

Lord of War Vol 4-91

Chapter 91: . Sean's Speculation

At night, there is silence around the camp.

Generally speaking, one of the night-watchers must be Luo, not for anything else, because of his excellent assassination skills and investigative skills. Therefore, his vigilance is naturally the strongest among all people. Under normal circumstances, almost no one can sneak into the camp near the camp without hiding his perception.

The reason why he said it was normal is because Luo did not meet anyone more powerful.

For example, Sean.

Today's night is Luo and Sean respectively.

The former is responsible for the first half of the night, and the latter is responsible for the second half of the night.

It should have been Sean and the big man in a tent, but for some reasons, it became the big man and Phil a tent, and Sean and Luo a tent.

At this moment, Sean was coming out of the tent. After a brief rinse, he sat next to the fire to keep warm.

This Hui Luo hadn't gone to rest, and sat opposite to Xiao En, but the two of them did not speak. If you change someone else here, you will definitely feel embarrassed, but Sean doesn't take Luo's matter seriously, so naturally he won't feel embarrassed. No matter whether Luo is going to continue sitting here, or what he plans to do, Sean doesn't plan to pay attention to it. Of course, if some people want to find death by themselves, Sean doesn't mind helping them.

Perhaps because of the weird atmosphere, Luo quickly got up and left.

Beside the fire in the camp, only Sean was left alone.

After sitting here for a while, he stood up and moved a little bit.

In the days when he was a mercenary, he often had to be in charge of the night watch, but since he came to the Kingdom of Lane, he has never watched the night again. After just guarding for such a short while, Xiao En felt his body was a little stiff, and he seemed very uncomfortable, and had to stand up and move his body.

"Is it interesting to do this?" After a few sideways spinning movements, Sean suddenly spoke.

But even if he was talking, his movement of the body still did not stop.

"Do you really think I didn't feel it?" Xiao En stood up straight, and then pointed the Black King towards the position behind him without looking back.

It was obviously only darkness there, but with the swift blast of the Black King, there was a sudden wave of ripples in the air, and Luo's figure gradually emerged from it. It's just that at this moment, his face flushed slightly, but he was not shy but obviously a little bloody, and his eyes were full of anger when he looked at Xiao En.

"You should be thankful, if it wasn't for your unique breath, now you are a corpse." Xiao En sneered and took back the Black King, and then sat down, obviously too lazy to pay attention to Luo.

He knows what Luo's mentality is.

At that night, when he and Yun returned to the camp, the other people in the team had a subtle change in their attitude towards him, obviously because of some doubts about his identity. After all, Ghost Eye Blade and Thunder Dragon Squad have dealt with each other. They also know how strong the opponent is. When Shaun was assassinated and assassinated, they thought it was someone sent by Ghost Eye Blade, so let Luo It is most appropriate to solve the other party.

The result was that the opponent's strength was stronger than Luo, which surprised everyone. Because Ghost Eye Blade would never have this kind of strength, then there was only one result: the opponent came for Xiao En. In contact with the previous big man, he said that Sean's strength is very strong. According to their intuition about the big man, Sean's strength is definitely not as simple as it appears on the surface. This means that the killer of the other party is targeting Xiao Enlai.

In this way, Sean's purpose is very debatable.

If it weren't for Yun to suppress it at night, I'm afraid Xiao En would be forced to confess at that time. However, even though this matter was forcibly suppressed by Yun Yi's own captain's might, since the estrangement had already occurred, it was obviously impossible to restore the tacit understanding to the previous level.

And Luo jumped out to test once at this time, which was naturally what Shaun expected.

"It seems that you do have a strong ability to perceive." Luo Ping regained the blood surging in his heart, and said coldly, "I don't care who you are, but if you have any purpose..."

"Isn't you the one who invited me to join?" Xiao En smiled and relentlessly sneered. "Now, on the other hand, don't you think I have any purpose? It's ridiculous? ... Besides, an apprentice assassin. A defector, what right do I have to say here what purpose I have."

Luo's pupils shrank suddenly.

The surrounding air seemed to vibrate.

But all the breath can't escape at all, instead, it seems to be restrained by some peculiar power limitation.

Domain!

Luo looked around for a moment, and suddenly realized something: "So from the beginning, I stepped into your realm... No, this is not a realm. But it's not like a field. It should be half a realm, right? You? I'm already hitting the realm of the sanctuary. No wonder you didn't know when I was hiding my breath at the beginning. You didn't realize it until I got close to you. It seems that this is your real trump card."

Sean still just kept smiling and did not speak.

Zorro's strength as an identity has been questioned, so Sean didn't mind showing a slightly stronger symbol of strength. It doesn't need to be much, as long as it's slightly stronger than the current Zorro, it's enough to give everyone the strength that he can easily defeat Anna and avoid assassinations. He doesn't even need to think about excuses, because these over-braining The guy will automatically close all the flaws to him.

The only thing that Sean needs to do is to show a swordsman who is superior to everyone but has some difficulties and has to conceal something.

"Okay, just like Yun said, who doesn't have any secrets." Sean picked up a branch, then flipped the bonfire to make the fire burn more vigorously, and then burned the leftover soup from the night. Open, "I don't care whether you are a double agent or betrayed the Assassin Alliance for what. It's easy to say."

"What if I trouble you?" Luo sneered.

"You can give it a try." Sean shrugged indifferently, "I can guarantee you will die soon.... Even, I don't need to do it myself."

Hearing what Shaun said, Luo's face looked very ugly.

He knows very well that someone like Sean who knows his true identity is fully capable of contacting the Assassin Alliance. For the traitors within the alliance, the organization has never been merciful. It was only because of a coincidence that he successfully forged his own illusion of death and escaped the organization's suppression. So once his identity was revealed, Luo couldn't imagine what he would end up with. It was because of this that he had to go back to live in seclusion after hearing that the North Continent's lair had been destroyed.

No one wants to be a killer who will never see the light for a lifetime.

"How did you find me?" Luo's voice was a little dry.

"When you lurked by my side just now, it was very similar to the Creed Assassin I had dealt with before." Sean spooned a bowl of soup for himself, and then tasted it. The catch is that the meat in the soup is all Already eaten clean at dinner, "This is exactly the same technique, it would be a weird thing if I admit it wrong.... So I said, I'm not interested in your past, as long as you don't come to trouble me. . Just like Yun said, who has no secrets."

Luo took a deep breath and finally put away his hostility towards Sean.

He didn't say anything, but stepped back slowly, until he left Sean's "area" as he thought, before turning around and returning to the tent. But it is conceivable that Luo's mood is absolutely impossible to calm down, and it is probably impossible to sleep peacefully.

But these things, Sean also ignored the thoughts.

He felt more and more that this bounty hunter squad was too weird, and he even had a deep doubt about the news that the ghost-eye blade discovered the ruins first. He always felt that the appearance of this underground mausoleum seemed to be a deliberate manifestation of someone, and it was obvious that now the affairs of this mausoleum were no longer confined to the black market of Pointe Noire, even Elizabeth and Flores. The Marquis and others have also heard of it, and they all gathered here in the past.

It's a pity that there are still too few clues, and Sean has never heard of such things happening in the Kingdom of Lane in the game.

Instead, it's news about the underground mausoleum, and Sean has a few guesses.

"Dad, can I talk?" Just as Sean was thinking deeply, the black king on one side finally spoke in a low voice.

Although he has tried his best to imitate the whispering voice of human beings, for the black king, the control of the volume is obviously a very challenging thing. But now that Sean's domain is suppressed, the surrounding situation is better, at least not so obvious.

"You should turn on 'isolation'." Xiao En glanced at the Black King, then said helplessly.

Soon, a space completely separated from the material world was directly "cut" by the black king. From the outside, there is no change in this field, but in fact this space is no longer in the world. If someone rushes across it, the only result is that the body is cut into two.

"Hah, I'm suffocating me!" Finally able to speak, the Black King yelled happily, "I can't speak for several days."

Looking at the look of excitement on the black king, Sean looked helpless.

"It's OK, let you talk about it, and continue to pretend to be your dumb." Xiao En sighed. He really has nothing to do with the Black King. He can only negotiate terms with him. Fortunately, after all It is a bloodline artifact, and I can more or less discuss it as the master of bloodline.

"Dad, how many days do I have to pretend to be dumb?" The Black King murmured a little dissatisfied.

It is best to pretend to be dumb for a lifetime. ——Sean wanted to say that, but he knew that if he said that, the Black King would definitely not do it.

"Don't do it!" The Black King immediately yelled, "What do you mean by pretending to be a dumb for a lifetime! Don't do it or don't do it!"

If the Black King had hands and feet, it would definitely be rolling all over the floor.

"I didn't say it." Xiao En slapped his forehead. He forgot that the black king and him are in a blood-linked relationship. Some things as long as they have some thoughts in their heart and are about the black king, this guy can The first time I felt, "It's okay, and if you are wronged, you will be dumb for a few days. When the underground mausoleum has been explored, I will let you say enough, okay."

"Really?" The Black King looked like a child.

"Yes, yeah." Sean said grimly.

"Actually, Dad, I don't understand. Why do you want to play this kind of game with these people?" The Black King was silent for a while, and then asked, "With your strength, Dad, now in Lane No one should be able to stop you, right? And... aren't we here to save that Asuna? By the way, dad, is Asuna your mother? I think you seem nervous."

"Can you not think that everyone is your mother?" Shaun knew that every time he chatted with the Black King, he would be very tired. "Ryan's local strength, I can actually walk sideways, but according to our previous information According to the information obtained by Lord Roald, there is still a legendary strong hidden under Grain. Before the other party is exposed, of course I can not reveal my identity without revealing it. And..."

"And what?" I was silent when I heard Sean say two words. After waiting for a while, I couldn't hold back the Black King. "Dad, you can say it clearly."

"And I'm very skeptical about this mausoleum." Sean frowned and said, "There is also the woman named Yun. Intuition tells me that this woman is not easy. I really want to know what she is like. ."

"Ah, speaking of this woman, dad, you have to be careful." The black king seemed to think of something, and suddenly said, "This woman has a sheltering power on her body. I don't dare to probe it rashly, otherwise she will I found my existence."

"Asylum power?" Sean was taken aback for a moment, "Is it strong?"

"Well, I don't know, I don't dare to probe it rashly." The Black King thought for a moment, "Anyway, this woman is very strange. I'm not talking about her power, but the smell on her body. Well... and many people I've smelled. It's all different."

"It's not the same..." Sean stretched out his hand and rubbed his chin, showing a thoughtful look, "Could it be that... she is not a human? If she is not a human, then she is... from the underground race? If that's the case. If it is, it can explain why she has the power to protect herself, obviously to prevent her identity from being exposed. And based on this point of speculation, then her relationship with Luo is normal... She should have helped Luo, So Luo owed her a lot of favor, and this time he came to pay her favor."

"So in this way...what the * is there in that underground tomb that is worth the other side's risk? And speaking of it, why are there so many underground races in the Kingdom of Lane? The vampires before, and Rorty Kabas... Could it be that Is this all related to the path of the abyss in the Gorge Fortress?"

Chapter 92: .The Underground Tomb

This team of bounty hunters, after all, still has a gap.

Shaun didn't feel much about it. Just as the Black King said, Shaun's strength would not encounter any danger in the entire Kingdom of Lane. What he is more interested in now is what exactly is in the underground tomb that has attracted so many people to explore it. Of course, what I hope more is that I can find clues about Elizabeth and the Marquis of Flores, so that at least it won't be a waste of trip.

But compared to Sean's indifferent attitude, Yun's attitude is more thought-provoking.

As the nominal captain and leader of this team, she didn't want to eliminate the opposition and estrangement in the team. Instead, she turned a blind eye to it. As a result, the distrust and antagonism in the team naturally began to produce reactions similar to qualitative changes: Phil and the big man have begun to distance themselves from Sean, and Anna's attitude towards Sean is not bad, but It also started to maintain a proper distance subconsciously.

Shaun estimated that if she hadn't had some exchanges with Anna in terms of swordsmanship, I'm afraid Anna's attitude would not be much better than Phil and the big man.

Of course, this kind of communication is mainly based on Anna's consultation.

For this girl who is keen on swordsmanship, Sean still has some good feelings.

Although this kind of affection is a little inexplicable, Xiao En guessed that this should be a side effect of being a "Juggernaut": For people who use swords, he always has a comforting mentality of elders watching younger ones. But it stopped here. In addition to the regular discussion and consultation of swordsmanship, Anna did not have any other contact with Sean, and Sean didn't care much about it.

So this weird bounty team continued to rush towards the location of the underground mausoleum with this peculiar atmosphere.

This time, there were no accidents in the itinerary for several days. Except that Sean found an excuse to go out to meet with the person in charge of the area midway, and gave a new order-temporarily abandon the confrontation with the Kingdom of Lane, fully assist the Principality of Garrod, and do a good job of defending against the Kingdom of Lane for possible side attacks. : After all, Tonys Fortress is too close to Shaun's territory. If it is a mountain division army accustomed to hurrying and crossing the mountains, it will be able to march on the Void City in about a week.

This, we have to beware.

Other than that, nothing happens.

The whole team arrived at the entrance of the underground mausoleum that Yun said without any surprises.

Different from what Shaun imagined, the entrance of the underground mausoleum was not under some ruins, but in a cave formed by a collapse.

From the location of the cave entrance, it can be clearly seen that the tomb itself is blocking the surrounding terrain. It is built about 300 meters deep under the cave and has a drop of more than 300 meters from the ground. Moreover, the entrance of the tomb is not the main entrance, but a corridor of soul-recovery located on the first floor of the tomb.

In the Continent of Miracles, the dead have different burial methods according to their status.

Like a slave, if you die, you will lose it in the suburbs.

Poor people, such as the poor, may have a place to bury it, perhaps a monastery or the like, or a land located on the outskirts of the city. Only those civilians who have beliefs are eligible to enter the monastery or the requiem of the temple to be buried. If they are non-believers, they can only be buried in places such as monasteries.

Ordinary aristocratic class, can be buried in ancestral land or in temples or monasteries.

Eligible to build mausoleums are generally high-ranking nobles, such as earls and above with real power, or marquises, dukes, and royal kinsfolk with real power. The scale of the mausoleum is generally not limited. As long as you have the money, you can build it any way you want, but it is usually around four floors by default. Only the royal family will build a five-story underground mausoleum.

Of course, exceptions are some careerists.

The standard construction method for this kind of underground tombs is the soul-returning corridor composed of a long corridor and a cloister structure. The first floor usually consists of two small, one large and three rooms, and the large one is through the guard hall of the second floor. , The two small ones are symmetrical funeral chambers: mainly for placing some utensils and the like. The second floor is also two small rooms, one large and three rooms. The big one leads to the confessional hall on the next floor. The two small ones are still funeral rooms, except that the funerary objects have changed from utensils to jewelry.

From the third floor, the structure depends on the overall specifications of the tomb.

Take the four-story structure of the mausoleum as a proportion, and the third floor will become two large and two small rooms. One of the two large rooms is the resting room leading to the fourth floor, and the other is the clan's coffin room, which is used to store the tablet and coffin of the family master. The two small burial rooms are also burial rooms, but because every time someone in the family dies and is buried, the two burial rooms will be opened to put new funerary objects, so the general reserves will be larger than the previous two floors.

The fourth floor will become three large and two small structures. The two small rooms are still funeral rooms, and the three large ones are the final hall that symbolizes the end of life, the other two are the main hall where the coffins and rankings of the family's past patriarchs are stored, and the other is the family line. The deputy hall where the children can be buried.

If it is a five-story scale, the layout of the third and fourth floors of the four-story structure is moved down one floor, and then one auxiliary hall is increased to two. The vacant third floor layout will also become two large and two small rooms. The layout of the funeral room remains unchanged. Except for the two large ones, one is the listening room leading to the next floor, the other large room usually contains It is regarded as a sealed place, used to seal the powerful evil spirit and death energy in the tomb, and maintain the rest and stability of the dead souls of the entire underground tomb.

Bounty hunters or tomb robbers find such a tomb, they will definitely empty the burial room.

The funeral items accumulated by these tomb families over the past generations are usually worth tens of millions of gold coins. If it is a reputable family or a royal tomb, the value of the funeral items will even increase several times to more than ten times. And the further down the tomb, the higher the value of the funerary objects. This is why once someone discovers such tombs, they will continue to go deeper. The purpose is naturally for those funerary objects, but if you encounter a five-story mausoleum If it does, the third layer is generally avoided.

The third layer of the five-story mausoleum is also known as the layer of balance and the layer of inheritance.

