Chapter 1291 She Lost to Kyra Again

"Come back!!"

"Don't go! You can't leave!"

But no matter how hysterically he called out, the black-dressed girl never turned back even once.

Dante's breaths became rapid, and the blood in his body exuded a ferocious aura in an instant.

Like a madman, he broke free from Luke's hold and rushed towards Kyra with a crazy and ruthless momentum that not even Leia could stop him, nearly injuring Selena.

Dante looked insane, and just as he was about to catch Kyra, the blonde standing next to Selena raised his hand.

However, before his hand could come down, a tall figure suddenly appeared in front of Dante and kicked him back with one foot.

With a "bang," Dante fell to the ground and roared like a wild beast.

Osvaldo's face was expressionless. "Get him!"

Luke dared not disobey his command and approached to restrain Dante.

Dante struggled on the ground, staring at Kyra who was walking further away with eyes so red they were almost bleeding.

She lost to Kyra again...

Constance burst into tears, laughing bitterly with extreme fear and jealousy. "Kyra, so what if you win?!" she said. "Whether it's your father and mother, or Dante whom I saved, they all have been mine! Dante has pampered me for a whole five years. Everything we were supposed to do has already happened! When you see him, don't you remember the scenes of me with him and feel disgusted? Hahaha, what difference does it make if you are the real Miss Baxter? You still have to pick up the men I've used..."

Her bitter screams, carried by the wind, traveled far away.

The people in the hall were caught off guard by Constance's words and looked at her with a disgusted expression.

Everyone knew that with Constance's words, there was no longer any possibility between Miss Baxter and Dante.

Leia was furious and rushed forward to grab Constance, hitting her hard with more than a dozen slaps.

Constance's face became swollen and red, but her piercing laughter did not stop.

It wasn't until Selena's footsteps stopped in front of her that Constance looked up and looked at Selena with a hateful and venomous gaze.

If it weren't for this woman, she wouldn't have lost her genius halo in Lab 717, her identity as Miss Baxter, and Dante's protection. It was all because of her!

Selena smiled coldly, "Miss Constance, you have a point. Since you and Dante have such a deep relationship, you can't do without each other. Dante needs medical treatment, how could he do without your care? Lock them together and wish them harmony forever."

With these words, everyone present looked at Selena with horror in their eyes. This Miss Turner was really something...

Constance's expression suddenly became extremely frightened. Dante was now completely devoted to Kyra and didn't care about her. Once he came to his senses, that crazy man would definitely kill her! Constance screamed in terror, "No! I'll go to jail! I'm willing to go to jail!"

Chapter 1292 She is here to target the Baxter family!

As Dante and Constance were taken away one after another, the main hall of the Baxter family's banquet finally regained its peace. But with the protagonist of this banquet gone, there was no need to continue.

Everyone present understood this fact, but the members of the Baxter family understood it even more. They looked at the mess on the ground and remembered Kyra, who had been sent away by Selena. The expressions on their faces were all stiff.

But even if they were angry, they did not dare to cause trouble for Selena. First, everyone had witnessed the cruelty and ruthlessness of the Baxter family towards Kyra. Second, when Kyra left, Diego had breathed a sigh of relief. So even though Mr. and Mrs. Baxter occupied the positions of Kyra's father and mother, they did not have the nerve to forcefully keep Kyra after their actions had been exposed.

At this moment, Mr. Baxter had completely understood. Selena was not here to help the Baxter family. She was here to target the Baxter family!

Kyra's identity had been exposed in public, and from this moment on, the Baxter family would become the laughing stock of the entire capital. But even if he was seething with hatred, he dared not say anything harsh to Selena in front of Osvaldo.

Selena didn't care about the hostile gazes of the Baxter family members. She walked straight to Diego and said, "Diego, don't worry. I will take good care of Kyra."

"You are the only one she cares about in this world. Take care of yourself," replied Diego, his expression bleak.

Selena nodded at the old man and walked back to Osvaldo, linking her arm with his. She smiled at him and said, "Let's go back."

Osvaldo's deep gaze fell on Selena's face, and he stared at her for a while before he put his arm around her waist and left with her.

After watching Osvaldo and Selena leave, the other people in the hall heaved a sigh of relief. The Baxter family's banquet had gone through too many twists and turns today, and many people still hadn't come back to their senses.

Freddie and Vivian were the last ones remaining.

Freddie paid no attention to the other members of the Baxter family and walked directly towards Diego, "Diego, what kind of deal did you make with Miss Turner?"

Although Selena said that she only helped Kyra because she went through a similar experience as Lady Nevaeh, Freddie didn't believe it!

