Chapter 1081 Video

Knowing that Selena was going to confront Leah over the ownership of "Breaking Ground" today, Hattie got up early and sat on the couch in front of the TV, staring at it intently.

As the star of "Breaking Ground," Hattie had originally planned to go to the scene in person to help Selena teach that bad woman Leah a lesson. But Leon told her that there might be danger on this occasion, and if she went, she might drag Selena down.

She had no choice but to hide herself in the villa that Osvaldo had bought for Selena, as Leon said it was the safest place.

Hattie watched the live broadcast and listened to Leah's slander against Selena, her face showing a cold anger.

As Hattie was about to lose her temper, a maid suddenly walked in and said, "Miss Riddle."

Hattie looked up and saw the maid frown. "Madam Daphne is at the front door, saying she's here to see you. We told her you weren't here, but she seems convinced that you're here, and no matter how we persuade her, she won't leave until she sees you."

Hattie remembered Leon's instructions, and a slight chill suddenly seeped into her heart. She picked up the phone on the couch and called Leon, but his phone showed that he was in a call and couldn't be reached.

Hattie subconsciously wanted to call Selena, but looking at the live broadcast on the screen, her finger, which was ready to dial, stopped again.

She thought for a long time and then realized that she had no one left to call.

Seeing Hattie's pale face, the maid approached and hugged her. "Miss Hattie, don't be afraid, it's safe here, we won't let her in, she can't get in."

"Madam Selena called back yesterday and asked us to take good care of you, everything is fine."

The maid's fingers added a little warmth. She said coldly, "Let her go... I don't want to see

At the entrance of the villa, the bodyguard was preparing to send Daphne away when suddenly a cold and tender scream came from the villa.

It was probably the most terrifying and sorrowful scream that anyone had ever heard in their entire life.

Everyone was frightened.

Even Daphne, who was usually persistent, was taken aback.

Upon receiving a call from the maid, the doctor who had just arrived at the door suddenly changed his expression and hurried inside.

After regaining her senses, Daphne recognized Hattie's voice and instinctively ran inside.

But she was stopped by security guards.

"Madam Daphne, Miss Hattie said she doesn't want to see you!"

Without giving Daphne a chance to speak, the security guard pushed her out and locked the door from inside.

Daphne had never encountered such a rough treatment before, and was both angry and scared by Hattie's scream. She hurriedly asked the servant following her to call Leon.

Selena stepped out of the car elegantly, surrounded by a group of bodyguards, wearing a long black coat, with her long hair down and cold skin. The people on the scene were stunned by the powerful and shocking sight.

Selena lifted her curled eyelashes and fixed her icy gaze on Leah, "What did you just say?"

Leah shivered under the warmth of Selena's eyes. Selena's gaze was like looking at a dead person.

Leah realized that this time Selena wouldn't let her go.

In the past, no matter how Leah went against Selena, she knew that as long as she had a child in her belly, Selena would at most ruin her reputation, but she wouldn't really endanger her life.

However, since her parents died at Selena's hands, Leah knew that Selena must have known everything.

She knew that her mother didn't die of illness.

Selena killed Alberto and Mrs. Riddle, and Leah was the next target.

Selena would send her to hell, to pay for the painful and miserable life she had in the past ten years and to avenge her mother.

Leah stared at Selena firmly, and her pale face twisted in an instant.

But soon, she suppressed the fear in her heart and smiled in a sick way. Anyway, between her and Selena, it had long been a fight to the death. If Selena wanted to kill her, didn't she want to kill Selena too?

Leah looked at Selena with a resentful expression, "Selena, you killed my father and mother. You're a murderer!"

Upon hearing the question, Selena stopped in her tracks and turned to face them. The media on site immediately pointed their cameras at her.

Selena smiled lightly and said, "Phoebe is a kind and strong girl, just like a sprout, about to go through many hardships, but will eventually break free and emerge from the ground."

Although this wish was not fulfilled during Selena's lifetime, it eventually came true in her hands. As soon as Selena finished speaking, the fans of "Breaking Ground" cheered in unison.

"Oh my god! I've been so scared since the theme song came out. I haven't had a good night's sleep since then, worrying about my Phoebe..." said one fan.

