

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 71

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 71

Chapter 71

Jocelyn turned around immediately and caught sight of Skyler protecting her behind his back. He then cast an icy look at Abel. Abel did not let go of Jocelyn's arm. Abel was stunned when he noticed Skyler. He then scoffed, "Moore the Second, why are you involved in everything? Does my relationship with Lil Sis have anything to do with you?" Skyler cast a hateful glance at Abel's hand on Jocelyn's arm. "Let go of her!"

Abel's smile faded. "What if I don't let go of her?"

Skyler grabbed Jocelyn's other arm. "Don't blame me for what I'll do to you!" Abel looked at him in a nonchalant manner. "Really? I'd like to see what you'd do to me!" Skyler's oppressive aura heightened as he reached out to grab the hand that Abel had wrapped around Jocelyn's arm. He then tried to pry his hand off her. Some reporters looked over when they noticed the tension between the two of them. Jocelyn frowned and said, "Both of you are hurting my arms!" Both men instantly let go of her arms. Jocelyn withdrew her arms at once. There was an unpleasant look on her face. "Please continue arguing if you want to. Just don't get me involved. I don't want everyone to watch me like I'm a circus performer!" Jocelyn retreated a few steps after speaking. Skyler's gaze grew heavier. He remained silent as he flung Abel's hand away and took out his handkerchief. He wiped his hands all over carefully. It was as if Abel was full of dirt. Abel's lips twitched as he huffed coldly. He turned around to look at Jocelyn. His gaze flashed as he recalled how Jocelyn had removed herself from the situation and left at the rooftop of the hospital last evening. He glanced at Jocelyn in amusement as an excited glint flashed in his eyes. "Lil Sis, I won't force you if you don't want to celebrate with me. However, you should really consider joining Glory Jewelry. I'm way easier to deal with than Moore the Second. I don't restrict employees from making friends, and neither do I force them to line up. I'm an extremely kind boss." Skyler's expression darkened instantly. Jocelyn had an icy expression on her face as she told him, "Thank you for your kindness. However, I have no intentions of changing companies right now!" Jocelyn walked to the side of her car. She looked at Skyler, who had a heavy expression on his face. "Excuse me, President Moore. I need to leave!" Skyler cast a heavy glance at her. He then turned around and walked toward his own car.

Jocelyn got into her car and drove off.

Skyler's car drove away as well.

Abel smirked, but his smile did not reach his eyes. He muttered to himself, "It's a pity for a talent like that to be by Moore the Second's side!" As soon as Jocelyn drove into the car park of Prosperity Jewelry, Skyler's car stopped beside her. Jocelyn recalled what had just happened outside the court. She felt that she should explain herself.

When Skyler got down his car, he saw Jocelyn walking toward him calmly. There was a serious expression on her face as she said, "President Moore, things aren't like what you witnessed between Abel and me just now. Before the trial, he took the initiative to help me get out of trouble. After the trial, I didn't bother him, but he insisted on chasing me out to ask me to celebrate..."

Before she could finish speaking, Skyler interrupted her coldly. "I know that!"

Jocelyn gaped and looked at Skyler with a disconcerted expression on her face. She did not seem to understand his reaction.

He had told her to keep her distance from Abel last night.

Nevertheless, Abel kept following her around today. She wanted to explain things to Skyler since she thought that he would be displeased about it.

However, he did not expect Skyler to react in such a manner. There was a heavy expression on Skyler's face. He glanced at Jocelyn and said, "Yale told me about it!"

After speaking, he walked toward the elevator straight away.

Jocelyn came to her senses at once. Was he implying that he knew what had happened?

Did he come over to help her out just now?

Jocelyn never dared to expect anything from Skyler. As soon as she had such a thought about him, she shook her head and stopped thinking about it at once. Jocelyn walked toward the elevator. Just then, she heard someone calling out to her. Yvie caught up with her as soon as she turned around. "Jocelyn, I heard that you won the lawsuit?"

Jocelyn nodded and said, "Yes!"

Yvie looked so overjoyed that it seemed like she was the one who had won the lawsuit instead. "My cousin..."

She had just spoken out loud when she saw Skyler in the president's elevator. She then said something else at once. "Director Claude has arrived. He's in the design department. He said that he wanted to get an overlook of the jewelry design process."

Skyler clearly heard what she said. He suddenly raised his head to look over at them with a heavy expression on his face.

For some reason, Jocelyn looked at him instinctively as well.

Their gazes met as the elevator doors gradually closed.

Yvie noticed that Jocelyn was not saying anything. She then touched her arm and asked, "Jocelyn, why aren't you saying anything?" Jocelyn returned to her senses. "Oh, I heard what you said. Let's go. Since Director Claude is here, we shouldn't let him wait for long!"

111

They both walked into the design department. Jocelyn saw Zayn sitting in the guest room from afar.

He sat there quietly like a statue. He looked as delicate as a drawing.

Jocelyn walked to the door of the guest room and was just about to push the door open when her phone rang loudly.

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 72

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 72

Chapter 72

Jocelyn frowned and glanced at her phone screen. The call was from Lexie. She glanced at Zayn in the guest room through the glass door. Zayn just happened to look over as well.

Jocelyn pointed at her phone and gestured that she had to pick up the phone. Zayn nodded with a smile.

Jocelyn took her phone out and picked it up. "Hello!" "Jocelyn, I plan to get discharged today. Anyways, I can just heal from my broken arm at home!" Lexie said in a cold voice. However, the tone of her voice was tinged with rage

Jocelyn frowned. "Did something happen to you?"

Lexie had no intentions to hide anything from Jocelyn as well. She told her the truth. "Jim Rand keeps pestering me. I don't want to stay in the hospital anymore!"

Jocelyn instantly understood what had happened. She had been to the hospital a few times. She could tell that Jim kept visiting Lexie's room as well. Regardless of whether he really liked Lexie, or he was just being playful, Lexie liked someone else. She would not be able to endure his tireless disturbance.

Jocelyn nodded and said, "Alright, I got it. I'll head over to fetch you home later!" Lexie shook her head and said, "It's alright. You're busy these few days. I'll complete the discharge procedures on my own!"

Jocelyn spoke up in annoyance. "I'm not that busy yet. Wait for me. I'll come over later!"

Lexie was not from Mauve City. She had stayed here after graduating so that she could look for Davis. Jocelyn would not let her complete the discharge procedures on her own. After hanging up on the call, Jocelyn went to look for Zayn. Zayn smiled and got up after seeing Jocelyn walk in. "Is your call over?" Jocelyn nodded and said, "Right, Director Claud, why did you come over? If you want to overlook the customization process, you should come over in the evening. Everyone should be out for lunch right now!"

