

The Lethal Love Hunter #Chapter 441 - Read The Lethal Love Hunter Chapter 441

Chapter 441 What's Wrong With Me Scolding You?!

Six members of the Warwolf Special Forces, who had just been untied, were filled with hatred at that moment!

They stepped forward, fury blazing in their eyes, "Commander, these beasts brutally shot our four comrades. They must be killed!"

Christopher roared, "What right do you have to make a fuss here? Step back immediately!"

The six kidnapped members of the Warwolf Special Forces suddenly felt overwhelmingly ashamed and painfully lowered their heads.

A surge of towering rage instantly flashed in Nia's eyes.

He suddenly tightened the cloth around his body, pushed Rhonda away, and with one foot, kicked up the short knife on the ground and caught it in his hand.

Approached the black-clad assassin who had once gunned down two members of the Warwolf Special Forces.

Christopher exclaimed in shock, "Colonel Finley, you... you need to calm down!"

"Calm down my ass!" Nia roared, swinging her short knife viciously at his skull!

A single stroke of the sword chopped off the head of this black-clothed assassin.

day

The dark forest of Witcord Peak suddenly fell into a stifling silence!

Christopher watched the horrific scene, his face grim, "Colonel Finley, as a senior officer of the Londraland military commands, how could you so blatantly disregard battlefield discipline?"

Nia wiped away the tear stains on her face: "Fuck the battlefield discipline!"

"Christopher, are you blind? Didn't you see how these beasts gunned down our comrades?"

“Didn’t you see how they humiliated our Londraland soldiers?”

“These beasts dared to come and burn, kill, and loot, they deserved to die!”

“You...” Christopher pointed at Nia furiously.

“Colonel Finley, I know you’re still very upset right now. Go back and calm down, you’re not fit to stay here!”

With a “click”.

Before Christopher could finish his sentence. Robin had stomped on and broken the neck of the third black-clad threat.

The black-clad assassin looked at Robin with terrified eyes, a gush of blood spurted out as he breathed his last.

In the eyes of all the special forces members present, a momentary burst of soaring passion and fanaticism was ignited.

This was what they wanted to do but didn’t dare to!

Christopher pointed at Robin angrily. “Who...who are you? Repeatedly breaking the rules, aren’t you afraid I’ll take you to a military court?”

Robin flicked his eyelid, “Believe it or not, I could have shot you dead with one bullet!”

“Insolent!” Christopher bellowed, “State your rank!”

Timothy stepped forward and said coldly, “Senior Colonel Schneider, he is our Warwolf Special Forces’ chief drillmaster Major General Bruce! Senior Colonel Schneider, your rank is not high enough to criticize and command General Bruce!”

Grady also stepped forward: “Senior Colonel Schneider, you have seriously violated battlefield discipline by defying your superiors on the battlefield. Even if General Bruce executed you under battlefield law, it would be justified and legal!”

Christopher and Bryan were both taken aback.

They looked at Robin’s young face, unable to believe that someone of his age could have been promoted to the rank of Major General.

“This...”

Major General Arturo nodded and said solemnly, "Yes! Robin is the newly appointed chief drillmaster of WSF by the headquarters!"

Timothy snorted, "Senior Colonel Schneider, apologize to the superior immediately!"

Christopher was momentarily unable to accept such a punishment, standing in place, indecisive.

"Senior Colonel Schneider, do you intend to be disrespectful to the superior?" Nia coldly shouted, two Warwolf Special Forces soldiers. stepped forward, ready to tie up Christopher.

Christopher immediately stood at attention and saluted, "I'm sorry, Mr. Bruce, I didn't know your identity, please forgive my offense!"

"However, there is something I must say. Even though you are a superior officer, shooting prisoners is a violation of discipline..."

Robin kicked Christopher in the stomach, "Talk that crap to me again, and I'll ruin you!"

Several members of the Dragon Soul Special Forces were taken aback. for a moment, wanting to step forward to help Christopher up.

However, intimidated by Robin's identity, not a single person dared to make any gesture.

"You..." Christopher said angrily, "The military discipline stipulates that superiors are not allowed to hit or scold their subordinates!"

"What's wrong with me hitting and scolding you?!" Robin, standing on one leg. threw a punch at Christopher, who was sent flying in an instant.

"What's the point of keeping these beasts? Waiting for them to shoot your comrades again?"

"But... but we have to wait for the military court to sanction them, you have no right to indiscriminately kill prisoners!" Christopher, clutching his aching abdomen, protested defiantly.

"Military court?! They shot four WSF fighters, through a military court ruling?"

Christopher looked defiantly at Ignacio and the others, "General Vargas, you see..

All the special forces members of WSF unanimously said, “General Bruce is right! We must kill these beasts to avenge our comrades!”

“You are utterly lawless!” Christopher roared, pointing at the approaching members of the Warwolf Special Forces.

Ignacio roared, “Shut up, all of you, and back off!”

Christopher looked up at an angry-faced Ignacio, “General Vargas!”

“Give me your gun!” Ignacio barked.

Christopher was unclear about what Ignacio meant.

Climbed up from the ground. handed the assault rifle to Ignacio’s hands.

Ignacio pointed a gun at a dangerous individual’s head and shot him dead with a single bullet.

In an instant, a cloud of blood mist filled the view.

Christopher was taken aback by Ignacio’s attitude, “General Vargas, you...how could you...”

Ignacio coldly scanned all the officers and soldiers present.

“All dangerous elements who violated our national security upon entry were completely shot dead in the process of fighting with us! Did you hear that?”

WSP, Dragon Soul, and all the warriors of LSF together said, “Reporting to the commander, we heard it!”

Chapter 442 Let’s Destroy WSF

The shouts of forty elite special forces from Londraland echoed through the primitive jungle of Witcord Peak in Mount Ammo.

This surge of fury, spewing the blood of Londraland soldiers, incinerated all the fluke and hope of the invaders to nothing!

A blood debt must be paid in blood!

Stirring the passionate enthusiasm of every Londraland special forces elite present.

What humanity, what rules, what benevolence.

The maxims of these saints were bullshit to the brutal invaders!

The legacy left by our ancestors, how could we allow others to trample on it!

Those who dared to slaughter my brethren, I made sure their blood was splattered within five steps!

This was the iron-blooded mission every Londraland soldier should have had!

Amid the passionate shouts of dozens of special forces elites, Ignacio commanded, "Dragon Soul, LSF, listen up! About face! Target is 100 meters outside the jungle, stand by fully equipped!"

