Chapter 1: Sebastian Force, half-draconic, half-human

Upper north of the North Continent.

Bright Moon Sect's outer disciples' housing area.

"Sigh... Cultivating with a lower-quality spiritual root is practically torture."

Opening his eyes, Sebastian Force couldn't help but let out a sigh and grumbled.

It has been a few days since Sebastian Force had transmigrated over to this cultivation world.

In Sebastian Force's previous life, he was a hard worker with a 9-5 job at a state-owned enterprise.

As an orphan, for the sake of not letting down the orphanage that helped raise him, Sebastian Force spent his teenage years pretty much entirely on studying.

With hard work and perseverance, he managed to get into one of the top universities in his country with a fully funded scholarship, and in the end, he managed to graduate with a degree.

After university, he landed himself a 9-5 job at a state-owned enterprise and thus began his adult life.

In his adult years, he basically transitioned from spending his entire time on studying to working at his job.

Although he had a 9-5 job, he would actively opt in for overtime work as it meant more pay and a higher chance of promotion.

And he did that for the sake of having enough money to support the orphanage that raised him, and also to save up for a house, in hopes of one day being able to start a family of his own.

But to Sebastian Force's dismay, at 29 years old, after 8 years of working at his job...

Right when he only needed a few more months and he would finally be able to afford his own house...

He was transmigrated over to this cultivation world!

To him, it was practically like he had fallen from heaven to hell.

Especially when he factored in the identity of the person he had transmigrated into.

The identity of the body that he had transmigrated over to?

Bright Moon Sect's outer sect disciple.

A level 2 energy refining cultivator who possessed a lower-quality spiritual root.

An unpure draconic who was half-draconic and half-human.

What did this mean?

This meant that Sebastian Force was currently not only a half-blooded species, where neither the human race nor draconic race would treat him as their own, but he was also a low-level beginner cultivator who possessed the worst spiritual root, and spiritual root was what mainly decides a cultivator's cultivation aptitude.

There were various realms in the path of cultivation toward immortality, and the first realm was basically energy refining realm.

And as the name implied, energy refining realm was the realm where cultivators refined spiritual energy.

The more spiritual energy that an energy refining cultivator was able to refine, the higher level they would be.

There were 10 levels in every realm, and when a cultivator reaches the tenth level of their realm, it meant that they could start to try and break through to the next realm of cultivation.

...

"I have tried cultivating for a few days, and the amount of spiritual energy that I managed to refine in those few days is a little worrisome..."

"At the rate that I am managing to refine spiritual energy, it's going to take me at least a few years to even be able to break through to level 3..."

"Worst of all, that is if I cultivate all day long without stopping, but that is evidently impossible."

"And as of now, I only have a few years left to reach level 3 of energy refining realm, if not, I am going to get kicked out of Bright Moon Sect..."

"All I can do now is pray and hope that this system is going to be able to help me out with my situation."

Sebastian Force looked toward his left side, and in the empty space that was situated on his left, a blue color hologram screen that curved around the upper left of his body could be seen to be there.

[Time until system accumulates enough spiritual energy to get activated: 11:11]

This hologram screen was something that appeared right after Sebastian Force had transmigrated over to this world.

And right now, all of Sebastian Force's hope was placed onto the system that was going to become activated soon.

"Sigh, with a lower-quality spiritual root and little to no cultivation resources, I'm practically done for if the system isn't able to provide me with any help."

"While waiting for the system to activate, I should head out and take a breather."

"It has been a few days since I transmigrated over, and I haven't left this house even once..."

"If I remember correctly, today is the day where Bright Moon Sect is holding their yearly disciple recruitment test."

"Since I don't have anywhere that I plan to go, might as well head over and see how the disciple recruitment test is going."

Upon coming to a decision, Sebastian Force got off from his bed, went to wash up, then left his house.

After 10 minutes of walking, Sebastian Force finally arrived at the main gate of Bright Moon Sect, and when he arrived, he realized that the disciple recruitment test had just ended.

"Bright Moon Sect's disciple recruitment test is hereby concluded!"

"All of the disciples who have passed the disciple recruitment test are allowed to follow me back to Bright Moon Sect!"

At the outside of Bright Moon Sect's main gate, an examination elder said indifferently as he summoned out a huge flying disc on the ground.

Immediately, the newly recruited disciples began walking over and getting onto the flying disc.

Once all of the new disciples had gotten onto the flying disc, the examination elder waved his hand, and a barrier could be seen enveloping over the disc.

And in the next moment, the flying disc flew high into the sky, then flew at high speed into Bright Moon Sect.

The flying disc was most likely flying over to the inner area of Bright Moon Sect, and if the new disciples were to walk from the main gate to the inner area, it would take them roughly 30 to 40 minutes.

The administrative office and library were located in the inner area of Bright Moon Sect, and the administrative office was where the new disciples had to go first, followed by the library.

The administrative office was where the new disciples were going to register their identities and obtain their lodging details.

And the library was where they would be able to get their first cultivation technique.

...

As Sebastian Force watched the flying disc flew into Bright Moon Sect, the countdown on his screen had finally reached 0.

Sebastian Force turned his eyes away from the sky and looked toward the screen.

On the screen, he could see lines of text began to appear below the first line of text that was on the screen.

[Time until system accumulates enough spiritual energy to get activated: 00:00]

[Activating...]

[Cultivation Family System has been activated!]

Chapter 2: Cultivation Family Building System

[The main purpose of Cultivation Family Building System is to get the host to reproduce as many children as possible, for the sake of striving to create a formidable cultivation family]

[To encourage the host to give birth to as many children as possible, the host is able to obtain rewards every time the host impregnates a woman, and every time when a woman gives birth to the host's child]

[Rewards given to the host for impregnating a woman are determined by 3 main factors]

[The 3 main factors are listed below]

[Factor 1: The woman's cultivation level and realm]

[Factor 2: The woman's identity]

[Factor 3: The woman's profession]

[Rewards given to the host when a woman gives birth to the host's child is determined by a single main factor]

[The single main factor is listed below]

[Main factor: The quality of the child's spiritual root]

[And to encourage the host to work hard toward the goal of creating a formidable cultivation family, the system will provide various missions for the host to complete]

[The missions will be centered around the goal of creating a formidable cultivation family]

[When a mission is completed, special rewards will be given out]

[It is not compulsory for the host to complete any of the missions that are given out by the system]

[No punishments will be handed out even if the host does not attempt to complete any of the missions that are given out by the system]

[However, it is highly recommended for the host to complete the missions that are given out by the system as special rewards are currently only obtainable by completing missions]

[Other methods to obtain special rewards will be unlocked in the future, but as of now, special rewards are only obtainable by completing missions]

[Do note that there may be deadlines given to certain missions, and when a mission has not been completed after the arrival of its deadline, the mission will be removed from the mission tab]

[Notice!]

