forming an alliance with the Millennium Covenant Empire, reaching a strategic agreement with the Maggie Empire, secretly manipulating the Kingdom of God of War, etc., and even reaching a series of friendly diplomatic agreements with other neighboring countries, and so on. As for the Zenus Empire, which has the closest cooperative relationship with the Void Empire, it is also in a relatively indifferent state because the new heir is about to take the throne-but at present, the war * Jason can still suppress the internal voice of the Zenus Empire. , So there is currently no friction between the two empires.

At least, not on the surface.

After Cecilia threw back the white-gloved corpses of the Zenus Empire to Jason, the Zenus Empire had infiltrated several secret strongholds of the Void Empire, and all evacuated the territory of the Void Empire overnight.

Cecilia knew that this was Jason's way of showing goodwill. After all, the Zenas Empire is now in an unstable state. And the Void Empire did not have the ability to take advantage of this opportunity to expand its influence, or to find trouble with the Zenas Empire-all this stems from the fact that the Void Empire is too young. If the Void Empire had been established for a hundred years now, with the strength of the Void Empire and its current background, it might really be able to bite a big piece of meat in the Chenas Empire.

But this kind of thing, just think about it.

At present, in the entire Marvel Continent, there is only one country that is officially antagonistic to the Void Empire.

St. Joles' Empire.

However, this powerful empire on the other side of the continent is currently in a state of being attacked by both the Maggie Empire and the God of War. It is obviously impossible to find the trouble of the Void Empire without any effort.

As for the remaining three empires, two of them are already in a state that they cannot protect themselves, while the Emilia Empire, which is also one of the five ancient empires, still maintains a neutral attitude. After all, there is no contradiction between this empire, which can also be regarded as far from the other side of the continent, and the void empire, and as the gateway to the miracle continent against the outland, it is indeed difficult for the Emilia Empire to be distracted to find other countries. trouble.

Although many people are unwilling to admit it, the fact is that the Void Empire has now officially established a foothold on the Marvel Continent.

And now, as Sean, who has been missing for three years, finally returns from the underground world, the deadliest shortcomings in the Void Empire have been completely made up. As for the remaining weakness, it is not something that can be solved overnight. According to Neal's booking plan, it will take at least thirty years of development to make up for this shortcoming.

On the way out of the laboratory, Sean glanced at Diana, who was following behind him, from the corner of his eye, but saw that she was taking out some snacks to feed Kozilek. Although the latter was expressionless, Sean took a look from Kozilek. Judging from the mood swings in his heart, I found that this guy still enjoys this kind of food feeding with countless foods.

This made Sean very puzzled: "Why is Diana so afraid of me but not Kozilek? In terms of momentum, Kozilek should be stronger than me."

"It's probably because the shadow you made to her by Master Sean is too deep." Hela thought for a while, and then said, "You almost killed her entire family."

Shaun glanced at Diana again, only to find that the halo emanating from her body was not even a hint of red light at all, not even a neutral yellow, and some were just green, and it was still very pleasing to the eye. The surplus green.

sighed helplessly, Xiao En said, "Probably I can't distort her opinion of me in this life."

"It's nothing bad, isn't it?" Hela laughed, and then when she left the door of the laboratory, her face turned serious, "Dianna is a very worthy person to worry about."

"I know." Sean nodded. Because of the real eye, he saw people more accurately than others.

At this time, both of them have arrived at the door of the laboratory.

Because the teleportation formation between the laboratory and the Oasis City has not been completed yet, so at this moment, Sean wants to return to the capital of the Void Empire, and still needs to return to the Xiadi Fortress through the road of "Xina's Labyrinth", and then Then return to the Oasis City from the Gorge Fortress.

It's just that as the door of this underground experiment was pushed open, Sean saw an unexpected person.

Hina Worst.

But unlike the cute little girl back then, Hina at this moment is actually no different from a spider monster in Sean's eyes.

"Hina!?" Sean cried out in surprise.

"Uncle Sean." As far as the age difference is concerned, Hina can actually call Sean her elder brother, but due to seniority reasons, under the deliberate teaching of her father Alfred, it is of course also because of Sean. Somehow Hina's half master, so she called Sean the older "uncle".

"Actually, you can call my brother..." Xiao En began to correct it a bit, but he was even more curious about Hina's condition, "Why... have you become a spider demon?"

"Because of the blood." Hina gave a bitter smile, but her voice couldn't hear any dissatisfaction. "It's actually okay, I don't regret it.... And this body has also brought me greater strength. Ascension, if I follow the original schedule, I am afraid it will take a long, long time before I can become a legendary powerhouse. But now, um...I am already better than my dad."

"The foundation is not stable." Sean shook his head, "Excessive power increase is not necessarily a good thing, you still need...some systemic adjustments now."

When Sean said this, he also released his mental tentacles, and then began to touch Hina's body.

But soon, his face became relaxed: "Fortunately, it's just a mutation of blood."

"Mutated bloodline?" Hina was a little curious.

"It's not a big problem, you just can't control your bloodline ability, so in the final analysis it's a fundamental problem." Sean smiled and patted Hina's...the spider sac-in fact, Sean wanted to pat Hina's head. , But when I stretched out my hand, I realized that Hina is much taller than him.

"Alexis is still on the other side of the ground. After a while, if you take the time to look for her, you will say that I said it, let her Take you to the territory of the spider demon... I heard that she has a good relationship with the emperor of the spider demon, so you can go to the emperor of the spider demon to learn, as long as you can control your own bloodline ability, then you will It can be restored to human form."

"Really?" Hina's eyes suddenly lit up.

Although Hina doesn't regret becoming the Nerubian state, if she can return to a human form, how could Hina not want it.

"Of course." Xiao En nodded, "I have dealt with many spider monsters in the underground world. The stronger spider monsters can basically change their human form, but then they can't exert their full strength. That's it... But you don't need to exert your full strength anyway, so go to Alexis and she will arrange it for you."

"Okay, thank you, Uncle Sean." Hina exclaimed happily.

seemed to feel the joy of hope, and the crypt spiders nearby also began to make sounds similar to cheering.

"Call brother." Xiao En reluctantly corrected again.

However, Hina laughed and said nothing this time.

Shawn shook his head helplessly, then sat on the crypt spiders arranged by Hina and prepared to leave.

Before leaving, Hina suddenly shouted: "Uncle Sean, I am glad you are finally back."

Sean was taken aback for a moment, then smiled and nodded: "Well, I'm back."

Hella and Diana smiled on their faces and did not interrupt.

And Imoku and Kozilek, they just stood silently on one side.

A little further away, there are the most powerful Void Crusaders in the Void Empire. They are the shields and swords belonging to Sean alone. This powerful army, which has never seen its own monarch since its establishment, has a solemn expression on its face at this moment, but there is still an agitation in every soldier's heart.

Sean Connery, the true nominal founder of the void empire, the true emperor of the void empire, and the spiritual symbol of the void empire, even in the three years since he disappeared, all the senior leaders of the void empire have never competed for power. , This mysterious and powerful king finally returned today.

After leaving "Xina's Labyrinth", Sean's next stop was to come to the fortress of the Gorge on the surface.

Standing on the surface, Sean's eyes narrowed slightly.

Feeling the heat transmitted by the sun when it shines, Sean let out an enjoyable moan: "It's been a long time, the sun."

Although the underground world still has the division of day and night, the temperature has always been constant, and there is no division of seasons at all. Of course, there will be no phenomena such as photosynthesis, let alone problems such as melanin precipitation from the sun, so Sean's skin looks much whiter and tender.

Stalin was already standing aside and waiting. After seeing Sean finally turned around, he greeted him: "Welcome back, my emperor."

"Thanks for your hard work, Stalin." Sean smiled and patted Stalin on the shoulder. "I heard Hela say a lot about you. You...well done."

"It is my honor to work for the empire." As the first general to follow Xiao En, Stalin could not be regarded as the first generation core circle, but at least he can be regarded as an important figure in the second generation core circle, so he faced Xiao Well, he didn't have the slightest stage fright, "This is my own business, Your Majesty.... The wine and food are all ready, the carriage and horses are also ready, you can set off at any time."

Even if you just use the portals of the same plane for long-distance teleportation, you need to consume a certain amount of physical energy, let alone return from the underground world to the surface world, which is basically equivalent to an interplanetary portal. Of course, you can't eat too much when using the portal, otherwise it is still easy to have some vomiting and other reactions.

Because of the busy day and the teleportation, Sean was indeed a little hungry at this moment, so he did not refuse, but followed Stalin to the canteen in the Gorge Fortress. Because only this canteen can accommodate so many people to dine together, but Sean himself is not a person who pays too much attention to enjoyment and luxury. Naturally, he would not have any opinions on such an arrangement.

After finishing his meal, Sean did not stop at the fortress of the Straits. Instead, accompanied by the Void Crusade and the Guards of Cecilia (Queen's Guards), he left the fortress of the Straits and set off to return to Oasis City. route.

According to Shaun's intention, he could directly use the teleportation array to return to Oasis City.

But Hela and Diana raised objections at this point, and even moved out the names of Neil, William and Cecilia. Almost everyone thought that Sean had been away for so long and this time he returned. You must create enough momentum instead of using the teleportation array to return directly to Oasis City.

Although Sean can't wait to return to Oasis City to see Cecilia, he also knows that now he is the emperor of the Void Empire, and he can no longer let him be willful. Therefore, considering that he has been missing for three years, this return must be a grand proclamation to the whole country and even the whole continent, so in the end he can only agree to the arrangements that Hela, Neil and William have already prepared.

After leaving the Gorge Fortress, it takes about ten days to get to Oasis City at the fastest.

In this regard, Sean also had to restrain his temper and return all the way.

It's just that no matter what Sean did not expect, Hela's arrangement would be so big. Neil and William might also think of this kind of thing, but they would never make such a big momentum.

Starting from leaving the Gorge Fortress, on average, one or two legions will join the team to * Shaun back to the capital every day.

Among them are the silver sideburns of the werewolf tribe, the ranger troops of the centaur, and the jungle hunters of the elven tribe. The first-line troops of the Void Empire include the Second Army of Commander Nok and Commander Aldolf. The mobile infantry regiment, the 1st Cavalry regiment under the commander of Rena, etc., basically all the Void Empire regiments that have not received the task at present, all are arranged by Hela on this return road from the Gorge Fortress to the Oasis City.

In just five days, more than one hundred thousand troops gathered together to form a mighty dragon.

And except for the legion, all the powerhouses of the entire void empire: all powerhouses from the sanctuary and above, as long as they have no tasks, they all gather in this returning team. If you just join in a low profile, you are also afraid. All the strong people who come here seem to be afraid that others don't know the existence of this team and don't know their own strength. Almost all of them radiate their own vigor without concealment. .

Over the entire team, from the third day on, there was a substantial black cloud following.

That is the momentum field formed by all the strong and powerful players. In a sense, this can already be regarded as part of the law.

On the seventh day, the news that Sean Connery, the most mysterious emperor ever returned to the Void Empire, was completely spread throughout the Marvel Continent. No matter what power, organization, or even weak as a principality, or as strong as an empire, whether it is a group, a collective or an individual, everyone's eyes began to focus on the void empire involuntarily.

Then everyone was surprised to find that the original void empire still existed, but there was no undercurrent and instability floating on the surface. At the moment when the news of Sean's return was passed, it completely disappeared from the void empire. .

Whether it's the new aristocracy or the old faction, whether it's the tribal chiefs of the savage lands, or the nouveau riche who have only made their fortunes since the establishment of the Void Empire, all the conspiracies, all the tricks, all the dissatisfaction, all the ambitions, At this moment, it melted like snow in the sun.

Countless envoys, regardless of their original intentions, whether they want to try Sean's details or want to cooperate with the Void Empire, or other ideas, they all bring their own missions and gather on the ninth day. To the Oasis City.

For a time, the entire Oasis City, the capital city of the Void Empire, showed a deformed and unusual prosperity in an instant. All the taverns, inns, restaurants, and residential houses in the city were all covered by all outsiders in one day. Fully rented. But what is even more bizarre is that while Oasis City is welcoming so many guests, the security of the entire city has not deteriorated, on the contrary, it has become more orderly.

But after thinking about it carefully, I felt relieved.

After all, as Sean's motorcade came back, they are now the first-class army of the void empire. Moreover, as the most powerful espionage department in the Void Empire, and even the top espionage department in the entire Marvel Continent: Void Realm, the entire Oasis City has already been under control. If it is still in such a situation If there is any accident or chaos, then the Void Empire will not be able to establish itself here in just three years.

On the tenth day, the emperor of the void empire, Sean Connery, brought an army of more than 300,000 and nearly 30 legendary powerhouses into Oasis City.

On this day, the alleys of Oasis City are empty.

However, there was no trampling accident, and there was no confusion. Some were just celebrations and cheers, and some were just warmly welcoming the wave.

Fired on the magic salute in the sky, lasting for a day and night, even after nightfall, the entire area within a few miles of the Oasis City was illuminated by countless magic salutes, which looked as bright as day.

Seeing the completely ignited frenetic atmosphere of the entire Oasis City, Sean just looked back at Hela, facing Hela's smiling face, and whispered: "As expected of a battlefield player, the atmosphere of the entire void empire. They were completely ignited by you....Under such a general trend, even if I wish to run to the palace immediately."

Faced with Sean's ridicule, Hela's face remained the same, she just chuckled and said: "So, Neil is ready for you in the central square, so you can go up and say a few words casually... so The lively scene, you can't chill the hearts of your people."

"Well, you're right." Sean nodded helplessly, and then continued on the road that had been separated.

In the central plaza of Oasis City, Neil has indeed made preparations accordingly.

In fact, as early as Sean and Kozilek got in touch, when they returned to the portal base in the underground world, Hela and Neil were already preparing. Today's speech on Sean's return will be synchronized to all towns in the entire void empire, and not just limited to Oasis City. For this reason, Neil has a painful look on his approval of a magic projection budget of tens of millions of gold coins. .

As Xiao En arrived at the central square, everyone's eyes were all focused on Xiao En.

This is the first time many people have seen the emperor of the Void Empire.

He has black hair and black eyes, and his face is slightly young and delicate, but he has a fortitude look. The figure is not thin, but it is also burly and sturdy. It seems to be no different from ordinary people, except that there is a strong and powerful spirit constantly radiating out while walking.

This is the feeling of those who are unfamiliar with Sean or who have never met Sean.

But those who already knew about Sean's existence and had established a more detailed intelligence database for him were dumbfounded at this moment.

The reason is simple.

Shaun's strength has improved too fast!

Three years ago, Sean was just a strong man in the sanctuary, but today, three years later, the emperor of the void empire is already a strong man at the pinnacle of legend. This strength improvement speed is enough to make countless so-called geniuses blush, and many people even begin to wonder whether there is any special way for a person to quickly improve strength in the underground world.

Feeling countless attentions, curious, hostile, friendly, and respectful, Sean closed his eyes and felt everything silently.

After a long time, standing on the high platform that had been built, Sean finally said, "I believe many people are very strange to me. But thinking about it, it makes sense that you are strange to me. After all, since the establishment of the Void Empire, I The emperor never showed up."

The central square, which was still a little noisy and talking, soon began to quiet down with Shaun's opening remarks.

And this silence also spread outwards at a very fast speed, but in a blink of an eye, the entire Oasis City was so quiet that a needle could be heard. At the same time, in the entire Oasis City, above all the towns in the entire void empire, a very clear magical projection suddenly appeared. This magical projection showed that it was standing on the central square of the Oasis City at this moment. Sean.

Then, Sean in this magic projection spoke up. After repeating the opening remarks mentioned by Sean at the beginning, this magic projection began to synchronize with Sean on the high platform of the central square of Oasis City.

"It's not that I don't want to show up, but that I had a little accident before, so I am sorry, in the most difficult early stage of the establishment of the empire, I did not stand by your side, please forgive my negligence." In the projection, Sean is facing everyone I bowed deeply and apologized, "But I am very fortunate that I have a group of like-minded companions. It is them who supported the entire Void Empire during the period of my disappearance and allowed the Void Empire to gain a foothold in three years. Here."

In the screen of the magic projection, Sean straightened up again, his eyes were clean and bright: "To be honest, the establishment of an empire cannot be separated from the joint efforts of everyone.... This kind of effort does not refer to the ministers of the empire. It refers to everyone in our entire empire. Including me, including the important officials of the empire, but also you, the people of the empire. Without your hard work and hard work, then even if the void empire is established, there will be no future at all. , So I not only want to thank my like-minded companions, but I also want to thank you, people of the Void Empire, for your hard work in the past three years."

Shaun's expression is sincere and his voice is calm. This is the moment when his true feelings are revealed.

"In the past three years, I regret that I have not walked side by side with you. But I can guarantee that in the years to come, I will accompany you to move forward. I am Sean Connery, the Emperor of the Void Empire. "Shaun's eyes are as sharp as a falcon, and the aura of the whole person is also changing at this moment, obviously majestic and awe-inspiring, just like when facing Elome and Turt in the underground world, "Void people , Your emperor is back."

Listening to such domineering words from Sean, Hela and Neal looked at each other, and then they both smiled and knelt on one knee at the same time: "Greetings to the return of my emperor."

Immediately afterwards, Rena, Aldolf, Nok, Oriana, Shefranio, Clover and other Void Empire's first, second and fourth generations of important ministers and high-level officials, they are also alone at this moment. Kneeling down on his knees, he said in a deep voice, "Welcome to the return of my emperor!"

Then, the soldiers of the Void Crusade, the Second Legion, the Silverside Legion, and the Cecilia Guards knelt on one knee. With a louder voice, they uttered a frantic roar that was almost shouting: "Welcome to my emperor. Come back!"

Finally, it is the citizens of the Void Empire. Whether in Oasis City or any town within the Void Empire, whether in public or in private residences, these civilians and nobles are also facing the sky at this moment. Kneeling on one knee, the magic projection swears their allegiance: "Respectfully welcome the return of my emperor."

