Chapter 341 If There Was A Chance, Would You Act?

Apart from the production team that attracted the fans, the Dahua officials also posted a male lead outside the conference room, James, who was dressed in the clothes in the movie, standing beside the flower bed. He looked at the poster of a certain woman's back with deep affection.

His eyes were very clear and attractive.

The number of comments on the Internet instantly exceeded ten thousand. Everyone expressed that they would definitely support the box office.

Only after the press conference began did the reporters realize that Arya was sitting below the stage! Her eyes were locked onto the man on the stage the entire time. Her eyes were full of dependence and worship...

Other than Arya, no one else knew the real identity of the scriptwriter.

After Allen spoke, the host handed the microphone to Skylar beside him. It was just that at that time, Skylar's expression was very unnatural.

With Allen's current status in the acting circle, what would he do if he found out there was someone behind him...

While Skylar was speaking, Allen got up and walked down the stage. He sat in an empty seat beside Arya. At this time, many reporters realized that Arya had been below the stage.

The two of them sat side by side but did not have any intimate actions.

They just whispered a few words from time to time.

"After the press conference ends, I will ask the driver to send you back."

"Okay, you go ahead."

Allen left halfway through the press conference. After the press conference ended, Arya was the only one who left. She was blocked by the reporters at the door of the conference room.

"Miss Arya, why did you attend the press conference today?"

Arya knew that these reporters were asking questions and setting up a trap for her. She smiled and said, "I just happened to come to the company today to do some work. When I saw that there was an event here, I came over to take a look."

What she meant was, I am an actor from the Dahua. I appeared. Was it strange for me to appear in the meeting room of the Dahua?

"There's also those passerby anti-fans who said that they wanted you to put on a good show. Don't be a woman who brought disaster, and affect the development of the Dahua!"

"They weren't wrong either." Arya answered very calmly, "Many scenes depend on fate. Even if I want to take it, it might not be appropriate."

"Then what they say is too harsh!"

Arya did not care. After being in the entertainment industry for so long, she was already used to these things.

"But does Director Jones really not consider letting you act? Haven't you guys discussed this before?" Luna ran to the other side of the sofa and pushed Arya's shoulder, "Tell me!"

"Do you want me to act in every movie of the Dahua?" Arya asked with a smile.

"But this movie is the work that the Dahua invested a lot of effort into. It will help your acting career, right? According to your personality, you really like this kind of challenging role."

Luna did know Arya very well, but this matter was not the same as before.

"I want to focus on one thing and do another. Skylar is a good actress and the movie is about to start. I will also take part in the promotional schedule arranged by Clarissa."

It was never Arya's style of doing things.

"That Skylar is also not a kind person. I heard that her manager has made a lot of unreasonable requests to the production team. She is so arrogant because she is not an artiste of Dahua. If she signed the contract in Dahua, she would have been dealt with long ago."

Arya helplessly shook her head, "There are so many actresses in the entertainment industry. Could it be that every one of them is going to be our enemy? Forget it, everyone has their own style of doing things. Naturally, there will be people in charge of negotiations in the production team. We just need to do our own things."

"Mmm, you're right." Luna thought for a moment and agreed with Arya's words, "Coincidentally Serena will come back from the film production base tomorrow. You also have a few days of rest. Do you want to go see her?"

Arya shook her head, "It is rare for her to have time to rest. She has just started dating Raul. Let them gather more."

"President, this is the latest data we have. The fans are still very noisy." Martin placed the report on Allen's desk. "I traced the most active IDs and found the IP address. However, the real names registered are fake. There might be someone behind it."

"Actually, the Dahua can clarify it. As long as you say one word..." Martin voiced the doubt in his heart. To Allen, this was just a matter of one sentence.

"The main investor this time is the Dahua. There are many powerful actors joining the alliance. It is absolutely beneficial to Skylar. She does not need to do this. With her reputation, she does not need to use this matter to hype things up, so..."

"I understand. Only by not doing anything for the time being can the people behind her reveal themselves."

