Chapter 1771 Arduously Breaking the Shackles of the Seventh Firmament! I

The breaking of restrictions.

It was an important task that multiple significant beings were contemplating at this point in time, Noah not being the only one seeking to tear apart his shackles!

In a unique environment within the Mirror Dimension.

In a lake filled with endless mirrors reflecting onto themselves, a curvaceous young girl was now floating meditatively atop its clear silver waters as her unblemished visage wasn't privy to anyone's eyes.

Her fair white skin was covered by a hazy silver light as currently, mysterious Runic Markings were coursing over her figure and causing the mirrors around her to shatter and reform- the Essence they carried being pulled into them as boundless silver light was entering Katelyn's body!

She didn't wish to seek power before even though she had stupendous means for it, and now she was getting serious.

An existence like her getting serious was a terror for all others who considered themselves geniuses as someone like her had what even LEGENDS envied!

The moment she became serious...other geniuses had to despair as they lost any chance.

One of the things that was envied about her was a Mythical Natural Born Physique.

Specifically- the Mythical Natural Born Mirror Physique that stemmed from a Dimension as its source!

Being who held any Mythical Natural Born Physiques were considered to be Natural Born Limit Breakers- with their Physique easily allowing them to break across an aspect of their Existence before reaching Reality.

Katelyn hadn't put in all that much effort in this as even her solidified crown that signified her authority...was something she had formed accidentally when she had an epiphany while pushing back against Legions of Enders of Reality days ago as she finished grasping a TABOO Concept during battle!

Now, she seriously cultivated her Mythical Natural Born Mirror Physique in this unique environment where even the laws of time seemed to pass differently as after absorbing an inordinate amount of Mirror Essence...

BZZZT...CRACK!

Her seamless fair body cracked like a mirror and reformed right after as around her solidified crown, the ecriture began to spin wondrously as it showed off an unbelievable truth.

A truth that after getting serious and putting in a little effort, this existence had exceeded the limitations of her Body as her Physique was just this monstrous!

And this reality also showed that having more ecritures spinning around one's crown didn't relay the true strength of an existence- as it was previously seen that Katelyn alone controlled multiple Mirror Beasts letting out waves of LEGENDS when she didn't have any letters spinning around her crown.

That authority to control Mirror Beast LEGENDS...was merely due to another inheritance that LEGENDS envied her for.

In a fit of anger when she was young, Katelyn had nearly torn apart a portion of the Pure Blooded Domains as she had angrily and briefly called out a LEGEND Mirror Beast.

A shocking authority that had even alarmed some powerful existences in the Main Reality as they invited her constantly over the years to join their Bloodlines and factions!

But she had remained home as she wished to enjoy the little family she had left, but it seems that all she did only caused a rift between her and Nefertiti as her sister hated the fact that Katelyn could have obtained immense authority and reigned over vast Domains...but she simply chose not to.

Naive.

Weak-willed.

These were the words her older sister had constantly used before she left to go seek her own destiny.

She would not be naive or weak any longer!

"Then...onto the Soul."

HOOONG!

An already ridiculously broken existence gained purpose as she reformed herself inside out, others who considered themselves geniuses truly not prepared for what was to come!

There were geniuses, Limit Breakers, Destined Children, Chosen Emperors...there were many beings, and then there was Noah Osmont.

He had forged his foundation so ridiculously while being an existence below the Eight Firmament of Ascendancy that his very shackles that prevented one's path forward were tired of being present at this moment!

They were all loose with barely any force remaining as the only reason Noah had not exceeded them was because he didn't wish to.

Now, everything was ready as Noah finished his last set of preparations.

Tens of Seeds of Reality were sinking into his body and turning into liquified essence that went to build up his Royal Cosmos, Noah having long stopped Sanguine Adequation to make sure he bolstered his Origin enough that he exceeded the 2 million Maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality for what was to come.

Each forging of an Infinite Reality Passage needed 2 million Units of the essence of Reality- this number not affected by any modifiers as it wasn't an ability cast through the Black Tier Ascendancy Halos and uniquely, the effect of the Runic Kainos Mana Lines of Ascendancy that could halve all of Noah's resource cost had only a little effectiveness with this ability!

HOOONG!

Noah's body released waves of pure cerulean power as his Innate Barrier shone distinctly, his body currently vibrating with the might of 700 Billion Cosmos as he had worked his way back up after burning so many Royal Cosmos to raise his Body.

He affirmed that his reserves had exceeded 2 Million as he also waved his hands to call forth Ascendant Flasks of Life and Death, ready to replenish his resource reserves fully whenever it was required!

"Hooo..."

He breathed out lightly as billowing resplendent auroras of essence light released with his breath, where if anyone was exposed to it- their Oigins would vibrate with happiness as they elevated their realm further just from his mere breath!

BZZT!

His body was in tip top shape as while holding a foundation that some might argue to nearly be comparable to an early LEGEND, only now did he seek to release his shackles at the Seventh Firmament of Ascendancy and proceed forward.

Yes. He was the one releasing his shackles as they were barely holding onto him and wanted to fall off this whole time, with Noah putting them out of their misery as his luminous eyes released beams of light while he spoke out regaly.

"Break."

HOOOONG!

Essence began to run utterly wild as ridiculously weakened shackles let out a cry of relief akin to being put out of their misery!

Chapter 1772 Arduously Breaking the Shackles of the Seventh Firmament! II

BOOM...CRACK!

Utterly wild waves of essence began to surge around Noah as within the hands of his stellar visage was a cerulean page that held the rotation of boundless Cosmos mimicking a certain Reality.

Radiant runic ecriptions screaming of ancientness surrounded his body as they paid homage to him, his crown doing the same as within his body... the nonmoving Cosmos that numbered over 700 Billion began to move!

Not randomly or just for the sake it, they actually began to move with purpose as they mimicked the stellar rotation of Cosmos within the very Infinite Reality Noah stood in.

HOOONG!

His Cosmos had wanted to do this every single time he got his hands on a Runic Ecriture of Modus Operandi as behind him, tens of Reality Passages would flash as a precursor to let him know of the possibility.

At this moment, nothing flashed behind him as it was all well controlled, his surging Origin begin to rotate like a stellar construct that was actually alive as the moment that it did this...Noah could finally sacrifice 2 Million Units of the Essence of Reality to call down a construct to link with his unrealized Strata!

WAA!

The stellar purple blue Cosmos in his body began to rotate as surges of golden liquid light surrounded them, his whole body seemingly coming to life as even the multicolored stellar pupils within his eyes were rotating! Explosive force seemed to be contained within him wanting to rage out as his body lit up incandescently, Noah holding everything in as he could only release the bursts of power in a glorious bellow.

A bellow that released a terrific beam of stellar light with illusions of suns of stellar bodies radiating out!

"OOOOOH!"

The surroundings shook and trembled with increasing pressure as amidst his bellow, the Golden skies of the Cosmic Holy Land suddenly became torn from above, the illusion of a ridiculously massive mountainous passage beginning to materialize as it was domineeringly pushing even the skies away.

It seemed to be like the top of a massive stellar volcano that was shining with resplendent light going towards Noah, this mountainous passage expanding outwards and stretching into the very veils of space as it swirled with terrific waves of essence!

BZZZT!

The atmosphere of the Cosmic Holy Land cried out as it seemed to be getting pressed down with an unbreakable weight.

A shocking weight as the Infinite Reality Passage forming wasn't just multiple times bigger than any others...it was fucking massive.

Massive!

A single one seemed to occupy the whole skies and pushing apart everything with a shocking weight that nobody should even think of bearing.

A weight that a single being who had forged many Physiques for the purposes of withstanding such a construct...was bearing all by himself!

Noah's body lit up brilliantly as he felt the imposing weight and pressure of a ridiculous Reality Passage, his body giving off bursts of essence as his Physiques made it so that he was able to bear the shocking weight of this construct that was linking up with him.

But it still felt so exceedingly heavy on his body that it even caused Noah to be surprised!

At that moment in time, Lavalliere's voice jumped in.