Standing on the high platform, Sean watched everything calmly. After two seconds, maybe three seconds later, he said again: "Everyone, although I have a thousand words to communicate with you at this moment, to express my gratitude to you. , But I'm sorry... There is a person who makes me very worried is waiting for me. She has been waiting for me for a long time. This time I was able to come back because she supported the door to my return at the cost of serious injury and was not closed. ...I believe you are very familiar with this person. She was the ruling queen, Cecilia Rembel, who replaced me in implementing the imperial emperor's decisions during the three years I left. So, please forgive me. I can end this speech with such a short speech, because I must go to the palace to meet her now."

Listening to Sean's bohemian speech, Hela showed a helpless wry smile, and even Neil shook his head helplessly.

However, for Sean's patience and serious implementation of everything Hela designed and arranged for him, it took a full ten days to meet with Cecilia. Hela felt that he could not ask too much. So, she gestured to Diana, who quickly got up and walked to the high platform to take over for Sean, completing the aftermath that he hadn't completely completed for Sean.

And Sean, just as he said, didn't want to stay for a quarter of an hour, just floated up in the air, and then hurried away in the direction where Cecilia was.

Chapter 232: .this moment

Void Palace, as the inner city of Oasis City, is about four to five hours away from the central square of Oasis City.

Of course, this refers to the time consumed when a normal person moves with steps.

If the carriage travels at a normal speed, it will only take about three hours regardless of congestion.

After all, this is not a straight line movement between two points.

And if someone at the level of Sean can fly directly from the air, he probably only needs...

About a minute.

If the flight speed is faster, I am afraid that it will not even be 30 seconds.

The powerhouse at the pinnacle of the legend is not a joke.

It may seem like a blink of an eye from outsiders, but in just thirty seconds, but for Sean, it was the equivalent of a year of high-speed flight. Sean finally landed gently on a location. On the exposed balcony on the third floor.

Under the background of a lot of greenery, the entire Void Palace is like floating on an island in a green ocean.

The construction of Void Palace is a complex of buildings full of retro European style. These buildings are no more than five stories tall, and the shortest is only two stories. Although it seems that these buildings are not related to each other, in fact, there is a secret passage under all the buildings. The underground network constructed by secret passages connects the entire Void Palace into one piece.

It is no one else who is responsible for digging these secret passages, it is Xina's Cold Spider Legion.

Of course, this is actually where Xina's real underground palace is located-the "Xina's Labyrinth" located under the fortress of the Straits, is actually just a defense mechanism deployment. The Crypt Spider Queen who actually signed a magic contract with Xina , Has also been secretly transferred here from the Black Swan Castle.

After all, although Xina is the leader of the Cold Spider Legion, she cannot produce underground cold spiders, so the Crypt Cold Spider Queen, which is the most core value of the entire Cold Spider Legion, should naturally be placed in the safest place.

And in the entire void empire, is there any place safer than the void palace?

The answer is no.

Almost all the elite of the entire Void Empire gathered here-including but not limited to the four giants of the void, the four small giants of the void, the highest-level core generals, the Void Crusader garrison, the Cecilia Guards garrison, etc. . Being allowed to obtain a residence in the Void Palace is already the highest reward of the entire Void Empire, and it is also the ultimate belief goal of countless Void Empire officials.

As the residence of Queen Cecilia of the Void Empire Phoenix, according to the Void Empire law formulated by Neal, its standard specification is to reach the maximum floor area of 50 acres and the floor height to reach the building standard of the fifth floor. It is worth mentioning that as the first emperor of the void empire, the founder of the void, and the spiritual leader of the void empire, Shaun's palace building standard has an over-spec three hundred acres and the highest seven-story building standard.

The entire void palace covers an area of 1,800,000 square meters, or 2,700 acres.

As the second largest occupancy of the void palace, second only to the founder of the empire, Cecilia's palace covers an area of only about 1,000 square meters, and the height of the building is as high as Three floors. And even if it covers an area of 1,000 square meters, nearly 600 square meters are garden green areas. In fact, there are only seven real buildings, covering an area of less than 400 square meters.

Especially the house where Cecilia herself lives, which is only a small house of only about 100 square meters.

Others may not know the symbolic meaning of this simple-looking house, but Sean is very clear.

It is a house in the small town of Hadas, located in the kingdom of Sivr, Kingdom of Serian.

Back when Sean and Cecilia were just two small mercenaries, Cecilia's dream was to own such a house-it was the second place in the town of Hadas after the mayor's house. The big house. It is said that the original owner put the house on the market for sale due to financial problems in the business. But it's a pity that the 400 Celian gold coins that the house was priced at that time were an untouchable price for Sean and Cecilia who were just struggling with food and clothing.

Shaun has just returned to the Void Empire, he naturally won't know where Cecilia actually lives.

But when he saw this house, he already knew that Cecilia must be living here.

So he landed here without any hesitation, and then opened the floor-to-ceiling windows from the balcony to the room.

The lighting in the room is excellent, and the bright sunlight shines through the brightly polished windows, making the whole room very bright.

A small bookcase is placed in the corner of the room. On it are some books of relatively obvious personal nature. The most occupied are various knight novels, some of which he has also read in Sean's impression. Read it. In the slightly forward position of the bookcase, there is a small low table and a very soft recliner-style sofa that looks very soft at first glance. On the low table is a set of tea sets that are more common in the Chenas Empire.

Slightly different from the bright and clean room is a desk located in the other corner of the room.

There are countless parchment papers and some bound books spread out on this desk, and there are even a few empty ink bottles, and a few quill pens are randomly thrown on them. The sharp-eyed Sean just scanned, and he found that there were densely packed data on one of the unfolded parchments. It seemed to be a calculation formula, but this aspect has not always been Sean's area of expertise, so he is not clear. Whether the result of this calculation formula has been obtained.

And in the middle of this half-order and half-chaotic, there is a big bed with obviously a little over-spec.

It is like a watershed, separating the two completely different temperaments of the entire room.

As if already knowing the result, Cecilia leaned on the bed, and then looked slightly at Sean who opened the floor-to-ceiling window door of the balcony-she just watched Sean land on the balcony, then opened the door, and stepped away. enter.

No matter what Cecilia's thoughts and emotions had been before, at this moment, at the moment when she saw Sean stepping in, her mind was instantly tranquil.

Cecilia's weak and pale face showed a sincere and sweet smile from the heart, like a rainbow after the rain: "I'm back."

is just a simple sentence, and Sean's mood has become quiet as a result.

For three years, he has been fighting and killing in the underground world for a long time, and countless  murderous auras have entangled him-in that dark, naked, and naked society of the law of the jungle, there are only deadly wars and killings, and there won't be any at all. Sympathy thoughts. Friends in the last second and enemies in the next second are the most common things in the underground world. Even family members cannot trust each other, let alone other things.

So no matter whether Sean is willing to admit it or not, in fact, his heart has inevitably been clouded with a haze during the past three years.

And most importantly, Sean's temperament does not match his current strength.

Simply put, it is that Sean's strength has increased so fast that his foundation is not stable-he relies on the soul of the strong to devour the soul, so that he now has the power of the fifteenth-level legendary pinnacle. Perhaps by virtue of the pinnacle skills and vision in the game that surpass the natives of this world, Sean can still steadily defeat most of the legendary pinnacle powerhouses who are also the fifteenth tier, but if faced with the Vietnam War, such as Levi and Rena For brave fighting madmen, or true geniuses such as Cecilia and Angel, and celestial beings such as Xuefanio, then Sean's best ending is just to hit the enemy hard before he died.

From beginning to end, Sean is not a so-called genius.

He can barely catch up with the geniuses in this world through other means, and without these means, Sean is at best a slightly talented strong man-perhaps, he could eventually become a man. He is a strong man at the pinnacle of legend, but that probably requires more than a hundred years of hard work.

So at this moment, after seeing Cecilia, Sean's rift that caused unstable mood due to his rapid increase in strength finally stopped expanding.

An unprecedented satisfaction and complete mood rose up in Xiao En's heart.

He nodded slightly, his face also showed a sincere smile, and said: "Well, I'm back."

The private conversation between the most powerful figures in the Void Empire is as simple as it would be when they were mercenaries more than a decade ago.

It's as if Sean hasn't disappeared for three years, he just went out to work for a day, and then returned home from get off work.

Sean walked quickly to Cecilia's bed, and then sat on the edge of the bed, stopping Cecilia from trying to get up: "Before the injury is better, just stay there."

"This injury can't be recovered by lying quietly in bed." Cecilia pouted and hummed in a slightly coquettish voice, "I'm a little hungry now, I want to get up to eat. "

"I'll cook it for you." Sean shook his head helplessly.

"No." Cecilia suddenly protested, "You can't do anything except cook a chowder!"

Hearing this, Xiao En's face was a little embarrassing: "I don't have much time to study cooking."

"I have been spending a lot of time these days. Reading the cookbook and cooking some good dishes, I'll cook for you." Cecilia seems to have known Sean's answer for a long time, and she was happy and happy. He chuckled slightly triumphantly.

"Are you sure it is an edible dish? Not something like lizards or toads?"

"I'm a magician! Not a witch in the story book!" Cecilia let out a protest, her small face bulging.

She knew that this was Sean's first cooking against her: some time after Sean saved Cecilia, tired of the duo eating dry food, Sean asked Cecilia to try Go cooking. But the only thing that the little girl who was only thirteen or four years old made was the weak energy potion made with magic materials such as dried toads, lizard powder, blue mushrooms, etc.

Looking at Sean, who had a wonderful facial expression at the time, Cecilia replied: "This thing can maintain the nutrients that a normal adult man needs in a day, and can maintain energy, compared to the traditional intake of nutrients through food. The method of maintaining vitality should be faster and more effective."

Later, every day with Cecilia, it was Sean who was in charge of the cooking: even if he only had a simple chowder, but in Sean's view, this method was better than "witch soup" too much.

Talking about the little secrets that only each other knows, Cecilia and Sean both laughed when they looked at each other for a while.

After a while, Xiao En got up: "I'll cook for you."

"It should be spicy." Cecilia said with a smile.

"It's not good to eat too much spicy." Shaun is a typical person who doesn't like spicy food, while Cecilia prefers to eat more spicy food.

"Huh, the person you really miss now wants to eat more spicy food. Only in this way can I feel better, so!" Cecilia emphasized the pronunciation of the words "very miss", and then she I appreciate that Sean is indeed a little rushed and embarrassed because of this, "I want to eat spicy food now!"

"Did you hear it all?" Sean blinked.

"It's not just me, everyone in the entire void empire can hear it." Cecilia's eyes were very bright. If it weren't for the fact that her face was really pale and bloodless, she wouldn't look like a sick person. "I also specially recorded it with a magic phantom stone.... But the time of your speech is too short. Neil originally wanted to record the whole process and sell it as a commodity, in a sense In short, you broke Neal's money-making plan."

"Damn Neil, I must deduct his salary when I look back!" Sean exclaimed a little angrily, "I just came back from the ground, this unscrupulous consul has already begun to want to use me as a tool for making money. !"

"Sean." Looking at the screaming Sean there, Cecilia suddenly said, "Am I really the one you miss most?"

Originally, Sean planned to answer "When will it become a term like 'most missed'", but looking at Cecilia's face, Sean sat back on the edge of the bed closer to Cecilia, and then chuckled lightly. Nodded: "Of course. I have been worrying about you in the past few years in the underground world. After all, when I left, you were still sleeping, I'm really worried about your well-being..."

Without waiting for Sean to finish speaking, Cecilia suddenly leaned towards Sean, and then kissed his lips.

However, perhaps it was because Cecilia's movements were too fast, or it might be because of other reasons.

In short, this was supposed to be a beautiful scene, but it ended with Cecilia's painful cry.

Because of Cecilia's teeth, it ran into Sean's teeth, but it is unquestionable whether a magician or a warrior has stronger teeth. Feeling the smell of blood in her mouth, Cecilia knew that her lips must have been cracked-but this was not the most unacceptable thing for her. What really made her wish to die like this was that her face was full of consternation. Xiao En recovered quickly, and then looked at himself covering his lips with a gloating expression.

Ashamed and angry!

If it weren't for the current body to be so weak that it could only gather weak flames, Cecilia vowed that she would summon Solomon's Seventy-two Heavy Flame, and then fiercely blasted the mocking Sean straight out of her place. Face the wall!

Looking at Cecilia whose face was flushed, Sean stretched out his hand and gently broke Cecilia's hands covering his lips, and then reached out and gently wiped the blood from Cecilia's lips. . His movements were gentle and careful, feeling the warmth on Sean's fingers, and Cecilia, who was originally full of shame and anger, quickly became calm again.

Perhaps Cecilia's "injury" was not serious, or Cecilia's resilience as a strong man still existed, in short, the blood on her lips was quickly stopped.

"Sean..." Cecilia yelled softly.

"Huh?" Sean looked at Cecilia, with a gentle smile on his face, "What's the matter?"

"I...I..." seems to be a little anxious, Cecilia has continued me many times, but still can't say a complete sentence.

Looking at Cecilia, who was eager and embarrassed, Sean stretched out his hand and gently stroked Cecilia's delicate face, and then he finally leaned in and kissed her lips slightly.

Chapter 233: .Visitors

In Cecilia's private boudoir, because the windows are large enough, it has excellent lighting: in the morning, the whole room can be bathed in the morning light; and at night, the moonlight can also shine. Make the atmosphere of the whole room extremely holy.

Probably because the blood in Cecilia's body has been awakened to the fifth stage, so her preferences and personality have also changed a lot—at least, in the recognition that Sean once existed, Cecilia did not like people who like this kind of holiness and light. On the contrary, she prefers to hide in the dark environment and study her knowledge of magic, and she often stays in a dead house for several days.

But at this moment, although it is indeed midnight, the whole room is still bathed in light.

is not an abnormal weather, but the entire Oasis City is still caught in the carnival of Sean's return at this moment: the magical fireworks that continue to shoot into the sky illuminate the entire Oasis City like daylight.

Sean carefully tucked the quilt for Cecilia.

Looking at the sweet smile still on Cecilia's innocent face, the corners of Sean's mouth could not help but lifted slightly.

Today, he and Cecilia had a great day together.

Perhaps because Sean kissed Cecilia, this little guy was in a state of brain downtime all day long. No matter what Sean said, she would only nod her head. As a result, she ate two stew of stuffed pork and still had no complaints, and the taste was still biased towards the bland, not the spicy flavor she desired.

Finally, under the gentle coax of Xiao En, he went to bed early to rest.

And Sean was also waiting quietly in this room, until he was sure that Cecilia's breathing became steady and he fell asleep completely, before he put down the parchment in his hand.

These densely packed calculation formulas on the parchment, in today's conversation between Shaun and Cecilia, he already knew the content recorded on it.

It can be said that Sean can return early, which has a great relationship with these calculation formulas.

In the beginning, when expedition to the surface world in the underground world, a lot of man-made products were invested on the surface-such as today's cave monsters, human face spiders, underground monsters and so on. However, after the failure of the expedition, these man-made products have also escaped into the ground. Therefore, for a long period of historical cognition, residents of the surface world have always believed that these creatures emerged from the underground world by digging channels.

Although in a sense, these products are indeed the vanguard of the underground world invading the surface world—in fact, these man-made products have a positioning coordinate system. The greatest function of this positioning coordinate system is to facilitate people in the underground world to determine the coordinate position of the surface, so as to accurately open the portal of the path of the abyss and transport the army from the underground world.

From a certain known system, the biggest role of the cave monster is to build the path of the abyss; and the value of the underground monster is to dig a space of sufficient scale to facilitate the path of the abyss to pass the most difficult stage of stability in the early stage. .

However, it is a pity that today's underground world seems to have lost this ability to locate and transmit commands, so these products left behind in the surface world underground are in a state of confusion: they have forgotten their mission. , Only the purest survival instinct remains.

Cecilia, in a very coincidental situation, discovered this secret, and according to the genetic coordinates carried by these creatures, completed the reverse push of the path of the abyss portal. Through this inverse calculation formula, Cecilia easily completed the power requirements for the reverse control of the Abyssal Path portal under the fortress of the Strasbourg-saving at least 70% of the energy transmission requirements.

If you give the Void Empire two more years, then when the portal is forcibly opened, you can directly send an entire army to enter, or it can be a super strong person-even if it is forced to increase the upper limit power, it will If a plane powerhouse of Kozilek's level teleports over, it will not make Cecilia pay such a heavy price.

It's just that Cecilia, who is extremely eager to find Sean, can't wait two more years.

Understanding Cecilia's efforts over the years, Sean's heart was naturally very moved.

If it weren't for him, Cecilia would not fall into this state of serious injury because of this-Cecilia is not as capable as a Tier 10 sanctuary powerhouse, let alone a legend. realm. Although she has the knowledge and related magic skills equivalent to the fourteenth-order legendary powerhouse, her magical power fluctuations are extremely unstable, and her current physique is even fragile to the extent that it is not much stronger than a silver master.

After confirming that Cecilia had entered a deep sleep, Sean got up and left the small house.

A team of Cecilia Guards who happened to be patrolling saluted Sean, but after the salute, the team continued to resume patrols and did not stop because of Sean's existence.

In this regard, Sean doesn't care much.

Because he knew that the Cecilia Guards were an army loyal to Cecilia alone. Even if he was the emperor of the Void Empire, he actually had no power to command this army. Cecilia is the only one who can truly command this army, and whether it is Clover or the Apollo commander who has now taken refuge in the Void Empire, it is actually only under Cecilia's orders.

Hitley had been waiting outside the door for a while, and only after seeing the appearance of Sean did she greet her.

"Levy is not life-threatening, but he is really not suitable for the battlefield in a short time. You leave him in the underground world... is it okay?" Hitley looked very tired, but given that she often asked for it during this time Running on both sides of the underground world and the surface world, so this tired look is also a normal reaction.

Rather, if it weren't for Cecilia, the saint of the goddess of life, I'm afraid there would be no way to have such a powerful life function that can support her to constantly go back and forth between the two planes.

"There is currently Alexis in the underground world. Those guys don't dare to make trouble. Levi's current role is more to maintain stability in the overall situation. It is a spiritual symbol." Shaun replied, "I have intentions. Let him come back, but the fellow Alisha will not agree.... She will never let Levi leave her sight for more than a minute."

Hitley sighed helplessly.

