Chapter 1121 Lab 717

"What does Miss Shaw want to say?"

Vivian looked at her with a calm expression, her face turning unpleasant.

She hated Selena's haughty and elegant appearance, which always made her want to tear off the pride and elegance seemingly ingrained in her bones.

Vivian coldly smiled, "You're new to the capital, just starting to make a name for yourself, do you think you're impressive?"

Selena looked at her calmly, "Miss Shaw, I have limited patience. If you don't have anything important to say, please don't disturb me while I'm on the phone with my boyfriend."

Vivian's face twitched violently, and she gritted her teeth, "Do you know who Constance is?"

Selena tilted her head, "Do I need to know?"

Vivian choked, then sneered, "Constance is the granddaughter of Mr. Baxter, the Baxter family's eldest daughter. She's the true head of the Institute now."

Selena frowned. Besides the Shaw family and the Poole family that she knew of, there seemed to be another family, the Baxter family, in the Institute. She had been in the Institute for many days but had never seen the legendary head of the Institute.

Constance was obviously the granddaughter of the head of the Institute.

Vivian saw Selena lost in thought and thought she was afraid, so she continued, "Not only that, Constance is a genius physicist from Hogwarts University. She was accepted into the physics program at the age of 15 and entered the Lab 717, where she is respected by countless people in the physics community both at home and abroad."

"In front of her, what are you, without any academic qualifications?"

He was usually so absorbed in his experiments that he would not check his phone for ten or even fifteen days, and even Selena couldn't find him regularly, let alone anyone else.

When he suddenly heard the sound of the phone ringing, a chaotic sound came from the other end of the line, and it seemed that the phone had been handed over to someone else.

Immediately, a hoarse voice came from the phone, abnormally excited, "Doctor, where is my girl? I haven't been able to contact her for these few months. Where did she go?"

Black Crow wanted to hang up after hearing the string of questions. But when he thought of the old man on the other end, who was Selena's teacher, if she found out that he disrespected her teacher, well--

Selena's news couldn't be revealed.

Black Crow patiently asked, "Did something happen to the lab?"

"My girl is missing. Is there anything bigger than this?" The voice on the other end seemed to be losing control due to anxiety and excitement. "For these few months, I've used all my contacts and still can't find any trace of her. I even heard that she might..."

"You tell me the truth. Where is my girl now?!"

Black Crow felt that the old man on the other end was about to have a heart attack and immediately said, "She's doing well!"

Although she had experienced a near-death experience, she now had a healthier body and was lively and energetic. This statement was not wrong.

The old man instantly breathed a sigh of relief and tears streamed down his face.

Black Crow even heard a lot of people on the phone, crying with joy.

"That student is the most amazing physics genius in nearly a hundred years both domestically and abroad."

"It is said that when she graduated, several underground organizations even disregarded the consequences and stole her thesis."

"And the headmaster of Hogwarts, in order to retrieve his favorite student's thesis, openly hired a whole international mercenary group to go deep into the rainforest and uncover their hidden lair."

Ignoring Julian's increasingly triumphant smile and Black Crow's increasingly dark face, Joanna continued with a smile, "Oh, by the way, I also heard that the physics genius is the leader of the Lab 717."

Listening absent-mindedly, Hamish couldn't suppress his trembling emotions when he heard this sentence and raised his head, "Lab 717?"

Joanna flicked the cigarette in her hand and spoke in a rather calm tone, "Yes, it's the Lab 717 at Hogwarts University, which gathers the world's top physics geniuses."

"Not long ago, they almost turned half of the capital upside down with the 'Sacred Pearl,' which is a product of the Lab 717."

At this point, Joanna looked at Black Crow and Julian with a chilling smile in the corners of her eyes, "Do you two know that physics genius? According to Mr. Black Crow just now, that physics genius... is now in our H Country?"

There was a moment of silence in the laboratory.

Hamish's shocked gaze fell on Black Crow and Julian.