<You seem surprised at the weight a single Infinite Reality Passage imposes on you so let me clear it up- a single one of those bad boys and all the reality-altering feats they can do is not just for show, with a price having to be paid. In this case, you'll be paying it with your body as a single one of your Infinite Reality Passages is equivalent to supporting the weight of 10.>

<So the over 220+ something Reality Passages that your Body can support with all the Physiques you've forged and from the contribution of the two Cycles of the Infinite Dream...you should be able to handle 22+ Infinite Reality Passages with it.>

WAA!

Thereafter that matched the ridiculous capabilities of the Infinite Reality Passage came down as Noah only bellowed out while finishing to connect with it!

It had multiple features and could ridiculously generate 20,000 Units of the Essence of Reality every second while normal Passages generated 100...so its weight was of course not the same as other Reality Passages.

A single refinement of the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Physique that would grant the capability to withstand 30 Physiques would instead mean Noah could bear the weight of 3 Infinite Reality Passages.

Every time he finished a Cycle of Infinite Dream Physique, it meant that he could forge another 3 Infinite Reality Passages!

OOOOH!

His vibrant bellow echoed out as his imposing body that had its Origin moving like a living stellar body withstood everything, the Illusory Reality Passage above becoming real as Noah felt a 'click' within his very being...and everything began to stabilize.

OOOM!

He raised his head as above him, he could see an utterly massive Reality Passage that seemed to be over ten times larger than anything he had seen- this mountainous passage shining with resplendent purple blue stellar lights just like his body as it was lined up by coils of golden and crimson lights that stretched over the extent of this massive Passage!

The moment it connected with Noah, the converging point of this passage released out radiant light as it began to gush out horrendously potent and concentrated waves of essence.

Waves of essence that seemed more real than anything as at the very center, Noah could even see a glint of a luminous golden liquid blob that felt so full of energy and life that he couldn't help but reach out towards it!

His stellar right hand reached out to the wave of incoming essence that would continue to bathe and nourish him for the years to come, coming in contact with the Golden incandescent accumulation of liquid that surpassed everything else as it smashed into his hand and body with a terrific light.

BOOM!

All of the rushing energy suffused with him and melded into his body entirely as Noah shone with unbelievable radiance, the golden liquified essence that smashed into him being especially potent as his rotating Cosmos within his Origin maddeningly surged and multiplied as 100 Billion more were added instantly!

WAA!

He instantly exceeded 800 Billion Cosmos as all the Royal Cosmos became coiled in radiant light, his whole body surging with this multicolored light as well as this would be the nourishing effect of the Infinite Reality Passage that would come passively.

He didn't need to spend any resources or do anything...and he would just constantly be washed over and refined by waves of essence as at this moment, his body coiled up with surges of vibrant multicolored stellar light as his whole visage seemed like something other beings couldn't even near!

THUMP!

The formed Infinite Reality Passage released pulses of stellar light as it shone with multicolored hues, looking vastly different than any other Passage as it pulled out with more waves of essence to wash over Noah before the last one even finished.

TA.

A second passed.

TA.

Another second passed!

And ridiculously...another 20,000 Units of the Essence of Reality generated within him!

WAA!

His visage was painted with shocking light as he affirmed the shocking effects of the single Reality Passage, thinking of their equivalent weight of 10 Reality Passages each as he could only call down and form a bit more than 20 in the next few minutes.

"Well, no matter..."

Noah spoke out domineeringly as he gazed at the massive Infinite Reality Passage that seemed to imposingly press down on the skies of the Cosmic Holy Land.

Even 20 Infinite Reality Passages was 400,000 Units of the Essence of Reality per second!

He could max his reserves of Essence of Reality within mere seconds! And when he completed more cycles of Infinite Dream Physique and forged even more...

The number of Passages didn't shake Noah right now as he affirmed this with his Tyrannical will.

"...In time, 1,000+ Reality Passages are nothing but an inevitability!"

HOONG!

Vibrant waves of essence erupted out as multicolored Essence gushed from the Infinite Reality Passage and onto Noah's body, his very stellar skin turning crystalline as it began the process of nourishment from the one Passage!

At the same time, Noah crushed an Ascendant Flask of Life and Death that seemed to only refill another 2 Million Units of the Essence of Reality within him as he got ready to forge the second Infinite Reality Passage, but not before a prompt thundered down into his mind as vibrant Essence exploded out even further.

<An Astounding Achievement...!"

WAA!

A prompt thundered down as Noah created one of a kind Reality Passages in this Era, this distinction becoming recognized as waves of essence gushed into his body and nourished him endlessly!

Chapter 1773 Massive! I

<An Astounding Achievement! You have brought to fruition a Reality Passage unique to you in this Age and Era!>

WAA!

<Your affinity to the Natural Laws of Reality increases slightly.>

<Your authority as an Emperor of this Age has risen slightly.>

Boundless multicolored liquified essence raged around Noah as the crown above him spun with more splendor, additional Ecritures being added as the words <ETHEREAL EMPE> surged around it with wonder.

Noah was waiting for a prompt about an increase in the Maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality due to achieving another feat, but it never came apart from his increased authority and affinity towards Natural Laws of Reality!

"No matter..."

OOOM!

It didn't phase him as he currently towered over 2.2 Million, his Origin rushing towards 1000 Billion Cosmos as it received boundless Nourishment from the formed Infinite Reality Passage.

An Ascendant Flask of Life and Death was devoured as Noah affirmed it to regenerate 2 Million Units of the Essence of Reality once more- getting additional knowledge that even items like this could have their Reality altering effects dwindled when they involved greatly higher stages!

As Noah received the nourishment of the Infinite Reality Passage, he wished to quickly forge more of these massive stellar mountainous Passages as the time for his clone of Alexander to head out into a vast and unknown Grotto Sanctum was nearing.

"So...let's knock things up a notch."

BZZT!

Vibrant authority weaved out as Noah's will released multiple commands.

Near him, the figures of multiple True Sanguine Clones could be seen as each one was surrounded by unique waves of energy- each one holding a separate task!

<Oh? Are you finally going to be a little more efficient?>

The voice of Lavalliere held a mocking tone as it rang out, Noah ignoring it as his will expertly laid down tasks.

A clone had surging arcs of incandescent storms of pure Mana raging around him, the final 3rd round of the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Physique being cultivated through it as all the refinement returned to Noah's body!

Another clone had radiant white sand storms raging around it as it pulled upon the Dream Essence that another one of Noah's body was drawing out from the Dream Dimension along with the few tens of thousands of Reserves he had unlocked recently- this clone going to contribute towards the next Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique!

And it wasn't alone as a few other clones sat in a meditative position close to Noah, their bodies becoming surrounded by the Dream Essence storm as paired with the fact that Noah could cultivate Physiques 3x faster...he should be able to complete multiple cycles and increase the number of Reality Passages he could support.

Another clone was surrounded by concepts and a light of glory as he designed a Defensive Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree...another was inscribing the ecritures of VITALITY as they would surge towards Noah whenever they were completed!

And another clone was surrounded by shining waves of Destiny and Fortune, as well as incandescent lights that represented Karma and Fate as he familiarized himself with the newly birthed Edicts of Opulent Emperor, Pathfinder, and Causal Nexus that dealt with fortune, fate, and karma!

His stellar visage was in the center as his Clones surrounded him and multitasked to a shocking degree, all of them facing the imposing Infinite Reality Passage above them as Noah was regenerating boundless energy constantly within him...but it was also being spent just as fast as barely anything remained within his body after a few seconds.

The only thing that remained constant and continuous within him was Mana as even the vibrant Essence of Reality...it became dried in an instant as another 2 million was burnt to call down a second Infinite Reality Passage!

HOOOONG!

Multicolored splendor permeated out madly as in the already crowded skies of the Cosmic Holy Land, another ridiculously massive Reality Passage began to materialize as Noah's body became wrapped in even more waves of essence.

The volcanic Passage erupted out as similar to the first one, a mass of golden fluid surged out from its first Nourishment as it bathed Noah's figure to cause an explosion of Royal Cosmos- the total number now nearing 1000 Billion!

