

The Mans Decree Chapter 1946 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1946

A Man Like None Other Novel

The words filled Austin with shock. Despite spending so much time in Norham, he never knew that there were other sects on his territory. "Thank you for warning me, Mr. Chance. I'll be careful."

If Kai hadn't told him about it, Austin would remain oblivious to the fact. The reason he didn't notice them was that members of Demon Sect were careful with their movements in the mundane world and didn't harm anyone.

Upon leaving Norham, Kai set off for Encanta Island with Verner, Flaxseed, and Jessica. Now that Jessica and Flaxseed were inseparable, Kai allowed her to join them. Moreover, she would be of great use when it came to opening Evil Heart Sect's secret realm to save Josephine.

Meanwhile, on Encanta Island, Norm was filled with worry as he sat on his throne. Ever since Kai destroyed the stone statue of the blood demon, calamity upon calamity descended on Encanta Island, causing its residents to flee. Nevertheless, instead of leaving, Norm stayed behind with the rest. At the very least, the place was isolated from the rest of the world and free of conflict. On top of that, Norm could live the carefree life of a king on the island, which was something he took great pleasure in..

However, a continuous stream of powerful newcomers had been swarming toward the island lately. Even though they didn't do anything other than settle on the island, Norm was unnerved by the sudden influx of powerful warriors.

Consequently, he had his subordinates keep an eye on those newcomers and even sent someone to Jadeborough to notify Kai. While many prestigious families and sects.

within the mundane world kept an eye on Encanta Island, plenty of other families within secret realms were also doing the same. Given that Encanta Island was the first spiritual energy revival area, they wanted to seize it for themselves during the revival period.

Meanwhile, members of Violet Cloud Palace. were having a meeting within their secret realm. Santiago, the master of Violet Cloud Palace, wore a solemn expression as he spoke. "The revival of spiritual energy is part of the Heavenly Law cycle. I believe most of the major secret realms are already aware of the revival area and have sent men to fight for it. Which begs the question, have we sent ours?"

One of the elders stood up to reply, "Yes, Mr. Hargreaves. They have already arrived at Encanta Island. The eldest son of the Danaher family, Jose, has led the Elite Eighteen there. They are the family's strongest warriors."

"Do you have any information on the men sent by other major secret realms?" Santiago asked. Silence quickly descended upon the room. Not only did they not know the strength of the teams sent by other prestigious families and sects but also had no way of finding out.

The prestigious families in secret realms had representative families in the mundane world, and everything about those families was highly confidential. If it weren't for the period of spiritual energy revival, none of those families would ever show themselves. Thus, there was no way they could be investigated.

Faced with such a situation, Santiago let out a deep sigh. "The spiritual energy revival heralds a new era of bloodshed. If we don't even know the strength of our enemies, how are we going to survive what's coming? Go and investigate every single one of the Eight Major Secret Realms right now!"

The moment he finished his sentence, the fuming Santiago waved everyone off to dismiss them. Another reason why he was so angry was that he didn't even have the opportunity to spend time with Beatrice despite hiding her for such a long time already.

Given how terrifyingly strict his wife was, he didn't dare cross the line under her watchful eye. Meanwhile, Hailey had taken off her clothes and was soaking in a hot spring within a secret realm. Autumn kept watch, stopping anyone from approaching.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1947 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1947

A Man Like None Other Novel

"Ms. Hargreaves, if I'm not mistaken, you never really enjoyed hot springs. Why do you suddenly take a liking to it? Are you still thinking about Kai? You should give up.. There's no way he'll ever come here," Autumn remarked mischievously.

"What nonsense are you talking about, Autumn? I enjoy hot springs. It has nothing to do with Kai at all." Despite her denial, Hailey found herself thinking of her first encounter with Kai as the hot spring's warmth enveloped her body.

The sight of Hailey daydreaming triggered a chuckle from Autumn. When Autumn's laughter jolted her back to her senses, Hailey said, "Autumn, I have something to discuss with you."

"What is it? If it's about leaving the secret realm to go to the mundane world, you can forget about it." Autumn nipped the idea in the bud.

"J-Just let me go there this one time. I heard my dad mention the revival of spiritual energy on Encanta Island. We can go there for a vacation!" Hailey suggested in an adorable tone, hoping to get Autumn to relent. "Forget it, Mr. Hargreaves has issued an order."