The next moment, a resounding and powerful sound of footsteps gradually faded away towards the outside of the forest.

The three black-clad assassins looked at the situation before them and immediately understood.

This group of special forces elites from Londraland were preparing to make their move against them.

At that moment, they clearly realized that the soldiers of Londraland were not as merciful as the outside rumors suggested.

Three black-clad assassins looked at the terrifying faces around them, experiencing the fear of imminent death for the first time.

They didn't have any beliefs.

All actions were just for the sake of money.

Before entering Londraland, they had only heard that the Londraland military advocated for treating prisoners of war kindly and were generous and merciful to those who surrendered.

However, they never could have imagined.

This group of Londraland special forces, full of wolf-like ferocity, had such ruthless methods.

A black-clad assassin, wielding not-so-fluent Londralish, pointed at Robin and shouted, "I want to complain to the International Military Tribunal! We have already surrendered, why are you still killing?"

“Complain? Go complain to the god of death!” Robin pursed his lips, pointing at the six special forces members who had witnessed their comrades being shot dead.

“Leave that animal who took the photos, I have questions for him. The other two are for you to deal with!”

“Killed your comrades, what should you do? Answer me!”

“Report to the general, kill them, avenge our fallen comrades!” The eyes of the six Warwolf Special Forces members were spewing flames of hatred.

They picked up their assault rifles, immediately dragging two black-clad assassins towards an open space on the left.

“Wait a moment!” Robin coldly pointed at the assault rifles in their hands, “How could you use guns to kill such beasts!”

All the warriors were stunned.

Ignacio, Randall, and others also did not understand Robin’s meaning.

Robin pointed at their bayonets. “To kill such beasts, one should use a knife!”

“Yes, General!” Six members of the Warwolf Special Forces immediately drew their military daggers, stabbing two black-clad assassins to death, one by one.

The last black-clad assassin, looking at the gruesome scene before him, knew he wouldn’t meet a good end and contemplated biting his tongue to commit suicide.

Chapter 442 Lers Destroy WSF

Robin instantly flashed out the Dragon Dagger and stabbed it into the mouth of the black-clothed assassin.

The teeth of the assassin in black were knocked out one by one, he howled in pain! _____

“Speak up! Whose orders did you follow to invade Londraland this time? What was your purpose?”

The assassin in black shook his head in despair.

Robin stomped on the ankle of this black-clad assassin.

In this dark, suffocating jungle, the sound of breaking bones and miserable howls echoed.

“Kill me! I really can’t speak, my family is still being held hostage by them!”

Robin gave a nonchalant smile. “I can’t control your family! Since you dared to come, you should have thought about the price you’d have to pay!”

The black-clad assassin howled in agony. “They will all die!”

“That’s your business, it has nothing to do with me!” Robin said coldly, flicking his eyelid.

“I won’t speak!” The assassin in black roared resolutely, “Even if I speak, I will die, and my family will die because of it!”

“Alright then, it’s your choice!” Robin crouched down, grabbing the black-clad assassin’s fingers.

“Have you ever tried the taste of having your fingers slowly scraped by a knife?”

The black-clad assassin looked at Robin in terror, shouting angrily, “You’re a devil!”

“That’s right, you actually guessed it!” A charming smile spread across Robin’s face.

The Dragon Dagger in his hand began to scrape bit by bit of bloody flesh off the black-clad assassin’s fingers.

Every time a slice of flesh and bone chips were cut off, it caused the black-clad assassin to convulse in pain all over his body.

Such action lasted less than twenty seconds, the assassin in black finally couldn’t hold on: “I said... I said... I’ve said it, just finish me off.”

Robin gave a cold laugh. “You are not qualified to negotiate terms with me!”

The assassin in black wailed, “I said, we were hired by a mysterious organization. They transferred a commission of 100 million dollars, asking us to enter Londraland to search for an ancient magic weapon.”

“This ancient magic weapon appeared 21 years ago.”

“It was said that this ancient magic weapon would appear once every years.”

“20 years ago, it was rumored that this ancient magic weapon was lost around Hallcester.”

Vapor die lela besuar Wol

Feshin remembered that on that day, several Valluynnian assassins had old the same thing.

“What kind of ancient magic weapon?”

The assassin in black shook his head bitterly, “I... I don’t know. The mysterious organization that contacted us told us that someone would get in touch with us once we arrived in Hallcester. They would tell us then.”

“Besides these, what else?” Robin asked indifferently.

The assassin in black lifted his eyes to look at the soldiers of Londraland around him.
“Let’s destroy the WSE”

Everyone in the Warwoll Special Forces was stunned.

What kind of mysterious organization was this, that they actually wanted to destroy the Warwolf Special Forces?

Chapter 443 Go to Hell

The words of the assassin in black fell, a cold light slashed across the throat.

In an instant, Robin dashed towards the northwest of the forest like a phantom.

Everyone was taken aback, not knowing what had happened.

What amazed them was that Robin was so quick, so quick that they simply couldn’t react.

Ignacio stared intently as Robin chased after two shadows towards the northwest corner of the jungle.

After all, he was the Battle King of the former Londraland military commands, and he immediately followed behind Robin to chase after him.

Randall picked up the telescope and looked in the direction of Robin and Ignacio.

In three seconds, Robin had completed an interception.

He stood in front of the two masked men, pulling out a wet wipe to clean his hands, “I noticed you guys a long time ago! Are you with them?”

Two masked men were startled as they watched Robin wiping his hands.

“We meant no harm to you, brother, please do us a favor...”

Robin discarded the wet wis gave a cold smile, “Know me”

“Lord Dragon” he asked men instinctively stepped back, warily reaching for the heavy short knives at their waists.

A brilliant smile spread across Robin’s face. “Since you know me, you should know my rules. Let’s hit the road!”

Two men in black instantly drew their daggers, slashing towards Robin from both sides.

A tornado rose from the ground!

Robin’s body spun into mid—an

A chilling are swept across, and two black-clad assassins instantly froze in front of Robin

They clutched their bloodied throats in shock staring in horror at the Dragon Dagger in Robin’s hand shimmering with the essence of heaven and earth

In an instant, a Golden Dragon burst forth from the Dragon Dagger

Two crimson columns of blood gushed out from the throats of two men in black!

The golden dragon was wildly indulging in sucking

In a mere two seconds, two men in black were sucked dry. reduced to mummies as thin as sheets of paper.

A sudden whirlwind arose, causing the two dried corpses to crumble apart, turning into a pile of dust.