Noah's eyes released a dominating light as without stopping, another Ascendant Flask of Life and Death was crushed as he regenerated more Essence of Reality- only to burn it all again a second later towards forming the third Reality Passage.

HUUUM!

Nonstop!

Without a delay!

Unbelievable radiance rained down as on the third Infinite Reality Passage, its essence that gushed down with the unique golden fluid caused Noah's visage to shine stellar gold throughout, his Cosmos rotating to the means of the Infinite Runic Escripture of Modus Operandi as at this moment- each one shone with utmost golden radiance as the Golden number of 1000 Billion was reached.

1 Trillion Royal Cosmos!

Mind you...each one was equivalent to 3 normal Cosmos as Noah had achieved a level of power far exceeding any normal being at the Ninth Firmament of Ascendancy who held a mere 100 Billion Cosmos- and any LEGENDS who weren't Limit Breakers...shouldn't even show themselves to him!

Noah felt the vibrant luster of his Cosmos as they utterly stopped proceeding forward after hitting 1 Trillion, not even feeling a glass ceiling or anything that he could break as it just seemed that he couldn't...do anything else.

"But is it truly so?!"

OOOOM!

He had exceeded the limits to reach a shocking stage.

Could he exceed the limits past the limits he had already broken?!

OOOOOH!

His will surged out as he wouldn't give up without at least trying!

A Flask was crushed and then its regenerated Essence of Reality was burned.

Another Flask was devoured and the Essence it provided was burned!

THUCK! THUCK!

The skies cried out as they were utterly squeezed as two more Infinite Reality Passages formed, a third one coming down soon after as Noah generated two Million units and burnt them just as quickly to bring to fruition 3 additional Infinite Reality Passages in mere seconds!

Their vast essence coiled and trembled as they erupted out like stellar volcanic mountains, three resplendent golden liquified essence shooting out from their peaks and coming to bathe Noah nearly simultaneously as he wanted to use this force that would have normally granted him 300 Billion more Cosmos as a Weapon.

A weapon to see if 1 Trillion Royal Cosmos truly was it!

Chapter 1774 Massive! II

HOONG!

Beautiful and chaotic storms of energy constantly raged out around Noah and his Sanguine Clones as 6 Infinite Reality Passages shone resplendent above the strained skies of the Cosmic Holy Land, his stellar visage currently covered by an overbearing radiance as a wave of essence was used as a weapon to test the 1 Trillion Cosmos mark!

And...

SHAA!

The Essence washed over his Cosmos as they became even more vibrant, but that was it.

It began to collect around the gaps of the rotating Cosmos as the more essence from the Infinite Reality Passages that came down, it only coagulated around his Cosmos and began condensing into liquid form!

As if his own Cosmos were telling him they couldn't take any more.

As if his own Origin was saying he couldn't expand his Cosmos any further!

The Essence was being collected as he was being told it would erupt and be used when he unlocked the next stage of his Realm that would require even more abundant resources.

It was a maddening Reality as Noah couldn't help but let out a loud roar of frustration, multiple Ascendant Flasks of Life and Death spilling on his body as their generated Essence was burnt soon after, the massive outlines of 6 more Reality Passages beginning to form ridiculously!

Massive.

This was a word to pay attention to as at this time, a creaking sound of something nearly breaking could be heard as a strained voice of the Infinite Reality rang out in Noah's mind.

<Master...wait for a second, please. Let me expand the Cosmic Holy Land first.>

Noah's will stopped his maddened increase of Infinite Reality Passages as he saw at this moment, these massive mountainous stellar Passages actually occupied the whole skies of the Cosmic Holy Land as this whole space seemed to be trembling and about to fall apart!

They didn't seem illusory as they truly felt real and occupied this space in a shocking fashion- leaving one to wonder that if Noah ever released his Infinite Reality Passages, could anyone's Passages ever occupy the skies or space?!

HOOONG!

Trillions of Units of Mana were drained from Noah by the Infinite Reality as the skies of the Cosmic Holy Land were buzzing as they rapidly expanded, this golden colored space finally easing from the pressure of the massive Infinite Reality Passages that had a ridiculous number of 12 in less than a minute.

The golden throne and the endless golden stairs that was one of the distinguishing features of this space became pulled away, Noah being left in ever expanding skies that were tinged with a stellar hue.

Much of the skies were occupied by his Infinite Reality Passages as only now was space becoming freed up!

<The versatility you get with this Infinite Reality of yours is actually incredible...why don't you finish things up and undergo another Infinite Dream to upgrade this Reality? I'm curious about the changes that would occur then...>

The curious voice of Lavalliere rang out at this time as Noah's will focused on this shocking tool briefly.

"Even you don't know this?"

His stellar lips opened to voice out as rainbow colored essence that could turn a normal existence into a Cosmic Realm expert flowed from his mouth, Lavalliere's reply returning soon after.

<Hey, even I don't know everything. Just a few records of the past as if you wanna take a peek at any of them...you'll need to build up more Uses. I'll drop a hint and tell you to focus on the Resplendent Treasure Emperor next to make sure the Loot you're getting soon will be a bit more palatable.>

This ridiculous existence spoke freely as the Cosmic Holy Land continued to expand, the 12 Infinite Reality Passages above releasing radiant glows of multicolored Essence that all flowed into Noah's stellar visage.

<Even the transformation of that RUINATION will be interesting, though she's been a little slow in helping you find those last materials you need to forge TABOO Relics from the Mirror Dimension.>

WAA!

Lavalliere seemed to be talking to herself freely as her words passed through Noah's mind and were heard by the Quasi-TABOO Relic in the far away Mirror Dimension that was moving with Noah's clone, the crimson eyes of RUINATION flashing with an intense light as she actually replied at this moment!

<<I've been assisting Master longer than your short appearance. The Mirror Dimension is just hard to navigate as-->>

RUINATION's voice cut off as Noah waited for the Cosmic Holy Land to continue expanding, his eyes shining with shock at this moment as his clone could still hear RUINATION speaking in the Mirror Dimension with his clone even though her voice was cut off for them to hear here! It meant...

"Did you just...?"

<There shouldn't be back and forth arguments in your mind during this important juncture, I'll get to know and talk to your treasures on my own time soon enough. >

Lavalliere had truly cut off the voice transmission of RUINATION with her unfathomable abilities, Noah feeling a possible headache coming in the future as the treasures around him seemed to be getting more pronounced and powerful personalities!

In the Mirror Dimension, the vibrant visage of RUINATION actually showed emotion on her face as the crimson gold runic lines that painted her body gave off a threatening glow, her red eyes locking with Noah's clone as she shockingly spoke in what Noah would consider...a pouting tone!

Noah's long time treasure spoke like so as her eyes that should have been monotone and emotionless actually showed that she was pouting as if she was a young girl that was just bullied!

What...what was this?!

Noah's astounding will gazed at RUINATION as he collected himself and smiled lightly while patting her head.

"It's okay. We'll reign her in soon enough...let's see if we can find the last materials to begin upgrading you to TABOO."

<Mm.>

The emotions on RUINATION were pacified as she nodded lightly, her eyes shooting out radiant crimson lights as she shattered the nearby mirrors that had always prevented their advance into the Mirror Dimension- her will re-energized as she moved with even more vibrant purpose!

Noah noted all of these progressing changes as his treasures seemed to be taking an astounding direction, but this wasn't something he wanted to dwell on too much at this moment as his Main Body focused on the continued wonders of the Infinite Reality Passages while the Cosmic Holy Land finished expanding.

THUMP!

Back in the Cosmic Holy Land.

Boundless waves of essence washed down from the mountainous Infinite Reality Passages as they bathed Noah to make him seem like a celestial being from ancient times!

THUMP!

240,000 Units of the Essence of Reality surged from Noah's Origin every second!

240,000...as at this moment, he could even choose not to swallow the Ascendant Flasks of Life and Death- waiting only 10 seconds as his maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality would be filled soon after!

"...Haha!"

He couldn't help but let out a laugh as he gave the Infinite Reality the time to expand the Cosmic Holy Land- and he was laughing at the wondrous stage and tool that he had brought to fruition with his own destiny and effort.

