

Chapter 693 Livia Made A Scene At The Event

Celia glowered at the organizer and said, "I'm the designer of Semshy Group. The invitation was sent to me from your company. Is this how you treat your guests?"

Celia had never expected this kind of treatment from Orchi.

Livia sneered and mocked, "Celia, who do you think you are? You're a nobody! I would have left already if I were you. Don't you feel any shame?"

Livia addressed the organizer harshly, "If she refuses to leave, have security drive her out! The new product launch event is about to begin after all. You don't want anything to go wrong, do you?"

The organizer felt like he had no choice but to summon security.

The security guards were quick to surround Celia.

The guards had their hands on Celia when a cold rebuke was heard from behind them. "She was invited by Miss Aston and me. Who gives you the right to drive her away?"

It was Alec. He was fuming.

The security guards immediately froze in their spots and began to apologize.

Livia's man did not want to disappoint his darling and he began to pressure Alec.

"Mr. Wagner, we have been partners for several years! Are you really going to back this unknown woman and disregard our cooperation?"

Everyone watching thought that Alec would cave under this pressure from a partner, particularly one of this caliber. The deals involved in this cooperation were always in the billions.

Alec looked at the man, aware that everyone was watching them now.

He was angry at the man's threats.

"From now on, all cooperation between Orchi and your company will cease. I am now asking you to leave."

The man was flabbergasted that Alex would embarrass him in public for the sake of a woman. He snorted, "Alec, women will be the ruin of you!"

The security guards began to surround the man.

Livia knew she couldn't stay either now.

Before she could make her exit, she was stopped by Alec, who said, "Miss, please apologize to Celia."

Livia had not expected this humiliation. Everyone was watching with bated breath. She hated the attention. She pointed to Alec and said, "Mr. Wagner, you have always been protective of this woman. The fact that you are willing to offend a long-term partner for her suggests that there is more to the relationship between you! Are you sleeping with Celia, too? Why else would you do as you have done today?"

At this, Celia slapped her hard in the face. "Livia, shut up! Mr. Wagner and I are innocent. I love only my husband. I am Chapter 693 Livia Made A Scene At 🎁 +120 Points at most warning you! If you dare insult me again, I will call the police and have you arrested!"

Livia looked very ugly in her anger. She rushed forward, trying to attack Celia.

Before she could hit Celia though, her hand was stopped in midair.

A cold voice said, "You have absolutely no right to hit my employee!"

It was Nolan.

Livia could not believe her eyes. Nolan shook off her hand in disgust and turned to Alec. "How did she get in?"

Alec turned again to the security guards. "Throw her out!"

Livia was very jealous that Celia had two big shots defending her.

Why did she have to endure rich older men, while Celia had two rich and handsome men fighting for her? It wasn't fair.

She struggled against the guards, cursing Celia! "You shameless bitch! You seduce men despite having a husband!"

Livia was slapped in the face again.

She was beaten until she spat out blood and her teeth fell out. To shut her up, a security guard stuffed her mouth with cloth.

Chapter 694 Accident

Although Livia had been driven away, the inquisitive reporters aimed their cameras at the three remaining people, trying to use this farce to grab the headlines.

Alec and Nolan disliked each other intensely, and their eyes were full of indescribably fierce resolve.

Alec knew that Celia was married, but he didn't know that Tyson was actually Nolan. When he saw Nolan look affectionately at his daughter, his first reaction was to protect her from harm.

Meanwhile, he still remembered to explain to the reporters, "Don't get this wrong and don't listen to other people's made-up nonsense. I admire Celia's abilities. But I have someone I love deeply, and I always treat Celia as a child. Please enjoy the new product launch event and not dwell on some unfounded rumors."

The reporters had no other option but to leave.

"Thank you for your protection, Mr. Wagner. I'm sorry that your partnership with that man has ended because of me. I hope I can do something to make it up to you. Please let me know," Celia said to Alec politely.

Smiling at her reassuringly, Alec replied, "It's not your fault. The Orchi doesn't work with despicable people and is not short of willing partners. Even without him, there will be other partners rushing over."

After consoling Celia, he told Nolan, "Mr. Reyes, I have something to discuss with you. May I have a word with you outside?"

In reality, he didn't have anything to say. He just didn't want his daughter to be near Nolan, so he asked him to go for a walk outside.

Shortly after the two left, the new product launch event began.

A well-known international team had completed the stage design for the event. Every bit of lighting was tailor-made for the models and the jewelry they were wearing so that they could complement each other and make people feel fantastic.

After displaying the standard-looking new products, Nora came out for the finale, wearing the key items.

As soon as she appeared on the stage, the jewelry around her neck and the dress on her body quickly made her the most eye-catching presence in the place.

"The design of this dress is so daring. I didn't expect this. It seems like I'm watching a fashion show."

"There seem to be very few local designers of this caliber. Does anyone know their contact details?"

"I heard she is a designer named Celia from the Semshy Group. She seems to be a newcomer to the fashion scene."

Many people praised Celia's design, which made her happier than hearing them compliment her directly.

She picked up her phone excitedly and quickly moved to the stage to take photos of Nora without disturbing the rest of the audience.

It had to be said that Nora was born to be a model. When she walked onto the stage, her posture and disposition were perfect, and she instantly attracted the audience's

Chapter 694 Accident

 +120 Points at most attention because she could bring any dress to life.

The stage lights flickered wildly, and Celia threw herself into this enthusiastic and well-attended event.

Just as she was about to take more photos of Nora from a different angle, she heard a loud cracking sound from above the stage.

Before anyone could react, the lights crashed down one after the other.

The scene was chaotic as screams enveloped the place.

Celia's initial reaction was to run away, but someone pushed her from behind, and she fell straight to the ground.

The next moment, the pillar standing beside her started falling toward her!