The Baxter family, after all, was the openly recognized authority of the research institute. In the situation where the Shaw family had already lost control of the research department, they had to be on guard.

Diego glanced at him, "I haven't been back to the capital in twenty years, and I haven't inquired about the affairs of the research institute."

Freddie stared at Diego's eyes, seeming to want to see something.

When Diego was young, he was the most outstanding researcher in the research institute and was not good at playing tricks. He was undoubtedly the old man with the best mind among the several families in the capital. So it was easy for Freddie to see the friendliness and closeness in Diego's tone when he mentioned the Turner family.

Freddie deeply looked at Diego, "Diego, you are not just a researcher, you are the pillar of the Baxter family."

Chapter 1293 I Slept Well

While Lab 717's image in people's hearts became increasingly fair and just due to their public support for Kyra's exoneration, Selena stood in the garden thinking about things when the outside world was in a stir.

Leia observed Selena's expression cautiously.

Selena noticed the scrutiny and turned to look at she with her big eyes and chuckled. She moved the flowers in her right hand to her left and reached out to touch Leia's hair. "What's wrong?"

Leia blinked and asked softly, "Madam Selena, are you angry with the young master?"

Although Constance was the main culprit in Kyra's case, Dante was not completely innocent either. Although Osvaldo was involved involuntarily, this matter was somewhat related to him.

Just because of Constance, Dante had become the way he was now. Everyone was worried that Selena's relationship with Osvaldo would also be affected.

Selena's expression showed a hint of confusion. After pondering for a moment, she understood the concerns of Leia and the others and smiled, "No, I'm just thinking about something."

If Osvaldo was guilty, as the leader of Lab 717, was she not also guilty?

When her thoughts came to this point, Selena suddenly felt that she and Osvaldo were really destined to be connected by an invisible thread that could bridge any distance between them.

Selena smiled slightly.

Leia breathed a sigh of relief and asked, "Then Madam Selena, what are you thinking about?"

"I'm thinking about..." Selena seemed to want to say something but didn't. "The affairs of the Institute."

Leia looked at Selena's slightly blushing ears and guessed that she had taken the words to heart.

In the past, Selena would have immediately rejected Osvaldo if there was an issue, but now at least she knew to occasionally spend time with her husband.

This was already a great progress!

The people in the villa were happy for their master.

Selena couldn't think of a way to regain control of the "Sacred Pearl" for the time being, so she sat back and read her book.

Leia accompanied her on the side.

Time passed by, and Selena suddenly put down her book and said to Leia, "If something happens to Dante's illness, come and tell me."

Leia was stunned.

Everyone could see that Selena was not friendly towards Dante because of Kyra.

Therefore, Leia was very surprised by Selena's unusual interest in Dante's condition.

She had been with Selena for a long time and knew that her mistress was not a saintly person.

Chapter 1294 Engaged to Osvaldo?

Selena smiled sweetly, with a hint of happiness on her face. She hadn't had a nightmare in a long time. Osvaldo had really taken good care of her.

Leia saw the sweet smile on her mistress's face and her own eyes curved upwards, stepping on the accelerator to speed up. Thirty minutes later, the car stopped outside the Turner family's gate.

Patrick was standing outside the gate and led Selena inside. Oscar was sitting alone in the hall, with no one else around. Leia knew that the Turner family had something to discuss with Selena and greeted her before leaving.

Oscar's gaze fell on Selena's face, and he suddenly spoke, "Patrick, go see how Tom and the others are doing."

He wanted to send Patrick away. Patrick frowned, "Father..."

Selena laughed, "Cousin, you go do your thing. I'll talk to Uncle."

Patrick looked at his father and then his sister, reminding Selena, "Stay for dinner tonight."

After Selena nodded, Patrick turned and left.

Only Oscar and Selena remained in the hall. Selena sat across from Oscar.

Oscar looked at the girl in front of him, with beautiful eyes and delicate features, graceful and noble in every movement. She seemed like a harmless girl, but when he thought of what she had done after joining Capital, no one could underestimate her ability. She was not someone that an ordinary family could cultivate.

Oscar spoke softly, "Don't be nervous. I just want to ask you some questions."

He had noticed that Selena was always tense in front of him, which was something she never showed in front of others. If it was just because of guilt, it wouldn't be enough to explain it. After all, Patrick was also a member of the Turner family, and Selena's emotions were normal in front of him. If he had to describe it, it was probably like wolf cub facing a big wolf, with a mixture of tension, alertness, excitement, and eagerness.

A thought flashed through Oscar's mind.

