

The Mans Decree Chapter 3055 -

Phaethon scoffed, "You're delusional! Who do you think you are? Even if I stand here and let you punch me, you still won't be able to hurt me!"

Although he appeared unconcerned, he kept counterattacking and backing away. He was baffled because even though Kai was at Fifth Level Body Fusion Realm, the aura he emitted was that at Ninth Level. That abrupt shift caused Phaethon to lose his grasp on Kai's power level and become more cautious.

"You aren't as cocky as you appear to be. In fact, you seem rather cool-headed. Unfortunately for you, you're dead no matter how far you run. You shouldn't have injured Ms.. Tall." Murderous intent swirled in Kai's eyes..

He put away his Dragonslayer Sword and raised his hands. In an instant, his surroundings turned dark.

"Thunder Palm!" Kai roared. A dark cloud appeared above him before morphing into the shape of a palm. Lightning crackled inside the palm. Phaethon looked at the palm in the sky with a frown and sprinted away. Unfortunately, when the Thunder Palm came down, it hit Phaethon directly.

Boom! In a flash, an immense palm print appeared on the ground, and Phaethon was deeply buried under it. Thunder Palms continued to rain down from the sky and crash onto Phaethon.

In the end, Phaethon's body was buried over a dozen meters underground. He felt as though all his bones were broken, and blood was spilling out of his mouth.

Fear crept into his eyes as he didn't expect Kai's Thunder Palm to be that powerful. Phaethon crawled out of the pit with much effort.

Just as he returned to the surface, he saw Kai aiming Dragonslayer Sword at him. Kai lifted his blade, closed his eyes, and unleashed an overwhelming aura.

Buzz! A massive amount of spiritual energy poured out from his body and into his weapon, causing Dragonslayer Sword to tremble.

“Nine Shadows!” Kai roared, recalling how the elder of the Archaic Body cultivators had executed that technique with his body. He wanted to try the technique for himself.

Soon, shadowy figures appeared behind Kai from the void. They were warriors in robes and holding swords, just like Kai. All seven of the shadowy figures were emitting the same amount of aura as Kai.

“Kill!” Kai roared, pointing Dragonslayer Sword at Phaethon. The shadowy figures followed suit, pointing the tip of their blades at Phaethon. Their combined aura was so overwhelming that Phaethon felt as if a tsunami was approaching.

“How is this possible? How?” His eyes were filled with fear and rage. He felt his scalp tingle as a sense of danger overwhelmed him, but he couldn’t muster the courage to fight back..

I need to run! If I don’t, I’m definitely dead! Under everyone’s shocked gazes, Phaethon abandoned his pride and retreated.

He knew he couldn’t withstand that attack. After all, if ten Thunder Palms were almost enough to kill him, that sword attack would most certainly end him.

Kai opened his eyes, a cold glint flashing across them. Three lights exploded from Dragonslayer Sword.

Boom! The swords in the shadowy figures’ grips were already poised to fire. Together, they shot lights at Phaethon. Ten lights sped across the void like comets and headed straight for Phaethon.

Seeing that he couldn’t avoid the attack, Phaethon roared bitterly and conjured fire to form a shield around him.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3056 -

The ten lights shattered Phaethon’s barrier like glass. Each of the lights sliced his body mercilessly. In the end, Phaethon’s body was chopped into large chunks of meat. Even his primordial spirit was diced.

Everyone was shocked. For a moment, the only sound anyone could hear was the noise of Phaethon’s chunky flesh dropping onto the ground.

With that, Kai had fulfilled his promise of returning the favor by ten times. The might he displayed shocked everyone, especially his mastery of Thunder Palm and Nine Shadows. He had learned many things from the elder of the Archaic Body cultivators.

“Let’s go, Mr. Chance,” said Yuven, stepping forward. “I can’t return yet. Since the Five Slayers split up, I’m afraid the other wandering cultivators may be in danger.” Kai furrowed his brows.

“It’s just a bunch of wandering cultivators. Why do you care about them? People are killed every day in the Ethereal Realm. You can’t save everyone, Mr. Chance,” advised Yuven.

“I wouldn’t care if someone else was doing the killing. However, I won’t turn a blind eye if the Five Slayers are doing it.” Murderous intent flooded Kai’s eyes. He still held a grudge against the Five Slayers for what happened at the treasure trove.

Yuven remained silent instead of offering any more advice. He can do whatever he pleases. I’ll just follow him and lend him a hand when he’s in danger.

“Let’s leave now, then.” Kai darted toward another location in the far north. As he did, he activated his spiritual sense. At that moment, he was like a moving radar. He could sense even commotions miles away from him.

Soon, he stopped in his tracks and frowned. Without warning, he charged toward the southwest. When Yuven and the others saw that, they quickly followed Kai. As Kai’s group approached their destination, they could hear miserable screams.

