

Chapter 330

Ethan averted his gaze and saw other boys were also looking at her. He cleared his throat.

They immediately lowered their heads. He was the Alpha of their pack, how could they disobey him?

Ethan glanced at Allison for the last time and walked the opposite way.

"Ethan"

He stopped when Julie called him.

"Ethan, where are you going?" Julie asked him.

She just saw how Ethan was looking at Allison a few minutes ago. She had seen it yesterday too. That was why she got angry and went to warn Allison to stay away.

Her blood was boiling thinking about Allison's new look. She was looking different today. Boys always stared at her but today they were looking at Allison.

'You can't take my place. I won't let you do that.' She thought.

"Why?" Ethan asked.

"What why, Ethan?"

"Why do you want to know about it?"

"Just asking. You know we are boyfriend girlf-"

He interrupted her as he went close to her.

"Just in front of others." He reminded her. She was stunned as she almost forgot that their relationship was just for a show.

'He must be angry because the video got viral. Whoever did it, I would not spare them. At first, I thought it was a good thing. Alpha and Luna should see their daughter in law. But Ethan, he thought it was me who uploaded it and scolded me.'

She lowered her head and nodded quietly to him.

Ethan's friends came to him and he left for somewhere.

"Ethan, did you see the new girl?" His best friend Wade asked.

"What new girl?"

"Not new. The girl with a new look. Our beta's daughter."

Ethan's legs paused. He turned to Wade. "What about her?"

"She is so beautiful. She always wore that loose clothes and tied her silky hair to hide her beauty. Now look she became the queenka of Moonlight Crown University."

Ethan scoffed at him. "Are you serious? Do you really think beauty is more important than rank?"

Wade was confused. When did he talk about ranks? This was an education institute, why was Ethan talking about ranks as if it was a war ground?

"Dude, you are going to be the Beta of this pack. So keep calm and stay away from beauty without high ranks."

Wade nodded his head and they started to go outside for smoke.

Meanwhile,

Allison was waiting for Teresa a little far from their class.

"Allison!"

She turned and was welcomed by a tight hug.

Allison broke the hug and looked at Teresa.

Teresa looked shocked.

"OH MY GOD!!!!"

"Sshh"

"You are so pretty!!!! You look drop dead gorgeous. My honey come here, let me kiss you."

Teresa hugged her and kissed her cheek. Allison chuckled at her best friend's reaction.

But then she remembered something and glared at her. "Why did you give him my number?"

"W-What? I didn't give Ryan your number."

"See? I didn't even say the name. You really did."

"My beauty, if I knew that he can change you in this good way, I would have given him your number the day he entered our school."

Allison scoffed at her. "Don't talk about him. He is so narcissistic! You don't know him."

"Looks like you already knew a lot about him."

"What? no. Let's go to class now. We are already late."

They entered the class and others started to gossip about her. They were lucky that the Professor did not rebuke them for entering late.

She felt uncomfortable when boys were staring at her.

"Don't be shy. Just make it a new habit. It's just the beginning." Teresa whispered.

Allison nodded her head and sat on her seat.

All the classes were over. She did not meet Ethan or Ryan again that day. Teresa forced her to go shopping with her. They bought clothes for them, especially for Allison.

Teresa dropped her home. When her mother saw her she looked stunned.

"Allison, is that you?"

"Yes, mom."

Joey looked at her from head to toe.

"You look so stylish! Your hair looks so pretty. Wonderful! Come here, my child."

Allison chuckled and hugged her mother.

Before today she always hid herself from others. Because there was only one man in her heart that was Ethan. She only wanted his lookout, not others.

But now she had to change herself. She also started to live a normal life like others. She should not care about others.

When her father saw her, he said,

"You look beautiful in every way, my daughter."

That touched her heart. Her parents really loved her.

Days passed like that.

Allison started to enjoy her new life. It was not only her appearance but also her behavior. She started to live carefree. She did not care what other people talked about her.

Many boys daily came to her with proposals but she quietly denied them.

She became popular in their school which she did not want but her best friend really enjoyed the fact.

Ethan also began to behave strangely. Allison saw him most of the time in the cafe and ignored him coldly. She always tried to prevent herself from glancing at him.

Ethan and Julie's relationship started to crack. Everyone said it was because of the video. Now who knew why Ethan was angry?

Ryan started to talk less in school. Most of the time he was seen at club parties. It was strange to Allison that after the makeover day, he had never come to talk to her.

They met once in a class, he said hi to her and that was it. He did not try to disturb her either.

Allison heard some girls saying that Ryan was always like that. He did not joke around. He was a cold, charming playboy.

Seemed like he only behaved childishly in front of her.

It was morning time when Allison was talking with her parents.

"Do you have any plans to go out today?" Allison's mother asked her.

Allison was having breakfast with her parents.

"No, mom." She replied.

"Then come home early today." Her father said.

"Do we have to go somewhere?"

"Yeah, we all have to go to the pack house tonight."

Allison frowned her brows. "Why?"

Her mother was surprised when she heard her question.

"Did you forget what day is tomorrow? The whole pack will be decorated for Alpha tomorrow.

It's Ethan, our future Alpha's birthday."
