Chapter 5079

“Second sister-in-law, look at my second brother, he asked me for money.”

Zhan Yue complained to his second sister

-in-law. Ning Yun Chu laughed and said, “Don’t mind your second brother, he really dares to take your money. Tell your second sister-in-law, and I’ll help you get it back with interest.”

Zhan Yue laughed heartily, while Zhan Yi Chen said, “Wife, you’re biased.”

“My sister-in-law still loves me the most,”

Zhan Yue said proudly.

Zachary glanced at him sideways and asked, “Want to go on a business trip?”

Zhan Yue’s smugness vanished instantly. He shook his head vigorously, saying, “My sister-in-law dotes on my brother the most, hehe, I’m last in line.”

Serenity said to her husband, “Why are you scaring Lao Ba? He’s in the middle of a tense period of pursuing his wife. If you send him on a business trip and he doesn’t win her back, you’ll be held responsible.”

“Grandma will skin you alive.”

The old lady closed her eyes to rest, but when she was dragged into this, she opened her eyes and smiled, “It’s good for Xiao Ya to think about things occasionally. Maybe if Lao Ba doesn’t visit her for a few days, she’ll start missing him.” ”

Grandma, a business trip isn’t for now.”

“Don’t worry, we’re all keeping an eye on things for you. You should deal with your branch office matters first.”

Zhan Yue was speechless.

Why did he just talk so carelessly?

Although Grandma was anxious about their marriage, once they found someone they liked, she enjoyed watching the drama unfold, wanting to see them go through the “wife-chasing crematorium.” She always said that Fourth Brother’s “wife-chasing crematorium” wasn’t gruesome at all.

Everyone felt sorry for Fourth Brother because he ate a little chili pepper during a live stream, and in the end, he still managed to win Fourth Sister-in-law’s heart. The other brothers all had smooth sailing in their pursuit of their wives; even if they had rivals, they were easily defeated.

Perhaps the eldest brother and sister-in-law faced the most hardships on their love journey.

“After I took Xiaoya home, Dr. Lin came to see me, and we went out for a chat,” the old lady said. “What, your rival still dares to come looking for you? He’s still not giving up?”

Zhan Yue and Dr. Lin were rivals, and sometimes he would speak ill of Dr. Lin in front of Xiaoya, but he had to admit that Dr. Lin was actually very outstanding, just a little inferior to them, the chosen ones. They were just better off born into wealth, born into a rich family.

If they had been born into ordinary families, they might not have achieved what Dr. Lin had.

Zhan Yue told his family about Dr. Lin’s conversation with him.

The old lady yawned, then got up and said to everyone, “I’m sleepy, I’m going to bed now. You can all go home now. There’s no big show to watch. Tomorrow, I’ll take the children to the zoo. Let’s go separately, that way we won’t attract so much attention.”

Traveling as a large family, with handsome men and beautiful women, easily draws attention and makes it easier to identify them.

Taking the children out to play regularly ensures they have a happy childhood. Many people have seen the Zhan family’s grandchildren, but they don’t know their identities. No one takes photos of them secretly, so the media won’t have many photos of the children’s faces.

Of course, there are also bodyguards secretly following them. If they notice anyone taking photos, the bodyguards will immediately intervene, ensuring that no photos of the children are leaked.

The paparazzi always take pictures of the children’s backs, never their faces. They know how protective the Zhan family is of their children, and the paparazzi are actually quite sensible in not taking photos of the children’s faces.

Many paparazzi are also married and parents themselves, and they understand the Zhan family's protectiveness of their children. Even as parents, they would do everything they could to protect their own children.

"Grandma, I understand."

Married at First Sight Chapter 5080

The old lady went back to her room to rest. The third wife and her husband didn't go back; they stayed overnight at their son's place. Zachary and his wife, along with their parents and three sleeping children, went back home. Su Meng still refused to go home.

That evening, Su Nan came to pick up his son, but the little guy was having a great time playing there and didn't want to go home, saying that at home only his second brother would be with him, which wasn't fun or lively enough. He felt that any younger cousin wasn't as fun as his son, who was only a month younger than him, making them roughly the same age.

Zhan Yichen and his wife also took their son home.

On the way, Zhan Yichen asked his wife, "Wife, what do you think of Miss Zeng?"

"She's quite nice,"

Ning Yun Chu replied, holding her son in the back seat as Zhan Yichen drove.

She leaned back in her car seat, closed her eyes, and said to her husband, "I'm going to rest. Wake me up when we get home."

"Okay, go to sleep."

"Regardless of what Miss Zeng is like, as long as Lao Ba likes her, that's all that matters. Besides, Miss Zeng is indeed quite good-looking and a perfect match for Lao Ba. She has a very auspicious and lucky appearance; just looking at her can calm one's mind."

"A girl with such looks can't be bad, so you don't need to worry about Lao Ba,"

Zhan Yichen said. "I'm not worried about anything, as long as you can get along with Miss Zeng."

Ning Yun Chu said, "We sisters-in-law are all tolerant, so there's no need to worry about these issues. Besides, we don't usually live together; we only go back to the old house for a few days during holidays."

"Everyone's busy having fun and gossiping, so we don't have time to argue or cross-eyed,"

Zhan Yichen laughed. "You guys like to gossip, huh?"

"Haven't you heard? Three women make a street. Once Lao Ba and Lao Ba are both married, the nine of us sisters-in-law will make up three streets. What gossip can't we talk about then?"

"...Go take a nap."

PZhan Yichen smiled and told his beloved wife to sleep a little longer.

He focused on driving.

When they arrived home, the mother and son were fast asleep in the back seat.

Zhan Yichen drove to the front door of the main house, close enough that he could easily carry his wife out of the car.

After parking, he got out, first taking his sleeping son from Yun Chu's arms and placing him on the car seat, then carefully carrying the sleeping Yun Chu out of the car and into the house.

His parents were true love; Lele was an accident.

Lele lay alone on the car seat, sleeping like a little pig, completely unaware that his father, who always said he loved him the most, had taken him aside and carried his mother into the house first.

After a while, Zhan Yichen came out, leaned into the car, and carried the sleeping little pig out. He gently pinched his son's cheek a couple of times, saying, "Sleeping so soundly, I can't even wake him up."

The little guy had played too wildly during the day and hadn't slept long during his afternoon nap; he didn't have that much energy. He slept incredibly soundly.

Even if his father pinched him gently, or even harder, he would continue sleeping.

At this moment, even thunder couldn't wake him.

Zhan Yichen carried his son upstairs to the children's room, put him on the bed, took off his shoes, covered him with a blanket, and then got up and left the room.

The children had all been wanting to sleep early, so they had already taken a bath at their eighth uncle's house.

Bringing them home meant they didn't need another bath and could sleep until they naturally woke up tomorrow.

Tomorrow was Sunday, and they could have another whole day of fun.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5081

The Lin family home.

Lin's mother woke up from a nap and checked the time; it was past midnight.

She got up, left her room, and looked towards her son's master bedroom. She noticed the door was ajar, meaning her son hadn't returned yet.

If he were home, he would close the door at night, not leave it ajar.

The ajar door meant he wasn't back.

Lin's mother frowned, muttering, "Where has he gone in the middle of the night? Why isn't he back yet?"

She turned back into her room, picked up her phone, and called her son.

The call connected, but her son didn't answer.

After several attempts with the same result, Lin's mother grew frightened, fearing something had happened to her son. She quickly woke her husband, anxiously saying, "Old Lin, A-Jian hasn't come home yet, it's already past midnight."

"I called him, the call went through, but he didn't answer. It's been like this several times."

"Could something have happened to A-Jian?"

Lin's father rubbed his eyes, saying, "A-Jian is a grown man, what could have happened to him? He's probably out drinking with his friends."

"Call Yuehua and ask her who A-Jian usually hangs out with."

Lin's mother, disregarding the late hour and the potential disturbance to He Yuehua, immediately called her.

He Yuehua answered quickly.

"Auntie, I'm at the bar. Dr. Lin is drinking there, he's drunk, and the bar staff called me to come pick him up. I just got here. Are you worried about Dr. Lin?" Hearing news of her son, Lin's mother felt relieved, but upon learning he had gone to a bar and drunk heavily, her heart ached again. She said, "He said he was going out for a walk to clear his head and get some fresh air, why did he go to a bar?"

"Did he go to the Zeng family again? If he went there, he'd be upset and go to the bar."

"Yuehua, thank goodness you brought A-Jian back. Otherwise, his father and I would have been worried sick."

He Yuehua said, "Auntie, don't worry, I'll take Dr. Lin home. Auntie, go to sleep, don't worry."

"This isn't the first time Dr. Lin has gotten drunk." Dr.

Lin had gotten drunk countless times because of Dr. Zeng.

"It's definitely because of that Zeng woman. She doesn't even love him, yet he still clings to her. No matter how much we try to persuade him, he won't listen. She's already climbed the social ladder, how could she possibly still respect him?"

Lin's mother now had a lot of resentment towards Zeng Xiaoya.

She felt that Zeng Xiaoya's rejection of her son meant she was materialistic, a gold digger, and looked down on her son.

"I want to see if that Zeng woman can marry into a wealthy family and become a phoenix rising from the ashes. What if she's rejected and can't even find a man like me, Ah Jian, and ends up an old spinster? I'd laugh myself to death."