Ignacio, who came chasing after, subsequently.

Seeing this terrifying scene in a fleeting glance from afar, I immediately trembled all over, with cold sweat pouring down.

The brief two-second bloody scene terrified him immensely!

I had heard of such legends before, but I had never personally witnessed such incredible magic.

He took a deep breath and quietly retreated.

This dark jungle fell silent in an instant.

Just as if nothing had ever happened.

Robin wiped his hands with a wet wipe. looked up at Ignacio's frightened figure. a playful smile playing on his lips.

Meanwhile, Randall in the jungle was also utterly astonished!

He saw the fleeting Dragon Shadow in the sky in its entirety!

He watched as Robin slowly emerged from the jungle, his eyes sparkling with excitement.

Is it really him, the person I've been searching for for twenty years?

He pulled a dazed Ignacio aside and asked in a low voice, "General Vargas, what... what did you see?"

Ignacio's cheeks trembled, "General Allen, I... I saw the Bloodthirsty Sea Dragon!"

Randall shuddered abruptly, lowering his voice, "Bloodthirsty? Is it Robin?"

Ignacio glanced at Robin in terror, nodding, "His bayonet!"

"Lord Dragon?" Randall's eyes lit up instantly, "General Vargas, this matter is top secret, you must keep it under wraps!"

Ignacio trembled all over, "General Allen, this matter... could this matter possibly..."

"Yes! If it really was him, it must be related to Lord Wyvern's Mansion!" Randall looked at Robin's back in horror, whispering.

"General Vargas, this is a serious matter! It will involve the lives and fortunes of many people!"

'You must certainly keep your mouth shut. otherwise, the upper levels of Draccastle in Londraland will surely run red with blood!"

Ignacio was sweating profusely, nodding cautiously. "I understand, General!"

The matter in the jungle was settled.

Two helicopters carrying Nia and seven other injured members of the Warwolf Special Forces flew back to Mount Ammo Training Base ahead of Randall, Ignacio, and others.

Due to the weight limit of the helicopter.

Robin, Timothy, Grady and others, dressed in casual clothes, drove two off-road vehicles from the mainland to Mount Amino Training Hase.

The land journey had to pass through Mapleford

Witcord Peak was to the southwest of Mapleford, while Mount Training Base was to the northeast of Mapleford.

mimo

After spending the afternoon at the Mount Ammo Training Baso for an internship.

Especially after this jungle rescue mission.

Robin's reputation in the Warwolf Special Forces was at an all-time high.

Had indeed become a hero in the Warwolf Special Forces!

The morale of the constantly languishing Warwolf Special Forces soldiers also completely exploded in full force

Sitting in the off-road vehicle. Robin leaned back in his seat, closing his eyes in deep thought.

In the past few days, a lot of strange things had happened around Hashville

Valluvnnian assassins and some killers of unknown origin were converging towards the area of Halleester and Hashville.

It seemed as though they were all searching for a mysterious ancient magic weapon.

According to them, this ancient magic weapon appeared around Hallcester 20 years ago.

In the obscurity, Robin always felt that this mysterious object had a myriad of connections with himself.

What was the connection, after all?

Who exactly was Enzo having me wait for in Hallcester?

Was it also related to this ancient magic weapon?

Robin decided to investigate the secret behind this ancient magic weapon!

At that moment, the car had already entered the Mapleford city area. Timothy glanced at Robin, who was still resting with his eyes closed. and asked softly.

“General Bruce, it will take nearly three hours to reach the base. We haven’t eaten all afternoon. There’s a large restaurant ahead. Should we stop there for a meal?”

Chapter 444 Tran Pharmaceuticals

Robin slowly opened his eyes. “What time is it”

“Reporting, General, it was seven in the evening Timothy replied

Robin nodded. “Alright, you guys are fumber with this place, find a restaurant, grab som ething to eat and then go

Fuck

Timothy pointed to a tavern in front named Bustle Hotel General Bruce, after our missio ns, we often med a thr bord It’s sad that the dishes there are quite good”

“Alright, let’s go to the Hastolle Hotel then Robin sad, steng straight and looking ahead

“Yes!” Timothy hesitated for a moment. She continued. “General Brace this afternoon at the base. I was grm of your geness and made a fool of myself m front of you. I hope yo u

Robin waved his hand. Enough I dont like to bear this se

“Remember, you had 13 days left Your opponents were the t Dragon Soul and LSF If yo u couldnt score in this mbtary cou you would be stripped of your code”

Grady exclaimed excitedly. "Mr. Bruce, if you come our show won't be cancelled!"

"You saw it too, all the WSF brothers present today were full of fighting spirit, it was you who ignited our blood! We will definitely be able to defeat Dragon Soul and LSF this time!"

"General Bruce, you looked so cool when you took down those dangerous individuals!"

"From now on, I, Grady, only worship you!"

"You're quite good at brown-nosing, aren't you! I don't need that!" Robin raised an eyebrow.

Also, where did you get the confidence to say such things? Do you think you can defeat Dragon Soul and their team just by being brave?

Grady's face turned red, he paused for a moment. "Of course, there must be skills!"

At this point. Grady's eyes lit up. "Don't we still have you? General Bruce, you are our Battle King!"

"Even a novice like Rhonda could be instantly trained into a top-notch expert by you. Not to mention those comrades in the army with profound backgrounds."

He glanced sideways at Timothy. "Colonel Griffith's skills, he was a runner-up in the military command category, and yet Rhonda was able to best him in a few moves."

"Without your guidance, Rhonda wouldn't have been able to stand a chance against Colonel Griffith, even I could have knocked her down with one punch."

A few people started to laugh.

"However, I learned some truths from this matter." Grady became more and more excited as he spoke.

Just like you said, a top-tier sniper targets with their heart, not their eyes!"

"So, a top-notch fighter also uses his heart, not some fixed moves, right, General Bruce?"

Robin laughed, "Your comprehension is not bad. Alright, formal training starts from tomorrow!"

“Yes!” Timothy, Grady, and the others responded excitedly.

In the midst of conversation, the vehicle stopped in front of the Hashville Hotel.

Upon entering the hotel, the stall led them to room 203 on the second floor.

Meanwhile, inside room 201 on the second floor of the Hashville Hotel.

Rebecca and Crystal were discussing the issue of the Thompson Group’s medical equipment’s general agency in Hashville State with a major client, Tran Pharmaceuticals, of Hashville State.

