

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3461

Is he pursuing you, Mr. Chance?” Tyler paused for a moment, then continued, “Mr. Chance, it appears that this person named Pablo is connected to the Nethersky Sect. I advise you to be cautious. The Nethersky Sect is ruthless and highly skilled in arcane arrays and charm spells, especially those who assist Magnus. They are quite formidable. Moreover, there are rumors that this individual possesses the Nethersky Eye, which is capable of seeing through everything. It would be wise to exercise caution...”

Suddenly, Catina interjected, “The Nethersky Sect is hardly a concern. However, dealing with Pablo, who is an Eighth Level Tribulator, might not be as easy.”

“An Eighth Level Tribulator?” Tyler was taken aback for a moment, then awkwardly chuckled and said, “In that case, you really don’t need to take the Nethersky Sect seriously.”

Feenix stepped forward, urging Kai, “Master, we should leave this place!”

Kai glanced at the towering peak and shook his head. “I’m going up the mountain. There must still be magical items at the top...”

“Master, but-”

Just as Feenix was about to say something. Kai waved his hand and said, “No need to say more. The magical items atop this mountain peak must not fall into Pablo’s hands.”

Upon seeing that Kai had made up his mind, Feenix remained silent.

“Since you’re determined to go, I’ll accompany you. Even though Pablo is an Eighth Level Tribulator, if it comes to a fight, I can still hold my own for a while!” Catina said to Kai.

“None of you should follow me. Just wait here. It’s more convenient for me to go alone!” Kai exclaimed.

Kai knew that there was an arcane array atop that mountain peak. It would be inconvenient to bring others along at that time. Moreover, when it came to arcane arrays, Kai was not afraid of Pablo.

After all, it would be quite challenging for Pablo to forcefully break through ancient arcane arrays.

Upon seeing that Kai wanted to ascend to the mountain peak alone, Catina said, “Be careful, then. If we don’t see you before sunset, we’ll come looking for you at the mountaintop!”

“Sure!” Kai nodded in agreement.

“Mr. Chance, you must be careful. The charm spells of the Nethersky Sect are not to be taken lightly, Tyler earnestly advised Kai .

With a faint smile, Kai swiftly headed toward the mountain peak.

Even though Tyler was extremely curious about the magical items on the mountaintop, he dared not ascend. After all, the mountaintop was occupied by the Nethersky Sect and an Eighth Level Tribulator.

As Kai made his way toward the mountain peak, Pablo and the others had already reached the top.

Before their eyes appeared a grand hall, adorned in gold and jade. The grand hall was enveloped in a celestial mist, reminiscent of a fairyland.

Magnus, gazing at the grand hall before him, asked with immense curiosity, “Master, h-how could there be such a magnificent hall here?”

Pablo had no idea why there was a grand hall. After observing for a while, Pablo gestured with his hand and said, “Let’s go. Let’s enter and take a look...”

Magnus instructed two of his members to clear the way, and they followed closely behind. Just as everyone had entered the grand hall, a sudden soft chant echoed, causing the entire hall to resonate.

Magnus face changed as he said, “Retreat! Retreat quickly!”

Just as Magnus’ words had barely faded, a series of array runes appeared and rapidly spread in all directions, emitting a brilliant glow.

A strange aura also began to permeate the air.

The two members who were leading the way up front suddenly let out a horrific scream. Their bodies fell heavily to the ground, and astonishingly, a magic sword was embedded in their chests!

Magnus was taken aback, quickly moving closer to take a look. He discovered that the swords in those two members’ chests were actually their own. Could it be that these two had committed suicide?

Just as Magnus was filled with confusion, the array runes continued to spread, engulfing the entire hall. Witnessing this scene, the members of the Nethersky Sect were consumed by fear.

“Break the arcane array!” Magnus cried out, realizing that some sort of arcane array within the grand hall had been activated.

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3462

Accompanied by Magnus' loud shout, all the members of Nethersky Sect huddled closely together. Each one of them began to form hand seals, their fingertips flickering with a radiant glow.

Meanwhile, Magnus swung both palms in unison, causing the array runes to stir continuously. His eyes were tightly fixed on the array runes, searching for the weak point of the core.

However, the array runes were like turbulent currents, constantly wreaking havoc. They were too chaotic to observe properly. Moreover, the members would occasionally get injured by the violent fluctuations of these array runes.

Magnus began to falter, so he turned to Pablo. "Master, this arcane array is too powerful. We should leave..."

Pablo remained silent, his gaze fixated on the fluctuating array runes. Subsequently, as the Nethersky Eye was activated, the entire space instantly transformed into a blood-red hue.