10 Seconds to entirely generate 2.4 Million Units of the Essence of Reality!

His Ruination Affix that granted 25% daily generation was turned useless.

The measly 100 generation of other beings' Reality Passages was utterly trampled on as his was raised at a truly high stage!

He didn't even waste any more Flasks of Life and Death.

He merely waited 10 seconds as thereafter...

OOOOM!

Another Infinite Reality Passage began to form.

It washed down its essence as Noah saw all of it condensed into golden liquid form in his rotating Origin, his purple blue stellar body becoming painted more and more gold as his figure alone released rays of radiance!

The only thing he could do now for this Origin that had reached a cap was to have another True Sanguine Clone call upon Sanguine Adequation as he burned his Origin, reducing the 1 Trillion Cosmos to elevate his Body and Soul- specifically his Body at this point in time as it should allow his Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique to be completed within seconds!

And thereafter...more Infinite Reality Passages would bloom as Noah's stellar advancement continued while the time to enter the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum drew near!

Chapter 1775 The Skills to occupy Passages! I

In the Cosmic Holy Land.

Noah's stellar visage was surrounded by his True Sanguine Clones as each one was surrounded by waves of unique essence.

The skies of this place had turned expansive and much vaster as up above, massive Infinite Reality Passages covered everything as they seemed to let go of the fact that they were illusory as they felt very real!

Something astounding was occurring within these skies after every few seconds though.

HOOONG!

A glorious flash of light would brighten up on Noah's body as 2 Million Units of the Essence of Reality were burnt to call upon more Infinite Reality Passages.

He would then wait for a few more seconds as before they even reached 10 seconds...his Maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality would shine resplendently as he would use nearly all of them again!

The golden skies ridiculously already had 20 radiant stellar Infinite Reality Passages pressing down unnaturally, Noah feeling his body tightening as the weight of these wondrous Passages was truly not a joke.

His body was surrounded by a hazy lake of multicolored liquified essence at this moment as it seemed to be overnourished- as if he was a plant that was being given too much water!

He couldn't take it all in at this moment as his vast Origin was still suffusing with golden liquid between the gaps of the Royal Cosmos that weren't reacting to any of the surging essence.

THUCK!

The skies were squeezed once more as the 21st Infinite Reality Passage formed, the whole scene being ridiculous to look at as Noah's own figure was multiple times smaller than the Infinite Reality Passages he supported, and yet their neverending waves of essence all thundered towards him!

A few seconds later...

THUCK!

The final 22nd Infinite Reality Passage that Noah could currently bear with the 220 'normal' Passages due to his Physiques was formed.

22 Infinite Reality Passages!

Wondrous constructs that granted 440,000 Units of the Essence of Reality per second.

"..."

In 5 seconds, Noah would easily have recovered his maximum Reserves of the Essence of Reality!

OOOM!

Waves of blue and gold surged over Noah's body as it called out its current limits- telling Noah that he couldn't forge another Passage until his body was strengthened some more!

"Limits..."

Noah disliked hearing this word as he still felt distaste from the fact that he couldn't exceed the 1 Trillion Royal Cosmos Limit at this moment in time.

But he could still easily exceed other limits as he gazed at the True Sanguine Clone that had terrifying waves of Mana surging around it.

Paired with the continued burning of Sanguine Adequation that ate up a few million Cosmos in exchange for strengthening the Body- this Clone's task of using Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Refinement was nearing completion as Noah called in all of its progress!

BZZZT!

<The Third Refinement of the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Physique has been completed.>

His body pulsed with cerulean light as more <MANA> ecritures surged around him, his True Reality Defense and Damage Values rising by 100 each once more as the number of Reality Passages he could form increased by 30!

THUCK!

The deafening sound of the skies being pierced rang out again as Noah instantly burned 2 million Units of the Essence of Reality, another Infinite Reality Passage being called as soon as Noah completed the Third Refinement of the Limit Breaking Extreme Mana Physique.

His eyes released beams of fomenting light and wonder as in 4 seconds...

THUCK!

The scene repeated itself again as it was truly maddening to see!

And soon after, the bodies of the Clones that were collecting Dream Essence among many others surged with a silvery white light as in the next instant...

<The Third Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique has been completed.>

<More Runic Ecritures of DREAM begin to surround you as the completion of the Third Cycle increases your Maximum Reserves of Dream Essence to 1,000,000. The current DREAM Ecritures allow for the passive daily generation of 500,000 Units of Dream Essence.>

WAA!

Another cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique also completed as his Defense and Damage Values reached greater levels, his body gaining the capability to withstand another 30 normal Reality Passages as it represented 3 Infinite Reality Passages!

From the 22 just seconds ago, he would soon accumulate 28 as the only thing he had to do was wait for more Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique to be achieved...and he would continue forming Passages until his body couldn't take it any longer.

Until just like his Origin, his Body would not be able to be elevated any further!

"But until then..."

OOOM!

There were still many more things that Noah had to get started early as while his Reality Passages were forming, he moved on to accomplish another task that actually came as a feature of these very Reality Passages.

<Tyrannical Reifier>!

Instilling his skills into an Infinite Reality Passage to nourish it and gradually have it gain personification- becoming a REIFIED Skill in the future that normally only LEGENDS could play with!

Now came the choice of which skills to Reify.

The ones to enter the Infinite Reality Passages were already in his mind as others...were actually in the process of being made right now through another Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree by a True Sanguine Clone!

As Noah paid the 1,000 Reality Resource Points and this skill tree gradually came to be, he focused on the Offensive skills that would be getting added to the Infinite Reality Passages that within less than a minute...had already reached the cap of 28 as they endlessly rained down glorious waves of essence towards Noah.

It seemed like massive stellar mountains bathed him like a celestial creature with rivers of stellar essence, and he took everything in as his stellar visage actually pointed towards the first Infinite Reality Passage he had forged!

He pointed to it as 1 Million Units of the Essence of Reality were burned to activate <Tyrannical Reifier>, the first skill to be chosen being uttered by him lightly as brilliant crimson gold light flashed.

"Fireball."

WAA!

Chapter 1776 The Skills to Occupy Passages! II

Fireball.

Well, Ascendant Reality Fireball to be exact!

While it might not be the most powerful skill in Noah's arsenal, it held sentimental value to him as it was his first ability that awakened with him the day he utilized an F Rank skill book many months ago.

"You will now also be the first skill to occupy the first Reality Passage..."

Noah spoke with a smile as after the required Essence of Reality was burned, his chest shone as an incandescent ball of crimson light flew towards his first Infinite Reality Passage!

It followed the path of the surging stellar rivers and sank into the massive mountainous passages making the center of this construct its home as it became enveloped by boundless rays of light soon after!

Noah watched with concentration as he saw a stellar crimson egg forming after these radiant beams of light faded, half of the boundless essence from the Reality Passage that was flowing into him being redirected to this as Noah experienced the second cost of Tyrannical Reifier that was detailed before- the fact that it required 10,000 Units of the Essence of Reality every second to continue its nourishment and progress upwards.

It effectively cut off a single Infinite Reality Passage's boons by half...but this price was nothing compared to what the wondrous results would be!

The first Infinite Reality Passage had its respective skill chosen as Noah moved on to the second.

"Bloodfiend."

WAA!

The Quasi-Reified Ability that held the strongest single target True Reality Damage Values at this moment!

Damage Values that couldn't be reached by even Sever until its chaining effects began...something that LEGENDS could disrupt with <Reality's Oversight>.

This was the second skill Noah placed into an Infinite Reality Passage as a unique scene took place.

A crimson gold mass of concepts surged from Noah as they traversed up the stellar river of essence towards this mountainous passage, sinking into it and actually going forward to be situated at the very center as beams of light illustrious weaved out!

"Ascendant Reality Sever."

WAA!

The ridiculous chaining ability that had immense potential- with its effects coming out in full bloom so long as Noah could chain it for many times!

This was the third ability Noah wanted to reify as a similar scene repeated, a purple gold stellar egg forming in the Third Infinite Reality Passage at this moment.

"Ascendant Illuminating Soul Star."