[Screen tabs function has been unlocked!]

[Notice!]

[Text log tab has been unlocked!]

[Notice!]

[Mission tab has been unlocked!]

[Missions have been added to the mission tab!]

[Change to the mission tab to view the missions on the screen]

After Sebastian Force finished reading through everything...

He realized that two tabs that were both each the size of a small rectangle have appeared on the top left side of the screen.

The two small rectangles weren't inside the screen, and instead, they were extended out from the top left side of the screen.

The first tab had two letters, "TL", on it.

And the second tab had a single letter, "M", on it.

Evidently, the first tab with the two letters, "TL", was the text log tab.

And the second tab with the single letter, "M", was the mission tab.

As Sebastian Force concentrated his mind onto the mission tab, the mission tab flickered, and in the next moment, the image that was on the screen changed.

[Main mission 1: Create your own cultivation family (No deadline)]

[Main mission 2: Reach foundation establishment realm (No deadline)]

[Side mission 1: Reproduce a child who possesses a spiritual root (No deadline)]

[Side mission 2: Impregnate a woman who possesses a spiritual root (7 days remaining)]

...

After reading through the missions, and upon seeing that there was a deadline for the second side mission, Sebastian Force was starting to feel a little stressed.

Ever since Sebastian Force had transmigrated over to this world, he had spent the first day carefully going through the previous host's entire memories.

Thus, Sebastian Force was well aware that it was difficult for a person with his aptitude of a lower-quality spiritual root to look for a partner who possesses a spiritual root, even if it was just a partner who possesses a lower-quality spiritual root.

After all, if it was possible, if a female cultivator possessed a lower-quality spiritual root, she would prefer to look for a partner who possesses a middle-quality spiritual root or higher, instead of a partner who possesses a lower-quality spiritual root.

"What do I do...?"

"How am I supposed to find a female cultivator who possesses a spiritual root, who would not only be willing to be my partner, but also be willing to immediately start a family with me?!"

"Amongst the main missions and side missions, side mission 2 is the only mission that I may have a chance to complete in the near coming days."

"As for the rest of the missions, it will most likely take years."

"If I want to obtain a special reward, this mission is my only chance..."

"Although I do not know what the difference between special rewards and normal rewards is, but the simple fact that special rewards are currently only obtainable by completing missions..."

"It is only reasonable that I try my best to complete the side mission and obtain the special reward."

"Problem is, how do I complete the side mission..."

"Think, there must be a way..."

While Sebastian Force was thinking to himself in his own mind...

Suddenly, two people that were conversing with each other walked by Sebastian Force.

And as the two people walked by, Sebastian Force managed to overhear their conversation.

"Bright Moon Sect's disciple recruitment test is too hard for me..."

To join Bright Moon Sect as a disciple, one has to either possess a middle-quality spiritual root, or possess a lower-quality spiritual root and be efficient in at least a single profession...

Originally, I thought that, even though I only possess a lower-quality spiritual root, with my profession as an apprentice equipment enchanter, I should be able to pass the test...

But I didn't expect that my talent as an equipment enchanter would be considered bad in the eyes of a big sect.

Sigh, seeing someone who possesses the same spiritual root as me but is only a beginner equipment enchanter gets accepted into the sect, while I am rejected...

And also finding out that my upper limit as an equipment enchanter would at most be tier 1 level 2, while that beginner equipment enchanter's lower limit is at least tier 1 level 2...

It's truly depressing..."

"Come on, don't be so hard on yourself. Don't lose hope!"

The option of joining the dual-cultivation department is still open to us!"

Chapter 3: Dual-cultivation department

"Join the dual-cultivation department?! Are you out of your mind?!"

"If we were to do that, the choices that would be open to us would be to either join a cultivation family as a son-in-law, or to cultivate a support-type dual-cultivation technique and become a furnace for high-level cultivators!"

"If we were to join a cultivation family as a son-in-law, it's not just simply becoming a son-in-law, it's becoming a married-in son-in-law!"

And once we have officially become married-in sons-in-law, our freedom won't be ours until we have successfully managed to help the family that we have joined reproduce a child or two who possess spiritual roots!

On the other hand, that other choice... To put it nicely, we would be becoming furnaces for high-level cultivators, but to put it bluntly, we would be practically selling our bodies to high-level cultivators in exchange for cultivation resources!

This is basically humiliation! No matter which choice we were to pick if we were to choose to join the dual-cultivation department, we would be throwing our faces away no matter what!"

"I know, I know, but as long as we are able to cultivate, this bit of humiliation is nothing!"

Think of it this way.

Once we join the dual-cultivation department, all we have to do is to either help a family give birth to children who possess spiritual roots, or become furnaces for high-level cultivators, and we would be able to easily obtain cultivation resources!

Look at it this way, no matter which choice we end up picking, it's not like we are losing anything much.

If we were to choose to join a family as a married-in son-in-law, the treatment that those cultivation families are offering to us isn't too bad. Not only would they provide us with cultivation resources, but they would also provide us with cultivation techniques!

And if we were to choose to become furnaces for high-level cultivators, it's not like any of those high-level cultivators are ugly or anything. To tell the truth, in my honest opinion, we are the ones who are on the winning side. Not only would we be able to have the honor to have sex with high-level cultivators, but we are even able to obtain cultivation resources by doing so!

If we just endure through it all and work hard, it is a possibility that we may be able to make it in this cultivation world..."

The two people that were having a conversation with each other, evidently, were people who failed to pass Bright Moon Sect's disciple recruitment test.

And after listening to their conversation, Sebastian Force had a feeling that joining the dual-cultivation department, followed by picking the choice to join a so-called "cultivation family" as a so-called "married-in son-in-law" might be his ticket to being able to successfully complete his side mission.

Thus, Sebastian Force decided to follow after the two people and see where they were headed to.

Not long after, upon listening further into their conversation...

