Chapter 1141 - Comprehending And Assimilating Cosmic Daos Is Easy! IV

'This...'

The Great Old Nazzagath had his Chthonian figure shake as he observed the scene before his eyes, the other Hegemonies he knew for many years around him having similar expressions of utter stupor when they stared at a certain figure.

Even the calm and ancient face of Oathkeeper was filled with sharp lights of shock as all of them watched a crack open in space after his command, his body becoming showered by Primordial Essence as it began to absorb it all seamlessly and begin pulsating with a Resonant white light!

At such a scene, even someone as old as Great Old Nazzagath found himself staring dumbly.

'How is such a thing possible...'

Even an existence this old couldn't wrap his mind around Noah's means as he watched a flood of Primordial Essence rush into him, and a few seconds later...

RUUMBLE!

His figure pulsed with mad power as from it, the pristine white essence of the Primordial Dao stemmed from his body.

...!

The crack above him closed as Primordial Essence stopped raining down.

His fair hands lifted up a moment later as one could see him freely conjure the light of Primordial Essence.

Primordial Essence!

'Was comprehending such a pristine Dao so easy?!'

The slimy layers of flesh of the figure of the Great Old Nazzagath shook as he thought as such, this being not being the only one as the Oathkeeper could only be seen with an incredulous expression at the fact that a being without the Primordial Disk had just so easily grasped the Primordial Dao.

But even with their surprise, what could they do but only accept and move on?!

THRUM!

Apart from the Primordial Essence, Noah also released the Ruination Essence within his body as when he used both of these Dao Essences at the same time...he felt a bubbling and overflowing Enhancement of both of them!

Similar to the Cosmic Core, the essences seemingly could not be merged and fused together as they only enhanced the power that the opposite essence could release.

As expressions of shock spread out from all around with gazes turning towards Noah, those around him seemed less surprised as Adelaide only had a light smile on her face while looking towards Noah with an expression full of love.

Valentina had a complicated expression that was gradually resolving itself, this powerful Hegemony finally coming to a decision at this moment as she and all others watched Noah wave his hands once more!

[Automatic Planting and Harvesting] was utilized yet again, this time on a crimson Galaxy that was designated as a Ruination Law Space and held an uncountable number of resplendent Ruination Strawberries.

SHAA!

These sacred treasures fruits appeared en masse on the left side of the trillions of Primordial Apples, Noah looking at this scene with a smile as he waved his hand to call forth a Ruination Strawberry.

This crimson fruit on his left hand, the pristine white Primordial Apple on the right hand! With the trillions more of such fruits before him, Noah breathed out heavily as a second later...he brought the fruits into his mouth and began to take big bites.

"Ah..."

The pure golden honey like fluid that erupted with every bite of the Primordial Apple, the sugary and blazing taste of the pulsating strawberry that trembled with Ruination...Noah was the first to taste the sacred fruits as while he ate them, his eyes were locked onto the percentage that showed the Comprehension of his Primordial and Ruination Daos!

THRUM!

Wild bouts of essence began to dance around him as dense particles of Ruination and Primordial Essence began to form, Noah seeing his percentage in these laws moving by an imperceptible decimal percentage of who knew how many zeroes, but it was still moving.

He could elevate his Comprehension and Assimilation with ease for all of his Cosmic Daos!

Such a thought caused his eyes to release radiant rays of golden light as they landed on the vast number of Primordial Apples and Ruination Strawberries floating before him.

Some would wonder, was he about to start chowing down on all these hundreds of billions of sacred fruits until he reached the pristine 100% in both of the Cosmic Daos?

Maybe if it was another being, that would be occurring. But this...was Noah Osmont!

Among the many cards he had to play, he had the Sin of Gluttony that he could utilize the abilities of, this Sin capable of Devouring things and putting them in the [Large Stomach] that acted akin to Noah's own.

So right after getting a taste of the wondrous treasured fruits with Cosmic Dao Essence within them, Noah's body erupted out with a dark and malevolent wave behind his back, this being the Sin of Gluttony as he cared out lightly.

[Devouring].

WAA!

The dark wave he released was like hungry black holes that devoured everything, expanding rapidly as it swallowed up thousands of Ruination Strawberries and Primordial Apples every single second.

These terrifying fruits entered Noah's stomach as they were digested even faster with the abilities of Sin of Gluttony, Noah nearly letting out a laugh when he saw the percentage on both the Primordial Dao and the Dao of Ruination shoot up by a single percentage after one second!

The hard to raise proficiency of these Cosmic Daos...had actually begun to shoot up at this moment as Noah devoured truly ridiculous fruits that should in no way exist.

When Noah saw the recently learned Primordial Dao reach 5% after just 5 seconds, his eyes trembled with joy as he couldn't help but scream out!

"More! More!"

RUMBLE!

The dense aura of the Sin of Gluttony erupted from him with even more fervor as it spread to cover hundreds of thousands of the Primordial Apples and Ruination Strawberries, the dense essence around Noah only exploding in a terrifying manner at this moment.

Oathkeeper and the other Hegemonies watched this scene with utter horror at the sheer impossibility of it, those among these aged beings that had hair nearly going bald from the sheer shock as Noah was only looking ahead of him with a maddened smile.

This was because as hundreds of thousands of the precious fruits were devoured, he saw the percentage of Comprehension for both the Primordial Dao and the Dao of Ruination cross the 50% Mark.

The Dao of Ruination was in the lead as a second later, it hit the 80% mark. Before Noah could even blink, the interface before his eyes seemed to have almost glitched as in the next second, he saw complete 100% Comprehension in the Cosmic Dao of Ruination as a moment later, this same number appeared next to the Primordial Dao!

"..."

Immense knowledge he didn't at all work hard for filled his mind as he fully comprehended supreme Cosmic Daos in a matter of seconds.

Who said it was hard?!

Who said Cosmic Daos were things that were impossible to traverse and comprehend?!

Noah was doing it with such ease that he fully comprehended the Primordial Dao that he had just learned in a matter of seconds while fully comprehending 70% of the Dao of Ruination in even less time.

Cosmic Daos...fully comprehended in seconds!

Ah!

Chapter 1142 - You Get Assimilated! You Get Assimilated! You All Get Assimilated!!!

The moment Noah achieved full Comprehension in the Primordial Dao and Ruination, he felt a unique blanket of authority descend unto him from these pristine Daos, but he didn't even get a chance to revel in it as even greater authority continued to pour down.

This was because the mass of darkness she released that was the Sin of Gluttony continued to devour the Primordial Apples and Ruination Strawberries before him endlessly, the percentage that had changed to assimilation beginning to also be pushed up crazily as Noah felt these two Daos become closely attached to his soul!

The higher the percentage got, the more Noah understood Ruination and the Primordial Dao as when it reached the peak...Noah could even turn his own body into the very essence of these Daos!