Her family would never make a mistake with bloodlines.

No one would allow such a mistake to happen!

"I have all of Selena's memories," Selena continued, "Lady Nevaeh has been by her side since she was a child, and my mother has been by my side since I was a child."

"This is just a coincidence!"

With the last sentence, Selena's voice was incredibly firm.

Oscar's pitch-black eyes looked at her deeply, and it was impossible to tell what he was thinking.

The atmosphere was frozen for a few seconds.

After a moment, Oscar suddenly changed the subject, "Lady Lauren came to discuss your engagement with Osvaldo the day before yesterday. What do you think?"

As Selena walked out of the hall, Oscar withdrew his gaze.

The man lowered his thin eyelids, and on his face, there was a touch of contemplation.

Although Selena was certain that she had no connection with the Turner family, Oscar was not ready to draw conclusions so easily.

Especially after learning that this girl looked exactly like Selena, it was hard not to think too much.

Could there really be such a coincidence in the world?

Most importantly, the person behind the scenes, using the "Light of God" to save two identical girls at the same time.

If he had not already known about their existence, how could he have brought them back from the brink of death?

Selena did not know the inside story, which was why she was so certain.

If it were not for the fact that this girl might really have some connection with Callum, Oscar would never have agreed to hold this engagement ceremony at the Turner family.

After all, based on what he had investigated about this girl, her true identity--

And...

As soon as Lady Lauren let her guard down, Oscar would definitely call her.

That means Osvaldo would also find out.

At the moment, Selena felt like hiding from that man.

Leia didn't know Selena's thoughts. If she did, she might have sent her lady to her young master right away.

Leia drove and took Selena to Capital University.

When Selena arrived at the laboratory in Capital University, she went to find Eden first.

After coming back from the alliance, Eden stayed in the laboratory to help out.

Selena needed him to help treat Oscar's leg, so Eden had been staying in the laboratory doing experiments these past few days.

When Selena arrived, Eden had just put down his scalpel and was excitedly looking at the frog that had just been sutured up on the dissection table.

Hearing the door open, Eden turned around and saw Selena, then ran over with joy on his face and said, "I'm ready. When are you going to take me to dissect a live person?"

Selena stopped the boy with her fingers, poking him in the forehead. She glanced at the frog on the dissection table that was now starting to croak.

"I'm going to be engaged to him," Selena said suddenly, and Black Crow and White Crow were both stunned. They also had a feeling that this was not unexpected.

Looking at the hint of joy and shyness in the girl's eyes, even though these two men were emotionally colder than normal people, they couldn't help but feel a complex emotion at this moment.

The relationship between them and this girl was incomprehensible to outsiders. They were born to assist her in her mission. Although they had never met her in the past nineteen years, they knew better than anyone how she had come this far step by step.

She was young and weak, born with a congenital disease and was exceptionally intelligent. As soon as she learned to walk, she was forced to sit in that position, even though she was scared and wanted to cry, she had to force herself to stand up straight.

She was always elegant and strong, and for more than a decade, she had never been willful or out of line...

They watched her grow up step by step from that naive and small life to become tall and beautiful, and because they understood her sacrifices and hardships, their feelings for her went from the initial mission to a close and caring one.

Selena had never seen how normal girls grew up, so she didn't know what she had lost. Stanley probably also felt sorry for such girl, which was why he gave up his freedom and voluntarily came to her side.

Almost everyone thought that she would grow up to be the most powerful and beautiful queen of the empire and marry the man who had been patiently accompanying her for more than a decade, waiting for her to grow up.

If it hadn't been for that accident, this would have been her life's outcome.

After Selena finished speaking, she didn't hear a response for a long time. She looked up and saw Black Crow and White Crow looking at her with an expression she had never seen before.

"What's wrong?" Selena frowned slightly.

When she and Leia had just walked out of the school gate, it was already dusk. Selena was about to call
Osvaldo when she looked up and saw him standing not far away, staring at her motionlessly.

Selena blinked.

Leia walked away very perceptively.

Osvaldo walked towards Selena.

As the man approached her, Selena thought to herself that Oscar should have already called the Anderson family, so Osvaldo should already know that she had agreed, right?

At this thought, Selena looked at Osvaldo's delicate and handsome face and her heart began to beat faster.

She coughed, pretending to be calm, standing still and watching Osvaldo walk towards her. His strange black eyes met hers, unblinking.

Osvaldo looked at the girl's guilty and joyful expression and smiled slightly, lifting her up and embracing

Osvaldo watched as his little darling obediently closed her eyes, hiding the hint of a smile in them, and turned off the lights.

