

The billionaire and his son want me back novel

Chapter 225

Chapter 225 32 % Dominicks gaze swept over the three attendants , his cold eyes signaling them to release Maria .

The attendants , startled by Dominicks glare , immediately let go of Maria .

Dominick , youre here too .

You must know whats going on , right ? Lauren smiled and stepped forward .

I comrmed the results with your dad this morning , and we came right over with gifts .

Your grandfather knows and is so happy , he just wants to see his great granddaughter .

Go home .

Dominick coldly uttered these two words .

Go home ? We havent even seen Serena yet , and you want us to leave ? Lauren was unwilling , she wanted to see her granddaughter .

Yesterday , all her attention had been on her grandson , and she hadnt even looked at her granddaughter properly .

Yeah .

Dom , your mom and I just wanted to see the kid , thats all , Reginald said .

Dominick stepped out , closing the hospital door behind him , clearly not planning to let them in .

Go back .

Dont come again .

They dont want to see you .

But I- Lauren wanted to argue , but Reginald pulled her hand .

Lets go , dont make this more awkward than it needs to be Lauren felt unwilling , but she knew there was no way she would see her granddaughter today .

Then how about we dont go in , but just bring these gifts for Serena ? Maria curled her lip and snapped , Take them back .

Rena doesnt need anything .

And if she does , her mom will buy it for her.

With that , Maria shoved past Lauren , walking into the room without a second thought .

Shortly after .

Paisleys voice came from inside the room .

Maria , lock the door .

A second later , there was the sound of the door locking .

The message was clear ; not only could Lauren and Reginald not enter , but neither could Dominick Dominicks eyes darkened , and a dry feeling rose in his throat .

Lauren saw the expression on her sons face and regretted her earlier forcefulness .

Was it the wrong time for your dad and me to come ? If they hadnt come , maybe Dominick could have spent more time with them inside .

Go back , Dominick responded calmly .

What about you ? Lauren asked , feeling some sympathy .

Ill go back to the company .

With such a large group under his control , he , as the decision maker , couldnt afford to neglect his work over personal matters .

Outside the hospital room , it finally became quiet .

Paisley called Lucy , asking her to send two people over to guard the door .

to make sure no unwanted visitors came in .

At Vanderbilt Manor , Paul was eagerly waiting by the front gate .

1/3 32 % 20:32 Fri , 14 Feb Chapter 225 He knew Serena had just had surgery and couldnt walk , so he wouldnt be able to see her anytime soon .

Thats why he specially told Lauren to go to the hospital , apologize properly , and try to gain the forgiveness of Serena and Paisley .

He also asked her to take photos and videos for him , ideally a live video call , so he could talk to Serena .

Great grandpa , are you waiting for grandma and grandpa ? Grayson was in much better condition today than yesterday .

After changing into clean clothes , he didnt look so disheveled .

There were still a few spots on him that needed daily dressing and bandaging , and they hurt , but they didnt affect his ability to move around .

Yeah , Paul said as he sat down , holding Grayson in his arms .

Although Paul was unhappy with how Lauren spoiled Grayson , he couldnt help but care for and like him .

As he touched Graysons wounds , he asked with concern , Does it still hurt ? Grayson nodded .

It hurts .

He thought about it if it hurt this much for him , how much must it hurt Rena , who had surgery ? Sonny , did you know you have a little sister ? Paul asked .

Grayson nodded .

After waking up this morning , he had heard his aunt mention it .

She said Rena was his real sister , one from the same dad and mom .

So , his feelings were complicated .

He felt some regret , but also some anticipation .

He regretted not being better to Rena before and even helping Stella bully her .

But now , he was looking forward to playing with Rena again .

If that happened , maybe Mom would come home too .

Just then , they saw Lauren and Reginald returning with grim faces , clearly disappointed .

Seeing their faces , Paul didnt need any further explanation .

Did you get sent back ? Paul mocked , showing no mercy to the couple .

Kayla walked out of the studio with watercolor stains still on her hands .

Seeing her parents expressions , she couldnt help but make a sarcastic remark .

I knew this would happen , so I didnt go .

They wouldve just been kicked out anyway .

How embarrassing .

Paul was also angry .

Pathetic , cant even apologize properly .

He shouldnt have expected anything from them .

They were so used to a life of luxury and adoration .

How could they lower themselves to apologize ? It seemed that if he wanted to see his great granddaughter , hed have to do it himself .

After Reginald returned , he went straight to the study .

Lauren sat on the living room sofa , accepting the coffee brought by the servant .

At this time , she received a reminder about the afternoon coffee from the Ladies Association .

It was then that she remembered today was the day for their Ladies Association meeting .

She turned to Kayla and said , Get ready , youre coming with me to the Ladies Association this afternoon .

Marissa used to accompany her , but now shed have to have Kayla go instead .

Kayla felt her scalp tingle the moment she heard the words Ladies Association .

She snapped .

Im not going ! Listening to a bunch of people who have nothing to do with me gossiping is such a waste of time .

Id rather stay home and paint .

With that , she bolted back to her studio like she was escaping .

No matter how much Lauren called for her , she just ignored her .

2/3 20:32 Fri , 14 Feb Chapter 225 32 % Dominick had been in meetings nonstop since he arrived at the office .

He had just gotten a breather when his secretary walked in with a thick stack of files , placing them on his desk one by one .

Dominick habitually picked up the closest file , expressionless as he skimmed through it .

The secretary stood cautiously on the other side , occasionally glancing at Julian .

Shewasnt doing this for no reason she wanted to gauge Dominicks mood from Julian .

Lately , Dominicks mood had been.

all over the place , leaving his staff in constant fear of his temper .

Today , even Julian couldnt tell if Dominick was in a good mood or not , so he couldnt give the secretary a definitive answer .

The secretary began to worry .

But just then , Dominick looked like he was about to say something .

The secretary had been prepared for Dominick to toss the file at her , like he often did .

Instead , he asked , When you were three years old , what kind of toys did you like ?
