Chapter 411 - Movements

As a new Infernal Lord just chanced upon a terrifyingly rapid way to increase his strength, the powerful figures on opposing sides were moving with their own discussions and plans.

The Righteous Fire Exploration Team had returned to the watch tower where they stationed the Prime Warship, the tense air being sensed around the Tower as over the next few hours, they were briefed on future changes as the Celestials reacted to the knowledge that a new Infernal Lord had risen!

This event meant that in the near future, where it be months or years, a new war would be breaking out. The coming of the 9th Infernal Lord was just another one of the signs for this, with many more to follow.

For the Celestials, their allowance of the inhabitants of the Novus Galaxy into the Celestial Realm continued to provide them with multiplied benefits as those in high ranking positions were able to increase their progress in the Law of Fate, while also being able to bring in even more materials from the Behemoths that continued to be hunted by tens of thousands of teams currently.

With this project going smoothly, the next item on the list for the Celestials was the even more rapid rise in strength of their own forces, a few Grandmasters like Vredral putting forward the ideology that they needed to focus their treasures on a few specific individuals that would hold a tremendous amount of battle power, and not spread out all the resources to create average strength Celestials.

This brought forward the command for the seeds of Celestials like those with Noble Fates and those showing unique strengths to be put at the forefront of receiving materials and treasures, their rise in strength being favored more as they showed a different level of strength!

This made it so that a majority of the materials combining into the hands of the Celestials were directed to powerful Grandmasters and beings that held unique titles like those with Noble Fates, meaning Celestials like the War Princess Athena and Crixus the Destroyer would be freely receiving huge boosts very soon.

When the day ended, numerous new directives had been laid out as Celestials began to move with even more discipline and haste!

They were not the only ones though, as the Alliance of the Dark Expanse that was made up of organizations like the Scholar's Guild and Ancient Clans of Vampyres and other powerful beings also continued to move forward with even more vigor.

Their spies that had made it into the Celestial Realm began moving even faster as a unique spatial connection was hiddenly established in this Central Realm at the center of the Novus Galaxy as they began reaping the rewards of the Celestial Realm in full swing.

The unique atmosphere gradually growing in the Sanctum, the central location that many being converged to sell and trade their treasures in the Celestial Realm, became even more active beginning this day as it was not just the powerful beings standing near the top that felt the gradual change in atmosphere, even the forces of numerous Prime Worlds knowing they were entering another stage.

Noah gradually absorbed all of these changes as his clone continued his stupendous Dual Cultivation of both Chaos and Fate simultaneously in the Second Infernal Realm, the watching 7th and 8th Infernal Lord glancing at this show of talent with ashen faces as it had been continuing for the past day.

His clone was currently increasing Chaos Particles, where golden Fate Lines continued to try descending down on his body and were gradually destroyed, the destruction of the Fate Lines granting Noah a never ending cycle of even more Chaos Particles.

He breathed out slowly as he glanced around the enormous Chaos Field surrounding his body, especially the thousands of Chaos Particles randomly moving around within it.

His surroundings were dark and cloudy as any nearby Infernals felt their bodies grow stronger as they were exposed to the unique environment for a few hours. His body was the one with the most changes as he glanced at his Stat Panel, the number making his ambitious thoughts grow ever stronger as they foretold countless possibilities.

[Noah Osmont][Title(s): Infernal Lord(Variant)]

[Bloodline(s): Vampyre Progenitor(Awakening)]

[Fate Line(s) : 26,653]

[Chaos Particle(s) : 45,635]

[Origin Core(s) : Fire-2]

[Vitality: SOUL]

[Focus: - ]

[Strength: SOUL]

[Law(s) : Water-11, Space-8%, Fate-.26%, Fire-11%, Chaos-.45%]

The number of Chaos Particles had risen from nothing until they broke through 45,000 in the single day that he began cultivating the {Disciple of Chaos}! The percentage under the Law of Chaos also rose to .45%! This was more than the entire progress he made over the past month as he amassed Fate Lines as Celestials normally would!

It was a shocking rate of progression, but it made him slightly less apprehensive as he thought about the strength of the beings he had to move with. The truly powerful Celestial Grandmasters in the Light Expanse, the Ancient forces moving in the Dark and Letalis Expanse, as well as the most fearsome creatures of them all...the Terrors.

With this new method of cultivating laws that was only made possible by the enormous reserves of mana, he felt a level of confidence when looking at this big picture!

SHAA!

He waved his hands as he stopped burning his mana towards {Fate's Disciple} and {Disciple of Chaos}, the dark clouds that had been gathering for the past day beginning to slowly clear up as the aura of Chaos reduced.

Around his body, the Chaos Field rumbled as more than forty five thousand Chaos Particles chaotically moved within it. He moved his thoughts as these particles slowly settled, the Chaos Field around his body gradually becoming transparent as it disappeared, never to be seen by anyone else unless he wished it!

He breathed out as he rose, feeling the auras of the two Infernal Lords floating atop the skies of the Second Infernal Realm. He turned into red particles of light as he disappeared, reappearing in the skies in front of them as he knew he must have shocked them beyond comprehension.

Infernal Lord Azula looked towards him with shining eyes and a fervent expression, looking at his impassive face that seemed to say what he did wasn't much. The 8th Infernal Lord, Rykker, glanced towards Noah with sharp eyes as he could not help but comment.

"What the hell are you, really?"

Chapter 412 - Utilization

Noah glanced at the two Infernal Lord in front of him as he replied impassively.

"It seems I am more in tune with the Law of Chaos than I thought."

His answer only caused the two powerful beings in the World Rank to shake their heads helplessly at the simplification of the unbelievable cultivation session where this being most likely amassed more chaos particles in a day that would normally require one to cultivate for a month.

"If your power rises like this, your Realm progression past the Soul Forging Realm will only become smother, the profound comprehension of a Supreme Law only aiding you in faster breakthroughs while also enhancing your strength."

Noah nodded at this as he spoke once more.

"I'll have to be impolite and leave our Realm soon. I know you all sense that I am not fully an Infernal, my unique position allowing me to move freely. I am planning on further increasing my comprehension in the Law of Chaos by actively moving in the outside worlds and realms."

His words brought a period of silence as Azula smiled sweetly while Rykker looked towards him carefully, the curvaceous Azula speaking with an amorous tone.

"Just be sure your identity as an Infernal Lord is hidden so that you don't inadvertently start the war early. We wouldn't want the 9th Infernal Lord to die again as soon as he just took his seat."

Noah nodded as he glanced at the 8th Infernal Lord Rykker who also nodded, his clone casting [Unique Origin] as the regal crown protruding from his head began disappearing, the dark hair filled with silver streaks returning as he took back his actual form that was Noah Osmont.