Ted Tran, the original owner of Tran Pharmaceuticals, had previously conducted business with the Stanley family.

This business deal was brokered by Rebecca for Crystal.

Ted, who was nearly 50, had been in the medical device distribution industry for almost 20 years.

Chapter 444 Tran Pharmaceuticals

His sales network covered the entire Estya,

There were over a hundred sales outlets, and the sales channels were extremely mature.

The medical equipment industry of the Thompson Group was originally their main industry.

However, Crystal’s father, who took over in those years, never managed to get it up and running.

After Rebecca contacted the Tran family, Crystal came to Mapleford with her.

Hoped to continue to maximize the medical equipment business that mother had built single-handedly before.

Rebecca introduced. “Ms. Thompson, this is Mr. Ted, the Chairman of Tran Pharmaceuticals.”

“This Hashville Hotel was also run by his younger brother.”

“Previously, the Stanley Group and Mr. Tran had business dealings, but we didn’t expand later on, so we gradually lost contact.”

“A few days ago, I discussed the medical sales issues of the Thompson Group with Mr. Tran. He gladly agreed to discuss business cooperation issues with Ms. Thompson.”

“If the collaboration had been successful, the medical equipment of the Thompson Group could have been sold through the distribution network of Tran Pharmaceuticals in Estya.”

Chapter 444 Tran Pharmaceuticals

Ted was sizing up Crystal, who was stunning in both face and figure, his eyes gleaming with an unusual light.

He stood up and shook hands with Crystal, smiling and saying, “Ms. Thompson, my medical equipment sales group is spread all over Estya. Since Rebecca is a familiar face, is there a problem with cooperation?

Let’s talk!”

“As long as we can get along. Ms. Thompson, I can assure you the most favorable price platform and the largest sales network support. haha...”

Ted was sizing up Crystal’s fair neck and prominent chest. with various. lights sparkling in his eyes!

Chapter 445 Rebecca’s Scheme

In the few minutes Crystal had interacted with Ted, she had already figured out that this guy was no good,

A 50–year-old man should have a steady gaze and a calm disposition.

However, this guy was indeed very frivolous.

Not only were his eyes bewildered, even the smile on his face was so restless.

Her first instinct told her that Ted was no good!

She had intended to leave immediately.

Just had been sitting here.

If there wasn't a reasonable reason, some things couldn't be justified.

Besides, Rebecca was there, so there shouldn't have been any major issues.

She secretly told herself that she absolutely couldn't drink alcohol.

At this point, Ted received a phone call.

Taking advantage of this moment, she whispered, "Rebecca, do you know this Mr. Tran ?"

Rebecca leaned in towards Crystal's ear with a smile, "Dear, don't worry.

Man has been dealing with the Stanley family for many years, he's very honest "

"Moreover, Mr. Tran's wife comes from a family of scholars and is currently teaching at H ashville University in Mapleford. Mr. Tran himself is also highly educated. What are you worried about?"

Would such a highly educated intellectual really do anything. inappropriate to you?"

"Besides, with me around, no one dared to bully you!"

Crystal nodded, "True! But, Rebecca, no matter what. we have to take care of ourselves 1 don't want you to come out with me and get into any trouble."

Rebecca nodded, a hint of malice flashing in her eyes.

Hmph!

Crystal. I was going to destroy you today!

Your guess was absolutely correct, this Ted was indeed a dirty old man!

Over the years, this old lecher has ruined who knows how many foolish women like you!

It wasn't that I was cruel. it was that the world was too unfair!

You used to be worse than me in everything.

However, you had a stroke of luck. met Robin, and had the help of the Huber Group.

You actually managed to amass such a fortune without lifting a finger!

I didn't accept it!

I wanted to make you an unclean woman!

Back then, I really wanted to see if Robin would still like you after seeing a video of you frolicking with another man!

Hahaha!

After tonight, your leverage would be firmly in my hands!

Your Thompson Group. your flower protector Robin, they all belonged to me. Rebecca!

After hanging up the phone. Ted elegantly ran his fingers through his thinning hair. "Ms. Thompson. I apologize. I have a lot on my plate. That was a call from a provincial leader. it would have been inappropriate not to answer."

"Like this. for our upcoming pleasant dinner. I turned off the phone!"

Crystal gave a faint smile. "It's okay. Mr. Tran."

"I briefly introduced the situation of Thompson Pharmaceuticals."

"The Thompson Group started as this medical equipment company over two decades ago."

"Back then, when my mother was still alive, the medical equipment we produced had already reached the forefront in terms of quality and technology within the country."

"Several major domestic medical equipment sales groups had deep cooperation with us, distributing our products."

Several renowned foreign medical equipment sales groups had also started to contact us, preparing to collaborate with us.

"However, my mother suddenly left, causing the export plan to not be implemented."

"Domestic business also gradually cooled down."

Crystal stopped here, suddenly feeling a bit sad.

Ted hastily stood up and handed over a wet wipe, expressing his concern. "Ms. Thompson, you mustn't be upset."

"I also knew your mother. Those were the years when I had just started my business for a decade, and I had just established my sales network in the country."

"I had originally communicated with you, the Thompson Group, but after your mother passed away, that connection was lost. It's truly regrettable!"

"However, the fact that you are now able to take over the Thompson Group and resume the unfinished business of your mother from years ago is also something to be comforted by."

"It seems, we still have quite a fate!"

"Ms. Thompson, Tran Pharmaceuticals has now far exceeded its original scale, and its sales capabilities rank among the top in the domestic industry. In the provincial medical industry, Tran Pharmaceuticals is the leader!"

"Not only were we well-established domestically, but our sales network throughout Estya was also very mature."

"As long as there were no issues with the quality of your products, I would have opened up the entire market for your products in less than six months."

"Ms. Thompson, since we are destined to meet, business matters can be easily discussed!"

Crystal nodded with a smile, "Thank you for your support, Mr. Tran. I hope we can have a pleasant cooperation in the future!"

Ted looked at Crystal's unparalleled beauty under the lamp light, a mischievous smile twinkling in his eyes.

"We will definitely have a pleasant cooperation!"

"Ms. Thompson, since you came to Mapleford tonight, I kept you company and made sure you had a great time."

"Come, let's drink, toasting to the smooth cooperation in our future!"

Crystal immediately said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Tran, I don't drink alcohol. I'll just have a glass of plain water."

“How could I not drink?!” Ted picked up the bottle and walked over to Crystal, pretending to be angry.

“In the future, you must carry on your mother’s unfinished business and you must learn to drink alcohol!”

