

Madam's 4761

Chapter 4761: Miss Qiao, get up

"OK."

Yuan Yongqin was a much more "sensible" person, so he carried all his equipment in with ease, then sat down opposite Leng Shan and the others and waited...

These two teams are the top styling studios in Beijing, and they often compete with each other. One works for Ye Lan all year round, and the other works for Yuan Yongqin and other powerful women in the Beijing circle.

This time, I actually sat calmly on the same occasion and waited honestly for others to get up and choose.

Neither of the two parties dared to have any emotions. They stared at each other with big eyes and small eyes. One was quieter than the other, and the main player had a very high degree of cooperation.

The ancestor of the Ye family asked them to wait. What else could they do? Just wait honestly...

Upstairs.

After taking a shower, Qiao Nian wiped the water droplets from her hair with a towel in one hand, walked outside, pulled out a chair, and sat down casually.

She was too lazy to dry her hair, so she just wiped most of the moisture from her hair and put down the towel. She felt quite awake, but she was very angry when she woke up.

Qiao Nian did not sleep for 5 hours last night until now. She was dug out of bed early in the morning. Her brain was twitching. She took a look at her cell phone and lowered her eyes at the series of unread messages on it.

Following down from Mr. Jiang and Jiang Li, there are Nie Mi, Master Cheng, Liang Conglin... and further down there is news about Uncle Chen, Aunt Chen and Chen Yuan.

Twenty people have sent her unread messages.

There are more than twenty unread messages all wishing her birthday. Qiao Nian is holding the phone in one hand and brushing her brow bone with the other hand. The coldness on her face has faded a lot, her jawline has softened, and her eyebrows have become softer. stand up.

Many people wanted to come over for lunch, but she did not reply to them one by one. She only responded to a few of those who could not come.

Only 40% remains. She was so busy discussing raw materials and experimental procedures with Master Cheng last night that she forgot to charge her phone.

Qiao Nian stood up and opened the window to ventilate the room.

Then he turned back to the room, found the charging cable in the bedside drawer, took the phone and charging cable, and went downstairs.

Downstairs, the two styling teams hired by Ye Lan and Yuan Yongqin have been waiting at the entrance for a while.

Ye Wangchuan probably called Ye Lan and asked if this was the case. Ye Lan himself was busy with official duties and had to do some styling, so he hurriedly said a few words to him. She assigned her styling team to Qiao Nian, which was what the old man meant.

"knew."

Looking up, she heard Gu San shouting towards the stairs: "Miss Qiao, get up."

The two teams immediately stood up and looked eagerly at the girls coming down from the second floor.

The girl has a very good appearance, and she has a unique temperament even if she wears a blue sweater casually. She is unruly and looks down on all living beings... Leng Shan's eyes light up when she sees her.

What they like most when it comes to styling is not the kind of handsome guys and beauties with exquisite looks like celebrities who are polished like rulers.

It is the kind of person who is extremely personal, has his own style, and is unique.

But whether in the industry or as a model, many people's so-called uniqueness is just a created appearance. The weird looks are actually dull and boring.

As a top styling team member in the industry, she could tell at a glance that the girl in front of her was by no means special like she pretended to be on the surface.

Chapter 4762: Mr. Yuan said it was something you commissioned her to make before.

Very eye-catching.

While she was sitting there waiting, she was still thinking about what kind of person could win over Mr. Ye from Beijing. She imagined that he might be a top-notch scholar and a sapiosexual, but also thought of a bright girl who loved to act coquettishly.

I have never thought that Qiao Nian's personal aura is so strong. He doesn't need to be anyone's foil. He is a beam of light when he stands there.

“Hello Miss Qiao, we are the stylists entrusted by Ms. Ye to do your styling. I am Leng Shan.” Leng Shan took the initiative to extend her hand.

On the other side, the men in Yuan Yongqin's team who were dressed in fancy fox clothes also stood up: “S, we are the ones called by Mr. Yuan.”

Leng Shan could tell as soon as she heard it that she was much more familiar.

Suddenly there were two hands blocking the way in front of Qiao Nian. She turned to look at Ye Wangchuan, raising her eyebrows slightly, and the joyful light in her dark eyes seemed to ask him what was going on now?

