

Chapter 104

"Why is Bruce calling me?" She thought as she stared at her phone's screen.

She had no interest in receiving his calls. So she ignored it and let the phone ring.

However, Bruce did not stop, and he kept calling her. She had just gotten close to her home when she took a glance at her phone and made the decision to answer the call.

"Sophia!"

She heard his desperate voice the moment she received the call. She had no idea what had occurred, and the tone of his voice conveyed the sense of desperation that he was feeling.

"What happened?"

"Are you okay?" he asked after taking a deep breath.

She was confused as to why he thought she was unwell.

"Yes, I'm okay. Why did you ask that?"

"I heard what happened in the company," he muttered in a low voice.

She frowned when she heard him. "What happened in the company?" she asked, trying to find out what he was talking about.

"Brother wanted to fire you, and you decided to resign before he could do that."

In truth, Sophia was not surprised at all. She understood how he got that news.

"Luisa told you nonsense, and you heard her."

"What? Is that not true?"

She could feel disappointment in his voice. Sophia rolled her eyes and replied,

"No, it's not."

He remained quiet for a minute after hearing her. So Sophia spoke out.

"If you called me to know about this, then I've already replied to you."

"Don't cut the call."

"What now?"

"You said you would talk to me later that day, but you didn't contact me again. What stopped you from showing up to any of your classes? Don't you want to graduate anymore?"

"I do. But I don't think I need to explain to you why I skipped my classes."

"Don't forget that you are my group member."

"There is still some time to start the assignment. So I don't think you need to worry about it."

She thought she had answered all of his answers. Nevertheless, he took the conversation in a different direction and asked,

"Sophia, you can't do this to me. I have seen photos of the pack party. I can't believe how you can hold another man's hand."

"That is your brother, and I have not done anything wrong. I had something for him, but now it's your brother who is after me," she mumbled, turning her head toward the window.

"If that is the case, you should maintain a safe distance from him. Do you need my help?"

"Bruce, have you lost your mind?"

"No, Sophia. It is impossible for me to see you with him. For a very long time, I warned him, but he never paid attention. You don't know him. The concepts of love and like are foreign to him. He is a businessman. According to him, everything is a business deal."

What Bruce was telling her was right. She realized it three days ago. But, other than obeying Bryan, she had no other option.

"How many times will I have to tell you the same thing? If you disturb me one more time, I'll really talk to your brother about you."

This caused Bruce to become enraged. He groaned in distress and said,

"Mom is right. You are doing this intentionally. You want to be with the head Alpha. Without a doubt, you would have gone to my brother even if I had never cheated you."

"Think whatever you want."

Sophia cut the call in rage. Why could Bruce not just leave her alone? She had nothing for him in her heart.

Even if she had to stay away from Bryan, she would never return to Bruce.

She looked at the driver and found him glancing at her through the rear mirror.

Sophia was embarrassed to think he was listening in on her conversation.

When the driver arrived at Sophia's house, he got out of the car and opened the door for her.

She thanked him and stepped out of the car.

When she entered her house, her mother looked stunned.

"So early today?" her mother asked her with a bright face.

"Alpha gave me a day off."

"All thanks to him. You can now sleep peacefully. Because you had been keeping yourself so busy with work, you were unable to even get a good night's sleep."

Sophia had actually been lying to her mother for the past few days, saying that she was busy with work in her locked room. That was why her mother did not go to check her room frequently, like other times.

Sophia took a rest the whole day. It was as if sleep was the only thing she had ever wanted in her life.

---

The next morning,

Sophia woke up with a smiley face. She had a dream that Bryan came to meet her mother and they were having dinner together.

She yawned and sat up on the bed. At that time, she realized what had happened over the last few days.

Her smile froze at the thought. A sigh escaped her lips as she climbed out of bed.

She walked to the dressing table and looked in the mirror. As she looked under her eyes, she noticed that the dark circles had disappeared almost entirely. She felt a sense of calm as her face returned to its normal appearance, no longer looking like a zombie as it had on the last day.

She touched under her eyes and remembered Bryan's touches on them.

She shook her head. "No, no. I can't think about him."

She turned around to get a quick shower since she would have to go to her university.

At that moment, her phone began to ring. She turned around and walked to her bed. She reached for her phone, which was resting on the nightstand.

She grabbed it and saw that it was Miss Selena who was calling her.

"Hello, Miss Selena. Good morning." She greeted her with a polite tone.

"Morning, Miss Sophia. The reason I am bothering you at this time is because there has been a change in Alpha's schedule, which I failed to inform you of via email last night. I apologize for the inconvenience. Therefore, I decided to give you a call directly."

"Alpha's schedule?" Sophia asked in confusion.

"Oh, I forgot to tell you. Alpha told me to handle the work on his schedule until you returned. So I had to work on it in your absence."

"Oh, I see."

Sophia knew Miss Selena was one of Bryan's trusted people. That was why he let her do it for him.

Sophia expected her to inform her about any meetings at noon, but she was surprised when she heard her.

"There is a meeting scheduled for this evening. It will be held at the most expensive club in our pack. So, as the personal secretary of the CEO, you will have to attend the meeting with Alpha."