“The knowledge of drinking is vast! Not only can it enhance the relationship between each other, but also... Hahaha, I won’t say more, you will understand in the future.”

“Besides, it’s rare to find a true friend in life, how could we celebrate without wine?”

Rebecca also persuaded, “Ms. Thompson, it’s okay. This is red wine, a small sip won’t do any harm. You must have some when meeting Mr. Tran for the first time.”

Having said that, he directly poured a full glass for Crystal, not forgetting to secretly wink at Ted

Chapter 446 Malice

Crystal immediately set the wine glass aside.

She always remembered that one time at Mauveglow Villa 1, when Robin had told her that a girl drinking outside could lead to big trouble!

If Robin were here today, she would have picked up the wine glass without hesitation and wouldn’t have stopped until she was drunk.

Just, where was that guy now?

I really missed that insensitive jerk!

From that day on, she firmly remembered Robin’s words.

She warned herself that she would never drink unless that big villain, Robin, was present!

“I’m truly sorry, Mr. Tran, I absolutely cannot drink alcohol.” Crystal said with a faint smile.

“How can one do business without drinking?” The smile on Ted’s face suddenly turned cold.

Crystal took a deep breath and said, “Mr. Tran, we can skip the business talk, but I absolutely will not drink. If Mr. Tran insists on drinking in order to discuss business, then we might as well not do this deal!”

In an instant, the atmosphere in the private room suddenly turned cold.

Tod looked gloomily at Rebecca, then at Crystal, "Ms. Thompson, did you look down on me?"

Crystal gave a nonchalant smile, "Mr. Tran, if you think my not drinking is a sign of disrespect to you, then I'm sorry, we can't work together."

Having said that, he stood up, picked up his bag, and was about to leave the private room.

Rebecca quickly grabbed Crystal and winked at Ted as she looked back.-

Ted greedily eyed Crystal's slender figure, then turned and laughed.

"Ms. Thompson, it was just a joke. In fact, I greatly admire a woman with such strong opinions as yours!"

"Alright, no alcohol, you can have a beverage! I was presumptuous just now, I owe you an apology!"

"I forgot my first meeting with Ms. Thompson, I was a bit careless with my words."

"Ms. Thompson, don't be too hard on me, okay!"

"People who knew me, knew that I was straightforward and sometimes I found it hard to consider everything when I spoke or did things. Don't take it too personally. I liked friends like you who say what they think!"

"Come, come, sit down, make yourself comfortable. I'm drinking!"

"You were thinking about expanding your mother's business, and I fully supported it!"

"If your mother were still alive, she would be about my age. So, don't have any other concerns, I understand what you mean. This is better!"

"Don't overthink it. Drinking is just a medium for conversation, whether it's alcohol, a soft drink, or even plain water."

"What's important is that we were able to make the business deal and strengthen our relationship, don't you think?"

Rebecca also persuaded, "Ms. Thompson, please don't lose your temper."

“Doing business is about maintaining good relationships and making money, didn’t you also want to accomplish something on your own?”

“Those previous achievements were all thanks to Robin and the Huber Group, haven’t you always wanted to do something to show Robin your capabilities?”

Crystal was taken aback and stopped in her tracks.

The thought of Robin knowing she could do more and better things brought a happy smile to her face.

So, taking a deep breath, she turned around and smiled, saying, “Mr. Tran, I was just joking with you earlier. However, I still want a drink.”

“Alright, alright, alright!” Ted burst out laughing.

“Mr. Tang, could you please bring two drinks for Ms. Thompson?”

Rebecca nodded knowingly, “Ms. Thompson, have a chat with Mr. Tran, I’ll be right there.”

“Wasn’t there a server? You didn’t need to go get it yourself,” Crystal hesitated slightly.

Chapter 445 Malice

Rebecen removed Crystal’s hand, “The drinks they chose were not good, I will pick one for you myself.”

Crystal hesitated for a moment, “Alright, go and come back quickly.”

At that moment, she subconsciously touched the phone in her bag.

Suddenly, for no apparent reason, I wanted to give Robin a call.

Picked up the phone and just dialed Robin’s number, then hung up again.

She didn’t know what to say to Robin.

Robin from room 203 had just sat down when his phone suddenly vibrated.

Opened the phone. Crystal’s call popped up. rang a few times then hung

Robin chuckled lightly. this woman must have been bored, not knowing what prank she was going to pull next.

Suddenly, he saw a familiar figure hurriedly pass by the door.

Rebecca?

How could this woman have been in this hotel?

Was Crystal also here?

"General Bruce, what would you like to eat?" Timothy brought the menu to him.

Robin put down the phone and stopped thinking about Crystal's matter.

Rebecca quickly went to the bar and personally grabbed two drinks.

She didn't return to the private room, but quickly went to the restroom

The pre-prepared medicine powder was poured into the drink bottle.

Watching the white bubbles rising in the drink

A cold, smister smile spread across Rebecca's delicate face.

Crystal, don't blame me, I was forced!

The world was just that cruel!

Who told you to trust me so much!

Who asked you to be so good to me!

Who told you to be completely off guard with me!

You, such a foolish woman, were destined to be eliminated by this cruel reality Exclusive content

With such a large family estate of the Thompson family, someone as kind as you simply couldn't keep it!

Because you were stupid!

Tycoons who could stand at the top of the world.

Which one wasn't ruthless, stopping at nothing?!

Without those hidden shadows behind, how many could have competed for the scarce resources of this world?

This was the real rule of the game!

Everything under the sun was deceptive!

One day, when I got what I wanted, don't blame me!

It only proves your incompetence, it only proves your stupidity!

Everything in this world had to be fought for

You silly woman, if there's anyone to blame. it's only because your heart is too kind, too good!

In this world, kindness was destined to be the ultimate loser.

Good deeds are rewarded, and bad deeds are punished. that's all lies! Hehe...

Rebecca sneered inwardly, her eyes shooting out a malicious cold light!

She let out a long sigh.

Crystal, who allowed you to live a better life than me!

If you were better than me, I would destroy you!

Chapter 447 Robin Is Gonna Kill You

Rebecca hurried into the private room carrying two bottles of drinks,

"Crystal, I chose a light drink for you."

"Wait a moment, you should also drink less, consuming too many carbonated drinks is not good for your health, so drink less, okay?"

Spoke while giving Ted a wink.

Crystal gave a warm smile. "Rebecca, it's so nice to have you by my side."