Ye Wangchuan turned back and walked to her side, looking at the two groups of people blocking the road and the various clothes and tool boxes piled up in the entrance hall of his home.

Slightly helpless: "Isn't it obvious? The two ladies from my family and yours want to dress you up."

Qiao Nian then remembered that when Mr. Ye called this morning, he mentioned that he had found a styling team.

When she took a cold shower, she washed away the matter and completely forgot about it.

but...

Her eyes fell on the enchanting male stylist: "Aunt Yuan didn't tell me..."

Teacher Tony, who was dressed very Tony, smiled when he heard this, shrugged and said: "Mr. Yuan said that if I tell you in advance, you won't agree. Just let us come over first, just in case you will agree."

^^ Qiao Nian: "..."

Teacher Tony took back his hand and said very considerately: "We respect your wishes in every way."

Qiao Nian really wanted to say that she didn't want to.

But faced with the concern of the two elders, she really couldn't refuse it outright, but they asked her to wear a tutu...with thick foundation on her face, Qiao Nian was really a little reluctant to thank her.

At this time, Ye Wangchuan spoke for her: "You go back first."

Leng Shan looked at Qiao Nian disappointedly, then looked at Ye Wangchuan's face, and saw that Mr. Ye didn't mean to be joking, so she didn't dare to ask any more questions.

"Ms. Ye's side..."

"I will tell her." Ye Wangchuan was calm and easy to talk to.

Even though Leng Shan regretted not being able to style Qiao Nian, Ye Wangchuan had already kicked out the guest, and even if she had the guts to do so, she would not dare to stay and chatter.

She nodded and ordered her people to quickly pack up the clothes, cosmetic bags, etc. they brought, and said to Qiao Nian and Ye Wangchuan: "Sorry, Mr. Ye, Miss Qiao, we have disturbed you."

They all packed up their things. Teacher Tony's team also packed up the things they brought and said to Qiao Nian: "Then S, let's go first."

Qiao Nian's codename as a designer at Chengfeng Group is S. It's not surprising that people inside call her that.

She nodded: "Thank you Aunt Yuan for me."

Teacher Tony promised: "I will convey it to Mr. Yuan."

Before leaving, he stopped and remembered something. He took out a jewelry box from the box he brought and handed it to the girl.

"By the way, this is what Mr. Yuan asked me to give to you."

"What's this?"

Qiao Nian was puzzled and took it.

Tony scratched the back of his head and said sheepishly: "I don't know either, Mr. Yuan didn't explain it. Oh, she said...it was something you commissioned her to make before."

Chapter 4763: A gift for Mr. Wan

Qiao Nian thanked him.

Qiao Nian turned around and walked back, opening the box that Yuan Yongqin had brought to her, and saw a set of exquisite men's diamond jewelry.

She stopped suddenly.

"Qiao..." Gu San followed her step by step, almost bumping into her.

Ye Wangchuan, who was still one step behind, quickly caught him with his quick eyes and grabbed him hard.

Gu San was able to regain his balance and quickly asked: "Miss Qiao, are you okay?"

"It's okay." Qiao Nian was not hit by him, so of course it was okay. She turned around and raised her eyelids to look at someone who caught Gu San in time.

She coughed dryly, her eyelids drooped, and handed the box to him: "Here's something for you."

Gu San has seen Qiao Nian's unruly demeanor, as well as her reckless and carefree domineering attitude, but he has rarely seen Qiao Nian... shy.

He was stunned for a moment, and felt that his brightness was a bit high. It seemed that he had caught fresh dog food early in the morning, so he quickly said, "I'm going to see if breakfast is ready."

He ran very fast, which is called a discerning man, leaving space for the two of them to be alone.

Ye Wangchuan paused for a moment before taking the box from her hand. Just as he was about to open it, he heard the girl's voice walking away quickly: "Look slowly."

Ye Wangchuan was stunned for a second, then lowered his head again and opened the box in his hand. When he saw the necklace and ring made of black agate inside, he instantly understood why Qiao Nian ran so fast.

Aren't these the necklace and ring she mentioned to herself before in Continent F? Is it ready so quickly?

