

Love Rats 81

Chapter 81

At first hearing this voice, the Walson siblings both froze. What was more, Leah's gaze changed and she slightly bit her lips.

Outside the gates of the police station, a handsome young man was striding in, his cold face unable to hide the chill that was rising around him at the moment.

Dominic's face changed slightly when he saw Talon.

Angie questioned loudly, "Talon, it has nothing to do with you, what are you doing here?!"

Talon regarded her as air, walked up to Selena, looked at her pale face with a heartache. He squatted down, looked into her eyes and said tenderly, "Lady Selena, he really doesn't deserve your liking, don't like him anymore, he will only hurt you again. and again without any bottom line."

Selena looked at him, feeling her heart unconsciously became warm, the sudden sharp pain eased a lot. She said with a smile, "I have long since stopped liking him."

Dominic clenched his fist, his body tensed up, and his face as he looked at Selena was filled with disappointment, shock, bewilderment.

For the first time, he heard the girl who claimed to love him and had followed him around since he was a child say herself that she didn't like him anymore.

Even when she had decided to canceled the engagement, she had not said words.

When he heard this, Dominic's mind went blank. In daze, many emotions gathered in his heart, and finally turned into a deep and complicated sentiment. He stared at her face, trying to see through what was in her mind.

Looking at Talon's tightly knitted brows, Selena added solemnly, "After the banquet, I will never like Dominic again."

Dominic and Leah had teamed up to get her killed.

Talon looked steadily at her eyebrows, no longer the slightest hint of love and depression for Dominic, she was still pale, but with more vividness and strength.

He stared at her intently for a long time, a certain biting emotion seeming to roll through his eyes, but in a flash, it dissipated cleanly.

Only after a long time did Talon raise his hand and pat Selena's shoulder.

His hand, for some reason, trembled, and he turned around, using his shoulders to block Selena behind him, and his cold gaze at Dominic, surprisingly with hatred in his eyes.

“I wasn’t interested in the Walson family, but even if it’s just to make things difficult for you scum and bitch, I’ll fight for the headship of the Walson family!”

Dominic did not know where Talon’s hatred for him came from, but the words he said made the siblings stunned.

Angie screamed, “Talon, how dare you!”

Dominic stared at Talon, a cold smile appeared on his face, “Talon, do you know what you are saying?”

Among the several descendants of the Walson family, Dominic is the eldest grandson, but the one their grandfather likes the most is Talon, but because Talon has some knots in his heart towards the Walson family due to the early death of his biological mother, he was not willing to stay in the Walson family at all before, much less take over the position of the head of the Walson family.

Chapter 82

‘I like Lady Selena, I want to protect her, I don’t want to watch you two scum and bitch slander her and hurt her, so I want to fight for the position of the head of the Walson family, is there a problem?’ Talon said in a cold voice.

Dominic stared at him, a flame of anger in his eyes.

He probably didn’t expect that hurting Selena just once would provoke such a difficult opponent for him.

Or perhaps his anger was mixed with other complex emotions.

Angie’s face twisted, she wanted to bite Selena to death, “Selena, you’re shameless, you just got dumped by my brother, and you’ve gone to seduce Talon-”

A heavy slap to Angie’s face brought her sharp, harsh words to a screeching halt.

Angie covered her face that had been slapped and froze in place. In just two days, she had been slapped by the same person, Angie was almost mad, and her face was even grim.

She was about to pounce on Selena, but Talon pushed her out viciously.

Angie fell into Dominic’s arms, crying unrelentingly, and Dominic suddenly roared, “Have you had enough?!”

What happened today was entirely because of her. If she hadn’t bothered Selena, she wouldn’t have involved Leah and Talon, and there wouldn’t have been so many fraught conflicts.

Angie was stunned by the gloomy expression on Dominic’s face, covering her mouth, not daring to utter another word. Selena withdrew her hand, the last bit of palpitation in her heart only dissipated after the slap, she stood up straight, finally not as uncomfortable as just now.

Talon’s gaze fell on Angie, swept over Dominic, and then looked at Leah.

Leah trembled lightly, her expression haggard and resigned, her eyes full of fear and anxiety.