"Lady Selena is really good at pampering fans. Unlike Mr. Jordon and Sethy, when they're asked about the ending, their expressions are all hard to read, making us so scared!" said another fan.

"Now I can finally confidently vote for my Phoebe on the charts!"

"It makes sense that Lady Selena, who is so beautiful and kind, would never let anything bad happen to Phoebe. In the end, my Phoebe will be well-fed and chubby..."

The crew of "Breaking Ground" looked at the audience's relieved and ecstatic expressions, sweating profusely. They stared at Selena, wanting to say something, but after thinking about it, they realized she hadn't said anything wrong. She just only talked about Phoebe and ignored everyone else.

"I am Clark Saunders, the executive director of Xingyao Group, and also Miss Leah's agent!"

Xingyao Group was the company that produced "Love in City." It was originally a small and inconspicuous entertainment company called Creephia, but someone bought it after Leah was expelled from the Riddle family and didn't do anything except help Leah and Rachel film "Love in City."

Selena lazily leaned on the sofa, with her long legs crossed, and her slender fingers lightly tapping the armrest. Upon hearing this, she chuckled softly.

"Leah is such a notorious person that everyone shuns her. Why does Clark value her so much? And why did he specifically come to Creephia to help her start an entertainment company..."

This question instantly piqued the interest of the onlookers. They had long been curious about why a company was willing to take in Leah, who had a terrible reputation, and specifically invested money in her to start an entertainment company and help her film "Love in City."

"That's a good question. Leah's despicable character doesn't give her a foothold in Creephia at all, but this man suddenly popped up and is now so supportive of Leah. Could it be that he has a thing for her?"

"What kind of man would be blind enough to fall for Leah? Or to put it another way, maybe Leah seduced this guy and has some dirt on him, forcing him to support her? Isn't she good at doing things like that?"

"Tsk! Although I feel a little sorry for Dominic, who was cuckolded, I don't sympathize with him at all. He was the one who fell for such a woman, and if he has a tragic end, it's just his own fault!"

"Thinking about it this way, it's still unclear whether the child in Leah's belly belongs to this Clark or Dominic, or if it's still unknown?!"

Leah stared at Selena with malice.

Selena raised an eyebrow.

In the room, the doctor had just placed Hattie, who had finally regained consciousness, onto the bed when Leon walked in.

Leon approached the bed and saw Hattie's pale and bloodless face. His eyes suddenly grew cold, and he turned and walked out.

He lit a cigarette in front of the window and took a deep drag, trying to calm his anger. Then he asked coldly, "What happened?"

The maid who was taking care of Hattie walked over and said, "Miss Hattie didn't go out or meet anyone. When the abnormality happened, she only had her phone with her."

As she spoke, the maid handed over Hattie's phone to Leon.

Leon took it and unlocked it, carefully examining it. However, there was nothing noteworthy on Hattie's phone except for the missed call from him.

Leon didn't dwell on it and locked the phone again. As long as they didn't lose this phone, they would eventually find out what Hattie had seen.

The maid looked at the man's back and said anxiously, "Lady Selena called yesterday and asked us to take good care of Miss Hattie. If anything happens, we must call her immediately..."

Leon's gaze fell on Selena's cold face on the big screen. He bit his cigarette and, after a moment, lowered his eyelids. "Call her after the press conference."

Selena gave a cold smile, raised her chin, her beautiful eyes showing both arrogance and disdain.

It seemed that confronting Leah was a very low-level thing to do!

The media and audience at the scene all looked at Leah's self-righteous expression, showing disgust on their faces.

"I really can't understand how someone can be so shameless?"

"Leah, please start your performance and let us see how low your moral standards can go!"

"It's disgusting! The ironclad fact is right in front of us, yet she dares to defend herself so confidently. This person is simply beyond description!"

"Lady Selena has sued 'Love in City', and if Leah doesn't defend herself, she will be convicted. Even though no one would believe her evidence, she has to do her best to present it and clear herself!"

Listening to those icy and disgusted voices, Leah clenched her teeth and bit her mouth until it bled.

She stared at Selena with resentment, hating her superior and lofty appearance, and said in a hateful tone, "Selena, do you have any evidence that 'Love in City' stole 'Breaking Ground'?"