He Yuehua didn't reply.

No matter what, Dr. Zeng wouldn't be unable to get married.

It just depended on whether Dr. Zeng wanted to marry.

She had such good conditions, such a good family background, and wasn't bad-looking. If she wanted to marry, plenty of men would line up to marry her.

"Auntie, I'll go settle Dr. Lin's bill first."

Married at First Sight Chapter 5082

He Yuehua used the excuse of needing to settle Dr. Lin's bill to end her call with Lin's mother.

She didn't want to hear her mother's barbed words.

In He Yuehua's view, Lin's mother was a typical example of sour grapes.

She understood the Lin family's temperament and knew she could handle their relationship well; Dr. Zeng, on the other hand, disdained dealing with the Lin family.

He Yuehua knew Lin's parents' temperament and didn't care. If she married Dr. Lin, the couple would still stay in the city to run their clinic, only returning to their hometown for a few days during holidays. She could appease the Lin family during those few days and prevent them from making things difficult for her.

He Yuehua believed she could handle these relationships, so even knowing Dr. Lin's family background, she dared to fall in love with him and live with him.

After He Yuehua hung up on her, Lin's mother didn't realize that He Yuehua was annoyed by her harsh words and didn't want to hear her continue. She said to her husband, "Yuehua went to the bar to pick up Ajian."

"Ajian must have gone to the Zeng family again and seen Dr. Zeng and the eighth young master of the Zhan family together. He was hurt and jealous, so he went to the bar to drink. Yuehua even said this wasn't the first time."

"He's truly deeply in love with Dr. Zeng," Lin's mother sighed. "But she doesn't love him at all. He drinks, which is bad for his health. Who cares about him? Only we, his parents, care about him."

"Yuehua has it so hard. She also feels sorry for Ajian, but Ajian got drunk because of Dr. Zeng. He can't see her good qualities."

Lin's mother increasingly felt that He Yuehua was better, more suitable for her son, able to accept everything about him, and so caring.

Not Zeng Xiaoya, who only brought her son harm and sadness.

Lin's father said, "If you don't love someone, you won't be sad or upset. Dr. Zeng only has ordinary friendship feelings for our A-Jian. It's all one-sided love and devotion from A-Jian. What can we do?"

The one who is affectionate often suffers more than the one who is indifferent. Who told his son to be so fickle?

The pain of unrequited love is something only those who have experienced it truly understand.

"Yuehua was always the right fit for our family, for Ajian. The Zeng family is too good for us; we can't possibly be worthy of them."

"What do you mean 'can't be worthy of them'? The Zeng family isn't some powerful clan, just a bunch of doctors. What kind of prestigious family is that? She looks down on my son, does she think she can rise above her station and become a phoenix?"

"Men in wealthy families are the most ruthless. How many of them don't have mistresses? Even those who cultivate a decades-long image of a loving couple can end up with several illegitimate children fighting with the children of the original wife for the inheritance."

"Unless a man is destitute, he'll find someone else whenever he gets the chance."

"The suffering of marrying into a wealthy family is something most people can't endure. Can Zeng Xiaoya endure that kind of suffering? Her husband leaves early and returns late every day, sometimes not even all night, often leaving her alone in an empty house, like a widow."

“So what if she has money? She’ll be spiritually empty, and those wealthy mothers-in-law are formidable. She might even have to kneel and wash their feet every day!”

Knowing her son had no chance, Lin’s mother spoke ill of Zeng Xiaoya, saying anything and everything.

Lin’s father said to his wife, “Alright, stop complaining. You’re just a sour grapes.”

“Dr. Zeng doesn’t love our son. Even without the Zhan family’s young master, she just doesn’t love him. It has nothing to do with the Zhan family’s young master. Whether the Zhan family’s young master is sincere to her is their business. We can’t interfere, and we don’t have the right to.”

The Zhan family has a good reputation, and the men in the Zhan family are said to be very devoted. Zeng Xiaoya might really be able to marry into the Zhan family and become a young mistress.

Lin’s father didn’t say this aloud, because if he did, his wife would surely accuse him of favoring Zeng Xiaoya.

However, since his son truly had no hope of marrying Zeng Xiaoya, he still advised him to get together with Yuehua as soon as possible.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5083

He Yuehua entered the bar and quickly found the heavily intoxicated owner.

She paused for a moment before approaching.

Dr. Lin was slumped over the table, muttering to himself, “Drink, drink.”

A bartender saw He Yuehua and approached her, saying, “You must be Miss He. This gentleman is drunk. He gave us your phone number when he came in.”

“He told us to call you if he got too drunk so you could come pick him up,” she said.

He Yuehua nodded and asked, “How much did he spend? I’ll pay the bill for him.”

The bartender led her to the bill.

After paying, He Yuehua went to Dr. Lin's side, looked at his drunken state, sighed, and resignedly bent down to take his hand and place it on her shoulder. Then, with difficulty, she helped him up. This time, Dr. Lin was too drunk to stand up on his own, and He Yuehua couldn't lift him immediately, so she had to ask the bartender for help. Only then was she able to help him to his feet. "Thank you." "Do you need me to help him out?" He Yuehua remembered that there were more than a dozen steps at the entrance of the bar. Last time, she couldn't help Dr. Lin down those steps and had to drag him down. She nodded and asked the bar staff to help the tipsy Dr. Lin out.

With their help, they helped him into his car.

"Thank you,"

He Yuehua said gratefully.

"You're welcome. Mr. Lin is practically a customer of our bar, but he always comes here completely drunk."

"Are you Mr. Lin's girlfriend or wife? When he wakes up, please talk to him and comfort him. No matter what happened or how much pressure he's under, don't always drown your sorrows in alcohol."

"Thank you. I'll talk to him when he wakes up. He's just under too much pressure."

He Yuehua didn't mention that Dr. Lin's drunkenness was due to heartbreak.

The bar staff had to go back to work. After giving a few polite instructions, they returned to the bar.

He Yuehua got into the car, glanced at Dr. Lin sitting in the back seat, sighed, and said, "No matter how reluctant you are, Dr. Zeng doesn't like you. Besides, your parents are increasingly dissatisfied with Dr. Zeng."

Especially after learning that Dr. Zeng had a young master from the Zhan family by her side, Lin's mother always spoke ill of Dr. Zeng, resenting her good fortune in being liked by the young master and the possibility of her marrying into a wealthy family.

He Yuehua was also jealous, jealous that Dr. Zeng not only won the favor of a wealthy young master but was also unforgettable to Dr. Lin.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5084

She had waited for years and given so much, yet she still hadn't received a definite answer from Dr. Lin.

Although Dr. Lin's parents treated her as their daughter-in-law, he was the one who was going to marry her, and without his confirmation, she might not even be able to marry him.

Her mother called again, urging her to go back for blind dates, saying the matchmaker had introduced her to several men with good incomes, including a doctor working at a small hospital.

He Yuehua knew her mother was pressuring her to go on blind dates for two reasons: first, she was already on the verge of becoming an "older single woman," and second, she hoped her mother would receive a dowry when she got married. No matter how much the dowry was, her parents probably wouldn't give it to her to take back to her husband's family.

He Yuehua didn't dare hope for a dowry; she'd be lucky if her mother gave her half to take back to her husband's family. She had secretly saved some money herself, not a lot, but still a few tens of thousands.

If her mother was willing to give her half of the dowry, she would have at least 100,000 yuan.

This amount of money might not be much for wealthy people, but for someone like He Yuehua, whose parents demanded she hand over her entire salary to the family after she started working, 100,000 yuan was a considerable sum.

He Yuehua wouldn't argue with her parents; she considered it her dowry as the last payment she could make to repay their kindness. She had told her parents, brothers, and sisters-in-law that once she was married and had her own family, she wouldn't hand over her salary anymore.

This was the norm in her village: no matter how filial a daughter was before marriage, giving all her earnings home, once she was married and had her own family, she wouldn't give her money back.

She would only give her parents a little money during holidays, the amount depending on her ability, and her parents wouldn't ask for much.

He Yuehua was actually eager to get married. Once married, she could manage her own salary and wouldn't have to give it back to her parents anymore, since they spent it on her brothers, not on them.

She admitted that her parents favored her brother more; it was unavoidable in her hometown, where family property went to the sons, and supporting their parents in old age was their responsibility. Daughters weren't expected to provide for their parents, and if they fell ill, the sons were responsible for their medical expenses.

Daughters could give as much as they wanted, and no one would say anything, since the family property went to the sons, and the sons were naturally obligated to care for their parents in their old age and until their death.

He Yuehua envied Dr. Zeng, but knew she couldn't compare to him. Dr. Zeng's family background is far superior to hers. Dr. Zeng's parents are impartial; they bought houses for both Dr. Zeng's brother and Dr. Zeng herself, both in full.

Her parents, on the other hand, wouldn't even allow her to save up for a house herself, saying she'd get married eventually and her husband's family would have a place to live, so she wouldn't need to buy one.

Unlike other parents who buy their daughters a house in advance, even a small one, it's a safety net for them.

Dr. Lin already owns a house, and after she marries him, with money and children, she'll definitely want to buy another. She won't ask to have her name added to Dr. Lin's pre-marital property.

