

M E M O R I Z E

Chapter 91. Awesome, Awesome. And Much More Awesome

Please continue reading on

“... I don’t know why, but all these seem like old things.”

“Yeah.”

I heard disappointed voices from An Hyun and Yoo-Jung. However, I was just picking up the weapons one after the other after activating the third eye. The weapons that disappeared for long period of time were rusty and did not serve for my purpose. And it was also true that the kids’ weapons seemed to have relatively small amount of capacity when compared to these.

However, among these things, there are a few things that possess powerful magical powers and have retained their shape after all these years. The kids were picking up to see the things and were throwing the other things away.

“Oppa ya. What is this?”

When I heard the sound of Sol’s voice, I turned my head like a lightning bolt. I was feeling lucky because I picked An Sol who had 100 points as her luck, and it made all the difference. Everyone turned their eyes in the direction Sol, at the same time. When she gathered the attention of everyone, Sol went back with a shy face.

“What?”

“This.....”

The item that Sol had was a bracelet. It had a lot of rust, but because I had a lot of curiosity I immediately accepted it. I took the bracelet for a while and looked around.

“Miss Ha Yeon. Are you able to use the order ‘Restore’?”

“Restoring magic? Of course. By the way, it can literally be able to restore the appearance and internal functions, but I have no confidence in its durability or any other things.”

“That’s what the blacksmith do. That will be enough.”

“Then, give it here.”

Soon, when I handed the bracelet to Jung Ha Yeon, the eyes of the kids shone. An Hyun couldn't control himself and asked.

"Hyung. What is that bracelet for?"

"I don't know yet. I'll see it once the restoration magic is done on it."

Of course, the 3rd eye showed me more than what my eyes could see. And I already had the heart to give it to An Hyun. I asked for the restoration magic, and I felt that it needed to be perfect first.

Jung Ha Yeon took the bracelet and then just stood still. Then, with her slender finger she touched the centre of the bracelet, I could see that the entire bracelet was covered in the bright light. Soon, after all the light disappeared, the surface of the bracelet that was previously rusty, revealed itself. The bracelets original shape was restored and showed the sign of mild moonlight. And as Jung Ha Yeon confirmed its completion she turned around.

"This is, by no way....."

"Ha ha, Sol you did it."

The kids all had curious faces. Jung Ha Yeon looked around the bracelet for a moment and then gave it back to me with an expression of envy.

"Congratulation. Mana utilization is much higher than normal steel. My guess is that.... maybe it contains small amount mithril. In other words, you can use it to pursue magic as the owner wishes to."

"Mithril? Unnie is that a good thing?"

Jung Ha Yeon nodded her head as Yoo-Jung asked that question.

"Then. Mithril is a rarely found mineral. Lighter than the steel, as well as harder than any other material. Well..... Mana utilization rate is very high."

"Expensive?"

".... It's worth considering that."

I put my finger in the ring and then turned the bracelet round and round. Precisely, this bracelet contained 5.7 % of Mithril. There was nothing to improve the players ability, but the mana utilization rate increases just by equipping it. We can see that it has higher efficiency than what were installed now. I handed the bracelet to An Hyun, who just spit something.

“Come on.”

“Huh, hu? No. Hyung it is yours, more than being mine.....”

“Is it so? Then lets do it that way.”

In the rejection of An Hyun, I took the bracelet back very coolly. The face of An Hyun changed, and his eyes endlessly continued to follow the bracelet that was in my hand. I laughed at it and gave him the bracelet again.

“Joking. Anyway, If this doesn’t satisfy you, because it sounds like it. Then maybe I can give it to Yoo-Jung?”

In the end, An Hyun took the bracelet. At this came the envious eyes of the party members, he was adjusting the bracelet so that it would fit his hand perfectly. Wow. There was also an automatic adjustment function.

“.....how’s it?”

“Hummm.”

An Hyun tilted his head to said, for a moment and then tapped his bracelet with his fingers.

“I don’t know yet.... I think my body is getting lively. And the mana flow speed is seems to be even faster.”

That was enough. And he stopped talking and continued to touch his bracelet at it felt different to him. We all left him and decided to search again. Thanks to An Sol, the other ones started to search with even more dedication. Even Sol, was looking all over the place for goods.

In the beginning, the kids were throwing the things to another direction, but this time it was contrary to that, they brought me the things one by one. But the luck was low, or we didn’t have good eye, as everything that the kids brought were just scraps of metal.

Nevertheless, at my replies the kids were annoyed and the children turned quite slowly. I thought that I would collect everything and then check them later.

Anyway, the expedition that we came on this time, I had a lot of time to prepare the equipment for the kids so I didn’t see anything that was useful. The chest protector, deck and the shield seemed to better than what the kids were now equipped with.

I thought it would take a little time. I decided to take a break. I turned around once more, and confirmed that there was no one and then called out a new name. Shin Sang Yong continuously refused my offer, as kept of asking him to come, I saw that he came in running. He didn't say it, but he also wanted to participate. So we picked out the items that we needed for 30 minutes.

"Phew.. This one could be roughly."

"Unnie. Quickly quickly."

"Yes. Just wait a moment."

After a while, we threw away all the scrap to one side and sat down with all the decent things that we could gather in the centre. Jung Ha Yeon, was restoring one piece of item at one time. As her restoration went on, I first counted the gold coins and the jewelry.

Once the money was displayed, I saw a bunch of 32 gold, and then of 10 gold, and 58 gold around there. The total number of gold coins were 378. There were a total of 8 jewels and all of them were ruby. We could get at least 100 for each piece. That was good sum.

I needed a lot of money to apply for the position of a formal coin, but I tempted myself to think that I could use the pouch given by Vivian. All the kids looked at the gold coins and jewels with blank eyes. It was a good compensation for all the suffering they went to in the meantime, all at once.

When I turned my head. I saw that Jung Ha Yeon was breathing heavily. She looked at the items with tired eye at the items that she restored with her restoration magic. There was a dagger, a cloak, and two rings in front of her. Four in total. If the item of An Hyun was included, the bracelet, then it would be 5 pieces. I quickly activated the 3rd eye, and at the same time Jung Ha Yeon opened her mouth.

"I don't know what to say, but I'd like to congratulate you all once. Firstly, the dagger has only one character, and it seems like it can increase the attack speed of the wearer..... Well..... however, it isn't suitable for the battle purposes. It is more of a decorative object in a way."

She lifted the dagger up ( a sharp, pointed dagger with the sharpest blade.). It was similar to that of a dagger, but it didn't seem to be suitable for the combat purpose. I wonder if assassins use this.....

"Unnie. Is it good?"

"If you look at this, this is also valuable. There special weapons aren't available anywhere in the nation."

"Ah....."

At once Yoo-Jung turned her gaze towards me, I replied to her in a calm voice.

“What”

“Ah~Ah!”

She couldn’t take her eyes off, I barely nodded my head. And Yoo-Jung took the dagger out of my hand like a predator catching its prey. Though the length of the blade was much shorter than the dagger I had prepared for her, she nevertheless took the dagger with a very satisfied face.

Jung Ha Yeon pointed towards the cloak and opened her mouth this time.

“This cloak looks like a plain cloak with a fading light, but this seems to have a spell which had magic resistance. But I don’t know what level this is. Maybe when we go back to the city I will test this.”

“Well. That’s all we need, it is enough.”

I took the cloak from Jung Ha Yeon and I smiled silently. This cloak was a cloak that I knew about. There was a characteristic about the cloak, that it could defend the magic of several types. Maybe it was called as the Block Of Fire.

Anyway, if one calculates the damage, even the power of the damage cause by magic exceeds, this could still reduce the impact damage to 40%. Not only that. Apparently, this looks like a cotton cape, but the physical resistance spell on this entire material is much stronger than that of a regular cloth. The lowest price that this could be sold would be 600 gold, for one to buy. This cloak is...

“Vivian.”

“Wow. Thanks.”

Jung Ha Yeons eyes wavered when she saw Vivian take the cloak. But she quickly gathered her composure within a few seconds and picked up the two rings, and put them in palm of my hand.

“These two rings are probably the best of all the items that I’ve restored. These are really....”

Jung Ha Yeon looked at the couple of rings and stopped speaking for a while. I smiled at this. I heard the sound of Shin Sang Ying swallowing a gulp beside me. I finally got one ring that I wanted. But, unfortunately, the ring had no effect on me.

Jung Ha Yeon looked at the rings and then looked at me.

“Mr. Su-Hyun. Would you like to take one of this ring? I’m not entirely sure, but this ring could boost the strength. I don’t feel any magic in it, but the strength power is reacting spontaneously to the hands. This is the first time I’ve experienced, though I’ve heard a lot about this.”

I heard the sound of all the people of the party gather towards it. The kids also heard this thing from the player academy, but it was worth checking if the stats could go high with this. I accepted the ring that Jung Ha Yeon gave me. I quickly took a peek. As soon as I checked the player status, I didn’t see any rise in the strength, just as I expected. I just sighed.

The ring definitely raises the stats. But it was players who had the strength below 90, like the nucleus that I took from Vivian. And this had an attribution function. If I had the strength at 89, this would have raised it to 90. After that the magic ability grows and then proceeds to exceed 90, the ring attached to the player will increase the magic ability.

However, this wasn’t for cases like me, which already had magic of 96. I just sighed again and took the ring of my hands. I wasn’t worried that I couldn’t qualify for using this ring.

“Mr. Su-Hyun.....?”

“Sol. Come here.”

I heard the doubt in Jung Ha Yeon’s voice, but I called out Sol in a soft voice. An Sol just looked at me, but looked into me eyes when I called out to here. And with a few steps she came to my side.

“It is better for you to use this.”

“Eh...?”

Everyone was staring at me with surprised faces. I just shrugged my shoulders at the eyes that were piercing through me.

“Mr. Su-Hyun. I’m not sure. I don’t know if this will go well, please choose well. To give it up like this, other wise.....”

I knew what I was doing. However, I wasn’t going to get into a hassle, as I’ve decided. I shook my head firmly.

“It is alright. It would be better for the class of a player who uses magic ability.”

“.... If this is sold we could get 20, 000 gold right now.”

“We have enough money. It would be better for her to use it. Sol quickly.”

“O.....Oppa....”

“Wow.... Leader. You’re really an....”

I heard the admired voice of Shin Sang Yong from my side. And Jung Ha Yeon was looking at me with a different expression. Originally, the principles of the caravan chief were the principles of the caravan. And that would be the implicit rule of the caravan members. However, when I gave up the ring and gave it to Sol, it was different. The truth is that it was useless for me, but I could be better to let this misunderstand be taken positively by the others.

“O..... Oppa... I don’t know. It is just that.... oppa..... I can’t take.....”

When she heard the 20,000 gold, Sol was feeling burdensome at the ring. I sighed a little and saw that Sol was holding her hands tightly, so to put the ring in her left hand I took her hand in mine.

“Huh. Give me your finger. Not the little one. This won’t be hard.”

Sol kept trying to pull her hand from mine, but I held onto it tightly. I held onto it strongly. I tried to put the ring on her left hands finger by opening the fist, so slowly Sol’s finger opened..

“Can I put it here?”

Sol didn’t answer me. She just looked into my eyes and then nodded her head once and then twice. As soon as the ring went on the small, white finger, I was able to see that the ring had automatically adjusted to it, just the same way the bracelet happened.

Soon after checking the Player status, Sol’s ability had increased by one point. The atmosphere of the party was shaken. Everyone was envious of her.

“The ring matter is resolved. The left out one....”

I had no idea. However, Sol turned her head away and avoided my gaze, she had a red face that was more red than usually. Did she think that this was similar to the act between the couples and marriage?

It was cute thought, but I didn’t mind it, even if it turned out that way. I didn’t know what would be the outcome for this act, they could be the things that I can’t even dream of.

92. Awesome, Awesome. And Much More Awesome (2)

Please continue reading on

Before going into the next leftover ring, I activated the 3rd eye to check the player information. I also wondered about the growth of her, and wanted to check whether it worked properly as it attributed or not. I was able to smile when I saw the information of Sol.

< Player Status >

Name: An Sol

< Ability > ( Of the remaining ability points, 4 points have been added. )

[ Strength 20 ] [ Resistance 22 ] [ Agility 24 ] [ Vitality 30 ] [ Magic 86 (+1) ] [ Luck 100 ]

The other attributes and the rings attributes showed growth. When I first saw that, the luck and magic were pretty high, but it would've been nice if the strength would've gone up another 30 points.

“Our Sol had been putting a lot of effort from the past, so I’m blessed. Congratulations.”

An Sol, smiled very brightly at my voice, it had been long since I saw that smile. If it was going to be like this, then by the end of half year it is possible to get magic up to 90. And for the rest of the year it is possible to take the magic up to 94, the cut-off for a wizards top level point.

Players found that the highest magic ability in this place was 101 points. However, he was just a fraudulent player and ignored the other players. That was what I knew. And in case of strength three people had 98 points and two people had 97 points. And the magic ability of the mages 94 can be considered as the ‘highest’.

