

Mana 2031

Chapter 2031 Resumption! L

His visage was mixed in with multiple Dimensional Rulers that stared down Abominations that only increased in number.

Behind his sandy gold throne, a swarm of Grotto Haven Beasts began to spill out as it was a terrific force to wield!

And yet...even here, Noah did not have full confidence.

Because the enemies were unkillable Beasts that rejected nearly everything about the fabric of Reality. Because the enemies had even caused a extremely old Dimensional Ruler to retreat into the Absolute Kainos Dream Dungeon!

'Then...lets make a few more breakthroughs. Let the Fourth Dimensional Layer begin to form...'

So Noah had a simple thought.

Previously, he thought of remaining with three Dimensional Layers for at least a day or two so he could produce many Kainos Royal Cosmos within his Origin that he would have his people consume.

Every 100 Trillion Kainos Royal Cosmos of a respective Decretum consumed by others...would grant 25% forceful understanding of that decretum!

And just hours ago, it was established that the cost of forging Kainos Royal would always match the cost of the highest achieved Dimensional Layer when it came to Grotto Panaceas. If Noah produced Cosmos for others to devour before he forged the Fourth Dimensional Layer, the cost would be bearable and remain at the production of 375 Billion Kainos Royal Cosmos for a single Grotto Panacea. If he did this after the Fourth Dimensional Layer was forged, a single Grotto Panacea could only grant 47 Billion Cosmos as for 100 Trillion Kainos Royal Cosmos, he would need over 2136 Grotto Panaceas!

But...then the Golden Dimensional Reality Panaceas came along.

For this fantastical loot, it didn't matter how many more layers he forged- for his first 3 Dimensional Layers, the effect would always be a thousand fold the effect of a single Grotto Panacea to forge the Kainos Royal Cosmos of Dream, Prana, and Avalon! This effect cushioned the blow of resource cost and made it bearable for Noah.

And its effects for the Fourth Layer upto the Sixth Layer...was equivalent to the effects of 100 Grotto Panaceas.

Then from the Quintessential Treasure Cache, 50 Obsidian Dimensional Reality Panaceas appeared.

Just what were their effects?

The Will of the Main Body came to full focus.

In the Expansive Space, he stared at the stellar singularities of 50 sleek and stellar obsidian flower like Panaceas whose darkness brightened up everything.

<Obsidian Dimensional Reality Panacea>:: As promised and told before, the Golden Dimensional Reality Panacea was not the Grotto Panacea's ultimate form. The form of an Obsidian Dimensional Reality stands above the Panacea with the designation of Golden, with a single Obsidian Dimensional Reality Panacea being equivalent to the effects of 1,000 Grotto Panaceas when applied to anything past the Third Dimensional Layer. If being utilized to form cosmic singularities in any of the first three established layers, their rate of equivalency becomes 10,000 to 1. A Single Obsidian Dimensional Reality Panacea is sufficient to bring an existence who has never even stepped on any Realm of Power all the way to the Origin of a Grotto Haven with its pure and stable essence. The effects of the next tier of evolution will not follow the same sequence as they are bound to surprise you...

"..."

Pure wonder lay in his Expansive Space just waiting for him to utilize.

For Noah's path of forming 9 Dimensional Layers, his resource cost only increased crazily the further up he went.

He needed 267 Grotto Panaceas to form his Third Dimensional Reality before he increased its required Cosmos to 200 Trillion and raised this number to 534. For the Fourth Dimensional Layer, the cost was multiplied by 8 times as the usefulness of Grotto Panaceas was reduced by this number- so he would have required 4272 Grotto Panaceas!

When Golden Dimensional Reality Panaceas came with their 100 times equivalency, he only needed 42.7 of such Loot. And now with the advent of Obsidian Dimensional Reality Panaceas, he would only need 4.2+ or such loot!

It was a fantastical numbers game as he could fully forge his Fourth Dimensional Layer, with his stock of Golden Dimensional Reality Panaceas gained from the Nightwalker and 48 Suzerain Traitors from the Avalon Dimension granting him 490 Golden Panaceas.

The Fifth Dimensional Layer required 16 times the resources as Noah would need 684 Golden Panaceas...or 68 Obsidian Panaceas.

When he put together his total number of Golden and Obsidian Panaceas, it meant he could entirely forge both the Fourth and Fifth Dimensional Layers at this time!

And so, he waited no longer.

"Designate the Mirror Dimension as the Fourth Dimensional Layer."

WAA!

In the Dimensional Holy Land, Noah retained his stellar human form as he sat on the Throne of Quintessential Tyranny and spoke domineeringly.

His Origin vibrated as around him, he first released Golden Dimensional Reality Panaceas as the Seas of dense essence became entirely tinged gold.

Before proceeding with any Dimensional Layer- he had to have a strong enough connection to do so as he had to at least be able to generate the Essence of this Dimension to form the Dimensional Reality Seed!

For the aspect of the Mirror Dimension, he had attained the VENERABLE Bloodline of the Imperial Dimensional Mirare Lineage- one of the two reigning Lineages within the Mirror Dimension that held multiple Dimensional Rulers at the very peak!

Along with the Mythical Natural Born Sacral Mirror Physique that was already devoured by his Mythical Natural Born Infinite Mana Physique, Noah had met the conditions of generating Mirror Essence.

HUUM!

So the Mirror Dimensional Reality Seed began its formation.

But this wasn't all.

Noah's eyes still carried a trace of unbound tyranny as to prepare for the fight to come, there was still one more thing he had to accomplish.

He waved his hands as from the Expansive Space, 490 Universal Nature Crystals disappeared and came to flourish before him- this also being Loot from 49 slain Suzerains!

Now, he wanted to designate it towards a special Natural Law that would aid him a great deal in what was to come.

A Fundamental Natural Law!

Chapter 2032 Resumption! LI

Others needed millions and billions of years of progression to achieve powerful realms and fully understand Natural Laws of Reality.

This number fluctuated even more for Fundamental Natural Laws!

But Noah's progression was a unique one.

For him, so long as he had the resources- he could elevate himself upwards exponentially. And the caveat was that he had forged a Concept that granted him Increased Loot Quantity and Quality- which granted him a multiplication effect of his already ridiculous Loot.

And then...there was the fact that he was following multiple story lines at the same time.

He had multiple Clones taking care of what would be designated as <Challenges and Ordeals> of the Hero's Journey, and each one granted its own boons as he didn't need a period of even years!

In fact, in the past day...he had gone from power on the Stratas of Reality to now touching upon the cusp of Nature Integration.

Yes.

On the cusp of it!

The Realm of Grotto Haven was pristinely powerful, and yet he had breezed through it in a matter of hours!

Existences at the Grotto Haven stage could initiate Damage Values of 1 Trillion...and scale up to be as powerful as 100 Trillion.

The discrepancy between this stage was so wide because even among Peak Grotto Haven Suzerains, one might only be capable of releasing a range of 30-40 Trillion Damage Values while another could release a range upwards of 90+ Trillion. The only distinction between them...was the number of Decreta and Natural Laws understood as this could fluctuate one's capabilities greatly.