The authority he would obtain from such an action was something unimaginable as if ever he faced enemies that couldn't withstand these daos, victory would be his!

"OOOOOH!"

As the Assimilation rose crazily in seconds, Noah couldn't help but release a primal bellow, those watching the scene from nearby feeling their Origins trembling as their eyes nearly popped out of their sockets.

They watched as from Noah's bellow, his mouth wasn't just releasing sound waves...but vibrant beams of red and white that represented the essence of two pristine Daos.

This scene....they would never be able to forget!

An Antiquity bellowing out as his mouth released beams of Ruination and Primordial Essence, the aura of his body only rising to greater and greater levels as they could only stare breathlessly!

Even Barbatos's bored expression changed. Even Valentina felt her heart tremble at such a scene as when looking at the scene of her man doing such a thing, her heart strings shook as she thought of what a good choice she had made just weeks back!

The Oathkeeper was among the other powerhouses of the Infinite Cosmos just staring in a stupor at what was occurring, their eyes catching the sight when a fantastical peak was reached.

It was the sight of Noah's figure becoming enclosed in Ruination and Primordial Essence as he...was actually completing his percentage in Assimilation within a matter of seconds.

As if he looked at the pristine Dao of Ruination and commanded it- you get assimilated!

THRUM!

As he then stared at the Primordial Dao and said you as well- get assimilated!

The void of space shook.

Crimson and white lights released so brightly from Noah's body as they seemingly bisected his body in half, the phenomenon of the white light occupying the nearby few light years as the crimson light occupied the other half occurring.

A truly magisterial sight as when the show of colors dwindled down...Noah's eyes opened like the brightest lanterns as he felt the shocking strength and authority coursing through him.

"Authority..."

He couldn't help but speak out, his voice waking up all those around him out of their stupor as he focused his eyes on his status panel.

There, the authorities he was feeling were classified in full!

{Authority of the Assimilator of the Cosmic Dao of Ruination}: An authority that only appears around those who have fully comprehended and assimilated the Cosmic Dao of Ruination. It grants +100,000% Increased Ruination Damage, +100,000% Health and Mana Regeneration, +100,000% Cast and Attack speed, makes the user capable of displaying quintuple the power in the Ruination Sea, grants the user the capability to warp across set points across the Ruination Sea and turn into pure Ruination Essence, and opens up the pathway to the deconstruction of all Daos.

{Authority of the Assimilator of the Cosmic Primordial Dao}: An authority that only appears around those who have fully comprehended and assimilated the Cosmic Primordial Dao. It grants +100,000% Increased Primordial Damage, +100,000% Health and Mana Regeneration, +100,000% Cast and Attack speed, makes the user capable of displaying quintuple the power in the Primordial Sea and the capability to turn into pure Primordial Essence, and opens up the pathway to the reconstruction of all Daos.

Noah was just reading over the new authorities of these two fantastical Daos with fervor when a second later, he felt the birth of something brand new within him as yet another prompt appeared before his eyes.

<With the complete assimilation of Ruination and the Primordial Daos, the pathway of deconstruction and reconstruction of Daos is now opened.>

RUMBLE

Like a strike of thunder, droves of information began entering Noah's mind naturally- all of it being a consequence of not just assimilating Ruination- but also assimilating The Primordial Dao!

If he had only assimilated one, this pathway would not yet have opened!

<With a Splendiferous Universe as the fuel, the deconstruction of Daos with Ruination Essence will allow for any fully assimilated Dao to be turned into pure Runic Dao Lines as the reconstruction with Primordial Essence allows one to brand these Runic Dao Lines onto their body and soul, gaining a 100 fold enhancement in the current boosts of the selected Dao in exchange for losing all Comprehension and Assimilation of such Dao.>

...!

A brand new pathway opened up as Noah laid eyes upon it for the first time, his bright expression becoming ecstatic the more information he received about this pathway.

A pathway that was only initiated after the burning of a Splendiferous Universe!

A brand new path only unlocked by his recent actions, and one that would allow him to deconstruct and lose all Comprehension and assimilation of a certain Dao...only for him to have all of this restructured as Runic Dao Lines that were forever branded to his body and soul!

Ruination destroyed and Primordial recreated!

This new concept...this resplendent new path...Noah wanted to explore it fully as he dedicated all his attention into it, but he brought himself to a stop as he glanced at the existences around him that were there for a reason.

He calmed his excited heart as he glanced towards all of them with a devilish smile, his power and authority being vibrant for all to see as their stared back at him with awe, his figure clad in Ruination and Primordial Essence making him look like a primal existence from ancient times!

Chapter 1143 - Runic Dao Lines! I

The gazes of the most powerful existences glanced towards the radiant figure of Noah as while shimmering with white and crimson lights, they saw this being point behind him to the vast numbers of lined up Galaxies.

"These Galaxies before us each contain specific sacred Dao Fruits and Herbs, where their consumption allows you to increase the Comprehension and Assimilation of all Daos as you have just seen."

RUMBLE!

The hearts of the Hegemonies of the former Primordial Cosmos shook at the confirmation of such a reality, the gaze of Oathkeeper being immeasurable as he scrutinized Noah even more closely!

He saw as this being smiled with a sharp light crossing his eyes, his voice ringing out as the Galaxies behind them began to shine with the light of harvest.

"All those that are my Vassals...can partake and enjoy the trillions of sacred Dao Fruits and Herbs that will propel their respective Daos to the peak within a matter of hours, or just days if you are slow eaters!"

WAA!

Along with his voice, the appearance of glimmering Dao Fruits and herbs suffused with glorious light appeared all around them- Seeds of Time, Withering Tea Leaves, Summoning Peaches...it was myriad of exquisite Fruits and Herbs capable of ridiculous features appearing en masse.

At such a scene and Noah's grand and authoritative aura...the prideful Hegemonies that would have normally bowed to no one finally could bear it no longer.

The Great Old Nazzagath was the first as this Chthonian came forward with a myriad of emotions, his deep voice ringing out.

"I've been trying to figure you out for the last few days...but you are still a mystery to me! Yet, your methods are undeniable as they are enough for this old man to bow and say...I pledge Fealty to the Antiquity of Mana!"

THRUM!

The Chthonian bowed down as a second later, a grand light began to shine over him, the others watching this scene as their eyes flashed powerfully, nearly all of them calling out towards Noah at this moment.

"I pledge Fealty to the Antiquity of Mana...!"

Fealty by powerful existences Noah would have looked up to just weeks ago rained down, an overabundance of Marks of Antiquity in the tens of Billions descending down onto him due to the power and influence these beings held all being brought under him.

After this glorious process was done, Noah nodded as he gazed at his people first. Barbatos, Valentina, Kazuhiko...all of those in the front were the first to get the signal.

"Go ahead and enjoy the vast numbers of Dao Fruits and Herbs. We have to get you guys to achieve Hegemony and Antiquity soon!"