The structure of the four rooms are arranged in the direction of southeast and northwest. The small rooms of the burial chamber on the east and west sides are also called symmetrical consecration rooms. The Hall of Listening and the Sealed Land are said to symbolize the dual world of the living and the dead-the living leads to the next level, and the dead leads to the kingdom of the underworld. The existence of worship is to ensure that the seal between the seals will not be broken. It is a balance measure and a kind of respect for the owner of the tomb.

However, when he entered this cave, Sean had already specifically observed the cloud.

Only from the calm and indifferent look of the cloud, Sean did not find anything suspicious. On the contrary, Phil and others all showed excitement. This kind of behavior is the normal reaction of a bounty hunter. When a bounty hunter or a demon hunter, which one is not forced to do it for money?

In this way, it makes Yun's purpose and actions appear even more suspicious.

However, just as Sean was going to observe Luo's expression, the assassin had escaped into the darkness earlier, and also distanced himself from Yun and the others, obviously going to investigate the situation first.

"The situation is normal." Luo soon sent feedback, "There is no ambush."

After confirming the safety, everyone entered directly from the gap in the cave.

Sean also deliberately observed in this regard, this cave was not formed naturally, and even the collapse was not a natural behavior. The air is full of different energy breaths, but Sean is not a professional magician after all, so he can't distinguish the specific information of these energy breaths. The only thing that can make him confirm is that the components of these different energy are extremely complex, sometimes There are even some cases where there is a neutralization reaction with each other, which increases the difficulty of energy discrimination.

However, for Sean, who has never pursued the process much, he is convinced at this moment that the reappearance of this underground mausoleum is by no means a simple accidental exposure.

Thinking of this, Xiao En couldn't help but look at the cloud walking in front of him.

Appearing to be aware of it, Yun turned his head and glanced at Xiao En, even showing a calm smile.

At this moment, Sean suddenly had a feeling of throbbing.

The obvious abnormal flow of the surrounding air, as well as the blood boiling in the body that suddenly seemed to be ignited, fully demonstrated the change in the atmosphere of the tomb at this moment. The acupuncture sensation from all over the body gave Sean a sense of danger approaching, but Sean was totally unable to judge the source of the danger. The only thing he could feel was the breath of the underground tomb. It was very chaotic, and it was even serious enough to disturb his perception.

In such a flash of time as Shaun, the team has advanced a long distance.

Obviously, they have already understood the situation of the first layer, so they are not particularly concerned and vigilant. Even the sloppy aura on them is clearly visible, and they don't look like professional bounty hunters at all.

The difference from these people is that Sean's muscles are already tight, and even the real eyes that have not been opened for a long time are opened again. It was exactly the appearance of preparing for a battle, and the breathing rate was constantly adjusted. In addition to not revealing his true strength, Sean was already at the peak state of his current strength.

"Don't be nervous." Yun didn't know when he suddenly appeared next to Xiao En, "We have explored the first and second floors, and traps and other organs have been cleaned up. As long as Luo Detective does not ambush If so, we can pass with confidence.... The only trouble is on the third floor. We have found a way to enter the third floor first, so Ghost Eye and Thunder Dragon will be so targeted at us."

The underground mausoleum, entering each floor is not a simple matter.

After all, no mausoleum owner wants his tomb to be destroyed and harassed. At the same time, it is to prevent some people who are proficient in undead magic from disturbing the rest of the deceased. Therefore, they will place the lower level institutions in the tomb. If you want to go to the funerary to take away those funerary objects, you must find a way to break through the door leading to the next floor, and these traps will be different according to the preferences of the tomb builder.

The most common ones are the true door traps and false door traps.

After all, the space between each floor of the tomb is huge, and a space layer can be built again in the middle part. The most common method of false doors is that they can almost only enter and cannot exit. Once you enter the false door by mistake, you usually have to pay a high price to be able to return again.

So the value of finding a true door that can correctly lead to the lower level is completely incalculable.

Cloud's words are full of logic and order, and no flaws or loopholes can be seen at all.

But I don't know why, but my instinct really tells Sean that the words of the woman in front of me are absolutely untrustworthy.

"I am used to walking alone after all. This is just a conditioned reflex action." Xiao En smiled, and did not relax his vigilance as Yun said. Instead, he became more vigilant towards Yun. "But I think this There is nothing wrong with it... After all, there is always nothing wrong with being careful."

"That's what I said." Yun nodded, saying nothing, and then passed Sean and continued to walk forward.

Shaun's face was as usual, but his eyes were slightly squinted.

He slowed down the rhythm of breathing, letting the tight muscles gradually relax, but he did not relax completely, his attention and spirit still maintained a high degree of concentration, in case of possible sudden attacks around him.

And in his retina, Phil and the others basically have a light yellow halo on their bodies, which represents a neutral color, with different shades. Although this neutral attitude is equivalent to not showing any hostility towards Sean, it is not very friendly, at least this is in line with everyone's current attitude towards Sean. The only things that have changed significantly are Anna and Yun.

The color of the former is much lighter, showing light yellow mixed with light green, which is obviously a slightly friendly logo.

As for the clouds, there was a slight reddish in the light yellow, which was obviously hostile towards Sean. And these reddish colors were not there at the beginning, but the colors that emerged after Yun persuaded Xiao En to relax his guard.

This makes Sean maintain an absolute high degree of vigilance towards the cloud.

Especially after leaving the first layer and directly entering the second layer, the aura radiating from Yun's body has obviously become more dangerous than before. Although this level still cannot threaten Sean, his intuition is telling Sean that the situation is clearly developing in a somewhat unfriendly direction.

This kind of subtle tension stimulated Sean's adrenal glands to continuously secrete. Even without turning on the adrenal stimulation skills, Sean felt an unprecedented excitement and mental fullness.

Chapter 93: .the truth

The space of the mausoleum is not small, and the passage can basically accommodate up to six people walking side by side.

This is already a relatively large-scale production.

Judging from the various patterns carved in the passage of the tomb, this should be the tomb thousands of years ago, definitely longer than before the founding of the Kingdom of Lane. However, Sean really couldn't judge the specific product of which era, because he had never heard of the news about the ruins tomb in the game, so naturally there would be no information circulating.

Just in terms of the scale of production, this underground tomb can be considered very luxurious. After all, not to mention the width and height of the corridor, only the floor area and the number of floors of the tomb can be seen. Without strong financial resources, there is really no way to build an underground tomb of this scale.

"Are the organs not damaged?" Xiao En asked.

"No." Yun was stunned, but still answered Sean's question, "I don't know the situation on the first level, but the institutions on the second level... all we have encountered are intact, basically none. damaged."

Shaun nodded, without saying anything.

Others, but they didn't know why Sean asked this question, so they just kept silent. However, in view of their relationship, Phil and the big man obviously don't want to talk to Sean very much. Only Anna looked back at Sean curiously, but because the light was too dim, I couldn't see Sean's face clearly. .

As Yun said before, the first floor of the tomb is still very safe, and everyone did not encounter any ambushes. Although there are occasional traces of fighting on the corridor, it is not obvious. Obviously, both sides of the fighting have something. restraint. The only place that is slightly messy is the broken traps everywhere. These things are not recycled, but are still scattered in place.

Sean even saw the three-headed Mithril piercing arrow that is extremely precious to the outside world. This piercing arrow is specially processed and the arrow is extremely hard. It can easily penetrate the heavy armor of the interlayer of the plate armor. At the same time, it can Shooting through the protective barriers of the wizards can be called the all-professional nemesis. Although this mithril armor-piercing arrow is completely damaged after being used, it cannot be recycled, but some mithril can be recovered by using some purification techniques.

The densely packed three-headed Mithril piercing arrows that Xiao En saw nailed to the wall can at least recover hundreds of thousands of gold coins.

"What kind of traps are there in this tomb?" Xiao En still couldn't help but asked.

"It's no different, that is, those arrow holes, ground thorns, invisible bombs, poison gas, etc." The answer to Sean's question is still cloud, "I met the poison gas organ in the confessional hall before, if it wasn't for luck to find out. If we lead the way to the lower level, I am afraid we would have died in that place long ago."

Exploring the tomb, the most common way to deal with it is to fill the mechanism with human lives.

For the Marvel Continent, human lives are the least valuable, especially the lives of slaves. As long as you spend a sum of money, you can buy many, many “materials”. Therefore, if some big families and big forces find secrets such as underground tombs, they usually secretly purchase a large number of slaves, and then let these slaves explore a path that can truly lead to the lowest level.

Therefore, a safety map that records the underground tombs is often called a human flesh map-after all, the player can be resurrected after death, and spending some time and energy can definitely find the right path.

This time, after Yun explained the common mechanism routines, Xiao En carefully observed the cloud again. He had originally suspected that Yun’s purpose was impure, but originally he could not determine exactly what Yun’s specific purpose was. It was not until now that after listening to Yun’s words, Xiao En was finally able to determine the true purpose of Yun’s exploration of this underground mausoleum. what.

The team quickly passed the gate of the first floor and entered the second floor.

On the second layer, you can see more obvious traces of chaos.

is not just the destruction of organ traps and the like, the traces of the battle have become more obvious and clear, and there are even a lot of blood stains, residual limbs, and corpses. But here, the corpses did not rot and emit a peculiar smell, which is a bit unbelievable, as if these corpses seem to have just died-at least, under the simple observation of Sean, it is indeed the case, if not because of following Yun and others. If so, Sean really wants to stop and check it carefully.

However, more than half of Sean’s attention is still on Yun.

From the outside world, to the underground cave, to the first floor of the mausoleum, and then to the second floor of the current mausoleum, the changes in Yun's breath are becoming more and more obvious, as if a strange force is constantly converging in her body, which makes her The human aura on his body also gradually began to mutate. At least at this moment, Xiao En had been able to clearly determine that Yun was definitely not a human being, but it was still unclear for the time being if he belonged to a specific race, because of the lack of image characteristics.

However, this strange change of breath seems to be only felt by Xiao En, and others have no such feeling at all.

As the team continues to move forward, there are still no signs of enemies on the second floor.

However, the surrounding damage is obviously much more serious, especially in the two funeral rooms. The door has been completely broken open and all the funeral objects inside have been evacuated. Although it's only the second layer, things like gold, silver and jewelry are considered hard currency no matter what era, even if it is stolen, many people will like it. Therefore, Sean was not surprised that all the funerary objects in the funeral room on the second floor would be emptied. The only thing he was surprised by was the terrifyingly rich smell of blood.

Judging from the descriptions of Yun, Anna and others, the fighting broke out in this mausoleum for some time.

But even after so long, the freshness of the corpse still remains in the state of just dead, and even the blood is warm, not to mention the strong * smell. The only thing he didn't understand was that if the ruins were so powerful, why didn't they have any clues in the game? Why didn't the members of the Void Realm that he sent to investigate before find any relevant information, and now they are even in a state of disconnection with him.

All these doubts are like a piece of disassembled jigsaw puzzle, even if it has been pieced together, but lacking the most critical and core point, the truth is still hidden in the black mist.

Perhaps because the second layer has already been explored for a long time, everyone still passed without surprise.

Luo never appeared in this process.

As soon as he entered the third layer, a cold panic suddenly rose deep in Xiao En's heart. Sean's bare skin in the air instantly felt a strong acupuncture pain, which obviously reached a level that could threaten Sean's life.

"Zorro, what's wrong with you?" Yun's voice came from Xiao En's side again.

But this time, the sound is a bit different.

Obviously, the tone has not changed from the previous one, but it gives people the feeling of being full of a strange charm, giving people the illusion of dry mouth and fever. But it was precisely because of this illusion that Xiao En was more aware of the horror of Yun at the moment.

"So that's the case." Xiao En exhaled heavily, a step back and a distance from the cloud who was close to him at some point, "Is it an illusion?...I was in the illusion when I was on the first floor? First floor or second floor?"

"I don't know what you are talking about...Zorro, what's wrong with you?" Yun's face looked unreal in this dim environment, but because of this unreal blur, it had a strange hazy beauty. Adding a bit of temptation, "Are you okay?"

Swish!

The long sword in Sean's hand drew a silver light in the darkness, as if to tear the surrounding darkness.

Originally, he wanted to get close to the cloud next to Xiao En, and immediately stopped. If he hadn't stopped in time, the cloud would have been split into two by Xiao En's sword at this moment.

"Zorro..."

"With the strength you showed before, you still can't dodge my sword, right?" Xiao En said coldly, "but now, you can easily dodge my sword...hehe, the increase in strength is small. ."

As Xiao En's words fell, the iron sword he held in his hand was immediately covered with numerous cracks, and then it directly turned into a piece of iron powder, which floated down from mid-air. And Sean also let go of the hand holding the hilt, letting the hilt fall to the ground, making a crashing sound of metal hitting the ground.

The atmosphere in the air suddenly became stagnant.

Shaun glanced around. Although the dark environment did not become brighter, the darkness could not stop Shaun's sight. He could clearly see that the eyes of Phil, the big man, and Anna became dull and completely lost focus. They looked like a silly look. At this moment, they were standing in place, without any movement. , Just like a puppet left aside.

"I really underestimated you." Yun chuckled lightly, and then stroked his long hair. A gentle and elegant temperament appeared from Yun at this moment, not at all like the previous bounty hunters. With a slightly heroic leader's momentum, "When did you find it?"

"Just now." Sean was still looking around, the darkness around him was like a living thing, and he was constantly trying to swallow Sean's area to compress Sean's field of vision and perception area. "It was just a little doubtful, until After entering here, your sudden voice made me understand the most important point.... Originally I thought you were a succubus, but now it seems that you should be a blood clan."

"Sure enough, I was too anxious." Yun stretched out his hand to cover his mouth and chuckled, behaving gracefully, like a noble girl, "but I can't help it. I thought it was just an extra servant, but unexpectedly he was a strong man. Well, even Luo was wary of you, and I made the wrong move again, and could only make a mistake.... Well, if it wasn't for trapping that woman, it wouldn't be so easy for you to find out."

"Elizabeth, I really am here." Sean nodded, "So then, all the clues can finally be connected together."

"Oh?" Yun raised his eyebrows with interest, "What clue? Is it convenient to tell me?"

"Why is it inconvenient." Xiao En also showed a smile, the elegant aristocratic temperament is not in the cloud.

"Ghost Eye Blade is indeed the first person to discover here, but it was not their luck to find it, but you found it under your temptation. Then they found the jewels on the second floor, thinking they Unearthed a treasure, but they didn't expect that they just broke into the prey in the spider web.... Therefore, they became the first batch of victims, that is, the blood slaves of your blood race."

Yun's smile remained the same.

"After that, they became blood slaves and faithfully implemented your orders and spread the so-called 'underground tombs' information. However, in order to prevent things from getting out of your control, they were only limited to some more powerful circles. At this time, you used hypnosis and illusion techniques to disguise your identity, successfully mixed into the black market of Pointe Noire, and disguised the image of a victim of persecution, which increased the authenticity of the underground tomb from the side. "

"I originally heard that humans are the best at conspiracy and trickery. I didn't believe it. But I didn't expect you to understand the cause of the whole incident so easily. It's really amazing." Yun seemed to admire Sean very much, and nodded in agreement, "Then. Humans, guess what happened next?"

"Someone bites the hook, so naturally some people don't bite it." Xiao En smiled, "When you planned these things, you didn't expect the situation in the Kingdom of Lane to change so quickly, so the sudden high bounty order, Disrupted your plan. Afterwards, because of the leadership of the White Wolf squad, many people began to give up the news of this underground tomb and turned to look for the bounty target.... Oh, let me guess, the ones I saw just now The corpse and blood should belong to the Hurricane Squad, right? Well, the people in this squad were just trapped here. You wanted to turn them into blood slaves, so you didn't move the killer, but because of my arrival, you did. Let Luo solve them."

Yun clapped happily, and the smile on his face was very sincere: "Human, you are really amazing, you have all guessed it....The White Wolf team should have been solved by me, but because of that woman...you It's called Elizabeth, right? It was this woman who made a sudden shot and wiped out all the members of the White Wolf team, but her injuries were obviously not light, otherwise I would not be sure to push that woman into here and still trap her. ."

"Although the clues of the puzzle are connected, I also know your conspiracy, but I still can't figure it out." Sean said thoughtfully, "Why do you want to do this? Why should everyone become blood slaves? , Are you just an earl? What are the benefits of establishing your stronghold on this land?"

"Earl?" Yun seemed to hear some funny joke, and suddenly burst into laughter.

But as the laughter gradually sounded, the aura on the cloud became stronger and stronger, and the darkness in the surrounding space was also madly disappearing. However, if you observe carefully, it is not difficult to find that these darkness are actually some kind of energy entities that have escaped. At this moment, all these energies have returned to the body of the cloud, and this will also allow the cloud to completely restore its own strength.