"A form of a human that is so seamless...ahh your talents are going to become very important in the future. Go on and be careful, I will send you a message whenever a Letter of Summons from the 1st Infernal Lord comes down for you."

The 7th Infernal Lord Azula said this as she waved her hand, a runic medallion pulsing with a unique power coming towards Noah as he swiped his hands and placed it in his Expansive Space.

"Then I'll have to trouble you, Seniors. Please let me know if I can be of help in anything."

Noah made a slight bow to these powerful World Rank individuals as he began disappearing in particles of light, disappearing in front of the two Infernal Lords and leaving behind a shocking atmosphere where they were still reeling from his wild cultivation session.

"...this new Infernal Lord might be something shocking that has yet to show us all exactly what he'll be capable of."

A thoughtful expression appeared on Rykker as the eyes of Azula twinkled, their bodies shooting off in separate directions thereafter as they moved to do their own tasks!

The Ancient Blood Clone reappeared beneath a certain volcanic mountain where an Inheritance of the Disciple of Fire was contained, the miniaturized Spiritual Land still stably floating near the Ancient Pedestal peacefully.

The clone sensed the overpowering coagulation of essence in the Celestial Realm once more as he compared it to the levels of essence in the Second and First Infernal Realm, affirming that these two realms were not even close to the level of essence in this Central Realm that was nearest to the center of the Novus Galaxy!

He moved into the Spiritual Land as he saw the state of the training Harbingers and other individuals from the multiple stars he was connected to, many of them having learned the Inheritance of the Disciple of Fire as their bodies vibrated with the fire element while trying to build a Fire Origin Core.

He sent a message to the Emperor Penguin as he wanted to gauge their distance from the volcanic mountain, they being the only ones that had not learned the Inheritance yet as they used the journey to this mountain as one of training.

The Emperor Penguin let him know that they were actually fighting a Fire Behemoth at this moment, with the Ancient Blood Clone using the Spiritual Land to check exactly what location the Emperor Penguin was in. Matching the rough coordinates with the map he had drawn for himself as he traversed towards this volcanic mountain when he was following the [Treasure Hunter] of the Spiritual Land and only marked the locations of the Behemoths he came across, he found their location as he disappeared once more.

ROAR!

He appeared in the gorgeous field of greenery and ancient trees of the Celestial Realm that he was used to, hearing the roar of a Behemoth not too far away as he sensed the auras of Elena and the Emperor Penguin, along with many other Vampyres and the Calamities of the Sea.

"Be ready!"

Elena was shouting valiantly as she tanked the horrendous fiery attacks of the Behemoth, the others dealing damage all around this beast as they weaved in and out. The Kraken was sending down red rays of light as an oversized goldfish, another Calamity of the Sea, released blue-gold water spear that rushed towards the Behemoth. Spatial Blades were being released from the flippers of the Emperor Penguin as the battle was in full swing, everybody contributing to bringing down this Celestial Beast at the level of Soul Forging Realm.

RAA! RAA! RAA!

The Emperor Penguin cried out expectantly as it sensed the aura of its Master, a fervent look appearing on Elena as she sensed the aura of the Progenitor!

RUMBLE!

Noah read this state of battle as he teleported once more, appearing atop the Fire Behemoth that looked like a large iguana, his feet stably landing atop the beast that soon felt the intrusion of a being stepped on it and roared loudly, fiery essence bubbling on its body as it prepared to burn whoever was so foolish to stand upon it.

Noah disregarded the bubbling power of the beast as he called out calmly, wanting to test the efficacy of the rare Supreme Law of Chaos as he came to pick up his subordinates for the future plans he had.

RUMBLE!

A dark field containing tens of thousands of Chaos Particles spread out with him at the center, the deadly chaotic field going on to wrap around the body of the Fire Behemoth as the wild movements it was doing came to a halt, Noah's clone actually going on to use one of the new abilities he obtained!

ROAR!

It let out a fearsome roar as it tried to move, the numerous Chaos Particles going on to disrupt its essence as it felt its muscles spasming and the essence of the Law of Fire suppressed!

The Pureblood Vampyres and subordinates around him looked in shock at the incapacitated Fire Behemoth, Noah himself continuing his test as he looked over the other set of abilities that came with the Inheritance of the Disciple of Chaos when he obtained the Infernal Lord Title.

He glanced at the absolute skills called <<Herald of Chaos>> and [Agent of Chaos] as his mana began moving wildly!

Chapter 413 - Agent of Chaos

The description of the <<Herald of Chaos>> skill was similar to the opposing skills that he obtained some time back from the Celestials, only having a few differences from <<Herald of Fate>>!

<<Herald of Chaos>> :: An inheritance from the Disciple of Chaos that holds tremendous power. The mysteries of the Supreme Law of Chaos can be slowly understood while this technique is in use, understanding what true chaos is as the user moves to not just create more chaos, but to control it. Abilities include Chaos Discernment, Chaos Traverser, Chaos Concealment, and Chaos Harvester.

[Chaos Discernment] :: The clouded and abstruse movements of chaos of different entities or beings became easier to see. The Agent of Chaos can then decide how to use this information. Strict conditions must be met for any usable information to be discerned.

[Chaos Traverser] :: As one that is proficient in the workings of the law of chaos, you have more of a leeway over the chaos around you and those you are connected to . This ability allows you to traverse towards the optimum chaos that will grant you the most power.

[Chaos Concealment] :: The user's chaos can be made hard to decipher, where others will not be able to find exactly where chaos will lead you.

[Chaos Harvester] :: An ability given to the Herald of Chaos that allows them to grant chaos to others while reducing chaos from themselves or others. One must use it sparingly as the distribution of chaos is harder to control than expected.

The description of the abilities were very similar to the ones from the <<Herald of Fate>>, where one could even argue they seemed like a simple copy and paste! But the two laws were counter parts of one another, and having equivalent abilities would only allow Noah to see both sides of the equation, being able to discern both Fate and Chaos.

But his gaze was on the offensive and defensive skills similar to [Fate's Guardian], these ones called [Agent of Chaos]! This was where he had obtained the skill he just used to incapacitate the movements of the huge Fire Behemoth, the skill called [Essence Disruptor]!

SOUL Agent of Chaos :: The title of an Agent of anything is a rare one. This skill tree gives its user the ability to confidently call themselves an Agent of Chaos. Abilities include Essence Disruptor(0/5), Chaotic Mandate(0/5), Chaos Orbs(0/5), and Void of Impending Doom(0/5).

Essence Disruptor :: The Chaos Particles under your control heed your call as they go on to bind and disrupt the essence and movements of the enemies that fall upon your Chaos Field.

Chaotic Mandate :: The user is covered with a mandate of chaos, the Chaos Field surrounding them transfusing with their skin to adorn them in a Chaos Armament. This mandate allows the Agent of Chaos to stand as a true being capable of reigning down unmatched retribution. +100% Chaos Damage, +100% Chaos Resistance, +50% Elemental Damage, +50% Defense, +50% Attack, Cast, and Movement Speed, +50% of all Damage converted to Chaos Damage.

