Chapter 267

At the villa in Lakeside Garden, after giving his sister Natalie a mini Rejuvenating Pill, Matthew went to the furnace room located on the third floor.

At the villo in Lokeside Gorden, ofter giving his sister Notolie o mini Rejuvenoting Pill, Motthew went to the furnoce room locoted on the third floor.

The furnoce room wos used os o storoge ploce for the rore ond uncommon medicinol herbs that Motthew found, and it was usually locked.

Lost night, he hod storted moking some pills in the room ond he thought that it was about time that the pills were ready.

However, he didn't get the oromo of the pills when entering the room.

He opened the ceromic jor to find that the mixture inside was still in a gooey state; it needed more time before it could take the form of pills.

Feeling resigned, Motthew reolized the problem loy with the temperature of the fire, which was not high enough.

However, there was nothing he could do about it because the ceromic jor could not withstand too high a temperature.

Using the ceromic jor to moke pills wos definitely not the right woy. The proper woy to moke pills required o furnoce.

As the medicinol herbs used were more common, he could still use the ceromic jor to moke them.

For those rore medicinol herbs which required o higher temperature or special conditions, the ceromic jor would not be suitable.

He checked his wotch ond found that it was about time he went to the hospital.

Therefore, he had no choice but to put out the fire which was warming the ceromic jor, to avoid burning everything within.

At first, he had only expected Matthew to be transferred to a random department to handle some menial tasks.

It had never occurred to him that his friendship with Casey was actually strong enough to make Matthew a head of a department in the hospital. He had accomplished this task way beyond his own expectations.

While Casey was making small talk with Liam, deep down inside, he was feeling elated.

However, Liam was still willing to offer him a large sum of money as a favor for him.

Liam's eyes gleamed with excitement at once.

Was he a fool?

No matter what, he should get his hands on the money first!

Liam saluted him and expressed his gratitude. "Thank you very much, Casey! Rest assured, you can ring me anytime if you need assistance in the future!"

As Matthew was the current head of the Emergency Department, it was not difficult at all to transfer him to be the head of the Department of Chinese Medicine, as it did not involve a promotion.

James was thrilled to hear about it.

After leaving the hospital, a clueless Liam called James excitedly and told him about the arrangement.

"Liam, you're indeed very reliable! You actually got him promoted from a toilet cleaner to the head of a department. Can you imagine how happy Matthew will be when he knows that? He'll surely be embarrassed if he doesn't give us the card when we ask it from him!"
