

Chapter 733 Rupture

When Nora noticed that Celia had fallen to the floor, she at first felt awfully guilty. She wanted to help her up, but when she saw how much Tyson cared for Celia and how he treated her coldly, she remembered that she was like a fool for sharing everything with Celia about the man she liked.

And he was no longer hers as of right now.

She reasoned that Celia might have told Tyson about what she had said and done or that they might have laughed behind her back.

"Nolan... No, I should address you as Mr. Tyson Shaw. You have a great sense of self-worth. Do you really think I'm upset just because you've married Celia?"

Taken aback by her words, Tyson couldn't help asking, "What do you mean?"

"You can't understand." Nora's eyes changed from being cold to being disappointed. "People like you are free to do anything they want. How can you comprehend my feelings? My friend pool is relatively small. I would tell Celia everything because I took her as my best friend. I now realized that she had misled me. It really hurts me!"

She shifted her eyes from Tyson to Celia and said to her, "Celia, I had thought that we were true friends to each other. However, I can now see right through you. I appreciate you teaching me a lesson. I'll never trust anyone again because of you. Also, from now on, we are no longer friends!"

After saying that, she turned around, got in the car and drove off.

When Celia saw this, she attempted to catch up with her but twisted her ankle and nearly fell again.

With a slight frown, Tyson carried her in his arms and said, "You have an injury. Don't act like you are okay. Let's attend to your injury first. Nora is furious right now. No matter how much you try, it won't work."

After saying that, he moved toward the elevator while holding Celia in his arms.

Celia blushed with shyness and embarrassment and whispered in his ear, "Put me down. Everyone in the company will see me!"

Tyson, however, didn't give a damn about it. "Anyway, the world now knows who I am. It's natural for me to hold my wife in my arms. No one dares to say anything."

Celia buried her head in his chest to hide her face, for she was powerless to stop him.

As a result, word quickly got around the office that Tyson had carried Celia back to his office.

In a short moment, everyone was aware that their boss was the Shaw family's illegitimate child and he hadn't been disfigured.

The once-insulted Celia was now everyone's envy.

Nearly all of the company's employees, particularly the female ones, envied her good luck.

The other workers who had opposed Celia feared reprisals for their actions.

As for the one who bumped into Celia on purpose just now, she was scared and ran to Jamie. "Jamie, I need your help. I don't want to lose my job because I offended the boss' wife. You know I don't stand out enough. It will be very difficult for me to be employed by an organization like the Semshy Group."

It was because she got along well with Jamie that she disliked Celia. She caused trouble for Celia because she always believed that Celia had stolen Jamie's promotion through unethical means.

However, Jamie was now also petrified.

She sent this video to expose Celia's true nature and wanted everyone to criticize Celia.

Celia, however, turned out to be the CEO's wife.

The company's system was extremely well-designed. Even though she sent the video anonymously, she would be found out if they looked at the IP address. It was difficult to predict whether Celia would exact revenge on her at that time.

Jamie was annoyed when she was questioned by the female colleague. She pushed her away and stated angrily, "You're the one who caused problems for Celia. It has nothing to do with me!"

Jamie's indifference surprised the female colleague. She exploded with rage and said, "You also plotted against Celia. You were the one who uploaded the video of her. Yes, I'm aware of it! I'll expose you and teach you a lesson if you don't help me!"

Jamie's face darkened immediately, and she responded, "Don't fling mud at me. Did you see me do it? Stop talking rubbish, or I'll have my lawyer write you a letter accusing you of slander."

Her office door slammed open with a loud boom as soon as she finished speaking.

The two were frightened and turned around, perplexed, only to see Emmitt coming in.

"Jamie Olson, we discovered that you sent the video and discreetly spread rumors about Celia Kane. You've been fired following a meeting of the board of directors."

The office was left open after Emmitt came in. Many colleagues gathered outside the office in an instant. They all heard what Emmitt said, and they didn't expect that Jamie was behind everything.

"Really? It can't be Jamie. She has always been friendly to all of the colleagues."

"Moreover, she was the one who took the lead in listening to Celia. Was she pretending to be kind?"

"Isn't it terrifying? Jamie's secret plan to get back at Celia surprised me. If I had ever dealt with her, I probably would have been a victim of one of her schemes by now."

When Jamie heard the others talking, her expression darkened. Yet, she refrained from arguing with them. After all, they weren't lying. She was the one responsible for spreading the rumors about Celia.

The only thing she could do was to depart as quickly as possible. After all, she could always apply to other companies and keep making a livelihood in Hosworth if she wasn't forced out of the Semshy Group in an embarrassing manner.

Seeing this, the female colleague who had previously caused trouble realized Jamie was at a dead end. She hurriedly pleaded for herself. "Mr. Boyd, I am innocent. I misunderstood Celia because I was lied to by Jamie. Please help me convince Mr. Reyes not to fire me. I really can't be fired."

Emmitt stared at her coldly.

"I'm sorry. The executives have given the order. You and Jamie have been fired. Please leave the company immediately, or the security guards will drive you away forcefully."

"Why? I was misled. I didn't intend to hurt Celia."

Despite her best efforts to defend herself, Emmitt showed her no mercy.

"Even if everything else was ignored for the time being, you purposefully bumped into Mr. Reyes' wife, which enraged

Mr. Reyes. I'll call security guards to throw you out if you don't leave immediately."

The woman didn't dare to plead for mercy further for fear of offending Mr. Reyes and being sentenced to an even harsher fate.

She returned to her workstation to pack her belongings and departed dejectedly with Jamie.

After the two had gone, Emmitt stated to everyone present, "Mr. Reyes stated that he does not want to hear anyone in the company tarnish his wife's name in the future. You'll wind up like Jamie if you do so."

Everyone got scared and promised they would never do such a thing. Then, Emmitt left feeling satisfied.