"They are targeting Arya. Who is the one who will out to settle the matter?"

Martin paused for a few seconds and looked at Allen. "You."

After he finished speaking, he walked into a dead end. "But as long as you clarify it, this matter will end immediately." After he finished speaking, he thought of another possibility. "Or will Madam really act?"

"Arya really likes this script but did not tell me that she does not want to act. As long as she does not make a statement, I will continue to pave the way for her. No matter what happens, it is within the scope of control."

Allen was confident about this. Taking a step back, Skylar was the one who requested to focus on filming. If the matter escalated, she would not be able to escape responsibility. Allen was simply waiting for the best opportunity to act.

"If Madam were to act, perhaps there would be a different kind of surprise..."

Allen's eyes were filled with expectation. He trusted Arya's strength more than anyone else. Furthermore, Arya also understood the special meaning of this movie to him.

It was just that...

"Since they provoked me first, they must be prepared to bear the consequences."

Chapter 344 Director Jones Misses Arya

Although only a few people knew that Allen had come to visit, Skylar didn't want outsiders to see the conflict between her and Allen. In the crew, she still worked very hard and let everyone see it. Even if something happened in the future, she could make up an excuse to get away.

The shooting seemed to be on the right track. In the following period of time, Arya followed Allen to the production team to visit. As Skylar who had won many international awards, she was indeed very good at controlling this role. Her acting skills were not wrong.

After Arya saw it with her own eyes, she was relieved.

After returning home, Allen looked at Arya who was packing her luggage in the cloakroom and said with a smile, "Mrs. Jones, I want to remind you one thing. There is less than a month before our public wedding. Recently, you have to travel overseas..."

Arya was stunned for a moment, then she thought about the work arrangements after and nodded. "So, Mr. Jones, do you have any good suggestions?"

"I want to wait until you finish your work during this period of time before making arrangements." Allen said.

"I will listen to you." Arya said with a smile.

Were they really going to publicly announce their marriage?

When the outside world heard this news, how shocked would they be?

Arya's packing up movements clearly slowed down. Some things might become different because of this news...

"Right, I want to go overseas to publicize the trip for Raul to go with me. I also want to give you and Luna a vacation."

Allen put on his clothes and came over to help Arya carry her suitcase. He nodded and said, "I will listen to you and create a good opportunity for your good sisters to date."

"Coincidentally Serena is also going there to shoot an advertisement. Let them gather. They have not seen each other for more than half a month." Arya hugged Allen and lazily leaned against his chest.

Raul sent Arya to the hotel arranged by the company. It was already nine o'clock in the evening after all the procedures had been completed.

"I can go and eat by myself. You go and find Serena. She has been waiting for you for a long time."

In order to facilitate the meeting with Raul, Serena's hotel was booked on the same street. They could arrive in a few minutes on foot.

Raul knew that this was Arya's good intention. He smiled and nodded, "Okay, but you must be careful. No matter what happens, you must contact me."

"Understood. Go quickly, Director." Arya shook her phone.

This was not Raul's first time traveling with Arya. He knew that she was always careful when doing things, so he picked up his phone and walked out of the hotel.

However, a few people followed them after they got off the plane.

They were the paparazzi of the Captureit Studio.

They were very obsessed with Arya's scandal. They were the ones who provoked Skylar's fans and Arya's fans on the Internet. This was part of Xandra's deal with Stanley.

These paparazzi took Xandra's money. Of course they had to do things seriously.

"Boss, Raul has left. Right now there is only Arya in the hotel room. Do you want to follow?"

The paparazzi specially booked the room next to Arya's and even took the risk to install a listening device on Arya's windowsill. Of course, these devices were bought with Xandra's money.

"You, go with Raul. The rest of you follow me to continue guarding the hotel."

Raul did not go to the hotel to look for Serena because Serena had not finished filming and due to the weather, the shooting was delayed by two hours. So Raul had been waiting outside the film.

After Serena finished her work, she saw that it was almost midnight. She quickly called Raul back and told her manager why she did not remind her earlier.