Hitley was noncommittal about Sean's evaluation. In other words, she had known for a long time that the so-called high-levels of the Void Empire had various problems and problems, and even herself, had extremely peculiar mental problems. However, only Sean can tolerate their problems, and even trust them completely, instead of establishing a mechanism for mutual surveillance and trial.

It is precisely because of this that Sean will be the spiritual leader of everyone in the entire void empire.

"How is Cecilia?" Sean asked.

"Essence is injured, it is not so easy to recover." Hitley replied, her answer has been told to countless people these days, "At least, I don't have any good way.... Maybe, there is only a legend. Only the buds of the World Tree in China can be completely repaired in a short time."

The sprout of the world tree. According to legend, when the world was born, 999 seeds grew from the tree because of the absorption of a large amount of the power of the world's origin. These seeds can germinate and grow immediately after a little bit of vitality. After a series of careful cultivation, these germinated seeds can grow into a tree of life and become a shelter for the elves.

And these sprouts that are stimulated by vitality are the buds of the world tree.

A world tree can only produce up to 999 seeds that are closely related to itself, that is, 999 world tree buds.

However, in the entire Marvel Continent, the best development trend is the fourth-order life tree-whether it is an outland elven empire, a wild land, or even a well-versed forest in the underground world. If the tree of life wants to transform into a world tree, it must wait for the tree of life to progress to the fifth stage and complete the entire stage of growth before it can initiate growth and transformation to the world tree.

In terms of the current development trend, even the tree of life of the Outland Elf Empire, at least it will take more than a thousand years to develop into a world tree.

For thousands of years, Cecilia has already recovered, so there is no need for some buds of the World Tree.

"If the power of the source is poured..."

"I don't know." Hitley hesitated for a while, but still said, "After all, no one has ever tried this.... The wounds of the power of the origin are not so easy to recover. But Cecilia is still very Young, so there is still a great opportunity to reach the top again."

"What I need is not a great opportunity, but a more precise result." Xiao En sighed lightly, "If it wasn't for me..."

"You better not show such an expression in front of Cecilia." Hitley saw Sean's expression, but even if she interrupted him, "Your expression like this is denying Cecilia. Effort and value will only make her more sad."

"I see." Xiao En was taken aback, but he nodded quickly, "I am indeed worried."

Hitley did not say anything, just nodded slightly.

Some things, she only needs to remind them once, and saying too much is meaningless. And Hitley believed that if it wasn't because only Cecilia's Phoenix blood could interfere with the space ability, I am afraid that it would not be Cecilia who paid the price for maintaining the stability of the portal's space at that time, but There are others—whether voluntarily or forcedly, there were more than twenty legendary powerhouses gathered in the underground research institute at that time. This combat power is no joke.

"So... what are your plans next?" Hitley asked.

"What's your plan?" Sean was puzzled.

"The development of the Void Empire has completely stabilized, especially after your return. Now no one is stupid enough to continue trying to subvert the Void Empire." Hitley is now considered to be the core high-level personnel of the Void Empire, so about the Void Empire. He is naturally very clear about the policy, "According to Neil's decision, it will take at least 30 years for the Void Empire to fully develop and perfect. What he meant is that it's best to spend these 30 years smoothly. Celia, William, and Hela are also very supportive of this decision. After all, the Void Empire is really not suitable for causing trouble everywhere."

"Does the tree attract the wind?" Xiao En nodded slightly.

According to the current situation, the development strategy of the Void Empire is indeed the best to enter a period of peaceful development. After all, as long as the development period of 30 years has passed, the entire Void Empire will completely enter a state of rapid development. The entire Marvel Continent gains a firm foothold and becomes a true continental empire.

"But before that, there is one more trouble to solve." Shaun said, "The last... trouble."

Hitley knew what Shaun was talking about, she nodded, and said: "The priests are already ready and can set off at any time."

Sean seemed to be planning to say something, but his brows were raised slightly, and when he reached his mouth, he changed to: "I know. Thank you, Hitley.... Although the carnival in Oasis City is still the same today, it is the Void Palace. It's relatively peaceful here, so you should rest early."

"Okay." Hitley nodded, "I have been living in this manor recently. If you need anything, just call me." At this point, Hitley snorted a little dissatisfied. : "I should have lived with Cecilia, because you are back, I can only move out."

Sean smiled and rubbed Hitley's head lightly: "I will donate one million gold coins to your temple, are you satisfied?"

"It's pretty much the same." Although Hitley was still not satisfied, but thinking about it now that she is no longer just a saint, she also needs to worry about the source of funds for her temple, so she can only give it up.

After seeing Hitley turned and left, the moment Sean turned around, the smile on his face completely disappeared.

was replaced by a face of frost and killing intent.

He opened the door and stepped into Cecilia's house.

Cecilia's bedroom is on the third floor, and a limited number of guest rooms are also on the third floor; the second floor was transformed into a huge library, and the entire floor was filled with various magic books. On the first floor, there is a living room, which is also used as a meeting place for Cecilia. In addition, it is a trigger and four waitress bedrooms-these four waitresses have the strength of the golden realm. It is a protector who is proficient in assassination and anti-assassination methods, specially selected from the realm of the void.

But now, these four waitresses are in a coma, and I am afraid they will not wake up in a short time.

Sean stood in the living room. He did not turn on the light—in fact, he didn't need to turn on the light. Within the scope of his perception, there was an extremely powerful person sitting in this living room. But the strange thing is that only he can feel the aura that the opponent exudes. Even Hitley, who has also stepped into the realm of legend, is even standing at a straight line distance of less than 30 meters from the opponent. He didn't even notice its existence.

"Who are you?" Sean asked in a deep voice.

He knew that the other party had specifically let him discover it, because when he was standing at the door just now, the other party's immediate momentum was obviously with strong hints and warnings. It is precisely because of this that Sean will send Hitley away, and then face the unknown visitor in front of him.

In view of the fact that the opponent possesses such a powerful aura and stealth means that are not detected by outsiders, it is naturally not a strange thing that the Cecilia Guards who patrolled did not find this person.

It's just that Sean couldn't forgive him. He didn't even find out how this person sneaked into Cecilia's house. If the other party wanted to disadvantage Cecilia...

Thinking of this, Sean's heart shuddered.

"I'm not as dirty as you thought." It seemed that he sensed Sean's thoughts, and the other party chuckled, "I'm just here to find you."

"Looking for me?" Sean raised his brow slightly, "Who are you?"

I don't know why, but when the other party speaks, it exudes a very subtle aura. In this kind of aura, Sean could clearly perceive that the other party did not have any hostility, and his inner vigilance was slightly relaxed for some reason. It seemed that he had a slight friendly feeling towards the other party all at once.

"My name is Xu Qing."

Chapter 234: .Planar Merchant

Shaun's night vision ability is not so outstanding, but as a legendary peak powerhouse, he still has the night vision ability that he should have.

But at this moment, in front of him, in addition to vaguely observing the silhouette of a human being sitting on a soft chair sofa, Sean could not even see the other's facial features.

Obviously, at this moment, the outside of the room is illuminated like daylight due to the continuous blooming of magical fireworks, but the environment inside the room is like a black hole that can swallow all the light-Sean did not notice this until this moment, and he found that his perception seemed to have become Slightly slow. But in any case, two diametrically opposed worlds have formed inside and outside the house: darkness and light.

But what really shocked Sean was not this dark environment like a black hole.

is the two words that the other party spit out from his mouth.

Xu Qing.

A name that shouldn't belong to this world.

Even the citizens of the Zenas Empire, the strongest overlord of the Eastern Continent, who has the same black hair and black eyes as Sean and a typical Oriental face, their names are basically in accordance with the so-called "Western format" in Sean's memory. , That is, it is composed of first name plus last name. Moreover, Xiao En has seen the most similar to the surname of the ancient Chinese on Earth, and there is only one word "Luo", and most of the others are still in the form of multi-character structure.

But at this moment, a person who claims to be Xu Qing just appeared in front of him abruptly.

Sean's pupils shrink slightly, and his emotions are in extreme fluctuations.

"You have seen other planes travelers." The man who claimed to be Xu Qing spoke again, "It seems that I did not find the wrong person."

Xiao En's perception seemed to have recovered at this moment. He keenly noticed the vocabulary group "other plane travelers" mentioned by Xu Qing. In his memory, the only people worthy of this vocabulary group were those he had the honor to meet and fought side by side: Andrew, Beth, and Enkos.

"Who are you?" Sean's muscles tightened, and then slightly relaxed. This is a standard signal that he has entered a fighting state.

"Hey, don't be nervous, I didn't come to fight with you." The other party seemed to feel the muscle information of Sean, so he smiled and said, but there was not the slightest tension in his words, and even a faint look of expectation. , It seems that Sean's desperate action on him will make him more satisfied, "As for me...I have already told you, my name is Xu Qing. Hmm...I am a businessman for the time being."

"Businessman?" Sean sneered at Xu Qing's statement.

"Of course, it's just that the merchandise I manage is different from that of merchants in the traditional sense." Xu Qing's voice is a little bit more smiley, it seems that no matter when and where, he has a calm and confident uniqueness. Temperament, "With me, you can buy everything, no matter what."

Xu Qing especially emphasized the term "everything".

"Heh." Xiao En let out a sneer, the look on his face obviously didn't believe it, "You can sell everything?"

"Of course." The man's voice was obviously a little triumphant on the other side.

"So what about the World Tree shoots?" Sean said coldly.

"Sprout of the World Tree?" Xu Qing thought for a moment, and then patted his palm. "If you don't tell me, I'm almost there. I got something a long, long time ago, and I haven't been able to sell it. I almost forgot that I have this. Plant something."

Hearing the voice and tone of the other party, Sean was obviously taken aback, but he did not completely trust the other party's words.

Until, throwing something from the opponent's hand, Xiao En subconsciously reached out and took it, and the whole person was completely stunned.

The one that Sean held in his hand was the seed of the World Tree that had been infused with enough vitality and began to germinate.

He didn't know what the world tree sprouts looked like, but he had seen the tree of life after all, and he had also kept quiet in the room with the strongest vitality of the tree of life, so he was extremely sensitive to the breath of the tree of life. As for the thing that Sean is holding in his hand, the vitality on it is stronger and purer than the vitality that Shaun once felt from the tree of life, and the aura is obviously stronger than that of the tree of life.

Undoubtedly, this one looks just like a seed that has just begun to germinate. It is definitely a sprout of the World Tree.

"This... how is this possible!" Sean exclaimed, "In this world, at all..."

Speaking halfway, Sean already remembered the identity of the other party.

Xu Qing, a mysterious guy who claims to be a businessman.

The opponent is obviously not a person in this world, or does not belong to the existence of this plane, so it is not surprising that he has a world tree sprout in his hand, maybe the world where the opponent is in has a world tree. , And he got such a world tree sprout because of this.

But what makes Shaun puzzled is, which plane world does the other party come from?

This obviously resembles the naming method of the earth Chinese...

"It seems that you have realized something." Xu Qing's voice rang again, but this time with his voice, the darkness of the room seemed to be drawn by something, and began to move towards where Xu Qing was. The locations converged in the past, and the whole room regained its brightness in a blink of an eye.

And this time, Sean finally saw the other side's looks.

This is a young man who looks about 30 years old. He has the same black hair and black eyes as Sean, and a very typical Asian face, but the most striking thing is his eyes, which have a kind of difficulty. The aura of words. He was wearing a black casual suit-it looked very incompatible with the dress of Marvel Land. On the outside of the suit was a large black windbreaker and a pair of military boots on his feet.

This man, or Xu Qing, just sat on a soft sofa with his right hand on the back of the sofa, with Erlang's legs tilted, while his left hand was held flat, causing the entire room to be dark. The culprit was condensed into a small black ball, suspended in his left hand.

"Dark Realm, are you interested?" Seeing Xiao En's eyes focused on the black ball in his left hand, Xu Qing smiled and said, "If you want, I can sell it to you at a cheaper price.... It's already complete. The analyzed three-level rule can be used as soon as you buy it, eliminating all the troubles you need to analyze and understand. If you buy it now, you will also receive five years of after-sales consultation and answers."

"Can you sell even the rules?" Sean frowned.

"Of course." Xu Qing's face still kept a smile, "Don't say it's a rule, as long as you can afford a sufficient price, I can even get you a plane world.... Of course, like you. This kind of high-level plane is impossible, but the barren plane that has not yet given birth to any spiritual intelligence and creatures is not a problem."

Holding tightly the sprout of the World Tree in his hand, after Sean was silent for a moment, he finally said: "What is the standard for trading currency?"

"In principle, anything is fine." Xu Qing laughed. At this moment, Xiao En felt that the other party was a bit like the demons on the plane of hell, giving him a very cunning feeling. Anything, including life, love, affection, wisdom, even the law, your children, your army, etc., as long as you can get it, can be used as a bargain... Of course, in terms of value, It must be negotiated."

"So... what if I want to buy the sprout of the world tree in your hand?" Shaun said, "What do I need to pay?"

A smile appeared on Xu Qing's face. With a hold of his left hand, the black ball that should be the law of darkness disappeared from his hand in an instant, and the temperament of the whole person also changed greatly at this moment.

"I need a piece of news." Xu Qing's whole person, instantly like a beast ready to prey, was full of aggression, "Just tell me that other plane travelers who have been in contact with you have gone. Where, then this world tree sprout... belongs to you."

Sighed lightly, Xiao En shook his head: "Change the content of the negotiation, I can't promise you this. It's not that I don't want to say it, but I really don't know their whereabouts."

Xu Qing stared at Xiao En, he did not immediately answer, but pursed his lips and frowned.

At this moment, the aura that Xu Qing brought to Xiao En in silence was extraordinarily heavy, it was truly like a mountain.

This feeling is not unfamiliar to Sean, because he has felt it in Alexis. It can only be felt when the strength of the two sides is already at an absolute gap. Unique aura-especially for Sean, who has already begun to touch the realm of the super strong, as long as his perception is not deceived. From this point of view, Sean was already able to judge that the so-called businessman in front of him who claimed to be Xu Qing might not be weaker than Alexis in his true personal strength.

Even, with the kind of coercion that the opponent faintly brings to him, Sean believes that the opponent and Andrew have a very similar degree of force field.

If this is the case, then this businessman named Xu Qing's personal strength can even be said to be completely superior to Alexis.

This is also Sean having to dispel the idea of robbing the sprout of the World Tree from the opponent.

As for relying on the news of betraying Andrew and others in exchange for the buds of the world tree, Sean is not the kind of person who has no shame and bottom line. He can obtain a sprout of the World Tree through other methods, or means, but all these methods and means will definitely not include betraying his friends.

Silence, like a mountain, pressed Sean almost out of breath.

Beads of sweat have begun to appear on Sean's forehead.

"Okay." As Xu Qing said again, the pressure of silence suddenly disappeared without a trace, "I believe you really don't know.... If this is the case, then let's make another transaction. All right."

Xu Qing's words are full of a unique temptation, temptation, and sex, just like those demons in hell, who can always find the interlocutor's inner weakness, and then cannibalize the opponent's psychological defenses bit by bit.

"What kind of transaction?" But Sean, after all, couldn't easily abandon this world tree bud.

"Allow me to scan this world of planes." Xu Qing said, "Then I will leave a beacon in this world. This beacon is a bridge between you and me, as well as...our transaction certificate. The former. It is my transaction requirement, and the latter is a necessary part of the transaction. If you disagree, then our transaction cannot be established, and you cannot use this sprout of the world tree."

"I hope you can explain two questions." Sean frowned and thought for a while before speaking.

"Excuse me." Xu Qing resumed his former relaxed posture like a nobleman.

"Why... Scan the world?" Sean asked the first question.

"This is the content of our transaction. I need... all the data in this world, but I am a very impatient person, so I will not spend a lot of time to understand all the constructions of this world, including history, humanities, and technology. Wait, so I can only get an understanding of the world through special scanning methods." Xu Qing thought for a while, and it seemed that he was organizing the language, and then he said, "I said, I am a businessman, you Do you know what a merchant is? It's the kind of merchant who transports a special product from one place to another to sell it. It's just that I sell special products between different planes."

Having said that, Xu Qing pointed to the world tree sprout in Xiao En's hand, and then continued: "Just like your world, there is no world tree sprout, I can bring you from other plane worlds. Come to the world to plant buds. And I also believe that your world must have things that other plane worlds don't have, but I don't know enough about this world. I can't be sure what special products your world has that can bring me benefits. That's why I need to scan."

"Similar to...specialty survey?"

"Almost." Xu Qing shrugged, "I am a plane merchant, and use the special products of the plane world space as trading items. In my opinion, any kind of thing can be traded, even you I also think the army under his command is a kind of material that can be traded."

"Can the army be traded?" Sean raised his eyebrows, "How to trade?"

"It depends on the situation. It is generally divided into the nature of employment and the nature of buyout." Xu Qing explained, "If you hire, I will hire this army from you to complete a mission for me, and the distribution of trophies and personnel War damage compensation, etc., will be negotiated before I hire.... And if it is a buyout, then how I want to use this army is my business."

Xiao En nodded slightly, and then continued to ask: "You just said that everything can be used for trading?"

"Yes." Xu Qing nodded. "Everything such as technology, soul, power, laws, knowledge, etc., belongs to the scope of trade.... But the value of these things also varies from person to person. For example, for one For a scientific researcher, the most valuable is his technology and knowledge, and for a saint, the most valuable is his soul.... Different values, the goods that can be traded are naturally different. ."

"I see." Sean nodded again, "Then the second question, what does a beacon mean?"

"To put it simply, it's a transaction certificate." Xu Qing's answer this time was obviously much faster. Obviously, this is not the first time he answered this question. "It's the same as allowing other caravans to trade in your city. . This beacon is your proof that you allow me to trade on this plane. Only after setting up the beacon, can I bring products that do not belong to this world into this world and let them be effective, otherwise Only if the same rules allow, what I bring into this world can be effective."

"This involves the composition of the plane, right?"

"Yes." Xu Qing nodded, expressing his high appreciation for Sean's ability to understand everything so quickly.

Different plane worlds, except for the two most core laws of time and space, other law powers are actually high and low, and even some plane worlds lack the power of other laws. The most famous of these is the Elemental Plane: For example, in the case of the Elemental Plane of Fire, in addition to the core laws of time and space, the highest law is flame, and this plane does not have anything related to water. Of the law.

