

Madam's 4001

Chapter 4001 Qin Shao, you have really been in love before

It turns out that at that time... Joe paid the money.

Jian Jin couldn't express what she felt in her heart for a while, she only felt the softness and bitterness together, which made her feel more and more heavy and complicated.

She thanked the waiter, opened the door and walked out of the cafe.

Jian Jin subconsciously searched for the familiar figure with her eyes, but there were people coming and going on the road, so she couldn't tell where Qiao Nian had gone.

Jian Jin walked to her car parked by the side of the road, opened the driver's door, threw her bag in, and seemed to remember something before getting into the car.

Bending down to open the zipper of her bag, she took out her phone, and found her phone number that had been specially set to the top. After some hesitation, she edited a text message and sent it.

【Jane: Qiao, Tianchen's cargo ships are frequently robbed on the high seas, is it your fault? 】

Jian Jin looked at the words successfully sent on the text message, her heart felt like a heavy stone, she pinched the phone, got in the car and sat down to wait for a reply.

Qiao Nian didn't notice the text message Jian Jin sent to him until he returned to the White Mansion of the Hongmeng headquarters.

While she was talking about putting the car keys on the cabinet in the entrance, she glanced sideways at the text message on the phone, and walked inside... When she entered, she saw Qin Si, Moxi, and Guan Yan in the living room.

Several people happened to hear the movement at the door, and all of them turned their heads to look at her.

Guan Yan reacted the fastest, got up to give way to Qiao Nian, and said, "Sun, you are back."

Qin Si also tactfully moved out of the way, making the seat bigger for girls to sit on.

In the end, Qiao Nian didn't go over, but nodded to several people, and walked to the bedroom where Ye Wangchuan was: "I'll go see him."

Qin Si rubbed the bridge of his nose, naturally finished the mouthful of dog food, and watched the girl walk to the inner room.

Turning back, she whispered to Guan Yan: "I don't know what sister Qiao and Jian Jin talked about. I don't think she's in a good mood, so she shouldn't be arguing."

Guan Yan glanced at him: "You can tell what Sun is thinking?" Several old members of the Red League often couldn't figure out what Sun was thinking.

Young Master Qin went in without knowing it: "???"

He also kindly asked: "Can't you see?"

His tone of voice is really flat.

Guan Yan rolled his eyes in his heart, and decided not to talk to idiots, so as not to lower his IQ: "I'll ask David if tomorrow's flight is arranged."

Hua Bi followed immediately: "I'll go too."

Suddenly only Qin Si, Mo Xi and Ji Lin were left in the living room.

Qin Si looked at the suddenly vacated living room, but still didn't understand what he did wrong. Monk Zhang Er couldn't figure it out and looked at Mo Xi, who he thought was quite a smart person.

"Did I say the wrong thing?"

Moxi pushed down the glasses on the bridge of his nose, and said with both laughter and laughter: "Young Master Qin, have you really been in love before?"

Qin Si: "???"

Does this have anything to do with whether he has ever been in a relationship?

Besides, Guan Yan just went to the side to contact David. He is still in this villa. What nonsense is Moxi talking about... I have never talked about it!

However, before he could teach Mo Xi how to speak, he heard the other party get up and walk in front of him, put his hand on his shoulder and pat him twice, and said in a sighing tone: "Young Master Qin, go back and make up for it." The way to get along with girls. Look at Mr. Wang, he has never been in love before, and he is better than you when it comes to love. Learn more in the future!"

Qin Si was inexplicably said by him on the phone: "What's wrong with me..."

"Hey!" Moxi didn't intend to answer his questions. He patted him on the shoulder twice before letting go. He gave him a look of understanding and walked away: "I'll give Missy a call." Call and ask her if she needs help."

It is said that there is something in a word, and people who sigh are itchy.

Chapter 4002 Master Wang is very busy

Qin Si was made more and more irritable by him, but it was a pity that Moxi ran fast. He looked around, only to see Ji Lin who was the only one who stayed in the living room like him.

Ji Lin was stared at by him, and immediately ran faster than a rabbit: "Young Master Qin, I don't understand what you're asking, and I have something to do."

"Damn!" Qin Si, who had been left out one after another, became depressed, and swears loudly, hugging the pillow and trying to recall what he said before.

What did he say?

He didn't say a few words before.

It seems that Guan Yan couldn't see Sister Qiao's face when she asked a "friendly" question, so this can't be regarded as falling in love?