The ability geared towards decimating the souls of his enemies also entered into an Infinite Reality Passage as a cerulean gold egg formed!

40,000 Units of the Essence of Reality were now being directed to these abilities every single second as Noah stopped here briefly.

While his stellar visage was still being bathed by boundless essence and his Clones surrounded him while undergoing their own tasks- another clone finished its work as the uniquely designed Defensive Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree showed its details before Noah's eyes!

This one was particularly unique as it couldn't entirely be called Defensive as it also held offensive capabilities, and Noah had purposefully directed it to only have 2 abilities!

This was why its cost came out to 1000 Reality Resource Points even though it was at a powerful level.

As for the build of this Defensive Keystone Ascendant Skill Tree and what Noah included in it? This was where the true uniqueness came from!

<Keystone Ascendant Celestial Lich Emperor's Skill Tree>(20/20):: An Ascendant Skill Tree born from the strength of a Primogenial Strata Soul and Body along with a unique Casuistic Primogenial Origin. Born from the concepts of the TABOO Nomological Edict of the Sanguine Emperor and the Quasi-TABOO Nomological Edicts of Apocalypse, Tyrannical Emperor...It is created with the idea that the one most proficient in death will be the best one to prevent even a chance of death for the caster. The other concept included is that the best defense is offense as one cannot face death if all their enemies are eradicated. Thus, the Keystone Ascendant Celestial Lich Emperor's Skill Tree was born. Due to a TABOO concept being used at its base, one of the abilities has undergone a mutation and become Quasi-REIFIED. Abilities include the Quasi-REIFIED <Ascendant Lich's Armament of Devotion>(5/5) and <Ascendant Celestial Lich's Smite of Retribution>(5/5). More abilities can be added to the Celestial Lich Emperor's Skill Tree whenever the Unnamed Kainos Emperor wishes...

A skill tree that took two of Noah's earlier skill trees of Arch Lich Ra'Zan and Fate's Guardian and reformed them into something else entirely.

It was bound to have powerful abilities as similar to Bloodfiend, one of them was even already Quasi-REIFIED!

Their details bloomed before Noah's eyes as he already burned 2 Million Units of the Essence of Reality to already begin sending <Ascendant Lich's Armament of Devotion> and <Ascendant Celestial Lich's Smite of Retribution> to the fifth and Sixth Infinite Reality Passage.

Quasi-REIFIED <Ascendant Lich's Armament of Devotion>(5/5):: The Illusory Quasi-REIFIED Visage of the Arch Lich Ra'Zan appears behind the caster as they are graced with the Lich Emperor's Armament of Devotion, a celestial armament made from the vast Legions of the Arch lich that provides 1,500 True Reality Defense Values and 5% Strata Vitality Regeneration every microsecond. It requires 500,000 Units of the Essence of Reality to cast and 50,000 Units of the Essence of Reality to keep active every microsecond. So long as the Lich Emperor's Armament of Devotion isn't breached and bypassed, it will remain at its optimum state for multiple attacks as the bony visage of death embraces you...

<Ascendant Celestial Lich's Smite of Retribution>(5/5):: The visage of the Celestial Lich descends as its Legions of Undead are summoned as an amalgamation of a weapon, transforming into an enormous Celestial Bone Legion Sword that rains down Retribution into a single target with a Damage Value of 1,500, and then a secondary Smite of 500 Area of Effect True Reality Damage Values as the Celestial Bone Legion Sword transforms into a Celestial Necrotic Ring of Death that swirls for 3 microseconds against all enemies...

Chapter 1777 Other Means of Progression!

Pure wonder lay before Noah's eyes as while the past Defensive skills like auras and shields granted 5 True Reality Defense Values or 20, the defensive ability from the Celestial Lich Emperor's Skill Tree granted a 1,500 True Reality Defense Value that when paired with the base boosts from his Physiques...Noah's defenses were bound to be astonishing!

Also, there was the factor of REIFICATION that Noah had to look forward to.

At the end of it all, he expected to have these abilities he placed into the Infinite Reality Passages REIFIED before the wonders began in the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum- and he would be able to see exactly what personas these skills would take!

Just what personified form would the first skill Fireball amount to?

What would the effect of REIFICATION be on Ascendant Reality Sever?

The possibilities were many as Noah waited patiently for what was to come!

HOOONG!

28 Infinite Reality Passages gushed down rivers of essence unto his body as he underwent constant nourishment and refinement, his 1 Trillion Royal Cosmos constantly being burnt as with the boundless essence of the Reality Passages and the golden liquid accumulating between his Origin- the Cosmos reformed back to 1 Trillion even faster as their rate of reformation far exceeded anything else!

All of the Strata essence of these burnt Cosmos surged towards strengthening Noah's body as his next Cycle for the Infinite Dream would finish all that much faster, and his thoughts didn't even finish before...

OOM!

Silver white Dream Essence gushed over his body powerfully as the True Sanguine Clones that were surrounded by dream Essence storms trembled- yet another prompt rising before Noah's eyes.

<The Fourth Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique has been completed.>

<More Runic Ecritures of DREAM begin to surround you as the completion of the Fourth Cycle increases your Maximum Reserves of Dream Essence to 1,500,000. The current DREAM Ecritures allow for the passive daily generation of 750,000 Units of Dream Essence.>

<The Maximum Number of Reality Passages your body can hold has been raised to 310.>

His body surged with dreadful arcs of Dream Essence as the Runic ecritures of DREAM surged even more around him, overcrowding his body as he seemed like an ancient existence surrounded by Runic ecritures that were paying homage to him!

His eyes and face were illuminated by these radiant rays of light as the exceedingly handsome stellar visage would cause any woman to blush- a level of magnetism surging around Noah that would even make LEGENDS of the opposite sex take a second look at him.

This was because his body alone was brimming with boundless essence as even when he breathed out and spoke, rainbow colored radiance would shoot out as if anyone was near- their Realm would experience a slight elevation!

If there were Primogenial LEGENDS right beside his main body, the residual waves of nourishment from his Reality Passages would even elevate their Strata slightly as Noah had become an ultimate panacea!

<The state of your body should greatly help in finding you an existence with a unique Physique that you can consummate with and gain a few things. You know of Dual Cultivation, yes? Your rate of progression will be even faster if you find someone who somewhat complements you.>

Lavalliere inserted her words freely once more as at this same time...

THUCK!

A massive Infinite Reality Passage was added on as after a fourth cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique was completed, 3 more spots opened up as Noah continued ceaselessly!

His will focused on Lavalliere as she mentioned something interesting for a second time now.

"My rate of progression is already something even LEGENDS at the highest Stratas will probably never reach, how will consummating with unique existences with special Physiques augment this even further?"

His eyes held a light of interest as he could peer across his destiny and Fate, and they showed they could be something in this field as well!

<Across the Ages, there have been some groups who have used this method mainly to rise in power as they formed unique Dual Cultivation techniques to complement themselves. In the Age of Chaos, existences with Mythical Natural Born Physiques and other Types of Physiques and Foundations were even sought after and hunted by those who wanted to exceed all stages of their Stratas as this method became renowned in that Age. Alas, time has come and gone as it is different in every Age...>

<Well, all my words right now are just that as you can see what I mean first hand by consummating with your harem right now after your body has achieved this state. Let's see...switch more of your Will over that clone that's just relaxing right now.>

THUCK! THUCK!

2 more Infinite Reality Passages formed as the maximum 31 were reached before Noah exceeded the Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique any further, his body shining with even more radiance as most of his Will switched over to a True Sanguine Clone that was in the Novus Universe of the past Primordial Cosmos.

This clone had the task of just enjoying life with Noah's people as while his main body and other clones were undergoing ridiculous strengthening and building of his foundation, this clone was relaxing with Noah's family by spending time with Amelia and Henry or his women!

Currently, Noah's clone was reclined on a huge beach bed that was pulsing with vibrant waves of essence- this being an Enlightened Sui Generis Primordial Relic he had forged- and it was actually resonating with the body of the True Sanguine Clone that was letting out waves of a essence that were barely a tenth of Noah's main body.