According to Xu Qing, if you want to bring the water of life to the elemental plane of fire, and to ensure that the water of life can still function, it is not just a thirst quenching thing, then it must be in the fire. The elemental plane sets up a beacon.

"However, once the beacon is set up, then other people on this plane can also do business with me. You are not the only one who has this power.... I must make it clear to you on this point." Xu Qing once again reminded, "To set up a beacon, I must obtain the consent of a son of the plane like you, but once the beacon is set up, then any creature in this plane world is eligible to trade with me. ."

"Do you know who I am?" Sean blinked. He always thought his identity was hidden very well.

"Of course, otherwise, how could I find you directly." Xu Qing smiled, "but you can rest assured that I have set up a causal force field around this house. It can be said that this house has been completely stripped from this plane at this moment. , Your boss cannot hear the conversation between us."

Xu Qing's words made Xiao En unable to help but fall into contemplation.

He always feels that Xu Qing's appearance is very purposeful, and it can even be said that the other party's words are seven true and three false. He could clearly feel that the other party wanted to scan this plane world not just to understand that this world could be regarded as a special product, but to have other purposes, but he could not guess this. What exactly did Xu Qing really want?

Even, even what the other party said at the beginning that he wanted him to provide information on Andrew's whereabouts, he felt that it was probably just an opening statement.

The only thing Sean can be sure of is that Xu Qing in front of him is indeed not malicious towards him.

"What is the plane that can be used as a trading partner for you?" After a long silence, Xiao En could not figure out the purpose of this man named Xu Qing, so he turned to ask another question.

"According to the standard process, the object I can trade must be the plane world that gave birth to self-will." Xu Qing seems to be considering the wording, this time his answer is a little longer than the time in the previous brewing," so to speak Well, when all normal plane worlds are just born, there will be no plane will. The so-called plane will is a kind of consciousness gradually formed after countless years of development on a plane.... And like this The plane where the will of the plane is not born, I call it the barren plane, which means that there will be no life on this plane at all, and there are only... I can own it at any time and treat it as my trade item. Of course, provided that I still have enough shelter energy."

"Sanctuary energy?" Sean heard a new term.

"A barren plane like this is not so easy to find, and even if you find it, someone might  it from you, don't you think that I am the only plane businessman?" Xu Qing laughed at himself. He smiled and said, "I have today, and to be honest, I have gone through a lot of training.... It's a bit far, anyway, you simply think it is a kind of storage space. Make sure that I can incorporate this plane into me. In the storage space."

Xiao En nodded and signaled Xu Qing to continue.

"...Then, that kind of plane that has given birth to will, I call it the primary plane." Xu Qing thought for a while, and then said, "This kind of plane has already begun to give birth to life, such as what animal La, plants, and even...humans." Xu Qing used the term "human" after thinking about it for a long time: "But a plane like this is actually very weak, if I want it. , I can completely erase this will of the plane, and also include it in my list of trading products."

"You seem to have mentioned before that the plane I am in is an advanced plane."

"En, yes." Xu Qing nodded, "The reason why the elementary plane is elementary is that this plane does not have any self-protection ability at all. However, if this plane is allowed to continue to develop, then this plane's Human beings will give birth to their own civilization, perhaps with science and technology as the main force, or magic as the main force, or even all kinds of strange energies as the main force.... This kind of low-level plane, I can't help it. The will of the plane is erased, but I can communicate with the will of the plane. According to the different levels of the plane's limit, I divide this type of plane into three levels."

"The growth limit of the plane is within the tenth order, which I call the first-level plane; while the plane limit is at the fifteenth order, I call it the second-level plane; the eighteenth-order, I call it the third level. Level plane...Earth, I believe you should be familiar with it? Now that the earth has developed enough power to enter the galaxy, it is already a level three plane." Xu Qing said, "In fact, a The growth limit of the plane is not static, and very few special planes will have relatively large fluctuations."

Having said this, Xu Qing's brows can't help but frown slightly: "Like the earth, it was a high-order plane at its peak. However, in the middle of a long period of history, the earth was even degraded to the point where it could only be called The level of low-level planes... But we have a rule for plane merchants like us, that is, it is not allowed to include the plane world where the plane merchant was born into the trading list.... However, even if I did not become a plane merchant at that time , I believe that not many people would dare to hit the earth."

"Why?"

"Because the earth once reached the level of the legendary plane, even if it degraded later, there are still very scary old monsters."

Sean keenly noticed that Xu Qing had used the new term twice in a row: "What is the difference between a high-level plane, a high-level plane, and a legendary plane...?"

"The advanced plane refers to the plane world that has broken through the growth limit of the eighteenth order. Like the plane world you are in now, the growth limit has reached the twenty-second order, so this is a very advanced plane. Even if it is to enter the rhythm of plane warfare, it is generally difficult to conquer such a plane." Xu Qing shrugged, but he couldn't see what kind of attitude he had towards advanced planes. "And the so-called high-end A plane is an enhanced version of a high-level plane. It usually refers to a powerful plane whose growth limit exceeds the twenty-fifth level. Such planes have basically embarked on the road of plane warfare. After all, if you want a plane world to become a legendary plane, the only way is to plunder the original power of other planes through plane wars."

"Legendary plane?"

"To put it simply, the growth limit of the plane is a high-level plane from the eighteenth to the twenty-fifth level, and the twenty-sixth to the 30th level is a high-level plane. Breaking through the 30th level is a legendary plane. "Xu Qing made a simple summary, "The growth limit of a plane is not just based on personal strength, but a very comprehensive consideration.... But this point is too troublesome to explain. You are not a position. If you can't understand it because of the face merchant, I don't even bother to explain it."

Shaun was a little dumbfounded.

"Well, I have already told you the answers to the questions you want to know, so now, are you willing to trade with me?" Xu Qing still said with a smile, but the expression on his face showed that there was a kind of expression on his face. The taste of threat: Lao Tzu has spent so much saliva and explained this plane knowledge to you, if you dare to refuse, I won't let you go.

"It sounds like I don't seem to do any harm." After playing with the sprouts of the World Tree in his hand, Sean groaned for a moment, but still chose to compromise. "But I think you should know that I am the son of planes, if you do something Things that damage this plane..."

"Don't worry." Xu Qing showed a happy expression on his face. He stood up, patted Xiao En on the shoulder, and smiled, "Our businessmen are the most credible, and we will never do anything to harm. What is the origin of your plane, after all, this is also our food tool.... And, I can guarantee that you will definitely not regret it in the future if you promised me. Perhaps in the near future, you will be able to obtain You have gained incredible results."

"Hope." Xiao En sighed helplessly. He realized at this moment that he had no choice since the beginning.

"Then, don't pass this, I have a lot to do." Xu Qing waved to Xiao En, but before leaving, he still threw a piece of metal to Xiao En, "Fantasy stone, you can do it with you Change the shape of your mind. Don't lose this thing. This is the only way you can get in touch with me."

"Everyone who trades with you has it?"

"How is it possible." Xu Qingbai gave Xiao En a glance. "This thing is very expensive, and only someone like you can get it. After I set up the beacon, other people in this world may also be able to interact with you. I conduct transactions, but the transactions between me and them are basically a one-shot deal, but unlike you, there are after-sales service or even other contacts."

Having said that, Xu Qing thought for a while, and then said: "In fact, occasionally some people I admire may still have the possibility of contacting again, and maybe they can develop into regular customers. But even so, I Normally, you will not send out fantasy stones, but use another way to communicate.... Anyway, this thing is very expensive, you should be careful not to lose it, if you let others pick it out, thus revealing your identity as a son of the plane, Then it's not fun."

"It seems that you know a lot about the children of the plane." Sean curled his lips.

The son of the plane is a legal agent selected by the will of the plane, responsible for things that the will of the plane cannot handle. The core task is to prevent the depletion of the plane's origin. However, all the children of the planes, because of the will of the plane, their own fortune is very strong. As a world involved, it can be said to be a type of joke with a cheat device, and therefore all planes The identity of the son cannot be easily revealed.

Once exposed, then this son of the plane must turn from a world-affiliated person to a watcher, can no longer intervene in all affairs of the plane world, and also start the training and selection of successors. And once a new person involved in the world is selected, then as the old man's plane monitor, he must be separated from this plane world, just as Jibril must leave after Shaun officially took over.

Another reason why Xu Qing does not want Sean to become a watcher is that once Sean changes from a world involved person to a watcher, all the agreements he has made with Sean will be invalidated. The most important thing is that the function of the beacon will be invalid. disappear.

"You have been in contact with several sons of planes before, and you are not the first one." Xu Qing said softly, seeming to recall some memories of him, and his face was not pretty for a moment, "No matter what, we are now The transaction has already been established. If you want to trade anything, please find me through the Fantasy Stone.... I'm short on time, so I'll go busy first."

After that, before Xiao En could reply, Xu Qing's figure disappeared directly in front of Xiao En.

The next moment, the causal force field that enveloped the entire room completely disappeared, and Sean's perception was completely restored at this moment.

He lowered his head and glanced at the sprout of the World Tree in his hand, and found that this seed was still carefully protected by Sean, and everything was telling Sean that the communication between him and Xu Qing just now was not a dream. Although Xiao En still had doubts about Xu Qing's motives, after confirming that the will of the world did not communicate with him, that is to say, Xu Qing did not do anything that would damage the original power of the world, Xiao En decided not to pay attention to this. Quirky plane businessman.

Sean believed that he had just made an ordinary transaction with him, and he also believed that he would never have any contact with this businessman in his life. After all, he is the son of the plane and the emperor of the void empire. In addition to not being able to unify the entire plane world, he can do whatever he wants, and as long as there is enough time, whether it is the wild land or the deep savvy forest, in the end A new world tree will grow.

Time is on his side.

Thinking about this, Sean turned to open the door and walked quickly towards the house where Hitley was temporarily staying.

.....

On the other hand, after Xu Qing left the Void Palace, he also set up a beacon for the first time to make sure that the world had contacted him, and he started running non-stop.

It was almost just a night's work, and Xu Qing had already traveled to many places on this plane.

But if Sean can walk with Xu Qing, then he will find that all the places Xu Qing ran this evening were all places where Andrew had appeared. It even includes the mysterious place where Sean and the Will of the World communicated for the first time, and the site of the floating island that is now empty.

Obviously, Xu Qing is indeed chasing Andrew.

And his last stay was the place where Andrew and others left.

Standing in this position originally belonging to the Millennium Covenant Empire, Xu Qing's expression looked very serious: "This smell...is it the Abyss Plane? It's really tricky. The chaotic lunatics over there won't allow me to enter at will. Hey, Luo Cheng ah Luo Cheng, you will really trouble me."

After talking to himself for a long time, Xu Qing frowned and said in a deep voice: "You have been with me all night, what else can you worry about?"

A humanoid silhouette composed entirely of black fog, as Xu Qing's words fell, it just appeared in front of him.

This black mist quickly shaped itself into the appearance of Sean, but unlike Sean's awe-inspiring temperament, the black mist in front of him was composed of a kind of indifferent nature.

This black mist composed of Sean is the will of the world on the plane of miracle.

Chapter 235: .World Tree Potion

Hitley held a test tube and shook it gently. The liquid in the test tube that was originally thick and viscous was almost like some kind of radiation, and it was fading down at a speed visible to the naked eye. Obviously, this kind of desalination has a limit after all. After shaking for three seconds, the liquid in the test tube has turned into a light green that at least looks less disgusting, but the consistency is still the same.

At this time, Hitley finally dropped three drops of purple-blue liquid into the test tube.

A burst of malodorous gas mixed with purple, blue, and green emerged from the test tube and began to permeate the entire room.

The smell was like something that was soaked in a cesspit for several days and was salvaged and then exposed to the sun for several days. Standing aside, Sean took a sip unpreparedly. The whole person The complexion becomes extremely difficult to look.

He dared to curse that even if he faced a whole elite corps of blood, it was better than facing this kind of "biochemical poisonous gas"-even if he quickly blocked the olfactory function within a few ten and ten seconds of smelling the smell. , But the volatilization of that gas is obviously a function that does not need to be transmitted through the sense of smell.

"Oh, sorry, I forgot that you are still in the room." Hitley's apology appeared to be insincere, but she still took the time to wave and give Sean a layer of  who doesn't know the specific role. Surgery, so that Sean survived being killed by this poisonous gas.

As a large amount of gas emerged from the test tube, the light green liquid in the test tube held by Hitley was continuing to fade at an astonishing speed.

In just one or two seconds, the liquid in the entire test tube has become completely transparent.

Of course, besides the consistency, there is still an indescribable smell.

On the ceiling of Hitley's temporary dormitory, there was already a layer of purple, blue, and green poisonous clouds. In terms of thickness, even if acid rain started to fall in this room at this moment, Sean would never be surprised.

However, compared to the look on Hitley's face that he didn't care much about before, at this moment Hitley had concentrated all of his attention in the test tube in his hand.

Sean knew that it was the final critical moment.

lasted nearly ten hours, after dozens of complicated production processes, finally ushered in the last moment.

Hitley carefully took the viscous liquid in this test tube—in fact, it was the sprout of the world tree after being melted. To explain in Hitley's words, it was the energy contained in this test tube of less than ten milliliters. In the event of an explosion, it would be enough to razor the entire Oasis City directly to the ground-pour it into another empty bottle already prepared.

The empty bottle can hold one hundred milliliters, but it has been filled with a lot of plant materials of different colors and processed through a series of methods: both gray-white powder, bright red sap, and even There are also scorched dried flowers, dried petals and so on. When the mucus of the World Tree sprouts that had been ablated was poured into this empty bottle, all the materials already placed in it began to dissolve quickly under the erosion of the mucus.

At this time, Sean can also see at a speed visible to the naked eye that the originally viscous liquid has also begun to gradually decompose and dilute, turning into a liquid similar to clear water. And as the material in the empty bottle continued to dissolve, the viscous liquid, which was originally less than 10 ml, also began to increase, gradually filling the 100 ml empty bottle.

In this process, Hitley has been carefully and cautiously maintaining the continuous output of life energy-she maintained a precise energy level, neither increasing by one point, nor weakening by one point.

Obviously, it was only ten milliliters of mucus. I am afraid that it would not take even a second to pour it in completely, but under Hitley's operation, the process lasted for nearly half a minute before it ended. And the liquid in the empty bottle finally reached the level of nearly 90 milliliters, and the whole presents a kind of wonderful vision with a sense of crystal clearness.

At this point, Hitley finally let out a sigh: "The most dangerous part is finally solved."

"Isn't it?" Sean looked at Hitley, who had been busy all night, and asked.

"Nonsense." Hitley gave Sean a blank look, not at all like the timid little girl back then. This made Sean extremely curious about what Hitley had experienced in the past three years. "It's just me. After changing to other people, I'm afraid I don't even know the steps of how to dispense the World Tree Potion, let alone the completion within ten hours.... But I'm very curious, where did you get the World Tree sprouts? of?"

"Brought from...underground world." Sean said vaguely, "I also forgot where I got it. At first I thought it was just... some kind of plant seed."

"Tsk, your luck is really incredible." Hitley obviously didn't go further. "The sprout of the world tree, also known as the seed of the world tree, this thing... if it is absorbed by a tree of life, It can be directly advanced to Tier 1, and if it is a Tier 5 Life Tree, it can even be advanced to a World Tree. It is the only special product that can break the limits of advancement of the Life Tree."

Although Hitley was still talking, the movements of her hands did not stop.

As she continued to complete a series of mixing work, the liquid in the entire bottle had even begun to emit a pale golden star. Afterwards, Hitley suddenly raised the bottle high, and then began to pour the life energy unique to the Church of Life into it. The biochemical-grade poison gas that originally permeated the ceiling seemed to be drawn by something, and it began to flow continuously. Gathered in the bottle.

But the strange thing is that as these poisonous gases converge, the pale golden star light emitted by the liquid in the bottle begins to settle, and the liquid that should have been colorless and transparent at this moment also becomes a kind of Bright gold like gold. And when all the poisonous gas was inhaled into the bottle, there was only about 90 ml of liquid, but it was completely increased to 100 ml, which just filled the bottle.

A peculiar smell came out from the mouth of the bottle.

Xiao En just smelled this strange scent, and the whole person felt a relaxed feeling. It seemed that the exhaustion that had been accumulated on the body was swept away.

"Finally finished, World Tree Potion!" With an extremely excited look on Hitley's face, she quickly closed the cap of the bottle, and after ensuring that the liquid in the bottle would not leak, she handed the bottle to the bottle. Sean's hand, "Drink this to Cecilia, and let her sleep well... Well, maybe ten days later, when she wakes up, she will be completely healed."

"Take her to sleep again?" Sean was taken aback.

He found that in his impression, Cecilia seemed to spend all these years in sleep. Then he thought about it again, it seemed that as long as he was in the world on the surface, Cecilia would be in a state of hibernation for a long time.

"I think if she knows that she will sleep for another ten days, she might not be too happy to drink this thing." Sean thought for a while, then said.

"Why?" Hitley was puzzled.

Sean looked at Hitley, but the other party also looked straight at Sean, obviously unable to understand the reason. But Sean didn't know how to explain to Hitley. Could it be that because the relationship between him and Cecilia has gone a step further, at this time he is in some kind of eager and sweet state, so Cecilia Don't you want to miss this time to continue to cultivate relationships?

唔, Sean felt a bit hot on his face, he couldn't say it if he was so ashamed.

He felt once again that he would rather face a whole army of elite blood races than explain this to Hitley.

Fortunately, Hitley did not continue to pursue this matter.

"Then don't tell Cecilia that it will sleep for at least half a month after drinking it." Hitley waved her hand and said with some impatientness.

Ten hours of continuous ultra-high-intensity work seems to have consumed all Hitley's mind. At this moment, she just wants to sleep well for a few days and nights. Her divine power was almost exhausted, and she almost couldn't continue the production of the World Tree Potion-the last part was done by gritting her teeth and choosing to overdraw. Even Cecilia can endure the pain of being stripped of her own origin, Hitley feels that she can also complete the final steps with willpower.

Then, she succeeded.

As a reward, through the deployment of this powerful potion that can be called a myth, Hitley found that her will has been strengthened a lot, and the storage of divine power has been increased. If there are no accidents, after a good sleep this time, her strength should increase significantly.