Anyway, I felt my heart race, and Sol bowed with her head. Seeing this kind of behavior, I felt very pleased and a soft smile came onto my face.

And seeing such a warm scene, Jung Ha Yeon opened her mouth with a soft voice.

“Hu Hut. Then, everyone has gotten everything, and then this ring will be taken by the captain. I don’t think you will reject this, right?”

“Well. Come on..... what about the ring?”

I already knew the information because the 3rd eye was triggered from the beginning, but I had to ask for the explanation to not raise any doubt. Her eyes, her eyes were burning with intention to explain about it. In her attitude I stepped back a little.

“It does not compare to the ring that increases the magic ability, but..... It is worth more than that ring.”

Is it so. I already know everything about it, but looked at her answer with a little impatience. Jung Ha Yeon had a soft smile and put the ring down in my hand.

“Don’t be surprised. This ring had anti-magic spell. And it seems to have got regeneration.”

“Oh. That is amazing. An anti-magic spell.”

It can be used three times in the day and then charges in the night for eight hours. I was able to see Jung Ha Yeon narrow her eyes, as I had given a textbook answer.

“..... I don’t think you are astonished.”

“No. I was surprised enough. Anyway, we spent a lot of time here, so we need to continue our exploration.”

“.....”

Jung Ha Yeon had a disgruntled face, but I did nothing wrong. The new equipment were given, the gold and jewels on the floor, and her gaunt face. This time, the west was completely attacked.... At the end, I opened my mouth, and turned away my head naturally.

“Then leader. We have covered all the rooms in this passage. So where will we head to this time?”

“Go North.”

I answered simply.

*

The end of the North aisle. In front of us, we opened the door of the last room, there was an animal.

“Oppa. What is that? I don’t like the feeling.”

“Hmm. I’m not sure. It looks like a variant.”

I heard the voice of Yoo-Jung. And now the kids were also asking me softly. The animal in front of us was in the shape of a wolf, but had three heads.. and another point of uniqueness was that there was fire being emitted from the mouth and nostril.

“Variant? No, no way, Kerberos? This doesn’t make any sense.”

“No way..... That isn’t possible. Of course it doesn’t.”

I dismissed Vivian's question with a resolute voice. Kerberos, from the helm of the Hell, was never supposed to be present in the first place. And a real Kerberos, absolutely no way. He was literally a ghastly man, and was over 3 meters tall and mild with ferociousness. Perhaps if the real Kerberos would see this variant wolf with his eyes, and the words of Vivian, he would surely grieve.

There was only variant wolf. But the bones of a few wolves could be seen all over the room, it could be guessed that there used to be more variants. And for some reason, he was the only wolf that survived.

"Krahhhh....."

The wolf is originally a clever animal, but the guy in front of us seemed different. I have never saw such a intelligently developed creature. I laughed at my thought idea and then dropped the orders.

"Vivian keeper.... An Hyun, Yoo-Jung....."

"Kuang!"

Hwarlk!

This was a man without courtesy. The variant wolf attacked before my words were conveyed. The animal in the centre spread its mouth wide open and produced a crimson red chrysanthemum. I heard the voices in the back, they were quickly memorizing shield orders but I lifted my left hand with the ring.

"Anti-magic."

The white light came from the ring and sphere of smoke came of from the air and soon disappeared at a very quick pace. At the same time the voices of those who were memorizing the spells stopped and I took a sigh of relief as they were done. In the meantime, I spoke in a casual voice.

"..... at my back. Vivian do you know why I put you as the keeper?"

"Yes. Free."

At my question, Vivian laughed and I heard her clatter. If Vivian uses the Block of Fire, he won't be able to defend it. I thought of using Hwajung against the fire, but since it was just fire, I decided to draw back.

"After the pre attack of the wizards and Sol, the guys feet will be tied and we will assault in from three directions. I will take the head. You guys should take the back side, and take on the role of dominating it as much as possible."

“Ok. Oppa.”

“Yes, Hyung.”

“Then keep it occupied until then. Come on. Be careful.”

As I explained it simply, it looked like the kids were enthusiastic as we talked and when we were talking, it moved ahead. Could it hear me? I wanted to check its information with the 3rd eye, but first we needed to take care of the wolf that ran towards us, it was my first priority.

The guy who was running towards me had a little more distance to cover, but he sprang from there, but the direction was different, he jumped towards the direction of Yoo-Jung. Perhaps he instinctively wanted to intend to avoid the strongest and try to capture from the weakest, i.e Yoo-Jung. Not knowing that it was going to attack her, Yoo-Jung was taken aback.

“Haaat!”

I quickly went to cover for Yoo-Jung. However, he wasn’t playing around with us, after seeing me, he quickly cornered Yoo-Jung towards the empty space in the back.

Perhaps if I was able to use high level of agility to cross in the air and land on its back, like that one time in the past. I thought it was a good idea.

“Oh....?”

Hwarlik!

Yoo-Jung, she got scared. She adjusted her posture properly, and began to run hastily. To make matters worse, she became flustered as she saw the flame that shot from his mouth and into the air. Even if one floats up, the flames will hit and the guy would fall. I was thinking inside.

“Gust of Wind!”

There was a gust of wind where Yoo-Jung was standing, and we could see that the wind was lifting her body and moving it. The timing though, it was a great timing and Yoo-Jung was brought out from their safely. It avoided being attacked and lost its leverage. This was the skill of Shin Sang Yong.

“Ajusshi! Awesome!”

“Ah, I’m not an Ajusshi....”

When Yoo-Jung shouted with a delighted voice, Shin Sang Yong replied with a calm voice. This was great. This was really great. This time it wasn't Jung Ha Yeon who got into action, but it was Shin Sang Yong who was in the spotlight.

However, not getting swayed by this, An Sol and Jung Ha Yeon started to order attacking spells.

"Shackles!"

"Cone Of Ice!"

Sol's bondage spell wrapped itself around the body of the wolf, and it stopped moving. And right after, ice chunks were created under the ground, and the dew started to rise around the body. It wasn't aqua, but this was certainly ice. This water magic was familiar.

"Babang! Bang! Bang! Bang!"

The wolf rattled back and forth while barking like a dog. However, as its body was tied down due to the bondage spells, the ice pincers pushed through the body more and more. But this was over there yet. The pretty lips of Jung Ha Yeon opened as she was ready to do a double casting of a skilled wizard, and I was the witness to it.

"Broken!"

Phisat! Phisat! Phisat!

Jung Ha Yeon's shout could be heard, and the ice pricks that went into its body scattered around. An Hyun and Yoo-Jung were star struck as they watched the pieces of ice that had burst out so beautifully. Though it was stabbed, no one felt bad for it. The three heads twisted around fell then and there at the same time.

"Kaingggg...!"

"That bastard! This is good. Haha!"

Yoo-Jung watched the series of process go on, clutched onto her dagger as she remembered what happened before and ran over to see the animal. Whether there was an effect of raising the magic ability or not needed to be checked. In other words, she still had the opportunity to attack at her will.

As if pounding the on a drum, I watched Yoo-Jung use her dagger on it.

"Ah ha ha ha ha!"

Yoo-Jung had a spur of moment and used the dagger that way. It was terrible for that wolf to suffer like that. Despite that, she turned back to the animal normally, feeling like she couldn't achieve her purpose.

"Hmm!"

"Hey!!"

After gathering the courage he took a breath, and An Hyun pushed his lance into the mouth. Then, the tongue form one of its head came out. The two reaming heads were on the side, the kids decided to and gradually tried to remove the remaining life out of the variant wolf. I ran and cut of the remaining two heads at the same time.

Pity. It was pitiful to see this. Soon I watched the body of the wolf with comfort as I saw life leave its body. Yoo-Jung was still not done with the stabbing, and at last she finally took out both of her dagger and lifted them in the air. Then came the sound of the lance, that sound was similar to the sound when Yoo-Jung took out the sword.

Then Yoo-Jung felt a little better and then looked at me with a smile. She laughed with blood on her body, I could feel that the members of the party were stepping back.

"Oppa. I did good, right?"

"..... yes. Good job."

"He he. I got praised."

I praised Yoo-Jung in an unusual manner. Typically, she was a close-up female novice player who couldn't adapt to things in a short time. There are more women like this in the modern world, they were treated as princesses. Women who couldn't kill an animal, but when their live is on line they don't hesitate to kill even a huge monster. A completed player from the players academy.

However, while I was in thoughts, Yoo-Jung looked at me and laughed a big laugh. I was worried because I shouldn't be liking this because I saw that the blood was all over her body. This was huge.... I felt a little nervous, but she looked so beautiful to me now. I lifted my hand and slightly touched her.

I wiped away the blood near her eye, Yoo-Jung looked at me for a moment and then close her eyes again, as if she was enjoying the moment.

Please continue reading on

The goods that we got after clearing the rooms in the North side passage were only gold coins. However, if we totaled all the gold that we had collected in this expedition till now, it was 102 gold. It was okay for me, and the kids also didn't seem to have any problems. It seemed like after getting the huge hit in west aisle, our ambitiousness had resided.

I encouraged them to take a break, but the kids themselves requested and decided to enter the rooms on the eastern side. Everyone had happy faces. And seeing these kids, a smile made its way onto my lips. Originally, when seeing the faces of the kids when they didn't find the treasure, it affected me too.

The proceeding of the first floor of this Institute in the Ruins can be regarded as quite smooth. While there weren't much dangerous moments, originally, it was uncommon to lose a caravan member when exploring a dungeon. Considering such things, we could say that our attack speed is very fast.

At the centre of this expedition that was going on were me and Vivian. Of course, all the players have been very observant about their surrounding, but Vivian was always in that state of mind, and she was skillful in a way. Not sure when she was dealing with a single monster, but she was of great help when dealing with the groups of major monsters.

After a while, we found the first room after entering the eastern passage. As a result of my detection, there was actually only one in the east passage. That is, if the room was all, then it is safe to say that we completely cleared the 1st floor.

"There are stairs in front of me."

I heard the voice of Jung Ha Yeon who turned her head to the side. As she said, 80 meters ahead, and we would reach the second floor. After clearing the room in front of my eyes, will we go to the second floor or will we have to camp? While I was worried about it, I opened my mouth after looking at everyone.

"That stairway over there is probably the one that leads to the second floor."

"Origi, originally, the dungeon rooms on the second floor are more likely to get difficult to face."

As Shin Sang Yong ended his statement, I nodded in agreement. Not all of the case, but from my experience, it could be considered that the dungeons on the higher are difficult and more likely tough to handle. I looked at the people who were waiting for my next words, as I was a little late.

"Firstly, lets clear the room that is in front of me, and then we will decide whether to continue the expedition on the same day or put up a camp."

"Uh. This institute has no windows too. I don't know whether this is day or night."

Yoo-Jung grumbled in a low voice after scratching her head once or twice and placed her hands on her hips. Now, I could feel the same sensation in the members of the party too. However, I couldn't catch out any reaction from inside of the room that we had detected. I was about to open the door without any hesitation.

Thulgak!

“Oh?”

“What hyung?”

When I paused. An Hyun put his head a little back.

“This room....”

I pushed it a little more, but the door didn't budge. What kind of door this was I didn't know, but to have a door closed like this.

“It is locked.”

“Ah. Then what? We just go up?”

“No.”

After briefly answering the easy question of Yoo-Jung, I kicked the door with my foot. Of course, I did use a certain amount of magic. Soon, I could see that there was something broken about the door, and the previously closed door was now opened freely. The people who were nervous, were amazed now and took out their weapons, but I couldn't see anyone in that room. Everyone had a sigh of relief. Of course, Jung Ha Yeon didn't forget to add in her thoughts.

“..... its hot.”

As we entered the room, we could see that the floor with the marble tiling was fading its color. There was a small bed on a side, and the sheets were nicely laid. As I turned my gaze towards the corner, I saw a desk, and butterflies were roaming in my stomach. A quill pen and rolling ink bottle, and a record sheet spread on one side.

There were clothes hanging on the shelf on the wall, that weren't touched. More than half of them were damaged. As I looked around the room, I walked over to the bed and then moved near the sheets. There were a few pieces of ashes that appeared to have come from the human bones on the sheet. That meant the human being that last lived here, these were the bones of that human, and he was last alive on this sheet.

“Su-Hyun. Su-Hyun. Are we going to explore this room?”

Vivian lifted her head and asked me.

“Yes. That seems like it. One of you keep a lookout at entrance and all the others explore this room.”

As I completed saying, Shin Sand Yong departed from the room and walked towards the door. And the rest of the players spread out began to look inside room.

After a while the members of the party stood still with a blank expression. I was also the same. I couldn't find anything that was worth being called as a profit. I wasn't sure, so I activated the 3rd eye, but the result didn't change yet.

“But I was hoping for something, a little more as the door of this room was locked.. Huh. This is bad.”