The Relic seemed like a resplendent white and blue castle that could expand and shrink in size, hazy white curtains swaying peacefully with the wind of the cerulean blue skies attaches to it on all four sides.

Beside Noah on the Primordial Relic Beach Bed were the figures of Barbatos and Elena, and further away in front of them- the figures of Adelaide, Anna, Halcyon, Athena, and others could be seen in beach attire as they were moving around an enormous Primordial Relic Grill that was floating on top of the radiant white sandy beach while releasing a stellar radiance- golden-colored flames burning below it as massive metal skewers that were cooking the thighs of a Royal Cosmic Wolf that Noah had brought back could be seen!

Each one had their own radiant colored hair that ranged from the blue of Adelaide to the red of Anna to the golden shimmering hair flowing over the shoulders of Halcyon, each of these shocking women with world destroying figures and looks talking amongst each other while waiting for the thigh of a Ninth Firmament Royal Cosmic Adjudicator Wolf Commander to finish grilling as the skewers turned over the golden colored flames while releasing shocking glistening radiance.

The meat of a Ninth Firmament Royal Cosmic Wolf that had lived for millions of years held abundant essence and vital life force, the potent smell alone being something others couldn't deny.

An expanse of a blue sea lay before the white sandy beach that only they were on- Noah's True Sanguine Clone enjoying such a scene along as he rose at this moment after Lavalliere's words.

The body of his Clone reflected the Main Body as an illusion of the 1 Trillion Cosmos could be seen on him, the surging essence of the Infinite Reality Passages coiling around him as he glimmered radiantly!

Barbatos was shaking her head at the side with shining eyes while looking at him, while Elena's red eyes had a ravishing look in her shimmering white beach attire, her silver hair releasing a colorful light.

"Little Fish, you've been glowing like this for a while and releasing waves of life force...just what are you doing now?"

The petite figure of this devilish necromancer sat up beside Noah as he glanced at even his arms that were pulsing with essence before he replied nonchalantly.

"Just raising my foundations a little, I've finally broken past the Seventh Firmament like a few of you."

He spoke freely with a smile as before his words even fully finished, the Vampyre Queen Elena licked her lips beside him as she asked.

"Progenitor, may I?" Her pristine white fangs were already out as since Noah came to confirm the state of his body, he nodded to give her permission as she turned into a silver streak of light to appear behind him and sink her small mouth onto his neck!

She wouldn't have even been able to get past Noah's skin if he didn't allow it, but this girl got the permission to taste a bit of Noah's True Blood that had the surging imprints of VITALITY flowing into it as after just a second...

HOOONG!

Elena's figure was pushed back with a look of ecstasy as her Origin at the Cosmic Filament shone, hundreds of thousands of Cosmos beginning to form as Noah's Blood alone was akin to one absorbing a Shard of a Seed of Reality!

<This is just the effect of your Blood, try consummating and see how different that will be for them- even though the positive feedback for you won't be that beneficial since they don't hold a Mythical Natural Born Physique.>

Lavalliere's sonorous voice rang out in Noah's mind once more as he nodded, his eyes shining with brilliance as his mesmerizing voice rang out towards the far away Adelaide, Halcyon, and others who were focusing their eyes on the Royal Cosmic Wolf thighs that Noah was augmenting the cooking of with his own abilities from afar.

"Let's take a break to raise your realms for a second..."

His body pulsed with vibrant Essence of the far away Infinite Reality Passages, his hands grabbing on to the petite figure of Barbatos beside him as the loose golden robe Noah had on fell onto the Primordial Relic Beach Bed.

"Ah, Little Fish...!"

Barbatos stared at this unfolding situation with surprise as the others that were standing on the white sandy beach looked over, the Unnamed Kainos Emperor following the words of Lavalliere and trying to better understand the effects of Dual Cultivation that if they were shocking enough...he wouldn't mind seeking existences with Mythical Natural Born Physiques to forge himself even more!

Methods of progression that others had followed over the Ages and some groups might still be using even today...just how would it benefit Noah if he dipped his fingers into it as well?

A shocking scene that we must avert our eyes from began on the paradisiacal beach that Noah's True Sanguine Clone was on with the main bodies of his women, but not before Lavalliere's voice rang out as she observed Noah's visage amidst it all, particularly toward a certain area.

<Now that's just unnecessarily big...>

WAA!

Chapter 1778 Fortune, Fate, and Karma!

As his True Sanguine Clones affirmed the effects of another route of raising power, his Main Body continued forging his Physique as Sanguine Adequation took the already full Origin and burned its power into his Body- his Physique becoming more and more powerful as more Cycles were both to finish soon!

Noah's goal at this moment was figuring out what would arise after he exceeded the Tenth Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique.

The concept of a Mythical Natural Physique...he was curious to see if this was just an elevated form of the Infinite Dream Physique or whether it came with its own wonders!

OOOM!

The Infinite Reality Passages rained down rivers of essence as the True Sanguine Clones around him carried out their tasks, his focusing on something else as he waited for more Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique to complete.

His stellar body brimming with multicolored Essence raised one hand as a golden book unfurled from it, the Essence of Destiny beginning to permeate throughout as Noah wanted to peer into Fate and Destiny to get a better look at what was coming in this Unexplored Grotto Sanctum!

What fates were waiting for him? How could his fortune and destiny affect these Fates, and how would the strings of Karma come to affect everything?!

He wanted to better understand this as he called upon the Nomological Edict of the Dictum Emperor, and he went on further to call upon the newly forged Nomological Edicts of the Opulent Emperor, Pathfinder, and the Causal Nexus Emperor.

The four concepts of Fortune, Fate, Destiny, and Karma were closely interconnected with each other as the abilities that the newly forged Edicts of Opulent Emperor, Pathfinder, and the Causal Nexus Emperor brought weren't too different from those of the Dictum Emperor- simply with different names as their focus lay in Fortune, Fate, and Karma!

The Flames of the Opulent Emperor brought forth a Supreme Bloodline of the White Deer of Fortune, with the abilities worthy of note that didn't just passively augment his Fortune being <Flourishing Fortune> that allowed Noah to influence a particular Fate and increase its Fortune.

Another ability from the Opulent Emperor included <Fortune Snatcher> as Noah could snatch the Fortunes of other defeated beings to increase his own! An ability like this was universal across the other two Edicts geared towards Karma and Fate- allowing Noah to also steal the Fates and Karma of others!

The most important ability worthy of note from the Opulent Emperor though was something termed <A Touch of Fortune>.

<A Touch of Fortune>: An ability that causes immensely budding Fortune to permeate at a focused area, granting one a Reality altering effect of multiplying the results of an event by at least twice. It may succeed or fail as that is the play of Fortune- those with little Fortune might still gain while those with greater Fortune still have a chance of losing. To increase the probability of the Touch of Fortune granting its effect, it can be paired with abilities geared towards Destiny, Fate, and Karma. A Touch of Fortune can be utilized once a day and costs 90% of all current reserves of Fortune...

A Touch of Fortune! It was an ability that even its description wasn't too clear on its effects, and Noah wanted to see its results as he would try it on an event that was about to happen soon to his body!

The Nomological Edicts of Pathfinder and Causal Nexus Emperor had similar notable abilities just like this that could alter the result of an event, abilities respectively termed <A Touch of Fate> and <A Touch of Karma> as Noah designed their names to be similar to their possible effects, with their usage also being restricted to once a day.

And similar to the Opulent Emperor, the Edicts of Pathfinder and Causal Nexus Emperor had an ability similar to <Flourishing Fortune> that influenced particular paths he wanted to take by lulling upon the strings of Fate and Karma!

Their Flames of Edicts each also granted the Supreme Bloodlines of the Golden Dragon of Fate and the Lunar Karmic Rabbit.

These concepts were designed together as their abilities were very similar and respective to their own fields, Noah's goal being for them to complement destiny and take him to even greater heights!

"So..."

His eyes released vibrant splendor as he was ready to test one ability out.

As he saw the flow of essence due to Sanguine Adequation that propelled his Cycles of the Infinite Dream Physique to finish ever faster, he could feel the Fifth Cycle nearing completion!