When Qiao Nian told him about it, he thought that with how busy she was recently, she might not be able to do it until the matter was over next year.

Unexpectedly...she always remembered this incident.

His hands are extremely beautiful, with fair skin and slender knuckles. There is not a trace of excess fat on his hands, and every inch is perfect.

The men's ring designed by Qiao Nian is made of black onyx material, which is very suitable for Ye Wangchuan's style. It looks low-key and restrained without losing depth.

Gu San came out with breakfast at this time. When he saw the extra ring on his hand, before he could react, he asked innocently: "Master Wan, when did you buy the ring?"

Ye Wangchuan rarely wears accessories and is extremely restrained in this regard, especially compared to a showman like Qin Si, who is always looking fresh and fresh.

But I have to say that the ring on Mr. Wan's hand suits him very well, making his slender hands even more alluring.

"This ring..." Gu San's sharp eyes saw the box that Ye Wangchuan had not put down, and he realized: "Is it a gift from Miss Qiao?"

Gu San:???

Master Wang also said that he doesn't eat soft food?

If the old man finds out about this, he will definitely become furious and point his nose at others.

Ye Wangchuan locked up the box and did not answer his words. Instead, he ordered him like a spring breeze: "Go and prepare a cup of hot milk."

Gu San watched helplessly as his father-in-law accepted the gift very confidently, pursed his lips, and agreed in one word: "Okay, okay."

After Ye Wangchuan sent him away, he walked to the restaurant, pulled out a chair and sat down. He looked at the girl opposite who was pretending to play with her mobile phone. He pursed his thin lips slightly and said with deep eyes: "I like this gift very much."

Chapter 4764: Do you know her?

Qiao Nian was playing Xiaoxiao Le. When he lost his concentration, his fingers slipped and a gameover sound came out, which was particularly abrupt in the quiet restaurant.

Gan!

Qiao Nian had to raise her head, looked into someone's straight eyes, and paused: "Well, as long as you like it."

"Then how can I thank God Qiao?" Ye Wangchuan turned the ring in his hand, feeling extremely happy:
"How about I pledge myself to you?"

Qiao Nian: "...haven't you already promised?"

Ye Wangchuan looked at her intently for a few seconds, her shadow reflected in his dark eyes, and then he naturally took off the string of Buddhist beads on his wrist that Qiao Nian had seen him wearing the first time they met, and handed them over: " This is a return gift."

He directly took the girl's hand and put the beads on the girl's left wrist with a strong force that could not be refused.

Qiao Nian smelled the sandalwood incense that had not yet disappeared from his body.

Ye Wangchuan stopped his fingers and lightly touched her wrist with the beads on it. Qiao Nian felt a numbness on her back and a fine touch where they touched.

“This string of prayer beads was obtained by the old lady from the master in Yinghua Mountain when she was still alive. It has been with me since I was born. It is said that it can suppress inner demons.”

He was born without a mother.

The old lady at home was afraid that he would be harmed by this incident when he grew up, so she went to the master to ask for a string of prayer beads, which not only ensured his safety, but also allowed him to grow up in love and not breed inner demons.

Of course this is what the old lady said.

The old lady died early.

Since he can remember, he has carried this string of prayer beads around in his hand. At first, he had to go around it many times, but now he only needs one or two times.

This is not just a string of prayer beads, but the sincerity he can give.

They are not short of money and care about very few things.

Of course not as important as Qiao Nian.

“She is a very good person, kind and gentle, tolerant, and a good cook. If you meet her, you will also like her.”

Ye Wangchuan fell into memories for a moment, but soon came back to reality. He looked at Qiao Nian with deep eyes, his nose was high and his eyelashes were extremely long. He suddenly smiled and said, "Of course, she will also like you."

Qiao Nian knew that the string of prayer beads he gave her was a relic of his grandma and was of great significance, so she pursed her lips and said, "When the work is over in a few days, we can go and see her."

Ye Wangchuan was startled for a moment before he understood what she meant.

Like a drop of water falling into a quiet lake, the ripples it creates expand in circles until they occupy the center of the lake.

His voice became much hoarse: "Yeah."