Isn't it normal for him to ask?

Qin Si became depressed.

In the past, when he fell in love, women would rush to coax him. He only needed to buy bags and luxury goods, and he didn't need to see each other at ordinary times. Some people arrange for him some less eye-catching women to bother him.

He thinks falling in love is quite simple.

Why is it that even Moxi laughed at him now that he is not as good as the old man who is blooming and talking.

Qin Si couldn't figure it out.

The more I think about it, the more depressed I become.

...

But no one paid attention to how depressed he was.

Qiao Nian has already walked to the door and knocked on it.

A man's clear and hoarse voice came from inside: "Come in."

She pushed the door open and walked in.

Ye Fanchuan saw the girl coming in from the outside, he was stunned for a second, as if he didn't expect her to come back so soon, he was about to sit up: "Why are you back?"

"Yu Yan told you not to move around. Just lie down." Qiao Nian walked to his hospital bed and pushed him down.

She turned around and dragged a chair to sit on the side of his bed, picked up the apple on the bedside table, and peeled it with a knife, her crow-black eyelashes drooped, as if chatting with him and said: "I got Zhai from Lu Zhi. The hiding address in Xicheng. I want to teach him a lesson before going back tomorrow."

"...It's also a lesson for Nie Qingru." When Qiao Nian said this, his tone was visibly tinged with hostility, quite dry.

But she didn't stop peeling the apple with her hand, still keeping her eyes closed, and said casually: "Lu Zhi...what do you want to do, I don't get involved."

Ye Wangchuan's eyes were filled with a smile, but he didn't reveal the news he just received from Mo Dong, saying that there is still a small group of people in Gonghai who did the same thing as them.

If nothing unexpected happens.

That small group is Qiao Nian's people.

It's just that she didn't admit it, and Ye Wangchuan didn't want to say anything.

His voice became clearer and gentler: "Okay."

Qiao Nian just finished peeling the apples, carefully cut the apples into small pieces and put them on the plate, then inserted a toothpick on top.

Turn back and pass the fruit to him: "Leave at noon tomorrow."

"En." Ye Wangchuan let out a low voice from his thin lips. Bo Zheng's engagement banquet is a week away, so it's still early to go back tomorrow.

But there are still many things in Beijing waiting for him to go back and make decisions. For example, there are a lot of things accumulated in the Nine Institutes, which Bao Jingxing cannot handle alone.

In addition, he still has a few industries in his own hands. Even if he finds a domestic professional broker to take care of it, the other party dare not make a decision on a project that is too large.

The Ye family has a detached status in Beijing.

Ye Maoshan retreated to the second line again, rarely showing up on social occasions.

After all, the Ye family is the heirloom of Zhongming Ding Shi, and part of the human relations that the old man of the Ye family did not participate in fell on Ye Lan and Ye Wangchuan.

Ye Lan has her own company to take care of, and it's not always possible to spare time in Beijing to maintain those interpersonal relationships.

Chapter 4003 I returned it to him for you

It is inevitable that sometimes there will be negligence, unfulfilled banquets, communication, etc.

These have to be helped by someone, so as not to create potential enemies for the Ye family in the future.

Ye Wangchuan has experienced these since he was a child, and he also bears responsibilities that ordinary people do not need to bear. When he goes back, he needs to continue to bear these.

But he rarely complains.

He and Qin Si are rebellious in their bones, and they don't want to communicate with people in the circle and assimilate their differences. He does not pursue flashy superficial skills. When he was a teenager, he clearly understood that he enjoyed a status different from ordinary people, and at the same time he needed to shoulder responsibilities.

Ye Wangchuan leaned against the propped up pillow, picked up a piece of Qiao Nian's peeled apple with a fork and fed it: "You eat first."

"What? Afraid I'll be poisoned?" Qiao Nian raised his eyebrows, looking over with dark eyes.

Ye Wangchuan raised his thin lips slightly, and looked at her.

Qiao Nian secretly cursed that it was meaningless, and didn't argue with him, just took it to save face and ate a piece of apple, the sweetness of the apple relieved some of the irritability in his heart.

Ye Wangchuan saw her calm down, and said to her again: "I won't touch Lu Zhi easily."

Qiao Nian frowned, and the corners of his eyes were a little restless, before he could speak. I heard the low and pleasant voice of the man leaning on the bed: "I don't care about him this time because he took care of the Hongmeng in the illegal area all these years. You owe him a favor, and I will pay it back for you." Cleared."