Whoever takes you to the mundane world will be executed. There's no room for any discussion. Do you want me to be beheaded by Mr. Hargreaves?" Autumn retorted. Hailey shook her head reluctantly with a pout.

Meanwhile, a meeting was also going on in the nearby Waxing Crescent Castle. Given that both buildings were in the same secret realm and located close to each other, both families shared a close relationship.

Moreover, the eldest son of the Lassen family of Waxing Crescent Castle, Claus, grew up together with Hailey. Thus, both families intended for them to wed and form a marriage alliance that would strengthen the families' political influence in the secret realm.

However, they were now faced with the impending revival of spiritual energy. If spiritual energy was fully restored, the prison-like secret realms would lose their advantage, causing numerous denizens to move out of the realms into the mundane world.

As Waxing Crescent Castle was no exception, the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the issues of Encanta Island. "Old Mr. Lassen, Violet Cloud Palace's representative family in the mundane world has arrived at Encanta Island. The same can be said for other prestigious families. As for the other families in the secret realms, I'm sure they have sent their men there, too. Encanta Island is probably bursting at the seams right now," one of the higher-ups reported to Brad Lassen, the master of Waxing Crescent Castle.

"A blood bath will occur even before the spiritual energy revival. Once it actually happens, it will turn the world's hierarchy of power upside down. Now that every family is trying to seize the initiative, it's a shame that our representative family in the mundane world is a failure. They only have one Greater Martial Arts Marquis which is of no use at all," Brad fumed.

Even though Waxing Crescent Castle had also groomed a representative family in the mundane world, it was so weak that they would only end up being cannon fodder if sent to Encanta Island.

"Dad, why don't I lead a group of men to Encanta Island? We can't just allow the other prestigious families to conquer it, can we? Besides, I'm sure the island holds a secret for it to be the first spiritual energy revival area."

Claus stepped forward and volunteered to head to the island. "That won't do. Leaving the secret realm for the mundane world will cause your powers to become stagnant and potentially deteriorate.

I'm sure you're well aware of the limits that the laws of nature in the mundane world impose on us." Not wanting his son to risk his life, Brad shook his head.

"Dad, I can take the Spirit Stabilizing Pill. As long as my strength is secured, it won't deteriorate even though it remains stagnant. Conquering Encanta Island and discovering the secrets behind its spiritual energy revival is a huge opportunity that we can't afford to miss," Claus persuaded Brad. Evidently, Claus had made up his mind a long time ago.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1948 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1948

A Man Like None Other Novel

After a moment's deliberation, Brad nodded in agreement. Nonetheless, he reminded Claus, "Once you're out in the mundane world, you have to be careful in whatever you do. We don't know how many prestigious families have gathered on the island, so keep your head down. Remember, only the last man standing is the victor."

"Got it." Claus nodded before leaving the secret realm excitedly. Meanwhile, hundreds of powerful characters had gathered on Encanta Island. They came from all over the country, representing many prestigious families and sects. Moreover, people were still swarming onto the island non-stop.

Even though there were no rules to prevent these people from causing trouble, all they did was settle into their respective areas peacefully, as if they were all waiting for something. Staring at the crowd, a Black Gold Robe warrior exclaimed, "Mr. Malphas, I'm surprised to see so many people gathered here!"

"Looks like the families in the Eight Major Secret Realms have long groomed their own factions in the mundane world and have been hiding them very well."

Even though Skylar was speaking, his voice belonged to that of a gruff old man. The reason Evil Heart Sect supported the Warriors Alliance in Jadeborough was so that they, too, could one day gain a foothold in the mundane world.

The Warriors Alliance was just a tool for them to gather information. "Sir, will all of them fall into the trap we have set up on the island?" Skylar asked, concerned by the huge crowd. After all, the cumulative strength of their sheer numbers might overpower the capacity of their trap.

"Don't worry. The strongest among them are at most Greater Martial Arts Marquises. There's nothing for us to fear even if they possess sacred martial arts relics. Why are you so afraid when we have four Black Gold Robe warriors on our side? You must have been scared sh*tless by Kai,” Malphas reprimanded him.

When Skylar was cowed into silence, Malphas instructed the four Black Gold Robe warriors, “Disguise yourselves and spread the rumor that contained within the ancient ruins in the center of the island is an arcane array that can kick start the spiritual energy revival.”