Only after marriage will the house be considered joint property, and she'll truly have a home of her own.

Unlike now, when she goes back to her hometown, she doesn't even have a room of her own. Every time she goes back, she has to share a room with her mother. Even though there are empty rooms, her brother and sister-in-law say the children are growing up and the empty rooms need to be used by them.

She rarely went back to her hometown anyway, and when she did, she'd only stay a few days before heading back to work. She didn't need a separate room; sleeping with her mother for a few days was fine.

The home she'd contributed so much to wouldn't be her home anymore, much less her support.

She had to hold onto Dr. Lin tightly, appease his parents, establish herself in the Lin family, and integrate into the family before she could find a home for herself.

After a long while, He Yuehua finally drove the drunken Dr. Lin home.

When they arrived at the Lin family home, she carefully opened the door, afraid of waking his parents.

But as soon as she opened the door and turned on the light, Dr. Lin's mother came out of the room. Seeing her struggling to support her son, Dr. Lin's mother quickly came over to help her carry him inside.

She said with concern, "How did A-Jian get so drunk? He reeks of alcohol. How much did he drink?"

Married at First Sight Chapter 5085

He Yuehua didn't say anything. The two of them helped Dr. Lin into his room and helped him lie down. He Yuehua then sat on the bed, panting.

It had taken her a lot of effort to help Dr. Lin take the elevator upstairs by herself.

Lin's mother felt sorry for her son and called him several times, but he wouldn't wake up. She said to He Yuehua with some concern, "Yuehua, A-Jian drank so much, won't he get alcohol poisoning?"

"Auntie, don't worry, this isn't the first time Dr. Lin has done this. It'll be fine. Let him sleep until he wakes up naturally tomorrow."

She paused, then added, "At most, he might have a headache when he wakes up. Auntie will make him a cup of honey water."

"Do you have any honey water for A-Jian?"

"Yes, I had my mom buy some local honey and send two jin to Dr. Lin. Last time he got drunk, I made him a cup of honey water, and it made him feel much better."

"Yuehua, it's a good thing you're here, otherwise A-Jian would have no one to take care of him. That Dr. Zeng doesn't even acknowledge him."

He Yuehua paused for a moment, then said, "Auntie, I love Dr. Lin, so I care about him, I'm concerned about him, and I'm willing to take care of him."

"Dr. Zeng has no romantic feelings for Dr. Lin. They're just senior and junior classmates. Without love, of course Dr. Zeng wouldn't care about Dr. Lin, let alone come to take care of him when he's drunk."

At this hour, Dr. Zeng is probably fast asleep, having sweet dreams. Why would she care if Dr. Lin is drunk?

Lin's mother said, "Yes, Dr. Zeng doesn't love our A-Jian at all, but A-Jian... Yuehua, we've all seen how good you are to A-Jian. In my and his father's eyes, you're our future daughter-in-law."

"Don't worry, if A-Jian dares not to marry you, dares to treat you badly, we'll teach him a lesson."

He Yuehua smiled. "Thank you, Auntie."

"Auntie, it's late. I'll go home first. If Dr. Lin can't get up tomorrow morning, don't wake him. Let him sleep well. We'll look after the clinic, so don't worry."

She studied medical theory. Although she's just a nurse, she's worked at the Lin family clinic for so many years. Dr. Lin isn't completely indifferent to her; he's taught her some things. Usually, when Dr. Lin isn't at the clinic, there are patients...She would also practice medicine, treating patients without ever making a mistake. As long as she diagnosed the illness correctly and prescribed the right medicine, the patients would recover quickly.

"It's so late. It's not safe for a girl like you to go home alone. Why don't you stay here for the night?"

Lin's mother said, trying to persuade her son. "A-Jian has a room here."

Dr. Lin's house had four bedrooms and two living rooms. He had one room for himself, one room was used as a study, and there were two guest rooms where his parents would stay. The other guest room was empty.

He Yuehua pretended to hesitate and said, "That's not a good idea. If people find out I'm staying at Dr. Lin's place, they'll gossip."

“Who cares what others say? You and A-Jian will get married sooner or later, and this will be your home. You’re just staying in your own home for one night in advance. What’s the big deal?”

Her son was so drunk that there was nothing she could do.

Even if He Yuehua stayed overnight, the two of them would be completely innocent.

“Yuehua, stay. If anything happens to you on your way back, I’ll feel guilty for the rest of my life. Ajian will blame me if he wakes up and finds out,”

Lin’s mother urged He Yuehua to stay.

One reason was that she was worried about He Yuehua’s safety going home alone, and another was that she was concerned her son might vomit later. She couldn’t take care of him alone; after all, she was getting old and didn’t have the strength.

The old man was sleeping soundly, and she couldn’t wake him.

It was better to have He Yuehua stay; if anything happened to her son, at least someone would help.

At Lin’s mother’s urging, He Yuehua stayed.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5086

Lin’s mother’s worries were not unfounded. Not long after, Dr. Lin indeed vomited. He first said he was thirsty and wanted water.

He Yuehua poured him a glass of water, helped him sit up, and after drinking half a glass, he suddenly felt nauseous and vomited all over the floor.

Fortunately, He Yuehua reacted quickly and didn’t get covered in his vomit or on the bed; it all landed on the floor.

Seeing her son vomit all over the floor, Lin’s mother instinctively covered her mouth and nose and ran outside; she couldn’t stand seeing others vomit.

Just as she stepped out of the room, Lin’s mother also vomited. She covered her mouth and ran quickly to the bathroom, where she vomited violently.

He Yuehua: ...

I was hoping Lin's mother would help clean up and mop the floor, but she vomited even more than Dr. Lin.

In the end, He Yuehua cleaned up and mopped the floor.

After Dr. Lin finished vomiting, he went back to bed and fell asleep again.

Only after He Yuehua finished cleaning did she check on Lin's mother.

Lin's mother had stopped vomiting and came out of the bathroom to sit on the sofa in the living room, looking like she was about to die; she had even vomited bile.

"Auntie, are you alright?"

He Yuehua came over and asked with concern.

"I'm vomiting like crazy! I can't stand seeing those things; just looking at them makes me vomit. It's even worse than when I was pregnant with morning sickness."

"How's A-Jian?"

Despite vomiting so badly, Lin's mother still didn't forget to ask about her son's condition."Dr. Lin fell asleep again. Luckily, he didn't soil the bed. I cleaned the floor."

Lin's mother held He Yuehua's hand and thanked her profusely.

He Yuehua could only lie down and rest for a while after 3 a.m.

Lin's mother went into her son's room to check on him and make sure he wouldn't vomit again before going back to her room to rest.

Lin's father woke up groggily and asked her, "Did you drink a lot of water before bed? You keep getting up at night."

Lin's mother slapped her, "You pig, you sleep even more soundly than a pig. I was worried and couldn't sleep because our son wasn't back, but you, you fell asleep as soon as your head hit the pillow."

"Hasn't A-Jian come back yet?"

After knowing that He Yuehua had gone to the bar to pick up her son, Lin's father stopped worrying and went back to sleep. He really didn't know when his son had returned.

"He's back, completely drunk, barely able to walk. Yuehua helped him back; thank goodness for her," said Lin's mother. "Ajian just threw up all over the place. I couldn't help, and I threw up myself too. Yuehua took care of him and cleaned him up."

"When our son sobers up, Lao Lin, tell him we've accepted Yuehua as our daughter-in-law. Tell him to stop thinking about that Dr. Zeng. She's good at marrying into wealth; she wouldn't even look at a lowly doctor like him."

"Yuehua truly has our son's heart and soul. If she didn't love Ajian, she wouldn't have taken care of him."

"Anyway, I've made up my mind about Yuehua," said Lin's father. "I already advised Ajian; he knows what to choose."

His son's rival was too powerful, which dealt him a heavy blow. Lin's father knew his son had given up on Dr. Zeng, and his son's attitude towards Yuehua had become much gentler these past two days.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5087

"I'll go see Dr. Zeng tomorrow and ask what happened tonight. A-Jian's drunkenness must be related to her."

"She doesn't love our son. Tell her to move far away so A-Jian can never see her again. Then A-Jian will slowly let go of his feelings for her and live a good life with Yuehua."

Lin's father said, "She's a native of Dongguan, her family has lived there for generations. It's unreasonable to tell her to move far away."

"I don't care. Anyway, my son's drinking is bad for his health because of her. She either has to move away, far away, and cut off all contact with my son, or she has to accept my son's feelings."

"Seeing A-Jian so drunk makes my heart ache."

Lin's mother didn't care whether she was right or wrong; she just felt sorry for her son.

She said it and she really did it.

As soon as it was light, she went to the hospital to find Zeng Xiaoya. Zeng Xiaoya was at work. Ignoring all the patients waiting to see her, she went straight into Zeng Xiaoya's clinic and slammed her hand on the table, questioning Zeng Xiaoya.

"Zeng Xiaoya, I'm asking you what you said to my son last night? And what did you do?"

"You made my son go to a bar and get completely drunk; he can't even walk."

"This isn't the first time he's gotten drunk because of you. I know, Dr. Zeng, you've climbed the social ladder and look down on my son. If you look down on him, stay away from him. Move away, the farther the better, and ideally, never let my son see you again."