Talon seemed to dislike dirtying his eyes and gave her a glance before averting his eyes, his silent black eyes looked at the group of students with indignant expressions and said in a cold voice, "Lady Selena is not a third party, it was the Walson siblings and Leah who lied!"

Without giving the three a chance to explain, Talon continued, "Lady Selena and Dominic's engagement was settled by my grandfather and her grandfather. They were good friends and hoped their grandchildren can be together. At that time, Lady Selena was only five years old, and Dominic was ten years old. Leah was an illegitimate daughter, she had never even returned to the Riddle family, and she had never even met Dominic, so how come they were the so-called "childhood friend"?"

"Lady Selena likes Dominic, everyone in the whole of Creephia knows about this, she has liked Dominic for more than ten whole years and would do anything for him, even going so far as to turn herself into the joke and the notorious fool of Creephia."

"Lady Selena and Dominic were on good terms at the beginning, but this has all changed since Leah was picked up, and every time Dominic saw Leah, he would bump into scenes of Lady Selena bullying her, and Leah would cry and cry out in pain."

"But Lady Selena's mother died early, her father didn't love her at all, no one to protect her and no one to feel sorry for her, so she didn't cry, while Dominic helped Leah reprimand Lady Selena every time. He thus, little by little, completely alienated and disgusted Lady Selena."

"Their marriage contract is in name only, Leah is the shameless third party, She and Dominic betrayed Lady Selena together, the whole noble circle of Creephia knows this, and only you fools will believe that Leah is innocent and kind."

Chapter 83

As Talon spoke, Leah's face grew whiter and whiter, her anxiety was extreme. She opened her mouth to defend herself, but no matter what she said at this moment, she looked pale in the face of the solid evidence.

All she could do was weep with a bloodless face, and explain in a panic, "No, It's not like that."

The others had long since been stunned in their tracks, staring blankly at the three, their faces filled with disbelief. Dominic felt ashamed, he had the chance to stop Talon, but Selena's distressed and heartbroken expression just now kept dangling in front of his eyes, and his steps were as heavy as if he was stuck in place by glue, unable to lift a step.

Angie subconsciously wanted to retort, but Talon blocked all her words of defence with one sentence, "Do you need me to ask Grandpa to explain the truth for everyone personally?"

The Walson siblings were instantly appalled again and stared at Talon, but did not dare to speak.

Cyril is the most headstrong and self-righteous, and decisive. If he knew that they had disobeyed him without permission, he might be angry.

The group of students stared intently at Leah with haggard faces, the expressions on their faces were nothing but shock. "Leah, is what he said true?. Dominic was Selena's fiancé from the very beginning. You..."

Leah's face carried a hint of aggression and guilt, she bent deeply to the group of students, "I'm sorry, Dominic came to school to see Angie, we had a meal together, and then it was rumored everywhere that he was my boyfriend. By the time I knew about the rumors, I can't explain it anymore."

The group of students were abruptly stunned in place, their expressions blank.

It was true that Leah had indeed never said personally that Dominic was her boyfriend.

Previously, when Dominic came to pick up Leah and Angie from school, he was generous and poised, and even invited several female students who were close to Leah to join him for dinner, but only ignored Selena.

After those students returned to school, the news spread that Dominic was Leah's boyfriend.

So later when Selena said that Dominic was her fiancé, Leah looked aggressive and had inability to refute it, which made everyone think that it must be Selena who had broken up the couple by virtue of her status.

In addition, Angie pushed the wave and shouted how Selena pestered Dominic and how Dominic loathed Selena, plus based on the way Leah and Dominic get along, they look like a sweet couple, causing everyone to loathe Selena.

The truth, however, was that Leah knew that Dominic was Selena's fiancé since childhood and was her brother-in-law, yet she was still entangled with Dominic.

Dominic had a fiancée, but he ignored her, instead he pampered his fiancée's sister, causing all of them to misunderstand the relationship between the three of them.

A third party who destroyed another person's relationship is placated as a victim, and that victim, in turn, is isolated and bullied by them en masse.

There were a few students who looked at Leah with more than a dash of disgust, in addition to a strong sense of disbelief. "There's nothing can't be explained!" A parent angrily accused her, "It's up to you whether you want to explain or not, you've had countless chances in over a year to tell your classmates the truth, all you have to do is to say that it was your sister's fiancé and he has nothing to do with you, they would not have done something that outrageous to their classmate!"