A sleep can improve your strength or something, Hitley has been envious of Cecilia for a long time.

Soon, Sean was kicked out of the room by Hitley.

The sky at this time is already bright.

Shaun estimated the time, it was about 8 o'clock in the morning. If it is no surprise at this time, Cecilia should have just woke up, and the maid in her house should have already prepared breakfast. Because Sean stayed in the house all day yesterday, he knew that the maids would definitely prepare her breakfast today, and even if these maids had forgotten, Cecilia would definitely remind them.

When I returned to the house where Cecilia lived, it happened to be breakfast time.

As Sean had expected, the four maids dispatched by William from the Void Realm had already prepared breakfast for both Sean and Cecilia.

Although the amount of food is not much, it is made of very rare and expensive ingredients, which can maintain the daily consumption and nutritional value of a legendary powerhouse to a great extent. Especially for Cecilia, who is in very bad condition, these carefully formulated and prepared foods rich in concentrated super protein can just fill Cecilia's nutritional deficiency.

What exactly did he eat for breakfast, Sean can't remember clearly.

He knows that the Void Empire now has a very professional team of "Royal Chefs". Even if it is just a thing that looks like a vegetable salad, it is likely to contain many rare fruits and vegetables that are rarely seen outside. And for the steak that looked like a steak, Sean ate three different meaty ingredients, one of which was supposed to be some kind of sub-dragon's rib-it was similar to Rina's mount, Black Rock. Yalong, not a dragon beast whose bloodline has been diluted to almost negligible.

After eating breakfast, Sean took out the bottle of World Tree Potion and placed it in front of Cecilia.

"A bottle of myth-level potion?" Cecilia picked up this bottle of golden shining stuff full of local tyrants, with a look on her face extremely surprised.

Different from Sean's extremely poor knowledge of magical materials, Cecilia knew that this bottle was made of void crystals when he picked up the bottle of World Tree Potion. And this kind of crystal-level material that was only born in the void is usually used to hold a special type of liquid medicine with extremely powerful energy-in layman's terms, it is generally classified as a myth-level, or called an artifact-level liquid. Type medicament.

At present, the only source of void crystals in this world is to purchase them from various churches.

Because only the gods have the ability to collect some void crystals that drift to the miracle plane for various reasons through the walls of the plane.

Of course, very occasionally, this special material will also be spread from legendary magic association organizations such as Fort Solomon, the obelisk that overlooks everything, and the northern solitary tower. However, the price has always been extremely high-and it is often not simply that you can buy it with money, but it has to be matched with favors or many other special materials, products, etc.

"World Tree Potion." Xiao En explained, "It can restore your original injury in an instant, but... the effect may be a bit violent."

"World Tree Potion!?" As an orthodox academic mage, Cecilia has experienced a considerable degree of actual combat training and inheritance education. Her authority in magic is about one million blocks away from Sean. Above, "Where did you find the Seed of the World Tree?... So you went to Hitley's room late last night to make this potion?"

Then, Cecilia covered her mouth subconsciously.

And Sean raised his brows.

"Cough." Cecilia coughed slightly, just like a broken jar, "What are you doing! This is my manor. Of course, everything is under my control! I know you are in the middle of the night." Meet Hitley, and then run to find Hitley, is there anything weird!"

"No, no." Sean smelled a pantothenic smell in the air, so he said with a smile.

But what he really cared about in his heart was not what Cecilia knew he was going to see Hitley. On the contrary, it seems that there is no second person besides himself when Xu Qing appears, even how he appeared in front of him, and his last method of completely vanishing and disappearing into the air, Sean They are totally incomprehensible. But the only thing he can be sure of is that this plane businessman named Xu Qing is definitely not simple, and he obviously has some secrets.

"Hey, drink this medicine, it's good for you." Sean smiled and rubbed Cecilia's head slightly. Although the intimacy between the two has increased a lot, the way of behavioral interaction seems to be different. There is not much change, "but the effect will be stronger, and the time to work will probably be faster."

Cecilia glanced suspiciously at Sean, but after thinking about it, she opened the bottle cap and drank the golden liquid inside in one sip.

For Sean, she has unlimited trust.

The golden yellow liquid flows down Cecilia's throat, but before it enters the stomach, all the energy has begun to volatilize in her body. This is directly related to the healing of the soul level, a kind of numbing intoxication. Begin to stimulate Cecilia's consciousness, which made her mental state begin to blur.

"It seems, a little... sleepy." Cecilia let out a dreamlike whisper, her spirit has become completely chaotic.

"Good." Sean gently picked up Cecilia, who slid into Sean's arms like a kitten, seeming to choose a comfortable position, "After you wake up, you will It will return to the active Cecilia again....Before that, the last remaining trouble will be solved by me personally."

Chapter 236: .Burning flames of war

William took the Philosopher's Stone in his hand and smiled brightly on his face.

"Huh? It's been a long time since I saw you smile so happily." A man covered in heavy black armor stepped over and his voice was clear and clean, "What good news is this?"

The armor on the man's body has many sword marks on it, and even some other marks can be vaguely seen: such as corrosion, flame, frost, and many other marks left by magical energy. However, if you look closely, you can find that these "scars of glory" on this armor are constantly being repaired, and the speed is not too slow.

An armor with self-healing ability, even if its defensive performance is negligible, its quality is usually not lower than the epic level. If the defensive performance is strong enough, then its standard will certainly not be lower than the mythical level.

And this armor, whether it is physical defense or magical defense, is powerful enough.

This is the famous armor of night.

Both Night Armor and Twilight Shield allow the holder to possess almost invisible abilities in the dark. But as two of the five artifacts possessed by the Goddess of Twilight, it is naturally impossible for such similar functions to exist. In fact, even if the two artifacts possess invisibility-like abilities, they are different from each other. utility.

The invisibility of the Night Armor allows the holder to move in the night environment without making any sound; while the Twilight Shield allows the holder to move in the night environment, all being covered by the shield area. In the area, there will not be any traces of airflow.

In addition, another effect of Night Armor is its ability to automatically repair, which will be doubled in the night-shrouded environment. As for the Twilight Shield, its other ability is force field deflection. All physical long-range strikes will be deflected, while magical long-range strikes will be exempted from certain damage and immune to all shockwave effects.

Elsie took off the helmet. This helmet is not one of the five artifacts of the Goddess of Twilight, Luminous Eye. It is just a fake, and the quality barely reaches the legendary level. In addition to having relatively strong defensive capabilities, this helmet does not actually have much magical effects, but as a symbolic meaning, it is enough.

Since Dwight's Scarlet Knights were deployed to the Trade Capital, William has used the Scarlet Knights as the core and combined with the special environment of the Trade Capital to create a team of werewolves, centaurs, foxes and some nomadic tribes. The special mobile force formed by mankind-"Freedom Wings", this is also the first true multi-ethnic mixed army in the history of the Marvel Continent.

Although the combat effectiveness is currently only at the quasi-fourth level, William is confident that this corps will truly be trained into a five-level or even a sixth-level corps.

Of course, that requires at least three years of training time.

And Elsie, who had nothing to do, led the Darkmoon Spear Knights to gang up with William. Because Elsie refused to obey the order, the Twilight Church, which is now a hegemon in the Northern Continent, also had to Stopped the journey to the south. However, in order to prevent Elsie from being punished, Neil also allowed the Twilight Church to set up a cathedral and preach in the trading capital on behalf of Sean. The agreement between this side belongs to the faith ruled area of the goddess of ice and winter, so the faith of the goddess of twilight is not allowed to enter.

In general, Elsie has been following William in the battle of the Millennium Covenant Empire for nearly two years.

As far as casualties are concerned, although they are not serious, they are basically close to the bottom line.

Because many parties are constantly wrestling for their own interests, they have not put too much attention on the plan to destroy the undead disaster. Coupled with the current collapse of the Peace Council, almost all countries and churches on the mainland have been involved in the wave of war. In the last two years, the radiation range of the Undead's Disaster has also expanded from the Southern Continent to the Western Continent. Basically, nearly one-third of the Southern Continent and two-fifths of the Western Continent are threatened by the Undead's Disaster. Inside.

Even the Emilia Empire, which had always maintained an attitude to watch the battle, finally had to send troops to contain the spread of the undead disaster in the Western Continent.

From this we can see how far the Millennium Covenant Empire, the main battlefield of the undead's disasters, is already-one third of the entire Millennium Covenant Empire has fallen, and the number of undead troops from the plane of bones has increased to tens of millions. Giant, even though two-thirds of them are just ordinary skeleton soldiers, which are equivalent to the first or second level legions, but in terms of scale, they are still very terrifying.

Elsie's "Scar of Glory" was left over after fighting with high-level undead creatures.

"The Void King is back." The smile on William's face couldn't hide.

"Sean is back?" Elsie was taken aback for a moment, and then immediately let out a pleasantly surprised cry, "Aha, I know that guy is not that easy to die!"

Unlike this slightly excited soft cry, a very untimely cold snort suddenly sounded.

In the cold voice, there was a wave of malice.

That is not malicious to Elsie, but obviously malicious to "Sean".

Elsie turned her head indifferently, staring coldly at the malicious person.

A middle-aged man in a black evening dress with straightly combed hair. Although there are some bruises on his face, he is still not at all embarrassed. He just stood here, exuding a powerful aura from all over his body, even if Elsie, who was wearing the armor of night, faced this strong aura head-on, he felt a little palpitating.

This is the gap caused by the power level.

Elsie is not a genius, it can even be said that his potential is actually of a more general type. But because of becoming a clergyman, as long as he has a pious and firm heart of faith, his strength can also be continuously improved. However, this method of improvement naturally has certain limitations. After all, Elsie is not the heir of Eswinter like Xuefanio, nor does it directly steal the power of God of War like Emily. Therefore, after Elsie stepped into the legendary realm, his strength improvement speed became very slow.

Now he is just a thirteenth-order legendary powerhouse.

At this moment, the middle-aged man standing opposite Elsie, although many people do not know his specific identity, but Elsie and William happen to be exceptions.

The seventh demon, the confessor. Edward.

The eighteenth-order super strong level.

The five rank gaps are enough to crush everything, not to mention the rank gap between Elsie and Edward or the legendary powerhouse and the super powerhouse. The concept of strength is completely the existence of two definitions.

It's just that, even in the face of the seventh demon, Elsie is not afraid.

"Okay, okay, now you are all on the same boat. Don't be like children." Watching the daily tit-for-tat between Elsie and Edward, standing next to Edward, the one wearing The people in a set of dark red heavy armor couldn't help but make a helpless voice, "Such arguments are meaningless for our actions. Now the forces of the undead army are getting stronger day by day, and the return of the emperor of the Void Empire is only good for us. It won't do any harm."

"Shut up! Diane!" Edward exclaimed angrily at his companion.

Wearing an angel costume. Uriel's heavy armor, Di An just shrugged, but he still said, "I'm serious, let go of your naive and ridiculous thoughts. The emperor's return is right. For us, there are only advantages and no disadvantages. Now there are several super powers in the undead army, not to mention the three leaders who control the entire undead army. There are no planes powerhouses under Sean. , We simply can't stand it."

"I said! Shut up!" Edward exclaimed angrily, "Who keeps me pressed and doesn't allow me to step into the ranks of the nineteenth order."

"Okay, okay." Di An raised his hand and made a gesture of surrender. "But if you step into the nineteenth level and become completely demonized, then even if I don't do it, there will be others who will take action against you... so for For your temporary personal safety, you should stay in this state of strength."

"Then you have to say that we can't beat the three undead leaders!" Edward exclaimed very dissatisfied.

"Because this is a fact." Diane's face looked very serious, "Last time you were also called Thunder..."

"Kozilek." William reminded him "kindly" from the side.

"Yes, yes... You were beaten up by the kid named Kozilek last time." Dian said, "He seems to be a level nineteenth plane powerhouse, and now it's called Rek. The Lich, and the pair of deformed skeleton brothers and Lucas, both belong to this level of existence. If you go to find them, you will be beaten."

"So! What! Say!" Edward resisted the anger in his heart, and said word by word, "As long as I am demonized..."

"No." Diane shook his head, "If you are demonized, many people will find your trouble. Then you will be expelled from this world, and the problem will become even more troublesome, so you It's better to suppress it at the current stage, and work with me to deal with the super powers of the undead. As for the three monsters of the power level, let Kozilek and the others solve them."

"Ah ah ah ah ah!" Edward crazy scratching their hair, one did not want to speak with Diane appearance, angrily turned to leave.

And Diane, who claimed to be the temporary guardian of Edward the Demon God, shouted "Where are you going?" "Don't run around!" and chased after Edward. Vaguely, it seems that you can hear Edward roaring "Don't follow me!" "I want to be demonized!" "I want to destroy this world!" and other voices, but these voices were soon followed by Diane's words. After being suppressed, the two of them quarreled and drifted away.

Perfectly watching a farce, Elsie let out a cheerful laugh: "It's a worthwhile trip to see such a happy scene every few days."

"I think too." William nodded in the same sympathy, "But I am really curious about the way the two get along.... Edward should be a super strong at the eighteenth order now, and Diane should only be seventeen. Order? Logically speaking, if Edward wants to do something, Diane shouldn't be the opponent, right?"

"Diane's actual strength is better than mine. Maybe... he has reached the legendary pinnacle of rank 15. If Uriel is awakened, he should be more than rank 17 now, maybe he should be the same as Edward. Level." Elsie thought for a while, and then said in a more conservative and cautious tone, "but once Edward is demonized, he should be able to reach the twentieth level quickly, or even surpass the twentieth level. But I believe this There must be something we don't know about. Diane has emphasized many times. Once Edward is deified, then he will be rejected by the plane and completely exiled."

"I don't quite understand the realm of your powers. After all, I don't have that talent." William shook his head and laughed, but he didn't hear much regret in his words.

"As far as personal combat power is concerned, you are not as good as me." Elsie smiled, "But if ten me is not as good as one you in terms of tactics.... Everyone has everybody's value and cannot be generalized. ."

"That's why you prevented Twilight Church from going south?" William asked with a smile.

"Yes." Elsie did not deny. "Although many people are reluctant to admit it, in fact, the South Continent is now Sean's territory. If he keeps disappearing, it may cause other interested people to be greedy and malicious. , But now with his return, whether other people want to admit it or not, he is a well-deserved King of the South.... Historically, only the Chenas Empire in the Eastern Continent and the Western Continent were able to achieve this level. The Emilia Empire. The Millennium Covenant Empire can become the uncrowned king of the mainland if it has not been constrained by civil strife."

William was noncommittal and did not comment on this.

But he knew that Elsie's vision of things was indeed unique. If the Twilight Church insists on continuing to go south, then it is likely to have a violent and sharp conflict with the beliefs of the goddess of Ice and Snow and Winter. Then, as a void empire that has a companion ally with the Church of Ice and Snow and Winter, it will Had to send troops to conquer the Twilight Church, so that it would be hostile to Elsie.

William believed that even Sean would never want to see this.

Therefore, after negotiations with Xuefanio and Elsie's first concession, the three parties quickly reached an unanimous consensus: The Wildland is the private area of worship for the goddess Eswinter, and Twilight is not allowed. The Church of Light is involved; the City of Trade is the base camp of the Twilight Church to the south, and the Church of Ice, Snow and Winter will not be involved. As for the Southern Continent, the Twilight Church has the right to spread the faith, but it does not have the right to preach. After all, this is the private property of the Nether Empire.

In other words, the Twilight Church can build small churches in the Southern Continent, but they can only promote in their own churches. Whether they can attract believers depends on their own ability. But if they want to preach and spread their faith in areas other than churches, then the Void Empire has the right to expel them from the country.

"Next, what are you going to do?" Elsie asked.

"It just so happens that I also recently selected a battle goal, just to take this glorious victory as my gift to welcome Sean's return." William smiled, but his words were full of strong confidence, "but Before this, the cooperation of Edward and Diane is still needed.... I now hope that Edward will temporarily stop his hostility and unreasonable behavior towards Sean."

"I think it will take about three or four hours, or it would be better to wait for dinner before going to the Chamber of Commerce." Elsie suggested with a smirk.

William and Elsie, who have been in contact with Edward and Diane for nearly a year, have also found out some relevant experiences about the way Edward and Diane get along: that is when Edward was too annoyed by Diane. When I went to discuss things with him again, the questions were often answered quickly and satisfactorily.

Chapter 237: .Twilight Moon Knights

On the hillside, a phalanx composed entirely of black cavalry units is already ready to go.

The cavalry unit waited silently, without making any sound. Even the Ben Lei beast under the crotch remained rare and quiet, and the entire phalanx seemed unusually quiet. And it is precisely because of this silence that seems to freeze time and condense space, that the entire cavalry unit has a rush of murderous air.

Darkmoon Spear Knights.

The strongest temple knights from the Twilight Church in the Western Continent, headed by Elsie Boulder, now known as the Son of Twilight.

The gun of the dark moon today is naturally very different from the gun of the dark moon a few years ago.

The original Darkmoon Gun had only five hundred personnel. However, after a series of major battles such as the campaign of spreading beliefs in the south, the battle of the frontier of the millennium covenant empire, and the battle of the skeletal stricken area, the current Darkmoon Gun has been expanded to the scale of 10,000 people, almost gathering twilight. The elites and knight priests of all the church knights under the Light Church are already a veritable seventh-level army in terms of combat power.

However, in order to expand the Darkmoon Gun to such a scale, Elsie also paid a considerable price.

He had to negotiate with the cardinals whom he disdained-because in the eyes of the cardinals of the Twilight Church, instead of wasting troops to help the Millennium Covenant solve the corpse disaster, it is better to continue to open up more areas of faith. Even if the road to the south is blocked by the void empire, it can spread northward, even bypassing the trading capital, bypassing the void empire, and spreading faith to the east and further south.

The difficulty of the process made Elsie even want to draw a sword and cut people, but in the end he endured it. And with the "secret" support of the Void Empire, Elsie finally formed this powerful new Darkmoon Spear unit after delineating the trading capital as a faith propagation area that allowed the Twilight Church to enter.