The patients were all taken aback by Lin's mother's aggressive questioning.

Zeng Xiaoya was utterly speechless.

She said to Lin's mother, "Auntie, I didn't say anything to Lin Xuechang last night, nor did I do anything."

"Senior Lin did go to my house, but he didn't come to see me. What does his drunkenness have to do with me? I didn't ask him to go drinking."

"I've always treated Senior Lin as a senior, never giving him hope or making any promises. Whether Senior Lin drinks or not is none of my business; it's his freedom. He's not a three-year-old; he's an adult and must bear the consequences of his actions." "

Also, my rejection of Senior Lin has nothing to do with anyone else. Don't talk nonsense here, Anen. I don't look down on Senior Lin."

Zeng Xiaoya hadn't expected Lin's mother to be so unreasonable.

Senior Lin left after talking with Zhan Yue last night. Where he went, Zhan Yue said he didn't know, and she knew even less.

So Senior Lin went drinking and got drunk. His mother felt sorry for him, which Zeng Xiaoya could understand, but Lin's mother shouldn't blame her for Senior Lin's drunkenness.

She didn't love Senior Lin; she simply rejected him long ago, never giving him hope or making any promises.

Lin's mother was unreasonable, blaming everything on her and even telling her to move out.

"I don't care! My son got drunk because of you. You either move out or accept my son's feelings, but I don't like women like you. What good would marrying you do?"

"You're not as attentive and considerate as Yuehua, and you can't take care of my son. What else can you do besides some medical skills?"

"My son is a doctor too. He's no less capable than you. He earns much more money than you. Do you really think you're superior just because your family is better off? That's wealth accumulated by your grandparents, not yours." "

You look down on me, A-Jian? Pah! I don't even want you! Let me tell you, my daughter-in-law will only be Yuehua. Get as far away from me as possible. Just looking at your face makes me sick."

Married at First Sight Chapter 5088

"A vixen like you wants to marry into a wealthy family? Be careful you don't get played and dumped. Do you really think it's so easy to get into a wealthy family?"

Zeng Xiaoya's face turned green.

She said seriously, "Auntie, I'm at work. Please leave. Don't interfere with my seeing patients."

"Also, if you keep spreading rumors and slandering me, I have CCTV footage here. I can sue you for defamation!"

"I don't love Lin Xuechang, and that's my freedom to reject him. I'm a native of Dongguan. What's it to you if he lives in my house? Auntie, if you're worried Lin Xuechang can't let go, why don't you tell your son to move out?"

Lin's mother said righteously, "Your family is rich. You can buy a new house anytime you move out. My son, Ajian, has worked so hard to get where he is today. If we move out, we'll have to start all over again. Where would we get that much money?"

The patients who were gossiping were shocked by Lin's mother's shamelessness. They couldn't help but speak up for Zeng Xiaoya and condemn Lin's mother for being unreasonable.

Shameless, shameless.

Zeng Xiaoya didn't want to argue with Lin's mother any longer. She had long known that Lin's mother wasn't as easy to talk to as she seemed; years ago, she knew she was a selfish and unreasonable person.

She called security and had them forcibly remove Lin's mother.

Lin's mother left, cursing and swearing. She felt that her commotion had damaged Zeng Xiaoya's reputation, and the hospital might even fire her.

Zeng Xiaoya could forget about marrying into a wealthy family because of her tarnished reputation.

Zeng Xiaoya didn't accept her son, which caused him to frequently go to bars and get drunk; she wouldn't let Zeng Xiaoya have an easy time.

What good was a good family background?

If her son hadn't genuinely wanted to marry Zeng Xiaoya, she wouldn't have even considered her. Besides treating patients, she was useless; she couldn't handle housework or farm work, far inferior to Yuehua.

After driving away Lin's mother, Zeng Xiaoya was still quite angry. She called Lin, her senior.

Dr. Lin was still asleep, unaware that his mother had caused trouble in Zeng Xiaoya's office. He didn't answer Zeng Xiaoya's call.

Zeng Xiaoya called several more times, but he still didn't answer, guessing he was still asleep, so she gave up and called again.

Patients who came to see her comforted her: "Dr. Zeng, don't get angry with those people. That person is simply unreasonable and shameless."

"Selfish and self-centered. Her son is her precious treasure. It was clearly her son who pursued you, Dr. Zeng, and you rejected him, yet she came to cause trouble, demanding you move out and spreading rumors about you."

"Dr. Zeng, let me tell you, never marry into a family like that. It's not good. With a mother like that, the person who pursues you won't have a happy marriage."

“Once he and his wife have a conflict, his protective mother will definitely side with him and help him target his wife.”

“Yes, I’ve never seen such an unreasonable person. Just because her son likes someone, does that mean she has to accept him? Can’t she refuse him if she doesn’t like him?” ”

They’re both adults. He got drunk and then blamed it all on Dr. Zeng. It’s fortunate that Dr. Zeng rejected him. Never marry into a family like that.”

Everyone chimed in, comforting Zeng Xiaoya and saying that Lin’s mother had gone too far.

Zeng Xiaoya’s anger gradually subsided, and she said, “I rejected him a long time ago. I rejected him completely the first time he confessed to me.”

Married at First Sight Chapter 5089

“Refuse him completely. With a mother like that, the man pursuing you won’t be any better. You might think he’s great now that you’re not married, but once you’re married, all his flaws will be exposed.”

“Only then can you see what kind of person he truly is. Dr. Zeng, you mustn’t be soft-hearted. Don’t let his pain soften your heart.”

Zeng Xiaoya smiled. “I won’t.”

She wasn’t the Zeng Xiaoya she once was.

Having suffered heartbreak, she was very cautious about relationships, not easily accepting anyone, and placing greater emphasis on character and the other person’s family background.

To Zeng Xiaoya’s surprise, Lin’s mother not only came to the hospital to cause trouble, criticizing and insulting her, but also went to the Zhan Group demanding to see Zhan Yue.

Zhan Yue didn’t work at the Zhan Group office; he was in charge of a branch company.

She made a scene at the company entrance, insisting on seeing Zhan Yue, saying she had something to say to him to prevent him from being deceived, and so on.

The security guard from Zhan's Group said helplessly to Lin's mother, "Auntie, please stop making a scene here. The Eighth Young Master really doesn't work here; he only occasionally comes back to headquarters."

"Besides, today is Sunday, the company is closed. Except for our security department, everyone else is off work."

Lin's mother paused, realizing, "Oh right, today is Sunday, they're not working."

She'd forgotten.

Zeng Xiaoya works because she's a doctor, and doctors' holidays are different from corporate employees. Yesterday was Saturday, Zeng Xiaoya's day off, and today is Sunday, so she has to go back to the hospital.

Seeing Zeng Xiaoya at work, she assumed it was Monday, which is why she came to Zhan's Group to make a scene and demand to see Zhan Yue.

"Then, where does Zhan Yue usually work? Isn't he the Eighth Young Master of the Zhan family? Isn't Zhan's Group a Zhan family company?" That

's all Lin's mother wanted to know.

Everyone in Dongguan knew that Zhan's Group was a Zhan family company. "The Zhan Group is so big, with many subsidiaries. The Eighth Young Master is in charge of several branches, and he doesn't usually work at any one company. We really don't know his schedule."

"Auntie, we're just gatekeepers, we don't know anything about those things. You don't need to ask, we won't know either."

Even if the security guards knew, they wouldn't tell Lin's mother.

This woman was clearly unreasonable; without the Eighth Young Master's permission, they wouldn't dare tell her the address of his usual workplace.

As soon as she left, the security guards quickly reported the matter to their security captain, who then told Zachary's secretary, who in turn contacted Zhan Yue and told him about it.

Zhan Yue asked the security guards to send him a photo of the woman captured by the company's security camera. Seeing it was Lin's mother, Zhan Yue frowned.

Lin's mother had gone to see him; she was probably going to badmouth Xiao Ya to him.

Zhan Yue checked the time; Xiao Ya was about to get off work. He called Zeng Xiao Ya, and after she answered, he said, "Xiao Ya, is it convenient for me to have lunch with you?"

"Why would I have lunch for no reason?"

Zeng Xiao Ya laughed. "My housekeeper has already prepared my meal. If I don't go home for lunch, she'll scold me."

Hearing Zeng Xiao Ya's laughter, Zhan Yue felt slightly relieved, thinking that Lin's mother hadn't gone to the hospital to cause trouble for Zeng Xiao Ya. He said, "Dr. Lin's mother just came to the entrance of my company and made a scene, demanding to see me."

"She said she wanted to tell me some things, and that I had been scammed, etc. I suspect it has something to do with you."

"She came to my clinic early this morning, shortly after I started work, and started yelling at me. Lin Xuechang drank last night and got drunk. His mother felt sorry for him and blamed me."

"She even told me to move, to move far away, away from her son. I was so angry with her that I had to call security to kick her out."

Married at First Sight Chapter 5090

"She actually went to your company and made a scene. We had the security guards kick her out! I told you Lin's mom was someone you couldn't mess with, and she's incredibly selfish,"

Zhan Yue said angrily. "She even went to your hospital to yell at you and demand you move out? How dare she? Who gave her that audacity?"