Zayn smiled and nodded. "I know. I came over in the afternoon to look for you. I wanted to have lunch with you. You saved me a few days ago I haven't managed to thank you!"

Jocelyn did not think of this. She was amused. "Aren't you afraid of eating outside with me?" Zayn chuckled and said, "I'll treat you to dinner then!" Jocelyn could not help but burst out into laughter. "Alright, let's have lunch. However, I need to head to the hospital to help my friend complete the discharge procedures!"

Zayn raised his brow. "Is it your friend with the broken arm?"

Jocelyn nodded and said in embarrassment, "Yes, it's her. She doesn't have friends in Mauve City. I need to fetch her home, so it'll take some time!"

Zayn smiled and looked at her. "It's lunchtime now. Besides, I'm not your client. You don't need to feel embarrassed. Let's do this. I'll ask someone to complete the discharge procedures for her. We can head over and fetch her for lunch. After that, you can send her home, and we can proceed to look at the jewelry customization process. Everything fits well!" Jocelyn's eyes shone as she looked at Zayn in gratitude. "Thank you, Director Claude!" Zayn smiled and said, "There's no need to be so courteous! We're friends!"

Jocelyn nodded with a smile. Jocelyn and Zayn headed to the hospital. After fetching Lexie, they headed to a Mexican restaurant nearby the hospital for lunch.

After ordering their food, Lexie got up and headed to the washroom.

Jocelyn and Zayn were chatting in the room.

Lexie walked out of the room and closed the door. The door of the room opposite their room then opened

Jim seemed to be following her. He pushed the door open with an arm laid in a cast.

Lexie's expression darkened at once. "Were you following me?"

Jim had a shocked expression on his face when he caught sight of Lexie. However, he felt beyond amused after hearing what Lexie said. "How would I know that you'd be coming here for lunch?"

He had no intentions to stay at the hospital for long. However, he found it fun to stay there since Lexie was staying next to his ward. Therefore, he had stayed in the hospital for two days.

However, he did not expect to hear that Lexie had gotten discharged. He immediately got discharged and called Skyler out for a meal.

Nonetheless, he did not expect to meet Lexie here.

Lexie looked at him coldly. She frowned and walked toward the washroom straight away.

Jim followed her immediately. Lexie stopped and asked, "What do you want from me?" Jim looked at her and laughed. "Tsk, I just wanted to head to the washroom. Stop acting like I'm your greatest enemy!"

Lexie's face flushed red after she heard what he said. She turned around in a rage and quickened her pace as she walked to the washroom

Jim could not help but laugh as he looked at Lexie's silhouette. "We're truly fated. She can't hide from me!"

Not long after Lexie returned to the room, the waiter served their dishes.

The waiter served them a few additional signature dishes. The waiter mentioned that the young man from the opposite room had ordered these dishes for them! Jocelyn was stunned. Naturally, she knew that a stranger would not order dishes for them for no reason. She then recalled how Lexie had walked out once just now. She looked at her instinctively.

There was an unnatural expression on Lexie's face. She did not want to tell Zayn and Jocelyn that Jim had sent the dishes over.

She spoke up straight away. "They're from one of my clients!"

If Lexie told them that it was from a friend, Jocelyn would not believe in her. However, Jocelyn would believe in her if she said that it was from a client.

Lexie's online alias was LX. She had unparalleled hacking capabilities. Ordinary people could not hire her.

After lunch, they came out to pay the bill. However, the waiter told them that their bill had been paid for as well.

Jocelyn glanced at Lexie. "It was your client?"

Lexie scolded Jim in her heart. She nodded stubbornly and said, "Yes, it should be!" Zayn smiled and looked at Jocelyn. "It seems like I have another reason to treat you to a meal!" Jocelyn laughed. Three of them walked out of the restaurant.

They had just taken a few steps when Jocelyn suddenly noticed a small white kitten lying in the grass beside the road. It let out a weak meow. Jocelyn noticed that one of the kitten's legs was injured since it was white in color. She walked up and bent down to look at the injured kitten. She could not bear to leave it here." It's so pitiful!"

When Skyler and Jim walked out after eating, they saw Jocelyn, Zayn, and Lexie nearby. They took a step forward and heard Zayn telling Jocelyn, "You can rear it if you like it!"

Skyler looked at Jocelyn, who was squatting beside the road, instinctively. She heard what she said clearly. "I would like to rear it as well, but I'm staying in someone else's place right now. It won't be convenient for me to do so!"

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 73

Chapter 73

Skyler's expression darkened slightly. They were married. How could she refer to their place as someone else's place? Did he mistreat Jocelyn in any way? Why was she acting so cautiously in front of everyone?

Jim blinked and looked at Skyler instinctively. There was a teasing gaze in his eyes. He seemed to be asking if he had mistreated Jocelyn in any way.

Skyler glanced at her and shook his head, gesturing for him not to say anything. Lexie knew that Jocelyn and Skyler were married on paper. She understood what Jocelyn meant. She knew that Jocelyn liked cats. In the past, Michael banned her from having pets since Lily was allergic to animal fur. She spoke up, "Jocelyn, I'll rear it at my place. You can fetch it over when you get a permanent place to stay in the future!"

Jocelyn raised her head and glanced at Lexie, who was standing by her side. Her gaze landed on her arm. "You're injured! It's not convenient for you to take care of it!"

Zayn spoke up at the right time. "I'll rear it at my place. You can fetch it over to your place in the future if you'd like to!" Jocelyn felt slightly embarrassed. She turned around to look at Zayn. "How can I..." She then stopped talking abruptly. She caught sight of Skyler and Jim standing together behind Zayn.

Skyler was expressionless whereas Jim had a teasing look on his face. She did not know how long they had been here and how much of their conversation they had overheard.

Zayn sensed the change in Jocelyn's demeanor. He turned around instinctively as well. Jocelyn looked at Jim and immediately understood what had happened. Skyler and Jim were the ones who sent them the dishes and paid for their bill. She was so shocked that she forgot to even ask them about it. She blurted out at once, "You guys were in the opposite room just now!" Jim smiled and nodded.

Jocelyn felt extremely done. She glanced at Lexie and asked, "Didn't you say that it was from your client?"

Jim laughed and said, "Xixi, since when did I become your client? Why don't I know anything about that?"

Lexie glared at him with an unpleasant look on her face. Obviously, she did not want to talk nonsense with him. "I'll pay you back the amount that you spent on our bill!"

Jocelyn's gaze flashed as she stood up "Thank you for paying the bill for us just now, President Moore and Mr. Rand. Are you guys leaving now?"