The surging array runes became incredibly clear under Pablo's Nethersky Eye. Pablo even saw the direction and position of the array runes' movement with absolute clarity.

Pablo exclaimed loudly, "To the left and fifteen steps ahead is the core, from which all these array runes had emerged!"

Upon hearing that, Magnus hastily followed Pablo's instructions. Braving the surging array runes, he headed straight for the core.

Just as Magnus mustered all his strength to throw a punch at the core, suddenly, a gap opened up, and Magnus was sucked into it.

Upon seeing the situation, Pablo, along with the others from Nethersky Sect, hurriedly pursued. They, too, were sucked into the breach.

Subsequently, the gap vanished, reverting back to its original state, with the arcane array continuously pulsating.

A while ago, several members of Nethersky Sect who were injured had already been abandoned and left behind.

Several people could only wait to be enveloped and struck down by the array runes once again. At this very moment, Kai had already reached the summit of the mountain.

Gazing at the grand hall, shrouded in a celestial mist, Kai was filled with an unending sense of bewilderment.

Although puzzled, Kai still headed toward the grand hall. The doors of the hall were wide open, clearly indicating that someone had entered.

After glancing around, Kai also entered the grand hall.

As soon as he stepped into the grand hall, he noticed that the interior was shimmering with radiant light, and the array runes were swirling around. Clearly, someone had activated the arcane array.

Observing the swirling array runes, Kai could tell that a fierce battle had just taken place there.

Without any hesitation, Kai stepped directly into the surging array runes. In an instant, he was completely enveloped by the arcane array.

The aggressive array runes began to relentlessly assail Kai .

Kai saw several cultivators seated on the ground, their bodies marked with numerous wounds. Their faces were as pale as death, clearly indicating that they were gravely injured. These must be members of Nethersky Sect who were injured during an attack by the arcane array. They are severely wounded and, thus, unable to continue accompanying Pablo and the others in their exploration. Consequently, they had to stay behind!

Kai glanced over, surmising that those were undoubtedly members of Nethersky Sect. These people must have been the ones injured by the arcane array and left behind in this place.

Kai merely glanced at them, paying them no mind. It was as if he was venturing into a deserted land, heading straight toward the core of the arcane array.

Although the array runes were incredibly powerful, exuding a strong sense of aggression, Kai was not the least bit afraid.

The array runes surged toward Kai , but Kai couldn't even be bothered to spare them a glance.

That was because Kai had realized early on that the attack from the arcane array couldn't cause him any harm.

Kai , in his Golden Dragon's True Form, was a man of steel and iron. His physical body had already reached an extraordinary level of strength. Those array runes could not harm him.

The several injured members of Nethersky Sect stared in disbelief as Kai strolled toward the core as if entering a deserted territory. They were all dumbfounded.

Despite the numerous members of Nethersky Sect, they were unable to break the arcane array together. Many of their members were injured in the process. In the end, it was Pablo, with his Nethersky Eye, who found the core.

Kai was alone yet remarkably unscathed. He had effortlessly located the position of the core.

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3463

Kai gently pressed his palm, causing a gap to open. A tremendous suction force threatened to pull him in.

However, Kai resisted, refusing to be sucked in

Kai's palm shimmered with a radiant glow, which then spread out in all directions through the core.

In an instant, the entire arcane array was thoroughly explored, with golden light shimmering incessantly.

The gap gradually vanished, and subsequently, the arcane array shattered like a large piece of glass, disappearing entirely.

At that moment, the injured members of Nethersky Sect were even more astonished. It was clear that to pass through the arcane array, one only needed to find the location of the core. There was no need to destroy the arcane array itself.

However, Kai had managed to break the arcane array directly. When the arcane array was broken, the grand hall that was magnificent just a moment ago had astonishingly vanished without a trace.

Several injured members of Nethersky Sect glanced around, only to discover that they were on the top of a mountain, completely surrounded by a thin mist. Even the shadow of the grand hall had disappeared.

Just as the group was left dumbfounded, Kai walked toward them.

“Are you all from Nethersky Sect?” Kai asked.

One of the members of Nethersky Sect nodded, then asked somewhat timidly, “My friend, we are from Nethersky Sect. May we know who you are?”

Kai did not respond. Instead, he continued to question, “Where are the others from Nethersky Sect? Where is your master?”

Kai had no idea why the recent gap had created such a strong suction force. He was afraid that he might be in danger if he got sucked in, so he resisted, ultimately destroying the entire arcane array.

The arcane array had been destroyed, the gap had vanished, and even the grand hall had disappeared. Yet, Kai did not see any sign of Pablo and the others. This struck him as very odd, prompting him to ask questions.

