

Master Odell 1961

Chapter 1961

Caprice and Isabel turned around at the same time.

At the next second, Caprice broke down in tears and grievance drowned her. She cried and ran to her mother. "Mommy..."

Sherry's chest tightened when she saw her precious daughter crying. She too strode toward her daughter.

Caprice threw herself into her arms.

Sherry hugged the girl and asked, "What's wrong, Caprice? Tell Mommy what's wrong."

"Sobs..." Caprice was suffocated by her tears and grievance, preventing her from speaking properly.

At a closer look, John realized Sherry was hugging Caprice. He disregarded his image and strode over with furrowed brows. He asked, "What happened to Caprice?"

"Daddy..." Caprice then hugged the man as tears continued to roll down her cheeks.

John hugged her as he scanned around with a frosty gaze.

The security guards and staff who stopped Caprice before were stunned and dumbfounded.

Isabel scanned the crowd with a frosty gaze before she told Sherry about the stolen pink diamond.

Caprice was suspected to have stolen the pink diamond because they found the diamond in her purse.

Sherry frowned.

Caprice had almost a hundred of those diamonds in her closet, why would she steal someone else's?

Something was not right.

"Daddy, Mommy, I didn't steal it. I don't know how the diamond ended up in my purse," Caprice snorted and explained.

John and Caprice looked at her gently.

Sherry said, "Caprice, we believe you."

Mrs. Duwait already knew what happened without looking at the surveillance footage. The reason she told the staff to cast it on the big screen was because she wanted to show everyone the truth and clear Caprice's name in front of John and Sherry.

The staff nodded and went off.

"Mrs. Duwait, I have a suggestion," Isabel stepped up and said. Mrs. Duwait looked at her standing in between Odell and Sylvia. She hesitated for a moment before she said, "What is it, Ms. Carter?"

"You can call me Ms. Ross." Isabel corrected her.

Mrs. Duwait looked at Odell and Sylvia in confusion.

The footage continued to play on the screen.

Awhile later, Sophia and Heather started to incite a search on Caprice's purse.

Caprice gave her purse to Beverly.

Beverly searched her purse in front of the crowd and found the diamond necklace in the deepest compartment of the purse.

Caprice finally knew what happened. Beverly intentionally reached deeper into the purse at the very end to sneak the pink diamond inside and take it out in front of the crowd, so that it would look like Caprice had it in her purse all along.

Even an idiot knew what happened after seeing the footage. The footage ended after that.

The crowd was once again silenced and only the screen's noise could be heard.

Heather seized the chance to land a few more kicks on Caprice.

The women around her joined her and stomped Caprice's back mercilessly.

Isabel was under Caprice's protection. She shouted, "One more kick and I make sure all of your families are thrown out of Westchester!"

Only then the women stopped kicking but their contemptuous gazes remained.

It was until the staff at the entrance welcomed Odell, Sylvia, John, and Sherry, the crowd finally dispersed.

The footage showed a silent crowd with Caprice and Isabel on the ground, looking miserable.

The silence was like the quiet before the storm, so suffocating that people could not breathe.

Other than those who were not present, those who were at the scene of bullying Isabel and Caprice were all drowned in guilt.

"Don't you know why I hit you in the toilet?" Isabel argued. "You and your friends surrounded her and tried to bully her. If I wasn't there, you people would've bullied her."

Caprice wore a frosty expression and echoed. "Yeah. I ran into them when I was in the toilet. I don't want to argue with them, so I tried to avoid them. But they stopped me and even pinched my face."

She clearly remembered what happened earlier.

Sherry and John reacted coldly to their daughter's explanation.

Heather immediately argued, "No! I was just trying to say hi! I didn't bully her!"

"Let's put this aside first," Sherry said. She then looked at Mrs. Duwait and asked, "Mrs. Duwait, can I inspect your worker?"

She looked at Beverly and continued, "I want to know why someone is targeting my daughter."

Upon hearing her words, both Sophia and Heather shuddered again.

Her husband was trying to get her out of the sticky situation and also give a satisfying explanation to John and Sherry, so that the two of them would forgive them.

Sophia bent over and knelt before John and Sherry. She cried and said, "Mr. and Mrs. Stockton, it's my fault. I shouldn't have bribed her, I shouldn't have hurt your daughter. I was wrong."

John continued to pat Caprice's head without saying a word. Sherry scoffed.

She knew the Masons were putting up a show to ask for forgiveness.

She asked, "Why did you bribe Beverly to hurt Caprice?"

Sophie's eyes flickered nervously. "I-I saw Ms. Stockton and Ms. Ross hit Heather, so I was thinking of taking revenge. That's why I bribed Beverly."

"I'm the one who hit Heather, Caprice didn't even touch her,"

Isabel bellowed, "Mrs. Mason, if you want to take revenge, you should've gone after me but you went after Caprice instead. Why?"

"Yeah! Why did she go after Ms. Stockton?" someone in the crowd asked.

Both Heather and Sophia looked up in fear. Even Roman was taken aback by the suggestion.

John then helped Caprice up and brought her out. Sherry walked with them. She was worried about Caprice's back after the incident. "Caprice, how's your back?"

Caprice felt better now that she cleared her name. "I feel better now."

Odell exchanged an eye with Sylvia before they brought Isabel away.

Mr. and Mrs. Duwait went after them.

There was no way the event could continue anymore after that happened but they had to somehow apologize or at least make amends.

Mr. Duwait went to John and said, "Mr. Stockton, don't worry about it. I'll call the police right away. I'll give you and Ms. Stockton a satisfying explanation."

Mrs. Duwait went over to Sylvia and Odell. "Mr. and Mrs. Carter,

The car soon arrived at the entrance of the estate.

The bodyguard in the passenger seat got out and opened the door for Liam.

When Liam stepped out of the car, he saw a group of people exiting the estate.

Mr. Duwait was in front of John and Sherry. He said with a flattering smile on his face, "Mr. Stockton, I'm really sorry about what happened today. I hope you'll give me the chance to apologize to you, Mrs. Stockton, and Ms. Stockton personally another day."

John was still angry about what happened. He did not answer the man.

Sherry said, "It's not your fault, Mr. Duwait. As long as you can handle the situation properly, we won't hold you responsible."

Mr. Duwait nodded repeatedly and gratefully. "Not a problem!

Thank you very much! I have already contacted the police and I'll update you about the follow-ups. Please don't worry."

Liam released Caprice and then looked at John and Sherry. "Uncle John, Aunt Sherry, sorry I'm late."

He should have been there with Caprice.

John wore a stoic look and ignored Liam. He said to Caprice, "Caprice, come here."

Caprice hummed reluctantly. She remained in Liam's arms and refused to return to her father.

John's expression turned grim.

Sherry sighed and said, "Caprice, Uncle Odell and Aunt Sylvia are still here. Isabel is watching as well. Come back here."

Caprice then realized she was being watched. She took a step back and saw Odell smiling at her gently while both