Jocelyn could tell that they were about to leave since they had left the restaurant.

Once they told her that they were about to leave, she would bid them farewell.

After they left, she could remain at ease and take care of the injured white kitten. Skyler took a step forward as soon as she finished speaking. He looked behind her and asked, "Is this cat injured?"

t

Jocelyn's expression tightened. She did not understand what Skyler meant. She replied honestly, "Its leg is injured!"

Skyler walked past Jocelyn. She watched in shock as he took the weak kitten in his arms and reached out to pat its head. "How pitiful!" Jocelyn was in slight disbelief. Skyler had taken the cat in his arms. Besides, the stray cat was extremely dirty since it had been homeless for some time.

Her voice was rather dry. "President Moore, you're..."

Skyler cast an icy look at her. "I'll bring it to the vet and get it healed. Is there any problem with that?"

Jocelyn shook her head at once. "No, but you...Are you going to rear it?"

Skyler glanced at Jocelyn and said, "I'll rear it since I'll be sending it to the vet. Otherwise, do you think that I'll let it continue being a stray cat after sending it to the vet?"

Jocelyn glanced at Skyler in a daze. Somehow, she felt that there were implications behind Skyler's words.

After speaking, Skyler stopped looking at her. He then carried the cat and walked toward his car.

Jim did not expect things to happen to progress in this direction. Skyler, who made sure to always keep everything clean, actually managed to carry a dirty kitten in his arms.

Jim looked like he had been struck by lightning. He watched as Skyler left. He then chased after him at once.

Jocelyn frowned, turned around, and told Zayn, "Let's go, Director Lang!" 1

As soon as Jim got into the car, he saw Skyler taking off the suit jacket that he was wearing just now. He wrapped the jacket around the kitten and placed it in the back seat of his car. He then wiped his hands with a wet tissue.

Jim glanced at Skyler evaluatively and said, "Tsk tsk tsk, did you get possessed by someone else? I find it hard to believe that you'd touch this dirty little thing!"

Skyler raised his brow and threw the wet tissue that he had used to wipe his hands in the rubbish bin. He glanced at the small furry thing in his backseat. "It's rather cute!"

Jim looked at the kitten, which was wrapped in Skyler's customized suit jacket. The corners of his lips twitched as he laughed drily. "Hah...is that so?"

There must be something wrong with his eyes. He really could not tell how the kitten was adorable!

It was no different from an ordinary cat! Skyler started the car. Jim could not help but ask, "Did you decide to rear that cat because of Jocelyn White?"

Skyler glanced at him expressionlessly. "You're overthinking!" Jim's gaze flashed as he said, "Is that so?"

Jocelyn told Davis that she would be heading out of the office to accompany a client to oversee the process of jewelry customization.

She sent Lexie home together with Zayn. After that, they headed over to the jewelry customization factory.

Initially, Jocelyn intended to watch the jewelry customization process together with Zayn. She told the masters in the factory about the customization process and the parts that they needed to pay attention to. After that, she returned to the company.

Somehow, Lynn found out about her being in the factory. She insisted on coming over as well.

Jocelyn had no choice but to agree to her request. After Lynn came over, she would accompany her and look at the production steps of the process of her jewelry customization.

It was past office hours after she finished working. Jocelyn then drove home straight away. Jocelyn opened the door and took a few steps over. She then noticed a scratching post in the living room. There was a litter box and bed by the side.

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 74

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 74

Chapter 74

Although Skyler had carried the white kitten away, Jocelyn was still in a state of shock.

However, she still found it hard to believe that Skyler would really rear this kitten. After noticing the changes in the living room right now, an indescribable feeling surged into her heart.

She walked over with light steps and noticed that the kitten was clean now. It lay on its bed like an adorable pile of white fur. There was a bandage around its injured leg. It seemed like someone had treated its wound.

Jocelyn squatted down and reached out to caress the kitten's body.

The kitten opened its eyes slightly and poked out its little tongue to lick Jocelyn's finger. Jocelyn's heart instantly melted.

She was just about to rub the kitten's neck. She knew that cats loved it when their necks got rubbed. They would purr happily due to the comfort. However, a deep voice rang out behind her when she placed her hand on the kitten's neck." Whitie!"

Jocelyn turned around at once. She saw Skyler staring at her and the kitten with a lowered head. He was dressed in casual clothing.

Jocelyn pursed her lips instinctively. However, before she could say anything, Skyler smirked and said, "I was calling it!"

Jocelyn was stunned. She looked at the white kitten in her arms.

There was a hint of a smile in Skyler's voice. "Its name is Whitie!"

Jocelyn recalled how Skyler had told her that he was calling the kitten just now. Did he assume that she had thought that he was calling her instead?

Jocelyn blushed slightly. She stood up and looked at Skyler intently. "Thank you!"

Regardless of whether Skyler genuinely wanted to rear this kitten, his actions still touched her.

Skyler glanced at her expressionlessly. He raised his brow and said, "I'm taking care of Whitie because it's adorable. What does it have to do with you?"

Jocelyn felt rather awkward. "L...I didn't say that it had anything to do with me. I just feel that it's pretty good that you'll be taking care of it!"

It used to be a stray cat. It had now become the beloved pet of a wealthy man.

Skyler was obviously pleased by Jocelyn's words. He smirked and teased Jocelyn, "Really? I thought that you were thanking me on its behalf, Jocelyn White!"

Jocelyn blushed. She felt slightly awkward. "I didn't!"

Skyler found it amusing when he recalled how Jocelyn always bickered against him. He said, "

It's fine. Aren't you Jocelyn White? Or is it not Whitie?"

Jocelyn glared at Skyler with a flushed face. However, she did not have the strength to argue with him. "What are you talking about? How childish!"

After speaking, Jocelyn walked up with a flush on her face. Skyler was slightly stunned. He thought about how Jocelyn had glared at him just now. Somehow, that image of her was rather alluring.

His gaze flashed as he let out a low laugh.

Skyler looked at the white ball of fur on the bed. He bent down to rub the kitten's neck. He said in a low voice, "Tsk...Whitie, did Jocelyn White get shy?" After dinner, Skyler went upstairs. Jocelyn felt like touching Whitie when she saw it nestled on the sofa.

She could not resist walking over. She sat down beside Whitie and opened the television. She patted Whitie while watching television half-heartedly.

Initially, she had been rather at ease. However, before she was happy for long, Skyler came downstairs. Jocelyn glanced at him from the corner of her eyes. She stiffened slightly. Why had he come downstairs? Not only did Skyler come downstairs, but he also walked toward Jocelyn straight away. He sat down on the sofa beside Jocelyn and fixed his gaze on the television. Jocelyn pinned her gaze on the television as well. One of the latest dramas was being broadcasted.