That member of Nethersky Sect shook his head and said, "I'm not sure either. Just now, they were sucked away by a sudden gap that appeared within the arcane array. If you had arrived a bit earlier and didn't destroy the arcane array, you could have seen them through the gap that appeared!"

Upon hearing that, Kai was instantly filled with regret. It seemed that the arcane array he had just encountered was only the beginning. There will undoubtedly be more arcane arrays to come. However, they won't be confined to a single spatial dimension! The person who could design such a complex arcane array and dimensions was undoubtedly an immortal!

A member of Nethersky Sect tentatively asked Kai, "Hey, I wonder who you might be?"

If Kai was the enemy, they were all gravely injured at that moment, and their deaths would undoubtedly be inevitable.

Suddenly, Kai broke into a grin! "I am the one who's going to kill all of you!"

Kai's smile was utterly terrifying, causing shock among all the members of Nethersky Sect.

"My friend, what grudge does Nethersky Sect hold against you that you wish to kill us?" That member of Nethersky Sect was terrified.

"You bear no grudge against me, and I have none against you. However, I hold a vendetta against Pablo, and now that you're with him, you've become my enemies as well!" Kai explained with a cold laugh.

Upon hearing that, several members of Nethersky Sect were dumbfounded. But before they could defend themselves, Kai suddenly waved his hand. A flash of light streaked past, and those severely injured members of Nethersky Sect were all beheaded instantly.

After slaying those members of Nethersky Sect, Kai began to study how to enter the next Spatial Arcane Array.

Meanwhile, Pablo and the others, after being sucked in, immediately found themselves in another dimension. They were standing amidst a vast, endless grassland.

The surroundings were flat and stretched out as far as the eye could see. In the distance, dust was swirling, and the earth was trembling as if a mighty army was on the move.

Magnus gazed at the dust stirred up in the distance, his voice trembling as he asked, “Master, w-what is that?”

Pablo also had a deep frown as he stared intently into the distance.

Swiftly, demon beasts began to converge from all directions. There were hundreds of them, each one massive in size. They bared their teeth and snarled, displaying an extreme level of aggression.

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3464

“There are so many demon beasts! Run! Run quickly! The members of the Nethersky Sect panicked when they saw the numerous demon beasts.

At that moment, Magnus came to his senses and swiftly blocked the members who were attempting to free. “Don’t run! This must be an illusionary realm. We’ve fallen into an illusionary realm. We were on a mountain. How could we suddenly be on a prairie?”

Upon hearing that, the members of the Nethersky Sect came to a realization. They thought they were undoubtedly trapped within an illusion array, and the demon beasts before their eyes were certainly illusions.

With that in mind, the people were no longer afraid. However, Pablo remained deeply furrowed in thought. He didn’t understand the illusion array, but the demon beasts surrounding him from all directions gave him a real and intense feeling.

He felt that those demon beasts didn’t seem to be fake. However, he wasn’t sure.

“Hmph! A mere illusion array isn’t capable of trapping me. This is a joke!” Upon realizing that it was an illusion, a smirk appeared on Magnus’ face. He then began to create hand seals, murmuring incantations under his breath.

Suddenly, a charm burst forth from Magnus’ body, igniting mid-air! “Positive and negative energies, Heaven and Earth, and the Spirit of Illusion, be at my command. Soar into the air and vanquish the dragon. With divine arrows, all things shall be annihilated!”

Magnus recited the incantation to break the illusion array, and the flames from the charm burned even more fiercely.

However, the demon beasts from all directions seemed to face no obstacles at all. They were still charging toward them.

Observing the surrounding demon beasts, the members of the Nethersky Sect began to panic once again.

They couldn't understand why Magnus' magecraft wasn't working.

Seeing those demon beasts about to charge right before him, Pablo had no choice but to activate the Nethersky Eye once again.

Under the gaze of the Nethersky Eye, all things were equal, and no one could hope to escape its scrutiny.

Once the Nethersky Eye was activated, the heavens and earth changed color in an instant. Yet, the demon beasts continued to roar as they charged toward Pablo and his companions.

Pablo's face changed dramatically. "This is not an illusion. These demon beasts are real. Run! Run quickly!"

After Pablo finished speaking, he leaped into the air.

Subsequently, utilizing a teleportation magecraft, he made a swift escape.

Just like that, Pablo had run off, completely disregarding Magnus and the others.

Upon seeing Pablo fleeing, the members of the Nethersky Sect were thrown into a panic.

That was especially the case for Magnus. He was breaking out in a sweat, yet all his efforts were in vain.