“Understood.” The four Black Gold Robe warriors nodded before leaving. “Sir, are there really ancient ruins and an arcane array on the island?” Skylar asked curiously. “I’m not sure about the ancient ruins, but there’s definitely an arcane array or altar of some sort.

Otherwise, why would the spiritual energy revival happen here?” Malphas flatly replied. “I thought the revival of spiritual energy occurs due to the laws of nature!” Skylar asked in surprise. Is someone controlling it?

“You’re being too naive. The laws of nature are also developed by humans. Even this entire world is created by some sort of divine being. From the perspective of ordinary folk, the energy of heaven and earth comes from nature. To us, it is the power of the divine being. Similar to the Eight Major Secret Realms created by an immortal in the vast expanse of this world, the divine being is capable of creating other worlds, including the universe. That said, this isn’t something comprehensible even to me. Our priority now is to figure out how to strengthen ourselves and break through the laws of nature so that we can travel to another world to meet the leader of the demons...”

Skylar was mind blown as he listened to Malphas’ explanation. As he wasn’t a cultivator, his knowledge about such matters was limited. It wasn’t until he joined the Warriors Alliance that he began to learn about the heavenly realm..

Nevertheless, Malphas’ theory of the presence of a divine being made Skylar feel as if a pair of eyes was watching every single one of them. “Why am I telling you all this? It’s not like you understand at all.”

Realizing that he had said too much, Malphas ordered, “Let’s head to the ancient ruins to check it one more time. As long as we can lure those families into it, we’ll be able to bury them there for eternity.”

The Mans Decree Chapter 1949 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1949

A Man Like None Other Novel

Soon, Skylar arrived at a small hill right in the center of Encanta Island. Its height was about a hundred meters above sea level. Hidden somewhere was a stone door with motifs carved on it. It looked extremely worn. out and had already cracked open..

Skylar easily walked through it to be greeted by a dark passageway. He then continued walking for about two to three hundred meters before arriving at a massive hall.

The hall was so huge that it could easily fit ten thousand people in it. Right in the center was an altar, but the stone pillars on it had already collapsed. It looked as if someone had destroyed it on purpose. "Sir, are these the fake ruins that we have built to trick everyone?"

Skylar was awed by the sight before him. A huge sum of money is required to build these fake ruins! On top of that, completing it would've taken years. Did the Warriors Alliance find out about the spiritual energy revival beforehand and build this place?

Skylar found it hard to believe. "We found the place in this condition and don't know which sect it belongs to. Unfortunately, someone had already vandalized it. Some time ago, I've sent men here to cast an arcane array and reform the place. As long as those people from prestigious families enter this place, they'll be trapped here forever. When the time comes, the island will be ours, and we can slowly wait for the spiritual energy revival and figure out the secrets this place is hiding." Malphas explained.

It turned out that the phenomenon sensed by Godrick and the others earlier wasn't caused by the spiritual energy revival. It was instead due to the arcane array set up by the Warriors Alliance that ended up scaring everyone away.

If Kai were to learn that the Warriors Alliance was the reason that Godrick had fled back to Jadeborough, he would definitely give the latter an earful.

Soon, news of the ancient ruins in the center of Encanta Island containing an arcane array began to spread. As the rumor continued to spread far and wide, it gradually became exaggerated.

Although hordes of people went searching for it, none of them succeeded because the entrance had been sealed off by Skylar. He wasn't going to let anyone discover it until the very last moment.

By the time Kai arrived on Encanta Island with Verner and Flaxseed, thousands of elite warriors had already gathered on the island. The spectacular sight shocked Kai.

Without a moment's delay, he led his companions to the palace to see Norm. When Godrick and the others left the island, Norm chose to stay. He was, after all, the king of the land. Upon learning of Kai's arrival, he rushed out of the palace ecstatically to welcome the former.

"Mr. Chance, thank God you're here. So many people have gathered on the island! I'm so worried about the chaos they might cause..." Norm-on the brink of tears-ranted the moment he saw Kai.

The people who had arrived on the island were all warriors powerful enough to destroy his palace singlehandedly. Fortunately for him, no one had caused him any trouble yet. All they did was set up camp in their respective areas. "How did you know I was coming?"