"It's Sunday today, our company is closed. After the security guard told her, she left."

"I knew she was unreasonable, but I didn't expect her to be so utterly unreasonable after she stopped pretending. Let's talk when we meet. Wait for me at the hospital entrance, or at my clinic?"

Zeng Xiaoya said this to agree to have lunch together. They then exchanged complaints about Lin's mom.

"I'll come pick you up."

"Okay."

"That's all for now, we'll talk later. I have two patients."

"Alright."

Zhan Yue ended the call. Still angry, he called Dr. Lin.

Dr. Lin had just woken up with a terrible headache, but habitually picked up his phone and saw several missed calls, all from Zeng Xiaoya.

Thinking Zeng Xiaoya was concerned about him, Dr. Lin immediately sat up, ignoring his headache, and called Zeng Xiaoya back right away.

Zeng Xiaoya answered the phone after a while.

"Senior Lin, you're awake."

"Just woke up, Xiaoya. I'm sorry, I drank a little last night and only woke up now. I didn't answer your call this morning." "What's wrong? Is something the matter?"

Zeng Xiaoya took a few deep breaths and said, "Senior Lin, I've told you long ago, we're not suitable. Cherish the person in front of you, stop pursuing me, and stop drinking so much."

"Drinking too much is bad for your health. Your mother is worried about you and blames me for making you drunk and harming your body. She came to my clinic early this morning, slammed her hand on my desk in front of so many people, and yelled at me."

"She even told me to move far away, preferably never to see you again, and that I either have to move away from you or accept your feelings."

“Senior Lin, please talk to your parents properly. We’re not suitable, and that’s that. Also, our situation has nothing to do with Zhan Yue. Don’t drag him into this. I don’t love you, and that’s all. It’s not because of Zhan Yue that I’m rejecting you.”

Dr. Lin was stunned.

It took him a while to fully process the meaning behind Zeng Xiaoya’s words.

“My mother went to your hospital to cause trouble for you? How could my mother do this? My drinking is my business, what does it have to do with you?”

“Xiaoya, I’m sorry, I apologize to you on behalf of my mother. Don’t take anything she said to heart.”

Dr. Lin quickly apologized to Zeng Xiaoya.

He hadn’t expected his mother to go and criticize Zeng Xiaoya.

“Senior Lin, you should explain things clearly to your family. I don’t want something like this to happen again.”

“You also need to handle your matter with Miss He. Don’t let your mother blame me again. We really have nothing to do with each other, and please don’t come looking for me again. We can’t be together!”

She didn’t love Dr. Lin, no matter what he did, she didn’t love him.

Dr. Lin’s head throbbed even more, and his face burned with shame for his mother’s unreasonable behavior.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5091

“Xiaoya, I’m so sorry. I didn’t expect my mom to cause you trouble. I apologize again on her behalf. I’m really sorry,”

Zeng Xiaoya said. “I can forgive and forget what happened today, but this shouldn’t happen again. Senior Lin, please explain things clearly to your mom.”

“Senior Lin, try to drink less at bars in the future, lest you get drunk and your mom blames me again and causes me trouble,”

Dr. Lin said, his face flushed red. After apologizing, he repeatedly promised that it would never happen again.

He didn't know how to continue talking to Xiaoya and hurriedly hung up the phone.

As soon as he hung up, he immediately left the room.

"Ah Jian, you're awake. Are you feeling unwell? Are you hungry? Dinner's ready soon. Mom bought a lot of groceries today, and I'll cook it all. You didn't go back to the clinic, so I asked Yuehua to open the door and keep an eye on things. We can't just leave it closed."

"Does your head hurt? Mom'll make you some honey water; it'll make you feel better. Yuehua said so. Ah Jian, Yuehua is so good to you. She picked you up from the bar and took care of you."

"Before she left, she told me to make you some honey water, saying it would make you feel much better after you've had your fill of alcohol."

Lin's mother spoke a string of concerned words as she saw her son.

Looking at his mother's concerned expression, half of Dr. Lin's anger subsided.

He knew his mother's actions towards Zeng Xiaoya stemmed from her heartache for him.

She felt sorry for him, that he couldn't have her and could only drown his sorrows in alcohol, getting completely drunk.

But this was his own behavior, and had nothing to do with Xiaoya.

"Ah Jian looks terrible. Are you feeling unwell?"

Mr. Lin noticed something was wrong with his son and came over, instinctively reaching out to touch his forehead.

"Dad, I'm fine, just a slight headache,"

Mrs. Lin said, also touching her son's forehead to make sure he didn't have a fever. Hearing him say his head hurt a little, she immediately went back to the kitchen, found the honey He Yuehua had brought, and made him a cup of honey water.

"The honey water's ready, drink it first, then we can eat. I told you to drink, drinking is bad for your health and stomach, and you drank so much, who can you blame for this headache?"

Mrs. Lin grumbled.

Dr. Lin took the cup of honey water his mother had made, drank half of it, then sat down at the table, put down the cup, and said to his parents, “Mom and Dad, don’t rush to eat, sit down, I have something I want to talk to you about.”

The couple exchanged glances.

Mrs. Lin was clearly a little guilty.

Mr. Lin sat down naturally; he had no idea his wife had gone to the hospital to cause trouble for Zeng Xiaoya early that morning.

When he woke up, his wife wasn’t beside him, and he assumed she had gone to the clinic to help out.

Later, his wife returned with the groceries she had bought, and he assumed she had gone to buy groceries again.

“Ah Jian, what do you want to say?”

Lin’s father asked affectionately.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5092

Judging from her parents’ reactions, Dr. Lin knew that her mother had done this all by herself.

He looked at his mother, seemingly thinking for a moment, before asking, “Mom, did you go to the hospital this morning to cause trouble for Xiaoya? Did you criticize and insult her?”

Lin’s mother immediately bristled. She stood up abruptly and angrily said, “Did she complain to you? What’s wrong with me criticizing her a couple of times? I’m her elder, and even if an elder scolds her, she has to take it.”

“I didn’t do anything wrong by scolding her. Yuehua said you’ve been drunk several times. Every time you’re drunk, it’s because of that Zeng woman. She’s a vixen who’s hooking up with you but won’t be with you.” ”

She’s made you distracted at work, and when you’re in a bad mood, you drink. My scolding her is letting her off easy.” ”

Ajian, she's no good. She's not like Yuehua. Don't go looking for her anymore. Hurry up and marry Yuehua. Yuehua is right for you. She cares about you, loves you, and takes care of you."

"That Zeng woman is just relying on her family background. What does she have that Yuehua has? Now that she's climbed the social ladder, she doesn't care about you anymore. She looks down on you."

"Tell her to move out! I hate seeing her. The farther away the better, so you'll never see each other again!"

Dr. Lin's face darkened as he listened to his mother's absurd outburst.

His father stared at his wife in astonishment.

He said, "Honey, you actually went to see Dr. Zeng? Her home is right here. Our A-Jian is an outsider. What right do you have to tell her to move?"

His mother retorted stubbornly, "So what if I went to see her? It's her fault. She didn't accept A-Jian's advances, so why does she keep showing up in front of him, letting him see her every day?"

"Her family is rich and powerful. Even if she moves away, she can still thrive elsewhere. Our A-Jian is different. He finally got to where he is today. If he moves away, he'll have to start all over again. Where would we get that much money?"

His mother's self-righteousness and a string of fallacies made Dr. Lin hardly believe this was his mother.

In his memory, although his mother had not read many books and was not very educated, she often taught him the principles of being a good person. She was not perfect in dealing with people, but she was at least five or six out of ten. Only today did he realize that his mother had such a domineering and unreasonable side.

"Mom!"

Dr. Lin said sternly, "My drinking was my personal choice, it has nothing to do with Xiaoya. Besides, Xiaoya has never been clinging to me, nor has she been hanging around me every day."

"It was me who shamelessly pestered her. I confessed my feelings to her, and she openly rejected me. It's always been me who shamelessly harassed her."

“Mom, how could you go to the hospital to cause trouble for Xiaoya? What will people think of her?”

“You even told Xiaoya to move out! Her ancestors have lived here for generations, what right do you have to tell her to move out? Mom, this isn’t out of concern for me, this isn’t speaking up for me, this is harming me!”

“Do you think people will accept my twisted logic? They’ll just say that this old lady is so unreasonable, her son must be shameless and unreasonable too. No wonder Dr. Zeng rejected her son.”

“Mom, I still have to work here. If you ruin my reputation like this, how can I work in the future?”

“You even went to the Zhan Group to find Zhan Yue, didn’t you? Mom, do you really think your son is doing well? Do you want your son to lose everything?”

“The Zhan family may be reasonable, but they also protect their own. If you insult Xiaoya like this, Zhan Yue will definitely hold me accountable. A single word from him could shut down my clinic in Dongguan.”

“And if my reputation is ruined, who will believe in my medical skills?”

“Mom, you’re killing me! Besides, I was the one who pursued Xiaoya from beginning to end. I was the one who was fickle and shameless. How can you blame Xiaoya? Such a shameless and unreasonable side of you, I can’t believe you’re my mother.”

Lin’s mother was stunned for a moment, then opened her mouth and said, “The Zhan family is so rich and powerful, do they dare to bully others? The internet is so developed now, if they dare to bully you, just post it online and expose their faces.”