"Run! Run quickly!" Finally, Magnus no longer relied on his own spells. He turned around and started to run. "If I don't hurry up, those demon beasts are going to trample me to death!"

At that moment, all members of the Nethersky Sect were scattered by the demon beasts.

Unsure of how long he had been running, Magnus finally halted, panting heavily. Only then did he realize that there were only a few people left by his side. The others, including Pablo, had disappeared. Obviously, he had no idea where the others had run off to.

At that point, Magnus was feeling somewhat mentally and physically exhausted.

"Damn! What a godforsaken place this is! Is there even any magical item here? How on earth did we suddenly end up in this place?" Gazing at the seemingly endless grasslands surrounding him, Magnus felt a wave of panic.

He certainly didn't want to be trapped there. If the Celestial Battlefield were to close, they would still be stuck there.

After that, they wouldn't know when the Celestial Battlefield would be opened again.

A member of the Nethersky Sect looked around nervously and asked with some trepidation, "Master, what should we do?"

"What else can we do? We have to find a way out. If we don't, we will be trapped here forever." Magnus let out a sigh. He had no choice but to lead the search for a breakthrough.

Not long after Magnus and his companions had left, the spot where they had previously stood suddenly experienced a ripple in the void. Following that, the array runes surged like waves.

Gradually, a gap appeared in the void, and Kai leaped directly into it.

As it turned out, it was an illusion array. It was just that not even Pablo's Nethersky Eye could discern it. Hence, they mistook it for a real scene.

Not long after Magnus and his companions had left, the spot where they had previously stood suddenly experienced a ripple in the void. Following that, the array runes surged like waves.

Gradually, a gap appeared in the void, and Kai leaped directly into it.

As it turned out, it was an illusion array. It was just that not even Pablo’s Nethersky Eye could discern it. Hence, they mistook it for a real scene.

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3465

Kai surveyed his surroundings and immediately recognized it as an illusion array.

“What an impressive illusion array, so realistic!” Kai exclaimed after taking a look around. Suddenly, agonized screams echoed from nearby.

Hearing the commotion, Kai hurriedly rushed towards the source and discovered a group of demon beasts attacking a few cultivators.

The cultivators turned out to be Magnus and his companions, but only a few of them remained and they were clearly overwhelmed by the demon beasts.

Kai was certain that they were from the Nethersky Sect, even though he didn’t know Magnus and the others.

He glanced around and noticed that only Magnus and his companions were present. Pablo was nowhere to be seen. After a moment of contemplation, a faint smile appeared on Kai’s face.

He activated the Impersonation Technique and quickly transformed into Pablo's appearance. Kai looked at his new appearance and couldn't help but smile, pleased with the result.

Although he hadn't fully mastered the technique, he could replicate appearances perfectly.

As Pablo, Kai charged forward and with a swift strike of his palm, a ripple vibrated through the void. Astonishingly, all the ferocious demon beasts slowly faded away as if they were mere illusions.

Magnus and his companions were pale-faced, staring at the spot where the demon beasts had disappeared, still catching their breath.

"Master, where have you been? Thank goodness you showed up, or we would have been in grave danger," Magnus said, relieved to see Pablo.

The other members of the Nethersky Sect also expressed their gratitude to Kai .

If he hadn't arrived in time, they might have all perished.

Kai secretly breathed a sigh of relief when he realized that none of them had seen through his disguise.

However, when Magnus addressed him as Master, Kai realized that Pablo had unexpectedly become the sect leader of the Nethersky Sect.

"I was just exploring, trying to figure out how to escape from here," Kai replied casually.

"Master, how did you make all those demon beasts disappear earlier? It was as if they were illusions, Magnus asked, confused.

"Those demon beasts were indeed illusions. We are trapped in an illusion array," Kai explained.

Magnus was taken aback.

"But Master, you said earlier that they weren't illusions and that they could harm us. You even used your Nethersky Eye to confirm it, didn't you?"

Kai 's heart skipped a beat upon hearing that.

He quickly clarified, "When I used the Nethersky Eye to observe the demon beasts, they were real and capable of causing harm. However, this high-level illusion array managed to deceive even my Nethersky Eye. I've reexamined everything with the Nethersky Eye and found the core of the illusion array. Once we destroy it, we can escape from here."

Magnus was extremely shocked. “There’s actually such a realistic illusion array in this world? It must have been created by an immortal. Master, where is the core? Let’s hurry and destroy it. This place is too terrifying.”

Kai nodded and led Magnus and the others in search of the core. Although the illusion array was advanced, it was no match for Kai . He quickly located the core “Master, now that we’ve found the core, let us handle the task of breaking the arcane array,” Magnus offered hastily.