Towards its completion, Noah's body began to shine with a white gold light as he pulled upon 90% of all the fortune within his body, his visage tyrannical as he called out lightly.

"A Touch of Fortune."

HUUM!

Boundless waves of white gold light permeated on Noah's body as the targeted event came to fruition.

<The Fifth Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique has been completed.>

BZZZT!

Golden fortune permeated this 'event' as <A Touch of Fortune> came to fully bathe Noah's visage!

A skill geared towards achieving a Reality altering effect of at least twice the original results of an event- and it could succeed or fail.

<Immense fortune has surged into the completion of a Cycle!>

WAA!

<Fortune has successfully flourished!>

<The Sixth Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique has been completed.>

HUUM!

Yes!

This was the effect Noah envisioned as when A Touch of Fortune or the other two similar abilities from Fate and Karma were activated- the positive reality of an event could be multiplied!

This caused the Fifth Cycle to be completed as due to the casting of A Touch of Fortune, the Sixth Cycle was simultaneously completed soon after.

<More Runic Ecriptions of DREAM begin to surround you as the completion of the Fifth and Sixth Cycles Increases your Maximum Reserves of Dream Essence to 2,500,000. The current DREAM Ecriptions allow for the passive daily generation of 1,250,000 Units of Dream Essence.>

Glorious radiance continued to flash out as Noah smiled devilishly.

His stellar visage was astounding to look at as above him, the 32nd Infinite Reality Passage formed as it seemed the 10th Cycle of the Infinite Dream Physique would be achieved relatively quickly- with there being two more Reality altering abilities of Fate and Karma similar to A Touch of Fortune that he had yet to utilize!

<Opulent Emperor>:: ...A concept geared towards Fortune as its Flames grant the Supreme Bloodline of the White Deer of Fortune. Abilities include <Flourishing Fortune>, <Fortune Snatcher>, <A Touch of Fortune>, <Eye of Fortune>...

<Pathfinder>:: ...A concept geared towards Fate as its Flames grant the Supreme Bloodline of the Golden Dragon of Fate. Abilities <Flourishing Fate>, <Fate Snatcher>, <A Touch of Fate>, <Eye of Fate>...

<Causal Nexus Emperor>:: ...A concept geared towards Karma as its Flames grant the Supreme Bloodline of the Lunar Karmic Rabbit. Abilities include <Flourishing Karma>, <Karma Snatcher>, <A Touch of Karma>, <Eye of Karma>...

Chapter 1779 Old Monsters From the Past Age! I

Noah's body was shining with increasing radiance as he finished his preparations, time moving in the outside Realities as many beings were setting off to prepare.

In the Pure Blooded Domains of the Royal Humans, Brightborn stood outside the cluster of many Realities in this domain as he stood on the helm of a glorious purple ship that released terrifying waves of TABOO essence.

A TABOO Vessel!

It shone with utmost radiance as it was the size of a Cosmos currently, but it could expand to be even larger than Realities!

The small figure of the LEGEND Brightborn had his eyes shining with shocking power as he spoke lightly to a medallion in his hands.

"Little Gen, you and the others can come outside the Peninsula Observatory to board the . We will be starting our trip soon...and we will have some guests joining us as we make our way towards the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum."

WAA!

Guests.

Even more terrifying existences at the peak of power in the Firmaments of Ascendancy...but what did this truly mean?

Not too long after Brightborn's words, the figures of Empress Genevieve, Beatrix, and Noah appeared as they floated across the starless space towards the glimmering purple vessel.

The figures of Emperor Namur and his followers also appeared as after deliberation, this future candidate ruler was the only one accompanying Genevieve who wanted to seek a greater foundation on the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum, George and Roseanne choosing to remain behind as they didn't want to risk anything!

They might return as even more powerful victors from the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum...but what if they perished? If in the case that Genevieve or Namur who were entering this place seeking opportunities actually perished- it would also mean their paths to become a Bloodline Master became that much smoother!

WAA!

The Ninth Firmament existences and very few at the Eighth Firmament boarded the TABOO Vessel as they paid their respects to the Visage of the LEGEND Brightborn at the very forefront who had his hands clasped behind his back.

After the party of Empress Genevieve and Emperor Namur, over 5 prominent Adjudicator Legions filled with Ninth Firmament powerhouses of the Royal Humans appeared and bowed respectfully before boarding the massive regal purple ship, forming into neat rows as they barely filled up half of it currently.

It had a smooth deck that everyone currently stood on, with glittering purple gold stairs leading down from the first deck and into many lower decks that held private lodgings and even an expansive ballroom the size of a universe within.

There were no groups of Will Bearers in this region of the Pure-Blooded Domains of the Royal Humans, Adjudicator Legions holding most influence here as a few recognized ones were allowed to join this venture.

The figures of the parties of Genevieve and Namur stood side by side behind Brightborn, Noah mixed in among these beings as those near him could feel vibrant waves of life-force pulsing from his body!

They attributed this to his recent Bloodline Baptism as Noah currently had the form of a Pure Arch-Royal Human who had a single wing floating powerfully behind him, his figure sculpted and built as it seemed more handsome than many of the men there- even putting Emperor Namur a bit lower. The waves of essence he was releasing were the result of him suppressing the results of his current foundation as much as possible- not being a percentage of his true aura as even this exceeded any other men on this vessel!

Yet the face of Namur held a light smile as he and many others gazed around them.

An enormous purple gold sail rose from the center of this that everyone stood on as even after everyone boarded, it remained anchored in space without moving.

This was because one being had yet to arrive!

Namur's golden hair flowed serenely as he spoke towards Brightborn with a smile.

"Uncle Brightborn, we are still waiting for someone else?"

Yes.

Everybody had arrived and boarded the vessel for the past few minutes, but they still remained as one important figure had not made their descent!

Brightborn had a sharp expression flash over his eyes at this as he simply nodded without even turning his head towards Namur's question.

Many things were at stake for what was to come as Brightborn had even mentioned that there would be a few Guests joining them on their way into the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum!

Before they could set off towards these 'Guests', they still had to have all those from this region of the Pure Blooded Domains board as at this moment- a single existence that overshadowed many of those here had still not arrived!

The eyes of Genevieve flashed powerfully at this as one could only see her solidified crown, and the visage of Noah turned to gaze towards a certain direction at this moment.

...CRACK!

Space began to tremble and crack apart like it was made up of Mirrors, a terrifying bestial aura blooming from it as the fair hands of an existence tore space apart to appear!

Space trembled as she fully stepped aura, her wild aura becoming contained as the visage of a fair young woman adorned in a glimmering thin silver armor stepped out. Her silver white hair shone in the starless space as her red lips could shock weak beings, her pupils shifting with a myriad of colors as they seemed glazed with Mirror Essence.

She was dominantly beautiful and had an aura that others couldn't seem to match- a bearing that even the LEGEND Brightborn at the helm of the ship couldn't release!

The most shocking thing of all was the fact that above her head, a solidified crown floated serenely as the astounding ecriture of <SACRALIZED> pulsed with pristine white waves of essence and seemed to press down with shocking pressure onto everyone nearby!

"Apologies for being late, Uncle."

Her words were light as she floated forward to land on the ship besides the figure of Genevieve, everyone looking towards her with shock and reverence as even the LEGEND Brightborn seemed lost in thought for a second while gazing at her and the ecritures of the crown above her.

These letters seemed to have appeared overnight as they held shocking meaning, many shocking thoughts flashing in the eyes of even Brightborn as he hid a light of greed and envy when he gazed at the figure of Katelyn!

An existence whose body held too many things that even LEGENDS from the Main Reality had sought her out.

But her Father held a shocking identity as her mother was even a TABOO to speak of, with a major reason for the uniqueness Katelyn had coming from this mother whose Origins stemmed from the Mirror Dimension as far as everyone knew!

The Mirror Dimension that held its own terrifying powers at its depths as ancient existences superseding multiple Ages lived and reigned.

The Mirror Dimension that Primordials had a small foothold in as their Domains within this Dimension were barely situated in their deeper areas!

Everything about the history of this young woman before them was shocking as Brightborn's will hid his thoughts as he smiled.