Married at First Sight Chapter 5093

“If we incite netizens to cyberbully them, they won’t be afraid. They’re so rich, they cherish their reputation even more.”

“People nowadays hate the rich. If we expose this online, they’ll lose even more.”

You could say Lin’s mother isn’t very educated, yet she knows how dangerous the internet is; even a small thing exposed online can attract cyberbullying.

You could also say she's educated, yet her words and actions are unreasonable.

Both Dr. Lin and his son looked at Lin's mother as if they didn't recognize her.

Looking at her husband and son like that, Lin's mother said guiltily, "A-Jian, Mom knows it was Mom's fault. Mom just felt sorry for you, that's why I went to cause trouble for Zeng Xiaoya in a fit of anger."

"She made you suffer, so I'll make her suffer too. You're my bottom line. As a mother, I have to protect my son."

"Your son is a person, but other people's daughters aren't? If Xiaoya really did something wrong and apologized to me, it would be understandable for Mom to criticize and insult her." "

But what did Xiaoya do wrong? She did nothing wrong. Mom going to cause trouble for her is just Mom being unreasonable."

"This afternoon, Mom will go to the hospital with me to apologize to Xiaoya in person."

Dr. Lin finally understood the real reason why he lost to Zhan Yue. It was never about family background, looks, or even ability.

It was his mother who dragged him down.

Zhan Yue had told him that his mother was hospitalized a few years ago. Xiaoya, because she was his junior, went to visit his mother when she learned that she was hospitalized, but his mother asked Xiaoya to take leave to take care of her at the hospital.

She said she felt sorry for him and couldn't bear to see him stay up all night at the hospital, yet she demanded that Xiaoya stay up and take care of him, saying it was Xiaoya's duty.

Xiaoya was just visiting him, and her mother said such things. Even if her mother misunderstood Xiaoya as his girlfriend, she shouldn't have made such a request.

Her mother didn't give birth to Xiaoya; she's sick, why should Xiaoya take time off to care for her? He is her son; it's his duty as her son to care for her when she's hospitalized. Filial piety is something one must express and practice oneself, not something outsourced to others.

“I’m not going. I already insulted her; apologizing won’t take back what I said,” Lin’s mother refused to go to the hospital to apologize to Zeng Xiaoya.

“Didn’t you say you’d apologize for me? That’s enough,”

Lin’s mother muttered softly. “Why should I lose face?”

Dr. Lin said coldly, “I know it’s shameful, but you still did something like this. You only care about losing face? Xiaoya was wronged and insulted by you; doesn’t she lose face too?”

“What will people who don’t know the truth think of her? Rumors spread the fastest; the harm they cause Xiaoya is unimaginable.”

“Mom, I said, my business with Xiaoya is none of your concern.”

“I... I just insulted her a few times; it won’t hurt her.”

Lin’s mother said guiltily.

She knew she was in the wrong; she was just jealous of Zeng Xiaoya’s good family background and how she could be liked by the young master of the richest family in Dongguan. The young master of the Zhan family had instantly overshadowed her most prized son.

She didn’t dare cause trouble for Zhan Yue, so she could only cause trouble for Zeng Xiaoya.

Going to the Zhan Group to find Zhan Yue, she wanted to speak ill of Zeng Xiaoya to him, preventing her from marrying into a wealthy family.

“Mom!”

Dr. Lin raised her voice.

Lin’s father also said, “Honey, I think you should apologize to Dr. Zeng. After all, her second uncle taught our A-Jian a lot. Treating Dr. Zeng like this is ungrateful.”

Married at First Sight Chapter 5094

“If word gets out, Dr. Zeng’s reputation will be damaged, and A-Jian won’t fare much better. People will say that A-Jian is ungrateful, has bad character, and poor medical ethics, which will affect A-Jian’s clinic business.”

“You, you’re trying to ruin our son.”

Lin’s mother stammered, unable to speak.

Dr. Lin looked at her mother with disappointment and said painfully, “I finally understand where I fall short of the Zhan family’s young master. The Zhan family is so rich and powerful, yet Zhan Yue’s parents never looked down on Xiaoya; they treated her extremely well.”

“When Xiaoya went to the Zhan family, they didn’t discriminate against her; they treated her like family.”

“But what did my mother do? I drank once, and Mom, under the guise of feeling sorry for me, went and made trouble for Xiaoya. It wasn’t her fault, but Mom blamed her, even telling Xiaoya to move out.”

“I have such an unreasonable mother; who would dare marry me? No girl with a brain like mine would marry me.”

“Mom vented her anger, but it ruined me. Mom, are you jealous that Xiaoya is favored by the Zhan family’s young master?” Dr.

Lin’s mother’s expression changed, and she remained silent.

“This afternoon, after Xiaoya goes to work, Mom will go to Xiaoya’s clinic to apologize to her in person!”

Dr. Lin’s mother said softly, “You can apologize, Mom won’t go.”

“I’ll say it again, Mom, are you going to apologize or not?”

Dr. Lin asked seriously.

Lin’s mother said aggrievedly, “I’m doing this to get revenge for you, for your own good, and this is how you treat your mother? I’m just worried about you.”

“I’m not going to apologize. Will she die if I yell at her a few times? Anyway, you and she have no hope anymore. If you turn your back on her, so be it. I’m not going to apologize.”

Lin's mother felt extremely ashamed thinking about how she had been so angry at the hospital that morning, only to have to apologize in person that afternoon. She didn't want to go.

Dr. Lin didn't force his mother to go to the hospital to apologize. He got up and left, going back to his room to pack his things. Hearing the commotion, Lin's parents sensed something was wrong and rushed into his room. They found him packing. Lin's mother immediately asked, "Ah Jian, where are you packing to go?"

"Back to the countryside. I'm selling this house through a real estate agency, and I'm closing the clinic. I have no face to stay here any longer."

"My second uncle treated me like a disciple, teaching me so much and helping me so much, and yet I harmed his niece. I've done such an ungrateful thing; how can I have the face to stay here?"

"The neighbors' gossip could drown me;

Zhan Yue wouldn't even need to discipline me." Lin's parents panicked.

Lin's mother frantically tried to stop her son from packing, her voice trembling with tears.

"Ah Jian, are you crazy? You've finally achieved what you have today; what are you going back to the countryside for?"

Dr. Lin shook off his mother's hand and continued packing.

"I have no face to stay here anymore. Where else can I go if I don't go back to the countryside? I also have no face to be a doctor anymore. I'll go back to the countryside to help my parents farm."

Lin's mother tried to stop him again, crying, "We worked so hard to raise you, and now you're going back to farm? Do you want to drive us crazy?"

"Mom, you ruined my future! You destroyed me!"

Lin's mother was speechless.

She wailed, sat down on the ground, and cried about her hardships while slapping her thigh.

Dr. Lin remained unmoved.

Seeing that her crying was useless, Lin's mother finally panicked. She cried, "I'll apologize! I'll apologize, okay?"

Married at First Sight Chapter 5095

Dr. Lin stopped what he was doing and said to his mother, "After apologizing to Xiaoya, Mom and Dad will go back to our hometown. If you need a follow-up check-up, I'll take you to another hospital. After that, we'll go back."

He didn't dare let his mother stay in the city any longer, fearing she might cause trouble again.

Lin's mother said, "Ajian, Mom has already promised to apologize. Can't we stay here a few more days?"

"Mom promises not to bother Dr. Zeng again. Mom knows she was unreasonable today, but she didn't think too much about it; she just wanted to vent your anger."

"Mom! I wasn't wronged. It has nothing to do with Xiaoya. I'm not a child anymore; I can handle my own affairs. I don't need Mom to help me."

If he really let his mother handle things for him, his future would be ruined by her.

Lin's mother wiped away her tears. "Ah Jian, Mom knows she was wrong, she really knows she was wrong. Please don't send Mom and Dad back, okay? We'll stay a few more days, then we'll go back."

Dr. Lin was resolute: "No, I'll book high-speed rail tickets for Mom and Dad right away. There are no tickets for today, so I'll book tickets for tomorrow and take you back tomorrow."

Lin's mother wanted to say something more, but seeing her son's determination, she wiped away her tears and stopped arguing.

At this moment, she also regretted it deeply.

"Ring ring ring..."

Dr. Lin's phone rang. It was Zhan Yue calling him.

He didn't need to guess what Zhan Yue meant by calling.

Dr. Lin answered Zhan Yue's call.

"Dr. Lin, control your mother. She went to the hospital to cause trouble for Xiao Ya. Xiao Ya doesn't love you, but she can't refuse you? It's your business if you're in a bad mood, but you went drinking, why should Xiao Ya take the blame?" "Is this how you show your love for her? Letting your family hurt her."

"I heard your mother even went to the Zhan Group to see me. What, wasn't causing trouble for Xiaoya at the hospital enough, now she wants to cause trouble for me too? Dr. Lin, I used to think you were a decent person."

"I never expected you to be so despicable. You couldn't win Xiaoya's heart yourself, so you had your mother ruin Xiaoya's reputation."

After being scolded by Zhan Yue, Dr. Lin didn't defend himself or get angry. After Zhan Yue finished scolding him, he sincerely apologized.