With his Base Damage Values from his 3 Dimensional Layers, Physique, and the multipliers from his Ascendancy Stanchions, Decreta, and Natural Laws among many things...Noah had already exceeded the number 100 Trillion when he eradicated the weakened and bound Heliotrope Lion Emperor.

He could be considered to be deviating from the range of Damage Values of a normal Suzerain, but he also was not a match for Nature Integration experts as he did not yet fit in that Realm!

He was in his own defined space.

And the already ridiculous Damage Value he could achieve now...would soon change greatly as he forged his Fourth and Fifth Dimensional Layer, and then fully optimized his Ascendancy Stanchions by adding Amalgamated Edicts to fill the full 120 Slots of a single Stanchion.

And Noah went even further as he now wanted to complete a Fundamental Natural Law!

And the day....was not even over.

By the end of this day, it was hard to say which stage Noah would reach!

So he took calm strides forward as apart from the 490 Universal Nature Crystals that would equate to 24.5% into any Fundamental Natural Law, he also took out the 4 Pure Quintessential Kainos Natural Decretum Seeds that he had been playing with destiny on where they should be utilized.

The most opportune time had come now as these 4 seeds could grant 100% into any Natural Law or Decretum...or 50% into any Fundamental Natural Law!

This was 74.5% when fully added together.

Due to bringing to fruition wisps of Absolute Mana Authority when utilizing Absolute Avalon Authority, Noah's understanding of Manadynamics was propelled forcefully to 25%.

When added together with what he could achieve with the Universal Nature Crystals and the 4 Pure Quintessential Kainos Natural Decretum Seeds...he was at 99.5%!

Just shy of full understanding!

But...this was where Noah's Quintessential Dimensional Infinite Reality Passages came in.

Noah had designated Manadynamics as the target of their 11.5% passive daily increase in percentages as Noah knew sometime very soon, the remaining .5% would fill by itself naturally.

There was also the fact that while progressing in the Fundamental Natural Law of Manadynamics...he could attain something termed the Mana Heart!

So he forged forward.

A radiant silver light spread out as the Dimensional Reality Seed of the Fourth Dimension took form, and Noah tugged upon the 4 Pure Quintessential Kainos Natural Decretum Seeds and 490 Universal Nature Crystals as he swallowed them all.

HUUUM!

A symphony of glory and grandeur resounded out as on top of the radiant silver light showing the birth of the Mirror Dimensional Reality, the pristine cerulean light of Mana churned and began to burn around Noah's body as the Fundamental Natural Law of Manadynamics surged up in understanding!

He sought to fully grasp Absolute Mana Authority.

He sought for even more Dimensional Layers and levels of power that gazed with disdain at the Realm Progression currently followed by everyone!

He sought even faster levels of progression as why should he cap himself to making great progress in a single day when he could further bring this down to mere hours?!

WAA!

Storms of essence surged in the Dimensional Holy Land and Noah's stellar visage was drowned by the vibrant Seas of essence, the very fabric of Reality beginning to resonate around him as he surged in understanding of a crucial Fundamental Natural Law!

While a certain existence powered up even more for what was to come, his challenger had a solemn look in the Dream Dimension as he approached a certain target.

Having been separated from the Legion of Abominations, Bjorn had taken a few minutes to recollect himself and collect the rest, the strength of his Will to control these terrifying creatures already drained by half as he quickly sought to end the life of the Dreamer of Providence!

His eyes scrutinized the scene before him when he saw the torn domain and a huge monolith rising to the hazy gold skies as he came across the Absolute Kainos Dream Dungeon.

With tens more of Abominations following him, he made a few calculations and connected his will to the other separated Abominations, confirming their location as he soon turned into a streak of light that surged forward!

A legion followed with him as space became twisted and torn, the normal route to the Boss Room of the Absolute Kainos Dream Dungeon not being followed as Bjorn would arrive in a relatively short period of time.

Such a short period of time that when he neared, he could very quickly begin to feel the auras of not just the Dimensional Ruler he was chasing...but the rising auras of multiple Dimensional Rulers!

His eyes flickers as his gaze became solemn.

BZZT!

He still cut across space as soon enough, his figure appeared behind a row of Abominations that were growling menacingly towards the opposing end of a wide golden hall that held a terrifying display of beings.

The Dreamer of Providence he was chasing as well as...

5 other Dimensional Rulers shining with the aura of Avalon!

As well as a Legion of Grotto Haven Suzerains also shining with the aura of Avalon!

And in the midst of this all, a man sat upon a golden throne adorned in gold, and an exact replica of him adorned entirely in purple and holding a resplendent purple Sword stood beside him.

A hazy grandeur of essence currently covered the forms of these gold and purple figures as Bjorn couldn't fully focus on them- the auras of a total of 6 Dimensional Rulers taking that much more precedence in his eyes!

Seeing such a scene, Bjorn made many crucial moves.

One of the first was to communicate with the ecriture of <I> on his hand.

Beings like him had lived for an extremely long time. They out aside any thoughts of pride and probability as with the Legion he led, even if he still had the capability to mitigate the authorities of multiple Dimensional Rulers, there were still too many unknowns.

Bjorn wanted to eliminate any unknowns that could affect the coming future with nothing else but brute strength!

So before the battle even began, he touched upon a signal.

He sent word across the spacetime continuum as he reached towards the figure he was under in authority. He instantly reached out to a Member of the Tribunal to let him know of these unexpected developments and the involvement of Avalonian Dimensional Rulers in the Dream Dimension!!!

It was an action that would cause for the conception of a disastrous and cataclysmic battle with extremely heavy consequences!

Chapter 2033 Cruciality! L

The scene was disastrously tense the moment that Bjorn arrived.

His visage was wild and unfettered as standing before multiple Dimensional Rulers, he instantly covered his body clad in Absolute Gravitational Authority as he knew the lightest touch and authority from a Nature Integration Realm experts would be deadly against him- and having multiple before him meant he had to be all the more careful!

ROAAR!

Two Abominations in the forms of Celestial Apes covered his defensively as he was ready to utilize their power at any moment to stand against the might of Dimensional Rulers.

He still had confidence as he knew the obscene power of the Legion of Abominations he carried. But...he would never simply rely on confidence when facing beings who had fully comprehended Fundamental Natural Laws and more.

He would rely on the power behind him as while he made multiple preparations, the biggest one was the ecriture of <I> shining brilliantly on the back of his hand.

It granted him the authority over this Legion of Abominations, but he wasn't the main holder of this authority. There was the existence who granted him access.

There was the Tribunal Ruler...Aegon.

A signal traversed across space and time.

It ignored any possible restrictions from the domain of the Absolute Kainos Dream Dungeon and the Dream Dimension entirely as it carried a radiant gray light, crossing into the folds of the Desolate Mausoleum and arriving at the depths of the Main Reality!