The next morning was still calm. After finishing breakfast, Selena was about to go to Capital University when the butler suddenly walked in. "Madam Selena, the people from the Research Institute are here. Would you like to see them?"

Selena was first taken aback, then smiled. The people from the Research Institute had previously never dared to come and invite her to their doorstep, probably because they were afraid of being slapped in the face by Selena. Instead, they stationed people in front of the Turner family mansion every day.

Knowing Selena's temperament, they were afraid of provoking her again, and didn't dare to disturb her in her villa. Today, however, they had gone against their usual behavior and sent someone to invite her personally, indicating that they were sure she would give them respect. It seemed that Diego had already "advised" them.

They had been ignoring the Research Institute for so long, it was time to see them. With this in mind, Selena smiled slightly and said, "Bring them to the garden."

After speaking, she walked towards the garden.

Outside the mansion gate, Henry personally led several high-level officials from the Research Institute, looking worried.

These people were not only prestigious and influential, but were also top-notch figures in the entire Capital city, let alone just the Research Institute. Yet here they were, waiting anxiously to see a nineteen-year-old girl, without daring to express the slightest dissatisfaction.

The Research Institute had really lost disgrace this time. If Selena didn't speak to them today, they would face huge external and internal troubles.

The scandal surrounding Constance's fake identity as a rich young lady, as well as the malicious and hypocritical personality of those involved, had been the subject of public opinion, placing the entire Research Institute in the hot seat.

Henry straightened his tie and walked up to Selena, bending down and saying, "Miss Turner, how are you feeling? The Research Department has a lot of work waiting for you to handle. If we delay any longer, the machines that Zone Six needs might not keep up with the demand..."

This was one of the reasons why they had to come to Selena.

Almost everyone in Zone Six and Union University was waiting for the batch of mechanical models that Selena had previously provided.

However, many theories inside the models were beyond the understanding of the Research Department staff.

The only one who could decipher them was Selena, the creator.

If they didn't invite Selena back, the machines would not be put into use, and Zone Six would be angry with them.

Selena turned the rose in her hand and said coldly, "Mr. Matthews, you seem to imply that the Research Department cannot function without me..."

"You've always wanted to kick me out of the institute and promote Constance, haven't you?"

"That doesn't align with your previous intentions."

Despite having suffered many losses at Selena's hands, Henry couldn't help but flinch at these words. He bent down and spoke sincerely, "Miss Turner, it's all our fault!"

"We were short-sighted and should not have mistreated you for our own selfish interests! Please forgive us old fellows in the scientific community of H Country. Chapter 1298 Returning to the Research Institute

Selena could tell what the others were thinking just by looking at their eyes, but she couldn't be bothered to deal with them. She narrowed her eyes slightly and thought about the situation ahead, then said in a cold voice, "Please leave."

The group from the research institute was stunned.

They had thought that the Poole family had offered enough and Selena wouldn't refuse. They never expected Selena to still refuse to go back to the research institute. Was she trying to make things difficult for them?

Henry wiped the cold sweat from his forehead and became more humble in his tone. "Miss Turner, we all know that you are angry, but this is about the national scientific research. Please think twice."

Selena had been in the capital for a few months now, and they had some understanding of her character. The Turner family's young miss was vindictive, but she was not a stingy person. She could be capricious, but she would never damage the national interest due to personal emotions.

Selena lifted her chin and smiled without much warmth. "For Diego's sake, I'll give you one last chance. From now on, if I hear anyone in the research institute speaking ill of or slandering the Turner family, or doing anything to damage the reputation of the Turner family, don't blame me for being ruthless!"

The research institute collectively breathed a sigh of relief when they heard Selena agree to return to the research institute.

Finally, they had managed to invite this difficult young lady back!

For the high-level personnel of the research institute, this period of time had been a nightmare. They didn't need Selena to say more, and they wouldn't dare to provoke her again in the future.

One near-death experience was enough, they didn't want to die!

And ultimately, the research institute was still under the control of the Poole family, so Selena's return to the institute gave her a feeling of "entering the tiger's den."

Leia frowned deeply when she thought of this.

Selena looked at Leia's unhappy expression and chuckled. She raised her hand and rubbed Leia's hair, saying in a low voice, "Even if the research institute is not good, it still belongs to the Turner family. If I destroy the Turner family's things, I will never give those jackals and tigers a cheap victory."

Both Oswaldo and the Turner family were capable of helping her rebuild a research institute. However, it was too time-consuming and laborious, and Selena didn't have the time to wait.

And the new research institute, no matter how good it was, was not the one belonging to the Turner family.