Similarly, because of the restoration of strength, Yun's appearance has also been changed.

The black hair and black pupil of the original Zenas quickly transformed into a typical western female face with blond hair and blue eyes. The lines are not as soft as the outline of the Zenas, but they have a very sharp carving beauty, giving people a kind of beauty. Extremely stunning visual shock. In terms of the level of charm and beauty alone, this woman of the blood race who claims to be Yun can definitely rank among the top five women that Xiao En has seen.

"Below is one of the thirteen clans, the grand prince of the Luxemba family, Serena Lesenba." The charming and gorgeous girl gently wiped her lower lip, revealing a seductive look comparable to the temptation of a succubus. , Chuckled and said, "Human, I am very interested in you. I give you a chance to be loyal to me, accept my first embrace, and become a member of the great blood clan, you will get the noble blood of the thirteen clan , Become a duke!"

"Oh?" Xiao En raised his eyebrows, "I missed you, but I didn't expect you to be a grand prince."

The rank division of blood clan is not the same as the noble names of human beings-noble titles are a symbol of their strength. Higher-level titles have an absolute suppressing effect on lower-level titles, especially those of their own blood clan who are truly born in the thirteen clan.

Except for the high-ranking elders, the blood clan's titles are knight, lord, baron, viscount, earl, marquis, duke, grand duke, and prince from low to high. Knights and lords are the civilian class in the blood race, barons and viscounts are the lower blood races, earls, marquis, and dukes are the upper blood races, corresponding to the seven realms of human beings from the lower silver to the upper sanctuary.

The prince corresponds to the legend.

Grand Duke is the transition between the Duke (upper sanctuary) and the Prince (Legendary). This rank is not fixed. There are also blood races who have been promoted directly from the Duke to the prince. Generally, they can get the title of Grand Duke, referring to those duke-class blood clan with extremely powerful combat effectiveness. They have created a new clan of their own-just like Serena Lesenba, she has created a clan that belongs to her. The clan: Serena clan attached to the Luxemba clan.

This kind of archduke blood clan that has created a new clan, basically, as long as it does not fall, it is completely inevitable to become a prince: it is only a matter of time.

Because the surrounding darkness has receded, Sean has been able to see the surrounding environment clearly.

Where is this underground mausoleum.

is simply a huge underground cave.

But at this moment, there are many people lying on the ground. These people seem to have lost consciousness, but judging from the signs of their life fluctuations, although their breath is very weak, at least these people have not died. Among them, Sean saw a lot of bounty hunters or demon hunters who had a fate in the black market in Pointe Noire, and even the group of little bunnies under his Void Realm were here.

Of course, the most conspicuous among this group of people is the goal of Sean's trip: the daughter of Thunder, Elizabeth Batian.

However, he did not see the Marquis of Floris and the Queen Vulhis.

Elizabeth was obviously lost in the dark surroundings completely disappeared, but as a veteran expert who has experienced many battles, this kind of loss was completely restored in only an instant. Immediately she saw Sean standing on the side, with an incredible expression on his face: "Sean...en?"

"Sean?" Serena frowned slightly, as if she was thinking of this familiar name.

"Be careful, she is not a human!"

"I know." Hearing Elizabeth's eager concern, Sean smiled, "I already know her identity."

"No, you don't know!" Elizabeth exclaimed more eagerly. "This is an old passage for the underground world to invade the surface world. People in the underground world have not closed it down, and no one in the surface world knows about it. Existence...The guys in the ground are plotting to attack the surface. This woman is only here to fight the outpost to seize a frontline stronghold!"

Hearing Elizabeth's words, Sean was taken aback for a moment, and his face suddenly changed: At this moment, he finally understood why there were so many inhabitants and creatures of the underground world in the Kingdom of Lane. Why is it that after so many years in the surface world, people in the underground world still know the entire surface environment well, and they are always able to get a good cut into the lives of the residents of the surface world.

It turns out that all of this stems from the active path of the abyss that Elizabeth is trying to seal down!

Then, the path of the abyss that is unilaterally closed in the fortress of the strait, I am afraid it is the backup passage for the residents of the underground world-otherwise, it is impossible to explain why in such a close area, There are actually two paths to the abyss!

The next moment, Sean has pulled out the Black King.

A strong aura suddenly erupted from Sean's body and struck Serena like a hurricane.

And Serena, pulling her hands to the left and right in the air, a transparent wind wall completely blocked Sean's fierce aura that burst out like an actual attack. The sudden collision and explosion of the two auras directly affected the surrounding area tens of meters, and the people who fainted in this area became the victims of the first round of collision between Sean and Serena.

From the momentum of the collision, it is not difficult to see that the strength of Sean and Serena is between them!

It is precisely because of Sean's unreserved blow that Serena also changed her face as if she was awakened: "You are Sean Connery? The Grand Duke of the Void Principality!?"

Chapter 94: .The Duke and the Duke (1)

The blood race has extremely strong combat abilities, especially in terms of agility and strength.

Selena's hands were covered with black scales, and her nails became extremely sharp.

With every movement of her, dozens of afterimages can be pulled out in the air, making it difficult to tell which one is her real body, and the wind pressure caused by the powerful force has also become the remnant. The best cover for shadows.

Fully burst out the advantages of strength and agility.

This kind of fighting method is the most used fighting method of the blood race.

But this kind of fighting technique full of all kinds of decoys and pressure may be okay against other people, but for Sean it is not very effective.

Because Sean does not observe the enemy with the naked eye at all, but uses his own domain perception.

This is the special effect possessed by the domain with the laws of space.

Even if there are more afterimages and clones, as long as they don't have the symbol of a living body, there is no such thing as Sean.

Therefore, when several Serena attacked at various vital points in the front of Sean, Sean did not pay attention to it at all, but directly swung the sword towards the left corner of the back, letting the residual shadows on the front. Through his body.

I saw a flash of black sword light, and a weird metal and iron impact sounded.

The strong counter-shock force was transmitted back from the front of the sword, and Sean took a few steps backwards.

Of course, Serena was also unhappy: she clutched her left hand and also withdrew a few steps.

The eyes of the two looking at each other were full of unconcealable doubts, and the shock hidden under these doubts.

The Black King in Sean's hands seems to be just a well-made high-quality long sword, but in fact, only a few people know that this is a blood artifact that shouldn't exist in the world. Not to mention the personality of the Black King itself, it is also unique in terms of its production materials and craftsmanship, basically there is nothing he can't pierce or cut continuously.

But at the moment of the confrontation with Serena, even if it was just a quick collision attack, Sean knew that Serena's hands were not easily pierced by the Black King-of course he wanted to pierce forcibly. It's not impossible, but it takes countless collisions before it can be born. Even this in itself is a kind of harm to the black king.

After all, the Black King is Sean's bloodline weapon, so what the Black King can feel, and Sean can also know.

This is the reason for Sean's shock.

But compared to Sean's shock, Serena can't simply say that she was shocked, or even shocked.

The blood family has strict rules and strength is everything. Once you become a grand duke, as long as you are not dead, even if you are suppressed by other grand dukes, other duke blood races still dare not easily go to the muddy water. Unless they are on both sides of the hostile, otherwise there will never be a lower-level blood clan daring to challenge the dignity and honor of the upper-level blood clan.

So Serena can become a blood prince, she is not relying on teasing cleverness or tricks, but she really has this powerful fighting power in her own right.

The reason why the Thirteen Clans of the Blood Clan can surpass other clans, in addition to the purity of their own bloodlines, what is really important is that the Thirteen Clans have very special blood talents. These talent abilities are different from the normal kinship talents, and their performance is also strange, but without exception, this ability either has a strong destructive power, or has a strong potential, or has a strong strange characteristic.

Selena's blood talent, named "Blood Stain".

She can condense the blood qi she draws to any part of her body to reinforce her body's strength, and it can also be used to improve her own fighting ability. This is the real reason why Serena was able to become the Grand Duke of the blood family. Her talent of the blood family allowed her to have the power to fight against the blood family of the prince class, so she was able to win the "Crimson Queen" among the blood family. Honorary title.

You should know that blood races with nicknames are basically princes.

But in the collision just now, Serena felt the tingling sensation from the back of her left hand. The sharpness of the awn on the back stimulated Serena's chills. Since she was able to skillfully use the special ability of "Bloodstain", she hadn't felt this kind of fatal threat for a long, long time.

However, the shock of the two sides quickly subsided, and on the surface it still looked like the calm expression that had been expected a long time ago.

Whether it is the manners, expressions, movements, and postures, Sean and Serena seem to be looking in a mirror: they are almost exactly the same, except for their genders.

The next moment, the two chose to attack each other at the same moment.

The blade of the Black King waved a black moon arc in the air and swept straight towards Serena's neck. Only in terms of speed, Sean was not necessarily slower than Serena. However, this kind of attack speed is not too difficult for Serena, her right hand is claws, and she grabs the Black King's sword without hesitation, regardless of the pain in her palm.

Because Serena knew that only in this way would she be able to seize the upper hand of the rhythm of an attack—and in fact, she did.

So after restraining Sean's offensive, Serena's left hand was pointed into a knife and directly pierced towards Sean's heart.

Its speed is so fast that the air has produced a scream of vacuum.

Faced with this deadly attack like a trap, Sean did not panic at all.

With his right hand drawn, the Black King drew out from Serena's right palm as if he was drawing a sword out of its sheath-countless sparks spurted from Serena's right palm, even though Serena increased his grip. , But also completely unable to stop the withdrawal of the Black King, and even the speed of drawing the sword was completely uncontrollable. The only thing that has changed is that the spitting sparks have become a lot more violent, and the tingling sensation from the palm of the hand has become more obvious.

Xiao En withdrew slightly, and the black king on his right hand returned to his chest just right, blocking Serena's blow to her heart.

In the violent impact, Serena only felt that her nails seemed to be broken.

This strange pain constantly stimulated her nerves, causing her brows to wrinkle involuntarily. It's just that she is an attacker after all, so the rhythm is still in her hands, even if it is a bullet knife-a professional term in the game that year, it generally refers to the attack action being directly bounced and forcibly entering a stiff state.

However, for Gaowan, this kind of stiffness is not inevitable.

is as it is now.

Although Serena's left hand that pierced Sean's heart was blocked by the Black King in Sean's hand, it was also bounced away, causing her body to enter a state of "flicking the knife", but her powerful force also forced Sean to have to retreat to relieve the impact of the force that is fed back from the sword. This is equivalent to saying that Sean's best time to counterattack is also lost, but Serena is not a rigid data in the game after all, her right hand can still act!

So the next moment, Serena's right hand pierced towards Sean's heart again.

The scarlet mist had even escaped from Serena's right hand. The strong smell made Sean the first time after coming to this world the feeling of vomiting because of the smell of blood. And soon, Sean felt a dizzy sensation, and even a tingling sensation came from all over his body-without opening the status bar, Sean knew that he was definitely poisoned.

It's just that Sean doesn't understand. He has already obtained the body of silver. This kind of physical improvement necessary for the road to legend can make him immune to almost all the toxins in the world. Why can Serena still be poisoned? ?

But if you don't understand, it doesn't mean you can't understand.

Sean knows that reality and games are ultimately different.

The so-called toxin in the game is just a group of data changes, but in reality, the toxin is not the so-called data. The way of its birth cannot be determined at all, and the body will naturally not produce corresponding serum resistance before it has been infected with toxins once. What's more, this toxin is not a general toxin, but one of Serena's unique kinship talents.

Very poisonous and bloody!

This is a fighting technique specially researched by Serena in cooperation with the blood stain.

In the entire underground world, Serena, the scarlet queen of the Resenba clan, is also a famous figure. Many people who were enemies of Serena either died under Serena's weird multiple figures and terrible power suppression, or fell on Serena's blood-stained hands. Some of the more powerful ones ended up drinking hatred. Above Serena's poisonous blood, few people can escape under Serena's three combat methods.

Not to mention it is forcing Serena to play more hole cards.

Like Sean's almost nasty personality, Serena is also a person who likes to hide the trump card in her hand as a hole card. In the case of being able to solve the opponent with the most direct means, she will never go around the circle without any extra effort, and will often choose the cleanest and neatest method.

But Sean's silver body is not really useless.

After all, was exempted from nearly half the power of the poisonous blood, otherwise, the current Sean would not only feel a little dizzy and a slight tingling sensation in his body. Instead, he would completely lose all fighting ability, and then drank his hatred under Serena's another hand knife.

Yes.

Sean did not fall down.

He held his breath as soon as he noticed the poisoning, and at the same time forcibly activated the adrenal gland stimulation and light body surgery, and even the Entangling Flame that he hadn't used for a long time was activated.

The burning of flames can effectively disperse Serena's * mist, thus achieving an effect similar to that of repelling toxins. Of course, this effect cannot be comparable to professional purification techniques, but Sean doesn't need to completely get rid of these toxins anyway, all he needs is a moment that can give him a buffer.

Without the slightest hesitation, Sean immediately swung his sword towards the right hand that was getting closer and closer to his heart.

Just listen to another sound of metal and iron impact.

Selina's attack on Sean's heart was naturally blocked again.

However, unlike the previous attack, the attack action this time was obviously closer. The air blade turned into by the strong air current ripped off Sean's clothes, revealing Sean's strong chest. But what made Serena a little disappointed was that her attack still failed to achieve merit-from the beginning, she had never thought of digging out Sean's heart, not to mention that she had heard of Sean's reputation. After so long, looking at the actions Sean was able to fight her several times, Serena knew that it was not easy to dig out Sean's heart.

So, her goal is clear, and that is infection.

As long as a wound can appear on Sean's body, then she can inject her blood virus into Sean's body. This is not a first embrace, on the contrary, it is similar to the practice of creating blood slaves, but Serena also knows that it is obviously impossible to convert Sean into a blood slave in this way, but it is always possible to weaken Sean's ability. Okay? With the current evenly matched situation, as long as it can weaken Sean's ability, then Serena has the confidence to capture Sean alive.

Is it going to make Sean a member of the blood clan, or directly become a blood slave to control it? Isn't she the final say?

It's a pity that she still failed to make a wound on Sean's chest with this blow.

Just as Sean didn't know Serena's unique toxic and * ability, Serena didn't know that Sean's body hardness was not comparable to ordinary people. The physical quality of the Silver Body has been strengthened, which greatly strengthened Sean's body hardness. Now it is difficult for Sean's body to be wounded even with demonized weapons, not to mention that Serena's attack is at most Can be regarded as rubbing the edges.

But Sean realized Serena's thoughts from the look of disappointment that flickered in Serena's eyes.

So after the Black King opened Serena's right hand, Sean, who wanted to take advantage of the situation to launch a counterattack, forcibly suppressed his inner desire to attack, and chose to retreat and distance Serena. Just in this way, Sean is tantamount to giving up the opportunity to control the rhythm of the battle in his own hands.

But for this, neither Sean nor Serena felt any regret or pity. It was not just Sean who gave up controlling the rhythm, but Serena also chose to give up. Because she has discovered that Sean is not afraid of the high-speed offensive and defensive combination of speed and strength of the blood, on the contrary, it is better to say that Sean is better at this fighting rhythm.

If it hadn't been from the beginning, Serena hadn't planned to rely on this high-speed fighting rhythm to suppress Sean, I was afraid that Sean would have seized the flaw to fight back.

So, for a short while, Sean and Serena returned to their previous confrontation.

Chapter 95: .The Duke and the Duke (2)

"Grand Duke Void!" Selena's pupils gradually changed from blood red to dark black, and the fierce aura that radiated from her body was slightly weakened. "I have heard of you! With a past that cannot be explored, I have taken refuge in myself. After Asuna G. Evans, she established a strong foundation with unmatched power. She was the greatest contributor to the Principality of Ryan's promotion to the kingdom. Later, she conquered the entire wild land for her own use. After the failure of parliamentary negotiations, the peace parliament was completely destroyed."

"It seems that you are not just as simple as hearing me." Sean chuckled.

This is not the level of "heard". Although the words are concise and concise, it is possible to know that Sean is the biggest contributor to the promotion of the Kingdom of Ryan, and even moreover, the two points of collecting the entire wild land for her own use are enough to prove that Serena is right Sean put a lot of effort into investigating and researching.

So although Sean is smiling at this time, his eyes are extremely cold.

"I know what Grand Duke Shaun wants." Serena's reaction and attitude are almost the same as those of Sean.

also smiled, but was full of murderous aura.

"Oh? I don't even know what I want, how do you know?"