**

The other side, at the same time.

Li family.

Li De had just changed into a white suit and tied a bow around his neck when he heard his grandma talking to his parents in the living room.

He instantly threw away the servant who was getting him a suit and walked over quickly.

“Grandma, what did you say? Who are you taking?”

"What are you doing! Why are you talking to your grandma? You usually act like a fool, but you are so unruly at home." Li's father scolded him back angrily.

Li De didn't listen. He frowned and looked at his grandma closely: "Grandma, do you want to take Haitong to the birthday party?"

Wearing an improved cheongsam and wearing a tourmaline necklace to suppress her nobility, the old lady was energetic and looked at him with a somewhat surprised expression: "Do you know him?"

The old lady frowned again: "She just came back from studying abroad, and you already know her?"

“...”

Chapter 4765: Count half of the Ye family

Seeing that he didn't answer for a long time, Grandma Li De simply said: "You don't know her, so don't speak ill of her little girl behind her back."

"I said bad things about her?!" Li De really didn't want to mention the bad things that happened before, but his family wanted to take Haitong to Qiao Nian's birthday party, which was absolutely unacceptable.

He could only bite the bullet and tell all the things that happened when Haitong came to him to get tickets and caused trouble again, causing Zhang Yang and Qin Si to come to him.

“That’s the way it is.”

After he finished speaking, he said angrily: "I gave her two tickets for free, but she didn't appreciate it, and she got into trouble for me. I think she went to study abroad and made her brain stupid! She is not a normal person. brain circuit."

"This..." Li's father was shocked after hearing this. He turned to look at his mother, waiting for her to make a decision.

The old lady was also taken aback. She looked at her careless grandson seriously and asked again with a serious expression: "Say what you just said again."

"Grandma, don't you believe me?" Li De stamped his feet angrily and patiently repeated it again. What he said was the same as the first time, even the small details were correct.

Those with a discerning eye can see that he is not making things up.

The old lady was lost in thought. She raised her head after a while and looked at her son helplessly: "But I have already promised the Hai family..."

She has been friends with the old lady from the Hai family for many years.

If Li De had told her earlier, she would have definitely found a way to decline the other party's request.

But she didn't know it at the time. She heard from her old best friend that she should help take Haitong with her, and she also gave her her favorite calligraphy and paintings.

She readily agreed and collected everything. It might not be appropriate to change her mind at the moment.

Li De groaned angrily: "There is something wrong with Haitong's brain. If you take her there, you will only regret it! If there is nothing wrong with her, why don't they take her there themselves and insist on finding you?"

"..." The old lady choked for a moment, with a sad look on her face and her brows furrowed as she said, "I'll think about it again."

With that said, she called the Hai family full of doubts.

The Hai family was waiting to send someone there in the morning. The old lady at home suddenly saw the call from her old best friend and raised her eyebrows.

"Li's phone number."

Haifu was also watching the stylist styling Haitong. Hearing this, he took the time to walk over and asked, "Why is Aunt Li calling at this time? Are they getting ready to leave?"

Mrs. Hai glanced at her granddaughter, who was surrounded by stylists, making up and curling her hair. She rubbed her frown and shook her head: "I think people have heard something."

Haifu's expression changed drastically.

What else can the Li family hear? It's just that I heard about Haitong's * operation in Beijing some time ago.

He suddenly panicked and was at a loss: "Mom, then let's..."

Old Mrs. Hai glanced at him, her eyes seeming to blame him for not teaching his daughter well, but now he was as anxious as an ant on a hot pot.

Father Hai bowed his head in shame under her gaze and did not dare to ask any more questions.

Mrs. Hai glared at her son, but her cell phone was still ringing, so she had no choice but to go to the side and pick it up. As expected, the other party asked about what happened at the Grand Theater.

Mrs. Hai knew it was useless to deny it now, so she calmly accepted it.

Then before Grandma Li De spoke, she said first: "You also know the relationship between our old man and Ye Lao. This time the younger generations of the two families are not happy. As elders, we are embarrassed to attend their birthday banquet, but Haitong is a peer. , grew up in the Ye family since childhood, and can be regarded as half of the Ye family."

