

The billionaire and his son want me back novel
Chapter 103

Chapter 103 They didnt need too many people watching over Paul through the night .

Besides Paisley , they just needed one more person from the Vanderbilt The Vanderbilts were still debating who should stay overnight to watch over Paul when Dominick cut straight through their discussion .

Til stay , No need to arrange anyone else Dom , you cant stay here .

Marissa protested quickly .

Youve got that board meeting tomorrow .

You need proper rest .

Dominick shook his head .

The meeting can wait Marissa felt uneasy about leaving Dominick and Paisley here alone .

Sure , nothing would happen , but she just didnt want them spending time together , just the two of them .

came up with an idea Look , Dom , why dont I stay y instead ! Ms.

Sutton and I are both women .

Illl be more practical Marissa quickly cam No need .

Go home and get some rest Without another word .

Dominick walked straight into the hospital room , effectively shutting out the rest of the Vanderbilt family .

Paisley couldnt care less what arrangements the Vanderbilts were making out there .

She was exhausted , so she just dragged her backpack into Pauls VIP room .

The space was massive , decked out like a luxury suite with every amenity one could think of Paisley dropped her bag and collapsed onto the sofa against the wall , letting her eyes fall shut .

Within minutes , she was asleep .

Her body slumped against the sofas backrest , head drooping forward .

Under her messy ponytail , the elegant curve of her neck peeked through .

smooth and delicate .

Her long lashes uttered slightly , giving away that her sleep wasnt exactly peaceful This was the scene Dominick walked in on .

He stood there , watching Paisley in silence .

Paisley had only just dored o and wasnt fully under yet .

Through the hare of sleep , she vaguely sensed someone touching her .

Her eyes snapped open , meeting Dominicks gaze just as he was about to help her lie down .

The room was absolutely silent except for their breathing If youre going to sleep , at least do it properly ? Dominick said , his brow furrowing in mild annoyance .

Paisley pushed him away coldly and straightened up .

Why are you the one staying here Her ice queen act made Dominick laugh darkly .

Follow new episodes on the CrushnovelS Com

Why shouldnt Thats my grandpa lying there .

Paisley just shrugged , her voice dripping with indifference .

And Marissa was okay with this ? She knew better .

Marissa would never willingly let her and Dominick be alone together .

Marissa should have fought tooth and nail to prevent it and let herself stay here .

That would be more like her What are you trying to say ? Dominick frowned .

Nothing Paisley wasnt in the mood to keep this conversation going with Dominick .

All I want is one peaceful evening without any drama .

So do me a favor and keep your distance , you and your precious Ms.

Prescott both just leave me alone .

Paisley , can can you try not being difficult for once ? Dominick was getting frustrated .

Im being perfectly reasonable , Paisley said calmly .

Her face remained calm , but her words were driving Dominick absolutely crazy Fed up .

Dominick stood and moved to the couch by the window , with Pauls hospital bed now between them .

Want me to keep my distance ? Is this far enough for you He knew he was being petty , but he couldnt help it .

Paisley didnt even bother responding .

She just closed her eyes and tried to rest The hospital room fell silent again .

They sat there facing each other from opposite sides of the room , neither one willing to break the heavy silence that had seeded between them .

Sometime later , a doctor on duty knocked and entered the room .

He was a well groomed man with a polished , professional demeanor .

The doctor gave Dominick a respectful nod as he walked in .

Mr.

Vanderbilt , he said before making his way straight to Paisleys side .

He stopped next to her .

Ms.

Sutton , Mr.

Walsh asked me to look after you tonight .

Is there anything you need ?