"Grand Duke Shaun joked." On the surface, Serena didn't seem to mean to go to war with Shaun at all. "You want to become the Emperor of the Empire, and now the entire Marvel Continent already knows. But... to break this ancient rule, it may not be an easy task. Just like now, Grand Duke Sean, do you dare to open the fifth battlefield? And, if the coalition forces from far away no longer act together, But if you attack multiple lanes at the same time, can you still guarantee that it is just one battlefield? Maybe it will be the sixth, seventh or even eighth battlefield."

"This, I will bother you." Sean smiled, seemingly still friendly, but his eyes are always looking for the flaws in Serena, "I believe my strategic commander is capable of this. It's a job. It's definitely not the kind of situation you just mentioned."

"However, I have a faster way to solve this problem." Serena smiled.

"What you said, shouldn't it be the previous plan that allowed me to join your noble blood clan and become one of them." Xiao En smiled.

Others may think that the kinship is mysterious and powerful, but how could Sean not know what the so-called kinship is about.

Don't talk about other things, just the information on the underground world published in the game at the beginning, but there are not many information on the six holy blood races at all. Shaun may not know the ethnic groups, ecological environment, habits, etc. of the other underground worlds, but it couldn't be more clear about the six sacred blood races.

Selina could of course also hear the ridicule in Sean's tone, and the killing intent on her body was obviously a lot stronger.

However, even though she was angry at the humiliation of her bloodline, Serena still did not rush into action: "Grand Duke Sean, you are joking. The faster way to solve the problem I am talking about refers to our joint efforts... Although my current ability is limited, at least it will not be worthless. As long as you agree, I will immediately mobilize a unit under the command of the blood knight. And for a long time in the future, I can help You provide a steady stream of blood slaves. In this way, let alone opening up the fifth battlefield, even if you want to open up the sixth and seventh battlefields, you will definitely be satisfied."

The way of war of the blood race is different from that of the surface world.

Because of the special survival mode of the blood race, so-called wars generally rely on blood slaves to consume the vital power of the place. These cannon fodder is completely as much as you want for the blood race, so even if they are all exhausted, it is not distressed for the blood race at all.

Because of this, the most intuitive way to compare the inner strength of a blood clan is to see how many official blood clan members the clan has—that is, the title of knight or higher. And only the combat troops composed of blood knights and titles above can be called the regular troops of the blood clan, and the others are just consumables that can be consumed casually.

After all, the underground world is not a stable world.

can even be said to be a world more chaotic than the surface world.

Not to mention that in addition to the six holy blood races, there are many other underground world residents, races, and monsters. It is just the blood of the six holy blood races, and there are many internal factions and fights. For example, the kinsmen have the divisions of the Devil Party, the Secret Party, and the Presbyterian Church, while the dark elves also have the positions of the Vengeance Party, the Eternal Night Party, and the Reform Party. There is no distinction of standpoints, and the only holy blood races that want to invade the surface world and destroy the surface residents are blood elves and demons. But according to Harding, the demons have gradually begun to support people in the demons in the last few hundred years. The concept of living in peace with the inhabitants of the surface world.

As for the two races of Nerub and Werewolf, both of which belong to the holy blood race, the former doesn't care. As long as they have enough benefits, they don't care whether they are fighting against the inhabitants of the surface or the inhabitants of the underground world. The latter is because of the natural camp position. As long as they are supported by the blood race, they will oppose it, and as long as the blood race is opposed, they will support it. Even the appearance of the elder council party of the blood race is the most typical result of the werewolf splitting the blood race.

Cain, the first clan leader created that year was Resenba.

The full name of is Resenba Cain.

The blood princes who created a new clan will use their name as the name of the clan, and their original surname is the upper one they attached to at the beginning, which is basically equivalent to tacitly acquiescing that the newly created clan will support everything about the old faction. decision making. However, this kinship rule usually becomes invalid when the clan is passed down to the third generation. The most famous one is the Mokawi clan, which was originally one of the founders of the Demon Party faction and belonged to the thirteen kinship clans, for more than five thousand years. Qian suddenly changed the position of the clan and joined the parties in the Council of Elders.

Together with the Mokawi clan, there are hundreds of other clans of different sizes developed from the Mokawi clan. Of course, there are clans that have followed the biggest clan to change their positions, and naturally there are also clans that have left the Mokawi clan and invested in other big clans or have not changed the devil's camp.

But anyway, this change in the position of the thirteen clans has also greatly injured the vitality of the Mokawi clan and the Demons, while the council of elders has grown in one fell swoop.

In a sense, the blood war method is very similar to the dead tide of the undead.

Perhaps it is precisely because of this that the kinsmen in the surface world will become the chase after the pagans in the major churches.

"This proposal is pretty good." Sean seemed to really think about it seriously.

"Really?" Serena's face also showed a more happy expression, "Then, why not let us both join hands?"

Sean smiled and nodded: "Okay."

After that, he really put away the black king, and the killing intent on his body instantly disappeared.

And Serena, the reaction is exactly the same as that of Sean: the murderous aura on her body has completely condensed, and she looks like an elegant noble lady who does not know the world.

"Sean?" Elizabeth exclaimed in disbelief, "She is a kin! A resident of the underground world! She is going to invade the surface world!"

"I know." Xiao En nodded and said with a serious look, "but whether it is invasion or plunder, isn't the essence of it to expand one's own living space? Since it's just to expand one's own living space, There is nothing that cannot be negotiated.... Isn't the Principality of Ryan upgraded to a kingdom and annexed the Kingdom of Darbion for survival? I don't think there is any difference in essence."

"Sean..." Elizabeth looked at Sean incredulously as if she had never known him.

"It seems that you don't understand Grand Duke Sean as much as I do." Serena looked at Elizabeth with a smile, her expression seemed to mock Elizabeth's ignorance and ignorance, "The Void Duke is a very informal person. For him, war is just a means to result. As long as the ultimate goal can be achieved, Lord Sean will not care too much about the process of execution."

Speaking of this, Serena smiled again and turned her head to look at Sean: "Grand Duke Sean, I'm right."

"That's right in theory, Grand Duke Serena." Sean smiled and nodded. He and Serena looked like a pair of confidants who had known each other for a long time. "Of course, there is still a little bit in essence. Small differences. After all, I am a human being, and in many things I will try my best to adopt milder practices."

"So that's the case." Serena suddenly realized, "Then please rest assured, Grand Duke Sean, you can entrust us with these unsuitable things in the future, and our blood family will help you solve these problems. After all, we can't. It's a human being."

"This is naturally the best." Xiao En smiled and walked a few steps forward, and at the same time stretched out his right hand, "I hope we can cooperate happily."

"Of course." Serena also smiled and walked towards Sean, and at the same time stretched out her right hand.

At the moment when both parties are about to shake hands!

Selina's killing intent suddenly burst out, and blood that seemed to be dark instantly covered her hands, becoming hard as iron. Immediately afterwards, her right hand grabbed to Sean's right wrist without hesitation, obviously to control Sean's movements so that she could not hold the sword with her right hand-at this time, Sean's right hand was empty. , The Black King has also been taken back into the scabbard by Sean, how could Serena miss such a good opportunity?

And her left hand pierced towards Sean's heart very neatly. This time she deliberately strengthened the blood-stained power on the fingertips of her left hand.

In Serena's view, cooperating with Sean is there no big benefit to controlling Sean in her hands!

But it's a pity that Sean's ideas are almost the same as Serena's.

If he is a real lord, a lord with ambition and desire for power, then he is really likely to cooperate with Serena, even the entire blood family, and the entire underground world to create a win-win victory for each other. situation.

But Shaun is not a simple lord.

Behind the identity of this lord, he is still a son of the plane.

Although the kinsmen and the underground world are also part of this world plane, if they are really allowed to drag the entire surface world into the quagmire of war, then this is also a kind of destruction to the world's original power. Now the World of Miracles is already troublesome enough-Lake's skeletal invasion event has not ended yet, the Southern Continent is completely plunged into the quagmire of war, and the Maggie Empire and the St. Joel's Empire on the Northern Continent are also in constant friction.

If you let the people of the underground world run out to make a fuss, the fun will be really great.

So, cooperating with the kinsmen to plot the entire surface world, it is possible to reach an agreement with any one person, and it is impossible to cooperate with Sean alone.

Therefore, at the moment when Serena burst out of killing intent and tried to control Sean, Sean was also planning to control and even kill Serena.

Shaun's left hand grasped the hilt of the Black King's sword and directly drew the Black King out of its sheath. For Shaun today, he is no longer just the swordsman who could only swing the sword with his dominant hand. Whether it is left hand or right hand, Sean can easily use sword skills, which is also the ability brought by "Juggernaut".

So there is no suspense, the black king's blade easily blocked Serena's left hand that pierced Sean's heart. And Sean's right hand is also stuck with Serena's right hand-in line with Serena's idea, Sean also intends to clamp Serena's right hand and control it at the moment of shaking hands. .

Faced with this result, both of them were a little dazed.

Obviously, I didn't expect it to be so "in sync".

And this synchronization is even more amazing in the eyes of bystanders, such as Elizabeth.

Whether it is Sean or Serena, the acting skills of the two have reached the level of being fake- at least Elizabeth really believes that the two grand princes really want to cooperate. So that at the moment when the two of them were about to say something to each other, a sudden 360 degree change, from a sincere smile to a violent fight, Elizabeth has not been able to fully understand what happened. .

"Shameless!" Both Sean and Serena scolded in unison, "The good cooperation is happy!"

Not only does the expression, thoughts, and actions have "god synchronization", even the dialogue is like looking at a mirror.

If it weren't for the two people's clothing, gender, appearance, and race, Elizabeth would think it was Sean's schizophrenia.

At least until today, she had never imagined that there would be a second person in this world who was as shameless, cunning and sinister as Sean. And she was still a woman, a blood prince from the underground world.

Chapter 96: .The Duke and the Duke (3)

The atmosphere in the cave is a bit weird.

This atmosphere is full of heavy, stagnant, hostile and many other emotional atmospheres, but the only thing that is not is embarrassment.

I can't say no, at least Elizabeth, who witnessed the whole process, did feel a little embarrassed. But as the two parties involved, Sean and Serena seem to have no such emotions at all. The two are still wrestling with each other, and at the same time they are telling each other's shamelessness and lack of credit, but it is a pity that both sides are powerless. He was still agile, and he was completely unable to win the opponent, so the situation became more and more weird.

"I think there may be some misunderstanding in this." Sean slightly reduced his murderous intent and said while looking at Serena with a smile.

seemed to feel the sincerity of Sean, Serena also reduced the killing intention by two points, her face flushed: "Well, I think so."

"How could a beautiful beauty like Grand Duke Serena want to kill me?" Sean once again reduced his intention to kill by two points, "There must be some misunderstanding among us, I think it will be fine as long as the misunderstanding is eliminated. ."

"I think so too." Serena smiled and nodded, exhaling. "How wise and decisive, Duke Shaun, is the type I admire most. So I absolutely believe in your words. ."

At this moment, the two sides can be said to have close face-to-face contact with zero distance.

The warm breath exhaled when they talked to each other, and the other party could very clearly feel the heat transfer.

This is a rather ambiguous, ambiguous and fascinating scene, especially Serena is still obviously intentional to seduce Sean-from the perspective of normal human aesthetics, Serena can definitely belong to the country. The beauties of the allure: whether it's figure, appearance, temperament, or conversation, it is definitely a rare existence. Even Elizabeth had to admit that Serena was indeed a woman who was very easy to make people's heart-throwing her kinship identity.

From the original competition and scolding to each other's compliments and compliments, Elizabeth can no longer keep up with the thinking rhythm of these two people.

A second ago, they were still full of murderous intentions, and they wanted to destroy each other.

In the next second, the two men's murderous aura spread, as if they were close to each other.

"Since the misunderstanding is solved, let's have a good talk." Xiao En said with a smile, "Grand Duke Selena, you have to believe in my sincerity."

"Master Sean is full of sincerity, of course I believe it." Serena also smiled happily, "Is there anyone who can pay more attention to credibility than Grand Duke Sean? I think it is absolute in this world. There won't be any more."

"Although I am very embarrassed, I really have to admit this." Sean nodded seriously, "Why not, please put your hands down first, Grand Duke Selena, if you shave such beautiful nails If you spend it, it would be a pity."

"I think so too." Serena nodded in agreement, "However, please also ask Grand Duke Sean to put away the sword. Such a sharp sword, a weak woman like me will feel it. I'm afraid."

"Haha." Sean and Serena both laughed at the same time.

However, the movement of the hand did not mean the slightest convergence. What was the situation of the previous confrontation, the situation at this moment is the same: Serena has not stopped, and Sean has not closed the sword.

"..." Xiao En and Serena glanced at each other, but they didn't see the other party's intention to stop, so they looked at each other tacitly and smiled.

In the smile, there is no embarrassment, only sincerity.

"Grand Duke Sean, gentleman is a virtue." Serena spoke again.

"I know." Sean nodded, "So I have to be polite....Ladies first."

"hehe."

There was another unnutritious chuckle, but the two still didn't have any intention to stop. Although there was no killing intent on the two of them at this moment, even if they did not look at the confrontation between the two, people who did not know would definitely think that two aristocratic teenagers and girls who were a little shy were showing love to each other.

"Grand Duke Shaun, you must pay attention to your sense of measure."

seemed to find it boring to continue to entangle like this, so Serena suddenly spoke after a moment of silence, and the strength in her hand was slightly weakened.

This kind of weakening is not big, it just takes a little bit of strength.

But this is indeed a way of giving priority.

At the moment when Serena regained her strength, Sean already felt the change in power. He did not take the opportunity to suppress it. Instead, he showed extremely superb control: at the moment Serena's strength weakened, Sean's power was also weakened. The same converges by one point. So the two of them returned to the previous evenly matched confrontation situation again, and there was no confrontation inclination due to the weakening of Serena's strength.

"I have already expressed my sincerity, so next..." Serena smiled and did not finish her words.

"Of course, of course." Sean nodded, and then his strength began to weaken. "Of course I understand this kind of thing."

As Sean's power weakened again by one point, Serena also kept up, but her control was obviously not as accurate as Sean, and she could reach the level of complete transmission and reception. However, although it was a little slower, it did not destroy the tacit understanding between each other, but still maintained this fragile balance.

In this way, the strength of the two is weakening each other, and the wrestling between each other is quickly over.

In just a few seconds, the strength of Sean and Serena had weakened to the point where only one point remained.

At this time, it was Serena's turn to weaken her strength again. And once she weakened her strength, as long as Sean also closed her hands, the two sides would return to the previous state of confronting each other without breaking out.

"Then, Grand Duke Sean, I'm going to let go." Serena said.

"Well, I'm ready too." Sean nodded with a serious expression, "It's great to be able to resolve the misunderstanding with Grand Duke Serena."

"I think so too." Serena also said with a serious face, "If Sean-sama is also a member of the blood clan, I am afraid that it will really fascinate a lot of people."

After that, Serena's strength began to slowly weaken, and Sean, who felt Serena's strength began to relax, also slowly withdrew his left hand.

Next second.

"boom!"

A terrible force shocked and fluctuated, and instantly burst out with Serena and Sean as the core.

The shock wave of this force is more than ten times stronger than the shock wave produced by the two before the battle. Almost in the blink of an eye, a strong air current directly shattered the surrounding ground tens of meters, and the dust generated from the rupture of the ground even enveloped the surrounding world into a deserted world. Sean and Serena both The human figure completely disappeared from Elizabeth's sight.

However, although the figures of the two temporarily disappeared, their voices did not stop because of this.

After a short silence, Serena and Sean said in unison again: "Shameless!"

However, after this anger, Serena was the first to explode: "Damn! Is this your gentleman behavior? At the last moment, there was a sudden burst of power. If it were not for my quick reaction, I would have died in you. The sword is under! What about your credibility?"

"Quick response? This is really a joke. If it weren't for your sudden burst of power, how could there be such a result?" Sean retorted unwillingly. Far away, he stabbed at my neck again! Is this your sincerity?"

"You are too embarrassed to tell me sincerely?" Serena roared, "Who made it with a sword suddenly? You shameless person!"

"If it weren't for you to pierce my heart, how could I attack you!" Xiao En scolded likewise, "I really didn't see a duke who had no integrity like you. I clearly said it was a misunderstanding. In the end, you actually Do something secretly!"

"You humans are indeed a group of cunning guys, talking about friendship and misunderstandings, while continuing to stabbing knives in the back."

When the dust that filled Elizabeth's sight gradually subsided, Elizabeth was finally able to see the situation of Sean and Serena at the moment.

The distance between the two people is much closer than before. It can almost be said that their faces are close to each other. But they didn't see the charming, charming and ambiguous look just now, but the two men looked at each other glaringly.