Constance stood in the center of the conference room like the center of attention, her smile elegant. "Mr. Matthews, I brought back what you wanted, and since all the leaders from Zone Six are here, I'll show it to everyone."

After speaking, she walked towards the computer.

On the slot of the computer was Selena's USB flash drive.

Constance casually took it off, threw it aside, and replaced it with her own USB flash drive. Then she clicked the mouse.

Leia was angry to see Selena's hard work discarded so casually, and wanted to rush forward and beat someone up.

Selena pursed her lips and spoke calmly, without any fluctuations in her tone, "Let's take a look."

She knew everyone in the Lab 717, but didn't remember Constance being such a prominent figure. However, she had vaguely heard that the laboratory had grown in size, and seemed to have admissions every year. It was normal for her not to have seen Constance.

After all, Selena was a student of Hogwarts and was very respectful of her teacher.

Patrick's gentle voice came from beside her, with a hint of comfort, "Selena, it doesn't matter if you lose the position of the head of the research department today due to unexpected circumstances."

Selena turned her head to look at him.

There was a visible concern on Patrick's cold face.

Selena thought Patrick was worried that she would lose, and raised her chin with a proud look, "Don't worry, the position of the head of the research department will definitely be mine."

"That's not the point," Patrick looked into Selena's eyes and lowered his voice, "Behind Constance is the Lab 717 of Hogwarts."

Chapter 1123 Intuition Series

Several three-dimensional transparent blue mechanical models appeared on the big screen.

Not only the people in the conference room, but even the Zone Six personnel watching through the screen couldn't help but stand up when they saw those models.

A group of people stretched their necks and stared at the gun design diagrams projected on the big screen without blinking.

The group of mechanical engineers from the Research Department were so engrossed that they didn't even blink their eyes.

An oldest scientist suddenly asked, "Is this..."

The old mechanic seemed to have recognized something and walked a few steps forward to carefully identify it. Suddenly, he became excited, "This is the Intuition series!"

As soon as the words "Intuition Series" were spoken, everyone in the room trembled. The group of mechanical engineers from the Research Department went crazy, pushing aside anyone in their way to get to the front.

"Intuition series?!"

"The gun series from the new mechanical revolution, the Intuition series?!"

"Is it really the Intuition series?"

Not only were the engineers going crazy, even the rulers of the major families present turned pale.

the people from Zone Six were even more excited and eager to personally observe the scene up close through the Felix said, "Selena, you just lost to the owner of the 'Sacred Pearl', not to Miss Baxter. The owner of the 'Sacred Pearl' is a freak. Unless they're not human, nobody can beat her!"

Selena raised her eyebrows and smiled, asking, "Don't you guys love weapons the most? Why don't you go up and take a look?"

The group exchanged glances, then unanimously turned their gaze towards Kevin and Thomas.

It wasn't that they didn't want to go, but they were dragged here by the two commanders.

Kevin adjusted his glasses and said, "I don't know why, but I have a feeling that if we go up and take a look now, we'll definitely have bad luck later."

Thomas smiled slightly and said, "Miss Turner, as a man, it's not easy for us to suppress our love for weapons and come here to comfort you, so... can we go take a look now?"

Selena's expression became playful, and she nodded, "Go ahead."

As soon as she finished speaking, several military students who had just been standing still disappeared from their original positions in a flash, disappearing without a trace in an instant.

Selena looked at the only two people left in their original positions, raising her eyebrows and asking, "Why aren't you going?"

Richard said, "Selena as good as the Intuition Series is, it's no match for the 'Doomsday'. If I go, I basically can't get the 'Doomsday' from Oswaldo anymore."

Selena didn't have a deep understanding of Oswaldo, so she didn't think much of it. But Richard knew that if Selena really suffered a loss here today, he wouldn't be able to get the 'Doomsday' and it would be good enough not to be implicated.

chuckled and looked at Felix. Felix crouched in front of her, holding his chin with an innocent look on his face and said, "Selena, as a sharpshooter, the Intuition Series is not particularly suitable for my weapon. Chapter 1124 Swallowing One's Pride?