“Cheer up. Like the saying, this isn't the end, it's just clean.”

“Huh? Cheering up is okay, but the saying is a little weird.”

“Is that so.”

An Hyun and Yoo-Jung talked with each other and were trying to take lead in the conversation. Idiots.

“Oppa....”

Everyone was trying to get rid of their dull faces, when Sol called out. Once again, I was able to see her heading towards us with the speed of lightning. Soon, I could see that she had something in her hand when approaching us, and flinched when everyone was looking at her. After a while, Sol looked at all and started to cry. All the members of the party were flustered at this act.

“Why is it only when I want to say something..... why is it like that to me..... huek.”

I didn't feel this to be right. So I approached her and calmed her down. Soon, Hyun also came towards Sol to comfort her.

“Haha. Sol had been silent so far, so everyone was expecting something.”

“Yes. Our Sol is a blessing. But if you cry you won't be one.”

“.... Really? I'm a blessing?”

Was the expectation of the party a burden on her? Anyway, as Sol was calming down, I could see the subtle changes in the faces of everyone. Particularly, Jung Ha Yeon who stared at me as she wasn't able to comprehend what she saw, and then a 'kick' sound was heard. As I turned my head I saw Sol, covering her mouth with her hand to stop the crying, and it was a funny thing to see.

After a few moments I received the records that Sol had in her hand, I could see some unknown characters. No. There were a few recognizable characters. Our ability wasn't that blooming, but most of it was about the 1st level Hall Plane.

There were a few recognizable characters but honestly, I couldn't say that it was so profound. As I looked at it briefly, I stopped at the middle of the record. There was smoothing in it. Certainly, there was a word that I understood, and I was looking at it. But Why was this..... I looked at the records for a while and then called out to Shin Sang Yong who was at the entrance.

“Mr. Shin Sang Yong.”

“Yes. Leader.”

“We have found an ancient record.”

“I will go over it now.”

He ran towards us to look at the record. When he tried to read the record, well, he just looked at me and frowned. This was the first time we've seen a look like this on him.

“Leader. It is too difficult.”

“Ha? Even then.... Uhm. Is that so?”

I almost said “D minus, and you can't decode it?”, but I managed to keep my mouth shut, barely managed. Shin Sang Yong nodded his head with a sorry face and scratched his head.

“The ancient decoding rank isn't as high as I thought. In particular, this institute contains words that only these people knew. Intermediate decryption is possible but it is difficult to grasp the whole content.”

“Hum.. Then that is it...”

I also frowned. The record in front wasn't a simple record. This record was most likely to contain the information about this institute. And now it was a matter to continuing to explore and think about coming back and finishing it. It was then.

“Then give it to me. I'll read it.”

“Huh?”

As I turned my head around, I saw Vivian trying to reach out to the record with an uncomfortable face. When I gazed at her, Vivian's face turned much serious. That moment, I and all the members of the party, our faces turned blank, a single thought passed through my brain.

"Vi, Vivian. Do you remember all the letters that were used in the ancient times?"

".... What? Do you think of me as fool? How is one supposed to use magic then? Huh?!"

When I saw Vivian who was speaking to them I smiled. Why didn't I think of this? I need not depend on Shin Sang Yong, but I already had Vivian who knows the ancient language. I smiled and handed the record to her. Vivian took the record and looked at it.

"I'm offended! I won't decode!"

"Then give me the cape back."

At my words, Vivian held onto the cloak tightly.

"Screw you. giving it once and taking it back..... Ah, okay. I'll do it. I'll do it... Ho Ho.. I'm not even supposed to joke around... hish! Sorry."

Vivian tried to cover up her mistake, but as I kept staring at her, she just turned away. Soon, looking at her, it gave me the expression that she was working really hard at reading the record. I just sighed and took out tobacco and bit it with my mouth. It was a embarrassing feeling.

As soon as I tried to put it on fire, I saw the sparks at the end of it and an image near the door. I gulped reflexively and looked at it. I could see Jung Ha Yeon who was making a new face while looking at me.

"You have a good sense."

"It was nothing."

When Jung Ha Yeon answered humbly, Shin Sang Yong opened his mouth looking at us.

"Ha, Miss Ha Yeon. Didn't you hate the smell of tobacco?"

"Huh?"

When this question came out of Shin Sang Yong's mouth, Jung Ha Yeon had a flustered expression. However, Shin Sang Yong was speaking with a loud voice. Jung Ha Yeon was sending him a signal to shut his mouth up, but he wasn't the kind of player who knew what that meant. He continued to speak with an unfamiliar face even after seeing the deathly face of Jung Ha Yeon.

“Ah. In the other caravan that we joined in the past, there were a few players. She really hated the smell of the tobacco. If someone wanted to smoke, they usually go afar or they wouldn’t smoke at all.”

“This.. I made a mistake.”

At those words, I lowered my hand with the tobacco, when Jung Ha Yeon’s slender hand caught mine. Then she lifted it and held back towards my mouth. And when I was shocked with it, she spoke.

“It is alright. Please smoke.”

“No. Is this is something that you don’t like....”

“Huuh. If it is Mr. Su-Hyun then it is okay. I can tolerate smoking a couple of times. And for your reference, those players used to smoke quite a lot of times in 10 minutes. I hope you don’t think of me a rigid woman.”

“Ah. Ye yes, of course.”

It seemed logical, but I also felt very uncomfortable. She didn’t have to say all those. Whosoever, I could smoke.....

But. At those words Shin Sang Yong wasn’t done. He closed his eyes as if recollecting something, then opened his mouth again, shaking his head a little.

“Two times in ten minutes? That wasn’t it... Hmm”

Once again, Jung Ha Yeon was staring at Shin Sang Yong with sharp eyes and I noticed that. And at the same time there were subtle changes in the face of Yoo-Jung. Anyway, it was okay so I took the tobacco again and sucked on it. Still, I vented out the smoke towards the ceiling to keep a normal courtesy.

In the party, an awkward atmosphere fell. By the time this could get cleared up, Vivian had went to reading the last of the record as she was looking at the bottom and nodded her head with a strange look.

“Ha.”

“Is the decryption done?”

“Yes. This record is very interesting.”

“Oh, how is that? Master?”

Vivian Master, it didn’t have ring to it. She looked at Jung Ha Yeon and said to her.

“Honestly, I don’t deserve to say these kinds of words, but as I have looked into it.... I’ll say it. The contents of the record are different, it all points out to being crazy. Yes that is it. This lab is literally the place when all the crazy people gather to.”

“What does it contain...”

When Shin Sang Yong asked that, Vivian bit on her lip. But slowly Vivian opened her mouth.

94. Awesome, Awesome. And Much More Awesome ( 4 )

Please continue reading on

“When we first entered the institute, I said that this was a laboratory for human experimentation. This is true..... but I don’t know how to say this.”

“There must be some cruel things that you are not able to say.”

Vivian nodded her head and sighed.

“Yes. But not only that....”

She paused for a moment and lifted the record once. I watched Vivian’s face frown and I was curios to see what were the contents in it.

“The experiments that were conducted.... I don’t think it is just humans.”

“If it wasn’t just humans.... Well. Certainly the monsters that we’ve encountered in the past rooms, the one that didn’t look like humans. Do you mean to say that those animals were also experimented on?”

In that question from Shin Sang Yong, Vivian put down the record on the floor and replied with a no good face.

“It would not have been the case in the beginning. The record I read is diary type report written by someone who used this room. It contains pretty detailed information in this diary, but....”

“So. What are the hell is the content of it? This is frustrating.”

In the meantime, Yoo-Jung screamed with a furious expression. Vivian took a deep breath and uttered in a calm voice.

"I'll tell you, the first floor that we cleared now, these were all failed experiments."

"If it is a failure.... I don't get it. Isn't it necessary for the 1st floor people to stabilize and secure them as much as they could. But why haven't they controlled the failures?"

At that sharp question from Jung Ha Yeon, Vivian shrugged. Then I realized that the person who asked the question was Jung Ha Yeon and spoke with a strong accent. Jung Ha Yeon never had a conversation with Vivian since joining the party. No, I didn't even see them make eye contact. Jung Ha Yeon was intentionally avoiding Vivian. This was the first time that she spoke to Vivian. Vivian was stunned with this and answered.

"That, I don't know that. I don't know what the people who were doing this experiment were thinking, apart from knowing that this was weird. However, according to the records I just read, it says that everything we encountered on the first floor are a failure. I don't know if they were generated differently or whether they turned out because of some kind of condition."

"If that is about the 1st floor, then what about the second or third floor?"

I asked Vivian with a little urgency in my voice. What was important now, weren't that they were failure. I wanted to know why the word that I saw, was written in this record. I remember when I first encountered an Asmodian in the Hall Plane in the first round. If something like that happened here..... I felt creeps in my whole body.

"I want to catch the human and ask what experiments they were doing, I want to blame them too, but I can't do any of it now. However, it seems that there are those who have succeeded to some extent in the second floor rather than failures. But, this isn't the important things....."

Is she getting into the mainstream now? Vivian spoke briefly after she took a brief moment of silence.

"They have summoned one of the ancient Asmodians after a 100 sacrifice for an experiment and it was a success. It is on the record. These guys.... They later even tapped into the magic of the Asmodians, who are the most evil."

"Asmo...?"

The kids who heard the word for the first time, were asking what it was. However, I was able to see the pale of Jung Ha Yeon's and I was worried. A hundred sacrifices to summon. To summon a super low class Asmodian this could be too many in numbers. If so, if the summoned Asmodians above said were over the low class.

Vivian looked at our reactions and opened her mouth with a cautious voice.

"Yeah. Asmodian. Su-Hyun. Do you know about Asmodians?"

“..... a little. I remember reading about it at player academy library.”

My lifts felt dry. There is a space within the Hall Plane called as Magic Space. It's entering method is precisely called as a 'portal'. It is a space where living things such as demon or Amsodians. And some of them are.... Well, they can be seen in contrast to being called as angels.

It could be called a normal demon, or a demon that can be called against the presence of an Angel. However, the later possibility is 0%. Such devils, and angels, can't get into the Hall Plane directly. The problem was that the demons of the past weren't ever satisfied.

Ordinary Asmodians created by the demons were very powerful and could go against the angels. The Asmodians are able to reveal themselves to the Hall Plane if a certain conditions were met. However, as the power of it varies, not all can be bought, the more powerful the Asmodian is, the more possibility it has.

However, there was a limit for this, one of which was that to bring an Asmodian there is a basis for the sacrifice. The residents of the institute sacrificed 100 of unmatched ones, and it succeeded. I don't know much about what it could be, but if it is a Balorg Class devil comes out, I would also have to make some sacrifices.

I suddenly felt the sweat dripping. When I think of the ghost and other creatures of the Hell, it makes me sick, but the devil, it makes my head hurt, and to deal with an Asmodian, I was exhausted.

I forcibly emptied my mind. For the time being, the battle for the players is only happening between the monsters. For the Hell and the Asmodian to enter, there is still a long time to happen. I opened my mouth the voice getting out barely.

“If they sacrificed 100 people.... what kind of force do you think that this guy would be.”

“Humm.... I can assure you that it isn't the lower class.”

Jung Ha Yeon, who was listening, interrupted with a trembling voice.

“Then.... Intermediate”

“It could be more than that. I don't know the level of the offer of the sacrifice, so it is impossible to say. But if it based on the human basis, a 100 sacrifices could mean a midterm summon.”

Jung Ha Yeon's face was horrified. Had she ever met an Asmodian before? She moved a little back and then I opened my mouth.

“Have you ever experienced an Asmodian before?”

Surprised at the voice, Jung Ha Yeon lifted her head with a surprised look. However, I could confirm within a short time.... She nodded her head gently.

“Yes..... a minor tribe accidentally.....”

“How did you all react then?”

Jung Ha Yeon closed her eyes, as if recalling what happened. Before long, she finally opened her eyes and a slow voice came out.

“I don’t remember much. At that time Asmodian was sealed off for some unknown reason. Moreover, the players rushed towards him and attacked him at once. I attacked them with a bunch of magic spells. Of course, the Asmodian at that time wasn’t fully summoned. But they aren’t an opponent to watch.”

“There was also a news that one mid-range Ascendant appeared on the South Continent. Even more surprising one is that, at that time the Intermediate Asmodian was attacked by a single player only. The Asmodians are certainly scary beings, but they are also part of the Hall plane. I don’t know what level it is yet, but you don’t have to be scared.”

Ah ah. You meant her on the South. It was a blonde female player right.... I saw Shin sang Yong look at Jung Ha Yeon while he was connecting to the words of hers. It is only part of the Hall Plane. Don’t know it is a normal Asmodian.

I held my head down and turned back to Vivian once again.

“Su-Hyun. Don’t be worried. I had a bad expression because I hated the summoning of the Asmodians, and I didn’t mean anything else by it. I can win, regardless of whether it was intermediate or inferior. Don’t underestimate Vivian, the ancient alchemist and chimera alchemist.”