"Not late at all. Let's head out!"

OOOOM!

His words were accompanied by the vibrant Purple Endeavor brightening up and becoming covered by boundless spatial light, turning into a regal streak that tore across space!

Chapter 1780 Old Monsters From the Past Age! II

The journey would be long as there were multiple stops to make.

The Pure Blooded Domains of the 5 Cardinal Royal Bloodlines stretched out with the Main Reality at the center, where one would progressively find more and more clusters of Realities as well as Grotto Sanctums the closer they were to the Main Reality.

This would also be accompanied by increasingly powerful forces, especially in the Main Reality where the past Bloodline Rulers of the Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodlines took positions as Representatives of their Bloodlines in the Primordial Alliance!

In the past Era, there was the Olden Alliance that contained Representatives of Ancient Bloodlines among many others.

In this new Age and Era- there was the established Primordial Alliance that held the true power of the Primordials, with the past Bloodline Masters of Primordial Bloodlines being the Representatives who enjoyed great status in the Main Reality!

These beings ascended their duties as mere Bloodline Masters when they became LEGENDS, their pathway smoothly going forward to give them positions as Representatives.

They instituted the laws and way of life from the Main Reality that all Bloodlines in the Infinite Realities had to follow!

With the Main Reality at the center and the Domains of the 5 Pure-Blooded Cardinal Royal Bloodlines stretching out all around, what followed thereafter was the domains of Cardinal Royal Bloodlines like the Royal Cosmic Wolves and then the domain of beings who were graced with the Primordial Bloodline like the Celestial Vines.

Past these Realities...one came across Unexplored lands and Realities that over the countless years- the Primordials had continued expanding their reach into!

The Purple Endeavor that Brightborn currently led wasn't going towards the Main Reality where the core power of Primordials was concentrated, and it was actually making its way towards the opposite direction where unexplored Realities stood.

The purpose of this were the so called 'Guests' that Brightborn mentioned.

Aboard the Purple Endeavor that was shooting across the veils of space.

Noah's figure was standing beside Beatrix as he watched a calm and unfettered visage of Adjudicator Katelyn who was currently replying to Genevieve's questions on the ridiculous change of going from a solidified crown to one that had the ecriture <SACRALIZED> rotating around it in what seemed like just a day!

'Did she break her Limits in an Aspect and forge multiple TABOO Edicts? In the period of a day?'

Noah had a level of skepticism as he had yet to meet someone who could perform terrifying feats in a short period of time like him!

<Wow, this girl is something else.>

WAA!

At this time, Lavalliere's voice echoed out as it actually held a hint of amazement when talking about Katelyn.

It was known in the Pure-Blooded Domains of the Royal Humans that Adjudicator Katelyn was a terrifying figure who held a Mythical Natural Born Physique that even LEGENDS sought after, so Noah had naturally thought of her when Lavalliere had begun mentioning Dual Cultivation!

Katelyn had also seen something with him as she helped him when obtaining the Refinement Techniques in the Bloodline Treasury, giving him a warning also if he ever sought to harm her Bloodline and those around her.

'What do you think, is she a good candidate?' Noah spoke freely with Lavalliere as her reply caused his eyes to shine with splendor.

<Well, yes and no. She is like a hot potato...I don't know whether you'll be able to handle the consequences if you do anything to her. And that's if she'll even show interest towards you...Hmm, hey- do you think you can easily make her fall for you? She's not like all the girls around you who need someone to save them, where even you might not be able to suppress her unless you go all out.>

HUUUM!

Lavalliere's words were biting and ruthless as Noah stroked his chin while replying lightly.

'I'm young, handsome, with a decent personality and a great Destiny. More than likely I'll also take the seat of the True Emperor in the future...and I've already got a cute Son and a few other women around me...I'm a catch, right?'

Noah nodded as he thought about himself, Lavalliere leaving him to his thoughts for a few seconds as he continued.

'And why is she a hot potato?'

<Her Lineage is unique even in the Mirror Dimension, tracing back to...- ah, look at me incurring karma and speaking without any Uses. Hey big guy, the chains around me are getting tighter if I blurt out information with no cost being paid. Just know that chasing her will be somewhat difficult.>

Lavalliere seemed fed up of speaking as she went quiet, Noah's eyes flashing with a Tyrannical light of confidence as he nodded while gazing at the speaking figures of Katelyn and Genevieve! Coincidentally, the glazed pupils of this existence turned over to his direction as she locked onto his eyes...her gaze even rising to lock onto the empty spot above his head where his crown should be but was hidden away by LETHE!

The glazed mirror eyes of this unique existence seemed to see and reflect all things that others couldn't as she seemingly raised her brows to Noah while she continued speaking to Genevieve with a light smile.

HUUUM!

Around this time, the Purple Endeavor slowed down as the surging spatial lights cleared up, Brightborn controlling this TABOO Treasure to come to a stop.

BZZT!

They were actually in a tumultuous region within the Boundary Between Realities, baleful storms of Aether constantly tearing apart and reforming space as the tendrils of essence even ripped space to a white blankness!

It was an utterly dangerous location to be in as even Noah's eyes lit up when gazing at the surroundings, these tendrils of Aether that could each rival an attack from A Legend's Visage actually being a mere natural phenomenon.

The figure of Purple Endeavor TABOO Relic released a profound glow of power as it wondrously pulsed aside the storms of baleful aether that some Ninth Firmament existences on this vessel stared at with hardened expressions.

They arrived in such a place as Brightborn spoke out freely while gazing at the depths of this unique Domain Space.

"It is time."

OOOM!

His words reached to the depths of this Unstable Aether Domain that had snaking tendrils of aether, something actually reacting and beginning to float out towards the ship as a shockingly animalistic aura of a deadly beast pervaded outwards!

It shockingly seemed to rival an aura of a beginner LEGEND even though it wasn't, the waves of power being powerful and concentrated but still in the Firmaments of Ascendancy!

BZZZT!

With a flash of light and speed other beings couldn't even capture, a figure instantly moved from the Aether storms to appear aboard the Purple Endeavor in front of Brightborn.

Glorious in power, it was a shocking beast in human form as one could see a devilishly handsome man clad in a crackling purple armor appear- his eyes filled with age and vicissitude as he looked to be in his golden age of 40s!

But this existence had inevitably lived for many billions of years as above his head, one could shockingly see a purple ecriture of <EMPEROR> circling a solidified crown and releasing pulses of authoritative light that inadvertently caused the 5 Adjudicator Legions in the back of the Purple Endeavor to nearly kneel.

His expression was wild and ferocious as he stared at Brightborn without an ounce of respect, nodding to him as if he was a peer as his voice was filled with weight and power as he nodded.

"As promised."

WAA!

One of the 'Guests' that Brightborn had invited to enter the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum appeared as such beings were existences that held shocking identities.

They weren't bothered by power and identities as they were geniuses from the past Age- existences that had chosen to repress their Realm and remain in the Cosmic Filament Realm since the last Age as they never broke through!

They had been patiently waiting and forging their foundations as when entering a new Age, they exceeded their Limits and obtained increased authority that their peers who had become LEGENDS would have a hard time obtaining.

This was why Brightborn's solidified crown was blank and barely beginning to form an Ecriture, while this being who seemed like a beast born of Aether shockingly had the word <EMPEROR> rotating gloriously on his solidified crown.

He was a monstrous genius from the Olden Era that had repressed himself until now, ready to explode with a shocking foundation and power as a mere wave of his hands seemed capable of releasing arcs of Aether that were comparable to the might of a LEGEND!

His gaze was apathetic as he walked past Brightborn and into the Purple Endeavor, his eyes landing on everyone here as they screamed of arrogance and power- and he could truly back up such a gaze!

He gazed at everyone as if they were mere children before his eyes, about to flash towards the descending purple gold stairs to isolate himself in the lower decks until this vessel arrived at the Unexplored Grotto Sanctum when his eyes happened to pass over the visage of none other than Adjudicator Katelyn.

HOOONG!

Lustrous light bloomed from his eyes as a trace of shock appeared, which then turned into greed and excitement as this shocking being turned into a streak of light towards her in an instant!