Sebastian Force realized that a whole bunch of people that had failed Bright Moon Sect's disciple recruitment test were intending on heading toward Upper District Market, which was located at Bright Moon City's upper district.

Bright Moon City was one of the three biggest cities within the upper north of the North Continent.

And as Bright Moon City's name suggests, Bright Moon City was basically a city that belonged to Bright Moon Sect.

Bright Moon Sect was located on a vast and huge mountain range, while Bright Moon City was basically located right below the huge mountain range.

And amongst Bright Moon City's three districts, which were the lower district, middle district, and upper district...

Bright Moon City's upper district was situated nearest to Bright Moon Sect.

Walking down the mountain, it merely took 20 minutes to arrive at Bright Moon City's upper district.

The area that one arrives when they reached Bright Moon City's upper district when coming down from Bright Moon Sect was Bright Moon City's biggest market, Upper District Market.

When Sebastian Force arrived at Bright Moon City's Upper District Market, an eye-catching and imposing looking building that was much taller than the rest of the surrounding buildings immediately caught Sebastian Force's eyes.

At the entrance of the eye-catching building, there was a grand looking signboard hang right at the top of the entrance, and the words "Dual-Cultivation Department" were written on the signboard.

Evidently, this was the place that Sebastian Force intended to come to, the dual-cultivation department.

Without any hesitation, Sebastian Force head into the dual-cultivation department's building and went to sign up to become a part of the dual-cultivation department.

Not long after, after what seemed like 30 minutes had passed, Sebastian Force was finally done with all of the procedures, and he was now officially a member of the dual-cultivation department.

"Here, this is your token. With this token, others will know that you are a member of our dual-cultivation department."

"And since you are already an outer-sect disciple of Bright Moon Sect, instead of being rewarded with a chance to join Bright Moon Sect as a disciple once you have completed your task, you will be rewarded with additional cultivation resources instead."

"Just to confirm again, are you sure you are intending on choosing to become a married-in son-in-law, and not to become a furnace? Just so you know, as a being who is a half-draconic and half-human, although it is indeed true that the children that you reproduce has a higher chance of possessing spiritual roots, it is also a fact that you have a much lower chance of being able to get a woman to become pregnant with your offsprings."

"Furthermore, from what I know, all of the families that are currently recruiting sons-in-law into their families, all of them are full blooded humans. So... you understand where I'm coming from, right?"

"On the other hand, if you were to choose to become a furnace, with your identity as a half-draconic, I'm sure a lot of high-level cultivators would be interested in having you serve upon them, mainly due to their curiosity about how a half-draconic would perform in bed."

"So, I'm asking you this again, just in case you have a change of mind after listening to what I have just said, are you sure you still want to join a family as a married-in son-in-law, and not choose to become a furnace instead?"

A middle-aged man who possessed an amicable-looking appearance handed over a token to Sebastian Force, then began trying to persuade Sebastian Force to rethink his choice of joining a family as a married-in son-in-law.

However, although Sebastian Force was aware that what the middle-aged man said was true, and that the middle-aged was sincerely trying to help him to pick the correct choice, Sebastian Force was aware that joining a cultivation family as a married-in son-in-law was the best choice for him right now, mainly due to the system that he had just awakened.

Thus, after taking over the token from the middle-aged man and finished waiting for the middle-aged man to finish speaking, Sebastian Force cupped him hands at the middle-aged man, then sincerely thanked the middle-aged man, "Thank you, Executor Ledis, I appreciate your advice, but I am convinced with my choice of joining a cultivation family as a married-in son-in-law."

"You youngsters now adays..." Upon hearing Sebastian Force's answer, Executor Ledis couldn't help but let out a laugh and shook his head helplessly, then pat his right hand onto Sebastian Force's left shoulder, "Alright, if that's your choice, I wish you all the best. Head outside, then turn right and walk straight for a bit. It shouldn't take you long to spot a huge platform. That's where the families who are currently recruiting sons-in-law into their families are at right now."

"Got it, thank you again, Executor Ledis." Sebastian Force gave his thanks once again, then turned around and head toward the dual-cultivation department's entrance.

Chapter 4: Lisandris Family

After listening to what Executor Ledis told him to do, it didn't take long for Sebastian Force to spot the huge platform that Executor Ledis told him about.

On a huge platform that was evidently set up for the cultivation families to use...

Huge eye-grabbing Daoist talismans that had surnames written on them were floating up in the empty air, and under those talismans were the respective different cultivation families.

After carefully inspecting for a while, in the end, Sebastian Force walked toward the family that had the surname, Lisandris, written on the Daoist talisman.

After inquiring on some details with the person who was in charge of recruiting sons-in-law into the Lisandris Family, Sebastian Force let out a sigh of relief in his mind...

Because he knew that, if he were to join the Lisandris Family as a married-in son-in-law, he would be able to successfully complete his side mission.

Without any hesitation, Sebastian Force decided to join the Lisandris Family as a married-in son-in-law.

After Sebastian Force had gone through two tests, one test for testing and confirming the quality of his spiritual root, and another test to assess his skills as an apprentice talisman crafter...

Dave Lisandris, the person who was in charge of Lisandris Family's recruitment, said with pleasant surprise in his tone while rubbing onto his own chin.

"What a pleasant surprise!"

"Although this fireball talisman that you have crafted has failed, I can see that you are indeed an apprentice talisman crafter who is close to breaking through and becoming an official talisman crafter!"

"Seeing how close you were to being able to successfully craft this fireball talisman, if I have to make a guess, it should only take you a few more years, and you will finally be able to successfully craft fireball talismans without failing!"

"Let me write this down..."

"Half-draconic, half human..."

"But possesses a lower-quality spiritual root and is an apprentice talisman crafter who is close to breaking through..."

"Alright! You have passed the tests required to be able to get the Lisandris Family to assign a female cultivator who possesses a lower-quality spiritual root to you."

"However, because you aren't a full-blooded human... Although the Lisandris Family is willing to assign a female who possesses a lower-quality spiritual root to you, but if none of the girls who possess spiritual roots are willing to be partnered with you upon finding out about the fact that you are half-draconic and half-human... It will mean that I will have no choice but to assign an ordinary girl who comes from the Lisandris Family to become your partner."

"So, with all that said, do you still want to join the Lisandris Family as a son-in-law?"

After Sebastian Force finished listening to what Dave Lisandris said...

Although it would be a bit bad if he doesn't up being able to marry a woman who possesses a lower-quality spiritual root, as it would mean that he would end up not being able to finish the side mission and obtain the special reward...