Only a few wandering cultivators were left. If Woodley hadn’t been in the mood for a cat- and-mouse chase, all the wandering cultivators would’ve been dead.

“Run. Otherwise, the grim reaper will be the next thing you see.” Woodley smirked. However, the remaining wandering cultivators were covered in wounds, and they were exhausted. They didn’t have the energy to run anymore.

“I don’t care how you’re going to kill me. I can’t move anymore.” Beau lay on the ground, his face pale.

He knew his end had arrived, so he didn't wish to escape anymore. "I can't run anymore, too..." The remaining wandering cultivators similarly dropped to the ground.

Seeing that the wandering cultivators had given up, Woodley waved his hand, and a few vines appeared from thin air and wrapped themselves around Beau.

Then, the vines lifted Beau into the air, shaking him forcefully while tightening themselves around his body. Beau had a hard time breathing, and his bones were starting to break.

"Can't run anymore, eh? In that case, I shall strangle you all to death!" Woodley cackled while standing before Beau.

Beau gritted his teeth. He knew there was no other way for his story to end. After all, even if he kept running, he would eventually just die of exhaustion. He preferred to have his life end swiftly.

Enraged by Beau's attitude, Woodley raised the power of the vines. Beau vomited a mouthful of blood as his ribs broke one by one.

Despite the pain, he remained silent, with sweat covering his forehead. He knew he was a dead man, which was why he didn't want to die pathetically.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3057 -

"I didn't expect a mere wandering cultivator to have such determination. I'm curious to see how long you can hold on..."

Woodley wore a sneer on his face. He felt excited as he watched the wandering cultivators being tormented by him. Beau's eyes slowly lost focus. He was going to die.

At that critical moment, a figure flashed by. Followed by a sudden burst of white light, all the vines were instantly cut off. Beau collapsed onto the ground and gasped for breath.

"Are you okay?"

Kai went forward and helped Beau up. When Beau saw that it was Kai, his heart was filled with excitement because he knew that he wouldn't have to die now that Kai was here.

"Kai, I didn't expect you to come. Thank you so much..." Beau exclaimed. Upon seeing Kai, Woodley couldn't help but frown. "It's you? Where's Phaethon? Wasn't he supposed to kill you?"

"Phaethon is dead. I'm here to kill you," Kai said calmly. "Impossible! How could Phaethon be dead?"

How could you have killed him with your strength?"

Woodley simply couldn't believe that Kai had killed Phaethon. "You don't believe him?" Yuven, who had just arrived, spoke, his aura bursting forth from his body.

Woodley's face contorted as he began to tremble uncontrollably. The aura that Yuven released was enough to make Woodley collapse to the ground instantly.

Yuven's power could easily kill him. Now, Woodley finally believed that Phaethon was indeed dead. However, he couldn't understand why Kai had such a formidable expert by his side.

Kai glanced at Yuven. He knew that Yuven was doing this to put pressure on Woodley so that the latter would feel nervous when fighting him.

Yuven was concerned about Kai's safety, but Kai didn't need it at all. What he needed was to make Woodley unleash his full power so that it could trigger his own potential.

Kai's strength had grown through every confrontation with highly skilled enemies. "Yuven, don't scare him. If I want to kill him, I don't need anyone's help," Kai said to Yuven. Hearing that, Yuven withdrew his aura and stepped aside.

At that moment, Woodley had lost the excitement he had when slaughtering those wandering cultivators. His face was filled with despair.

"Kai, do you know what kind of organization the Demon Seal Alliance is? Our leader has instructed us to report back. If you kill me now, the Demon Seal Alliance won't spare you. Think it through. No one targeted by the Demon Seal Alliance has been able to escape," Woodley said in an attempt to intimidate Kai.

"Phaeton said the same thing just before he died. If you can dodge one move from me, I'll spare your life," Kai said with immense confidence. In comparison to Phaeton, Woodley was slightly weaker, so Kai was certain that he could handle him.

Woodley grew furious. "A true warrior would rather die than suffer humiliation. Are you looking down on me? Let's see how you can kill me in one move..."

With a roar, Woodley summoned hundreds of vine-like tendrils that shot toward Kai as fast as lightning from all directions. The tendrils moved like tentacles, aiming to ensnare Kai.

"Let's see how you can avoid my Thousand Tendrils..." Woodley snarled, his eyes filled with cold determination.

Woodley thought that Kai could be easily defeated and that his main concern was Yuven. He had to be vigilant against Yuven's intervention.

Although Woodley knew that he was the weakest among the Five Slayers, he felt confident in handling a mere Fifth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator like Kai.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3058 -

Hundreds of vine-like tendrils shot toward Kai from all directions. Like a cage closing in on him, the tendrils attempted to trap him. Kai's lips curled up slightly. His eyes sparkled.