Chapter 4766: Doesn't she want to go abroad?

"What we want is for her to take this opportunity to go over and apologize to others. We are still young, and young people do not have overnight feuds."

"but..."

Mrs. Hai's eyes flashed slightly: "I know I've put you in trouble. If I hadn't encountered difficulties, why would I have spoken to you, an old sister? If you help me this time, I will remember your kindness. And privately I have taught you If you pass her, she won't cause trouble for you."

"Do you remember the original painting of Qi Baishi that I treasure?"

"Remember, that's not the treasure you finally bought?"

Mrs. Hai's heart was bleeding, and her face was like a spring breeze: "I asked her to bring this painting to Miss Qiao this time."

"Mr. Ye has a life-and-death relationship with my old man. Before our old man passed away, he was most worried about Haitong, so he asked Mr. Ye to help take care of the child. Haitong also knew that what he did was wrong this time, and she just planned to have a good relationship with Grandpa Ye this time. Apologize..."

She spoke of her family's friendship with the Ye family, and she repeatedly assured that Haitong had brought a sincere birthday gift, had learned a lesson, and would not cause any more trouble...

The fact that the Li family can be on good terms with the Hai family shows that they are not top-notch people in the circle, but they are just better than the Hai family.

Old Mrs. Li has been having a handkerchief with Mrs. Haijia for many years, and she also took advantage of the fact that the Haijia has this level of friendship with the Ye family behind her.

Old Mrs. Hai's family promised secretly that she would remember her favor, and talked about how much Mr. Ye valued Haitong.

In the end, it shook her heart.

“... Haitong is not a child of the Ye family after all, but his grandson's daughter-in-law is different. You know we can't afford to offend the Ye family.”

Grandma Haitong smiled apologetically: "I know, if you help me this time, I will always remember your kindness."

Li De's grandma was still wary of the relationship she said she had with the Ye family. In addition, Haitong's grandma knew exactly what she meant by calling her, but she still refused to let go and insisted on taking Haitong with her.

She is a noble lady after all, so she couldn't save her face, so she had to agree reluctantly: "You must have a good talk with her. Today's young people... are not that easy to educate."

The other side just hung up the phone.

The smile on her face faded like water, and she turned gloomy. She walked quickly to her granddaughter who was still doing makeup and styling, and said coldly: "I don't want to tell you that much. Your father should have told you what should be said." I've said it before. Just remember one thing, this is your last chance! If you don't grasp it, don't blame grandma for not feeling sorry for you. If you like foreign countries, you will stay there forever and never have to come back! "

Hai's father's heart trembled: "Mom..."

Haimu also begged: "Mom, Haitong is still young."

Grandma Haitong didn't buy it, and said to the family of three mercilessly: "You are not young in your 20s. Look at her 20s, and then look at her. I don't have so much sunk cost to spend on her, she is not She wants to go abroad, and if she can't seize this opportunity, I have no choice but to make it happen for her!"

Haifu and Haimu knew very well what the old lady meant, and felt anxious and uncomfortable. However, Haitong had done too many wrong things, and they did not dare to continue to plead for mercy. They were afraid that the old lady would not even give him this chance again.

Only Haitong himself had not realized the meaning of the old lady's words. He pursed his lower lip and responded unhappily: "Don't worry, I will give her the gift."

Chapter 4767: Some people have already arrived

Mrs. Hai saw her scratching her neck and looking unconvinced. She couldn't tell whether she was disappointed or what, so she said softly: "Your parents only have an only daughter, but you have many cousins. The world You won't just hang around one person, and I can't teach you, just taste it yourself."

**

Ten o'clock in the morning.

Ye Lan and Jiang Zongjin have already arrived at the lunch place.

Jiang Zongjin has been working in the research laboratory all year round and is not good at dealing with people.

Ye Lan knew his character, so he placed him inside first, mainly greeting his familiar relatives and friends, while he was responsible for receiving guests outside.

The Ye family has been notoriously low-key in recent years and rarely holds banquets.

Mr. Ye didn't even hold a birthday party, and neither did Ye Lan or Ye Wangchuan, who never celebrated their birthdays, leaving many people who wanted to curry favor with nowhere to start.