Half an hour later, the people in the conference room gradually recovered from the shock brought by the "Intuition Series."

The researchers looked at the 3D mechanical model on the big screen with fanaticism, while the high-level executives of the research institute looked satisfied and appreciative as they watched Constance standing on the high platform with a calm smile.

Everyone was focused on Constance, who was glowing with an aura, and the newly born Intuition Series.

As for Selena, many high-level executives in the research institute already looked down on her. The more embarrassed and humiliated she became, the happier they felt. At this moment, they naturally wouldn't bring her up on their own.

And those who cared about Selena probably didn't want to see her embarrassed and sad, so they deliberately didn't pay attention to her.

In such a situation, Selena, who should have been the protagonist of this meeting, became the most ignored existence.

If it were anyone else, even if they were not emotional, they would surely feel uncomfortable in the face of such a disparity. But Selena still lazily sat in her chair, looking at the Intuition Series on the screen. Her expression showed nothing about what she was thinking.

Another half hour passed, and the group finally finished discussing and calming down their excited emotions, returning to their seats.

At this time, Selena was almost falling asleep.

Vivian sat back in her seat, feeling satisfied and coldly laughed, "Did you see that? Selena, even though you have already sat in the position of the head of the research department, the Shaw family still has ways to bring you down!"

Selena glanced at her and couldn't be bothered to say anything.

Henry's words finally reminded the researchers who were immersed in the Intuition Series of Selena's existence and the original purpose of the meeting.

Everyone looked at Selena, then at Constance, not knowing what to say for a moment.

Although Constance came from Lab 717 and her strength and background were intimidating and shocking, Selena's physics talent was also not to be underestimated.

Especially in the last joint competition, she risked her own safety to save several military school students from Union University, which made many young people admire this outstanding girl.

Therefore, these young people did not help the higher-ups of the research institute to target her as before. Even the Zone Six people were a little hesitant for a moment.

Selena's mechanical abilities may not be comparable to Constance's, but her command and medical talents are obvious and well-known, with the reputation of the Turner family's ancestors preceding her.

No one within Zone Six dared to openly mistreat her.

As for Constance, with the support of the Lab 717 and the achievements of the Intuition Series, it was unreasonable not to give her the position of deputy head of the department.

The large conference room fell silent for a moment.

Constance was still standing on the podium. After hearing Henry's words, she seemed to be stunned for a moment before saying, "Mr. Matthews, based on my abilities, I am fully capable of serving as the head of the department!"

Although these were words of strength, there was no trace of displeasure in her tone, only pride and confidence.

Henry looked at her soothingly, "Miss Baxter, you may not know that we just appointed Miss Turner as the head of the research department the week before you came back."

Chapter 1125 Losing Mind

After Vivian finished speaking, she looked disdainfully at Selena, arrogantly shifting her gaze away. All the high-level members of the research institute were satisfied with this result. Then, with predatory eyes, they looked towards Selena. Obviously, they wanted Selena and the Turner family to feel that this decision was flawless and the best!

Patrick gave a cold look to everyone present and stood up, saying, "Selena, we're going back!" Perhaps Selena was right. The Turner family should not be fixated on this research institute that was now lacking in any spirit and only seemed to keep opposing the Turner family's descendants.

Their young lady should be high and mighty, noble and incomparable. Not in this dark and murky place where they repeatedly suffered humiliation for the sake of their ancestors' glory.

Selena, who had been silent all along, finally lifted her eyelids.

She sat lazily in her chair, her eyes calm and serene as she scanned the people present one by one. Her tone was also calm as she said, "I wonder why you all have such short memories?"

"Aren't you all proved wrong before? Why can't you remember what I said?"

Many of the high-level members of the research institute were stunned when they heard Selena's words that lacked any warmth. Shortly after, their expressions collectively sank.

"Miss Turner, what do you mean by that?!" Constance frowned slightly as she looked at Selena.

