Lucky Collision (Evans and Martin Robinson) Chapter 7

Chapter 7 I'm The One Who Caused Martin's Relationship Crisis

"Ding!"

Evans received a WhatsApp notification from Zoe.

Zoe? Why did she contact me?

Zoe called him after a few seconds, "Evans, are you ready for school? Wait for me. Send me your location."

She hung up immediately, so Evans had to send her his location.

He was waiting for her at the corner of Gem Street. Zoe appeared soon with her eye-catching long legs.

It's such a pity! How could Martin get her to be his girlfriend? God is so unfair!

Watching Zoe walking towards him, Evans suddenly remembered the indication above Martin's head.

Did Zoe cheat on him?

"Evans, I had something to talk to you about. Let's find a place, okay?"

Zoe's personality was cheerful and lively. Why would a girl like her be together with Martin? Why? Evans thought.

"Where do you want to go?" Evans looked around and asked.

"Starbucks! It's on me!" Zoe exclaimed and left without allowing Evans to refuse.

There were many people in Starbucks, and most of them were on their laptops. Evans couldn't understand their lifestyle. Looking at the price on the menu, Evans was shocked that a cup of coffee was worth a few days of his living expenses.

Zoe stepped up to pay, Evans offered to pay like a gentleman, "I'll pay."

"No! I said it's on me!" Zoe refused.

Evans didn't expect Zoe's character to be so bold. She was not like the typical girl who wanted a man to treat them.

"Go and have a seat first."

Zoe bought two cups of cappuccino and some chocolate cookies.

After they were seated, Zoe observed Evans while she sipped on her drink.

Evans doesn't look as poor as Martin and the others said, right? He could bring an antique that is worth more than 10 thousand dollars, but why is he so low-key? He must be trying to hide his identity.

Zoe smiled sweetly and kicked him under the table, "Hey, do you know why I suddenly asked for your name that day?"

"I don't know!" Evans couldn't figure out why Zoe always liked to kick people. Is it because of her long legs?

Zoe laughed, "Don't make friends with people like Martin in the future. He goes around saying you're very poor and he despises you."

Seeing Evans didn't talk much, Zoe asked curiously, "Have you been in love before? I heard that you're the only one in your dorm without a girlfriend?"

Evans didn't expect that and he said awkwardly, "My dream is to earn lots of money. I don't want to waste time on romance."

Nothing was more important than earning money. His parents worked very hard for him to continue his studies. He couldn't let them down by wasting time.

Zoe said, "Who told you that falling in love is a waste of time? Two people could also work hard and motivate each other. You won't feel alone walking to the path of success."

"So you're not feeling alone now?" Evans asked.

Zoe shook her head, "You know what? I actually don't like Martin. I didn't let him hold my hand. I haven't even agreed to be in a relationship with him yet."

Evans was stunned. He knew that Zoe and Martin had met at the sorority. He was there too but he never took the initiative to say hello to girls.

"The person I liked at that time was you, but you're icy cold. I did it so I could see you again in your classroom," confessed Zoe.

Evans froze. So the one who caused Martin to have a relationship crisis is me? I'm ice cold? That's just because I'm poor!

Zoe was anxious because Evans did not respond to her.

"What I said is true! Do you remember you're the one who served me when I first went to the school to register? Have you heard of the song 'Fall For You'? Because tonight will be the night that I will fall for you..."

"Cough..." Evans could no longer sit still, he suspected that Zoe was teasing him. She's so bold. Could she be trusted?

Evans picked up his cup and prepared to leave. Zoe shouted, "You don't believe me? I'll prove it to you tomorrow!”

“Tomorrow, let’s talk about it tomorrow!” Evans left. He couldn’t understand why Zoe liked him and forgot about this matter back at school.

The next day at noon, Evans had just returned from the library.

“Look! Martin is going to publicly confess his love to Zoe in front of the cafeteria. Let’s go and watch!” Elmer was very passionate about gossip.

Martin was one of the famous and rich boys in school. Although Zoe was not as famous as Angelina, she was also a beauty on campus. She ranked first on the list of perfect legs.

Such a news would cause a stir at the cafeteria but Evans was not interested, “Bring me a meal after they’re done.”

“Hey, what are you doing? Let’s go together!”

“No way!”

Evans’ phone rang suddenly. There was a call from “Energetic Girl”

“Who is that?” Elmer asked as he didn’t know that was Zoe’s name on WhatsApp.

Evans hesitated for a moment and answered the phone, “What do you want?”

“Come to the cafeteria now! Hurry up! Don’t make me angry!”

Evans thought for a moment and rushed there with Elmer. The place was already crowded.

The cafeteria was placed opposite the school’s movie theater. There was a stairway leading to each other. The steps were covered with bright red roses and colorful balloons.

Martin was dressed like a prince in his suit while holding flowers in both hands. He proudly looked at the crowd and looked up at Zoe who was on top of the steps. He felt that he was going to reach the peak of his life.