"Madam, have you forgotten what that young man said later?" One parent sneered, "This bitch had sex with her brother-in-law long ago, and sent her sister bed photos to show off. She wants onlookers to misunderstand more, how is it possible that she will explain?"

"This is outrageous! Just now we asked, and the three of them even lied collectively. The young master of the Walson family has even failed to have the most basic integrity, it's a disgrace to the Walson family!"

"Angie is even more outrageous, looking delicate and lovely, but in reality she is a fool and a vicious woman!"

A cadre of aggrieved parents came out to accuse them.

Leah kept bending over, her slender body trembling slightly, and it was impossible to see her expression clearly.

Angie's expression was flustered and angry, and she looked at Selena with vicious fury.

Dominic's eyes were cold and gloomy, looking at Selena who was sitting in a chair staring at her phone with bemused eyes, suddenly regretting that he shouldn't have helped Leah on impulse.

Talon was right in saying that he could deny all of Selena, but he was not qualified to deny trampling on Selena's feelings for him.

If he didn't help Leah, he would not have hurt Selena once again, heard with his own ears her words of dislike for him, provoked Talon into fury and brought things to this point.

"Charlotte, did you hear everything? Who exactly is the third party? Who is the victim?" Charlotte's father looked at her with a disappointed look, "You locked up Selena in the classroom over this matter overnight, and go and apologize to her!"

Charlotte was crying her eyes out, she didn't like Selena, even without Leah, she hated that woman!

Let her apologize to Selena? No way!

She cried out, "So what if Leah is the third party? Selena cheated on her performance and was in promiscuity. She is not a good person, why should I apologize to her? Does she deserve it?!"

As soon as the words were roared out, the scene was instantly silent for a moment.

Charlotte's father became more and more distressed, "What does it matter to you? Everyone only needs to take responsibility for their own words and actions and live with a clear conscience. If she hit you, I will fight for you to get justice. But you have to pay the price since you have misunderstood her and did something to harm her!"

Charlotte was sobbing, she wanted to find out the evil things that Selena had done, but after searching around, she realized that Selena had not hurt anyone except for Leah.

She really had no more reasons and blurted out, "She is not good at her studies, she is at the bottom of every exam, pulling down the average score of our class, she cheats and puts the notes in Leah's pocket, wrongly accusing Leah of cheating and bringing shame to our whole class along."

The atmosphere was instantly silent again.

And in this silence, Selena suddenly stood up, put her mobile phone into her bag, a smile appeared on her face, "About those two things, I have already called the police, all of you will see the truth, but anyone who has some conscience, remember to give yourself two slaps."

Chapter 85

At these words, those students who had just known that they had wronged Selena froze once again.

The implication in Selena's words was that it was clear that even these two incidents that led to her infamy were an inside job.

If even these two things are that they have wronged Selena, then what they have done in the past year would have to pay the price.

The group of students turned completely pale.

After all, they are students who have not yet gone through social experience, and their minds are, on the whole, still very simple and clean.

This is the reason why Leah was able to successfully use them to harm Selena.

Leah's body trembled once again, she was wise enough to know that at this time and in this situation she would only make more mistakes, so she bowed her head humbly and did not say a word.

As long as she was given a chance to catch her breath, she would make Selena pay a terrible price!

In the corner where no one could see, Leah's eyes became incomparably cold.

When she saw that Selena was about to walk out of the door, Charlotte met her father's disappointed gaze, her heart was so anxious and angry that she suddenly lunged forward relentlessly Selena, shouting at the top of her voice.

"Selena, explain before you leave, you don't dare to admit the shandy things you did and deliberately show a disgusting look of a victim, causing us to be chastised by our parents, you say you were wronged, why don't you show us the evidence? You bitch, if you don't explain it today, you are not allowed to leave!"

Her father seemed to be unable to hold back any longer and raised his hand to slap her hard across the face.

A loud, resounding slap sounded and a dead silence fell over the whole scene.

Everyone was taken aback, even Leah was shocked and lifted her head.

In a dead silence, Selena slightly inclined her head, the expression looked mocking, "Have I said any less in this year? When you guys called me a third party for ruining Leah and Dominic's relationship, didn't I explain? When I was caught cheating and vilified Leah for cheating, did I not argue my case? Did any of you ever believe it?"