Leia understood Selena's meaning and pouted, muttering under her breath, "Principal Chow is probably going to cry now..."

It was hard to come by an excellent talent, but she wasn't planning on pursuing a medical career. Principal Chow knew this "bad news" and who knows how he'll cry.

But Selena didn't hear her voice, so she murmured softly, "What?"

Leia shook her head, "It's nothing. When are we going?"

Knowing that Selena was not willing to waste even bit of time, Leia immediately asked.

Selena spent the whole day giving lectures in the research department. In the evening, she finally left the department with Leia.

Outside the door, she ran into Christ. The person in charge of the Poole family wouldn't show up here for no reason, and Christ was obviously here to confront her.

Selena frowned, and Leia tightened her lucky cat in her arms.

Christ's dark gaze fell on Selena's face. After staring at her for a moment, he suddenly smiled, "Don't be so hostile. I just want to talk to you."

Selena's voice was cold, "If you insist on opposing me, I don't mind taking down the entire Poole family with you!"

Christ's tall figure leaned towards Selena, and he smiled lightly, "How could I bear to hurt you?"

But the other person might not be so kind!

If she didn't know that killing the Poole family leader would cause a lot of trouble and she couldn't beat Christ, Leia would definitely rush over to beat up the man in front of her. How dare he offend Madam Selena!

Leia's eyes turned red with anger.

Selena's beautiful face suddenly became cold.

Selena chuckled and gently stroked Osvaldo's cheek with her hand, "I'm not angry, and you shouldn't be either, okay?"

Osvaldo raised his hand and pulled her onto his lap, his tone seeming gentle yet cold, "Selena, you promised to stand up for me..."

Selena blinked and explained, "Those words weren't directed at me. In Selena's opinion, they were meant for Creephia."

So she didn't really care.

As a result, she wasn't angry.

That was Selena's answer to him.

The man lowered his head and gently brushed Selena's cheek until he had kissed the blushing girl into a state of weakness before finally stopping.

Osvaldo held Selena in his arms and sat at the dining table, using a spoon to feed her.

Selena widened her eyes and carefully observed the man's expression, disappointed to see that apart from anger, he had no other emotions.

It seemed that the Turner family wasn't going to call the Anderson family today after all...

She had no one to cry to when she was sad, no one to share her joys with, and no one to keep her company when she was scared

After saying "good night," Selena put down her phone and went to sleep obediently.

The next day, after Selena got up and finished her morning routine, she walked downstairs and saw Patrick standing in the hall.

Selena blinked at the strange smile in the other party's eyes.

Patrick coughed lightly and said, "Selena, Principal Chow called early this morning and asked if you had any intention of being a professor at Capital University and teaching the students?"

Knowing that Selena's expertise was in mechanical engineering, Principal Chow had to settle for less and hoped that she would not leave the medical field altogether.

Sitting down at the dining table, Selena carefully considered the offer and finally said, "Eden has exceptional talent and is worth focusing on."

Neither medicine nor research was the most important thing to her.

The future of the medical community in H Country would depend on other young people.

Patrick immediately understood Selena's decision. He remembered Principal Chow's eager tone when he called early in the morning and couldn't help but feel sorry for him.

If Principal Chow and those old leaders in the medical community knew that Callum's daughter had no intention of staying in the field long-term, they would probably all come to the Turner family's doorstep to hang themselves.

But this was Selena's choice, and even though the Turner family was disappointed, they would never force her to change her mind.

"Father went to Zone Six early," Patrick said gently.

Presumably, he knew that Selena would feel uncomfortable staying with the Turner family while he was there, so unless it was a matter of importance, Selena rarely crossed paths with Oscar when she was with the Turner family.

Selena's eyes sparkled slightly.

Suddenly, Patrick said, "Oh, Selena, Principal Marshall just called and asked when you're free. She has something to discuss with you."

Selena nodded. "I see."

If Principal Marshall didn't come to her, she would have gone to see him.

At noon, Selena left the research institute and went to Union University. Principal Marshall probably didn't expect Selena to come in person.

Upon receiving the news, she immediately left the training ground, leaving a mess behind. Principal Marshall changed his clothes and went to his office, where he saw Selena standing in front of a painting, staring at it intently.

A rare, gentle smile appeared on Principal Marshall's cold and harsh face. "Miss Turner."

Selena turned around and looked at Principal Marshall, smiling. "How are their injuries?"

She was referring to a few police academy students.

Principal Marshall spoke warmly, "Except for Felix, who is still recuperating, the rest has recovered quickly. They probably got a shock, so they've been training like there's no tomorrow."