Inside a massive Empyral Domain of Nature that spanned the size of too many Sanctums, an existence adorned in simple white robes opened his eyes while the Essence of Entropy, Relativity, and Manadynamics calmed down around him.

His hair was pristinely black and flowing behind him in a wild fashion, his bronze face carrying exquisite handsomeness that would dazzle the eyes of all!

His eyes showed Age and experience of billions of years as the Absolute Authority of three Fundamental Natural Laws danced around him, the number of normal Natural Laws he had fully grasped unknown as he gave a glimpse to what the title of a Tribunal Ruler meant.

Free and unfettered access to the Main Empyral Domain of Nature at the center of the Main Reality!

Access that allowed them to easily bathe in the essence of Natural Laws and Fundamental Natural Laws in a way no other beings in the Desolate Mausoleum or in the 9 Dimensions could enjoy!

It allowed them to accumulate shocking power after the end of the Age of Destiny to the current period of time.

This being opened his eyes at this juncture as when he flipped his hand, an ecriture of <I> adorned with golden grandeur and inscribed wings of authority was shining.

His will surged into it as his eyes flashed not too long after, eventually rising up to gaze towards a certain direction as they released a brilliant luster and sent a portion of his Will forward!

In no time, this portion of Will attracted the Essence of Fundamental Natural Laws and formed a body that materialized in an entirely new location.

When it opened its eyes, it was within the bounds of a dazzling throne burning with flames of authority that others could not even peer through.

It was here that his strong voice boomed out towards 11 other similar Thrones also blazing with fiery authority.

<My Representative has met not just one of the Dream Dimensional Rulers, but also the sudden reinforcements of 5 additional Dimensional Rulers- all of them from the Avalon Dimension.>

HUUM!

As he spoke, his throne released a radiant light that showed off a scene from the Dream Dimension.

A scene of piles of Mountainous treasures lining up towards a golden throne where two figures clad in gold and purple were near to- their faces covered by a hazy light of brilliance as they couldn't be seen at this moment!

But beside them..

<Guinevere, Arthus, Morgana, Merlin, and Galahad...I don't recall there being any strong connection with them and the Dreamer of Providence...>

...!

The voice of Tribunal Ruler Althea echoed out in its mesmerizing tone as they knew all the Dimensional Rulers shows before them!

After all, to overcome one's enemy, one had to know them the best.

<A single Legion is able to handle two to three Dimensional Rulers if an exceptional Commander is leading it...even if Bjorn fits this category and exceeds it, he still made the right choice to reach out. I propose...that we use this chance to fully begin our aims with the Dream Dimension, while at the same time taking down the strongest Rulers of the Avalon Dimension. I propose to send one of my bodies there.>

...!

A shocking assertion left Aegon's throne as it caused a slight silence to pervade the surroundings!

It was because his actions would mean many things.

Too many things!

<Our direct involvement will more than likely cause those in the Prana and Quantum Dimension to move with haste...not to mention Lilith.>

The voice of another Tribunal Ruler echoed out as Aegon remained silent.

This wasn't the voice he cared for the most as he waited, and he didn't wait too long as...

<What do you think?>

The mesmerizing voice of none other than the Eminent Mastermind, Noah, echoed out.

It seemed directed towards two other Tribunal Thrones that mainly retained their thoughts, but one spoke out at this moment in a feminine tone as it seemed to speak for the other as well.

<We cannot fear the start of the movements of our enemies when they are bound to move sooner or later. But if we do move, let us guarantee complete results. Have a body of Althea join this juncture as well.>

BOOM!

A surge of Providence exploded out that the perceptive eyes of all Tribunal Rulers picked up.

Aegon alone was overkill as he would be going and taking multiple Legions of Abominations with him.

One of his bodies alone would have been enough for them to achieve their aims as this particular Tribunal Ruler had actually proposed to send Althea to guarantee results!

Chapter 2034 Cruciality! LI

The Tribunal Rulers Aegon and Althea to be the ones to head into the Dream Dimension aside from a single Representative under Aegon!

It was utterly overkill, but the Tribunal knew not to play loosely with fate.

They were beings that understood Providence as even if the job could be more than completed with the visage of a single Tribunal Ruler, having a second one would do no harm.

Tribunal Ruler Althea sent her will from her Throne as she was in agreement.

Behind her blazing throne, a fair hand rose up and looked behind it at the vibrant runic ecriture <II> as her eyes flashed with many thoughts.

Away from her, Aegon affirmed his side as well while the voice to have brought forth this idea continued.

<Then...the two of you need to aim for the death all Dimensional Rulers in that enclosed domain, and the acceleration of the Apocalypse of the Dream Anchor.>

...!

<The moment one anchor falls, the others must soon follow. When you pass word of you victory and the fall of the 5 Avalonian Dimensional Rulers, we shall siege Avalon next.>

One terrifying set of words after another echoed out as the Tribunal Rulers were in agreement after the words a single mysterious existence among them.

The Siege of the Dimensional Rulers of the 9 Dimensions as eventually, they were going for the apocalypse of these Anchors! The meaning behind these actions were grand as the consequences were ones that would cause one to pause and ponder!

Then, there was the existence behind one of the blazing thrones that had brought this idea forward.

Just who was this Tribunal Ruler whose words weighed so heavily?

One of the few pieces of information that very few beings knew to this day was tied to her. Information that was only whispers of rumors in the ears of Primordial Grotto Haven existences but much more well known within the Tribunal.

The information that among those that OPPENHEIMER held dear...this Tribunal Ruler was among the very top!

But others didn't talk about this so freely.

After everything was decided, the chosen parties began to move.

The Wills within this unique domain remained dormant and active as in other locations, their Bodies began to move!

In the Main Empyral Domain of Nature, Tribunal Ruler Aegon was looking at a second version of himself when the aura of a heart shaking existence neared his position, the visage of Althea coming by as her striking red hair caused everything to brighten up.

She was adorned in a cerulean white crystalline battle Armament that vibrated with the Essence of Manadynamics, her hand carrying a massive and exquisite crimson bow that terrifically shone with Entropy!

<Ready to go?>

She calmly communicated with Aegon as he turned to nod towards her, the bodies of these Tribunal Rulers shining with Dream Essence as a gateway very quickly began to form before them!

The ecritures inscribed on their hands glimmered with a pristine light as while gazing at the forming gateway, the forms of gray scaled and gray furred Abominations began to rise behind them as they came out of their own enclosed domain.

They were even more massive and pristine as they seemed a tier greater than the Legion Bjorn controlled, titanic Abominations even being seen among their ranks as such a force...

BZZZT!

Began to surge towards a single location.

It was the use of an absolutely unstoppable force to achieve a single result.

A single ultimatum!

Across the spacetime continuum.

In a domain filled with Mirrors, Noah's Clone adorned himself in a tightfitting matte black shirt and pants as he stared out into the expanse of reflections around him.