His words caused them to turn both happy and sad as they were reminded of the ever-expanding gap between them and Noah that never seemed to close, their figures eying the vast numbers of Dao Fruits and Herbs before them as they delved in!

With this taken care of, Noah gave them the time to get stronger as he himself...he had to go and explore the newly opened path with the full Assimilation of Ruination and Primordial Daos.

SHAA!

His figure disappeared seamlessly from the Novus Universe as his main body reappeared not within the Infinite Cosmos, but the Ruination Realm where his Primordial Ruination Clone had been staying these past few days to continue absorbing a myriad of Cores and the base Ruination Essence to forge more Universes.

With the 1000:1 Dilation, Noah was able to watch a new Universe fully form within his Origin every single day as currently...he held 12 Splendiferous Universes and 1 normal one!

His advancements weren't small, especially with the 300,000% Increase in Realm Advancement that the Primordial Ruination Clone held. Now, his main body had also appeared here to properly look at what he could do to deconstruct and reconstruct Daos.

The test for now was...the completely assimilated Lesser Dao of Withering!

Like all fully assimilated Lesser Daos, this Dao granted 5,000% Increased Damage, with fully assimilated Grand Daos giving 10,000% Increased Damage on top of their own unique boosts, and as just seen with Ruination and Primordial- Cosmic Daos granted +100,000% in Increased Damage among other boosts.

As Noah looked at the shocking effects of forming the so called Runic Dao Lines from the deconstruction and reconstruction of Daos, he didn't proceed in haste as before he began, he spoke lightly while looking at the overabundant light of Conquest overflowing through him.

"Let the light of conquest flow through the Lesser Dao of Withering."

RUMBLE!

Before his words even finished, a portion of the vibrant Light of Conquest disappeared as one of the daos Noah assimilated was enhanced, his Origin feeling the changes as they were displayed before his eyes soon after!

{Aura of the Assimilator of Withering} <ENHANCED>:: A passive aura that only appears around those who have fully comprehended and assimilated the Lesser Dao of Withering. It grants +10,000% Extra Damage and allows the attacks of the Controller of Withering to contain a unique corrosive essence that deconstructs and reduces the attacks, mana, and life force of the target until they become empty husks. The user can now even corrode time itself as they can briefly slow the progression time in a certain area.

With the light of conquest, it had a double fold increase as Noah nodded with bright eyes, turning his gaze towards his Origin as without looking back...he began to burn one the few Splendiferous Universes he held!

THRUM!

As the fuel required for this process, Noah felt a tinge of pain when he did it, but that was all! This was because his heart was shaking from the fact that if he successfully deconstructed and reconstructed just this single Lesser Dao enhanced by Conquest, the 100 fold increase of this process meant 1,000,000% in increased Damage- and that was just from this Lesser Dao alone.

If he also enhanced the Grand Daos from a 10,000% Increase in Damage to 20,000% and then deconstructed these daos, it would be a 100 fold increase to 2,000,000%!

Cosmic Daos were even more shocking as the number was terrifying to just think about.

THUMP!

What a pathway! What a boost from fully assimilating Ruination and the Primordial Dao! Noah....he had to start this process right away!

Chapter 1144 - Runic Dao Lines! II

Noah could feel the very beat of his heart as he opened up such a ridiculous pathway to increase his strength, the burning Splendiferous Universe being used as fuel as he felt all the accumulations of the Dao of Withering be ripped from his Origin, his very eyes watching as his essence of Ruination caused the formation of broken down and ancient-looking Runic Lines that vibrated with power.

Runic Dao Lines that represented the Lesser Dao of Withering!

As Ruination deconstructed, Primordial Essence weaved in to reconstruct- this whole process only being made possible from the burning Splendiferous Universe within Noah's Origin as this burning released a unique essence that wrapped around the Runic Dao Lines and weaved them together.

Noah watched as the resplendent Dao Galaxies of the Splendiferous Universe faded away, the entire Universe disappearing soon after as all this essence circled pristinely towards the unstable Runic Dao Lines!

Then the Primordial Essence wrapped around this instability as it weaved it all together into a wondrous construct.

Within seconds, the broken down Runic Dao Lines began to come together in a glorious manner as they shone with a myriad of colors, becoming taut and strong as they looked like multicolored lines of utter ancientness and regality!

Noah felt all the knowledge of Withering leaving his mind during this process as after he saw the glimmering Runic Dao Lines fully formed, he bellowed out powerfully.

"Brand them onto me!"

RUMBLE

A glorious light stretched out as for the first time, Runic Dao Lines were about to be branded onto Noah Osmont!

The multicolored lines flew towards him at a fast pace as they sank into his fist, the Runic Dao Lines rotating madly as they branded a glimmering crimson tattoo around his right fist that even went on to cover his palm.

The crimson tattoos shone with regality and authority, staying calmly over his skin as they made Noah look like an ancient tribal being! His eyes shone brightly as he sent essence into the tattoos instinctively, watching as they brightened up and began to revolve around his fist as they caused his body to release terrifying waves of power!

This was the? +1,000,000% boost of the Dao of Withering- all condensed to a few unique Runic Dao Lines that Noah could activate as all his comprehensions about this Dao were gone.

At the same time, something new appeared within his Status Panel!

[Runic Dao Lines Integration :: Withering(+1,000,000% Increased Damage....)]

A new section that would classify all the Daos that Noah deconstructed and reconstructed had appeared, Noah's elation only rising as he saw his fist that was currently glimmering with multiple colors as the activation of the tattoo that represented the Dao of Withering weaved over his skin colorfully as if it was alive.

The sense of strength he received was unbelievable as it made him want to deconstruct all of the Daos he had on him, but he knew that each one would cost him a Splendiferous Universe as the cost was very high!

"But...it is worth it!"

Yes! It was extremely worth it! As Noah thought of how to tackle the high cost of this stupendous process, he figured that he had to move his plans forward somewhat as he had to go searching for a method to grow his strength.

Truthfully, he was currently feeling ashamed at his rate of progress as 7 days had passed and he only had 14 Universes!

Well, there was one less Splendiferous Universe after he obtained the Withering Runic Dao Tattoo, and it made him feel a sense of urgency as he felt like he was stagnating in strength.

Of course if any Antiquities heard this, they would scream off in anger at such a thought as beings such as this spent hundreds of thousands of years if not millions to achieve the stage of Antiquity, even the pace of forming a Universe a day being something unbelievable as they would spend many years accumulating their power!

But Noah was different! He achieved Hegemony just days after he became a Monarch and Paragon, and he became an Antiquity just hours after he became a Hegemony.

His pace had been so fast that with him 'slowly' accumulating Universes daily, it seemed as if he was getting nowhere. And now with the introduction of Runic Dao Lines that needed Splendiferous Universes to bring to life...

It caused Noah to advance his plans forward as he would have to step into the Ruination Sea faster!