The group of students stared straight at her, for the first time unable to retort.

Selena had explained.

The first time Charlotte locked her in the classroom all night, when the door opened the next day, her whole body was frozen, and she tried desperately to argue to everyone that Dominic was her fiancé, but unfortunately no one believed her.

When she was caught cheating and vilified Leah for cheating, she cried in public, sobbing and sad, but still argued for checking the surveillance.

Many students in other classes in the exam room looked on with dismay, but the teacher Freya Sutton didn't give her a chance to appeal, taking the note as hard evidence and arbitrarily giving the two charges on her.

Chapter 86

Many of the students who had experienced these occasions with their own eyes seemed to have been awakened to something, and the two scenes were suddenly magnified without limit in their minds, every detail becoming eerily clear and distinct, with a touch of shock.

Recalling it again at this moment, they are suddenly shocked to see how those two incidents were handled and how they turned out ridiculous.

Their faces gradually paled and their lips trembled.

In the dead silence, Selena laughed again, the sneer in her eyes so stark as to be piercing, but her tone was soft and gentle.

"For more than a year, whenever Leah was in a bad mood, her eyes were red, her expression was aggrieved, and injury appeared on her body, no need for her to say anything, you all will eventually spontaneously and automatically put the blame on me. After aiding and abetting the enemy for so long, you still dare to justifiably demand an explanation from me, the victim?"

The last line of cross-examination exploded deafeningly in the ears of many students.

It struck hard on their hearts, making them inexplicably break out in a cold sweat.

Leah seemed to be unable to hold back any longer, biting her plump lips, her eyes shrouded in a mist of humiliation, her expression sad.

She cried in tears and said tremulously, "Selena, why do you have to say that? I have always believed that you didn't do those two incidents, and I have always helped you to explain to everyone."

"Which time did you not explain?" Selena gave a cold laugh, "When I argued that Dominic was my fiancé, you sadly and powerlessly told everyone that he indeed had no relationship with you. No one can say that you didn't explain."

"Every time you show a look of hurt and pain, those followers of yours ask after you if I've bullied you again, and which time don't you shake your head and try to hide it in a panic and say no?"

"When the cheating story broke, you assured the teacher with conviction that even though the handwriting on it was mine, you believed it was definitely not me."

"Almost every single thing, you have tried her best to help me explain, so everyone knows that the vicious Selena has a good sister who is soft and kind, generous and tolerant." Selena's tone seeped with an icy chill as she said mockingly, "Every explanation you gave only made my reputation more notorious, while you, Leah, will always be the kind and innocent. victim."

Leah kept shaking her head, her tears falling fiercely and sharply, sniffing, her expression incomparably desperate, "Selena, I didn't expect that for such a long time, you would look at me in this way. What exactly do I have to do that you will be willing to believe I really care about you?"

Selena's lips hooked, "Leah, look, apart from Dominic and that group of students, how many people at the scene believed your words? Do you think everyone, like them, is stupid and blind?"

Leah's body shuddered heavily, and she gritted her teeth as she felt the sight that fell on her.

With the fact that she and Dominic had both cheated, at this time, even if she cried with all her heart and soul and her words were moving and innocent, it would be impossible to make everyone believe her as they did before.

She lowered her head and choked out, "Selena, whether you believe it or not, I've always genuinely cared for you." And at this moment, Charlotte, who had been slapped, finally snapped out of the severe pain, and looked at her father incredulously, the sadness and anger about to burst out, but father opened his mouth sternly before she did.

He looked at her with incomparable disappointment and pain, and in his emotional stimulation, he even forgot his manners, "Take a good look at this pair of sisters, if Leah was really as innocent and kind as you say, how could Selena be reduced to the point of being driven out of the house?!"

Chapter 87

"You only look at the surface, you speak foul at every turn, you bully the weak and still think you're great, you refuse to admit your mistakes even when the evidence is right in front of you, you're so stupid that you're being used as a gun and you don't even know it. Is this how I raised you?!"

Charlotte had never seen her father show such a stern expression, and was somewhat intimidated, yet she still stuck her neck out and glared at Selena with red eyes, determined not to think she was at fault.