Kai gave Norm a look of surprise. "Oh, I've sent a messenger to Jadeborough to request your presence. I just didn't expect you to arrive so quickly."

Norm thought Kai was brought here by his subordinate. Little did he know that his messenger didn't even get to see Kai during his trip to Jadeborough. "I came from someplace else and didn't get to meet with your messenger. Anyway, get the rooms ready for us to rest," Kai instructed.

"Sure, sure." Norm swiftly made the arrangements, allowing Verner's men to settle in right away.

As for Flaxseed, he headed straight into his room with Jessica in tow. When amorous moans rang out from the room, Kai and Verner exchanged smiles with each other, knowing what Flaxseed was up to.

The Mans Decree Chapter 1950 -

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1950

A Man Like None Other Novel

"Verner, let's go for a walk outside," Kai said to Verner. "Sure!" the latter replied with a nod. He and Kai then walked out of the palace and strolled along the street. Many front doors of the houses there were locked. It was evident that a lot of people had left the place.

If it were not for the sudden arrival of thousands of experts from various families, the entire Encanta Island would probably appear much more deserted.

Along the way, the duo kept hearing people mention the ancient ruins in the middle of the island. Everyone was engaged in a heated discussion. "Mr. Chance, what's with the ancient ruins? Did someone discover something?"

Verner found it very strange. It has only been a few days. How did everyone find out about the existence of ancient ruins on Encanta Island?

Kai was also a little puzzled and frowned slightly. "I don't know if there are ancient ruins, arcane arrays, or altars on Encanta Island, but how is it possible that someone would go around spreading the word about the ruins if they discovered it? Besides, if there are ruins and they know the location, why haven't these people found them?"

Verner thought Kai's words made sense, so he inquired, "Do you think that the rumors of these ancient ruins are false, Mr. Chance?" Kai shook his head. "I can't judge whether it's true or not until I figure it out, but we need to proceed with caution."

He was chatting with Verner when he saw three people walking toward them. They were none other than Marcelo of the Garcia family, Royler of the Gracie family, and Jose of the Danaher family.

Those men were relatively familiar with one another among the many other members of prestigious families on the island, so they naturally hung out with each other. Fury brewed in Marcelo's eyes when he saw Kai.

"I didn't expect to see you again so soon, Verner." Jose went up to greet Verner before shifting his gaze to Kai. "Congratulations, Mr. Chance. Your abilities must've increased quite a lot after obtaining the ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleeceflower."

"It was just a fluke," Kai said indifferently. "How can it be a fluke when you obtained it with your own abilities?" Jose laughed boisterously before turning to look at Verner. "I need to talk to you, Verner. Can we talk in private?" he asked.

"If you have something to say, just say it here!" Verner said, his tone placid. However, Jose glanced at Kai and was hesitant to speak. "You guys go ahead and talk. I'll go and take a walk."

Kai planned to leave when he noticed that Jose seemed reluctant to speak in his presence. Unexpectedly, Verner grabbed him and said, "You don't have to leave, Mr. Chance."

Verner turned to look at Jose after that and stated with displeasure, "Just get straight to the point. If you won't talk, I will leave."

"Wait." Jose stopped Verner from leaving. "Verner, I'm sure you noticed that dozens of sects and prestigious families have arrived on Encanta Island. You should know what they represent. Many of them are secretly banding together right now, so I'm hoping that our four families can form a temporary alliance to deal with whatever happens next. If we fight on our own and are divided, we will all be driven away or wiped out in the end."

It turned out that Jose wanted to talk to Verner about joining forces so that they could triumph over the other sects and prestigious families. Verner did not expect Jose to express the desire to form an alliance with him, so he glanced at Kai, seeking Kai's opinion.

After all, Verner represented The Adamantine, and even Wayne, the head of The Adamantine, had instructed him to listen to Kai. Naturally, Verner would conform to the instructions given to him.

A look of surprise flashed across Jose's face when he saw Verner looking at Kai. Even if Verner shares a close relationship with Kai, the two of them should be equals, but judging from the current situation, Kai appears to be superior to Verner!

"Verner, you're the heir of the Gingerich family from the northwest! Why are you still seeking Kai's opinion? Is he your father or something?"

Marcelo instantly seethed with anger when he saw the way Verner looked at Kai.