He didn’t want to appear incompetent in front of Pablo, fearing that he would be left behind.

Kai nodded and watched as Magnus and the few members of the Nethersky Sect used the core to break the arcane array.

Magnus proved to have some skills. Within minutes, the sky turned pitch black.

When the sky brightened again, Kai realized that they were already at the peak of the mountain. The ancient and majestic palace stood before them once more.

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3466

“We’re free! Finally, we’re free!”

Magnus and the others couldn’t contain their excitement as they laid eyes on the familiar palace.

However, as they entered the palace, they found themselves trapped in various arcane arrays, putting their lives at risk.

Kai stared at the palace before him, sensing waves of celestial energy emanating from within. There was something unique about it, but he couldn’t quite put his finger on it.

During his first visit to the palace, he hadn’t noticed any trace of celestial energy. Now, however, it surged unexpectedly, sparking his curiosity.

“Stay here. I’ll go in and take a look.”

Kai instructed Magnus and the others, who nodded eagerly in agreement. They had no desire to go back inside, knowing the danger it posed to their lives.

Kai entered the palace and discovered a bronze cauldron containing a darkened liquid. The celestial energy he sensed was actually coming from the cauldron itself.

As he looked around, he realized that the palace was completely empty, devoid of any other objects. This struck him as odd, considering the cauldron hadn't been there during his previous visit.

He leaned in closer, examining the cauldron carefully. The celestial energy rushed towards him like a vast sea, and he couldn't help but absorb it eagerly.

“Could this be celestial water?” Kai exclaimed in surprise.

When celestial energy reached a certain intensity, it condensed into liquid form. If the liquid in the cauldron was indeed celestial water, it would contain an immense amount of celestial energy.

Kai's Focus Technique began circulating wildly, and a thin layer of celestial mist enveloped his body.

As he gazed at the celestial water in the cauldron, he felt a strong urge to drink it immediately. Despite its pitch-black appearance, he knew it would greatly benefit his cultivation.

Just as he was contemplating whether to drink it, his Storage Ring suddenly vibrated.

To his astonishment, the spirit beast egg emerged on its own and dove straight into the cauldron. It seemed to have sensed the call of the celestial water and began rolling around in it, as if taking a bath.

The constant rolling of the spirit beast egg created a vortex, causing the surrounding celestial energy to surge like a tsunami.

Kai couldn't help but curse under his breath. After finally finding celestial water, he had hoped to utilize and absorb it to elevate his cultivation level by two levels.

However, his hopes were shattered when he realized that the spirit beast egg was competing with him for the celestial water.

Desperately circulating his Focus Technique, Kai found that his absorption speed was far inferior to that of the spirit beast egg.

Helplessly, he watched as the celestial water in the cauldron dwindled, unable to do anything to stop it.

“You've absorbed so much celestial energy, but you're still just an egg. What use are you?” Kai scolded in annoyance.

This spirit beast egg only knows how to compete with me for celestial energy, but it's of no help at all! If it could hatch and become a spirit beast that I could ride, that would be impressive!

Before he could finish his rebuke, something changed within the spirit beast egg. The eggshell gradually turned transparent, revealing the creature inside.

Kai's heart filled with joy as he leaned in for a closer look, but the eggshell quickly turned opaque again.

However, this time, there were faint cracks on the eggshell.

"Could it be hatching?" Kai felt ecstatic inside.

As the celestial water in the cauldron diminished, the cracks on the spirit beast egg grew larger.

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3467

Upon witnessing this, Kai held his breath and waited in silence. The sky above the palace was already covered in dark clouds, with lightning streaking across.

Magnus and the others waiting outside looked up at the sky in astonishment.

"This aura is so terrifying. Could it be that the Celestial Battlefield is about to close?" a member of the Nethersky Sect asked in alarm.

However, Magnus shook his head. "Master must be on the verge of a breakthrough. The clouds in the sky are lightning tribulation clouds."

"A breakthrough?" Surprise appeared on the faces of the few members of the Nethersky Sect. Despite his young age, Pablo was already an Eighth Level Tribulator cultivator.

If he were to achieve another breakthrough, he would become a Ninth Level Tribulator. That would be quite extraordinary.

"Mr. Orozco, if Master breaks through, he will become a Ninth Level Tribulator, Isn't it unusual for such a young cultivator to reach such a high level of cultivation?"

"Is this even possible? Since when has cultivation become so easy?"

A few members of the Nethersky Sect found it hard to believe.