His heart felt unsettled even as he crazily rose in power, with his Main Body having already made great progress in the Fourth Dimensional Layer as he could see the reflection of prompts already begin.

Yet Destiny was becoming hard to discern as Noah knew something crucial was about to unfold.

"You're okay?"

Behind him, Katelyn tied her silver hair up as she was adorned in a silver white battledress, her body released vibrant waves of life force and power as she was shockingly standing at the early stages of Grotto Haven!

She...an existence who had only formed her Reality not too long ago!

Her achieving this stage was a testament that wasn't mainly due to her talent and power, but to the extent of boons one could achieve when Dual Cultivating with Noah as his body truly was akin to a Panacea for others.

He didn't even need to spend an Obsidian Dimensional Reality Panacea to bring his women to this stage as with Katelyn reaching it, he was making sure others were receiving the same favor and treatment!

But even amidst all of this, he felt unsettled.

Katelyn came to stand beside him as he spoke out.

"Just the weaving of destiny becoming harder to read. Let's go. I'm curious to see how the two Lineages of the Mirror Dimension rule and how we can elevate you the fastest within their ranks..."

His eyes flashed with ingenuity as the pathway of this clone in the Mirror Dimension resumed after a lengthy break of Dual Cultivation.

Katelyn nodded with a light smile as the coldness and apathy in her eyes had reduced greatly, her figure beside Noah carrying a vibrant and refreshing feeling as she hadn't had a chance to be so carefree around anyone her whole life!

Her carefreeness was only dimmed when she thought of the state of her sister, but she kept this in the back of her mind as she moved forward.

The two of them began to float away from the crystalline castle they had been in all this time as at this juncture...

HOONG!

A blaring horn that only Noah could hear boomed out as a dark and heavy symphony began to resound.

Before the eyes of this clone, his Main Body, and all other Clones spread out across the Dimensions and Reality, a blaring prompt with crimson gold borders bloomed.

<Multiple Clones under you have advanced in the Hero's Journey as they are entering the [Point of Death and Rebirth]>

Chapter 2035 The Point Of Death And Rebirth! L

<Multiple Clones under you have advanced in the Hero's Journey as they are entering the [Point of Death and Rebirth]>

With glorious crimson gold borders, such a prompt appeared before all of Noah's bodies as his eyes turned utterly cold and somber.

The Point of Death and Rebirth.

For him, this concept was so far away and one that with all his plans- he should never come across!

The only time he could have considered himself following the path of the Point of Death and Rebirth was with the Devilish Unveiler who had shattered the very initial stages of his Infinite Reality.

The existence that had caused him to return back in time and change things to a different result.

Since that time, he always thought of multiple plans and contingencies in case plans failed- so he never truly expected to be pushed to the point of Death and Rebirth!

An example was the influx of multiple Abominations instead of one in the Dream Dimension.

He has already set in motion plans to bring the forces of Avalon into the Dream Dimension even before this change unfolded as when it did happen, he simply brought this event forward as he expected to extricate himself out of this situation!

But the weaving of destiny had changed again.

The waves of Providence took a different direction as even with all this, the Point of Death and Rebirth still came!

It meant disastrously powerful beings at the stage if Nature Integration were involved...or Legions of Abominations as these were the only things that could currently kill Noah.

He had to find out more information.

So the Will of his Main Body took control while a Mirror Dimensional Reality Seed bloomed to form a Fourth Dimensional Layer.

His Will surged with power as <I Am the Main Character> was activated, with Noah focusing on the <Point of Death and Rebirth> as he wanted to see just what this would entail!

In many stories, the death was metaphorical as the Hero would experience immense loss of those he cared about as he was broken down mentally, physically, and beaten down so hard until their very purpose was brought into question.

And at their lowest point.

At the stage of immense loss and grief, a powerful Rebirth would bloom as they became something their past selves could not compare to.

Their resolve would be stronger than ever as they would vow to never lose anything they cared about ever again!

<Fuck that.>

HUUUM!

Noah's will raged as he spoke with unyielding authority.

Even if conceptually, he was the Quintessential Kainos Emperor.

Even if Death of Clones would hurt his authority greatly, it would still not permanently harm him in the long run...he still did not wish to see it come to pass!

I Am the Main Character was activated.

Noah set the parameters as after the words of Guinevere, he set to omit any information he would attain if a Nature Integration expert was actively involved in it.

If such an existence was gazed at...they could gaze back at Noah and attain even more information about him!

So he simply wanted to see about himself.

HUUM!

A portion of Noah's consciousness was drawn out as he was taken to another scene entirely.

<<...The skies of the Dream Dimension did not hold their bright golden grandeur any longer.

The waves of sandy gold below were abysmal and lifeless as waves of deathly gray light covered everything.

In the midst of all this, the purple clad Avalon Dimensional Chassis wielded the Sword of Avalon as this Relic alone pulsed with an aura of Nature Integration after he utilized its hidden feature!

The Dream Dimensional Clone protected its back as its golden robe had lost some of its luster.

Both Clones did not maintain their usual luster as they had each already triggered <In the Darkest Hour>!

Their power had increased exponentially while having less than 25% True Vitality Values, but it still wasn't enough against them.

Even though he was gaining profound epiphanies in all this, it was still much too late as traversing across time against the very fabric of Reality that existences had bound themselves to was nigh impossible.

The Hidden Features of the Sword of Avalon couldn't aid him out of this deathly nexus event.

The presence of Avalonian Dimensional Rulers could not aid him as even they were fighting for their own lives right now!

The newly forged Forms of Annihilation Techniques...even they weren't enough.

The enemies were first powerful, and then there was a great number of them. This combination made it utterly deadly as even with high output abilities based on pure mana, it still wasn't enough to withstand waves of enemies that rejected the very fabric of Nature!

The only choice he saw was possibly the formation and completion of the Sixth Dimensional Layer as he would begin to integrate Decreta and Natural Laws.

But even this was too late.

The enemies did not follow the script.

They did not send weak followers in small amounts every time as the first force they sent was the strongest.

With methodical precision and power, this was the result.

The very fabric of the Dream Dimension was being torn apart as this Anchor that held down the Desolate Mausoleum was now accelerating towards an Apocalypse!

And he could only watch all this happen as a swarm of Abominations neared....>>

"..."

The Excerpt under the <Point of Death and Rebirth> finished as Noah's eyes retained their unyielding somber light.

This...was a possible pathway.

A decent chunk of information was missing as unknown existences were labeled <Them> instead of their identities being revealed, and this meant these existences were those leading the Abominations!

It meant extremely high-ranking Primordials were making their way over as apart from the Grotto Haven Suzerain that just appeared before Noah in the Boss Room, it meant someone above him was coming.

The only answer were those at the Nature Integration Realm- and multiple at that as it was labeled them!

Chapter 2036 The Point Of Death And Rebirth! L

If many of the cards that Noah had pulled out didn't work, it simply meant he had to play different cards.

If the path that would play out would follow the sequence of plans he had now, he would simply have to make a different set of plans!