Just then, the male lead was jealous because the female lead had lied to him and had a meal with the second male lead. Therefore, they both got into an argument.

The storyline was pretty normal. However, while they argued, the male lead suddenly caged the female lead in his arms with a ferocious look on his face. He then kissed her passionately.

Jocelyn instantly blushed. She did not know where to look.

What was he trying to do? Could they not just get into an argument? Skyler moved his gaze away from her awkwardly as well. Jocelyn moved her hand away from the kitten and grabbed the remote control by the side. She then changed the channel in a hurry. She finally changed it to the news channel. She let out a sigh of relief after hearing the boring news announcement. Skyler stared at Jocelyn for a while after noticing her actions. A teasing smile suddenly flashed across his icy and handsome face. Jocelyn was stunned. After that, she returned to her senses at once. She could not deny what she had done.

It was just a kiss scene. There was no need for her to pay this any mind.

Jocelyn was so awkward that she did not feel like saying anything. She blushed and lowered her head to pat Whitie. Skyler's gaze landed on her side profile. His gaze darkened when he saw the slight flushing of her face. He gulped as well.

Upon recalling the kiss scene on the television just now, he felt his throat tighten. He thought that he was wearing a tie, so he reached out to pull at his collar. However, he finally realized that he was not wearing a tie when he placed his hand on his collar. His gaze landed on Jocelyn's hand. He wanted to say something to dispel the awkward air between them. "Do you like cats a lot?"

Jocelyn glanced at Skyler. Her face had returned to normal. She nodded and said, "I love them!" After speaking, she paused and thought about how Skyler had brought Whitie back home. She questioned him, "Do you like cats as well?"

Skyler could not help but think about what Jim had told him in the car after hearing her words. Since when had he been interested in cats?

An unnatural expression suddenly formed on his face. He did not take Whitie in because he liked cats.

He heard that Jocelyn wanted to rear the cat. However, she asked Zayn for help because she was afraid that he would not allow her to rear it at home. It made him feel extremely annoyed. He remained silent for a while. Jocelyn thought that he would not answer his question. He hummed coldly and said, "I'll go upstairs first!"

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 75

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 75

Chapter 75

After speaking, Skyler got up and left.

Jocelyn's gaze flashed as she watched his silhouette,

She found it hard to understand Skyler. However, regardless of everything, she just had to do her own job well. After going upstairs, Skyler stood before the floor-to-ceiling windows of his bedroom. He took out a mint slowly and popped it in his mouth. He rubbed the center of his brows in irritation as he watched the city lights light up.

Suddenly, he regretted bringing the cat home. However, he could not go against his words and sent it away now.

His relationship with Jocelyn White should not be like this. It seemed like something was beyond his control right now

Skyler cast his heavy gaze outside the window. He dialed Yale's number. "I'll head over to Cloud City personally to view the project over there tomorrow!"

Yale was slightly shocked. "President Moore, didn't you say that you'd ask Vice President Shaw to head over instead?"

Skyler spoke up in a heavy tone, "Tell him that he doesn't need to go anymore. On the other hand, help me to book flight tickets for tomorrow!"

At the same time, Jim received a friend request on Facebook He noticed Lexie's account name He accepted the request happily at once

However, Lexe transferred a sum of money to him as soon as he accepted her request. It was not a large sum of money. It was the exact sum that he had spent on the bill for Lexie's table in the afternoon.

Jim's expression changed at once. Jim Lexie, what is the meaning of this? Before Lexe could reply to him, his phone accepted the payment straight away. It was as if his phone had been infected by a virus.

Jim stared at the screen of his phone with an unpleasant look on his face.

Jim. I did not accept the payment just now. There was something wrong with my phone. Otherwise, I wouldn't have accepted your money. I'll send it back to you!

However, a red exclamation mark appeared behind his text the moment he sent it to Lexe.

Jim's handsome face darkened. Lexe had blocked him. He could not help but curse "f*ck! What is this!"

She had blocked him after he accepted the money that she had sent to him! He could not believe this!

Meanwhile, at Lexie's place, Lexie closed her laptop after deleting his contact. She then turned around to rest.

She did not want to owe Jim a single cent! However, Jim did not know that Lexie had hacked his phone for a moment. He thought that his phone had accepted the funds on its own because something was wrong with it.

The next day, Jocelyn found out that Skyler had went on a business trip after she went to work.

She did not see him for the next few days.

The wound on Whitie's leg had healed completely. The customization process of Zayn and Lynn's jewelry had been completed. Skyler did not return even after they made the final payments.

On this day, the final evaluation of the Century Jewelry Competition finally came to an end.

In the afternoon, Jocelyn found out that she had won the only grand prize of the Century Jewelry Competition after having lunch with Yvie. As soon as they entered the design department, they heard Fiona's jealous voice.

“She just won the grand prize! Do you guys need to shower her with so much praise? There are plenty of people that have won the grand prize of the Century Jewelry Competition!”

“Fiona, that’s not the only reason. Jocelyn White is extremely popular nowadays. Plenty of customers have come over with design requests for her because of her reputation!

Fiona huffed coldly and said, “What a joke. What other works does she have other than the one that she won the grand prize with this time around? If it weren’t for the popularity that she gained through the previous lawsuit, a newbie without any works like her wouldn’t receive any support. In my opinion, it’s likely that the judges gave her the award because of the popularity that she gained from the plagiarism case!” Nobody said anything after Fiona finished speaking.

After all, the Century Jewelry Competition was sponsored by Prosperity Jewelry. Fiona was directly badmouthing Prosperity Jewelry.

Fiona did not like Jocelyn, but everyone else would not follow suit and continue discussing this incident at the risk of offending the company.

As soon as Fiona finished speaking, Yvie rushed into the design department. Jocelyn could not hold her back in time.

Yvie, who had always been cowardly, could not control her emotions anymore. She looked at everyone angrily and stood up for Jocelyn “You guys are simply jealous! Aren’t Jocelyn’s recent design drafts a proof of her abilities?”

Fiona scoffed and said, “What can that prove? she just took on a few clients. What does this prove? It shows that her abilities are still far from that of the many talented designers with works that stand out in every competition!

Yvie had an unpleasant expression on her face. She could not deny this point. That was because the Century Jewelry Competition was the only renowned competition that Jocelyn had participated in up till now.

Fiona’s words made sense as well.