This time the Ye family and the Jiang family sent out invitations, and almost half of the capital came.

Ye Lan personally greeted the guests at the door, which allowed those who came to see how much the Ye family valued this birthday party. Even if they were a little cautious, they still wanted to let their daughters and nieces take the opportunity to get to know Mr. Ye and develop their relationship. All those who were developing stopped thinking.

Some people come early, but most people still wait until after 11 o'clock.

Ye Lan met Chen Yuan, Shen Qingqing and others who had taken a taxi at the door. He greeted them in and told them Jiang Zongjin's location. In the end, he was still uneasy and asked his secretary to watch for her at the door. He took a few young people with him. Go in and find someone.

Shen Qingqing, Chen Yuan and others had never seen such a formal birthday party, and they all followed Ye Lan cautiously and awkwardly.

Fortunately, Jiang Zongjin was inside, and not many family members came.

Ye Lan led them in, and they saw Jiang Li.

"Hey, how many of you are here?" Jiang Li followed Qiao Nian and met a few people around the city. He was not very familiar with Chen Yuan and the others, but at least he knew them.

His hair was not highlighted today. His black hair hung neatly on his ears. He was fresh and handsome. His outline had a bit of Qiao Nian's shadow, and was a little more angular than Qiao Nian's.

Jiang Li walked towards a few people, looked at Chen Yuan, Shen Qingqing and others behind Ye Lan, and said with a smile: "Why don't you say hello? I don't know them."

"Jiang, Jiang..." Shen Qingqing was embarrassed to call someone. What was she shouting? This was the kind she had been following for several years.

She usually calls her husband in private.

Jiang Li reached out and rubbed her hair, silently comforting her: "Just call her brother Jiang Li."

Then he took back his hand and told Chen Yuan and others: "Qiao Nian is still at home and hasn't come over, so just hang out with me. When she comes, I will take you to find her."

The people coming and going here are all people they don't know, and they are the only ones who are young and incompatible with this place.

Chen Yuan was the calmest one among the group. He nodded to Jiang Li and said, "Thank you."

Jiang Li arranged for them, stood up straight and looked at Ye Lan again, and said in a familiar voice: "Aunt Ye, when will they arrive?"

Ye Lan specially styled her look today. She wore a light blue suit with a vest, and chose European-style lotus leaf sleeves for her shirt, which was formal but not romantic.

Hearing this, he glanced at him angrily: "How do I know? It's not like you don't know their character. On the other hand, I will definitely come before 12 o'clock."

He called Mr. Wan. If his love affair was interrupted, he believed that the man's careful mind could make things worse for him.

He can't afford to offend him.

Chapter 4768 Why does he feel that these operations look familiar?

Jiang Li arranged for Chen Yuan and others, then chased after him, reaching out and patting the person in front: "Aunt Ye, I have something to say to you."

Ye Lan looked back and saw him. She probably guessed what he wanted to say, so she asked him to follow her. She walked to the door and found a place to stop.

“You say it.”

Jiang Li glanced at the cars passing outside, rubbed his brows, and said vaguely: "I heard that a lot of people have come to Beijing these days."

"Oh." Ye Lan glanced at him with a clear look, angry and funny: "You stopped me just to ask this?"

Beijing City has always had strict control.

He was worried that the commotion this time had something to do with Qiao Nian, and that he would easily become the target of public criticism.

Who knows Ye Lan said very calmly: "Nian Nian's 'good friends' didn't come, they only sent gifts. So it's not Nian Nian, you don't have to worry."

"Uh?" Jiang Li was stunned.

"If you are not my sister's 'friend', why did I hear that many overseas forces have come to Beijing in the past two days?"

Ye Lan lifted the broken hair from his ears, with a cold face and deep eyes: "An overseas force came to Beijing, and his sister was also here. He held a family banquet with great fanfare, and it was the same day as Nian Nian's birthday. He invited some people from Beijing and the city, and also called many overseas big shots, and the battle was quite big."

Jiang Li became more and more stunned: "What a coincidence?"

Ye Lan put her hand on his shoulder and patted him twice: "Don't worry, I asked a friend to help keep an eye on them. If they are not just eating, someone will tell me right away."