Chapter 346 A Female Star Under Discussion

No, it must be Arya who was trying to numb Allen. It was impossible for her to endure the loneliness! Stanley was sure that Arya must be a slut.

On the other hand, Stanley's paparazzi posted a post on the Internet in the name of Captureit Studio. There were a lot of photos of a man and a woman kissing and flirting in the parking lot.

Someone immediately recognized them.

The Artist Director of the Dahua, Raul Chen, and Serena Hicks, the artiste under Dahua!

Not long ago, they were still being spread on the Internet. Originally, this kind of news was not fresh. Because they were originally from a company, the artistes were filmed together with Artist Director. Most of them were paparazzi who were daydreaming... But this time, the scale of the photos was too big. First, they kissed in the parking lot, then they went to the car...

The two of them didn't know what would happen when they returned to the hotel!

At the end of the thread, the Captureit Studio attached a news link that she was hurt by her old boyfriend. They found out that Serena had been raped by a scumbag man and said to be pregnant. In a short one month's time, she had been cut off from her old love, who was in a state of extreme love, and thrown into the arms of the Artist Director.

"Serena must have been putting on a show at that time. She must have deliberately tarnished her ex-boyfriend in order to be with Raul. Otherwise, she would have been scolded!"

"I want to see the explosive picture of them returning to the hotel!"

"Raul is the Artist Director of the Dahua, and he hooked up with the artistes under the company. Tsk tsk. The atmosphere of the Dahua is going to be ruined by the two of them."

"Raul probably loves her very much. He can also have a taste of a woman who has been slept by others countless times."

"Stop showing these pictures. They are too shameless."

When the Dahua received the news, they immediately sent people to public relations. However, the problem had come. Originally, the news would have been handled by Raul as the Dahua's Artist Director, but now he was one of the people involved. Would anyone believe what he said?

"I've been an Artist Director of the Dahua for so many years, and my level is still within my control. Trust me."

Serena raised her head, her eyes filled with tears.

Raul's heart felt as if it was pricked by a needle. He nodded gently, "The matter will be resolved very soon."

"Really?"

"Of course. It's just that I won't be Artist Director anymore." Raul held her hand and sat down beside the bed. He felt sorry for her as he massaged her shoulders.

Ever since Serena heard this news, she had been in a state of collapse. She had expended a lot of energy.

"But..."

"Director Jones has given the latest order. He has transferred me to be in charge of training public relations personnel behind the scenes to be the star planner. I am now the Vice President of Dahua."

Serena did not expect things to develop like this. She could not help but feel happy for Raul, "Really?"

"Will I lie to you?" Raul sighed and touched her cheek. He carefully wiped away the tears. "So, Eldest Miss, you really don't need to cry anymore."

Serena nodded. "Okay, I won't cry anymore."

"Let's go to another hotel and rest for a while. Let Arya rest assured and then we will take the first flight back to the country tomorrow morning."

Raul squatted on the ground and helped her put on her shoes. "It's just that we can't separate anymore. Do you understand? In this life, I will never let you go."

Serena smiled. "Even if you let me go, I will not leave you."

Raul's eyes were slightly moist. "Serena, you are the bravest woman I have ever seen. No matter what you experience, you can face it bravely. This time, it is the same. And you have me by your side."

Whether it was when the photos were exposed or when they were surrounded by reporters at the airport, Raul held her hand and protected her.

Serena's tears flowed down her cheeks. She never thought that she would be protected by a man like this one day. It was him who defended her against the smoke in front of her predicament.

"Don't cry."

Serena nodded heavily. There were still tears in her eyes, but she firmly trusted the man in front of her. "I believe that you will protect me well, just like how Director Jones protected Arya."

"We are only doing our best to protect the woman we love. No matter what price we have to pay, we will do it." Raul's voice was very firm and powerful.

Serena fell into his arms and tugged at his sleeves with tears in her eyes.

"It's okay. We're going home soon. Everything will be fine."