"Ninth Level?" Magnus looked at the sky solemnly. "Perhaps it's not the Ninth Level, but a direct breakthrough to the Ultimate Realm. It's the first time I've seen such terrifying lightning tribulation clouds!"

Thunder roared, and lightning flashed across the sky, illuminating the surroundings. The deep and rumbling sounds resembled the roar of a ferocious beast.

Even Feenix, on the mountainside, could hear them clearly and see the lightning tribulation clouds in the sky.

At this moment, Kai also sensed the overwhelming pressure. It was even more intense than when he had achieved a breakthrough.

Gazing at the lightning tribulation clouds looming overhead, accompanied by the ominous peals of thunder, he was filled with disbelief.

“Could it be that this spirit beast needs to endure lightning tribulation when it hatches?”

He was utterly perplexed.

No matter the kind of spirit beast, it’s still part of the beast race, merely an animal. How could it immediately face lightning tribulation following its birth? If that were the case, the beast race would have been extinct long ago, as a beast could never possibly withstand lightning tribulation right after hatching from its egg!

“No, I absolutely can’t allow this spirit beast to die in the egg. I’ve invested so many resources in it. It must hatch from this egg, even if it’s just a dog.”

After Kai finished speaking, the Golem Body enveloped him entirely. He had made up his mind to help shield the spirit beast egg from the lightning tribulation.

Boom!

A thick bolt of lightning suddenly descended, causing the entire roof of the palace to shatter into pieces. With a roar, Kai threw a punch that blocked the bolt of thunder.

“This doesn’t seem right. How could the lightning tribulation be so powerful?”

After shattering the lightning tribulation with a single punch, Kai sensed that something was amiss. The might of the lightning tribulation was surprisingly even more formidable than when he himself had broken through to Tribulator.

What kind of spirit beast could trigger such a formidable lightning tribulation once it hatches from its egg?

Boom!

Before Kai could catch his breath, the second lightning tribulation struck. With gritted teeth, he once again launched an attack towards the lightning tribulation.

Time and again, he blocked off the lightning tribulation. The cracks on the spirit beast egg multiplied, and it seemed to be on the verge of hatching.

Kai was both surprised and delighted, genuinely terrified that a little monster might break out from the egg. If that happened, all his efforts would have been in vain.

Boom!

As he gazed intently at the spirit beast egg, a bolt of lightning tribulation suddenly struck.

“Damn it! When will this end? This is already the eighth lightning tribulation.”

Kai was utterly speechless. When he achieved a breakthrough, he had only faced a maximum of nine lightning tribulations.

But that spirit beast egg hadn’t even hatched yet, and it was already facing its eighth lightning tribulation. Additionally, the might of that eighth lightning tribulation was evidently much greater.

Freddie stared blankly at the eighth lightning tribulation on the mountainside, his face filled with shock as he spoke to Tyler.

At that moment, even the usually composed Tyler wore an expression of shock. “Who is it? Who exactly is breaking through? How could there be Obsidian Lightning Tribulation? This is a lightning tribulation that only occurs upon advancing to the Ultimate Realm. Could it be that someone has broken through to the Ultimate Realm?”

The Mans Decree - The Mans Decree Chapter 3468

Outside the palace, Magnus became incredibly excited upon witnessing the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation.

“Ultimate Realm! Master has broken through to the Ultimate Realm!”

His entire body trembled with excitement.

With an Ultimate Realm sect leader, the Nethersky Sect was bound to rise rapidly in the Ethereal Realm, both in terms of power and status.

The other few members of the Nethersky Sect also wore expressions of excitement. At that moment, Kai was already somewhat bewildered. With the Dragonslayer Sword in hand, he stood guard over the spirit beast egg and unleashed the power of Nine Shadows.

Countless sword energies transformed into a golden dragon and charged directly at the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation.

As the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation collided with the Golden Dragon, a terrifying aura spread out in all directions.

Magnus and the others waiting outside were sent flying by the force, flung back a few kilometers before finally coming to a halt.

The entire mountain peak trembled slightly.

Meanwhile, Tyler and his companions on the mountainside wore grave expressions.

“Oh no, could it be that Pablo has broken through to the Ultimate Realm?” Feenix said with concern.

After all, Pablo was the most powerful among them, an Eighth Level Tribulator cultivator. If he were to encounter any opportunity or divine pill, it would not be impossible for him to skip a level and break through to the Ultimate Realm.

At her words, everyone’s expressions turned even grimmer. If Pablo had really advanced to the Ultimate Realm, they would be lambs awaiting slaughter with nowhere left to hide.

In the face of someone of the Ultimate Realm, Tribulators like them were nothing more than ants.