Chaos Orbs :: Destructive orbs of chaos are called upon, being released upon your enemies as an area of attack ability. Each of the orbs carry with them the explosive force of a disordered star. Affected area- 50 meters.

Void of Impending Doom :: A void of chaos is focused on one particular enemy, this void installing the Fear and Oppressed Effect onto the enemy and disordering their mental state before deadly Doom Spikes rain down.

A set of beautifully described skills were laid out in front of his eyes, and he started by testing out [Essence Disruptor] first, the more than 45,000 Chaos Particles under his control permeating through the body of the Fire Behemoth as it tried to will its essence and muscles to move, but it was rendered unable to!

The Emperor Penguin watched this scene where his master incapacitated a monstrous Soul Forging Behemoth the moment he entered, being taken out of his stupor when he heard the calm command ring out in his ears.

"Attack."

OOOH!

The Harbingers of Sin and the Pureblood Vampyres became pumped at the show of power, moving with even more vigor as their attacks smashed into the Fire Behemoth who could not even use its essence to defend itself, Noah's clone remaining on top of the huge iguana looking beast as he continued to pour mana into the [Essence Disruptor] skills to allow the Chaos Particles in his Chaos Field that wrapped around the entirety of this huge beast to continue disrupting its essence.

With his power, this was the extent of what he could do currently, which was a terrifying thought to imagine as he coolly stopped the movements of a powerful Normal Behemoth!

He did not cast the other terrifying sounding skills like [Chaos Orbs] or [Void of Impending Doom] which would most likely wipe away everything on site, choosing to let his subordinates finish off this Behemoth and not steal their kill.

ROAAR!

A weakened roar of unwillingness was let out from the Fire Behemoth as it faced a situation where it could not even move, horrible attacks reigning down that soon took its life!

BOOM!

Its body slumped to the ground as the Order of Blood cheered, the many team members glancing towards Noah with shining eyes as they dawned a Behemoth so easily with his intrusion of a few seconds.

"Master!"

The eyes of the Emperor Penguin were shining as he and the fervent looking Elena were the first to step forward, Noah nodding towards them as he waved his hands to the right of the Behemoth, essence converging as a portal slowly began to form.

The sleek penguin came to the side of the Fire Behemoth as it used its spatial abilities to put away the Cores and Skill Books that dropped from it as loot to be divided for later, waving its flippers towards the mountainous body of the beast itself thereafter as it also disappeared into the Emperor's Penguin's own spatial inventory skill.

OOOM!

The portal finished forming as silently in the explored Northern Region of the Celestial realm, Noah came to collect the rest of his subordinates for them to begin learning the Inheritance of the Disciple of Fire, the closest plans he currently had dealing with the beasts of the Spiritual Land the most as he prepared for something that he considered a practice run for his future plans.

The thing he considered a practice run was fulfilling the requirements of upgrading the Spiritual Land to the 9th Tier, where he needed to get his hands on the core of a Small World!

Chapter 414 - Herbs and Pills are Good for Breakthroughs

As Noah erased the portal which led to the Spiritual Realm in the location where a Fire Behemoth just fell, he was the last to disappear as he joined everyone else beneath the volcanic mountain where the Spiritual Land stood next to the Ancient Pedestal that held the Inheritance Crystal for the Disciple of Fire.

The extremely hot environment was one where only those at higher realms could withstand, with all the newcomers that were just battling the Fire Behemoths being those who could easily learn the inheritance on their own.

He looked towards Elena as he gave out multiple directions to her and the others.

"Gather all those that haven't learned the Inheritance and oversee the whole process. You.."

He pointed towards the Emperor Penguin as he continued speaking.

"...gather your brothers and sisters. We have another power leveling session to go through."

He released multiple commands towards many beings, those familiar with Noah noticing the slightly colder tone as they nodded with serious faces and each went about their tasks.

The normal smile that Noah carried months ago was fading away slowly, his disposition becoming more serious when he obtained the Vampyre Progenitor bloodline, and now becoming even colder as he was hit with some of the truth about the true reality they were all in, and just how outclassed they were!

Those paying attention would recall his disposition becoming more cheerful or feeling a sense of excitement only when he explored new areas, obtained new skills, or got his hands on powerful new treasures. His emotions were gradually settling down on the more impassive and calmer side, the cheerful and excited side of himself slowly being tucked away in a corner!

Many beings went about their tasks as most were simply learning a powerful inheritance and then cultivating in the Fire Law Space to form their Fire Origin Cores, with the Spiritual Land Beasts having a different task as they were brought down to the Time Space of the Spiritual Land for more intense training.

Noah's Ancient Blood Clone looked at the many resplendent fields of medicinal herbs and fruits spread out across the Time Space, this region that should have been one where people trained their hardest and surpassed those in the outside world slowly turning to become a region filled with farmland. He planted as much of the Spiritual Land Plants that had long growing and maturing times but gave out amazing herbs of medicinal fruits that held overflowing essence in the Time Space, using the increased ratio to grow these plants in a short period of time.

When the Spiritual Land was last upgraded to the 8th Tier, he had planted the newly available plants that were called Athramire and King's Collard among others, where the products of these magical plants were being observed in front of him right now as he looked at farmlands overflowing with shimmering plants that dangled rainbow-colored fruits, while some were growing as scintillating herbs.

A profound aroma was released from these many fantastical fields as Noah waved his hands, collecting many of the fruits and herbs as he prepared to make pills once more while using the {Forge of the Silver Flame} that he received from a being that was shrouded in mysteries, but Noah already had a slight indication of a few possibilities!

This being that called himself the Karmic Sect master had also left him something he had not been using all that much since he received it, the item called [Lawful Nourishment] that helped one with cultivating laws. This was something that he planned to take out and use during this time as he was finally getting into the time when he was focusing on the comprehension of laws.

He put these thoughts aside as a cauldron materialized in front of his, a shining silver flame beginning to burn as the shimmering medicinal fruits and herbs that were filled with essence began to be refined and turned into pills.

He was utilizing these Spiritual Land Plants that were heavily conducive to the rise in strength of the Spiritual Land Beasts in order to achieve the goal he currently held of pushing the ranks of more than 10 beasts into the Soul Forging Realm.

He had a set of Soul Rank cores from the many Soul Ranked beings he defeated these past few weeks, but they would not be enough to push the ranks of 10 beasts from the Void and into the Soul Rank, with these medicinal herbs and fruits acting like a buffer to continue propelling the levels of these Beasts forward!