He was aware that joining the Lisandris Family was the best choice for him to make right now, no matter if it was to begin using his system, or to complete his side mission and obtain the special reward that was obtainable from completing the side mission.

Thus, without hesitation, he opened his mouth and agreed to join the Lisandris Family, "Yes, I am sure that I still want to join the Lisandris Family as a son-in-law."

"Haha, excellent! You won't regret this decision of yours, young lad!" Upon hearing Sebastian Force's answer, Dave Lisandris let out a hearty laugh, then hugged onto Sebastian Force and pat on Sebastian Force's back, "Welcome to the Lisandris Family, Sebastian Force!"

Right after Dave Lisandris let go of Sebastian Force, Sebastian Force cupped his hands and said respectfully, "Thank you too, Dave Lisandris."

"Haha! Alright, alright, no need to be so formal with me, young lad!"

"Come, have a seat over here."

Right after sitting at a small table, Dave Lisandris poured tea into a small empty cup, then handed the cup over to Sebastian Force, "Now, let me go through with you on some of the details."

Chapter 5: Julia Lisandris

"Since you have opted to join the Lisandris Family as a married-in son-in-law, you are going to have to help reproduce children for the Lisandris Family."

"However, since you are not only a disciple of Bright Moon Sect, but you are also an apprentice talisman crafter who is close to breaking through, some huge benefits will be given to you."

"Compared to a normal married-in son-in-law who has to either reproduce at least 10 children, or managed to reproduce a child who possess a spiritual root for our Lisandris Family, in order for them to be able to truly regain back their freedom and no longer have to reproduce any more children if they don't want to..."

"You only have to either reproduce 3 children or reproduce a child who possesses a spiritual root for our Lisandris Family! And if do you really managed to end up reproducing a child who possesses a spiritual root, our Lisandris Family will reward you greatly for it too!"

"Also, since you most likely wouldn't be needing any of our Lisandris Family's cultivation techniques, as you are already cultivating Bright Moon Sect's cultivation techniques, we will instead provide you with additional cultivation resources."

"Lastly, as a gesture of goodwill, our Lisandris Family will provide a year's worth of talisman crafting ingredients for you, free of charge."

"And all the Lisandris Family asks of you is that, if you managed to break through and become an official talisman crafter, you would be willing to help us out in supplying some of the talismans that we will be needed to sell in our own talisman stores."

"Of course, we would be paying you for your services. But we should discuss in-depth about this matter again when the time arrives."

Sebastian Force nodded his head in response to what Dave Lisandris said to him.

Before Sebastian Force had even taken Dave's tests, back when he was at the dual-cultivation department, he was already mentally prepared for what was going to happen when he joined a cultivation family as a married-in son-in-law, therefore he didn't have any objection to what Dave Lisandris said.

After the sun set, the cultivation families' recruitment for married-in sons-in-law had finally come to an end.

The cultivation families that were on the huge platform began retrieving back their Daoist talismans, then brought along the cultivators that they had just recruited and began heading back to their families' manors.

Dave Lisandris led the 10+ sons-in-law that he had just recruited aboard his flying magical tool, which was a flying ship, then began flying at high speed towards the direction where the Lisandris Family's manor was located at.

Bright Moon City's middle district, Lisandris Family's manor.

Lisandris Family's main hall.

Sebastian Force and the 10+ people that had just recently joined the Lisandris Family as sons-in-law were currently sitting in the main hall.

After not too long had passed, Dave Lisandris brought along 10+ girls and walked into the main hall.

Amongst the girls, two of them could be seen walking right by Dave Lisandris's sides, while the rest were walking behind him.

And as Dave Lisandris walked into the main hall, the first person that he walked over to was Sebastian Force.

When Dave Lisandris arrived in front of Sebastian Force, Dave Lisandris gestured over to the gentle and elegant looking woman who was on his right side to walk over to Sebastian Force's right side.

Then, with a smile on his face, Dave Lisandris said to Sebastian Force.

"Sebastian Force, this is your wife, Julia Lisandris, a female cultivator who possesses a lower-quality spiritual root."

"Just like you, she is also an apprentice talisman crafter. However, she is still far from being able to break through and become an official talisman crafter."

"Hopefully, her profession as an apprentice talisman crafter will be able to help you in speeding up your process of breaking through and becoming an official talisman crafter."

"After all, with her help, you won't have to waste time on preparing the talisman crafting ingredients anymore. Just tell her beforehand what talismans you are intending on crafting, and she will know what talisman crafting ingredients to prepare."

"Both the Lisandris Family and I have great hopes for you, Sebastian Force."

After Dave Lisandris finished speaking, he patted onto Sebastian Force's right shoulder while with an amicable smile on his face.

"Thank you, Dave Lisandris, I promise that I won't let you down!"

In response, Sebastian Force cupped his hands at Dave Lisandris and said solemnly.

Upon seeing Sebastian Force's response, Dave Lisandris nodded his head in satisfaction, then gave one last pat onto Sebastian Force's shoulder before walking over to the center of the main hall.

Meanwhile, everyone couldn't help but have a look of envy on their face.

After all, who wouldn't want to marry a girl who possessed a spiritual root?

If one wanted to give birth to a child who possessed a spiritual root, possessing a spiritual root would highly increase the chances of the child being born with a spiritual root.

And if both partners possessed spiritual roots, the chances would increase even more highly.

Soon after, right as Dave Lisandris arrived at the center of the main hall, he said indifferently while looking at the remaining sons-in-law that he had just recruited today, "Alright, these girls behind me, although they do not possess spiritual roots, they are all still dear descendants of the Lisandris Family. Amongst these girls, the rest of you can pick anyone of them you want as your main wife, so long as they are willing."

"I know that some of you may be feeling unjust with the obvious difference in treatment that I have given to Sebastian Force, so I will put this out clear for everyone."

"Sebastian Force is able to receive the treatment that he received from me because not only is he already a cultivator who is an outer-disciple of Bright Moon Sect, but he is also an apprentice talisman crafter who is close to breaking through and becoming an official talisman crafter!"

"Now, I will leave you youngsters to your own for now. I will come back again in 30 minutes."

Right after Dave Lisandris finished speaking, he turned around and walked toward the main hall's entrance.

And as Dave Lisandris began walking toward the main hall's entrance, the girl who had been walking by his left side could be seen walking along with him toward the main hall's entrance.