If the Annihilation Techniques that he was currently finishing their design didn't grant a significant edge...

<Scrap the current Third and Fourth Forms of the Annihilation Techniques.>

His voice boomed out with authority as he began by overturning his strongest techniques!

He would design and forge even more ridiculous ones and see how the path would change.

And if the two Clones weren't enough...

BZZT!

His will sent out commands as the 2 Clones in the Apollyon Dimension halted their movements.

The Prana Dimensional Chassis also rose and bloomed with verdant life in the Dimensional Holy Land as even across the folds of space, it was ready to join the battle!

The clone in the Mirror Dimension had relayed a sense of this dangerous situation to Katelyn as after she heard it...

"Let me try and reach out to my Mother. It's something that may not lead to anything or even if aid comes, it may be too late- but the Dimensional Rulers of the Mirror Dimension are powerful."

...!

He pulled upon many strings!

The problem remained a matter of time as Noah believed if he could fully understand some of the newest loot he had just obtained like the Golden Forge and the Failed Modus Operandi of Reality Integration, he could fully turn this situation around!

But time was something he wouldn't be given.

So after all these preparations, his Will became pronounced once again with the Avalon and Dream Dimensional Bodies in the Boss Room of the Absolute Kainos Dream Dungeon.

The Avalon Dimensional Chassis turned towards Guinevere and the Avalonian Dimensional Rulers as he spoke out solemnly while gazing at the visage of Bjorn and tens of Abominations surging around him.

"This battle would have already been arduous enough, but it is about to get even more perilous. Nature Integration Primordials are on their way.. likely with even more Legions of Abominations."

<What?!>

Morgana raised her brows with unreadable emotions while Guinevere's eyes squinted carefully, her head eventually turning upwards as she seemingly tried to read the skies- Noah's voice continuing at the same time!

"See if you can spurn any more of the Avalonian Dimensional Rulers to come and help. And you..."

He also turned to the Old Dreamer who had his carefree expression wiped as he also seemed to have sensed something, the Essence of Providence swirling with even greater concentration around him as his gaze was turning sour.

"...you might already be discerning it, but I have seen a possible path for the future. Whatever force is coming here is not just targeting us- buy the entirety of the Dream Dimension. I saw the golden skies and vibrant sandy dunes of this domain gray and lifeless as this whole Dimension was accelerating towards an apocalypse!"

WAA!

"So whichever forces of the Dream Dimension remain...any other Dimensional Rulers- I would suggest calling for them to make their way here."

Domineeringly and without thinking, Noah spoke to Nature Integration Realm experts in a way he wouldn't have before, his words carrying a tone as if he was talking to peers instead of untouchable existences!

And it was something that didn't go unnoticed!

With the initial preparations out of the way, Bjorn was able to observe things more intricately and notice the minute details.

Details like the two hazy figures that were standing between the majesty of multiple Dimensional Rulers!

Details like the fact that the two of them seemed to have identical body structures to the very regal robes they wore, the only difference being their adornment of purple and gold.

And even more of a wield detail...was why one of them would be sitting on a throne while Nature Integration Realm existences stood up!

Bjorn's intuition instantly lit up with alarms as he focused on these two beings, especially the one holding a radiant purple Sword of Authority that his experience and knowledge about the Avalon Dimension caused him to affirm that to be the Sword of Avalon.

HOONG!

Absolute Gravitational Authority surged around Bjorn as he focused it on his eyes.

The hazy light around the two figures faded as every detail about them became clear.

The intricate details on the Sword of Avalon became clear!

And when Bjorn gazed upon the identical faces, he had to blink a few times.

It wasn't that the faces reminded him of anyone, but it was the disposition and the unyielding gaze of these eyes that instantly reminded him of a young genius he had given advice to in the Empyral Domain of Nature- a genius that had actually grasped an initial understanding of Manadynamics!

'That can't be.'

Bjorn shook this ridiculous thought out of his head and refocused on the situation at hand.

He didn't know that after Noah had been so easily recognized by Lilith in the Avalon Dimension, the Heart of Destiny was spurned to hide more than just his information and workings of destiny as now- it naturally covered him with a hazy light that even if beings pierced, they would see whatever identity that would not leak Noah's True identity!

Beings like Guinevere and others that Noah had introduced himself to with the face of Alexander would continue to see him as Alexander.

Beings like Bjorn that were designated as enemies would see him with an entirely different face as even with utmost confidence, Noah did not yet feel the need to let others know he was rising up!

After all, even now his Clones were being threatened with the Point of Death and Rebirth.

So Bjorn saw another scene entirely as while focusing on the scene ahead, his mind buzzed as he felt an aura he was all too familiar with.

<We are here.>

WAA!

The voice of his teacher.

The voice of a Tribunal Ruler!

The voice of a Named One!

But...did he say we?

Such words caused genuine surprise within Bjorn as at most, he expected Tribunal Ruler Aegon to send one or two more Legions of Abominations.

But himself, and possibly other Tribunal Rulers?

HUUM!

Essence began to surge wildly as the very atmosphere of the surroundings changed.

The Old Dreamer, Guinevere, and other Dimensional Rulers along with Noah felt the arrival of new auras outside of the Absolute Kainos Dream Dungeon.

Two prominently powerful ones that caused their gazes to turn somber, and even more dreadful was the radiant color gray.

The gray color was like a sea that surrounded the golden monolith of the Absolute Kainos Dream Dungeon as it promised utter Cataclysm and destruction!

Chapter 2037 The Heart Of Mana! L

The scene outside of the Absolute Kainos Dream Dungeon turned to that of horror as a sea of gray light appeared!

A sea of Abominations!

It was a sea that planned to devour everyone here and then critically wound the Dream Dimension.

At such a juncture, Noah's eyes became exceedingly calm and regal.

The Point of Death and Rebirth was beginning here.

As for how that would play out...he would make sure this depended on him!

The movement of space and time stopped in his eyes.

Once more, he focused on an instant.

He then stretched out this single instant...into an endless period of time as his will came to focus solely on his main body in the Dimensional Holy Land with the time dilation of 20,000:1!

Here, his thoughts moved rapidly as he tuned out the prompts of his Fourth Dimensional Layer being formed and its slight boosts- boosts that would elevate his True Damage Values somewhat, but this would not be the decider in a battle against Nature Integration Realm experts!

What would be crucial was Absolute Fundamental Authority.

So his gaze focused on the prompts of the advancement of Manadynamics and the wonders that it would bring.

<The Fundamental Natural Law of Manadynamics has exceeded 50%.>

<Due to your unique mutation as an Infinite Conduit, the evolution towards attaining a Heart of Mana has begun.>

THUMP!

The beat of his heart rang crystal clear as it was already connected to his Mana Vessels.

Now, the Heart itself was being changed to a Heart of Mana as this was another one of Noah's weapons!

A weapon that he believed in conjunction with the Absolute Fundamental Authority of Manadynamics and the Absolute Pure Mana Output of his Physique...should allow him to run wild and save his Clones from what was to come.