Qiao Nian's heart skipped a beat when he heard this, and he stared at him quietly.

Ye Wangchuan let her watch, stretched out his hand to grab her hand, lowered his head to play with the girl's fingers, his tone was much more lax than before, he raised his head and said seriously: "What are you thinking?"

Qiao Nian came back to his senses, and his shoulders stretched a lot: "I'm thinking, you can't do it like this. Does Lu Zhi agree?"

Ye Wangchuan raised his eyebrows: "What do I want him to agree to?"

He wanted Qiao Nian to agree with this exchange, so that Lu Zhi would lose out this time.

Qiao Nian didn't understand what he was thinking at all, so she pursed her lower lip and explained to him: "I'm even with him, and I probably wouldn't contact him before."

"Jian Jin over there..." Qiao Nian has always understood Jian Jin's thoughts, so she has always been tolerant towards Lu Zhi: "She will understand."

She and Lu Zhi can no longer be friends.

Jian Jin will understand sooner or later.

Twisted melons are not sweet, and people with different views and bottom lines cannot be friends for a long time.

Ye Wangchuan pinched her phalanx, and it felt numb, a smile appeared on her thin lips, and her fingers intertwined with the girl's fingers tightly.

"Then go back with me to attend Uncle Bo's engagement banquet, just in time to introduce you to other elders."

Qiao Nian doesn't like crowded places, and she's not used to getting along with older elders, so she doesn't get along well.

But she knew the meaning behind Ye Fanchuan's letting her be his girlfriend this time.

She had already made up her mind and rarely changed it, so she readily agreed: "Well, fine."

Ye Wangchuan clenched the hands intertwined with her again, gently exerted force on his fingers, grasping the feeling of interdependence, his eyes softened.

He wanted to officially introduce Qiao Nian to people in the Beijing circle through this Bo Zheng engagement banquet.

Their circle has always been fun, and people outside knew that he had a girlfriend, but according to the established rules in the circle, as long as he didn't bring people to participate in important occasions, it was not confirmed yet, and there would be more in the future. There is an accident.

The people of the Ye family think whoever they think is who they are.

Both of them know about the marriage contract, but outsiders don't.

Chapter 4004 Come to you to find someone

Ye Wangchuan was young and willful, and never cared what the outside world thought of him, but when it came to Qiao Nian, he always wanted to be perfect.

For example, the sense of ritual that everyone else has.

His Nian Nian also needs to have it!

The wind in February is like scissors.

In this warm and cold weather, the various ports in the illegal area are extremely lively.

All kinds of goods are transported to the ferry by tons and tons under the hands of workers.

The illegal area is surrounded by the sea on all sides, and it is more like an independent island. The marine products are rich and diverse, so except for the unspeakable "goods" that the big bosses of all parties occasionally come to the illegal area to transfer, most of the ordinary people in the illegal area do Aquaculture related business.

When it comes to the season of abundant aquatic products, the various docks are always extremely busy.

The environment where people flow is very chaotic, and it is also the most suitable place to hide.

Qiao Nian didn't give Zhai Xicheng a chance to breathe this time.

When she got the address given by Lu Zhi, she immediately sent someone to arrest him, and Zhai Xicheng himself was indeed as slippery as a loach.

When Qiao Nian's people arrived at the hotel where he was secretly staying, the front desk told the people brought by Hua Arm that the guest had already checked out three days ago.

Qiao Nian calculated the time and found that it happened to be the day when Nie Qingru was in a hurry to leave the illegal area.

That is to say, when Zhai Xicheng learned that Nie Qingru had left in a hurry, he chose to check out and run away. His sensitivity is not weak.

But Qiao Nian is not a vegetarian either.

Before she couldn't find anyone because Lu Zhi helped cover up, but now that Lu Zhi didn't care, Qiao Nian knew that he had stayed in this hotel.

She followed the surveillance camera and quickly locked onto the target.

The wind at the pier was bleak.

The workers were sweating profusely, and even took off their coats. Most of them were running back and forth in white vests, carrying the goods that were going to leave the port today.

It wasn't until several roaring jeeps lined up outside their pier that the busy workers took the time to look over.

The people in the jeep get out.