Chapter 6: Wedding night

Right as Dave Lisandris walked out of the main hall, Dave Lisandris looked over to the girl who was by his left side, then said with a smile on his face, "So, my dear niece, what do you think of Sebastian Force? He isn't too shabby, isn't he?"

Looking at the girl, the girl possessed a seductive-looking appearance, and her appearance greatly resembled with the appearance of Julia Lissandris's.

"My initial impression of him isn't too bad. However, only time will tell just what kind of person he truly is. If he not only manages to break through and becomes an official talisman crafter within the next few years, but there also isn't any issues with his child reproducing capabilities, I won't mind listening to your suggestion of marrying him."

"I'm glad you are able to think that way. Hopefully, there isn't any issues with Sebastian Force's child reproducing capabilities, and that little sister of yours is able to get pregnant with a child of his as soon as possible. Although, to tell the truth, even if there isn't any issues with Sebastian Force's child reproducing capabilities, with his bloodline as a half-draconic, it most likely going to take quite a while until Julia manages to become pregnant with his child."

Upon speaking up to here, Dave Lisandris couldn't help but let out a sigh, then continued speaking, "Sigh, everything regarding Sebastian Force is perfect for joining our Lisandris Family as a son-in-law, except for that half-draconic bloodline of his... If he were a full-blooded human, I wouldn't mind letting him marry both you and Julia at the same time today."

Upon hearing what Dave Lisandris said, the seductive-looking woman couldn't help but roll her eyes at him, "If he were a full-blooded human, do you think our Lisandris Family would have a chance to get him to join our Lisandris Family as a married-in son-in-law?"

"I reckon that, if it wasn't because of his half-draconic bloodline, just the fact alone that he is still at such a young age, and yet he is already close to breaking through and becoming an official talisman crafter, it is more than enough for those close-minded senile elderlies from the talisman crafting department to want to take him in as their own direct disciple."

Right as the seductive-looking woman finished speaking, an upset look appeared on Dave Lisandris's face as he chided at the woman, "Miuna! It is disrespectful for you to..."

However, before Dave Lisandris was even able to finish speaking, the woman cut him off, then quickly turned around and left hurriedly, "Ah, that's right! There's only an hour or so until the wedding begin, right? I should quickly go and start preparing myself for the wedding! See ya!"

"This girl..." Dave Lisandris shook his head helplessly, then sat down on a bench and patiently waited for 30 minutes to pass by.

On this night, because the Lisandris Family was aware that quite a number of weddings were going to be held all at once at the same time, the day before the sons-in-law had even been recruited by Dave Lisandris, the Lisandris Family's manor was already decorated with bright ornaments, lanterns, and colored banners that had auspicious words written on them.

As the huge wedding began, a pair of groom and bride followed by another pair of groom and bride could be seen taking their turns to make their wedding vows while in front of the guests and Lisandris Family's family members.

And right after everyone was done making their wedding vows and have officially become married into the Lisandris Family as a married-in son-in-law, it was time for the wedding feast.

As the wedding feast was going on, laughter and loud chattering began ranging out non-stop throughout the entire Lisandris Family's manor.

Even when midnight arrived, the wedding feast still hasn't come to an end.

However, for the various grooms and brides, the arrival of midnight signifies that it was time for them to head to their bedrooms.

...

Midnight.

Upon being told by Dave Lisandris that it was time for him to head to his bedroom, Sebastian Force who had drunk to the point that he had become somewhat drunk began to slowly walk toward his bedroom.

Upon returning back to his bedroom, Julia Lisandris could be seen to have already arrived back to the bedroom much earlier than Sebastian Force did, and Julia Lisandris was currently sitting quietly on the side of the bed.

While with her head lowered, Julia Lisandris had both her hands placed on her lap as she sat upright on the bed. However, looking at her hands that were fidgeting restlessly, it was evident that she was currently feeling rather nervous.

Right as Sebastian Force saw Julia Lisandris, Sebastian Force immediately became somewhat sobered.

Never would I have expected...

In my previous life, before I transmigrated over to this world, I spent pretty much my entire life to build toward having the capabilities and income to be able to have a family of my own...

But now, it has only been such a short time since I transmigrated to this world, and I have already managed to marry such a beautiful and elegant lady...

After giving his head another shake, attempting to sober himself up even more, Sebastian Force slowly walked over to the front of Julia Lisandris.

And upon arriving at the front of Julia Lisandris, Sebastian Force squatted down and held onto Julia Lisandris's smooth and delicate hands, then said with an amicable smile on his face, "Julia, my wife, it's late into the night already. Should we head to the bed now?"

While looking shyly at Sebastian Force through her red wedding veil, Julia Lisandris let out a shy soft mutter, "O... okay..."

Chapter 7: Sebastian and Julia's wedding night

Julia Lisandris had light make-up worn on her face, and the make-up made her look even more elegant than she normally was.

The corners of Julia Lisandris's eyes were lightly coloured with light purple make-up, and a bit of red colour lipstick was applied onto her cherry-like lips, causing her lips to look extremely enticing.

Julia Lisandris's personality was just like how she looked, gentle and elegant.

As Sebastian helped Julia undress her red wedding dress, her face could be seen turning extremely red as she tries to avert her eyes away from Sebastian's eyes.

However, Sebastian was no better too, after all, this was his first time undressing a girl.

While undressing Julia, Sebastian's face could be seen turning red too, albeit not as red as Julia's face, but looking at Sebastian's hands that were slightly trembling, it was evident as to just how nervous he currently was.

After Sebastian finished undressing Julia's wedding dress, only a red colour bra and red colour panties remained on Julia's body.

The red colour bra had rose patterns sewn onto it, and a few strands of Julia's pubic hair could be seen sticking out from the red colour panties.

Although Julia's breasts weren't huge, looking at the arcs that were formed on her red bra, it was evident that they weren't small either.

And because Julia's figure was very slender, her breasts looked bigger than they were supposed to be.

Upon seeing Julia's alluring body, Sebastian's dick immediately became erected.

"Julia..."

Sebastian laid Julia down on the bed, then kissed toward her lips.

"En..."

As Sebastian kissed onto Julia's lips, Julia shyly closed her eyes and let out a light groan.

While kissing onto Julia's lips, Sebastian stuck his left hand into Julia's red bra and grabbed onto her left breast, then began fondling onto the left breast.