It was nothing for one to win the prize once in the jewelry industry. A designer could only continue doing well if they had endless inspiration and design talent. Jocelyn walked into the design department and reached out to hold Yvie, who was about to scold Fiona, back. She spoke up calmly. “You’re right, Miss Payne. My abilities are still far from good right now. However, I’ll prove myself through hard work and effort!” As soon as Jocelyn finished speaking, Davis walked out of his office. Obviously, he had heard everything that they had said just now. He spoke up calmly, “Since Jocelyn got the grand prize in the Century Jewelry Competition, the design department will hold a celebration tonight. I’ll treat everyone!”

Fiona clenched her hands with an unpleasant look on her face after Davis spoke up. The main reason Fiona went against Jocelyn in the past was because Jocelyn's arrival had broken some of the rules that Josie had set in the past. Besides, Jocelyn kept putting her in awkward situations. She hated her terribly. However, after Davis returned from his business trip, she realized that he treated Jocelyn differently. She had been in the design department of Prosperity Jewelry for two years. She had liked Davis ever since joining the company. Jocelyn's appearance had distracted Davis. Fiona wanted to rip Jocelyn into pieces and destroy her completely. It was a pity that nobody cared about her thoughts.

After Davis said that he would treat the department to a meal, he looked at Jocelyn and said, "Jocelyn White, come to my office for a while!" Fiona's pupils constricted after she heard what he said. She glared at Jocelyn. She wished that her gaze could pierce through her body.

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 76

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 76

Chapter 76

Jocelyn ignored Fiona's reaction.

She glanced at Davis and nodded. She then reached out her arm to pat Yvie's shoulder. She gestured for her not to do anything rash and walked into Davis's office. Jocelyn closed the door. Davis spoke up calmly, "Don't pay any mind to Fiona's words. It's obvious that she's jealous of you!"

Jocelyn laughed and said, "I don't mind! Anyways, this is just the start for me. I'll have plenty of opportunities to prove myself!" Davis chuckled. "It's great that you can think that way. Interact more with everyone else during the gathering tonight. I hope that you can shine brightly in Prosperity Jewelry. However, I don't want you to have too many enemies in the design department. That won't benefit you in any way. After all, each and every person is capable of creating a butterfly effect that will generate huge consequences!"

Jocelyn nodded and looked at Davis intently. "I understand, Director Lang." Davis smirked. "It's fine as long as you understand. I won't say anything else. This is what the executives of the company think about your future progress. You have won the grand prize of the Century Jewelry Competition through this opportunity!"

He looked at Jocelyn and changed the tone of his voice "However, in the past two years, you didn't have any work. Lily white attended many competitions with your work. You should understand that you weren't the one who personally participated in those competitions. Even though she plagiarized you, the truth of this entire matter isn't clear to the public. Some people still take Lily's side. Public opinion will be divided as well."

"Now that you're eligible to participate in any competitions within the country, participate in a few more competitions after that to build your foundation. Make preparations to enter the international fashion jewelry industry in the future! This is the information regarding a few recent competitions. You can look up the competition criteria and choose one of them. After that, send a design draft over for the first round of evaluation!"

Jocelyn nodded and accepted the documents from Davis. She bowed down at him and said, "Thank you, Director Lang!"

Davis laughed in amusement. "Why are you being so courteous toward me? I'm your senior!"

Jocelyn blinked her eyes and glanced at him, "Since that's the case, I won't hold myself back from saying this. Since you're treating us tonight, can I bring a friend over to the gathering?" Davis was stunned. "A friend?"

Jocelyn laughed and glanced at him. She then smiled and said, "It's Lexie Lane!"

Davis came to a realization at once.

Jocelyn chuckled and said, "She's been recuperating well lately. Her cast has been removed!" Lexie called her almost every day for the past two days. She kept asking her to help her out and let her meet up with Davis. Davis laughed and said, "Of course, she can come over. She's one of my juniors as well. She can join anytime. You didn't have to ask me!"

Jocelyn smiled and thought that Lexie would be way too embarrassed to do so.

She laughed and said, "In that case, I'll tell her about it!"

Davis nodded.

At night, Jocelyn met Lexie at the entrance of Serene Court. She noticed the evident joy on her cold face.

Jocelyn smiled and said, "Go on in. Very soon, you'll be able to see the senior that you miss so badly!"

Lexie cast a sideways glance at her. Jocelyn understood her extremely well. She could see a hint of embarrassment under her icy expression.

Both of them walked into Serene Court. They then ran into someone that was walking out in a hurry while using his phone. The person shouted out at once, "Can't you f*cking see that I'm here?"

Jocelyn's expression hardened at once. She looked at the girl, who had exquisite makeup on her face. It was hard to imagine that these rude words had come out of the girl's mouth.

Her expression grew heavier as she said, "Speak more courteously. You were the one who walked around without looking!"

The girl did not expect Jocelyn to speak up against her like that. She reached out and tried to hit Jocelyn, but Jocelyn grabbed her wrist and asked, "Are you trying to hit me?" The girl's face distorted in rage. "Move out of my way! What are you even? How dare you treat me that way?"

Jocelyn said in a sarcastic tone, "Well, what are you then? Why wouldn't i dare to treat you like this? You'd better wrap your mind around this. I won't offend anyone that doesn't offend me!"

The girl raised her leg and tried to kick Jocelyn. Jocelyn had never met such an insensible woman.

She cursed while speaking and hit people when she could not win over them in an argument. She even tried to kick Jocelyn when she held her arm.

She was beyond angered. She grabbed the girl's arm and pulled her to the front. She then pressed down on her shoulder with her other hand. She performed a clean shoulder throw and smashed the girl on the ground.

The girl shouted out in pain. She glared at Jocelyn in rage "You're f*cking asking for your own death!"

Jocelyn had never met such an insensible person. She looked down at her from above and said, "You have such a filthy mouth. You'd better brush your teeth a few more times before leaving the house!"

After Jocelyn finished speaking, she dragged Lexie away with her. Lexie could tell that Jocelyn was not in a good mood. She changed the topic at once. "Your shoulder throw was extremely cool!" Jocelyn glanced at her as her expression sank. "This isn't a good topic. I'm recalling the person that taught me how to fight instead!" Lexie was stunned. An unnatural expression instantly formed on her face. "Stop thinking about it. It's all in the past!"

Lexie knew that Jocelyn had always been surrounded by admirers in high school due to her pretty looks. After that, she met Walter Keene. He was the one who had taught her how to fight. That way, she would be able to fend off herself even when nobody was there to protect her.

However, the person that taught Jocelyn how to fight back then had long parted ways with her.

Back then, part of the reason why Jocelyn got together with Howard was because of Walter as well. Everything was way too complicated back then. Lexie could not judge what had happened.