The Emperor Penguin, Arctic Wolf, Flying Spider, and 7 other of the most powerful beasts in the Spiritual Land stood respectfully near Noah as they saw the appearance of shining pills that flew towards them, their jaws spreading wide open as they swallowed and began digesting the treasures they were receiving.

On top of the pills filled with abundant essence, Noah waved his hands to bring out the Soul Rank Cores in his [Expansive Space] as they were also thrown towards the beasts, the process of raising the ranks of 10 beings from Void to Soul beginning in the Time Space of the Spiritual Land!

It was a busy time in this fantastical floating landmass as many beings were moving rapidly within it, many of them cultivating the Inheritance of the Disciple of Fire, with others excitedly being fed herbs and pills on top of Cores to push their ranks from one stage to another.

During this whole process, Noah was thinking about the other condition he had to fulfill if he wanted to bring the Spiritual Land from the 8th and into the 9th Tier.

Upgrade Conditions: 10+ Spiritual Land Beasts at the Soul Rank, A Small World Core

He looked under {Spiritual Land Management} as the words 'A Small Word Core' shone with a blue l.u.s.ter, his thoughts moving rapidly as he thought of exactly what his actions would mean for him to obtain a World Core.

This momentary thought was quickly thrown out of his mind as his heart became firm, knowing he would face this problem head on as the time neared, and he would accomplish without fail no matter what he had to do!

His mind was already perusing through many memories of the beings he had devoured before as he searched for possible small worlds, whether it was those occupied and filled with life, those that did not have any civilizations or even those that were simply uninhabitable planets filled with unlivable environments. He had many possibilities, and did not necessarily have to destroy an entire world and its beings in order to achieve his goals!

He watched the progress of the Spiritual Land Beasts as their power continued to grow, biding his time as his mind-enhancing skills worked rapidly, his main body undergoing an entirely different ordeal as he had begun receiving even more treasures from the Celestials.

Chapter 415 - Treatment Reserved for Kings

In the large Watch Tower that stood between the border of Normal Behemoths and Elite Behemoths, Noah and Athena were in a huge training hall to themselves as they looked in front of them where numerous materials from Chaos Behemoths were thrown down.

Grandmaster Vredral was overseeing this continuing process as numerous Celestial Disciple came in with golden rings and released numerous treasures ranging from the powerful Chaos Origin cores of Elite Behemoths all the way to materials filled with the Chaos Element.

"You two are actually fortunate to be living in this tumultuous time, as you will experience a rapid rise in your strength that would normally take others tens or hundreds of years to do so."

The Grandmaster continued speaking as the treasures piled up.

"These materials filled with Chaos in front of you would normally be spread out to hundreds of Grandmasters to continue propelling their ranks forward, but many of them were redirected towards you as we need beings with unique titles like yours to be the ones that stand at the forefront of the coming battles."

He moved with a serious expression as he picked up one of the

"The Chaos in these materials can be purified to grant you an increased pace at amassing Fate Lines, which will even further increase your speed of progressing through the Realms. I'm especially happy for your fast progress in being able to keep up with your Senior Sister, Crixus!"

Grandmaster Vredral beamed toward Noah as he said this, even Athena turning towards him with a light smile as he nodded to the Grandmaster.

"Alright, you all go ahead and cultivate well, I will come to bring you both on hunts for Elite Behemoths during periods when you need to consolidate your power and get some practice."

The Grandmaster left behind his directions as Athena walked towards the mountains of materials and Cores from Chaos Behemoths, looking at Noah with a smile as she spoke.

"We truly are blessed by Fate, Junior Brother Crixus. Who could have ever thought that something like this would have been given freely to us."

Noah walked towards the mountain of treasures as he hid an impassive interior with a smiling exterior and replied.

"We should do our best to cultivate then. Don't let me catch up to you in Fate Lines as well, Senior Sister!"

"Oh, is that a challenge?"

The valiant and battle driven War Princess looked towards him as she took his words a challenge, sitting down next to the pile of treasures as grabbed a piece of a Chaos Behemoth that was entrenched with the Law of Chaos.

Her body lit up with tens of thousands of Fate Lines as she released a golden aura, this aura going on to actually burn the material that held the chaos element as it began to burn the opposing law within it!

As this process continued, yet another Line of Fate descended down from the air and stably attached itself towards Athena, putting aside the material that had lost the darkness of chaos and grabbing the next one as she looked at Noah competitively.

"I'll take you up on your challenge. Let's see if you can even get near the number of my Fate Lines in the next few years!"

The brilliance of a relationship of a senior sister and a junior brother seemed to be blooming between them as two beings with Noble Fates began using the treasures that were handed to them to cultivate!

Noah listened to the words of Athena with a smile as inside his heart, he knew he could most likely reach the number of Fate Lines that she held in just a matter of days if he was dually cultivating both the techniques under the laws of chaos and fate!

He kept these thoughts to himself as he began purifying the materials in front of his, slowly increasing his fate lines as his clone continued to do the brunt work for the both of them.

He had currently only spent a day focusing on increasing the Chaos Particles when his clone was training in the Second Infernal Realm, bringing the percentage of the Supreme Law of Chaos to .46% where he bypassed the .26% of the Supreme Law of Fate that he had obtained first.

When he switched to increase the number of Fate Lines, he would have to be careful to hide his true number from the eyes of Athena and other Celestials that came near him. He planned to show a monstrous talent that amassed Fate Lines quickly, but he could never explain his rate of amassing close to 48,000 Fate Lines in the span of a day.

When he first used the method of cultivating both the {Disciple of Chaos} and {Fate's Disciple} where the Chaos Field around him was destroying the oncoming Lines of Fate, his Chaos Particles had increased by a rate of 2000 every hour.

This meant that in one day, he could amass 48,000 Chaos Particles, while his Fate Lines would remain the same as he was burning any incoming Fate Lines in order to continue his obtainment of Chaos Particles. For the future, he had to make a thorough plan where he purified Chaos Particles one day in order to increase his Fate Lines, and then do the opposite the next day in order to increase his progress in the opposing law.

This was also under the pretense that he spent all the 24 hours of the day simply cultivating and doing nothing else!

His mind made the calculations as he came to some crazy numbers. If he were to focus on only one law for 24 hours a day for the next month, with the rate of 2000 per hour, he would be able to amass 1,440,000 of either Chaos Particles or Fate Lines in the span of a month!

If he wanted to progress in both of them at the same rate as he divided his attention to both, this number would simply be halved as he would need to focus on Chaos one day and Fate another day. And once one took into account that he would be doing other things besides isolating himself for a full 24 hours during the day, maybe it would be possible to amass half a million of both Fate Lines and Chaos Particles every month.

This was an increase of roughly 5% in two Supreme Laws simultaneously every month...a terrifying thought that would horrify any knowledgeable being!

Chapter 416 - A World Core!