Not long after, not satisfied with just kissing anymore, Sebastian extended his tongue into Julia's mouth, then began swirling his tongue around Julia's tongue.

"Hmm... Hmm..."

As Sebastian began sucking onto Julia's tongue and rubbing onto Julia's nipple, Julia couldn't help but let out a moan as she squeezed her thighs against each other.

After what seemed like a minute had passed, Sebastian let go of Julia's mouth, and the two could be seen panting heavily for air.

Lowering his head and looking at Julia's red panties, he could see that Julia's panties were already soaked completely by her pussy juice.

As he began taking Julia's panties off, he could smell a slight alluring smell that was coming from Julia's exposed pussy.

Not able to hold himself back anymore, he got on top of Julia, then grabbed onto his dick and placed his glans right onto Julia's pussy.

"Julia, I'm about to come in..."

"En... Please be gentle with me..."

Julia said while shyly covering onto her face with her hands.

As Sebastian slowly pushed his dick into Julia's pussy, he suddenly felt his glans coming into contact with something.

Immediately, he knew that the thing that his glans had come into contact with was Julia's hymen.

"Julia, bear with the pain, it will be over in a flash."

"En..."

Without any hesitation, Sebastian thrust his waist forward, pushing his dick all the way into Julia's pussy.

And when his dick was inserted deep within Julia's pussy, since this was his first time too, the sensation of his dick being enveloped and squeezed by the pussy's wall almost made him come immediately.

Fortunately, he managed to stop himself from cumming by biting down hard onto his tongue.

That was close, I almost cummed right after I thrust my dick deep into her pussy...

This could have been embarrassing...

"Ah!"

As Sebastian broke through Julia's hymen, Julia let out a painful moan as she grabbed tightly onto the bedsheet.

Upon seeing that, Sebastian bent his upper body forward and gently kissed onto Julia's lips.

After a while had passed, Julia lightly pushed onto Sebastian's chest and said shyly, "I feel better now, you can continue on with what you were doing..."

While still on top of Julia, Sebastian took in a deep breath, then began to slowly thrust his hips back and forth.

"Squish..."

"Squish..."

"En..."

Perhaps it was because this was Sebastian's first time, after only a few minutes had passed, Sebastian felt like he couldn't control his urge to cum anymore and he was about to cum anytime soon.

"Julia, I can't resist it anymore, I'm about to cum soon... I'm sorry, since this is my first time, I..."

Before Sebastian was able to finish speaking, Julia embraced onto Sebastian's neck, then kissed onto his lips and inserted her tongue into his mouth.

After about 20+ seconds had passed, Julia retracted her head away, then looked tenderly into Sebastian's eyes and said gently.

"It's okay, don't be sorry, this is both our first time after all. You don't have to feel any burden, you can go ahead and cum whenever you want."

After Julia finished speaking, her face turned even more red than it already was.

Right after, she closed her eyes and kissed onto Sebastian's lips once again.

Feeling touched by what Julia had just said, Sebastian began responding ardently to Julia's kiss.

Sebastian began thrusting slower than before, hoping that it would help him in resisting from cumming too quickly.

But after a few minutes of thrusting, the feeling of wanting to cum became even stronger than before.

Knowing that he couldn't resist from cumming much longer, he began thrusting his hips back and forth with his all, and after a minute passed, he finally couldn't hold back anymore and ejaculated deep within Julia's pussy.

"Ah!"

Sebastian let out a groan as he ejaculated deep within Julia's pussy.

"Ah... It's so hot... Ah!!!"

And upon feeling the heat that was coming from Sebastian's semen, Julia who was at the brink of squirting let out a loud moan as she squirted.

Right after, Sebastian laid down beside Julia and began panting heavily for breath, "Hah... hah..."

And shortly after, seemingly to have been done with catching his breath, Sebastian pulled Julia into his embrace and hugged onto her.

Just like this, the two of them rested for a moment.

Chapter 8: Julia's handjob

After a while had passed, Sebastian became exulted as he felt that his dick was starting to get hard again.

Previously, Sebastian was still worried that it would take a long time for his dick to be able to get erected again right after ejaculating.

But now, from the looks of it, being half-draconic does have its own benefits too. After all, draconics were known for having incredibly strong physique and stamina.

Now, all he hoped was that once he had gotten used to having sex, he would at least be able to last a bit longer compared to his first round of sex.

Julia who was lying right beside Sebastian was able to see Sebastian's dick becoming hard right before her eyes.

Upon seeing that, Julia's face turned red as she looked toward Sebastian and asked.

"Sebastian, do you want to do it again?"

Although Sebastian wanted to go for another round, he still remembered that this night was Julia's first night, and she had only just broken her hymen just a while ago.

Thus, Sebastian responded with a gentle smile on his face, "It's fine, since this is your first time, you should rest and recuperate your body first before we have sex again. This would be best for your body."

"En..."

Julia responded happily.

Julia was happy that Sebastian prioritized her health over his sexual needs.

However, as Julia looked at Sebastian's erected dick, she couldn't help but thought to herself, "He must be feeling uncomfortable, right? If I leave him like this, he is going to have a hard time sleeping tonight..."

After contemplating for a while, with her face flushed red, Julia looked shyly toward Sebastian and said in a low voice.

"Sebastian... It must feel uncomfortable, right? Close your eyes, I will at the least help you to feel better..."

"Hmm? How are you going to help..."

Before Sebastian even finished speaking, Julia interrupted him and rushed him to close his eyes, "Don't ask any questions, just close your eyes first!"

"Alright, alright. I will close my eyes now." Sebastian said as he closed his eyes.

Upon seeing that Sebastian had closed his eyes, Julia moved her body over to Sebastian's crotch, and after taking a look shyly at Sebastian's face, Julia looked back over to Sebastian's dick, then after hesitating for a moment, held onto the erected dick with her right hand.

When Sebastian sensed that his dick was being held onto by Julia's hand, he immediately understood what Julia meant when she said that she will at least help him to feel better.

After holding onto the erected dick, since it was Julia's first time giving a hand job, she didn't really know what to do.

Afraid that she would hurt the dick if she used too much force, she began to gently stroke the dick up and down with her right hand.

As she stroked the dick, liquid began oozing out from the tip of the dick.

Upon seeing that, while still stroking onto the dick with her right hand, Julia curiously touched onto the tip of the dick with her left index finger.

"Ah..."