Rebecca, with her arm around Crystal's shoulder, laughed and said, "Darling, if I don't treat you well, who else will?"

Crystal nodded with a smile, "Yes, Rebecca, have a seat."

Ted laughed. "Come on, Ms. Thompson, pour the drinks. let's have a toast!"

"Being able to sit here today, it's truly fate!"

In the vast sea of humanity, in the boundless world, being able to meet is a kind of miracle. Let's cherish this happy time.

Crystal nodded, "Alright, Mr. Tran, thank you for your understanding."

Rebecca flicked her eyelids, looking at Ted under the light, his face full of lewdness, and sneered in her heart.

There wasn't a single good man in this world!

You were supposed to be an intellectual, look at your sanctimonious appearance!

Beneath the polished and elegant exterior, they were all full of scoundrels and harlots!

Why should all the resources of this world be occupied by you bastards? You all can go to hell!

She poured a drink for Crystal with a smile, whispering. "Ms. Thompson, you should also drink less."

Crystal gently patted Rebecca's thigh under the table, "Rebecca, you've always been good to me."

Rebecca laughed meaningfully. "Of course."

Crystal raised her drink. "Mr. Tran, here's to our pleasant cooperation!"

Having said that, he drained the cup of the drink that had already been mixed with the medicinal powder.

Ted stood up with a smile. "It will definitely be a pleasure to work together, Ms. Thompson. I believe, you will never forget this night!"

Crystal was slightly taken aback, always feeling that there was a malicious intent in Ted's eyes.

Just, everything in front of me suddenly became blurry.

She shook her head.

Take another look at this bottle of drink placed in front of you.

It was just a regular drink, not alcohol.

But, how could there be a feeling of dizziness?

She felt as if she was in a dream, the world spinning around her.

The Ted before me, the original smile on his face, had turned lewd and greedy!

She suddenly shivered with cold!

What...what happened here?

Crystal suddenly had a bad premonition.

Wanted to stand up, but, the limbs were powerless!

Looking again at Rebecca beside her, she was staring at her coldly at that moment.

“Rebecca, what kind of drink was this that you were holding....

Rebecca stared into Crystal's vacant eyes for a good while, making sure she was already under the influence of the drug.

“Ms. Thompson, hehe. Crystal. I'm sorry. I put a little sleeping powder in your drink.”

“Don't blame me. Mr. Tran had promised me, if I could help him get you, he would give me what I wanted. Hahaha...”

Crystal was instantly shocked. “Rebecca, you... how could you do such a damn thing? I..”

Rebecca sneered, “Crystal, who asked you to be so beautiful, who asked you to have so much? This is why I want to destroy you!”

“Your mother had already passed away, and your beloved brother also died. Your father and your stepmother didn't love you. You were like an orphan.”

“I was in a much better situation than you!”

“But, you wouldn’t believe the shitty luck I had when I ran into Robin!”

“He actually managed to miraculously connect you with the Huber Group.”

“After that, you successfully acquired the land in the south of the city, you became the largest shareholder of the Thompson Group, and your net worth astonishingly reached over ten billion!”

“I was not content!”

“Ms. Thompson, on what grounds were you doing better than I am now!”

“I. Rebecca, was originally much happier than you.”

“But. I ended up as a homeless stray dog, while you became a billionaire CEO!”

“Damn it, this world was too unfair!”

“So... so there was no other way, I had to fight for it myself, I had to compete for it myself!”

Today, I would record all of your videos.”

“As long as you could transfer the shares of the Thompson Group to me. I guaranteed you would never be ashamed because of this in your lifetime.”

“I would also provide you with a comfortable place to spend the rest of your life, hahaha ...”

Rebecca burst out laughing hysterically.

“Mr. Tran, you old fellow, you’re getting a good deal here. But if you dare to let me down, I’ll make sure you end up in disgrace!”

Crystal watched as Rebecca roared in anger, wishing she could kill the woman who had betrayed her!

However, she had no strength in her body.

“Rebecca, I considered you a good classmate and a best friend. When you were in the most difficult times, when you were in desperate situations, I provided you a place to stay. I was even prepared to give you 2% of the shares in the Thompson Group.”

“You enjoyed so much of what I gave you, yet you treated me like this!”

“You wicked woman, if Robin knew about this, he would have killed you!”

She struggled to find her phone in her bag, pointed at Ted who was approaching her, and gritted her teeth, saying, “Ted, don’t come any closer! If Robin finds out you’ve messed with me, he’ll wipe out the entire Tran family!”

68.48%

15:57

Chapter 447 Robin is Gonna Kill You

Ted laughed, “Ms. Thompson, I don’t know any Robin, he doesn’t have the ability to kill me. The Tran family is the top existence in all of Mapleford, no one here can touch me.”

“Even in the province, even higher up, I had connections! No one could mess with me!”

“Just accept your fate, Ms. Thompson. Don’t be so full of resentment!”

“Life was just a game after all. Why take it so seriously!”

“Let’s go, let’s head to the guest room. This hotel is owned by my brother. I assure you, our night of pleasure will not be disturbed by anyone.”

After speaking, he grabbed Crystal’s arm, pulled her into his arms, and headed towards the outside of the private room.

Chapter 448 Robin, Help

Crystal was completely weak, wanting to struggle but had no strength at all.

She groggily grabbed her phone, hiding it in her sleeve.

Rebecca snatched her package, sneering, “Don’t think anyone will come to save you. The only one who can save you is Robin.”

“Hehe, Robin is still in Hallchester now, even if he rushed over, it would already be tomorrow.”

“Ms. Thompson, just enjoy your moment of spring night, rest assured, I will capture everything of yours on video.”

“Remember, you must give me the shares of the Thompson Group, we’ll see each other tomorrow morning, wish you happiness!”

Whenever Crystal thought of Robin, tears would uncontrollably stream down her face.

Robin, where were you!

How I wished you could be by my side then.

If I had been dirtied by that old thing Ted today, I would have had no face to see you again!

Robin, hurry up and save me!

Rebecca suddenly thought of something, “Oh, right, Ms. Thompson, before you enjoy yourselves, I have to take photos of all your nude pictures again.”

“Wait a moment, you must fully display your perfection, hehehe... Let those photos stay in my phone, this is the leverage I can use to control you at any time, hahaha...”

“Mr. Tran, you old fellow, just bear with it a little longer.”

Ted said impatiently, “Alright, hurry up!”

“Rebecca, you despicable and malicious woman, even if I die, I will take revenge!” At this moment, Crystal wished she could kill this woman.