Jiang Li glanced at her and said, "Aunt Ye, the friend you are talking about is not the IPA boss who has been in Beijing some time ago, right?"

Ye Lan hit him hard and said angrily: "Take care of yourself, or I'll have a good talk with your dad. You're not too young anymore."

"I was wrong." Jiang Li immediately clasped his hands together and begged for mercy.

"Next time, don't talk nonsense." Ye Lan glared at him for a few times, then went back to greet the guests.

Jiang Li put away his unpretentious appearance, suppressed a smile on his lips, and the expression on his handsome face became more and more serious. He stood there for a while and walked slowly inside.

Overseas forces?

Sister's family dinner?

Why does he find these operations so familiar?

When Niannian first came to the capital, it seemed that she had returned to the capital circle through the Jiang family's family dinner and was introduced to everyone.

Fortunately, Elena stopped him in time, gave up his idea, and insisted on keeping a low profile. In the end, Moody compromised and chose to hold the family dinner in the hotel next door.

This business district in Beijing is full of hotels with five stars or above. It is said that you need to reserve a seat in advance, otherwise it will be difficult to prepare a banquet at short notice.

Finally, with the hard work of his background and money, he found the most famous team in the industry to build the venue and decorated it beautifully.

His idea was to compete with Qiao Nian and steal the limelight.

So Moody also found authoritative overseas media to come over and prepare a few more pages for high-quality reports, and then transmit these reports back to China from overseas INS.

His idea was very good, and he also called many overseas celebrities and invited them to attend his sister's family banquet in the name of the Mu family.

Chapter 4769: Go to Aunt Xie in person

In the morning, people began to come one after another.

It was rare for Moody to show up to receive the event in person. With the spotlight on him, he shook hands with everyone at the door and invited them to enter the venue first.

With such a big commotion in Beijing, it is inevitable that the media will get wind of it.

Especially in the entertainment industry, I heard that many overseas big names were coming. Some well-informed people also found connections and rushed over, hoping to squeeze into the banquet.

Through this process, just as Moody planned at the beginning, he at least increased his popularity and popularity.

Next, he asked his assistant to help him greet the guests at the door, and then he went out and drove to Nanluogu Lane.

The morning light was dim, and the orange fire clouds rolling up from the sky dyed half of the sky red.

His black Lincoln was parked quietly outside a courtyard house.

The driver waited for a long time, and finally when the courtyard opened, he immediately reminded the people in the back row: "Master Mu, people are coming out."

Moody had just finished sending a message to Elena, when he looked up and saw a woman and a tall middle-aged man coming out of the courtyard.

The woman, who is about 40 years old, is wearing a well-fitting modified cheongsam, and a beige scarf adds a gentle temperament. She is very outstanding, but it is difficult to tell that such a not-so-strong woman is the rumored master of weapons manufacturing.

Moody opened the door and got out of the car, standing beside the car and waiting quietly for the two of them to come over.

It turns out that before he got out of the car, Nan Tianyi noticed an uninvited passenger at the door.

But he didn't tell his wife right away. It wasn't until the other party got out of the car to wait for them that he frowned and his eagle eyes were sharp.

"Thank you, Madam, Mr. Nan. Hello." Moody bowed slightly, and his movements in suits and leather shoes were as graceful as water. Then he stood up straight and looked at the two of them with smiling eyes: "I am Moody, from the island. I want to I invite you two to my sister's family banquet. I wonder if you two can spare the time to attend my sister's banquet."

Xie Tingyun was curious: "Who is your sister...?"

She thought it was Qiao Nian, but her intuition told her that the aura of the person in front of her did not match Qiao Nian's, and did not look like the people around Qiao Nian.

Sure enough, she heard Mu Di's cold voice: "My sister Aina admires Ms. Xie very much, and she even made an appointment with you for dinner not long ago."

The next second, she refused very directly: "Sorry, I already have an appointment, I'm afraid I won't be able to go to your banquet."

Mo Di had known that she would say this, his eyes fell on Nan Tianyi beside him, and he said in a deep tone: "I met Aina in O Continent, and I have always regarded her as my sister. She is very important to me, she is my Cherished family members. I invite you two with great sincerity... I hope you two can give me face."