And their right hands are still holding each other tightly-even though it looks like they have interlocking fingers, judging from the reddish knuckles, they are obviously wrestling. As for the left hand-Sean's left hand is still holding the Black King upside down, but the sword's edge is skewed a little bit compared to the previous one, and it swept straight towards Serena's white and delicate neck; the same as it is. Yes, Serena's left hand is also grabbing towards Sean's carotid artery.

As a result, this sword once again collided with one hand.

This time, even stupid people have already seen it.

Not to mention Elizabeth is not a stupid person.

Whether it is Sean or Serena, they are obviously not kind: while the two people are talking flattering words to each other, while pretending that they have relaxed their vigilance, and then at the same time choose the weak time that each other thinks is the best to initiate to each other A fatal attack.

I just didn't expect that the so-called best time would be another crash. As a result, Sean and Serena's attacking intentions were once again exposed: After a short period of consternation, the two naturally began to curse and accuse each other again, spurning each other's credibility.

But in Elizabeth's view, these two people are obviously the same thing: it must be black if you cut your heart.

From the beginning, the two people thought about how to yin each other. As for the negotiation, cooperation, and misunderstanding, it is simply nonsense.

In fact, Elizabeth has never seen a politician who can take such shamelessness and conspiracy to such a degree for granted. There is not even a trace of embarrassment. Even if they are exposed face to face, they are constantly attacking. other side.

At least in Elizabeth's opinion, if she suddenly moves a knife behind someone but is seen through, she will definitely feel very embarrassed.

——Perhaps, this is the reason why Sean is able to be so successful?

At this time, Elizabeth suddenly had such an insight. She was totally unaware that the three views she had formed over the years were undergoing a terrible reshaping process.

Sean and Serena's trash talk continues, and there is no end to it. In the same way, the wrestling between the two naturally did not mean anything to end. On the contrary, it was better to say something intensified. The blue veins could be seen on the faces of both of them. There is no such thing as the previous aristocracy. He is elegant and calm, and even the content of the scolding gradually began to become a little vulgar.

After a while.

The two people who were cursing each other seemed to feel tired, and their cursing began to gradually stop.

"If we continue like this, it doesn't seem to do us any good." At the stall where he took a breather and rested, Sean suddenly said.

But this time, Serena didn't mean to answer, and she didn't know if she was disdainful or was too lazy to respond.

"This time, let's stop here." Sean said, "Let me take Elizabeth and my men. I don't care about the others.... But you have one week to prepare, and one week later, about this abyss. I will definitely spread the news about the path."

"A week?" Serena whispered softly, "Yes.... I can't do anything with you, you can't do the same with me, and now this place is almost destroyed, will this path of the abyss continue? It doesn't make sense to exist. It can be said that our invasion plan this time has been completely destroyed by you."

"Then stop each other." Xiao En said, his face was not as frivolous and laughing, and some were just serious and serious, "To be honest, I really can't do anything against a beauty like you."

"I don't want to deal with a man like you anymore." Serena said coldly, "You can take that woman and your subordinates, and I will bring everyone else back to the underground world.... This time there is nothing. The blood knight stays on the surface, but I don't bother to pay attention to the blood slaves. You can solve it by yourself."

"Yes." Xiao En nodded, and then actually stopped first.

Selena also stopped at the moment when Sean stopped, and did not take the opportunity to attack.

It seems that they have reached a consensus with each other, knowing that to continue like this is just a waste of time and energy.

"Look, I'm still a gentleman." A rare smile appeared on Sean's face, "I never beat women."

"I can see it." Serena smiled and nodded. "A man like you, Grand Duke Sean, I really don't want to fight. With such an ending, I think I can give them an explanation when I go back. ."

After saying that, Serena stretched out her right hand: "I hope I won't see you again."

"I think so too." Sean also stretched out his right hand and shook hands with Serena, which was a kind of peace.

But perhaps it is a hostile relationship with each other. The two handshake didn't take long. It can almost be said that they loosened each other with a light touch.

Although both of them have smiles on their faces, they are obviously disgusting eyes that never want to see each other again-of course, they are both hidden in the deepest part of their eyes.

Then the next moment.

Sean suddenly slammed a punch and slammed it directly into Serena's face-not that he didn't want to use the sword, but that the Black King had been taken back into the scabbard. If he pulled it out at this time, it was obviously too late. And it will definitely make Serena defensive. Therefore, Sean will choose the most straightforward attack method: use his fist to solve the problem.

It's just that.

After Sean's punch hit Serena's face, before he started to pursue him, he felt that his face seemed to be hit by the iron-horned rhino, and the whole person flew out in an instant. At the moment when Sean flew out, what Shaun saw from the corner of his eye was the punch that Serena had thrown when he flew out.

Same as Sean considered.

Selena knew that if she used blood stains, the time would never be too late, and she would definitely be noticed by Sean, so she also chose the most intuitive attack method: fists.

At this time, the two people flying upside down have only one inner thought: this despicable and shameless bitch!

While Elizabeth witnessed the whole process, her inner thoughts were: Are these two brothers and sisters?

Chapter 97: .The Duke and the Duke (4)

Fly upside down while Sean is still in the air, a bright red light and shadow accidentally appeared beside Sean, revealing his hideous fangs!

This person is surprisingly Luo who has disappeared for a long time!

At this time, although Luo's appearance has not changed significantly, his eyes are blood red, and his mouth has fangs. There is a clear difference between his speed and what Shaun had seen before. All this fully demonstrated that Luo was obviously embraced for the first time, and had fundamentally transformed from a human into a member of the blood clan.

As far as the assassin's technical level is concerned, Luo deserves to be someone who was once seen by the Assassin Alliance.

The timing he chose for the assassination of Sean happened to be when Sean was blown away by Serena, and his body was completely out of balance. In this state, even Sean cannot fully organize effective defenses, and can only resist damage with the strength of his body. Of course, for a strong person like Sean, this kind of physical imbalance is at best. It will last one to two seconds.

I saw Luo appearing next to Xiao En, and moving as Xiao En flew upside down. He held a dark red dagger in his hand, and there was something on it that was not solidified and completely shaken. Blood stains. Without the slightest hesitation, Luo suddenly applied force, and the dark red dagger pierced directly into Xiao En's heart.

The blood-colored luster emerged from Luo's body, which was obviously not the ability that blood slaves should possess.

Is a unique ability of the blood race!

At this moment, Sean finally knew that after Luo defected to the Assassin Alliance, he had passed the most dangerous period of time, and he could grow to such a height, and he would even have to follow Serena's instructions.

It turned out that Luo was already a member of the blood family from the beginning!

A kinship baron!

"Roar!"

The angry roar sounded at the moment Luo's dagger was about to stab Sean.

A shock wave of air visible to the naked eye appeared beside Sean.

Affected by this shock wave, Luo's facial features were distorted, and the muscle layer of his body even began to oscillate like a wave. The next moment, the whole person was directly stunned by the shock wave, and fell heavily to the ground, showing an unnatural distortion of his body.

But the weird thing is that Luo in this situation is still alive, even though he still has a breath, but with the abnormal self-healing ability of the blood clan, who can be sure that he will really die.

In the air, as if a pebble was thrown into a calm lake, ripples began to sway circle after circle.

Sean was suspended in front of the rippling ripples: a huge, fluffy tail, caught Sean, did not let him fall to the ground, but gently entangled it, and then Put it on the ground. Immediately afterwards, a huge giant wolf stepped out from the ripples, and its elegant posture was as shining and bright as a king.

Tooth of nothingness.

This Void Beast, which possesses the strength equivalent to the legendary powerhouse, has always followed Xiao En's side to act, but without Xiao En's command, it would not appear. The previous time Sean contacted the people in the Void Realm, and gave the latest decision instruction, and Sean used the power of the Void Fang to hide his figure to explain it.

This huge monster is actually not very good at combat abilities, so Sean did not expose his existence. However, if it is to deal with a blood baron like Luo, Void Fang can definitely do it easily. After all, the difference in strength between the two sides is too big, this is no longer a place that skills or technology can make up, but if it is to deal with Serena, then the huge Void Fang will be the one that will be ravaged instead.

"Is this what you said there is no blood knight?" As soon as Xiao En stood still, he directly cursed, "A baron came directly, and there is a black hand lurking."

The soreness from the nose made Sean feel a little annoyed, Serena started to be darker than him, and actually hit the nose directly. If it weren't for Sean's special physique, I'm afraid Serena's punch would be enough to make Sean unconscious, of course, if it were an ordinary person, I'm afraid that even the head would be blown after the punch.

"You have the face to say this?" Serena landed steadily with a backflip, but Sean also shot with all his strength, so Serena still grinds out a long crack on the ground, "It sounds like you didn't hide It's like a black hand. None of us is better than anyone else."

Selena kept rubbing her left cheek.

Shawn's punch was not as good as Serena's frontal due to the angle, so it hit Serena's left face and blasted it out completely. At this time, Serena's left cheek was swollen, and not only the corners of her mouth were bleeding, but her cheeks and lips seemed to be distorted.

is just what the blood race is best at, that is, it has extremely terrible self-healing ability.

As Serena continued to rub her face gently, the terrible distortion and redness quickly disappeared, and then she returned to her previous white, delicate and beautiful face. It's just that compared with the elegant beauty before, Serena now has a sullen aura, and the whole person exudes a majestic and strong aura, which is no less than that of Sean's unique high-ranking aura. Let's get more.

This is Serena, the true aura of the Scarlet Queen.

"You said it was Xiaofang?" Xiao En stretched out his hand and patted the Void Tooth standing next to him, "I didn't let him attack you. On the contrary, it was you who still thought about getting black hands. No wonder I haven't Seeing Luo's figure, sure enough, your blood clan couldn't believe it."

"Ro is not my subordinate, I have no right to order him to do anything." Serena said coldly, "It is his own consciousness and behavior that he wants to kill you, and it has nothing to do with me. I am a dignified man of blood. , It's not enough to do such a humble behavior. On the contrary, it's Grand Duke Sean. You have always advertised yourself as a gentleman. Beating a woman is not a gentleman's behavior."

"Yes, I said I don't hit women." Sean nodded seriously, "And I really didn't hit women."

Selina's eyes narrowed slightly, and she couldn't understand what Shaun meant: it meant that she was not a woman, or that she was not a human being. Regardless of the former or the latter, this subtext is not the answer Serena likes to hear, and the most important thing is that before today, she had never suffered such a big loss or suffered such a big humiliation.

If you can turn back time, Serena will never invite Sean to join the team in the black market of Pointe-Noire.

"Grand Duke Sean really doesn't know how to pity and cherish jade." Selena took a deep breath. Although she was very upset, there was still no fluctuation in her face, "I think there is nothing to say between us."

"That's not necessarily." Sean interrupted Serena, looking at Serena with a smile on his face, "It is possible to meet such a beautiful lady as Grand Duke Serena, I think we still have a lot of topics to discuss. ...There is a saying, oh, yes, it's called 'fateful encounter.' You see, when you invited me to join your team in the black market in Pointe Noire, it was a destined encounter between us. Ah. Well, I think this is the fate between us."

Go to the fateful encounter of Teme!

Go to Tema's fate!

Serena really wanted to swear, but in the face of Sean, she didn't want to be so weak, so she still kept a smile on her face, and said with a reserved face: "Duke Sean is really joking. Before. He also said that I am not a woman, and now that I was destined to encounter with me. Could it be that Grand Duke Sean has a strong taste? I have always heard that the nobles in the human world are very unique. Once. But it's a pity...Selena, I don't like humans with such heavy tastes."

"Grand Duke Serena is really humorous." The blue veins on Sean's forehead popped, "Compared with the habits and tastes of your blood race, human beings are simply holy angels."

"Well, what's this smell? It smells." Serena did not respond to Sean's topic, because the darkness and evil tastes of the blood family are basically known to the world. If you argue about this topic, Serena Knowing the extent of Sean's poisonous tongue is definitely humiliating himself.

"It smells really good." Sean nodded with approval, and at the same time made the same nose-covering gesture as Serena, "Grand Duke Serena, your strong body odor is really unbearable. No wonder you can. People who don't like heavy tastes."

"Hehe." Serena made a laugh, but the murderous intent in her eyes was obviously stronger. "Grand Duke Sean, you are really funny. But being with you is really not afraid of boredom and loneliness, even the surrounding people. The environment should be much quieter. Thanks to your breath, all the surrounding creatures can be smothered to death."

Sean and Serena glanced at each other, and then there was a burst of hearty and friendly laughter together-if you ignore the murderous intent escaping from the two of them, and the dialogue that attacked each other, it might be true It is a very friendly picture.

However, in Elizabeth's eyes, she saw two viperous snakes spitting out snake letters with their heads held high, making piercing hissing noises.

But this situation did not last long.

Sean and Serena, both of them suddenly did it again without warning.

The original language confrontation between the two gradually became vulgar and vulgar, especially as the attack level increased, the two began to fight with a blushing neck and a thick neck, which seemed to be a complete abandonment of martial arts, and a literary fight. Situation.

But no one thought that in such a situation of confrontation, the two men would suddenly start their hands again-all this came so without warning, completely beyond the only audience here:

Elizabeth's imagination. She found that she couldn't keep up with the thinking of Sean and Serena at all, which caused her to be unable to predict what the two men would do next.

Obviously, the winners and losers should be distinguished in the constant fighting, but the two seem to have no intention of winning or losing, and they will choose to stop when they are in a balance of power.

But this kind of closing is not the end. The two will always use various methods to disturb the other's mind, and then kill when it is completely impossible to do it.

Along with this completely jumpy and illogical tit-for-tat, the behavior of these two men seemed strangely weird and absurd, but it turned out to be such absurdity. Instead, they produced many completely similar reactions and attitudes. The first thing to bear is that both of them are shameless and shameless enough, no matter what the situation is, they can't make them feel shame and embarrassment at all.

In the fourth confrontation, Sean and Serena seemed to have a real fire.

Neither of their attacks this time meant to keep their hands, unlike before, they were slightly restrained and did not cause too much damage to the surroundings.

But this time, the collision between the two suddenly broke out, and the resulting airflow directly lifted the surrounding ground to a depth of several meters. Many people who were unconscious and had no time to dodge were very simply with Sean and Serena. The shock wave generated by the fighting between the two was torn to pieces. Probably the most unlucky among them was Phil. This sloppy middle-aged man was directly blown into a cloud of blood without knowing it.

Although Anna was also injured a bit, the situation between her and the big man is a little better, but it seems that the injuries are a little more serious, at least not dead.

And Luo was also very unfortunate to be buried in this shock storm. After all, the place where he was blown out by the Void Fang happened to be within the direct range of the battle between Sean and Serena. In this kind of geographic location, even if he is a high-ranking blood clan, he absolutely must hate on the spot.

Elizabeth has been trying her best to suppress the energy surge of the path of the abyss to prevent someone from running out of the underground world.

Originally, Sean and Serena would avoid this place subconsciously, but this time the confrontation between the two did not mean to avoid the slightest, so this intensified Elizabeth's power consumption-she had to put multiple protections for herself to resist The energy shock of these two lunatics.

But before she could continue to strengthen her protection, she suddenly felt a whirl of heaven and earth-Void Fang directly broke through Elizabeth's protective layer, and then picked her up, together with the surrounding Void Realm intelligence that could be rescued. The personnel, Anna, and the big man are all together, as if the mouth of Void Tooth is a different-dimensional space that can accommodate all of them.

After saving these people, Void Tooth immediately escaped into the void again, and left here following Xiao En's instructions.

Seeing her prey suddenly run away, Serena subconsciously wants to chase.

But Sean didn't mean to intercept Serena at all. Instead, he turned and rushed towards the path of the abyss. Intense power began to surge from Sean, which was a symbol of the world's origin power that Sean had begun, because his current power alone was not enough to make a powerful attack to destroy the path of the abyss.

Feeling the tyrannical power fluctuations on Sean's body, Serena's heart jumped suddenly, as if the blood was about to stagnate.

Looking back, he saw that Sean had gathered an extremely astonishing force.

"Sean!" Serena let out a sharp scream, and the shock of the sound wave even began to affect the surrounding space, turning into a fierce attack towards Sean.

However, this sonic attack has not yet been applied to Xiao En's body, it has been directly shielded by the powerful power emanating from Xiao En's body at this time.

After that, Sean didn't care about everything else at all, and waving his hand was a path to the abyss.

A huge black beam of light with a diameter of even more than ten meters, erupted directly from the black king, and then shot into the path of the abyss. At this moment, the path of the abyss, which originally exuded a blue luster, heard a horrible howling. It seemed that someone was trying to enter the surface through the path of the abyss, but it turned out that he completely endured this face of Sean. Hit, it was directly torn in the path of the abyss.