The essence of Quintessential Kainos Natural Decretum Seeds and Universal Nature Crystals burned within him and elevated him ever higher.

<The Fundamental Natural Law of Manadynamics has exceeded 75%.>

The jumps in percentages were fantastical, but Noah still didn't stop there.

His will gathered every part of Fortune, Karma, Destiny, and Fate that he could as he directed it towards this wondrous progression and advancement of a Fundamental Natural Law...and the birth of the Heart of Mana!

<Destiny has flourished.>

<Fortune has flourished.>

<Karma has flourished>

<Fate has flourished.>

THUMP!

4 milky colors mixed and intertwined as amidst all this...Noah recalled the greater feeling of a Law that stood above these four concepts.

His ever-changing Heart shone with a cerulean light as he felt its beat, and a wonder came to fruition at this time.

<You Aspects of Existence begin to seek Providence.>

WAA!

The Lineage of the Nyavagoth he had swallowed trembled as the feature it had brought came to fruition at this juncture.

The feature Noah had been utilizing to devour the essence of the Fundamental Natural Law of Providence from the Old Dreamer!

<The Devouring Terror of Nature has taken in a sufficient concentration of Providence as the flourishing of Destiny, Fortune, Fate, and Karma have hastened its forthcoming.>

<You have attained an initial understanding of Providence.>

...!

His visage was stellar.

His body was covered by a vast array of colors!

But at this juncture, the vast Seas of blue Mana also became bathed with a fantastical gold color.

<Providence.>

Noah uttered out the name of this Fundamental Natural Law as the little understanding he had in it now...he focused everything about it that he could on the process of elevating Manadynamics and its subsequent boosts.

And...

<The convergence of fortuitous events and Providence brings about an unexpected result.>

<The effect of the Last Utilized Quintessential Kainos Natural Decretum Seed has been doubled.>

THUMP!

Providence flourished.

The percentage of Manadynamics surged upwards as Noah's heart that was changing with it shone with incandescent cerulean light- a light so bright that waves of its luminescence emanated from him and bathed the whole Dimensional Holy Land!

It then exceeded its boundaries and went to bathe over the many Cosmos within the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality as Noah's people turned towards the direction of the blinding rays of light in wonder and exasperation.

Dr. Hall had been granted access to the Dimensional Holy Land as his eyes reflected this profound luminosity, the secret of nature being unveiled by him as he couldn't help but tremble!

The light was so blinding and domineering that were it not for the veils of secrecy covering the Gourmandizing Dimensional Reality, it would have even covered the vast stretches of Infinite Realities.

The moment it shone the brightest, cerulean-bordered prompts bloomed before Noah's eyes.

<Your Understanding of the Fundamental Natural Law of Manadynamics has reached 100%.>

THUMP!

<Your Authority as an Emperor of this Age significantly increases.>

<Your Authority as an Emperor of this Age significantly increases.>

<The Heart of Mana is announcing its arrival.>

From his chest, brilliance akin to a burning blue sun spread out.

Along with it, boundless information filled Noah's mind.

<The Heart of Mana>:: Born from a mutation of the Quintessential Kainos Emperor and his authority as an Infinite Conduit, it was brought to fruition by Manadynamics and bathed in its Fundamental Absolute Authority to bring about something unique. The Heart of Mana is an Absolute Connate Reality Engine powered purely by Mana and capable of alterations in the Resources of the fabric of Reality. Its level of power is cognizant of your own power as the level of alteration it can exert is reflected by your current realm and understanding of the very fabric of Reality. At its current stage, the Heart of Mana shall pay all the resource costs of skills requiring less than 10 Units of Absolute Decreta and Natural Law Authority, 5 Billion Units of the Essence of Reality, 50 Billion Units of the Essence of Decreta and Natural Laws, and grant an alteration of an unlimited usage of the essence for concepts below Natural Laws. When exceeding the set numerical boundaries, the Heart of Mana shall pay half the cost of the cast ability as with this Absolute Connate Reality Engine, resources are bound to not be a problem for you. It has resonated with your Vessels as the efficiency of essence has been optimized to greater levels, increasing your True Reality Cast and Attack Speed Values by 10,000%. Its numerical boundaries can be exceeded and changed depending on your own power as this is yet to be its final form...

"..."

The tool he was seeking for the most had arrived as when he gazed at it, even the words to describe it left his mind!

Chapter 2038 The Heart Of Mana! LI

The Heart of Mana!

It promised many things, but the most crucial of all was that abilities that had a cost less than 5 Billion Units of the Essence of Reality...Noah could effectively cast them as many times as he wished with no resource cost!

His highest usage abilities right reached a range of what, 1-1.5 Billion Units of the Essence of Reality?

"..."

He was covered in such a shocking way as this wasn't the end of it. This number would rise in the future depending on Noah's power as it would grow along with him.

His Heart of Mana would always continue to exceed itself so long as he did so!

And one of the more fantastical things to come out of it all was something termed True Reality Cast and Attack Speed.

Such a Value was increased by 10,000%.

Take into account a numerical value of 1- where Noah could cast a single skill in a microsecond. Now...he would be able to cast it within the span of a hundredth of a microsecond! Then the speed at which this skill attacked would also be multiplied by 100 times!

It meant an opening for new forms of combat as Noah only had to design the perfect skills for it.

THUMP!

His Heart of Mana began to beat as every single beat sent a surge of essence across his body.

It caused him to feel revitalized and euphoric as if he could every minute movement of essence across his Vessels and very cells!

This...was the feeling of an Absolute Fundamental Authority as soon after, this feeling of understanding spanned away from his body and applied outside of him.

Noah's Tri-Pupiled eyes saw scenes of wonder and majesty as he felt the Absolute Mana Authority surging within him and then resonating with the very fabric of Reality, keeping the flow and order of essence from a small scale and on a large scale as its effects were pervasive.

<You have seen the way.>

<You have gained access to utilizing 100 Units of Absolute Mana Authority.>

<Your Understanding of the Natural Law of Entropy has increased to 10%>

With the progression of Manadynamics, so came Entropy which went hand in hand.

Unveiling the mysteries of this law also granted the secrets of Entropy as understanding was forcefully increased by a tenth!

But the wonder at this juncture was Manadynamics as its information bloomed before him.

Fundamental Natural Law <Manadynamics>:: A ruling authority that governs the absolute workings of Reality. Understanding it to completion means comprehending this aspect of Reality as you can easily influence it in an unimaginable manner. With the understanding of Manadynamics, one can come to the realization that essence can neither be created nor destroyed, simply changed into different forms. With full understanding, you can now transform Mana into different forms of energy while utilizing Absolute Mana Authority...Current understanding of the Natural Law of Manadynamics 100%. Current Boosts granted to abilities infused with the Essence of Manadynamics- 1,000% Augmentation to All Essence Reserves, Essence Exchange Values, True Damage Values, True Defense Values, and True Vitality Values. With a full understanding of this fundamental law, one of the keys of Reality has been attained...]