“If Pablo has broken through to the Ultimate Realm, wouldn’t Mr. Chance be in great danger?” Jennifer exclaimed.

“I need to go and look for Master!” Feenix began feeling anxious deep within. She wanted to go to the mountain peak to find Kai .

“Calm down, Feenix. We still don’t fully understand the situation. If you go recklessly. you might end up causing more trouble for Kai . Let’s wait here and assess the situation first.”

Catina stopped Feenix from leaving. Feenix clenched her fists, her heart pounding relentlessly. “Master, you must be fine. Otherwise, I will also follow you into the afterlife.”

Everyone looked up at the mountain peak. A peculiar silence descended, and there were no longer flashes of lightning within the lightning tribulation clouds.

In fact, there wasn’t even a whisper of wind.

It was as if the entire world had come to a halt. Glancing at the spirit beast egg on the verge of hatching, Kai cursed inwardly. “If you dare to hatch into a little monster, I swear I’ll burn you to ashes!”

He had expended nearly all his spiritual energy to help the spirit beast egg withstand the lightning tribulation. If the spirit beast that hatched did not meet his expectations, he would burst a blood vessel.

Suddenly, a strong bolt of Obsidian Lightning Tribulation shot down amid the profound silence. Kai’s eyebrow arched. With a swift leap, he headed straight toward the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation.

He was determined to use his extraordinary physique to withstand the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation. Magnus and the others watched as Kai suddenly soared into the sky, their eyes wide in shock.

They had never seen a cultivator willingly face lightning tribulation.

“What a terrifying lightning tribulation!”

At that moment, Pablo’s voice unexpectedly rang out from behind Magnus and the others.

Upon hearing the voice, Magnus hurriedly turned around. The moment he laid eyes on Pablo, he was dumbstruck.

“M-Master, w-why are you here?” Magnus asked incredulously.

Pablo’s brows furrowed.

He countered, “Why can’t I be here? It turned out that the demon beasts from earlier were all illusions. I almost got trapped in there. How did you all manage to get out?”

His words left Magnus and the others utterly bewildered.

“Master, didn’t we break the illusion array and get out together? Moreover, you were undergoing lightning tribulation in the palace. Aren’t you currently withstanding lightning tribulation?” Magnus asked in great confusion.

Pablo was also surprised when he heard about withstanding lightning tribulation. He looked up at Kai in mid-air and instantly understood what was happening. “You’ve all been fooled. The person going through lightning tribulation isn’t me. Are you all blind?”

As soon as he said that, Magnus and the others looked up at the sky. They saw that Kai had once again changed his appearance. He was now wearing golden armor from head to toe, emitting a terrifying aura in all directions.

He stood majestically like a war god, with wide- open eyes. A golden dragon materialized behind him, roaring continuously.

The Golden Dragon charged towards the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation and, astonishingly, swallowed it whole.

Kai 's eyes shone, and the spark of nascence within him flickered incessantly. The lightning nascence and spark emitted a blinding light, with the lightning nascence surging wildly.

Powerful suction waves began to absorb the nascence aura within the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation.

Watching all of this unfold, Magnus was completely dumbfounded. He hadn't expected that the Pablo he had seen earlier was actually Kai in disguise.

Gah! It's my fault for being too careless. I was under attack by demon beasts and filled with fear and apprehension at the time, so I failed to notice!

Pablo also had a bewildered expression as he looked at Kai in mid-air.

"How is this possible? He's only a First Level Tribulator cultivator. How could he trigger the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation? This is impossible. Who is this person really?"

He was filled with profound doubt.

Ever since his fortuitous encounter in the Demon Devouring Cave, he had always considered himself the most talented individual on Demonica Mountain.

However, upon seeing Kai , Pablo's confidence wavered. After Kai refined and absorbed the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation, the lightning tribulation clouds in the sky slowly scattered.

As that happened, a colorful beam of light shot straight up into the sky from within the palace. The radiant spectrum of colors shone on Kai , making his golden armor even more dazzling.

Kai lowered his gaze and realized that the colorful light originated from the spirit beast egg.

To be precise, it was no longer a spirit beast egg but a little creature the size of his palm.

It had the shape of a lion, with something resembling a horse atop its head, and its entire body was covered in fluffy fur.

Kai slowly descended from mid-air. After exhaling deeply, he fixed his gaze on the little creature before him.

“A little unicorn... Not bad.”

After carefully observing it, he began to laugh. He reached out to touch the little unicorn, but as soon as he made contact, it bit his finger. Blood immediately gushed out.

“Damn it! I’m your master, yet you dared to bite me?”