“Hmm... thank you. Anyway, we got important information. Good work.”

“he he. No. anyway, what they did in the labs is shameful, but that doesn’t concern us. Wasn’t our purpose just exploring?”

“Right.”

When I accepted it, Vivian spoke out with a bright voice. Someone from beside said “You can summon the masters....” That was strange. But mutually summoned Master who had control was different from the uncontrolled Asmodians.

“So we continue exploring upstairs?”

In her words, I shook my head. Everyone looked at me with surprised faces.

“We will stop exploring anymore for today, we have achieved our first goal, the first floor. It is a little early, but we will camp in this room for today.”

At my firm words, the parties began to look at each other and then their faces turned understanding. Yes. Vivian is right. This was the first place, where I wondered what I was afraid of. I assumed the worst situation without knowing it, but now there was no possibility of that happening.

And even if it happened, and I had confidence to move forward. I activated my player information.

< Player Status >

Name: Kim Su-Hyun ( 0 yrs)

Class: Sword Specialist Master

Affiliated Nation:-

Clan:-

Title. Nationality: Master of Sword. South Korea

Sex: Male ( 24 )

Height. Weight: 181.5cm , 75.0 kg

Alignment: Lawful. Chaos

<Stats ( 12 stats are currently available. )>

1. [ Strength 94 ] [ Resistance 92 ] [ Agility 98 ] [ Vitality 72 ] [ Magic 96 ]
[ Luck 88 ]

< Achievement (1) >

Passage Ritual Boss Monster

< Original Ability (1/1) >

Third Eye (Rank S)

< Special Abilities (1/1) >

Advance weapon Mastery ( Rank EX )

< Latent (4/4)> ( 1 point is currently left, but the point has the property to raise the rank, but the point itself isn't a step up.)

Close combat ( Rank A Plus)

Last Man Standing ( Rank A Plus )

Minds Eye ( Rank A Plus)

Blessing of War (Rank EX)

Firstly, I had the strength that couldn't be compared now. it wasn't just about the rise in stats. Other players came to have only one, but I had a bunch of latent, special and unusual abilities. Not only that, but I had the tattoo of the ancient time that was imprinted on my heart, and my mana utilization was increased even more and helps by cleaning all the waste materials inside the body.

And Hwajung. The reason that I managed to live in the first place, in Battle of Atlanta. I had a similar memory that I could recall from the Hell, where it was ordered by a compulsory offering of 1,700 players. I reason I chose the Hwajung was that I was looking for a great merit.

The only fire that could cope with the Hell, was a fire of its same nature.

Even so, even if the Asmodian did correspond to the reward, I had enough self-sufficiency. I'm strong now. I don't need to get overworked. I was once again filled with the desire to over throw.

Anyway, It would be great for me to stop the summons in the first place, but those weren't the things I wanted to do. I took a brief sigh and turned off the stats window. I though that it would be good if I could regain my lost stamina before we head out to the second and third floor.

"Oppa. Wanna eat. Rice rice."

"Pig."

"Idiot."

As Yoo-Jung was talking to me, An Hyun responded to her by teasing her, and Yoo-Jung Jumped onto him and grabbed his hands. I nodded and opened my lips after facing everyone. I told them that we would be camping but I hadn't given them any specific orders yet.

“Lets prepare to camp for now. I’ll step up the camp grounds with mana stones around, and the wizards will install the other magic needed for the camping. And the rest of the kids, prepare something to eat.”

“Oppa. Exception?”

“No exception. Of course, everyone will have to it.”

At my words, Yoo-Jung had a disappointed face and shrunk her shoulders. The people laughed at this for a moment and then they got up to act according to my orders. I took my back pack and silently put my hand in it.

I thought maybe I should use my stats and ability points this time. Listening to Yoo-Jung who was continuously asking something, I quickly pulled out the magic seals into my hand.

95. Come along?

Please continue reading on

I sat on the cold marble floor and waited for the others to get ready. Of course, I tried to help with the demolition of the camp, but Yoo-Jung and Sol had been doing that and didn’t want me to come in their direction. This was something women do. However, the two, An Hyun and Shin Sang Yong were eating well. And I was able to have a fairly relaxed preparation time.

I pulled out my sword and put it on my thighs. Thring, this sound rang in the room. The sword that I’m using now is the sword that I took in Mule from a regular blacksmith. As a taker of swords, I knew exactly how to handle and keep the sword.

I reflexively folded my hands. I had a habit of burning the tobacco while brushing and dusting my sword. However, there was a mass on it. I was a little worried, and took out the piece of cloth on it again. Later, after finishing the exploration, I wanted to look into this once entering the city.

Expect for the fact the we weren’t moving, it was sunny. Everyone, was cleaning their sleeping bags and clearing away their breakfast. Jung Ha Yeon was folding her sleeping bag in a way a soldier would. On the other hand, An Hyun squeezed his sleeping bag into a rucksack, but he was getting scolded by An Sol for doing that.

I took a leisure look at those scenes and was carefully polishing the blade with the piece of cloth.

“Lea, leader. Are you planning to go up to the second floor today?”

“HuHu. I guess you were nervous, as you stuttered.”

“Ha Ha Ha. No. This is my habit, a habit. I’m not nervous.”

At my joke, Shin Sang Yong laughed shyly, embarrassed. I nodded my head one or twice. Finally, I pushed a piece of cloth wrapped it around the blade with power.

“I plan to go up the 2nd floor.”

“Good, it is a good decision.”

“But.”

I paused for a moment without talking. They all had round eyes that looked into mine. I put the cloth into its pouch and then put the sword back. I smiled a little and then I spoke out.

“Once we go up to the second floor you might have to fight the monsters that have a difference in the abilities. A summoned lower-level Asmodian who possess the ability of 100 superior humans. If possible, if I can know the 100 sacrificed devotee and their extent, then I can roughly guess the level of the summoned Asmodian.”

“That is great. I , I will tell you another thing. All 100 of them are the best performers.”

“Thank you. I will look into that.”

Yeah. This was the conversation of the crew members of the caravan. The kids were also learning. I looked at the kids with the sense that no one was looking at me. I sighed and looked at Vivian.

She was still rubbing her eyes like she was sleepy. After the early dinner yesterday, she had discussed with Shin Sang Yong about the record and cleared all the questions of him, that was why she seemed to be tired. However, when the battle starts, she would properly get into that mode, that was why I didn’t say anything.

Soon, two to three people were ready for the expedition.

Finally, I saw An Sol tie up her bag and tie to her shoulders. As everyone’s eyes were focused on me, I opened my mouth with a clam voice.

“You have worked hard. I don’t know, but of course, we will have to work much harder in the future.”

“.....”

“We cleared to first floor of the lab yesterday. And today, the goal is to clear the 2nd floor and then move onto the third.”

“.....”

There was no answer from the party. But I could read that they were a little uneasy, especially An Sol, so I added a few more words. but before I opened my mouth, I stared at the bright sunlight that was coming through the window on the ceiling, and then I spoke out the words.

“Today is very relaxing when compared to that of yesterday, since we start the exploration early in the morning. If we manage to clear up the third floor by the end of today, we can return to Mule by tomorrow in the latest. With the things that we got yesterday and the ones that we might receive in the future we will work hard.”

It was then I was able to see the agility in the eyes of the people. it was also the job of the caravan's leader to be this way, rather than to just explore. The children who were looking at me with bitter expression, were now looking at me with sparkling eyes. I immediately turned my body and spoke.

“The stairs are on the north and east side. There is a total of two, one in each different direction. We don't need to go far, we will use the east stairs.”

Hence, we stepped forward to stairway leading upstairs. As we stepped up, the old staircase sounded like it was crumbling. All of the members of the party started to climb onto it slowly and carefully.

The stairs were longer than I expected them to be. Moreover, as we climbed up to the top the stairs were in a spiral manner. As we climbed the narrow stairs, there weren't any words for while, then we stopped in front of the door that was leading to the second floor. It was at that moment that I opened the door.

“Mr. Su-Hyun. Wait a moment.”

The player who stopped me from doing it was none other than Jung Ha Yeon. Looked at her with eyes full of doubt, Jung Ha Yeon asked An Sol to order a protection. And I realized her nervousness. I threw a faint smile. Her meticulousness once again, she demonstrated it once again.

“Protect.”

An Sol pointed her staff at me and I saw a translucent globe wrap itself around me. Looking at this, Jung Ha Yeon quickly ordered another spell with both her hands. It was double casting.

“Reflect Shield!”

Jung Ha Yeon opened her mouth once again, and her voice came out again.

“Target protection orders. Overlap!”

As soon as Jung Ha Yeon finished the spell, a reflective shield appeared in front of me, and then I saw chunks of water around me, which evaporated and then turned into protective spears all around the shield. The globe shone in bright light, and seeing this the kids were all wowing. I also stared at her with admirable eyes. I didn't realize that she could give out orders that were this perfect. She was a secondary level magic player, but she did very high level of magic application.

“Amazing.”

“The place where we are right now are the stairs, and if a monster comes out right in front of us, it could be dangerous. I'm just preparing for the worst, it osnt that I don't believe in your ability Mr. Su-Hyun.”

At the words of Jung Ha Yeon I just put up a very modest smile as a response. Anyway, I had the duty of getting into the door, before this magic effect disappeared. The kids weren't talking, their eyes were on the door, to make sure that there wasn't any monster that would pop out.

“From now on, the caravans second floor exploration will commence. Everyone, Hold on tight and lets go.”

I spoke in a calm voice and opened the doors handle, and the door opened wide. And as soon as I opened a huge monster that we were anticipating didn't come out. There was just a small space. The moment I walked in, after putting one foot in, I heard a low sound of someone tapping their tongue from behind.

“Chaet”

“Chit”

These people. If I could what I wanted, then I would have pushed in the party member inside by force. The party looked at me as they entered inside by following me. I had a sensation so I quickly activated the third eye.

“Humm..... I'm nervous.”

Sol who was worried, came and held my hand with a frown on her face. Compared to the first floor, this one had a malicious feel to it. Anyway, it seemed like the summoning of the Asmodians was a very successful one indeed. I thought of pulling out the heart of the Asmodian and feed it to the kids. Well they were just my thought though, and not to be meant to be heard by the others.

The size of the second floor was similar to that of the first floor, but its structure was completely different. The first floor was divided into four corners, the north, south, east and west. And the rooms were arranged in a passages like manner, the second floor was just cut in half.

Two gateways separated by one passage that went through the middle. I took a look at the space that we were standing in. the space structure was fairly simple. There were many unknown things that were piled up here over the time, and it was a hall that was square. And this room also had a door on its sides, for the passage. in other words, the room had three doors leading to the passages.

“Well. It had a different structure than the first floor. In some ways, this second floor could be simpler.”

“On the surface yes, but thinking about it, we will probably have a fewer successes than we usually have. I’m so out of my mind.”

I could here Shin Sang Yong and Jung Ha Yen talking in the back.

“Hyung. What are we going to do now?”

“huh?”

“Do we just open all the exists? Just go into the next room...”

“Next room? How do you know if there is a stairway leading to the third floor in the opposite side?”

At my words, An Hyun immediately shut his mouth. However, I expected that there would be no stairs that we could take from the place that we were now. Nevertheless, there was a reason as to why we searched all the rooms. It was because I desired to make An Hyun as a Lance maker.

I don’t know about the others, but right now he had the highest loyalty towards me. and regarding the loyalty of An Sol, well, she always displayed subtle emotions which were complicated for me to understand, I couldn’t figure it out even if I was given 10 years to do it. An Sol’s behavior couldn’t be understood so easily.

I thought that maybe she looked at m like an uncle, I had a blank face at that thought. I opened my mouth after I saw the An Hyun was staring at me.

“Maybe we can complete the next kevel faster than I thought. Once we one the door in the space, we will go over to the passage and into the next area.”

“Uh...There are a lot of stuff on the floor. It is uncomfortable to walk”

“Be careful, Maybe there are pieces of bones.”

“Oh my, Oh my, that’s so scary. Ling.”

At the aegyo of Yoo-Jung, all the members of the party were uncomfortable. As I moved forward, An Hyun began to move behind me, but her had a sorrow expression on his face that I didn’t have any idea about.

However, I was very generous up till here. I made sure that the atmosphere wasn’t too nervous. And when An Hyun and Yoo-Jung kept on fighting, I looked over them very sternly and both of them went dumb. Keeping this atmosphere quiet again, I moved to the door on the left side wall from the direction that we ascended.

I said that there were only three doors, but those doors had enormous pressure on us. Despite seeing from quite a distance, the iron gate seemed usual and the windows on its side too. We all held onto our weapons and moved into the direction of that door.

We walked a little faster, we were able to reach the front door with our goal in 15 minutes. During that walk the translucent globe that surrounded itself around me after the spells of An Sol and Jung Ha Yeon, was getting dim. I looked at all the direction and spoke out quietly.