A pair of lace-up leather boots caught everyone's eyes, and looking up, the girl's legs wrapped in jeans were long and straight, her upper body was covered with a shirt, and her peaked cap was pressed down extremely low. From a distance, only the girl's snow-white chin could be seen. The lines are smooth.

Qiao Nian has a unique temperament all over her body, and she is always the focus of the crowd wherever she goes.

So it's not surprising that she once again attracted everyone's attention this time. She herself is used to this kind of scrutiny from all directions.

The person in charge of the pier got the news and trotted over to look for her. While rubbing his hands, he murmured and smiled inwardly, "Sun, what brought you here."

A few days ago, the incident of Tianchen's falling out with Hongmeng was widely spread, at least people in their illegal area heard a little bit of the wind.

Two big bosses were fighting, and the person in charge of the dock was only afraid that the gust of wind would blow on his unlucky head, and that would be called death.

So he was very afraid that Qiao Nian came today for Tianchen's goods, so that he would be forced to get involved in this high-end fight.

Fortunately, the girl didn't mean to implicate innocent people. Although there was a kind of indifference that rejected people thousands of miles away, she was easy to talk and had no airs: "...Come here to find someone."

The person in charge of the terminal hurriedly asked her: "Is it convenient for Sun to say your name? I will check the list on the computer in the warehouse immediately."

People come and go at the pier, let alone thousands of people a day.

He doesn't know everyone, and he has to check the information registered on the computer.

As long as the person Sun is looking for has nothing to do with Tianchen.

Chapter 4005 Zhai Xicheng used a pseudonym

"Xue Dan." Qiao Nian said a name.

"Xue Dan?"

The person in charge of the dock desperately searched for this name in his mind, but nothing came up. He had no choice but to say nicely, "Sun, why don't you wait here, and I'll use the computer to look it up."

...

The registration computer used by the terminal is an old desktop, not connected to the Internet. The registration staff at the terminal use this computer as a paper notebook.

No matter how powerful Qiao Nian's computer technology is, he can't hack into this kind of old desktop computer that doesn't even have a network cable to check information.

So a group of them followed the person in charge into the warehouse to find the staff in charge of registration to check the information of Zhai Xicheng.

Along the way, she heard many workers talking about them.

"Who is this pedestrian? Why did the person in charge bring them here. Could it be some big shot?"

"What is the big man doing at the pier."

"Hey, this girl looks familiar. And the big flower arm next to her, why is it so similar to the characteristics of Hongmeng. I heard that the boss of Hongmeng who is in charge of shipping has tattoos. He has a big flower arm in one hand. He is strong, tall and tall. Fierce...are they really the same person?"

Qiao Nian heard murmurs from the crowd again.

"Hongmeng?"

"Hongmeng came to our place? No way."

"Looking at the attitude of the person in charge surrounding them, are they really the Red League?"

Most people only dared to mutter in a low voice, no one was afraid of death and danced in front of the steaming cooker, Qiao Nian pretended not to hear it, and followed the person in charge all the way into the warehouse.

Said it was a warehouse.

In fact, it is a place built on the wharf to stack miscellaneous goods.

There is a simple desk and chair on the left hand side of the warehouse entrance, with a yellowed old-fashioned computer on it, which is regarded as a registration entrance.

The person in charge of the dock walked over in two or three steps.

The staff member who was sitting there fishing immediately turned off the card game on the computer, stood up abruptly, and shouted, "Boss, boss. Why are you here?"

Work here is the most leisurely.

The person in charge of the terminal arranged for his wife's natal nephew to come in, but on the surface, the relationship between the two is still the person in charge and the employee.

He walked over quickly: "Check to see if there is someone named Xue Dan here."

"Uh..." The staff peeked at him, standing there without reacting.

The person in charge immediately frowned, and called him displeased: "What are you doing standing there, check it out!"

"Ah good."

The staff came back to their senses, sat back hurriedly, turned out the registration form with the unskilled operation of the mouse, and did not forget to look up and ask again: "Xue...?"

He saw the girl standing behind his uncle with hands crossed and said nonchalantly, "Xue Dan. Xue at the beginning of the cursive, the Dan of the elixir."

He then entered these two words, and clicked the mouse to quickly search for the above name.

is a newcomer who came in a few days ago.

The staff didn't know what the pedestrians in front of them were looking for this Xue Dan, so they instinctively told him to mind his own business, so they said flatly: "The Xue Dan you are looking for is on the No. 1206 ferry and is about to leave the port."