Selena raised an eyebrow, her expression turning into a sly smile. "Oh?"

As she listened to the accusations, Leah's body trembled with anger, and she stared fiercely at Selena with a dark and ominous look in her eyes.

"Selena, what can this recording pen prove?!"

"You are the Miss of the Turner family, and the future daughter-in-law of the capital's first wealthy family. As someone with such power and influence, what's difficult about getting a nobody like Georgia to cooperate with you and act out a scene?!"

A twisted and mocking smile appeared on Leah's pale face. "Georgia is now in prison, but you, with your noble status, can spare some time to visit her and use some coercion to get her to cooperate with you and record something like this. This recording pen doesn't prove anything at all!"

The audience was infuriated by her insinuations.

"Rubbish!"

"Georgia's character is just as despicable and shameless as yours. How could Lady Selena be biased for her?!"

"Damn! Is this woman crazy? Just listening to her makes me want to punch her!"

Selena's long eyelashes trembled as she leaned languidly on the sofa, her tone icy. "Oh?"

Leah stared at her coldly. "Selena, if this is your so-called evidence, this pen will surely be used by you to defame me and attack me with public opinion. You will pay for it!"

Leah's red eyes stared at Selena, enunciating each word like a knife, "It was Selena who stole my script!"

Luke looked at her stubborn look and couldn't help but find it both funny and pitiful.

The man sneered coldly, his voice resounding throughout the venue, "Lady Selena is the first heir of the capital university medical laboratory. Her hands are regarded as treasures by the entire medical community. Even a slight injury could cause upheaval in the entire medical world!"

"Not only that, Lady Selena is also the newly appointed head of the research department at the Institute, in charge of the future development of the entire H Country's mechanical field! She is revered by countless academicians at the Institute!"

"Within the Institute, those respected old scientists will lower themselves to beg the Turner family just to have Lady Selena give a lecture."

Under Leah's shocked and frightened gaze, Luke's tone became playful yet cold, "The Zone Six boss awarded her a 'Honor Medal' because of Lady Selena's outstanding performance."

"Oh, you may not understand the significance of this medal. Let me explain it to you. In short, unless Lady Selena does something that is unforgivable, such as destroying the world or acting against humanity, she will forever enjoy the protection and respect of Zone Six, no matter what mistakes she makes."

Instantly, everyone fell silent and looked up at the beautiful and stunning girl on the stage with eager and admiring eyes.

She was the most dazzling star in the medical and scientific research fields of H Country.

She was still so young, and given time, her achievements were sure to be noticed by the world.

He glanced at Selena standing on the stage.

Due to Selena's popularity and the hype surrounding "Breaking Ground," the number of viewers watching the live stream was a terrifying figure.

After all, Leon was Selena's blood relative, but Selena had never treated him as well as she did Hattie.

It could be said that Selena had given all her tenderness to Hattie.

Her dedication to Hattie even surpassed that of Osvaldo.

If something happened to Hattie... they would have a hard time explaining it to her.

But the Turner family had been hoping for this opportunity for so many years, and if they failed now, it would not be easy to uncover the truth about Lady Nevaeh's death and bring justice for the loneliness and pain Selena had endured over the past decade.

"Lady Selena, the lawsuit between 'Breaking Ground' and 'Love in City' is clear to us all. Even those without eyes can see that you are the true owner of it!"

"Lady Selena, since you left, the people of Creephia have idolized you! You are the most admired girl in our Creephia!"

In the face of the entire venue's conviction that "Breaking Ground" belonged to Selena, Leah's so-called ironclad evidence was a joke.

Leah stood on the platform, trembling all over as she looked at Selena. The veins on her forehead were pulsing as the overwhelming feelings of bitterness and despair almost consumed her.

Selena's cold eyes showed a chilling chill as she asked, "What did you say?"

Leah looked at her slightly changed face and smiled sardonically, "I said, even if so many people here believe that you are innocent, so what? I have evidence that 'Love in City' is mine, and what do you have?"

Chapter 1089 Arrogance

Under Leah's arrogant and fearful gaze, a bodyguard brought someone in from outside.