Vivian, who was angry and frustrated, stood up and slammed the table, "Selena, what do you mean?!"

"Miss Baxter comes from Lab 717 and has already agreed to become the deputy minister. As someone with no qualifications, why do you feel dissatisfied with sitting in the position of minister?"

"Do you want the research institute to kick Miss Baxter out just for you?"

They stared at Selena, wanting to refute her, but found themselves speechless.

After all, in front of everyone earlier, no one had asked for Selena's opinion.

Instead, the position of Deputy Head of the Department was directly assigned to Constance in public.

The people in the research institute were prepared for Selena and the Turner family not to give up easily, but they did not expect Selena to catch them in this regard.

Now everyone in Zone Six was watching, and no one dared to argue.

Henry promptly stood up and said in a deep voice, "I'm sorry, Miss Turner. We assigned Miss Baxter to the position of Deputy Head of the Department without consulting you. We didn't think it through."

"But it was just because we were too excited about the Intuition Series, and there was absolutely no

Selena hooked her pretty red lips and remained calm. "So what now?"

Henry fixed his gaze on Selena and said in a heavy tone, "Miss Turner, Miss Baxter comes from the Lab firearms of the Intuition Series, which have made incalculable contributions to H Country."

"With such achievements, I believe she is absolutely qualified to be the deputy head of the research

The institute's high-level officials were particularly aggrieved by this question.

Then a clear, crisp laugh from a young girl was heard, followed by a strong statement, "Naturally, I disagree!"

Constance pursed her lips.

Many of the high-ranking officials of the research institute immediately had their faces darken.

They probably didn't expect that Selena would dare to be so firm with Lab 717, even the people from Zone Six were surprised and looked at Selena in amazement.

Freddie was furious and laughed mockingly as he gritted his teeth and asked, "Miss Turner, on what grounds do you disagree?!"

"On the grounds that I am the head of the research department, and I have the power to veto the appointment of the deputy head of the research department!"

With many ominous glances directed at her, Selena sat calmly in her chair and said calmly, "Speaking of this issue, I would like to ask all of you, what makes you think that Miss Baxter is qualified to be the deputy head of the research department?"

This question caused everyone present to be taken aback.

Although I was not the leader, I definitely had a share of credit in the 'Inverse Sensing Series'."

Selena smiled, but there was no warmth in her eyes. "'Inverse Sensing Series' was born three years ago, as the research result of several veteran Ph. D. scholars in the Lab 717."

"And three years ago, Lab 717 only started its first enrollment, Miss Baxter should have just entered Lab 717 at that time."

"Within Lab 717, the system is strict, and unless Miss Baxter's physics talent is amazing enough to directly alarm the senior researchers above, I don't think a student who has just entered the lab has the qualifications to contact the several doctoral students researching the 'Intuition Series'."

"But to be frank, if Miss Baxter really had the talent to alarm several veteran doctoral students upon entering Lab 717, she wouldn't still be an unknown figure in the mechanical field even after three years."

Constance tightened her lips and looked at Selena with a hint of a smile in her eyes. "Miss Turner seems to know a lot about Lab 717..."

Selena did not follow this topic and smiled. "Miss Baxter, as it concerns the future development of the H Country Scientific Research Department, I don't mind going to the Hogwarts official website to inquire directly."

A group of people looked at Selena, their eyes filled with worshipful admiration.

Marley stood in the corner, watching Selena nonchalantly bring Constance, who had been surrounded by an aura of excellence wherever she went since childhood, down from her pedestal. His face was filled with disbelief.

Several military academy students were huddled in a corner, whispering to each other.

Kevin said, "My instincts were right. You can never offend Miss Turner, or you might not even know how you died..."

Felix held his chin in his hands and looked at Selena with admiration. "Amazing! She dared to offend the psychotic 717. My grandfather was right, the Turner family is a group of black sesame balls!"

The others all turned to look at her.

"... Black sesame balls?"