When Sebastian's glans was touched onto, he couldn't help but let out a groan.

Upon hearing Sebastian let out a groan, Julia raised her head and looked toward Sebastian's face, and when she saw that Sebastian didn't seem to have let out a groan because he was in pain...

And instead seemed like it was because he was feeling good, Julia began rubbing gently onto the glans with her left hand.

"Ah... This feels so good..."

"Julia, stroke harder and faster onto my dick..."

Encouraged by Sebastian's groan, and upon hearing Sebastian's request, Julia began to exert more strength into her right hand.

Julia began stroking faster and harder onto the dick with her right hand, while at the same time, continuously rubbing gently onto the glans with her left hand.

"Ah... Julia... I'm about to cum!"

After more than 20 minutes had passed, as he felt like he was about to cum, Sebastian quickly shouted out to Julia.

Upon hearing that, Julia stroke even faster and harder, and in the next moment, semen spurted out from the tip of the dick.

As semen spurted out from the dick, Julia quickly covered onto the top of the dick with her left hand, stopping the semen from spurting everywhere.

When Sebastian finished ejaculating, both Julia's left and right hands could be seen to be covered with Sebastian's semen.

After Sebastian was done ejaculating, he couldn't help but open his eyes, and when he opened his eyes, his eyes immediately met with Julia's eyes.

"Who told you to open your eyes..."

Julia muttered shyly in a low voice.

"Cough... Sorry, I will close them again."

"Humph!" Julia snorted lovably, then got off the bed and went to clean her hands.

And after a short while, Julia returned back on the bed with a handkerchief.

With the handkerchief that she brought with her, Julia began to carefully clean Sebastian's dick with the handkerchief, making sure that there wasn't any liquid remaining on Sebastian's dick once she was done cleaning his dick.

Right after Julia was done cleaning Sebastian's dick, she went to wash the handkerchief, then finally got back on the bed and leaned onto Sebastian's shoulder.

"So, can I open my eyes now?" Upon sensing Julia lied down on the bed and leaned onto his shoulder, Sebastian opened his mouth and said jokingly.

"Humph, yes you can, but it's time to go to sleep now. If you get hard again, I'm not going to help you out again."

Julia snorted, then said lovably.

"Alright, alright, goodnight, Julia."

After Sebastian finished speaking, Sebastian kissed onto Julia's forehead.

"En... Goodnight, Sebastian." Julia responded shyly, then closed her eyes and went to sleep.

Chapter 9: Side mission 2 completed

Deep within the night, sensing that Julia had already fallen asleep, Sebastian opened his eyes, then muttered to himself in his own mind.

"System, open the system screen right in front of my eyes."

Right after, the system screen appeared in front of Sebastian's eyes.

This was a function that Sebastian discovered not too long ago.

By talking in his own mind, Sebastian could command the system to open or close the system screen.

Also, he could command the system to move the system screen to wherever he wants, as long as it was within a meter of his body range.

When the system screen appeared in front of Sebastian's eyes, the system screen was showing the mission tab's page.

Another thing that Sebastian noticed about the system was that, whenever he closed the system screen, then opened the system screen again...

The system screen would be at whichever tab that was still on the system screen when the system screen was closed.

Looking at the mission page, Sebastian could see that side mission 2 had been successfully completed.

[Side mission 2: Impregnate a woman who possesses a spiritual root (Mission completed)]

Upon seeing that there wasn't anything else in the mission page aside from the fact that side mission 2 was shown to have been completed, Sebastian switched to the text log page.

Upon switching to the text log page, Sebastian could see that new text logs have appeared below the old text logs.

[Side mission 2 has been completed]

[Special reward obtained]

[Special reward: Rank 64 special body – Sperm strengthening body]

[Sperm strengthening body: A special body that is currently ranked at rank 64 within the Celestial Realm.

When cultivation had just been created, and the road to immortality was just starting to get paved, the special body, sperm strengthening body, was ranked at rank 7 amongst the special bodies.

A cultivator who possesses this body possesses strengthened sperm that is able to impregnate women with a 100% rate and guarantees that the children are born with spiritual roots.

The higher the realm of a cultivator is, the stronger the cultivator's sperm is.]

...

Upon seeing what the special reward was, Sebastian couldn't help but gasped.

"A special body?!"

"I knew it! I knew that the special rewards that are currently only obtainable from completing the missions would definitely be able to give me a huge surprise!"

"If I remember correctly, amongst the disciples who got accepted into the sect at the same time that I did..."

"Feng Xue, a female who possessed the special body that is known as the phoenix rebirth body..."

"During the disciple recruitment test, she didn't even have to take any of the tests, and she was straight away taken in as a direct-disciple by Elder Zhi!"

"Right now, if I'm not wrong, she's already at level 7 of energy refining realm..."

"Meanwhile, I'm still at level 2 of energy refining realm..."

"Sigh, it's only been a few years since we were both admitted into the sect as disciples, and yet, the gap between the two of us is already this huge."

"However, now that I too possesses a special body, I should be able to catch up with her in no time!"

"Right...?"

However, as Sebastian continued reading, he began getting an uneasy feeling.

And after he finished reading the description of the special body that he had obtained, to confirm that he didn't miss out on anything, he gave it another read.

However, after giving it another read, and realizing that there wasn't anything else amongst the description, Sebastian's mind was filled with question marks.

"???"

"What...?"

"Did the system make a mistake and left out some description of the sperm strengthening body?"

"This special body's effect is not only just being able to strengthen my sperm, right...?"

"It most likely also has some effects on my cultivation speed, right...?"

"Something like... the special body is able to increase my cultivation speed by 10 times..."

"Or it is able to help increase the amount of spiritual energy that my body is able to take in..."

"But... there's nothing...?"

"If I remember correctly, Feng Xue's special body, phoenix rebirth body, amongst the 2 effects that I know of..."

"Not only was the phoenix rebirth body able to increase her affinity with fire-attribute cultivation and martial techniques..."

"But it also possesses the special ability of being able to fully heal her body, no matter how serious her injuries were."

"And furthermore, this special ability of hers could be used every time she has used enough spiritual energy to charge up her meridians!"

"Isn't this practically a cheat-code?! Especially for martial tournaments!"

"From what I know, because of this special ability of hers, she managed to reach 3rd place in the energy refining martial tournament which was held just a month ago."