The person in charge immediately turned his head and explained to Qiao Nian and his team: "In addition to helping to carry the goods, the dock workers will sometimes help * the ship when there is a shortage of manpower."

"I know the ship he mentioned, the ship of Hongyun Company that transports seafood. This company is often short of people, and signed a long-term cooperation contract with our terminal..."

Qiao Nian raised his eyelids: "What time will the ship depart?"

The person in charge immediately urged his nephew: "Did you hear that? Check out the departure time."

Chapter 4006 The ship has been dispatched for ten minutes

The dull staff quickly slid the mouse down again to check the departure time, raised his head, his face was a little pale, and he hesitated: "...It was dispatched 10 minutes ago."

Send away?

The person in charge of the dock was dumbfounded.

He twisted his stiff neck, his back was chilled, he looked at the Hongmeng group with a brave face, and said with a smile: "Sun, look at this..."

This has nothing to do with him!

He only hoped that the boss would not take his anger on himself.

Hua Bi glanced at him coldly, then looked at the girl, calmly: "Boss, what should we do next?"

Qiao Nian's drooping eyes were lazy, revealing a bit of casual arrogance, and it seemed that she was just too lazy to raise her eyelids.

Emotions are not deep in the pitch-black pupils, like starlight faintly visible in the clouds, and like a ball of fire dancing in the dark night.

All eyes were on her, waiting for her order.

The girl finally raised her hand and pushed down her peaked cap, with the brim of the hat down, reflecting her cold white skin and making her more eye-catching: "Find some people to stop the boat."

Hua Bi smiled, stretched out his hand and called a few people's names, and said arrogantly: "Brothers, work!"

at the same time.

Zhai Xicheng was standing on the deck, blowing the sea breeze, and he was still wearing the uniform of dock workers.

In order to make himself look more suitable as a worker, he did not hesitate to apply a layer of sallow cream on his face to cover up his complexion.

He looks like an ordinary worker right now.

Zhai Xicheng squinted his eyes and raised the corners of his mouth, admiring the beautiful sea view in front of him—in the endless sea, the white ferry was driving towards the high seas with a full load of seafood. The triangular bow cut through the waves and walked steadily in the sea.

And he is about to leave the illegal zone.

Once he leaves the illegal area, Qiao Nian will have nothing to do with him again.

Zhai Xicheng imagined how the other party hated him and felt helpless, and felt extremely happy.

"What are you doing here?"

Zhai Xicheng heard voices behind him, and turned around to see a rough man wearing the same clothes as him looking at him strangely.

"...Come out to get some air." A relaxed smile appeared on his lips, he looked away, and walked down the deck.

"Oh." The man didn't think much about it, and reminded him for the sake of his colleagues: "The restaurant will open soon, let's not stand outside stupidly, and hurry up to grab the meal!"

"Thanks."

Zhai Xicheng is in a good mood now, and thanked him with a very polite smile.

The man with a rough complexion under the sun and the wind all year round looked him up and down suspiciously, and couldn't help muttering: "What a weird person."

Zhai Xicheng pretended not to hear, and followed him to go to the cabin for dinner.

At this moment, something happened suddenly.

Zhai Xicheng and the fellow worker heard someone shouting on the deck at the same time: "Speedboat! A speedboat is chasing us."

The man found Zhai Xicheng and the other two on the deck, panicked and shouted at them: "Quick, tell the captain quickly."

The rough man next to Zhai Xicheng's face was pale, and he clenched his fists nervously: "Fuck, you won't meet pirates, will you?"

Then they are too unlucky!

Zhai Xicheng's heart skipped a beat, and he felt a vague uneasiness. He walked to the railing in three steps and looked out. His sharp eyes saw several speedboats chasing them at full speed.

That direction...

"No." Zhai Xicheng's face changed suddenly: "That direction is...the wharf."

The speedboats chasing them came from the direction of the illegal area, and they were people from the illegal area!

Chapter 4007 Sister Nian and the others caught up

Zhai Xicheng realized this, and his previous good mood was gone, and his fingertips that were holding onto the railing clung to the cold railing.

But this couldn't relieve his violent heartbeat.

"It's Qiao Nian?" His face was ugly.

Compared to Qiao Nian, he even hoped that Lu Zhi's people would catch up, at least he and Lu Zhi still had room for negotiation.