"It means the purer and whiter the surface, the blacker it is inside!"

Felix let out a sigh. "This is bad. Miss Turner has offended the owner of Sacred Pearl. If that freak comes after her... we're all screwed!"

Patrick looked at Selena, who had chosen to take the tough route, and sighed slightly.

Constance was not to be feared, but Lab 717 behind Constance and the owner of the "Sacred Pearl" were too mysterious and powerful.

If Selena offended them, she might be in danger.

But at this point, there was no way to avoid it, so they could only take it step by step.

As Selena's words fell, the entire conference room fell into silence.

Freddie was angry and gritted his teeth, saying, "Miss Turner, why didn't you pay attention to these two when you took over?!"

Selena tilted her head slightly and looked at Freddie. "Didn't I go through the assessment? Haven't my strength and character been recognized by everyone?"

Freddie choked and his face turned paler.

Selena had indeed not been through the assessment because she had been given everything she needed by the Union University during a competition, which was supposed to have been an opportunity that the Shaw family had fought for but had been taken advantage of by the Turner family.

This made Freddie so angry that he wanted to kill someone.

Selena looked at Constance, who was staring at her with unblinking eyes, and said, "When I took over, at least there was Diana competing with me. But why should Miss Baxter be able to crush Lydia and other outstanding young people and directly take the position of deputy head of the research department?"

"Is it because Lydia's character isn't good enough? Or because she hasn't contributed enough to the research department over the years?"

"And Miss Baxter, besides the halo of Lab 717, has she shown anything that matches Lydia so far?"

"I just returned to H Country and cannot compare to Miss Lydia's contributions to the research institute for the time being, that is indeed a fact," Constance said.

"But leaving aside Lab 717, the 'Intuition Series' was brought back to H Country by me, and that is also a fact," she continued.

"With this achievement, I believe I am qualified to serve as the deputy director of the research department," Constance said with a slight smile, looking at Selena's furrowed brows.

"Of course, for the sake of fairness, I don't need any special recognition. I will still be under your supervision in the research department," she added.

Hearing this, the senior executives of the research institute and the Shaw family breathed a sigh of relief.

The looks in their eyes as they gazed at Constance were filled with appreciation and guilt.

Compared to the talented and highly educated Constance, Selena, who was forcing her personal vendetta into the public, appeared particularly unpleasant!

Selena lightly tapped her slender fingers on the desk and looked at Constance without saying a word, giving no indication of what she was thinking.

She didn't agree.

Nor did she disagree.

The atmosphere had just relaxed a bit due to Constance's concession, but Selena's unusual silence once again tightened it up.

Constance met Selena's eyes, appearing puzzled. "Miss Turner, do you have any other questions?"

"There's nothing about you that I'm specifically dissatisfied with," Selena said in a particularly flat tone. "But there's also nothing about you that satisfies me."

Constance bit her lip.

In the face of the angry and dissatisfied stares of the group from the research institute, Selena lazily leaned back in her chair and crossed her legs. "The precondition for your achievements is the Intuition Series that you brought back. It has made a significant contribution to H Country's machinery."

"But to be frank, the Intuition Series is expensive, complex, and requires extremely high physical and mental abilities for those who use it. It's only suitable for a few geniuses."

"In other words, for most people, it's just an unattainable decoration."

"I think your teacher agreed to let you bring it back just to let H Country's mechanics research and understand it, not to use it to mass-produce firearms."

"That's just not practical!"

"Miss Baxter, did your teacher not mention this issue when you left 717?"

With Selena's stunning words, the scene suddenly fell silent.

Constance's gentle face finally went still.

Those who were just angrily accusing Selena are now stupid.

Chapter 1129 Selena's Stuff?

She snapped her fingers.

The atmosphere on the scene suddenly stagnated.

Those who were angrily accusing Selena somehow subconsciously stopped talking.

In the silence, Selena's warm voice resounded throughout the venue, "Lydia, you have been watching for half a day, you should have seen something. Tell these people what you see!"