"Mr. Zhan, I'm sorry, it's my mother's fault. I've already spoken to her. This afternoon, I'll take her to the hospital to apologize to Xiaoya in public. It's all my fault."

"Last night I went drinking, thinking about saying goodbye to my feelings for Xiaoya. I accidentally drank too much and slept all night and morning, unaware that my mother had gone to the hospital to cause trouble for Xiaoya."

"After finding out, I spoke to my mother. Mr. Zhan, I promise today's incident won't happen again. Tomorrow, I'll have my parents go back to their hometown. From now on, even if they need checkups, I'll take them to other hospitals. They won't appear in front of Xiaoya again."

His mother only has diabetes; it doesn't matter which hospital she goes to for checkups.

He had only taken his mother to the hospital where Xiaoya worked because he wanted his parents to learn more about her. After what happened today, even Dr. Lin felt they hadn't met Xiaoya in person.

When Dr. Lin said he would take his mother to the hospital to apologize to Xiaoya in person, Zhan Yue's expression softened, and his words became less harsh.

“Dr. Lin, truly loving someone means wanting them to be happy, not smearing them and ruining their reputation.”

After learning about what happened that morning, Zhan Yue used his connections to suppress the rumors and arranged for many people to spread the truth, letting everyone know that Xiaoya had been unjustly slandered.

Everyone present heard Lin’s mother’s unreasonable words and knew she was in the wrong.

With Zhan Yue arranging for the truth to be spread, Xiaoya’s reputation was saved.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5096

Everyone sympathized with Zeng Xiaoya, feeling she was incredibly unlucky. She rejected a suitor she didn’t like, and then his mother came to the hospital and verbally abused her.

Her family had lived in Dongguan for generations, and Lin’s mother was telling her to move out.

They’d never seen such an unreasonable person.

“I know, Mr. Zhan, I’m truly sorry about today’s incident,”

Dr. Lin said apologetically. “I will sincerely apologize to Xiaoya as well. I will do my best to clarify the misunderstanding and hope it hasn’t caused Xiaoya too much harm.”

“I already cleared things up for her. By the time you cleared things up, Xiaoya would have suffered countless injustices,”

Dr. Lin said after a moment of silence. “Mr. Zhan, as long as you believe in Xiaoya, that’s good.”

He wasn’t as good as Zhan Yue.

In such a situation, Zhan Yue would first protect Xiaoya’s reputation and prevent her from being harmed before seeking revenge .

Zhan Yue also had the ability to protect Xiaoya's reputation immediately.

"Of course I believe Xiaoya. I would doubt or misunderstand anyone, but I would never misunderstand Xiaoya."

Mutual trust is crucial in a marriage.

This was the experience summarized by the married members of the Zhan family.

After giving Dr. Lin a good scolding over the phone, Zhan Yue hung up.

He also invited Xiaoya to lunch, wanting to comfort her after she had been wronged.

After today's events, Dr. Lin is completely out of the picture.

Zhan Yue no longer needs to worry about anyone competing with him for Zeng Xiaoya.

After Zhan Yue hung up the phone, Lin's mother hurriedly asked, "A-Jian, why did that young master from the Zhan family call you? Will he stand up for Xiaoya and retaliate against you?"

"If he really dares to retaliate, gather the evidence and post it online so netizens can help you get justice."

"He's abusing his power; netizens will definitely be on your side."

Dr. Lin said with a dark face, "Mom, what are you saying? This is my private matter. Do you really want to put it online for people to laugh at and criticize?"

"The internet can make or break a person. How many people have suffered the backlash? When the boomerang hits them, they know the pain and regret."

Lin's mother said awkwardly, "I'm just worried about you. We have no power or influence, while they have money and power. I'm afraid they'll use their wealth and power to suppress you and retaliate against you." "Mom

, do you think the Zhan family, the richest family, has been able to stand strong for nearly a century, and even get better and better, like the sun at its zenith? It's not just the wealth accumulated by their ancestors, but also because they value good family traditions, character, and sound values."

"They insist on walking the right path and being upright people, which is why the Zhan family has such a good reputation and excellent family traditions. Countless girls dream of marrying into the Zhan family, not for their wealth and glory, but for a loving husband and a harmonious and prosperous family.”

“Anyway, Mom doesn’t need to worry about my affairs. After I get married and you have a daughter-in-law, you must treat her well, don’t treat her like you treated Xiaoya.”

Lin’s mother was displeased by her son’s lecture, but fearing that he might really give up everything and return to his hometown, she could only agree: “Mom understands. As long as you marry Yuehua, Mom will definitely treat Yuehua well.”

“Ajian, it’s not that Mom is prejudiced, Yuehua is really good, she is suitable for you, suitable for a family like ours.”

“Dr. Zeng, our family is not good enough for you, so don’t try to climb the social ladder. ”

Married at First Sight Chapter 5097

“Mom, I’ve said it before, don’t interfere in my affairs. When I want to get married, I will naturally get married. If I don’t want to get married, no amount of urging will change anything,”

Dr. Lin emphasized, letting his mother know he was on the verge of a breakdown.

This was the first time he’d ever felt his mother was truly annoying.

No wonder so many young people don’t want to live with their parents after marriage; the elderly are always nagging and sometimes unreasonable, taking advantage of being parents to demand unconditional obedience from their children.

That’s how conflicts arise.

Dr. Lin’s mother wanted to say something more, but her husband stopped her.

“Ah Jian, go out for dinner first. After dinner, if you still feel unwell, take some more sleep. Yuehua and the others are at the clinic, so nothing will happen.”

If He Yuehua couldn’t treat a patient, she could say the doctor wasn’t at the clinic.

But they could still help sell medicine.

Dr. Lin said, “Let’s not sleep anymore. After dinner, we’ll go out and buy some gifts. Once Xiaoya is at work, I’ll take my mother to apologize to her.”

Mr. Lin suggested, “Or, should we go directly to the Zeng family to apologize to Dr. Zeng?”

“No, Mom insulted her at the hospital, so she has to go to the hospital to apologize and let everyone know that Mom was wrong this morning, that she was being unreasonable.”

Mr. Lin fell silent.

Mrs. Lin didn’t actually want to apologize, but she was afraid her son would really close the clinic and go back to his hometown.

After the couple left their son’s room, Mrs. Lin whispered, “Old Lin, you didn’t even say anything for me. I’ve already finished cursing, and now you want me to apologize? Wouldn’t I be utterly humiliated?”

“You know what humiliation is? I told you last night, but you wouldn’t listen. Our son is a grown man now; he has to bear the consequences of his actions. He went drinking himself, and you’re blaming Dr. Zeng?” “You went and insulted her, even telling her to move out. Think about it, are you even speaking human language?”

“Let me tell you, go apologize to Dr. Zeng this afternoon. Be sincere. Don’t make things difficult for our son. He still needs to work in this field. Dr. Zeng’s family are all doctors; the older generation has been in the industry for decades and must have trained many students.” “Even though our A-Jian doesn’t work at the hospital, if he’s targeted by his colleagues, his clinic will suffer. Your insults didn’t help our son; they almost ruined his future.”

“Only by sincerely apologizing to Dr. Zeng and getting her forgiveness can we save our son’s future.”

Hearing her husband’s words, Lin’s mother realized how wrong she had been that morning, acting impulsively and insulting Zeng Xiaoya.

Zeng Xiaoya was unaware of the chaos at Lin’s house. After work, she saw Zhan Yue waiting for her.

Zhan Yue had bought a bouquet of flowers and a set of skincare products.

Seeing her, Zhan Yue strode towards her with the flowers.

“Xiaoya.”

Zhan Yue walked up to her and handed her the bouquet of flowers along with the skincare set he had bought.

Xiaoya looked at the bouquet and then at him. “Zhan Yue, why are you giving me flowers out of the blue?”

“You must have been upset today. I’m giving you these flowers to cheer you up and drive away your bad mood, so your mood can be as beautiful as the flowers.”

“You must have been upset and angry. Getting angry ages you, so I’m giving you a skincare set to take care of your skin. I wish you eternal youth.”

“Thank you.”

Xiaoya’s bad mood was instantly swept away by his thoughtfulness.

She accepted the bouquet and the skincare products. “You’re so thoughtful, I’ll accept them without hesitation.”

She planned to buy Zhan Yue a gift later.

It’s only fair to reciprocate; she couldn’t just accept without giving anything in return.

Zhan Yue was very happy that Zeng Xiaoya accepted the bouquet and skincare products.

The two got into Zhan Yue’s car together, and he took her to eat.

They didn’t go far, finding a slightly upscale restaurant near the hospital.

To make it easier to chat, Zhan Yue booked a private room. After ordering the food, he said with concern, “Xiaoya, you’ve been wronged. I wasn’t there at the time. If I had, I would have kicked Dr. Lin’s mother out for you.”

“After you called Dr. Lin, I called him back and gave him a piece of my mind.”

Zeng Xiaoya: “...You called and yelled at Senior Lin? He’s a bit wronged in this matter. He didn’t even know his mother came to the hospital to yell at me.”

Zhan Yue sneered: “What do you mean he’s innocent? It all started because of him.”

“When he talked to me last night, I thought he was in a bad mood but could still manage. Who would have thought he’d go drinking afterwards?”