Out there were a vast number of possibilities, places where he could find other Cosmos or even the terrifying Primordial Beasts that could locate his Infinite Cosmos faster than he even expected.

He would have to prepare a great deal as his priority of things would have to be reshuffled, one of these being the designing of a Cosmic Dao!

With the fact that the Grand Dao of Conquest could effectively bring the increase of values of Lesser Daos and double them from 5,000% to 10,000%, and take Grand Dao boosts to 20,000%...Noah wanted this option to be applicable to Cosmic Daos!

For him to do this, he had to elevate the Dao of Conquest to the Cosmic Level.

He could then Empower Cosmic Daos and elevate their strength even further...it was a path of strength that made him expectant whenever he stood against an enemy of the same rank as him on just how much he could dominate them!

Along with all this...he had to bring the rest of his Cosmic Daos to gull Assimilation.

He had devoured enough Primordial Apples and Ruination Strawberries as he was fully assimilated for these two Daos, and now he needed to consume the sacred Dao Fruits and Herbs of the Annihilation, Chronos, and any Daos he would soon be picking up either from [Cosmic Dao Essence Integration and Emergence].

For the Daos he would be picking up....there in lay choices as he wanted the Dao of Reincarnation from Chronos who was still locked in a Temporal Prison, and then there was the mysterious Primordial that had descended onto the Infinite Cosmos and handed him a Primordial Heart!

Chapter 1145 - Deconstructing And Designing Daos! I

Chronos in the Temporal Prison had the Dao of Reincarnation, but Noah might have to put this aside for now as he was looking more towards the Primordial and what would happen when he used [Protagonist's Bookmark] on this existence!

The cool down had all but ended a day ago, and Noah was being extremely cautious as he was constantly trying to affirm things with Destiny and Fortune on whether he should even make this existence a target.

There were too many unknowns with them as Noah didn't even know their full power or what they could do...and this made him apprehensive to descend onto a soul of such a being without being found out!

"Well...you won't know until you try, hmm? Let's take things one by one. First is..."

He let out a devilish smile as he craned his neck, his eyes still stuck on the vibrant Runic Dao Tattoo that would light up with multiple colors whenever essence sunk into it.

He breathed out as he sat down in a meditative position, looking over at his Primordial Ruination Clone that was in the same position and had a faint outline of the Runic Dao Tattoo also appear on his hands!

Then, in front of both of his bodies- countless Dao Fruits and Herbs of Annihilation, Slaughter, Chronos...any and all Daos whether it be Grand or Cosmic that Noah didn't have full Assimilation of, their Dao Fruits appeared as The Sin of Gluttony was already ready to devour and grant Noah the Proficiency.

Under the Time Dilation, this would seem like it happened in no time as while doing this, Noah also gave the command to the Cosmic Core to do something drastic!

"The first Cosmic Dao...shall be Conquest. Elevate it from Grand to Cosmic!"

RUMBLE!

His thoughts reverberated into the Cosmic Core as it thrummed powerfully, Noah making his choice after much deliberation as the recent emergence of Runic Dao Lines and the shocking 100 fold increase in power they could provide being the decider to make this Dao into a Cosmic one.

"Also...start the design of the Grand Dao of Archetypes."

WAA!

Yet another command rained down from him as he tackled a myriad of things at once, assimilating Daos, bringing forth a Cosmic Dao, and now even designing a Grand Dao!

As for the newly mentioned Grand Dao of Archetypes? It was something that Noah was designing not for himself per se, but for his subordinates that continued to look up towards him and lag in strength.

His commands were heeded by the Cosmic Core as a radiance of immense proportions vibrated from it, droves of unique essence being utilized by this unique treasure as the first artificial Cosmic Dao was born in the Infinite Universe!

Alongside this Cosmic Dao was a Grand one as they were both completed around the same time, Noah's eyes flashing gloriously as he glanced at their details.

COSMIC [Dao of Conquest] :: A Cosmic Dao birthed by the Cosmic Core of Noah Osmont... Conquered lands will always allow the user to quintuple their power while fighting within them, while their strength will always be quadrupled when they are in the process of Conquest... Full Assimilation of Conquest grants the user the capability to Empower not just Absolute Skills, but any Lesser, Grand, and Cosmic Daos they Comprehend, along with their power being enhanced by ten times in Conquered Lands and enhanced by six times while in the process of Conquest...

Simple in its description, but ridiculous in its capabilities!

Tenfold increase in power in Conquered Lands! 6 times under the process of Conquest! But most of all, he could now Empower even Cosmic Daos.

He could do it...and so he found his testing target right away as he locked onto a particular Cosmic Dao that had just gotten assimilated seconds ago from him Devouring enormous amounts of its Dao Fruits- it was Annihilation!

The second Cosmic Dao he ever obtained, and his eyes now locked upon it as while he was carrying out multiple tasks at the same time, he voiced out lightly.

"Let the light of Conquest shine on Annihilation."

RUUMBLE!

A magisterial white light stretched from him as it even lit up the surrounding crimson sea. His eyes were tightly closed as he immersed himself in the feeling of power, noticing nearly one fourth of his remaining Light of Conquest getting sucked away as the Authority of the Assimilator of Annihilation was enhanced!

Just seconds prior, Noah saw that the base damage increase for Annihilation was +50,000%, vastly above and beyond the normal 5,000% for Lesser Daos and 10,000% for Grand Daos, but far below the Ruination and Primordial Daos that were sitting at the very top with +100,000%.

But now after its Enhancement...

{Authority of the Assimilator of the Cosmic Dao of Annihilation}<ENHANCED>: An authority that only appears around those who have fully comprehended and assimilated Annihilation.? It grants +100,000% Increased Annihilation Damage, +100,000% Increased AOE Damage, +100,000% Cast and Attack speed, and grants 50 Random Debuff Effects(Enfeeble, Slow, Impotent, Demoralized, Reduced Life Force....)

The Cosmic Dao that was a level lower than Ruination or Primordial Dao had actually been enhanced by Conquest that it actually reached the same level of boosts, and Noah wasted no time as he induced the movement of Ruination to actually start deconstructing this pristine Cosmic Dao, his eyes shining with a light of excitement as yet another Splendiferous Universe began to burn within his Origin!

He had already turned a Lesser Dao into a Runic Dao Tattoo, and wanted to see the stupendous effects of a Cosmic Dao going through the same thing.

THRUM!

His Origin trembled as the Assimilations of this Dao were pulled out, intense Runic Dao Lines beginning to form in front of him as they were much more pronounced and numerous than the ones for the Lesser Dao!

After the process of deconstruction, Primordial Essence came in as it put everything together, serene and majestic Dao Lines weaving before Noah's eyes in a matter of seconds as yet another Splendiferous Universe faded.

"Come!"

But the result of it was Noah bellowing out to the Runic Dao Lines as they shot forth towards him and sank into his right arm, a shocking primal tattoo beginning to form all the way from his wrist up to his shoulder!