“It’s okay, I’ve already died once. If you can kill me, that’s your ability!”

Rebecca snorted coldly, and together with Ted, they quickly carried Crystal through another passage to room 403 on the fourth floor.

Struggling to maintain her fading consciousness, Crystal angrily said. “Rebecca, you venomous woman, like a snake and a scorpion, you will get your comeuppance!”

“Remember, even if you destroyed me, I would never surrender to the Thompson Group, Robin... Robin would surely kill you all!”

Rebecca burst into laughter, “Crystal, when you wake up tomorrow, you won’t think like this!”

“Don’t worry, I would hide all your ugliness for you. All your weaknesses, I would keep them for you.”

“We were best girlfriends, we were good classmates, how could I possibly spread these ugly sides of you?”

“I wouldn’t tell Robin either, as long as you give me Robin, and give me your the Thompson Group.”

“You could have lived out your broken life peacefully in this world, hahaha...”

Rebecca burst out laughing hysterically.

Ted watched Rebecca laughing hysterically, shaking his head. “Once a woman goes crazy, it’s really terrifying!”

“Rebecca. I really underestimated you!”

“Crystal was your best friend, and I couldn’t stand to see you hurt her like this.”

Rebecca sneered. “You old thing. you old rogue! If you don’t want to enjoy this meal. you can leave!”

“You hypocrite, acting all righteous while doing such despicable things. You dare to criticize me with a saintly attitude. what do you think you are?”

“You remembered, the leverage of today’s matter was all in my hands.”

“If anything happened to me. Rebecca. these things would be immediately scattered everywhere!”

“You, Ted, will also fall into disgrace!”

“You thought I didn’t know? Everything you have today is given to you by that bag at your home?”

“You didn’t dare to offend their fank”

Ted burst into laughter. “Excellent! That’s how it is in this world. interest is the most important! You may be ruthless, but you’re smart.”

“You took what was yours. I got what I wanted. Although we despised each other, that’s the reality!”

During their conversation, Crystal, struggling to maintain her nearly shattered consciousness, sent a message to Robin.

“Robin saved me. Mapleford. Hashville Hotel!!!!”

“Crystal. I’ll take a portrait of you first” Rebecca took out a newly purchased phone, smiling as she spoke

“Don’t worry, I promised you I would take beautiful pictures of you.”

“However, let me remind you. it would be best not to let me release this kind of information Once it’s out, it would shake the entire world!”

Hahaha...”

A terrifying smile spread across Rebecca’s face. “I hope these photos stay in my phone forever, understand?”

“When you wake up tomorrow. you’ll have to help me sign the agreement to transfer the Thompson Group, okay?”

Tears of humiliation streamed down Crystal’s face. “Rebecca, you will pay for this!”

“Of course, to gain so much, one always has to pay a price!” Rebecca said coldly, opening her phone’s camera.

“Don’t worry, my cost was always much less than yours!”

“Mr. Tran, aren’t you going to help Ms. Thompson undress quickly, hahaha...”

The sound of Rebecca’s insane laughter echoed from room 403 on the fourth floor...

Chapter 449 Is She Playing Pranks Again?

Mapleford, Hashville Hotel, Room 203.

The meal for Robin, Timothy, and others had just been served.

Timothy stood up and said, “Mr. Bruce, there are only two people I, Timothy, admired the most since I joined WSF, Major General Vargas and Mr. Bruce.”

“Today, all your actions astounded me, I was such a frog in the well.”

“Before I saw what you had done, I actually thought that it was a big deal for me to have won the second place in the entire army. General Bruce gave me a lesson!”

“Second place on the battlefield is death! There is only the champion on the battlefield, there is no such thing as second or third place.”

“If there were third or second places on the battlefield, then it wouldn’t be called a battlefield, it would be called a happy family.”

Grady also stood up and said, "Mr. Bruce, we are now grateful that we did not take action against you that time at the Zephyr Hotel."

"If we had really taken action that day, I'm afraid I would have had to take off this suit of mine, and moreover, you would have beaten us up badly. We were nothing in front of you!"

Timothy pointed at them, "If you had really taken action that time, I'm afraid you would have been beaten to a pulp!"

"Hahaha..." Grady, Clyde and others started laughing.

"Alright, alright." Robin looked at the sycophantic faces in front of him and shook his head, "Did you guys invite me to dinner today just to flatter me? Let me tell you, I'm not buying it!"

Grady and the others scratched their heads, laughing.

Robin pointed at them, "The rescue operation at Witcord Peak today, I let you guys observe for a reason. What do you think it meant?"

Grady immediately stood up, "I know. General Bruce wants us to see what a real battlefield is. what the most brutal life-and-death war is."

"In the face of a real war. there could be no room for compassion. One must be ruthless towards the enemy!"

Timothy also stood up and said. "Mr. Bruce, you've put us from the Warwolf Special Forces through quite an experience this time. Your efforts are greatly appreciated."

"Actually, with your ability, you could have solved it all by yourself, but you chose to involve us."

"He just wanted to give all of us in the Warwolf Special Forces a lesson, to help us regain our confidence."

"Confidence was the most important factor in battles and competitions."

"If a team was dispirited and lacked fighting spirit, and each soldier did not have a sense of personal honor and mission, this team had no combat effectiveness."

At that moment, Robin's phone vibrated violently

He didn't care, thinking it was just some more spam.

Clyde glanced subconsciously at the screen of his phone and was taken aback: "Mr. Bruce!"

Robin looked at the expression on Clyde's face. "What's wrong?"

"You see..." Clyde pointed at the line of text on Robin's phone screen.

"Robin saved me..."

Robin was taken aback. what was going on?

Could it be that this woman. Crystal, was up to her pranks again?

No! It's impossible that Crystal knew he was at the Hashville Hotel

Robin thought of the sight of Rebecca he had just seen and immediately became alert

Recalling that day at the Thompson Group, the way Rebecca teased him in front of him. he suddenly stood up

That day, he sent a message to Crystal. but Crystal surprisingly said she didn't receive it

According to Crystal, the mobile phone had passed through Rebecca's hands.

It must have been Rebecca who set up a scheme, deliberately distracting Crystal, in order to create an opportunity to be alone with him.

Was Rebecca trying to harm Crystal?

Scenes from the past flashed rapidly through Robin's mind, and a terrifying thought sprang up!

This detestable woman!

If she had harmed Crystal, then she deserved to die!

He immediately dialed Crystal's mobile phone.