Of course, now this Knights of the Temple is no longer called the Spear of the Darkmoon, but has been renamed the Knights of the Twilight Moon-this is another compromise of Elsie, because according to the history of the Twilight Church, the strongest The knights of the temple must be titled "Twilight". It's just that Elsie was unhappy, because he didn't want to forget his experience and hardship when he first came to Twilight Church, so in the end the Pope of Twilight Church took a compromise approach: take Twilight's Twilight and Dark Moon. The moon formed the Knights of the Twilight Moon.

In the past four years of confrontation with the undead army, the Knights of the Twilight Moon have proven their combat effectiveness to all the church knights that have arrived in the Millennium Covenant Empire. The skeptical person handed in a perfect answer sheet.

Now in the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire, if the Knights of the Twilight Moon claim to be second, no church knights dare to claim to be the first. Even the legions of the Millennium Covenant Empire have only a few elite troops that can compete with them for the first place.

At this moment, the silence of the twilight moon knights on the hillside exudes from their stone-carved stillness. Everyone understands that the knights are in the tranquility before the storm.

Even the undead soldiers who were completely self-conscious who were facing the Knights of Twilight Moon at the bottom of the hillside were uneasy shaking in the wave of stronger momentum of the Knights of Twilight Moon. If it weren't for the invasion of the Bone Disaster, a large number of undead commanders would have suppressed them, and these middle and low-level undead creatures who felt a strong threat had long been desperate to attack the Twilight Moon Knights on the hillside.

The hatred for the living and the desire for flesh and blood, it is almost impossible to suppress these middle and low-level undeads.

Elsie raised her right hand-what he held in his right hand was the artifact of the Twilight Church: the Twilight Spear.

This action seemed to be the transmission of some kind of signal. I saw that the 10,000 church knights of the Twilight Moon Knights behind Elsie immediately raised the heavy black lance in their hands, and then there was a loud shout. Immediately afterwards, there was a continuous roar of anger from wave to wave like a turbulent wave hitting the shore, and the source of the sound was higher than wave after wave.

Battle cry.

A special skill similar to the aura type, but with the passive effect of the aura type skills, the battle cry is an active type skill, and it is a special army skill unique to the cavalry corps at level 7 or higher. Depending on the nature of the commander, the effect of the battle cry is not the same. There are both defenses and attacks. It can also produce many unique effects such as immunity to soul attacks, enhanced lethality, and special attack effects. .

The battle cry effect of the Twilight Moon Knights is not special, but it is also rare: it increases attack, defense and lethality.

Of course, there is a must-have effect unique to church knights: fearless faith.

The specific effect is probably immunity to fear, chaos, and morale during the battle cry.

The battle roar of the Knights of the Twilight Moon, wave after wave, all the church knights know that when Ai Xier waved his right hand, it was when they charged.

This has been a pre-war habit they have cultivated for four years.

Only this time, Elsie's right hand did not fall.

Elsie's visor had not been put down, his expression was firm and solemn, just staring at the sea of skulls about three kilometers away.

This is a wasteland.

Perhaps it used to be a fertile grassland, but under the influence of the bone disaster, any life will eventually be exhausted and form an extremity. In the entire Millennium Covenant Empire, nearly one-third of the area has been turned into a dead place without a blade of grass. Tens of millions of undead tides have formed a desperate black ocean, submerging all the colors that can be seen along the way.

Although under the strategic guidelines of famous generals such as William and Popocus, this sea of undead was divided into dozens of battlefields of various sizes, but this still can barely restrain the development of the undead army. It is still somewhat helpless to completely defeat these undead army. Especially after many kingdoms and principalities withdrew the troops invested in the battlefield of the bone disaster, this kind of restraint method became more and more weak.

After all, the real reason the surrounding kingdoms and empires could invest a large amount of military power on this battlefield without any hesitation was because there was a peace council to balance the situation on the mainland. However, as the Peace Council was wiped out by Sean in one fell swoop, even the viable power of the Peace Council was incorporated by the Void Empire. After officially announcing that the entire continent had entered the era of the strong, the major kingdoms and principalities hurriedly withdrew their military power, fearing that one might not. Shen was annexed by neighboring countries.

Now in the battlefield of the Skeletal Disaster, the real main combat troops are the Templar Knights from various churches and the armies of the Millennium Covenant Empire. As for the neighboring kingdoms and principalities that were also affected by the Bone Calamity, they just built a line of defense on their own borders. If it weren't for the Bone Calamity after being blocked by the Millennium Covenant Empire, it would be possible to turn to these nearby ones at any time. As far as the kingdom is concerned, I am afraid that they will not even strengthen the frontier defense line.

The battlefield where Elsie and William are located is the battlefield that belongs to the "severe disaster zone" level in the Millennium Covenant Empire today.

It may be that Elsie's Twilight Moon Knights continued to climb upward, and that terrible deterrent gradually became heavier and stronger. The undead who were facing away from the Twilight Moon Knights were finally affected by this heavy pressure. Defeated, began to rush towards Elsie's headquarters desperately.

At this moment, even those undead sorcerers who are also commanders, if they make sharp howling and roar, or even forcefully manipulate them, can't suppress the desires of these undead creatures. On the contrary, several necromancers and necromancers were overwhelmed by the strong desire of the troops under his command and commanded his troops to launch a round of assault.

Soon, the formation of the undead army began to become chaotic.

The original defense line was still solid, but it was immediately rushed by the undead who were constantly losing control, and the front line was quickly pulled into one piece to the east and one piece to the west. Especially the slow-walking skeletons and the fast-moving ghouls and skeleton cavalry are completely out of touch with each other due to the difference in speed, and they can no longer form effective coordination tactics.

Seeing this scene before her, Elsie's face quickly showed a smile.

Everything was as expected by William.

fought the army of the undead for four years. Even if he didn't understand it before, in the past four years, a famous general has basically been familiar with the scale. It's just that for some reasons, William and Elsie and others have been in a state of tolerance, and now there is no longer a need to show weakness, then it is time to end this battlefield.

As William said a few days ago: take this glorious victory as a gift to welcome Sean's return.

Elsie's left hand tugged the reins of Benlei beast. The Benlei beast that had been with him for a long time immediately understood what his master meant, and it started to move forward slowly—not running. And it's more like stepping on the enemy's pressure.

The knights phalanx behind him also began to move forward slowly with Elsie's steps.

Ben Lei Beast, is a kind of beast similar to the earth travel dragon, it is said that this is a heterogeneous produced by the combination of the earth travel dragon and a kind of monster named Leima. The height of this unique monster that can only be seen in the Western Continent is about one meter to 1.2 meters, and individual stronger individuals can exceed 1.5 meters. Although this type of monster has no advantage in height, they do It has the same strong fitness posture as the Earth Xinglong: the cross-sectional length is close to fifty centimeters, the back is extremely wide, and the legs are extremely developed. It can easily carry a ton of weight, and unlike the Earth Xinglong, the forelegs are short-Ben Lei Beast His forelimbs have sharp claws, and can even be used as a weapon to match the knight on his back if necessary.

The lei beasts of the Twilight Moon Knights are carefully selected lei beasts with a height of one meter and two, and the knights of the squadron leader level are strong individuals with a height of one and five meters. These lei beasts and their masters have been fighting here for four years. In this situation of eating and sleeping together, and sharing life and death, all lei beasts and knights on their backs have become extremely amazing. tacit agreement.

Soon, the Knights came to the edge of the hillside, and they looked down at the undead army that had rushed out hundreds of meters.

The smile on Elsie's face grew stronger.

He covered his visor, and then took the Twilight Shield next to Ben Lei Beast. As his right hand holding the Twilight Spear suddenly swung down, the entire knights phalanx immediately moved from the edge of the hillside towards the undead. The army rushed out.

With the help of the * of the mountain slope, the impact force brought by the running speed of Ben Lei beast is obviously more violent.

However, the attack strength of the undead army is definitely not weak.

When the two sides were still one mile apart, the undead soldiers holding bows and arrows began to shoot a wave of bone arrows. It was supposed to be a heavy rain-like covering-type intensive attack. At this moment, because of the chaotic formation of this undead army, the arrow rain shot out seems a little sparse, and there are fronts and backs. Although it is still barely able to cover it, it is only In terms of lethality, most of it can be ignored.

At least, for the whole body with heavy armor and shields-the original Darkmoon Spear Knights did not deserve a shield, but after being reorganized into the Twilight Moon Knights, the entire knights were equipped with an extra shield: one side The buzzard-shaped shield, polished and polished to be very smooth, is mainly used to resist the blow of the enemy's bow and arrow-and also has the bonus effect of the battle cry. The threat of these bone arrows is indeed negligible.

As for the part that cannot be ignored...

The bone arrows that were thrown out quickly began to pour down, but the part of the bone arrows that were shot at the front of the Knights' phalanx, when they were about a few meters above the head of the Knights, seemed to be affected by a mysterious force. They were all blocked by bullets and slid to the sides. Only those bone arrows that fell to the middle and back of the Knights were not blocked by this mysterious force, and those bone arrows that fell to the middle and back of the Knights burst open when they touched the eagle-shaped shields.

With the sound of explosions one after another, even if the knights blocked the impact, the fragments of bone arrows shattered by the explosion scattered around, and the sharp strength could even penetrate the eagle-shaped shield in one fell swoop and directly embed it. In the heavy armor. Some of the more unlucky knights were shot through the weak parts of the armor by these bone arrows, and suddenly groaned, and even a few of them were shot through the thin armor of the neck and died on the spot.

But this short distance of five hundred meters is only enough for these undead bows and arrows to shoot two waves of bone arrows.

Then, the troops on both sides quickly entered the state of handover.

Because a ghoul was running forward, when there was still two meters away from Elsie, it jumped up suddenly and rushed towards Elsie.

But with Elsie's strength, how could it be possible that this ghoul would pounce on him.

saw a flash of black shadow, Elsie's spear had penetrated the body of this ghoul.

Because a shot directly smashed the heart, this ghoul died without even struggling.

The Benlei Beast continued to sprint forward, and dozens of skeletons along the way were hit and smashed by the Benlei Beast on the spot, and even before they were put together again, the continuous Benlei Beast rushed. But then, directly stepped on these bones so that there is no dregs left. Countless ghouls kept flying, but they were only dropped by the knights of the Twilight Church, either pierced or shot flying, and they couldn't hurt the knights at all.

The entire Twilight Moon Knight Order, like a black sharp knife, easily cut directly into the formation of the undead army. This black wave instantly swallowed all the white skeletons along the way. The only ones who can really play a little blocking effect are those black warriors and black knights, but in the face of such a powerful Twilight Moon Knights' charge, their struggle is only a few seconds longer than those cannon fodder skeletons. .

As we all know, once the charge of a knight group cannot be restrained, then the combat power of this knight group almost presents a completely unlimited strengthening state.

Looking at this black wave, it easily penetrated into the entire undead army, and instantly stirred the entire undead army into chaos, as if it were in no one's land. Standing on the high slope, William raised his mouth slightly: "The other party shouldn't be able to sit still."

Almost as soon as William's words fell, two figures rose into the air at the same time in the enemy formation of the undead army, and the momentum that belonged to the super power burst out suddenly.

"Two super strong guys." William curled his lips, "It's worthy of the hardest hit area....Then bother you two."

Diana, who was standing next to William, nodded, and then slowly lifted up into the air. Edward, who was with him, snorted a little dissatisfiedly, and then lifted up into the air.

"The order, the wings of pitch black, the whole army strikes!"

Legion vs. Legion, super strong vs. super strong.

The war will be heated in an instant!

Chapter 238: Sleepy beast

The outbreak of Bone Calamity was actually not serious at first. Although the expansion speed is extremely fast, because the Millennium Covenant Empire has accumulated a considerable degree of experience in dealing with death waves, the army of the undead has not grown as a result.

It was only later because of a series of accidents: first the collapse of the Peace Council, and then the countless small and medium-sized churches on the Western Continent who wanted to strengthen their faith, coupled with the erratic surrounding kingdoms, which gave the undead army a chance to grow. . Especially the three leading figures who invaded the Marvel Continent from the plane of bones: Lich King Reck, Lich King Little Lucas, and Undead King Great Lucas, these three horrors who have now reached the level of powerful planes. Existence is the core that really allows the entire army of undead to grow.

However, due to material limitations, there are not many high-level undead creatures in the undead army at present, only less than 200,000 or so—compared to tens of millions of undead creatures, it is about 200,000. The scale of is indeed not too much. However, there is only the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire that can really contend with these two hundred thousand high-level undead creatures.

In the past few years, in order to contend with the three powerful planes such as Lake, the Millennium Covenant Empire has fallen two superpowers, several legendary powerhouses. It can be said that the Millennium Covenant Empire is in an extremely weak state. . If it weren't for the conclusion of an alliance with Sean's Void Empire, I'm afraid that even if the Millennium Covenant Empire can finally overcome this bone invasion, it will definitely be torn off by the surrounding kingdoms.

But even so, the Millennium Covenant Empire still did not give up resistance.

There are not many people who know the truth about death with cold lips and teeth, but fortunately, the Void Empire is the one who knows this truth. So although William only brought tens of thousands of soldiers and horses to support, he is one of the ten generals. The help that can be provided is far better.

With the joint efforts of William and Popocas, with the Millennium Covenant Empire, the Void Empire, and the Kingdom of Lane as the triangular pillars, they launched an outflank operation to the entire bone disaster area, and the Millennium Covenant Empire dragged the two planes. Or, the Void Empire should deal with one of them and give other regiments participating in this war more strategic space to implement theater cutting tactics: that is, to divide all the areas occupied by the undead army into more than ten disaster situations. One battlefield.

William is in charge of a hard-hit area.

The so-called hardest hit area refers to the area occupied by the undead army, there are more than one million undead army, and in the undead army commander in charge of commanding, there is at least one high-level who has reached the level of super power. Undead creatures. However, generally the hardest-hit area that can reach such a scale is bound to be an important area for the undead army. For example, they have built important facilities for undead creatures such as bone altars, bone furnaces, banshee lairs, and fear prisons.

There was a prison of fear in this hard-hit area that William was eyeing.

This fear prison is an important facility for the undead army to produce high-level undead creatures: fear knights. Although the undead army is unable to continuously produce high-level undead creatures due to the lack of sufficient materials, the "waste recycling" function can still be used to create a fear knight every once in a while. These eighth-tier undead creatures have reached the standard of high-level undead creatures, especially on the huge battlefield full of death, fear, and chaos. These fear knights can evolve into Destruction knights, undead knights, and even more terrifying death knights.

The death knight of nirvana is a standard twelfth tier, that is, a legendary existence. But if the Nirvana Death Knight can be equipped with a mount that also reaches a considerable level, then its combat power standard can even be increased to the level of the fifteenth or even the sixteenth.

Like's army of undead, a considerable part of the super power is composed of these death knights riding the necromancer.

Only by destroying this prison of fear, can it be regarded as capable of causing extremely serious losses to the undead army. In order to find out where this prison of fear is located, the Millennium Covenant Empire paid the price of a five-level legion of 100,000 people. Not to mention, in order to prevent Lake and the others from becoming suspicious, the insurmountable power of the sky was placed in the prison of fear. What a tragic price paid by the Millennium Covenant Empire.

So this battle, this target that has already been watched by William, he absolutely does not allow any mistakes.

On the ground, the Twilight Moon Knights plunged straight in like a sharp knife. All the bones on the way were unable to resist. Instead, they were trampled into a piece of pale bone meal under the Twilight Knights' iron hoof. Even the undead creatures at the level of necromancers can't stop the advance of the Twilight Moon Knights, at most, they only slightly weaken the progress of the Twilight Moon Knights.

However, as the main offensive force on the ground battlefield, it is not just the Twilight Moon Knights.

The jet black winged regiment brought by William, this infantry regiment fully equipped with the standard equipment of heavy infantry, has also entered the battlefield. They followed the road opened by the Twilight Moon Knights' charge, and as soon as they entered the battlefield, they went directly to the hinterland of the battlefield, and fought directly on the two wings of the Twilight Moon Knights, preparing for the next charge and assault of the Twilight Moon Knights.

If the Twilight Moon Knights is a sharp knife, then the jet black wings are a heavy shield and a bottle of weapon oil.

When the charge of the Twilight Moon Knights began to weaken, the jet black wings entered the battlefield, responsible for the safety of the two wings of the Twilight Moon Knights, and provided a temporary battlefield rest environment for the Twilight Knights to prepare for the opponent to expand on the battlefield. The second assault operation. This kind of cooperation is not the first time for the two sides on this battlefield of undead catastrophe, so the two legions have already cooperated with each other for a long time.

If you look down from the sky, you can see that the Twilight Moon Knights have begun to stop the charge in an orderly manner, and slowly retreat under the cover of the pitch-black wings, and withdraw from the frontal battlefield. And the dark winged legion that gradually surrounded from behind, also quickly reached its own combat position, blocking the undead creatures of the necromantic level: such as the black warrior, the black knight, etc., in front of them, preventing them from continuing to fight with Twilight. The knights are entangled.

There is no jerky or slowness in the battle between the two sides. Everything seems natural, as if it is an innate instinct to breathe.

and got a chance to rest for a while, the Knights of Twilight Moon quickly re-arranged a phalanx under Elsie's instructions. The wounded began to run back towards the hillside behind them-before they left, they had not forgotten to bring the same black-winged soldiers who were also wounded and unable to fight. The church knights who were not injured or still had their combat strength regrouped into a new phalanx to replace the vacant positions exposed by the wounded who retreated.

In just a few seconds, a new Twilight Moon Knights phalanx has been reorganized again.

The soldiers with pitch black wings also won a space to charge for the Twilight Moon Knights during this time-although it is only less than 30 meters away, for these church knights riding the beasts , But it is enough.

Located high in the sky, I can clearly see the black line of defense that was originally resisting the front. After hearing the battle roar of the Twilight Moon Knights again, it was like a door opened after receiving some instructions. The black-winged soldiers quickly dispersed to the two sides, and then exposed the enemy in the middle, right in front of the Knights of the Twilight Moon.

The next moment, the roar of the Twilight Moon Knights' charge once again resounded on the battlefield!

At the same time, when the second fierce battle broke out on the ground battlefield, the second round of fierce battle also broke out on the battlefield in the sky.