As terrifying calculations were carried out in Noah's mind, his Ancient Blood Clone had finished his pill making session as he observed the swirling of different colored essence around the 10 Spiritual Land Beasts.

He spread his senses out as he monitored the continued strengthening of other beings on the wide Spiritual Land.

The numerous portals lying stably in the Underground area he was in pulsed with colorful lights as those given permission would occasionally enter the Spiritual Land while an individual like Steel Mikhail would enter and live freely as he moved to do his job on the blue planet and then returned to cultivate in the Spiritual Land.

After observing everything moving smoothly, the clone disappeared from the Time Space of the Spiritual Land as he let the Spiritual Land Beasts finish their breakthrough into the Soul Forging Realm, leaving behind numerous essence pulsating pills and cores for them to continue absorbing!

He performed a long distance teleportation this time as enormous amounts of mana was used, his body reappearing in the wide expanse of space not too far away from his homeworld.

The Ancient Blood Clone glanced at the small blue world that only he could currently see, the [World Veil] he had cast on this world and the other ones he was connected to long ago still active and hiding the world from any passing eyes.

The world in front of his eyes was already nearing the position of a Prime World as it continued the powerful feedback of essence from the many worlds it was connected to, especially the Ancient Blood World that was an entire Realm sometime in the past.

Yet this powerful and expansive world still seemed so small as he looked at it from an extremely far distance, his body continuing to move away from this blue planet as his target this time was not to check up on all the advancements that had happened so far, but to search for viable worlds he could pluck the cores of in the surrounding area!

This was something that even his own mind just a few months ago would never have been able to fathom.

The fact that someone like him could be traversing through space actually looking for a viable world to steal an entire world core and possibly destroy such a world was something extremely foreign to him, yet now about to become a reality.

His body moved across space as the [Child of Space] ability from the Lesser Cthulhu skill tree made him feel like he was in the most comfortable possible environment. His body was shooting through the vastness of space at a shocking speed, the tremendous boosts that he received from his many passive skills made it so that his speed and power was already nearing those at the Domain Expansion Realm!

He could only confidently say this when it came to those at the normal level of the Domain Expansion Realm, and this was not putting into account the Celestial Grandmasters themselves like Vredral.

He continued moving across the vastness of space as he wandered across the void looking for specific stars. The one that he was looking for was a small world that would not have any inhabitants, potentially a world that had a harsh environment that no organisms could survive in.

His heart was not fully set out to be a destroyer where he would without reservations take the core of a small world that was filled with life forms similar to his own homeworld just a few months ago, even with all the knowledge he currently held.

He did not travel far before he came upon a world filled with elemental storms and chaotic energies. It was neither a large nor a middle world, being a perfectly small world that was uninhabited by any other beings. The rough storms always raging on the surface of this world and in the skies above it making it an uninhabitable star in this wide area.

His eyes honed in on this world as he began shooting down towards it at a high speed. He felt a slight resistance as his level was so much higher than this world, but these protections were nearly nothing when it came to someone who wielded the immense energy coming from multiple stars.

He quickly pierced through the many layers that a small world would have for protection as he entered its atmosphere, and then continued shooting down towards its earth!

BOOM!

His body pierced through the layers of frozen Earth, this world holding unique qualities of destructive storms above it and frozen earth below it. Because of his extremely fast speed, he began nearing the inner core of this world in less than a few minutes.

SHAA!

He broke through the innermost layer where the core of the entire world laid as he glanced upon these slowly rotating ovular shape in front of him.

[...]

A period of silence followed as Noah looked upon this rotating core of this unknown small world, where he heard a cold static voice thereafter.

[What are you?]

The small world coldly asked this question in a manner and tone of voice that Noah was used to hearing throughout these past few months. He impassively focused on the core of this small world as he took in its words and replied calmly.

"I would apologize to you in advance. For this is something that I do have a choice on, and I am choosing to do it regardless of its consequences in order to further my own goals. It is even somewhat hypocritical."

His voice was that of conflict as he had made sure to look for a specific world, one that didn't have any life on it, one where he would not be taking or reaping the lives of billions. But still, there was one entity that would have to be affected no matter what he did.

This entity was the world itself.

He glanced upon the small world core that did not reply after it heard Noah's words. Its vast senses telling it that something inexplicable would be happening here today. Noah moved without any further forethought as he threw his hands out and placed them on the powerful core of this Small World as he uttered simple words.

RUMBLE!

For the first time ever, in actuality and in totality, he had cast the skill from the Seven Deadly Sins, from the Sin of Gluttony- He had cast [Devouring] on an actual world!

OOONG!

A cloud of darkness went on to wrap around the rotating world core, its manner was that as if a beast had opened its jaws and was rapidly closing in on this resplendent core. Devouring was fully cast as the cloud of darkness had circled the entire core of the Small World in front of Noah, with essence beginning to leak out of the body of the clone nonsensically as the target of devouring was an actual world this time around, not just an enemy that was at the mythical or a legendary rank, but an entire core of a small world!

RUMBLE!

Essence leaked out of him with wild abandon as the entire surroundings of the small world were shaking. At this moment in time something that had rarely occurred in history was happening, where one existence that was on an entirely different tier from another was doing something unexplainable!

The process of essence continuing to leave his body recklessly went on for a few minutes before everything went silent and the darkness that was wrapping around the core of the small world rapidly began to reduce in size as Noah began to see cracks appearing on the layers of earth around them.

CRACK!

At the moment that the small world core fully disappeared and the devouring skill had successfully done its job and devoured an entire core of a small world, space shattered and began folding in on itself!

This destruction continued spreading throughout the area of the inner core that Noah was in, his figure teleporting out of the area as he began to see notifications of messages from the Planetary System Discerning the exact results of his actions.

He appeared in the space above the uninhabitable planet that was filled with even more destructive storms as he looked at the visible result of his actions.

CRACK! CRACK! BOOM!

In front of the already destructive world, cracks were visibly spreading all around the spherical planet, the instability of a world without a core being visible in front of Noah's eyes as he went on to watch the destruction of something that he had caused with his own hands.

BOOM! BOOM!

Space shattered and refolded as the world had a force rapidly pulling itself in near the center of the missing core before it exploded outwards as a supernova!

Shards of the planet began to spread out far and wide as in front of Noah's eyes, the storms gradually reduced and calmness slowly returned, the only thing left behind in front of him was palpitating destructive essence and floating debris over the wide area of space.

[A Small World Core has been obtained.]

From the void of space, numerous Chaos Particles had begun appearing as they willingly fell upon Noah the chaos and destruction he had caused being rewarded as a few hundred Chaos Particles were added unto his already abundant amount. The Planetary System was also sending various messages as the results of devouring a Small World Core were slowly unfolding in front of his eyes!

Chapter 417 - Possibilities

In the [Large Stomach] that was created from the abilities of the Sin of Gluttony, an ovular world core was floating stably as the essence of gluttony tried to absorb it ever so slowly.