Lydia had been staring at the "Intuition Series" with shining eyes, but when Selena called her, she stood up subconsciously and asked in a bewildered voice, "What did you say, Miss?"

Suppressing her impatience, Selena said coldly, "Tell these people whether the 'Intuition Series' is suitable for the police force or not!"

Lydia stared at the several light blue mechanical diagrams on the big screen for a moment, then frowned and shook her head, "No!"

Many high-level officials in the research institute felt a thump in their hearts, sinking to the bottom of the valley.

After all, Constance had just returned to the country, and Selena and Lydia had never met her before, let alone knew that she would bring back the "Intuition Series".

So, they couldn't possibly unite to blacken the "Intuition Series" openly.

Seeing everyone staring at her with wide eyes, Lydia frowned even more tightly and explained seriously, "The 'Intuition Series' is really excellent. So far, no one in our research department has been able to make such a perfect mechanical model."

"But its cost is too expensive. The design of the recoil alone is not something that ordinary gold can withstand. It requires a very high density of seven-color gold."

seven-color gold is no longer a question of being expensive, but a question of whether it can be to the front seat and chassis design... the perfection and strength of the 'Intuition Series' are reflected in every

After speaking, she bowed deeply to the people on the scene.

The people on the scene were stunned for a moment, then they remembered that Constance had been overseas and didn't know about the grudges between the institute and Selena. It was probably because the institute didn't explain it clearly to her that this embarrassing incident happened.

In this way, Constance became the victim instead.

"It's okay, Miss Baxter, you had good intentions, and of course, we won't blame you!"

"Although the 'Intuition Series' cannot be mass-produced, it is indeed similar to the 'Sacred Pearl.' For this reason, Miss Baxter is also a hero of our H Country!"

Selena looked at Constance, who was apologizing sincerely, and then took her gaze back.

"In the theory brought back by Miss Baxter, assuming it is just a decoration, I oppose her appointment as the deputy head of the research department. Do any of you have any questions?"

The faces of the senior officials of the research institute became stiff with this question.

The current problem is that Constance did indeed make a contribution, but this contribution is too abstract. It is not enough to directly push her to the position of deputy head.

Selena's opposition was reasonable enough that they couldn't argue.

But the people in the research institute were very unwilling to just sit and watch Selena take the position of the head of the research department.

Alfie squatted down and touched Hattie's hair, looking at her slightly guarded expression. He smiled and asked, "Hattie, have you forgotten about me after just a few months?"

After all, they had known each other for over a decade, and Alfie had always been good to her in the past. Hattie wasn't too cold towards him either, and she replied, "Hello, Alfie."

After speaking, Hattie grabbed Leon's arm and dragged him into the room.

Alfie stood quietly in the hallway, watching the Riddle siblings avoid him and return to their room. His eyes slightly darkened for a moment.

After closing the door, Hattie let go of Leon.

Leon frowned slightly, "Have you already taken sides so quickly?"

Alfie had treated Hattie well in the past. It made sense that Hattie should prefer Alfie over Osvaldo. But Hattie's guarded expression towards him just now was so obvious.

Hattie wrinkled her nose slightly, "Brother, he helped Penelope last time and went against Selena!"

It was one thing for Alfie to treat her well, but it was another thing to treat Selena poorly. Hattie couldn't just help him steal Selena away because he had been good to her.

Leon rubbed her head, "You're misunderstanding him. Alfie just wanted to help her, but..."

So when she saw this doll for the first time, she was extremely sure that it was something from Selena's childhood!

Leon's heart sank slightly, and he gently comforted her, "Maybe we are thinking too much..."

His voice suddenly stiffened.

The cold gaze stared tightly at the doll that had just been turned over in his hand.

The entire back of the doll, on the white dress, was covered with dark and sticky marks.

Leon stared at those shocking marks, his eyes gradually covered with a layer of frost.

Hattie widened her eyes and said, "Brother, that's blood... isn't it?"
