

A Man Like None Other Novel

Chapter 5561

Full Read Online Chapter 5561 of the novel A Man Like None Other

Chapter 5561

David was currently in the void. When he slowly opened his eyes, he found himself in an unknown starry sky. Countless meteors streaked across this sky, each burning with flames.

David's own body was also burning, but he felt no pain; it was as if his body no longer belonged to him. Suddenly, a deafening roar erupted

, and where David saw them, countless meteors instantly shattered, exploding like fireworks, dazzlingly bright.

David was filled with confusion, unable to understand what kind of power could shatter those countless meteors.

“Under this void of flames, you were still able to wake up...”

At this moment, a cold voice came.

David quickly looked in the direction of the voice and found a man standing a hundred feet away from him.

The man, clad in a long robe, possessed a cold and stern face, his hands clasped behind his back, exuding an imposing aura.

Upon seeing him, David felt a sudden tightness in his chest, a strange sense of oppression making him feel a chill.

“Senior, where is this place?”

David quickly asked politely.

Without knowing the other party's identity or strength, politeness was paramount; otherwise, showing off would only lead to disaster.

The man looked at David and smiled slightly, saying, "This isn't anywhere..."

The man's words puzzled David greatly, leaving him completely bewildered. He dared not press further, fearing he might anger the man.

"Senior, may I ask who you are?"

Since he didn't know where he was, David decided to probe the man's identity.

If he was from an opposing force, David would need to find a way to escape; he couldn't stay here and wait to die.

The man seemed to understand David's meaning and smiled, "Don't be afraid, I won't hurt you. I'm from the Temple." Upon hearing that he was from the Temple, David's heart tightened. After all, he had a grudge against the Temple, though he had a good relationship with the Fourth Temple Master.

So David tentatively asked, "Senior, I have a good relationship with your Temple's Fourth Temple Master, her name is Ling Xi..." "Ling Xi?" The man seemed to think for a moment, then shook his head, "I don't know her..." "Really? You don't even know your Temple's Fourth Temple Master?" David looked surprised.

"Are you a low-level cultivator from the Temple?" David sized him up; the man's aura clearly didn't suggest a low-level cultivator. But if he were a high-level cultivator, how could he not know the Fourth Temple Master? "Hahaha, do you think I look like a low-level cultivator from the Temple?" the man laughed loudly.

"Doesn't seem like it!" David shook his head. "Could it be that you're an ancestor of the temple, and therefore don't know the current temple staff?" This was the only answer David could think of.

Since the other party was a member of the temple, not a low-ranking member, and didn't recognize the Fourth Temple Master, he was probably an old member of the temple. Over time, the temple staff had changed, so it was normal for the older members not to recognize the new ones. "You're very clever." A hint of surprise flashed in the man's eyes.

He hadn't expected David to guess it. "However, I'm not an ancestor of the temple, because I founded this temple." As soon as the man finished speaking, David was shocked. He hadn't expected that this seemingly cold and aloof man was actually the founder of the temple, the one who created the entire temple.

"Then aren't you the first God-King of the temple?" David asked, his breath quickening. "You could say that..." the man nodded, then asked, "How did you get here?" "I don't know. I just opened a void passage from the Seventh Heaven to the Eighth Heaven. As soon as I entered the passage, my whole body burst into flames. When I opened my eyes, I was here,” David explained

Full Read Online Chapter 5562 of the novel A Man Like None Other

Chapter 5562

Upon hearing this, the man’s brows furrowed slightly, his eyes turning icy cold. This startled David, who thought he had said something wrong.

“You bas! How dare someone use a forbidden divine technique without permission? This is going to destroy the entire temple!”

The man’s anger surged, distorting the surrounding void.

David didn’t know anything about forbidden divine techniques, but it seemed he was being targeted, hence the reaction.

“Senior, this isn’t my fault, is it?” David asked cautiously. “It’s none of your business

. However, since you survived this forbidden technique, it proves to be a stroke of luck. I can send you away from here; generally, no one can leave alive from this forbidden technique,”

the man said slowly.

“Thank you, Senior...” David was overjoyed.

“You should focus on restoring your physical body for now. Your body is destroyed; leaving like this will only leave you as a wisp of soul.”

The man finished speaking, gently grasping at his palm, and countless points of light began to converge on David’s body.

His body, which had been completely consumed by the flames, was slowly recovering.