The Runic Dao Lines of Withering formed into a Tattoo that covered Noah's fist and palm, but the numerous multicolored Dao Lines of Annihilation actually covered his entire arm as they pulsed with shocking power.

When he placed his vast essence into his arm now...

BZZZT!

It shone with glorious multicolored splendor as the Runic Dao Tattoos weaved magisterially, releasing shocking waves of power that even caused the surrounding ruination sea to tremble!

Chapter 1146 - Deconstructing And Designing Daos! II

In the Ruination Realm, a stupendous existence watched his right-hand glow magisterially with multiple colors, the Runic Dao Tattoos moving with purpose and power from the tip of his fingers all the way to his shoulders.

His gaze...was absent minded as he stared blankly in space at a set of words that quantified what the shimmering lines all over his hand meant.

[Runic Dao Lines Integration :: Withering (+1,000,000% Increased Damage....), Annihilation(+10,000,000% Increased Annihilation Damage, +10,000,000% Increased AOE Damage, +10,000,000% Cast and Attack speed, and grants 5000 Random Debuff Effects to enemies (Enfeeble, Slow, Impotent, Demoralized, Reduced Life Force....)]

"..."

Speechless!

Noah was genuinely speechless.

He stared at the numbers before him again and again, wanting to make sure that he wasn't seeing something wrong and that this reality was actually true!

A Lesser Dao with the 100 fold increase granted a 1 million percent increase in Damage among other things, but a Cosmic Dao was a 10 Million percent increase as such a numerical value in relation to pure power was purely ludicrous.

This wasn't to mention the fucking cast and Attack speed that were also enhanced by 10 million percent along with AOE Damage! If Noah cast [Fireball] right now, would it not be akin to him releasing the fastest bullets that had temperatures more immense than even the Cores of Galaxies?

The numbers of the boosts were just so immensely ridiculous that when Noah realistically and logically put things into account, he felt like it was a feasibility for him to stand against someone that had forged thousands of Universes...or even possibly a Cosmos!

At this moment though, this was all conjecture with no truth in it. If the enemy was like him and had completely assimilated Ruination and the Primordial Dao, then he fully expected them to be monsters that even he had to stay away from.

But if he met an existence at the Cosmic Level but they didn't have the capability to form Runic Dao Lines...

It was a thought that caused Noah's mind to buzz with activity as he reluctantly pulled his gaze away from his glimmering right hand that swirled with glorious ancient tattoos and the words on the Stat panel attached to it!

His gaze then went towards the other accomplishment he made while he was still Devouring Dao Fruits- the design of the Grand Dao of Archetypes.

This Dao was tailored more towards his subordinates and those closest to him in efforts to raise their power, with its effects being unique to say the least as it would change the power structure of the Infinite Cosmos!

What was the archetype? One could think of it like a prototype or a model, or a stereotype embodiment of a certain thing.

For Noah's Grand Dao of Archetypes, it related more to the "Classes" or "Roles" that people could choose, Noah taking inferences from his time spent gaming in his homeworld to bring this Dao to fruition!

GRAND [Dao of Archetypes] :: A Grand Dao birthed by the Cosmic Core of Noah Osmont. As the Dao Architect, Noah Osmont can comprehend and assimilate the Dao at 10 times the normal speed. The Dao of Archetypes allows 500 Vassals of the Tyrannical Emperor to choose a Specific Archetype(Class or Role) that stems from one of the Skill Trees that the Emperor controls. The Selection of an Archetype is permanent as it cannot be changed, the existences that select their Archetype having it branded to their very Origins and soul as they cannot take any other path besides this. The power of the Archetype is dependent on what level the Skill Tree it stems from is, with Skill Trees at the Universal Filament Realm granting Vassals the strength of the Universal Realm. The power given will always be a level lower, where if the Skill Tree is advanced to the Cosmic Level, the Archetypes stemming from these Skill Trees will allow the display of power at the Universal Filament Realm. Full Assimilation of the Dao of Archetypes allows a Vassal to choose a second Archetype, and even one that stems from an Absolute Skill Tree of the Tyrannical Emperor. Currently available Archetypes to select: Necromancer(Arch Lich Ra'zan), Terror (Madness of Old, Cthulhu), Blood Ruler(Blood Lord), Ultimate Farmer(Versatile Farmer), Primal Tree (Primeval Tree of Old, Yggdrasil), Incandescent Guardian(Fate's Guardian), Summoner(Animus Summoner Trainer), Temporal Lord(Wielder of Chronos), Annihilator(Bearer of Annihilation)....

Noah stared at this expertly designed Grand Dao as beams of light shot forth from his eyes, nodding to himself on how he had just outdone himself on this one!

Those closest to him were always levels behind no matter what they did, but this could now be changed as with the Dao of Archetype, they could select a Class that stemmed from his Skill Trees that when he brought all of them up to the Universal Filament Realm, it would allow them all to display battle power at the Universal Realm!

Even though they were still a level behind, this was still a huge leap in power that other beings would normally not even be able to dream of.

To make this Dao actually possible at the level of a Grand one, Noah had to limit it to 500 beings, and they had to be Vassals under him that he could select himself to grant them the right to choose Classes.

If this Dao were to touch the level of a Cosmic Dao, the number of beings applicable could be expanded as the power the Archetypes would be able to display most likely would get enhanced, but Noah was entirely sure it wouldn't be able to provide 100% power at the same level as the skill Trees...unless this Dao was elevated to the same ranks as Ruination and the Primordial Dao!

But with its creation, he effectively had 500 beings that he could now elevate to the Realm of Hegemonies.

More Hegemonies than even those that had been in the Primordial Cosmos!

Chapter 1147 - Deconstructing And Designing Daos! III

The Dao of Archetypes of arguable one of the most prized Daos Noah had made, the past Dao of Conquest that was already elevated to a Cosmic Dao being the only thing ranking higher at this moment based on usage and versatility, with Noah even tying this Dao to be on the same rank as Fealty that allowed him to amass Marks of Antiquity quickly.

Which expert could say they could effectively produce 500 Hegemonies with a wave of their hands?! Now, Noah was about to do just this as he finished devouring a myriad of Dao Fruits, his mind currently buzzing with droves of Information after he gained the full Assimilation of Chronos from Devouring countless [Seeds of Time].

All he had to do now was to pick up more Cosmic Daos through the Cosmic Dao Essence Integration and Emergence ability, or be lucky enough to pick up a Cosmic Dao from the millions of Dao Fruits he would consume in the near future!

He would then turn these Daos into Runic Dao Lines as all of his Assimilations about them would be permanently gone, with Noah not being able to comprehend or assimilate these Daos ever again.

"Ah..."

Noah rose up with a happy smile as he saw his vast advancements, a few more things remaining on his to do list before he began moving across the Ruination Seas.