However, Lexie understood Jocelyn. Regardless of why she got together with Howard, she wanted to be in a loving romantic relationship. However, she did not expect Howard to betray her in the end.

When Jocelyn and Lexie walked into the restaurant, Davis had already arrived.

He waved his hand and gestured for Jocelyn and Lexie to head over to his side. Jocelyn and Lexie sat down beside Davis. They then saw Fiona pushing open the door and entering the room. She then closed the door. She was just about to walk over to Davis's side when he noticed Jocelyn seated beside him. An unpleasant expression instantly appeared on her face. However, before she could do anything, the door of the room suddenly got kicked open by someone from outside.

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 77

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 77

Chapter 77

Everyone looked over at the door.

Before Jocelyn could see the person's face, her attention got attracted by the flashy purple earring on the person.

Abel Crain was standing by the door of the room. She then recalled how he had kicked the door open arrogantly just now. She was not shocked at all.

Just then, a woman with a look of hatred on her face walked over from behind Abel. She pointed at Jocelyn and spoke out through gritted teeth. "Brother, that's the woman that gave me a hard time in the hall. She threw me onto the floor as well!"

Abel raised his brow and looked over. He caught sight of Jocelyn, who remained expressionless, at once.

When Jocelyn looked at the woman, she instantly understood why Abel had kicked the door open.

She felt that the person that she had beaten up just now was related to Abel! Jocelyn instantly felt a slight headache.

Abel was overjoyed when he saw Jocelyn. "It's you, Lil Sis! I didn't know that you knew how to fight!"

Davis glanced at Jocelyn in confusion. He was not afraid of Abel. However, he did not like dealing with him on issues outside of work.

Jocelyn spoke up, "Director Lang, don't worry. I'll handle this!"

Jocelyn turned around and told Lexie, "I'll go out for a while. Tell Davis not to worry about me!"

After speaking, Jocelyn got up and looked at Abel. "Mr. Crain, I know that you're here to seek justice for this young man. However, our company's design department is having a gathering here tonight. This is between you and me. There's no need for you to cause a commotion here. Let's go out to talk this out!"

Abel smiled and said, "No problem!"

Giada, who was standing next to Abel, threw a tantrum after hearing what he said. "Cousin, she embarrassed me in front of so many people. How can you treat her so respectfully?"

Abel cast an icy sideways glance at her after hearing what she said. Giada grew silent at once.

She knew that Abel wanted her to shut up.

Abel was her cousin. Although she acted haughtily because of Abel's authority, she was actually extremely terrified of him,

Jocelyn walked to the door of the room. She looked at Abel and said, "Let's go, Mr. Crain!"

Abel smirked. This was the first time Jocelyn had walked away with him on her own accord!

Abel laughed and walked upstairs.

Jocelyn knew that thora new that there was a game room above Serene Court. There were various entertainment activities there.

She could not help but frown. "Mr. Crain, where are we going?" Abel turned around to glance at Jocelyn. "Of course, we're going to where I'll be having my gathering. Lil Sis, you embarrassed Giada so badly. Don't you intend to do something to compensate for that?"

Jocelyn understood that Abel intended to make her apologize to Giada at their gathering venue.

There was an icy expression on her face as she said, "Mr. Crain, what do you want me to do?"

Abel smirked and said in a tentative tone, "I want you to apologize to Giada."

Jocelyn blurted out without hesitation, "That's impossible!" Abel laughed even more happily. "Why is that impossible?" Jocelyn suppressed her rising temper and said, "She was the one who scolded me and disrespected me first. She then hit me. She couldn't defeat me when I did a counterattack. Isn't this extremely normal?" "Besides, even if she's that shameless to look for me to cause trouble with me, I'll gladly go along with it. I can do anything else. I just won't apologize to her!" An unpleasant expression formed on Giada's face after she heard Jocelyn's words. "You b*tch, you're speaking as if everything you did was right after hitting me. If you don't want to die, speak nicely in front of my cousin!" As soon as she finished speaking, Abel cast an icy glance at her and spoke to her in an impatient tone. "Shut up!"

Giada instantly went quiet. She lowered her head and looked at Jocelyn. There was an intense look of hatred in her gaze.

Jocelyn looked like she did not mind.

However, Abel took a greater liking to her personality. She was gentle and tough in different situations. She was not afraid of facing anything nor was she flirtatious in any way! She was amazing! He smirked and asked, "Do you know how to play pool, Lil Sis?" Jocelyn frowned and told him the truth. "I do!"

Abel laughed and said, "Let's do this. Since you're willing to accept any challenge and refusing to make an apology, compete against me in a round of pool. There's a game room upstairs. Let's compete in a single round. If you lose, you'll have to do whatever I ask you to in the future. If I lose, you won't have to apologize to Giada, and we'll just forget about this incident. How's that?"

Jocelyn took out her phone and asked expressionlessly, "Are there many people upstairs?" Abel nodded and said, "There are many people. I brought all of them over. However, don't be afraid. I won't bully you because of that! I'm not that low of a person!"

There was an icy expression on Jocelyn's face as she turned on her phone's audio recording feature and said, "Please repeat what you said just now!"

Abel laughed. "You're doing this as evidence for everyone upstairs, right? You don't need to make a recording. I'll repeat everything that I said upstairs! How's that?" Jocelyn did not even look at him. She went upstairs first. The mirth in Abel's gaze intensified. How interesting! After arriving upstairs, Jocelyn entered Abel's territory. Abel did as he said and repeated everything that he had said downstairs in front of all the rich young men and women within the room.

Some of them had already started taking videos in excitement. After all, it was extremely rare to see a woman competing against Abel in a game of pool.

Abel handed a cue stick over to Jocelyn in a gentlemanly manner. "Lil Sis, go on. Start the game!"

There was an icy expression on Jocelyn's face. "You can go ahead!"

Abel raised his brow and smirked. "You should go first. Ladies first. That way, nobody will say that I bullied you!"

Jocelyn glanced at him and asked, "Are you sure?"

There was a hint of a smile in Abel's gaze. "I'm very sure!" Jocelyn stared at him deeply. Just then, Abel still did not understand the meaning of her gaze. Jocelyn started the game by racking the pool ball. The balls spread out. Two solid balls fell into a hole.

A look of amazement flashed across Abel's gaze as he looked at her skilled actions.

He spoke up, "You managed to get the solid balls in, but I'll aim for the striped ones!" Jocelyn glanced at him without saying anything. She continued racking the balls.

Initially, Abel had a calm expression on his face. However, Jocelyn racked the balls into the holes every turn she took. Finally, all the solid balls on the table had fallen into the holes. Abel could no longer remain calm.