“When you’re under pressure or in a bad mood, drinking a little is fine. Many people drown their sorrows in alcohol, but when someone gets drunk, their mother won’t blame them.”

“His mother, under the guise of doing what’s best for him, yelled at the innocent you and ruined Dr. Lin’s reputation. That mother of his is really clueless.”

“Xiaoya, don’t be soft-hearted and accept Dr. Lin’s pursuit. He’s a good person, but his mother is quite unreasonable. Whoever becomes his mother-in-law will surely have a lot of trouble at home.”

Zeng Xiaoya took a sip of tea and said, “Even if this hadn’t happened today, I still wouldn’t have chosen him.”

She already knew that Lin’s mother was selfish and unreasonable.

But today’s unreasonable behavior had refreshed her understanding. So, there really are unreasonable people like that.

“Zhan Yue, thank you,”

Zeng Xiaoya said, apologizing to Zhan Yue.

Zhan Yue’s dark eyes flickered. “Why are you thanking me? I didn’t do anything. I just called and scolded Dr. Lin for you, spreading the truth a bit.”

He protected her reputation.

Zeng Xiaoya had heard this from a colleague after work.

This colleague was always a gossip; she knew everything about the hospital—colleagues, patients—everyone called her the hospital’s gossipmonger. If you wanted to know something, just ask her, and she’d know.

Her colleague told her that someone had started spreading the truth about Dr. Lin’s mother scolding her in the hospital, letting everyone know the real reason.

It was nothing more than resentment that she hadn’t accepted Dr. Lin’s advances, and jealousy that she had a suitor more outstanding than Dr. Lin.

But Dr. Lin had slept with a nurse from his clinic, and she demanded that Dr. Lin take responsibility.

Dr. Lin was essentially pursuing Zeng Xiaoya while simultaneously sleeping with a nurse at his clinic. Isn’t it perfectly normal for Zeng Xiaoya to reject him?

He was in a bad mood and got drunk; his mother can feel sorry for him, but she can’t blame Zeng Xiaoya for it.

After everyone learned the truth, they all criticized Lin’s mother and sympathized with Zeng Xiaoya. Even those who were jealous of her thought she was innocent. She was incredibly unlucky.

Thankfully, Zeng Xiaoya firmly rejected Dr. Lin’s advances; otherwise, if she had entered the Lin family, her life would have been a complete mess.

Married at First Sight Chapter 5099

“You helped clarify things for me and protect my reputation as soon as you found out. I’m incredibly grateful for that,”

Zhan Yue smiled. “It’s just a few words to me, don’t take it to heart, and don’t feel like you owe me a favor.”

He paused, then smiled again, “If you feel indebted, treat me to dinner sometime.”

Zeng Xiaoxiao smiled too, “Okay, I’ll invite you to my house for dinner sometime. My income isn’t as high as yours, I can’t afford to take you to a fancy hotel in Dongguan.”

“Actually, I’m easy to please. It doesn’t have to be a five-star hotel. I can eat at a roadside stall.”

“Roadside stalls won’t do. It’s not that I’m against roadside stalls, but someone of your status, if you eat at a roadside stall and entertainment reporters take pictures, I’ll be thrust into the limelight and face a lot of criticism and insults.”

A man as outstanding and from a good family as Zhan Yue must have many admirers and be the dream lover of many girls.

If he were photographed by entertainment reporters, she really would be thrust into the limelight and get a lot of abuse.

Zhan Yue said, “Anyone who dares to incite a storm of netizens against you online, I’ll give them a taste of their own medicine. Everyone has a past they don’t want others to know. If they dare to treat you like that, I can dig up their dark history.”

“Let them taste what it’s like to be pointed at and insulted by thousands of netizens.”

“The netizens aren’t such a good weapon; they can easily backfire,”

Zeng Xiaoya laughed. “I was just using an analogy.”

“That won’t happen. Entertainment reporters won’t be targeting me. They prefer to target my eldest brother and sister-in-law. Even if they target my second brother and sister-in-law, they won’t target us.”

There are nine brothers in total, and only the three older brothers are famous, with the eldest brother being the most well-known.

Entertainment reporters love targeting the eldest brother and sister-in-law.

Many reporters don’t even remember where the rest of the brothers are ranked.

The waiter started serving the dishes.

Two dishes were served, followed by soup.

Zhan Yue first served Xiaoya a bowl of soup, then served himself one.

“Let me try the soup at this restaurant and see if it’s good.”

Zhan Yue took a sip.

Xiao Ya said, "How is it? Is it good? This is my first time eating at this restaurant. I usually eat at home or order takeout."

After tasting the soup, she spoke honestly, "Compared to takeout, it's okay, but compared to the food my housekeeper cooks, it's still a bit lacking, not to mention compared to yours." "

Zhan Yue, if you opened a restaurant, it would definitely be a huge success."

Zhan Yue used serving chopsticks to put a piece of food in her bowl. "I know how to cook so that I can take good care of my wife's stomach in the future. I don't want to open a restaurant to make money."

"It's different from my sixth brother. My sixth brother wants to become the best chef. He runs his own catering business."

Zeng Xiao Ya laughed.

She had heard him explain why all the brothers could cook.

It was because Grandma Zhan was worried that they would have difficulty finding wives in the future, so she required them to be good at everything, especially cooking, to win over girls' stomachs, which would make it much easier to win over wives.

With such an excellent grandson, Grandma Zhan was worried that he wouldn't be able to find a wife.

It's not that Zhan Yue and his family can't find wives, it's that finding a wife that their elders all approve of is incredibly difficult.

The ordered dishes were served one after another.

Zeng Xiaoya kept saying that Zhan Yue had ordered too much food.

Zhan Yue said, "I thought you were in a bad mood, so I ordered a couple more dishes. When I'm in a bad mood, I like to eat, eat, eat. A good meal makes me feel better."

"Bingeating easily leads to weight gain."

"I don't binge eat. It's just that when I'm in a bad mood, I eat a good meal, but not to the point of being stuffed."

Married at First Sight Chapter 5100

“I work out every day, I won’t let myself become fat. I’m not even married yet, no girl will like me if I become fat.”

His words successfully amused Zeng Xiaoya.

The two chatted as they ate, and Zeng Xiaoya was in a great mood after the meal.

After the meal, Zhan Yue took Zeng Xiaoya home for a nap, while he went to Wansheng Garden to check on the progress of his house renovation.

Xiaoya didn’t tell her family about Lin’s mother’s trouble with her.

However, someone still told her second uncle and aunt.

Upon learning that their niece had been criticized and insulted by Lin’s mother, the usually good-tempered second uncle, who was quite protective of Dr. Lin, was even angrier than his aunt and immediately rushed to Lin’s clinic.

Only He Yuehua was at the clinic; her colleagues had gone home.

Dr. Lin didn’t return to the clinic; after dinner, the three of them went to buy gifts to take to the hospital in the afternoon to apologize to Zeng Xiaoya.

They bought a lot of nice things, which made Lin’s mother very distressed, but she didn’t dare to say anything or stop them, only regretting her impulsiveness.

If she hadn’t gone to cause trouble for Xiaoya so early in the morning, her son wouldn’t have had to spend so much money.

When her second uncle and aunt stormed into the Lin family clinic, He Yuehua was sitting at the doctor’s desk, asleep. Hearing footsteps, she thought a patient had arrived.

She looked up abruptly and saw her second uncle and aunt.

He Yuehua was stunned for a moment, then stood up and greeted them with a smile, “Second Uncle Zeng, Second Aunt Zeng.”

Her second uncle asked with a dark face, “Where’s Lin Jian? Tell him to come out.”

“Second Uncle Zeng, I’m sorry, Dr. Lin isn’t feeling well today and hasn’t returned to the clinic. What happened to Dr. Lin?”

He Yuehua didn’t know that Lin’s mother had gone to the hospital to cause trouble.

She had taken care of Dr. Lin half the night before and returned to the clinic this morning. She didn’t know what happened afterward, and no one told her.

She was incredibly busy all morning.

She had to see patients, help with dispensing medicine, and since some patients were taking traditional Chinese medicine, the Lin family clinic offered a free service to brew it. She and her colleagues also had to brew the medicine for the patients.

She was truly running around like a headless chicken.

He Yuehua was doing it willingly.

She had long considered the Lin family clinic and Dr. Lin as hers.

“Call him, call him over, I want to ask him properly, how did my Xiaoya wrong him?”

“Xiaoya coming back without saying anything doesn’t mean we don’t know.”

Her second uncle was truly furious.

He had always treated Dr. Lin like his student, unconditionally passing on his life’s experience, bit by bit.

He wasn’t the kind of person who kept his skills hidden.

He believed that doctors should nurture the next generation so that everyone could always have good doctors. He had selflessly helped someone, and yet that person had implicated his niece.

When Xiaoya returned, she was very happy, carrying a bouquet of flowers and a set of skincare products from Zhan Yue.

She didn’t utter a single word about the grievances she suffered at the hospital.

The couple knew their niece didn’t want them to worry or be upset.

Her second uncle and Dr. Lin had a teacher-student relationship; after all, he had taught Dr. Lin a great deal over two years.

Dr. Lin was increasingly gaining the patients' trust, and the skills he learned from her second uncle played a significant role in this.