Although the powerhouses above the legendary level already have the ability to float in the air, this feature is only limited to the powerhouses. For Warcraft, there is no such special phenomenon. If it is a monster that can only operate on the ground, even if it is a powerful existence that reaches the sixteenth level, it can only operate on the ground, and it will not have the ability to fly because of the increase in strength, unless it is a flying monster.

The Death Knight, even if it cooperates with the Necro Nightmare, it can produce a powerful amplification effect, making the combat power close to the sixteenth, or even the terrifying level of the sixteenth. But this is because the two are both superimposed on the degree of legendary rank. If the two are separated, then it is only the existence of two legendary classes, and it is far from being a real sixteenth superpower.

So at this moment, it is not the Nirvana Death Knight who is responding to the attacks of Diane and Edward in the sky, but a quasi-lich close to the strength of the Lich King, and an immortal leader.

The strength of the former is unquestionable, while the latter is an undead creature made by little Lucas using the body of a legendary strongman who fell from the millennium covenant empire. Generally speaking, this method of making undead creatures using the body is Will reduce its strength, that is to say, under normal circumstances, if the dead body of a Tier 12 powerhouse is obtained by a lich, even if it is made into an undead creature, it is not bad to be able to retain the strength of Tier 10.

But I don't know how little Lucas was made. Not only did the strength of this immortal commander not drop, but because of the massive increase in the power of the undead, it reached the level of sixteen. Fortunately, little Lucas used the corpses of so many fallen strongmen of the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire, but in the end he only produced two immortal leaders.

One of them was wiped out by the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire in a battle half a year ago, and this one in front of him is the last remaining little Lucas.

It's just that this immortal commander probably can't escape being wiped out.

Because his opponent is Diane in a heavy armor.

Angel outfits are called the artifact heritage left by the God of Morning Light by the Saint-Joles Empire. The biggest reason is that this series of armors are naturally sacred. This special ability allows anyone wearing this type of armor to become a dark nemesis, an undead killer, even if he is just an ordinary person-of course, provided that he can survive.

But the one who is really unlucky is probably another undead creature.

The quasi-lich king who became Edward's opponent.

As a demon god, Edward's resistance ability can be called the strongest of all his abilities. Especially when it comes to the ability to fight against the Dark Element, Edward, a real demon, can almost be called an expert.

So after the first round of temptation, as soon as the second round of fierce battle broke out, Edward began to chase the opposite side of the Quasi Lich King to fight.

Whether it's a negative energy impact, a Corrosion Missile, or a Dark Ray, etc., undead magic, Edward ignores everything-except that the Corrosion Missile can slightly affect Edward, all other undead magic damages Edward. Words are no different from tickling. In the same way, Edward's magical attacks did not have much damage to the quasi-lich king, but as a demon, Edward was good at more than just magical attacks.

At the beginning, in hand-to-hand combat, he was able to contend with so many knight commanders of the Saint-Joles Empire, and even fought Diane inextricably.

This quasi-lich king with powerful magical abilities, in the 30th second after the outbreak of the second round of fierce sky battle, it has already been unilaterally slammed.

"Why!" The lich roared with grief and indignation, "The breath in you...you are obviously a demon, why!"

"Because I am the seventh demon." Edward shouted coldly, "I refuse to be with the devil, the undead, and the devil. You are all my enemies!"

Involuntarily breaking up, Edward hit the lich's skull directly with a punch.

If it were an ordinary person, it would have been directly exploded by Edward's punch. However, there was a layer of shimmering light on the skull of this lich, which weakened the power of Edward's punch to a level that could be tolerated. But despite this, the Lich, who was not good at close hand-to-hand combat, still felt dizzy. Even after he had lost his pain, he could feel the fragmentation of his skull—a few cracks had appeared on his skull.

And Edward, after he succeeded in a punch, he assumed a completely unforgiving posture: the right fist was finished, the left fist was connected, the left fist was finished, and the right fist was pressed again. Moreover, the location of the blow was also focused on the skull of the lich—directly hitting the lich trembling, even the words were incomplete, let alone chanting spells and casting magic, and those with silent and instant hairstyles Undead spells...

"Are you tickling me?" Edward laughed wildly.

His coat has been completely washed away by various corrosive missiles and undead energy into rags, revealing his strong upper body. Countless black lights came and went one after another, but among the black, gray, and white lights of these explosions, there was a dull blow with fists to the flesh, as well as Edward's complacent laughter.

Looking at the battlefield in the sky hundreds of meters away, the Immortal Commander's eyelids picked up.

The roaring sound made even him feel a palpitation. He, or it, was not sure if he could persevere in this way if he faced the Demon God instead, but the only thing he could be sure at this moment was that they might not be able to win the opposing people.

Although the battlefield environment on the ground may seem chaotic, it is actually in a completely defeated state, especially at the beginning of the second round of charge. No one can resist the more fierce charge. The infantry regiment responsible for besieging and cleaning the battlefield is not much inferior to that of the cavalry unit. It can even be said that it is entirely because of the existence of this infantry regiment that this knight regiment has the ability to be on the battlefield at any time. The ability of the whole.

This is a kind of complementary cooperation, it is a kind of...

Even when it was a human or a general, it had never been seen before...

Tactical ideas.

The immortal commander let out a low roar, and then the next moment, it did not hesitate to crush something that looked like a token.

But after the thing that resembled a token was shattered, the light it radiated did not break through the air as he expected, but after a few flashes, it completely dissipated in front of him.

"How can this be....."

"It's useless." Dian shook his head. "As early as the beginning of the war, we used Lord Imoku's isolation force field.... Now this battlefield, in a sense, is already Separated from this world."

Chapter 239: .Total War

Before the earth has entered the federation era, there was a saying on the Internet, "I learned how to operate, and the rest is just level A".

There are many representatives who believe in this concept, and on the Marvel Continent, the representative of the human side is undoubtedly Hela Garcia. This big man, one of the ten generals, only needs to establish enough advantages, and the rest is the simplest flat push policy, even the tactics can be completely omitted.

But now, if you want to talk about non-human representatives, it is undoubtedly Rick.

Scourge of the Undead. Lake.

The title is not a joke. He is one of the most powerful Lich Kings in the entire plane of bones, and he is also the most war-prone Lich. There are not a few planes that he has conquered and annexed, and his methods have always been very simple: first small-scale development, and then quickly conquering and looting a country as an announcement, it only takes a few years. In time, he was able to destroy all creatures on an entire plane.

Only this time, his luck was not very good.

Being trapped in the plane of miracle for so long, after finally getting out of the trap, because of some accidents, he had to open the door of the bones in advance, summoning all the undead army under his command. Originally in Lake's plan, it shouldn't be too long for him to conquer the entire plane, but what he didn't expect was that his plan was hit by twists and turns over and over again.

The overall combat power level of the Miracle Plane is even higher than Reck's estimate.

If it hadn't been for the accidental collapse of the Peace Council three years ago, causing the situation in the entire Marvel Continent to become more turbulent, Lake's corpse army might have been completely resolved long ago. In a sense, Sean resolved the issue of the Peace Council and brought the entire Marvel Continent into a new era. On the other hand, it saved Lake a little. If Sean knew the result, I'm afraid he would change it. The method has been negotiated with the Peace Council.

Solving the Peace Council is to kick off the obstacles that hinder the promotion of the Void Principality to the Void Empire.

But in fact, what Sean has always considered the greatest crisis is not this, but Lake.

He wants to establish the Void Empire. Although there are not many ways, there are still ways to come up with a coexistence with the Peace Council. Only then, for some reasons, Sean was extremely hostile, so he chose the simplest, most violent, and simplest way to solve the problem.

The relationship between him and Lake is impossible to coexist.

Regardless of public or private, Lake shouldn't exist in this world.

At this time, Lek really hovered in the air, quietly watching his undead army break through the gate of a city, and then swarmed in.

The dense army of white bones formed a white ocean, and they swarmed into the city-whether it was on the walls, roofs, streets, and gates, everything was instantly covered by these like ants. The skeleton soldiers captured it. Suspended high in the sky, one can even clearly see that this white ocean is swallowing the entire city at a speed visible to the naked eye, as if a gray monster is eating.

In the city, there is still a group of soldiers who stayed behind after being broken off. Almost all of these soldiers were wounded, and in serious cases, it could be said that there was only one breath left. In addition, there are still many urban residents who are too late to evacuate. Although most of them are old, weak, sick and disabled, they still have the tools to work hard. It's just that if you want to rely on these people to intercept this army of skeletons, which may be more than a million in size, it is undoubtedly an idiotic dream.

It's just that, Leike, who was suspended in the sky, was obviously not much better than the aura radiating from his body.

It can even be said, very angry.

Because he has discovered that his enemy has learned to be smart.

This city, it took him more than five days to take it down. In total, he lost more than 20,000 necromantic warriors and tens of thousands of skeleton soldiers. Even if the latter died hundreds of thousands or millions, Raike could not care, but the Necromancer, let alone 20,000, is enough to make Raike angry, let alone. There are bound to be dozens of high-level undead fighters in the scale of 20,000 Necromancers.

But all these were wiped out when the city was conquered.

The price in exchange is only a population of less than 100,000.

More than 80% of these people are old, weak, sick and disabled.

Such people, even if they are made into materials, can only become the lowest-level skeleton soldiers. I am afraid that they cannot even achieve a one-to-one conversion. After all, many of them lack arms and legs, and it must be done. put together. Not to mention that it was converted into a Necromancer, and if he conquered the "materials" captured in this city, he could produce a hundred Necromancer warriors, and Leike felt unsustainable.

Paying such a big price, but only reaping so much tatters, how could Lake's mood be good.

"Lucas, what's the situation on your side." Rek used the unique spiritual bridge of the bone plane to connect with Lucas and Lucas.

"These  mice, learn clever!" The undead pedant who is also one of the Seven Lich Kings of the Bone Plane. Little Lucas's voice sounded unusually angry, "I lost a dark warrior team! As a result! Only 10,000 bone materials were caught! Damn! Damn! Damn! Damn! Damn!..."

In the spiritual bridge, little Lucas's roar and cursing full of negative energy almost deafened Lake's ears if he had any.

"I was attacked by several church knights, and the fighting was very... violent." On the Bone Plane, one of the thirteen kings, who is as famous as the Seven Lich Kings, is known as the Death Knight, Ann Lucas, Little Lucas's biological brother, the voice at this moment also rang.

Hearing this, the fire of the undead in Lake's eyes beat a few times, which was obviously a mood swing.

Cooperating with Lucas and Little Lucas for so long, he naturally fumbled about their temperaments. Little Lucas has a very typical academic character. If you say who is most in line with the character of the Lich King in the traditional impression, then it must be the little Lucas: He is rigorous and serious, and likes to study more than fight, but if he is in When necessary, for example to verify his theory, he will not hesitate to choose  practice.

But in the same way, one of the typical characteristics of a researcher is neurotic, irritable, and easy to fall into a state of madness.

In a sense, little Lucas is the best one of the three of them.

And his brother, Ann Lucas, the Death Knight, is not the case.

He is cautious by nature, and his observation ability is meticulous and meticulous, even if he has become an undead, but Ann Lucas still has an excellent strategic mind. Moreover, after becoming an undead, the benefits brought to An En are far more than that. He who has abandoned all emotions and desires will not be affected by any abilities such as ridicule and provocation. He knows exactly when he should do something. , Especially the body that will not be injured or killed, has brought him a lot of fighting capital: he can completely use the price of injury for injury to drag down his rival, paralyzed and even exhausted.

But precisely because of this, Lake knows very well that after experiencing so many wars, Ann has never commented too much on the battles he fought. After all, Lake and Lucas Jr. gave all the high-level undeads of the cavalry type to the commander-in-chief of An Enlai. It can be said that An En currently has more than one thousand fear knights, and hundreds of undead knights and destruction. knight.

In terms of the combat power of the mobile knights, unless the Millennium Covenant Empire dispatched top ace combat powers like the Dragon Knights, it would be difficult to resist this undead cavalry force with the death knights.

But now, An En used the evaluation of "violent" for the battle that just ended.

This is an unusual signal.

"Results." Rek asked.

As a Lich King who is always ready to invade the bones, Rek's strategic ability is naturally good. At this moment, he only said two words, and he has pointed to the key core of the problem, and Ann Lucas, naturally also understands, even the little Lucas who has been talking about in the spiritual bridge communication, Also stopped talking at this time.

"Three hundred fear knights have been abolished." Grand Lucas's voice was low, "In addition, more than twenty undead knights and destruction knights have also been abolished."

was scrapped, the meaning is obvious, it means that it can no longer fight and can no longer be used.

Under the command of Ann Lucas, once these high-level undead lose their combat value, they will naturally end up being swallowed by them. After all, the bodies of these high-level undead creatures are also supported by a considerable amount of undead power as a power source, and An En will not watch these resources being wasted.

"So harvest..."

"It's useless." An En's voice came again, "The church knights who joined forces, and all the church knights who died in battle, have all been purified.... They were obviously prepared, and all the means were obviously Against us, it is even more cunning than the previous battle....We are afraid that we will never be able to obtain high-level materials anymore."

"I don't believe in so many sacred fires!" Little Lucas jumped into a thunder again.

The clergy members belonging to the Church of the Gods, in order to prevent the bodies of these senior clergymen from being desecrated and humiliated after their deaths, they are usually implanted with the sacred fire formed by the divine power and grace of the gods. As long as the church knight implanted with the sacred fire dies and completely loses the vitality, the sacred fire will ignite the corpse, and in the end it will burn to the point that no ashes are left, and the souls of all the dead will be directly ignited by the sacred fire. Lead to the kingdom of God.

And through this method, the soul of the deceased will not be intercepted, which can be said to be an extremely safe method.

After all, in this world, there are too many methods to intercept the souls of the dead, so that they will not be able to rest in peace after death.

It's just that this method of implanting sacred fire requires a lot of divine power of the gods. And the source of divine power is the condensation of the power of faith. The size and amount of divine power of a  can directly determine the size and scope of a god's own divine kingdom and the level of divine status. Precisely because of this, the person who can be implanted with sacred fire is naturally a symbol of extreme grace. After all, even the saints and saints do not necessarily have the sacred fire implanted in everyone's body.

But now, the church knights who participated in the church knights who were involved in the invasion of the bones, regardless of their status, are implanted with sacred fire, which is enough to shock people.

Rake instinctively felt a conspiracy against him.

In fact, it is not just Lake. In addition to the little Lucas who is still a bit confused by the researcher's mentality, the big Lucas has also realized this.

They have been targeted.

Moreover, strategies and routines have been thoroughly formed.

"It seems that a big man has intervened in the game." Reck smiled sullenly. "The implantation of the sacred fire can double the courage of these religious lunatics. No wonder they have always been weak and incompetent. They actually have the courage to join hands and fight against you. ."

"The Twilight Goddess of this world?" An En said.

In the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire, the only one who is qualified to be a powerful * is the Goddess of Twilight. Although the Church of the God of War also sent the Knights to participate in the war, it quickly evacuated from the battlefield. It is said that it was related to the expedition that the Void Empire invaded the Duchy of Lumber. But anyway, among the many churches in the Millennium Covenant Empire, there is indeed only Goddess Twilight who is qualified to command them.

"It's hard to tell..." Lake replied, "Maybe it's..."

Before Leike's words were finished, the flames of the undead in his eyes suddenly lit up, and the flames even rushed out of his eyes.

This is his extremely angry expression!

Feeling Lake's mood swings, the question of brothers Lucas and Big Lucas soon came from the spiritual bridge: "What happened?"

"Isolated!" Lek said in a deep voice. Although his emotions have calmed down, his anger has not changed at all. The troops over there got in touch... Someone, while we were out on the battlefield, sneaked into the Fear Cage! This is a trap, and everything is a trap against us!"

"I'll go!" Ann Lucas said in a deep voice, "I am the closest to there, I..."

The sound suddenly disappeared.

Lake's consciousness jumped slightly.

"I can't go anymore." After being silent for a while, Ann's voice finally sounded again, "Kozilek is in front of me."

"It turns out that the kid made the shot." There was a wave of disdain in Lake's consciousness, "Then I will let Cruise touch..." But as soon as the words fell, Lake's consciousness came. Annoyed for a while: "Ulamor! This  guy actually found the hiding spot for the Touch of Cruise!"

"It seems that it should be a full-scale war." An En's voice seemed a little solemn, "Kozilek's strength has reached the level of a strong plane, not weaker than me.... I'm afraid, I will lose my spirit in a while. The bridge is over."

"The opponent can't have only one person to become stronger, it should be collective, so now there are still people who haven't shown up... Alexis." Rick's voice looked particularly gloomy.

"She is mine! Mine!" Little Lucas let out an angry growl.

In this regard, Lake did not have any words.

"There are only two of us left. Alexis is either looking for you or for me." After a moment of silence, Rek said, "But don't worry, if Alexis appears in front of me, I will tell you the coordinates, and you can just come directly.... Since that kid dared to send everyone out and start an all-out war, then it is time to solve him. I have let him live long enough."

It wasn't that Lake didn't want to assassinate Shaun in the past. It's just that the Void Empire has always had more than two powerful planes in charge, and Lake has been dragged on the battlefield by the Millennium Covenant Empire. opportunity.

But now that Sean has dispatched all the powerful planes, Lake believes that this is the best chance to kill Sean!

"I...someone in front of me." After a while, little Lucas's voice also rang, "The other party claims to be...Imoku. Damn, how is a man! He is still so strong, this is obviously a man. Strong face! Where's that  Alexis! Damn! Damn!"

Ann Lukas's heart sank slightly: "There is actually a fourth strong man!?"

And thinking of this, there is also the Lich King Rek. But he thought of more things than Ann: Cruise's Touch is a secret weapon they haven't used again. Originally, he was planning to use this secret weapon as the last weapon to completely annex the entire Millennium Covenant Empire. After all, he had already lost a Touch of Cruise before, and it was impossible to completely integrate all Touch of Cruise, but if he only kept it If the nine roots are merged, it can still produce combat power equivalent to a strong plane.

Lake has always regarded this as his hole card.

The only thing he needs is to find an opportunity to use this Cruise's touch to break through the gate of the Millennium Covenant Empire, and of course he can go to Sean's trouble.

