

Love Rats 1064

Chapter 1064 Little Witch in the Capital

The man looked at his darkened phone screen, a deep longing flashing in his eyes. He turned around and his slender figure disappeared quickly into the black night.

“Love in City” premiered successfully. To build up momentum, Leah’s company released several interview videos of the main cast early the next morning.

In the videos, Rachel wore a long red dress and exquisite makeup, looking haughty and proud. When asked about the success of “Love in City,” she showed her dominance and arrogance, “As an international queen of the silver screen, my success is inevitable.”

However, when asked about the female lead in “Breaking Ground,” Rachel’s face turned cold and she couldn’t hide her disdain and anger. She sneered, “Does she have the qualifications to compare with me?”

As for the male lead, Haider, he arrogantly said with a cold face, “Please don’t demand too much from a child.”

Their words seemed to have offended someone.

When asked about their views on “Breaking Ground,” Rachel coldly laughed, “With my “Love in City” around, Selena’s “Breaking Ground” is doomed to fail miserably!”

Haider confidently smiled, “I have faith that “Love in City” will sweep all major awards this year. As for “Breaking Ground,” it’s just that Lady Selena had bad luck.”

Even the important supporting actors had a similar attitude.

They were confident in “Love in City” and showed disdainful attitudes towards “Breaking Ground” and its young lead actress.

When these interview videos were released, netizens had different reactions.

Rachel and Haider’s fans thought their idols were very handsome.

[Although their words were a bit harsh, one is an actress and the other is an actor, so it’s not wrong to have this attitude towards a newcomer, right?]

[There’s no problem with that. Should Selena win just because the lead actress in “Breaking Ground” is young? That would be the typical “I’m weak, so I’m right” mentality, right?!]

[What was Selena thinking when she put a 13-year-old newcomer up against these two?]

[These days, speaking the truth always hurts someone. I can almost predict that “Breaking Ground” will be crushed by “Love in City” even before it hits theaters...]

The young girls who liked Selena were angry but helpless. After all, it was a fact that the lead actress in “Breaking Ground” was a 13-year-old newcomer.

The young girl who has never acted before cannot be compared with the two experienced actors and actresses. Therefore, even though they felt wronged, they couldn't argue back and could only go to Selena's Weibo to console the Riddle family.

Fans of Rachel and Haider were boasting about their idols' acting skills and criticizing "Breaking Ground" on the official website of "Love in City" when a golden account suddenly appeared and tagged the official website of "Love in City", Rachel, Haider, and several other main actors.

Little witch in capital: "I may not have acting skills, but I can easily crush you all!"

After seeing this sudden comment, Rachel and Haider's fans were stunned. After realizing what had happened, they were shocked.

"Oh my god!!!"

When the news reached the Olympus Group, the crew of "Breaking Ground" were watching several interview videos with inexplicable expressions. Matthew touched his face and said, "Fortunately, I'm not in this crew...." Otherwise, he would be embarrassed.

Tina sneered, "A group of fools!"

After speaking, she looked up at Luke, "Mr. Jordon, should we do something?"

Luke was influenced by Selena and had become somewhat indifferent. "After tonight, they will shut up on their own."

The people from Olympus Group also thought this was reasonable. Just as they were about to leave, Luke's phone suddenly vibrated.

The voice of the head of the public relations department came from the speaker.

"Mr. Jordon, go to the official website of 'Love in City' and see, another person has started a fight!"

As soon as this was said, several people who were about to close their phones immediately opened Weibo.

At this moment, Weibo had been in an uproar.

Selena's fans were stunned when they saw the domineering comment made by "Capital's first little witch."

[Hahaha]

"Wow, she really is Selena's sister, amazing!"

"Unbelievable, they are sisters but one is even more arrogant than the other!"

Hattie's comment undoubtedly angered all the fans of Rachel and Haider.

"Damn it! Don't think we won't curse you just because you're young!"

“A thirteen-year-old kid who has never acted before claims to be better than the award-winning actors and actresses?! Am I going crazy, or is that new actress Selena hired going crazy?!”

“I heard a rumor before that the lead actress Selena found has a serious mental illness. Now it seems like she really is not well...”

...

Luke’s lips twitched as he watched Hattie publicly tear down the entire “Love in City” crew.

The Riddle family’s young miss had been sick for a long time, causing everyone to almost forget her past “glorious deeds.”

Was the little witch all talk and no action?

When Miss Riddle was calling the shots in the capital, Rachel and Haider were still unknowns.

Luke was about to hit the like button when he saw that Matthew, Estrella and Tina had already beaten him to it, eagerly reposting and expressing their approval of the statement.

Matthew: Haider, although it’s Hattie’s first time acting, she can still beat you easily!

Estrella: Rachel, trust me, you’re not good enough to compete with Hattie!

Tina: What a bunch of idiots!

Luke hit the like button and then pinned Hattie’s Weibo post at the top of the “Breaking Ground” official website.

Luke: Waiting for her to prove herself!

On the internet, the fans who were previously bashing Hattie in support of their idols were shocked when they saw many big names publicly supporting the unknown lead actress.

“Mr. Jordan, are you serious?!”

“Your lead actress is thirteen years old, has no prior acting experience, and has not taken any acting classes... Is my intelligence wrong?!”

“Luke, you guys are going too far!”

“This is outrageous! Even if your lead actress has a noble background, it’s unnecessary to suck up like this. Saying she can beat award-winning actors and actresses is like calling us all fools?!”

“The Olympus Group’s behavior is too ugly. I was looking forward to ‘Breaking Ground,’ but now it’s ruined!”
