

PATH TO IMMORTALITY BEGINS WITH MARRIAGE

Chapter 179: Miuna has awakened...

After taking a huge breath...

While holding onto Miuna's wide hips with his hands, so as to make Miuna's body remain stable, and in turn allow him to be able to remove his dick out from Miuna's pussy much easier...

Sebastian began moving his waist backward with a considerable amount of strength placed into his waist.

Though, despite having already used a considerable amount of strength...

To Sebastian's shock, he still wasn't able to remove his dick from Miuna's pussy.

Even more, both the cervix and pussy seemed as if they possessed a mind of its own.

Right when Sebastian tried to pull his dick out from Miuna's pussy, seemingly to be able to sense that the dick was intending to escape from their grasps, both the cervix and pussy walls actually began squeezing even tighter onto the glans and dick, evidently not intending on allowing the glans and dick to escape.

"What the hell is even happening right now?!"

Upon realizing that he wasn't able to pull his dick out from Miuna's pussy just by using a considerable amount of strength...

Without thinking too much, Sebastian began using all of his strength.

However, right as Sebastian began using all of his strength in not only just pushing Miuna's body forward, but also pulling his waist backward from Miuna's body...

He soon come to discover that he still wasn't able to pull his dick out from Miuna's pussy!

"What the fuck?!"

With a frantic look on his face, Sebastian couldn't help but curse out loudly as he gazed closely onto his and Miuna's crotch areas that were currently still tightly connected to each other without any gap between them at all.

If Sebastian was an experienced cultivator and was even slightly knowledgeable about dual-cultivation techniques, he would realize that the situation he was in was no different from when a female cultivator who was specialized in a plundering type dual-cultivation technique was trying to suck a male cultivator's yang energy and cultivation dry.

When a male cultivator somehow ended up in such a situation, it normally meant that the male cultivator was weaker than the female cultivator, which was why the female cultivator was able to plunder the male cultivator's yang energy and cultivation with ease, without the male cultivator retaliating.

There were typically 2 kinds of end results in which such a situation would end if the female cultivator was stronger than the male cultivator.

The first kind of end result was...

The male cultivator would get his yang energy and cultivation sucked completely dry by the female cultivator and ends up dying.

And the second kind of end result was...

The female cultivator would merely plunder a small portion of the male cultivator's yang energy and cultivation, then benevolently let the male cultivator off, allowing the male cultivator to live.

Though, no matter which end result it was, it all depended on the female cultivator's mood, which meant that the male cultivator's fate was completely in the female cultivator's hands.

On the other hand, if a male cultivator was stronger than the female cultivator...

Most of the time, all the male cultivator had to do to get out of this situation was to revolve his cultivation technique.

Which in Sebastian's case, he was indeed way stronger than Miuna, despite the fact that Miuna was a few levels higher than him.

Which meant that, so long as Sebastian starts revolving his sun energy refining technique, he should be able to pull his dick out from Miuna's pussy with ease, so long as Miuna was indeed cultivating a plundering type dual-cultivation technique and using it on him, which unfortunately, yet fortunately for Sebastian, Miuna wasn't.

However, because it hasn't even been long since Sebastian had transmigrated over to this Cultivation World, it was only reasonable that he would have no idea about what was currently actually happening right now.

Fortunately for Sebastian, upon sensing that just strength alone wasn't able to help him pull his dick out from Miuna's pussy, just like before, where he was urged by his instincts on what to do when Ye Wei had tried to make a surprise attack onto him...

This time, once again, he was helped out by his instincts, whereby he instinctively began revolving his sun energy refining technique.

Interestingly, when Sebastian began revolving his sun energy refining technique, he realized that both his yang core and energy core were revolving at a rather fast speed by their own.

Though, because of how much of a panic he was currently in, he didn't pay too much attention as to why his yang core and energy core would be revolving on their own.

Just a second after Sebastian had began revolving his sun energy refining technique, Sebastian could sense the fire energy within his energy core surging forward toward his dick...

And right as his dick had been filled with the fire energy, he was immediately able to start pulling his dick out from Miuna's pussy, albeit that he still needed to exert all of his strength into pushing onto Miuna's body forward and pulling his waist backward.

As Sebastian began pulling out his dick from Miuna's pussy, he could sense that Miuna's pussy walls seemed as if they had suction cups on them and were sucking tightly onto both his dick and glans.

After all, when he was pulling out his dick from the pussy, the pussy walls would continue on clinging tightly onto his glans and even began stretching despite the fact that his glans had already moved out of that particular area of pussy walls.

After what seemed like 10 seconds had passed since Sebastian had begun pulling his dick out from Miuna's pussy, then did Sebastian managed to finally remove the entirety of his dick from Miuna's pussy.

And only after a few seconds had passed since his dick had managed to take in a breath of fresh air, then did his dick finally stopped cumming.

"Hah... hah... hah..."

While sitting on the bed with his legs wide opened and his palms pressed onto the bed, Sebastian began panting heavily for breath while staring blankly at the ceiling.

After catching his breath, Sebastian subconsciously looked over to his system screen.

[Your dao partner, Miuna Lisandris, has awakened...]