“I’m opening the right away. All of you should be ready.”

“Hyung. This door seems to be very hot and burdensome.... It seems to be tough to be handled by one.”

“No. It’s possible by one. So don’t be worried and be ready.”

At my determined voice An Hyun just silently stepped back, but his eyes were round as if he was shocked.

As I decided to fight with the possible Asmodians in there, I needed to find back the old wildness that I used to have. And though the party members who were following me were a little worried, I reached out to the big handle of the door that was in front of me. From the inside of the door an unusual aura could be felt.

96. Come Along? (2)

Please continue reading on

When I opened the door, I saw a strange smoke come out of the room. At the same time a small cry came to our ears.

“Hurr...”

The voice was of the malice that couldn’t be hidden.

After taking a step inside, I and the members as we entered and as it was small we forgot what we wanted to say and were just staring. No, we didn't forget because it was a small room. We couldn't fit inside the room due to its size. The problem wasn't that, the problem was that due to the presence of the monster standing up straight in the room, there wasn't any space.

A huge body that touched the high ceiling. The upper body was in the shape of a human being. At first glance, it was completely covered with muscles, and skin seemed more of steel rather than a soft human skin. And when I looked at the lower body, I could see the long body, but not the two legs of the human being.

The upper body of a human and the lower body of a snake.

“Giant...? No, it couldn't be. Mystical beings on the Hall Plane, why.....”

I quickly activated the third eye. Then I read the information of the monster in front of me and I was astonished. What did the residents of the Hall Plane do in the past? No, this meant that this was not enough for them to make a sacrifice. If this monster is not suitable for sacrifice, what kind of demon is on third floor?

“Cra....zy.”

“Giant.....”

I looked up at the giant in front of my eyes, and the party with their hollow faces. For a while, we just looked at it, and soon we saw the Gigas mouth rise a little. He was laughing at us. And at that moment I could feel a desire burn in my eyes. Dare, a monster laugh at me?

Seeing this the Gigas took a step back. I chewed on my lip and opened my mouth quickly after watching the people behind me.

“Vivian. Keeper.”

“What, what?”

Vivian raised her eyes which were round. The same was the true for the other members in the party. At first sight, Vivian was the best one in the party to go against the monster that is pretending to be strong.

The keeper will take the role of defeating in this battle, and the priest and wizards of the party will take the role of guarding. Of course, I usually entered the combat with the kids in the unavoidable situations, and the keeper had the role of taking lead into an original expeditions. Of course, is was possible for a wizard to help from the long distance, and it is strange to put a wizard into the position of a keeper.

The guy in front of you looks like a giant on the surface, but it is nothing more than an experiment. It is a giant-basilisk. I don't know how much its strength is, but it can be considered as a human that was created by a human. Don't forget that the person in front of you is less than the 100 sacrificed one.

"Even, even then....."

I saw the stuttering, but I firmly communicated my opinion. To be honest the giants upper body and the basilisk is very powerful. I couldn't even dare judge how much power it would bring if the both of them were combined like this. I did deal with both of them individually, but this would be the first time that I go against this unified creature. So I had to be very curious and make the best choices.

"As soon as the Gigas moves, the magicians and the priests are expected to step away from the battle in all direct approaches. Please only support us from the secondary position. An Hyun and Yoo-Jung. This time it will be Freeroll. I will go in front of you, and you will take on the role of assisting me from the back. The priority is to be avoided from being attacked by it, and focus of quick reflexes. I need all of you to be able to help me."

I talked to the people of the party to cut of their hesitation. At the end of the battle strategy the faces of the kids turned white. When I turned away from them, I heard the urgent voice of Jung Ha Yeon from behind.

"Mr. Su Hyun I would rather create a square pattern...."

"This is better than square pattern."

"Huh?"

"There is no time to explain anymore. It is better to do what I said."

"Hurrrr...."

As soon as I finished, the Gigas moved. The huge snakes torso moved and it slides its way towards us. There was no time. In the meantime, however, Jung Ha Yeon was still debating on what I said.

Maybe she can understand what I said. Now, the Gigas moved toward the caravan and its strength was perfectly on par with the composition of members, and its power rose as it came close. And if now moved in a square formation towards it, it would be of no use, it would be a dumb response to do it.

Of course, the things I said had no problems. On the other hand, my point was made very simply. In other words, if we stop the Gigas from the front itself, all the problems could be solved. I could see Jung Ha Yeon was able to realize it, I could see it in her eyes. This time I saw that she had a worrying light on her face, and I immediately sprang forward towards it.

The kids hesitated to rush out there, but then followed me. I would have been disappointed if the kids didn't run behind me, but they couldn't leave their oppa or hyung alone. While I went on going forward I smiled at their action.

The distance between the Giags and me was decreasing and I saw that he was using his right hand. Did he want to shoot me down? I responded to it and I brought out my sword. I thought that I could kill with the first strike itself.

At that moment a message came up in the air.

[Latent, close combat ( Rank A Plus ) is activated. The close combat is already beyond the limit than those who normally handle with weapons. Rank Decision A+. it can be said that you have achieved the highest peak of the ability that can be acquired by a human. It is not possible for this ability to be over crossed.]

*

Jung Ha Yeon looked forward with a firm face. In her head, a conversation that she had with Kim Su-Hyun had come up.

'Mr. Su-Hyun! I would rather construct a square pattern....'

'This is better than square pattern'

'Huh?'

'There is no time to explain anymore. It is better to do what I say.'

Ha Yeon chewed on her lips. He wasn't a reckless person. Though he didn't act like what he always does, his commanding ability was unmatched now. This doesn't make much sense either, as he always responded with a calm and logical manner. Veterans who have spent years on this Hall Plane wouldn't be able to command with that much sense.

This was the first thing that she couldn't understand. No, she understood. And she was able to guess what he was looking for. And she followed Kim Su-Hyun's words. She thought it was better to take a step back from the battle. That was said, but the last words that Kim Su-Hyun said.

'If you are confident that you won't get in the way of the battle, then go ahead and try it.'

"If it doesn't work, it will be a distraction, so I'll stay tuned...."

As soon as she muttered this to herself. A sharp scream came out from the side.

“Khyaaahhh! Oppa! Oppaaaa! Don’t!!”

She was surprised at the scream and saw the scene where Player Kim Su-Hyun, called out the Gigas to his front to confront it. She closed her mouth with both her hands unknowingly. She thought that there could be something else, but couldn’t it be.....

Bang!!!!!!

Even before her thoughts could get over. The distance between them reduced completely, and the moment they hit each other, and huge sound came around and it sounded everywhere.

“Co, come on, prepare the orders!”

“Doing it! Oppa and Unnie don’t stay still and help.....?”

An Sol spoke out in a different tone than usual, but she stopped in the middle. At the same time, her lips spread out even more. Following her gaze everyone turned towards that direction. As soon as all the members gazed at that scene where the battle was taking place, all the spectators spoke out the same words.

“Doesn’t ..... Make sense.”

A literally ridiculous scene happened in front of them. Between the Player Kim Su-Hyun and the Gigas, the player dominated. The Gigas backed away with a single blow.

While everyone was looking at this unbelievable scene with shocked faces, Vivian was quietly reciting her spell. She wasn’t much surprised as the other members of the party were as she had seen this angle of Su-Hyun the other day. And since she already knew about it, Vivian who completed memorizing her spell opened her mouth and her sweet voice came out.

“Come! Im Freeson! 49th legion’s redeemer of Steel, and ruler!”

When Vivian’s voice was heard, Shin Sang Yong, An Sol and Jung Ha Yeon who were blank looked up at her face. As a result, Vivian is a keeper, but she was also the one Su-Hyun needed. They watched as the creature rose from the magic circle and was launching the chains according to the orders from Vivian, and Ha Yeon also decided that she would participate in the battle. The thought of not being able to work her fingers dominated her mind.

‘What kind of magic would be a problem...’

Numerous orders came up to the mind of Ha Yeon, and most of them resided. But one particular order didn't reside, it was stuck in her head. Ha Yeon confirmed it after seeing the faces of An Sol and Shin Sang Yong. Her eyes changed.

"Miss An Sol."

"Huh, yes?"

"Prepare a bondage order. And Mr. Shin Sang Yong."

If it was the voice of others they would have declined, but this was the order coming from Ha Yeon, so they had seemingly accepted it. And Soon Shin Sang Yong, he nodded his head.

"Yes."

"Do prepare it. Please."

"If that so...."

Shin Sang Yong stared at Jung Ha Yeon with a distant face. He as well as the lady were both surely thinking of 'that'. It wasn't know if this magic would be possible against a giant or not, and since she was much higher than him, there could be some effect on it. So he just answered with a determined face.

"..... I understand. Then what kind of magic spell?"

"I'll do the protection series. I'll let you memorize the water and overlap."

The conversation between the two was very fast. An Sol couldn't even follow it, she just nodded her head. She didn't know what to do. Ha Yeon's frustration rose up, but she opened her mouth.

"I'll also assign the target. You can just complete the bondage order and shoot at my signal."

"You have 3 applications? No matter what. It will be unreasonable."

"I can do it. But I'm not certain."

Ha Yeon stopped talking for a moment and turned her gaze to the front. The chain that Vivian shot was wrapping itself around the right arm of the Gigas. Though it wasn't perfectly restrained due to the resistance from the giant, but it still was enough to earn some time. And player Kim Su-Hyun got ready from the ground and went up in the air wielding his sword.

Those amazing bruises that emerged from the sword could be visible from afar, like a sparks of flame. Like a whip, the squad ran against the huge body of Gigas to bruise up. The Gigas was pulling back with a painful scream. That monster was pushed back by player Kim Su-Hyun. Looking at this Ha Yeon moved towards it.

“Please target the left arm. It will create a gap for a moment. I will bind both the arms.”

“Yes.....”

“Good.”

Shin Sang Yong closed his eyes and began to memorize the order. An Sol also felt something unbelievable, so without staying still she took out the cane and was memorizing order. Ha Yeon who confirmed it all, went into casting her order with a little difference in the time. She started to spell cast the last, but she was the earliest to memorize it.

“Teeth of Crystal!”

“Burn Flare!”

The spells order was completed in an instant. After a while, she saw that Shin Sang Yong and An Sol also finished casting their orders. Suddenly, there was ice in the hands of Ha Yeon, and glowing fire ball in the hands of Shin Sang Yong. They looked at each other and nodded their heads at the same time.

97. Come Along? (3)

Please continue reading on

At the signal of initiation, Shin Sang Yong moved his left hand to the front.

“Magic Square Of Harmony.”

It wasn't a small scale attack seen in the past, but it was a full-fledged march of the magic harmony. When Shin Sang Yong recited the tree dimensional spell cam up on his left palm. Soon, unlike the previous one in the past, and brilliant wave of magic sprang up from Shin Sang Yong's hand, and Jung Ha Yeon sent out her casting too.

The spells of fire and ice, which were released at the same time, they were sucked into the magic circle as quickly as a whirlwind. From now on, everything depended on the capacity of Shin Sang Yong. Since the burdensome task was done, the burden on Jung Ha Yeon and An Sol will be reduced for the next.

“_____ . _____ . _____ .”

Shin sang Yong's sweat didn't stop now did his mumbling. Seeing this kind of magic with piercing eyes, there will be a need for a great deal of control and arrangement from now on. And it didn't take that long. Fortunately, his mumbling was answered soon, the complexion of Shin Sang Yong was brightening rapidly.

After a while, the magic that was on top of the magic circle remained in the air in a shape that couldn't be understood.

The magic that they both created on the magic circle, the ice crystals pointed to the outside, and the flame on top of them. They had a good start. Shin Sang Yong turned his serious face towards Jung Ha Yeon.

Looking at the magic in the air, and the gaze from him, Ha Yeon wiped her lips. It was a combination magic that was their limit, and they have been trying this from a long time. Soon the magic took over, a heavy burden could be felt into their systems. It was still worth it. She looked at the magic for a while, and then she brought out the last of her energy to cast.

“Reverse!”

Jung Ha Yeon's pure voice reverberated as she opened her mouth, the magic that they created was once again surrounded with white light. This time it was inversion position of the magic.

“Huat....!”

Ha Yeon burst out with a strange voice. She felt dizziness in her head because of the mana that was interfering with the magic spell, and not because of the destruction magic. because of the reversal, enormous mana and reflux was flowing into her system.

However, she succeeded in perfecting the reversal spell of magic and preserving it. The magic of Reverse was similar to that of the original, but different at the same time. What was different is that the flames were actually inside the chunks of ice.

An Sol was watching this from side, she looked at the magic that was perfectly imbued and represented. Bu on the other hand, she was anxious. It was because she had to take over the magic soon.

It wasn't the end just now. Now, even if this was send out as the order, it would be pretty effective, but the opponent had a resistance for magic. The blood the monster possesses had the power to reject the magic. If that was the case, they needed to add more powerful magic to break it.