At that moment, the distant starry sky suddenly trembled, followed by countless fiery meteors that swept across the heavens—a terrifying sight that made David’s expression change.

The man merely glanced at it coldly and casually threw a punch!

Boom!

Those countless fiery meteors instantly turned to dust under this punch, falling like blooming fireworks.

David gasped in shock, swallowing hard, and asked, "Senior, what was that just now?"

"You don't need to worry about that; focus on restoring your physical body."

The man told David not to meddle.

David shut his mouth; he knew some things were not for him to know, nor were they things he could control.

He sat down cross-legged and slowly began to restore his physical body.

The man sized up David, and seeing that David's physical body was slowly recovering, he couldn't help but say, "The sword intent within you is very pure. Are you a sword cultivator?" "

Not really, I just use the sword a lot, but I'm not only good at it,"

David shook his head.

"Then you must be a swordsman, and your sword intent is quite mixed; it wasn't taught to you by one person,"

the man said.

Seeing that this man also understood swordsmanship, David said, "Senior, I hope you can give me some guidance..."

"Haha, I was just saying, I don't really understand swordsmanship..."

the man laughed.

Seeing that the other party said this, David didn't press the matter further, but said, "Senior, my physical body has recovered. Can you send me away from here?"

"Of course, but your physical body is still very weak. You need to strengthen it, otherwise your body won't be able to withstand it and will eventually dissipate," the man nodded.

David frowned slightly: "Please enlighten me, senior, on how to strengthen my physical body?"

After all, David didn't know where he was in this void, and there were no resources whatsoever. There wasn't even a trace of immortal energy around him, so David had no way to strengthen his physical body.

The man casually pointed to the depths of the starry sky and said, "Do you know what that place is?"

David looked at the depths of the starry sky, where it was pitch black, even terrifyingly black, like an endless abyss, which even divine sense couldn't penetrate.

"I don't know, my divine sense can't penetrate that place!"

David shook his head.

"That is the Land of No Extinction, without birth or death..."

the man said slowly!

"Without birth or death?" David frowned slightly, not quite understanding this sentence, but still asked, "Senior, have you been to that place?"

The man shook his head: "No, I haven't been there. My strength is not enough to reach there..."

Full Read Online Chapter 5563 of the novel A Man Like None Other

Chapter 5563

"Senior, if you can't go, then I certainly can't. How can I strengthen my physical body?"

David didn't want to waste any more time arguing with the man.

was a place even someone like him couldn't go; David, with his strength, was even less likely to go. So whatever the man said was just nonsense.

"If you want to strengthen your physical body, you need endless battles. Only by constantly subjecting your body to attacks and then continuously repairing it can you become stronger."

As the man's voice fell, countless fireballs reappeared from the endless starry sky, falling densely like raindrops.

This time, the man's figure suddenly became illusory; fireballs streaked across his body without any reaction.

“By extinguishing these fireballs, your physical body will be strengthened...”

the man said to David!

David nodded, and the next moment he summoned the Dragon-Slaying Sword, transforming it into a beam of sword light that shot into the sky.

Holding the sword, David flashed forward to meet the swarm of fiery meteors. These meteors, burning with raging flames, rained down like a meteor shower, each one containing terrifying heat and impact.

“Boom!”

The first fiery meteor struck David directly in the chest, the immense impact sending him flying backward like a kite with a broken string, spitting out a mouthful of blood.

His clothes at the chest instantly turned to ash, his skin scorched red, emitting a pungent, burnt smell.

“Cough cough...”

David struggled to his feet, feeling as if his internal organs were about to shift.

“Don’t dodge, use your bare body to withstand it!”

a man’s voice echoed from afar, “Only by letting the power of the fiery meteors permeate every inch of your skin can you truly temper your body!”

David gritted his teeth and charged towards the swarm of fiery meteors once more.

This time, he didn’t use his sword to defend himself. Instead, he sheathed the Dragon-Slaying Sword, clenched his fists, and endured the impact of each fiery meteor. “ Bang! Bang! Bang!” The continuous impacts rang out as David was engulfed by the fiery meteors. His body was repeatedly knocked away, only to rise again, covered in wounds and bleeding profusely.

His skin was charred black, and in many places, bone was visible. “Ah!” David let out a painful roar, but his eyes grew increasingly resolute.

The man nodded in satisfaction and continued to instruct, “Circulate your inner energy, guide the energy of the fiery meteors into your meridians, and temper your bones and muscles!” Upon hearing this, David immediately began to circulate his energy according to the man’s instructions.

