

Chapter 109

She rubbed her stomach to stop what was going on inside.

"How does it feel like this?" she muttered to herself.

"Feels like what?"

Sophia's eyes widened in response to his words. She slapped her mouth when she realized that her thought was too loud. He had heard her!

She cleared her throat and spoke out in a low voice.

"N-Nothing. I was working and I am feeling tired."

"Really? But I heard you had just entered the company."

She could not be more shocked. She was embarrassed. She bit her bottom lip at the thought that he had caught her.

"Wait a minute. How do you know I have just entered the company?"

"Don't think too much, Miss Berge. You have some reason for calling me. I think you can say it."

Sophia chewed her lips in confusion. She could never understand this man. He was too mysterious.

"Where are you, Alpha?"

"I am out for a private matter."

Sophia scoffed at him in her head.

'Private matter? I know you went to meet your mother. Don't act like you have a girlfriend,' she thought.

While holding her phone close to her ear, she opened the computer and checked his schedule, which Miss Selena had handled.

She was surprised that he indeed did not have any work right now.

"I wanted to remind you that we have a meeting in the evening," she said.

After a brief silence, he replied to her,

"I will pick you up from the company after the office hour."

She heard him but did not reply. His voice was calm and sounded like honey. She closed her eyes and took a deep breath without making any noise.

'Why am I feeling like this whenever I see or talk with him? Why can't I stop my heart from beating for him?' she thought.

Bryan was on the line until she cut the call. She put the phone on the desk and held her forehead.

"Control, Sophia. How long have you been in love with him? Why is your love for him growing stronger every day?" she asked herself.

After trying to make herself understand to avoid the feelings, she began to work.

When it was break hour, she went to the cafe.

Today, many male employees came to talk to her. She wondered if it was because of the dress she wore.

However, it was a simple black dress with a few shimmering golden stones here and there. But what caught other people's attention was the way it hugged her perfect body.

She had no idea that she had the body that every man desired in life.

"Hey, Sophia."

She turned around and saw Troy approaching her.

"Hey."

They grabbed their meals and headed to a table to sit together.

As they started to eat, they overheard the conversations of the people's who were sitting next to their table.

"She dressed up for Alpha."

"Yeah. How can she have such a good figure?"

"Maybe that's why Alpha is with her."

"Or perhaps she goes to the gym daily to get this shape in order to seduce Alpha."

Troy gave them a stern look. "Can you all just shut up?"

Those women looked shocked and immediately lowered their heads to focus on their food.

Since Troy was the head of the financial department, he had a great reputation in the company. That was why employees showed him great respect.

Sophia rolled her eyes when she saw those women glancing at her again.

"Troy, let it go. They have nothing else to do except gossip about others."

Her voice was loud enough to be audible to them.

Troy turned to her and gave her a nod. When they had finished eating, they made their way to the elevator.

"You look beautiful today."

She heard him and she turned her head toward him. "Oh, thank you."

She chuckled when she understood the magic of the dress. It was the reason she was receiving so much attention from others today.

"Well, there will be a meeting at night in the club. Last time, Alpha scolded me for my dress when we were going to attend a meeting in a restaurant. So I thought about wearing something that suits the place."

He smiled at her. "That's great. By the way, I am also attending that meeting tonight."

Her face brightened. "Really?"

"Yeah, shall we go together?"

Even though she did not want to, she had no choice but to refuse him.

"Actually, Alpha said he would pick me up. Since I am his secretary, I should go there with him."

"It's okay. See you in the meeting then."

Sophia gave him a nod with a warm smile. Soon after, she went back to her cabin and continued her work there.

When it was getting close to the end of the work hour, she received a message from Sara.

She looked up the message and read it.

"Don't forget to apply some makeup before going to the club. Good makeup can give you a confident look and... power to hold your man's heart."

Sophia stared at the message. "Heart?"

Though she carried makeup kits with her in her bag to give it a touch-up, she did not think about it like Sara.

She replied to Sara with an 'Okay' and finished her work in the office.

She went to the restroom with her bag and starter to apply makeup.

She tried to give herself a confident look but ended up with a cute look.

When she emerged from the restroom, everyone turned their attention to her.

Female employees were like, "Miss Sophia, you look pretty. With this hot dress, you look cute."

"Cute?"

Sophia asked herself this when she returned to her cabin.

"I thought it would look mature and confident."

She shook her head, thinking that she needed to learn how to apply makeup on different occasions.

Exactly at the moment that the office hour had come to an end, she received the message from Bryan.

"I am outside the company."

Unknown to her, a tiny smile spread across her face. He did not believe in love, but he still wanted to be with her.

The fact that she was the only woman in his life continued to make her feel the same for him.

She hurriedly left the company and went outside, only to find Bryan's car waiting for her.

She walked to the car and opened the back door.

As soon as she sat on the seat, she turned to look at Bryan.

Her heart skipped a beat when she saw him with a new haircut.

Her heart screamed inside.

'He looks damn hot!'
