

Chapter 427

The moment Allison stepped inside the pack house, tears rolled down her cheeks. She tried to stop herself by biting her lower lip, but it seemed as though her heartbeat was getting slower with every passing instant. She felt like she would die at any moment.

She was controlling herself at each moment. She tried hard not to show her pain to Ryan.

FLASHBACK

"You will marry Ethan whether you like it or not. It's a royal decision. No one can decline it. Not even you."

His father's words stunned Allison. She stared at her father with pain in her eyes.

"Dad, what are you saying?"

He moved his feet to get closer to her. Her mother made room for him to speak with her daughter by moving to the side.

He spoke to her while stroking her hair and saying,

"I gave my words to Alpha Neil. Ethan was someone you looked up to throughout your entire life. I overheard you having several conversations with Teresa regarding Ethan. You never stopped harping on how much you had a thing for him. You children seem to believe that your parents are unaware of your thoughts. But you are wrong. We know everything."

Allison closed her eyes as tears streamed out of her eyes. She was angry at herself for having ever loved Ethan.

How incredibly naive she was to hang around him all the time!

She was completely oblivious to the fact that her parents were aware of how she was feeling.

"He is a good boy. Forget about your grudges, Allison. Start a fresh new relationship with him." Her mother said to her.

"Start a fresh new relationship with him? Forget about all the grudges? How?" She mumbled as she felt lost.

"You will never find a man who cares about you as much as Ethan." Her father stated.

It made her furious. She wiped her tears and lifted her head to look at her father. He smiled at her as he was still stroking her head.

"Do you even know what he did to me? You always think of him as a caring person. Have you a heart to listen to how much care he has shown to me?"

Her father's face was filled with perplexity. "What are you talking about? What did he do?"

"He rejected your daughter, Dad. He left your daughter to die on her eighteenth birthday."

Her father's hand froze on her head. Her mother gasped as she could not believe what Allison was telling them.

"It is not possible." Her father muttered and removed his hand from her head.

Allison laughed through her tears of sorrow. She spoke from the depths of her heart.

"The Alpha Ethan you know is fake. He always pretends to be a good man. Maybe he is a good son and a good Alpha for this pack. But he was not a good mate when he rejected me. Only I know how much pain I had to bear for him. I even lost my wolf at that time. It took a long time to get my wolf back. He was the reason for all of this. He crushed my self-respect and told me that I was not deserving of him. Do you know what I felt at that time? I felt I should die in shame. He called me a weak omega. He questioned my rank. I still managed to survive. The biggest pain in my heart was caused by him, Dad."

She exhaled deeply. She said so many things at once. She did not think about whether she should say something or not. Her parents should know the truth.

Beta Glen took a step back. He could not believe that Ethan had once rejected her daughter.

When Joey heard her daughter, she immediately began to cry. She hurried up to her and immediately pulled her into her embrace.

"My sweetheart. It is unfortunate that you have to deal with numerous difficulties. Why didn't you tell us about these? Why did you take all the pain alone?"

Allison hugged her mother and cried. Her mother rubbed her back to calm her.

"I didn't expect that Ethan would do that." Beta Glen stated this while he was in too much disbelief to grasp the fact.

Allison broke the hug and turned to him. "Dad, the boy you dislike is the one who saved your daughter."

Beta Glen frowned at her. "Who?"

"Ryan." She replied.

"Ryan?" Her mother mumbled.

"Yeah. That night, he brought me here from that forest. Otherwise, I would have died there. After that, he was the one who encouraged me the most to get over my past and walk ahead into the future. I was hopeless, but he gave me hope."

Beta Glen made his way to her and expressed his sorrow to her.

"I am sorry, my child. You endured so much pain alone."

Allison sobbed and lowered her head. She thought it was the best time to tell her parents about Ryan and her relationship.

Therefore, she decided to take the initiative and said,

"Dad, I love him."

"What?"

"I love Ryan, Dad. He also loves me."

She waited for her parents to speak out. But there was silence there.

She carefully raised her head and looked at her father before continuing.

"Dad?"

He had a look of rage on his face as he stared at her with his furious eyes. "What did you say?"

"I-I love Ry-"

"SHUT UP."

Allison's eyes widened. She stepped into her father's growl.

"D-Dad"

"I can't believe my daughter can say this type of thing to her father."

"But Dad-"

"That boy is reckless. He is good for nothing. He has an Alpha rank, but he never utilizes it. If there was any other boy, he would have fought for his position against Ethan. What do you think? Why did Alpha Neil never consider offering him his position? Because from childhood he understood that this boy had no potential."

"Dad, does position really matter a lot?"

"He has no life. He can't be with my daughter. You are not like other girls who he can play with. You are my daughter. You will marry the head Alpha of this pack, not a useless boy who does not even know how to talk with elders. He is a playboy. Haven't you seen how he came with the girl to the pack house? He doesn't deserve you."

Allison's tears never stopped. "Dad, he had changed. He is not like before. Now he only loves me. He is not connected with other girls, but only with me. About the elders, he promised me that he would talk to others politely. And I don't care if I marry a head Alpha or an ordinary Alpha."

Beta Glen grabbed her arm. Anger was certain in his face.

"What did I say? Your marriage is fixed with Ethan."

"Dad, I have already told you what he did with me. Still, you want that?"

"He made a mistake. He is ready to take on his responsibility. He loves you, and he is clear about it. He confessed to his father that he only wants you as his Luna. I believe he is fixing his mistakes. He has a full chance to let you go and choose a powerful rank as his Luna, but what is he doing? He still wants you. He saved you after risking his own life. When he came out of the mouth of danger, he only wanted to see if you were fine or not. Why can't you see the love that he has for you?"

Allison removed her father's hand from her arm and glanced at her mother. She was silent about this matter.

Allison turned around and said,

"Since it is a royal decision, I will talk to Alpha Neil directly. I will tell him that I love his younger son, not his eldest son."

She began to walk toward the gate of the garden.

But her legs froze when he heard his father behind her,

"If you tell Alpha Neil about Ryan, then you have to forget that I am your father."

She turned to him. "Dad," She whispered with shock.

"I can't bear the shame that will come over me when Alpha Neil thinks how shameless my daughter has become,"

"Mom, tell something to Dad. Why is he talking about Ethan only? What about Ryan?"

Her mother looked at her. "Your Dad is right. Listen to him."

Allison found her mother's remarks to be unexpected. She was taken by her words.

She shook her head. "I can't. I can't live without Ryan."

Her father nodded his head.

"If it's your last decision, then choose only one and break the relationship with another. Your parents or Ryan?"

END OF FLASHBACK

Allison wiped her tears and let out a shaky breath.

"I could not choose you over my parents who gave birth to me and raised me.

I am sorry, Ryan'