He mobilized his internal energy, forming vortexes that flowed rapidly through his meridians. When the fiery meteors struck again, he no longer resisted, but instead guided the violent energy into his body.

The scorching energy flowed through his meridians like magma, causing excruciating pain wherever it passed, as if the meridians were about to be burned through. But David gritted his teeth and persevered, guiding the energy throughout his body according to the cultivation method.

Time passed slowly, and David's body became increasingly resilient under the constant impact of the fire meteors. Injuries that initially took a long time to heal now healed in just a few breaths. His skin gradually returned to its normal color from charred black, becoming even more resilient and lustrous.

"Very good, your body has begun to adapt." The man's voice carried a hint of approval, "Now try to actively absorb the energy of the fire meteors, don't just passively endure it!" Upon hearing this, a glint of light flashed in David's eyes. He took a deep breath, opened his arms, and actively faced the swarm of fire meteors.

This time, he was no longer passively taking hits, but actively attacking. "Devour!" David shouted, circulating the Devouring Heaven and Earth cultivation method. His body seemed to become a giant black hole, actively absorbing the energy of the fire meteors.

Full Read Online Chapter 5564 of the novel A Man Like None Other

Chapter 5564

As the fiery meteors approached his body, they were swallowed whole, transforming into pure energy to nourish his physique.

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"

Muffled thuds echoed from David's body. His muscles, nourished by the energy, became even more solid, and his bones cracked crisply, as if undergoing a transformative metamorphosis.

He grew taller without realizing it, and his physique became more balanced and robust.

"Not enough!"

the man's voice rang out again. "Let more fiery meteors come!"

As the man's words fell, countless more fiery meteors surged forth in the distant starry sky, more than ten times the number before.

These meteors were larger, brighter, and contained even more terrifying energy.

But David was no longer afraid. He roared to the sky, his voice resounding through the heavens.

A faint golden light appeared on his body, a sign that his physical strength had reached a certain level.

“Well done!”

David leaped forward, directly charging into the densest part of the fire meteors.

His fists swung like meteor hammers, each punch shattering several fire meteors.

Simultaneously, his body frantically absorbed this energy, his physical strength increasing at a visible rate.

“Crack! Crack!”

His bones crackled, the sound of increasing bone density. His muscle fibers, tempered by the energy, became stronger and more resilient, every inch of his skin radiating a healthy glow.

The man stood at a distance, nodding in satisfaction: “Not bad, your physical body has reached the level of copper skin and iron bones. But that’s not enough, continue!”

David didn’t stop; he felt his body was a bottomless pit, never to be filled. The energy of the fire meteors continuously poured into his body, transforming into the power of his flesh.

After an unknown amount of time, when the last fire meteor was swallowed by David, he slowly opened his eyes.

At this moment, he radiated a faint golden light, his skin as translucent as glass, and his muscles smooth and powerful.

“Senior, I feel my physical body has reached an unprecedented level!” “This is just the beginning. Your physical body is already very strong, but it hasn’t reached its true limit yet,”

David said excitedly. He could feel that he could shatter mountains with a single punch and flatten rivers and seas with a single kick. The man smiled slightly: “Then I’ll continue...” David took the initiative to move towards the fire meteors again. The man looked at David amidst the fire meteors, seemingly lost in thought... .. Eighth Heaven, Third Palace! The Third Palace Master was currently standing outside the main hall with a group of disciples from the Third Palace. To the Third Palace Master's side were the Fifth Palace Master, who had recovered, four top-level divine guards from the Third Palace, and a group of powerful figures from the Third Palace.

The Third Palace Master kept looking around, seemingly waiting for someone. At this moment, the Third Palace Master suddenly turned his head and saw a middle-aged man slowly approaching not far away.

This person was the heir of the Evil Path Palace, a level higher than Elder Xue Wuying. No wonder the Third Palace Master was personally greeting him at the door. Upon seeing the man arrive, the Third Palace Master hurriedly stepped forward and smiled, "It's truly an honor for my humble palace that Prince Wu has come in person..."

Prince Wu remained calm, seemingly unmoved by the Third Palace Master's flattery. "You intend to deal with the Fourth Palace Master and seize the Divine King's Palace?" Prince Wu asked the Third Palace Master. "That's right. I've been cooperating with your Evil Path Palace for so long, so I'd like to ask for your help with this!"