Just as the tendrils closed in on Kai and were about to ensnare him, he suddenly disappeared right before Woodley's eyes. Woodley was instantly shocked. The hundreds of tendrils lost their target and became entangled.

"Where is he?" Woodley yelled. His heart raced as he couldn't comprehend how Kai had vanished right before his eyes. But soon, Woodley felt movement behind him.

He attempted to turn around to check, but the hundreds of intertwined tendrils had ensnared his body, preventing him from moving.

This was a case of biting off more than one could chew. Woodley had trapped himself with his own tendrils.

Pfft! Just as Woodley was about to untangle himself from the tendrils, he suddenly felt a sharp pain.

A dazzling golden light pierced through his back and came out through his chest. In an instant, the hundreds of tendrils vanished. Woodley's face contorted in horror as he looked down at the sword that had pierced him from behind.

He stared with wide eyes, full of disbelief. He couldn't fathom how Kai, a mere Fifth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, managed to kill him with a single strike.

Woodley slowly turned his head and saw Kai smirking coldly at him. Kai had drawn out Dragonslayer Sword, which was now dripping with blood.

He spared Woodley only a brief glance before turning and walking away. Still in shock and disbelief, Woodley slumped to the ground.

He couldn't believe that he had been killed so easily by a Fifth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator. He had no idea how Kai had achieved it, and he couldn't wrap his head around it.

Even in death, Woodley's eyes remained wide open. The few remaining wandering cultivators on the side watched in shock as Kai cleanly slew Woodley with a single stroke.

Beau, in particular, couldn't believe how Kai's strength had rapidly increased in the blink of an eye. He couldn't figure out the reason behind this.

It was extremely difficult for wandering cultivators to advance their cultivation level. Some of them might not achieve such progress even after a year or several years of hard work.

Wandering cultivators often lacked resources, which was why they were often bullied in the Ethereal Realm.

"Kai, I owe you my life. If I have the chance, I will repay this debt with my life..." Beau and the other wandering cultivators approached Kai and expressed their gratitude. If Kai hadn't arrived in time, they would have all been dead.

"Don't mention it, everyone. It's best for you to leave quickly. If you encounter the other members of the Five Slayers, you'll still be in danger," Kai advised Beau and the other wandering cultivators.

Cloud approached Kai and asked, "Mr. Chance, should we also seek out the other two of the Five Slayers?"

"No need to look for them. I believe the remaining two can be handled by others." Kai shook his head.

Sunny and the others could deal with one of the Five Slayers without much trouble. Besides, Cameron was not afraid of any one of them either, so they were not in imminent danger. Next, Kai and the group headed toward Jipsdale.

Even though the poison in Yuven's body had been removed, Kai wanted to keep his promise and deliver the Ice Soul Pill to the countess of Jipsdale because he was a person with integrity.

Kai knew how invaluable the Ice Soul Pill was and that his strength would undoubtedly skyrocket if he consumed it. He might even gain insights into other nascence, but he wouldn't do that.

In no time, they arrived in Jipsdale. Hester had been waiting for them at the entrance as if he knew they would be coming.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3059 -

"Mr. Sparrow, what are you doing here?" Kai was quite surprised to see Hester. Normally, someone of Hester's rank wouldn't be stationed at the city gate.

"I came here specifically to wait for you. You, young man, have offended the Demon Seal Alliance. If the people from the Demon Seal Alliance kill you, won't the Ice Soul Pill be lost?" Hester smiled faintly.

Kai looked at Hester with great puzzlement. He couldn't understand how Hester, in Jipsdale, knew about his conflict with the Demon Seal Alliance.

“Mr. Chance, your every move in the far north is well-known within Jipsdale. If they hadn’t known that you had gotten the Ice Soul Pill, they wouldn’t have let me out of Jipsdale!” Yuven explained, seeing Kai’s bewildered expression.

Yuven didn’t understand how the countess of Jipsdale knew about Kai’s every move as well, but he was well aware that there was no way to hide things from her.

Kai felt a shiver down his spine. He couldn’t fathom how the countess was privy to his actions. Fortunately, he had no intention of keeping the Ice Soul Pill for himself. Otherwise, Yuven might have been in danger.

“Mr. Sparrow, please lead the way,” Kai said after taking a deep breath. He didn’t want to know how the countess was keeping track of him. Sometimes, the more one knew, the scarier it would be.

He just wanted to leave Jipsdale quickly and then help Yuven reclaim Imperial Beast City. Hester led Kai’s group straight to the small two-story building where the countess was staying.

When they arrived at the front of the small building, Hester didn’t bother to announce their arrival. He simply pushed the door open. Kai was surprised, but he entered, while the others waited outside.

Upon entering the small building, Kai was astonished to find a middle-aged woman wearing a phoenix hairpin on her head and a red robe sitting in the countess’ seat.

