

Love Is Fair by Kerri Chapter 4

said, a new broom swept clean. As soon as Hailey returned to Crystaldale, she caused quite a commotion.

The biggest shake-up took place for the management-level staff.

managers that showed up with Morgan and Reid to intimidate her on Many gathered at Morgan's office in the morning.

some were yelling at the top of

"I don't care.

if I don't have many achievements,

an explanation.

your niece! Why?" The others were demanding face.

elegant exterior.

The noise made Morgan's head buzz.

"Everyone, calm down.

new beaded bracelet that he adored.

do with everything happening around him.

Anyway, he would remain as the vice-chairman.

him.

inside, he was also calm.

would not be affected as long as he was

and they discussed it.

“Uncle Morgan, Crystaldale is not like before.

not useful to us.

company.

am afraid we will have to sell the properties.

just bought a piece of land in the northern Suburbs and are as before.

So did Morgan.

he immediately agreed to the list of employers that would have to fire.

on freeloaders.

Hailey was unwilling to argue with those old fellows.

deal with evil people.

After leaving the group, she directly returned home.

because it used to be a rose garden.

Newman, bought this land and built a manor as their residence.

little nervous.

and willful in the past few years for mad at her when watching her from the heavens.

It was April now.

period.

of the Poya.

bloomed.

Hailey's eyes darkened.

if someone was skinning her alive.

to forget him.

The car drove into the manor.

Hailey could not wait to see the roses.

the roses her father had planted had disappeared, replaced with peonies and weeds.

Raw anger shot through her.

destroyed her rose garden! Did those jerks think she manor, chattering and smiling.

hands.

dress and
a diamond crown-shaped hairpin.

if no one was there.

the woman.

face, and almost fell from the steps.

a ghost.

The other three looked over and paled with fright when they noticed Hailey.

human or a ghost?" Hailey was dressed in white, standing in the peonies.

ridicule.

Her voice was gloomy and eerie.

I came to take your lives, Luca and Eve.

