

The Mans Decree Chapter 1789 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1789

A Man Like None Other Novel

Anne nodded. "We've been pursued a few times on our way here. I assume my elder brother, Harold, sent these people to chase us down because he doesn't want me to survive."

"Unexpectedly, the power struggles overseas are also so brutal," Gilbert piped up. "In that case, we should head back."

Kai was about to bring Anne back, but right after he turned around and took two steps forward, four men in black showed up. Their faces were concealed behind masks, and they all wielded a scimitar. Their eyes glinted with murderous intent.

At the sight of the four men in black who appeared out of nowhere, Andrew guarded Anne closely, getting ready to confront the formidable enemies.

Kai sized up the quartet. All of them were considered experts as they were Martial Arts Marquises. If they gang up on Andrew, he will undoubtedly lose.

"Andrew, surrender Princess Anne, and we shall spare your life. Otherwise, we'll skin you and turn your bear skin into clothes," one of the men in black jeered at Andrew.

"No way. I'm Princess Anne's guard. I will rather die before allowing you to cause any harm to Princess Anne!" Andrew uttered coldly.

"Fine. Since you're so stubborn, we'll kill you before we murder Princess Anne."

With that, the four men in black emitted waves of icy auras targeted at Andrew. They acted as if Kai and Gilbert weren't there.

The four men in black completely disregarded Kai and Gilbert, who looked relatively thinner. and weaker.

Roar! Seeing that, Andrew immediately transformed into his strongest form. The next second, his body was covered in fur, and he bared his razor-sharp fangs.

He turned into a giant brown bear, roaring loudly while carefully protecting Anne.

"Hmph. So what if you transformed?" One of the men in black snorted.

Then, they launched themselves toward Andrew. Andrew bellowed and bolted forward, engaging. the four men in black in an intense battle.

The fight involving five Martial Arts Marquises caused successive explosions to reverberate in the air. The snow on the ground flew into the air as they grappled and slowly fell back to earth.

Even after Andrew transformed into his most powerful form, he wasn't capable of defeating the four men in black at once.

Andrew's huge figure was sent flying into the air after a man in black struck him forcefully. Subsequently, Andrew fell heavily to the ground, creating a deep crater in it.

Panic and anxiety overwhelmed Anne as she witnessed the turn of events. Roar! Andrew bellowed again. He got up and swung his massive bear claw at the four men in black.

Two men in black stopped him while the other two strode toward Anne. Anne staggered backward continuously when she saw them approaching, but they swiftly arrived before her.

"Princess Anne, will you end your own life, or shall we do it for you?" one of the men in black asked. "Who are you? Did Harold send you here?" Anne questioned the man in black.

"You don't have to know that. We'll tell you everything when you're dead," he sneered.

Biting her lip, she knew she couldn't escape this predicament as the four formidable men in black cornered her. "Mr. Chance, these guys seem to be ignoring us," Gilbert said to Kai. "Indeed. We're being ignored."

Kai chuckled. Kai was a prominent figure known by everyone in Chanaea, so he would never be disregarded. Unexpectedly, those four men in black were paying him no attention at that moment.

"Since these guys aren't using their eyes well, should I remove them?" Gilbert asked. "That's a good idea." Kai nodded. Kai had permitted Gilbert to attack.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1790 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1790

A Man Like None Other Novel

Kai and Gilbert's conversation infuriated the two men in black. "You two Chanaeans had better get out of my sight. Otherwise, you won't be leaving here alive," one of them threatened with a murderous look. Anne, too, turned toward Kai. "Kai, don't get involved. You better leave with your friend. These men are really strong."

“To be honest, I curious to see for myself how strong they are.” Cracking a smile, Kai gave Gilbert a look. Gilbert nodded in acknowledgment before leaping into the air toward the two men.

“ Kai, you’re no match against them. They’re Martial Arts Marquises. You should run...” Anne cried out when she saw Gilbert make his move.

However, the moment Anne finished, two agonized screams rang out. Both men were covering their eyes with their hands while four bloody eyeballs could clearly. be seen on the snow-covered ground.

At the same time, blood was gushing out through the gaps between the fingers of the two men. The gruesome sight stupefied Anne.

“Since your eyes aren’t much of a use, I might as well remove them for you,” Gilbert sneered. Meanwhile, the other two men in black who were engaged in battle with Andrew hurried over upon hearing the screams.

Their departure brought relief upon Andrew, who had reached his limit with his entire body covered in wounds. By the time the two men arrived, they were utterly shocked by their compatriots’ empty eye sockets.

Given that the four of them knew each other’s strengths like the back of their hands, they recognized that whoever could instantaneously dig out their compatriots’ eyes had to bet significantly more powerful than they were.