Ha Yeon held herself and cast the spell once more.

“_____ targeting.... Shackles. Overlap...”

Overlap order can be seen as a kind of applied magic that could be considered to resemble much like the harmony magic. However, this one only takes place within the magic law of harmony. It couldn't be totally compared as the magic harmony is still one of the higher application orders.

The magic that the two of them created now flew over to the top of An Sol for the creating of bondage orders. The moment the divine spell and the magic hit, the white light gleamed and filled into the surroundings. This processes of multiple magic going in with each other was a beautiful sight.

Anyway, at last the baton was passed onto An Sol, they have been doing great so far, but that couldn't be said in the case of the last caster. An Sol, couldn't stand the burden. And Ha Yeon's sight fell on An Sol.

“Euhung...”

An Sol was worried, but she was still standing. Currently, An Sol had 86 as magic ability and Jung Ha Yeon had 87 as her magic ability. Of course, the stats weren't exact for the both. But now wasn't the time for facts.

An Sol slowly lifted her cane. From the moment she had entered the Hall Plane, this was the first time that she felt such enormous magical power, and it would be a disgrace to not handle it. But Sol was still positive.

‘..... I can match it. I need to do it fast, fast.. How.....’

There were only three orders that An Sol could use at the moment, they were bondage, treatment and protection. She could use it, but she didn't learn the homing order. And she regretted it immediately. But it wasn't the time for regrets and An Sol knew it. And Ha Yeon who noticed this girl spoke out with a sharp voice.

“It is alright. Shoot it.”

“Bu, But...”

“Shoot. As long as you keep it with you, the reverse will destroy.”

At those words, An Sol gulped and she went cold. She pointed her staff towards the Gigas in the front. Nevertheless, she hesitated for a while and then finally opened her mouth with a trembling voice.

“Shackles....!”

And. After confirming that Sol had fired her order, Ha Yeon prepared another order.

*

I was in the middle of the air, and I came back onto the ground by landing lightly. I was ready with my elongated swords, and the Gigas was in front of me. He was certainly strong. Apart from the giant and the basilisk, the Gigas was a dominant one. This was a guy who made his own achievements.

And he was it. I was convinced of the victory when entered the battle with him, he wasn't a boss monster. Anyway, before the battle with the devil on the third floor, I thought that this would lighten up my body. that was because these guys were strong and big.

Anyway, I was ready to take a leap at it once again in order to finish it. I don not have any idea what the kids were doing, but the body the Gigas was fixated on me, so it's eyes were only focused on me. And as I directed to the Keeper, but Vivian only restrained a single arm instead of both arms. Even if that was it, it was enough for me to take over the monster.

"I'll give it a go."

I muttered to myself and raised the magic. it was at that moment when the sword that I raised high, in order to cut it from the head till its bottom..

Bang!

From the back came a spell with a huge sound and flew right at the Gigas with an alarming speed. I bent down my knees onto the floor and I paused my act for a moment.

What was it. The mages who were asked to stay back felt some need to memorize a few spells, but the magic that was coming in this way gives me the feeling that id not want to be hit by it. Id rather not take a chance. Its direction was ambiguous and I thought avoiding would be better, but the magic changed its course and flew towards the left arm of the Gigas.

"Looks like a target specific order."

Is it a skill of Jung Ha Yeon? It seemed to be a bit of a provocative act, but it seemed to work properly. I decided to wait for a while and smiled at this. I wanted the magic to do its act, but I still a bit curious.

The Gigas ran towards me with a white face with fear of what hit him. I hated such monsters that gave up after an unknown attack. I wanted didn't want to do it on purpose, but I took the sword up again.

I was able to feel the momentum for a while and the children began to fall back quickly. The children liked what they saw. It would be nice to do this in the usual manner. If they did enter the battle, An Hyun and Yoo-Jung show their own growth every time.

When I stopped the wave of attack. I saw a sign of relief swiftly came onto the face of the monster. But that was a relief that it was going to have before its death. After seeing the magic, I thought of handling it immediately. But I gathered my power slowly under the feet because if I jumped up high then I might have to go through the ceiling, so I had to adjust accordingly.

Before long, the bondage blew with the white light and passed me, and I was able to see it moving in the direction of the left arm of Gigas. But the Gigas didn't make a move. And I was just regaining my breath.

It seemed to have been twisting its body, but it seemed like Vivian was holding onto him very tightly with the chains on the right arm. And the Gigas who didn't know that his magic resistance was going to be a complete defeat was just breathing still.

I moved to the side, and the magic flies up in that moment, but it amazes me. It seemed to be a magic that was created based on the magic of harmony of Shin Sang Yong, which was what I expected it to be. I wanted to see more of it, but before I could trigger the 3rd eye. I could see huge masses of ice appearing on the outside clutching the shoulders of the Gigas.

And the sight that followed us was literally spectacular.

Bahaht!

The left arm of Gigas, with the order of Sol's, that was giving out white light. He gnaws at the light in his left arm, his movements became dull. And in that moment.

Kwak! Jojwang!

The ice pricks bobbed Gigas left arm and bobbed the arm up and down. At that moment, the lump of ice spread throughout the arm. I was surprised as the Gigas was shaking his arm vigorously, but the spell still remained because of the spell of Sol, and he couldn't dispel the magic.

Thus, the magic came, and the last new order seemed to have some from Shin Sang Yong. The ice picks dug into the gigantic flesh of Gigas and served as a channel. Just like injecting the syringe, the air of chlorine trapped in the ice, pushed it into the aisle. In other words, they were putting the magic directly into the body of the giant. This wasn't bad, this was a vicious way.

Bam! Babang!

"Huahhhhhhhhh!"

At that moment from the left arm of the Gigas a huge explosion could be heard. No matter how much magic resistance one had, there was no way one would be able to handle the magic that was being put directly into the body. The Gigas was shouting loudly. I heard the explosion. The Burn Flare magic. That would hurt like hell.

Before I could take a single step, all this happened in 2 to 3 seconds. I understood the thoughts of all the three people. it would like the it ate up all the magic. and the three spells were visible, but they would have added much more magical power to it. One thing for sure is that An Sol wouldn't have though of this, maybe Jung Ha Yeon and Shin Sang Yong.

Anyway, this was smart. Their magic was the only thing everyone was looking at. Explosive magic sent into the body to burn the blood in the left arm. And of course, the magic resistance is flowing in the blood itself, so it wouldn't burn, but it is possible to weaken the magic resistance, that too of the left arm only.

The proof of the this was that, the bondage spell of Sol and the ice magic of Jung Ha Yeon were getting stronger. This is what theses wizards have planned to do in the first place, instead of attacking. They chose to give me a moment when I could attack it directly. So, Vivian succeeded in blocking the right arm, and the remaining three to he left arm.

As soon as both the arms were arrested, the Gigas in front of my eyes, was just like athe food served on the table. This had shown more durability and physical strength compared to guys that I've met so far, but this was consuming a lot o time. And if I miss this moment the dignity of the leader will not stand.

I was close to the ground and preparing to jump as hard as I could. I felt a cool breeze. The left arm of it changed so much that it reminded me of mop. Originally I swing my arms to approach it, but not this time. And since it was ice magic, and stupid movement and I could tear of the arms.

There were a lot of emotions on the face of Gigas. Impossibility, agony, astonishment and so on.

I leaped to the ceiling, and the sword to the front helped me descend in a balanced manner. And I bent. From his head I followed the path all the way.

At the moment its eyes met with mine. I went down and fell and so did my sword.

98. Come Along? (4)

Please continue reading on

Using the power while descending, I cu it down from the head even though It was very tough.

Kwadhk. Kwadk. Tuktuktuk.

Since I had infused the magic power while cutting the Gigas down, the body of it which was like a stone split in half coolly with a single swipe. I stood on the floor and watched the Gigas's body slowly break down from halfway in the air and fall down.

Khung!

The sound with which the heavy body fell down was really magnificent. There was no monster with such strength that I couldn't handle. I could see it now that this guy was never the opponent for me, in the first place. However, I did feel grateful for the people who followed my order, though it was slightly different than what I asked.

"Hyung. You've worked hard."

An Hyun patted me on the back. I didn't have to look this time but I felt like he was patting me with the gloves that I had bought. Since the arms of it were tied up by the mages, I might have had to hit its torso or the tail a few times.

An Hyun opened his mouth with eyes which were sparkling, this was a rare look.

"Hyung, you are really awesome."

"What. The wizards did well."

"But still, I didn't realize that you were going to end this guy in a single shot."

"It wasn't a single shot....."

My words blurred half way. Because the expression that An Hyun had was getting more burdensome, I tried to move away. I could hear the words from the back, which seemed to be from Yoo-Jung but I just ignored it.

The faces of the people in the party were holding an expression of spectacles. It was amazing as to how I handled the guy with a sword. Anyway, it was true that all the members had worked hard.

"It was a great magic of harmony. Thanks to you I was able to get a good opportunity."

"Ah..... yes.... Player Kim Su-Hyun was also great. HaHa."

Shin sang Yong replied with a little confused face, but he was unable to hide his flustered expression. It wasn't just the expression, he had seemed to have changed the title of mine to a fully committed leader.

An Sol sighed being relieved. I tuned my head to see the expression on the kids, there wasn't anything specifically odd about their expressions. They didn't have any doubts about me, I was just simple “Great” to them. It wasn’t like I had expected them to have any doubts on me either.

However, it was the case with Shin Sang Yong and Jung Ha Yeon. In this battle I showed them just a fraction of my strength, which they considered to be more for a 0 year player. In other words, I was informed by them that I was different from an ordinary players who were in the same year.

For a while, I just exchanged gazes with Shin Sang Yong and Jung Ha Yeon, and then I opened my mouth with a gentle expression.

“You used way too much magic. Is your body alright?”

“It is.....fine. But.....”

Jung Ha Yeon who spoke the word “But” stopped speaking for a while. A lot of conflicting thoughts have passed thorough her face. There was a very heavy silence between us and then she chose to speak again.

“.... But because of us, didn’t it feel a little comfortable for you?”

Jung Ha Yeon got her composure back together and replied with the clear voice that she always had. When I heard her words, I forced up a smile. Right. She was definitely a woman who distinguishes a situation differently from Kim Han-Byul. Well I’ll just wait on this for now.

In response to her question that was beyond my expectations, I finally managed to bring up a smile and spoke softly.

“Yeah. Very much.”

“Huhh. Wait till the next fight.”

The members of the party just stayed still and were listening to the conversation between me and Jung Ha Yeon. Shin Sang Yong seemed like he had something to say but, since Jung Ha Yeon didn’t give a break, he just scratched his head.

I decided to take a break for a while. And I wanted to eat freely for a till my body’s content. Both of them were a strong performance target for the clans just like Go Yeon-Ju. There was a strong possibility for both of them to accept it my offer to join a clan, but there were cases that they could refuse the offer.

If they refuse..... should I kill?

No. there would be no need to kill. The enemy was a tricky one, it didn’t appear to be the performances in the first round, there was still a little time to consider it.

And as the party moved to settle, I kept on tapping the floor with my finger. Tuk, tuk.

*

To conclude, my worries were just a tinge.

After leaving the room of he Gigas, we opened all the remaining doors in the space that we entered. One of them was a Cocatris and the remaining ones were all the herd of dead men.

Difficulty can be ordered like the Gigas, Cocatris and then the herd of death. However, comparing ourselves to yesterday, we have been able to handle the equipment in a much easy and simple manner and the event experience also seemed to have improved. Of course, I was a little aggressive, but I didn't ignore the experiences that the party was gaining from this.

“What, whatsoever I guess my prediction turned out wrong. I’m sorry.”

Shin Sang Yong apologized to me with a dead voice.

At present, we have passed beyond the path connecting the semi divided space and went to the next space. The number of rooms that were present are three, the same interior as the other one. There was a door right next to the passage in the first space, but that wasn’t the case for this one.

I shook my head and opened my mouth with a very calm voice.

“Fine. Since we weren’t present in those days, it would be impossible to deduce everything about the institute from one single record. And the Gigas seemed like an error, and everything else seemed to go as expected.”

“Haha....”

At the warm comfort I just gave them, Shin Sang Yong gave out an awkward laugh. Now the most important thing we will see on the second floor highest leveled monster. When 100 human beings were sacrificed, it could summon a lower-level Asmodian. The level o monsters on the second floor was rugged, but it was obviously higher than the ones on the first floor.

“Uhm. Master.”

“What.”

“How many Asmodians can be summoned, like the leader said ‘100 monsters similar to the Gigas were sacrificed’?”

“Hmm. That won’t be possible.”

“But still, if.”

At the fuss of Shin Sang Yong, Vivian face showed a sign of discomfort for a moment. However, she just shook her head and then spoke out with a calm voice.

“Like Su-Hyun said, Gigas is a creature of two, basilisk and a giant. Seeing that I think it could be a very highest grade.”

“Very?”

When I asked in a sharpened tone, Vivian just waved her hands.