Her father was probably really angry, covering his heart and gasping for breath.

Selena saw this scene, the corners of her lips pulled up a slight curve, "Mr. Buckner, no need to be so angry, soon, the truth will wake up your daughter, so that she can see clearly the true face of her best friend."

The phone held in her hand vibrated.

Oswaldo has arrived.

Unwilling to waste any more time, Selena smiled softly as a group of people stared at her with varying expressions, and lifted her steps to leave.

Talon walked out the door with Selena and asked out loud, "Miss Selena, where do you live now? I'll take you back."

Selena looked straight into his eyes, her gaze flickering darkly as she smiled, "No need, someone is coming to pick me up."

As soon as Selena's words left her mouth, a black sports car stopped in front of the two of them, and the door was opened from the inside.

Selena waved her hand at Talon and got into the car.

Through the black glass, Talon could not see the appearance of the person inside, but he saw a slender hand resting on the steering wheel, the black cuffs were pulled up to reveal a delicate and powerful wrist, the golden cuffs shone with at low-key luxury light, permeated with majesty and nobility.

Most importantly, it was a man's hand.

Talon pursed his lips, subconsciously wanting to say something, but in the end he didn't, and could only watch as the car drove away from his eyes, taking Selena with it.

As soon as Selena got into the car, she was acutely aware of the man's breath was hauntingly heavy.

She frowned, deliberating on how to explain her relationship with Talon.

She did not know Talon.

But Talon likes Selena, or it could be described as a one-sided crush, and in the entire Walson and Riddle families combined, he is the only one who truly cares for Selena.

Only he truly loved Selena from his heart.

Oswaldo did not say anything, but sped up the car and sped quietly all the way to the castle.

Inside the castle.

As Selena just sat down at the table, Zachary's phone call came, his voice was dry, with shock and shame, "I'm sorry, Selena, we went to the Registrar's Office to transfer the monitoring, just to find that section of the monitoring is gone."

Selena took a spoon to drink the soup, her eyes only deepened, there was no expression of surprise, "Thank you, Zachary,

it's fine."

"I'm sorry." Zachary apologized.

Before he came back, he had assured Selena with conviction that there must be no problem with the surveillance, but it turned out that it was really like Selena had said, that surveillance had long since ceased to exist.

Selena had made the matter known to everyone in Creephia, and everyone tired to seek justice for her. If, in the end, she cannot produce evidence to prove her innocence, it will only make her already difficult situation even more embarrassing.

Chapter 89

"Those who are unrepentant in serious cases will be severely punished!"

In the police station.

After the group of angry parents had been pacified for the time being, Dominic led Leah and Angie out of the police station.

It was already late in the day, and under the dim street light, Dominic looked back at Leah beside him, a complex wisp lingered under his eyes. The doubts he had held in his heart for two days finally overcame his guilt, he stared into Leah's eyes and asked in a deep voice, "Leah, why did you send bed photos to Selena?"

This incident has almost become a thorn buried in Dominic's heart.

From the moment Selena decided to cancel the engagement, it became a shadow that lingered in his mind.

He did like Leah, but he didn't sincerely want to hurt Selena.

Leah lifted her tear-stained eyes, seemingly because she had shed too many tears, her eyelids were red and swollen. She sniffed and straightened her back, a touch of humiliation and stubbornness under her eyes, tilting her head to look directly into Dominic's eyes, "Dominic, do even you have to question me at this time?"

Dominic met her heartbroken eyes, his breath hitched, and the words that were about to come out of his mouth were stuck in his throat.

Leah had received enough questions and accusations in the past two days.

At Cyril's birthday banquet, everyone was scolding her for her shamelessness and bad character, and those angry parents just now were close to pointing their fingers at her nose and calling her shameless and evil-minded.

With her heartbroken on all sides, how desperate would Leah's situation be if even he chose not to believe her and cross-examined her?

He and Leah had built up their relationship over the years, and this girl's understanding and generosity had long convinced him that he would love her and always believe in her, so what position did this questioning put her at this moment?

Dominic's heart, which had just hardened, softened again as he held Leah's slender shoulders with both hands, and said in a warm voice, "That's not what I meant."

