

Chapter 59

Sasha was sitting at the entrance of the office in the bank, waiting anxiously. Finally, a bald man walked out. It was Bart Jenkins.

“Manager Jenkins, you’re here!” Sasha hurriedly greeted him and said, “I’ve prepared all of the materials you asked for. Please take a look and see whether our company account can be unblocked.”

“Oh, I’ve seen the materials.” In an official tone, Bart said, “However, it is not up to me. You have to wait for the bank to process it. Miss Cunningham, you should go back and wait, and we’ll give you a reply within ten working days.”

Hearing this, Sasha was anxious. “Ten working days? That’s two weeks! This will cost a great loss to our company!”

Bart replied, “Miss Cunningham, I understand your difficulties but rules are rules and nobody can break them. Go back and wait. Once there’s news, I’ll let you know!”

With that, Bart directly went upstairs.

At that moment, there was a man dressed in branded clothing in the office on the second floor. It was Francis Cooper.

“Francis, I’ve done what you asked!” Bart laughed and said, “Sasha is so anxious, she’s about to go crazy!”

“Thank you, uncle!” Francis chuckled. “Next, Sasha will only have two options. She either has to lend money from loan sharks or find someone who can solve the matter. This b*tch still has to bow down in the end! Not only am I going to take her down, but I’ll also take Cunningham Pharmaceuticals from her! Now that Cunningham Pharmaceuticals has signed so many orders, the company will definitely rake in a lot of money! Uncle, after I take her down, I’ll have a woman and wealth and our family’s assets will be doubled!”

Bart was also overjoyed. He patted Francis’s shoulder and said, “You really are a smart young man. Don’t worry, I’ll definitely make sure she doesn’t get money from the bank!”

There was a sinister gleam in Francis’s eyes.

He was taken aback when he found a Lakeside Garden driving pass in Matthew’s car at the airport previously and didn’t dare to bother Sasha. Later on, he found out that Matthew had the pass because he saved Billy Newman’s daughter. Furthermore, he even found out that Matthew and Billy had already cleared their debts with each other, and he finally let out a sigh of relief. Since Billy will no longer help Matthew, there is nothing for me to worry about.

As soon as Matthew got home from work, he heard a commotion in the house.

“The people in the bank are outrageous. How dare they offend such a big corporation like Cunningham Pharmaceuticals?” James roared angrily.

Helen Freeman hurriedly nodded and said, “You’re right. We save so much money in the bank every year. Why did they choose to go against us? Have they gone crazy?”

Demi joined in. “Sasha, why don’t we sue them?”

“Enough! Stop blabbering!” Sasha waved her hand impatiently. “The bank is going through an official process so there’s no use suing them. Besides, it will take months to go through the legal process. Are you sure that the company will be able to stay afloat for that long?”

The three people in the house immediately fell silent.

Just then, Matthew entered the house and softly said, “Sasha, about the bank…”

“Shut up!” Helen instantly roared angrily. “Why are you home so late? Look at the time! Why didn’t you come home early to cook dinner? Are you trying to starve us to death?”

“No, I…”

“I don’t want to hear you excuses!” Helen yelled. “Other than eating and sleeping, what else can you do? I asked you to handle some housework but you can’t even do that perfectly, and you call yourself a man?”