His bright eyes glistened ever brighter as he sent a message to a few specific beings with the information on the Dao of Archetypes, and what the possibilities there were for them to choose from as at the same time, Noah was spending a myriad of Skill points to elevate any Skill Trees that were low leveled to the rank of Universal Filament!

This moment was the dawn of an Era in the Infinite Cosmos that would be defined by a few hundred specific Vassals that outshine the rest, these Vassals getting the chance to major in a specific Class that stemmed from a Skill Tree of the Antiquity of Mana!

"He fucking didn't...!"

Kazuhiko couldn't help but curse incredulously as to what seemed like just a minute or two having passed after Noah left the Novus Universe and they began to enjoy the Dao Fruits, he sent them a message about a newly birthed Dao of Archetypes.

The surprise was of course due to the time Dilation of the Ruination Realm, causing his subordinates to shake their heads at his efficiency as information of this Dao and all the choices they would have flowed into the mind of Kazuhiko and a few other selected beings.

"He really made Classes...he wants to turn this already crazy reality into something akin to a game, haha!"

Kazuhiko was shaking his head with a huge smile as he sifted through the boundless information flowing in, Valentina and others also having their faces changing at this newly appearing concept as they all found themselves focusing on it entirely.

"Necromancer..." Barbatos's eyes shone as her blessed chest heaved, looking at the Archetype that stemmed from the Arch Lich Ra'zan that Noah had now raised to the Universal Filament Realm!

The latest mini skill tree to have been added that brought the Arch Lich skill tree to the Universal Filament Realm was titled [Universal Lich Lord], with it having another set of 4 abilities as always that were brand new, similar to the mini skill Trees of [Galactic Nether Emperor] and [Tyrannical Lich Emperor] that were contained in the Arch Lich Ra'zan skill tree.

If Barbatos were to select the Necromancer Archetype that stemmed from this Skill Tree, she would gain the ability to use all the skills contained within such as [Summon Lich Emperors] or [Necrotic Ring of Death], and all the way down to [Delay Death] and [No Man's Land] that were one of the few skills from the first stages of the Arch Lich Ra'zan skill tree!

She would get all of this and be able to display battle power at the Universal Realm- as a Hegemony!

"Haha!"

Barbatos couldn't help but let out a peal of chilling laughter as she felt like Noah deserved a little something extra later on tonight.

She then acted resolutely as she was the first existence to select the first ever Archetype within the Infinite Cosmos!

She didn't bother to check the other Classes like the Temporal Lord or Terror or even Annihilator that many would be choosing, and she followed her heart as she was already bound to death, choosing the class of a Necromancer.

THRUM!

An oppressive black light shone with Barbatos at the center, her aura gradually changing as the dense black light condensed on her Origin, something becoming inexplicably branded onto her as along with this, a pristine mark of a skull appeared on her palm!

Barbatos gazed at this mark with shining eyes as she felt the flow of information of a myriad of new abilities she could use...as well as the power she currently released that was irrevocably at the realm of a Hegemony.

...!

The Great Old Nazzagath and other newly added Vassals looked at this scene in a stupor, Noah having only granted the right to choose an Archetype to the closest beings from his Original Universe first- so these Hegemonies from the Primordial Cosmos only saw as out of nowhere, a woman at the level of a Paragon began relaxing powerful waves of power that seemed stronger than most Hegemonies!

When they glanced at her chest, aside from its huge blessings, they could still see that her Origin had not formed into a Universe as it was still a manifested galactic filament.

So what...

RUMBLE

Before their thoughts even finished yet another aura extremely similar to this one rose up, this time stemming from the figure of Kazuhiko as he was laughing madly while the essence of Chronos swirled around him gloriously!

Those selecting the Archetypes that utilized Cosmic Daos didn't mean they would be able to comprehend such Daos right away, and they were only granted access to unconsciously utilize it from the Tyrannical Emperor they pledged Fealty to.

So Kazuhiko had chosen the class of a Temporal Lord as his Archetype, and shocking auras similar to his began to rise from here on out as it only caused the Hegemonies of the Primordial Cosmos to nearly lose their minds at what was happening.

Not too far away from Kazuhiko, the cry of an Emperor of a race rang out clearly as the beak of a certain being rose towards the boundless space.

"RAA! RAA! RAA!"

The cry rang out loud three times, a golden glow being seen cascading down on the Emperor Penguin as this leading Spiritual Beast chose Incandescence Guardian for his Archetype, more than likely due to it causing him to shine an even greater luster of gold than anything else as the essence of Fate swirled around its body!

Such shocking scenes began to unfold fully as the man causing all of it was detached from it, currently still in the Ruination Realm as he finished his own preparation and was about to face an ordeal of sneaking into the soul of a Primordial!

Chapter 1148 - Bookmark A Primordial!

As Valentina saw the scenes of shocking auras of Hegemonies rising from all those around her, she couldn't help but shake her head incredulously as from the information she received, she uttered out slowly in a disbelieving tone.

"I...I choose the archetype of Summoner."

As the one to have created the Lesser Dao of Summoning, she had to choose this Class as she felt like she had begun a project with all her hard work, and yet someone else had taken the reigns and continued to work on it as she barely recognized all the things that could be done with this aspect of Summoning!

THRUM!

Essence rained down wildly again as the aura Valentina released expanded even further, those around her experiencing this same phenomenon as Elena had her curvaceous figure shaking after she chose the Archetype of Blood Ruler, Steel Mikahil's body also shining nearby as he chose the archetype of Incandescent Guardian.

The birth of the Generals that would move under the command of the Antiquity of Mana gradually formed like this, with Noah finishing his selection of who the 500 would be as time passed until this cap was reached.

In the future...he could raise the limit of 500 if he ever made this Grand Dao into a Cosmic one as only time would tell!

The glorious lights continued to shine from the bodies of existences that were close to Noah as Oathkeeper and the original inhabitants of the Primordial Cosmos watched on in a stupor, our focus shifting from these beings and back to Noah who was about to attempt something somewhat dangerous.

He had taken care of many of the things he wanted to do with designing of daos and even exploring the Runic Dao Lines, stopping at deconstructing Annihilation for now as he didn't want to entirely finish his Splendiferous Universes just yet.

What he wanted to do now was utilize Protagonist's Bookmark on the terrifying Primordial that had descended and granted him a Primordial Heart.

In the Ruination Realm.

Noah was situated in a meditative position as he breathed out slowly, an iridescent golden glow crossing through his eyes as he confirmed the tides of destiny while listening to his fortune.

If he wasn't somewhat confident after discerning Destiny and Fortune the past few days, he wouldn't attempt what he was about to attempt! But after confirming multiple times, his eyes shine with a light of conviction as he voiced out.

"[Protagonist's Bookmark]."

RUMBLE!