In case it was Qiao Nian...he didn't even have a chance to talk!

Before Zhai Xicheng had time to think deeply, the reality slapped him.

He saw a familiar figure appearing on the approaching speedboat. A strong man with a height of 1.8 meters and close to 1.9 meters exposed his arms. His arms were full of tattoos, and he was bold and forthright.

Zhai Xicheng had been in the illegal area for a while and was good at collecting intelligence, so he naturally knew who that person was.

—the flower arm of Hongmeng.

His last illusion was mercilessly shattered.

The person who came after him was Qiao Nian.

Zhai Xicheng immediately turned his head, walked quickly into the cabin with a cold face.

He wants to hurry up, faster...

As long as he seizes the opportunity, he can also dive into the sea and hide in the sea like last time in the waters of state M, waiting for the opportunity to be rescued.

"Eh."

He was walking in silence when someone grabbed his arm suddenly.

"where did you go?"

Zhai Xicheng raised his head and saw that the person holding him was the rough man who had called him to dinner on the deck before, his eyes flashed, and he didn't have time to find a reason.

The other party frowned, stared at him with vigilant eyes, and said sternly: "I think you are weird from just now! Come, follow me to see the captain!"

"No..." Zhai Xicheng squeezed out a broken syllable from his throat, and it was too late to refuse.

"There is something wrong with you." The other party pulled him inside with great strength: "I see that you look sneaky, you must go with me to see the captain first."

"Let go!"

"No. You have to come with me to the captain."

Zhai Xicheng couldn't break free, he clamped his hand with iron clamps, so angry that blood gushed to his throat, his eyes almost popped out.

He didn't expect that he just had fun on the deck, and he would pay for it in a blink of an eye.

And this person is very powerful.

He couldn't struggle with the opponent's hand at all, so he had to be dragged forward by the man.

Zhai Xicheng tried hard to calm himself down, trying to reason with the other party: "Let go of me first, I have something urgent."

However, the other party was a deadhead, and he didn't listen to his clever rhetoric at all, so he grabbed him even tighter, and even said something.

"You really have a problem!"

"..." This crazy person!

Zhai Xicheng almost spat out the blood stuck in his throat.

He watched himself miss the best time to escape, the veins on his forehead were bulging, and he was completely speechless from anger.

Most people on the ferry were attracted by the speedboats that were catching up.

The captain was also alarmed.

Everyone is gathering together to urgently discuss countermeasures.

There are many risks at sea.

In addition to being careful about extreme weather, what they are most afraid of is encountering this group of 'sea bandits'. In addition, during this period of time, there were frequent rumors that the Tianchen cargo ship was robbed by pirates, and the captain was also afraid that the pirates would not practice martial arts, and they would be targeted even before they left the illegal area...

When Zhai Xicheng was dragged in by force.

What we are talking about in that is in full swing.

"Let's turn the bow and head back now."

"You can't do this. Our speed is not as fast as the other party's. Didn't you hear that several speedboats came around?"

"What do you propose?"

"Captain, let's call for help! Someone come rescue us."

Chapter 4008 Caught as a thief

The captain is a middle-aged man with a full face. He is squatting in the middle of the crowd and smoking a pipe. After a long while, he stands up and looks at the crowd. He said calmly: "It is not yet certain that those people are pirates. Let's take a look first."

"Captain, if we don't run now, we won't be able to run away when the pirates catch up..." Some people were in a hurry, mainly because they were afraid, and they didn't have time to finish.

The captain glanced at him fiercely, and angrily said: "How about I give you the position, and you take command!"

The speaker shrank his neck and closed his mouth wisely.

The captain also noticed the two people coming in at the door.

Seeing that both of them were wearing dockworkers' clothes, he frowned and said impatiently, "What are you doing here? Get out."

The rough guy dragged Zhai Xicheng in and yanked him in: "Captain, this guy is a bit weird."

Everyone's eyes fell on Zhai Xicheng, wanting to see what kind of strange method it was.

Zhai Xicheng tightened his lips, clenched his fists, and killed the person who pulled him over thousands of times in his heart. He wouldn't even look at such a small person in M state.

Didn't expect him to capsize in the gutter one day.

And the reason why he capsized was to get rid of the pursuers... I'm so happy.

"He was weird on the deck. He saw a speedboat approaching us and ran into the cabin in a hurry. He didn't know what he wanted to do."