But what I didn't expect was that he had been given a preemptive strike by Sean before he found a chance.

And what surprised him even more was that Sean actually found the fourth strongest plane, which means that each of them has a different goal. And there is no doubt that since the full-scale war has broken out, then the next one must be a life-and-death battle, and it is absolutely impossible for each other to have a hand as before.

Since Cruise's Touch and the big and small Lucas brothers' opponents are not Alexis, Rek knows that his opponent must be the one who killed Wu Ji.

Just as Lek was quietly waiting for his opponent to arrive, a strong atmosphere of order suddenly burst out from the southeast!

Chapter 240: .Order Tinder

The continental calendar is June 14, 1886.

The day before the full-scale war broke out between the Millennium Covenant Empire, the Void Empire, the Knights of the Churches of the Southern Continent and the Undead Army.

Sean led only a few personnel, formed a special operations team, and then left the void empire.

The time to leave was the third day that Cecilia fell asleep again.

Sean was very careful and very carefully guarding Cecilia for two days to ensure that everything was normal for Cecilia-even if she fell asleep, the power in her body was still ensuring the normal circulation of her vital signs. Any abnormality occurred-after that, Xiao En led the team to set off.

Of course, the team's assembly order was officially issued a day ago.

This team consists of four members including Sean.

Snow and Winter Church's first pope, chief priest with a sword, and head of the battle priests group, Xuefanio.

The chief saint of the Church of Life, the chief cardinal of the Church of Life in the Void Empire, the head of the priesthood, Hitley.

The leader of the First Cavalry Regiment of the Void Empire, one of the Seven Generals of the Void Empire, the Void Dragon Knight, Seraph Rena.

Except for Hitley, both Xuefanio and Rena are tyrannical existences that can burst out of the 17th and 18th ranks of strength. Although there is still a step away from the level of the strong plane, in Xiao En's view, as long as his plan is successful, then he will definitely have the power of a battle. Of course, the power of this first battle is included in him and Hitley, after all, Xiao En can barely be regarded as having the power of Tier 16 now.

And Hitley, as the chief saint of the Church of the Goddess of Life, her healing skills are also the key.

In Shaun's plan, the three brothers Ulamog, Kozile, and Imoku will find the Touch of Cruise, Ann Lucas, and Lucas Jr. respectively. Their task is to solve their respective goals-yes, this time, Sean's order is a deadly battle, a deadly battle at all costs. If it wasn't for Alexis to suppress the vampire and werewolf in the underground world, Sean even planned to bring Alexis back.

According to the analysis before the war, Ulamo solved the Touch of Cruise, which was infinitely close to the level of the strong plane, and the winning rate was over 80%.

Kozilek, as one of the strongest personal strengths, is undoubtedly the most suitable candidate to fight Death Knight Ann, but his winning rate is not high, and it can even be said to be the lowest in the trio: only 50%. about.

Similarly, Imoku's abilities are very special, and it is undoubtedly the most appropriate to target the little Lucas, and the winning rate is also the highest in the trio: close to 90%. But relatively speaking, it took Imoku a long time to solve little Lucas, probably second only to the fighting time of Kozilek and Ann. After all, little Lucas's fighting ability is not very strong, but the endless life-saving methods and all kinds of very annoying small methods are really outrageous.

According to the plan, Ulamog will be the fastest to solve the opponent, and then he must rush to support Kozilek as soon as possible. Because the battlefield of Kozilek and Ann is the most dangerous one. The winning rate between them is 50-50. As long as one of them makes a mistake, then I am afraid that it will be the end of the battle. Therefore, Ulamog After the touch of Cruise must be resolved as quickly as possible, he rushed to support Kozilek.

After , wait for Imoku to solve the little Lucas, combine the power of the three Eldrazi brothers, and completely solve the death knight, Ann Lucas.

As for the undead disaster. Lake, the initiator of the plane war that invaded the Marvel Continent by the plane of bones will be solved by Sean's special operations team.

Or rather, procrastinate.

After solving all the goals, the Eldrazi brothers will immediately rush over to join Sean and help Sean eliminate Lake. In fact, when Sean proposed this action plan, they met unanimous opposition. , Everyone felt that Sean was too risky, even Ulama and Imoku expressed their clear opposition. It was only in the end that Sean still used his authority as the emperor and the special power to fully order all his followers before making a final decision.

Although many people expressed their incomprehension and disapproval of this decision, when the final order was issued, the entire void empire burst out of the unique ability of that behemoth in an instant.

One by one instructions were passed from the Void Palace, and then quickly implemented into the grassroots level, and then all the relevant personnel who received the instructions immediately began to perform tasks according to the instructions. At this moment, with the entire void empire as the core, the entire battlefield of bone disasters in the Southern Continent was completely mobilized, and the traps against the three of Leike, Ann, and Little Lucas were also quickly formed.

On May 15, 1886, Sean gave an order for a total war.

On the same day, Ulamog, Kozilek, and Imoku left Oasis City and went to the designated combat area. Rena, Hitley, and Xuefanio also entered the Void Palace on the same day. At the same time Hitley and Xuefanio also began to contact their respective gods of faith to convey the request of the Void Emperor Sean Connery. The request from Sean's strategic command was also communicated to the allies of the Millennium Covenant Empire through a special communication channel on the same day.

On May 18, 1886, the special operations team composed of Sean, Hitley, Rena, and Xuefanio left Oasis City.

Three days later, the special operations team that galloped through the air arrived at the wild fortress.

On the same day, Sean and Angel in the Wild Fortress met. Angel, who was the liaison between the Millennium Covenant Empire and the Void Empire, conveyed to Sean the reply made by the Millennium Covenant Empire. That night, the oracle from Eswinter, the goddess of ice and winter, was also communicated to Sean through Xuefanio.

The following day, on May 22, 1886, the mainland calendar, the special operations team left the wild fortress, but this time they did not break through the air with much fanfare. That night, the oracle from the goddess of life was also conveyed to Sean through Hitley.

On May 25, 1886, the news of Sean's return was finally communicated to William and Elsie through Imoku's secret operation. On the same day, Elsie also began to communicate with the Twilight Goddess, and William also began to mobilize and prepare for the battlefield.

A few days later, on May 29, 1886 in the mainland calendar, all the church knights on the battlefield of the skeletal disaster in the Southern Continent finally gave up their interests temporarily. In the battle, everyone received the sacred fire gifted by the gods of their respective beliefs.

At the same time, after eight days of uninterrupted advancement, the special operations team led by Sean finally passed through the forest of sighs and officially arrived in the chaotic black soil.

On June 1, 1886 in the continental calendar, Kozilek joined the conquest coalition composed of seven church knights.

The next day, the Millennium Covenant Empire began to implement Sean's strategic plan, sending out decoy troops responsible for sending death. Lake and Little Lucas bit the hook.

After , after three days of escape and chasing battle, little Lucas was lured into the trap area and into the area of Imoku.

On June 5, 1886 in the continental calendar, William and Elsie joined forces to command the army and arrived in the area where the Fear Cage was located.

Continental calendar June 8, 1886, Ulamog found clues to the secret location of Cruise's Touch hidden by Rek.

On June 10, 1886, the army led by the undead who entered the trap circle began to encircle a border city.

On June 13, 1886, the death knight, Anne Lucas, was ambushed by seven church knights.

On June 14, 1886, the special operations team led by Sean arrived in the target area and began further exploration.

.....

At this moment, on this deadly black soil, Xiao En's face looked particularly gloomy.

Led by him, the team left the wild fortress on May 22 and went all the way north to the present. It took 23 days and nearly a month before they finally arrived in this area in Sean's memory.

When they arrived, it happened to be the dawn of June 14.

In the next day or so, they searched all over the area of tens of kilometers, but they still couldn't find the "eye of the storm" location specially reminded by Sean.

This makes Sean's face naturally become extremely ugly.

This lifeless land of death, full of cold, destructive, and mortal auras, is the chaotic land shining through the light of lost order: black soil. It's just that the black soil where Sean is at this time is a little different from the ordinary black soil, because this is the sleeping place of utopia.

In the game that year, it took a long time for Sean's guild "Wings of the Void" to finally attack Utopia and activate it completely. As a reward for attacking the dungeon, Utopia became the guild residence of Wings of the Void, laying an extremely important cornerstone for the later development of Wings of Void, and it was later that Wings of Void could become a famous overlord-level guild in the Southern Continent. One of the core reasons.

Even if Utopia was later destroyed by a fire from a hostile guild, it still failed to shake the dominance of Void Wings.

Shaun, as the leader of the Elite Second Regiment of Void Wings at the time, one of the famous top masters in the guild, he has been involved in the entire process since the beginning of the Utopia of Void Wings. Therefore, even if he didn't memorize the entire Utopia copy, he definitely belonged to a familiar level.

He knows very well that in this black soil where utopia is buried, two conditions must be complied with in order to activate utopia.

The first is to find the "eye of the storm" in the black soil, which is the core source that pollutes the entire black soil, and then put the fire of order into it to completely eliminate the root of chaos in this land and return order to the earth.

Only after satisfying this prerequisite, can utopia be seen again.

Of course, seeing the sun again does not mean that utopia will be restored to order.

After the first condition is met, the second condition is next.

Guide to Utopia dungeon: Paradise Lost.

This is a copy of the twelfth order.

The so-called Tier 12 dungeon, which means that all monsters in the dungeon are basically terrifying existences belonging to the legendary level. Among them, the captain-level monsters, small BOSS, etc., are even the thirteenth and fourteenth levels. And the seven final BOSSs that are guard dungeons are up to the fifteenth rank.

In the game, Void Wings paid a very heavy price before finally solving the seven final bosses.

But in this real world, this does not require Sean to worry about it.

Not to mention that the current strength of Sean and others wants to solve these ultimate BOSS is not a problem. In fact, when Rek hid in this land, he had already wiped out the entire lost paradise. It can be said that as long as Sean finds the "eye of the storm" and puts the order fire that Enkos has left to him, the entire utopia can be seen again, and unlike the situation in the game, Sean does not need to go again this time. Raiders once lost paradise.

What he really needs to do is occupation.

Although according to his agreement with the Millennium Covenant Empire, now this black soil, including the surrounding Forest of Sighs and the Canyon of Warcraft, is already regarded as the territory of the Void Empire. But all of this is based on the sacred place that no one knows that this land hides one of the six shelters called "the ideal land of the world". If the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire had known it early, then they would definitely not cede this land to Sean anyway.

It can even be said that no matter how heavy the price is to be paid, they will definitely incorporate it into the empire territory long ago, instead of always taking a laissez-faire attitude towards it.

But now, Sean couldn't find the eye of the storm, and saw the sky gradually darken.

In the bright morning and afternoon, you can't find the "eye of the storm" in this land. Now that it is gradually entering the night, it will undoubtedly become more difficult to find it again.

Although it would not be a problem to spend a few more days if it was just a search, but in fact, Sean didn't have that much time to spend.

Because of the strategic plan he formulated from the beginning, all actions will be launched tomorrow, which is June 15, 1886.

At that time, it will be the time for a full-scale war to erupt on the battlefield of the Skeletal Disaster.

"Time is running out." Sean frowned and murmured in a low voice.

Hitley and Xuefanio have already returned, but their faces are not easy to see, and obviously they have not found the eye of the storm that Shaun said.

"Are you sure you are in this area?" Hitley couldn't help but ask.

"I..." Sean wanted to be sure, but then I thought about it. He didn't participate in the first step of starting the Utopia mission. He just heard the group leader mention the general area and then contacted where he is now. In the real world, there are some changes in the topography, so Xiao En can't be too sure, "...I can't be 100% sure, but there is still a 70-80% certainty."

Xuefanio raised her eyebrows, then glanced at Sean, a little surprised: "There are times when you can't be 100% sure."

"What do you take me for?" Sean gave a wry smile.

"God stick." Xuefanio said with a serious face, but it made Sean even more helpless.

"It seems that we can only wait for Rena's news." Xiao En sighed lightly, "I hope she can bring us good news."

Rina's mount, Blackrock has unexpectedly evolved in the past few years, awakening the blood of the black dragon in his body, and now Blackrock is no longer a pure earth travel dragon, but has begun to move towards a true dragon form. And evolution-the current Blackstone has a larger body size, and has given birth to two wings, with the ability to fly.

Because of this, Rina's search range is larger than that of Sean, Citley, and Xuefanio combined.

At night, Rena finally descended from the sky riding a black stone.

This time, he finally brought good news.

"Master Shaun, I found it!" Rina's words were a bit of surprise.

If there is anyone in the entire void empire who is the most steadfast in Shaun's orders, then this person must be Ferina. She was the only one who never doubted any commands and actions of Sean, but chose to trust and obey them unconditionally.

Shaun's face finally showed joy: "Very good!"

"So, are we past now?" Rina asked.

"No, we will rest here tonight, and we will set off tomorrow." Xiao En said, "Since we have found it, then there is no rush.... As long as we can resolve this matter before noon tomorrow, we will It's okay."

As for Shaun's decision, the people around had no other opinions, and everyone quickly became busy.

Dinner, rest, vigil.

All things are proceeding step by step. Although knowing that there should be no enemies in the black soil at this moment, Sean still has no slack.

Spent another night in the black soil smoothly. The next day when the first ray of sunlight shone out at dawn, Xiao En and others set off.

Although the place Rina sees in the sky is not particularly far away, in fact, when she actually walks, the distance is not generally short. After walking all morning, under the guidance of Rena, he successfully reached the "eye of the storm" position in the black soil.

The same information as Sean once learned.

The "eye of the storm" presented in front of everyone is a place that constantly exudes the chaotic atmosphere of destruction, darkness, killing, death, corruption and so on. That powerful dark energy, even as strong as ink, continuously gushes out of a shallow pit—with this shallow pit as a circle, the area within a radius of hundreds of meters is as deep as thick ink. black.

When stepped into it, these black material negative energy even spread over everyone's ankles.

A chill that was so cold that it was almost frozen to the bone marrow, constantly escaping from these black energies.

Even if it is stronger than Xiao En and others, it is completely unable to withstand the erosion of this chill.

You know, in this action team of Sean, there are Hitley and Xuefanio!

The former is the chief saint of the Church of Life. One-handed healing magic and dispelling magic can be said to be the nemesis of dark creatures, even with certain restraint and countermeasures against these dark energies. The latter, the blood of the goddesses of Ice and Snow and Winter, has a unique and powerful advantage in the ability to resist the cold.

But at this moment, even if the two people join forces, it only slows down the cold erosion of the negative energy emanating from the "eye of the storm" to everyone.

"This...is the eye of the storm?" Hitley's teeth were already shaking.

"Yes." Xiao En looked at the shallow pit in front of him with a complicated expression, and then took out the order fire that Enkos had left him from the storage ring.

At the moment when the Order Tinder was taken out by Sean, all the negative energy around him was suddenly distorted.

seemed to be aware of some kind of huge crisis. The shallow pit tens of meters ahead suddenly spewed out a black pillar tens of meters high. This pillar seems to be some kind of liquid, but in fact it is composed of extremely viscous mist. Everyone can even vaguely see that countless faces are continuously forming on this aerosol pillar.

These faces roared, and their expressions were different, ranging from stern, anger, ferocious, and mad.

An unparalleled strong spiritual pressure and shock aura, instantly attacked Xiao En and others.

Hitley and Xuefanio's faces changed suddenly.

But before they could do anything, Sean lifted the order fire in his hands.

Golden red light radiated from the order fire in Xiao En's hands. The strong light even formed a light curtain similar to a barrier, covering Xiao En and the others. And on the surrounding ground, wherever the mask is covered, all the thick black fog quickly fades at a speed visible to the naked eye, and then the dry and pale ground is exposed-it is a kind of as if all the nutrients have been covered. Thoroughly ingest the desolate desolation.

"These... the mist has self-awareness?" Xuefanio let out a low cry.

"Yes." Xiao En said solemnly, "Follow me, don't leave the range of this light curtain, otherwise it will be very troublesome."

Cleaning the black soil has always been not an easy task.

Originally, Sean wanted to activate the first step of the utopian mission. He needed to face the siege of countless undead creatures. In the eyes of the storm in the black soil, surrounded by powerful and high-level undead creatures, they guarded the black soil. The eye of the storm in the land will not be purified by the fire of order. And this is why the Pioneer Guild needs to constantly recruit powerful masters to go to the Black Earth to purify the earth, because not everyone can deal with the undead guarding the eyes of the storm.

However, because of Lake's undead disaster, it actually helped Sean reduce the difficulty of the entire utopian mission.

Of course, this is the same as Shaun's resolution of the Peace Council and inadvertently giving Laker a chance to grow and develop.

As if in the dark, everything has already been planned.

Faced with the light curtain formed by the fire of order, although these dark energies were constantly struggling and resisting, they still could not stop the pace of Xiao En and others.

Finally, Xiao En led everyone to the very edge of the eye of the storm.

The black air column seemed to feel the final danger, and the energy erupted from the shallow pit was obviously stronger.

It's just that Sean didn't pay attention to all this.

He just stretched out his right hand, holding the right hand of Order Fire, the strong golden red light and black energy touched each other, just as Baixue met the warm sun, all the black energy breath was golden red. The light quickly melted under the light.

Without any hesitation, Sean let go of his right hand, and any orderly fire like a seed in his hand fell from mid-air.

Although it seems that the black energy gushing from the shallow pit seems to have an extremely powerful impact, but in the face of the lightly falling order of fire, no matter how strong the impact of these black energy is, it is still unable to control this order. The fire blows away, and can only do useless work in vain, watching the order fire fall into this shallow pit.

And when the order fire finally completely fell into the shallow pit and suppressed all the black energy, a golden light immediately rose into the sky from the shallow pit.

In the sky, the thick lead-gray cloud was directly shot through under the impact of this golden light.

This golden light seems to have a peculiar infectious power.

The original lead-gray cloud layer also quickly changed its color under the impact of this golden beam of light, gradually changing from lead-gray to golden yellow. And this golden light at first only enveloped the small area where the eye of the storm is located, but in the next instant, a strong aura of order burst out suddenly, this piece of cloud covering the entire black earth. , Also began to be rendered into golden yellow.

Immediately afterwards, the golden light gradually turned into golden red.

Like the color emitted by that order fire!