Leah seemed to be unable to hold back any longer, the tears that she had been holding back for a long time came out of her eyes, sad and aggrieved to the extreme, "How can Selena do this to me?"

Dominic looked at her tear-stained face, her soft and painful appearance was heartbreaking. He couldn't help but tighten his arms around her, looking at her haggard and sad eyes, frowning, "Leah, not to doubt you, I just want to know the cause."

The fact that he and Leah had both betrayed Selena was both accidental and uncontrollable.

But no matter how distant and loathsome he was to Selena, he knew how much she would be hurt when she suddenly saw his bed photos with Leah after Selena had loved him for several years.

Selena's mother had died because of Leah's mother.

Leah's face stiffened and her pale lips moved, just as she was about to speak, Angie, who was standing at the side, opened her mouth first, she said furiously, "Brother, is there any need to ask? It must be Selena used shady tricks to frame Leah. She hates you and Leah and is using every possible means to get back at you, that vicious woman!"

Dominic's eyes clouded over and he looked coldly at Angie, "Why you're leading the charge to let people bully Selena at school?!"

After Selena left, he asked what had happened. If Leah could be described as heartless, then what Angie had done was a deliberate target, and the means could really be called vicious.

He had originally thought that his sister was innocent and sweet, at most spoiled and capricious, but when he saw with his own eyes today how she had casually slandered and hurt Selena, he was suddenly shocked to realise that the truth was not at all what he had thought.

Angie was timid. The evidence is conclusive, she had no way to deny, but pouted, said with tears in her eyes, "I hate Selena pestering you, you do not like her, I just want to help you to drive her away."

Chapter 90

Dominic's face became even more gloomy.

Angie looked at his expression, thinking of Selena making this scene today and Talon's words, she was panicked, tugged on Dominic's sleeve, "Brother, I know it's wrong."

If Dominic didn't help her, when she returned home, her parents would surely lecture her.

If Talon was more ruthless and went to sue her in front of Cyril...

Angie winced.

Dominic's face did not ease in the slightest, just because of her capriciousness, she had not only hurt Selena, but had brought him a rival in Talon.

Thinking of the way Talon looked at him today, he felt intense and deep hatred.

Dominic could barely hold back his anger, and he treated Angie with a rare lack of his usual cheerfulness.

Angie was timid mentally, she knew that she had made a bit of a mess this time, so she meekly lowered her head and didn't dare to say anything else, but the hatred in her heart for Selena was getting heavier and heavier.

Leah looked at Dominic teaching Angie a lesson because of that bitch Selena, her sharp nails embedded deep into her palm, a trace of resentment slid across her eyes.

She wiped the tears from her face, her long hair fell out, hiding the expression on her face, and said nothing, raising her steps and walking past Dominic.

Dominic returned to his senses, raised his hand to grab her arm and frowned, "Leah."

Leah didn't turn around, her voice was low and soft, full of sadness, "Dominic, I'm very sad now, I want to go home, can we talk tomorrow?"

Dominic originally wanted to continue to ask questions, but when he saw Leah's pale and tender face, he finally couldn't ruthlessly force her, he lowered his voice, "I'll send you back."

He looked back at Angie and said in a deep voice, "Have the driver take you back."

Angie was relieved to see Dominic take Leah away, but immediately afterwards, her delicate face took on more than a hint of anger, and she stomped her feet, "Damn Selena!"

Dominic sent Leah back home.

He stood in the living room, his hands in his trouser pockets, watching Leah walk up the stairs in silence.

Not long after, a maid came down and said to him, "Master Dominic, Miss is too tired and has fallen asleep, so you should go back first."

Dominic frowned, uneasy, and asked, "How is Leah's mood?"

Ever since Selena broke the news of their ambiguous relationship, Leah's situation has been very bad, and today something like this has happened, so he can imagine how hard she has been hit.

The maid held back, but said indignantly, "Master Dominic, to be honest, Miss hasn't slept at all, she's hiding in her room, crying her eyes out, and no amount of coaxing from Madam has helped, it's all Lady Selena's fault."

"She first caused Miss to take the blame for being a mistress. Miss was already distraught, and now she has the audacity to blame Miss for the bullying at school."

"Since Lady Selena left home, Miss has been worrying about Lady Selena for so many days, and she has lost a lot of weight, yet she has wronged Miss."