The phone actually got through, and then, the phone was turned off!

"What's wrong?" Timothy asked, watching the changing expressions on Robin's face.

"Take control of the hotel's surveillance room immediately! Remember, do not reveal your identity, I am looking for someone."

“Yes!” Timothy and Grady quickly left the room.

They arrived together at the surveillance room on the first floor of the hotel.

Two security guards on duty in the surveillance room saw several people walk in and sternly said, “What are you doing here? Everyone get out!”

“We would like to check the surveillance video, looking for a person,” Timothy said politely.

“Get out! You have no right to search people...” The security guard didn’t finish his sentence before Grady and the others quickly subdued them.

Timothy was quickly reviewing the surveillance video.

Robin saw Crystal’s figure.

At six-thirty this evening, she and Rebecca entered the Hashville Hotel.

A man in his fifties received them in the hotel lobby.

Then, entered room 201.

This woman was actually in the next private room.

No wonder I saw Rebecca.

Half an hour later.

Rebecca and the fifty-year-old man carried Crystal out of room 201.

Three minutes later, they appeared on the fourth floor, then entered room 403.

Robin understood what was going on immediately!

He immediately turned around and dashed out of the surveillance room, swiftly reaching the fourth floor along the railing of the first floor’s outer wall.

This scene was witnessed by the customers in the hotel lobby, everyone stopped to watch.

Could this person scale walls and roofs?

Chapter 450 No one Is Allowed to Leave!

Robin stood in front of room 403's door.

Timothy and Grady also followed suit.

"You all stood guard outside, everyone was forbidden to approach!"

"Yes!" Timothy, Grady, and the others immediately took positions on both sides, blocking the door to room 403.

At that moment, Rebecca's wild laughter echoed through the private room. "Hahaha..."

"Crystal, seeing you like this now. I really feel a bit sorry for you. hahaha..."

"When I thought about how you wouldn't be the same after tonight. I. I...hahaha...I really felt a bit reluctant to let go, hehehe..."

"What would it have been like if these portrait photos of yours had been spread online?"

"I was really looking forward to seeing what you and Mr. Tran would look like in your moment of passion! Hahaha..."

"I wanted to shoot a video of you two on the spot, so I could enjoy it slowly later, haha!"

Ted looked at Crystal's dazed expression and said urgently, "Rebecca, are you done yet? Hurry up and finish shooting and get out!"

Then you hurry up and undress Ms. Thompson, I can only take pictures when she's completely naked, hahaha..." Rebecca laughed lasciviously.

"Crystal, darling, look at how irresistible you are, Mr. Tran couldn't wait, hahaha..."

Ted frantically unbuttoned Crystal's buttons.

Staring at Crystal's snow-white, smooth skin, swallowing saliva wildly.

Wished to pounce on it immediately.

With a loud "Bang!", Robin kicked open the door.

At first glance, Crystal was seen lying on the bed, her clothes already partially undone by Ted

Rebecca and Ted were instantly stunned.

At that moment, Crystal was deep in a state of trance.

She suddenly felt Robin's presence, desperately wanting to open her eyes.

However, it was impossible to open them no matter what.

Crystal struggled hard, realizing that it was a miracle that could not possibly happen.

She shed tears in agony, murmuring bitterly, "Robin, where are you? How I wish you could be by my side right now. After tonight, I won't have the face to see you again..."

Robin stepped forward, pulling Crystal into his arms and straightening her clothes.

Felt the powerless struggle of Crystal in his arms.

Suddenly, it felt as if a sharp weapon had brutally stabbed my heart!

"Crystal, it's me!" Robin said coldly, "It's all right now!"

Suddenly, a bright light emitted from Crystal's eyes.

Then, passed out in Robin's arms.

On that tear-streaked face, a smile of grievance and happiness was raised.

Rebecca was stunned for quite a while, never having expected Robin to show up here.

After a long pause, I finally confirmed that this was not an illusion.

"Robin, you...how are you here?"

Robin ignored her, pried open Crystal's eyes, and understood what was going on.

He immediately sealed off several vital body parts on Crystal.

Then, he used a special tool on her vital body part.

Crystal, who was in a coma, suddenly vomited out everything in her stomach.

Robin gently stroked her back.

Gradually, Crystal became a bit conscious.

She forcefully opened her eyes, then closed them again.

Snuggled tightly in Robin's arms.

"Robin, was it really you?"

Robin took a deep breath, "It's me, everything is fine now!"

Crystal held Robin even tighter, "Robin. I'm really scared! I'm afraid I've let you down..."

Robin rubbed her head. "It's over, everything is in the past now!"

Rebecca stood still, unable to figure out how to explain everything in front of her for quite some time.

She hadn't expected that Robin would make it here at the last moment.

Just as Crystal was about to be destroyed. Robin rushed in!

"Robin, you might have misunderstood the situation tonight."

"Ms. Thompson and I came to Mapleford for business. She accidentally had a bit too much to drink. and we... we were just about to take her to her room to rest... How... how did you end up here? What a coincidence. huh?"

"If we had known you were here too, we would have together..."

Robin ignored her and continued to comb through Crystal's meridians.

Crystal was slowly regaining consciousness.

"Robin, let's go out first, let Crystal rest here for a while..."

"Shut up!" Robin snapped coldly.

Rebecca was taken aback, forcing a laugh, "Robin, why are you so angry with me? I mean, you...you shouldn't be here, Crystal needs to rest..."

"Mr. Tran, you may leave now. We will schedule another time to further negotiate the details of the contract."

Ted understood Rebecca's meaning and immediately walked out.

Robin pointed at Timothy and the others. "No one is allowed to leave this room today!"

Timothy, Grady, and others immediately stood in front of Ted.

Ted angrily said. "What...what do you guys want to do?"

"Ms. Thompson was drunk. this deal couldn't go on, I needed to leave here, you guys move aside!"

Timothy ignored him.

"What were you doing? Holding me against my will?"

Robin said coldly, "Say one more nonsense, and I'll slap you!"

"This is illegal!" Ted exclaimed in fury.

Timothy slapped Ted across the face, "Didn't you hear the officer's words?"

"Superior?" Ted was taken aback, "You... Your brutality is illegal, I'm going to sue you!"

"Smack!" Timothy slapped again.

Ted covered his old face, roaring, "I told you... my brother is the owner of this hotel, if you don't let me go, I'll make sure none of you can leave!"

With an indifferent expression, Timothy slapped Ted across the face again, "Shut up! Did you hear me?"