Zhai Xicheng gritted his teeth: "I'm just afraid..."

The captain also felt that this was just a trivial matter, compared to the fact that they might be surrounded by pirates right now, it was too trivial.

He was waving his hands, ready to tell the two of them to go out to quarrel.

Just at this moment, the person in charge of the lookout outside trotted in.

"Boat, Captain."

The captain looked serious, and immediately forgot about the existence of Zhai Xicheng and the others. He immediately went up to him and held the man by the shoulder: "Speak."

"The people outside said that they were members of the Hongmeng. They were not pirates... They blocked our ship to find people."

Everyone in the cabin heaved a sigh of relief when they heard that the people surrounding them were not pirates, and the atmosphere disappeared.

The captain looked much better, but he couldn't figure it out: "Who are the people from the Red League blocking our ship?"

There are many forces in the illegal area.

Hongyun Company can only be regarded as the least popular small force among them. They usually do some wild seafood business, but they can't even reach the heels of those top bosses.

As a more inconspicuous little character in the Fortune Company, he really couldn't understand how a force like the Red League would find them.

The captain was aware of the current affairs, and even before the crew under his command could answer, he immediately ordered: "Stop the boat and let their people come up."

In a corner where no one is paying attention.

Zhai Xicheng's expression changed again and again when he heard these words, and he even wanted to turn around and leave.

However, he soon discovered that the rough guy was still restraining him tightly, grabbing his wrist, not giving him a chance to escape at all.

Even the moment the man moved his body, he immediately watched him vigilantly.

That look seems to be looking at a thief.

Zhai Xicheng has always been hiding behind his back to plot against others, and he is rarely caught doing this, especially when he is caught as... a thief.

He had a tight pain in his chest, and he almost didn't die of anger.

But none of these can compare to Qiao Nian's sense of urgency that he is about to board the boat...

deck.

The white cargo ship stopped on its own initiative.

It is much more convenient for Qiao Nian and his party to go up.

Hua Bi got on the boat first, and reached out to the girl: "Sun, I'll pull you up."

The girl turned onto the boat nimbly and neatly. After getting up, she even turned her wrist and pulled down her peaked cap.

Chapter 4009 I, I know the person you are talking about

Hua Arm silently withdrew his hand, waiting for other brothers to come up.

Qiao Nian looked at the people coming up one after another, and ordered in a low voice: "Leave a few people below to prevent anyone from jumping into the water and escaping."

"good."

Hua Yi immediately reacted, nodded her chin, turned around and shouted to the person who was going to come up below.

"You stay where you are."

...

The white freight ferry is moored quietly on the sea, and the sun shines on the huge ship, which is coated with a layer of silvery white luster.

The captain brought people out now.

It was also the first time for him to see someone at the level of Hongmeng. He was unavoidably nervous, and his eyes unconsciously aimed at the girl in the center of the deck.

The girls stood among a group of burly men with their hands behind their backs like stars shining on the moon. Those big men on the boat were all fierce and fierce, and they looked extremely difficult to mess with.

When they stood around the girls, they seemed to instinctively restrain their sense of oppression, like surrender in their bones.

The captain dared not be careless to greet him: "Hong, everyone in the Hongmeng, please follow me. I will make tea for everyone, let's sit down and talk slowly."

Qiao Nian turned her cold white wrist and raised her peaked cap, revealing her bright eyes, and looked at him directly: "No need, we're here to find someone."

The captain withdrew his hand silently: "Okay, okay."

He held back for a second, and mustered up the courage to look at the group of people on the deck: "Who are you looking for...?"

"Is it someone from our company?" Before asking this question.

The captain carefully recalled whether his company had any conflicts with Hongmeng, and after thinking about it, he came to the conclusion that the small business run by their company could not attract the interest of these big bosses at all.

Not to mention conflicts with Hongmeng, the company usually has no chance to get in touch with them.

Qiao Nian saw that he was nervous, and denied, "No."

"Then you look for..." the captain heaved a sigh of relief, as long as he is not looking for them, he is not afraid, but the nervousness of human instinct is inevitable.

"I'm looking for a dock worker named Xue Dan." Qiao Nian said concisely.

Except for the Hongmeng people on the deck.

Many crew members are also eavesdropping on them.

Many people heard the girls mention the keywords of dock workers, and they turned their heads to find someone, and asked for someone out of curiosity.

"Xue Dan? We have a dock worker named Xue Dan on board?"