Its description was clear cut and simple in nature as it granted exactly what it previously promised and more with its authority being used to form the Heart of Mana.

It propelled his resources to ridiculous levels.

It further increased his Damage and Defense Values!

It granted him everything he needed as all he had to do now was wait for his Fourth Dimensional Layer to be saturated and increase his base Values.

Now, he just had to finish a ridiculously high resource cost Form of the Quintessential Emperor's Annihilation Technique!

"Another few microseconds..."

Noah's eyes were like lanterns of light as he set the chain of four skills and watched for the birth of something beautiful.

He had scrapped his prior ideas after watching the pathway of destruction as now, he was going for an ability capable of nuking everything constantly- an ability that covered a wide area as he would keep it active until all his enemies perished!

The initial sequence of Ascendant Severing Soul Star, Assassin Emperor of Severance, and the Saintess of Fiery Damnation that produced the Second Form of Unparalleled Emperor's Blitzkrieg was kept.

What Noah wanted to add as the Fourth chain of skill though...it required him to go through an extra step!

"Infuse the Essence of Entropy into the Nomological Edict of Apocalypse. Use any required Absolute Dream Authority to complete it instantly."

He voiced out to Lavalliere who had been very quiet ever since the Old Dreamer appeared, and even quieter as she watched Abominations swarm the area she previously called home!

Her Will affirmed his words and carried them out as Noah felt the rapid birth of a new HERESY Edict.

While this occurred, he finished optimizing the Third Form of the Quintessential Emperor's Annihilation Technique!

"Then...chain the Domain of Apocalypse as the Fourth Skill!"

WAA!

The Domain of Apocalypse! An area of effect ability that released a terrifying domain that locked down everything- it was a skill that was reinforced and strengthened by <Herald of Ragnarok>, <Outer Eldritch Corruption>, and <Wrath of the Cardinal Sins> as its display was that of grandeur and power.

<The Nomological Edict of Apocalypse has been elevated to the Tier of HERESY.>

<The Third Form of the Quintessential Emperor's Annihilation Techniques has been designated.>

<The Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg has been born.>

...!

Waves of profound essence reverberated outwards as Noah's eyes shone with even greater confidence!

This preparation was done, but it didn't mean he had to stop there.

"Designate the Fifth Skill Chain for the Fourth Form of the Quintessential Emperor's Annihilation Techniques...>

He also forged forward to complete the Fourth Form as well!

In the Dream Dimension.

The enemies had just arrived and began closing in as nobody had yet to make a move.

The point of most tension came as the terrifying auras that brought the Legions of Abominations were about to reveal themselves and appear in the Boss Room, but it was at this juncture that the body of the existences seated upon the Throne began to burn with authority.

Absolute Fundamental Authority!

No, it wasn't just the golden figure seated upon the Throne- but also the one adorned with purple beside it as they both began to burn with Absolute Mana Authority.

Cerulean blue flames tinted the golden surroundings as their voices came out domineeringly and in sequence as they also didn't follow the script!

<Third Form.>

HUUM!

<The Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg.>

....!

The fabric of Reality lit up like a radiant blue sun.

The first move was made, and it wasn't by any of the Nature Integration Realm existences- but by the two Emperors situated in the middle of all this!

Chapter 2039 Outshine Dimensional Rulers! L

<The Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg.>

The Third Form of the Quintessential Emperor's Annihilation Techniques, but what exactly did it entail?!

[Quintessential Emperor's Annihilation Technique- Third Form]:: An amalgamation of 4 abilities of the Star of Illumination, Assassin Emperor of Severance, the Saintess of Fiery Damnation, and Domain of Apocalypse. It has brought to fruition the ability of <The Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg>. With you as the center, a magistracy is released as it is formed with the Fundamental Essence of Manadynamics at its core. Your body is the anchor as it forms a Blitzkrieg Monolith that releases terrifying waves of Gravitation across the whole domain, pushing enemies to its fringes as the closer they are to you, the more repulsive Gravitational force they will feel. In the fringes of the laid out domain, multiple Unparalleled Emperor's Blitzkrieg Lemniscates will constantly be spinning with the cataclysmic essence of Entropy and Manadynamics- smashing onto any enemies nearby as a single Lemniscate completely replicates capabilities of the Second Form with the removal of a time limitation, and a single one can be formed by 100 Million Units of the Essence of Reality and positioned as you will within the laid out Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg. Within this domain, an exit is extremely hard to make unless one obtains sufficient time to utilize Absolute Fundamental Authority to break through, where if they cannot leave- the only fate awaiting them is to be ground down by the oppressive Gravitational forces and the essences of Entropy and Manadynamics. The final output Damage Value of this ability is set to a minimum of 50 Trillion True Dimensional Damage Values after accounting for your base boosts and multipliers. This minimum Damage can change and fluctuate in the future depending on your own base Damage and multipliers. Cost to cast: 500 Million Units of the Essence of Reality and 10

Trillion Mana. Cost to maintain the active domain: 500 Million Units of the Essence of Reality every 3 Microseconds...

The description alone was fantastical, but it didn't do it justice to relay just what terror Noah could release with it.

And the clue to this was the fact that to cast it and to cast the extra abilities in it would all take no resources from him!

HUUM!

His heart pulsed as it provided everything that was required.

Then came the boons of True Reality Cast and Attack Speed.

Noah already had instant cast and instant attack as his attacks both were cast and hit his enemies the moment he cast them- but this instant could be redefined depending on a being's power!

An instant for weak beings could be within a second as stronger beings could have their instant be microseconds.

Noah had so far been moving on the time scale of microseconds as his attacks instantly reached his enemies within this time scale!

Now, this was changed with the 10,000% increased True Reality Cast and Attack Speed.

His instant changed to a hundredth of a Microsecond as the ability he called out fully bloomed at a speed that even Dimensional Rulers gazed upon with sharp eyes!

This was because the visage of Bjorn that stood behind Abominations became covered by the cerulean light of the Domain before he could even react.

The tens of Abominations around him only felt the pull of Gravitation that they should be able to reject due to their nature, but...they were surprised to find that they were somewhat still affected!

This was because after everything...Absolute Pure Mana Output came into the picture to turn all of the essences and Absolute Natural Authorities in this attack to be based on pure mana- changing their nature while keeping their effects as the pull of gravity within the Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg stemmed from unique Mana!

The Program had yet to receive an input when it felt its body rise.

Its gray scales glinted to reject whatever authority wrapped around it, it's Will surprised to find this authority not fully stripped from it as its body still floated in the air that had been tinged a gorgeous blue.

When it gazed at everything, it noticed that a cerulean circular domain had covered everything- with vibrant and deadly pulsing clusters of essence that formed into Infinity symbols beginnings to form in this cerulean domain.

Each one shone with the Absolute Fundamental Authority of a law that their Origins had the least effectiveness in rejecting.

An authority that even they could not escape during their making as it was too Universal.