Noah felt these changes as he gave a command, everything going silent in the large stomach with the messages of the Planetary System continuing to ring out and float in front of his eyes!

[Analyzing.]

[The devoured Core is an entirely separate entity compared to you.]

[There is a high rate of failure if you try to absorb the Small World Core.]

[Two options exist after the successful devouring of a world core. The first is to use the core as a basis to upgrade a Spiritual Land. The second is to use the world core as the basis to upgrade the levels of the connected worlds. You cannot personally gain benefits from it as it is an entirely different plane of existence compared to you.]

Noah listened to these words as he nodded, his thoughts just being affirmed as he had already looked at this possibility while using <<Herald of Fate>>!

He would not have been able to even fathom if he could somehow obtain quantifiable or actual benefits from him actually absorbing the core of an entire world. Unlike him, a world did not have statistical values. It did not have vitality, strength, or focus. Nor did it have any skills or abilities. It was an entity that was bound by the universal laws!

It was him that was an anomaly! It was him that had stepped out of the bounds of his existence and actually intruded upon the existence that was a world, being able to actually devour its Core through using the large reserves of mana that he was borrowing from the many worlds he was already connected to.

He thought of the two options that the planetary system had laid out for the possibilities on what to do with world cores as at this moment, he was focusing on the first one. The use of the world core to fulfilling the requirement that the Spiritual Land needed!

In the void of space, Noah's clone glanced at the destruction that he had caused, the debris of an entire star floating around him as he began to disappear in particles of light.

He reappeared in the underground space of the Spiritual Sand as he looked in the Time Space where multiple beasts had already broken into the Soul Forging Realm.

The emperor penguin was of course the first, with the Arctic Wolf and the Polar Bear following there after, where now only two of the spiritual beasts had yet to finish their breakthroughs!

Noah waited patiently as he thought about his recent actions, his heart not wavering one bit.

To make sure that no problems occurred for what he was about to do he teleported out of the spiritual land and made sure that everyone was contained in it, leaving behind the ancient pedestal that held the Inheritance of the Disciple of Fire as he used anchor to place the spiritual land on his body where he then disappeared once again from the volcanic mountain.

This time when he reappeared, he was actually near the Ancient Blood World that stood at the junction between the Light and Dark Expanse. This was an area that he knew very few beings would be passing by as he laid out this spiritual land in the vastness of space and let it bloom to its full size!

The spiritual land that could have been considered a floating city multiple tiers ago could now already be called a country in itself. Noah always messed around with the spiritual land's size regulation feature, so he never really let it bloom to its full size in the past months, with the spiritual land almost always remaining miniaturized as he moved along with it.

This time around he was in the vastness of space as he let the spiritual land freely get to what could be considered its size at the eighth tier. The enormous floating landmass bloomed further and further as Noah's figure slowly became the size of an ant. The spiritual land itself continued to expand while he pulled back further and further to observe its enormous size.

When he made some quick calculations as the fantastical landmass that was holding its large shade of white color and still keeping to its name as the Frozen Plateau Spiritual Land, he found that it was approximately around one thousand miles in size!

This was a landmass that had been obtained in the Frozen Kingdom of the Beast World. At that time this landmass was only a few tens of miles long being something that floated in the skies near the frozen kingdom.

Yet now, the Spiritual Land had grown to a size of over 1,000 miles, and from what Noah expected, after the upgrade to the ninth tier that actually required the core of a small world, this Spiritual Land was about to get even bigger!

RUMBLE!

He glanced at spiritual land management As he saw under the Upgrade Conditions for the number of beasts to reach 10 had turned green. For the requirement of a small world core, it had also turned green!

The spiritual land could already sense a core of a small world on the body of its master, and the requirements could be considered completed as now all that was needed was an immense amount of energy and essence in order to initiate the upgrade from the eight tier and into the ninth tier.

This was an upgrade that required the core of a small world, so what exactly would be the boons of it come out of it? What exactly would the possible Locked feature that was listed as [Division] for this next stage of the spiritual land hold in store?!

Noah wasted no further time as he looked at the mystically floating landmass that stably stood in space, his thoughts already moving to initiate the upgrade to the 9th Tier!

Chapter 418 - An Upgrade of Enormous Significance!

The mystical spiritual land floated in the vastness of space near the junction of the light expanse in the Dark Expanse it had a blue light film of light covering it in its entirety, making sure that it acted as a protective barrier between the suffocating space and the beings that were currently within the spiritual land. To them, the environment had changed from the red blazing earth and lava that was the volcanic mountain that they were under, and now when they looked to the skies of the spiritual land all they could see was the expanse of space!

Some of the more knowledgeable beings in the spiritual land knew that something grand was about to happen. This was even more so for the beings that had followed Noah the longest, as the Calamities of the Sea, along with Barbatos, Kazuhiko, Steel Mikhail, and many others that clustered near the center of the spiritual land where Noah had built the most pristine buildings while using the [Architecture] feature of the spiritual land.

While a majority of the beings gathered here, the emperor penguin appeared in the skies of the spiritual land, his brothers and sisters not too far behind him as the 10 of them looked out into the void of space, barely being able to see Noah's clone through their connection that they held to this Spiritual Land Master.

Their bodies had the aura of having just broken through to the Soul Forging Realm, completing one of the requirements as they simply waited for yet another resplendent upgrade to occur in the land that they were born in. They had a deep trust in their master, and simply bided their time as they waited for the event to start!

Noah's clone was staring at this fantastical sight that was a spiritual land as he put aside his thoughts and commanded the item that was contained in the large stomach ability of the Sin of Gluttony.

Right in front of him, the sizable core of a Small World appeared, not rotating anymore as it floated stably in space. Noah's thoughts then went to the {Spiritual Land Management} which showed the upgrade conditions as met and without further ado, he went ahead and initiated the upgrade of the spiritual land from the eighth year and into the ninth tier!

RUMBLE!

The world core that was standing next to him suddenly shot out with extreme speed as it was attracted onto the floating spiritual land, going through and easily passing through the blue film of light as it continued downwards. The soil that it was about to hit on the snowy area of a spiritual land seemingly opened up in front of this core as it continued to shoot down further and deeper into the spiritual land without any issues until it settled in a place that could be considered near the very center of the spiritual land deep in the underground area where the Time Space and the Blacksmith's Forge was located!

OOONG!

In the vastness of space, the spiritual land began rumbling with energy as from Noah's body, a ridiculous amount of mana began flowing out. The spiritual land itself was using the atmospheric essence it held along with the energies in the void of space and dropping them towards its center as the process of upgrading the spiritual land from the eighth tier and the ninth tier went underway.