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 78

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 78

Chapter 78

Abel did not expect Jocelyn's skills to be so shockingly good. She ended the game with every turn that she took

His gaze trailed after her as a look of admiration and shock filled his eyes.

He suddenly realized that some people really did shine brightly. He could not help but pay attention to her.

Jocelyn cleared the solid balls. Only Abel's striped balls and the only black-colored ball of the game were left on the table.

Jocelyn just had to hit the black-colored ball into the hole with the white-colored ball to win this competition.

Jocelyn raised her head and glanced at Abel. A look of provocation flashed across her gaze. However, Abel's heart skipped a beat after she glanced at him.

He did not even have to think about it. He could foresee Jocelyn racking the black ball into one of the holes.

Jocelyn's expression tightened as she raised her cue stick once again. She then racked the black ball into one of the holes straight away.

Nobody was speaking in the game room. Everyone was beyond shocked. They did not expect Jocelyn to be so skilled at all!

She did not give Abel the chance to rack any of the balls. She ended the game and won the competition by racking all the solid balls into the holes.

She placed the cue stick by the side coolly and raised her eyes to look at Abel. "Mr. Crain, did everything that you said just now count?"

Abel looked at her with a complex expression on his face. He slowly laughed out loud.

His laughter was tinged with surprise, admiration, and a hint of bewilderment.

He laughed and said, "Of course, it counts. Let's forget about everything that happened previously, However, Lil Sis, I'm extremely curious about what kind of person you are right now. You know how to make designs, fight, and you're even so skilled at pool. What else don't you know? I'm getting more and more interested in you!"

He looked at Jocelyn like he was looking at countless unknown surprises.

Jocelyn remained expressionless She did not reply to his meaningless question. "Since I won the competition, I'll leave first! I still need to attend a gathering downstairs!"

Abel toned it down upon noticing Jocelyn's response. He did not want her to hate him either. He smiled and winked at her. "No problem. Don't forget to keep in touch in the future!"

Jocelyn did not reply to him. She simply opened the door and left

As soon as she left, the game room erupted in a state of frenzy.

"Abel, was that that chick from the bar? She's so cool!"

"F*ck, she's way too cool! This is the first time I realized that girls can be cool as well!"

"Same, this is the first time I've felt so amazed by a woman. She's so cool and pretty that I can't look away from her!"

Someone by the side said, "Abel, is she your type? My heart skipped a beat for her! Brother, if you're not interested in her, I'll..."

Abel's expression instantly turned icier. "Remove that thought from your heads if you don't want to die!"

Abel spoke up in an icy and serious tone. Suddenly, nobody in the game room dared to speak.

However, the video of Jocelyn playing pool had been posted online. People even started calling her the prettiest pool goddess!

In the evening, Skyler returned from his business trip in Cloud City.

Just then, he was having dinner with Jim in the restaurant downstairs..

They had just ordered their dishes. Jim then looked at his phone in a bored manner.

The upper-class social circle of Mauve City all knew one another. Jim suddenly received a video while looking at his phone.

The caption was "How cool! She's my pool goddess!"

Jim always liked pretty faces. He clicked into the video and glanced at it.

However, he could not stop watching the video after looking at it.

His eyes widened in shock after he got a clearer look of the person in the video.

He finished watching the video of Jocelyn playing pool with a shocked expression on his face. He could not help but exclaim out loud, "F*ck! Is she still human?"

He raised his head and found it hard to speak up as he looked at Skyler, who was seated opposite him. He knew that Skyler had recently gone on a business trip. "Skyler, have you been in contact with Miss White lately?"

Skyler's expression turned icier after he heard Jocelyn's name. "No!"

After leaving for a period of time, he calmed down a lot. He felt that he could view her like anyone else night now

Jim pursed his lips as a complex expression flashed across his face. He rolled his eyes and said, "I'll send you a video Watch it?"

Skyler frowned He could not stop Jim in time. He then heard a notification from his phone,

He noticed the excited expression on Jim's face. It looked like he was getting ready to watch a show

He frowned slightly and took out his phone. He then clicked on the video.

The person that took the video had clearly recorded Abel's reaction and everything that he had said.

Skyler looked at Jocelyn in the video. She racked the pool balls into the holes one by one. Her movements were clean and swift. It looked like she was shining brightly. The solid balls on the table gradually decreased.

Meanwhile, Abel stood beside Jocelyn with a look of admiration and shock on his face. He stared at her without even blinking.

Skyler's expression grew darker by the minute.

It felt like something that belonged to him was being coveted by someone else. It felt terrible.

When Jocelyn cleared all the solid balls in one go, Skyler finally withdrew his dark gaze from the screen of his phone.

There was a lukewarm expression on his face. He did not expect Jocelyn to be a pool expert.

As Abel mentioned, the more he got to know Jocelyn, the more shocking she was.

Just then, Skyler felt that he did not know anything about Jocelyn.

Jim was already asking other people where and when this video was taken.

He looked at the heavy expression on Skyler's face. He wondered what he was thinking about. He could not help but ask, "Skyler, have you finished looking at it?"

Skyler nodded.

Jim could not help but exclaim, "Jocelyn White has so many hidden talents. I've never seen such a skilled woman."

As soon as Jim finished speaking, someone replied to the text that he had just sent out.

He suddenly raised his head to look at Skyler. He was slightly shocked. "Skyler, do you know where Jocelyn is at right now?"

If one took a closer look, they would realize that there was a hint of excitement in Jim's gaze.

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 79

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 79

Chapter 79

Skyler glanced at Jim half-heartedly and asked, "Does that have anything to do with me?"

Skyler's cold reaction did not wear Jim's passion away at all. He blew a loud whistle and said, "Did you know that Jocelyn is having a meal at Serene Court as well? Abel called her upstairs for a game of pool just now!"

Skyler had a calm expression on his face as he said, "Oh!"

Jim was speechless. "Hey, you should at least show some response. Both of you are married on paper. Don't act like you're complete strangers!"

Skyler ate a mouthful of food calmly and said, "We'll be getting a divorce in a year's time. We've pretty much been strangers all along!"

Jim finally realized that Skyler was telling him the truth.

He frowned and stared at Skyler. "Skyler, are you telling me the truth?"

Skyler looked at him nonchalantly and asked, "What else do you think I'm telling you?"

Jim looked at him. His gaze flashed as he spoke up tentatively. "If you're really not interested in her, can I pursue her after both of you get divorced?"

Skyler raised his head to look at Jim. There seemed to be an unpleasant expression on his face. However, he was extremely calm. "Do you have intentions to pursue a woman that has been married to me?"