Although she was no longer young, her skin was smooth and in good condition. However, this woman was nothing more than a spiritual form and had no physical body. Although Kai hadn’t seen the countess’ true appearance, he knew for certain that this woman was the countess.

“You’re back.” The countess smiled faintly.

“I am, and I’ve retrieved the Ice Soul Pill for you...” Kai quickly took out the Ice Soul Pill and handed it over with both hands.

However, the countess didn’t accept the Ice Soul Pill. Instead, she looked at Hester, who nodded in response. Hester took the Ice Soul Pill and walked toward her.

“Ginevra, your wish is finally going to come true...” Hester flashed a slight smile. As Kai listened to Hester’s words and observed the look in his eyes, he was momentarily dumbfounded.

He could see from Hester’s eyes a profound affection for the countess. Moreover, Hester had addressed her by her name directly. Wasn’t this a bit too presumptuous?

Surprisingly, Ginevra didn’t seem angry. She took the Ice Soul Pill from Hester’s hand and looked apologetic. “Hester, thank you for taking care of me over the years. I’m sorry...”

As she spoke, tears rolled down her cheeks.

“What are you saying? I did all this willingly. After this, you must promise me not to do anything foolish again. You won’t be so lucky every time!” Hester spoke with great affection.

“Okay!” Ginevra nodded vigorously. Then, she slowly opened her mouth and swallowed the Ice Soul Pill. Instantly, Ginevra’s body began to emit a pure white light, and she gradually floated up from her seat.

The light made Ginevra’s body appear extremely transparent. As a soul form to begin with, she was now slowly disappearing within the radiance.

In the end, Ginevra vanished entirely without leaving behind even a trace of her presence.

The Mans Decree Chapter 3060 -

Kai was stunned by the sight. He couldn’t understand how Ginevra had suddenly disappeared. However, Hester didn’t seem to be worried at all.

Just as Kai was filled with astonishment, a white light flashed before him. Immediately after, Ginevra’s figure reappeared.

However, this time, she wasn’t a spiritual form, but a living, breathing person. Her appearance remained unchanged, and even her clothes were the same as before. Ginevra’s face was filled with indescribable excitement.

“Hester, I’ve regained my physical form. I’ve truly regained it...” Ginevra was extremely thrilled and then she knelt down before him. . “Hester, if it weren’t for your care over the years, I'm afraid I would have long lost my soul. I'm grateful beyond words..." Her face was full of gratitude. Seeing Ginevra kneel before Hester, Kai was even more at a loss.

"Ginevra, I'll be angry if you do this..."

Hester hurriedly stepped forward to help Ginevra up. At this moment, Ginevra looked at Kai and smiled faintly. "Are you curious about my identity? You've been wanting to know who I really am, haven't you?"

Kai nodded vigorously. He had asked Roman and Mason, but no one had given him a straight answer.

Kai really wanted to know Ginevra's true identity. Why did she know about the Ice Soul Pill in the treasure trove and about the Ancient Body cultivators? Why did she possess half of God King Seal?

Seeing Kai's eagerness to know her identity, she continued, "Actually, I'm not the real countess of Jipsdale. The real count is Hester.... I'm just a member of the Archaic Body Cultivation clan. It was Hester who has been protecting me..." With that, she shouted toward the upper floors, "Roman, my dear brother, Mason, come down..."

Soon, the clan leader of the Ancient Body cultivators, Roman, and the head of the Tall family, Mason, descended from the upper floor. Both of them looked at Kai with smiles on their faces.

When Kai saw them, he was completely dumbfounded. He felt as if his brain had stopped working.

"W-What are you two doing here?"

Kai's face was filled with disbelief.

They were the ones who sent me away from the Tall residence, so how could they possibly appear in Jipsdale now? Oh, and Ginevra called Roman her brother! Does that mean the clan leader of the Ancient Body cultivators is the countess' brother? But wait, Hester is the count! Then what is Mason's relationship with Ginevra?

Kai was utterly confused. He felt as if he had been toyed with, with no idea what was going on.

“Mr. Chance, please take a seat and let me explain slowly,” Mason said, seeing Kai’s uncertain and gloomy expression.

Kai took a seat. He wanted to hear what Mason had to say. The relationships were so complicated, and he wanted to understand what was happening.

Mason looked at Ginevra and began to explain. Upon listening to the whole story, Kai came to a realization. Ginevra was the sister of the clan leader of the Ancient Body cultivators.

However, she fell in love with Mason. Due to the longstanding enmity between the Ancient Body cultivators and the Tall family, their relationship was not approved.

In truth, Hester was the real count of Jipsdale, and because he had a lot of dealings with the Ancient Body cultivators, he fell in love with Ginevra.

As for Ginevra, she saw Hester only as her brother. However, Roman had been actively trying to arrange a marriage between her and Hester.