Kai quickly withdrew his hand, glaring furiously at the little unicorn. The little unicorn licked the blood that flowed out of Kai before letting out a roar.

Despite its small size, the roar echoed throughout the entire mountain peak. The terrifying aura almost made Kai fall to the ground.

Moreover, the little unicorn began to emit a golden glow. A familiar aura hit him.

“Isn’t this my aura?”

Kai was momentarily taken aback. Then, understanding suddenly dawned on him. The little unicorn bit him to acknowledge him as its master by tasting his blood and carrying his scent.

“I’m sorry. I blamed you wrongly. It’s just that your small body isn’t really suitable to serve as a mount. For your sake, I’ve nearly exhausted myself. I hardly have the strength to walk now,” Kai said helplessly, placing the tiny unicorn in his hand.

To his surprise, the little unicorn stuck out its tongue at him. Then, with a swift turn, it scampered back into the Storage Ring.

Upon seeing that, Kai could only chuckle helplessly. He didn’t bother it anymore since he couldn’t expect a unicorn the size of his palm to carry him around.

For now, I’ll just take care of it. It will be fine once it grows up. At that time, I’ll have a spirit beast as my mount and will likely be unrivaled in the Ethereal Realm!

As Kai indulged in his delightful daydreams, a sudden dangerous aura swept over him.

Outside the palace, Pablo witnessed Kai enduring the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation and heard a fierce roar from a beast within. This filled him with suspicion, prompting him to use his spiritual sense to investigate the situation.

Immediately, Kai recognized Pablo's aura and became completely tense. He was weak at that moment. Despite absorbing the lightning nascence from the Obsidian Lightning Tribulation, he was no match for Pablo.

Just when he was at a loss, he caught sight of the bronze cauldron, which had absorbed all the celestial water.

Initially, the cauldron contained celestial water, but it had been completely absorbed by the spirit beast egg. However, the bronze cauldron remained. A bronze cauldron capable of storing celestial water must be a magical item as well!

Kai devised a plan to conceal himself within the bronze cauldron, making it impossible for Pablo's spiritual sense to detect him.

Upon further thought, Pablo probably didn't charge in right away because he was intimidated by the lightning tribulation and the unicorn's roar. Unaware of the situation inside the palace, he dared not recklessly rush in.

Kai's only task was to keep himself hidden. If Pablo couldn't detect him, then he wouldn't know the true situation in the palace and wouldn't dare to enter.

First, he needed to deceive Pablo before figuring out an escape plan. Kai leaped up and threw himself into the bronze cauldron. The residual celestial energy wrapped around him, and a beam of white light appeared.

He looked towards the white light and discovered words carved around the bronze cauldron.

He reached out and gently caressed the four walls of the cauldron. In an instant, sacred and divine rays of light burst forth, radiating in all directions. The entire palace was enveloped in celestial light.

Combined with the celestial mist surrounding the palace, it resembled the Skyward Palace in the Immortal Realm.

The celestial light emanated from the bronze cauldron, engulfing Kai entirely. His surroundings transformed into a vast expanse of white, and the cauldron disappeared.

Confused and unsure of his location, a wave of heat swept towards Kai.

Following the heat, an elderly man slowly appeared, his body engulfed in flames.

Beneath the flames, he wore a vibrant red robe, a shade so intense that it was almost blinding.

"Who are you?" Kai instantly became guarded.

The elderly man remained silent and scrutinized Kai from head to toe.

After a long while, he finally smiled slightly and said, “I never expected that the one to inherit my legacy would be a Draconian, let alone the noblest Golden Dragon. Well, since I left my legacy here, whoever discovers it first should rightfully claim it.”

Having said that, the elderly man waved his hand lightly. Instantly, the flames surrounding his body transformed into various beasts, continuously changing.

Kai watched as he seemingly performed and asked impatiently, “Who exactly are you? Is playing with fire your legacy? If so, I also possess the same skills.”

After speaking, his fire nascence spark flickered, and a ball of demonic fire pulsated in his palm.

“Huh?” The elderly man appeared somewhat surprised upon seeing the flame in Kai ’s palm. “Demon’s demonic fire? You actually possess this within you. It seems I need to conduct a thorough examination.”

He waved his hand at Kai , and a ball of flames surrounded him.

Like a mouse in the presence of a cat, the ball of fire in Kai ’s palm steadily weakened and ultimately extinguished in the center of his hand.

“What are you doing?” Kai paled in shock. He realized that no matter what he did, he couldn’t escape the flames surrounding his body.

The elderly man said nothing. After a brief moment, the flames gradually extinguished.