If one would describe it, it would be a cacophony of colors and regality where one could observe blue essence rushing in one direction, red essence rushing in another, and a gorgeous color of white bathing every inch and corner of the spiritual land!

What many could observe before they had to close their eyes as it was shining too brightly, was actually the mana that was leaking out of Noah's ancient blood clone. It was coming out at such a rate that one could visibly see the shining blue color that continued to descend down towards the enormous spiritual land.

Noah simply acted like a conduit as he 100% knew at this moment that he was the only being who remotely had the possibility of doing something like this, the mana that was required being something that maybe only those nearing the peak of power in the Novus Galaxy being able to provide!

This reality of upgrading this unique treasure called the Spiritual Land simply required too much mana that when he looked at people like Steel Mikhail and Kazuhiko or the Imperial Phoenix that held their own spiritual lands, he knew for sure that they would never be able to upgrade their Tiers at the stage that he was currently doing.

They would never be able to get their hands on a world core, nor be able to provide this abundant energy that was all coming out of the reserves of the many stars he was connected to!

This led him to briefly think about all the things that had brought him here. How the Beast World that was being overtaken by the demons from the Demon World was the reason for and where his journey into other worlds began. With the demon invasion and then entering the Beast world to fight off the demons until he got his hands on the Spiritual Land in the process.

He thought of all the events that led up to him obtaining this unique treasure and what had happened since then as everything seemed to be steered by the hands of fate!

He seemed to be a singular being that met the many strict conditions to do what he was currently doing because of a coincidental set of events that all led here!

It was at this stage but he evaluated many of the things that had occurred to him as he wondered, just how many of them were based on his choices and his actions, and how many were steered by an unknown hand of fate?

He actually found himself asking a question that a certain War Princess always had in her heart. What exactly did fate have in store for him?

He held no answer at this moment as he put these terrifying thoughts in the back of his mind and continued observing the upgrade of something beautiful.

He visibly watched the floating landmass that was the spiritual land continue to expand ever so larger, its size going from 1,000 miles to 1,500 and then simply doubling to 2,000 from the original size when it was in the Eighth Tier. When it reached approximately 2,000 miles in all directions, light continued to converge towards it with even more vigor. The blue thin film of light that surrounded it only getting stronger as it reached a crescendo of buildup!

RUMBLE!

At this point in time, from the circular shape of the floating spiritual land a blast of blue light released from it that went out in all directions. It was a light that announced the completion of something grand, of something beautiful, as even Noah's eyes were blinded by the light entirely!

His eyes opened to glance at the magnificent Spiritual Land thereafter as he observed it now held an even stronger protective film of light, its grandeur stably standing in the void of space as at this moment, he shockingly heard something that could only be coming out at the center of the Spiritual Land.

[Hello, Master.]

Noah's eyes opened wide as he heard this voice, his gaze focusing on the spiritual land and piercing through the many layers as he followed the voice to the exact center of this floating landmass where he now saw a powerfully shining blue core slowly rotating, the voice that he had heard in his mind coming from this exact location!

For the first time in the past day since he received the Infernal Lord title, Noah finally found himself having a real smile as he was faced with this new situation.

His expression was actually joyful as he realized a consciousness had appeared from the Frozen Plateau Spiritual Land the moment it absorbed the core of a small world and was upgraded from the eighth and into the ninth tier! This voice was also very similar to the voice of the Small World that he had obtained the Core from!

Furthermore, under the management skill he had always used for this floating landmass, he had seen a change of words from Spiritual Land and into Spiritual World!

...!!!

Chapter 419 - A Manager!

A mystically floating landmass was amazingly stationed in the void of space, its size nearing that of Small Worlds.

In the past, it could have been called a Spiritual Land. But currently, it was known as a Spiritual World!

Noah's Ancient Blood Clone glanced at this marvel as he replied to the robot like voice in his mind.

"You are..."

[The essence of the Spiritual World. With your permission, I will be overseeing many of its functions, being capable of designing cities and countries, as well as using all the other features under Spiritual World Management to craft in the Blacksmith's Forge or design the Law Spaces.]

A wonderful reply came to his mind as he explored the fantastical situation opening itself to him after the upgrade of the Spiritual World. He nodded as he glanced at the skill that was now renamed {Spiritual World Management} first!

{Spiritual World Management}

[Frozen Plateau-9]

Upgrade Conditions: 10+ Spiritual Land Beasts at the Domain Rank, A Large World Core

A large set of words shone in a clear blue in the panel of {Spiritual World Management}, Noah glancing through all the changes as he observed the newest ones with shining eyes.

The first thing he noticed was the fairly eye catching descriptions of the new medicinal plants available for planting!

[Fire Starter] :: A unique medicinal herb that can only grow in the Fire Law Space. The matured herb will contain the essence of the Law of Fire, granting those that consume it faster comprehension in this law. Maturing Time- 10 Years.

[Frigid Apple] :: A unique fruit that can only grow in the Water Law Space. The matured herb will contain the essence of the Law of Water, granting those that consume it faster comprehension in this law. Maturing Time- 10 Years.

Noah read over the description of the plants that were the first of their kind to actually give benefits to laws. The long maturing time that was attached to them did not bother him one bit as he had [Budding Farmer] to reduce this time by a large amount, and he also planned to have many of them planted in the Time Space of the Spiritual World that was many miles wide now!

Next up, he observed the newly unlocked feature, which was called [Division].

[Division] :: The Spiritual World is unique, holding features that are rare to find across the stars. One of these features is the ability to divide the Spiritual World into connected landmasses, giving one the versatility of designing something that is only limited by their imagination.

A fairly straightforward description that also left a lot of things in the air floated in front of him, his mind already thinking of the possibilities when he heard the voice of the Spiritual World again.

[Master, this Division Feature can be used to exquisitely design areas where you can have things like different Law Spaces or special environments. The Fire Law Space could be made into its own floating island, the Time Space could have its own area, and much more.]

Noah listened to the thoughts seamlessly entering his mind as he knew he would be utilizing this Spiritual World to an even bigger potential now that it had an entity to do every single task for him.

All he would need to do was give the commands on what he wanted to be done, and this entity would carry it out in the best way possible! He already had a grand image in his mind of this Spiritual World having exquisitely designed areas with multiple environments and Law Spaces, specifically designated lands for farming and architecture from different worlds appearing beautifully all around this large Spiritual World.

These were all ideas in his mind, but this entity that now stood at the center of the Spiritual World would make them a reality in the future!

He put these thoughts aside as he continued looking through the changes under {Spiritual World Management}, seeing that all the previous features were boosted in their own ways. He glanced at the upgraded changes under the [Law Space] feature as currently, only the Fate and Chaos Spaces seemed to be remaining locked.

[Law Space] :: Fields containing a higher concentration of particular laws can be created, granting increased comprehension speed to all that cultivate within. Currently unlocked spaces: Water, Fire, Earth, Air, Time, Space, Light, Dark. Locked spaces: Fate, Chaos...