“I, I don’t know… I.. already told that it was impossible in the first place.”

I turned my head. So this monster could be one of the best.

In terms of the players, they are divided into lower, intermediate, advanced and super class so that it is easy to distinguish, but that was a strict class based society. If it wasn’t the big, then something that was bigger than the peacock may come out. Only one out of the party can make it out of the fight by winning over it. Vivian could put up a good fight, but it was hard to see her win. It was 80% probability that she could lose.

And even if that does come out.....

“I think that now is the time to go and explore this space.”

I stood up from my place. I did it because there was a feeling of anxiety that filled between the members of the party. Jung Ha Yeon who had her eyes close, looked up at me when I spoke.

In the meantime, she was still a little uncomfortable, and her skin was awfully pale. Originally, Jung Ha Yon had a proper control of her abilities and emotions, but in the room of Gigas she came awfully close to looking at god.

And because I could roughly guess the reason I didn’t say anything. Anyway once this expedition will get over there the problem will be to get them into a tie with us.

The group of people who had been sitting for a while, they stood up. Taking the party member I went to the next door that pleased my heart. As I turned, I realized that the rooms in the west and north reacted, but nothing moved in the east.

To open the door in the west direction, we turned to a clockwise position.

During this walk, a heavy silence fell on the people. Everyone had tired faces and that could be seen on their faces. However, every time we cleared a room, the battle with the Asmodians was coming up in the next one.

Also, the fact that there were no rewards of the exploration in the second floor also encouraged such depressing atmosphere to come. Unless there was a turning point that was going to come up to give a new ray of vitality, the more they fought that more heavy their bodies seemed to become. Of course, the goods that we had received on the first floor weren't less, but a man's greed has no end.

Before long we stepped in front of a massive iron door that took a huge surface.

Before opening the door, I looked at the dull atmosphere in the back. All of them were glancing at my face with a dull expression. I just sighed at this sight and then put my hand on the knob. As it is, I heard a very unpleasant sound, I put in a little more power and opened the door wide.

"Keuahhhh....."

At the same time as opening the door a cold chill came towards me.

"Protect!"

At that moment, translucent sphere surrounded me. Tung, with that sound I could see the source of the spell. An Sol put in the protective spell. I didn't know when she was preparing in, but I didn't praise her for it.

This act could actually be praise worthy in other cases, but since An Sol is a priest, this act was a natural to them. The action now wasn't such a praise worthy one.

"There is a monster. Everyone, be careful."

After I finished speaking, I took my sword out and prepared myself for another possible attack. However, after the first offence, no other attacks came following it. In the end, I had to get in there.

I took another step inside, I was aiming to look at I, when once again a black light came towards me. I was also prepared this time as soon as it came close I swayed the sword and cut it off, and then secured the safety zone for the members of the party to come in.

After all the members of the party hurried inside I could finally look at the monster that was in front of my eyes. This room was a little darker than the other rooms, but it wasn't so dark as to be discernible to the naked eye. And the guy who showed up before us....

"It's a Spirit Knight."

At my words, Shin Sang Yong and Jung Ha Yeon frowned at the same time.

“Ha. This lab looks like a collection of magic-resisting monsters.”

I heard the mumbling of Jung Ha Yeon, and I was a bit irritated at it.

There were two horns that were twisted to the middle, and a flame thrower towering on the helmet. The rusty armor had rust marks in a lot of areas. It is difficult to see the human part yet. The other part was covered in with gloves, but the face in the helmet was very small, it was definitely a skull.

The Spirit Knight had a physical attack power, but it also had attacks that were induced with the magic which will be difficult to deal. It had created its own magic resistance, which pretty strong magic resistance. This was why Jung Ha Yeon complained.

As long the facts are considered, it could perform attacks with physical strength, use magic and then have resistance for magic. Of course, the he doesn't come in the Death Knight so it isn't a boss monster class. But he was still a worthy opponent.

But. The words that were said, how many of them could be true.

“..... Su-Hyun. Is the Spirit Knight a result of the institute?”

“If the Asmodians were summoned. Then this nothing strange.”

At my clear answer, Vivian frowned. I stared at her for a moment and then turned it away.

“Playing with the soul of a human.... It is unacceptable for an alchemist.”

I followed the voice that came my behind and then stepped a step further inside. However, it would be hard for it to harm us with a simple attack, as we were closing in the distance gradually.

“Keuahhh....”

“An Hyun, keeper, Yoo-Jung. Behind me. Sol prepare a bond.... The wizards aid us with secondary spells.. And...”

I turned speechless after a while. I didn't mention any specific role to anyone, and the only people who didn't make it into the party were the wizards.

“Don't overdo stuff.”

After I finished speaking, I rushed towards the Spirit Knight.

M E M O R I Z E - Chapter 99 - Su-Hyun's Madness

99. Su-Hyun's Madness

Please continue reading on

“Huahhh...”

The one in front of me opened his mouth, and it felt like his body was still alive. Yet, I didn't stop the pace. All most all of the monsters that we have encountered in the second floor so far have all been fakes. I couldn't let my leisure feeling take over me as this was still a knight. There was a difference between fake. Ah, well except for Gigas.

He too had a built in shield and sword, and his momentum of swinging the sword was not so great. One again, a black light was blooming, when the aura flew to me, it gave me a eerie breath. But at the beginning, the simple attack could not reach me.

If there was the intention for building up the experience points, I would definitely call An Hyun. I felt a little sorry for Yoo-Jung as I chose over her, but I had already decided to end this battle quickly.

Skong! Sarr...

With the power of the Sword Specialist, I held onto the sword tightly. I could see that the helms of the helmet were burning more.

He and I confronted with each other in the front. I just going to put up the shield but then I frowned.

At that time, I heard a shriek from the back, from Jung Ha Yeon.

“_____ Ice Canon!”

Ice Canon is a senior order in the water category. Maybe she was casting it as a shield before I went in. son after, one long ice cone passed, and I could see him darting it with the help of the shield. And.

Pujsk! Puajsk!

“Ha...?”

The ice cannon of Jung Ha Yeon and the Knights shield both hit each other, and sparks flew, but that was only for a moment. For a while, it was like a tug of war, and the later result was that the Ice cannon was eaten by the shield. The Knight's shield absorbed the magic of Jung Ha Yeon.

Well, the institute has done very strange things in here. I heard the doubtful voice of Jung Ha Yeon in the back, I moved my feet vigorously, I don't know what the next move of his was, but first we needed to get rid of the shield.

Phak!

This time, with the sincere attack from me, the knight couldn't withstand the power from me and the shield fell down. There was no facial features to him, but I could feel that he was feeling embarrassment from what just happened. I smiled as I saw that that ice cannon was fired into the ceiling from the shield. That seemed to come to this direction. I filled the magic into the sword and then moved it against the chest.

"Huahhh.....!"

As it touched the chest, he took a step backwards. And catching this opportunity, Yoo-Jung rushed to in front of me and chased towards the knocked down knight.

"Hahat!"

Sheesh. This time, it wasn't a sheer coincidence. Not this wasn't like that. Anyway, the Spirit Knight was pushed backward, his head touched the wall strongly. His grip partially missed the shield as Yoo-Jung immediately removed it, she immediately wielded the dagger. It was a Drum Nanta double fencing which we had seen before.

"Hat, hat, hat, hat, hat, hat!"

She smiled with a meaning "I don't understand why you are shielding it" and Yoo-Jung moved her dagger like a storm. Honestly, she didn't put it like the positions that An Hyun did, but she just randomly wielded it, but here was nothing as nice as hitting a disarmed enemy.

I checked the condition of that guy and just pushed my sword into him and turned around. All the people did nothing at me but look at me with round eyes. Even Vivian who could cast deadly spells, just tilted her head and looked at me.

"Hyu, Hyung."

"What."

"That... no.... that monster still...."

"Hmm? Isn't it done?"

After I muttered that, I turned my head and I could see the body of the spirit knight was knocked down and was shaking. When he collided, it seemed like he broke the nucleus of his inner and that was resulting in the shock from the inside.

I shrugged my shoulders and turned back again, then the people standing were looking at Yoo-Jung who was a little farther from their sight. I couldn't help it. My goal was to raise the experience for the kids quickly, but it looked like the process for the kids to accumulate their experience was beyond my capabilities.

"Yahoo! I knocked it down! Have you seen it An Hyun?"

As if feeling better, Yoo-Jung jumped and cheered shouting out loud. Jung Ha Yeon have a sigh and just looked relieved. However, they didn't show any other behaviors nor did they talk. But it wasn't An Hyun.

"This, This is ridiculous!"

"Hmm?"

Looking at An Hyun who was suddenly complaining, I gazed at him with surprise in my face.

"Hyung!"

"What."

When I asked him with a cold voice, h shouted at me and glared at me.

"This one wasn't Yoo-Jung's one! This is what Hyung had done!"

"Hmm.... What so?"

When I said it, An Hyun's face suddenly brightened. And he turned his gaze towards Yoo-Jung and spoke with a smile.

"See that. Hyung has done it. I proud that I have cleared up this topic."

"....."

I just forgot about the nature of these kids for a while. And this wasn't the kind of problem to deal with in the moment. I wanted to say it, but I didn't want to say it a be a bad person, so I just sighed. Jung Ha Yeon had a very complicated look and was switching between me and the kids.

On one hand I wasn't able to believe the situation that I was in, but on the other hand there was something that I wanted to look into.

"Why do you look so sad?"

".... It would be hard to raise kids."

“ha.... Haha.”

When I smiled bitterly, Jung Ha Yeon shed a small smile. And in the meantime, An Hyun and Yoo-jung were still arguing.

“It isn’t? Have you not seen my splendid fencing?”

“Splendid my ass. It was just random wielding.”

“Puf! I don’t go around dancing with a lance like a specific someone.”

No way, was she talking about the time when we were going against the giant in the first floor. At that time An Hyun almost missed his lance, but it was something to laugh about. But, his face flashed red as he had remembered what had happened then.

The two began to speak out to each other again. It was spectacular to hear this occasional swearing.

The atmosphere was slowly changing into an awkward manner. I heard these words before too. I didn’t want to let my pride get the best of me especially when I’m with the players who will stay with me for the coming time. I was frowning at this and I was going to shout loudly.

“Stop it!”

At that moment, An Sol stepped forward and yelled. At her out burst, both An Hyun and Yoo-Jung shut up that instant. Both of them were shocked at the angry shout from An Sol, as she was always a gentle person. Sol made a face of disgust towards them, but when she looked at me she immediately changed her face I found it cute.

“What are oppa and unnie doing now? Don’t you remember what Su-Hyun oppa had said before?”

“Tha....that...”

As she spoke about me, both of them looked at me and kept on doing that. I wasn’t sure as to what I was supposed to say to them. I just decided to watch this situation as it unfolded itself by just folding my arms. These were the kids who never listened to me when I spoke to them normally, but I felt something different with the kids this time.

“We are exploring now. But if you continue to ruin the atmosphere neither I nor oppa, nor the wizards will be comfortable. Do oppa and unnie want to the caravan leader Su-Hyun oppa to ashamed of out behavior?”

Great. She spoke well. She wasn’t a kid who spoke so well. Was she looking for the right opportunity to speak from the past?

Both of their faces became pale, but I could say that what Sol spoke was right. For a while Yoo-Jung just looked for a moment, and then opened her mouth with a low voice.

“Still.... An Hyun keeps starting the fight first... I also fought hard too....”

As to admit it, Sol just nodded her head steadily. No. but what was it that she trying to admit.

“Okay. That was definitely wrong for Oppa to do it.”

“Yah. It wasn’t like that, it was because she was too proud of herself before.”

“No that is not it. Oppa you responded too insensitively. Is it so difficult for you o praise when she is doing good?”

At the end of Sol’s words. Yoo-Jung’s face turned rough. They were making fun, but now they weren’t even able to intervene into Sol’s words. Now came the. “No, I just tried to make fun of you.....” it was obvious that they would try to blame it on the other.

An Hyun was shocked as Sol refused to hear his side of the story, An Hyun had a blank face.

“Ha. There should be praise. But I can’t do it. No, I won’t do it. I won’t so what?”

“Huh.... Oppa. It is not supposed to be like that.”

Yoo-Jung came forward once again to have a word with Sol.

“It is because I want to praised by oppa. Oppa always praises me, Yoo-Jung unnie is pissed, praise her once, you have never said anything nice to her.”

“.....”

However, An Hyun was silent. After Sol smiling, a gentle motherly smile, she approached An Hyun and grabbed his hand. An Hyun still didn’t turn his head, but he didn’t shake of her hand either. It was like a mother was comforting her son. The mood of the rest of the group went brighter.

An Sol stroked his head with the other hand and with her innocent face.

“There is a saying that dancing praises whales. If oppa is the dance the Yoo-Jung unnie is obviously... no.”

“?”

Sol stopped speaking for a while and a question mark on her face. It was like she realized that there was something wrong with what she said.