Chills crept up Jim's back. Although Skyler did not yell at him, he could feel that he was not happy at him.

Initially, he intended to disregard Skyler and head to Jocelyn's room to join in the fun.

However, he instantly removed this thought from his mind completely.

Right, he had been good friends with Skyler since they were young. Regardless of what Skyler thought of Jocelyn, how could he tell him that he wanted to pursue a woman that Skyler had been involved with?

He could not even joke about it!

He laughed drily upon thinking about this. "I was just joking. Both of you are married. Even if you don't care about her, I won't dare to pursue her either!"

After Jim finished speaking, Skyler did not even bother to cast a glance at him.

Jim shook his head in frustration. If Skyler could not fall for a great woman like Jocelyn, did that mean that he really could not get over Josie?

Meanwhile, in one of the large rooms in Serene Court,

Jocelyn noticed Davis's and Lexie's worried gazes the moment she came downstairs.

She shook her head to gesture that she was alright. She then sat down beside Lexie

As soon as Jocelyn sat down, a designer pushed a king crab dish over to her side. "Miss White, this king crab tastes pretty good. Taste it!"

The designer could tell that Jocelyn was pretty talented in designing. She had intentions to get to know her.

However, as soon as she finished speaking, Lexie frowned and pushed the plate to the side.

Lexie had a cold expression on her face. It seemed like she was unhappy. It was as if the designer had done it intentionally.

She blurted out, "Jocelyn can't have seafood!"

Lexie knew that some people in the design department of Prosperity Jewelry did not like Jocelyn. Naturally, she treated them in a hostile manner.

An awkward expression formed on the designer's face. She did not expect this at all.

She laughed awkwardly and tried easing the situation. "Is she allergic to it?"

Lexie was just about to speak up when Jocelyn grabbed hold of her arm. She accepted designer's friendly gesture. "Yes, I'm allergic to seafood! However, I'd still like to thank you for your kindness!"

Jocelyn spoke to her in a gentle and polite manner. A pleasant expression then appeared on the designer's face.

Fiona, who was seated by the side, heard Jocelyn admitting about her seafood allergy. A glint flashed across her eyes as she kept that in mind.

It would be an extreme waste if she did not take advantage of such a weakness!

After the meal, everyone from the design department walked out of the room one after another.

Davis was paying the bill, Jocelyn and Lexie were waiting for him by the side.

Skyler and Jim had just walked out of their room, Jim then elbowed Skyler with a playful expression on his face. "Look at who's that!"

Ma'am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 80

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 80

Chapter 80

Skyler looked in the direction of Jim's gaze. She noticed Jocelyn, who was standing amidst the crowd, at first sight.

Jim glanced at Skyler playfully and teased him, "Jocelyn White won an award, but Davis was the one treating her to a meal. Skyler, what are you doing as her husband? Both of you are married on paper!"

Jim spoke to Skyler cheekily. He had long forgotten about Skyler being mad at him.

Skyler's expression darkened. "You should just shut up!"

Jim smirked and said, "What's wrong? Why aren't you allowing me to state the truth?"

Skyler glanced at him and questioned, "Jim Rand, do you want to receive a beating?"

Jim immediately raised his hand as a sign of surrender. "No, I was just being a busybody. Right, what did you give her after both of you got married? Did you give her a property, jewelry, or a credit card?"

Skyler did not expect Jim to ask him this question. He could not help but frown. "Why should I give her something?"

Jim widened his eyes and asked, "You married her, but you didn't give her anything?"

Skyler's brows furrowed tightly as he said, "She was the one who suggested that we should get married in the first place!"

Jim raised his brow and asked, "So what?"

He stared at Skyler for some time and suddenly approached him. "Skyler, judging from your response, did you not give her anything? Are you that stingy? She saved your poor self-esteem from shattering when you've been stood up countless times! You should give her something as a sign of gratitude! Don't give a woman the impression that you're a narrow-minded man!"

Skyler moved to the side in disgust. He frowned and said, "It was just three times!"

Jim did not understand what he said. He widened his mouth and exclaimed, "Ah!"

Skyler's brows furrowed even tighter. "She stood me up three times!"

Jim instantly understood what he meant. He tried suppressing his laughter. "Why do you have such a strong ego? You should just live with it for the rest of your life!"

He still felt like speaking more after that. "Don't meet a woman that you truly love in the future. Otherwise, if you keep trying to get your way like this, you won't even have the chance to cry in the future! Men should always pester women! Approach women and distance yourself from them at the right time Women will surely fall for you!"

Skyler huffed coldly and said, "I won't!"

Jim blanked and said, "What won't you do? Are you not going to pester a woman or fall in love a woman?"

Skyler's expression grew icier. "I won't do either of that! Don't think that everyone else behaves the way you do and frolics around with any woman out there!"

Jim could not help but burst out into laughter. "What do you mean by that? This is known as universal love. What do you know about that?"

Skyler scoffed and said, "Indeed, I don't understand the joy you find in flirting and fooling around with other women. After all..."

He cast a sideways glance at Jim and said, "I'm afraid that I'd catch a disease!"

Jim was extremely angered. "I always make sure to use contraception!"

Skyler did not even bother to cast a glance at him. Obviously, he did not want to continue discussing this topic.

Jim felt beyond aggrieved. He insisted on letting Skyler know that there was true love in the world. He wanted to let him know that the key to pursuing all women was to pester them. "Skyler, let me tell you something practical. You might not understand it now, but you'll get what I mean someday. There's a type of woman that will put up a stronger facade when you act tough in front of her. You can only see the gentle side of her by showing her softer side of yourself!"

Skyler did not believe in any of Jim's nonsensical words. He walked over to pay the bill.

Jim's eyes brightened when he caught sight of Lexie, who was standing next to Jocelyn. The goddess's best friend was incredibly mesmerizing as well!

Davis turned around after he finished paying the bill. As soon as he turned around, Fiona held his arm affectionately.

She acted like she was drunk and said, "Director Lang, I think I drank too much. Can you send me home?"

An unpleasant expression instantly formed on Lexie's icy face.

Jocelyn frowned. She was just about to reach out to pull Fiona away and suggest that she would send her home so that Davis could fetch Lexie home.

Davis then spoke up in surprise. "President Moore!"

Jocelyn's hand froze slightly as she turned around and caught sight of Skyler, whom she had not seen in a long time.

Skyler and Jim were standing in the distance,

He looked at the group of employees with an inexplicable expression on his face.

Everyone from the design department greeted him immediately.

Jocelyn was just about to follow suit and greet Skyler when a loud voice rang out in the distance.“ Lil Sis!”