The next moment, a strong explosion sounded one after another from the path of the abyss, and countless cracks began to spread across the barriers of the path of the abyss.

The entire path of the abyss has begun to collapse!

But after this strong blow, the blood on Sean's face disappeared completely, and it was a bit difficult even to float in mid-air. But soon, ripples appeared in the air again. It was obvious that the Void Tooth that had sent people out of the ground came back to pick up Sean—this was also Sean's previous plan, because he knew that by himself, It is impossible to suppress the blood prince Serena.

So Sean was very straightforward, and gave up the battle plan to kill Serena, and instead set the target on the path of the abyss.

In some cases, Serena and Sean are indeed very similar, whether it is a change of thinking, or action, decision-making, imagination, etc., even the degree of black belly, the degree of insidiousness, and even the ingenuity and tactics. , Vision, psychological judgment, etc., are almost completely similar. Under such circumstances, neither Serena nor Sean can rely on their own experience to solve each other.

Sean's success in deceiving Serena's attention lies in Serena's failure to anticipate Sean's true identity-as the son of the plane, Sean's consideration of the starting point and interests of things will naturally not follow the noble's. One set to consider. Because of this, Serena will focus on saving Elizabeth's Void Tooth, and Sean also used this moment of distraction to forcibly destroy the path of the abyss.

After , it was at the moment when Serena took advantage of her weakness to launch an attack, and fled with the Void Fang.

But Sean, after all, underestimated Serena.

Just as Sean has the courage to use his life as bait to forcibly destroy the path of the abyss. How could Serena, who is so similar to Sean, lack courage? With the help of the powerful impulse generated when the blood stain erupted completely, she did not hesitate to plunge herself into a state of serious injury, forcibly, one second before the Void Fang picked up Shaun, she slammed into Shaun who was already unable to maintain a floating state. Dragging Sean's back to the ground where high-temperature flames spewed from the explosion!

Chapter 98: .Guards

"The circumstances of this war have been dragging on for a little while."

In the combat meeting room, William's face looked a little haggard, not at all as energetic as before.

Sitting around the conference table are the generals responsible for the attack on Torus Fortress. Of course, there are not many humans, basically all orcs, half-orcs, and elves. The barbarian chiefs dared to rush into battle, but when it comes to discussing tactics with them, it is really a very ridiculous behavior. So William's approach to these people was to tell them when and what to do, which turned out to be surprisingly good.

As for William's words, the people present did not quite understand, and therefore they did not open their mouths to express any thoughts or opinions.

A few days ago, they tried to advance the line, but they hadn't advanced one kilometer before they were stopped by Alexis.

Far apart, Alexis and Kozilek felt the powerful fluctuations in power. If you go further, I am afraid that something less optimistic will happen. In this regard, William had no choice but to give up. After all, with his current strength and relying on the death tactics to push it up, I am afraid it would not be enough for the opponent to consume.

You should know that the Chenas Empire also stopped before this fortress.

As for the underpass plan, the current situation is also quite difficult.

Torus Fortress engraved large-scale solid magic, strengthening the entire fortress and the surrounding several kilometers of ground and the depth of 500 meters underground. Although this is not impossible to crack, it takes a very long time and is far from a problem that can be solved in a short time. At least it will take one or two months to dig such a channel. But in this process, once it is discovered, then the consequences can be imagined.

"From the news from the Void Realm, the Fascist Kingdom seems to have been completely unable to resist the step by step pressing of the Zenas Empire. It is expected that the entire line will collapse in at most three months. In the end, only the Fortress of Torus is left. The only line of defense is laid out." William said in a deep voice, then put the report in his hand on the conference table and distributed it to others. Even if only a small group of people can understand it, the respect for William We must do everything, "At that time, if we want to occupy the majority of the interests, it will be completely impossible."

"That's nothing to lose." Someone said, it was a half-orc, representing a barbarian tribe in the Wildlands, who came to the meeting, "Anyway, our loss is not big, and it is definitely impossible for this kingdom to continue. Existed, now it's a victory for us."

William sighed helplessly.

Because Thorus Fortress has been unable to approach, so we can only carry out some sweeping and looting around this line of defense. Only in terms of the results of the battle, the gains of the Void Principality this time are not small, so the wild tribes participating in the war feel a bit of satisfaction, so naturally there is no intention to harden Toru. The hard bones of the Fortress.

As for Alexis and Kozilek, they can only block the bombardment of the Magic Crystal Cannon at most once, but the next third shot will definitely cause them to lose one person. This loss is not something William can bear, because he knows very well that the most critical point for the Void Principality to truly become an empire and gain a firm foothold lies in the three superpowers under Sean now.

If you don't have these super powers, then even if you can accumulate enough background, it will not help. On the contrary, because the Void Principality is big enough, it will attract more wolves to look around. The first to bear the brunt is the Millennium Covenant Empire and the Chenas Empire. William knows the mentality of these empires very well. The cooperation is only based on the unwillingness to bear too much loss, but once the Void Principality is unable to show the unique strength of the empire, the Zenus Empire will definitely not mind taking a bite.

Even if Jason, the * of war, can be trusted, the high-levels of the First Empire in the East will definitely not let it go.

In addition to this, there is the most important point, William can't tell these wild tribe people.

That is Qi Yun.

The Void Principality wants to be directly upgraded to an empire, and it needs a little bit of energy. And this point can only be perfectly supplemented after the fortress of Torus is breached-if the fortress of Torus is not in front of William, he does not want to chew on this difficult bone. Unless he is given more troops or more time, he will be able to completely conquer this fortress.

But on the contrary, what he lacks most now is these two things.

Because of the opening of the four battlefields, the Void Principality has not only been stretched out, but even the support of logistics lines has become a major problem. William even felt that if he were a general of the Kingdom of Line, he would definitely lead his troops to raid the Void City at this time, and even occupy the territory of the Void Principality outside the fortress of the Straits, completely cutting off the Void Principality's troops. logistics.

William mentioned this concern in his letter to Neal, but he only mentioned it slightly. Because apart from Sean and William, no one knew that Neil was not only good at internal affairs, he also had terrible talent and vision in the military. After all, William was also regarded as an apprentice taught by Neil.

But now, these are not things he should take care of. The most important thing for him now is to take down the Thorus Fortress as soon as possible.

So soon, William began to issue new combat orders during this temporary combat meeting.

In fact, these combat orders are still simple and old-fashioned: implement military blockades on several main roads around Thorus Fortress to ensure that no materials can be transported into Thorus Fortress. Then continue to looting the surrounding cities and villages, and stop all killings before the lives of our soldiers are not endangered. After all, after the establishment of the Void Empire, it will require a large labor force. These prisoners of war will be the future source of labor for the Void Empire.

Although Sean banned the slave trade and slavery, the punishment for prisoners of war was still the same as that of other countries on the mainland. Only the slave treatment of captives has been abolished, but this point remains the same for non-free people. It's just that if these prisoners of war work hard enough, they can still regain their status as freedmen by virtue of their own ability, and once they are converted from prisoners of war to freemen, they can also get some policy preferential treatment.

Since the start of the war against the Fascist Kingdom, except for the slaughter tactics implemented at the beginning to involve the defensive net, the Void Duchy has ransacked the population of millions of people in more than ten territories of the Fascist Kingdom. These people were continuously transported into the wild land through logistical routes, and were used as labor to participate in the construction of various cities, fortresses, and defensive strongholds in the wild land.

This is the strategic plan constructed by Hela, Neil, and William: to accelerate the growth of the void empire through war.

Although this requires a considerable amount of manpower to take care of prisoners of war and prevent rebellion, after this plan has now gradually been put on track, the speed of the construction of the Void Empire has obviously accelerated a lot. In particular, the source of troops has also been supplemented quite a bit. Although there is still a big gap between becoming a real soldier and an elite force, a perfect reserve force mechanism has been thoroughly established.

As long as this series of wars are calmed down, the Void Principality only needs a short period of development time to become a truly powerful empire comparable to the five ancient empires.

No matter who it is, they know that the Void Principality must not be allowed to spend this time. However, under the tactics of William and Hela and others, no one can stop it, because the two empires closest to the Void Principality and most threatening to the Void Principality have their own troubles at this time, and the small ones around At best, the country can only make the current Void Principality feel a little troublesome, but this level of trouble is not even tricky.

It can even be said that the reason for the trouble is purely because the timing of these jumping clowns is so good. If it weren't for the three main forces of the Void Principality to be dragged down by the Fascist Kingdom, the Undead Army, and the Southern Allied Forces, then where would the Kingdom of Line, the United Nations of the Karossa Tribe, and the Robin Knight State run out to make trouble.

Just as William issued the new strategic plan order, the curtain of this combat meeting room was suddenly opened roughly.

Since a cold wind entered from outside the camp, the temperature in the entire tent dropped by more than ten degrees.

This low temperature is not the normal seasonal temperature, but almost turned into real murderous aura.

Several guards hiding the tent to protect the tent immediately appeared from various places, including even a former peace council executive who was subdued by Sean.

However, when these people saw that the intruder was Alexis, they were immediately stunned.

"You all leave first." William frowned.

He knows the identity of Alexis, even he must maintain sufficient respect for this super power. But he knew very well that Alexis would never interfere in all his military actions. On the contrary, if it was his own request, Alexis and Kozilek would cooperate as much as possible. At this time, knowing that they had entered here without any notification during the combat meeting, it proved that there must be something urgent for Alexis.

After hearing William's words, everyone in the camp stood up and saluted, and then left one by one.

After everyone had left, Alexis said, "I will be away for a while."

"Leave?" William was really stunned this time, "Did Shaun have any troubles over there?"

Alexis, Kozilek, Uramo, and Noro are all Sean's attendants. William knows this very well, even though he doesn't know where Sean got these three superpowers. , But this is not something he needs to consider. As the military commander of the Void Principality, and even the future Void Empire, what he has to do now is to take down the Fortress of Thorus, and before that, Ericis and Kozilek would not leave.

But now, Alexis is here to tell him that she must leave here for a while, so William has thought of the only answer.

Except for Sean's trouble, there is no second possibility.

"I don't know." Alexis shook his head. "According to the news from Ulamog, Sean seems to be fighting someone and something went wrong. Ulamog should have rushed over, but now he There was an accident in the matter in charge, so he couldn't get out for the time being."

"What about the Chaos Portal?" William was also a little anxious.

"No." Alexis shook his head, "We can't reach Sean for the time being, so Ulamog can't accurately locate it. Kozilek is not suitable for this task, so I can only rush to the place where the incident occurred. ... But you can rest assured that if Kozilek stays here, your plan can still be implemented. If the situation is critical here, you can send me a message through Kozilek, I have already told him."

"I don't need to worry about it. You should set off to find Sean as soon as possible." William heard Alexis say that he could not contact Sean for the time being, and he realized the seriousness of the problem. "In any case, you must To find Sean."

Alexis glanced at William a little unexpectedly, but she nodded, "You don't need to say that I will do this too."

After that, Alexis immediately turned around and left, and drove directly to the location of the accident where Ulamog came.

.....

At the same moment, on a mountain peak in the wild land, Noro also found Hella.

However, unlike Alexis's slightly euphemistic way of expression, Noro said straightforwardly: "Ms. Shaun has an accident. Including me, everyone who has signed a soul contract with Sean can't be contacted. Lord Shaun, I don't know what exactly happened."

"Something happened to Sean?" Hela was originally looking at the terrain ahead, preparing to arrange the battlefield, but at the moment when she heard Noro's blockbuster, she was also completely shocked, "What the * is going on? Why am I? Haven't heard from William and Neal?"

"Because it happened not long ago." Noro said in a deep voice, "This news was sent by Mr. Ulamog, and I really couldn't get in touch with Lord Shaun. After I have confirmed it many times, I just came to see you. Miss Alexis has already set off to the location of the incident. The specific situation can only be notified by Miss Alexis. In the current situation, I don't think it is appropriate to continue the war. choose."

"No." Hela was silent for a while, and then shook her head, "Sean is not clear now, and we have to take an offensive posture. If we shrink our forces or retreat now, then people will be aware of it. If there are problems within the Principality, then the result will be more troublesome. I believe that William will definitely make the same choice. After all, the situation he needs to face will be more dangerous than ours."

"According to you, are we going to end the war as soon as possible?" Noro asked.

"Yes." Hela nodded, "Fortunately, the situation on my side has been well controlled, and the enemy is also stepping into the ambush circle according to my expectations. I can close the net after half a month. However, it may take a month to a month and a half to wait until the situation is completely stabilized, but during this time I don't need to go to do everything for myself. The troops can also provide support to other battlefields. End the war in other places soon."

Nolo hesitated for a moment, and intuitively told him that the most appropriate method at the moment is not to continue the war to expand the territory of the Void Duchy, or even to continue the imperial plan, but to maintain the stability and cohesion within the duchy. Because this time something happened to Sean, he realized a very bad place, and this feeling was that he had never appeared before, so he was so worried.

is different from the abilities that Alexis, Kozilek, Ulamog and others get when they are promoted to the legend. The ability that Noro gets when he is promoted to the legend is the legendary perception. This is a very mysterious and special legendary ability, a bit similar to the sixth sense, or the ability to predict. Although you can't see the future picture clearly, this sixth sense can play a role to a large extent. Some very critical roles.

It is precisely because of his ability that Alexis decided to go to the place where Sean's accident happened under his strong request.

After all, Sean has caused a lot of troubles, not once or twice in a crisis. People like Alexis, Kozile, and Noro have long been used to it. Only this time, Noro felt really bad.

However, he was able to persuade Alexis and Ulacona because they all share the same origin.

But Hella is different. She only knows that Noro is the old minister of the Sean family, but does not know Noro's true identity.

This made Noro very distressed, and he did not have enough reasons and evidence to convince Hella. In particular, Hella's strategic plan has entered the final stage. At the moment, this plan has reached the key to its success. It is obviously unrealistic to make Hella give up.

.....

At the same time, in Garrod Fortress, Ulacon is also solemn.

After he followed Sean's arrangement and came here to help Simi clean up the rebels, he has always been a kind and smiling face. Although his strength is very strong, there is no opponent in Garrod that can compete with him, but the enemy he wants to solve is like a mouse that makes him feel unusually annoying, because these insurgents are not positive and addictive at all. The army of the Principality of Rhodes contends, but fires one shot from the other, making Garrod's army tired of coping.

Under such circumstances, even though Ulacon's strength is terrifying, he is quite helpless.

Before Sean's accident, Ulacon had always maintained an indifferent mentality, treating this task as a rare leisure experience. At the same time, it also happens to allow him to quickly integrate into the system of this world, to understand the relevant information and history of the entire plane, and so on.

However, after feeling the message transmission from the Tooth of Void, Ulacon couldn't calm down. He tried to contact Sean for the first time, but the result was that the soul connection channel was closed. He could not contact Sean at all, let alone carry out precise coordinate positioning.

Realizing the seriousness of the matter, Ulamo immediately contacted Alexis and Noro at the first time. Later, at Noro's strong request, Ulamo also agreed to let Alexis immediately Rush to the location of the incident to check the situation. He had already let the Void Tooth wait for Alexis there, and also to protect Elizabeth, who was in a weak state. After all, many people still want Elizabeth's head.

However, after this incident, Ulamog didn't have a relaxed and leisurely mind at all.

At this time in the Garrod fortress, Ulamog had already made a large area of open space for help, and he had carved a huge magic circle on the ground. Although there is only one magic circle, for those who have received systematic high-level magic circle knowledge, it can be seen at a glance that this is composed of dozens of small and medium-sized magic circles superimposed together, and this superposition not only does not interfere with each other. And destruction, instead let these magic circles all re-form a complete large magic circle.

Even if the magic has not been injected, the powerful aura that exudes is enough to shock countless people.

"Your Excellency Ulamog, what are you..." Simi had a meeting in the combat meeting room, but after feeling this powerful momentum fluctuation, she rushed out for the first time.

Unlike ordinary magicians, Simi recognized it at a glance. The rune mark carved by the large magic circle that occupies the entire vestibule square of the Garrod Fortress obviously belongs to Chaos Language. This is a kind of language that does not belong to the aspect of order, and can only be seen outside the void or on the battlefield of different dimensions.

"There is no time to continue to spend here." Ulamog said in a deep voice, "I know that with your abilities, it is not easy for the enemy to break the Garrod Fortress. It will last until the second wave of void reinforcements. Arrival is still possible. But now, I have no patience to consume them, so even if it causes a shock change, I can only summon the Chaos Legion here."

"Chaos Legion!?" Simi was taken aback for a moment, then his face turned pale, "Your Excellency Ulamog, I don't allow you to do this kind of behavior, this..."