"They caught up from the pier, what do you think?"

"I don't know what the kid did."

During the conversation.

A pockmarked dock worker stood up and said suddenly, "I, I know the person you're talking about."

All eyes fell on him.

The man blushed instantly, scratched his head unaccustomed and explained: "I am the head of the dock and the boatman. There is indeed a young man named Xue Dan in our team."

Hua Bi narrowed his eyes and walked over: "Where is he?"

The foreman pointed to the captain's cabin in fear: "I just saw Wang Wu dragging him into the captain's resting cabin."

Everyone immediately looked at the captain again.

The captain was sweating coldly, and immediately wiped off his sweat and said, "I don't know him! Two people broke into my lounge just now. I thought they had a conflict, and I didn't have time to ask. No, you came here. I don't even know who they are..."

Qiao Nian probably understood the cause and effect, raised his chin slightly, and motioned for the flower arm to go in: "Go and have a look."

She herself walked into the captain's lounge.

Hongmeng had three or four people following her, and some people consciously stayed on the deck to stare at the full crew.

Prevent them from having internal responses.

Chapter 4010 I'll crush you to death like an ant

In the captain's lounge.

Only the rough man and Zhai Xicheng were still inside, and everyone else went to the deck with the captain.

Seeing that there was no one inside.

Zhai Xicheng tried his best to control the twitching muscles in his cheeks, forced a friendly expression, turned his head and said to the man who was holding on to him: "Brother, let me go first."

"Hehe, you want to run?"

The dark-skinned brother squeezed his fingers together and grasped it even tighter, showing a dismissive expression to him: "I want to fart!"

Zhai Xicheng was almost so angry that he vomited blood again. He gritted his teeth desperately to hold back the urge to kill, and stopped pretending. He stared coldly at the man who grabbed him and refused to let him go: "Do you know who I am? Know my identity? Let me tell you, I crush you to death as easily as an ant. Not only you, but also your family, your relatives and friends will pay with their lives because of you. You still want to hold on to me?"

"You fart!" Although the rough guy didn't immediately believe what he said, Zhai Xicheng's deadly eyes still shocked him.

He kept muttering in his heart, vaguely feeling that the other party wasn't just trying to scare him.

"You are weird, if you steal something..."

"I didn't steal!"

Zhai Xicheng interrupted him with a pale face, gnashing his teeth and staring at the man's face: "Is there anything on your boat worth stealing? Shall I steal fish or crabs?"

"But what are you doing giggling against the wind on the deck alone?" The rough man loosened his hand a little, and looked at him like a fool: "If you don't act weird first, I will also I won't hold you tight."

Zhai Xicheng felt that he hesitated for a moment, and immediately struggled to break away from the man's restraint, and at the same time quickly distanced himself from the rough man.

The rough man didn't expect that he would break away from his hand so quickly and was about to grab it.

Zhai Xicheng immediately threatened: "Think carefully, you are not afraid of hurting your family."

The man's movements of catching up were stagnant, he looked him up and down, and for a while he wasn't sure if what Zhai Xicheng just said about taking revenge on him was just scaring people.

Just for a while.

Zhai Xicheng rubbed his sore wrist and searched the cabin for diving equipment.

"What are you doing!" Seeing him blatantly 'stealing', the rough man yelled.

"..." Zhai Xicheng pretended not to hear it, and hurriedly searched for the things he needed.

If it weren't for this idiot insisting on catching him and wasting his precious time, he might have hidden under the water now.

He completely ignored his behavior to irritate the big man who turned him over, and the big man was hesitating whether to meddle in his own business.

There was a sound of messy footsteps outside.

He looked back at the cabin where no one came, then looked at the young man who was rummaging around in the lounge, and whispered: "Someone is here."

"It must be the captain and they are back."

"It's still too late for you to stop and admit your mistakes..."

Zhai Xicheng pursed the corners of his mouth, speeded up his hands, his face was extremely solemn, as if he was facing the speed of life and death...

The footsteps are getting closer.

Getting closer.

Da da da.

Every step beat his beating heart like a urging drum.

faster.

Go faster.

Zhai Xicheng had a thin layer of cold sweat on his forehead, his complexion became paler to the naked eye, his hands became faster, and he rummaged around for things that could be used.

But God seems to be against him.

He searched for a long time in the captain's lounge but couldn't find a usable diving suit or ventilator.