As a result, the two men helped their wounded compatriots up and fled. “How dare you try and escape?”

Gilbert lunged forward to stop them. With his fingers curled into claws, he dug the eyes of the other two men out, triggering another round of harrowed cries.

At that moment, the four men in black had been blinded. Continuing to scream from the excruciating pain, they fumbled around aimlessly and before crashing into one another.

Meanwhile, Anne and Andrew were stunned by Gilbert’s magnificent display of skill. Upon Gilbert’s return, Anne couldn’t help but ask, “ Kai, who is your friend? Why is he so powerful?”

Kai chuckled in response. “He’s just a Top. Level Martial Arts Marquis who has failed to achieve Greater Martial Arts Marquis.”

His words caused Gilbert to feel embarrassed, for the latter had been unable to do so despite trying for twenty years.

If anyone had made that comment about him, he would definitely have been outraged, but there were no hard feelings when Kai made it.

After all, it only took Kai slightly more than a year to become a Greater Martial Arts Marquis. His outstanding talent and mind-blowing strength had earned Gilbert's utmost respect.

As for Anne and Andrew, both of them were filled with admiration and disbelief upon learning that Gilbert was a Top Level Martial Arts Marquis.

Even though Andrew was a Martial Arts Marquis, he had only recently achieved that level. A long path still lay ahead of him before he could reach Top Level Martial Arts Marquis.

Soon, Anne sensed that something was amiss and asked Kai curiously, "When you mentioned that he was only a Top Level Martial Arts Marquis, you didn't sound impressed at all. How powerful are you?"

"Me? I'm a fifth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis," Kai replied with a smile.

"You must be boasting. How can someone as young as you be a fifth Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis? Weren't you just a Senior Grandmaster a year ago?"

Anne didn't believe Kai at all, for there was no way he could have made such a huge leap in a such short time.

This is impossible! Even Andrew, who could cultivate at great speed due to him being a Werebear, took a year to elevate himself from Martial Arts Grandmaster to Martial Arts Marquis. On top of that, he consumed immense cultivation resources during the same period. So, how can an ordinary person like Kai make so much progress so quickly?

The Mans Decree Chapter 1791 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1791

A Man Like None Other Novel

Anne and Andrew simply refused to believe him. Failing to convince them, Kai shrugged in resignation. "Since you don't believe me, I'll just have to show it to you. No wonder people say that women are less knowledgeable. It's really true."

No sooner had Kai spoken than he gave his hand a gentle flick while looking at the four groaning men in black. All of a sudden, an earth-shattering aura descended upon the space.

Boom! The four men exploded into mush that was scattered all over the ground, just like snowflakes. It was as if they had never ever appeared in the first place.

Anne and Andrew were subsequently flabbergasted upon watching the instant devastation. A long while passed before Anne regained her senses. It was then that her shock turned into delight.

“... I didn’t expect that you’re really a Greater Martial Arts Marquis. This is wonderful!”

Unable to contain her elation, she gave Kai a hug, followed by peppering him with kisses all over Her sudden display of emotions stunned Kai, who quickly tried to push her away.

This Senerisian girl is just too liberal.

Despite his attempts to keep his distance, Anne refused to let him go. It was during their struggle that he was suddenly gripped by a terrifying aura that sent a shiver down his spine.

With his hair standing on end, Kai had never felt so threatened in his life. When he finally freed himself and turned around, he was greeted by the sight of Lizbeth and the other girls approaching.

All of them were glaring at him, their eyes spitting fire. The terrifying sight simply blew Kai’s mind.

“D*mn it, Kai, no wonder you didn’t want to go shopping with us. It turns out that you’re here to see this Senerisian girl who also happens to be an old friend of yours.”

Lyanna was the first to comment, for she had met Anne before during the international competition one year ago.

Moreover, both of them were in constant conflict with each other when it came to vying for Kai’s attention. Now that Anne was hugging Kai and kissing him, Lyanna was, without a doubt, outraged.

As for Lizbeth, she, too, knew who Anne was but didn’t mind Kai’s association with the latter. After all, she expected someone as outstanding as Kai to have plenty of women.

Nonetheless, Kai’s clandestine conduct and the intimacy he displayed still unsettled her.

Other than Josephine, she had been with Kai. the longest. Thus, she felt that Anne had one up her in terms of their physical relationship with Kai.

“ Kai, it seems that you’re becoming greedier,” Renee remarked with a sigh.

“ Kai, it turns out that you like Senerisian girls. No wonder you couldn’t be bothered when my sister threw herself at you,” Millie sneered with a pout.

