

Chapter 17 A Surprise

A cold glimmer itted across Sandra's eyes.

Considering that the informant had managed to get so many photos of her and Mask and even knew that she knew Xavier, Sandra speculated that it was someone working in the TV station.

Sandra's long eyelashes slightly uttered. Kim had made a move, and Brian had acquiesced to it. They did not care about their relationships with her at all, and had made her the target of public criticism, universally condemned.

Well, don't blame me for using even more vicious methods to deal with you two!

Downstairs:

Kim, who had just come to work, was surrounded by the media as soon as she got out of her car. "Kim, you and Sandra are besties, aren't you? Did you know that her private life is so indiscreet?"

With an innocent and harmless look on her face, Kim replied, "The news must have got it wrong. I don't believe Sandra is that kind of person..."

Kim's assistant jumped out to protect her. "Kim is too simple and pure. She has never had any scandals or even been in a relationship. Even if Sandra is really a woman like that, she wouldn't have told her. Stop questioning Kim and let her go!"

Sandra watched the scene with cold eyes from the window on the second oor, a sneer playing at the corners of her mouth.

On the top oor of the Yates Enterprise, Chet, the special assistant, handed an iPad to a meticulously dressed man. "President, should we do something to help Miss Sandra blow the heat off?"

There was a sharp glint in the man's eyes. "No need."

Didn't that woman insist that she would rely on herself in the future?

I'd like to see how she'll get out of this.

Within an hour, Sandra received three calls from her family.

Sandra told them one by one that she would handle this without their help, and that she was actually more than glad to see this thing go viral online. The more heated the topic became, the better she could proceed with her next step!

Thanks to the shameless couple's effort, the popularity of the topic of Sandra's debauched private life soon went off the charts. It hit the headlines and contributed to several more trending topics on social media.

Among the trending topics, there was the exclusive interview with Mask, Xavier's new song, and Kim's innocence.

One was so pure, while the other was so slutty. This pair of besties had shown the most staggering contrast in humanity this year to the netizens.

The hot discussions on social media went on for a whole day.

In the evening, Sandra was taken home by her family from the back door of the station. Just as she entered the house, she received a call from Maggie, who was at the airport. "Sandra, you guessed right. Kim is really taking Brian's plane! I'll arrive tomorrow morning, I'll put off all my work and be a private detective for a day!"

"Thank you, Maggie. I'll send you the address of the hotel Brian frequents."

Brian... I never knew that he would hook up with Kim so soon. They are really attached to each other...

While they were in a foreign country, they would not be as restrained as they would be otherwise. Sandra believed that Maggie could denitely take some photos of them being intimate.

As expected, the next morning, no sooner had Sandra gotten up than she received a call from Maggie.

"Sandra, I was really anxious to call you over the past few hours, but I couldn't turn on my phone during the ight!"

"What happened?"

"That shameless couple is really trash! I don't even need to follow them to the hotel now. I caught them making out on the plane. Also, there's a big surprise!"

After saying that, Maggie sent her a lot of photos.

Sandra took a look and was stunned at once.

Brian turned out to be even worse than she thought!

She then called a friend of hers who used to work in the public relations department. "Get ready to ght back!"

In the morning rush hours, a large number of people were ooding the subway and bus stops. This was a good time to spread gossip because everyone would have their eyes glued on their smartphones.

One after another, several online celebrities released a series of photos of Kim and a man.

The angles of the photos were shrewdly picked, showing the two being dubiously intimate. But with these pictures alone, people could not be sure whether they had held hands and kissed or not.

"Hasn't Kim claimed that she has never been in a relationship?"

"She also said that she is so pure that she doesn't even have a male friend around her to get into a romantic situation with. Then who is the man in these pictures?"

Encouraged by the comments on social media, netizens began to dig for information about the man.

Soon, the netizens found something big. The man in the pictures was none other than Kim's slutty bestie's ancé, Brian!