"Don't worry." Ulamog said, although his voice was calm, he revealed an indisputable and rebellious strength, "This is my Chaos Legion, not a bait thrown out of the void.... ...And I will grasp the size, and will not summon a large-scale Chaos Legion."

Ulamog even wants to summon a large-scale Chaos Legion is impossible, because Shaun is the son of the plane, so Ulamog cannot overly deplete the origin of the world. He can only summon the corresponding chaotic power to support him within the range allowed by the will of the world, and under the limitation of this power, he can't even summon the seven strongest monsters under his command at the same time. This is also Ulamog's own helplessness.

"What the hell...what happened?" Sensitive Simi immediately realized that Ulamog was anxious at this moment.

"Elizabeth has been rescued, but your Grand Duke Asuna is still missing." Ulamog said in a deep voice, "and Sean...something happened."

Chapter 99: .wake

The raging flames are burning wildly.

Looking up, everything around except the sea of fire is still a sea of flames. The endless flames seem to burn the entire sky and the earth.

Suddenly.

There was a loud, clear chime.

The raging flames in this world are suddenly stagnant, as if time has stopped passing, everything becomes a static picture.

However, this phenomenon did not last long, and all the stagnant flames began to sway slightly, as if there was some powerful force unwilling to obey the control, and faintly began to turmoil again. Along with the slight sway of the flame, the force that bound the flame began to gradually weaken, and soon a stronger swing began.

The crisp chirp sounded again.

This time, the voice seemed a bit eager, and also a bit louder.

All the swaying flames became stagnant again, as if they had been suppressed.

It's just that the stagnation time this time is shorter than the previous one, as if these flames have resistance. And the struggle response has become significantly more intense, far from the first time it was a bit like a tentative move.

Soon, the flames burned again.

And it seems to be affected by the two suppressions, these flames also seem to have emotions, becoming more angry.

High temperature and flames fill every inch of the space.

Accompanied by angry emotions.

But soon, a stronger emotion suddenly appeared.

is also an emotion of anger, but it is stronger and more unwilling than the anger that is burning with flames. With the appearance of this strong emotion, the loud chirping became more crisp, and even a little more pleasant. And compared to the previous two beeps, this time the beep did not just stop after a single beep, but a continuous beep.

Every time the beep sounded, the flames burning crazily all over the sky would shrink a circle, but the color would become much brighter.

Although these flames are still resisting and struggling, the continuous chirping sounds seem to have absolute control. No matter how hard the flames struggle, they can never escape the destiny of being suppressed.

After the seventy-second crisp chirp resounded, all the flames suddenly began to roll back toward the center of this space like a low tide, and then condensed into a small golden red bead. And the originally bright and transparent space gradually dimmed because of the disappearance of the flame, but this dimness was not dark, but rather like the soft light at dusk.

A hand suddenly appeared from this space, and then grabbed the golden red bead.

When the beads fell into this white and delicate palm, the bright and dazzling light completely burst out from the gap in this fisted hand.

The entire space once again glowed with bright and bright brilliance.

A set of peculiar symbolic imprints condensed by flames, floating in this space.

This set of symbolic imprints is not any text currently known, but it has an inexplicable power that is indescribable.

The owner of the hand that grabbed the bead just now, when he saw the imprint of this group of symbols, he instantly understood the meaning of this group of symbols: Phoenix.

.....

Cecilia, who was sleeping quietly on the bed, suddenly opened her eyes.

Just when she woke up, a peculiar feeling of heart palpitations made her feel unusually painful and uncomfortable.

She instantly sat up from the bed, it seemed that because of a long sleep, her vision had not been able to fully recover, but the painful feeling in her heart made her feel extremely flustered and terrified. She opened her mouth, as if she wanted to say something, but in the end she just let out a scream.

In an instant, Cecilia's hair suddenly burned with flames, countless sparks splashed out, and the fire element in the air suddenly became extremely active and dense, even completely repelling other elements out of this space.

A strong sense of danger diffused from the entire room.

The next moment, the sound of an explosion completely destroyed Cecilia's entire room, and even the floors above the room were completely destroyed. But what is even more frightening is that all the broken stone buildings melted in the raging flames, just like ignited paper, turning into bits and pieces and dissipating.

For a time, Cecilia's room became an open-air place.

Fortunately, because of the importance of Cecilia and Clover's persistence, the whole building where Cecilia was sleeping was not occupied by anyone else, so there was no accidental injury.

But because of this accident, people from the entire wild fortress are also gathering here.

The two legendary powerhouses Levi and Alisha came first.

For Cecilia, the two of them are naturally no strangers. But at this moment, seeing Cecilia who had just awakened, the two of them were still a little surprised.

Cecilia's golden hair did not change much, but it turned into a burning flame at the tips of her hair, and a little spark appeared from time to time. On the center of Cecilia's eyebrows, there is also a small prototype mark, which looks a bit like a phoenix spreading its wings, which makes Cecilia even more unique and unspeakable charm.

But these changes are not the point.

The real point is that Cecilia's aura exuding all over her body at this time is obviously already a real legendary powerhouse.

Immediately behind Levi is Clover, who is the closest to here.

After seeing Cecilia who had awakened, his face was extremely excited, and he immediately half-kneeled on the ground: "Congratulations, Your Royal Highness Cecilia!"

After Clover, there are other high-ranking officers stationed in this fortress, including Alfred, Abaza, etc., and even Angel, who has been in competition with Cecilia. Of course, when Angel saw Cecilia stepping into the realm of legend before her, she felt a little weird in her heart. After all, according to her intelligence investigation, she became the upper sanctuary longer than Sisi. Leah was earlier, but now Cecilia is entering the legend faster than her, which means that Angel is not as good as Cecilia in terms of talent.

Glancing around, Cecilia noticed that there are a lot less people in the Wild Fortress, and her brows frowned slightly: "What's the matter?"

Hearing Cecilia's question, the people around looked at each other, but didn't know how to speak.

"Clover." Cecilia saw the looks of the crowd, and knew that something bad must have happened, so she immediately called her name.

"Let me avoid it." Angel glanced at the atmosphere, and after leaving such a sentence, she turned and left.

Although Angel and her Frost Legion have stayed in the Wild Fortress for more than half a year, and get along well with the generals of the Void Principality in the fortress, her identity has always appeared to be very sensitive. Therefore, when the Void Principality is discussing some military affairs and other matters, even if she does not avoid her, Angel will consciously choose to avoid it to avoid suspicion. Even if she now knows the current situation of the Void Principality, she still does not continue to stay. At this.

For Angel's departure, Cecilia didn't say anything, just looked at Clover.

The power of the legendary powerhouse, at this moment, is unreservedly exuding from Cecilia. Except for Levi and Alyssa who have no influence, it is a lot of pressure for everyone else.

At this moment, everyone is clear that Cecilia's question is not a so-called routine, but a serious one.

"Your Royal Highness Cecilia..." Clover swallowed. The pressure Cecilia put on him at this moment is too strong. "During your coma, Grand Duke Sean launched a war against the Kingdom of Fascism. In the middle of the process, Duke Sean was angered by the intervention of the Peace Council, so Duke Shaun directly destroyed the Peace Council completely."

Cecilia's pupils shrank slightly and her brows suddenly jumped. Obviously she hadn't expected that Sean would do such a thing.

Clover observed Cecilia's expression and saw that she had no intention to speak, so he could only continue to say: "The battlefield on the fascist kingdom is currently in charge of Lord William, but the battle has entered a stalemate because of the support. There are three meteor cannons in Ruth Fortress. Lord William dare not send people to attack easily, so he is currently thinking about other tactics."

"The other is the far south of the Wildlands. Lord Hela has completely defeated the coalition forces of the southern countries, and is now building a new defense system, which is expected to be completed within half a month at the latest. According to the strategic plan, it should be taken advantage of. The other three entrances to the barren land occupied by enemy countries. However, because the frontline battlefield is in a hurry, Lord Hela temporarily modified the strategic layout, abandoning these three entrances, and instead built a new fortress in a canyon to guard it. ."

"The front line is in a hurry?" Cecilia finally had a little reaction, "Is there a third battlefield?"

"More than that." After hesitating for a while, Clover said.

"More than that?" Cecilia was taken aback for a moment, "What's the matter?"

"The Kingdom of Lane imprisoned Grand Duke Asuna of the Duchy of Garrod on the crime of treason, and also ordered the arrest of Princess Vrches and Marquis of Flores. This action annoyed Grand Duke Sean, so Grand Duke Sean directly ordered The Kingdom of Lane declared war and opened up the fourth battlefield, and at the same time sent troops to assist Garrod Principality. However, due to the intervention of the Karosan tribe's United Nations and Rob due to the intervention of the Cavaliers, the mobile infantry regiment assisting Garrod Fortress was almost wiped out. General Aldolf was also seriously injured, so Grand Duke Sean later changed his order and prioritized the settlement of the coalition forces of the United Nations of the Karosha tribe and the Robin Knight State in order to prevent the Kingdom of Ryan from suddenly sending out a surprise attack."

"In this battle, Lord Ulamog summoned a large number of summoned beasts and successfully blocked the invaders of the Karosha tribe, and provided us with a great buffer opportunity. However, Robin Knightland and the Northwest Ryan noblemen The rebellion has also caused the battle of the Garrod Principality to fall into a stalemate. The main problem is that the Garrod Principality is not stable. The old party of Darbion is in chaos, but with the return of Lord Elizabeth, the situation is stable. A lot."

"So what about the crisis on the front line?" Cecilia asked curiously.

"The Kingdom of Lane took the opportunity to send troops at this time." It was Alfred who answered Cecilia's question. "They attacked the Void City directly with the purpose of cutting off our logistics supply line. But this action was taken by Nepal. Lord Er succeeded in resisting it, but it was only because the troops were too few that it could not have any influence on the enemy, and the border of the void was too wide, even if Stalin had led his army to leave the Gorge fortress to start the defense, but the long defensive line could not To solve the multi-line penetration of the enemy, many small-scale wars have broken out in the territory of the void, and they can only rely on the assistance of Master Hatch and their army."

"Hatch Boulder? The Duke of Tequila?" Cecilia's face looked a little weird, "What's the matter?"

"Dianna's diplomatic achievement." Alfred replied, "Hatch Boulder, Florence Wiles, Cos Hopson, and Byrne Bady have all declared their separation from the Kingdom of Lane. At present, they have not made it clear to join our Void Principality, but they have supported us in the form of allies."

"What about Ronnis Holder?" Cecilia asked.

Ronniss Hold, Hatch Boulder, Florence Wiles, Cos Hopson, Byrne Baidi, Asuna G. Evans, Sean Connery, that's The League of Seven of the Kingdom of Line at that time was also one of the leaders of the noble factions outside the Great Wall. It's just that after Asuna and Sean became the Grand Duke, although this alliance of seven has not been disbanded, but the connection is gradually reduced.

At this time, the current situation of the Void Principality is more distressed, and the League of Seven actually extended a helping hand, which still made Cecilia feel warm.

"The Marquis of Ronnis... is dead."

"died?"

"Because of the far distance and the lack of support, the territory was swallowed by the troops of the United Nations of the Carrosa tribe, and the Marquis of Lonniss died in battle."

Cecilia sighed softly, and then said, "So, does he have an heir?"

"I heard that the whole family..."

"Okay." Cecilia nodded. Although this kind of thing sounds unpleasant, it can't be helped. "By the way, what about Sean? Where is he now?"

Hearing Cecilia's question, the atmosphere suddenly fell into a moment of embarrassment and silence.

The people present looked at each other, but they didn't know how to answer Cecilia's question.

Seeing everyone's reaction, Cecilia seemed to realize something. Her face turned pale, but she forced herself to calm down and asked, "I'm asking you, where is Sean now?"

Everyone still looked at each other, most of them lowered their heads, not daring to see Cecilia at all.

This made Cecilia's face paler, but the sparks on her hair were more frequent and dense: "What the * happened to Sean!"

"Master Shaun...has been missing for a month..."

Chapter 100: .Decision

PS. The May Day update is here. Don't hurry to play after watching it. Remember to vote for the monthly vote first. From now on-point 515 Fan Festival to enjoy a double monthly pass, other activities have red envelopes, you can also take a look!

Shaun has been missing for a month.

This news is undoubtedly a bolt from the blue for Cecilia.

She didn't even know how she spent the next few days after hearing the news. It wasn't until the appearance of William, Hela, Neil, Diana and others that Cecilia's consciousness finally awoke. .

"What the * is going on?" In the meeting room of the Wild Fortress, Cecilia glanced around at the crowd, and her voice seemed a little low.

Since she woke up and stepped into the realm of legend, Cecilia's aura became extraordinarily vigorous. This is not only because of the aura of the legendary powerhouse, but also has a lot to do with Cecilia's long-standing high position. Of course, the bigger reason is that Cecilia was once a real member of the royal family, her childhood enthusiasm is also a kind of cultivation for her.

At this time, all the people sitting in the conference room were following Shaun's core leadership team all the way.

For example, Rena, Alfred, William, Neal, Hella, Abaza, Clover, Diana, Levi, Alyssa, Alexis, Xuefanio, etc. Kozilek is responsible for attacking the army on the side of Torus Fortress. Ruby, Elickett and others are responsible for assisting Kozilek. After all, Kozilek has no way to communicate with others; and Ulamog is because of the offensive on Garrod Fort. The problem has not come back for the time being; Noro is in charge of taking over the command that is temporarily missing after Hela comes back.

As for the commander of the Scarlet Knights Dwight, the commander of the Mobile Infantry Regiment Aldolf, the commander of the First Infantry Regiment Stalin, the commander of the Second Infantry Regiment Nok and others, they did not attend the event because they had another mission. Meeting.

"The specific situation is not clear, but it is certain that Sean is not dead." Alexis said in a deep voice, "The best proof is that including Guru, we have signed a soul contract with Sean. Everyone is still alive."

"But you can't get in touch with Sean!" Cecilia didn't have any fear because Alexis was a super strong. She was obviously losing her temper, "Why would Sean get out of your protection? Don't you know the importance of Sean?"

"We know." There was a bit of anger on Alexis's face, but soon calmed down, "It is because we all know, so we know more clearly what the dignity of the strong is. ... If let We have always been by Sean's side, yes, no problem, but do you think Sean can grow? And, do you think Sean will be happy to let us protect him all the time?"

Asked by Alexis so rhetorically, Cecilia was also a little speechless for a while.

Others may not know enough about Sean, but how can she not know about Sean?

It is precisely because she knows Sean too much, and also knows that what Alexis said is the truth, which makes Cecilia feel even more unacceptable.

Sean has never been satisfied with his own strength. From bronze to the sanctuary today, Shaun's progress is far beyond ordinary people's imagination. No one knows how Sean grew up. Only Cecilia, who has been following Sean since when Sean was at its weakest, knows that every time Sean needs to grow up is dozens of others' efforts. Times, every time his strength is improved, he has grown up in countless death crisis environments.

Without these huge crises, Sean's growth rate might be much slower.

In fact, even Cecilia can't understand why Sean has always had such a strong sense of crisis, and has never been willing to stop for a moment. Obviously, in many cases, he can stop and rest for a while, and he doesn't need to be so eager to move on. But Sean never stopped, as if he had no way out at all, and once he stopped, he would fall into the abyss.

Cecilia squeezed her hands tightly, tears began to roll in her eyes: "I know... I know all of them.... But because I know it, it makes me more difficult to accept! Why? Why? Now, I still can't help Sean? Why we obviously already have such a big influence, but Sean still wants to be in the forefront alone? Why can't the rest of us walk with him side by side, or even help him stop What about it? Why..."

Everyone is silent.

No one answered Cecilia's question.

Even Cecilia, who was the closest to Sean, the first to know Sean, and the darkest and hardest period with Sean, didn't know why Sean had such a thirst for power, and why he was unwilling to stop and rest. , Why there is always a terrible sense of crisis, then how can other people present know?

Perhaps only Alexis and others know why, but there are some things they can't say.

The heavy atmosphere in the conference room made everyone feel breathless.

Everyone looked at each other and didn't know how to speak.

Alfred, Rena, Klov, Abaza, Chefanio and others are not good at speech themselves, so they are silent; Levi and Alyssa are not easy to speak because of their identity issues. ; Alexis is obviously qualified to speak, but she is obviously unwilling to speak; and Diana, who is best at speech and adjusting the atmosphere, is not suitable for speaking because of her qualifications.

Among all the people present, those who are most qualified to speak to break the silence are only three of William, Neal and Hela.

"I think the priority now is to figure out where Sean is." In the end, Neil broke the silence.

