Sutton ? Vivian arrived with her daughter , Millie .

The no didnt look much alike .

Millie must have taken after her father , Paisley thought Yes , I had some free time , Paisley replied coolly .

She always maintained a polite but distant demeanor with other parents neither overly friendly nor cold , just enough for a greeting .

She never intended to get close to them Vivian exchanged a glance with other mother , who then asked , Ms.

Sutton , wheres your husband ! Weve never seen him around Paidey recognized this womans daughter , Elara , who was also in the Pre One Class .

Theyd never interacted before , and this was their first conversation , yet the woman dove straight into a personal question .

Paisley found it quite off putting , Im raising Serena on my own , she answered bluntly .

Oh , Isabellas mom nodded knowingly , her expression clearly saying , I figured as much Vivian chimed in .

By the way , Millies birthday is at the end of the month , and Im throwing a party for her .

You and Serena should com Paisley wasnt th thrilled about the idea , but she felt she needed to respect Serenas wishes .

Serena , do you want to go ? she asked directly .

Yes .

Mommy , I want to go ! Friendships between kids were just that simple and pure .

It was clear the two little girls got along well .

Not wanting to hinder Serenas social life at kindergarten .

Paisley agreed , Alright , I will take you .

Mommy , we need to prepare a gift for Millie , Serena chirped happily , clearly excited about attending her friends birthday party .

Paisley replied indulgently with a smile She knew shed have to put some thought into the gifi- lead to Serena being looked down upon .

not too extravagant , which might come across as showing off , nor too cheap , which might While it seemed like a childs friendship , it was really a subtle game of adult dynamics .

Vivian , however , didnt care much about Paisleys gift .

She didnt think Paisley could bring anything impressive anyway .

The invitation was more about appearances the couldnt invite the whole class and leave out Serena and Paisley .

With that in mind , Vivian smiled and said .

Oh , no need for a gift .

Just having you two there is enough Paisley couldnt help but feel there was a hint of condescension and hostility in Vivians tone .

But she didnt care so long as Serena was happy , nothing else mattered .

Just then , a taxi pulled up .

Paisley didnt want to waste any more time chatting and quickly took Serena to get in the car and leave .

I thought you wouldnt invite Serena and her mom , labellas mom remarked .

Vivian scoffed, I just said it for show .

If she had any self awareness , shed decline .

Oh well , its fine .

Its not like were losing anything by feeding them .

Maybe itll be a good opportunity for them to broaden their horizons .

In the taxi , Paisley thought that Vivian was difficult to get along with .

And yet , she happened to be the president of the Pre One Class Parent Committee Rena , tell Mommy , did you play well with the other kids at kindergarten ? Were you bullied ? she asked .

Serena smiled innocently .

Paisley looked up at the road but realized the taxi was heading in a different direction ! This wasnt the way home ! Sir , where are you going ? Paisley asked aloud .

However , after hearing her question , the driver not only didnt respond but also sped up .

Paisleys heart tightened , and she quickly checked if Serenas seatbelt was fastened properly .

While checking , her brain raced .

She was sitting in the backseat , her eyes fixed on the half of the drivers face visible in the rearview mirror .

She confirmed she didnt recognize this person .

Whats you´s your goal Paisley stopped asking why the driver wasnt following the original route .

She only wanted to know what his intentions were .

The driver had been silent until now .

He finally spoke , Youll know soon enough .

The unease in Paisleys heart spread rapidly , but she quickly realized her emotions were affecting Serena .

Serena was staring at her without blinking , fear in her eyes .

Paisley said .