Nan Tianyi noticed his intrusive gaze and raised his eyebrows: "You said you are from the island?"

"Yes." Moody admitted generously.

Independence continent is different from Jingshi.

Independent Continent and the island both belong to the third world. Everyone has heard about each other's existence. He wanted to tell Xie Tingyun that his beloved woman had no background. There was no need to hide her identity in front of Nan Tianyi and Xie Tingyun. On the contrary, he She said it deliberately to let the other party know that Elena's background would only make her tougher than Qiao Nian!

Nan Tianyi is such a person. You can guess what he is thinking with just one glance, and he says straightforwardly: "We have no friendship with the island. If you are just here to invite us to the banquet, then I'm sorry. If you have other ideas...or simply want to use The island came to threaten me and my wife..."

Chapter 4770 Don't you just think she has no background?

Nan Tianyi was very cold and looked at him with a murderous look: "I'm afraid you are too young and not qualified to threaten me."

Independence Island and the island have been inseparable for many years.

The main forces on the island are concentrated in developed areas such as O and M.

It is different from being an independent continent.

There is no conflict of interest between the parties.

The bosses of the two parties have known each other's existence for many years, but they have a tacit agreement to only work within their respective spheres of influence, maintaining a delicate balance.

This is a tacit understanding that both parties have maintained for many years.

The man in front of him was only in his early twenties. In his eyes, he was just a kid. A kid with no hair on his face came to him and opened his mouth on the island. He wanted to use the island to make them change their minds. It was really unreasonable. Too naive and short-sighted.

"You didn't tell your family what you were doing?" Nan Tianyi said coldly without him needing to answer: "Before you do anything, you can talk to your family first and see if you should block the door today and let us go. Attending what's called a family dinner."

After speaking, he did not look at Mu Di's face, took Xie Tingyun's hand, and his cold face softened: "Let's go, Nian Nian is waiting for us."

That gentle and caring look, and the strong and solemn expression when talking to Moody are two different people!

Moody clenched his fists and watched the two of them join hands to avoid him and go outside to take a taxi. He really didn't expect that the other party would still have this attitude after hearing that he was from the island.

He couldn't help but stop the person with his back turned: "Ms. Xie, I heard that the reason why you rejected my sister was because you had a favorite student candidate?"

"I know very well about my sister's abilities. No one of her age can have more talent and strength than her. I cannot accept your perfunctory excuses for rejecting her. Isn't the reason for your rejection of her that she is just an orphan? , no background or connections?"

He personally came to pick people up just to prove that Elena was not without connections or background...

Normally speaking, Xie Tingyun should change his mind and reconsider accepting Elena.

Xie Tingyun patted her husband's hand and motioned for him to stop.

Even though Nan Tianyi was very impatient to pay attention to Mu Di, he still stopped after listening to his wife's words, and saw Xie Tingyun turned around and looked at Mu Di face to face.

Say calmly: "You said you have never seen anyone more talented than her?"

Moody's expression changed: "Isn't it?"

"Professor Steven also admitted it himself, saying that he had never seen anyone more talented in physics than my sister in his life."

Xie Tingyun shook his head: "I haven't encountered Professor Steven before, which only means that he doesn't have this fate."

She paused, her eyes cold and arrogant: "And you insist that there is no one stronger and more talented than her in the world, it only shows that you are sitting in a well and looking at the sky!"

Like a frog, sitting at the mouth of a narrow well and seeing only the palm-sized sky, he thinks that the world is only the size he sees.

"Her talent is good, but as I said, she and I pursue different ideas. As long as this doesn't change, I will never accept her as my disciple."

After Xie Tingyun finished speaking, she looked at Mo Di again: "You can convey my words to her."

After she finished speaking, she shook her head regardless of Mo Di's reaction, turned around and pulled Nan Tianyi away.

They came to Beijing very low-key this time. They originally made up their minds to hide their identities and wander around to see where their old friends had stayed.

Mu Di's appearance was so disappointing that even Xie Tingyun felt a slight dislike for the sister he mentioned.