The Third Palace Master nodded. "I'll handle it for you!" Prince Wu nodded! However, the Third Palace Master looked at Prince Wu and then asked with slight doubt, "Prince Wu, are you alone? If you're alone, I'm afraid you won't be able to get close to the Divine King's Palace." Upon hearing this, Prince Wu coldly smiled and said, "Don't worry, everything is under control..."

Full Read Online Chapter 5565 of the novel A Man Like None Other

Chapter 5565

Hearing Prince Wu's words, the Third Palace Master frowned.

Although Prince Wu held a high position in the Evil Path Palace, it didn't necessarily mean he was powerful.

After all, he had a powerful father.

If Prince Wu were in the Evil Path Palace, he could walk around with impunity, and no one would dare to interfere.

But if he went to the Divine King Palace, the Fourth Palace Master wouldn't tolerate him.

Just as the Third Palace Master was about to advise Prince Wu not to act arrogantly in public, a patch of void above suddenly began to boil, followed by a dark avenue slowly descending.

On that avenue, an old man dressed in a black robe, holding a skull cane, slowly walked down. The old man's face was covered in gruesome scars, and his robe was adorned with blood-red runes that emanated an eerie power.

Seeing this, the Third Palace Master's heart tightened, and the others were also on high alert.

They could sense the immense strength of this person.

"Third Palace Master, don't be nervous..."

Seeing the Third Palace Master's tense expression, the Prince of Wu smiled and walked to the old man's side, saying, "Grand Elder..."

The Third Palace Master breathed a sigh of relief upon hearing this. It turned out this old man was actually the Grand Elder of the Evil Path Palace.

And he seemed incredibly powerful; even the Prince of Wu was so respectful, showing the Grand Elder's high status within the Evil Path Palace.

The Grand Elder approached the Third Palace Master, merely glancing him up and down before coldly saying, "You are the Third Palace Master of the Divine Palace?"

"Indeed!" the Third Palace Master replied.

"Nothing special..."

the Grand Elder said coldly.

This contemptuous manner startled the Third Palace Master, making him extremely displeased, but he dared not show his anger. After all, he still needed the Evil Path Palace's help to seize the Divine King Palace and deal with the Fourth Palace Master.

"With the Grand Elder's personal presence, he will surely help me seize the God King's Palace. Once I become the God King of the temple, I will definitely help your Evil Path Hall collect a large number of souls," the Third Hall Master assured him. The Grand Elder coldly smiled: "Putting aside the fact that you still have the God King above you, which of the Second Hall Master and the First Hall Master can you handle?"

Upon hearing this, the Third Hall Master immediately laughed. "Grand Elder, you are unaware that the First Hall Master and the Second Hall Master follow the God King in the Nine Heavens. As long as I seize the God King's Palace here, the two of them will immediately attack the God King as well."

"I am merely making contact with your Evil Path Hall. Without the support of the First Hall Master and the Second Hall Master, even if your entire Evil Path Hall mobilizes to support me, I would not dare to attack the God King's Palace," the Third Hall Master explained.

This statement displeased the Grand Elder, but he also knew that the Third Hall Master was telling the truth. If the Temple didn't have internal conflicts, the Evil Path Temple alone wouldn't dare to directly attack it. Even if the Evil Path Temple could destroy the Temple, it still had the entire Divine Race behind it.

That was the existence the Evil Path Temple feared. No force dared to stand alone against the Divine Race. The fact that they could establish a new race outside the three races proved that the Divine Race possessed absolute strength and unique abilities.

"Since the First and Second Temple Masters have the support, things will be much easier!" The First Elder nodded. "First Elder, let me first introduce the situation of the Divine King's Palace to you!" the Third Temple Master said. "No need, it's just a small Divine King's Palace. Without the Divine King, the people in the Divine King's Palace are just a rabble.

I can wipe them out with a wave of my hand." The First Elder said arrogantly. The Third Temple Master: "....." A rabble? The Third Temple Master didn't say anything more. Since the other party thought the people in the Divine King's Palace were a rabble, there was no need for him to explain further.

Although they still needed the Evil Path Hall's help to seize the God King's Palace, the attitude of the Evil Path Hall's Grand Elder displeased the Third Hall Master.

Perhaps making the Evil Path Hall suffer a bit would make them take this cooperation more seriously. "Third Hall Master, I'll take the Grand Elder to rest first. You go to the God King's Palace as an inside agent. Once we've rested enough, we'll go directly to help you seize the God King's Palace," said the Witch Prince.