As soon as Leah saw the figure being carried in by the bodyguard, her pupils suddenly contracted, and her whole face contorted in an instant.

A wave of coldness and despair engulfed Leah completely.

The onlookers turned their gaze towards the scene.

It was a woman in her thirties.

She looked unremarkable and was pale and trembling under the guard's hold.

Selena gave her a cold glance. "You only have one chance!"

The woman trembled at Selena's look and was about to speak when Leah screamed first.

She glared fiercely at the woman, her expression almost distorted, and shouted recklessly, "Shut up! Don't say anything! Don't forget your daughter!"

As soon as the woman heard Leah mention her daughter, her expression changed, and she swallowed the words that were already at the tip of her tongue.

Selena's gaze turned icy.

The onlookers were already in an uproar!

Leah screamed in pain and cried for help, but no one paid any attention to her.

Even Clark stood by with a cold face, watching the scene without any concern.

If it weren't for Selena's earlier remarks, he might have considered looking after Leah. But Selena had hit him where it hurt the most.

When Clark looked at Leah, he seemed to see a woman he hated so much that he wouldn't help her!

And he had received orders to kill Selena!

What did Leah's safety have to do with him?!

Leia found Leah too noisy, so she blocked Leah's mouth with a casual hand. "You're too noisy! You're calling louder than a crow!"

Leah couldn't break free from the restraints, and only stared at the woman on the ground with a pair of crazy and resentful eyes.

The woman also stared back with resentment. "Before the International Perfume Competition, Leah gave me a script and asked me to adapt it into a love play according to the framework."

"I knew she had bad character, and I could tell that the script was stolen, but because of my greed, I still took the job."

"I followed her instructions, broke up the framework of the play, aged the female characters, and paired them up, adding some popular romantic lines..."

Chapter 1090 Betrayed by Everyone

After listening to the inside stories about "Breaking Ground" and "Love in City," the crowd watched Leah's insane and vicious expression, feeling not only angry but also shuddering inside.

"My god... what kind of creature is this woman?!"

"She's not even human! She's just an evil spirit in human skin!"

Selena gave Leah a cold glance and then turned her attention to Leia, asking, "Have the police arrived?"

"They're at the door," Leia replied.

Selena nodded.

Leah felt a sharp pain in her heart from Selena's icy contemptuous attitude. Hearing Selena's words, her twisted expression added a touch of overwhelming terror.

Thinking that after the police arrived, not only would Selena's suspicion of being a murderer be cleared, but also the truth about Lady Nevaeh's death might be revealed... Leah trembled with fear all over her body.

Didn't the teacher say that Selena would never have the opportunity to reveal Nevaeh's death today?

Why hasn't there been any twists or turns since the police arrived?

Once Nevaeh's death was uncovered, not only would Leah be completely unable to escape, but her teacher would also face the risk of being exposed and dragged down!

Leah subconsciously looked at Clark with bloodshot eyes and said, "Clark, it's too late!"

Clark's face was gloomy, and he sneered at her but didn't say anything.

Panic flooded Leah's eyes and her legs went weak, almost causing her to fall to the ground.

Clark's expression also darkened.

The leading officer walked up to the stage, glanced at Leah, and finally fixed his gaze on her as he took out handcuffs from his body.

"Miss Leah, you have stolen someone's work and openly endangered their personal safety. The evidence is conclusive, and we are going to arrest you now. Do you have any objections?"

Leah's face turned pale, and she twisted in fear, "No no no!! I didn't do it! Selena and that woman conspired against me and framed me!"

"Selena killed my father and mother, she is a murderer!"

"The person who should be arrested is Selena!!!!"

The officer looked at her with a cold gaze, "Miss Leah, we have already investigated the deaths of Mrs. Riddle and Mr. Riddle."

"Mr. Riddle was killed by Mrs. Riddle, because he pinned the blame for Lady Nevaeh's death on you. Mrs. Riddle killed Mr. Riddle to protect you."

"Do you want to see the surveillance footage for proof?"

Even though Leah had a naturally cold and malicious heart, at this moment, upon hearing the truth about Mrs. Riddle's death, she couldn't help but feel a pang in her heart.