It seemed like the next upgrade of tiers for the Spiritual World would be when he would be able to make the Fate and Chaos Spaces which should be able to drastically improve how fast he condensed Fate Lines and Chaos Particles. He glanced at the changes of the Blacksmith's Forge next.

A new feature had been unlocked, this time being the [Recipe Design]!

[Recipe Design] :: The Spiritual World Master can design Item Blueprints that the forge can then analyze the viability before they are forged with the required materials.

A simple explanation laid out in front of him, giving him even more thoughts as he knew he would be very busy in the coming days with all the things he had on his hands.

The last thing he looked at was the conditions to upgrade to the 10th Tier, requiring a similar number of beasts like last time to reach the next rank, but the requirement of a Large World Core going along with it. This was a fairly difficult requirement, as it was nigh impossible to find a Large World that was uninhabitable and did not have any beings in the billions populating it.

This was because a world only had the possibility of reaching that stage because of the fates of the beings it carried if it wasn't already at that stage in the beginning. This meant that when the time came for him to look for the Core of a Large World, he had to be creative or end up doing something horrendous!

But he left all of these thoughts for the future as he currently focused on the task at hand. There were a multitude of things he wanted to explore in this fantastical newly upgraded Spiritual World, and he also wanted to begin the Dual Cultivation of Chaos and Fate, where he focused on Fate next as he brought the number of Fate Lines from 26,000 and pushed it further up. The number of Lines of Fate was already slowly increasing as his main body was with Athena in the Celestial Realm continuously purifying materials from Chaos Behemoths, but it's rate did not even come close to the speed he found with his Dual Cultivation method!

His body disappeared into particles of light as he descended into the Spiritual Land first, wanting to test its new Manager as well as observe how it would carry out the features!

Chapter 420 - Breathtaking

Steel Mikhail glanced at the surroundings of the Spiritual Land as he had his usual cold exterior on the outside, but inside his heart was trembling at the continuing unfolding situation around him!

This Protector still referred to the landmass he was on as the Spiritual Land, but even he was wondering whether this was an apt name for such a fantastical place that was now floating in the void of space.

He sensed the overflowing essence as his gaze and the gazes of many others looked to the skies of the Spiritual Land, seeing twinkling stars above them as they became entranced by it. From the position he was at, he knew that even with the limits of where he could spread his aura, he wouldn't be able to fully ascertain the size of this Spiritual Land that had grown immensely larger.

This wasn't to mention the area overflowing with the Law of Fire that had allowed him to condense a Fire Origin Core after obtaining the Inheritance that Noah led them to not too long ago.

Steel Mikhail thought about this being that at one stage, he had considered to be on the same level as him! Now, he seemed so extremely far away, to the point that he did not even know which manner to talk to him anymore. The powerful air he released made him seem foreign, like an entirely different person from when he first met him in the Blessed Empire.

He had looked at this being before as a much stronger Hunter who provided much needed help to push back against the demons, but ever since then, the things he continued to do had just continued to astound and break the common sense that all the people like him had.

The things he did were so ridiculous to wrap one's mind around that if he told himself of the events just four months ago, he would laugh as he threw them aside as lies!

There were somehow numerous portals in this being's Spiritual Land that connected to multiple worlds. Oh and somehow, he had descended down or sent his forces into these worlds to lead them to submission. Aside from this fantastic floating land, he was able to enter the ranks of the most powerful beings of their Galaxy and seamlessly stay in their ranks, gaining access to a realm unlike anything from their imaginations.

He was also able to gain something secretive like the bloodline of the Vampyre Progenitor, where he shared other bloodlines of Vampyres like nothing to him and many others, his hands being so full that he simply created a portal connecting their small blue planet to a Prime World called an Ancient Blood World that held its own unique and amazing opportunities.

There were so many things occurring around this being that if Mikhail was to tell himself this in the past, he wouldn't believe it!

And now, on the latest venture, he had his Spiritual Land upgraded to another tier yet again as Mikhail felt an unexplainable feeling. He had the thought that the land he was standing on actually did not feel all that different from the worlds that he had the chance to travel into because of Noah.

This thought actually scared him as the implications of this Spiritual Land being a world carried an immense weight that he could not fully fathom right now!

Steel Mikhail was surrounded by the other Harbingers as they watched spectacular changes appearing right in front of their eyes, those with high realms being able to spread their auras out as they began to observe large scale changes that shocked them to their cores.

They first watched as Noah appeared in the skies of the Spiritual Land far away from them, where they could only observe if they used long distance skills as the land they were on had become exceedingly vast after the last upgrade.

But they saw his appearance in the skies, and then felt shaking thereafter as they observed a stupendous sight of huge sections of landmasses splitting apart, some rising while others fell!

RUMBLE!

They shockingly watched as a landmass of a few hundred miles rose in the north, and others of similar size breaking off from the Spiritual Land and rising in the south, east, and west.

They were left on what could now be considered a central landmass where much of the architecture was at, their jaws agape as a coalescence of colorful essence and lights covered the four huge landmasses that were hundreds of miles long!

To their North, the huge landmass that had risen there had the Fire Law Space that they were cultivating the Disciple of Fire in before, its sheen being slight red as those whose eyes could observe more would be able to see that the Fire Law Space was expanding rapidly, going on to cover most of this floating island as the atmospheric fire elements began to wildly converge in this particular island.

The other ones did not have a Law Space initiated to be built yet, so the next thing they could observe was the formation of resplendent blue lines from each of the risen land masses as they connected to one another, and to the central landmass they were on as well!

These blue lines shimmered as they seemed to be calling forth the surrounding earth, the beings in the Spiritual World watching with agape expressions as solid earth converged on these blue lines that connected the landmasses and began forming into the shapes of exquisitely designed bridges.

It was something reminiscent of the small floating peaks of the Frozen Kingdom in the Beast World that had staircases one could climb in a matter of minutes to reach another peak, but the huge bridges and stairs being created to connect each of the landmasses that had broken off from the Spiritual World were tens of miles long, with some even being more than a hundred miles long!

It was a scene straight out of fantasy as in front of the eyes of shocked beings, four huge islands had broken off from a central one on the Spiritual Land, huge and long connections being built on each of these floating islands as a beautiful scenery was created.

OOOM

Essence gradually settled down on the Spiritual World that floated stably in the void of space between the Light and Dark Expanse. If one were to observe from the expanse of space, they would see an extremely large landmass that could be considered an entire world by its size. A blue film of light shimmered and surrounded this small world as one could distinctly see four smaller continental land masses on each of the four directions of this world!

It was a scene of a never before seen world with a unique look, but this was just the beginning as the possibilities for what could be designed in this wondrous Spiritual World were endless!