A unique essence erupted from deep within him and bloomed outwards. It focused on a portion of his soul as it took a chunk and began shooting away from his body, entering the folds of space of the Ruination Realm as this piece of soul instantly flashed into the Infinite Cosmos and then began to shoot out into the vast Ruination Sea right after!

At speeds even Noah wouldn't normally be able to achieve, the small portion of his soul crossed the Ruination Sea as Noah had chosen his target to be a certain figure he met not too long ago.

The journey this time was vast as the target was a great distance away, the unique essence of the Protagonist Trait carrying Noah's soul across the crimson shimmering Ruination Sea for the next few hours!

Across the vast Ruination Sea.

With the myriad of Cosmos dwelling within the crimson seas, there were a few that were more distinct than others, with some holding immense importance as they held the most unique beings within them!

One such being was an existence mentioned not too long ago- the existence that was ripping apart a Grand Primordial Beast barehanded as his body shone with a glimmer of multicolored Runic Dao Lines that formed into ancient tattoos all over him.

His entire body was etched throughout as he seemed to have no gaps left, this being more pronounced at this moment in time as his essence hands activated them to shine their rainbow colored lights.

The figure of this being with dark hair draping over his shoulders was currently floating in the Ruination Sea as he looked a few thousand light years below him, a wild and ancient look being perceived in his eyes as his exquisitely defined muscular body could be seen even from the robe he wore!

His gaze was glancing down towards a shocking scene...it was the scene of multiple Cosmos floating peacefully in the Ruination Sea.

"It is an accomplishment you should be proud of, Little Aegon."

...!

To his side, a veiled figure dressed in full white spoke out as she also gazed at the vast number of Cosmos below them.

This was the target of Noah's Protagonist's Bookmark, and after crossing the vast Ruination Seas for the past hours, Noah's soul coincidentally arrived above her veiled figure and sank into her head silently!

THRUM!

"Hmm?"

Towards this, something extremely shocking occurred as the veiled figure herself felt nothing, but the man beside her actually turned and began to look around with a sharp gaze!

Not the Primordial, but the existence at the Cosmic Realm beside her!

"What's wrong?"

Seeing this change, the Primordial asked quizzically as the exquisitely defined handsome face of Aegon replied with a voice that dripped of majesty and regality soon after.

"I felt like there was another presence near us for a second there."

"Hmm? Near us? Little Aegon, who do you think would be bold enough to come in front of the most powerful existence across these vast seas....and when a Primordial is nearby as well? Take the compliment, you should be proud of the Empire you have created- this place being a bastion that no Primordial Beasts would be able to take down with you in the lead."

RUMBLE!

Their conversation resumed as it was while at the same time, Noah's portion of soul and consciousness sank into the Primordial as he glanced towards the Dark-haired man in shock!

It wasn't the Primordial that had sensed anything off, but it was instead this man whose body was filled with Runic Dao Tattoos- this being that should not be at the same level as a Primordial!

How was this possible?! Just who was this existence besides the Primordial?!

Chapter 1149 - A ! I

As much as Noah wanted to understand the full situation, he had very limited time of less than a minute to scour the Origin and soul of a Primordial and leave before anything drastic happened.

The portion of his soul had entered silently as Noah didn't make any movements in the first second, only observing the things he might be able to pull from this existence as when he looked at what could be considered her Origin and Soul...he was gobsmacked at the sheer grandeur of it all as he saw an endless pristine white river!

A river that endlessly stretched forth in two directions, and Noah could see many glimmering lines and clusters of lights within it that represented Laws, Daos, Memories, and many more things.

It seemed oppressive to stare at it all at once as Noah could actually pick out the essence of Ruination from a crimson colored line, and he could see the essence of the Primordial Daos on a prominent white line right next to it.

But the more incredulous thing to see was that near these lines that represented Ruination and the Primordial Dao...there were multiple other lines and clusters of light that seemed to shine with just as much importance!

This caused Noah's soul to tremble as he actually understood that there were things at the same level of Ruination and the Primordial Dao from the soul of this Primordial! What were they? And the more important question was...could he obtain them?!

THRUM!

His soul shone with a golden glimmer as he couldn't find any information on what he was looking at, only being able to identify Primordial and Ruination Daos because he was familiar with them.

Uniquely...this particular Protagonist's Bookmark was like he was blind and could only choose randomly from what he could see.

The Primordial was just that powerful that even now Noah could not obtain information from her!

For him to grasp anything from her...he had to choose one of the wondrously shimmering lines or clusters of light, and he had to be lucky enough that whatever he chose was something worth this great risk.

As a millisecond passed, Noah made his decision as he glanced from the lines that represented The Primordial and? Ruination Daos, glancing at nearby lines that were just as vibrant or even more lustrous!

He chose a particularly vibrant and large glimmering line that seemed to stand out among all the others around, this line stretching along the endless pristine river that was this being's soul. With his intention made, Noah's soul moved less than a second after he entered as he grasped onto a stout line deep in the soul of a Primordial!

To understand what was about to happen next, one had to recall what exactly Protagonist's Bookmark entailed.

[Protagonist's Bookmark] :....To those Bookmarked, the Protagonist can descend onto their body without their knowledge as he becomes able to assimilate into them for a period of 1 minute. In this period of time, the Protagonist can choose to focus on a specific area such as Experiences, Laws, Realm Progression, Daos...everything that the bookmarked character has accomplished as the Protagonist can rapidly raise their law progression or learn a new law, gains years of experience, enhance their understandings of Realms, enhance their understanding of a current Dao, or step on the path of a brand new Dao that the bookmarked character is adept on...

Experiences, Laws, Realm Progression, Daos...everything that the bookmarked character has accomplished. This was the crucial part!

What Noah had chosen to obtain...might not even be a Dao as it could have been memories or knowledge of faster Realm Progression, or maybe something else entirely!

Noah didn't know what his soul had attached into before he did, but when he locked onto it as he began to suck in its knowledge....

BOOOOM!

He felt like an explosion had gone off deep in his mind.

It felt too high and sacred...like it was something he shouldn't have been touching at all!

Droves of information rushed into his mind as he could barely pay attention to the conversation occurring outside, the voice of the Primordial continuing to ring out.

"Across these vast Ruination Sea, as long as this bastion that you have created doesn't fall...this reality will remain intact. All you have to do now is gain the battle power to seamlessly stand against Cosmic Primordial Beasts, and you will be set."

The words of the Primordial caused the devilishly handsome figure of Aegon to nod, his deep and dark eyes seemingly holding immeasurable weight within them as he spoke out while still glancing at the Cosmos below him.

"I will not be alone. There are trusted existences below me that want the same thing..."

The veiled Primordial nodded at his words as she was about to continue, when her expression below the veil changed to confusion at this moment as she felt something she couldn't quite put her finger on!

At this same time, Noah's main body in the far away Infinite Cosmos trembled as his seas of Fortune and Destiny churned, his mind being sent horrendous danger signals just 30 seconds after he had begun taking in whatever knowledge he had attached himself to in the soul of the Primordial.