When their car drove out of the airport road, Allen and Arya's car also followed them. Arya saw that things had developed to this point and was sincerely happy for Serena. Because from now on, Serena would no longer need sharp armor to equip herself, instead, she could completely trust the man who deeply loved her.

Arya sighed with emotion and said to Allen, "It seems that the people of Dahua are very loyal."

"Melisa is also among them?" Allen raised his eyebrows slightly.

"Other than her..." Arya took a deep breath and looked at the street outside the window. She slowly said, "Hubby, I admire you more and more..."

"I can see it."

Arya's expression had already explained everything.

"But will those reporters stop just like that?" Arya frowned, "Today, although Raul protected Serena and left safely, no one knows what will happen tomorrow. The traces of those photos have not been completely removed."

"The matter will be slowly resolved. Don't worry. I have given full authority to Raul to handle this matter." Allen turned the steering wheel and the car drove towards the direction of Dahua.

Chapter 349 No One Can Hurt The People He Wants To Protect

Are there not many artistes in the entertainment industry who are forced into a corner by paparazzi filtering their privacy and suffering from depression or even taking drugs to commit suicide?

"In order to become famous, those paparazzi took photos of everything! Staying at the door of the artist's house every day is like a peeping tom!"

"We like artists, but we have to respect their personal privacy. Otherwise, what's the difference between them and perverts?"

Other than the netizens who supported them, there were also many other artists who stood out and voiced out. They stood on the united front line of the anti-paparazzi team with the common hatred of the netizens.

There were media outlets who organized the artistes who had been secretly filmed by the paparazzi and were hurt. Serena, who had been exposed by the Captureit Studio, was among them!

"Celebrities can't fall in love? So what if they have intimate actions in the parking lot?"

"Serena was hurt by a man, so she can't fall in love with other men anymore? Do you guys want her to be lonely for the rest of her life before you guys are happy?"

"Where is that trash workshop? When are they going to apologize?"

"I really hate paparazzi. A lot of good artistes were taken away by paparazzi because they were secretly filmed!"

"Does anyone know about this studio? Hurry up and dig it out. Everyone boycott them!"

When someone made such an appeal, Allen pushed the boat along and asked Martin to upload the information they had on the internet.

Later on, one of the submersible accounts on a certain forum claimed to be someone who knew about the situation. He sent out real information about the Captureit Studio and pointed out that the chief editor of the Captureit Studio was called Stanley Ward.

In this era, all-powerful netizens were always able to make new discoveries.

Chapter 350 The Wedding Is Just A Ceremony

Clearly, it was that scumbag who wanted to die. He had caused so much trouble and caused Arya and Serena to be criticized by the outside world. Now that they did not hit him, it was already merciful enough. They still wanted to give him money?

"Sometimes, being given charity by his enemy would instead make him feel more pain. Compared to the pain in his body, it was more painful. The pain in his heart... is the most unforgettable." Arya poured the flowers as if nothing had happened and said in a light tone.

Luna thought about how she felt when she was bullied until she knelt down and was slapped. She immediately understood what Arya meant.

"Okay, I will do it immediately."

Very quickly, someone secretly put a clean set of clothes on the floor outside the Captureit Studio's door, as well as some medicine and a few hundred yuan.

Stanley was wrapped in a shabby windbreaker. When he saw these things, he was stunned.

He also saw a business card in his clothes...

Someone actually reached out to help him when he was in trouble?

Stanley sat in the darkness for a long time. Finally, after dawn, he dialed the number on the business card.

"Hello..."

"I'm very happy to receive your call. We need people like you to be our cameraman and video recorder. We don't want you to be a paparazzi. How about it? Think about it!" The other party's attitude was full of goodwill.

At this moment, he even threw an olive branch at Stanley. This was the only card he had.

"I want to know who asked you to help me?"

"I have no comment on this. No matter who it is, the most important thing for you right now is to live."

When Stanley heard this, his originally dim eyes finally showed some spirit. "Okay, I agree!"