Everyone's eyes couldn't help but look at Alexis.

"According to Elizabeth, before the big explosion destroyed everything, there was an abyssal path, an abyssal path leading to the underground world." After a moment of silence, Alexis replied. And with her answer, the heavy atmosphere in the conference room gradually dissipated, "But because before the big bang, Elizabeth was rescued by the Tooth of Nothingness, so she didn't know exactly what happened afterwards. ."

"But..." At this point, Alexis's words suddenly changed.

"But what?" Cecilia asked eagerly.

"According to Tooth of Nothingness, Sean was dragged into the range of the Big Bang in the end." Alexis glanced at Cecilia, and then said, "I searched very carefully afterwards. , There is no corpse there. Although there is Sean's breath, the smell is already very weak. And judging from the fact that Sean is not dead, I suspect that Sean is now...maybe in the underground world."

"Underground world!?" Cecilia stood up abruptly, her expression very excited, "Are we still controlling an abyssal path?"

"The danger is too great. We don't even know what the situation is on the opposite side of the passage, and that passage can only allow two people to pass through at the moment." William said in a deep voice, and he understood Cecilia in an instant. "Especially once used once, it will enter a short-term lockdown state, we can't send someone over. This is completely inconsistent with the original idea of Sean, so we have been on this path to the abyss. Neither turned it on."

"I am not afraid of danger." Cecilia said.

"But you can't leave." Neal directly rejected Cecilia's words.

"Why?" Cecilia's emotions were extremely agitated.

"Because you are Cecilia Connery." Neil's voice was still so calm, without even the slightest ups and downs, "Sean's sister, the current Void Principality needs a king to appease the hearts of the people and the military. We. These are the core followers of Sean, who are considered the first generation heroes, so we don't have any ideas. But what about the second and third generations that we cultivated? Especially since the third generation of generals, those people have never They have never fought side by side with Sean. What do you think they will think when they learn that the king of their country is not there? So during this period when Sean's whereabouts are unknown, you are the king of the Void Principality."

Cecilia was taken aback, a little at a loss.

"Then Alexis..."

"She can't leave either." Neil's tone remained calm as before. "Not to mention whether they can pass the current path of the abyss, but that the identities of the three of Alexis, Kozilek and Ulamog are already This makes it impossible for them to disappear for a long time. Because only if they are there, then we will have deterrence, but as long as one of them does not show up for a long time, then we need to deal with more temptations, which will increase our loss. Energy and resources... So at least, until the current situation has completely stabilized, they will not be able to leave easily."

"Why should I listen to you?" Alexis raised his brows.

"What choice do you think Sean will make?" Neal retorted directly, "Should you ask you to find him, or let you stay here to help? You should know exactly what Sean thinks, otherwise If you do, he won't let you stay everywhere to assist, but will take you to act together."

Although I wanted to deny it, Alexis opened his mouth, but in the end he couldn't say anything.

And Cecilia, also has a dejected face.

The atmosphere in the conference room fell into silence for a while.

"I will increase the research investment in the Helson Institute, and strive for them to complete the magic device as soon as possible, so as to reach the level that Sean originally envisioned. So before that, I do not recommend sending people into the underground world." Neal When he opened his mouth to break the silence, his expression seemed very calm, but what he said seemed a bit ruthless, "Because this reveals that we have mastered an abyssal path, and it may even prepare people in the underground world. So. Until we are fully prepared, we must keep a low profile."

"Should I just leave Sean alone in the underground world?" Cecilia exclaimed excitedly.

"Although this answer is cruel, but...we can only do this for now." Neil nodded, "because we have no choice. But..." Neil paused, then looked at Cecilia. He opened his mouth and continued: "Now you are the king of the Void Principality. So any instructions and orders you give, we will choose to obey. My opinion has been expressed, so now it is up to you to make a decision."

"What decision?" Cecilia raised her head.

"You are the first decision after you become the acting Grand Duke of the Void Principality." Neil said in a deep voice, his voice is absolutely calm, but it is precisely because of this calm that it becomes more solemn and sacred, "Is it necessary to send someone immediately? Enter the underground world, or choose to create a void empire."

Everyone's eyes couldn't help looking at Cecilia.

Cecilia only delayed for a while, and finally forced herself to calm down her inner emotions: "If you increase investment, how long will it take to see results?"

"I can't be sure, it will take about a year or two. If it is slow, it may even take several years." Neil thought for a while before he replied, "Because I have already negotiated with the staff of the Helson Institute. The most important part of the advancement of this technology lies in the core components of the magical device. In this regard, perhaps only ancient ruins and the like can help with the research... and, at the very least, it also requires empire-level resources. Power support, in other words, if Cecilia you want to choose this way, then we must create a void empire."

"Ancient ruins product..." Cecilia frowned, "Magic Crystal Cannon... count it?"

"It should be counted." Neil is not very sure. "No one can confirm before seeing the actual object. However, the prestige of the Meteorite Cannon is also recorded in many ancient documents. Developed by the Helson Institute The magic cannon that came out is largely an imitation of the magic crystal cannon, but its energy output is far below the level of 1% of the magic crystal cannon. Maybe if we win the magic crystal cannon, it can be in this respect. With more in-depth research, we can achieve a breakthrough in the key technology of the power output of the magic guide."

Cecilia nodded, and then asked: "If... If I decide to send two people into the underground world first, is there any problem that needs to be solved?"

"First of all, it is the issue of liaison." Neal did not say anything about vetoing the proposal, but began to discuss it very seriously, "We have no way to solve this problem for the time being. Second, if this abyss is The path leading to the destination is in the camp established by the enemy, then this is tantamount to sending death, we can not even obtain any information. Finally... no matter whether the people we send can reach smoothly, this path to the abyss will be lost. The other party discovered that it would provide people in the underground world with a way to enter and exit the surface world."

Having said this, Neil saw the excitement in Cecilia's eyes, and he had to pour cold water: "Please note, this is an abyssal path in which control is completely controlled by the other party. In other words, we We have no way of knowing when the other party will turn on and when it will turn off. We have to deploy a large number of guards, and... we still can't get any benefits from it, such as sending our people underground while the other party is turning on."

After listening to Neil's words, the look in Cecilia's eyes dimmed.

"Such an answer, do I still have a choice?" Cecilia sighed softly, "William, no matter what method you use, you must take down the Fortress of Thorus for me. Even if the magic crystal cannon is destroyed It's okay, but you must ensure that you have enough research value."

"The little guys in the Void Realm have been very powerful recently. They cooperated with the magic boy to detect a very valuable piece of information. If successful, then we are likely to be able to insert about a merchant group to sneak into Torus. Inside the fortress." William nodded, and the long-lost red color appeared on his face. "But this is a race against time. I can only do my best. There are still many loopholes. I can only hope. Eli Kate."

"You are in charge of all power." Cecilia said softly, then turned her gaze to Hela, "Hela, are you responsible for everything over there?"

"The frontline is basically stable and stable. Although we have lost about one-third of the territory of the Wild Land, this part happens to be an area with abundant mineral resources, but people from those countries have not yet discovered the resources of this area." Once in the planning aspect of the strategic layout, Hella showed amazing ability, "As far as the current situation is concerned, I can draw about 100,000 troops to return to aid, and the remaining troops can only be slowly mobilized to return to aid. There is no way. Help back in one breath."

"Then, do you have any thoughts on the garrison of the Rock Fortress and the defensive layout of the Wildlands?"

"I need the steel wings and the 1st Army Corps." Hela said, and unceremoniously named the two main forces of the Void Principality. "For the defense of the Rock Fortress, I am very inclined to Stalin. He is in The defense of the city is indeed very good. And I hope that the steel wings can be used as a field defense force in the southern defense zone. As long as these two units exist, I only need to deploy another 50,000 troops for the strategic defense line of the entire wilderness. "

"What about the Fjord Fortress?" William frowned. "We can give the newly won Eris defense zone to the Eye of the Storm tribe, but who do you intend to take over the defense of the Fjord Fortress? There is also the Wild Fortress, you Which troops are you planning to garrison?"

"I recommend the Jet Black Wings in the Gorge Fortress. This unit is also biased towards guards, as long as it can be expanded. Moreover, the Gorge Fortress is not clear to others, but we do know that this is Miss Hina's brood. In addition, it is very close to Oasis City and the Wildlands. In the Empire Plan, Oasis City will be the future capital of the Nether Empire. I don't think there is any need to worry about support."

"What about the wild fortress?"

"Levy and Alyssa are responsible for the city defense and fort management. The Wings of Conviction will use the wild fortress as its base camp. In addition, the second infantry regiment will also be stationed in the wild fortress. In terms of strategic layout, Aldolf will lead the rapid reorganization. Yuyi is responsible for the rescue and the second line of defense. I will work out a new strategic layout network in the next week, and then I will come back to discuss more in detail."

"I have no opinion." William nodded and stopped talking.

William and Hella have always been responsible for the strategic layout and military affairs of the Void Principality, so when the two arguing, the others did not speak. In fact, they really don't have any need to speak, because these coordinated arrangements have always been the responsibility of the void giants.

At present, the structure of the void empire is still in a state of vigorous development. The uppermost core circle is all the old people who have followed Sean for a long time, so there will be no differences or political differences at all. However, as Neil said, starting from the third generation of generals and heroes, their own circles and influence have also begun to play a role, and there will even be parties. All of these are inevitable. Neil and others are currently The only thing we can do is to channel and maintain healthy competition as much as possible.

Because of this, a true leader is a vital existence.

After all, in today's Void Duchy, no inheritance law has been determined, and Sean does not have any heirs.

Therefore, Cecilia can only be responsible, and among all Sean's supporters, only Cecilia has this prestige that can convince the public.

"Then next..." Cecilia took a deep breath, "Diana, let's go to the United Nations of the Karossa tribe and the Robin Knights."

"Huh?" Dianna was taken aback for a moment, and she didn't understand.

On the contrary, William, Neal and Hela all showed admiration.

"Tell those two countries that as long as they stop continuing their aggressive actions against the Principality of Garrod, we will not pursue previous war provocations." Cecilia said in a deep voice, "but if they continue to attack, Then we will launch a thunderous offensive against them."

"Is this... to negotiate a peace?" Diana obviously failed to keep up with Cecilia's thinking.

"No, it's a notice." Cecilia said coldly, "Remember that you must be tough when facing their envoys. We don't need any peace, because we are fearless of any enemies. It's just that I don't want to make peace for the time being. They are only entangled. If they don't want to, then we will concentrate our forces to directly launch a counterattack.... I will give you both Stalin and Abaza, then Hela, do you still need to sit down?"

Cecilia's last sentence was addressed to Hela.

"No need at all." Hela smiled, "When will Abaza and Stalin arrive, and when will I be able to set off and return here, it is enough to have Noro on the side to assist.... Then, to the Kingdom of Ryan I will take over the war?"

"Maybe before we deal with the Kingdom of Lane, we have to fight the United Nations of the Karossa tribe and the Allied Forces of the Robin Knights." Cecilia said in a deep voice, "The revenge action against the Kingdom of Lane will never stop. ...This is our void style, and the blood flag will surely rise again."

"So...what about Asuna?" Alfred asked.

"Let the magic boy come back and take responsibility. Once you find the exact clue, Alexis..."

"I see." Alexis flexed his hands, with flames beating in his eyes, "I've endured it for a long time.... Then, after rescuing people, it's not a problem to solve those guys by the way, right? "

"Naturally it is not a problem." Cecilia nodded, "However, in this battle, I am afraid that Miracle Continent will start to prevent this chaotic top combat decapitation tactic."

"This is also the situation that Sean tried to avoid before." Neal sighed softly.

"I can't take care of that much anymore. We have to make a good calculation with the Kingdom of Lione about the missing account of Sean." Cecilia said coldly, "I don't want to investigate the cause, but this is indeed because of it. If the Lion Kingdom arrested and imprisoned Asuna, then the Lion Kingdom must be held accountable to me. If it weren't for Asuna's safety, I'd like to kill the door directly!"

"Well, guys... let's get started."

"Follow the king's order!"

.....

After disbanding the meeting, Cecilia met Angel in the former government hall in the fortress.

As soon as they met, Cecilia threw a small bottle of Yinhong-colored liquid to Angel.

"What is this?" After catching the small bottle, Angel did not open it, but she smelled a unique sweetness.

"My blood." Cecilia said calmly.

"Your blood?" Angel was stunned, "Why give me this."

"The Thousand-Year Covenant Empire needs it." Cecilia said in a deep voice, "I'm giving you this as a bargain with you.... From now on, the wild fortress will belong to our Void Empire. And in dealing with the tide of death, we also There will be troops to support, but after the end of the tide of death, the entire area of black soil and the forest of sighs in your Millennium Covenant Empire must be transferred to us."

"What do you want that piece of land for?" Angel was puzzled.

"It's not me who wants it, it's Sean who wants it." Cecilia was silent for a moment, and then said, "Although I don't know why Sean wants that piece of land, as long as it is what Sean wants, I will think about it. Ways to get it...So, I will use my bottle of blood in exchange with you. This small bottle of blood is enough for your millennium covenant empire to conduct that blood experiment."

"It doesn't seem to be enough, right?" Angel frowned. "There is nothing wrong with the land of black soil. Anyway, if you take over the wild fortress, that is where you need to be responsible. After all, the undead army from the forest of sighs will inevitably take the lead. Pass the gate of the wild fortress. But... the empire will not give you this fortress so easily, I think you should understand this."

"The value of this bottle of blood is even greater than you think."

"Oh?" Angel raised her brow.

"This is the source blood that I extracted after awakening my real name." Cecilia said softly, "Although it is not as good as hard work, it is also active blood. As long as you don't waste it, this blood is enough for all your research. . Even... if you are smart enough, you can also analyze part of the Phoenix blood, or even make some forgeries.... But I don't care about these, so I just want to know the result, okay or not?"

Angel quietly looked at the bottle in her hand, which was probably only as thin as a middle finger, and then fell into sluggishness and silence.

Others don't know what source blood is, how could she not know?

The source blood is the active blood in the body of the awakened blood, and it is the blood that is second only to the heart blood born from the core part. This kind of blood already contains the corresponding bloodline power and law. As Cecilia said, it can even analyze the power of this bloodline power, and even imitate it. This is better than pure blood collection. The blood is then purified more conveniently.

For this reason, the source blood of the awakened person is extremely precious.

Not to mention, this is the source blood drawn by Cecilia under the awakening real name, and its value is definitely more precious than the source blood of the person who has not awakened the real name bloodline.

is like the first embrace of a blood clan, in fact it is to distribute one's own source blood to the embraced, so that the other party can inherit their own blood.

"I have one last question." Angel sighed slightly, "Is Sean... really missing?"

Gazing into Angel's eyes, Cecilia saw only seriousness and perseverance in her eyes, but not the slightest malice or hostility. Cecilia, who originally wanted to deny, was silent for a while, and said: "It's not missing, at least I know where he is now, but...I can't take him back for the time being."

"Underground world?" Angel was also a wise man, and immediately knew what Cecilia meant.

No answer, Cecilia just nodded.

"The wild fortress belongs to your emptiness... the empire." Angel originally wanted to talk about the principality, but in the end she changed the word principality to empire, because whether she wanted it or not, or whether she would admit it, the void principality was indeed already there. It can't just be a duchy, but a real empire that can sit side by side with the millennium covenant empire and even other empires in this world.

Holding the blood bottle in her hand tightly, Angel hesitated for a moment, and then said: "But I have another proposal."

"what?"

"Do you want to form an alliance with us?" Angel said, "not with my brother, but with me, or...with the Millennium Covenant Empire."

"What do you mean?" Cecilia didn't understand.

"My brother... has no fertility. Therefore, the second in line to the Millennium Covenant Empire... is me." It seems that some determination has been made, and Angel said, "And my son will be the next Millennium Covenant. The emperor of the empire. Because of this, I cannot marry casually, and I choose Sean as my husband, because my children must be the best."

Cecilia didn't expect at all that Angel would directly speak out with such a secret royal secret: "Why tell me this?"

"Because the Millennium Covenant Empire needs a strong ally. My brother, there is no way to protect me for the rest of my life, he even...probably not a few years."

"But didn't you... declare that you have severed relations with the royal family of the Millennium Covenant Empire?"

"But in my body, after all, there is the royal blood of the Millennium Covenant Empire." Angel said in a deep voice, "So, what about your decision? I believe the decision you made, even if Sean comes back in the future, he will not deny it. of."

"As long as you give up marrying Sean." Cecilia said, "Then I will..."

"Forget it." Angel didn't intend to listen to Cecilia's words at all, she turned around and left in a cool manner.