

Chapter 369

Everyone was getting ready for tonight's party.

Allison looked at herself in the mirror. She was wearing a long white dress with a white pearl necklace.

White was Luna Ella's favorite color. So tonight's party theme was white.

Allison went downstairs. Her parents were waiting for her.

"You are looking so beautiful." Her mother praised her.

Her father patted her head. "Let's go. We are getting late."

They made their way to their car and then drove off in the direction of the pack house.

Allison looked outside the window. Today, she heard many things from Ethan. He patched up Julie after the rejection because he wanted her to move on, but then realized that he had feelings for her. So now he wanted her back in his life.

'It is not easy to love someone and then, all of a sudden, forget about that person.' She thought about herself while her eyes were fixed on the sky.

The car stopped in front of the pack house.

She got out of the car with her parents. So many cars were parked outside. Guests were outside too.

They entered the pack house and looked for Alpha and Luna.

"Happy birthday," Joey said and hugged Luna Ella. Glen also greeted her.

Luna Ella looked very happy. "Thanks, Joey and Glen."

"Happy Birthday, Luna." Allison greeted her.

"Thanks a lot, dear. Come here."

Allison walked to her, and she pulled her into a hug.

Allison gave a warm smile before returning the hug. She then presented the gift that she had purchased for her today.

"You did not have to give me any presents."

"No, it's from my heart. Take it, please."

Luna Ella took her presents. Alpha Neil was beside her all the time.

"Glen, our children have grown up."

"Yeah, Alpha."

They chuckled and talked to each other.

Allison's eyes roamed around the party. She walked to a corner and stood there. She saw Sophia. Of course, she would attend the party. Her father was the delta of this pack.

Sophia glanced at her and came to her. "How are you?"

"Fine. What about you?" Allison asked.

"Not so bad. I heard you are into the Iversen brothers."

"What?"

"Why are you reacting like you haven't done anything? I saw the post. You are into Ryan now."

Allison rolled her eyes. "So what if I am into him? What will you do?"

"You! I will tell your father about it."

Allison laughed when she heard that. She knew Sophia would not dare to do that.

"Listen, Sophia. I can't remember if we have had any fights. So why have you become my enemy? You were good a few days ago too."

"No. I had no problem with you because I hadn't seen Ryan at that time. Now my eyes shifted from Ethan to Ryan. I want to make him fall for me."

"You should try. Why are you bothering me?"

"Because you are always with him."

"You are very funny. I am not with him. You can try. Best of luck. I have no interest in anyone. I am happily single."

Sophia regarded her with a frown. She had come here to warn her, but Allison completely changed the dynamic by suggesting that she could have Ryan instead.

"If you don't give a damn about it, then it's all right. Don't come on my way."

After giving her a warning, Sophia parted ways with her.

Allison had a sense of boredom. She was taken aback by the fact that women desired Ryan despite their awareness of the fact that he was a playboy. Why?

Her gaze eventually fell on Ethan. From where he was standing with his parents, he gave her a friendly wave. He was urging her to join them in where they were.

After walking to him, Allison stood next to him and his parents.

"Mom, Allison was a big help in picking out the present."

"Really?"

Allison smiled and nodded at her in acknowledgement. Additionally, her parents were present. They showed a look of surprise yet smiled at her nonetheless.

The sparkle of the necklace made Luna Ella's eyes shine brighter than ever before.

"Wonderful! such a stunning piece of jewelry." Luna Ella appreciated the choice.

"You're welcome, Mom. Allison deserves all of the credit."

"No, no, he wanted to buy, so all I did was help him out," she said.

"Thank you to you both." Luna Ella smiled.

"Impressive. My son, you should go out with her more. Your choice is getting better by staying beside her."

"I will, Dad, If Beta Glen doesn't have any problem with me."

"What problem? No, I don't have any problems. You are our future Alpha. If she stays close to you, she will learn many things." Beta Glen said.

Ethan looked at Allison. She averted her gaze from everyone and lowered her head in embarrassment.

'Where is the conversation going? I just helped him in choosing gifts.' She thought.

Everyone was busy talking. Other officials' families also joined them.

A woman with black curly hair entered the pack house. She looked to be in her early fifties.

Everyone became silent when they saw her.

Alpha Neil smiled brightly.

"Georgiana"

He spoke out, and the woman looked at him. When she walked to Alpha Neil, other officials left their side to let them talk. But Beta Glen was there with his family because they were not only official's family but also family friends.

"Neil, how are you?" The woman named Georgiana asked.

Allison assumed that she might be someone really important. Who else would have the audacity to address Alpha Neil by his name?

"Fine. I can't believe you came back."

"Why would I not come? It's our Luna's birthday." She said and turned her head to Luna Ella.

Luna Ella gave her a friendly grin and nodded in response. "It gives me great joy that you came to my birthday celebration so that you can bless me,"

"Luna, long live."

The woman looked at Ethan. "Future Alpha, how are you preparing?"

"All good."

"You will be a good Alpha in the future." She replied with an impressed voice.

Allison could see the pride in Alpha Neil's eyes and the adoration in Luna Ella's eyes when Ethan was talking with that woman.

When the woman was talking with Allison's parents, they introduced her to that woman.

"This is my daughter." Beta Glen said and turned to Allison.

"Allison, She is Georgiana. Our old friend. She is not an ordinary person. She is a very powerful witch. She likes to explore her abilities. Because of this, she spent the majority of her life living apart from the pack."

Allison smiled at Georgiana but was startled when she frowned at her.

"What happened, Georgiana?" Joey asked.

Georgiana shook her head and calmed her expression.

"Your daughter is gorgeous."

Allison's parents smiled at each other when Georgiana praised their daughter.

At that time, Ryan entered the pack house. Luna Ella caught a glimpse of him and called him.

"Ryan"

Ryan looked at her and the others, then walked to them.

Allison thought he was in his room, but he was actually outside.

'Was he with Julie all this time?' She thought.

Her gaze wandered to the clothes he wore.

He was dressed in black pants with a white shirt over top. He folded his sleeves like a gentleman. He looked stunning.

Allison suddenly became aware of what she had been thinking, at which point she diverted her look from him.

However, her eyes fell on Georgiana. When Ryan stopped in front of them, Georgiana almost took a step back. Her eyes widened, and she looked frightened.

Allison narrowed her eyes and thought,

'What's wrong with this woman?'