As we focused our attention on An Sol's words, we felt a sense of discomfort that we didn't realize, and then we realized the stagnation of the discomfort in the room.

“.....”

“.....”

Suddenly, a heavy static sat down between the members of the party. I closed my eyes as I about o laugh at this situation with no reason at all. Somehow I did try to calm myself down, but I couldn't do it. I have been suffering from these kinds of hardships for a long time in my life.

Thuk. Thuk.

Jung ha Yeon opened her eyes and closed her lips hard. However, the sound seemed to have come from her closed lips. Shin Sang Yong was also in the same situation with his mouth closing slowly. Only Vivian, she shook her head, but Yoo-jung Wasn't so patient to begin with.

“Puhem.”

“...Hmm. I was confused for a moment.”

“Puahh!”

“Hmm. Anyway Unnie.”

“Puahahah, ahahah!”

In the end, Yoo-Jung couldn't bear it and bust out laughing. An Sol tried to keep up with the atmosphere, but every time she tried to speak, Yoo-Jung cut her down with her laugh. The other people of the party were trying to hold the atmosphere but Yoo-Jung was laughing like she was about die. Sol's face went red so she crouched down with a groaning voice.

“It, it was a mistake! Stop, stop laughing at me!”

“Ahha! A little, hahaha! Praise, ah aha ha!”

“Stop, laughing at me!”

Yoo-Jung who laughed and laughed for a while, jumped up from her seat and grabbed both the daggers in her hands. She soon was moving the daggers in both the hands and then was moving her ass. It was a weird dance but then her mouth opened.

“This isn’t a dance. And oppa to praise. Ha Ha Ha Ha!”

Just a word from Yoo-Jung. And. The came out the laughter.

“Kya ahahaha!”

“Ua ah aha ah ahahaha!”

Jung ha Yeon and Shin Sang Yong weren’t able to endure it and then they eventually burst out laughing greatly. And An Hyun too, I could do nothing but laugh. Realizing that I had made a mistake, I dropped the laugh in the very moment. Sol tried to calm herself in the moment, but her face was blushing red, but I can’t stop what was going to come, and then she burst into tears.

“Euah ahng!”

100. Su-Hyun’s Madness ( 2 )

Please continue reading on

Thanks to An Sol’s unintended recklessness, the atmosphere of the party brightened. Of course, that person’s face went red and tears were falling down, but what could be done. It was true that everyone laughed. Everyone was able to rest happily and the atmosphere warmed up. I wanted to take a break too, but An Sol came rushing to me and hugged me, so I lost the break time.

And we resumed the expedition keeping the story of the fallen Spirit Knight behind us.

The other space that was left on the second floor was the haven for the undead. The undead popped out every time we opened the doors of the labs, and every time they came, the eyes of Vivian were burning bright. To be honest, every time I opened the door, I was angry at the staff of the institute for what they did, but I didn’t understand the reason that they chose to do this.

Turning in the clockwise direction, there was a lot of empty space in the other doors. I though that there would be stairway leading to the third floor in the North gate, but I guess my prediction was wrong. Anyway, Sol had rested quite enough in the room of the Spirit Knight, so we moved to the last door of the second floor.

And the moment we had opened the door, it wasn’t the undead that greeted us, but it was the Mummy.

The Mummy itself is difficult to be considered as a tough monster, but he had the ability to regenerate. Although An Hyun and Yoo-Jung cut off the bandages of the Mummy, it regenerated quickly and then threatened the kids constantly. The bandages that I cut seemed to be unable to reproduce, but soon new bandages popped out from the inside and made it difficult.

In the end, there was only one way. I raised my left hand with the ring.

“Anti Magic.”

The white light from the ring on the left hand was glowing, Jung Ha Yeon had cast an original order.

“Target monster Mummy. Overlap.”

Then, the white light that stretched out from the left hand, moved and penetrated into the bandages that were wrapped around the Mummy. Then the bandages that were covered around the Mummy were glowing in bright white light, it then faded in a quick moment.

I did not learn the advanced spells like ‘Dispel’, but if the situation did arise then I could definitely apply the order. Soon after, the dagger of Yoo-Jung tore into the Mummy, and screams could be heard from it.

An Hyun was still louder with the lance and was attacking its abdomen, and I slashed its throat with my sword to end for once. The Mummy screamed her body and then the body tore down. I shouted cheerfully and then snatched the kids by their backs who were coming to approach me as the dead Mummy fell not much far from me.

Bang!

The children stomped for a while behind my back, but soon after they saw the dead Mummy burst and the horrible smell that it gave out, they just closed their mouths. If I had a little more time, then I would’ve flipped over the body of it. Once I checked the Mummy which was now looking like a mop, I let the kids go.

“You’ve worked hard. Miss Jung Ha Yeon’s magical order was really amazing.”

“It was just a minor action compared to the ones who battle in the front. Don’t praise me too much.”

Jung Ha Yeon answered humbly, I just slightly smiled at it, as an indication that I had no hard feelings. On the side, Vivian’s lips were pale and An Sol was blushing. However, now that they knew the capacity of Shin Sang Yong and Jung Ha Yeon, they chose not say anything. It could be said that two wizards were included into the caravan.

Especially, the power that Jung Ha Yeon showed in the second floor could be considered equal with that of Vivian's.

There was a stairway that went to the third floor inside this room. When I was staring at the stairs, Shin Sang Yong approached me and talked.

"Leader. Do you plan to go up to the 3rd floor like this?"

"Yeah. How's the body condition of the others?"

As I turned my head, the members of the party were all showing me gestures with their hands so show that they were doing fine. However, An Hyun was looking back with a lack of feeling.

"An Hyun."

"Ha, Yes Hyung. I'm all good."

When I called out to him, he just nodded his head and answered. I could roughly guess why An Hyun was feeling down.

"Don't be too sad about the goods that we didn't get in the second floor. The ones that we have already taken can be considered as a jackpot."

"Ha.... But Hyung. Don't you think that we could use the items from the Spirit Knight that we attacked before?"

"No, It is better to leave it alone."

I was about to say another thing like "Well, try bringing it then?", but Vivian's gaze turned towards An Hyun, she shook her head and answered the same thing that I did.

"We shouldn't call the undead like that.... Anyway, it would be harmful for one player to take the things of another player who had been using it for a while. The weapon that has protected the life of that player, will only threaten yours."

"Hmm. Master. Can't we use purification spell?"

"You idiot. Can your body take the toll of the cleansing process of an item with dark attributes? And it is not old, yet it doesn't have much durability either."

"Haha. I see. Surely, you are the Master."

I didn't say anything and only nodded my head, as I thought that it wasn't entirely true. Despite the explanation that she had given, An Hyun didn't seem to be convinced and looked at me and just sighed once.

"We have still got the 3rd floor left. Everyone get your strengths up. We are going up right away."

When I get lance Master, I promised myself that I would give it over to An Hyun so I walked up the stairs that led to the 3rd floor. The party just followed me quietly and moved one after the other.

*

As I opened the door to the 3rd floor the eyes of the members of the were scanning the space. And despite the long space, we were all desiring to know the horrors of the past. To put it mildly, it was ashes. A space that was literally filled with ash.

In this small space, could a battle have taken place? the group seemed to have lost the words to say, as they watched the pieces and the ashes and the black rusty things that were there.

But there was a valid reason why I lost my words.

The space on the third floor was still and quiet, but there was a faint rustling sound and flint of fire. And at the same time, I saw a chair that was painted with enamel and someone sitting, pounding and screaming.

"These are the humans that I have seen for a long time...."

A young man slowly turned and faced us. The dark blue skin was covered overall. Horns protruding over the forehead. And wings of demon were flapping behind his back. This young ones identity was Asmodian.

All the people who looked at the image of the Asmodian had confirmed its identity. They didn't know that they would face the Asmodians already. And it was the same with me. I did know that I would meet the Asmodian, but I couldn't imagine that I would have to fight him at this place.

"I have seen humans for a long time. But no one speaks anything. Ah it is alright."

It must be. He must be. The arrogant faces and eyes that were looking down on us. And at the end of each sentence he says 'fine'. How long have I wanted to meet this guy. How many times I wanted to meet this guy, there were many words to say. In the meantime, all the things that I have buried in the back of my mind for twenty years, they were all awakened from my body.

I rubbed my eyes once and looked at him again. This is reality. I just wanted to make sure that this was a reality so I pinched my hands. I felt my heart throbbing and I clutched the sword in my hand. The heavy handle of it never felt so good as today.

“Why aren’t you saying anything. Just say whatever. Long time no see.”

“Mr. Su, Su-Hyun.”

“Hyung.”

My heart was beating. Every drop of blood in my whole body was burning hot. I felt like my old self, the me that I had lost because living with the kids. I opened my mouth with a raging voice.

“Nice to..... huh..... meet you.”

“Huhu. You are a man of no manners. Well, I was the one who asked you to speak. I can put you on your knees and show it as an example. A lower man.”

Crazy Bastard.

“This body belongs to the proud Asmodian Belpegor who has the status of a count for the majesty. I say again. Get down.”

“Ah, Noisy. Anyway if you’re a count..... it is a trouble.”

Vivian frowned and muttered. The evil Belpegor of laziness. This guy can be considered as a higher demon. Although he cannot be the highest grade, but it can be said that power which he posses is that of a person who could be the highest grade player. He had his own way to rise.

“If you are aware, be careful of the words and the action that you do. Hm.... I am a devil of idleness, but I wasn’t want to be trapped because I didn’t want to go anywhere. As long as I consider you as humans, I will give you a special case of mercy.”

Listening to him speak, all the party members became uncomfortable.

I hate demons (Asmodians). They are more arrogant than anyone else, they are the slyest among all the ones. For reaching their desires, they chose any method and means to reach it. And they are powerful in their numbers. And because of their mean form of work, I lost someone precious to me. and Belpegor....

“Don’t talk rubbish. I’ll kill you. Crazy bastard.”

< In that moment >, he provided the beginning for it. The moment I saw Belpegor here, I felt a question that had been troubling me. I was surprising enough to find the Belpegor in this Institute of Ruins, and the process is still unknown. However, I seemed to have an idea as to how one of the things in here were done.

Whenever I think about it, I get angry once again. I smiled and then lifted my sword. I felt that some of the eyes turned towards me because of my heated reaction. But it didn't matter to me. The most important thing for me is to get the most out of this guy.

I won in the first round skill, but there was no guarantee that I would win once again. Above all, he is a Master of evil. But I wasn't afraid of him. No, I felt joy in this situation.

Belpgor looked at me and an interesting smile rose on his face, and then he opened his mouth in a polite tone.

"Humans are fun too. HaHa. I have decided. I'll write you my chair."

"That's your wish."

"Human, you similar to that of an insect, you are just terrible. However, I am filled with compassion. Mortal beings anyway... if you chose to apologize right now, I will only kill that one fine man. Of course, you others should support me for the rest of your life."

"Is that so? What about the female humans?"

When I asked that, Belpgor responded.

"That is a definite thing. I wonder, they don't get to serve this great man. He goddamn human beings who used to be here in the past were like insects and never went out of here. It was pretty boring because of that, but the women were nice in here. Everyone looked the best, I was very satisfied."

When the members heard him, all their faces, especially the ones of the female players were distorted. I checked their faces once and then I opened my mouth with a ridiculous tone.

"I don't think that they want to serve you, like ever."

"Still ignorant. Don't worry. My stuff is thick enough and long enough to satisfy them. The female humans are the greatest ones of the majesty. They must know that they serve the Belpgor."

"Crazy."

"I told you to be careful. Do you hate to take the role of the chair, though you'll be alive? Kneel down now and I'll think about an otherwise."

"There is no need to listen to him anymore. Everybody be ready for battle."

At my words, the party members took out the weapons. Belpgor looked down at us with his arrogant face and opened his mouth with a dull face.

“Humans have a tendency to talk before performance..... annoying.”

Once he was done talking, I saw a dark blue flame rise in front of the body. I was one of the powers the Asmodians had. And of course, the fire was falling down farther from him. well, the fire was powerful enough by itself.

“It was nice when I was summoned in here the first. But the offerings were scarce. They did make things to put for me but.....”

“Then it sounds like you aren’t in you full capability. Nice. This is going t be easier.”

At my words, Belpgor turned a blind eye.

“Keke. Yes, You’re right, human. The power that I have today is just 70% of my original one. You look like someone who knows this. However. ”

He paused for a moment and then made a sound with his finger. At the same time, I could see the dark flames blooming in front of him and were rushing towards him. Soon Belpgor finished his words while laughing.

“You are annoying. This is all human that you see. You’ll be turned into a handful of ashes in front of the great Asmodian. You’ll be in pain! Ha Ha ha ha!”

Watching the fire come at me, I slowly awakened the power of Hwajung. Soon after it, the hotness grew all over my body and I gripped the sword tightly.

And, seeing me do this a smile made its way onto to the mout of Belpgor.