"For a level 7 energy refining cultivator to be able to reach 3rd place in a tournament which is filled with peak level 10 energy refining cultivators... It is pretty obvious just how powerful her phoenix rebirth body is..."

"And yet... this special body of mine..."

"Sigh..."

Sebastian couldn't help but let out a huge sigh.

"No... No! There must be some special powerful effects that this special body of mine possesses! It is just that, the system purposely left it out as it wants me to find out about the special body's special powerful effects by myself!"

"Just like the system functions that I found out by myself! Those functions weren't told or specified to me by the system! I found those out by myself!"

"Yes... this must be it..."

Sebastian began letting delusions take over his mind.

Shortly after, filled with hope that his special body actually possesses some other effects that he doesn't know of yet...

Sebastian continued reading the new text logs.

[Julia Lisandris has been successfully impregnated by the host]

[Reward obtained]

[Reward: Experience points of talisman crafting, +100 exp]

[Notice!]

[The host's stats tab has been unlocked!]

Chapter 10: Host's stats tab

[The host's stats tab has been unlocked!]

[Notice!]

[Achievement tab has been unlocked!]

[Achievement made!]

[Achievement: Impregnate your first woman]

[Achievement reward obtained!]

[Achievement reward: First child is guaranteed to possess a spiritual root]

"Experience points?!"

When Sebastian saw the two words, "experience points", Sebastian began feeling excited.

The longer Sebastian had been in contact with the system, the more Sebastian felt that the system seemed like a gaming type of system.

And the gaming system's goal was centered around in getting him to impregnate women, reproduce children, and create a formidable cultivation family.

The reason Sebastian felt excited, was because, since his profession, talisman crafter, was able to gain experience points...

Doesn't this mean that there was a chance that his cultivation could obtain experience points too?!

Right after, upon seeing that two new tabs have been unlocked, Sebastian looked toward the top left of the system screen.

And as expected, two new small rectangles appeared below the original two small rectangles.

Counting down from the top, the third small rectangle had the word "Stats" written on it, evidently representing the stats tab.

While the fourth small rectangle had the letter "A" written on it, evidently representing the achievement tab.

Curious, Sebastian immediately muttered to himself in his own mind.

"Open the stats tab."

Immediately, the stats page appeared on the system screen.

[Host: Sebastian Force]

[Race: Half-draconic, half-human]

[Age: 22/110]

[Aptitude: Lower-quality spiritual root (Exp 160/10000)]

[Special body: Sperm strengthening body]

[Cultivation: level 2 energy refining realm (Exp 60/200)]

[Cultivation technique: Sun energy refining technique, proficiency – beginner (Exp 40/100)]

[Professions: Talisman crafter, alchemist]

[Talisman crafter: Apprentice (+100 exp, Exp 450/500,)]

[Alchemist: Beginner (Exp 30/100)]

"Hmm, with the 100 exp I got from the reward, it seems that I just need 50 more exp to become an official talisman crafter."

"If I remember correctly, I joined Bright Moon Sect when I was 18 years old, and back when I joined Bright Moon Sect, it had already been a year since I managed to break through and went from being a beginner talisman crafter to becoming an apprentice talisman crafter."

"In total, it has been 5 years since I had become an apprentice talisman crafter."

"That means, as an apprentice talisman crafter, I gained 350 exp in 5 years' time."

"So, as an apprentice talisman crafter, for me to be able to break through and become an official talisman crafter, by conventional ways, it would most likely take me 3 more years..."

"But... with the system, right now, I'm confident that I will be able to break through and become an official talisman crafter in just a year or two!"

"Wait... I remember that the system said that I am able to obtain reward when I impregnated a woman, and when the woman gives birth to my child. This means, in 8 to 10 months' time, once Julia successfully gave birth to my child, if I'm able to obtain 100 exp for my talisman crafting again as my reward, I will be able to break through and become an official talisman crafter in less than a year time!"

"Experience points... experience points..."

"I get it, this is where the system's real cheat code is, the fact that it is able to reward me with experience points for my profession, talisman crafter!"

"Furthermore, since experience points are being shown along side with my spiritual root, cultivation, and cultivation technique, there's a high chance that the system will be able to reward me with experience points for those 3 stats as well!"

"Cultivation... I am going to need 140 more experience points to break through and become a level 3 energy refining cultivator."

"When I joined the sect 4 years ago, I was still a mortal back then."

"It took me about six months to be able to fully understand how to cultivate the cultivate technique that I received, and another six months to officially become a level 1 energy refining cultivator."

"And from level 1 to level 2, that took me roughly 2 years."

"This means that, when I was cultivating as a level 2 energy refining cultivator, it took me a year to obtain 60 exp for my cultivation."

"However, that was all obtainable only because I used up pretty much all of the cultivation pills and energy stones that I managed to save up during my time as a beginner talisman crafter and apprentice talisman crafter."

"If not for those resources, it would definitely have taken me 1 or 2 more years to be able to go from level 1 energy refining to level 2 energy refining."

"I currently only have a few energy stones and cultivation pills left, so..."

"5 years... this is roughly how long it is going to take for me to reach level 3 energy refining if I were to cultivate normally without using any resources."

"And if I were to focus all my time on just cultivating, I could probably reach level 3 energy refining in 3 years' time."

"However, that is obviously out of the question as I need to take out time to spend on training my talisman crafting skills..."

"I have 2 more years to either reach level 3 of energy refining realm, or break through and become an official talisman crafter, if not, I am going to get kicked out of Bright Moon Sect."

"From the looks of things, my best option right now is to focus on my profession as a talisman crafter."

"As for my aptitude... It is a known fact that spiritual roots could evolve and increase in quality with the help of special pills and special medicinal herbs, but I didn't know that spiritual roots are actually able to evolve and increase in quality by its own."

"But, looking at the experience points needed just for my lower-quality spiritual root to evolve into a middle-quality spiritual root..."

"It is no wonder that information regarding spiritual roots being able to evolve and increase in quality on its own isn't common knowledge."

"Lastly, my cultivation technique, sun energy refining technique..."

"I have used sun energy refining technique to refine energy for 4 years, and my proficiency is still only beginner...?"

"Worst of all, I'm not even halfway to the next level of proficiency, and I have merely gained 40 exp in 4 years?!"

"Sigh... it seems that this body of mine is really not cut out for cultivating."

"Fortunately, with this seemingly over-powered system of mine, this originally dim future of mine is currently looking a little bright!"

"Now... time to take a look at the achievement tab."