These danger signals all told him to leave within the next few seconds, or Calamity of untold proportions would descend!

Noah trusted his instincts as with but a command, the portion of his soul that was used for Protagonist's Bookmark unwillingly detached from the soul of the Primordial and began to run away at speeds even faster than when it had been searching for this existence.

Around this same time, the confusion on the hidden face of the Primordial changed as the Ruination Sea began to shake, a cold voice emanating from her that caused the very Ruination Seas to churn!

"Who?!"

RUMBLE!

The Primordial raised her head as she actually felt a consciousness around them, but it seemed the glorious and regal being beside her moved even faster as his hair danced wildly, his hand reaching out towards a certain direction as his face was stern.

This direction...was where Noah's small portion of soul had begun to escape to!

Time was seemingly moving in slow motion at this moment, Noah's soul trembling as he entrenched the expression of a majestic being whose body had begun to light up with numerous Runic Dao Lines, his hand outstretched as it was trying to clasp onto and break his soul.

Lucky for him...he had trusted his senses and left when he did as this outstretched hand barely missed him, his figure disappearing into the folds of Ruination as the task of returning his small portion of a soul to his main body was something that could be done in a blink!

"Preposterous!"

RUMBLE

Noah could only hear a wrathful bellow ring out as he was already gone, the heart on his main body beating wildly as he could already see what his soul had obtained within those mere 30 seconds.

It wasn't a law or any type of Dao, nor was it knowledge or experience from the Primordial!

It was something so glorious that Noah could not contain himself when he received it, something that was termed....<Nomological Edict of Samsara >.

A Nomological Edict of Samsara!!!

Chapter 1150 - A ! II

"Preposterous!"

THRUM!

The bellow from Primordial caused everything in the nearby hundreds of thousands of light years to freeze, but the consciousness that had been snooping around was already gone as the glimmering body of Aegon could be seen where the culprit disappeared.

His hand was outstretched towards a certain direction as he voiced out slowly.

"It is gone."

...!

A consciousness had actually been snooping near them without their knowledge, and it had been able to escape without being caught!

WAA!

The magisterial air around the Primordial only became more intense, the pressure even causing the body of Aegon to vibrate as his Runic Dao Lines all across his figure shone with increasing intensity.

"It is gone."

He repeated again lightly as his long dark hair danced wildly, his sculpted figure looking extremely dominating as the heavy pressure in the surroundings reduced at this moment, the Primordial turning to glance towards him as she spoke coldly.

"Nothing is ever gone. Whatever was bold enough to come here...whether it is the consciousness of a Primordial Beast or an existence within this reality- they can forget getting off lightly!"

...!

The voice of the Primordial was filled with majesty and confidence, the veiled figure within continuing to speak as her body began to light up with a myriad of colors.

"Even if they are gone at this moment, I can always go back to when they were here and grasp their traces..."

As she finished these words, she seemed ready for something as she called out with utter regality in the next moment!

"Nomological Edict of..."

RUMBLE!

As a Primordial made a move in a far away location, Noah's small portion of soul was called back at a high instantaneous speed as it very quickly sank back into his Origin, beginning to fully grant him everything it had obtained.

And the content it had obtained...was truly something top stupendous!

Not a law or Dao...but something that was actually a fusion of a myriad of laws and Daos- a Nomological Edict!

Such a thing caused Noah's heart to beat wildly as he got a look at the tip of the iceberg of the strength of Primordials.

He didn't see any Runic Dao Lines on her body, but he did see an overabundance of them on an existence that was near her!

From their conversation, he picked up the name Aegon as he was very quickly reminded of Eckert- the Antiquity that shared his name and mentioned the possibility of Champions being groomed by Primordials in the vast realities out there.

Noah Eckert- the Great Usurper, had actually told Noah he was likely to be a champion based on the treatment he had just begun to receive, but as Noah saw the magisterial figure of Aegon right beside the Primordial and with his body filled with countless Runic Dao Tattoos swirling all over his body, he thought that this being looked like much more of a champion!

The sense of power between these two beings alone was horrendous as Noah didn't know if the current power he held was even a decimal percentage of theirs.

He had just seen the stupendous effects of Runic Dao Lines as the sheer percentages alone made him stupefied, but the being he saw had countless of such Dao Lines as it represented the Deconstruction and reconstruction of too many Daos!

And then...there was the Nomological Edict.

Samsara!

This was something even more sacred and ridiculous than the Deconstruction and reconstruction of Daos, and Noah could say this with confidence as he gained the knowledge his soul had obtained and changes began to occur within his very Origin.

Grand changes of laws and Daos...and even the eruption of new Daos he hadn't comprehended before!

He was most regretful that he was only capable of using 30 seconds of the Protagonist's Bookmark for this concept of a Nomological Edict, the full knowledge he now received telling him that due to this, he had only traversed 10% in this Nomological Edict.

But what did 10 entail? What did the Edict itself entail?!

The answer was right before Noah's eyes as he saw a brand new set of words appear in his Stat panel and before his eyes.

<Nomological Edict of Samsara> :: A Nomological Edict is a form of undeniable truth and authority that is birthed from the combination of laws and Daos. A Nomological Edict cannot be circumvented or stopped by anything, with the only possibility of deniability lying with another Edict. The Nomological Edict of Samsara is born from the combination of the Cosmic Daos of Reincarnation, Chronos, and Extinction, along with the Grand Dao of Destiny and laws of Fate, Life, Death, and Chaos. The seamless mixture of all these laws and Daos makes it possible for Samsara to come to fruition. When these Daos and Laws are fully fused together into a single thing, one achieves the full Edict of Samsara. With this Edict, an existence becomes capable of binding their soul to their reality, capable of traversing its different time points as they wish without creating Miniature Branching Realities, even in the face of death. With very few exceptions dealing with the involvement of other Edicts- as long as their reality remains, their soul will never perish. The traversal of time can only be done backwards, with beings comprehending Samsara being capable of jumping forward to the time point they already experienced before, but not to a future time point they never experienced. Traversing to the past has a great cost in mana, and it covers the return to the future point that the Edict was initially used at as the return costs no mana. Along with this, any Nomological Edict grants its user a smoother pathway towards ●●●●●●●, granting them an increase in the speed of their Realm Progression by +1,000,000%, an increase of +10,000,000% to All Parameters, and increases the chances of Fusions of other Laws and Daos by 10% for the production of other Nomological Edicts. Current fusion of the laws and Daos for the Nomological Edict of Samsara : 10%

This was a Nomological Edict of Samsara! It was the combination of a myriad of Daos and Laws as there were two in particular that Noah had not even come in contact with before!

Yet at this moment...

THRUM!

The eruption of the essence of Reincarnation and Extinction bloomed from within his Origin.

They were contained in the Nomological Edict, and now that Noah obtained it....he also obtained all the Daos within it!