Filled with embarrassment, Cecilia quickly reprimanded her, "Millie, stop your nonsense."

At the same time, Astrid came forward and asked, "Kai, who's this Senerisian girl?" Overwhelmed by the barrage of questions, Kai felt as if his mind was going to explode.

Meanwhile, Colin and Gilbert couldn't help but smirk when they saw the look on Kai's face. Sometimes, it's just a burden to have too many women.

"Hello, ladies. My name is Anne. I'm a friend of Kai's. Just now, I was just showing how happy I was to see an old friend. This is how we greet our friends in this country. I hope that I have not caused any misunderstanding," Anne explained to Lizbeth and the others before Kai could say a word.

"That's right. We were just greeting each other according to the local custom. This is Seneris, after all, and Anne is a citizen here. She was just delighted to see me, that's all," Kai quickly added.

"Mmm-hmm, I have heard that foreigners greet each other by kissing."

Colin made the remark when everyone least expected it. With everyone bursting into laughter, he had succeeded in defusing the situation.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1792 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1792

A Man Like None Other Novel

With that, Kai seized upon the opportunity to order everyone back to the hotel. After learning that Kai was a Greater Martial Arts Marquis, Anne and Andrew joined them with the intention of never leaving Kai's side.

Hence, Kai was worried that Anne would get into a conflict with the other girls. Having underestimated their social skills, he was soon surprised to see Anne fitting right in with the group as if all of them were old friends.

Moreover, they felt indignant on Anne's behalf upon learning of her predicament. All of them wanted to find the King of Herbs and teach Harold a lesson on her behalf.

The next day, Dale came to the hotel first thing in the morning to see Kai. He was to lead Kai in his search for the ancient ruins.

Initially, Kai didn't want the girls to come along. However, he had no choice, as they would be unhappy if Anne—who was looking for the King of Herbs—went alone with him. "Where's Mr. Flaxseed?"

After everyone had gathered, Kai couldn't see Flaxseed anywhere.

“He hasn’t left his room ever since he arrived. God knows what he’s doing inside,” Colin replied. Kai didn’t need to guess what Flaxseed was up to, but given his expertise in navigating tombs, they couldn’t do without his presence.

Thus, Kai went to his room and knocked loudly on the door. The door opened quickly, revealing the yawning Flaxseed. His eyes had a listless look in them and were weighed down by heavy eyebags.

On his bed were two blond girls lying in it. “Mr. Flaxseed, we’re going off to find the ancient ruins,” Kai informed him. “Um... So soon?”

Flaxseed was caught by surprise. “If I don’t hurry, I would probably find you dead in your bed.”

Kai rolled his eyes at Flaxseed, who responded with a chuckle. “These Senerisian girls are amazing. Wait for me while I get dressed.”

Soon, Flaxseed emerged after getting ready. From the look on his face, everyone knew what he was up to while being holed up in his room.

“D’mn it, Kai, you’re really something! You already got yourself a Senerisian girl in just two days?”

The moment Flaxseed saw Anne, he couldn’t help but admire Kai for his charm. “Enough. It’s getting late. Let’s hurry.”

Worried that Flaxseed would start blabbering away, Kai quickly urged the group to set off. With Dale leading the way, they boarded at minibuses toward the foot of the snowy mountain.

When they were about more than ten kilometers away, their bus came to a stop. The tarred road had come to an end, which required them to trek the rest of the way.

After packing some supplies and a simple tent, Dale informed Kai, “Mr. Chance, the weather here can be unpredictable. That’s why we’ll need to bring some food. Who knows, we might even have to spend the night here.”

“Okay!” Kai nodded. After glancing at the supplies, he kept them all in his Storage Ring with a wave of his hand. It was an ability Dale was extremely envious of.

With that, the group trudged on the snow-capped ground as they continued their journey up the snowy mountain. What started out as an adventure was turned into a sightseeing trip by the girls.

Some of them began to fool around and even had snowball fights amongst themselves. Consequently, their behavior rendered Kai speechless.

As for Dale, he was astonished by what he saw. Although the girls appeared weak, all of them were tremendously more powerful than he was.

Along the journey, Kai encountered other groups who were also making their way toward the mountain. They were clearly looking for the ancient ruins too, whereas their members all exuded powerful auras.

Nevertheless, the other groups didn't pay Kai's entourage any attention. From how noisy the girls were behaving, everyone assumed them to be a tour group instead.

As they got closer to the snowy mountain, the weather took a turn for the worse. A thick fog slowly engulfed the mountain, seemingly sealing it away from the world.

When Kai emitted his spiritual sense, he was surprised to find that it couldn't pierce through the fog. Evidently, the fog wasn't a natural occurrence at all.