The Infinity symbols bloomed one after another in the circular domain as they began to swirl like deadly scythes of destruction, the body of this Program releasing a cold glint of gray light as it saw a surging Infinity symbol forge its path directly towards it!

It could feel an aura of what it identified to be Entropy...but why did it carry the quality of that Prime Essence? That Prime Authority?

It had yet to receive another input from its Commander as it assumed the naturally programmed defensive measure.

Since it couldn't fully identify this coming attack, it would evade it.

<...>

Or so it tried as terrifically, it seemed the surging Infinity symbols had even greater forces of Gravitation that caused its body to be drawn to it as soon enough...

BOOOM!

An impact occurred.

And the will of the Program was once more surprised!

This was because even though the Damage could barely be considered in the entrance stages of one who had become one with Nature, it was actually able to cause its gray scales...to fracture and chip off!

And worst of all...

HUUUM!

Its cold eyes noticed astonishingly blue flames wrapping around the infinity symbol. They were the Flames of the Absolute Authority of that Prime Essence as they didn't have the normal quality they should have- but they instead carried a Gravitational force that was even heavier than the Natural Law of Gravitation itself as after this infinity symbol smashed into it and waves of Absolute Authority attacked it- the pull of gravity pulled the body of this Program along its path as it couldn't break away so easily!

This scene was not singular.

Before it could receive another input, the program realized that dozens of massive infinity symbols carrying Absolute Fundamental Authority of extremely pure Mana were rotating across this Expansive cerulean domain, the bodies of others like it and even its temporary master being carried by the pull of gravity as everything turned into disarray!

Chapter 2040 Outshine Dimensional Rulers! LI

The change occurred too quickly.

A moment ago everyone was waiting with tenseness, and another moment after a massive blue domain filled with flames of Absolute Fundamental Authority surged and roared everything within it with a terrifying Gravitational force!

This wasn't all as when one closely looked at the Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg, they would see that it wasn't just one domain.

The difference was thin, but one could distinctly notice two boundaries as the collective powers of the Unparalleled Emperor's Blitzkrieg rotating around reached over 250 Trillion due to the overlap!

And these weaponized cerulean Infinity symbols normally cost 100 Million Units of the Essence of Reality to bring to fruition as with Noah's Absolute Connate Reality Engine, the cost was nothing.

So he filled the domain with as many of the Lemniscate weapons as possible as he began to see Initial results. It was the result of the enemies scrambled as when the Abominations were hit with the Essence of Absolute Pure Mana Output- their unbreakable scales actually began to peel!

So long as Noah didn't perish, these established domains would continue to have their cost paid for and remain as eventually...these bodies of Abominations would be broken down enough to affect their Origins!

<HMPH!>

WAA!

At this moment though, a loud harrumph echoed out as the auras of two Nature Integration Realm existences bringing with them an army of Abominations tore apart the veils of space and appeared.

Shining with grandeur and majesty, a man and a woman stood side by side as the bronze skin of Aegon shone in the light, his visage and that of the woman beside him being utterly unique and different from other Nature Integration experts as these were Tribunal Rulers!

The moment they arrived, Aegon took in the scene as he focused on the many Abominations and the figure of Bjorn being pulled by a Gravitational force in a cerulean domain- his hand changing into a claw filled with Absolute Fundamental Authority to wipe this domain when...

<Hey.>

WAA!

Fearlessly, the small figure of Guinevere appeared right before the two of them.

Her eyes were serene and filled with power as her body exploded out with the same Absolute Fundamental Authority, the visage of the Old Dreamer and Dimensional Ruler Arthus also appearing to her left and right as each of them made a move!

Massive tendrils and chains of Absolute Fundamental Authority tore across space and surged out like snakes towards Aegon and Althea as their eyes remained calm.

With a gaze of disdain, Althea's visage was covered by a stellar golden light as a ring of Celestial light bloomed from her, a faceless amalgamation of an Astral Primordial appearing as it was wrapped in Absolute Providence Authority- being utterly massive and having over a thousand stellar golden hands!

Hands that glimmered with cosmic sharpness as their palms moved to rain down from above mercilessly and push everything away- the figures of Guinevere, Old Dreamer, and Arthus changing their expressions and having to face this authority together as it was too dense and too concentrated compared to what they released!

This left Aegon free to move again as nobody spoke.

Only battle erupted as with a cold gaze Aegon's finger pointed down as the surrounding sea of gray Abominations surged forward, their Bodies lighting up together and coming down to dispel any authority as with such a large force of them- even the authority of Manadynamics may just be destabilized!

He then pointed down with his other hand as his single finger shone like the brightest sun.

It released 5 points of light that were filled with Absolute Entropic Authority that erupted to form the visage of the Dragon Phoenix, Reality Ursidae, Infinite Willow Tree, Astral Humanoid, and a Royal Humanoid that shimmered with a crimson light.

Massive, titanic amalgamations of the Pure-Blooded Primordial Lineages that were formed from pure Absolute Fundamental Essence surged down along with hundreds of Abominations as they promised utter and complete destruction!

<YA!>

And this was when the cry of Morgana bloomed out.

5 Nature Integration Realm Beasts bloomed around her and moved under her command as they released different forms of Authority towards the coming waves of gray light, with Merlin and Galahad reinforcing her as the Wizard of Avalon grasped his staff tightly- his whole body blooming with life force as he began stretching out to form a Royal purple ancient tree with countless branches filled with Absolute Avalon Authority!

<Druidic Arts of the Age of Life.>

HUUM!

Utmost chaos.

The battle had barely begun as everything was in shambles- but the one unique thing that could be seen was that the newly arriving Tribunal Rulers came with an oppressive force and power that instantly pushed the opposing party into a heavily defensive position.

And this was before the Abominations gully joined the fray to show their repulsive power to reject the very laws of Nature!

But...would they freely get the chance to do so?

<The Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg>.

...!

From the west, an enigmatic voice boomed out as in an instant of a hundredth of a microsecond, another magisterial cerulean domain bloomed as its border slightly overlapped with the two central cerulean domains.

At the center of the domain- another one of Noah's Clones could be seen gazing at everything with utmost coldness as this wasn't all!

<The Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg>.

Another voice boomed from the eastern direction.

HUUM!

<The Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg>.

From the southern direction!

<The Magistracy of the Apocalyptic Blitzkrieg>.

And another voice also resonated in the northern direction behind the grandiose figures of Aegon and Althea as a fantastical scene showed itself!

6 fantastical cerulean domains established themselves as they covered the whole battlefield, dreadful infinity symbols that surged with Absolute Mana Authority filling all of these domains as they spun across it with a terrifying Gravitational force that dragged around all the selected enemies within!

Multiple of Noah's Clones appeared as he was implementing a solution to this Point of Death and Rebirth.

He was going all out.

He was going to rely on many tools as the Heart of Mana would be at the core- with this tool allowing him to do what made him more exceptional than any other beings.

It was a tool that would allow him to spam!
